Rotunda

Vols. 14-16

1933 - 1937

BOUND BY
MEISTER & SMETHIE
109 1/2 E. GOVERNOR ST.
RICHMOND, VA.

Library

STATE TEACHERS COLLEGE
ESTABLISHED 1884
AT FARMVILLE, VIRGINIA

State Teachers College
Farmville, Virginia

To Miss Virginia Bean

In appreciation of the many courtesies shown in the Production of this Volume

J. P. Wall

WELCOME FRESHMEN AND NEW GIRLS

THE ROTUNDA

POE

COOPERATE WITH THE HOUSE COUNCIL

We Teach To Teach

Volume XIV | THE ROTUNDA, WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 27, 1933 | No. 1

Orientation Classes Are Being Held For the Freshmen

Girls From Junior and Senior Classes Selected As Group Leaders

The orientation classes for the freshmen and new girls began Monday night, September 25, with Elizabeth Kelly as chairman. The class has been dividied into eighteen groups with ten girls each. The following girls from the Junior and Senior classes have been selected as gorup leaders: Margaret Copenhaver, Mary Berkley Nelson, Elma Rawlings, Elmer Foster, Mildred Gwaltney, Margaret Parker, Virginia Brinkley, Alice Rowell, Grace Rowell, Nell Oakey Ryan, Edna Hatcher, Sue Yeaman, Sara Hyde Thomas, Nancy Harrison, Louise Hyde, Louise Van Year, Louise Bullock, and Jestine Cutshall.

The classes this year are being held on a somewhat different plan from what has heretofore been followed.

The class meetings will extend over a period of three weeks. On each Monday and Friday night the groups will meet with their respective leaders from seven until seven-thirty. At these meetings the leaders will discuss with their groups the handbook, the honor code, and the customs and traditions of the school.

On each Wednesday night during these three weeks all the groups will meet together for a "pep" meeting. At these meetings the new girls will become acquainted with each other and will learn the school songs and cheers, thus giving them a little of the spirit which pervades our Alma Mater.

Number of Grads Gets Positions

A large percentage of the 1933 graduating sophomores and degree class have secured teaching positions throughout the state. The following registrar's list of these girls is by no means complete, as they have not all been heard from.

Those receiving the B. S. degree in education who are teaching are: Frances Armistead, Green Bay; Winston Cobb, Windsor; Frances Coleman, Culpeper; Lois Cox, Maryland School for Blind; Carrie De Shazo, South Norfolk; Fay Fuller, Norton; Catherine Gannaway, Allisonia; Margaret Gathright, Westhampton High School, Richmond; Hattie Gilliam, Norton; Martha Gunter, Evington; Margaret Hix, Appalachia; Sarah James, Isle of Wight; Jenilee Knight, Appalachia; Rachel McDaniel, Hampton; Marguerite Massey, Spotsylvania; Alice Moore, Hampton; Kate Porter, Portsmouth; Stuart Quantance, Warren county; Cornelia Quarles, Covington; Hildegarde Ross, St. Agnes, Alexandria; Sara Rowell, Surry; Jane Royall, Richlands; Henrietta Taylor, Harborton; Elizabeth Walthall, Dante; Nell Wampler, Appalachia; Ann Macon Ward, North Carolina; Jessie Watkins, Purdy; Ann Wingo, Jetersville; Lillian Womack, Curdsville; Margaret Young, Parksley; Nancy Noel, Powhatan.

Those receiving the normal professional diploma who are teaching are: Lucy Anderson, Buckingham county; Pearl Barksdale, Sutherlin; Margaret Beard, Falls Mills; Lorena Bland, Boydton; Frances Burks, Rocky Ford; Ruth Cecil, Lee county; Chloe Clevinger, Buchanan county; Martha Cross, Prince William county; Catherine Davis, Rocky Mount; Hamner Gillispie, Buckingham coun-

Continued on last page

Installation of New House Council Held

The installation services for the new House Council took place in the large auditorium Tuesday night, September 26. Alice McKay, president of the student body, led the group from the back of the auditorium to the stage and installed Justine Cutshall, president-elect of the Council. Justine received her oath of office with the following words:

"The House Council is ready to perform its duties willingly and with enthusiasm. We realize that work has to associate with undertaking. But also an opportunity is given to serve the school and you. We do not wish to exert our energy to just listening, but to doing, so we are depending upon each student for cooperation and helpful suggestions."

Elmer Foster and Elizabeth Huse were installed as secretary and vice-president of the council respectively. The secretary, one of the minor officers of the school, was elected by the student body last spring. The vice-president was elected Monday night by the House Council and all other members were appointed.

The hall presidents took their oath of office, pledging service to the school and acceptance of their duties. Dr. Walmsley, head of the social science department, then closed the service with a short prayer.

FRESHMEN RECEIVE THEIR CLASS COLORS

The Juniors entertained their "little sister" class, the Freshmen, with a "pep party" in the "Rec" on Monday night from 10 to 10:30 o'clock.

Green and White decorations added to the spirit of the occasion. As the freshmen entered the "Rec" under a green and white arch the Junior class officers pinned a bow of their class colors on each.

After each freshman had reecived her green and white badge, Frankie McDaniel led the Juniors in a yell for their new "color supporters". The freshmen returned a cheer for the Juniors.

Following the welcome to the "little sister class" by Lelia Mattox, the Junior class sang their green and white song, "Come on and let's get together."

Belle Lovelace introduced Miss Moran, the Junior class man, who made a brief but inspiring talk to the freshman, emphasizing the importance of their coming class elections.

The Junior class orchestra furnished music for dancing, and Nelle Oakey Ryan, as chairman of the committee for refreshments, served punch and cakes. After Jean McClure's solo, "Dinah", the "green and whites" sang and said, "Good Night, Ladies."

MISS FLEMING, NEW HEAD LIBRARIAN

Miss Claudia Fleming is the head librarian this year filling the vacancy made by the absence of Miss Snead who is away studying.

Miss Fleming received her B. S. degree from Farmville State Teachers College in August, 1930, completing her course in three years. She was an outstanding and popular student, entering into many college activities. Last year she attended Emory at Atlanta, Georgia, and obtained a B. A. degree in library work.

FACULTY MEMBER RESIGNS FROM OFFICE

It is with reluctance that we give up one of our loved faculty members, Mrs. Fleeta Cooper Gray, who as associate professor of history and social science, has taught here for a number of years.

Mrs. Gray received her B. S. degree from George Peabody College for Teachers, and her M. A. from Emory University.

She is now living at her home here in Farmville.

Boston Sinfonetta To be Presented Thursday, 28th

The Boston Sinfonietta will offer a program in the college auditorium Thursday, September 28. This ensemble, composed of prominent members of the Boston Symphony Orchestra, furnishes the first Lyceum number of the new session.

Arthur Fielder, conductor of the sinfonietta, and his musicians have given excellent programs here before. Everyone who has heard them will be glad of another opportunity to hear fine music well performed and those who have not heard this excellent music should not pass by such a chance.

Press comments concerning Arthur Fielder and his musicians are very favorable. They are recognized by leading critics to possess unusual ability and talent.

Mr. Fielder has presented programs requiring the highest artistry before large audiences and received an abundance of applause. His programs are interesting and the music betrays feeling and energy. His listeners realize the abiltiy shown by him and his helpers and they willingly listen to him for hours.

It is an honor to the school to have the Boston Sinfonietta present another program here. It is an opportunity to hear unusually fine music and no person should fail to attend this Lyceum number.

Frances McDaniel Heads Junior Class

Class of '35 Elects Evelyn Knaub To Fill McDaniel's Place As Secretary

Frances McDaniel, of Hampton, was elected president of the Junior Class at a meeting held Tuesday night, September 27. Nancy Burgwyn's failure to return to school left that responsible position vacant.

At the meeting Lelia aMttox, vice-president of the class, presided. The nominating committee presented the names of Frances McDaniel, Evelyn Knaub, and Laeta Barham. On the second ballot Frances was elected. Her election left a vacancy, that of secretary; the class unanimously elected Evelyn Knaub to fill this position.

After the election, the new president appointed Lelia Mattox chairman of a committee for raising money. Lena Mac Gardner and Christian Childrey wil also serve on this committee. Plans were made for having a rummage sale Saturday, October 7.

REGISTRAR ANNOUNCES FALL DEAN'S LIST

The Dean's List for the fall quarter, 1933, has recently been announced by the Registrar. This list includes seniors during all three terms and juniors during the spring quarter.

Certain qualifications are necessary to be included in this list. An average of C must be had for the preceding year and grades of A or B for the preceding quarter. No unexcused absences from classes or chapel are allowed, nor any notes from the Home Department or the Student Council.

Just as it requires certain qualifications, it likewise grants the privi-

(Continued on Page 2)

College Enrolls Fewer Students Than Last Year

Fifteen States and Eighty - Five Counties Are Represented in Student Body

REGISTRATION TOTALS 615

The 1933-34 session at S. T. C. began Tuesday, September 19, with six hundred fifteen students enrolling. The coming year is expected to be an unusually successful one although the enrollment is slightly less than that of the past year.

Many familiar faces which were seen last year are not present this fall. They are missed by both students and faculty. Reports of the new girls bring the news that they will help to fill the places left by last year students not returning.

The student body is made up of girls from fifteen states. East, North, South, and West, are well represented. Girls from nearby and distant states have come to Virginia seeking a higher education. There are representatives from Maryland, North Carolina, West Virginia, Mississippi, Alabama and many other states.

However, Virginia still furnishes he majority of the students. Eighty-five of the hundred counties are represented among the old and new girls. Graduates of many different high schools in the state registered.

he freshman and new girls compose a large part of the student body. There are two hundred twenty-five new girls in school. Twenty-five are transfers from William and Mary College, Richmond Normal, and other well known colleges. They are members of the sophomore, junior and senior classes.

The Y. W. C. A. played an important part in helping the new girls matriculate, find their rooms, and become settled. Dressed in white with blue and white badges, members of the Freshman Commission and the Y. W. Cabinet met both new and old girls in the Rotunda and at the station.

The enrollment for the new session is not as large as that of the past year. Due to this fact the third floor of White House Hall has been closed this term. However, the other dormitory rooms are filled, and all classes are sufficiently large.

MISS JENNIE M. TABB, REGISTRAR, WELCOMES STUDENTS TO S. T. C.

To Our New Students:

It is needless to say that we are glad to have you with us; the freshman class is in reality the very foundation of the student body since they are the ones who are expecting to be with us longest. You have come to us from many places, from many high schools and some of you from other colleges—this means that you are bringing to the institution a great deal that is fresh and new in the way of ideas, many things that will be of help to the college and will prove a source of pleasure to your fellow students. We have a large number of honor graduates of the high schools with us for the first time. These have been the leaders in their school communities and will add appreciably to the number of Alpha Phi Sigmas among us. Don't lose your capacity or your desire to still excel in what you do; don't feel that because you are one of hundreds instead of one of a small group that your individuality should not be preserved and developed as your progress in your college work.

If, from the very beginning, you will get in the habit of steady, regular work you will find that your course is not hard and that you will have ample time for extra curricula activities; if, on the other hand, you tend to do careless, sporadic work, always a little behind and trying to "catch up" you will be disappointed in your record and will get only about half that you should get out of the opportunities given you.

The Registrar's Office is here to serve you in any way that it can; please feel free to come to any of us at any time that we can be of help to you. We try to advise the students in what we consider to be their interests and if there is anthing in connection with your work that you do not undertsand we shall be glad to clear it up for you if we can.

The college has an enviable reputation among the institutions of the State and the Nation and that reputation is largely in the hands of the students; guard it well, feel that her interests are your interests, make yourself at once a real part of the student body, feel that you are welcomed as "one of us" and learn to love your Alma Mater as soon as you can.

Wishing fo rall of you, both old and new students, a happy and successful year,

Sincerely yours,

Jennie M. Tabb, Registrar

Y. W. Conference Held at Blue Ridge

At Blue Ridge, North Carolina, from June 7 till June 15 a Y. W. C. A. conference was held; its purpose, being to discuss world and Y. W. C. A. problems. Associations from over the whole South were represented.

Delegates from S. T. C. were Dr. Walmsley, faculty adviser of the Y. W. C. A. here; Virginia Hamilton president; Helen Smith and Grace Rowell, committee chairmen, and Elizabeth Vassar, secretary.

Days at Blue Ridge started, after breakfast, with a brief "Morning Worship" service led by a prominent conference speaker. Then for two hours the delegates were divided into several groups with distinguished men and women for leaders and met in seminars to discuss various social and economic problems. Each day for another hour special Y. W. C. A. problems were worked over. Committee chairmen attending their own special groups.

After supper each evening everyone gathered in the lobby of Lee Hall to sing songs and to listen to interesting talks. Once a girl from Russia

(Continued on Page 3)

40605

THE ROTUNDA

Member Southern Inter-Collegiate Newspaper Association
Member Intercollegiate Press Association of Virginia

Newspaper — National Scholastic Press Association — Member

Published by Students of State Teachers College, Farmville, Va.

Entered as second class matter March 1, 1921, at the Postoffice of Farmville, Virginia, under Act of March 3, 1879.

Subscription ..... $1.50 per year

ROTUNDA STAFF

Editor-in-Chief .... Mary Shelton, '34
Associate Editor .... Lelia Mattox, '35

Board of Editors

News ..... Evelyn Massey, '36
Make-Up ..... Katherine Hoyle, '36
Literary ..... Agnes Bondurant, '36
Sports ..... Elizabeth Billups, '36
Louise Walmsley, '36
World News ..... Velma Quarles, '34
Intercollegiate ..... Caroline Byrd, '36
Social ..... Marion Raine, '36
Art ..... Alice Rowell, '34
Feature ..... Elizabeth Walton, '36
Alumnae ..... Miss Virginia Potts

Reporters

Edith Shanks, '34; Mary Easley Hill, '34; Elizabeth Vassar, '35; Mary Elizabeth Alexander, '36; Lula Windley, '36.
Proof Readers: Katherine Coleman, '35, Grace Eubank, '36

Managers

Business ..... Mary Diehl, '34
Assistant ..... Elma Rawlings, '34
Circulation ..... Nell Oakey Ryan, '34
Assistant ..... Janice White, '35

The Rotunda invites letters of comment, criticism, and suggestion from its readers upon its manner of presenting and treating them. A letter, to receive consideration, must contain the name and address of the writer. These will not be published if the writer objects to the publication.

All matters of business should be addressed to the Business Manager and all other matters should come to the Editor-in-Chief. Complaints from subscribers as regards irregularities in the delivery of The Rotunda will be appreciated.

SEPTEMBER 27, 1933

BEST WISHES!

Freshmen, the dawn of a new day of greater opportunities is breaking. What can we wish that this day, this year, may bring to you? Nothing that shall make the world of others poorer; nothing at the expense of others. Just a few things which in their coming, we think, will help you to be successful and happy.

First, we wish that you will have understanding friends. Someone has said that a friend is one who knows all about you and still likes you. This is the kind of friends we hope you have, for "friendship is the highest degree of perfection in society."

May you soon acquire the habit of work and of doing well those tasks which only courage, energy, invincible determination and a purpose once formed and then death or victory can accomplish. Sarah A. Bolton has said, "The victory of success is half won when one gains the habit of work."

We wish that you will have a mind unafraid to think, to travel into unexplored regions. Since thought creates character, may you "live and think."

As we who remember our freshman days with certain regrets for tasks half done, we feel our best wish for you is in the words of Harriet Martineau, "That you will live your best and act your best and think your best today; for today is the sure preparation for tomorrow and all the other tomorrows that follow."

CHOOSING

As new members of the Farmville student body, the Freshmen and transfers have a clean sheet on which to start their record at S. T. C. In the next month everyone must choose her own title, whether it be a wholesale joiner, seeking membership in every possible organization, a bookworm, a good-timer, or an active member of one or possibly two extra-curricula organizations.

Without hesitation everyone would select the latter epithet, but to live up to it would require stamina of character. The dangers of failure are many! Becoming a slacker, the well-known dead wood of organizations is probably the greatest, but there is also the strong temptation to accept too many duties. The honor dazzles our vision and we do not see clearly our own ability nor measure wisely our spare time.

The new students are now standing at a distance as it were, with the privilege of viewing the field of activities. There is extra-curricular work for every student enrolled. It is their duty to study the field and to make the choice or choices best suited to their ability and interest.

World News

After a sensational three-month spurt President Rosevelt's recovery program went down last week. NRA had yet to produce its miracle of re-employment; however, the President was not discouraged by last week's stak-off. If one method of relief failed he was willing to shift to something else, but he still regarded currency inflation as a last resort.

By last week only seven states stood between the 18th amendment and repeal. Maryland became the 27th consecutive state to approve the 21st Amendment. As the 29th Repeal State, Colorado completed the week's balloting.

Last week brought Argentine wheat farmers both rain to soften the hard ground for their spring sowing, and the Ministry of Agriculture got under way against the wheat-destroying locusts by announcing $5,000,000 worth of contracts for 12,000 miles of sheet iron locust barriers.

Public Works Administrator Ickes last week ran his total allotment of Federal plans for low cost housing up over 12 million dollars. None of this Federal money will go into steel, brick and wages until matched with private capital and perfected building plans.

Intercollegiate

Ohio leads all the states in the number of colleges. It has forty-one. New York has forty, Pennsylvania, thirty-eight, and Illinois, twenty-three.—Skidmore News.

At Bryn Mawr a recent survey shows that sophomores work the most, seniors next, then juniors and lastly freshmen.—The Yellow Jacket Weekly.

The football results for the past week were both startling and unexpected. The Hampden-Sydney Tigers put up an excellent fight against the Cavaliers which resulted in a tie (7-7). Emory and Henry College defeated V. M. I. (20.0. V. P. I. won over Roanoke College by putting up a hard fight. The final score was 7-0.

Washington and Lee University is one of the few schools to see no decrease in the enrollment for the coming year. The latest tabulation shows 807 students registered.

Incomplete figures from V. M. I. show a decrease of ten per cent in the cadet corps. For the past two years the enrollment was 715 and 647. However, this year about 400 upperclassmen are back and 175 freshmen have been admitted.

Certain Sophomores taking over a course in Freshman history agree with whoever said, "history repeats itself."

Let the Freshman Commission take your cleaning down town. It will save you much trouble. Leave your room number in the Y. W. C. A. box.

LETTER BACK HOME

Dear Mamma and Papa:

Well, here I am at Farmville and I'm scared to death. There are so many girls and I'm forever being stepped on and run over by others. I have been learning how to dodge them, though. Some of the girls have been real nice to me but one called me a "rat" today and that made me mad, because you know, mamma, I've never been called that in my life. Of course you call me your "little bunny" but that is different.

The Y. W. C. (whatever that is) gave us a reception. I wore my graduation dress. They had what they called a receiving line, but I didn't receive anything but a cramp in my hand from meeting people. They did give us ice cream and cake but I would much rather have had some of your good spare-ribs and sauer-kraut because I was hungry. Some of the girls danced but it didn't look like dancing to me. They didn't even have anybody to call figures. I miss having Hiram play his fiddle.

Whoever told you that this wasn't a co-ed school is crazy, because there are some boys from out in the country who hang around all the time. They say they're from Hampden-Sydney, whereever that is. I never heard of it, did you?

Some girls called "cute girls" have engagements with boys on Sunday and Saturday nights. I don't go down because I can hang over upstairs and see them.

Tell all the folks howdy for me and kiss the old grey mare.

Lovingly,
Minnie

HOW WE REACTED

Reactions! That word is always popping up here, there, and everywhere. It has become one of the most popular words of recent years; the student of psychology has found it indispensible; the doctor, the nurse, the biologist, the butcher, the baker, the candle-stick maker are proud to increase their vocabularies with the word "reactions."

September 19, 1933 at S. T. C. would have been a gold mine to any of the thousands of students of reactions. One such prospector did unwillingly stumble upon this hidden wealth, and here are the nuggests he carried away with him after the sand had been sifted:

Senior: "Well, I'm a senior with senior privileges and all that goes with them! Yet I'll have to be dignified especially on Saturday mornings which reminds me I haven't gotten my cap and gown. My cap and gown! By them shall ye know me. Just one more year—it doesn't seem possible that I've passed through my Freshman, Sophomore and Junior years, and now I'm a Senior!"

Junior "This will be a big year for me—no senior responsibilities, no sophomore "nobodyness," no freshman hardships; instead, I'm a Junior—I can go to the movies every night; I live in the Junior-Senior Building, but I won't have to be dignified until next year. What a grand year this is going to be for me!"

Sophomore: "Hooray! At last I'm a Sophomore, an upperclassman—freshman days are gone forever. When I remember those first homesick days last year—gee! everything seems so easy and familiar now. I really feel sorry for the freshmen, but just wait until Rat Week! Will I have a time? But on second thought a Sophomore doesn't even have the distinction of being a freshman; she lacks the superiority of a Junior, and of course, she cannot hope to touch the dignity and grandeur of a Senior. Oh! I don't have time for thoughts like these. Hail to the Sophomores!"

Freshman: "So this is college. I can't believe it—I'm really a "rat" at college—a small frog in a very large puddle, as someone said, and he surely was right. Wonder if that girl over there is a freshman or a senior? I'll never learn all the people here. Room 26—that means a lot to me when I can't even find my own room! I wonder if Rat Week is really so terrible, and if I can "take it?" H'mm. it says: "Lights must be out at 10:30." Why, I won't get to bed at all with the studying I have to do. Where's the library? What's that bell for? Prayers? It isn't Wednesday, is it?

And so on into the wee sma' hours of the night.

Subscribe to The Rotunda and get all the news of your college. Send a copy home.

S. T. C. VERNACULAR FOR THE FRESHMEN

Chapel—Half hour from classes each day.

Classes—Assets and liabilities of college life.

Eaco Teatre—Habitation of thrill seekers.

Flunk—That which disappoints our families.

Freshman—A bundle of ambition with love from mother. Large edition of inspiration nonenities.

Southside—Filling station for girls. Site of non-paying investment.

Home Office—Place everything starts and ends. Where we sign up to breathe.

Hampden-Sydney—Home of dashing young Romeos. Hot and tropical place where dates come from.

Infirmary—Where Dr. Fields reigns supreme and Castor Oil is King!

Junior—One who thinks she knows everything.

Rotunda—Place laundry is to be thrown. S. T. C. loud speaker. —Weekly gazette.

Recreation Hall—Where tired girls go after supper to wear themselves out. Otherwise known as date hall.

Shannon's—Nunnally's of Farmville. Parking limit one "dope."

Special delivery—Thirteen cents worth of loving.

Senior—One who looks as if she knows everything.

Student Building—The eternal dollar mark.

Sophomore—One who knows she knows everything.

Student Government—It behaves itself unseemingly. Tuesday night horror.

Hall President—Night walker that keeps awake.—Copied from the Rotunda, 1926)

HAVE YOU EVER NOTICED

When the other fellow acts that way, he is ugly; when you do it's nerves?

When the other fellow is set in his way, he's obstinate; when you are, it is just firmness?

When the other fellow doesn't like your friend, he's prejudiced; when you don't like his, you are simply showing that you are a good judge of human nature?

When the other fellow tries to treat someone especially well, he's leading; when you try the same game, you are using tact?

When the other fellow takes time to do things, he's dead slow; when you do it, you are deliberate?

When the other fellow spends a lot he is a spendthrift; when you do, you are generous?

When the other fellow picks flaws in things he's cranky; when you do, you are discriminating?

When the other fellow is mild in his manners, he is much of concession; when you are, it is gracious?

When the other fellow gets destructive, it is toughness; with you it is forcefulness?

When the other fellow dresses extra well, he's a dude; when you do it, it is simply a duty one owes to society.

When the other fellow runs great risks in business, he's foolhardy: when you do, you are a great financier?

When the other fellow says what he thinks, he's spiteful; when you do, you are frank?

When the other fellow won't get caught in a new scheme, he's backwoodsy; when you won't, you are conservative?

Florida Flambeau

Last week the Washington baseball team captured the American League pennant when they won from the St. Louis Browns in Griffith Stadium, Washington, D. C. The Senators have had a sensational season under the management of their fellow teammate, Joe Cronin, the exceptional short stop. It will be a hard proposition for President Roosvelt to decide which team to root for during the world series, because the team from his old home, New York—the Giants—will play the team from his new home, Washington.

Subscribe to The Rotunda and get all the news of your college. Send a copy home.

POETRY

BLUE RIDGE

All around me rise
Great mountains.
Below I hear the
Rushing waters.
God is here

Within the hall
A pleasant chatter,
On the steps
Singing voices.

Youth is here.
Our hearts are full
Of joy and understanding
We share it with
Our comrades
Love is here.

Helen Smith

BLUE RIDGE

Clouds!
Rising as smoke from a tiny flame.
Mountains!
Revealed to man in their majesty.
Haze!
Blending mountain and sky.
Color!
Glorifying the heavens.
Beauty!
Portraying God's handiwork.
Blue Ridge!
Youth's Haven!

—Helen Smith.

THE PASSING GLIMPSE

I often see flowers from a passing car
That are gone before I can tell what they are.
I want to get out of the train and go back
To see what they were beside the track.
I name all the kinds I am sure they weren't:
Nor foreweed loving where woods have burnt.
Nor Bluebells gracing a tunnel mouth
Nor Lupin living on sand and drought
Was something brushed across my mind
That no one on earth will ever find?
Heaven gives it's glimpses only to those
Not in position to look too close.

Robert Frost

Y. W. ENTERTAINS AT RECEPION

The annual Y. W. C. A. reception for freshmen and new girls was held in the Student Government Building lounge on Friday night, September '2 from 8 to 10 o'clock.

The freshmen and their "big sisters" were greeted by the receiving line composed of Dr. Jarman, Miss Jennie Tabb, Dr. and Mrs. J. P. Wynne, Miss Mary White Cox, Nancy Harrison, Virginia Hamilton, Elizabeth Vassar, Edith Shanks and Alice McKay.

Following the welocme by the receiving line the social committee of the Y. W. served punch and cakes in the gym.

The Sophomore orchestra furnished music for dancing.

Songs by Marion Wright, piano selections by Madeline McCommons, and a novelty number by the orchestra featuring Addie Norflett made a short but entertaining program.

A grand march, the gayest event of all, led by Miss Virginia Potts and Virginia Hamilton, ended the Y. W. reception for this year.

DEAN'S LIST FOR FALL IS ANNOUNCED

(Continued from page 1)

lege of not attending classes, when it is deemed wise.

The Dean's List for the fall quarter includes: Helen Frances Allen, Roanoke; Annie Louise Anderson, Jetersville; Virginia Brinkley, Suffolk; Margaret Copenhaver, Tazewell; May Disharoon, Cape Charles; Frances Horton, Roanoke; Barbara Kester, Martinsville; Mary Berkleley Nelson, Richmond; Alice Frances Rowell, Smithfield; Grace Warren Rowell, Smithfield; Margaret Rucker, Moneta; Bernice Scott, Carrsville; Edith Shanks, Roanoke; Mary Shelton, Farmville; Joyce Sturm, Appalachia; Gertrude Sugden, Hampton; Martha Scott Watkins, Farmville, and Dorothy Woolwine, Ceres.

SOCIALS

Only a comparatively few girls left our midst during the first week-end of school. The main part of the student body was content to conduct their social activities in the boundaries of the campus, seeing old friends and making new acquaintances.

* * *

The following four visited in Lynchburg: Bernice Jones, Margaret Parker, Billy Wilkinson, and Fanny Bosworth.

* * *

Louise McNulty attended the V. M. I. dances in Lexington.

* * *

A number of girls went home for the week-end. They were: Evelyn Knaub, Richmond; Belle Lovelace, South Boston; Louise Jeffreys, Drakes Branch, and Mary Jones, Sheppards.

* * *

Those students visiting in Crewe were Mildred Slayton and Charlotte Young.

* * *

Estelle Jones, Elizabeth Ranson, and Christine Seay visited in Dillwyn over the week-end.

* * *

Nancy Harrison attended the game in Charlottesville during the past week-end.

DEBATE CLUB BEGINS IT'S YEAR'S WORK

The Debate Club will resume its work this year with the following officiating:

President ..... Helen Smith
Vice-President .. Mildred Linthicum
Secretary ..... Margaret Pollard
Treasurer ..... Margaret Murray

The club welcomes the new girls to S. T. C. and hopes they will soon get acquainted with the club and its work. The Debate Club offers a wonderful opportunity, especially to freshmen, for training and development in oratorical lines. Watch for announcement of try-outs.

Y. W. C. A. CONFERENCE HELD AT BLUE RIDGE

(Continued from page 1)

told of social and religious life there. Another evening an American girl living in Buenos Aires talked of queer South American customs. At eight o'clock each night the conference wa saddressed by such speakers as Dr. W. A. Smart of Emory University, who will be at S. T. C. for two or three days during February, and Mr. Kirby Uage, noted author of books on world conditions today.

Other conference leaders were Mary Elizabeth Dale, Miss Davidson of R. M. W. C., Lynchburg, and Miss Winfred Wygal. These leaders helped to make this year's conference a worth-while experience for all the delegates there.

Jokes

Math. Prof.: "Now, if I subtract 25 from 37 what's the difference?"

Little Willie: "Yeah! That's what I say, who cares?"

Nurse (in insane asylum) "There's a man outside who wants to know if we have lost any male inmates."

Doctor: "Why?"

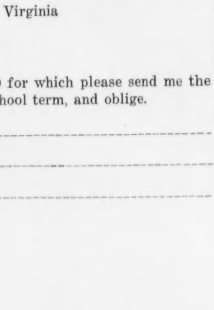
Nurse: "He says someone has run off with his wife."—Annapolis Log.

Soph: "Where you from?"

Frosh: "Whooziville, Virginia."

Soph: "One of those jerk towns, where everyone goes to meet the train?"

Frosh: "What train?"— Virginia Reel.



"My fortune is made."

"How so?"

"I've succeeded in crossing a homing pigeon with a collar button."—Annapolis Log.

"How much does your mother and father and little brother make?"

"Two, and one to carry."—U. S. C. Wampus.

"Don't lock the stable after the horse is gone," says practical Polly. "Rent it out as a garage."
© 1933, Bell Syndicate.—WNU Service.

AMUSING SKIT IS FEATURE OF SING

Familiar scenes of a freshman's first day at Farmville were very cleverly presented in sing on Saturday night, September 23. This being the first sing for the freshmen fitting to show them just how singularly different persons act on their arrival at S. T. C.

The skit began with several old girls seeing others who had been here before and showing just how excited they were at seeing each other again. The Freshmen didn't seem to enjoy seeing actions of that sort. They couldn't help feeling left out of it all, since they didn't know anyone didn't know where to go or what to do. Sally Thornhill, another new girl, amused us with her "Thally" talk and Kat Agoung, the sophisticated Freshman, and Ruth Showalter, the rather green one, enacted their first day in the company of the Y. W. girls. Of course the program wouldn't have been complete without Alice McKay and Claudia Harper playing the parts of inquisitive and rusticated mother and daughter. Claudia, with dolls (various colored ones, too) in arms, and wearing a "cocky" hat kept us almost in hysterics with her grins, calls of "mamma" and pigeon-toed walk. She fittingly ended the skit running after her mother's skirts and crying in her arms.

Fololwing sing the four ministers of Farmville churches, Rev. Diehl, Lipscomb, Cook and Redhead, all gave short inspiring talks, welcoming the new and old girls to their respective churches.

Y. W. C. A.

The main purpose of the Y. W. C. A. is to create a Christian attitude in the college. Most of the work is done through committees each of which plays a vital part in correlating the varied student activities.

The most outstanding things sponsored by the association are prayers, sing, and speakers, who come to the school at various times during the year.

Everyone in school is eligible for membership in the Y. W. C. A. Within the next week, freshmen and new girls will be given the opportunity of joining and of stipulating any phase of the work in which they may be particularly interested.

One of the purposes of the World Fellowship Committe of the Y. W. C. A. is to keep the student body in touch with world affairs. This committee is giving 100 subscriptions of "The American Observer" to Freshman Class for three months.

"The American Observer" is a review of social thought and action published weekly by the Civic Education Department. The editorial board consists of Charles A. Beard; George S. Counts, Harold G. Moulton, David S. Muzzey, and Walter E. Myer. "The American Observer" is clear, concise, yet comprehensive. Several copies have been put in the College Library for this week only.

"The American Observer" will keep the reader informed on the news of the day. Anyone who doesn't find time to read the daily newspaper can know what's going on through reading this paper.

The regular subscription price for this publication per year is $3.00. However, this week each student will be given the opportunity to subscribe for $1.00.

Margaret Parker, Lilia Mattox Tac Waters or Grace Rowell will take any one's subscription to this paper.

You have hung my moon,
You fixed my star—
Why did you shove them
Up so far?

"Is my face familiar, baby?"
"No, but it's trying to be."
Kansas Sour Owl

DRAMATIC CLUB BEGINS ITS WORK

The Dramtic Club held its first meeting on Tuesday evening, September 26 for the purpose of introducing itself to both new and old girls on the campus who are interested in that form of activity. The president, Nancy Harrison presented the leaders of the various departments, and also, Miss Leola Wheeler, the club's sponsor, who discussed briefly the work and purpose of the organization.

Any student may register for the apprentice period of three months. Those who have shown interest, faithfulness, and ability are elected as members of the club.

A large number of students attended the meeting who enrolled in the various departments to receive instructions in acting under the direction of Meg Herndon; in stage-setting under the direction of Louise Bullock; in make-up under the direction of Elizabeth Rogers; in properties under the direction of Martha Higgins; in costumes, under the direction of Kitty Hoyle; in lighting under the direction of Frances Horton; in business under the direction of Martha Scott Watkins; and in music under the direction of Sue Yeaman.

Going from bad to verse: What this country needs is a good poem.—Herbert Hoover.

Little Miss Muffet, decided to ruffit
In a cabin, old and medieval
A rounder espied her, and filled her with cider
And now she's the forest's prime evil.
—The Exponent

Kleanwell
CLEANERS AND TAILORS
Expert Cleaning, Repairing and Remodeling of Ladies Garments
Main Street, Opposite Postoffice
PHONE 98

Lucille Shop
"Just Across the Street"
Street Floor — Hotel Weyanoke
Apparel for the College Girls
Nuf-Sed

All Well Dressed Girls Do Not Deal At Dorothy May Store; But All Girls Who Deal at the Dorothy May Store Are Well Dressed
Come in and se the newst styles and materials. You will be surprised at our low prices!
THE DOROTHY MAY STORE
Main tSreet

DAVIDSON'S
FREE NOTEBOOK FILLERS TO S. T. C. STUDENTS
We invite you to come in today and get acquainted with the personnel of this modern department store—catering to the needs of S. T. C. students.
Things to wear — Things for your room

Eaco Theatre
PROGRAM, SEPT 27 TO OCT. 4

Wednesday, September 27
Chester Morris
and Vivienne Osborne
in
"Tomorrow at Seven"
A mystery drama that will hold your interest from beginning to end —unusual.
Added—Hal Le Roy and Mitzi Mayfair, the greatest dance team of all, in "Use Your Imagination," and Tom and Jerry cartoon.

Thurs. & Fri., Sept. 28 & 29
Janet Gaynor
and
Warner Baxter
in
"PADDY THE NEXT BEST THING"
Here's another "Daddy Long Legs" with the same stars. Paddy's father wanted a boy—and what he got was the next best thing—a tomboy—fiery, gay and mischievous. She did what she pleased and said what she pleased until this handsome stranger tamed her. You'll love this picture.
Also Pitts-Todd comedy, "One Track Minds."

Saturday, September 30
Fay Wray
and
Ralph Bellamy
in
"BELOW THE SEA"
Here's love, romance and adventure in a picture that holds you and thrills you every minute. Bellamy the hero, Fay Wray, the heroine, finally conquer all obstacles and end in each other's arms. It's a real treat.
Also Aesop Fable and Fox Latest News.

Next Monday, October 2
One Day Only
Ann Harding
and William Powell
in
"DOUBLE HARNESS"
Her husband was like a cake if ice when he learned she had tricked him into marriage. With one chance in a thousand of winning back his love, she gambled her all on a single play. A highly sophisticated drawing room affair you will thoroughly enjoy. One day only
Added—The Harlem Sensation — ETHEL WATERS, in "Rufus Jones for President" and Paramount News

Next Tuesday & Wednesday
Oct. 3 and 4
WILL ROGERS
and MARIAN NIXON
in
"DOCTOR BULL"
The strongest story of Rogers' career, with romance, suspense and heart interest; plus all the humor and geniality that have made him the world's favorite entertainer. He'd rather admire a leg than heal it—but does both like an expert.
Added—The Eaton Boys in "The Old Mill Stream".

Daily matinees at 4 P. M. Evenings at 8 P. M.

Prices—Adults, 35c at nights and 25c at matinees. Children under 12 years of age, 15c to each show.

C. E. Chappell
COMPANY
Stationery, Blank Books and School Supplies
Cigars, Cigarettes and Soda
MAIN STREET
Farmville, Virginia

S. A. Legus
TAILOR
CLEANING
PRESSING
REPAIRING
Phone 203

Fill out the blank below and send to the Business Manager of the Rotunda, Farmville State Teachers College, Farmville, Virginia. Be sure that your name and address is plainly written.

SUBSCRIPTION BLANK
The Rotunda, Farmville S. T. C.
Farmville, Virginia

BUSINESS MANAGER:

/ Enclosed please find $1.50 for which please send me the Rotunda for the length of the school term, and oblige.

SIGNED _____

Address _____

MANAGERS OF FALL SPORTS ANNOUNCED

A. A. Council Choose McDaniel, Rountree, And Hotron As Leaders

Mildred Gwaltney, president of the Athletic Association, announces the selection by the A. A. Council of Frances McDaniel as manager of hockey; Billie Rountree as manager of tennis, and Frances Horton as manager of archery.

These girls are particularly well fitted for their duties. Each of them will arouse interest in her field, look after the equipment and make sure that everyone has a fair chance to develop and display her skill.

Frances McDaniel, a Junior, has shown ability and great interest in all forms of athletics, and especially in hockey. Frances Horton was appointed to fill the place left by Alice Collins, who did not return to college. Frances, who is a member of the Senior Class, has gone out for every form of athletics and has often been influential in working up enthusiasm in the teams of '34 as well as in the college teams.

Billie Rountree, an active member of the Sophomore Class, has proven herself a competent leader. She knows the game well, and will get cooperation on the tennis courts.

COLLEGE CHOIR HOLDS FIRST MEETING

The College Choir held its first meeting oMnday night with a large attendance. Plans were discussed for broadcasts and concerts. Since this is the fiftieth anniversary of our Alma Mater the choir is making plans to contribute in a large measure to the celebration. With its old members and the addition of several new girls with outstanding talent the choir hopes to continue in its position as a vital factor in the music of the school as well as continue in its field of usefulness.

MONOGRAM CLUB

Freshmen interested in atheltics will be interested in the Monogram Club because this club stands for the best in athletics.

The wearer of an S. T. C. monogram has to her credit as many as 400 points, has passed the physical efficiency tests, has a scholastic average of C, and has been passed on by each member of the club for her sportsmanship.

"Sportsmanship always" is our motto. Not only sportsmanship on the athletic field but in every phase of life.

Practices are held for freshmen or upperclassmen who wish to pass off the physical efficiency tests which include stunts, field and track events, and badge tests.

Members of the club lead five-mile hikes every Saturday. Six five-mile hikes give 50 points credit toward athletic awards. Several times during the year ten-mile hikes are led, since eligibility to membership in the club requires on ten mile hike.

The first hike for this year was taken to Longwood last Saturday. Including Miss Iler, sponsor of the club, there were twenty-three hikers who enjoyed the walk and also the Longwood buns served them by the club.

The Monogram Club suggests that all freshmen interested in winning membership into this organization begin now by going on the hikes and coming out for the practices that will be announced.

JUST BECAUSE

Just because a girl doesn't act
Just like you, or
Just like you think she should act;
Just because her clothes don't look
Just like yours, or
Just like you think they ought to look;
Just because she doesn't talk
Just like you, or
Just like you think she should talk;
Just because a girl's herself instead of
Just like you, or
Just like you think she ought to be;
Is no reason she isn't
Just like she ought to be.

ATHLETICS

With such a vast number of homesick freshmen who declare that they have nothing to do, the prospects for the athletic season at S. T. C. are very promising. The Athletic Association is always wide awake and on the lookout for new girls who show athletic ability. However, it is impossible to find everyone and so it is up to every girl as a member of the Atheltic Association to come out to all practices and bring others along with her.

Hockey

The hockey season for the year 1933-'34 opened Monday, September 25 when regular practices began for everyone.

Freshmen and new students are urged to come out and share in the good times enjoyed on the athletic field. The freshman class is expected to bring in a supply of good material It is hoped that those upperclassmen who have been interested but who have failed to take an active part will do so this year. Do not hesitate to come out if you have never played hockey before. This is your big opportunity to learn. Many beginners have made the varsity squad and some have worked hard and learned to play well enough to make the varsity team. Many of our last year's varsity players graduated, this leaves places opened for freshmen and upperclassmen who are willing to work hard and enthusiastically to fill.

However, the varsity is not the only attraction in hockey for the greatest thrill comes on Thanksgiving when one is able to fight for her class and her colors on the athletic field.

The greatest benefit of hockey is that inner feeling of laughter, fun, and good sportsmanship that it brings. Who could wish for more on a cool autumn afternoon than a hockey stick in her hand and the encouraging voice of Miss Iler making her forget all cares and worries. Come out everyone and let's have a real hockey season!

Hockey schedule for next week.
Freshmen—5 o'clock Mon., Tues., Wed., and Thurs.
Upperclassmen—4 o'clock, Mon., Tues., Wed., and Thurs.
General practice—4 o'clock and 5 o'clock Friday.

Tennis

Come out for tennis! In a few days, our six (upperclassmen, please take notice!) courts will be ready for use, and we hope they will be in constant demand.

You, Freshmen and new girls who haven't found our new and renovated tennis courts, make the old girls show you where they are and also play a few sets with you. Of course, if you'd rather play by yourself, there are some good backboards out there for you to practice with.

The fall tennis season promises to be a very interesting one. The annual singles tournament will begin very soon, and you will be notified when to sign up for it. Also, plans are being made for one day tournament to be held on Saturday afternoons.

There are just a few more things to be said about tennis for the present, and we belive that, all of you will understand: The Atheltic Association, which is the student body, is justly proud of our new courts, and we want to keep them in good condition, so please wear tennis shoes whenever you are using them. Then, when you want to play, sign up for a court at the Athletic bulletin board in order to give everyone an equal opportunity to use the courts.

So come on out! Tennis is good exercise, and you don't have to be a second Helen Wills Moody to enjoy it. There will always be someone out there who knows something about the game and will be glad to help you. For further particulars, see Billy Rountree, the manager of tennis, or any member of the Atheltic Council.

Archery

Give archery a try! William Tell did and liked it.

Practice will be held beginning Thursday, September 28 from four to five o'clock in rear of Cunningham Hall.

Freshmen are urged to come out.

Instruction will be given in the "Point of Aim System". Take advantage of the good weather and come out to practices.

Who will be the first to hit the bull's eye?

Later Sports

Later in the year, the student body will have the pleasure of either participation in or watching games in basketball, volley ball, baseball, and a field and track meet. During the winter quarter and the first of the spring quarter the gym will be the scene of the first basketball and later volleyball tilts. With the coming of warm weather the athletes will seek the open spaces again, with baseball and feild and track on the athletic field.

There are many good times to look forward to in the field of athletics all during the year.

ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION ENTERTAINS STUDENTS

Sophomore Orchestra Feature Of Play Night in the Gymnasium

The Atheltic Association entertained the student body at an informal play night in the gymnasium Saturday night, September 23.

The Sophomore Orchestra was the main feature of the entertainment. Besides playing for the dancing, the four-piece orchestra did several of their special numbers. The members of this musical organization are: Lula Wilkinson, leader; Marion Jane Wright, vocalist; Dorothy Eubank, Claudia Harper, Virginia Widgeon, Grace Eubank, Lula Windley, Jane Colbourn, Elsie Truly, and Mary Virginia Johnston.

Play nights will be sponsored by the Athletic Association every Saturday night. These gatherings will give the students a chance to become thoroughly acquainted with each other.

ANNUAL PHOTOGRAPHER ARRIVES NEXT MONDAY

The photographer is coming next week, Monday, October 2 to take the pictures for the Virginian. The pictures will be only $1.00 this year for students.

All day Friday a table will be kept in the hall for the arranging of appointments. Come early and make your appointments as it will give you a choice and help the staff to get that part of the work done quickly.

Everyone will want her picture in the anniversary annual. Remember, just one dollar.

Make your appointment Friday and have your picture taken next week.

WHO'S WHO AT S. T. C.

Heed, all new students! In our college world, certain of our number, by reason of unusual ability and untiring service have reached the point of accomplishment which marks them as leaders of college activities. As leaders they serve most. They will be glad to identify new girls with the extra-curricula activities in which they are most interested. The following girls hold leading offices:

Alice McKay ... Pres. Student Gov.
Honey Hamilton .... Pres. Y. W. C. A.
"Roomie" Gwaltney ..... Pres. A. A.
Mary Shelton ..... Editor Rotunda
Mary B. Fraser .... Editor Virginian
Justine Cutshall .... Pres. House Coun.
Nancy Harrison .... Pres. Dram. Club
Margaret Parker .. Pres. Senior Class
Frances McDaniel, Pres. Junior Class
"Tac" Waters Pres. Sophomore Class
Helen Smith ..... Pres. Debate Club
Margaret Eley .... Pres. Cotillion Club
Lelia Mattox .. Pres. Monogram Club

NUMBER OF GRADS RECEIVE POSITIONS

ty; Bernice Guthrie, Lynchburg; Hilda Harvey, Concord Depot; Mary Hood, Prince William county; Lucille Hunt, Williamsburg; Myrtle Lawless, Bedford county; Marian Moran, Salem; Rebecca Owen, Stony Creek; Margaret Perkins, Virgilina; Evelyn Phillips, Gloucester Point; Audrey Smith, York county; Nannie Steger, Warren; Virginia Thornton, Bowling Green; Katherine Lee Young, Nathalie; Hethie Cox, Alta Vista; Lucille McGhee, Campbell county; Edith Halley, Campbell county; Charlotte Oakey, Salem.

Eleven girls taking courses one and two are resuming work here this fall.

Subscribe to The Rotunda and get all the news of your college. Send a copy home.

Prof.—What is steam?
Student—Water in a high state of perspiration.—Pathfinder.

Rescued—Sir, you have saved my life. I would gladly give you five dollars, but I have only a ten-dollar bill.
Rescuer—That's all right; jump in again.—Wall Street Journal.

Taylor Mfg. Co.
Contracting Building
Phone No. 260
N. MAIN ST. FARMVILLE

RICE'S SHOE STORE
Street and Dress Shoes
Dancing Slippers Dyed
Correct fits our speciality

Electric Shoe Shop
Will Fix Your Shoes While You Wait
BEST WORKMANSHIP AND LEATHER USED

YOU WOULD LOVE TO HAVE YOUR SHOES FIXED AT THE
Lovelace Shoe Shop
110 Third Street

WILLIS
The Florist
FLOWERS FOR ALL OCCASIONS
PHONES 181-273

Mack's
BARBER AND BEAUTY SHOP
323 Main Street
We use the Frederick Method
Hair Cutting and Thinning a Specialty

Martin JEWELER
Gifts of Lasting Remembrance
317 Main St. Farmville
We give Jubilee tickets

SouthsideDrugStore
(On the Corner)
Films Developed FREE
If bought at this store

Gray's Drug Store
QUALITY—PRICE—SERVICE
Come in and Get Acquainted
We Are Glad to Have You With Us!
Farmville, Virginia

Shannon's
Is Headquarters for the Best SANDWICHES
—and—
DRINKS
—in—
FARMVILLE!

WELCOME S. T. C. STUDENTS

We are glad to see you back and take this means of inviting you to make our store your headquarters. We have everything you need for your wardrobe.

THE HUB DEPARTMENT STORE
"Farmville Best Place to Shop"

GREETINGS, S.T.C.
from "The Style Shop for Ladies"
Now showing a complete line of college togs, ready to wear, millinery and shoes.
If it's new—it's at
BALDWIN'S
Quality—Price—Service

G. F. Butcher
High Street
"The Convenient Store"
FOR GOOD THINGS TO EAT AND DRINK

Weyanoke
BEAUTY SALON
A Complete Beauty Service At Moderate Prices
What we have done for others we can do for you
WEYANOKE HOTEL
Farmville Va.

FRESHMEN, CAREFULLY CHOOSE YOUR PRES.

THE ROTUNDA

POE

JOIN THE HOCKEY PLAYERS FROM 4 TO 6

We Teach To Teach

Volume XIV | THE ROTUNDA, WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 4, 1933 | No. 2

Frosh Make Four Nominations for Class President

Halloway, Jones, Kelly and Lane to Run for President of Class

ELECTION TO BE HELD TUESDAY

The Freshman class nominated candidates for class president at a very important meeting Tuesday night, October 3. Due to the absence of the president of the Junior class, Lelia Mattox, vice-president, presided. At the suggestion of the Junior class officers, the voting was done by secret ballot. The four girls receiving the highest number of votes were chosen to run for the office. These were Mary Hastings Halloway, Carolyn Jones, Lloyd Kelly, and Bonnie Lane.

The election of the class president, vice-president, secretary and treasurer will take place Tuesday, October 10. Nominations for president were made early so the members of the class could become acquainted with the nominees.

Mary Hastings Holloway, from Woodstock, was first honor graduate of her class in high school and vice-president of the senior class. She graduated in 1932 and took a commercial course at Massanutten Academy last year. Her record is good, and she has proved herself capable and efficient.

Caroline Jones was president of her class in high schol for two years in Portsmouth. She was also president of the French Club, secretary of the Mathematics Club, and a member of the staff of the school paper. She was recognized as a leader in her class.

Another nominee, Lloyd Kelly, from Big Stone Gap, was first honor graduate of her class in high school. She showed her ability in leadership as vice-president of the class and editor-in-chief of the annual.

Bonnie Lane has an excellent high school record from Roanoke. She was editor-in-chief of the school paper, assistant editor of the Acorn, chairman of the ceremonials committee, and president of the Quill and Scroll, a literary club. As holder of these offices, she proved herself a true, hard-working leader.

Ten Seniors Are New Chaperones

The assignment of senior mail boxes and the election of senior chaperones brought the realization to the Class of '34 that they were really Seniors.

At a recent class meeting the chaperones were elected. Each year the Seniors elect ten girls from their group to act as chaperones for underclassmen and other Seniors to games at Hampden-Sydney. The following girls were chosen Honey Hamilton, Margaret Parker, Alice McKay, Dorothy Prescott, Elma Rawlings, Louise Van Lear, Mildred Gwaltney, Mary Berkley Nelson, Mary McCarn and Nancy Harrison.

Margaret Parker, the president appointed Elma Rawlings and Alma Foster as a committee in charge of placing the names on the Senior mail boxes. These mail boxes furnish the means for underclassmen, faculty, and home department to get in touch with the Seniors. Two girls share each box, except for three of the major officers, Alice McKay, president of the student body, Virginia Hamilton, president of the Y. W. C. A., and Mildred Gwaltney, president of the Athletic Association.

Mr. Fielder Lectures Informally to Class In Music Appreciation

Mr. Arthur Fielder, conductor of the Boston Sinfonietta, was the distinguished visitor of the music appreciation class on Friday morning.

Professor Strick presented Mr. Fielder to the class with the instruction, "Say anything to us, that may be on your mind and heart." Mr. Fielder accepted by commenting succiently on the varied problems and people of music. This informal discussion added to his charm as he entertained and instructed.

Mr. Fielder finds his present audiences very much more familiar with great music and composers than when he first started "on the road" He attributes a great part of this to the radio. The Boston Symphony orchestra, under the direction of Mr. Fielder, will broadcast at 2:30 p. m. every Friday after November 1.

"St. Paul's Suite" by Gustav Holst, the suite for strings play by the Boston Sinfonietta, Mr. Fieder commented, was writetn for the English girls' school of that name. Mr. Holst came to Boston two years ago. Soon after the Boston Symphony presented this work for the first time in America.

Mr. Fielder was asked whom he considered the three leading American composers of today, a question which the conductor deemed too difficult to answer. He claimed it as such because the so-called American composers are not Americans but naturalized foreigners. He spoke highly of Louise Gruenburg, whose opera "Emperor Jones" saved the Metropolitan Opera Company by the packed houses to which it played. He mentioned the very modern Roger Session of Massachusetts and Arran Copeland of Brooklyn.

Mr. Fielder spoke of the disturbances in many small countries as advantageous for American music lovers. The disagreeable conditions in Germany and Austria "have sent a Schonamburg to Boston."

Mr. Fielder has recently returned from Germany where he witnessed the Nassiz refuse to allow musical programs include numbers by non-German sympathizers. "Art should be international. Such an attitude is a step backward."

This point was illustrated by saying that each nationality had its own contribution. For instance, Russians excel on brass instruments, Austrians on strings, and Italians as singers. Hence, the Boston Symphony Orchestra is made up of several nationalities. Here Mr. Fielder mentioned that this is the only non-union orchestra in America. It does not wish to be restricted in its selection of ar-

Continued on page three

Photographer Takes Pictures for Annual

Virginian Staff Members Solicit Subscriptions This Week

Pictures for the "Virginian" are being taken this week in the Little Sitting Room by Mr. Dunbar of Dunbar and Daniel, Inc., photographers in Raleigh, North Carolina.

Everyone was given an opportunity on Thursday and Friday of last week to make an appointment to have his or her picture made this week for the annual. About four hundred persons signed then for pictures. That, however, is not the whole student body, the faculty, and administration.

Subscriptions to the annual are being taken this week at the table in front of the Little Sitting Room by members of the "Virginian" staff. The staff this year plans to produce the best possible annual and wishes to have the whole school represented in that annual and subscribing to it.

Pictures for the annual are being taken unusually early this year because the "Virginian" for 1933-'34 will be a special edition. Since this is the fiftieth anniversary of the school, the staff expects to publish the annual before Founders Day.

Student Body Elects VarsityCheerLeader

Helen Shawen was elected varsity cheer leader by a large majority at the student body meeting of Monday night, October 2.

Mildred Gwaltney, president of the Athletic Association, presided over the election. In her short talk preceding the nominations she urged that a girl would be elected who had had experience, who could secure the cooperation of the student body, and who would faithfully and enthusiastically perform her duties throughout the entire year.

The three nominations for cheer leader were Helen Shawen, Meg Herndon, and Sallie Thornhil. The merits of each girl for the position were discussed briefly.

Helen Shawen, a senior, is from Newport News, Va. Formerly she has served in this capacity in her class. Last year she helped Alice Moore with the cheering at several athletic encounters. The loud burst of applause that greeted the election returns gave proof that the students will back her in cheering on the blue and white.

Apprentices Enroll In Dramatic Club; Many to Try-out

A large number of girls came out for Dramatic Club at the meeting held in the small auditorium last week. They signed up for apprentice work period in the different departments of the club.

Those signing up for the staging department under the direction of Louise Bulloch were Ophelia Booker, Helen Westmoreland, Phyllis Ferguson, Louise Gathright, Elizabeth Daulton, Mary Bowles, Ila Evans, Kathryn Switzer, and Merwyn Gathright.

Those girls trying out in the costume group under the leadership of Kitty Hoyle, were Catherine Conway, Caroline Byrd, Dorothy Ranson, Ann Diggs, Bessie Strick, Mabel Britt, Virginia Bran, Bertha White Babb, Lelia Sanford, Lucille Moseley, Marguerite Bradford, Elizabeth Smith, Blanche Kahn, Mary Elizabeth Alexander, and Cappy Roundtree.

The make-up group under Elizabeth Rogers includes Florence Tankard, Chub Denit, "Puffy" Jones, Virginia Rawlings, Marie Moore, Lila Jacobs, Louise Jeffries, Irene Bailey, Jacob, Louise Jeffries, Zaida Thomas, Margaret Clark, Charlotte Young, Jean Foote, Frances Woodhouse, Julia Ober, Mildred Hancock, Minnie Smith, Elizabeth Booth, Virginia Baker, Nancy Beard, Martha Stein, and Claire Eastman.

The acting department headed by Margaret Herndon includes Angerona Aydlette, Ella Mac Brown, Frances Burger, Doris Coates, Edith Caffee, Grace Collins, Margaret Dortch, Wilma Denit, Nancy Dodd, Rebecca Davaney, Murkland Dressler, Martha Glen Davis, Edna Dawley, Jean Foote, Victoria Gilbette, Virginia Hannah, Martha Hamlet, Frances Hudgins, Evelyn Howell, Audrey Hawthorne, Katherine Irby, Lois A. Jenkins, Caroline Jones, Frances Johnson, Addie Lee Jarman, Evelyn Knaub, Eleanor Kellam, Marion Lane, Bannie Lane, Alice McGruber, Dot Morris, Bess McGlathlin, Lucy Miller, Dot McNamee, Eloise Marchburn, Dot Price, Cary Putney, Lucille Rhodes, Kitty Roberts, Ruby Smith, Patsy Saunders, Alliene Saunders, Muriel Scott, Rose Simmers, Mary Janet Stewart, Nancy Wall, Jean Walker, Linda Walker, Eleanor Ware, and Margaret York.

The business group under Martha Scott Watkins are: Virginia Jones, Ophelia Booker, Helen Westmoreland, Bonnie Lane, June Allen, Frances Johnson, Angerona Aydlette, Rebecca Devanney, Eleanor Ware, Mary Hastings Holloway, Nancy Dodd, Elise Marshburn, Rose Somers, and Helen

Continued on page three

V.I.P.A. Convention Meets in Richmond On October 27-28

West Hampton and University of Richmond Will Entertain Jointly

DR. FREEMAN IS THE SPEAKER

The seventh annual convention of the Virginia Intercollegiate Press Association will meet at the University of Richmond on October 27 and 28. It is sponsored jointly by the staff of "Richmond Collegian" and "Pi Delta Epsilon," national journalistic fraternity.

The V. I. P. A. was started during the 1927-1928 session by the Rotunda staff of Farmville State Teachers College, and the Tiger staff of Hampden-Sydney. At that time Evelyn Dulaney was editor-in-chief of the Rotunda and Alexander Hudgins of the Tiger. Since then many other colleges have taken part in the V. I. P. A. and it has become an important state organization.

Plans have already been made for the meeting. The first session opens in Maryland Hall, Friday, October 27. This will be followed by individual discussion groups for managers of newspapers, magazines, annuals, and college publications.

Dr. Douglas S. Freeman, editor of the Richmond News Leader will be the principal speaker at the formal meeting, Friday night. At this time cups will be awarded to winners in the different classes.

Ninety-five publications have registered the names of their editors and business managers with the executive secretary of the association. They expect to attend the meeting and learn how to improve papers and annuals.

Twelve college editors will be initiated as honorary members of the University of Richmond chapter of Pi Delta Epsilon at the meeting of the V. I. P. A. These editors will be chosen from schools which have no national journalistic fraternity.

Indications are that the fall meeting will be one of the best held in Virginia. Registrations show that the attendance will be unusually large. Present plans promise excellent speakers and entertainment.

S. T. C. Baptist Girls Organize Into Group

The Baptist Student Union held its first meeting for this year on Sunday afternoon, October 1 to elect officers. Bernice Scott, the president pro tem pore presided over meeting. The report of the nominating committee was presented and unanimously accepted. The following are the officers for the coming year:

President ..... Bernice Scott
1st Vice-Pres. ..... Evelyn Massey
2nd Vice-Pres. .... Winnie F. Eubank
3rd Vice-Pres. ..... Mary Thompson
Sec.-treas. ..... Alliene Saunders
Reporter ..... Mabel Britt
Chorister ..... Kitty Chappell
Pianist ..... Marjorie Bradhsaw

An interesting discussion of the State B. S. U. Conference to be held at Averett College, Danville, November 10-12, fololwed. Several S. T. C. girls expressed a desire to attend the Convention. Many plans were made for the coming year. The girls They voted to give an invitation to the Virginia State President to visit the local organization in order that a great interest might be created in the B. S. U. work on the campus. The Union also planned to have a Baptist pep meeting at an early date to draw the Baptist students closer together.

Boston Sinfonietta Is Composed of Artists; Have Qualities of Talented Musicians

Seventeen artists culled from the Boston Symphony Orchestra and known as the Boston Sinfonietta presented a program last Thursday evening in the College auditorium to a large and enthusiastic audience. In this group were representatives from Germany, Holland, France, Russia Portugal and America, and they spoke one language in a manner convincing. Not long ago a group of men met in London. They came from many countries, and they spoke several languages.

THE ESSENTIAL DIFFERENCE: In the former harmony and understanding. The latter strife and discord. To the former music was the welding force to bring together these men from many nations, and growing out of this parliament of men we find ourselves the beneficiaries of wealth in the finer things of life. As I listened to these "Apostles of Peace" I could not help but feel that the secret of this peculiar fellowship (in which understanding formed no little part) could be laid to the elusive of arts.

THESE MEN HAVE CULTURE: Well, what is culture? Is it not (to quote a learned gentleman) "The highest manifestation of a people's standard of thought?" And, therefore, a seat of culture must be adapted to the needs of a people. It embraces the wide knowledge of human things needed for happiness and usefulness.

THESE MEN HAVE RHYTHM: Rhythmn is the most essential element in human volition. It asserts itself in music and the world is governed by a gigantic rhythmic force which holds together the atoms of the universe.

THESE MEN HAVE UNDERSTANDING: Over the Greek temples this inscription was written hundreds of years ago: "Man know thyself." To understand one's self is the steppingstone to the evaluation of others and this inventory of self gives a clearer perspective to the things not resident within us. It is one of the cardinal virtues that must be possessed by any man or set of men who work with one another.

THESE MEN HAVE ARTISTRY: Three essentials make up the sum total of a musical performance—the instrument, the performer and the creative work or composition. The true interpretation of an artist then is one who uses his intrument of skill to project the wishes of the creator. And lastly:

THESE MEN HAVE IDEALISM:

Continued on page three

THE ROTUNDA

Member Southern Inter-Collegiate Newspaper Association
Member Intercollegiate Press Association of Virginia

Newspaper — National Scholastic Press Association — Member

Published by Students of State Teachers College, Farmville, Va.

Entered as second class matter March 1, 1921, at the Postoffice of Farmville, Virginia, under Act of March 3, 1879.

Subscription ..... $1.50 per year

ROTUNDA STAFF

Editor-in-Chief .... Mary Shelton, '34
Associate Editor .... Lelia Mattox, '35

Board of Editors

News ..... Evelyn Massey, '36
Make-Up ..... Katherine Hoyle, '36
Literary ..... Agnes Bondurant, '36
Sports ..... Elizabeth Billups, '36
Louise Walmsley, '36
World News ..... Velma Quarles, '34
Intercollegite ..... Caroline Byrd, '36
Social ..... Marion Raine, '36
Art ..... Alice Rowell, '34
Feature ..... Elizabeth Walton, '36
Alumnae ..... Miss Virginia Potts

Reporters

Edith Shanks, '34; Mary Easley Hill, '34; Elizabeth Vassar, '35; Mary Elizabeth Alexander, '36; Lula Windley, '36.
Proof Readers: Katherine Coleman, '35
Grace Eubank, '36

Managers

Business ..... Mary Diehl, '34
Assistant ..... Elma Rawlings, '34
Circulation ..... Nell Oakey Ryan, '34
Assistant ..... Janice White, '35

The Rotunda invites letters of comment, criticism, and suggestion from its readers upon its manner of presenting and treating them. A letter, to receive consideration, must contain the name and address of the writer. These will not be published if the writer objects to the publication.

All matters of business should be addressed to the Business Manager and all other matters should come to the Editor-in-Chief. Complaints from subscribers as regards irregularities in the delivery of The Rotunda will be appreciated.

FRESHMAN ELECTIONS

Before many more weeks have passed you, the Class of '37, will be electing your officers and class man. This will mark your advent into college activities as an organized, independent unit. Thus far in your college life you have been advised in every move you have made, but soon you will have to march forth unprotected. Let it be with strong leaders in the front rank.

Nothing need be said about the choice of a sponsor, for you can not go far wrong with the good material you have at hand. Nor is it difficult for you to gain a knowledge of their special merits.

However, until a few weeks ago your fellow classmates were strangers to most of you. It is imperative that you get off to a good start, and to accomplish this you must have competent leaders. The problem then is to become acquainted with as many of your classmates as possible, so that you might judge for yourself whether or not they have the qualities of leadership which include sincere democracy, initiative, self-confidence, impartiality, and the ability to get along with all types of girls.

TOGETHER

A good soldier never breaks step. Pulsating in rhythm, he marks time and, at the command of his captain, he surges forward. Alert, attentive, he is quick to respond to such signals as preserve the oneness of the marching body. He appreciates the need of cooperative action; he feels the pull of togetherness which binds many individuals into a composite whole, making them an efficient unit.

Ours is a marching body. Oneness of purpose and oneness of interests make it such. The need of a united life with one for all and all for one creates the further necessity of united action. To maintain the best rhythm, to cover the most ground, there must be cooperation on the part of the individuals who constitute the whole. Togetherness with the Student Government, the House Council, the Administration, the Faculty—with one another—that is what we need! So let us be good soldiers. Let us feel the singleness that blends us into an undivided body. Let us respond to the signals of those who lead. With our best foot forward, let us push ahead and make this our greatest marching year. Let us not break step!

World News

After a two day trip down the Potomac, President Roosevelt returned to the White House where he was greeted by several of his cabinet members and financial advisers. Before the conference broke up the group threshed over a wide field of problems. In the dark outside the White House, Secretary Woodin chirped, "Everything looks very hopeful."

On General Johnson's desk last week lay a brand new order, which when signed by the President would bring into play the tariff clause of the National Recovery Act to exclude cheap foreign imports threatening NRA manufacturers.

President Roosevelt has appointed Robert Walton Moore, 74 year old Virginia bachelor as assistant to Secretary of State Hull, to replace Raymond Moley.

Last week John Llewellyn Lewis, president of United Mine Workers of America, and John Adams Morrow, president of the Pittsburgh coal company, who also heads the Northern Coal Control Association, signed a document providing for the unionization of all the soft coal mines of Pennsylvania, Ohio, West Virginia, Virginia, Maryland, Tennessee, and part of Kentucky. Out of the agreement the workers got better working conditions, and the operators said that there would not be another bituminous coal strike at least until April 1, 1934.

Stout, frugal, shiny-nosed Queen Wilhelmina of the Netherlands was cheered by crowds of Dutchmen as she rode from her palace to open the State General (Parliament). In speaking she rejected the notion that inflation of gold is needd to improve Dutch trade, saying "My government must not undertake any risky experiments of a monetary or economic nature."

FROM OLD ROTUNDAS

Oct. 5, 1922.

On Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday of this week the Y. W. C. A. held marshmallow roasts for all who wished to attend. This is a new and enjoyable event inaugurated by the Y. W. C. A.

Oct. 21, 1922.

There are people of today who would have us believe that the greater number of our modern girls smoke cigarettes, paint their faces, and talk slang. This is not true. The great majority of our modern young women are too busily engaged in hustling for a livelihood to find the time for such indiscretions ,even if opportunities presented themselves. And those few are generally found among the "idle rich."

Oct. 13, 1923.

Ho! on the horizon there looms a new edifice, which we, of the Normal School, call our Student Building.

Everybody is interested in the Student Building; money not only comes in, it flows in; not in spurts and dashes, but in a steady stream.

Now we school ourselves to patience and await that long-looked for November 1, when the Student Building will be open and ready for use. School life looks bright for us.

Oct. 20, 1923.

Interesting facts gleaned from the Freshman intelligence test held Oct. 2 by Mr. Grainger:

Mussolini: Famous artist; British muscian; foreign minister of U. S.; a famous Irishman.

Bolshevist: One who is neither a Republican nor a Democrat.

Alumnae News

Alumnae—Get ready for big things this year. With the fiftieth Anniversary we are counting on you help to make this one of the best years in our history.

Petersburg is already on the job with an announcement of a meeting to be held for the purpose of electing officers for the year.

Following is a list of alumnae marriages which took place this summer:

Frances Major Booth, of Lynchburg to William Walker Florance, of Richmond.

Pauline Blankenship, of Hopewell to Walter F. Dunnington of Bowling Green.

Gladys Clarke, of Kenbridge, to Lieut. Samuel Edward Gee, also formerly of Kenbridge.

Ella Gates of Rice to W. N. Rankin.

Marion Love, of Kenbridge, to Rev. M. M. Austin, of Victoria.

Ada Evangeline Phipps, of Wytheville, to Dennis Maury Cassell. They will live at Burk's Garden.

Ruth Esther Owen, of Hillsboro, N. C., to William Robert Carr of Chatham.

Of interest to alumnae is the marriage of Miss Olive Esther Thomas to Dr. Habib Kurani, of Syria, Mrs. Kurani was associated with the Physical Education Department of the State Teachers College several years prior to her marriage. The wedding took place August 31 in the Tropical Garden of President and Mrs. Dodge, overlooking the Mediterranean Sea and was performed by Professor Crawford of the faculty of the American University. The bride wore a gown of white mussoline de soie, trimmed in point lace from her mother's wedding dress, and a picture hat. Her attendants were two sisters of the groom and two small nieces as flower girls. Miss Grace Dodge played the wedding music. Her sister, with the Misses Kurani sang "Oh, Promise Me". After a wedding trip through the Lebanon Mountains Dr. and Mrs. Kurani will be at home in Beirut

Mrs. James E. Drewry of Capron, announces the engagement of her daughter, Hope, to James Winston Fuque, of Surry. The wedding will take place in the fall.

Nell Preston is on a world tour and is at present in India where she will spend the autumn months.

Mrs. R. E. Watts (Margaret Vincent), Mrs. . J. Gwaltney (Dean Cox) and Lucy Thompson were recently elected officers of the Junior Woman's Club of Emporia.

Lucy Irving will be in Farmville for the winter and will take courses in advanced languages at the college.

Edith Agee will teach in Beckley, W. Va., this winter.

Elizabeth Morris will have charge of the English and Literature Department of the Layne Business School. in Farmvile this winter.

Frances Gilkeson Coleman was elected "Queen Culpeper" and ruled over the Tri-Carnival at Culpeper, held September 16 and 17.

Mary Thomas Rawls visited the college for the week-end.

Misses Grace Moran and Myrtle Grenels went by motor to California the latter part of the summer, via the Chicago Exposition.

Misses Ada Bierbower, Georgianna Stephenson and Willie McKee attended the World's Fair.

Letters to Editor

Dear Editor:

Student participation in government is far advanced at our school. However, we find much of the idea of simply being subject to it and not to carry one's own share of the burden.

The ideal student government is one in which every student actually participates. It is not ideal when a small group of girls is called upon to bear the entire responsibility. This, so far, has been the tendency in our school. We have been content to allow our student council carry our work and attend to it the best that they could.

THE THREE FRESHMEN

One morning an inquiring young reporter set out with a notebook under her arm and her pen in her hand to find out what the freshmen thought about in general at S. T. C. The adventuresome young woman encountered three freshmen whom she considered representative of the class and asked them for their frank, unbiased opinions of certain phases of college life. These opinions the subjects gave freely and willingly, "without fear or favor." Their names are negligible—let's call them one, two and three.

Q. "Do you or do you not like the life here at S. T. C.?"

A. No. 1: "in general I like the life here a great deal. I have found all the girls very friendly—the upperclassmen have been especially nice. I like all my classes. The restrictions are not too lenient nor too severe. I think they work out to make us all live happily together."

A., No. 2: "I'm crazy about the life here. I like the faculty—all the teachers that I have know how to put things across; they're very considerate and don't expect too much of one. The upperclassmen are awfully sweet and make the freshmen feel as if they have a part in the life. I've enjoyed all the things they've done for us. (Afterthought) The food isn't so bad."

A., No. 3: I like it here as well as I could at any college, but of course it isn't like home."

Q. Do you approve of Rat Week, i. e., hazing in a mild form sponsored by the Sophomore class?"

A., No. 1: "I don't mind Rat Week as far as wearing skull caps and mismatched stockings is concerned, but I'm not so keen about bed-making. I think Rat Week presents a good opportunity of finding out whether a girl is a good sport or not.

A., No. 2: "I certainly do approve of Rat Week—it's half the fun of being a Rat.

A., No. 3: "I think it adds interest to the school life.

Q. "What do you believe is the main cause for most of the homesickness among the freshmen?"

A., No. 1: "Not mixing freely enough with other girls, I believe, is one of the main causes for homesickness. If the girls who are home sick would mingle more with the crowd, instead of shutting themselves off, they would soon get over it."

A., No. 2: "Lack of interest in social life is the main cause. In rare instances, a person who doesn't know how to mix with people feels left in the lurch."

A., No. 3: "Letters from home; They make me home sick. Yet I'd die if I didn't get the letters, so there you are!"

WISDOM

When I have ceased to break my wings
Against the faultiness of things
And learn that compromises wait
Behind each hardly opened gate
When I can look life in the eyes,
Grown calm and very coldly wise,
Life will have given me the truth
And taken in exchange my youth.
—Sara Teasdale.

RETROSPECT

A backward glance o'er traveled roads
Is ours tonight.
We dimly see the paths we trod
With weary gait.
And as each timely milestone fades in Darkness from our sight,
Our hearts are yearning, waiting,
Answer fate.
—Sue Wooding, '37

PI. GAMMA MU INITIATES MEMBERS

The Virginia Gamma Chapter of Pi Gamma Mu will initiate the following new members tonight:

Edna Hatcher
Margaret Morgan
Alice Rowell
Grace Rowell
Beverly Wilkinson
Birdie Wooding
Mary Wicker

Subscribe to The Rotunda and get the news of State Teachers College.

Let us make our system of student participation ideal by each students' feeling that it is her duty to share enthusiastically in all its problems.
A Student

CAMPUS COMMENTS

It's odd how a girl growls about spending week-ends here when she's going to school, and then when she's finished, the first thing she wants to do is come back and pay the old "Alma Mater" a visit. Good examples of this are Mary Conway and Frances Dorin.

Did you ever see anything quite like the way S. T. C. turned out in their new fall outfits for the Hampden-Sydney-Guilford game Saturday. It hurt to put out eighty-five cents, though, even if it was at H. S. C.

It takes some man to make Dot Glover put sugar in her glass of water instead of in coffee.

We wish to award to Miss Corrine Mosby (Chic to you) the degree of X. Y. Z. in handwork. She has faithfully instructed several ambitious young ladies in crocheting and knitting. Why, you ought to see Chub Denit—she wields a mean needle. And even Helen Westmoreland sits by the hour faithfully working the knitting needles. How times do change!

And people say S. T. C. is not a finishing school! Let's take a glance at a Senior's schedule music appreciation, house decorating, natural dancing, geography, novel reading course, and English!

Of the 59 Elizabeths in school there are "Lizzies," "Libbys," "Libs," and one "Ludie Pie."

AT OTHER COLLEGES

The football game between Guilford College and Hampden-Sydney resulted in a 19-0 score in the latter's favor. It is one of the two games to be played on home territory this season, the second being the homecoming game with Roanoke.

This year's freshman class at V. M. I. is larger than that of 1932-'33. It is near the 200 point.

Captain Benjamin Bowering of Fredericksburg, Va., author of the ever popular V. M. I. "Spirit" was recently married to Miss Gladys Gaskill of Fort Leavenworth, Kansas. —The V. M. I. Cadet.

Columbia University's total living alumni is reported to be 44,103, of which number 30,720 reside within 50 miles of New York City. Barnard and Teachers College are not included in this number.—The Spectator.

At Newcomb College, New Orleans, La., there is an old custom for the president of the Junior Class to toss a bouquet of flowers to the members of the freshman class at the Y. W. C. A. reception. The freshman is supposed to have luck during her four years of college and is called the "lucky" freshman.—Tulane Hullabaloo.

Randolph - Macon College now boasts a professional sleuth, or so it would seem, for an alumni, William A. Rorer, was recently credited with the capture of George R. "Machine Gun" Kelly. He was highly commended by the bureau of investigation for his work in capturing the notorious outlaw.

The Brackety-Ack of Roanoke College warns students that the original mean men who go around tickling dogs just to see them scratch are only psychology students applying what they know.
Intercollegiate

THE NIGHTS REMEMER

The nights remember lovely things they knew,
The words, lovers, tremulous and wise,
And kisses blown and laughter and the beauty
Of gowling eyes.
The nights remember hours white with wonder,
Dipped with red stars and strongly luminous.
Perchance, beloved, when the years have lengthened
They will remember us.
— Harold Venal.

SOCIALS

Nancy Wall, Elise Marshburn, and Evelyn Wilson spent the week-end in Boydton.

Two girls visited in Lynchburg. They were: Freda Shields and Eileen Howard.

Ann Wilson went to Prospect to visit brother and sister there.

Richmond claimed the presence of many students from S. T. C. They wee: Martha Davis, Kathryn Woodson, Virginia Leonard, Rachel Joyner, Helen Conquest, Dorothy Wise, Frances Martin, Mary Alice Farrell, Katherine Malane, Jean Willis, Marjorie Ramey, Claudia Harper, and Kitty Bass, and Marion Raine went to Danville for the week-end.

Minnie Smith visited parents in South Hill.

Lelia Lovelace and Nancy Dodd went to Chase City.

Two went to the game in Charlottesville; they were: Virginia Saunders and Henrietta Salsbury.

Katheryne Fitzgerald visited in Clarksville for the week-end.

SING DELIGHTS STUDENT BODY

The scene of Sing, Saturday night was laid in Shannon's. As the curtains parted this command was heard from a crowd of S. T. C. girls:

"Rudy, drop this nickel in the "vic". Let's have a little music."

Rudy, in the person of Lelia Sanford, did as he was bidden, and the strains of the lovely Shadow Waltz issued forth from the electric piano—the electricity being furnished by Christine Seay and Vivian Davis. To the delight of everyone present Mary McCarn sang the melody. This was followed by "Cabin In the Pines," sung by Marion Jean Wright, S. T. C.'s blues singer.

The music changed into something very snappy—so snappy, in fact, that the girls could not sit still, so Nubbie Knaub, Duckie Woodard, Dot and Margaret Eley, Bug Byrd and Liz Rogers gave an exhibition of modern ball-room dancing. The music stopped, and sad, but true, there were no more nickles in the crowd, no more amusement but Angerona Aydlette came to their rescue and for the next few minutes she entertained her friends by reciting "Miss Kate Promotia". Suddenly someone remembered the masquerade and out they all rushed.

MR. FIELDER GIVES INFORMAL TALK

Continued from page one

tists.

In commenting on the work of the Boston Symphony Orchestra, Mr. Fielder said that rehearsals for concerts lasted for a week. The orchestra beginning each Monday rehearses each morning and gives a concert on Friday afternoon to a house of approximately 2500. The same program is repeated on Saturday night. The Friday afternoon audience is particularly appreciative. This weekly program is followed during the winter concert work. The symphony will make a three week's tour this fall. A concert at the Chicago World Fair will be included on this tour. Such a trip requires a special train and is of course, very expensive.

Although the Boston Symphony Orchestra plays to larger houses it has an annual deficit of $50,000. Major Higginson of Boston, formerly made up this deficit. Since his death in 1924 it has been in the hands of trustees and is met by private donations. The radio programs help to meet this deficit also.

In discussing the Boston Mixed Choir of which Mr. Fielder is director, he said that its members were selected by try-outs. The choir is composed of some 125 people, most of whom are professional singers. They rehearse by groups when beginning the study of a number.

Prof. Strick expressed his desire for Mr. Fielder to help celebrate the 50th anniversary of Farmville S. T. C. by a composition in honor of the occasion.

After the lecture to the music appreciation class, Mr. Fielder conducted the Boston Sinfonietta in an impromptu program in the auditorium.

Subscribe to The Rotunda and get the news of State Teachers College.

COLLEGE CHOIR ENJOYS SOCIAL GATHERING

On Monday evening the College Choir enjoyed a social hour in the choir room after its regular rehearsal, in compliment to its new members. A delightfully informal program, consisting of vocal numbers by Dorothy Fugett, Rebecca Glenn, Barbara Kester and Mary McCarn, and piano selections by Edna Hatcher, Louise Hyde and Mr. Strick, proved of interest to all. After refreshments were served the entire group sang Alma Mater and "The Perfect Day" bringing to a close a most enjoyable hour.

APPRENTICES ENROLL FOR DRAMATIC WORK

Continued from page one

Shawen.

The lighting group under Frances Horton consists of Helen Shawen, Catherine Crews, Elizabeth Glass, Mildred Slayton, Katharine Walton, and Edna King.

Martha Higgins heads the property group with the following girls as aprentices: Marie Mears, Frances Woodhouse, Elizabeth Booth, Katherine Switzer, Dot Price, Ella Arthur Back, and Marian Layne.

The music group under the direction of Sue Yeaman includes Margaret Dudley, Wilma Denit, Florence Sanford, Mary Hastings Holloway, Nancy Beard, Lucy Miller, and Evelyn Howell.

BOSTON SINFONIETTA GIVES FINE CONCERT

Continued from page one

Idealism removes from man all inhibitions to which he may be prone. It seeks to help others. It glories in the nuances of letters. Its mental gaze is on the past, its hope in the future; the vision of the beautiful is its supreme satisfaction; its presence regulates conduct and transfigures aspiration.

Idealism is of the spirit spitrual and the negation of the carnal.

Nor would I forget the man who made this concert possible. To him we ascribe honor worthy of the man. Deeds not words bring us nearer to the nature of kindredship, and in this summary of deeds performed, have we found a deeper fellowship with that lover of the beautiful in music.

Let there be love, that we may better know
The wants of men, to understand their need,
Giving of self in fuller life to grow,
Losing ourselves in every thought and deed.

In love possessing, our voices blend in one,
"Roads" are dead things, 'tis life that marches on.

Alfred H. Strick

Jokes

Mr. Dollar (arriving at dinner party with family): "Please announce Mr. and Mrs. Dollar and daughter."

New Butler (announcing in loud voice): "Three bucks."—Wampus.

During the war, so the story goes, the Germans named their ships after jokes so the Engish wouldn't see them.

Mother: "Has daddy finished dressing yet?"

Son: "I don't think so, Mummy, I just heard him talking to his collar button."

"Where you goin' so fast?"

"I just bought a new text-book and I'm trying to get to class before it goes out of date."

A monologue is a conversation between a student and a professor. —Ski-U-Mah.

Garage Attendant (as car drives up): "Juice?"

Car Occupants: "Vell, vot if we iss—don't we git no gas?"

She entered the restaurant and ordered tea and bread and butter. Having eaten it she called the waiter and asked for a bun. "Will it be long?" she said.

"No, Madam," replied the waiter, "It will be round."—Log.

YOUTH

He has breased the hill at last,
And smiles at the cool breeze blowing
The strands of hair from his sweatless brow.
"'Tis life! I'll conquer!" I hear him vow.
To whiper life's warning is useless and now
He faces life's trials unknowing.

I thrill at his courage and faith!
To ecstasy rise with his joy!
Unshackled and free I watch him go,
I shudder—and though life's battles, I know,
Must be fought alone—still I whisper low—
"Keep faith—keep faith—Boy!"

—Alwyn Hughson.

MEMO

One by one the daily events fade.
And when twilight falls
A memo must be made,
Ere they be forgotten.

—Sue Wooding, '37.

The new Southern Conference, of which C. P., "Sally," Miles, V. P. I. director of athletics, is president, retains its old ruling against the broadcasting of football games. Reason: Most of the colleges belonging to the conference are in small towns, and paying crowds could not be attracted to the games if a twirl of the dial gave the same thrills as a personal visit.—The Virginia Tech.

SUBSCRIPTION BLANK To The Rotunda

Please send the Rotunda to the address below, for which I am enclosing ($1.50) one dollar and a half which pays my subscription until June 1934.

Name .....

Address .....

.....

Send blank to Mary Diehl, Business Manager of the Rotunda.

Subscribe to The Rotunda and get the news of State Teachers College.

"Say goodbye to the nice lady, son."
"Scram, Moll, scram.'"—Medley.

Chemistry Prof. "What is the outstanding contribution that chemistry has given the world?"
Frosh: "Blondes."—Congress Paw.

JUNIOR CLASS PLANS RUMMAGE SALE SAT.

The Junior Class held its regular weekly meeting Tuesday night in the rec. Evelyn Knaub, secretary, presided in the absence of Frances McDaniel, president, and Lelia Mattox, vice-president.

For the first time in the history of the class, the roll was called and the minutes read. It was decided that this should become a regular part of each meeting, with a fine of one cent to be paid to the treasurer for each absence from a meeting.

Sarah Beck, Meg Herndon, and Dot Justis were nominated for Junior cheer leader, with Sarah Beck elected to that office.

The main business of the evening consisted in discussion of a rummage sale to be given Saturday, October 7, from 9:30 a. m. to 5:30 p. m. in the vacant store next to Baldwin's.

"What could be less wise than to spend one's life in acquiring the means of life and neglecting to live?"
—John Neihardt

DRESS MAKING — DESIGNING
HEMSTITCHING AND ALTERING
SINGER SHOP
Third Street
FARMVILLE, VA.
10-4-3t

Kleanwell
CLEANERS AND TAILORS
Expert Cleaning, Repairing and Remodeling of Ladies Garments
Main Street, Opposite Postoffice
PHONE 98

Lucille Shop
"Just Across the Street"
Street Floor — Hotel Weyanoke
Apparel for the College Girls
Nuf-Sed

All Well Dressed Girls Do Not Deal At Dorothy May Store; But All Girls Who Deal at the Dorothy May Store Are Well Dressed
Come in and se the newst styles and materials. You will be surprised at our low prices!
THE DOROTHY MAY STORE
Main tSreet

DAVIDSON'S
FREE NOTEBOOK FILLERS TO S. T. C. STUDENTS
We invite you to come in today and get acquainted with the personnel of this modern department store—catering to the needs of S. T. C. students.
Things to wear . Things for your room

EACO
THEATRE
Program Oct. 5 to 11

Thursday and Friday, October 5 and 6
MADGE EVANS
JACKIE COOPER
ALICE BRADY
JIMMY DURANTE
in
"BROADWAY TO HOLLYWOOD"
From the show world of the Gay Nineties to the hollywood of today, this cavalcade of the theatre sweeps you along on a wave of the deepest heart-appeal. Hailed as a masterpiece of drama, with 300 dancing beauties and a brilliant cast of stars, plus a musical background, it will stand out as a perfect example of screen entertainment.
DAVID APOLLION' OCHESTRA in Not From Petrograd."

Saturday, October 7
CHARLIE RUGGLES
LILYAN TASHMAN
in
"PAPA LOVES MAMA"
The scream hit of the season.
Papa forgets his marriage vow—becomes the village wow—and how. Mamma sits home and fumes—and frets, while Papa goes out and spoons and pets. Don't, oh, don't miss this funniest pictures you ever saw; its a wow.
WALTER DONALDSON the Composer in a Pepper Pot Musical.
Mickey Mouse in "The Musical Farmer."

Next Monday and Tuesday, October 9 and 10
Henrietta Crosman
Marian Nixon
Norman Foster
in
"PILGRIMMAGE"
The most magnificent entertainment of its kind yet produced. "I'd rather see my son dead than married to you". Every day this battle goes on in the hearts of mothers, sons and sweethearts. But never has it been fought so dramtically as in this superb picture. Two romances: One shattered by a mother's selfish jealousy—the other soaring to a glorious triumph that burned away the bitterness in her heart. Don't miss this great picture.
Also Cartoon and Paramount News.

Next Wednesday, October 11
SALLY EILERS
JIMMY DUNN
in
"HOLD ME TIGHT"
Here's the best picture that Eilers and Dunn have made to date. There is comedy, suspense, and human drama in this romance of modern youth facing a crisis and winning through to happiness. You'll get a real kick out of this tender love story.
Also Betty Boop Cartoon and Screen Souvenir.
Daily matinees at 4 P. M. Evenings at 8 P. M.
Prices—Adults, 35c at nights and 25c at matinees, Children under 12 years of age, 15c to each show.

C. E. Chappell
COMPANY
Stationery, Blank Books and School Supplies
Cigars, Cigarettes and Soda
Farmville, Virginia

S. A. Legus
TAILOR
CLEANING
PRESSING
REPAIRING
Phone 203

Granddaughters Club Unique Group

Present Group Enrolls Two Great-Granddaughters; Fifty Members

When the college was about forty-five years old, so many of the former students were sending their daughters to their Alma Mater that a rather unique organization was founded, The Granddaughters Club, in which every student whose mother or grandmother attended the institution since it was founded as a normal school in 1884, is supposed to be enrolled.

At present there are more than fifty of these granddaughters of the college in the student body—concrete evidence of the loyalty of their mothers. They are banded together as a group that would recognize and honor their student-mothers, that recalls to those mothers their own student days in Farmville, and by joining the group show to all who are connected with the institution their feeling that the college means just a little more to them than to the ordinary student who has no "family traditions" connected with it.

The club is purely informal and social in character, there are not many meetings during the year, it takes practically no time from other interests but the simple fact that a girl belongs to it is evidence that she wishes to be recognized as a granddaughter of the college.

In the fall of 1932 the school had the honor of enrolling the first great-granddaughter: Agnes Oglesby Crockett of Wytheville, Virginia, the granddaughter of Jennie Lou Oglesby who entered in September 1889; this year there is a second great-granddaughter, Goldie Williams of Hayes Store, Virginia. Her grandmother, Miss Roberta Hogge was here in 1886-87.

We have a number of "step-great-granddaughters" in those students whose grandmothers were students when the institution was a private college known as Farmville College.

This year, being the fiftieth anniversary of the school, the Granddaughters Club is expecting to accomplish more than it ever has in the five years of its existence. It is offering to cooperate with the Founders Day committee in every way that it can possibly be of use.

Installation services for new members are to be held in the Recreation Hall Thursday night. The club feels that if the new girls are installed formally, they will feel more a part of it, and be more enthusiastic.

The officers for this year are Christine Childrey, president; Agnes Crockett, vice-president; Janice White, secretary, and Mary Denny, treasurer.

THIRTEENTH DAHLIA SHOW IS HELD

The annual dahlia show was held in the Farmville Armory on Friday, September 29. A large crowd of people from the surrounding community as well as visitors from all parts of the state attended.

The seasons having been favorable for the growing of flowers this year, unusually fine flowers were exhibited. Five silver cups, a silver cup and ribbons, were given to the owners of the winning entries. Major trophies were won by Mrs. Putney and Mr. D. T. Billings, both of Frmville. Mr. Billings won the state cup for the six most perfect specimens of dahlias. Prof. J. B. S. Norton of the niversity of Maryland was the judge.

The proceeds of the exhibit will go toward the benefit of the Southside hospital.

COLLEGE ORCHESTRA HOLDS TRY-OUTS

Try-outs for the College Orchestra were held on Wednesday evening, September 27 and the following new girls were taken into the orchestra: Sue Beynard, who is to play second violin; Dorothy Wise for xylophone; Gladys Fitzpatrick for drums.

Miss Purdom, director of the College Orchestra has recently been elected conductor of the Virginia High School and Junior High School orchestra which was organized for the first time this year and will be held in Richmond.

"The only way to have a friend is to be one."—Emerson.

CALENDAR

Wednesday

5 p. m.—Y. W. C. A. Cabinet
7-7:30 p. m.—Rotunda staff
7:30-8:30 p. m.—Pi Gamma Mu

Thursday

5 p. m.—Student Standards Committee
7-8 p. m.—Dramatic Club

Friday

7-8 p. m.—Monogram Club
8-9 p. m.—Sigma Phi Rho

Monday

7-8 p. m.—Virginian staff
7-8 p. m.—A. A. Council
8-9 p. m.—Alpha Kappa Gamma
10 p. m.—House Council

Tuesday

7-7:30 p. m.—Class meetings
7:30-8:30 p. m.—Gamma Psi
7:30-8:30 p. m.—Alpha Phi Sigma
10 p. m.—Student Government

FRESHMEN ENJOY A. A. MASQUERADE PARTY

The masquerade party, given in honor of the freshman class by the A. A. Saturday night, proved to be a success.

Upon entering the gym everyone was given a number which she pinned somewhere on her costume. By 8:30 he party was in full swing, dancing to the music of the Junior class orchestra which was relieved during the course of the evening by the Sophomore orchestra. Marion Wright, "songbird of the Sophomores" entertained with a solo, "I Wish I Had Died In My Cradle."

At 9:30 all couples formed for the grand march led by Belle Lovelace and her partner. Judges had been requested to select the best costumes from the group. Four couples were selected to give the final promenade The decision of the judges rested in favor of "Chick" Dortch and Virginia Beam who were dressed in black and white rompers and accessories. Each was presented with a prize. Addie Norfleet, who conducted the Sophomore orchestra was also presented with a prize.

At 10:30 a weary but happy group of girls filed out of the gym midst exclamations over the wonderful time they had had.

SOPHOMORE CLASS BEGINS YEAR'S WORK

Billie Roundtree and Red Riddick were elected class cheer leaders at a Sophomore class meeting held last Tuesday night in room 2.

Elizabeth Billups was appointed to fill the vacancy on the Student Standards Committee left by Maude Deekins who will not return to school until the winter term.

Kitty Hoyle, class treasurer reported that about $35 had been collected in class dues and urged that all other members pay as soon as possible.

"Tac" Waters, class president who presided over the meeting, appointed "Bug" Byrd as chairman of the Sophomore stunt for the school circus with Kitty Bass, Grace Eubank, Evelyn Massey, and Virginia Hall as her assistants. Jane Colbourn was appointed to head a committee for the presentation of the Sophomore class man, Miss Bedford, to the studetn body. Jean McClung, Kitty Woodson, and Lula Windley will aid her in working out plans for the presentation.

The committee to compose rules for rat week reported that the rules had been formulated but still had to be approved by Miss Mary White Cox, dean of girls, and would be presented for approval at the next class meeting.

FIVE NEW STUDENTS INCREASE ENROLLMENT

The enrollment at S. T. C. increased to six hundred twenty last week. Five new girls registered as members of different classes.

The sophomore class has the largest enrollment, two hundred twenty-two. The freshmen follow closely with two hundred twelve members.

Many girls who entered school with the present junior and senior classes received diplomas after two years of college work; therefore, these two classes are smaller than the others. The juniors have ninety-four on roll and the seniors eighty-nine.

The remaining three members of the student body are taking special work.

"Snobbery is the pride of those who are not sure of their position."
—Berton Braley

Hockey Season is Rapidly Progressing

Freshmen Show Exceptional Interest and Promise in the Sport

Approximately thirty freshmen, fifteen sophomores, ten juniors and ten seniors have been coming out for hockey practices this fall. This means that if there are to be four class hockey teams to pay on Thanksgiving day the upperclassmen will have to get busy.

The freshmen have made a good start. Though part of last week they had to attend library classes the number of freshmen out for hockey this fall is large in comparison with the number in fomer years.

Frankie McDaniel, manager of hockey is working hard to make this season one of the most successful. She has chosen Frances Johnson, a very lively freshman, as her assistant.

General practices will be every day this week from 4 to 6 o'clock. Twenty practices are required for eligibility to the team. Every player should work especially hard from now until October 16 as the varsity squad will be selected then.

It still is not too late to get in the required number of practices, for Miss Iler is always willing and ready to help anyone to play the game better.

FARMVILLE TRADE JUBILEE UNDER WAY

September 29 marked the beginning of the Farmville Trade Jubiee which will culminate in a bigger and better "Farmville Good Will Day", November 4.

The business men of Farmville realizing this town is the center of education, industry, and business within a radius of fifty miles, have emphasized this fact by throwing open the doors of Farmville to the students and to their friends. To inaugurate this welcome a trade event is under way. This event is known as the Farmville Trade Expansion Jubilee. All stores and shops of this town are in gala attire with low prices the theme of the jubilee.

Jubilee tickets are given away at various stores in Farmville. These tickets may prove valuable, as there are prize-winning numbers among the lot.

FRESHMEN LEARN TO USE THE LIBRARY

Miss Claudia Fleming, librarian, called a meeting of the freshman class in the little auditorium Thursday, Sept. 28, to inform them as to the use of the library.

In explaining how to borrow and return books, she said, "There are three types of books to be borrowed: the fourteen-day book, the reserve book, and the reference book. The fourteen-day book may be borrowed for a period of not longer than two weeks, to be renewed, if necessary, for a second two weeks.

"The reserve books have been placed on reserve by the faculty, and these books cannot be taken from the library except at two stated times, at 9:30 p. m. to be returned at 8 the following morning, and at 4 p. m. on Saturday to be returned at 8 o'clock Monday morning. Any student wishing to check a reserve book out over night or over the week end, must sign the card attached in the back of the book.

"The reference books are special references to be used in the library, and these cannot be removed without permission from the librarian.

"No student may take a book from the library without signing a card.

"Any student keeping a library book after the allotted date is fined two cents a day for a fourteen-day book, and for a reserve book the fine is ten cents the first hour and five cents each hour after the first.

"A girl's privilege of using books is taken away if her record is not clear."

The class was divided into groups of fifties. The next lesson taught by Miss Guy Richardson, was on the use of the card catalogues.

Miss Fleming emphasized the necessity of silence in the reading rooms and asked the freshmen not to cut the newspapers.

Miss Fleming added that the librarian will be glad to explain to anyone who may ask at the desk regarding the use of the library.

Weyanoke
BEAUTY SALON
A Complete Beauty Service At Moderate Prices
What we have done for others we can do for you
WEYANOKE HOTEL
Farmville Va.

Taylor Mfg. Co.
Contracting Building
Phone No. 260
N. MAIN ST. FARMVILLE

RICE'S SHOE STORE
Street and Dress Shoes
Dancing Slippers Dyed
Correct fits our speciality

Electric Shoe Shop
Will Fix Your Shoes While You Wait
BEST WORKMANSHIP AND LEATHER USED

YOU WOULD LOVE TO HAVE YOUR SHOES FIXED AT THE
Lovelace Shoe Shop
110 Third Street

WILLIS
The Florist
FLOWERS FOR ALL OCCASIONS
PHONES 181-273

Mack's
BARBER AND BEAUTY SHOP
323 Main Street
We use the Frederick Method
Hair Cutting and Thinning a Specialty

Martin JEWELER
Gifts of Lasting Remembrance
317 Main St. Farmville
We give Jubilee tickets

SouthsideDrugStore
(On the Corner)
Films Developed
FREE
If bought at this store

Shannon's
Is Headquarters for the Best
SANDWICHES
—and—
DRINKS
—in—
FARMVILLE!

WELCOME S. T. C. STUDENTS

We are glad to see you back and take this means of inviting you to make our store your headquarters. We have everything you need for your wardrobe.

THE HUB DEPARTMENT STORE
"Farmville Best Place to Shop"

GREETINGS, S.T.C.
from "The Style Shop for Ladies"
Now showing a complete line of college togs, ready to wear, millinery and shoes.
If it's new—it's at
BALDWIN'S
Quality—Price—Service

G. F. Butcher
High Street
"The Convenient Store"
FOR GOOD THINGS TO EAT AND DRINK

Gray's Drug Store
QUALITY—PRICE—SERVICE
Come in and Get Acquainted
We Are Glad to Have You With Us!
Farmville, Virginia

PROJECT FOR SWIMMING POOL STARTED

THE ROTUNDA

POE

FRESHMEN! TRY OUT FOR ROTUNDA STAFF

We Teach To Teach

Volume XIV | THE ROTUNDA, WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 11, 1933 | No. 3

College Has Served Va. Commonwealth For Fifty Years

Dr. Jeffers Is Chairman of Program For Founders Day

FULL PROGRAM IS PLANNED

Plans are already under way for the celebration of our Fiftieth Anniversary next spring, and preparations are being made to provide accommodation for the largest concourse of alumnae and "old girls" ever to assemble on the campus at any one time. Silver-haired maidens who finished here in the eighties will mingle with flappers of the 1934 type during the more-than-two-day Home Coming that promises to eclipse all former Founders Days both in the number of visitors and in the number and variety of the happenings.

The exact date for this gala ceebration has not yet been definitely fixed, but it will be either March 8, 9, and 10, or a little later in the season so as to provide for having some of the events outdoors. Classes both in the Training School and in the College proper will be suspended during the proceedings.

The occasion will be inaugurated by a formal Academic Procession of the faculty together with the representatives of the various institutions of higher learning of the state. A speaker of international reputation is being secured for the academic program following this procession.

One entire afternoon is being reserved for a general exhibit of the whole institution at which time every department, every room, from cellar to attic will be thrown open for visitation. Students will be on hand to explain exhibits as well as to show visitors over the plant. There will be nothing formal about this 'Open House' the idea being to have it develop into a 'Converzatione' where conversation will run free and easy. The whole college will be on display.

(Continued on page 3)

Circus Committee Makes New Plans

Mildred Gwaltney, '34, who is in charge of the annual college circus, sponsored by Alpha Kappa Gamma has begun work on the '33 circus.

Working with her is Miss Olive T. Iler of the physicial education department who is serving as faculty adviser.

Heading committees, are Mary Shelton, stunt committee; Virginia Hamilton, publicity; Virginia Brinkley, side-show; Mary Burgess Fraser, decoration; Margaret Parker, ticket; and Alice McKay, the advertising committee.

The plan has been worked out that there will be only four stunts, one given by each class. The argument for this new idea is that under the old plan, when each organization presented a stunt, many of the same girls had to work up and be in two or possibly three stunts, where the new basis organization will include the whole student body and there will be no possible overlapping.

The outside attractions—booths, side-shows, refreshments, etc.—will be taken over entirely by the classes.

This plan was presented to the three upper classes and was enthusiastically received by each one. The presidents appointed a circus committee in each class.

No definite date has been decided upon, but Saturday night, November 18, is seriously being considered as the time for the college circus.

An Early Picture of the State Female Normal School

Dr. Jarman Grants Senior Privileges

Dr. Jarman talked to the Senior Class at their meeting Tuesday night, October 10, concerning the privilege that they had applied for.

A committee including Margaret Parker, Mary Berkley Nelson, Elma Rawlings, Margaret Eley and Mary Shelton took the proposed privilege to Dr. Jarman and discussed it with him. The Seniors asked that they might be allowed to go down to the drug store from 10 to 10:30 P. M. on week nights Thi sprivilege had been granted to the Class of '32, with the reservation that only girls who had attended the movies could go in the drug store. Dr. Jarman lifted that reservation and presented the Class of '34 Tuesday night with the following statement of their privilege:

"Seniors will be permitted to go to the drug store after the movies or from 10 to 10:30 p. m. in groups of two or more on week nights.

Do not make the drug store a loafing place.

There is to be no violation of the school regulations

Be on campus at 10:30."

Dr. Jarman reminded the Seniors that they were the class that set the standards of the whole school, and that they should realize their responsibility. This announcement of the privilege was answered by a rising vote of thanks from the class by the promise expressed by the president, Margaret Parker, that the Seniors would not abuse their rights.

At the meeting, October 28 was decided upon as the date for the presentation of the Senior classman, Mr. McCorkle.

DEBATE CLUB TRY-OUTS TO BE HELD MONDAY

Try-outs for the Debate Club will be held on Monday night, October 16, at 7:15 o'clock in the little auditorium.

The question for discussion is: "Resolved that College Entrance is a bigger step in education than the high school graduate has encountered before."

Each speaker shall be given three minutes for his speech. The speaker may uphold either the affirmative or the negative side of the question. No rebuttals will be called for.

Representatives from the Debate Club went to each class meeting last night. All girls having former experience or interested were urged to enter in the try-outs Monday night. Each class was asked to show its color spirit of Red and White and Green and White in the inter-class debates to be held some time this year.

REV. J. A. REDHEAD LEAVES FOR FLORIDA

The college girls feel with the town people a deep regret because of the loss of Rev. John A. Redhead as pastor of the Presbyterian church of Farmville. He will leave Farmville about the middle of October for Tampa, Florida where he has accepted a call to the First Presbyterian church.

Rev. Redhead attended Southwestern College in Tennessee and the Union Theological Seminary in Richmond. He has been pastor of the local church for four years.

Since he has been in Farmville, Mr. Redhead has obligingly aided in many college affairs and has shown an interest in all college activities.

As yet no one has been no official announcement from the church as to who will take his place.

Seniors Installed; Services Impressive

Marching to the tune of the "Alma Mater" seventy-nine seniors dressed in academic gowns entered the auditorium last night with their "little sisters" for the senior installation service at seven o'clock.

Following the processional the Rev. H. Bernard Lipscomb, pastor of the Farmville Methodist church, delivered the invocation.

Miss Irene Leake, a former student here, delichted the audience composed of students and members of faculty with a vocal solo.

While Miss Virginia Potts played "Humoresque," the senior class officers, Margaret Parker, SueYeaman, Mary Berkley Nelson and Frances Horton with their "little sisters", led the line of seniors and "little sisters" to the stage.

As each senior knelt before Dr. Jarman her "little sister" handed him the senior cap. Dr. Jarman placed a cap on each member of the Class of '34, thus installing seventy-nine S. T. C. students as seniors.

In his talk to the seniors Dr. Jarman said, "I want to congratulate you young ladies who have been installed tonight. I rejoice with you." He reminded the seniors that they looked very dignified in their senior caps and gowns. He expressed the wish that they would have a quiet, queenly dignity that will give strength, a serious approach that will add to the spirit of scholarship.

"The best way to learn citizenship" said Dr. Jarman, "is to be a good citizen. You are learning real citizenship here by being a citizen. You are setting a standard to be followed. The success of this year is largely in your hands. I hope you will make it a happy and prosperous year."

Portsmouth Girl Heads Freshmen

The freshman class elected Carolyne Jones, president; Mary Hastings Halloway, vice-president; Miss Olive Iler, Classman, for the coming year.

The president, vice-president and classman were elected at an important meeting of the Freshman Class Monday night, Oct. 9. The meeting was conducted by Frances McDaniel, president of the Junior Class.

Miss Moran, Junior classman, talked to the Freshmen a few minutes before the vote was taken. She stressed the importance of the election and said that each member of the class should vote for the nominee who she thought was most capable.

The Junior Class president called for nominations from the floor. None was offered; therefore the four previous nominees were the only candidates. The class decided that the voting should be done openly. Each of the four candidates was requested to stand before the class and tell where she was from and what part she had taken in high school activities.

The first elimination left Mary Hastings Halloway and Carolyne Jones to be voted upon. This resulted in Carolyne Jones' election for the office. Mary Hastings Halloway was then elected vice-president of the class.

Miss Olive T. Iler was unanimously elected classman for the Freshman Class of '37.

Nominations for other officers were made after the elections. They were Marie Moore, Bess Bloxton, Virginia Jones and Mary Boles for secretary; Bess McGlothlin and Lloyd Kelly were nominated for treasurer. These will be voted on soon.

FOUR SORORITIES BID NEW MEMBERS

Seven upperclassmen were bid to sororities, Tuesday night, after one week of rushing. The sororities announcing new members are:

Sigma Sigma Sigma

Susan Gresham, Portsmouth
Marion H. Umberger, Wytheville

Alpha Sigma Alpha

Cathering Young, Boydton

Gamma Theta

Anne Thomas, Norfolk
Margaret Webster, Norfolk

Mu Omega

Ella Mallory, Lawrenceville
Elizabeth Rodgers, Newport News

S.T.C. Application For $40,000 Loan Meets Approval

Governor Pollard and Board Approve Projects For Five State Schools

MONEY TO BE FOR POOL

Governor John Garland Pollard and the State Board of Education approved the application for a loan to this college of $40,000 for a swimming pool, Monday, October 9.

This news came as a surprise to the student body. Although Dr. Jarman and Mr. S. L. Graham have been working on this project, no word of it had reached the students.

When interviewed concerning the plan for the swimming pool, Dr. Jarman made the following statements:

"We are applying through the Public Works Recovery Act for a loan of $40,000, the proceeds of which will be used for a swimming pool. The project was approved by the State Board of Education and Governor Pollard. The application now goes to the State Advisory Board of the N. R. A., which, if approved by them, will go to the regional director in Baltimore, and then to Washington. We hope that these various agencies will approve our application and in that way give us a swimming pool."

Governor Pollard approved public works projects for five State institutions of higher learning totaling $1,511.00. These projects, are: Virginia Polytechnic Institute, dormitories and buildings, $1,066,000. Medical College of Virginia, central heating plant, $130,000.

Radford State Teachers College, kitchen and dining hall, $135,000.

Harrisonburg State Teachers College, dormitory $140,000.

Thse projects were approved by the governor on the condition that the institutions do not finance any part of the projects from money collected through state taxation.

Cotillion Issues Bids to Old Girls

The date for the annual Fall Cotillion has been set for November the fourth. At a meeting of the Cotillion Club members, held Wednesday night,October the fourth, it was announced that Honey Hamilton will have charge of the tickets. The orchestra that will play for the dance has not yet been decided upon; several orchestras were discussed, but none definitely chosen.

At a meeting held October 5 names of old girls were brought up to be voted upon. The following girls have been issued bids inviting them to become members of Cotillion Club:

Caroline Byrd, Maude Beckham, Fanny Bosworth, Margaret Clark, Doris Coates, Berta Collins, Louise Floyd, Elmer Foster, Mary Burgess Fraser, Louise Garnett, Margaret Garnett, Louise Gathright, Frances Graham, Susan Greshman, Helen Harris, Iris Hart, Margaret Herndon, Katherine Hoyle, Louise Hyde, Mary Jones, Dorothy Justice, Jane Main, Lelia Mattox, Frances McDaniel, Mary McDearman, Lena McGardner, Mary Lee Howell, Winnie Richards, Elizabeth Rogers, Nell Oakey Ryan, Helen Smith, Louise Walmsley, Helen Westmoreland, Janice White.

Gertrude Sugden presented to the club the plan of having Gamma Psi, the art society, to do the decorating for the fall dance. The plan was accepted by the club and it was voted that $25 should be paid to Gamma Psi for their work.

THE ROTUNDA

Member Southern Inter-Collegiate Newspaper Association
Member Intercollegiate Press Association of Virginia

Newspaper — National Scholastic Press Association — Member

Published by Students of State Teachers College, Farmville, Va.

Entered as second class matter March 1, 1921, at the Postoffice of Farmville, Virginia, under Act of March 3, 1879.

Subscription ..... $1.50 per year

ROTUNDA STAFF

Editor-in-Chief .... Mary Shelton, '34
Associate Editor .... Lelia Mattox, '35

Board of Editors

News ..... Evelyn Massey, '36
Make-Up ..... Katherine Hoyle, '36
Literary ..... Agnes Bondurant, '36
Sports ..... Elizabeth Billups, '36
Louise Walmsley, '36
World News ..... Velma Quarles, '34
Intercollegiate ..... Caroline Byrd, '36
Social ..... Marion Raine, '36
Art ..... Alice Rowell, '34
Feature ..... Elizabeth Walton, '36
Alumnae ..... Miss Virginia Potts

Reporters

Edith Shanks, '34; Mary Easley Hill, '34; Elizabeth Vassar, '35; Mary Elizabeth Alexander, '36; Lula Windley, '36.
Proof Readers: Katherine Coleman, '35; Grace Eubank, '36

Managers

Business ..... Mary Diehl, '34
Assistant ..... Elma Rawlings, '34
Circulation ..... Nell Oakey Ryan, '34
Assistant ..... Janice White, '35

The Rotunda invites letters of comment, criticism, and suggestion from its readers upon its manner of presenting and treating them. A letter, to receive consideration, must contain the name and address of the writer. These will not be published if the writer objects to the publication.

All matters of business should be addressed to the Business Manager and all other matters should come to the Editor-in-Chief. Complaints from subscribers as regards irregularities in the delivery of The Rotunda will be appreciated.

WHAT NEWS

The news of the swimming pool project has come as a joyous surprise for everyone. Our greatest desire has been a swimming pool. We have talked of it and dreamed of it and now Dr. Jarman and Mr. Graham are trying to make it possible for us. Our hearts are full of appreciation.

This wonderful addition to our college is not yet a definite realization but the approval of our State Board of Education and Governor Pollard is a big step forward in our favor.

Even this hope makes us take on a new spirit of enthusiasm for our anniversary year.

This plan is a concrete example of how Dr. Jarman has us ever on his mind.

MARCHING ALONG TOGETHER

Kate Smith's new theme song might very profitably be adopted by the chapel committee at S. T. C.

If we students could just get into the habit of marching along together and marching along swiftly, how much more we might enjoy chapel! Someone might say that we were preparing to give a sermon on cooperation, but the only marching that is meant is real, true, sure enough marching with your feet.

The chapel committee is to be congratulated on devising a new system that everyone hopes and believes will work. Already considerable improvement has been noticed. This has been said before and won't be forgotten soon, we hope, but there is just one thing to remember: please respect the senior's dignity and allow them to march out first. Sophomores and Juniors now share honors: the Sophomores have the honor of having the best seats, and the Juniors of marching out first.

An appeal to self-interest is nearly always effective. Here are several—do you want to get out of chapel quickly? Then march quickly and keep marching. Do you want to present a good appearance—who doesn't? Then please don't step out in front of those marching up the aisle. Do you want to help yourself, the chapel committee and everybody in general? Then try to be orderly, quiet, quick, efficeint, and considerate of the privileges of others.

World News

Brushing all objections aside President Roosevelt ordered a special train last week and departed for Chicago to defend his $300,000,000 cut in veterans' pensions before the 15th annual convention of the American Legion. National credit based on national unity was the theme of his speech. The Legion accepted the Roosevelt doctrine with good grace.

President Roosevelt and Federal Relief Administrator Hopkins, worked out a large scale scheme for this winter's direct aid to 3,500,000 needy families. Mr. Hopkins will organize a non-profit corporation to buy and distribute some $300,000,000 worth of food, clothing and fuel, purchased from surplus commodity supplies as part of the Government's price raising campaign.

The next phase of NRA will be a national 'Buy now' campaign starting next week to expend consumer purchasing.

With her first load of doomed human freight; in two years, the famed French convict ship La Martiniere sailed from France for the three little "Isles of Safety" off French Guiana in South America.

At present Japanese Finance Minister Takahashi is dealing with the most collossal and appalingly unbalanced budget in Japanese history. Last week M. Takahashi voiced his sympathy for President Roosevelt, and his hope that the U. S. may also be able to avoid printing press inflation. The Japanese Minister sharply criticized the shortening of working hours under the NRA, saying "What any nation needs now is more work, not less work!"

On September 26 Ringgold Wilmer Lardner, called "the greatest and sincerest pesimistt America has ever produced," although he is better known as a humorist, lost his long fight against tuberculosis.—The Salemite.

FROM OLD ROTUNDAS

May 5, 1923—Farmville girls have been bobbing their hair at a desperate rate for the last week.

Will you save your hair until after May Day, or are you going to help out those girls that are going to start a "barber shop" in benefit of the new Student Building?

October 18, 1924—At chapel Tuesday the student body was very much surprised to hear an announcement made by our beloved president in regard to the wearing of knickers. Evidently there has been an excessive use of this unornamental apparel.

Dr. Jarman said, "Girls, beware of knickers! Bathing suits are all right for the beach, I reckon. Knickers are all right on certain hiking parties, I reckon, but let Miss Mary White Cox be the judge."

So remember, girls, as Dr. Jarman said—Beware but not wearers of knickers.

April 12, 1924—In the midst of the excitement and enthusiasm centering around Farmville's new hotel, the Hotel Corporation announced that a contest would be held, and the person submitting the most suitable name would be awarded ten dollars in gold. The board announced that the name "Hotel Weyanoke" had been selected. It was suggested by Miss Jennie M. Tabb, registrar of State Teachers College and Mrs. F. W. Fallwell of Farmville.

AT OTHER COLLEGES

Students at Hamlin, Minnesota's oldest universtiy, are no longer required to have credits for graduation. When they are able to pass a comprehensive examination they receive their diplomas.—The Florida Flambeau.

Poor freshie, will he never get a new deal? All freshmen at Gunnison College are required to walk backwards while on the campus. — The Florida Flambeau.

The Brackety-Ack says that the height of anticipation is a little boy sitting in the zoo waiting for the Camel to lay a package of cigarettes.

Marc Connelly's "Green Pastures" after a successful run of 3 1-2 years on the stages of New York, Chicago, and Philadelphia, is now making a southern tour with the original all colored cast. The play is based on Roark Bradford's book by the same name.

Four points in a platform of reform in student affairs to be undertaken by the student council at Randolph-Macon College this year include a revision of the constitution, primarily regarding balloting in a preferential manner; the establishment of a regular day each week for the transaction of student business; the point system for eliminating the grouping of student offices around one man; and the encouragement of student self-government by compelling the payment of debts owed by students to student representatives. —The Brackety Ack.

"Do you play golf with knickers?"
"No, with white people"— S. C. Wampus.

EXERCISES CONDUCTED BY STUDENTS TODAY

Today being students' day, Louise Van Lear, chairman of the chapel committee, had charge of the program in chapel. Devotionals were led by Jestine Cutshall. This was followed by two violin solos by Gertrude Mannes: "Meditation from Thais", Massenet; "My Heart at Thy Sweet Voice", Saint Saens.

PICTORIAL MINDED S. T. C.

The student body, individually and collectively, went pictorial in a big way last week, when we had our pictures taken for the "Virginian."

One would have thought that the student body was preparing for its first dance. Curled, finger waved and brilliantined hair greeted us from every side. Literally speaking we put out best face forward.

Snatches of conversation heard by chance, in the halls, and at tables ran thus; "I just know my picture will be awful, I didn't smile a single time" or "He insisted on taking my profile—and it's hideous", and came a weak voice from the far end of the table—"Mine looked as if I were going to cry." Pictures were talked of morning, noon and night at meals, during class, and probably even in our sleep.

Anyway, if the ultimate result isn't perfectly beautiful it won't be our fault. We tried hard enough. It's up to the "Virginian" to do the rest.

A GAY TRAIN TRIP

There was plenty of excitement when nearly 300 V. P. I. cadets and about 35 S. T. C. girls boarded the back-to-school-train out of Norfolk Sunday night. At every station, more cadets and more girls were packed in until the train had all the aspects of a gay excursion coach.

Everyone was in high spirits. The cadets had been victorious over Maryland in the previous afternoon's game And our S. T. C. girls had won bids to openings, pins and all kinds of promises!

After about two hours of joyous yelling and loud greetings, the happy passengers decided to settle down and get a little better acquainted with each other. All through the car could be heard some "skipper" crooning the latest tune.

When the train puffed into Farmville at one A. M. a tired but happy crowd of girls alighted, each gallantly assisted by her cadet.

CAMPUS COMMENTS

The Sophomores began to wonder if recent high school graduates' mentality has suddenly taken a spurt up the ladder because they can't seem to find any dumb or green freshmen this year. We expected to have several of their "cute" witticisms in print this year, but now it appears that we'll have to publish our own mistakes instead.

Just a hint for the Sophomores—Ask Bernice Jones to tell you what she knows about pretty boy Craston.

Richmond must be one fine place. We know three little girls who seem to like it right well.

Anybody want to order a sandwich? Jean Foot will be glad to run down and get it for you.

If you don't have a bid to V. P. I. openings ask Dot Stone to fix you up.

Strange as it may seem Mary Virginia Johnson went shopping six times Tuesday. She can't seem to get enough of town. She can't wait for rat week! Don't be too "horsey!"

It seems that Jane McClure is becoming rather religious going around with "Preacher" all the time.

Life's most embarrassing moment came for Chic Dortch Tuesday night when she walked into Sophomore class meeting. That can be excused, but what about the Freshmen who came in and took seats in Senior Class meeting?

Blood-curdling screams, shouted commands, and foot races seemed to be in order on second floor Senior Building at one o'clock last Sunday morning. The cause of all the excitement turned out to be a Freshman who hadn't informed all persons concerned that she was spending the night in their suite.

Continued on page three

Alumnae News

South Boston follows example of other chapters organizing alumnae chapter and making plans for year's work. Come on, Alumnae!

On Friday night, October 6, Dr. Jarman, Mr. Graham and Mrs. Hardy went to South Boston where Dr. Jarman gave a talk to the alumnae chapter. There were about thirty-five alumnae present. The party from Farmville were the guests of Mrs. Mary T. Turnbull Vaughan for dinner.

Mr. and Mrs. Elliott Booker and their daughter, Harriet left this week to make their home in Richmond where Mr. Booker has a position with an insurance company and will manage a permanent office in Richmond. Mrs. Booker's leaving will be a distinct loss to Farmville and especially the local alumnae chapter which she has served in the capacity of president for the past year. Harriet is doing stenographic work in her father's office.

Dr. and Mrs. T. K. Young and two daughters, Mary Elizabeth and Helen together with Mrs. James Laing visited Farmville as the guests of Miss Mary White Cox and Mr. and Mrs. John Cox, this week. Sympathy is extended to Dr. and Mrs. Young in their recent bereavement.

On September 30 Margaret Canada, of Henderson and Paul Wilson Whitlock of Salisbury, N. C., were married at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. T. E. Graham of Galax.

Ann Minter served as maid-of-honor in the dairy festival recently held in Culpeper. Frances Coleman was queen of the festival.

Beatrice Carico is president of the Business and Professional Woman's Club of Hopewell.

Gordon Baskerville was a recent visitor at the college.

Harriet Moomaw and Katheryn Waters are among the recent graduates coming back to their Alma Mater for a visit. We are glad to have the "old girls" with us again.

POETRY

PINE TREES AND THE SKY: EVENING

I'd watched the sorrow of the evening sky,
And smelt the sea, and earth, and warm clover,
And heard the waves and the sea gull's mocking cry.

And in them all was only the old cry
That song they always sing—"the best is over!"
You may remember now, and think, and sigh,
O, silly lover!
And I was tired and sick that all was over,
And because I
For all my thinking, never could recover
One moment of the good hours that were over
And I was sorry and sick and wished to die.

Then from the sad west turning wearily,
I saw the pines against the white north sky
Very beautiful, and still, and bending over,
Their sharp black heads against a quiet sky.
And there was peace in them, and I
Was happy and forgot to play the lover,
And laughed and did no longer wish to die,
Being glad of you, O, pine trees and the sky.

Rupert Brooke

FOUR THINGS

Four things a man must learn to do
If he would make his record true:
To think without confusion clearly;
To love his fellow-men sincerely;
To act from honest motives purely;
To trust in God and Heaven securely.

Henry Van Dyke

JUST BE GLAD

O heart of mine, we shouldn't worry so!
What we've missed of calm we couldn't
Have you know!
What we've met of stormy pain,
And of sorrow's driving rain,
We can better meet again
If it blow!

We have erred in that dark hour
We have known,
When our tears fell with the shower all alone!
Were not shine and shower bent
As the Gracious Master meant?—
Let us temper our content
With his own.

For, we know not every morrow can be sad;
So, forgetting all the sorrow
We have had,
Let us fold away our fears,
And put by our foolish tears,
And through all the coming years
Just be glad.

James Whitcomb Riley

TODAY

So here hath been dawning
Another blue day
Think, wilt thou let it
Slip useless away?

Out of Eternity
This new day is born;
Into Eternity,
At night will return.

Behold it aforetime
No eye ever did;
So soon it forever
From all eyes is hid.

Here hath been dawning
Another blue day;
Think, wilt thou let it
Slip useless away?

Thomas Carlyle

SERENITY

Here's a sigh to those who love me,
And a smile to those who hate;
And whatever sky's above me,
Here's a heart for every fate.

Lord Byron

SOCIALS

Quite a number of girls went to Norfolk for the week-end. These are: Angerona Aydlette, Doris Coates, Marion Pond, Ernestine Payne, Anthelia Robinett, and Alliene Saunders

Virginia Brinkley visited Fannie Bosworth in Brownsburg.

Margaret Pringle and Audrey Clements went to Hopewell. The later visited Mrs. C. C. Laughridge.

Nell Boswell who has been suffering with her eyes, went home for treatment over the week-end.

Four girls spent the week-end in Lynchburg Grace Bass, Amanda Wilson, Mildred Gwaltney and Betty Wilkinson.

Evelyn Knaub, Mary Louise McNulty, Mary Gilmer and Winifred Goodman attended the William and Mary-W. & L. football game and Cotillion Club dance at Lexington.

Phyllis Denit went to Salem to visit her parents and to attend the football game and dance at Roanoke College.

Three girls went to Blackstone; they were: Frances Martin, Dorothy Fugate, and Dorothy Wise.

Jessie Lee Swisher who attended school here last year and who is taking a course in technology at the Richmond Medical College, visited friends at S. T. C. for the week-end.

Helen Westmoreland went to Petersburg; Mary Woodard to Williamsburg and Jean Willis went to Cape Charles.

Elizabeth Kelley and Dorothy Prescott visited Dorothy Irvine in Richmond over the week-end.

Louise Bullock went to Portsmouth; Bertha Babb visited her mother in Ivor; Julia Derr visited Mr. and Mrs. Jenkins in Ashland; and Dorothy Glover went home at Arvonia.

Two girls went to McKenny: Elizabeth Hart, and Nelle Ryan.

Many girls wento to Roanoke; they were, Justine Cutshall, Mary Alice Wood, Louise Whitehurst, Mildred Hancock, Wilma Denit, Helen Allen, Elizabeth Huse, Hazel Smith, Marion Shaffner, Charlotte Rice, Emily Meadows, and Frances Horton.

Kathryn Harvey went to Curdsville; Katheryn Hoyle to Newport News; Zell Hopkins to Cape Henry, Martha Higgins to Waverly; Estelle Jones, Elizabeth Ranson and Ava Simmon spent the week-end in Dillwyn.

Many went to Richmond; these were: Ophelia Booker, Jane Main, Christine Childrey, Grace Rowell, Dorothy Johnson, Kathleen Johnson, and Mary Alice Farrell.

Lucile Moseley, Elizabeth Smith, and Gay Stieffen went to Newport News; Page Nottingham and Tac Waters went to Eastern Shore.

Sarah Beck went home for the week-end.

Two girls went to Virginia Beach: Elizabeth Meredith and her guest, Mary Sullivan.

COLLEGE HAS SERVED VIRGINIA FIFTY YEARS

Contiued from page one

so that our vistors may have an opportunity to judge for themselves what sort of an institution we have. It is not in any sense a show but a demonstration.

There will be an elaborate Historical Pageant which will depict the history and development of the college since its inception fifty years ago. According to the College Catalogue, "The first Legislature to assemble after the adoption of the post-bellum constitution" established a system of public schools for the state, and on March 7, 1884, the Legislature passed an act establishing a State Normal School. The town of Farmville donated the buildings and the original S. T. C. got off to a good start with one hundred and ten students. Accordingly, the General Assembly is likely to be represented, and the town of Farmville is going to put its best foot forward for the occasion.

Alumnae organizations and sororities are going to be asked to plan to have their annual dinners and reunions at the time, so that the home department is going to be sorely pressed to take care of the hundreds of Farmvillites that next spring will travel Farmville-ward. But Miss Mary has given her word that everybody will be looked after, and we can depend upon it.

At night appropriate entertainments will be provided. In addition, there will be teas of one sort and another, and a basketball game or two, is we can get them in.

The committee in charge makes only one promise, and that is that if it can be at all avoided, the program will not be boring. While there will be something going on all the time, there will be ample opportunity to renew old acquaintances and to form new ones. Everybody is coming and everybody is going to have a good time.

G. W. JEFFERS, Chairman Anniversary Program

Y. W. C. A. TO HAVE FROSH INSTALLATION

The Y. W. C. A. will hold its annual installation service for freshmen and new girls on Thursday night, October 11, in the auditorium. This service is the culmination of a personal canvass of all new girls by the Y. W. C. A. membership committee. Every year members of this committee visit each new girl, explain to her the workings of the Y. W. C. A. and enroll her as a member. Each girl is given an opportunity to sign up for special work in Y. W. C. A. if she so desires. After she has signed the membership card, she is formally installed as a member of the Y. W. C. A.

The service is a very impressive one. Each new girl will wear white and will carry a candle which will be lighted by members of the Y. W. C. A. cabinet. The student body, faculty and friends are invited to attend this service.

PAN-HELLENIC OFFICERS FILL IN VACANCIES

Due to the vacancies left by Elizabeth Rawlings, and Nancy Burgwyn, who did not return to school this fall, "Tac" Waters representing Gamma Theta sorority became president of the Pan-Hennic association and Caroline Byrd, vice-president, representing Alpha Sigma Alpha. The offices are filled each year by rotations of the six sororities. Other officers of the Pan-Hellenic council are: Justine Cutshall, secretary, Mu Omega; and Margaret Copenhaver, treasurer, Pi Kappa Sigma; chairman of programs, Virginia Brinkley, Zeta Tau; chairman of publicity, Helen Shawen, Sigma Sigma Sigma.

PI KAPPA SIGMA BANQUET TO BE HELD TONIGHT

The Pi Kappa Sigmas are having their fall banquet in the banquet room of the tea room tonight. Besides the active members of the chapter the guests present are Miss Iler, Miss Mix, Mrs. Stokes, Mrs. Thompson and Mrs. Paulette.

CAMPUS COMMENT

(Continued from page 2)

A certain Junior wasn't singing "Under a Blanket of Blue' last Friday night when the rummage sale collected one too many of her possessions.

We can't understand just why Lucille Mosely and Elizabeth Smith stare at their bureau so much of the time (or is it something on the bureau?)

The new Cotillion Club goats needn't build any air castles 'bout not having to decorate the gym for the fall dance, 'cause those castles will crumble considerably when Gamma Psi calls for them to carry out their artistic plans.

"No standing room in here" should have been the theme song of the Hampden-Sydney Collegians when they played in Southside's last Friday afternoon. The general opinion of the mottley crew was "Pretty neat little band!" Congratulations Leader McCurdy.

And did you know that one of our upperclassmen when asked whether the Senators won a certain game in the world series, answered that she didn't know that the Senate had a ball team. For that team we suggest vice-president Garner as pitcher—he needs a little publicity after having had a back seat for so long. And then Huey Long would be an excellent manager. What about Carter Glass for shortstop?

SCHOOL ORGANIZATIONS REPRESENTED AT SING

"Sing" was given after dinner Saturday night, October 9, in the S. T. C. auditorium before a large and appreciative audience of college girls and their guests.

"Sing," this time, featured the different clubs in school. Four girls on the stage were bewailing the fact that they had nothing to do, when Honey Hamilton walked by with a number of posters. These she used to explain Y. W. C. A. work. Next came two representatives of the Athletic Association; they urged girls to come out for hockey. Then two Monogram Club girls, wearing their monograms, told how to become members of the Monogram Club.

Elsie Truly, representing the four classes at college reminded the girls that they were members of the classes and should pay their class dues. Gamma Psi, an art fraternity here, the French Club, and the College Choir presented amusing skits. "Chic" Dortch, in her try-out for the Dramatic Club, was greatly applauded when she recided, "The Impression."

A miniature May Day was next shown to the girls with nothing to do. Sue Yeaman, who has written the theme for May Day next spring, Margaret Eley, chairman of dancing for May Day, and Jac Morton, chairman of costuming, were interpretive dancers. Elma Rawlings, business manager of May Day crowned Dot Eley queen of the May just before the curtain closed.

FOUR GIRLS ARE SICK IN SCHOOL INFIRMARY

The following girls were in the infirmary October 10: Elizabeth Meredith, Mary Easley Hill, Virginia Fisher, and Eleanor Gibb. The student body wishes them a speedy recovery.

Jokes

Mother: "Harry has been out of college since last June and hasn't found a job yet. Can't you take him into your business?"

Father: "No, but can't you use him for a bridge prize at your next party?"

"So your friend who knew all the card tricks died at an early age."

"Yeah, he shuffled off."—Annapolis Log.

"Why did dat Doctor go in yo' house, Gawge?"

"I don't know, but I think I is got a inkling."—All the Mags.

On a rainy day recently a lady in a saole coat got on a Madison Avenue street car. "I don't suppose I've ridden on a street car in two years," she said to the conductor, a gloomy fellow, as she gave him her fare. "I ride in my own car," she explained.

The conductor rang up the fare. "You don't know how we've missed you."—New York Morning Telegraph.

Robert M. Hutchins, president of the Univeristy of Chicago, cries down college grades. "I am hectic on admission requeriments. If I had my way, I would admit any student who could read and write and was recommended by a reputable person," Dr. Hutchins is quoted as saying. "The only utility for grades in the University of Chicago is for transfer purposes as an accommodation to other schools. Forbably within the next few years other universities will follow our lead and the necessity of grading will disappear altogether."—Skull and Bones.

DRESS MAKING — DESIGNING

HEMSTITCHING AND

ALTERING

SINGER SHOP

Third Street

FARMVILLE, VA.

10-4-3t

Kleanwell

CLEANERS AND TAILORS

Expert Cleaning, Repairing and Remodeling of Ladies Garments

Main Street, Opposite Postoffice PHONE 98

Lucille Shop

"Just Across the Street"

Street Floor Hotel Weyanoke

Apparel for the College Girls

Nuf-Sed

All Well Dressed Girls Do Not Deal At Dorothy May Store; But All Girls Who Deal at the Dorothy May Store Are Well Dressed

Come in and se the newst styles and materials. You will be surprised at our low prices!

THE DOROTHY MAY STORE

Main tSreet

"SPORTWEAR"

For the College Girl

One and two piece knit suits and dresses at reasonable prices

$4.95 and $7.95

We have a grand selection in the newest fall styles.

DAVIDSON'S

Things to wear Things for your room

EACO

THEATRE

Program October 12 to 18

Thursday and Friday, October 12 and 13

JESSE MATTHEWS

in

"The Good Companions"

From the famous novel by J. B. Priestly. The most perfectly formed girl in the world, playing the lead in this zestful, cheerful, delightful picture. Take the open road to new life of adventure in this 4-song-hit musical production.

NOTE! Extra!

Friday Night Only

FASHION SHOW!

Sponsored by Dorothy May Stores

15 beautiful mannekins

There will be a wedding with bride, groom and everything in the flesh right before your eyes. Some admission.

Saturday, October 14

Spencer Tracy

Fay Wray

in

"Shanghai Madness"

Could it be love in Shanghai? Or was it romance—the intrigue—the excitement of this hell-hole that caused a whisp of a girl to stir the heart of a devil-may-care adventurer to the heights of heroism? Here's a love story that will hold you.

Also JACK HALEY, the composer, in "SALT WATER DAFFY" and Fox Latest News Events.

Next Monday and Tuesday, October 16 and 17

LEE TRACY

Peggy Shannon—Mae Clarke

in

"Turn Back the Clock"

If you could live your life all over again! Imagine a chap of 1933 finding himself back in 1910 with the love technique of that era. Would you fall in love with the same sweetheart or pick another? The greatest novelty that has come to the screen in years—and you'll love it.

Also CLAUDE HOPKINS and His Colored Band. Paramount News.

Next Wednesday, October 18

JOAN BLONDELL

GENEVIEVE TOBIN

WARREN WILLIAM

in

"GOOD-BYE AGAIN"

He tried to be a brute; and she thought it was passion. It will be a scream to you but it was no laughing matter to him when his blonde passion of college days demanded that he marry her—and her husband agreed it was a great idea. Don't miss 1933's biggest stage hit—now on the screen. Boy, what a picture.

Lila Grey Happy "Season's Greetings and comedy, "Admission 5c."

Daily matinees at 4 P. M. Evenings at 8 P. M.

Prices—Adults, 35c at nights and 25c at matinees. Children under 12 years of age, 15c to each show.

Subscribe to the State Teachers College Rotunda, and get all the news from the old Alma Mater!

C. E. Chappell

COMPANY

Stationery, Blank Books and School Supplies

Cigars, Cigarettes and Soda

Farmville, Virginia

S. A. Legus

TAILOR

CLEANING

PRESSING

REPAIRING

Phone 203

MONOGRAM PRACTICES ON EFFICIENCY TESTS

Monogram physical efficiency practices wil be held Friday afternoon, October 13 at four and five o'clock in the gym.

These practices are given for the freshmen and upperclassmen who would like to start work on stunts and badge tests required for entrance into the Monogram Club.

The stunts are not too hard for any freshman who is physically fit and willing to work. Some of the stunts and badge tests are forward and backward role, walking the balance beam, shooting three goals out of five tries, baseball target throw, three feet six inches high jump, and long distance basketball throw.

Louise Walmsley and Maude Rhodes are in charge of the practices for Friday afternoon.

These practices will not interfere with the hockey schedule, and anyone who wishes to practice for the Monogram tests can spend the other hour playing hockey.

LARGE NUMBER TRY-OUT FOR VARSITY TENNIS

Tennis season has really begun since the new corts have been completed and are ready for use. Not only are there three new courts, but the old ones have been repaired, and several new nets have been put up. It it necessary for us to keep the courts in good condition and to wear flat heeled, rubber soled shoes while playing.

Billie Rountree, manager of tennis has arranged for several varsity games this fall. Try-outs for the varsity squad are being held this week. The following girls have signed up for try-outs: A. Aydlette, S. Beck, C. Rountree, L. Walmsley, L. Walker, F. Sanford, M. V. Walker, E. Gills, E. Massey, B. Rountree, R. Vestal, M. Putney, K. Robebrts, F. Crawford, M. Umberger, L. M. Gardner, F. Johnson, D. Marlton, M. B. Nelson, R. Reraney, M. Shanks, F. Burger, L. Mattox, E. Cabell, D. Morris, M. Beckham, Belle Lovelace.

There will be a daily schedule for tennis posted on the A. A. bulletin board. Everyone is requested to sign up for the hour during which she wishes to play and for the court which she prefers.

GIANTS WIN SERIES TAKE 4 OF 5 GAMES

The New York Giants became the world champion baseball team when they defeated the Washington Senators 4 to 3 in the fifth game of the world series played at Griffiith Stadium, Washington, Saturday, October 7. The Saturday success was their fourth victory over the Nationals, who had been able to capture the big end of only one score.

During the entire series the New Yorkers under the management of Bill Terry out-played Manage Joe Conin's boys, but the Washingtonians, though worn out from a hard season put up an excellent fight and did brilliant playing. Before the series began the betting odds had been 6 to 5 for the heavy hitting Senators, whose batting average topped that of any team in the American or National League.

The Senators won the only shutout game of the series with a score of 4-0. In this game Earl Whitehill, the only successful Washington pitcher allowed New York five lone hits.

Hubbell of New York ,was by far the most outstanding pitcher. His brilliant tossing won two of the four games. Praise should go to Ott for his timely home runs.

The Senators were counting on the heavy hitting of Goslin, Schulte and Manust. These players did their part, but they could not connect with enough of those New York balls to swing the decision their way.

The scores for the games were:

First game: New York 4, Washington, 2.

Second game: New York 6, Washington 1.

Third game: Washington 4, New York 0.

Fourth game: New York 2, Washington 1.

Fifth game: New York 4, Washington 3.

Marge Stuart of M. B. C. played golf with John D Rockefeller this summer. She says she found him very human, very witty and very attractive.—Campus Comments.

CALENDAR

Wednesday

5 p. m.—Y. W. C. A. Cabinet
7-7:30 p. m., Rotunda Staff
7:30-8:30 p. m., Pi Gamma Mu

Thursday

7-8 p. m., Kappa Delta Pi
8-9 p. m., Beta Pi Theta

Friday

7-8 p. m., Debate Club

Monday

7-8 p. m., Virginian Staff
7-8 p. m., A. A. Council

Tuesday

7-7:30 p. m., Class Meetings
7:30-8:30 p. m., Gamma Psi
10 p. m., House Council
5 p. m., Y. W. C. A. Cabinet

THE BEAUTY SCHOOL

By Helena Rubinstein

Once again football has the stage, and whether we get bids to the big games or not, we are interested in the score, thrilled by this glorious autumn spectacle. Yet in actual practice, going to a football game may not be much fun. If you are the type of person whose nose gets red, whose eyes water, and whose lips turn blue with cold, sitting through long hours in the grandstand will loom as an ordeal. Especially when you see your escort's eyes widen in amazement as he looks at you and inquires — "What's the matter—are you cold?"

Some girls manage to look as though they had never been more comfortable, more perfectly at ease in their lives. These lucky exceptions can enjoy the winter sports season to the full. But the majority of us need a few hints on beauty, if we are to look as devasting out of doors as indoores.

One of the few hints I would like to broadcast is this—Don't wash your face before you dash out into cold weather. Use your pasteurized cream cleanser, and a skin toning lotion. Both are refreshing, thoroughly cleansing and toning to the skin. Follow this with a weatherproof foundation cream that will prevent your skin from chapping, and help keep it evenly made up. Even if your nose does get red, it will not be very obvious with this foundation cream. Be sure to smooth it on your neck too, so that the skin will look the same color, and have the same protection. And use it on your hands if they are inclined to chap.

A lip pomade is excellent for those whose lips chap easily. But it is smarter right now, to smooth a little vaseline over your own choice of lipstick. This produces a luminous effect that Hollywood and Paris are both enthusiastic about, and it keeps the lips soft. In your choice of rouge and lipstick colors for the game, by the way, pick a shade as vivacious and gay as the occasion. I would suggest red poppy for those with medium and olive skin tones; red carol for those who are very fair.

If you have a personal beauty problem on which you need advice, write Womans Interest Syndicate, 522 Fifth Avenue, New York City.

One hundred and eighty-five Washington and Lee freshmen accepted bids from the twenty fraternities on the campus. This number shows a slight decrease from last year when 186 were pledged.

"What big eyes you have, grandmother!"

"And that, my dear, is how I caught your grandfather."

FOOTBALL SCORES

October 7

Hampden-Sydney vs. American U. 32-0.
Army vs. V. M. I., 32-0
V. P. I. vs. Maryland U., 14-0.
W. & L. vs. W. M., 7-0.
Ohio State vs. Virginia, 75-0.
Cornell vs. Richmond, 28-7.
Emory & Henry vs. Roanoke College, 7-0.
Elon vs. Langley Field, 7-6
King vs. Marshall, 31-7.
Shepherd vs. Shenandoah, 14-7
Bluefield vs. Rutherford, 34-0
Duke vs. Wake Forest, 22-0
Vanderbilt vs. N. C., 20-13

PUGSLEY ESTABLISHES SCHOLARSHIPS AT WILLIAM AND MARY

There has been established on the campus during the last few months a series of fifty-two international scholarships, each of which pays the holder the tuition fee of $150 a year. These scholarships were founded by Chester Dewitt Pugsley of Peekskill, New York.

In 1929 Mr. Pugsley founded sixty graduate scholarships in international law at Harvard. He has endowed many schools and institutions in the east with scholarships. At present, due to the dates of announcement, there are only two students in the college holding these scholarships; one of them is from Costa Rica, and the other is a Greek Nationalist from Washington, D. C.

These scholarships are founded under the auspices of seventeen governments of Europe, Japan, and Brazil, and of the Recor and Board of Visitors of the College, in recognition that the College has become a center for the discussion of foreign affairs.

They will be awarded for the session of 1933-'34 by the college upon the nomination made by the ambassadors and minister of the nations having diplomatic representatives in Washington—"The Flat Hat."

FOOTBALL SCHEDULE FOR OCTOBER 14

Hampden-Sydney vs. Emory and Henry at Wytheville
V. M. I. vs. Davidson at Davidson
W. & L. vs. Yale at New Haven
Virginia vs. Columbia at New York
Duke vs. Tennessee at Durham

The V. P. I. seniors are on a rampage again so the Virginia Tech tels us. This time war has been declared on the taxi drivers who charge a 50c fare from Christiansburg to Blacksburg. Any S. T. C. girls planning to take in openings had better take along a good pair of sneakers or hiking shoes.

Margaret Bailey of Oklahoma City, Oklahoma, the great granddaughter of the founder of Mary Baldwin College. Staunton, Virginia is enrolled as a freshman at that institution this year. This is the 92nd year since the founding of the college. Something else to go down in M. B. C. history.

SALE OF RAT CAPS TOTAL TO $83.00

Eighty-three dollars was collected during the sale of rat caps by the Sophomore Class Monday and Tuesday of this week.

Monday the sales amounted to seventy-three dollars, averaging about sixteen dollars an hour. Ten dollars was collected Tuesday. The greatest amount of money was received during the mornings.

Of the two hundred and three girls who will have to wear rat caps, one hundred and sixty-eight have paid, leaving only thirty-five yet to purchase their caps.

The rat caps have been ordered, but as yet they have not arrived. They will be blue and white and will be similiar to those that were worn by the freshmen last year.

ARCHERY

Archery practice will be held back of the senior building every Tuesday and Thursday from 4:00 until 5:00 o'clock. Frances Horton, manager of archery, has planned a very interesting program for this year.

She has chosen Katherine Cooper to be her assistant. Katherine is interested in archery and will make a fine assistant.

LOST AND FOUND

LOST—Small brown coin purse containing thirty cents. Please return to room 52 C. H.

Practical English Composition by Jones. Return to room 90 Main.

Blue "Evening in Paris" compact. Return to room 137 Main

Pair of rimless glasses in blue case. Return to room 28 C. H.

Black and white Conklin fountain pen. Return to home office.

Tri Sigma sorority pin lost at beginning of school about grounds or in building. Return to room 212, Student Building. Reward.

Mack's
BARBER AND BEAUTY SHOP
323 Main Street
We use the Frederick Method
Hair Cutting and Thinning a Specialty

Martin JEWELER
Gifts of Lasting Remembrance
317 Main St. Farmville
We give Jubilee tickets

SouthsideDrugStore
(On the Corner)
Films Developed
FREE
If bought at this store

Shannon's
Is Headquarters for the Best SANDWICHES
—and—
DRINKS
—in—
FARMVILLE!

Electric Shoe Shop
Will Fix Your Shoes While You Wait
BEST WORKMANSHIP AND LEATHER USED

YOU WOULD LOVE TO HAVE YOUR SHOES FIXED AT THE
Lovelace Shoe Shop
110 Third Street

WILLIS The Florist
FLOWERS FOR ALL OCCASIONS
PHONES 181-273

Weyanoke
BEAUTY SALON
A Complete Beauty Service At Moderate Prices
What we have done for others we can do for you
WEYANOKE HOTEL
Farmville Va.

Taylor Mfg. Co.
Contracting Building
Phone No. 260
N. MAIN ST. FARMVILLE

RICE'S SHOE STORE
Street and Dress Shoes
Dancing Slippers Dyed
Correct fits our speciality

WELCOME S. T. C. STUDENTS
We are glad to see you back and take this means of inviting you to make our store your headquarters. We have everything you need for your wardrobe.
THE HUB DEPARTMENT STORE
"Farmville Best Place to Shop"

GREETINGS, S.T.C.
from "The Style Shop for Ladies"
Now showing a complete line of college togs, ready to wear, millinery and shoes.
If it's new—it's at
BALDWIN'S
Quality—Price—Service

G. F. Butcher
High Street
"The Convenient Store"
FOR GOOD THINGS TO EAT AND DRINK

Gray's Drug Store
QUALITY—PRICE—SERVICE
Come in and Get Acquainted
We Are Glad to Have You With Us!
Farmville, Virginia

FRESHMEN!
PAY CLASS DUES

THE ROTUNDA

CONGRATULATIONS
RATS ON YOUR SPORTSMANSHIP!

We Teach To Teach

Volume XIV THE ROTUNDA, WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 18, 1933 No. 4

Honor Fraternity Makes Bids to Two Juniors

Alpha Kappa Gamma Recognizes Leadership in the College

MATTOX AND SMITH SELECTED

In recognition of their leadership in the college, Joan Circle of Alpha Kappa Gamma, the national honor fraternity, took into its Circle Lelia Mattox and Helen Smith.

This honor is bestowed on Juniors and Seniors who have shown through their work outstanding leadership in some of the phases of college life.

Helen Smith, a Junior, has done commendable work in debating and is this year president of the Debate Club. Her services to the Y. W. C. A. as a member of the Freshman Commission, as a member of several committees and as the 1933-'34 chairman of the social committee has been valuable. Her class placed in her hands the responsibility of representing them on the Student Council.

Lelia Mattox, another member of the Junior Class, has also shown her leadership in several fields of activity. She has been exceptionally outstanding on "The Rotunda" staff, and is this year assistant editor. She is vice-president of her class. On the athletic field she has proved herself to be a true sportsman. Besides playing on many class teams and making several varsity squads, Lelia has made the Monogram Club, and heads that organization this year.

The other undergraduate members of Alpha Kappa Gamma are: Virginia Hamilton, Mary Burgess Fraser, Virginia Brinkley, Alice McKay, Mary Shelton, Margaret Parker and Mildred Gwaltney.

Mr. Strick Makes Address to Club

Members of the Choral Club, College Choir and Music Appreciation Classes enjoyed a rare treat when on Thursday evening, October 12, the Women's Club held its first meeting in the College Lounge. There were about 100 present including visitors from Farmville and nearby towns.

Miss Anderson gave the welcoming address an dpresented the speaker of the evening, Prof. Alfred H. Strick, head of the music department of State Teachers College. He then introduced Dr. J. L. Jarman, president of Farmville State Teachers College who sang two selections "The Blind Plowman" and "Invictus"

Prof. Strick chose as his subject "The Universality of Music". He brought to mind the value of music not only to certain classes, but to all classes of people. He stated: "As far as I have been able to observe, there is but one subject of so comprehensive an application that can be held to embrace not only the interests of the provided man in the street, but those of his antitypes . . .the well-educated and well lettered. That subject is music." He continued illustrating convincingly the value and beauty of music to the world. In concluding he left the thought illustrated by the quotation: "God writes the music of our lives, But we must sound each note and learn each melody, and if our unskilled fingers discord bring into His symphonies, we cannot fling His handiwork away, but must Attune our souls to harmonies that He has strewn upon The pages of our loves. Then He can lead us on to Divinity."

Governor Pollard Calls Meeting Here to Plan Public Works Program

The board of supervisors of eighteen counties and the mayors and city councils of twenty-nine towns in south-central Virginia have been requested to meet Governor Pollard at the State Teachers College, Farmville, October 23, to plan their participation in the public works program of the nation.

The counties asked to have delegations at Farmville are Amelia, Amherst, Appomattox, Bedford, Buckingham, Campbell, Charlotte, Chesterfield, Cumberland, Dinwiddie, Halifax, Henrico, Lunenburg, Mecklenburg, Nottoway, Pittsylvania, Powhatan and Prince Edward.

Towns asked to the conference: Amherst, Appomattox, Pamplin, Bedford, Dillwyn, Brookneal, Altavista, Charlotte Court House, Drakes Branch, Keysville, Colonial Heights, South Boston, Halifax, Virgilina, Clover, Victoria, Kenbridge, Boydton, Chase City, Blackstone, Crewe, Chatham, Burkeville, Gretna and Farmville.

The Fredericksburg area meeting will be held October 19 in the assembly room of the chamber of commerce at 2o'clock P. M.

STATE CONFERENCE TO MEET AT S. T. C.

The State Curriculum Conference will meet in the S. T. C. small auditorium October 30 and 31 at 10:00 A. M.

Dr. Sidney B. Hall, Superintendent of Public Instruction, and Dr. D. W. Peters, Director of Instruction, request the presence on the first day of superintendents, supervisors, and elementary and secondary school principals. The curriculum study for all teachers will be explained in detail.

The second day is especially important for the teachers who have been selected to try out certain materials for the tentative program.

Dr. Sidney B. Hall, inaugurated the program for the marking of elementary and secondary school curricula when he became superintendent of public instruction several years ago.

The work of the first year was directed toward study and thousands of teachers in the state were enrolled in study groups.

During the second year the teachers were busy producing units of teaching under the guidance of Dr. Peters and his associates.

The state is now entering upon the

Continued on last page

26 Players Make Hockey Squad

The Varsity hockey squad as chosen October 12 by Miss Iler, coach of hockey, and Frankie McDaniel, manager, included the following eight freshmen, seven sophomores, eight juniors and three seniors Frances Burger, Mary Bowles, Bess McGlothlin, Evelyn Massey, Katherine Roberts, Mildred Gwaltney, Frankie McDaniel, Katherine Irby, Annie B. Anthony, Sarah Beck, Elizabeth Billups, Nannie Ruth Cooper, Alma Foster, Elizabeth Gills, Frances Johnson, Dorothy McNamee, Audrey Mattox, Lelia Mattox, Martha Nottingham, Martha Putney, Kathleen Ransom, Florence Sanford, Lelia Sanford, Muriel Scott, Louise Walmsley and Marguerite York.

Try-outs for the varsity squad were held on the afternoons of October 10 and 11. After careful selection from the large number of those who tried out for the squad, 26 girls were chosen. Each of these girls on the squad will receive 25 points toward athletic awards.

Most of the eight members of last year's squad who made the squad for this year are on the forward or attacking line. This means that positions on the blue and white defensive line will be largely filled by new recruits.

Nothing definite has been decided about the varsity hockey games for this year except that the S. T. C. team will enter the hockey tournament at Westhampton in November.

The schedule for practices is:

4 o'clock	5 o'clock
Monday ..... Varsity	..... General
Tuesday ..... General	..... Varsity
Wednesday . General	..... General
Thursday .. Varsity	..... General
Friday .... General	..... General

MATHEMATICS CLUB RE-ELECTS OFFICERS

To fill the vacancies caused by the resignation of the president, vice-president, and treasurer of the Math Club, at a call meeting Monday morning the club elected new officers.

The nominating committee submitted the names of Nannie Ruth Cooper and Brooks Wheeler for president. Ella Mallory and Frances Horton for vice-president, and Margaret Clark for treasurer. The club voted to accept the report of the nominating committee and elected Nannie Ruth Cooper, president; Ella Mallory, vice-president, and Brooks Wheeler, treasurer.

Scholastic Fraternity Initiates New Girls Into Organization

New members were initiated at the first meeting of the Delta Chapter of Alpha Phi Sigma held last night, October 17 in the small gymnasium. Allene Saunders was unanimously elected treasurer.

The following students who were first honor graduates of their respective high schools, were initiated into the Appretice degree: Virginia Acworth, Minnie Adams, Victoria Gillette, Martha Hamlett, Katherine Milby, Virginia Rawlings and Anne Scales.

Those students who were second honor graduates were initiated into the Novice degree. They are as follows: Mary E. Bailey, Ann Galusha, Mary Hastings Holloway, Lloyd Kelley, Bobbie Mattox, Lucile Rhodes, Capitola Rountree, Sylvia Somers, Lucile Ware and Alize Zeigler.

Agnes Bondurant was promoted to the master's degree.

The fraternity is graded into three divisions: Masters, Apprentices and Novices. As members meet requirements for a higher group they are promoted.

The Novice degree, being the lowest division requires that the students maintain an average of "C".

The Apprentice degree which is second, requires that each student has an average of "B". The highest degree which is that of Masters entitles the members to be able to wear the pin of the fraternity and to really be true members o fthe organization. Those eligible for membership in this degree must maintain a high "B" average.

Jointt meetings of all degrees are held on the third Thursday of each month. Separate meetings of each degree are held as needed.

PAN-HELLENIC COUNCIL ANNOUNCES AVERAGES

That Zeta Tau sorority made the highest scholastic average for the year 1932-33 was announced at the last meeting of the Pan-Hellenic Council, held Thursday night, October 12. Alpha Sigma Alpha and Sigma Sigma Sigma made the second and third highest yearly averages respectively.

For the spring quarter Zeta Tau, with the highest average, was in first place, Sigma Sigma Sigma in second, and Alpha Sigma Alpha in third. As a reward for this attainment Zeta Taus will be allowed to keep the Pan-Hellenic Association scholastic plaque

Continued on page three

Dr. Goodman Speaks To Woman's Club Tonight at S. T. C.

"Jamestown, Williamsburg, and the National Monument" to be Subject of Talk

STUDENTS URGED TO ATTEND

Dr. W. A. R. Goodwin will speak to the Woman's Club of Farmville tonight in the Student Building lounge at 8:30. His subject will be "Jamestown, Williamsburg, and the National Monument."

Dr. Goodwin, who is rector of Bruton Parish church in Williamsburg, has been extremely prominent and influential in the restoration of the old Colonial capital. He conceived the plan of rebuilding the old houses and was mainly responsible for interesting John D. Rockefeller in this project.

The restoration of Williamsburg has progressed rapidly, but there are still many plans to be carried out. On the William and Mary College campus, the Christopher Wren building and Brafferton Hall, or the President's house have been remodeled on their old lines. Picturesque picket fences now inclose the original college grounds.

Old Gloucester street with the college at one end and the rebuilt colonial capital at the other has taken on its appearance of two centuries ago. The buildings housing the stores are reproductions of colonial architecture. The famous old Raleigh tavern, where many important pre-Revolutionary events were enacted, has been completely restored and furnished.

To make the appearance even more as it was when the royal governors rode down this broad avenue in their stately carriages, the signs of progress, the electric and telephone wires

Continued on page three

Kappa Delta Pi Bids Five New Members

The privilege of membership in Kappa Delta Pi, national honor society in education, has recently been extended to five Juniors and one alumnae of the college. Those students receiving this honor are Katharine Walton, Birdie Wooding, Anne Putney, Elizabeth Vassar, Maud Rhodes, Mildred Linthicum, Katherine Coleman and Carmen Clark. Miss Hallie McCraw, an alumnae, has also been invited to become a member of the fraternity.

Kappa Delta Pi is an honorary fraternity in education which has as its basis for membership not only distinctive scholarship, but also outstanding leadership, character and service. The fraternity was established in 1911.

Katherine Walton is a member of Alpha Phi Sigma, Le Cercle Francais, and the Granddaughters Club. She has done outstanding work on the Rotunda, the Tributum, and the Y. W. C. A. Prayers Committee.

Birdie Wooding has an excellent scholastic record for her two years at S. T. C. She is president of Alpha Phi Sigma, and a member of the Debate Club.

Anne Putney has taken a part in many extra curricula activities. She is a member of the Choral Club, the Choir of the College, Le Cercle Francais, Sodalitas Latina, Alpha Phi Sigma, and the Mathemtics Club. She is also a member of the "Virginian" staff.

During the past two years Elizabeth Vassar has done excellent work both in and outside the classroom. She is a member of Alpha Phi Sigma, Sodalitas Latina, and the Junior

Continued on page three

Rat Week Brings Embarrassment for Freshmen; Sophs Require Amusing Conduct and Dress

Breathlessly and enthusiastically the Freshman class on Tuesday night, October 10, awaited the reading of the "rat" rules by which they would abide for the week of October 16 to 20.

As has been the custom for years, the Sophomore class has charge of one week commonly known as "rat week." During this week freshmen observe a set of ruels compiled by the sophomores.

The "rat rules" as drawn up by the sophomores and approved by Miss Mary White Cox, were presented to the freshmen Tuesday night by "Tac" Waters, president of the sophomore class. They read as follows:

I. These rules must be carried out by every freshman living either in school or in town. No rules are in effect after six p. m. any day.

II. The general rules which must be carried out every day beginning Monday, October 16 and ending Friday, October 20 at 6 p. m., are:

All freshmen must:

(1) Kneel and salute the statue of Joan d'Arc every time she passes by either statute in the Rotunda or colonnade.

(2) Get mail after chapel.

(3) Wear a green and white dress and dark hose.

(4) Pin on her back a placard not larger than ten inches, with the words "I am a green rat" or I am a dumb rat" thereon.

(5) Address sophomores as "thee and thou" and answer "yesmadam" when spoken to by a sophomore.

(6) Not enter the front door of the Rotunda.

(7) Tuck table napkins in neck of dress for meals.

(8) Remain standing at table in dining room until everyone else present is seated.

(9) Wear no make-up for the entire week.

III. Special rules for each day in the week are that all freshmen must:

Monday

1. Plait hair into two pig-tails with one green and one white bow attached.

2. Wear a wash dress and a green and white bow.

Tuesday

1. Cary books in a laundry bag.

2. Wear an evening dress and look her best for dinner.

Wednesday

1. Wear a white and green dress backwards and a Sunday hat flat on the head.

Thursday

1. Not speak all day to anyone on the campus, in the dining room, or on the halls.

2. Carry a picture of some boy, not a movie star, so that all upper classmen may see it.

3. Skip slowly.

Friday

1. Lisp all day.

THE ROTUNDA

Member Southern Inter-Collegiate Newspaper Association
Member Intercollegiate Press Association of Virginia

Newspaper — National Scholastic Press Association — Member

Published by Students of State Teachers College, Farmville, Va.

Entered as second class matter March 1, 1921, at the Postoffice of Farmville, Virginia, under Act of March 3, 1879.

Subscription ..... $1.50 per year

ROTUNDA STAFF

Editor-in-Chief .... Mary Shelton, '34
Associate Editor .... Lelia Mattox, '35

Board of Editors

News ..... Evelyn Massey, '36
Make-Up ..... Katherine Hoyle, '36
Literary ..... Agnes Bondurant, '36
Sports ..... Elizabeth Billups, '36
Louise Walmsley, '36
World News ..... Velma Quarles, '34
Intercollegiate ..... Caroline Byrd, '36
Social ..... Marion Raine, '36
Art ..... Alice Rowell, '34
Feature ..... Elizabeth Walton, '36
Alumnae ..... Miss Virginia Potts

Reporters

Edith Shanks, '34; Mary Easley Hill, '34; Elizabeth Vassar, '35; Mary Elizabeth Alexander, '36; Lula Windley, '36.
Proof Readers: Katherine Coleman, '35
Grace Eubank, '36

Managers

Business ..... Mary Diehl, '34
Assistant ..... Elma Rawlings, '34
Circulation ..... Nell Oakey Ryan, '34
Assistant ..... Janice White, '35

The Rotunda invites letters of comment, criticism, and suggestion from its readers upon its manner of presenting and treating them. A letter, to receive consideration, must contain the name and address of the writer. These will not be published if the writer objects to the publication.

All matters of business should be addressed to the Business Manager and all other matters should come to the Editor-in-Chief. Complaints from subscribers as regards irregularities in the delivery of The Rotunda will be appreciated.

HOW OUR COLLEGE IS HELPING

During the time when the nation is seeking to aid its people over these lean years, our college is keeping step and giving us all the help that is possible in the form of student service scholarships.

Nearly fifty girls are taking advantage of this chance to stride along to their goal. In the dining room, in the library, in the Biology laboratory, and in the college training school, we can find work that will aid us in the expense of our education.

Besides the monetatry side, this work gives us definite and valuable experience and further training for our later lives. It seems to be an altogether successful plan, and as a student body, we feel very grateful.

RAT WEEK

Rat week is half over. Two more days and the green and white hair ribbons and placards of "I'm a dumb freshman" will be additions to freshmen scrapbooks.

On the whole the freshmen have been real sports thus far. Generally speaking, the sophomores have filled their "high and mighty" positions very efficiently.

Perhaps the greatest variety of stunts ever asked of freshmen has been used in initiating the class of '37. Carrying laundry, cleaning rooms and "shining" have been minor features of the rat initiation this year. Many of the sophs have spent much time in thinking of ways in which to make the freshmen "distinguish" themselves. It has been rumored, however, that a few sophomores seem to have felt their "superiority" a little too much.

Sophomores, have you, as some of the freshmen seem to think, been too "smart"? It is well that you enforce the rules but not overdo the matter.

Then a word to the juniors and seniors—remember, you are just lookers-on. You've had your day. Now, let the sophomores and freshmen have theirs, and may we have a very successful "rat week."

World News

Mrs. Roosevelt and her daughter started a little recovery campaign of their own by promising to accept from a Manhattan manufacturer the first two ladies coats with NRA tags sewn in them, to prove they were stitched under the coat and suit code.

President Roosevelt went out to Griffith Stadium last week to see the Washington Senators win their only game of the world series from the New York Giants.

Last week Sir Frederick Leith-Ross, British economic adviser called at the State Department and the Treasury to talk about settling Britain's $4,500,000,000 war debt. Both sides were hopeful that the two great off-gold nations might come to some understanding about international currency stabilization. What the temper of incoming Congress will be with regard to debt settlement, no one can predict.

After asking all summer long for the resignation of Federal Trade Commissioner, William E. Humphrey, President Roosevelt last week ordered him summarily removed and filled his post with another Republican, as required by law, but one more to his liking—George C. Matthews of Wisconsin.

President Arias of Panama called to see Franklin Delano Roosevelt on what Panama newspapers called "the most important mission since the birth of the Republic of Panama. The mission was to discuss the drift of unemployed into Panama from the Canal Zone, the complaint of Panama merchants that they are being undersold by the Zone's commissary stores, and Zone and Panaman radio broadcasts.

The famed marionet ceremony of Changing the Palace Guards in London was suddenly interrupted by a skidding automobile which killed three and injured five bystanders, and upset a stiff-standing Palace sentry. Before an equerry sent out by King George V. could reach the scene, the felled sentry was standing at stiff attention again, and the Brigade of Guard officers were barking commands as though nothing at all had happened.

FIVE YEARS FROM NOW

Everyone seems to be looking backward this year. The theme song of S. T. C. is "Fifty Years Ago." Let's look five years into the future and see what's ahead of us. Why look what we've got—some clippings from "The Rotunda of 1938.

"Come out for swimming! Freshmen, don't let the Sophomores win the spring swimming meet. Get your practices in right away!"

"Miss C—, the assistant swimming instructor, arrived yesterday. She announced that new courses in fancy diving had been added to last year's curriculum in physical education."

This one was copied from "The Richmond Times-Dispatch:

"The Farmville S. T. C. swimming team captured all honors in the interstate meet held here yesterday. The trophy was a loving cup which the Farmville team must retain again next year for permanent possession. Individual honors went to S— of Farmville who broke the back stroke record by 3 1-2 seconds. The high point honors went to J— of Farmville with 31 points to her credit, R— of Harrisonburg with 27 points and W—of Sweet Briar with 24 points."

Here's a Campus Comment from "The Rotunda" of 1937 that we liked:

"Bathing styles are certainly changing here at S. T. C. Last year everyone was wearing those tiny black sophisticated nothings; and now the rage seems to be scarlet! Nancy K— certainly created a sensation at the pool yesterday when she appeared in her new blood-red velvet suit. My! How times do change!"

CAMPUS COMMENTS

Who besides the girls at Table 28 knows a certain girl's intentions to advertise for a husband!? !?

Crash! Bang! Ghost haunts Student Building—as window crashes in 207. Anyone acting as a detective report immediately to Lula Windley, Grace Eubank or Claudia Harper.

Evidently Sophomores believe in signs. At least they're trying to teach the freshmen to.

What's this about third floor White House Hall? Perhaps it isn't as deserted as people think! Maybe "rats" just prefer empty, lonesome, spooky rooms.

And did you see the W. & L. rat who came down to see one of our fair maidens last week-end and wore his overcoat the whole time. I wonder what the trouble was.

The long-waited for week-end at last draws nigh. Hearts are palpitating rapidly as some of our lucky girls prepare to go to the dances at V. M. I. and V. P. I. How we do fall for those keydets! From all reports we'll be well represented at both institutions. I should say well—why Wyc Scott's leading the German Club figure at V. P. I.

We've heard quite a few Cotillion girls emphatically state that they were stagging at the fall dances. We wonder how many will return from the week-end with their resolution unbroken. Let's hope there aren't any blanket bids to the corps issued.

Will these frosh ever realize that there are times to laugh and times not to laugh? Ask Frances Johnson if she ever forgot that "rat" initiation should be a solemn occasion at times!

"Say it with music" seems to be the motto of the modern young man, judging from the birthday presents received by Honey Hamilton and Gloria Mann recently. Honey, what was the first program you caught over your radio?

Who is this rat that is causing all the stire among the Hampden-Sydney lads? Girls you'd better watch your steady beau; he too, may fall victim.

AT OTHER COLLEGES

A reporter for the Wittenberg Torch compiled a list of reasons why students go to football games. How many S. T. C. girls will agree with him?

1st a goodly number go to display their snappy new fall outfits. This is not confined to the fair sex alone —what man wouldn't boast a well-fitting tweed topcoat?

2nd, dates—you must admit this solves the problem of how to get along with the least expense.

3rd, the desire to see how one's secret pash looks in shoulder pads or cheer leaders garb. What matters if he does end up with a broken leg either from being tackled or landing on the megaphone upside down—you've had a chance show him off and this will give you something to crow about and tear your hair for.

4th, because we want our money's worth. We'll admit it was worth the .85 to see Hampden-Sydney lick Guilford.

5th, the gambling element. Who wouldn't bet on how many freshmen will have to sound off during the course of the game.

6th, the agreeable yes-men and those who sugar-talk the profs to come that they may give their tonsils an airing, that they may boo and stamp their feet in general and get ready for another week of yes-ing.

7th, which is perhaps the most surprising of all. A vast majority go because they actually enjoy the game.

From the Staunton News Leader comes the report that a total of fourteen men have been killed since the beginning of the 1933 football season.

The student body extends sympathy to Nancy Lee Bland in her recent bereavement.

RAT CATCHES RAT

They say that "when the cat's away the rats will play." That must be true because some freshmen were having a glorious time up on the third floor of Gym Hall one night last week, and there were no cats anywhere around.

It was one of those chilly nights and nearly every girl was huddled cosily beneath those comforting blankets. However, unlike the famous line, "Not a creature was stirring, not even a mouse," there were several rats abroad—freshmen up on Gym Hall who were having one of those renowned bull sessions in one girl's room.

In the midst of a discussion about ghosts, a small sound from the laboratory was heard by one of the girls. It was a soft, slizzing, scratching sound. They all hastened with baited breath, meawhile seeing visions of ghosts and burglars.

The sound continued, and finally being able to stand it no longer, they ran out in the hall, all four of them, determined to discover what was happening, or die in the attempt.

There, huddled up against the wall, was a little pepper and salt streaked cat, or kitten, very round, very soft and very attractive. It looked up at them with gentle pathetic eyes that asked a plaintive question.

The freshmen were overjoyed that the cat was not a ghost and that he was a CAT. To two of them, in particular, he reminded them so poignantly of home that they immediately sat down and wept a few bitter tears. But they soon recovered when the question, "What shall we do with him?" was asked.

They brought him in the room and fed him crackers and cheese which he ate with the greatest appreciation. But what pleased them more than anything else, was when a sophomore stuck her head in the door, he immediately arched his back, and spat at her, growling in the most ferocious tones. "We'll teach him to recognize sophomores on sight," said the freshman.

He was soon curled up on the bed, asleep and serenely purring. It was quite evident that he had found his home and was supremely satisfied.

The girls discussed the matter far into the night. One and all they wished to keep him. "He'll bring us good luck," they said.

But finally reason triumphed and sadly he was put out into the night, and although his untimely passing was mourned, the rats had the satisfaction of knowing that they had made him happy for a few hours anyway, and also an old tradition has been upset, they had established a precedent, they had made history, for the first time, "the rat had caught the cat!"

FROM OLD ROTUNDAS

April 29, 1921:

The following privileges have been extended to the degree girls:

1. Permission to go down town at any time during the day on business.

2. Permission to go to church Sunday night, and also prayer services during the week in groups of four or more unchaperoned.

3. Permission to go to the movies Friday nights in groups of four or more unchaperoned.

4. Permission to go to the movies in groups of four or more on week nights unchaperoned—on special occasions only.

5. Permission to keep lights on in rooms from 10 to 11 P. M., provided all occupants of room are degree girls, and provided it is agreeable to all parties.

Alumnae News

Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Phillips, Jr., of Keller, announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Ethel Louise Barnes, to Walter Smith Barnes, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Barnes of Melfa. The wedding will take place this fall. Louise was a diploma graduate of the class of '32.

The marriage of Miss Elizabeth Watkins to Mr. Jack Eppes was solemnized Saturday, October 14, at high noon. Mrs. Eppes attended school here in 1928 for one year. Mr. Eppes graduated in June 133 from Virginia Military Institute.

POETRY

TOMORROW

We can endure the troubles
That come to us today.
It is tomorrow's sorrows
That fill us with dismay.

Today's load we may shoulder
And blithely march along;
But two days' load together
Will silence any song.

Those grim and shadowy specters
That haunt the coming day,
When comes the morning sunshine
Will often fade away.

Let us enjoy the blessings
Today brings to our feet,
Its joys that make life precious,
Its friendships new and sweet.

Its little tasks and duties,
Its sunshine and its flowers,
And leave the dim tomorrow
To wiser Hands than ours.

—Nellie Goode.

COBWEBS

The spiders stretch their fairy nets
To catch a falling star,
And all the while they watch the moon
Sail on, a scimitar.

They catch the falling petals of
A rose that wooed the breeze—
Sometimes they hang their wind harps high
For winds that sing in trees.

And then, again, they spin their webs
To string bright drops of dew,
But I know they are ropes of pearls
The fairies leave for you!

—Cristel Hastings

ABSENCE

Alone in the garden
I watch the dying day,
With its haze of melting amber
On the hills far away.
The long shadows deepen
Beneath the darkening trees,
And in the dim silence
Comes a murmuring breeze,
Soft as the touch
Of your hand on my hair.
Ah! my beloved,
Are you there?

L. H., '35

AT THE TURN OF THE YEAR

The path we loved is quite deserted.
Green oaks are bare,
Where hollyhocks with wild rose flirted
In June's soft air.

An echo lives in this bitter weather
Like measured song
Of two glad hearts that beat together
When June was long.

Hushed is the eager rush and riot
Of bird and bee,
And over all is a pensive quiet
That cries to me.

So, like the dead rose now forsaken,
I miss you much,
And love all thinks that can awaken
Your voices . . . your touch . . . .

—Ben H. Smith

POSITIONS CHANGED; SOPHS GET FRESH

This week the freshman class bares its head in meek submission before its lordly and entirely superior upperclassmen, the sophomores.

Many end varied are the terrible tales being told of outrages committed aaginst the pathetic rats. Every freshman has been compelled to go domestic in a large way, what with bedmaking, sweeping and dusting.

This week the freshman class will be as gentle as a lamb, while the sophomore class unsheathes its claws—but every dog shall have his day (will just change that "dog" to "rat") and we'll become sophomores yet.

"Deliver me from mine enemies" seems to be the prayer of every homesick freshman. Adding insult to injury, the unkindest cut of all, is the deep humiliation of having to wear a placard on our backs with "I'm a dumb freshman" printed in big black letters. We greatly desire to amend this statement, and iw had our way it would read thus: "I'm a dumb freshman—but weren't you?"

—Amis Montgomery.

SOCIALS

Three girls went to Wytheville and attended the Hampden-Sydney-Emory and Henry game. They were: Zaida Thomas, Anne Irving, and Tib Simmerman.

Elizabeth Wall went to Bristol Friday afternoon for the week-end.

Kitty Chappell and Mae Bush visited in Boyce, Va.

Several girls went to Dillwyn. They were Dorothy Field, Elizabeth Ranson and Christine Seay.

Doris Carlton went to Oxford, N. C.

There was a regular Farmville reunion in Richmond the past week-end. Some of the many who went are: Martha Davis, Margaret Capenhaver, Margaret Dudley, Cadey Ingles, Eleanor Mitchell, Jeanne Gwaltney, Elizabeth Kelley, Marion Raine, Beulah Travis, Elizabeth Spitler, Martha Barker, Bell Buracher, Leonora Long, Rachel Joyner, Mary Alice Farrell, Claudia Harper, Louise Whitehurst, Dorothy Stone, Helen Shawen, Virginia Saunders, Madeline McCommons, Irene Parker, Elizabeth Truly, Henrietta Salsbury, Grace Eubank, and Martha Higgins.

Susan Gresham, Sally Chappell, and June Allen went to Portsmouth for the week-end.

Annie Anderson visited in Jetersville.

Nancy Beard went to Amherst for the week-end.

Mrs. S. W. Paulette is substituting for Miss Fannie B. Shelton who was called away on account of illness in her family.

On account of illness Virginia Jones returned to her home in Norfolk, to spend a few days.

The following alumnae visited in the college during the week-end: Alice Moore, Margaret Brown, Martha Gunter, Elizabeth Fields, Helen Cover, Kitty Waters, Lucy Anderson, Alice Stiedtman, Martha Moore, Anne Davis, Frances Dillon, and Dorothy Davis.

GAMMA THETA SORORITY HOLDS PICNIC IN CABIN

Gamma Theta sorority held a delightful picnic at Longwood on Saturday afternoon. The cabin was made very cosy and rustic looking by its decorations of pine trees and corn stalks. Several old girls were back for the occasion. Those present besides the members of the sorority were: Miss Stubbs, Mrs. Henry Knaub, Mrs. Sullivan, Martha Moore, Helen Cover, Kitty Waters, Elizabeth Fields, Ann Davis and Frances Dillon.

KAPPA DELTA PI BIDS FIVE NEW MEMBERS

Continued from page one

Choral Club. She has also worked on the "Virginian" staff, the "Rotunda" staff, and the service and membership committees of the Y. W. C. A.

Maude Rhodes gained her membership by making high grades and by taking part in other activities. She is a member of Alpha Phi Sigma, Le Cercle Francais, Sodalitas Latina, and the Monogram Club.

With an excellent scholastic record, Mildred Linthicum becomes a member of Kappa Delta Pi. Her work in Alpha Phi Sigma, Sodalitas Latina, the Debate Club, El Circulo Espanol, and the Ruffner Literary Society, has been outstanding.

Katherine Coleman, another member of Alpha Phi Sigma, has done work on the "Rotunda" staff and in various organizations. She is a member of the Granddaughters Club, Sodalitas Latina, and El Circulo Espanol.

Carmen Clark, secretary of Alpha Phi Sigma, has done unusually good work in foreign languages and in other activities. She is a member of Sodalitas LatLina and Le Cercle Francais. She has also worked on the "Tributum" and the Y. W. C. A. Prayers Committee.

LOVE'S VAGARIES

Love is a torch
That quickly soaring high,
Touches with ardent lips
The distant sky.

When summer's gone
And chill is in the air,
It glows upon the hearth
Contented there.

L. H., '35

NOVEL SING AMUSES S. T. C. AUDIENCE

How much freedom will S. T. C. girls have twenty years from now when having dates? Sing Saturday night answered this question by presenting "dating" conditions today and their conception of what conditions would be twenty years from today.

As the curtains parted the sing audience found themselves transported to S. T. C. "rec". A troup of boys and girls entered and dashed to secure coveted seats, pairing off in couples. After a few moments of pleading Dot Justis entertained the group by playing "Dinah" and "I'll Be Coming Round the Mountain" on the piano. Practically all of the couples gathered around the piano to listen to the music so that Bernice Jones and Zilla Newson secured a comfortable bench lately vacated, and gave a true interpretation of a love-sick pair. Before long Virginia Leonard as Aunt Lucy entered and gave a faithful portrayal of persuading the "dates" to leave.

The curtain opened a second time This time the scene was again laid in S. T. C., showing "dating" conditions twenty years from now. Elizabeth Huse and Margaret Clark as one couple and Dot Justis and Ophelia Booker as another occupied two very comfortable sofas. Bored with numerous trips to Lynchburg and Richmond and the numerous things that the Home Department pleaded with dates to indulge in, the two couples decided to revolt and stay at school for once. Soon Aunt Lucy, showing the infirmities of age, crept in and humbly suggested that they turn out the light in the parlor as they left.

STUDENTS' NRA CODE

(A Dream)

Whereas the college students of these United States have signified their intentions to accept this code of conditions governing their work under the principles of the National Recovery Act, be it hereby set down those said conditions, to wit:

1. No student in a recognized college or university within the boundaries of the United States shall under any circumstances spend more than 30 hours per week on his or her work, which shall include any studies, including outside work, which are applicable to credit for a degree.

2. Of the 30 hours thus spoken of above, not more than 6 hours shall be spent on college work during the course of any one day.

3. No professor shall require that his students put more than 5 hours per week on his subject, including the time taken for lecture preiods.

4. The minimum time limit for a lecture's length shall be definitely set at 15 minutes. The maximum length for such lecture shall be definitely set at 30 minutes. The said lectures shall not under any circumstances meet more often than three times a week.

5. A uniform requirement of 15 session hours shall be set throughout the country as the number of credits necessary for a degree. Mid-term and final examinations shall not last over 90 minutes, and shall not cover any work not taken up during the lecture periods.

6. Presence at classes shall not be required unless the student's grade is less than 80 per cent.

7. Every student shall receive an allowance weekly of not less than $10. This amount shall be pledged by the parents of the student, unless they are financially unable to do so, in which case the amount necessary to make up the difference between the amount possible and the minimum required shall be donated from the treasury of the United States according to an act which will be passed within three weeks.

8. Any disobedience of the above code shall be punished in the student's case by deduction of credits according to the judgment of the college faculty. Disobedience by the faculty or the parents shall be punished by law.—The Yellow Jacket.

Casualties on football squads are of varied natures, but the Mustangs of Texas Tech deserve the prize for the most unique. One of their varsity tacklers is on the bench suffering from "milkman" knee received in "scrimmage" with a cow—the animal scored a touchdown on the gridder's knee.

—The Tulane Hullabaloo.

SUBSCRIBE TO THE ROTUNDA!

12 GIRLS REPRESENT DISCIPLES IN PROGRAM

Dr. Walmsley's Sunday school class had an unusual feature in its program last Sunday morning. Following short opening exercises, Dr. Walmlsey led up to the subject with an introduction explaining the grouping of the Disciples of Jesus. As he called the names in the group, the representatives of the Disciples came in and told something of the life and work of each Apostle. The first group included: Lelia Mattox as Simon Peter; Muriel Scott as Andrew; Christine Childrey as James; Katharine Walton as John. The next group were: Nannie Ruth Cooper as Philip; Inez Strang as Bartholomew; Alice Magruder as Thomas; Lelia Lovelace as Matthew. The last group were: Carmen Clark as James (the younger); Frances Horton as Thaddaeus; Elizabeth Gills as Simon; Helen Smith as Judas.

The class, which is now meeting in Room 21, Mr. Strick's class room, is more satisfactorily located than it was formerly. The class officers follow:

President ..... Janice White
Secretary ..... Lelia Mattox
Vice-President ..... Audrey Mattox
Treasurer ..... Carmen Clark
Chmn. Program .... Margaret Murray

The class is planning a picnic to be held at Longwood Friday of this week.

DR. GOODWIN SPEAKS TONIGHT AT S. T. C.

Continued from page one

have been placed underground.

Dr. Goodwin will discuss the progress already made on this project and will describe the plans that will be completed in the future.

The Woman's Club, realizing that this talk will be of interest to the S. T. C. and Hampden-Sydney students and the people of the town, has invited them to hear this noted speaker.

INFIRMARY LIST—OCT. 18

Ann Diggs
Margaret tCopenhaver
Inez Strang
Dorothy Wise
Charlotte Rice
Dorothea Dollins
Mary Thomas Moyers

PAN-HELLENIC COUNCIL ANNOUNCES AVERAGES

Continued from page one

in their chapter for the fall quarter.

As Zeta Tau held its position at the head of the list for three consecutive terms its name will be engraved on the plaque.

Jokes

Teacher: "What insect requires the least nourishment?"

Percival: "The moth—it eats only holes."—Selected.

Clear-voiced girl (in crowded bus): "I wish that good-looking man would give me his seat."

Five men got up—Selected.

Young Lady (with hopes): "What do you tnink is the fashionable color for a bride?"

Male Shopwalker: "Tastes differ—but I should prefer a white one."—Selected.

"Your boy friend talks too much. He rattles like a flivver."

"I know Dad, but his clutch is different."

"Is your apartment small?"

"Is it?—We have to use condensed milk."

DRESS MAKING — DESIGNING

HEMSTITCHING AND

ALTERING

SINGER SHOP

Third Street

FARMVILLE, VA.

10-4-3t

Kleanwell

CLEANERS AND TAILORS

Expert Cleaning, Repairing and Remodeling of Ladies Garments

Main Street, Opposite Postoffice
PHONE 98

Lucille Shop

"Just Across the Street"

Street Floor Hotel Weyanoke

Apparel for the College Girls

Nuf-Sed

All Well Dressed Girls Do Not Deal At Dorothy May Store; But All Girls Who Deal at the Dorothy May Store Are Well Dressed

Come in and se the newst styles and materials. You will be surprised at our low prices!

THE DOROTHY MAY STORE
Main tSreet

NEW FALL SHOES
For the College Girls—
Straps, Pumps, Ties and Oxfords
$2.95—$3.50—$3.95—$5.00

Smart women who see these attractive shoe, get several pair at one time—street, afternoon, and sport shoes in different leathers and hades. They have a certain air of their own, and their designs are clever and decidedly new, besides being priced moderately low.

DAVIDSON'S

EACO
THEATRE
PROGRAM OCT. 19 TO 25

Thursday and Friday
October 19 and 20
Lillian Harvey
and
Lew Ayres
in
"MY WEAKNESS"

With Hollywood's most beautiful girls! Here's a new star, and the cutest thing in pictures, plus a fast and funny musical romance about a brassiere king's nephew who tried to make a girl beautiful—then tried to make the girl. Song hits star comedians and a flock of beautiful damsels. Fun every minute.

Extra, Laurel & Hardy in "Midnight Patrol".

Saturday, October 21
Joan Bennett
JIMMY DUNN
in
"ARIZONA TO BROADWAY"

Girls, color, music, contagious enthusiasm, unadulterated joy. This one has what it takes to make great entertainment. You will enjoy every minute of this picture.

Also Gus Shy in "Paul Revere Jr." and Fox News

Next Monday and Tuesday,
October 23 and 24
Madge Evans
PHILLIPS HOLMES, UNA MERKEL
in
"BEAUTY FOR SALE"

Romantic? reckless? or sensible? How do men like their girls to behave? What happens to girls who fall in love with men they can't marry? This epic glorifies three beauty experts who dealt in permanent waves of scandal, mud-packs of gossip, where complexions are preserved and reputations destroyed.

Also Dr. Rockwell in "Rock-a-Bye-Bye." Paramount News.

Next Wednesday, Oct. 25
Bette Davis
GLENDA FARRELL, LEWIS STONE
in
"BUREAU OF MISSING PERSONS"

Learn the heart-wringing truth about what happens to abandoned girls, runaway wives, disillusioned brides, kidnapped beauties. Every scene of this picture is based on an actual fact. A thrilling, throbbing story that will hold you breathless.

Extra! Donald Nivis in "Operators' Opera."

Daily matinees at 4 P. M. Evenings at 8 P. M.

Prices—Adults, 35c at nights and 25c at matinees. Children under 12 years of age, 15c to each show.

"Do you need any tooth paste?"

"No thanks, my teeth aren't loose."

"What's the date?"

"Why don't you look at the newspaper?"

"That won't do me any good—that's yesterday's paper."

Subscribe to the State Teachers College Rotunda, and get all the news from the old Alma Mater!

C. E. Chappell
COMPANY
Stationery, Blank Books and School Supplies
Cigars, Cigarettes and Soda
Farmville, Virginia

S. A. Legus
TAILOR
CLEANING
PRESSING
REPAIRING
Phone 203

TENNIS TOURNAMENT NEARS COMPLETION

The tennis courts are kept in use daily as the matches are being played Competition is running high in the "Round Robin Tournament" which will determine the eight members of the varsity squad.

Tennis is one of the finest sports at S. T. C. Many girls are showing their interest in it by playing in the matches. Each girl, in order to win a match, must win four out of seven games.

The results of the matches which have been played are as follows: Aydlette-Walker, Aydlette (4-3); Gills-Rountree, Rountree (4-3); Putney-Crawford, Putney (7-0); Mattox-Beckham, Mattox (6-1); Aydelltte-Rountree, Rountree (7-0); Crawford-Gardner, Gardner (4-3); Walmsley-Massey, Walmsley (6-1); Umberger Johnson, Johnson (7-0); Nelson-Shanks, Shanks (4-3); Putney-Umberger, Putney (7-3) Johnson-Nelson, Nelson (5-2); Nelson- Mattox, Nelson (5-2).

All matches must be completed by the end of this week.

ATHLETIC POINT SYSTEM

The Athletic Association every year awards class blazers, numerals, letters, navy blue blazers, and college seals to those girls who have to their credit a required number of points decided upon by the Athletic Council. Eligibility for membership into the Monogram Club requires 400 points. The point sysem as it stand now is as follows:

Section 1. Physical Efficiency Test:
A. 8 events with 4 stunts and 4 field and track events 75
B. 9 events with stunts and 9 field and track events 100
Section 2. Teams (having participated in 50 per cent of games played):
A. First team in any sport 50
B. Second class team in any sport 25
C. Attendance at 50 per cent of hockey, basketball, baseball 25
Of volleyball, field and track .. 15
D. Champion team 50
E. Runner up 25
F. Varsity team 50
Varsity squad 25
G. Manager of sport 10
Asst. manager of sport 5
Section 3. Hiking:
A. Six 5-mile hikes a year 50
Section 4. Field Day:
A. Individual points:
First place in any event 15
Second place in any event 10
Third place in any event 5
Breaking college record 25
Participation in meet 5
First place in meet 50
B. Class points:
First place in relay 10
Second place in relay 5
Section 5. Tournament (tennis and archery):
A. Championship:
Singles 50
Doubles 25
B. Runner-up:
Singles 25
Doubles 15
C. Those in after match 5
D. Varsity team 25
Varsity squad 15
Section 6. Scholarship:
A. "C" average 25
B. "B" average 50
C. "A" average 75
Individual Athletic Awards—Blazers
Class Blazers—red and green with old English F ..... 700 pts.
Class Blazers—red and green with numeral ..... 1000 pts.
Class blazers, red and green with S. T. C. ..... 1500 pts.
Navy Blue Blazer with College Seal ..... 2000 pts.

SENIOR CLASS HOLDS MEETING

The Senior Class had a short meeting Tuesday night in Room 21. The class practiced the songs that will be used when they present to the student body and faculty their classman, on Saturday morning, October 28 in chapel. The president announced the call meetings of the class would be held to perfect these songs.

Saturday night, November 25 was announced as the date for the Senior sing. Mary Shelton was appointed as chairman of a committee in charge of this.

SUBSCRIBE TO THE ROTUNDA!

CALENDAR

Wednesday, October 18
5:00 P. M.—Y. W. C. A. Cabinet
7:00-7:30 P. M.—Rotunda staff
7:30-8:30—Pi Gamma Mu
8:30-9:30—Pi Kappa Delta
Thursday, October 19
7:00-8:00—Debate Club
Friday, October 20
7:00-8:00—Monogram Club
Monday, October 23
7:00-8:00—Virginian staff
7:00-8:00—Athletic Association
8:00-9:00—Alpha Kappa Gamma
Tuesday, October 24
4:15—Artist Dance Club
7:00-7:30—Class Meetings
7:30-8:30 Gamma Psi
10:00—Student Council

THE BEAUTY SCHOOL

By HELENA RUBENSTEIN

Are you meeting the challenge from your friends who judge your "face value" daily?

You can meet the challenge with flying colors if your skin is smooth, clear and fresh; if your personal habits of good grooming are up to the modern standard. College has a way of seizing the essentials of beauty—clear, healthy skin, bright eyes, clean fingernails, daily baths—and leaving the trimmings, such as exotic nail polish, devastating makeup and startling coiffures, to the week-end.

If you have been just a bit careless about beauty care, then by all means start at once to correct these beauty faults. This intelligent daily care is essential not only for the sake of present and future good looks, but for your own happiness at school as well.

Cleansing the skin well is the first step. Most of you, I am sure, like to wash your face—but don't use just any soap. Indeed, I'd suggest that you use no soap at all, but a washing preparation specialized to your type of skin. If it is oily or normal, a granular wash, such as beauty grains, will cleanse thoroughly and keep the skin fine textured and smooth. If it is dry or very sensitive, a paste to remove or prevent blackheads and open pores will gently rid the skin of every impurity.

Personally, I always like a cream cleanser, too. There are moments during this brisk autumn weather when washing will make your face chapped and rough. If you use a pasteurized cleansing cream, followed by a skin toning lotion, I'll guarantee that you'll feel as clean, look as clean and are as clean as when you wash. All types of skin really need both types of cleansing—with a washing preparation and a cream—and the college years are the ideal ones for beginning this good beauty habit.

If you have a personal beauty problem on which you need advice, write Woman's Interest Syndicate, 522 Fifth Ave., New York City.

FOOT BALL SCORES

V. P. I. vs. W. & M., 13-7.
Emory & Henry vs. H. S. C., 7-0
Randolph-Macon vs. Guilford, 14-6
Bridgewater vs. American U., 2-0
Columbia vs. Virginia, 15-6
Yale vs. W. & L., 14-0
Duke vs. Tennessee, 10-2
Davidson vs. V. M. I., 6-0
N. C. State vs. Florida, 0-0
Georgia vs. N. C., 30-0.
Tulane vs. Maryland, 20-0
Stanford vs. Northwestern 0-0
Notre Dame vs. Indiana, 12-2
Staunton vs. Hargrave, 38-0
Augusta vs. Massanutten, 19-0
Fork Union vs. Fishburne, 6-0
Woodberry vs. V. E. S. 6-0.

OCTOBER 24 IS DATE OF ARCHERY TOURNAMENT

The Athletic Association Council announced October 24 as the date of the archery tournament. It will be held at the back in Cunningham Hall at 4:00 o'clock provided the weather is suitable.

Each entry in the tournament will have the same number of arrows, and the girl scoring the most times will be the winner. The winning of this event will add points for the girls' class and to her individual score. This tournament will cause considerable excitement in the student body.

HAMPDEN-SYDNEY BEGINS MEMORIAL TOWER

Work on a bell-tower, a memorial to Dr. Asa D. Watkins, has begun on the Hampden-Sydney campus. The foundation is laid looking west from the memorial gate, northwest of the gymnasium.

The tower will be 21 feet high, the actual walls 15 feet above the ground and 14 feet square. In the center of each wall there will be an arched entrance 8 feet high.

The bell, of unusually large dimensions, has been ordered from J. C. Bell & Co. in Lynchburg. It weighs about 1,000 pounds and is 38 inches in diameter. It has a deep tone which will reach all angles of the campus.

The alumni of H.-S. C., especially former students of Dr. Watkins, are financing the construction of the tower. J. D. Eggleston III, '23, has directed the work and plans.

Dedication exercises will take place on Home-Coming day if the work is far enough advanced. The date of completion depends upon weather conditions and the arrival of materials. Therefore, no definite plans for the service have been made.

DEBATE CLUB ELECTS FOUR NEW MEMBERS

Debate Club try-outs for Sophomore were held on Monday night.

The Debate Club wishes to announce the fololwing new members: Agnes Bondurant, Mildred Slayton, Margaret Clark, and Nell Harrell

Try-outs for Freshmen and upperclassmen will be held on Wednesday night of this week at 7:15 o'clock in the little auditorium.

STATE CONFERENCE TO MEET AT S. T. C.

Continued from page one

third stage when the material already produced will be tried out in many schools in parts of the state.

On a rainy day recently a lady in a saole coat got on a Madison Avenue street car. "I don't suppose I've ridden on a street car in two years," she said to the conductor, a gloomy fellow, as she gave him her fare. "I ride in my own car," she explained.

The conductor rang up the fare. "You don't know how we've missed you."—New York Morning Telegraph.

SEQUENCE

And if he doesn't call gain,
I'll sail to some wild tropic shore,
And for a time I'll curse all men—
And then I'll play the fool some more.
—Jean Plannette

Weyanoke
BEAUTY SALON
A Complete Beauty Service At Moderate Prices
What we have done for others we can do for you
WEYANOKE HOTEL
Farmville Va.

RICE'S SHOE STORE
Street and Dress Shoes
Dancing Slippers Dyed
Correct fits our speciality

FRESHMEN COMPLETE ELECTION OF OFFICERS

The Freshman Class met Wednesday night, October 11, in the "Rec" to elect its secretary and treasurer. The president, Caroline Jones, presided, with the class grouped circularly around her. Votes were made by a show of hands.

The following approved nominees for treasurer were voted upon: Lloyd Kelley, Bess McGlothlin, Bonnie Lane, and Virginia Jones. Three tallies were taken, and from the last one Lloyd Kelly emerged victorious, after two ties wit hBess McGlothlin. Lloyd Kelley is from Big Stone Gap, Va., and judging from past experience, will fill this very important office with efficiency and distinction.

Nominees for secretary were Mary Bowles, Mary Moore and Frances Woodhouse. After two eliminations in which Mary Bowles and Frances Woodhouse tied, Mary Bowles became secretary of the Freshman Class. She lives in Petersburg, Va. Much confidence is placed in her charm and ability as secretary.

After the completion of elections, "Tac" Waters, president of the Sophomore Class, proceeded, despite many interrupting exclamations and shouts, to read to tense and expectant Freshmen the Rat Rules for the week beginning Monday, October 16.

Electric Shoe Shop
Will Fix Your Shoes While You Wait
BEST WORKMANSHIP AND LEATHER USED

YOU WOULD LOVE TO HAVE YOUR SHOES FIXED AT THE
Lovelace Shoe Shop
110 Third Street

WILLIS
The Florist
FLOWERS FOR ALL OCCASIONS
PHONES 181-273

JUNIORS HOLD CLASS MEET AT LONGWOOD

The Junior Class held an informal meeting at Longwood cabin Tuesday night, October 17.

A real picnic supper was the order of the night, with a roaring fire in the cabin, and cornstalks about the room to make the rutisc atmosphere complete.

A majority of the class was present, and hilarity ran high to the tunes of a portable victrola in its last screechings.

Splendid spirit was shown by the entire group.

Mack's
BARBER AND BEAUTY SHOP
323 Main Street
We use the Frederick Method
Hair Cutting and Thinning a Specialty

Martin JEWELER
Gifts of Lasting Remembrance
317 Main St. Farmville
We give Jubilee tickets

SouthsideDrugStore
(On the Corner)
Films Developed FREE
If bought at this store

Shannon's
Is Headquarters for the Best SANDWICHES —and— DRINKS —in— FARMVILLE!

WELCOME S. T. C. STUDENTS
We are glad to see you back and take this means of inviting you to make our store your headquarters. We have everything you need for your wardrobe.
THE HUB DEPARTMENT STORE
"Farmville Best Place to Shop"

GREETINGS, S.T.C.
from "The Style Shop for Ladies"
Now showing a complete line of college togs, ready to wear, millinery and shoes.
If it's new—it's at
BALDWIN'S
Quality—Price—Service

G. F. Butcher
High Street
"The Convenient Store"
FOR GOOD THINGS TO EAT AND DRINK

Gray's Drug Store
QUALITY—PRICE—SERVICE
Come in and Get Acquainted
We Are Glad to Have You With Us!
Farmville, Virginia

SAVE YOUR MONEY FOR THE S. T. C. CIRCUS

THE ROTUNDA

POE

VIPA MEETS IN RICHMOND OCTOBER 27-28

We Teach To Teach

Volume XIV | THE ROTUNDA, WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 25, 1933 | No. 5

Dr. Goodwin Gives Lecture on Project To Large Audience

Praises John D. Rockefeller For Aid in Restoration of Williamsburg

S. T. C. STUDENTS ENJOY TALK

Dr. W. A. R. Goodwin was guest speaker at the first open meeting of the Farmville Woman's Club, held in the Student Building auditorium Wednesday, October 18. The auditorium was filled to its capacity with interested listeners, who heard the realization of a dream, Dr. Goodwin's. He is rector at Bruton Parish church, Williamsburg, and conceived the idea of the restoration of the colonial capital of Williamsburg.

Years ago, Dr. Goodwin became rector of Bruton Parish and after much effort succeeded in having the church restored. A student of history, he became interested in other buildings in the town and dreamed of a general restoration. Of the four colonial cities, Philadelphia, New York, Boston and Williamsburg, restoration was possible only at Williamsburg, for the other cities have become metropolises and valuable buildings had taken the place of the colonial sections.

By chance, Dr. Goodwin met John D. Rockefeller, Jr., at a speaking engagement in New York. At the time he told of his dream of restoring the Virginia colonial capital. As a result of Mr. Rockefeller's interest in the project, a large number of colonial buildings at Williamsburg have already been restored and more are to be done.

The restoration of Williamsburg has progressed rapidly. On the William and Mary campus, the Christopher Wren building and Brafferton Hall and the president's house, have been remodeled on their old lines.

Old Gloucester street with the college at one end and the rebuilt colonial capital at the other has taken on its appearance of two centuries ago. The buildings, even the outside of the stores are reproductions of colonial orchitecture. The famous old Raleigh Tavern, which is valuable in pre-Revolution story-lore, has been

Continued on last page

Seven Girls Elected For Annual Feature

On Wednesday, October 18, the student body elected seven outstanding girls who will be represented in the feature section of the 1933-'34 Virginian. These seven girls were chosen from a list of fourteen girls who were nominated by a nominating committee. This committee was composed of members from the faculty and student body. Those composing the committee were Elizabeth Vassar, Louise Potter, Lelia Mattox, Miss Bedford, and Dr. Walmsley.

The Virginian staff decided that fourteen girls should be nominated since seven were to be elected. The following girls were nominated: Alice McKay, Virginia Brinkley, Jestine Cutshall, , Honey Hamilton, Nancy Harrison, Margaret Parker, Mildred Gwaltney, Mary Berkley Nelson, Mary Burgess Fraser, Lelia Mattox, Tac Waters, Grace Rowell, Mary Shelton and Sue Yeaman.

The results of the election will not be known by anyone until the annual comes out. When the photographer returns in November he will take pictures of all the girls rather than the seven who were elected. The staff has decided to do this so they could be assured that no one would know the results of the election.

Miss Elizabeth Claybrook, secretary VIPA, a student at Westhampton College, University of Richmond.

Y.W.C.A. Conference Convenes 3rd Time For Set-Up Meeting

Committee Makes Tentative Plans for Year's Work in S. T. C.

The Y. W. C. A. cabinet held the opening meeting of its annual set-up conference from 3 to 5 o'clock on Wednesday afternoon, October 18 in the cabinet room.

The purpose of this conference was to review all the work already done by each committee, and to make tentative plans for the work to be done by the committees during the year. Virginia Hamilton, president of the Y. W. C. A., presided at this opening meeting and led the devotionals. Chairmen of respective committees then reported their accomplishments thus far, and announced plans for the future. As each report was given, valuable suggestions were often offered by members of the cabinet.

The second half of the set-up conference was held at Longwood on Thursday evening, October 19 at 7 P. M. This meeting was attended by the entire cabinet and the faculty advisers of the committees. Both the advisers and students enjoyed a delightful dinner in the Longwood tea room. At 8 o'clock the final session was held. Before business was begun, devotionals were led by Edith Shanks. After devotionals, each committee chairman again gave a comprehensive report of her work already done and submitted plans for the rest of the year. Discussions followed each report, with more suggestions being offered. The conference ended about 9:30 p. m.

This conference is the third successive set-up conference which the

Continued on last page

CALENDAR

Thursday

4:45—Artist dance group
7:00-8:00—Kappa Delta Pi
8:00-9:00—Beta Pi Theta

Friday

7:00-8:00—French Circle
7:00-8:00—Gamma Psi

Monday

7:00-8:00—Virginian staff
7:00-8:00—A. A. Council

10:00—Student Council

Wednesday

5:00—Y. W. C. A. Cabinet
7:00-7:30—Rotunda staff
7:30-8:30—Pi Gamma Mu

Publication Staffs Send Delegates to Press Convention

Shelton and Diehl of Rotunda and Fraser and Brinkley of Virginian to Represent College

Mary Shelton, editor-in-chief, Mary Deihl, business manager, Lelia Mattox, associate editor, Evelyn Massey, news editor and Kitty Hoyle, make-up editor will represent the Rotunda at the Virginia Intercollegiate Press Association to be held in Richmond October 27-28.

The Virginian is sending as its degates Mary Burgess Fraser, editor-in-chief, who is also first vice-president of the Virginia Intercollegiate Press Association, and Virginia Brinkley, business manager of that publication.

The seventh annual convention will officially open at the first session to be held in Maryland Hall, University of Richmond at 2 P. M., October 27. Ninety-five publications have registered the names of their editors and business managers as delegates.

The discussion groups will be held Friday afternoon. Dr. Douglas Freeman, editor of the Richmond News Leader, will speak at the banquet, Friday night. At this time the cups will be presented to the prize winning publications. Saturday morning the new officers of the association will be elected and the place of meeting for the 1934 convention will be decided.

Sophomores Reveal Rat Box Contents

"Bubble, bubble, toil and trouble, we the witches of Habersham were sent by the high order of witches to see certain freshmen who disregarded wishes of upperclassmen." Thus spoke the first witch, Dot Eley, as she slowly stirred the contents of a black cauldron in rat court Saturday night. Around her were grouped a number of her sister witches, some moaning and muttering to themselves while others flashed wicked looking paddles.

As the first witch stirred, she reached into the cauldron and found the decree of the higher witches for one freshman, Zell Hopkins, who apparently did not like to clean upperclassmen's roms. This "rat" was asked to clean the floor of the stage with a toothbrush and a tin cup of water. This task accomplished, Zell sang the laundry list to the tune of "How Am I Doing."

As Dot continued her stirring with a heavy ladle she drew from the witch's black pot the names of several unruly freshmen who were called to the stage. Marta Stein pleased the witches very much, as could be told by their toothless grins and cackles of delight when she gave them a lesson in wrestling with temptation. "Ole Mr. Lucifer better keep way from dat gal" was their unanimous decision.

Blanche Kahn upon being asked to give a two-minute talk on "dates in the rec" said she had had only one date there. The witches asked where she has been having her dates.

Caroline Jones, Lloyd Kelley, Mary Hastings Hollaway, Elise Marshburn and "Peanut" Woodhouse were congratulated by the toothless wonders for being such fine sports during rat week.

As the lights slowly faded and the witches could be seen mounting their brooms to return to the ethereal waves, Blanche Kahn led Dot Dollins and Doris Carlton in fifteen rahs for the sophomore class, thus bringing rat week to a grand finale.

Beverly L. Britton, editor of The Richmond Collegian, student newspaper of the University of Richmond, and President iof the Virginia Intercollegiate Press Association.

Acting Group Gives Quaint Play Before The Dramatic Club

Apprentices in Departments Receive Training in Staging Productions

The acting group of the Dramtic Club, under the direction of Meg Herndon, presented its first play, "The Loving Cup," before the club, Thursday, Oct. 19.

"The Loving Cup" was a quaint "character" play. Old-fashioned country people were the characters; the old country doctor, the giggling girls, the nice country ladies, the big "brawn" with her meek Samuel, the shy boys, and the erratic "bird-lover," added interest to the plot. Character types were stressed by the actors. The stage setting was a picnic ground and the staging group received training in making grass mounds and arranging an outdoor scene artistically. The costumes were planned by the costume department with much skill.

The cast was as follows: "Mrs. Timmens," Bess McGlothlin; "Dr. Brentwood," Angerona Aydlette;" "Mrs. Peck," Murchand Dressler; "Janie," Katherine Irby; "Rosie," Henrietta Salisbury; "Mrs. Gill," Elise Marshbourne; "Cynthia," Dot Price; "Andrew", Anthelia Robinette; "Hen Bachelor," Nancy Dodd; "Mrs. Pride," Grace Collins; "Mrs.Haynes," Bonnie Lane; "Miss Nettie Swan," Marguerite York; "John C. Timmens," Lucy Miller; "First Woman," Dot McNamee; "Second Woman," Patsy Saunders; and "Third Woman," Frances Berger.

At the conclusion of the play, Miss Wheeler, the faculty adviser of the Dramatic Club, gave the cast and audience constructive criticism of the

Continued on last page

DR. BAUGHMAN SPEAKS ON RACE BETTERMENT

Mary B. Baughman, M. D., chairman of the welfare department, general federation of women's clubs of Virginia, will talk in the small auditorium Wednesday evening from 7:00 until 8:00 o'clock on race betterment.

Dr. Baughman is coming at the request of Pi Gamma Mu and Kappa Delta Pi. All who are interested in Dr. Baughman's talk are invited to attend.

Governor Pollard's Fourth Conference Held Here Oct. 22

Advisory Board and Representatives From 16 Counties and 26 Towns Attend Meeting

$1,000,000 PROJECTS APPROVED

Governor John Garland Pollard's fourth emergency public works conference, including members of the public works advisory board and representaives of counties and towns of the Southside area, met in the college auditorium Monday, October 22.

Sixteen of eighteen counties and twenty-six of twenty-nine towns were represented at the meeting. There were approximately 600 people, including 200 representatives, at the conference. The state advisory board, composed of Jay M. Johns, chairman, Charlottesville; R. B. Peston of Norfolk, and B. F. Moomaw of Roanoke, attended the meeting.

Governor Pollard and his party were entertained at lunch at the Weyanoke Hotel by the town council and a group of representative citizens. The governor's party included Martin L. Wallerstein of Richmond, executive secretary of the Virginia League of Municipalities; Colonel Leroy Hodges, managing director of the Virginia Chamber of Commerce; Richard Messer, sanitary engineer of the State Board of Health; Colonel James A. Anderson and others.

President Jarman introduced Hon. E. W. Sanford of Farmville, who welcomed and introduced Governor Pollard. The Governor outlined provisions of the program and stated Virginia must do her part tin reducing unemployment. J. W. Johns gave a statement as to the part counties and municipalities should play in the program. Col. Anderson spoke briefly stressing definite phases of the intended program. After the meeting the board held an executive session at which time the stated projects, totaling over $1,000,000 were approved. A roll call of counties and towns showed the following projects definitely or tentatively planned: Counties: Amelia, investigate water works; Amherst, water and sanitary system;

Continued on page three

Freshmen Receive Their Rat Caps

The burning of the freshman banner and the presentation of rat caps to the freshmen marked the close of the week of terror under the iron-clad hand of the sophomores.

Timidly the "rats" filed into the gym to the strains of their green and white song. When they had formed a circle, the sophomores with boisterous excitement and armed with rat caps marched to the scene of their last victory over their foe to the tune of their red and white song. Each sophomore placed a cap on the head of the freshman kneeling in front of her. "Tac" Waters, president of the sophomore class, in her presentation speech, said, "we now present to you your badge of servitude. Keep it, cherish it, wear it until Thanksgiving. If you lose the hockey game, wear it until Christmas."

The freshmen in receiving their caps repeated together the oath: "We miserable and lowly freshmen, kneel before you high and mighty sophomores to thank you for our rat caps. We do solemnly promise to dutifully wear them."

From the gym the freshmen were paraded through the dormitories to the Rotunda and to the athletic field

(Continued on page 3)

THE ROTUNDA

Member Southern Inter-Collegiate Newspaper Association
Member Intercollegiate Press Association of Virginia

Newspaper — National Scholastic Press Association — Member

Published by Students of State Teachers College, Farmville, Va.

Entered as second class matter March 1, 1921, at the Postoffice of Farmville, Virginia, under Act of March 3, 1879.

Subscription ..... $1.50 per year

ROTUNDA STAFF

Editor-in-Chief .... Mary Shelton, '34
Associate Editor .... Lelia Mattox, '35

Board of Editors

News ..... Evelyn Massey, '36
Make-Up ..... Katherine Hoyle, '36
Literary ..... Agnes Bondurant, '36
Sports ..... Elizabeth Billups, '36
Louise Walmsley, '36
World News ..... Velma Quarles, '34
Intercollegite ..... Caroline Byrd, '36
Social ..... Marion Raine, '36
Art ..... Alice Rowell, '34
Feature ..... Elizabeth Walton, '36
Alumnae ..... Miss Virginia Potts

Reporters

Edith Shanks, '34; Mary Easley Hill, '34; Elizabeth Vassar, '35; Mary Elizabeth Alexander, '36; Lula Windley, '36.

Proof Readers: Katherine Coleman, '35; Grace Eubank, '36

Managers

Business ..... Mary Diehl, '34
Assistant ..... Elma Rawlings, '34
Circulation ..... Nell Oakey Ryan, '34
Assistant ..... Janice White, '35

The Rotunda invites letters of comment, criticism, and suggestion from its readers upon its manner of presenting and treating them. A letter, to receive consideration, must contain the name and address of the writer. These will not be published if the writer objects to the publication.

All matters of business should be addressed to the Business Manager and all other matters should come to the Editor-in-Chief. Complaints from subscribers as regards irregularities in the delivery of The Rotunda will be appreciated.

ENJOY FRESH AIR AND HEALTH

The fact that the majority of girls here rarely go out of doors is alarming! As ours dining and clas rooms, and dormitories (all except the senior building) are under one roof, we are not forced to go out of doors. Out of the twenty-four hours of the day, the average girl spends twenty-three of them cooped up in the buildings.

This condition is very bad. Health is a most important factor in our youth, and plenty of fresh air is one of the first health rules. In later years, we will probably forget the formulas we memorized in chemistry, the dates we learned in history, and the problems we worked in algebra, but tour whole future wel-being depends on the health habits we form when we are young.

All of this time, we stay in doors is not spent in studying and going to classes. At least three hours daily are wasted in loafing around the room in a general dissatisfied state of mind. Those three idle hours could be spent playing tennis or hockey or walking, if one preferred. There are really some beautiful walks around Farmville; and especially beautiful are they now when the trees are vividly colored. The fresh air and exercise would not only stimulate us and make our minds keener for work, but also make our eyes brighter. We should not have to be urged to do such a pleasurable thing as staying out of doors.

Each girl in S. T. C. used to be required to stay out of doors at least an hour a day. Although there is no such rule in our school today, let's voluntarily carry out this excellent old time law and become less like hot-house plants.

"WEAK RATS"

After rat week comes "weak rat"—descriptive of the condition of practicularly the luckless ones who were called up before Rat Court Saturday night—to be humiliated and laughed at by the entire student body.

Rat week is a much beloved institution in every college. However much it may be ridiculed by the freshmen, upon asking them the direct question, "Do you like Rat Week"? nine out of ten will admit blushingly that they like it—really.

The principal reason for believing in Rat Week is that it is the means of personal contact between the freshmen and upperclassmen. During Rat Week many new acquaintances and friends are made.

Rat Week also teaches one very essential principles in every well rounded collegian's life—that of good sportsmanship. It is impossible for even the most spoiled little bad sport to go through Rat Week without learning the elements of sportsmanship.

During Rat Week self consciousness is forgotten and " a general good time is had by all." The sensitive touchy girl is made to forget her inferiority complex—the overbearing, conceited freshman has much of her conceit knocked out of her before the week is over. Self and all its little notions are forgotten. It is really quite a collegiate feeling to be "horsed" around by a lordly sophomore. One feels that she has at last captured the true atmosphere of college, as portrayed in moving pictures and books. Although Rat Court was rather a humiliating time for the ones called up, one and all they will agree it was not such a trying ordeal after all, and it was an experience they would not have missed.

World News

A shiny sword made at the order of French Vetrans of the Revolution was to have been given to George Washington, but the first President died before presentation could be made. Last week the old sword lay on President Roosevelt's desk, a gift from Premier Daladier of France to the 32nd president of the United States.

Opening the "Four Weeks Mobilization for Human Needs," the President announced by radio: "It is true that I have declared the government must not let anyone starve this winter, but at the same time this policy is predicated on the assumption that the individual American citizen will continue to do his or her part, even more unselfishly than in the past."—Time.

In spite of pleas by the National Retail Dry Goods Association to move Thanksgiving up a week so that the Christmas shopping period might be lengthened, President Roosevelt announced that, as usual, the holiday would be observed the last Thursday in November.

At the 53rd annual convention of the American Federation of Labor, President Green, speaking in behalf of resolution to boycott all German goods said, "It seems to me as I speak to you, I can hear the voices of those leaders in Germany in their prison cells and the voices of their wives and children weeping in their homes, appealing to us to do something for them."

The American Federation of Labor also advocated the fixing by Congress of a 30-hour work week "in the event that re-employment is not accomplished through the action of NRA."

The negro problem in Cuba led to the immediate organization last week of a new secret society, headed by white Cubans and United States residents of Cuba who took the name Ku Klux Klan Kubano.

BEAUTY HINTS: ALSO HEALTH HINTS

Mind your own business.
Always agree with a large man.
Never call a man a liar if he is heavier than you are.
Never brag of your pugilistic abilities.
Wait until the car stops.
Never get married.
Never go to war.
—Indians-Newberry College.

Alumnae News

We would like to correct a statement made in the Alumni News in the Rotunda which appeared on Oct. 11. It read that "Ann Minter served as maid-of-honor in the Dairy Festival held in Culpeper. Frances Coleman was queen of the Festival." Frances Coleman was not queen of the Dairy Festival and did not take any part in it. Mary Stevens Jones was queen, Lucy Rogers Armstrong and Ann Minter served as her maids-of-honor. We are sorry this mistake occurred and glad to make the correction.

"Art in Everyday Life" was the subject of a lecture presented before Zeta Kappa Psi sorority by Doris Porter of Portsmouth, at the Book-Cadillac Hotel October 4.

Mrs. Harriett Purdy Blackwell of Barhamsville, W. Va., has had two poems accepted, "Rain" and "Youth" in a new anthology of poetry, "Modern American Poetry." This edition may be had from the Galleon Press, N. Y.

"The Story of Virginia" by Carrie Hunter Willis and Lucy S. Saunders is published by Newsom and Co., N. Y.

The third annual meeting of the Huguenot Society of Virginia was held at Manakin in Powhatan County on Friday, October 20. Mrs. Dwight Rivers of Farmville is president.

Frances Felming was one of the eighteen nurses to receive her diploma recently at Stuart Circle Hospital in Richmond. Frances has been a member of the hospital nursing staff for three years and will remain at the hospital for further work until February.

Mrs. D. A. Zinn, formerly Miss Ella Jinkins, visited S. T. C. recently.

We have a recent letter from Miss Nell Putney who is still in China doing work in the Baptist mission. She writes very encouraging reports about the work and expresses her gratitude to the people at home who are sending her.

Mrs. Luther Campbell Lindsley, formerly Miss Pattie Love Jones of Boydton died October 4 at her home in Milledgeville, Ga.

Miss Lucille Garter has recently been elected president of the Stony Creek Woman's Club.

Mrs. Eleanor Abbitt Scott was elected vice-president of the Pittsylvania County Education Association at a meeting held in Chatham on October 17.

Mildred Jones, a member of the A. P. Hill faculty, of Petersburg, is reported improving after a fracture sustained when she fell down a flight of steps.

At the last meeting of the Farmville Woman's Club Miss Leola Wheeler and Miss Mary B. Haynes were joint hostesses. Miss Mary Clay Hiner gave an interesting paper on "Southern Literature."

Mrs. Thomas C. Mathews, of Kenbridge announces the marriage of her daughter, Alma, to Jack Tazewell Vaughan which took place on October 6.

AT OTHER COLLEGES

In Ansonia, Conn., eight small boys startled their parents when, after swimming in the Naugatuck River, they returned home with green hair, green eyebrows, and green eyelashes. Cause: dye-stuffs dumped into the river by woolen mills.—The Yellow Jacket.

Ohio leads all the states in the number of colleges. It has forty-one. New York has forty. Pennsylvania has thirty-eight and Illinois, twenty-three. Our own Virginia has a total of twenty-three not counting her numerous business colleges.—Brackety Ack.

One freshman at the University of Utah will escape hazing. He is 75 years old!

Warrensburg, Mo.

G. M. Greene, janitor of Weld Hall on the Harvard campus was helping two students hang pictures when the mother of one of them entered the room.

Greene looked up to behold the wife of the President of the United States. The students were Franklin Roosevelt, Jr., and his cousin, and roommate, Thomas B. Delano.

WHAT MR. JOHN JONES THOUGHT

"All that glitters is not gold."

"Now, my dear, let's don't argue about it any more" remarked Mr. John Smith as he reached for the morning paper with one hand and the sugar bowl with the other. "I said last night that you had confused the location of S. T. C. and I say it again. I'll admit that there's some kind of an institution at Farmville, but what kind I'm not prepared to say" gulped Mr. Smith downing another cup of coffee and plunging his fork with great force into his second egg.

"Why, if you could have seen them—" he began again. "They appeared to be laboring under the impression that they were dumb animals—green rats they called themselves! And they were off on the subject of religion. I distinctly saw fourteen of them bowing down to some statue in the front building. But—but (and here he became so excited that it was with the greatest difficulty that he resumed his narrative) the worst thing was their gait, their walk, I mean. Oh! I mean if you could have seen them skipping along so daintily—Tra-la-la! And did I tell you about the way they talked? Why, they all seemed to be affected the same way—they lisped. Yessiree! Everyone of them."

Here Mr. Jones crunched pensively on his toast and his whole demeanor changed as he gazed into the incredulous countenance of his wife across the narrow breakfast table. "Poor things!" he murmured, "and they were so young, too!"

CAMPUS COMMENTS

Too bad we didn't have a swimming pool this week-end for the poor unfortunates who couldn't "move camp to V. P. I." for the week-end. We could at least have drowned our sorrows.

There are enough rat caps around school to make anybody dizzy looking at them. Wonder how long it will last?

Who said the freshmen aren't lucky? Looks like they have a party every Saturday night. This week it was an automobile party in the student lounge at ten o'clock.

There was certainly a number of vacancies in the dining room this week-end, but then we hear the football stadiums and dance halls were filled so that evens things up.

The Sophs were certainly "playing with fire" when theiy ordered the Frosh to write letters to their best beaux. They'll be laughing out of the other side of their mouths if they don't watch out.

FROM OLD ROTUNDAS

Nov. 4, 1921—The six literary societies of the school issued invitations for new members, Monday evening, October 24. There was a large increase in membership in every society.

October 28, 1922—Saturday evening at 8 o'clock, Misses Edna Spear, Jeanette Edwards, and Mary Haynes presented in the Normal school auditorium the kindergarten children of the Training School, assisted by young ladies of upper grades, high school and Normal School, in the "Toy Shop", written by Miss Spear.

October 20, 1923—In popular sentiment at Farmville Normal is any indication of the trend of opinion in official circles, it will not be long before our teacher- training schools will be re-christened "Teachers Colleges."

October 27, 1927—The "rats" of S. T. C. were formally presented at Sophomore court Saturday afternoon from 4 to 6 o'clock. The offenders were called up one at a time and asked to perform. After the "rats" had received their caps they were ordered to wear them on week days from 4 to 7:30 o'clock.

October 28, 1931—Have you made your engagement for the circus? Have you heard of the wild animals that will perform numerous tricks before a breathless audience? The circus is the best event of the year. Don't miss it!

POETRY

A VAGABOND SONG

There is something in the autumn
That is native to my blood—
Touch of manner, hint of mood;
And my heart is like a rhyme,
With the yellow and the purple and the crimson keeping time.

The scarlet of the maples can shake me like a cry
Of bugles going by.
And my lonely spirit thrills
To see the frosty asters like a smoke upon the hills.

There is something in October that sets the gypsy blod astir;
We must rise and follow her,
When from every hill of flame
She calls and calls each vagabond by name.

—Bliss Carman.

CHARITY

Last night a thin wind
Snuffed at my palms,
And whined like a beggar
Asking for alms.

So I took out and tossed him
An old letter
Which he carried off,
And we both felt better.

Joseph March

THE ENCHANTED WOOD

Once when I walked with Mary through
The old enchanted wood,
Diamond cobwebs sparkled on the Green moss where we stood
And watched between the trembling leaves
The little squirrels go by,
Down the green aisles beneath the trees
With their proud heads held high.
We found the ring where the fairies dance
When the old moon is round,
And heard the harp the aspens play
Rippling its silver sound,
The pine trees spread a carpet soft
And fragrant for our feet,
The wind laughed in our faces
Mysterious, warm and sweet.
And as we wandered on and on
We found a glen apart
Where in the copse the evening thrush
Was pouring out his heart,
And as we stood enraptured,
The stars began to shine.
"I love you," I whispered,
And slipped her hand in mine.

—L. H., '35

COSMOS

My garden's full of gaily fluttering wings,
Fragile, petalled butterflies,
Lovely things,
Some of pearly white,
White as snow, I think.
Some of deepest rose
And a wondrous pink.

On their tall green stems
Dancing, swaying,
Bowing all together
In a game they're playing.
Waving very bravely
When the fall wind blows,
A gallant happy farewell,
While summer goes.

—L. H. '35

TO MOTHER

Do you know those tall white candles
That grace our dear Lord's altar,
Shining in the darkness
Of some dim shadowy church,
Softly, slowly burning
With a clear and steady radiance
That pierces through the shadows
Like a palely gleaming arch?

I know a lovely spirit
That is like those tall white candles,
Shining in the darkness
Where despair and pain have trod,
Softly, sweetly shining
Though the shadows seem to deepen
With a pure and steady radiance
That reaches up to God.

L. H., '35

DISILLUSION

At first I hated you—
God knows I could not hate you half enough;
But now you only seem a little closer
Because I know your faults.

B. O. W., '35

SOCIALS

Dorothy Price and Rose Somers visited the latter's home in Burkeville.

Virginia Lee, Margaret McNamara, and Lelia Mattox visited in Altavista.

Due to illness in the family Mary Virginia Johnson went home during the week-end. Bernice Jones and Margaret Parker went to Suffolk also.

Mary Berkley Nelson visited in Orange over the week-end.

Because of sickness Virginia Jones went to Norfolk.

Edna Hatcher, Sue Yeaman, and Barbara Kester drove to Martinsville to visit their respective families.

Many girls attended the V. P. I. dances in Blacksburg the past week-end. They were Wyc Scott, Frankie MacDaniel, Gertrude Sugden, Martha Glen Davis, Elizabeth Rogers, and Sue Mallory.

Mary Louise McNulty, Eugenia McClung, Cae Waters, Margaret Carroll, Virginia Hamilton, Caroline Jones, Mary Shelton, Betty Mae Brown, and Corinne Mosby attended the V. M. I.-Maryland game and the home-coming dance in Lexington this past week-end.

Mrs. D. W. Boswell of Bracey, spent the week-end here with her daughters, Helen and Nell Boswell.

Anna Simmons, Ruth Gaines, and Mary Howard, spent the week-end in Roanoke.

Mary Gilmer accompanied Margaret Gilmer to Roanoke, where the latter was operated on for appendicitis.

Amis Montgomery had as her guest over the week-end her sister, Ruth Montgomery, who was accompanied by Miss Mildred Pleasants. Both are from South Hill.

Several girls went to Newport News to visit their parents. They were Nancy Parker, Claudia Harper, Helen Shawen, Billie Rountree, and Grace Eubank.

Annetta Purdy spent the week-end with Georgia Spencer.

Helen Mallory who is a student at Fredericksburg S. T. C. visited her sister Ella Mallory over the week-end.

Those girls who visited or attended the game in Lynchburg were: Dorothy Eubank, Elsie Truly, Lucille Wilkinson, Ellen Simmermon, Louise Van Lear, Nancy Harrison, Anne Irving, Mary B. Sullivan, Margaret Farrar, and Anne Thomas.

Dartha and Martha Harrison visited parents in Waverly during the week-end.

Four girls went to Baltimore. They were Alice McKay, Grace and Alice Rowell, and Christine Childrey.

Kitty Bass, Marjorie Ramey and Marion Raine spent the week-end at their homes in Danville.

Kathryn Fitzgerald went to her home in Chatham for the week-end.

Martha Higgins went to the doctor in Richmond over the past week-end. Josephine Smith, Muriel Scott, and Laeta Barham attended the football game while visiting in Richmond. Some of the other girls who spent the week-end there are: Kittie Woodson, Lula Windley, Helen and Eva Owen, Betty Tice, Helen Rose Cunningham, Elizabeth Gills, Elizabeth Billups, Margaret Webster, Dorothy Glover, and Evelyn Knaub.

GAMMA PSI BIDS TWO NEW MEMBERS

Monday night Gamma Psi, the honorary fraternity for art, bid the following new members: Martha Scott Watkins and Jean McClure.

Pi Gamma Mu and Kappa Delta Pi members have been issued invitations to an informal reception in honor of Dr. Mary B. Baughman. The reception will be in the Y. W. C. A. lounge after Dr. Baughman's lecture on Wednesday evening.

LOST

Small black pocketbook containing some small change. Please leave in the home office as soon as found.

Small brown coin purse containing 30 cents. Please return to room 52 C. H.

Practical English Composition by Jones. Finder please return to room 90 Main.

Blue Evening in Paris compact Return to room 137 Main.

Black and white Conklin fountain pen. Finder please return to home office.

Blue terry cloth sweater. Please return to room 30 Annex.

DR. DIEHL SPEAKS TO GROUP AT PRAYERS

Dr. Diehl gave an interesting and inspiring talk at prayers Friday night on "Our Religion in Comparison to Others."

He remarked that the people of the western world on the whole feel themselves superior to those people whom they designate as heathens. "This is not the true spirit of religion," said Dr. Diehl. "We should be humble, pure in heart.

The worshippers of Confucious, Budda, and Mohammed have through many centuries grown patient and humble. These religions have as their basis humility. We who call ourselves Chrsitians would do well to profit by these religions, to become more humble, less superior."

Dr. Diehl referred to the books of Stanley Jones and quoted Mr. Jones' words: "I do not know whether I have helped India much, but I know that India has helped me."

GOVERNOR POLLARD'S EMERGENCY MEETING HELD AT THE S. T. C.

Continued from page one

Appomattox, school repairs; Bedford, school repairs; Buckingham, none; Campbell, water and sewage; Charlotte, new jail; Chesterfield, not represented; Cumberland, none; Dinwiddie, none; Halifax, new high school for county; Henrico, not represented; Lunenburg, school repairs, new courthouse, jail; Mecklenburg, none; Nottoway, new jail; Pittsylvania, new schools; Powhatan, negro school repairs, new high school; Prince Edward, school repairs, new courthouse, jail contemplated.

Towns: Amherst, school and jail; Amelia, investigate water works; Altavista, none; Appomattox, water and sewage; Bedford, none; Brookneal, sewage system; Boydton none; Blackstone, municipal building; Burkeville, water and sewage; Charlotte Courthouse, water works; Clover, not represented; Colonial Heights, water works; Chase City, none; Clarksville, school repairs; Crewe, electric light plant; Chatham, water system; Dillwyn, water works; Drakes Branch, water works; Farmville, none; Gretna, water works; Halifax, not represented; Keysville, water and sewage; Kenbridge, not represented; La Crosse, none; Pamplin, none; South Boston, water works; South Hill, school repairs; Victoria, school, jail, courthouse; Virgilina, school repairs, addition to municipal building.

Minnesota co-eds are liable to a ten dollar fine if they are found wearing a fraternity pin.

OPEN FORUM

Dear Editor:

I've often wondered if it's the statue of Joan d'Arc or the numerous young men from Hampden-Sydney College and elsewhere that causes so many girls to gather on the second floor of the Rotunda on Saturday and Sunday nights. From all arguments I could hardly conclude that the unusual statue attracts them because they pass it so many times every day. Then too, it seems that they'd be better enabled to study this statue in the day time. Evidently the young men must be the strong attraction because they gather in flocks and in the most inappropriate dress. So many people have said that they think this a very crude act on the parts of those who do such and I am forced to agree with these spectators. Surely the young men are embarrassed when they look up and see so many faces staring at them. More than likely the callers don't approve of this curiosity of S. T. C. girls. Remember the adage "Curiosity is the most valuable instnct of the human race" but please don't set out to run that saying aground. If those girls who hang over the Rotunda would "Wear the boy's shoes" on calling nights, and if they'd see that awkward sight of girls leaning on the rail around the Rotunda, I'm sure they'd refrain from doing such in the future.

If everyone would cooperate about this matter, our campus league chairman would never have to say unpleasant words to girls for doing such. So—dear Editor, I hope that we won't see those girls out gazing on Saturday and Sunday nights after they've had their attention called to the crudeness of the act.

A Student

OPENINGS TO BE HELD AT HAMPDEN-SYDNEY

Tal Henry's orchestra has been engaged by the Hampden-Sydney German Club to play for its opening dances. There will be a dance on both Friday evening and Saturday evening as well as a danasante on Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock. With such talent as Tal Henry, the club is sure of a successful set of dances.

Many alumni as well as students from other colleges, are coming for the week end gaities at Hampden-Sydney. Another interesting feature at Hampden-Sydney this week end will be the Hampden-Sydney football game with Roanoke. This game has created so much excitement that almost everybody is already talking about tickets. Then, too, rushing has been going on for several weeks, and the fraternities will receive their pledges this week end.

FRESHMEN RECEIVE THEIR RAT CAPS

(Continued from page 1)

where the final blow was dealt when they saw their banner lifted and dropped on the flames on the bonfire, and slowly burnt to cold grey ashes.

To relieve the tenseness of the situation, yells were given by each group for the opposing class. The procession left the field singing "Onward Farmville;" a hilarious bunch of sophomore—a gallant bunch of freshmen who have the real S. T. C. spirit.

Jokes

A young woman called the policeman because a man tried to flirt with her. Lucky chap! She might have called a clergyman.

1st Kangaroo: Annabelle where's the baby.

2nd Kanagoroo: "Heaven's I've had my pockets picked."

Cadet: "It's strange but true that the biggest fools get the prettiest girls."

Girl: "Flatterer."

He: "There is something preying on my mind."

She: "Never mind, it'll soon starve."

Girl: "If you saw me drowning, what would you do?"

Boy: "What I'm doing now."

Girl: "What's that?"

Boy: "Hand you a line."

DEBATE CLUB CONTINUES WORK

The Debate Club held try-outs for freshmen, Wednesday night, October 18, in the little auditorium. The question was "Resolved: That college entrance is a bigger step in education than the high school graduate has encountered before."

Victoria Gillette, Katherine Crews, and Grace Collins, were the freshmen participating in the try-outs. They put up unusually impressive, clear, strong argument on the affirmative side of the question.

The new girls were heard and judged by Mr. Holton and several members of the Debate Club. The members present were Helen Smith, Margaret Pollard, Dorothy Woolwine, and Mildred Linthicum.

The members with Mr. Holton decided to hold non-decision debates with Hampden-Sydney before Christmas. The freshmen and other new girls in the club will take part in these debates. The varsity debaters will be chosen by this method.

DRESS MAKING — DESIGNING

HEMSTITCHING AND

ALTERING

SINGER SHOP

Third Street

FARMVILLE, VA.

10-4-3t

Kleanwell

CLEANERS AND TAILORS

Expert Cleaning, Repairing and Remodeling of Ladies Garments

Main Street, Opposite Postoffice

PHONE 98

Lucille Shop

"Just Across the Street"

Street Floor Hotel Weyanoke

Apparel for the College Girls

Nuf-Sed

All Well Dressed Girls Do Not Deal At Dorothy May Store; But All Girls Who Deal at the Dorothy May Store Are Well Dressed

Come in and se the newst styles and materials. You will be surprised at our low prices!

THE DOROTHY MAY STORE

Main tSreet

NEW FALL SHOES

For the College Girls—

Straps, Pumps, Ties and Oxfords

$2.95—$3.50—$3.95—$5.00

Smart women who see these attractive shoe, get several pair at one time—street, afternoon, and sport shoes in different leathers and hades. They have a certain air of their own, and their designs are clever and decidedly new, besides being priced moderately low.

DAVIDSON'S

EACO

THEATRE

PROGRAM OCT. 26 to NOV. 1

Thursday & Friday, October 26 and 27

RUBY KEELER, DICK POWELL

JOAN BLONDELL, GUY KIBEE

in

"GOLD DIGGERS OF 1933"

The sensational musical of the year. For beautiful girls, songs, comedy and settings, this picture is the last word.

Also BOSCO THE MUSKETEER

Saturday, October 28

Warner Oland

Heather Angel

in

"CHARLIE CHAN'S GREATEST CASE"

Here's one of Earl Derr Biggers' finest stories, with Warner Oland as Charlie Chan at his best. It will fascinate you to watch him untangle the plot; and of course there is the romantic angle to intrigue you.

Extra added attraction: Two reel all Technicolor comedy "'TIS SPRING" with Patricia Ellis, Allen Jenkins, Hugh Herbert and others. It's a knockout! Also Fox News!

Monday and Tuesday, October 30 and 31

Robert Young

Leila Hyams

Johnny Mack Brown, Mary Carlyle, Lucille Lund (The All-American Girl)

in

"SATURDAY'S MILLIONS"

Here we have a great cast, plus All-American football stars in the Saturday Evening Post story of the same name. See Ernie Nevers and Erny Pinckert in sensational playing. The biggest football picture ever made, plus a love romance of flaming youth ablaze with courage, courtship, fun and fight. You'll stand up and yell even though the hero DOES NOT make the winning touchdown. What a college picture!

Also Flip the Frog and aPramount News.

Wednesday, November 1

June Knight

Neil Hamilton

Mary Carlyle, Sally O'Neill

'LADIES MUST LOVE'

There's the devil to pay when they start to play. Four wise girls pining in a penthouse for food, finery and fools with money. Four song hits, snappy dialogue, fun from start to finish. They've got what it takes to take—and can they GIVE? a rare, racy comedy-drama that will give you all the latest questions and answers that these wise gold-digging darlings use to snare the boy friends. For one day only—be sure not to miss it.

Also STEPPIN FETCHIET in "Slow Poke" and cartoon, "Pick-Necking"

Daily matinees at 4 P. M. Evenings at 8 P. M.

Prices—Adults, 35c at nights and 25c at matinees. Children under 12 years of age, 15c to each show.

Subscribe to the State Teachers College Rotunda, and get all the news from the old Alma Mater!

C. E. Chappell

COMPANY

Stationery, Blank Books and School Supplies

Cigars, Cigarettes and Soda

Farmville, Virginia

S. A. Legus

TAILOR

CLEANING

PRESSING

REPAIRING

Phone 203

STATE TOURNAMENT TO BE HELD OCT. 11

S. T. C. To Send Two Teams To Hockey Meet

The fourth state hockey tournament for women will be held at Westhampton College November 10 and 11. The games wil begin on Friday, November 10 at 2:30 and continue all day Saturday. The tournament will end with an exhibition game on Saturday afternoon between a picked team from those playing in the tournament and a special team brought there from either Baltimore or Washington.

Westhampton has sent invitations to William and Mary, Sweet Briar, Farmville, Harrisonburg, George Washington, Salem College in North Carolina and the North Carolina College for women. In all Westhampton expects to have between 180 and 200 people playing during the two days.

There will also be the annual tryouts for officials which is open to anyone interested but is unusually made up of those students from the different colleges whom the coaches recommend to the association.

Farmville will send two teams to Westhampton. They will leave after breakfast on Saturday morning, November 11, and return Saturday night.

OUTSTANDING GIRLS ARE COLLEGE CHOIR MEMBERS

It is doubtful if in the history of the college so many outstanding students have belonged to any one musical organization as is the case this year. One hundred and seventy-five students made application for the College Choir. Eleven were selected to make up the required forty and twenty will be named as associate members.

The members include: President of the student body, president of the Y. W. C. A., president of the house council, president and vice-president of the senior class, president and vice-president of the Dramatic Club, president of the Cotillion Club, president of the Debate Club, vice-president of Y. W. C. A., vice-president of the freshman class, and the presidents of two honor societies.

According to the director, Mr. A. H. Strick the organization is the best ever assembled by him in Farmville. This club with the Choral Club of forty members will appear together in the coming fiftieth anniversary program when they will render excerpts from the Messiah. A broadcast of Christmas carols from WRVA will be given December 17th from five to five-forty-five o'clock. Recitals will also be given in various cities of the state.

CLASS NOTES OCTOBER 24

The Seniors practiced their songs for their classman presentation at their meeting, Tuesday night. The song written by Dorothy Woolwine was accepted by the class. Their presentation will be conducted in chapel, Saturday, October 28.

Jestine Cutshall reported on the circus stunt and Lelia Mattox on the money at the Junior class meeting. Carmen Clark and Ella Mallory were appointed to keep the scrap book. Sarah Beck, Mabel Britt, and Catherine Cotten were appointed to make the banner for Thanksgiving. The Juniors will order rings in November.

The Sophomore class decided to have another "rat court" in order to punish the Freshmen who do not wear their rat caps.

The Sophomore class production is to bepresented January 26. The committee appointed to make plans for the presentation contest of Hazel Smith, chairman, Margaret Farrar, Dorothy McNamee, and Ophelia Booker.

The Freshman class elected their cheer leader and government representatives at their meeting Tuesday night. Mary Slater, Martha Stern and Chic Dortch were nominated for cheer leader of the Freshman class. Mary Slater was elected.

The nominees for the Student Council were Bess McGlothlin, Julia Deer, Katherine Hurt, Sally Rose Chappell, and Martha Hamlet. Bess McGlothlin and Julia Deer were elected.

COOPER SCORES HIGH IN ARCHERY CONTEST

Excitement reigned Tuesday afternoon, when the archery tournament was held back of Cunningham Hall. In spite of the cold weather, considerable interest was shown by the entrance of seven girls in the tournament.

Each entrant was given the same number of chances at the target. The high spot of the afternoon was the scoring of two bull's eyes by Nannie Ruth Cooper. The final scoring was

Nannie Ruth Cooper	22 points
Virginia Hannah	17 points
Dorothy Field	13 points

FOOTBALL SCORES SATURDAY, OCT. 21

V. P. I. 7, Richmond 0.
W. & L. 7, Kentucky 0.
V. M. I. 19, Maryland 13.
Elon 26, Ran.-Macon 0.
H.-S. C. 0, St. John's 0.
Bridgewater 8, Galludet 0.
W. & M. 37, Guilford 7.
Navy 13, Virginia 7.
Duke 19, Davidson 7.
Florida 9, N. C. 0.
N. C. State 0, Wake Forest 0.
Bluefield 21, Morris Harvey 0.
Army 6, Illinois 0.
Mich. 13, Ohio State 0.
Carnegie Tech 7, Notre Dame 0.
Holy Cross 10, Harvard 7.
Geo. Washington 19, Auburn 6.
Yale 14, Brown 6.
Syracuse 14, Cornell 7.
Delaware 8, Wash. C. 0.
Princeton 20, Columbia 0.
Western Md. 20, Georgetown 0.
Tulane 7, Ga. Tech 0.
Miss. State 7, Vanderbilt 7.

THE BEAUTY SCHOOL

By Helena Rubinstein

The styles this year do not leave su much choice—we must be ladylike, whether we are athletically inclined, or deeply stupdious. The long, flowing lines and smart accents on all our daytime frocks, and the glamorous beauty of our evening gowns, make it necessary for us to live up to the illusions of leisure and poise that they create.

But to live up to the mood of the new clothes, we must look the part. Skin that is chapped and roughened by enthusiastic interest in football or other outdoor sports; skin that is blemished because of neglect or improper beauty care; skin that is inexpertly made up—all betray the loveliness that should be ours. In addition, these faults in beauty, are not only unbecoming in youth, but if they are not corrected now, they will become harder and harder to corect as you grow older. I cannot imagine a season in which an imporfect skin is in fashion!

Correct beauty care for the college girl is not complicated. A granular wash, such as beauty grains, will cleanse the pores deeply, thus preventing or helping remove blackheads, blemishes and skin cells. The skin is left immaculately clean, the pore are reduced, and the whole skin tone is clarified.

In addition to a wash, every type of skin needs a cream that is enlivening to the tissues, and that will include softening the skin and erasing fatigue lines in its duties. A pasteurized face cream does all this, and is also excellent for cleansing after you have bene out-of-doors playing hockey—dashing across a wind-swept campus or walking against a brisk autumn breeze. You will find that it serves as an excellent powder base, too, if your skin is very dry or sensitive, although of course you will find a foundation cream much more flattering for evening and other social occasions.

I know cosmetics ,and certainly the artistic use of make-up is an accepted part of good grooming today. If you are in doubt about the correct cosmetic colors for your type, however, write for my makeup chart. I'll be glad to send you one.

If you have a personal beauty problem on which you need advice write, Woman's Interest Syndicate, 522 Fifth Avenue, New York City.

Y. W. C. A. CONFERENCE CONVENES FOR SET-UP

Continued from page one

Y. W. C. A. has been holding every fall. These conferences are intended to bring the cabinet and their advisers closer together and to give each branch of the Y. W. C. A. a definite work.

Instead of following the usual plan of conference in the fall, it has been suggested that in the spring there be a joint meeting of the old and new cabinets with the old and new faculty advisory board.

COMPETITION HIGH IN TENNIS MATCHES

Games Must Be Played Off By Wednesday Night

The following tennis matches have been played off this week, and the results are as follows:

Vestal-Roberts (7-0); Carlton-Gardner, (5-2); Rountree-Walker, (7-0); Cabell-Burger, (4-3); Chappell-Lovelace, (4-3); Cotten-Carroll, (6-1); Hubbard-Bondurant, (5-2); Walker-Aydlette, (4-3); Rountree-Walker, (7-0); Beck-Walmsley, (4-3); Sanford-Massey, (4-3); Vestal- Gills, (6-1); Rountree-Roberts, (6-1); Johnson-Crawford, (4-3); Nelson-Gardner, (7-0); Shanks-Carlton, (6-1); Cabell-Morris, (5-2); Shanks-Umberger, (5-2); Vestal-Walker, (6-1); Gardner-Walmsley, (4-3); Cotten-Evans, (7-0); Dudley-Morris, (5-2); Burger-Beckham, (7-0); Lovelace-Walker, (6-1); Carroll-Hubbard, (4-3); Cotten-Bondurant, (5-2); Evans-Ryan, (5-2); Cabell-Evans, (4-3); Walker-Walmsley, (6-1); Gills-Sanford, (5-2); Vestal-Massey, (7-0); Cabell-Beckham, (7-0); Sanford-Walker, (4-3); Massey-Gills, (4-3); Putney-Rountree, (4-3); Mattox-Shanks, (6-1); Vestal-Rountree, (7-0); Crawford-Umberger, (6-1); Hubbard-Gardner, (5-2); Mattox-Cabell, (4-3); Shanks-Burger, (5-2); Nelson-Aydlette, (5-2) by default; Putney-Mattox, (4-3); Beck-Beckham, (6-1); Bondurant-Burger, (5-2); Cotten-Cabell, (5-2); Carlton-Crawford, (6-1); Gills-Hubbard, (6-1); Lovelace-Johnson, (5-2); Rountree-Sanford, (6-1).

The other matches must be played off by Wednesday, Oct. 25, at 7:00 p. m.

ACTING GROUP GIVES QUAINT CHARACTER PLAY

(Continued from page 1)

acting and departmental work. She explained the art of casting a sense of beauty over a dull, ugly setting by effective lighting and the portrayal of men's characters by girls. Stage appearance, voices, character portrayal, and the general effects, were stressed in her talk.

DR. GOODWIN SPEAKS ON RESTORATION

(Continued from page 1)

completed. Fragments of china and silver found on the site have been the basis of the reconstructed furnishings for the tavern.

Dr. Goodwin's talk was filled with historical information. When concluding with a tribute to John D. Rockefeller, Jr., through whose generosity the work at Williamsburg was made possible, his speech was repeatedly interrupted by applause as a token of the audience's appreciation of Mr. Rockefeller.

LATIN CLUB HOLDS MEETING

Sodalitas Latina held its first meeting for this session, Thursday evening, October 19, in room O. Plans for the club page in the Virginian were discussed. For the benefit of the new girls, Miss Rice told of the purposes of the Latin Club and of the requirements for making Sigma Pi Rho, Latin honor society.

After this the meeting was turned over to the program chairman, Margaret Pollard. Lila Jacob read an essay, "Latin, a second window through which we may view our human race," written by Lois Cox, a graduate of '33 who attained high scholastic standing in this field. Doris Moore spoke on the Vatican City and Maude Rhodes on St. Peter's Cathedral. Claudine O'Brien very thoroughly and vividly described Roman life.

Each member was given a slip of paper with the name of some mythical god or goddess on it, and was told to identify him and tell how how often we might meet him on main street today in commercial advertisements. Hercules would perhaps be flattered by seeing his name so often in print. Such namesake products as Hercules shears, Hercules rollers, Hercules powder, and Hercules overalls are widely used. This is just one example of the many uses of commercial Latin today.

LAWRENCE TIBBETT COMING TO LYNCHBURG

One of the outstanding concerts to be given in Virginia this season, will be the appearance of Lawrence Tibbett in Lynchburg on November 6. This is an unusual opportunity for the students of this college because artists of international reputation rarely give such a concert as this in the smaller cities.

Although Tibbett has gained world-wide recognition in his opera roles, he was never greater than he is in just such a concert as he will give in Lynchburg.

Mack's
BARBER AND BEAUTY SHOP
323 Main Street
We use the Frederick Method
Hair Cutting and Thinning a Specialty

Martin JEWELER
Gifts of Lasting Remembrance
317 Main St. Farmville
We give Jubilee tickets

Electric Shoe Shop
Will Fix Your Shoes While You Wait
BEST WORKMANSHIP AND LEATHER USED

SouthsideDrugStore
(On the Corner)
Films Developed FREE
If bought at this store

YOU WOULD LOVE TO HAVE YOUR SHOES FIXED AT THE
Lovelace Shoe Shop
110 Third Street

WILLIS
The Florist
FLOWERS FOR ALL OCCASIONS
PHONES 181-273

Shannon's
Is Headquarters for the Best SANDWICHES —and— DRINKS —in— FARMVILLE!

Weyanoke
BEAUTY SALON
A Complete Beauty Service At Moderate Prices
What we have done for others we can do for you
WEYANOKE HOTEL
Farmville Va.

RICE'S SHOE STORE
Street and Dress Shoes
Dancing Slippers Dyed
Correct fits our speciality

WELCOME S. T. C. STUDENTS
We are glad to see you back and take this means of inviting you to make our store your headquarters. We have everything you need for your wardrobe.
THE HUB DEPARTMENT STORE
"Farmville Best Place to Shop"

GREETINGS, S.T.C.
from "The Style Shop for Ladies"
Now showing a complete line of college togs, ready to wear, millinery and shoes.
If it's new—it's at
BALDWIN'S
Quality—Price—Service

G. F. Butcher
High Street
"The Convenient Store"
FOR GOOD THINGS TO EAT AND DRINK

Gray's Drug Store
QUALITY—PRICE—SERVICE
Come in and Get Acquainted
We Are Glad to Have You With Us!
Farmville, Virginia

SAVE YOUR MONEY FOR THE S. T. C. CIRCUS

THE ROTUNDA

POE

LET'S MAKE THE CIRCUS GOOD IT'S NOV. 18

We Teach To Teach

Volume XIV | THE ROTUNDA, WEDNESDAY, NOV. 1, 1933 | No. 6

Fall Cotillion Dance To Be Held on Nov. 4

Margaret Parker, Marget Eley, Chic Mosby and Honey Hamilton To Lead Figure

JELLY LEFTWICH IS TO PLAY

That Jelly Leftwich and his orchestra will furnish the music for the fall Cotillion Club dance, to be given November 4 from 8 p. m. to midnight, was announced by Chic Mosby, chairman of the dance committee at a call meeting of the club held last Friday.

An unusual feature of the fall dance will be a short figure led by Miss Margaret Parker with her partner, Mr. Richard Pond of Suffolk. They will be assisted by the following couples: Miss Margaret Eley and Mr. Henry Brothers of Richmond; Miss Chic Mosby and Mr. James M. Matthews of V. M. I., and Miss Honey Hamilton and Mr. John M. Goodwin of V. M. I. The girls will carry arm bouquets of yellow chrysanthemums.

It has been the custom of the club to have a figure only at the spring club, but as this year the picture for the annual will be taken at the dance Saturday night, a figure formation will enable the cameraman to get a more attractive picture.

Jelly Leftwich and his band are well known on the campus, for they have played many times for Cotillion dances. A new girl singer, Miss Kay Keever, who has been recently added to the orchestra will come to Farmville for the first time. The Leftwich hand, composed of students, is entering its seventh year. For four summers they have played at the Wrights Beach pavillion. This fall they furnished the music at dances at University of North Carolina, Duke, Davidson, V. P. I., University of Richmond and other leading southern colleges.

The plans for decoration, as worked out by Gamma Psi, will be kept a secret. However, judging from rumors, the gym will be elaborately decorated.

The dance will be one of the largest even given by the Cotillion Club. Each of the eighty members has the

Continued to page 4, column 3

New Rounda Staff Members Appointed

Birdie Wooding, Mary Hastings Holloway and Amis Montgomery have been chosen as members of the Rotunda staff.

Birdie Wooding, a member of the junior class, who served very efficiently as feature editor on the 1932-'33 Rotunda staff has been selected as literary editor this year. Besides her work in this field, Birdie is also president of Alpha Phi Sigma, a member of Sigma Pi Rho, Kappa Delta Pi and the Debate Club.

Mary Hastings Holloway and Amis Montgomery, both freshmen, were picked from those who tried out for the staff. For the present they will be reporters. Both Mary Hastings and Amis have shown themselves capable in journalistic work. In high school Amis was editor-in-chief of the Scribblers Column in the South Hill Enterprise, writing for this paper and the Chase City Progress for four years.

On account of other responsibilities, Agnes Bondurant, former literary editor, and Elizabeth Billups, sports editor, resigned their positions on the staff.

Plans have been made to have further try-outs for the staff after Christmas. Those who failed to make the staff this fall will be allowed to try-out again.

Jelly Leftwich, orchestra leader, who will furnish the music for Cotillion dance here Saturday.

Junior Class Presents Miss Moran, Sponsor To S. T. C. Students

Miss Moran, head of the Geography department, was presented by the Junior Class this morning in chapel.

The Junior Class marched in to the tune of the green and white song, "Come On, Let's Get Together". As soon as the members of the class had reached their seats the Freshman class, sister classmates of the Juniors, rose and remained standing while the Juniors sang their pep song. After they were seated the curtains were drawn revealing the Plane of '35, painted in the class colors. It was surrounded by four aviators, Frances McDaniel, Lelia Mattox, Evelyn Knaub and Nelle Oakey Byan, officers of the Junior Class. The aviators were attractively attired in white trousers and skirt, green jackets and black boots. While three of the officers stood at attention, Frances McDaniel, president of the Junior class brought Miss Moran to the center of the stage and made her speech of presentation in which she expressed the class' appreciation for having so noble and loyal a pilot of the plane of '35. The Junior class then stood and sang to Miss Moran, the song being composed by Louise Hyde.

The entire plan was originated by Frances McDaniel, and a committee composed of Belle Lovelace, Jean McClure, Lena Mae Gardner, and Meg Herndon.

PHOTOGRAPHER OF ANNUAL TO RETURN HERE NEXT WEEK

Elma Rawlings, photographic editor of the annual, announces that the "Virginian" photographer will be at S. T. C. next week, November 6-8, to take group pictures. Organizations will not have to pay for these pictures, and every group is urged to have one made.

Dunbar and Daniels of Raleigh, North Carolina, are taking the pictures. They will also take photographs of individuals next week. This will be the last chance to have pictures made for the annual. Appointments may be made Thursday, November 2, at the table in the hall, and students are asked to sign up at that time if they have not had their pictures made as this will be the last visit of the photographer.

C. G. Burr Elected Head of V. I. P. A. At Seventh Meet

Eight Cups and Certificates Awarded to Winning Publications by Dean Doyle

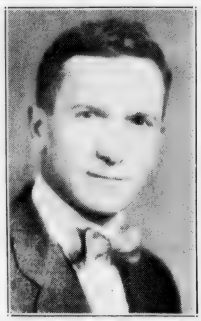
The seventh annual convention of the Virginia Intercollegiate Press Association, at its final session in Richmond on October 28, elected Charles Gilbert Burr, an honor junior at V. P. I., as president of the 1934 V. I. P. A. convention to be held at Blacksburg and East Radford.

Dean H. G. Doyle of George Washington University, at the last session of the 1933 V. I. P. A. convention awarded silver cups to the following eight first place winners in the publication contest: The Ring-Tum Phi, the weekly student newspaper of Washington and Lee University; The American Eagle, of American University, a "Class B" newspaper published less frequently than weekly; The Traveller, publication of Stratford College in Danville, winner of "Class C" newspapers published in junior colleges and high schools; The 1933 Bugle, V. P. I., annual publication, winner of annuals of 225 pages or more; The Bridgewater College Riples, annual of less than 225 pages; The Shrapnelfi Staunton Military Academy annual, winner of junior college and preparatory school annuals; The Brambler, magazine of Sweet Briar College; V. P. I. Skipper, winner of humorous publication; The Virginia Tech Engineer, being the only publication on engineering in the state, automatically becoming winner in that class.

Dean Doyle awarded certificates of honorable mention for second place to The Richmond Collegian, class A newspaper; Student Life of Hollins College, class B newspaper; The Musketeer of Hargrave Military Academy, class C newspaper; the Hellanthus of the Randolph-Macon Wo-

Continued on page 4 column 2

H.-S. C. Has Annual Homecoming Day



The whole of the week-end of October 27 and 28 was set aside at Hampden-Sydney for the annual Home-coming, the center of interest being the Hampden-Sydney-Roanoke College game Saturday.

Friday alumni started to pour in and the excitement of seeing old friends and renewing old acquaintances, put a happy smile on every face. Friday night the Comity Club was decorated and gayly lighted for the first German Club dance of the year.

In addition to all the events of the usual Home-coming week-end, the Upsilon Chapter of Kappa Sigma celebrated its Golden Jubilee Anniversary with a large number of its members returning. Upsilon chapter was founded at Hampden-Sydney on October 25, 1883 by Stephen A. Jackson. Their events included an official reception Friday night at 7:00 P. M. at the chapter house; several business meeting on Saturday morning and a registration of alumni; open house to all alumni and friends after the game Saturday afternoon; and finally the formal banquet held at Longwood Saturday evening at 7:00 o'clock.

At noon on Saturday, students, faculty, and alumni gathered for a final "pep" meeting before the game with the Roanoke Maroons which was set for 3:00 o'clock in Death Valley. In order that the entire student body could attend the "pep ral-

Continued to page 3, column 2

Mr. T. A. McCorkle, senior classman, who was presented to student body at chapel.

Class of '34 Presents McCorkle as Classman In Chapel Sat.

To the strains of Alma Mater the class of thirty-four marched into the auditorium Saturday morning, October 28, to present to the student body for the last time their class man, Mr. T. A. McCorkle, head of the chemistry department. After the devotionals, led by Dr. Walmsley, the Seniors sang their Senior Class song, the words by Dorothy Woolwine, and the music by Margaret Garnett and Sue Yeaman. Following this the president, Margaret Parker, with remarks befitting so sad and serious an occasion, presented to the student body and faculty Mr. McCorkle. She pointed out how the class as one big family had entered college inexperienced in the ways of college life and needed a guide. As time passed the college road became more rugged instead of smoother and the guiding influences of a steady hand was needed more than ever. In this the last year the guidance is needed more than ever to steer the class in the path that all too soon will lead to the great wide world.

The class then sang its tribute to the classman. This song was written by Dorothy Woolwine and Margaret Garnett. The seniors with their sister class, the sophomores, sang the red and white song, bringing to a close their final classman presentation.

France has appropriated money to teach the Americans by radio how to drink. She believes Americans need to be re-educated in the uses of wines.—Ring-tum Phi.

GERMAN IS OFFERED AGAIN TO STUDENTS AT FARMVILLE S. T. C.

Miss Smithey, professor of modern languages, is offering a beginner's course in German for the students especially interested and for several who are expecting to go abroad in the next few years. The class meets each Tuesday and Thursday evening. No credit will be given. By the end of the year these students will have a very good beginning, so that if the course is scheduled next year, they will have had a background for it.

German was offered here years ago, but as it was taken out of the schols during the World War, there has not been sufficient demand for it since.

Educators Assemble Here October 30-31

Two-day Session on Monday and Tuesday, October 30-31 Held Here

DR. D. W. PETERS IN CHARGE

The State Curriculum Conference for Southside Virginia met in a two-day session on Monday and Tuesday, October 30-31, at Farmville State Teachers College, which is the state curriculum center for this region.

In the absence of Dr. Sidney B. Hall, State Superintendent of Public Instruction, the conference was in charge of Dr. D. W. Peters, director of instruction, state department of education, assisted by Miss Ruth Henderson, assistant state supervisor of elementary education. Mr. E. E. Worrell, state supervisor of rural schools, was also in attendance both days.

The purpose of the conference was to explain the tentative draft of the new state courses of study for elementary and secondary schools which have been in process of preparation for the past year. On Monday the courses were presented to about ninety superintendents, supervisors, and principals, responsible for directing teachers in the various counties and cities. The meeting on Tuesday was devoted exclusively to the forty or more teachers of this section who have been selected to give the tentative course a try out in their class rooms this year. These teachers, including supervisors of the college training schools, have the important responsibility of suggesting revisions to be made in the present draft before its publication next year for use in the public schools of the State. The try out teachers went carefully through the courses of study. Miss Henderson working with the elementary teachers while Dr. Peters handled the secondary group.

The conference was entertained at lunch each day by Miss Mary D. Pierce, chairman of the Farmville Curriculum Center, assisted by Miss Lila London, associate state consultant for elementary mathematics, Miss C. Brownie Taliaferro, associate consultant for secondary mathematics, and Miss Mary B. Barlow, consultant for physical education. President Jarman attended the luncheon both days and in his own inimitable way made everyone realize the genuine

Continued to page 4, column 1

Freshmen Appoint 12 Commissioners

The Class of '37 elected members of the Freshman Commission after chapel, Wednesday, October 25. Marjorie Bradshaw, S. R. Chappelle, G. Collins, D. Dollings, Katherine Hurt, V. Jones, L. Lewise, V. Leonard, E. Shiplett, M. Smith, P. Wall, and C. Jones were elected.

The Freshman Commission is a part of the Y. W. C. A., and it serves as a connecting link between the Y. W. and the Freshman Class. Girls selected for the commission must be capable and representative.

The Freshman Commission has three distinct duties. First is to aid the Y. W. C. A. in promoting any plans which it may wish to further by presenting them to the Freshman class. Second; to assume the responsibility of conducting morning watch on Sunday and leading prayers at various times. The third duty of the commission is to make each freshman feel that she is a vital part of the Y. W. C. A. through personal contact.

The new commission will begin work immediately. They will elect officers at the next meeting.

THE ROTUNDA

Member Southern Inter-Collegiate Newspaper Association
Member Intercollegiate Press Association of Virginia

Newspaper — National Scholastic Press Association — Member

Published by Students of State Teachers College, Farmville, Va.

Entered as second class matter March 1, 1921, at the Postoffice of Farmville, Virginia, under Act of March 3, 1879.

Subscription ..... $1.50 per year

ROTUNDA STAFF

Editor-in-Chief .... Mary Shelton, '34
Associate Editor .... Lelia Mattox, '35

Board of Editors

News ..... Evelyn Massey, '36
Make-Up ..... Katherine Hoyle, '36
Literary Editor .... Birdie Wooding Louise Walmsley, '36
World News ..... Velma Quarles, '34
Intercollegite ..... Caroline Byrd, '36
Social ..... Marion Raine, '36
Art ..... Alice Rowell, '34
Feature ..... Elizabeth Walton, '36
Alumnae ..... Miss Virginia Potts

Reporters

Amis Montohery
Mary Hastings Holloway
Edith Shanks, '34; Mary Easley Hill, '34; Elizabeth Vassar, '35; Mary Elizabeth Alexander, '36; Lula Windley, '36.
Proof Readers: Katherine Coleman, '35 Grace Eubank, '36

Managers

Business ..... Mary Diehl, '34
Assistant ..... Elma Rawlings, '34
Circulation ..... Nell Oakey Ryan, '34
Assistant ..... Janice White, '35

The Rotunda invites letters of comment, criticism, and suggestion from its readers upon its manner of presenting and treating them. A letter, to receive consideration, must contain the name and address of the writer. These will not be published if the writer objects to the publication.

All matters of business should be addressed to the Business Manager and all other matters should come to the Editor-in-Chief. Complaints from subscribers as regards irregularities in the delivery of The Rotunda will be appreciated.

THE CONVENTION

No silver cups or honorable mentions were gleaned from the Virginia Intercollegiate Press Convention held last week-end in Richmond, by our publications, but our eight delegates brought back new ideas and plans to try out and mainly a challenge for greater effort.

This convention had many unusual features that caused all of the delegates to acclaim it as one of the most profitable gatherings of its kind. Such eminent men in the journalistic field as Dean H. G. Doywle, national president of Phi Delta Epsilon, journalistic fraternity, Dr. Douglas S. Freeman, editor of the Richmond News Leader, and others gave instructive as well as inspirational talks to the convention. Discussion groups in each phase of work were held where problems were presented, and threshed out, plans that had proved successful in other schols were presented, and expert advice was given. These meetings gave our delegates new hope. They saw that their publications were among numerous others that worked under the same difficulties. They have brought back some plan to aid in dismissing these troublesome problems.

We, as a student body, have a vital interest in this association because it was started here in Farmville by one of our alumnae, Miss Evelyn Dulaney, then editor of the Rotunda and a H. S. C. alumnus, Mr. Alexander Hudgins, editor of the Tiger at the time. The first meting of this body was held on our campus seven years ago. Always our students have had a leading part in this association.

Much can be said in praise of this meeting, but let it suffice to say that it gave to Farmville definite help along many lines for its publications.

ON READING THE NEWS

Probably one-fifth of the more than six hundred girls in school keep up in one way or another with the most outstanding news of the day. The majority of the other four-fifths glance over "Bringing Up Father" and other "funnnies". Dorothy Dix's column, Walter Winchell's paragraphs, and think they have read the paper. Undoubtedly, a few see a paper perhaps once a week and know no more about the day's news than they hear in conversations with other girls.

This is a situation to be deplored. All girls in college should be informed as to the world affairs. They know what is going on in the world about them in order to be able to act intelligently about any question which they may have to decide (whom to vote for in an election, for instance). Knowing the trend of the times, they will be able in an emergency to judge accurately. Otherwise, they will be helplessly floundered. Keeping up with the news of the day is excellent training for future citizens—which college girls of today are.

The chief value of many lectures and addresses that they hear will be lost unless the day's news is known by college girls. This alone is sufficient reason for taking time to know what is happening in the world. Another important reason why girls in college should keep up with world affairs is that they may be able to talk intelligently to others about any issue of the day. This is an accomplishment worth having and to complishment worth having and to be of the news in a good newspaper. In every way college students benefit from knowing of world happenings. So, for every reason they should realize that they must take time to read daily papers or weekly reviews of the news—they must take time to be informed!

World News

President Roosevelt stated last week in his message to Soviet Russia, "Since the beginning of my Administration I have contemplated the desirability of an effort to end the present abnormal relations between the U. S. and Russia. The difficulties that have created this anomalous situation are serious but not, in my opinion, insoluble. I should be glad to receive any representatives you may designate to explore with me personally all questions outstanding between our countries."

President Kalinin replied to President Roosevelt's message, "I have always considered most abnormal and regrettable a situation wherein, during the past 16 years, two great republics have lacked the usual methods of communication and have been deprived of the benefits which such communication should give . . . The Soviet Government will be represented by Mr. M. M. Litvinov, People's Commissar for Foreign Affairs, who will come to Washington at a time to be mutually agreed upon."

In his fourth Sunday night radio-side talk with the nation, President Roosevelt stated in referring to the rise in commodity prices, "I am not satisfied either with the amount or the extent of the rise. It is definitely a part of our policy to increase the rise and extend it to those products which have as yet felt no benefit. If we cannot do this one way, we will do it another. Do it we will."

The cotton textile industry took a new departure when it decided to regulate production from within by delegating NRA the power to register all manufacturing equipment, and to grant permission to any manufacturer who wished to install additional productive machinery.

In reply to Pundit Walter Lippman's criticism that the NRA has been beset by a kind of breathless anxiety that certain definite results must be achieved on a certain day, Roosevelt said: "Some countries which have dictatorships have laid down five-year and ten-year plans. However, I believe that in this country, which has not got a dictator, we can move further in a shorter period without naming a definite length of time. We have attained much within the past few months, but we cannot accomplish all in a few months."

CAMPUS COMMENTS

Was it luck, or was it love that caused so many girls to attend the openings at Hampden - Sydney —we wonder.

Seems like old times to see a certain V. P. I. man visiting on our campus again. He honored us both Sunday and Tuesday night. Congratulations, Nancy P., you're a power! And may we also laud you on your Frosh conquest!

The depression is over, at least it appeared to be a thing of the past last week-end at Hampden-Sydney. The galeties in the Comity Club were enjoyed by a capacity (or should we say an over capacity) crowd. Miss Mary must have had an exasperating job chaperoning her party girls in that mob.

The Dramtaic Club has been holding out on us about their fall play. However, it's leaked out around school that the big production will be given sometime near the end of the month. Let's hope that some enterprising reporter can get the dope on it by next week!

The next problem for the Sherlock Holmes of school, is to find out before November 11, who our circus queen is. Here's a hint: It's the girl whose friends have an abundance of pennies. But on the other hand, can such people be found? At any rate the ever present mystery of Chi membership will take a back seat for a fortnight at least.

Yea, the same old story has spread around again this year. It's easy to tell when Thanksgiving is approaching, 'cause the rumor of the four-day holiday is put out 'bout a month in advance each fall. The person dreaming this should have helped Moore write his Utopia, dontcha think?

Found in room 20: "The Child-Cenetred School" by Rugg and Shumaker. Owner may claim in the home office.

The Junior Class offers the student body an unusual feature. They have a sewing machine that rents for 10 cents an hour over in Room 29, Cunningham Hall. This machine is in good condition, according to the Juniors.

FROM OLD ROTUNDAS

October 4, 1924

Work has already begun on the new hotel. The contract was given to Mr. H. D. Moring. The building, which was one of the town's oldest ladnmarks, has been torn down, and the foundation is being laid. It is hoped that the hotel will be completed by next fall.

May 3, 1924

The National Y. W. C. A. convention is now in progress at New York City. The delegates from State Teachers College is made up of Miss Wilhelmina London, Annie Miller Almond, Evelyn Barnes, Jean West, Lucile Farrar, Frances Evans, Nancy Lyne, Elizabeth Bugg, and Hester Brown.

October 6, 1923

Passing through Farmville on his tour of inspection of the state schols and colleges, Governor E. Lee Trinkle and Mrs. Trinkle accompanied by their little daughter, visted the Normal School Tuesday, September 25. The gubernatorial party took dinner in the college dining room, receiving enthusiastic applause. The Governor and his party also inspected the Training School.

December 3, 1920

The card catalogue of students has been completed in the registrar's office and shows six hundred and forty-two registered this session. Of this number two hundred and eighty-two are new students.

The total number of matriculates since the school was founded in 1884 is seven thousand and seventy-five.

February 24, 1932

The new girls were delightfully entertained at a fireside party given in the Student Building lounge Saturday night at ten o'clock. Those attending were very informally entertained with songs and stories. Delicious refreshments appeased ravishing appetites.

OVER THE WEEK-END

Remember the popular song hit of a few seasons ago, "Over the Week-end and I Fell in Love"? Well, something almost that radical happens at S. T. C. almost every week-end. Take a look on the halls during the week. Girls! Girls! Dressed for the most part in sweaters and skirts with oxfords on their pedal extremities . . . fading finger-waves . . . arms loaded with books and conversation running like this, "I've got to make a speech on Capitalization in English tomorrow." "I spent two hours in the library today doing parallel," "Wasn't that education test simply terrible?"

But what a change over the week-end! Fresh finger-waves in all their glory . . . fur jackets . . . high-heeled suede pumps . . . arms loaded down with overnight bags . . . jaunty hats on laughing faces . . . and then at night—glorious evening dresses . . . tuxedos waiting in the Rotunda . . . old faces and new faces seen on the campus . . . and conversation bubbling like this, "Wasn't the game just grand? That last touchdown!" "The dance last night was a honey, but the one tonight—oh, boy!" "Guess what? I'm going to the dances at Virginia next week-end!"

Thus we leave the reader to draw his own conclusion, if there be any readers, and if there are any conclusions which need drawing.

At Other Colleges

Al Richards, a student at the University of Arizona, plans to start a "date" bureau at that university this year. Mr. Richards plans to get anybody a date at any time for any occasion, and any type of date, too. His fee will be 25 cents. It wouldn't seem that such an operator is necessary at S. T. C. judging from the crowd that congregates in the Rotunda on Saturday and Sunday nights. It has been said though that some of the young swains leave minus the company of a fair young damsel.

Interpretations of NRA

No reports allowed—All of us.
No reporters allowed—Interview teachers.
No rest allowed—Teachers and football coaches.
No right away—Lunch
Never refuse anything—If it's good
No refreshments allowed—In classes
No red-heads allowed—Profs. and convents.
No razzing allowed—Jefferson.
No reading a-loud—Library
No running allowed—Fire drill game.
No Republicans allowed—Democrats.
No red apples—Cherry tree
Noisy "rats" atrocious—Sophs.
—Brackety-Ack

Marconi, the inventor, has crossed the Atlantic 87 times.

Bing Crosby cannot read a note of music or play the piano.

All the U. S. battleships are equipped with soda fountains.

While in prison, John Bunyon, author of "Pilgrim's Progress", made lace to support his family.

Mitzi Green, child actress, is a contract bridge fiend.

Sing Sing prison offers a course in short story writing.—High Spots.

SONNET

My heart will never, never be yours alone.
Too many things I love, to speak the lie:
Red tides of sunset breaking on the sky,
Slow twilights and the first rose blown
To fiery splendor on a day in spring;
Cold mountain water passionate and strong
And wild with music, and the sharp, sweet song
Of birds when day has folded like a wing.
My head will lie upon your shoulder deep
Into the night, and I shall find you fair
And swing the gates to Heaven in my sleep
Beside you breathing the fragrance of your hair.
And though my lips shall always seek your own,
My heart will never, never, be yours alone.

POETRY

TO A DISTANT FRIEND

It mattered little if I saw you
When you were here.
Yet, now you are away,
Life has grown a trifle
More incomplete each day;
And you, more dear.
There was a comfort
In your simply being near.

Mary Childe Clarke

ADMONITION

The lovely things are quiet things;
Soft falling snow,
And feathers dropped from flying wings,
Make no sound as they go.

A petal loosened from a rose,
Quietly seeks the ground,
And love, if lovely, when it goes,
Goes without sound.

Donaldine Cameron

PREPAREDNESS

For all your days prepare,
And meet them ever alike:
When you are the anvil, bear—
When you are the hammer, strike.

Edwin Markham

LEARNING TO LIVE

I envied her death;
I wished I had died in her stead;
But that was before
I learned to live.

Now I'm learning to live
I thank the God who gave me life
For the greatest of gifts he could give.

M. R., '35

AUTUMN SUNSET

What glories lie
Beyond the autumn sunset, and evening sky?
'Tis but for us to gaze and fancy
To gather some faint idea of the majestic
Wonders that lie
Beyond the flaming, evening sky.

What beauties rise
Beyond the everchanging sunlit skies?
'Tis but for us to see,
To love—and thank God for the Beauties that rise
Beyond the golden, sunlit skies.

What love lies
Beyond the fading sunset skies?
'Tis but for us to know and share
In every way, one to another, and
All will be peace when each of us dies—
Beyond the dusky, twilight skies.

M. S. W., '37

REALITY

I dreamed I saw a bed of glowing coals
Dazzling, flaming,
But awakened to find only chilled ashes
—Remnants, life.

M. S. W., '37

INDIAN SUMMER

There are the days when birds come back,
A very few, a bird or two,
To take a backward look.
These are the days when the skies put on
The old, old sophistries of June—
A blue and gold mistake.
Oh, fraud that cannot cheat the bee,
Almost thy plausibility
Induces my belief,
Till ranks of seeds their witness bear,
And softly through the altered air
Hurries a timid leaf!
Oh, sacrament of summer days,
Oh, last communion of the haze,
Permit a child to join,
Thy sacred emblems to partake,
Thy consecrated bread to break,
Taste thy immortal wine!

Emily Dickinson

ASPIRATION

Lord! I would be
The tool within thy hand,
Supple and sensitive
To thy command.

Else must I still
The chains of impulse wear,
And ever tell the beads
Close threaded there.

L. H., '35.

SOCIALS

Many girls from S. T. C. went home for the week-end. They were: June Allen, Mary Drake, Claire Eastman, Mildred Chandler, Mary Alice Farrell, Phyllis Ferguson, Frances Graham, Kathryn Harvey, Elizabeth Huse, Mary Howard, Lelia Hill, Audrey Hawthorne, Estelle Jones, Lois Jenkins, Jessica Jones, Frances Johnson, Josephine Kent, Leonora Long, Bonnie Lane, Mildred Linthicum, Ellen Mason, Elizabeth Meredith, Ella and Sue Mallory, Nell and Mena Smelley, Elizabeth Stubbs, Pauline Moseley, Bobbie Mattox, Nellie Pierpont, Annetta Purdy, Margaret Pittard, Irene Parker, Eliabeth Ransom, Hazel Smith, Sallie Perrow, Frieda Shields, Irwin Staples, Billy Wilkinson, Brooks Wheeler, Amanda Wilson, Dorothy Wingfield, Lula Windley, Elizabeth Wall, Margaret Clark, Laura Hezley, Lucy Miller, Louise Alphial, Hilda Inge, Inez Strang, Elizabeth Gills, Dorothy Dollins, Ernestine Payne, Mary Bowles Kathryn Switzer, Christine Seay, Ophelia Booker, Virginia Inge, Jane Main, Amis Montgomery, Grace Bass, Virginia Saunders, Rebecca Cousins, Elizabeth Couldroun, Elizabeth Davidson, and Mary Alice Boggs.

Mary Denny and Mae Burch visited Kittie Chappell at Drakes Branch during the week-end.

Fanny Bosworth and Louise Van Lear visited in the home of the former's aunt, Mrs. R. S. Chambers, in Rawlings.

As a week-end guest, Louise Briggs went to Glen Allen and stayed with Jessica Jones.

Several girls spent the week-end in Richmond. They were:: Mamie Brett, Mary Burgess Fraser, Rachel Joyner, Lucile Moseley, Elizabeth Meredith, Elizabeth Smith, Kitty Woodson, Margaret Woodard, Virginia Widgeon, Mary Louise McNulty, Chic Moseley, and Helen Shawen.

Janet Harris had as a week-end guest in Lynchburg, Iola McIntire.

Sarah Elam, visiting Frances Smith and Emily Meadows, spent the week-end in South Boston.

Eight girls went to Richmond to attend the V. I. P. A. convention. They were Evelyn Massey, Lelia Mattox, Mary Shelton, Virginia Brinkley, Elizabeth Vassar, Katherine Hoyle, Mary Burgess Fraser and Mary Diehl.

Eleanor Ware went to Forks of Buffalo for the week-end to visit Mr. and Mrs. Mayers.

Marion Wright attended the football game and dances at North Carolina State College during the past week-end.

Jeannette Jones visited Estelle Jones in Dillwyn last week-end.

Elizabeth Hart spent the week-end with Evelyn Howell in Sutherland.

Victoria Gillette visited Helen Turnbull in Lawrenceville.

Miss Elizabeth Williams of Chase City, visited Nancy Dodd for the week-end.

Frances Grant spent the week end with Chic Dortch an dattended the H.-S. C. dances.

Misses Elizabeth Robins, Sally Williams and Lucy Bedinger of Randolph-Macon College, visited friends at S. T. C. over the week-end and attended H.-S. C. dances.

Misses Lyndell Gardner and Harriette Carter of Danville, spent the week-end at S. T. C. with friends.

Martha Sanders, Jessie Lee Swisher and Frances Dorin spent the week end here and attended the Homecoming dances at H.-S. C.

FACULTY MEMBERS SPEAK AT PRAYERS

Dr. Jeffers spoke at prayers Tuesday night. He said that to him Freshman or Rat Week is the means the sophomores have of welcoming the freshmen; they offer the right hand of fellowship to them, as it were, in this manner. The freshmen are the ones who come out of Rat Week on top by showing their good sportsmanship.

Dr. Walmsley followed up the theme of "Our Religion in Comparison to Others" Friday night at prayers. He told the story of the life of Budda, bringing out that the most outstanding religions of the East are centered about men who were born under ordinary circumstances.

These talks of very different natures proved to be interesting and inspiring.

TRI SIGMAS HAVE PARTY AT LONGWOOD

The Tri Sigma sorority was entertained Thursday afternoon at the Longwood cabin by Miss Pauline Camper. Thirty girls attended the picnic supper.

Plates of delicious foods and hot coffee were served, followed by cake and roasted marshmallows.

The Hallowe'en idea of decoration was used. Pumpkin lanterns were hung from the various parts of the room. The tables had as centerpieces, fruits fringed with autumn leaves.

LE CERCLE FRANCAIS HELD MEETING OCT. 27

Le Cercle Francais held its first meeting Friday night, October 27, in the choir room.

After a short address by the president, in which she welcomed the new members and guests and explained the purposes of the club, the vice-president took charge of the program. French games were played, and French songs were sung. Mary Gilmer read a poem, "Chanson des Brises," after which refreshments were served by the officers. Only French was spoken during the entire meeting.

H. S. C. HAS ANNUAL HOME-COMING DAY

Continued from page one

ly." classes were cut to forty-five minute periods, ending at 12:00 o'clock. A large crowd witnessed the game, the score of which was 12-0 in favor of the Roanoke Maroons.

Saturday night the second German Club dance was held in the Comity Club with an unusually large crowd attending.

Music was furnished both nights by Tal Henry and his Orchestra. This was his first appearance at Hampden-Sydney and his music seemed to be generally enjoyed.

Among those attending the dances were: Miss Angerona Aydlette with Mr. J. Gilman; Miss Bebe Russell with Mr. Harry Tayloe; Miss Mary Louise McNulty with Mr. Edwards; Miss Kathryn Fitzgerald with Mr. George Jones; Miss Frances Woodhouse with Mr. John East; Miss Nancy Parker with Mr. Shirley Mullins; Miss Billie Rountree with Mr. Pete Frantz; Miss Betsy Wilkinson with Mr. Julius Darden; Miss Dorothy Stone with Mr. Jesse Overstreet; Miss Lulle Wilkinson with Mr. George Remsberg; Miss Dorothy Eubank with Mr. James Wright; Miss Mary Shelton with Mr. Joe Perry; Miss Nancy Dodd with Mr. Marshall; Miss Virginia Baker with Mr. William Baker; Miss Laeta Barham with Mr. Bradford Waters; Miss Sara Beck with Mr. Clarence Campbell, Jr.; Miss Belle Buracher with Mr. Edward Payne; Miss Kitty Chappell with Mr. Watkins Morton; Miss Margaret Dortch with Mr. Charles Bernier; Miss Margaret Dudley with Mr. Frank Hancock; Miss Dot Eley with Mr. Mayes; Miss Margaret Eley with Mr. Ben Franklin; Miss Virginia Hamilton with Mr. Bob Kinnaird; Miss Nancy Harrison with Mr. Sam McLaughlin; Miss Mary E. Hill with Mr. Rees Bowen; Miss Anne Irving with Mr. Bill Daughtery; Miss Elizabeth Kelley with Mr. J. T. Llewellyn; Miss Lloyd Kelly with Mr. Walter Woodward; Miss Evelyn Knaub with Mr. Ed Poole; Miss Jean McClure with Mr. Edwin Bouldin; Mr. Cut Roberts; Miss Margaret Parker with Mr. Junie Blake; Miss Nancy Parker with Mr. Beverly Farrar; Miss Alice Rowell with Mr. George Wall; Miss Henrietta Salisbury with Mr. J. Hundley; Miss Ruth Showalter with Mr. Pete Trent; Miss Ellen Simmerman with Mr. Rudy Young; Miss Louise Whitehurst with Mr. Dick Lewis; Miss Evelyn Wilson with Mr. Sawyer, and Miss Nancy Dodd with Mr. Billy Lipscomb.

C. E. Chappell
COMPANY
Stationery, Blank Books and School Supplies
Cigars, Cigarettes and Soda
Farmville, Virginia

S. A. Legus
TAILOR
CLEANING
PRESSING
REPAIRING
Phone 203

DR. MARY BAUGHMAN, WELFARE HEAD, SPEAKS

Mr. Mary Baughman of Richmond, chairman of the welfare department, general federation of Women's Clubs of Virginia, lectured in the Student Building auditorium in Wednesday evening, October 25, at 7 o'clock. Dr. Baughman's lecture was sponsored by the local chapters of Pi Gamma Mu and Kappa Delta Pi.

The subject of Dr. Baughman's lecture was, "Whither Are We Wending?" and it dealt with the fundamental principles of race betterment. In order to give her hearers a background for her later remarks, Dr. Baughman gave a summary of the development of the ace from the dawn of history up to the present time.

The speaker treated some of the problems which confront the race today—problems which retard the highest and best development of each member of society. She emphasized the importance of education in fitting each person to live best and serve most in modern society. Dr. Baughman also stressed the great need for social welfare work at the present time.

In closing, Dr. Baughman said, "In ten more years we probably shall have come nearer to a realization of Christ's teaching that we love one another. There will probably be more time for leisure, for love of beauty, for enjoyment of life. The race may be heading toward a greater potentiality. When we have utilized all the resources of men and of the earth, and when every power has been developed to its highest degree, we may then realize why we are here upon this earth and we may begin to understand more clearly what is meant by a heaven upon earth."

EIGHT[?] MEN PLEDGED BY H.-S FRATERNITIES

Last Friday, October 27, the seven fraternities at Hampden-Sydney concluded rushing season for the session 1933-34. Seven days of preliminary rushing were followed by four days of concentrated rushing; which lasted from October 23 to 26. Eighty-four bids were extended to freshmen through Dean Reed Friday morning.

The results of the rushing season were as follows: Chi Phi, 15; Kappa Sigma 14; Kappa Alpha, 11; Pi Kappa Alpha, 8; Theta Chi, 13; Sigma Chi, 10; Theta Kappa Nu, 8.

MAY DAY COMMITTEE CALLS FOR STUDENT AID

The May Day committee composed of Edna Rawlings, Sue Yeaman, Margaret Eley, Louise Hyde, and Jac Morton, calls on the student body to aid them in selecting a theme for May Day this year.

Farmville's May Day has the reputation of being very unique, and for this reason the committee desires to have as many suggestions as possible from the students, so as to keep up this reputation.

A Spanish theme is being worked on, but as yet has not been completed. The committee especially desires to have suggestions for fantastic myths around which this theme may be developed.

Mrs. Fitzpatrick, who is faculty adviser for this group, joins them in urging as many students as possible to present material for this particular theme or any other theme which might be worked up for a May festival.

DRESS MAKING — DESIGNING
HEMSTITCHING AND ALTERING
SINGER SHOP
Third Street
FARMVILLE, VA.
10-4-3t

Kleanwell
CLEANERS AND TAILORS
Expert Cleaning, Repairing and Remodeling of Ladies Garments
Main Street, Opposite Postoffice
PHONE 98

Lucille Shop
"Just Across the Street"
Street Floor — Hotel Weyanoke
Apparel for the College Girls
Nuf-Sed

All Well Dressed Girls Do Not Deal At Dorothy May Store; But All Girls Who Deal at the Dorothy May Store Are Well Dressed
Come in and se the newst styles and materials. You will be surprised at our low prices!
THE DOROTHY MAY STORE
Main tSreet

NEW FALL SHOES
For the College Girls—
Straps, Pumps, Ties and Oxfords
$2.95—$3.50—$3.95—$5.00
Smart women who see these attractive shoe, get several pair at one time—street, afternoon, and sport shoes in different leathers and hades. They have a certain air of their own, and their designs are clever and decidedly new, besides being priced moderately low.
DAVIDSON'S

EACO THEATRE
PROGRAM NOV. 2 to 8

Thursday and Friday November 2 and 3
JAMES CAGNEY, RUBY KEELER
DICK POWELL, JOAN BLONDELL and Hundreds of Others in
"FOOTLIGHT PARADE"
When we say this marvelous production is even better than "42nd Street" and "Gold Diggers" you may know that it is in a class all by itself. From the point of lavish spectacle, gorgeous girls, lavish scenes, popular songs, excellent dancing, it has never been equalled. To miss this wonderful, beautiful, tuneful, eyeful of all that's gay, gorgeous and glorious, is to miss the best picture of its kind ever made. No advance in prices.
Also an Old-Time Novelty, "Admission, 5 cents."

Saturday, Nov. 4
DOROTHY COONAN, FRANFIE DARRO, ROCHELL HUDSON
in
"WILD BOYS OF THE ROAD"
Girls living like boys; boys living like savages. A half million of them roaming the country today. She was a "home-town" girl. She shared their clothes; their lives; their adventures —yet they never knew she was a girl until she faced the peril only a girl can know. Bring some one who isn't afraid to put his arms around you in public; some one you like to have close when you come to see this heart-stopping drama of wild girls trying to "get by" in a world where boys outnumber girls 20 to 1. We pledge you a great picture and one you will be glad to see.
Also FATTY ARBUCKLE in "Close Relations".

Next Monday, Nov. 6
Spencer Tracy
Colleen Moore
in
"THE POWER AND THE GLORY"
Here's a moving, complex drama, excellent in every detail, with a great part for the return of Coleen Moore. It is a romantic drama that will hold your interest to the last foot of film. A four-star production that sold to crowded house in New York at $2 per seat. Picked as the best picture of the month.
Also an all Technicolor Musical revue "HELLO POP"

Next Tuesday, Nov. 7
Robert Montgomery
Ann Harding
Alice Brady
in
WHEN LADIES MEET
A high class sophisticated comedy-drama that is one of the outstanding offerings of the year. The best picture Ann Harding ever made; and Bob Montgomery at his very best. Don't miss it.
FIRST CHAPTER, BUCK JONES in "GORDON OF GHOST CITY."

Next Wednesday, Nov. 7
Carole Lombard
Gene Raymond
in
"BRIEF MOMENT"
The story of a blues singer, a blue-blood, and a love that burned with a bright red flame. She risked all that she had to live for—to make her play-boy husband a man.
Also First Cahpter Buck Jones in "Gordon of Ghost City and RUBINOFF AND HIS ORCHESTRA.
Daily matinees at 4 P. M. Evenings at 8 P. M.
Prices—Adults, 35c at nights and 25c at matinees. Children under 12 years of age, 15c to each show.

Liquor importers let out discouraged moans when President Roosevelt clapped an embargo on further "medicinal" importations of wines and spirits.

H.-S. C. Tigers Lose To Roanoke Team

Patrone's Pass and 58 Yard Sprint Lead Maroons to Victory

The annual homecoming game between Roanoke College and Hampden-Sydney ended in defeat for the Tigers with a final score of 12-0.

The first touchdown for the Maroons came in the first period of play on a pass, Patrone to Ringstaff, and the second near the end of the game. Patrone dashed through the Hampden-Sydney line for a 58-yard run.

Patrone received the Hampden-Sydney kickoff and began his first touchdown by returning it to the 40-yard line. The return was blocked temporarirly by McLaughlin when he intercepted a Maroon pass on second play, but the Tigers were forced to kick. After a brief exchange of punts, the Maroons recovered on the Tigers' 30-yard line and scored on a pass from Patrone to Ringstaff. Placement for the extra point was blocked. In the fourth period of play, it first appeared that the Maroons were well in check, but in the closing minutes of the game, Patrone made his 58-yard break. The placement for the extra point was missed.

The Tigers' big moment came in the second period after the quarter opened with a punting duel. In the midst of the period the Tigers suddenly took to the air. A 22-yard pass from Douglas to White coupled with 3 line plays, brought them to the Maroon's 5-yard line, but the line held and the ball went to Roanoke as an incomplete pass.

The Maroons preceded their last touchdown drive with a mighty offensive in the third period of play. Two long passes from Patrone, one to West and one to Smith, along with Smith's driving, carried them to the 2-yard line. Here the Tigers held. Three Maroon plays failed within the 5-yard margin. Penalty moved the ball up another yard, but another plunge was stopped, and the ball went over to the Tigers. Humphries lost no time in putting out.

The line-up follows:

Position	H.-S. C.	Roanoke
L. E.	Formwalt	West
L. T.	D. G. Ogden	Barnett
L. G.	Price	Whitesell
C.	McLaughlin	Wermeth
R. G.	Moore	Quesita
R. T.	D. J. Ogden	Suttner
R. E.	Ferry	Engles
Q. B.	Humphries	Ringstaff
L. H.	Spotswood	Smith
F. B.	White	Weeks

Scores by quarters:

Roanoke ..... 6006—12.
Hampden-Sydney ..... 0000— 0

Summary: Roanoke, touchdowns, Ringstaff and Patrone. Officials: Referee, Hutter (Va.); umpire, Billups (V. P. I.); head linesman, Miller (Richmond).

PETERSBURGH HIGH-C. H. S. HOCKEY GAME

The athletic field was the scene of a very exciting hockey game Thursday at 3:30 o'clock, between Petersburg High School and College High. Both teams played well. At the end of the game, Petersburg High was leading with a score of 5-1.

The line-up follows:

Petersburg		C. H. S.
Rosenstock	R.W	Jones
Dixon	R.I.	Hamilton
Van Landingham	C.F.	Newman
Gilliam	L.I.	Crenshaw
Bryant	L.W.	Wilkerson
Warner	R.H.	Geyer
Robertson	C.H.	Andrews
Cook	L.H.	Mann
Prosise	R.F.	Clark
Deffenlaugh	L.F.	Potter
Crowder	Y.	Solomon

Petersburg substitutes: Madren, Beasley, Boykins, McDermed, Huber. C. H. S. substitutes: Mann, Cobb.

EDUCATORS ASSEMBLE HERE OCTOBER 30-31

Continued from page one

interest which this college feels in the welfare of Southside Virginia.

Among those present at the conference were representatives from the following counties and cities: Amelia, Appomattox, Bedford, Buckingham, Campbell, Charlotte, Cumberland, Goochland, Halifax, Lunenburg, Nottoway, Mecklenburg, Pittsylvania, Powhatan, Prince Edward, Petersburg, and Danville. Many faculty members and students of the college attended the various meetings.

G. A. BURR ELECTED HEAD OF V. I. P. A.

Continued from page one

man's College, an annual of more than 225 pages; The Bluestocking of Mary Baldwin College, less than 225 pages; The Acorn of Blackstone College for Girls; Literary Magazine of William and Mary College; The Old Maid of D. M. W. C.

The seventh annual V. I. P. A. convention began Friday morning, October 27 with the registration of delegates in Maryland Hall, University of Richmond.

Delegates to the convention spent Friday afternoon in an orientation session and in discussion groups. Beverly L. Britton, president of the convention, and a student at the University of Richmond, presided at the opening meeting at 2 P. M., and introduced the officers and speakers.

Delegates composed the groups for discussion of work on newspapers, magazines, annuals, and business managing. Mary Shelton, Mary Diehl, Lelia Mattox, Kitty Hoyle and Evelyn Massey represented S. T. C. Farmville in the newspaper discussion group which was led by Mr. Judson Evans of the Richmond Times-Dispatch. Mary Burgess Fraser, Virginia Brinkley and Elizabeth Vassar were the Farmville representatives in the annual discussion group.

Mr. William S. Lacy, Jr., city editor of the Daily Progress, Charlottesville, Va., addressed the general session of the convention Friday afternoon at 5 P. M. After the convention dinner in the Sarah Brunet Hall at 8 o'clock, Dr. Douglas Freeman, editor of the Richmond News Leader, spoke on "Information: One of the Secrets of a Successful Journalist". In his address Dr. Freeman emphasized the importance of a free press for national freedom and stressed the necessity for truthfulness and independence in newspaper writing.

Mike Kent's orchestra furnished music for an informal dance and cabaret in the Doger Milhiser gymnasium after Dr. Freeman's address.

Saturday morning general session and discussion groups similar to those on Friday's program took place. In the feature business session which brought the convention to a close the report of the executive secretary was read, report of committees submitted and approved, officers elected and Blacksburg and East Radford decided on as places for the 1934 convention.

Many delegates to the convention attended the University of Richmond and Randolph Macon College football game at the stadium.

CLASSROOM GROOMING

By Helena Rubinstein

I know the feeling you have before an early class. In Vienna, some of mine were at 8 o'clock and at that hour appearance does not seem important. Yet the habit of grooming for every occasion, no matter how small, the niceties of looking well even in your room, alone, should be part of your own training of yourself for the years to come.

For the early morning grooming, I have worked out a plan that I believe is as complete as it is practical. Just before you get up, throw back the covers on your bed, and stretch luxuriously—arms wide, legs extended straight in front of you, head tipped back. Kick your legs out a few times to rouse the circulation, and then sit up in bed and touch your toes without bending your knees. These few "wake-up" exercises chase away that drowsy look from your eyes, and make it easier to dress quickly.

Next, of course, you will want to take a shower or bathe. It will save time if you spread a film of your pasteurized face cream or a skin cleansing cream over your face before stepping into the tub, for the heat of the water makes it easier for the cream to penetrate the skin. Then when you are ready to dress, remove the cream with absorbent cotton, and pat on a skin toning lotion to close the pores, tone the skin and prepare your face for makeup.

I think you will find that you can make up more quickly if you know the proper way to apply your cosmetics. And the result is much more flattering! I would suggest a cream rouge for the first makeup—you can retouch your coloring with dry rouge during the day. But don't waste time putting on a great deal of rouge that just has to be wiped off. Instead, tap your finger lightly against the rouge, and against your cheek. With a clean finger, smooth the rouge carefully until the edges are well blended. Repeat with the other cheek. Then press your powder firmly over your face, and dust off the surplus with a fresh bit of cotton. Lastly, smooth on your lip rouge, dust off your lashes and brows—and you can start for class assured that your beauty lesson at least, is prepared.

If you have a personal beauty problem on which you need advice, write Woman's Interest Syndicate, 522 Fifth Ave., New York City.

Students Enact Scene From Hollywood Life At Saturday's Sing

Students Enact Scene From Hollywood Life at Saturday's Sing

"Station S. T. C. broadcasting! It's the night of the big preview of a brand new show." So spoke Meg Herndon, radio announcer, as the curtain rose on a most enjoyable sing program Saturday night.

The program represented a big night in the magic city of Hollywood, California, when many of the most famous of the movie stars were gathered for the opening night of the new show.

As Meg spoke the audience could feel the exctiement, see the bright lights, imagine the police fighting back the crowd outside, while the population in gorgeous evening clothes entered.

First came Jean Harlow represented by Frances Tilman. We didn't see the sailors, but we're sure the fleet's in after seeing Claudia Harper as Clara Bow, Gorgeous Kay Francis was represented by Mary Gilmer.

As the kept coming we thought "Schnozzle" Durante might be right—"We got a million of 'em"—and did Addie Norflett put Schnozzle over in a big way?

Elise Marshbaum as Joan Blondell, Anne Irving as Dorothy Jordan, and Sally Thornhill as Norma Shearer were most attractive.

Muriel Scott as Stan Laurel and Betty May Brown as Charley Chase gave the audience a big laugh, to say nothing of Blanche Kahn as Gracie Allen. Her famous brother has been lost. If found, please return to the home office.

Nancy Harrison surely knows that May West stuff all right. C'mon up sometime—we don't know when Nancy keeps her port cards, but perhaps you can find out. Laeta Barham took the part of Greta Garbo. After all the beautiful women and those very attractive men, Stan, Charley and Schnozzle had all passed the audience agreed with Greta; we all "tank we go home," to spend the rest of the evening raving about how grand sing was.

FALL COTILLION DANCE TO BE HELD NOV. 1

Continued from page one

privilege of inviting two girls and one boy. Many members have bought extra tickets for both boys and girls. A large number of alumnae are expected for the occasion.

The receiving line, composed of the officers of the club, Dr. J. L. Jarman, Miss Mary White Cox, and Mr. Sam Graham, will assemble in the Student Building lounge at 8 P. M. to welcome the guests.

ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION GIVES MASKED PARTY

Masked and attired in Hallowe'en costumes many students enjoyed dancing and doughnuts in the gym last night at the masquerade given by the Athletic Association from 8 to 10 o'clock.

Billie Rountree, in charge of the masquerade, with Louise Walmsley and Elizabeth Shiplett, had fittingly decorated the gym with pumpkins and other Hallowe'en designs.

The many and varied Hallowe'en costumes worn by the masqueraders presented a spectacular sight to the on-looking students and the several faculty members in the balcony.

From the grand parade the judges, after careful selection, designated Edith Coffey and Marguerite York as the most attractively dressed couple. Edith wore an orange and black clown suit. Marguerite was dressed in a short yellow and black costume and a tall hat. Each of these received a box of candy as a prize.

Miss Bedford and Mrs. Fitzpatrick, judges of the dancing, awarded a novelty prize to Frankie McDaniel and Sue Mallory.

The masqueraders enjoyed the doughnuts served for refreshments, and climed the stairs singing "Good Night Ladies."

Mack's
BARBER AND BEAUTY SHOP
323 Main Street
We use the Frederick Method
Hair Cutting and Thinning a Specialty

Martin Jeweler
Gifts of Lasting Remembrance
317 Main St. Farmville
We give Jubilee tickets

Electric Shoe Shop
Will Fix Your Shoes While You Wait
BEST WORKMANSHIP AND LEATHER USED

SouthsideDrugStore
(On the Corner)
Films Developed FREE
If bought at this store

YOU WOULD LOVE TO HAVE YOUR SHOES FIXED AT THE
Lovelace Shoe Shop
110 Third Street

WILLIS The Florist
FLOWERS FOR ALL OCCASIONS
PHONES 181-273

Shannon's
Is Headquarters for the Best SANDWICHES —and— DRINKS —in— FARMVILLE!

Weyanoke
BEAUTY SALON
A Complete Beauty Service At Moderate Prices
What we have done for others we can do for you
WEYANOKE HOTEL
Farmville Va.

RICE'S SHOE STORE
Street and Dress Shoes
Dancing Slippers Dyed
Correct fits our speciality

WELCOME S. T. C. STUDENTS
We are glad to see you back and take this means of inviting you to make our store your headquarters. We have everything you need for your wardrobe.
THE HUB DEPARTMENT STORE
"Farmville Best Place to Shop"

GREETINGS, S.T.C.
from "The Style Shop for Ladies"
Now showing a complete line of college togs, ready to wear, millinery and shoes.
If it's new—it's at
BALDWIN'S
Quality—Price—Service

G. F. Butcher
High Street
"The Convenient Store"
FOR GOOD THINGS TO EAT AND DRINK

Gray's Drug Store
QUALITY—PRICE—SERVICE
Come in and Get Acquainted
We Are Glad to Have You With Us!
Farmville, Virginia

HELP YOUR TEAM WIN—SEE THEM OFF SATURDAY

THE ROTUNDA

POE

BE SURE TO READ "FROM OLD ROTUNDAS"

We Teach To Teach

Volume XIV | THE ROTUNDA, WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 8, 1933 | No. 7

'Admirable Crichton' Is Fall Production Of Dramatic Club

The S. T. C. Dramatic Club and the Hampden-Sydney Jongleurs Collaborate

HARRISON AND POOLE TO LEAD

The State Teachers College Dramatic Club and the Hampden-Sydney Jongleurs will present as their annual collaboration one of James M. Barrie's most fascinating plays, "The Admirable Crichton" on Friday, November 24 in the S. T. C. auditorium.

The cast which has been chosen with particular attention to character roles includes: Ed Poole as Admirable Crichton; Nancy Harrison as Lady Mary; Dan Jenkins as Lord Loam; Sally Thornhill as Lady Catherine; Martha Stine as Lady Agatha; Merle Smith as Mo Treherne; James Elder as Ernest; Walter Woodward as Lord Brockelhurst; Meg Herndon as Lady Brockelhurst; Evelyn Knaub as Tweeney; Henrietta Salsbury as Fisher; Dorothy Justis as Mademoiselle Jeanne; Grace Eubank as Simmons; Granville Crawford as Timpsett and as the ship's officer; Margaret Farrar as the Page; Audrey Clements as Mrs. Perkins; Woodrow Mackey as Monsieur Fleury; Oscar Shumate as Rolleston; Sue Mallory as Jane; Chic Dortch as Gladys; John Wagner as Thomas, and Jesse Clore as John.

An English peer, Lord Loam, believes that the servants of a household should be on the same footing as their employers. He decides to take a yachting trip on which he intends to carry out an experiment to prove his theory. The party is ship-wrecked and finds refuge on a deserted island. The events which occur during their stay on the island are surprising and somewhat alarming.

The play as a whole is exceedingly unusual and cannot be surpassed as a source of entertainment for several hours.

50 Students Enjoy Tibbett's Concert

Approximatly fifty girls from the college enjoyed the rare privilege of hearing Lawrence Tibbitt in Lynchburg Monday night. This was Tibbett's first appearance in Virginia this season and for that reason the concert was well attended by music lovers from all over the state. Not only is Mr. Tibbett one of the outstanding singers of the decade but a real actor as well. For in that reason he has been an unusual success in opera. An excerpt from "Emperor Jones" in which he played the title role and really made famous last season, was sung on the program of the Monday night concert to the enjoyment of the entire audience.

Among the program numbers were:

"Hear Me Ye Winds and Waves" by Handel.

-"Has Sorrow Thy Young Days Shaded" by O'Brien", "Good Ale" by Warlock.

"No Longer to Entreat You" by Brahms, "Love Song" by Brahms, "The Omnipotence" by Shubert. Excerpts from "Emperor Jones" by Grunenberg, "Moan" by Harris, "The Hand Organ Man" by Wolfe, "Sunday Every Day" by Wolfe, "Death's Lullaby" by Moussorsky, "The Spite Fence" by Browning, "Eleanore" by Coleridge-Taylor.

Mr. Tibbett responded with the following encores: "Elegy on a Mad Dog", "Tomorrow," "Evening Star", 'Betsy's Boy," 'American Lullaby," "Sylvia," "Shortenin' Bread," "Song

Continued on last page

Student Standards Committee Solves Student Problems

Group Decides to Set Girls Having High Average Carry More Points

The Student Standards Committee held its second meeting of the year Thursday, Nov. 2. The purpose of this committee is to study standards of conduct and student welfare; also to act as a mediator between the faculty and students. It is composed of student representatives and faculty members. Here the problems raised may bring a better understanding between faculty members and students.

The Student Standards Committee was successful in the following last year:

1. There were fewer notices read in chapel.

2. Wednesday was given for students day in chapel.

3. Sunday afternoon meditation hours were done away with.

One of the main projects for the coming year will be an effective application of the "point system." The points for membership in numerous organizations and also the points for officers in these organizations are listed on pages 61-64 in the Student Hand Book. The following recommendations from the Student Standards Committee concerning the "point system" were accepted by the student body:

First: That ten of the points listed in the student hand book be the number for the students making an average scholastic grade of C, and that the student whose average for one term is A or B may be allowed to carry an excess of from one to five points the next term, while the student making an average of D may not carry as many as ten points.

Second: That a supervising committee be appointed; two from the

Continued to page 4 col. 2

Dramatic Apprentices Present Second Play Before Club Members

To discover dramatic ability among the new students in school, the Dramatic Club offers an excellent apprentice course for those interested in that type of work. The clever and interesting play entitled "The Romancers" was presented Thursday night by numerous members of the acting group.

The unusual dramatic ability shown by the entire cast gave promise of a group of good actresses. The leading parts were played by Chic Dortch as Sylvette and Victoria Gillette as Percinct.Other members of the cast who played their parts with grace and naturalness were Mary Glass, Bergamin, the father of Percinct; Rose Summers, Pasquinot, the father of Sylvette; and Betty Mae Brown, Straiford, the head swordsman. The other swordsmen were Katherine Hurt, Addie Lee Jarman, and Mariane Lane.

The play was under the direction of Meg Herndon, head of the acting group. This was the second of a series of plays to be coached by her. The lighting, makeup, property, staging, and costume groups also received a large part of their training in preparation for this play.

At the end of the play, Miss Wheeler, the faculty adviser of the club, gave a criticism of the play. She complimented particularly the work of the acting and staging groups. She offered suggestions to the other departments that would make their efforts more effective.

Miss Virginia Bedford, sophomore classman who was presented to the student body this morning.

Sophomore Class Presents Bedford

The Sophomore class presented Miss Bedford, its classman this morning in chapel.

The sophomores marched into the auditorium, as they sang with the seniors, who remained standing, the red and white song. After all were seated the curtains opened revealing the class officers, dressed in red smocks and white berets, and poster on which was printed a part of the word "success". The letters represented the fourth of the success that the class has already accomplished.

When the sophomores had sung their class song, Margaret Webster, Virginia Hall, Margaret Woodard, and Henrietta Salsbury, all dressed as artists, did a tap dance. Kitty Hoyle and Grace Eubank, the class treasurer and secretary, led Miss Bedford to the center of the stage, where Tac Waters, the president expressed to the "master artist" the appreciation of the class for her guidance. The class rose and sang the class man song after which the curtains were drawn.

MEG HERNDON NAMED CIRCUS RINGMASTER

Meg Herndon, a Junior was named by the circus committee as ring master of the College Circus to be given Saturday night, November 18.

Meg is well suited for this responsible position, because she has had excellent dramatic training. This year she is head of the acting group of the Dramatic Club.

The committee chairman from the four classes are working on the stunts with Lelia Mattox and Mary Shelton, who are in charge of all stunts. These chairmen are Elmer Foster, '34, Jestine Cutshall, '35, Carolyn Byrd, '36, and Chic Dortch, '37.

GARDNER AND CROMER ARE NEW MINISTERS

New ministers are coming this month to both the Methodist and the Presbyterian churches here in Farmville.

The Methodist Conference, meeting week before last, has sent to the Methodist church here Mr. H. E. Cromer. Mr. Cromer will preach his first sermon here next Sunday. For the past three years he has been in Salisbury, Maryland. Previously Mr. Cromer has filled very satisfactorily pupilts in Williamsburg and in Suffolk. Mr. H. B. Lipscomb, who has been pastor here for the last two years, goes to the Boulevard Metho-

Continued on page three

Farmville Business Program Climaxes In 'Good Will Day'

Main Street Blocked Off For Festivities of the Day—Many Free Acts Featured

Good-Will Day was held November 4 in Farmville. A large crowd was gathered from all parts of the county and neighboring counties for the glorious climax of weeks of special sales sponsored by merchants of Farmville.

The greatest feature of the day was the awarding of prizes for the holders of the lucky Jubilee tickets. This began at four p. m., and was held at the corner of Main and Third streets. The light rain falling did not daunt the eager crowd during the drawing and announcing of the lucky ticket numbers. The first prize of a hundred dollars was presented to Mr. W. H. Chappell from Andersonville.

The entertainment program started at eleven a. m., with an address of welcome by the mayor of Farmville. This was followed by the stunt riding of Harry Kramer, world famous bicycle rider. At noon a sawing and wood chopping contest was held. One o'clock brought a pie eating contest. Pies were ordered from the bakery and contestants had a pie dinner.

Harry Kramer was again seen at two o'clock. The old fiddlers contest was staged at two-thirty. M. A. York entertained at three-thirty.

Main Street between High and Second was blocked off for the day. A detail from Company G, national guard, helped with the handling of the traffic. All of the entertainment was held on Main Street.

November 4 was a great day in Farmville. Sponsored by the Farmville Trade Expansion Bureau to encourage more buying and lower prices, the Good Will Day was a gala climax to weeks of buying and selling.

Freshmen Broadcast From Station R.A.T. At First Class Sing

The Freshman class presented its first Sing on Saturday night, November 4, in the big auditorium. The performance was applauded heartily by the audience which was made up of former, as well as present, students.

"Ladies—and Sophomores," commenced Martha Stein, announcer for Station R. A. T., "tonight we have with us the "Hill Billy Band." When the band with Nancy Beard at the piano had finished its program, Katherine Conway, representing Phil Harris, sang, "You Must Believe Me", and, as an encore, she repeated the same number.

Ruth Etting (Elise Marshburn), Bing Crosby (Virginia Leonard), and Little Jack Little (Madeline Cummings) were the next radio artists to broadcast. Gracie Allen (Blanche Kahn) ran in, talking every second of the time. To be able to continue the program, the manager had to put her out forcibly. Baby Rose Marie (Mary Bowles), in her green checked dress and with a big bow of ribbon on her hair, flitted in and out after she had given a singing and dancing number. Next Bonnie Lane as Ed Wynn advised Mary Shelton and Honey Hamilton concerning their love affairs.

Gay Steiffens, who played the part of Ruby Keeler, climaxed the whole program with her tap dancing. Loudly applauded, she returned to the stage and gave an encore which was even better and funnier than her first dance had been.

Kate Smith (Rebecca Glenn) was

Continued to page 4, col. 1

Two Hockey Teams To Leave Saturday For Westhampton

Approximately Eleven Colleges Will Be Represented in Meet at Richmond

STATE TEAM TO BE SELECTED

Two S. T. C. teams will leave Farmville Saturday, November 11, to participate in the tournament at Westhampton College. The teams will go in a chartered bus, leaving school about 8:00 A. M.

Virginia, North Carolina, and District of Columbia colleges, will be represented at the fourth annual tournament of the Virginia Field Hockey Association. For the past three years the tournament has been held at William and Mary, Harrisonburg S. T. C., and Sweet Briar, respectively.

About 200 girls are expected to compete in the various events. Beside the college teams, players from club and alumnae teams will be entered to take part in mixed teams. Games will begin on both athletic fields Friday afternoon and will continue through Saturday.

The purpase of the hockey tournament is not to establish a championship, according to Miss Fanny D. Crenshaw, vice-president of the hockey association. It is to bring together the best players in the district and to stimulate a real interest in the sport.

During the tournament a state team will be chosen to play a visiting team from another district. The best payers from college teams, mixed teams, club and alumnae teams will make up the state team.

The two teams from S. T. C. are Nannie Ruth Cooper, captain; Sarah Beck, Elizabeth Billups, Mary Bowles, Frances Burger, Alma Foster, Elizabeth Gills, Mildred Gwaltney, Kath-

Continued to page 4, col. 1

Fall Cotillion Dance Has a Large Crowd

The Cotillion Club held its first dance of the year Saturday night from eight till twelve o'clock in the big gymnasium.

Jelly Leftwich and his orchestra furnished gay, sparkling music that was most suitable for the occasion. The vocal numbers by the blues singer were enjoyed especially as the applause showed.

A large crowd, including alumnae and upper classmen as well as freshmen, were present, not to mention the various men's colleges which were well represented. Hampden-Sydney, V. P. I., 'Carolina," "Virginia," and W. & L., made a good showing on the floor.

The gym was beautifully decorated by Gamma Psi, the color scheme being fall colors ranging from pale yellow to deepest brown. This color scheme was carried out still further by festooning crepe paper from a central point in the ceiling and radiating to all points on each side of the room.

At the climax of the dancing many brightly tinted baloons came down, and like thistle down floated over the heads of the dancers, only to be snatched by their eager hands.

The figure which ended by formthe letters C. C. was led by Margaret Parker and Richard Pond of Suffolk, Margaret Eley and Henry Brothers of Richmond, Chic Mosby and Bill Spotswood of Hampden-Sydney College and Honey Hamilton and Green Lawson of Hampden-Sydney.

During the intermission delicious punch was served in the student building lounge to the dancers.

THE ROTUNDA

Member Southern Inter-Collegiate Newspaper Association
Member Intercollegiate Press Association of Virginia

Newspaper — National Scholastic Press Association — Member

Published by Students of State Teachers College, Farmville, Va.

Entered as second class matter March 1, 1921, at the Postoffice of Farmville, Virginia, under Act of March 3, 1879.

Subscription ..... $1.50 per year

ROTUNDA STAFF

Editor-in-Chief ... Mary Shelton, '34
Associate Editor .... Lelia Mattox, '35

Board of Editors

News ..... Evelyn Massey, '36
Make-Up ..... Katherine Hoyle, '36
Literary Editor .... Birdie Wooding
Louise Walmsley, '36
World News ..... Velma Quarles, '34
Intercollegiate ..... Caroline Byrd, '36
Social ..... Marion Raine, '36
Art ..... Alice Rowell, '34
Feature ..... Elizabeth Walton, '36
Alumnae ..... Miss Virginia Potts

Reporters

Amis Montohery
Mary Hastings Holloway
Edith Shanks, '34; Mary Easley Hill, '34; Elizabeth Vassar, '35; Mary Elizabeth Alexander, '36; Lula Windley, '36.
Proof Readers: Katherine Coleman, '35
Grace Eubank, '36

Managers

Business ..... Mary Diehl, '34
Assistant ..... Elma Rawlings, '34
Circulation ..... Nell Oakey Ryan, '34
Assistant ..... Janice White, '35

The Rotunda invites letters of comment, criticism, and suggestion from its readers upon its manner of presenting and treating them. A letter, to receive consideration, must contain the name and address of the writer. These will not be published if the writer objects to the publication.

All matters of business should be addressed to the Business Manager and all other matters should come to the Editor-in-Chief. Complaints from subscribers as regards irregularities in the delivery of The Rotunda will be appreciated.

A REALIZATION OF FACTS

"Don't read your mail in chapel." "Stand up when the hymns are being sung." "Don't talk!" "Don't slamb the seats up and down." These commands have been heard so often that to most of us they have become mere words. We hear these reminders and keep right on in our thoughtless habits.

However, when our Senior year is reached and the privilege of attending chapel at will becomes ours, chapel takes on a new meaning for us. We begin to notice the noise made by the underclassmen. It annoys us. We become ashamed for the guest speakers and faculty to witness such inconsiderate behavior. We turn around and stare at the thoughtless girls who disregard the rules of chapel. It is difficult for us to remember the many times that we rattled the home town paper, read and read our letters while the hymn was being sung, or whispered the latest gossip to our best friend.

This year our chapel period has been so reduced that we could not possibly tire in that short time. We have no excuse now for the noise that we make. As small child can sit quietly for twenty minutes and conform with the standard of chapel behavior like our chapel time is not a twenty minute period that must be endured by the students. It is one of the few times when everyone has a passage the doors were for worship. It is a time when we can get away from the rush of school activities and forget our worries. Here we have the privilege of hearing interesting speakers and we have enjoyable musical programs. This is the true purpose of chapel exercises.

In the future let us all, from the yet most reserved to the wisest junior come to the realization that our seniors have grasped. Let us pay heed to the remonstrances about our conduct and make our chapel period a time for devout worship, and enjoyment of worthwhile programs.

ENJOY THE BEAUTIFUL!

In this age, when the world is regarded as purely materialistic, it is more necessary than ever before that we uphold the beautiful. Why dwell upon the plain, bare realities of life. Aren't they, in their starkness and sordidness, ever before us whether we will or no? Recognize them we must, but dwell upon them we need not.

Spare a few moments to observe nature in its beauty. The clear, still coldness of the night with the stars like diamonds in the black sky. Perhaps the moon, round and full rises slowly to illuminate the darkness. Contrast with this aglorious autumn day. The chillness is warmed by the sun as it lights the red and gold leaves, making the trees look as though they are afire with color. A rustle of the wind sends the gay colored leaves spinning down and down, sometimes in a whirlpool.

Listen sometimes to the voice of music as it speaks through the songs of the old masters. The spiritual dignity of Bach, the harmonic grandeur of Beethoven, the melodic and harmonius beauty of Handel, and the colorfulness of Taydn strikes within you a chord of harmony as they inspire and uplift your soul to heights unknown.

Gaze upon the study and masterpieces of color and form. The blending of color, and the inspiration of "The Song of the Lark"; the peace and serenity of "The Angelus" have much to give those who seek it.

There are some who avail themselves of opportunities to enjoy the beautiful, and they find the returns are inexplicable. To have witnessed the enthusiasm and joy with which these students who heard Lawrence Tibbet sing in Lynchburg acclaimed him is proof in itself of the power of the beautiful.

World News

Gossips said that President Roosevelt was suffering from sinus trouble, but the President described his ailment which confined him to his fourposter bed for two days last week as "sniffles". Attired in striped flannel pajamas and an old white sweater, the President played with his many varieties of U. S. stamps and his three varieties of U. S. dollars: world, R. F. S.—gold, and commodity-value.

Last week Undersecretary Acheson and Governor Black of the Federal Reserve Board talked for two hours with Sir Frederick Leith-Ross of Great Britain over War Debts. The result was a rumor of monetary truce between Great Britain and the U. S., whereby dollar and pound would be "losely" pegged while the U. S. pursued its gold buying program. Observers predicted that Sir Frederick would soon go home without anything having been settled except another "token payment" by Great Britain in December signifying that her debt still stands and will be paid in part, whenever the U. S. decides how many of what kind of dollars it will accept.

After two more conferences President Roosevelt persuaded the "captive" coal mine owners of Pennsylvania to grant their employees the check-off system, whereby the company pays a miner's union dues for him out of his wages. This concession was expected to end the long-lived captive mine strike.

Moscow, Russia, has never had a golf course. Soviets sports writers have often stigmatized the game as "hopelessly bourgois." Abruptly last week the Soviet State announced that a Moscow golf course will be built at once, in the frozen dead of winter "to be ready for play by spring." Flags marking the Soviet holes will be red. Instead of crying "Fore!", Red golfers will shout "Davae!", Russian for "Give Way."

The student body extends sympathy to Miss Camper and Mrs. Jamison in their recent bereavement.

Alumnae News

Dancing at the Fall Cotillion, held in the college the past Saturday, were the following alumnae:

Mary Scott Martin with Mr. Alexander.
Harriet Barnch with Mr. Womble.
Harriet DeWitt with Mr. Kline.
Betty Shields with Mr. Brumfield.
Nancy Putney Baker with Mr. Baker.
Janet Harris with Mr. Thompson.
Virginia Thornhill with Mr. Hardaway.
Josie Spencer with Mr. Cooke.
Mildred Mountcastle with Mr. Roach.
Frances Dorin with Mr. Humphries.
Kitty Lee Young with Mr. McAllister.
Mary Trimyer with Mr. Jones.
Dot Goodloe with Mr. Coleman.
Jenilee Knight with Mr. Linewearver.
Martha Sanders with Mr. Perkins.
Peggy Barham with Mr. Shannon.
Mary Conway with Mr. Henkle.
Margaret Hubbard with Mr. Hubbard.
Martha Wood with Mr. Stuart.
Dot Waynick with Mr. Merrey.
Mary Lou Pritts with Mr. Harper.
Virginia Ann Huntsberry with Mr. Shockey.
Norma Franklin with Mr. Logan.
Elizabeth Mason Blackard with Mr. Blackard.
Frances Dillon with Mr. Wingfield.
Jessie Smith with Mr. Hunt.
Nancy DeBerry with Mr. White.
Jane Grey Irby with Mr. Leddingham.
Martha A. Laing with Mr. Suit.
Mamie Showalter, Harriet Moomaw, Harriet Branch, Harriet DeWitt, Mildred Jackson, Alice Hardaway, Catherine Jones, A. J. Scott, Jane Royall, Margaret McCue, Nancy Burgwyn, Hazel Burgwyn, Connie Quarles, Ruth Floyd, Mary T. Rawls, Doreen Smith, Alice Wimbish, Thelma Stevens, Dorothy Ritchie, Kitty McLemore, Charlotte Hutchins, Martha Walters, Margaret Armstrong, Jane Brown, Patty Ellison, Coty Neale, Zell Ware, Nedra Bair, Virginia Marchant, Louise Munt, Virginia Lamb, Helen Cover, Margaret McCoy, Martha Moore, Margaret Gathright, Mrs. Walter Putney, Virginia Raine, Kathryn Royster, Lucy Livingston Dortch, Mildred Field Elmore, Dot Waynick, Gwen Daniel, Adele Hutchinson, Evelyn Delaney, Libby Borum, Mary Arthur Billups, Dot Legare, Virginia Ford, Margaret Davis, Virginia Goode, Lois Barnes, Anne Davis, Allie K. Libby, Lucille Tiller, Catherine Lunsford.

Born to Martha Faris and Bill Ware, a daughter, Martha Teel Ware, September23.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles M. McCauley announce the marriage of their daugh. Mary Elizabeth to Mr. Samuel Paul Hunter on Saturday, October 28, at New Hope, Va.

Dr. W. C. Archer of near Waynesboro, Va., announces the engagement and approaching marriage of his daughter, Mary Page to Allen Prewitt of Frankfor, K. The wedding will take place in November.

Announcement has been received in Crozet of the marriage of Russell Wolfe and Helen Goodwin Woolfolk.

Mrs. B. T. Taylor of Prospect was elected Red Cross roll call chairman for Prince Edward County this year.

The Art Department of the Woman's Club of Farmville had as its guest speaker at its last meeting Mrs. Edwin P. Lancaster who gave her impression of art in the Louvre and Dresden Galleries.

Miss Mary Bailey Watkins who teaches in Richmond ,is spending some time at her home recuperating after an automobile accident which occurred near Rice. Miss Watkins was badly shaken up but suffered no severe injuries.

Christie Harris who teaches at the Smithdeal Business College in Richmond, was in an automobile accident and is at the Johnston-Willis Hospital. The extent of her injuries has not been determined.

Statistical records of the physical education department at Sweet Briar show that hockey is deemed the favorite sport while tennis ranks second.

Did you know that the Prince of Wales and Prince George can both knit?

CAMPUS COMMENTS

Why wake a mile fora $1.50 dinner when you can reach for a 35c plate instead? Another tasting party—just like last year's—on Thursday afternoon. It's really going to be "Beauty for sale"—beautiful food.

Who had so many dates to take care of at Cotillion that the gym floor's paint is worn in criss-crossed paths? We're asking you!

Why is it the freshmen at the Cotillion were more than glad to dance with any upperclassman's beau upon request? It looks too smooth—who's been scattering whys and wherefores?

What certain girl so cleverly corners her dates at Cotillion? Isn't it a pity the distance between campus can't be kept equally well? Difficult moments—tsk, tsk tsk. Were you there?

Elizabeth Shipplett thought it quite inconsiderate that the library assistants should send her a second warning for a book overdue when she wasn't half through reading it.

Did you hear about the girl who tried out for the Choral Club and when asked if she sang mezzo answered, "No, 'The Star Spangled Banner' "?

We particularly remember two lines of chatter used Saturday that faintly reminded us of last spring. Let's recommend that both Richmond College and V. P. I. teach one of their smooth sons a new line to use.

You missed a treat if you didn't see the one-man zoo Sunday morning. Blame that shine on an alumnae—it was her date.

MISS MARY'S TEA PARTY

At lunch Thursday, 35 freshmen found small notes at their plates. These notes read thus: "Please come to my office immediately after lunch—M. W. Cox." Of course speculation as to what Miss Mary could want ran high and many were the rumors floating around. Finally, an upperclassman at one table gave us a clue. She said, "That's nothing to worry about. Miss Mary entertains the freshmen in small groups at tea ever year. Evidently you are the first group invited. You should feel honored."

Happy and still swelling with pride, one of the lucky group turned to one of the unlucky uninvited freshmen with:

"Oh, how nice of Miss Mary! Are you, too, invited?"

"No, but I hope I'll be in the next group," came the hopeful reply.

After lunch the invited group went to Miss Mary's office, still discussing the tea. For a few minutes, having the office to themselves, they continued to chatter and laugh, in joyful anticipation of the tea party.

Miss Mary then came in and was greeted by smiling faces. Her first words were:

"Now, I don't know many of you well at all—"

Of course everyone thought that this was her preliminary to announcing that in order to know us better, she was planning to entertain us at tea. But Miss Mary continued and like a bolt from the blue came the words: "I'm putting you on campus for a week."

It happened that not a single girl in the group had signed up even once to go down town, and to go down town without signing up is strictly against the rules of S. T. C. Although we had not understood this particular rule exactly, we realized we were in the wrong; consequently we were willing to pay for our mistake.

It was an interesting study to watch the expressions of the girls when Miss Mary made the announcement. Those expressions registered every emotion from absolute horror to astonishment. Frankly, we were utterly astounded!

The freshmen are taking this as a serious joke on themselves. It IS a joke—but not a laughable one. However, we intend to serve with a smile the sentence meted out to us. It is safe to say that once this week and Miss Mary's tea party are things of the past, these same 35 girls will be a little more careful hereafter in observing the rules, for all of us feel as the freshman who remarked: "I've been to tea parties, but never to one that lasted as long as this one.

POETRY

ACTUAL

This day is good for I have seen
A wind that mowed the final green,
A rocky stream where leaves had been.
This day is good, because the cold
Is gray, and all the scattered gold
Has crumpled; earth lies dark and bare;
Even the birds are black that face
On ragged wings through pewter air.

This day is good to taste and touch:
It has a sturdy flavor such
As summer does not proffer much.
The richness of the year has flown:
This day stands starkly and alone,
As honest and as staunch as stone.

Frances Frost

NIGHT

Night and a quiet lake,
Our canoe moves swiftly with the current.
The moon casts a silver path
That only our dreams can follow.
The moon sinks lower.
Our dreams slowly fade—
The night is gone.

N. G., '36

THE SWAN

Over a meadow of glass
(Dark rippled meadow!)
I saw a white swan pass
And her whiter shadow.

Like a shallop of snow, cloud-white,
From the water lifting,
Beauty of burning light,
The swan was drifting.

And I said, "O splendid swan,
You are justification—
Drifting in beauty on—
For the world's creation!"

E. Merrill Root

FROM OLD ROTUNDAS

November 19, 1920:

On the evening of Nov. 4, Miss Emma Norton Spear arrived in Farmville to take up her duties at the State Normal School as head of the Department of Reading and director of the Dramatic Club. She relieves Miss Leola Wheeler, who recently gave up her school work to do Red Cross work in Panama.

November 28, 1923:

The fire, discovered about 4:30 Saturday morning, completely destroyed the dining room wing and put out of commission the heating system to the main building. The archway on each floor was burned, the oil painting in the dome of the Rotunda was blackened, and the backs of the dining room doors were almost charcoal. Dr. Jarman's office alone on the lower floor was untouched. The entire south wing, including about fort-five bed rooms, the dining room, store rooms, cold storage, and carpenter's shop, with all the furniture, equipment, and machinery of these branches of the institution was lost.

The girls were sent home until notified to return. It is hoped that regular work will be resumed December 3.

November 10, 1926:

We are very proud to announce that the name of Dr. Elliot Walmsley has appeared in the "Who's Who in America" for 1926. Dr. Wamsley merits this honor from many standpoints—his abilitiy as an author, his interest in history, particularly that of the South, and his noteworthy success as a professor.

November 14, 1928:

Beginning with the Class of '32, the freshmen of this year, a student must receive an average of D on her work to permit her to return to college the next year, and she must make an average of C to receive her B. S. degree. Hitherto, a student was allowed to return if she maintained an average of D on half of her work.

November 19, 1930:

Dr. Walmsley said the other day he didn't play tennis any more, but we see he won the championship by defeating Mr. Coyner that memorable 19th, three years ago. Wouldn't you love to have seen that game? Wish they'd do it again.

SOCIALS

Jestine Cutshall visited friends in Lynchburg during the past week-end.

Mrs. Berger, who lives out from Farmville, had as her week-end guest, Ruby Vestal.

Several girls visited friends and relatives in Richmond.

Alberta Collings spent the week-end with her sister, Alfreda; Josephine Clayton and Joyce Sturm were the week-end guests of Miss Geraldine Clayton; Emily Meadows and Mildred Hancock visited Miss Dorothy Perkins.

Mary Banks Sullivan returned to school, November 4 after being at home almost a week because of her father's illness.

Lois Jenkins visited her parents in Ashland and had as her guests Armand Wilson and Grace Virginia Bobb.

Ila Evans visited Mrs. J. W. Evans in Clifton Forge for the week-end.

Many girls went home for the week. They were: Frances Horton, Dorothy Blair, Elizabeth Glass, Alice Elder, Madeline Guthrie, Estelle Wood, Mary Thomas Mayes, Eleanor Gibbs, Maude Jones, Wilma Denit, Elizabeth Billups, Helen Allen, Nancy Leigh Bland, Marjorie Bradshaw, Marion Bryant, Virginia Brown, Mae Burch, Grace Collins, Catherine Crews, Mary Cunningham, Mary Denny, Frances Elder, Lucille Good, Louise Jeffreys, Belle Lovelace, Elsie Mayo, Margaret Murry, Charlotte Parish, Florence Ranye, Georgia Spencer, Elizabeth Sutton, Bernice Scott, Edith Sanford, Mary Janet Stuart, Margaret Stratton, Irvin Staples, Mildred Slayton, Evelyn Wilson, Mary Elizabeth Wood, Mary Virginia West, Dorothy White, and Charotte Young.

Ava Simmons went home with Elizabeth Ransom of Dillwyn.

Anne Willson visited Miss Dorothy Andrews in Prospect.

Mrs. Bob Giles of Lynchburg had Dorothy Woolwine as her guest for the week-end.

Beulah Travis went to Richmond for medical treatment.

Anthelia Robinett visited Mrs. H. H. Dunkum of Worsham.

While in Portsmouth Mary McCarn visited Mrs. O. P. Murry.

Bobbie Mattox spent the week-end in Nuckols in the home of Elizabeth Davidson.

Edna Connelly, Irene Bryant, and Marion Layne visited in Gladys during the week-end.

INTERCOLLEGIATE NEWS

Temple University, Philadelphia, sets the unique record of having eight sets of twins among the student body—all but one having chosen the same department.—The Breeze

It is estimated that students at the University of Arizona, Tucson can obtain an education for as little as $320 including tuition and living expenses.—The Breeze.

The University of Chicago has the largest football stadium in the country. It has a seating capacity of 110,000.—The Breeze.

Experiments at the University of Michigan have proved that the cigarette ads are not all bosh. Lighting a cigarette actually aids in maintaining nonchalance in moments of stress.—The Sweet Briar News.

According to a professor at Washington University, students who aim for A grades are barren of personality. Those who get C are the ones who move the world. This may not be true but it is certainly encouraging for the most of us—Wilson Billboard.

At the University of Berlin the students are permitted a period of six weeks in which to analyze and select their professors.—The Sun Dial.

My love is went
He done me dirt
I did not knew
He were a flirt.

To all my friends—
My love forbid
That they be done
Like I've been did.

—The Breeze

MR. STRICK TO PLAY AT PRAYERS WEDNESDAY

Prayers will be time of deep spiritual reverence through sacred music on Wednesday evening. This service of worship is to be given by Professor Alfred H. Strick.

The College Choir, under the direction of Mr. Strick will sing at the opening and at the close of the service.

Mr. Strick will play a "Chorale" by Bach. This will be followed by the "Sonata Pathetique" by Beethoven and "Songs Without Words" by Mendelssohn.

200 BOYS ATTEND COTILLION DANCE

The boys attending the Fall Cotillion Club dance Saturday evening numbered approximately two hundred. The following list of those present is not complete:

Sam McLaughlin, Frank Whitehouse, Soup Campbell, Teddy Tower, Jack McCurdy, E. Owen, Fu Alexander Jut Prescott, Mo Phlegar, Billy Shannon, Bitt Spotswood, Beanie Dortch, Fred Vaughan, Bob Vaughan, Jack Harvey, Red Weisiger, Dick Edwards, Greene Lawson, Paul Edmunds, J. T. Llewellyn, Bonner Hasty, Pop Foster, Bob Pendleton, Jimmy Blackwell, Monk Franklin, Jack Taylor, Jimmy Taylor, Jack Jackson, Bill Anderson, Jimmy Perkins, Ed Poole, Lewis Roach, Bill Price, Bill Daughtery, Monk Merrey, Tay Jones, Roger Grant, Murrie Bates, John Cover, Cass Hardaway, J. P. Batte, Hume Doyle, Wesley Howard Suit, C. P. Holland, George Franklin Whitley, Alfred McKay, Henry Brothers, Richard Pond, Frank Hancock, Preacher Bouldin, Jimmy Powell, Ben Franklin, Bob Womble, Shirley Mullens, Jack Gray, Ben Parker, Jack Humphries, Claude Whitley, Peter Kline, Joe Kelly, Jack Van Lear, Bob Waldo, Bill Waldo, Travis Eppes, Frank Crockett, Larry Brown, Harry England, Raymond Brodie, W. D. Goode, Myron Henderson, Harry Breakwell, David Sawyer, Bruce Harris, Carter Whitehead, Billy Lipscomb, Lyle Graham, Ernest Williams, O'Ferrell Thompson, Shad Watkins, Charles McCown, Ash Huse, Albert Sturm, Bob Carson, Bill Freeman, Bobby Hudgins, Ben Moomaw, Dwight Rivers, Nick Jones, Charlie Ellis, Rees Tate Bowen, Pete Warren, Pete Trent, Pat Hatchell, Bonnie Williams, Eckie Sutherland, Dave Hinkle, John Grant, Howard Bouldin, Bob Brumfield, Dudley Raine, Russell McAllister, Kerfoot Stone, Tanner Kinnier, Ed Paulette, Merle Smith, Louis Hubbard, Jr., Tommy Garber, Howard Cooke, Ben Woodson, Frank Dunbar, Clarence Garrard, Cotton Walker, Roy Dillon, Ed Terrell, Bob Lineweaver, Bill tSuart, Elijah Baker III, Rusty Thompson, Harrison Jones, Henry Coleman, John Hunt, D. W. White, Charles Leddingham, Clark Bradshaw, Spencer Mullins, William Gilbert, Granville Crawford, Sidney Kellam, Bo Chittum, Winston Cobb, Jimmy Wilbourne, Larus Reed, Red Dameron, Russ Robinson, Will Henderson, Wiggie Showalter, Bryant Harper, John Wheeler, Tommy Wilkinson, Sandy Sandige, Beverly Farrar, George Wall, Art Wade, Bob Windley, Edwin Thornhill, Edwin Colbourne, Andy McLaughlin, Clayton Davis, Walter Turner, Montgomery Williams, George Wise, William Snipes, Toby West, John Ball, Fred Huffman, Harold Eggleston, Pick Garrison, Herbert Barnes, Roy Staunton, Cornell Berry, Tick Thorn, Winston Lawler, Cliff Prince, Criston Evans, Chan Curd, John Walden, Linwood Walker, Warren Ayers, Foster Dickerson, Billy Nelms, Hunter Turner, Buck Whitehurst, Joe Logan, Jim Shockey.

C. E. Chappell
COMPANY
Stationery, Blank Books and School Supplies
Cigars, Cigarettes and Soda
Farmville, Virginia

S. A. Legus
TAILOR
CLEANING
PRESSING
REPAIRING
Phone 203

MARY SCOTT MARTIN IS HOSTESS AT TEA

Miss Mary Scott Martin was hostess at a tea given at her home on Main Street from four to six, November 4 for the Alpha chapter of Sigma Sigma Sigma, the pledges, and chapter members, who are residents of Farmville.

The decoration on the lower floor of the house carried out a Hallowe'en scheme. Refreshments were in corresponding colors.

Mrs. C. B. Crute presided at the tea table. The hostess was assisted by her mother, Mrs. E. Scott Martin, Phyllis Denit, Helen Shawen, and Elizabeth Kelly.

The local members, who attended, were: Mesdames Walter Putney, J. W. Dunnington, Edwin Lancaster, H. M. Newbill, and Misses Virginia Potts, Banna Price Massey, Betty Shields, Virginia Sanford, and Margaret Armstrong.

MU OMEGA GIVES ALUMNAE BREAKFAST

The Mu Omega sorority entertained at a ten o'clock breakfast in their chapter room Sunday morning, twelve sister alumnae who returned for Cotillion. The breakfast of grapes, tomato juice, bacon and eggs, hot rolls and coffee was pronounced delicious enough to induce even the sleepiest out of bed.

The alumnae present were: Adele Hutchinson, Virginia Anne Huntsberry, Janet Harris, Virginia Thornhill, Martha Wood, Mildred Spencer; Josie Spencer, Mary Custis Burwell, Peggy Barham, Evelyn Dulaney, Nancy Deberry, Jane Grey Irving

GARDNER AND CROMER ARE NEW MINISTERS

Continued from page one

dist church in Richmond.

Mr. William V. Gardner of Tuscumbia, Ala., has accepted the call of the Presbyterian church here. Mr. John A. Redheard, Jr., former pastor, is now at the First Presbyterian church in Tampa, Florida. Mr. Gardner, who has graduated from both the Southwestern University, Memphis, Tennessee, and the Union Theological Seminary in Richmond, Va., and has traveled for one year in Palestine, preaches here on November 19. He is greatly interest in young people.

It is felt that Farmville is very fortunate in securing the services of both these ministers.

Correction in last week's Rotunda—Elizabeth Booth's name was omitted in the list of freshman commissioners.

MAY DAY COMMITTEE CALLS FOR STUDENT AID

The May Day committee composed of Edna Rawlings, Sue Yeaman, Margaret Eley, Louise Hyde, and Jac Morton, calls on the student body to aid them in selecting a theme for May Day this year.

Farmville's May Day has the reputation of being very unique, and for this reason the committee desires to have as many suggestions as possible from the students, so as to keep up this reputation.

A Spanish theme is being worked on, but as yet has not been completed. The committee especially desires to have suggestions for fantastic myths around which this theme may be developed.

Mrs. Fitzpatrick, who is faculty adviser for this group, joins them in urging as many students as possible to present material for this particular theme or any other theme which might be worked up for a May festival.

DRESS MAKING — DESIGNING
HEMSTITCHING AND ALTERING
SINGER SHOP
Third Street
FARMVILLE, VA.
10-4-3t

Kleanwell
CLEANERS AND TAILORS
Expert Cleaning, Repairing and Remodeling of Ladies Garments
Main Street, Opposite Postoffice
PHONE 98

Lucille Shop
"Just Across the Street"
Street Floor — Hotel Weyanoke
Apparel for the College Girls
Nuf-Sed

All Well Dressed Girls Do Not Deal At Dorothy May Store; But All Girls Who Deal at the Dorothy May Store Are Well Dressed

Come in and se the newst styles and materials. You will be surprised at our low prices!

THE DOROTHY MAY STORE
Main tSreet

NEW FALL SHOES
For the College Girls—
Straps, Pumps, Ties and Oxfords
$2.95—$3.50—$3.95—$5.00

Smart women who see these attractive shoe, get several pair at one time—street, afternoon, and sport shoes in different leathers and hades. They have a certain air of their own, and their designs are clever and decidedly new, besides being priced moderately low.

DAVIDSON'S

EACO THEATRE
PROGRAM NOV. 9 to 15

Thursday, Nov. 9
Barbara Stanwyck
Otto Kruger—Ralph Bellamy
in
'EVER IN MY HEART'
Here's a story for people who believe in love. "After you, my darling, no other man can ever matter." Is it the same with every woman? Is there always one man to whom she belongs? And is the man she secretly loves, always the man who loved her first? This picture will make you fall in love all over again.
Also "I Got to Sing a Torch Song" and Comedy, "The Laughs in the Law."

Friday, Nov. 10
At the request of Dr. Jarman, we will show one of the outstanding pictures of the year:
"MAECHDEN IN UNIFORM
with
Dorothea Weick
Who has just been signed by Paramount on a long-term contract.
The dialogue of this picture is in German, but the titles are in English. The picture is the sensation of two continents and has never been shown for less than $1. It is the first showing in Virginia. The action of the story takes place in a school for daughters of Prussian army officers—there are no men in the cast. The story is unusual and holds the interest to the very end. We feel proud of being able to show such an unusual offering for the first time in the State.
Prices for this picture: Adults 35c at night, and 25c at matinee. Not suitable for children.

Saturday, Nov. 11
Kathleen Norris' "WALLS OF GOLD"
with
Sally Eilers
Norman Foster
Peer into the life of this heart-hungry girl who played hard and spent fast to forget a secret love she had forsaken for Walls of Gold. Old age and money are no match for young love.
Also Tom Patricola in "Yeast is Yeast."

Next Monday, Nov. 13
BENITA HUME ADOLPHE MENJOU
in
'THE WORST WOMAN IN PARIS'
She's the worst woman in Paris; her armours are the talk of the town. It's a scandalous, spicy, dramatic story, and you'll love it.
Also Olive Berden, a Virginia Giarl, in "Gobs of Fun."

Next Tuesday, Nov. 11
EL BRENDEL—GEORGE O'BRIEN
in
Zane Grey's "THE LAST TRAIL"
Thrilling romance, vivid action, exciting adventure with a new twist in this story, one of Zane Grey's best. Don't miss it.
Also Chapter 2 of BUCK JONES in "GORDON OF GHOST CITY."

Wednesday, Nov. 15
Kay Francis
Edw. G. Robinson
in
"I LOVED A WOMAN"
The screen's man of thunder wraps his arms around the screen's woman of fire.
He built an empire as a monument to their passion, but found the love he truly sought only in its ruins. Heres' a rare treat.
Also Chapter 3, BUCK JONES IN "GORDON OF GHOST CITY"
Daily matinees at 4 P. M. Evenings at 8 P. M.
Adults, 20c at Matinees, and 25c at nights; except on percentage pictures. We hope an increased attendance will permit us to continue these prices.

Nannie Ruth Cooper Heads Hockey Team

Nannie Ruth Cooper, a senior, was elected Monday afternoon as captain of the S. T. C. varsity hockey team which will enter the tournament at West Hampton College, Richmond, Saturday.

In her freshman year Nannie Ruth became interested in athletics and all three years here she has been outstanding on class and varsity teams. Last year she was manager of archery and this year she is treasurer of the Athletic Association.

At the election of the varsity hockey captain Monday Miss Iler, coach of the team, reminded the freshmen and new girls on the squad of the qualities a varsity captain should possess.

Frankie McDaniel, Martha Putney and Nannie Ruth Cooper were nominated captain. Nannie Ruth received a majority of the votes in the election.

Since two S. T. C. hockey teams will enter the annual tournament at West Hampton Saturday, Nannie Ruth Cooper will be captain of the first team. The captain of the second team will be chosen later.

SPORTS AND MONOGRAM PRACTICES CONTINUE

Monogram Tests

Monogram practices will be held this Friday afternoon from 4 to 6 o'clock. Field and track events may be passed from 4 to 5 o'clock if the weather permits. Miss Iler and the Monogram girls will be there to help anyone who is interested in passing off the tests.

Tournament

The "Tennis Round Robin Tournament" nears completion as the final matches are being played off. Those entries who have not finished their matches will be eliminated from the tournament if they do not do so at once.

Archery

Archery practices are held every Thursday afternoon from 4 to 6 o'clock. Frances Horton, manager of orchery, and her assistant, Catherine Cooper, will help anyone interested in trying out for this sport.

TWO HOCKEY TEAMS TO LEAVE SATURDAY

Continued from page one

erine Irby, Frances McDaniel, Bess McGlothlin, Evelyn Massey, Audrey Mattox, Lelia Mattox, Martha Nottingham, Martha Putney, Kathleen Ranson, Kitty Roberts, Florence Sanford, Lelia Sanford, Muriel Scott, and Louise Walmsley.

William and Mary, Sweet Briar, Farmville and Harrisonburg State Teachers College Richmond Division of William and Mary, George Washington University, Salem College, and North Carolina College for Women are expected for the matches. Randolph-Macon Woman's College, Hollins, and Mary Baldwin will send picked players.

Westhampton College will have approximately 100 of the visiting players as guests. On Saturday all the participants in the games will be entertained at a luncheon in the refectory.

FRESHMEN BROADCAST FROM STATION R.A.T. AT FIRST CLASS SING

Continued from page one

heard after the Boswell Sisters (Elise Marshburn, Polly Wall, and Sue Mallory) had sung "Darkness on the Delta." Kate Smith graciously thanked everyone for listening! Then, Jennie Wheeler, of the Class of '33, who was back for the week-end, sang as a special feature and as the concluding number of the program "Mood Indigo."

The Freshman "Radio Sing" went over so big that many are expressing the belief that the Freshmen will win in the sing contest being put on this month by the sing committee between the four different classes in school.

50 STUDENTS ENJOY TIBBETT'S CONCERT

Continued from page one

of a Flea," and "Without a Song".

Mr. Tibbett was ably assisted at the piano by Mr. Stuart Wille who presented four numbers on the program and responded with two encores.

DEBATE TEAM TRY-OUTS TO BE HELD FRIDAY

Try-outs for the S. T. C. varsity debate team will be held Friday night, November 10, in the little auditorum, according to the announcement made at the Debate Club meeting last Thursday night.

Helen Smith, president of the Club, urged the members to take part in this preliminary debate. She invited those students outside the organization—freshmen, sophohomores, and juniors, particularly—who are interested in public speaking and debating to enter the try-out contest Friday night. The subject for discussion will be, "Resolved: That the federal government should control all radio broadcasting. "Speeches may be on either the negative or the affirmative side of the question, and they must not be more than five minutes in length. Refutations will not be given. Those girls selected Friday night will represent the College in a series of debates to be held with Hampden-Sydney some time before Christmas.

THIS AND THAT— SATURDAY NIGHT

"Have you met my honey?"—this from an excited maiden attired in a pale blue satin evening gown.

"No," replied the fair one who also was charmingly dressed in a lovely white creation.

"Do come and meet him. You will just love the way he dances. He is such a dear", and clutching her girl friend by the hand, she rushes off down the ball room floor, while the orchestra softly plays "Love Is the Sweetest Thing."

"Miss — this is Mr. —"

"Oh—I feel as if I have seen you before," coyly replies the excited miss.

"It is possible," he answers gallantly.

"Were you at V. P. I. openings" she timidly ventures.

"Pardon,—may I break?"—from a sophisticated sophomore.

"Jean, you must meet my brother. I have written him about you", came a piping voice from the other side of the gmn.

"Don't dance with that superior looking creature near the orchestra. He has had entirely too much attention," haughtily replied a fair coed.

"A uniform! I must become acquainted," hopefully sighed a young freshman.

"Could that be intermission? Shall I have to sit by myself? Oh, girls, let's all take intermission together. Don't you just love it?"

"Oh, the music has started. Only an hour more! I must make some time with that cadet."

"My dance."

"—And where are you from?"

"Please, mister. Do you mean it? How many have you handed that to? Is that the last dance? Write? I'd adore to."

STUDENTS STANDARDS COMMITTEE SOLVES STUDENT PROBLEMS

Continued from page one

Student Standards Committee, and three from the student body, whose duty shall be to list, each quarter, the names of those students holding office evaluated in points, and check the number against the average found in the registrar's office.

Third: That the Student Standards Commitee be allowed to take charge of cases in which students have more than fifteen points to decide whether the excess points can be allowed.

The Student Standards Committee is composed of the following members: Faculty: Miss Grace Mix, Miss Mary C. Hiner, Miss Virginia Potts, Miss Taliaferro, Miss Smithey, Miss Willie London.

OPEN FORUM

Dear Editor:

The noise and confusion in the dining room grows worse. Reminders of this do not seem to penetrate our consciousness, for we all realize that our meal would be much more pleasant without these two elements. We have forgotten that direstion is aided by the proper atmosphere during the consumption of our food. Think of other people, especially the person who reads the announcements, even if you yourself do not mind. Let's give this a few moment's consideration and I am positive that conditions will improve.

A Student

CHORAL CLUB TO HAVE CLUB ROOM

The Choral Club is rapidly completing plans for its new club room which is to be the former room of the language clubs including Le Cercle Francais, El Circulo Espanol, and Sodalitas Latina.

Mr. Strick, director of the club, conferred with Miss Smithey, one of the language club directors, and it was decided that the Choral Club should have entire usage of the room except once a month when the other clubs will hold their meetings.

The furniture for the room has been decided upon by the director and Choral Club officers. A sofa and chairs of a deep rust color will be bought by the club. Mr. Martin very kindly offered the use of an upright piano, and Miss Smithey is contributing a rug bought from the Choir of the College. Material for the draperies has been decided upon and these will soon be completed under the direction of Miss Tupper of the home economics department. Mr. Strick is having the bookcases, which already occupy the room mahonganized.

The club hopes to help pay for the room furnishings by selling food in the dormitories at 10:00 o'clock each night beginning tonight.

CLASS NOTES

Senior Class

The Senior class held its regular weekly meeting on Tuesday night, November 7. The vice-president, Sue Yeaman, presided in the absence of the president.

Reports of work done were made by the chairmen of the circus committee and the play committee. Elmer Foster asked the seniors to cooperate in every way possible to help make the circus a success. After Margaret Eley had offered the play committee's report which gave the class the choice of presenting an original production or of ordering a play, the class voted to present an original production.

Helen Westmoreland was appointed chairman of a committee to work on the banners for Thanksgiving.

Every class member was urged to come out for hockey practice.

Junior Class

All the seats in Dr. Walmsley's class room plus the aisles, window sills, etc., were filled when the Junior class had their regular weekly meeting Tuesday night.

Lelia Mattox asked all the girls who were planning to go home between now and the last of November to bring back material for another rummage sale.

The following girls were appointed to work out a plan for Junior Sing, Alva Sawyer, Iris Hart, and Helen Smith.

Jestine Cutshall gave a report on plans of circus committee after which the meeting was adjourned.

TASTING PARTY TO BE IN "REC" TOMORROW

Are you hungry for some delicious home-cooked food? If you are just "come and taste."

You are invited to come and dine in the "Rec" hall on Thursday, Nov. 9, from 5:00 to 7:30. You will have plenty of service in style, plenty of time to eat, plenty of good entertainment, and last but not least, plenty of food. It will have not only quality, but quantity; more than you could possibly eat.

All the "goodies" can't be named but what would you like more than nice fried chicken or country ham, and other things like hot rolls, pickle, and hot coffee to go with it? Perhaps you would like sandwiches, pie, cake, candy, nuts or—well, we have it all and more; anything you want.

If you don't believe you can get this and more in one meal just come and see. This is not just a "tasting party" but a "help yourself" party, and you eat until you care to stop.

Everybody come and bring your friends to eat "big dinner" where you can choose to suit your taste. Don't miss an opportunity to have more for your money than you can eat.

First Soph: "What kind of oil do you use in your car, Bill?"

Second: "Well, I usually start out by telling them I'm lonely."

FOOTBALL SCORES

Richmond 19; Roanoke 0.
Washington and Lee 7; Va. Tech 7
Virginia 6; Maryland 0.
W. & M. 14; V. M. I. 0
R. M. C. 43; Bridgewater 0
N. Carolina 6; N. C. State 0
Navy 7; Notre Dame 0.
Army 34; Col. 0.
Princeton 33; Brown 0
Yale 14; Dortmouth 13
Harvard 27; Lehigh 0
Alabama 20; Kentucky 0.

Mack's
BARBER AND BEAUTY SHOP
323 Main Street
We use the Frederick Method
Hair Cutting and Thinning a Specialty

Martin JEWELER
Gifts of Lasting Remembrance
317 Main St. Farmville
We give Jubilee tickets

Electric Shoe Shop
Will Fix Your Shoes While You Wait
BEST WORKMANSHIP AND LEATHER USED

SouthsideDrugStore
(On the Corner)
Films Developed
FREE
If bought at this store

YOU WOULD LOVE TO HAVE YOUR SHOES FIXED AT THE
Lovelace Shoe Shop
110 Third Street

WILLIS
The Florist
FLOWERS FOR ALL OCCASIONS
PHONES 181-273

Shannon's
Is Headquarters for the Best SANDWICHES
—and—
DRINKS
—in—
FARMVILLE!

Weyanoke
BEAUTY SALON
A Complete Beauty Service At Moderate Prices
What we have done for others we can do for you
WEYANOKE HOTEL
Farmville Va.

RICE'S SHOE STORE
Street and Dress Shoes
Dancing Slippers Dyed
Correct fits our speciality

WELCOME S. T. C. STUDENTS
We are glad to see you back and take this means of inviting you to make our store your headquarters. We have everything you need for your wardrobe.
THE HUB DEPARTMENT STORE
"Farmville Best Place to Shop"

GREETINGS, S. T. C.
from "The Style Shop for Ladies"
Now showing a complete line of college togs, ready to wear, millinery and shoes.
If it's new—it's at
BALDWIN'S
Quality—Price—Service

G. F. Butcher
High Street
"The Convenient Store"
FOR GOOD THINGS TO EAT AND DRINK

Gray's Drug Store
QUALITY—PRICE—SERVICE
Come in and Get Acquainted
We Are Glad to Have You With Us!
Farmville, Virginia

BUY YOUR TICKET TO THE FALL PLAY

THE ROTUNDA

POE

DON'T MISS THE BIG CIRCUS SATURDAY NIGHT

We Teach To Teach

Volume XIV | THE ROTUNDA, WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 15, 1933 | No. 8

Farmville Hockey Teams Split Victories With Harrisonburg and Westhampton

Many S. T. C. Alumnae Attend and Take Part In Tournament

STATE ALL-STAR TEAMS PLAY

Twenty-two members of the S. T. C. varsity hockey squad with Miss Iler, coach, arrived at Westhampton College, Richmond, last Saturday, November 11, at 10:25 A. M. for the second and final day of the fourth annual tournament of the Virginia Field Hockey Association.

Scoreless Tie

Farmville entered two teams in the tournament. The first team combated Harrisonburg's varsity at 11:30 A. M. in what proved to be a scoreless tie game. Neither team was able to pass the other's defending line. Several times Harrisonburg's forward line reached the striking circle and threatened for a goal, but every time the blue and white defense held its own.

The S. T. C. team played Westhampton's second team on the upper field at 10:45 A. M. Though the Farmville team was unable to score and let Westhampton slip by for one goal both teams displayed good passing and teamwork. The final score was 1-0, Westhampton.

All-Star Reserves

Frankie McDaniel and Mildred Gwaltney were selected as reserves for the game at 3:45 P. M. between the first and second all-star teams. Players in this game were chosen as the best ones from all those teams who entered the tournament. Five of the Sweet Briar College varsity were chosen to play on the State's all-star eleven and one on the second team. Westhampton had four players on the first team and three on the second.

The game between Westhampton varsity and William and Mary varsity Saturday morning ended with a 0-0 score. Libby Burger, who was an outstanding student here in her freshman and sophomore years, now a senior at William and Mary, displayed such excellent defending at the goal that she was selected as goal-keeper on the State's all-star eleven.

Farmville was represented at the

Continued on page 3 col. 2

Sophomores Present "Doll Show" at Sing

No one would ever realize that students at S. T. C. would ever go back to their "doll baby" days; yet, that very thing has happened. When the curtain rose Saturday night at "Sing" a most attractive doll shop was pictured on the stage.

At midnight, just after the clock had struck twelve, the inhabitants of the doll shop awoke and decided to have a joyous time before dawn. The four tin soldiers portrayed by "Red" Riddick, Sue Waldo, Virginia Widgeon, and Mary Banks Sullivan, began the party by a little "stepping" chorus. Then the jazz doll, Margaret Farrar, sang to her mates "My Cousin from Milwaukee."

Even the gingham doll and the calico cat, played by Elsie Truly and Louise Gathright, grinned as the program went on. The charming tin soldier, "Red" Riddick, begged the old fashioned doll, "Liz" Rogers to waltz with him, and as he gently lifted her from the piano, jealous glances were cast by the flapper doll, "Libby" Renfro, and even the rag doll, Billy Wilkinson.

The blonde doll, Lula Windley, was happily playing the piano when suddenly the clock struck six. Soon silence reigned.

State High Schools Organize Orchestra

Band, Chorus and Orchestra To Give Concert at John Marshall High School

Many students have registered and much interest is being shown in the state-wide high school and junior high school orchestra which has been organized this year for the first time. The music section of the Virginia Education Association is sponsoring a state-wide band chorus and orchestra made up of high school and junior high school students from all over the state. These three organizations will appear in joint concert in the John Marshall high school auditorium, Richmond, on Wednesday evening, Nov. 29 at 8 o'clock under the batons of their respective directors.

It is hoped that the concert will be so successful that these organizations will become a permanent part of the work of the state association, and that the gathering of students from all over the state will be a great stimulus to music study generally.

The students who participate have been chosen and trained by their local teachers and will have one massed rehearsal only under the director of the evening.

The orchestra will be made up chiefly of players from the following cities: Staunton, Roanoke, Lynchburg, Fredericksburg, Portsmouth, Williamsburg, Newport News, Farmville, Richmond and Norfolk.

A great many schools and private teachers who are not sending players this year promise many players for next year's orchestra.

ALPHA PHI SIGMA TO SELL FOUNDERS DAY STAMPS

In connection with the advertising for Founder's Day, Alpha Phi Sigma has been given a monopoly on the sale of Founder's Day stamps. The stamps have been designed in blue and white with an engraving of the Rotunda on the face. The stamps will be sold much as the Christmas seals are. The price is one cent per stamp, and students and alumni are expected to contribute to the advertising of Founder's Day through the purchase and use of the Founder's Day stamps which are to be placed on sale at the table in the hall after chapel Wednesday. They will be sent to the alumni associations all over the state and be put on sale at other places.

Add Alpha Phi Sigma to sell stamp

This advertising plan was an idea of the Founder's Day committee, headed by Dr. Jeffers. They decided to turn the sale of these stamps over to Alpha Phi Sigma.

B. S. U. CONVENTION HELD AT AVERETT

The Baptist Student Union held its annual state convention at Averett College, Danville, November 10-12. Representatives from thirteen colleges attended the meetings. Miss Mary Thompson represented Farmville S. T. C.

Inspirational addresses were made by Dr. John L. Hill, Rev. C. S. Grien, Dr. E. F. Campbell, and Dr. H. A. Porter. Students from the represented colleges also made interesting talks.

Averett College furnished informal entertainment for the delegates. On Saturday night a banquet was tendered to the more than one hundred students attending the conference.

MISS OLIVE T. ILER

The freshman classman who was presented to the student body in chapel this morning.

Freshmen Present Iler as Sponsor

The Freshman class presented its classman, Miss Iler, at chapel this morning.

After the devotional service, the class entered. As they marched, they sang the inspiring "Green and White". Then they were seated.

The curtains parted to show a ship scene, with Freshman sailors busily scrubbing the deck in preparation for their Captain's arrival. When everything was spick and span at last, the sailors in high spirits, gave a gay hornpipe dance.

Caroline Jones, president of the class, followed by the next ranking officers, entered and announced the Captain, the Freshman commanding officer and pilot—Miss Iler.

Miss Iler was then presented to the faculty and student body by the Freshman class president. Caroline Jones gave the hopes and high aims of the class of '37. After this the Freshmen rose in a body and sang at salute their classman song.

EL CIRCULO ESPANOL HOLDS FIRST MEETING

El Circulo Espanol held its first meeting of the year on Friday night, November 3, in the choir room.

After a short business session, Senorita Lucy Irving of Farmville, made a most interesting talk on her travels in Spain and on her impressions of the country. She stressed particularly the popular and well known Spanish bull fights, illustrating with pictures collected in Spain. Senorita Irving will meet with the club during the entire year.

Freaks, Animals, Westerners, Tumblers Will Perform at Annual Circus, Nov. 18

Crowning of Unannounced Queen, Dancing and Selling at Booths to Follow Stunts

PARADE TAKES PLACE AT 4 P. M.

Saturday night, November 18 is the date for the circus, sponsored by Alpha Kappa Gamma. The gym will serve as a large tent and will be decorated to suit the occasion. The circus will begin at 8:00 P. M., and admission will be 15c for adults and students, 10c for children.

At 4:00 o'clock Saturday afternoon the usual parade will pass through town. Each class will be represented by clowns and animals or in some similar manner. Town girls, riding horses, will lead the parade on High and Main Streets, and around the town.

Class Stunts

Only four stunts will be presented Saturday night. They will be given by each class and will last from 10 to 15 minutes. Since there are only four, the stunts will be more suggestive of a real circus than usual. Margaret Herndon, a Junior from Richmond, will be ring master.

Plans for the stunts have been completed. The seniors will have the most inhuman, unimaginable, horrible freaks one ever saw, and the Juniors will represent wild animals with dancing and an expert animal trainer. The Sophomores will present one of the greatest wild west shows ever given at S. T. C. Cowboys, bucking horses, and lassoes will be a part of the stunt. The Freshmen plans for tumbling indicate that it will be unusually good. Cartwheels, hand springs, and headstands, and other acrobatic stunts will be demonstrated.

Queen To Be Crowned

The circus queen will be crowned after the stunts are completed. The queen has been elected, but her name will be kept secret until the crowning Saturday night.

Each class and Alpha Kappa Gamma will have booths at the circus. Hamburgers, dopes, hot dogs, lollies, peanuts, and candy will be sold by the seniors and juniors. Dancing, fortune telling, and a fish pond will be conducted by the sophomores and freshmen. Alpha Kappa Gamma will sell Christmas cards.

A. A. Makes Plans For Thanksgiving

Alumnae To Play Pick-Ups In Addition to Many Class Games

Many alumnae are expected back for the color rush and hockey games which characterize the usual Thanksgiving day program. Alice Moore, Dot Snedegar, Hildegarde Ross, Gwen Hardy, Kitty Bully, Mary Frances Hatchett, Doreen Smith, Winston Cobb, Rachel McDaniel, Marguerite Massey, Duvahl Ridgway and Lucille Ciute have already sent word that they will be here.

Interest runs high in the student body at the coming of another Thanksgiving when each class is anxious more than ever to defend its colors.

Two hockey games are scheduled for Thanksgiving morning. The freshmen will meet the sophomores at 9:00 A. M., and after the first half, the juniors will play the seniors half of the junior-senior game.

The Athletic Association also is planning to entertain the alumnae at the Longwod cabin.

PRIMARY ORGANIZATION HOLDS FIRST MEETING

The Association of Childhood Education held its first regular meeting in the Biology Department on Thursday night at seven o'clock.

The president, Virginia Moses, welcomed the old members, visitors and supervisors.

Dr. Jeffers gave a most interesting talk on Elementary Science. He explained the place Elementary Science holds in the new curriculum and how simple Nature study may be changed into Elementary Science. He then passed around Books of Elementary Science for each of the primary grades. After the adjournment of the meeting, the association enjoyed discussions of many of "Nature's Children" in the Biology laboratory.

LOVELACE APPOINTED AS ATHLETIC EDITOR

That Belle Lovelace would fill the vacancy on The Rotunda staff left by the resignation of Elizabeth Billups as an athletic editor was announced by the editor today.

Belle has had experience on the staff and is well-informed on athletic news, being an A. A. council member.

"The Admirable Crichton" to be Given Nov. 24; Presents Ludicrous Situations

"The Admirable Crichton" will hold any audience spell-bound. This English play intrigues the reader with the tense dramatic scenes and sudden impetuosity of the actors. Every movement is filled with breath-taking enterprises, deep emotional flairs, and irresistible humor.

Miss Wheeler has trained the actors to almost perfection in their characterizations. Lord Loam is a cultural, snooty English peer with conventionalized courtesies (not spontaneous kindnesses from the heart). His three daughters are so very well bred! The servants are truly servants. Each character interests the spectator individually. How do a lovely lady and handsome lad look in tiger skins? And how do they act on a desert isle? The acting is indeed perfect!

Lord Loam's pretended philosophy of life is quite accidentally tested when he and his family are shipwrecked with their servants on an island. This place is an ideal setting to prove his "Back to Nature" theory. Everyone is free and equal; but, alas, left on their own resources. And what kind of practical ability have English nobility? This situation is displayed in the second and third acts.

The rescue is the climax for this sensational drama. Suddenly they are back in jolly old England and their adventure is only a beautiful, exciting memory out of their dull life of conservatism. Or is it? One never knows—does one? Until they have seen the play!

Cotillion Club Makes Changes in Its Laws

The Cotillion Club held a very important meeting, Wednesday, Nov. 8. Margaret Eley, the president, discussed the fall dance, bringing out the fact that it was entirely too crowded and suggested certain changes to remedy this.

She read the constitution and the club voted on the following changes:

1. The freshman new members will be voted on at the end of the fall term and bid at the beginning of the winter term.

2. For the spring dance, the old members can invite only one out-of-town girl and one boy. Alumnae can bring one boy and no girls. Under no condition can extra bids be got.

3. Instead of having all members in the figure, fifty girls, including the four officers will be elected for it. This will save much confusion.

4. A floor committee will be appointed to keep order on the floor during the dance.

The club agreed that a smaller dance would be more enjoyable both to the members and the guests. The measures passed will make the spring dance a more orderly affair, it is hoped. No definite date has been set

THE ROTUNDA

Member Southern Inter-Collegiate Newspaper Association
Member Intercollegiate Press Association of Virginia

Newspaper — National Scholastic Press Association — Member

Published by Students of State Teachers College, Farmville, Va.

Entered as second class matter March 1, 1921, at the Postoffice of Farmville, Virginia, under Act of March 3, 1879.

Subscription ..... $1.50 per year

ROTUNDA STAFF

Editor-in-Chief .... Mary Shelton, '34
Associate Editor .... Lelia Mattox, '35

Board of Editors

News ..... Evelyn Massey, '36
Make-Up ..... Katherine Hoyle, '36
Literary Editor .... Birdie Wooding Louise Walmsley, '36
World News ..... Velma Quarles, '34
Intercollegiate ..... Caroline Byrd, '36
Social ..... Marion Raine, '36
Art ..... Alice Rowell, '34
Feature ..... Elizabeth Walton, '36
Alumnae ..... Miss Virginia Potts

Reporters

Amis Montohery
Mary Hastings Holloway
Edith Shanks, '34; Mary Easley Hill, '34; Elizabeth Vassar, '35; Mary Elizabeth Alexander, '36; Lula Windley, '36.
Proof Katherine Coleman, '35
Readers: Grace Eubank, '36

Managers

Business ..... Mary Diehl, '34
Assistant ..... Elma Rawlings, '34
Circulation ..... Nell Oakey Ryan, '34
Assistant ..... Janice White, '35

The Rotunda invites letters of comment, criticism, and suggestion from its readers upon its manner of presenting and treating them. A letter, to receive consideration, must contain the name and address of the writer. These will not be published if the writer objects to the publication.

All matters of business should be addressed to the Business Manager and all other matters should come to the Editor-in-Chief. Complaints from subscribers as regards irregularities in the delivery of The Rotunda will be appreciated.

We should like to make an appeal to the Freshmen through the influence and ideas of the upperclassmen. This appeal is to help strengthen that spirit of friendly coperation which has always been so characteristic of our student body.

There is a stage in every development at which time has to be "taken out" to decide whether or not everything is progressing as it should. We have reached that stage when we realize that some doubts have arisen concerning our feelings toward each other.

Upperclassmen! Pause for a minute. Recall your Freshman days. Do you remember how awed we were by that big thing called "college?" How we were actually afraid to assert ourselves? And how faithfully we listend to the views and experiences of the upperclassmen before us and looked to them for guidance?

A short time ago, an incident occurred that caused not a few of us upperclassmen to realize that we were not living up to what was expected of us. Talk floated around the school that "the upperclassmen had let the Freshmen astray"—more talk—"that the Freshmen were cutting classes, and, in general losing out in their school work." This realization has come to us strongly, and, now, upperclassmen, it is up to us to face it!

Freshmen, may we appeal to you directly! You have by this time become orientated to a certain extent into the practices and ideals of the college. This orientation, you must realize, is a gradual process. You have and will receive much from the college and its upperclassmen; you will give much in return. Strengthen your ideals by receiving the best, and give the best back to your friends.

Mary Berkeley Nelson

BOOK WEEK

Once again book week rolls around, and we emerge from a siege of tests and examinations to the realization that there is such a thing as recreational reading. "Growing up with books" is the theme which will be emphasized all over the length and breadth of the land this coming week, November 12 to 17, in bookstores, libraries and schools.

For the past few years "The land of the free, and the home of the brave" has been in the throes of a wasting illness—a depression it is called. Food and clothes we have in abundance, yet people are starving and naked. How to bring about a suitable distribution—that is the crying need. Lenior Rhyne students will, in an unbelievably short time be taking their places in this economic life, to sink or swim. You will be looking for jobs, wanting to make enough money, not only for the comforts of life, but for the enjoyment of some of the cultural things of life which your college experience is fitting you for. There are many books in the library, such as Chase's Tragedy of Waste; Beard's America Faces the Future; President Roosevelt's Looking Forward, which will help you to "grow-up economically." Are you interested or will you be content to join the already over-stocked ranks of the I don't know what it is all about—and let the president get us out of this miss?

There is the lowering and ever-threatening cloud of war hanging over the world. It has been said that the way to eliminate hatred and differences in the world is to understand the person or persons to whom this resentment of ours is directed. The age calls for internationalists, and the way to become internationally-minded is to read and study the problems of currency, trade, etc., which cause friction. The public must become intelligent and understanding, that they may create a sentiment for world cooperation. "But what am I," the college student says, " a drop of water in an ocean so why should I expend my time and energy to become grown-up internationally?"

Education does not stop with the diploma. Yet, if the student has formed no habits of independent study, if he depends on bells, classes, and instructors, to push him along the road to knowledge, he has failed to learn the most important trait which can be learned in college, namely, how to study. Now is the time to begin to decide on an independent course to become grown-up with some particular interest or hobby.

Growing-up with books means growing up with success, achievement, and developing a more understanding viewpoint.—hTe Lenoir Rhynean.

Alumnae News

Preparations Being Made for Luncheon at Westmoreland Club at Thanksgiving Meet

A grea deal of interest has already been manifested in the alumnae luncheon to be held at the Westmoreland Club in Richmond on Friday, December 1, at 1 P. M., during the Thanksgiving meeting. If you are in Richmond attending the meeting, you will come: if you are not there make an attempt to come for the luncheon. Reservations are coming in already and you may have a cover by writing to Mrs. Evelyn Dinwiddie Bass of Richmond, chairman of the committee in charge of the luncheon, or to Miss Pauline Camper, president of the State Alumnae Association.

Among the guests of honor will be Dr. J. L. Jarman, Dr. and Mrs. C. J. Heatwole and Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Eason. Dr. Heatwole is the executive secretary of the Virginia Education Association; Mrs. Heatwole was Miss Sue Porter, a former faculty member. Mr. Eason, also a former member of the faculty, is now in charge of the department of institutions of higher learning in the State Department of Education.

Dr. Jeffers, chairman of the Fiftieth Anniversary Founder's Day will be present and will give the plans for the Founder's Day celebration, which event promises to be the biggest of its kind in the history of the college.

Remember the date—Plan to be there—December 1.

GIRLS WILL BE GIRLS

"Just look at this darling bag I'm crocheting!"—and a lovely, half-finished black and white purse was held up for inspection. "Admirable!" chorused the others. "But you should see the gorgeous cream sweater that I finished last week," put in a laughing brunette. "Well, speaking of achievements, I have finished a quilt," triumphantly announced a precocious blonde with a twist of her fair head.

Are we dreaming or perhaps is it something we have eaten. Oh! no—why, of course! It's S. T. C. in 1884. But listen to this conversation streaming from a gathering of breathless girls, their hair blown back and their cheeks beaming. "Oh! we had the grandest ride—bicycling! Gleefully they told of marvelous escapades and adventures.

At this point three others entering with skates slung over their shoulders stopped the bicycle enthusiasts with their accounts of the latest skating news—"and did we have a time trying to teach Bets to skate! And the worst part of it is there's no mantle in her room." The rest of the story was drawned out by the uproarous laughter, and so we moved on.

"Yes, my dress is swooping the floor. In fact, it has a long train in the back, and a big red bow gives just a hint of a bustle. I'm going to wear my hair wound around my head, and won't I be fetching?" "Oh, you'll be fetching enough, but do you think you can get to Richmond in an hour and a half—in that second-hand roadster?"

Richmond in an hour and a half in 1884! Now we're all mixed up again. Ah! but dawn is breaking. It's S. T. C. true enough, but it's fifty years later. We've just been fooled by the knitting, etc. History surely repeats itself! But girls will always be just girls!

FROM OLD ROTUNDAS

The Rotunda of Nov. 11, 1922 was a number dedicated to our beloved friend and president, Dr. J. L. Jarman. The headlines read "Twenty-one Years of Jarman." In this issue varied topics were discussed upon the basis of improvement since Dr. Jarman assumed the duties as president of our college. In the center column of the front page was a cut of Dr. Jarman digging the first shovel full of dirt for the Student Building. The poem of this copy dedicated to him reads as follows:

For all he means to our beloved State
For all the wondrous power for good he wields
For all the kindness of his heart, that feels
A sympathy for sorrow—small or great—
We honor him, and fain would imitate
The life of service that he leads. He shields
With jealous care our youth—a care that yields
Rich fruit character it doth create.

And may his life with happiness be crowned
And may he live for many a coming year,
For wisdom and for kindness far renowned—
Our earnest wish for him we hold so dear.

The Rotunda, Nov. 11, 1923:

Nominees for the Poison Ivy Club

The girl who insists upon talking baby talk to every infant she sees.

The one who stays after class to hand the prof a line.

The one who tries to sing on all occasions.

The person who leads you to believe she has a colorful and vivid past.

The one who vows she has busted a test when she knows she has pulled an A.

The Rotunda, Nov. 2, 1932:

A library consisting of 300 books, magazines and subscriptions was presented to John Randolph School by Sigma Sigma Sigma sorority, Saturday, October 29, 1932.

Frank Carideo, former all-American quarterback at Notre Dame, has failed to win a single major game during his first two years as head coach of the University of Missouri.

World News

Sir Frederick Lieth-Ross and Ambassador Sir Ronald Lindsay of Great Britain left the White House last week without a smile. A few days later President Roosevelt announced that Great Britain would pay 7,500,000 U. S. dollars as a "token" on Dec. 15 instead of the $117,000,000 due.

Differences both of principle and personality have arisen between Secretary of Commerce Roper and NRA Administrator Johnson. They took visible form last week in the Swope Plan for putting NRA more under civilian control, As General Johnson flew West on an inspection and explanation tour, Washington talked again about his soon resigning.

Nervous strain crackles throughout the enormously complicated network of the New Deal boards, bureaus, councils and committees; however, at the White House tension is not yet felt. The President remains the easy, smiling, unhurried team-captain, super-charged with cheer, confidence, and encouragement.

OPEN FORUM

Dear Editor:

Don't you think something should be done about the noise made during study hour? This inconsiderate act of students has caused several girls that I know to fail or get very low grades on a test. Maybe somebody will say why not study every night and then tests would require very little reviewing. That's almost next to the impossible to do because of our hall mates making a play time from 7 o'clock until after 11 o'clock. I honestly believe that if all of us would study conscientiously every night, we would raise S. T. C.'s scholarship average at least ten points.

If every student would remember that the walls are not sound-proof, and that radio music at full tilt and the sound of tap dacing are not conductive to clear thinking.

Then too we must remember that lights are supposed to be turned off at 11 o'clock so we workers have to study in the early part of the evening. We don't expect our hall mates to tip-toe and whisper for what they want but we would greatly appreciate their cooperation during study hours.

A Student

Dear Editor or Social Editor:

If there were two hundred boys at the Cotillion dance and one hundred seventy-five were named in the Rotunda—why shouldn't the other twenty-five be named? It certainly would have given quite a number of girls satisfaction. Cerain girls up here have the satisfaction of knowing that their names or their boy friend's names will be in the Rotunda no matter what the occasion might be. Why can't the girls that are just Cotillion Club members have that pleasure? Think of the H.-S. boys that read the Rotunda and their fraternity brothers' names are listed, and theirs are not! S. T. C. girls aren't the only ones that are wondering. What was wrong with U. of R., R. M. C., and Medical College representation? Only one R. M. boy's name was mentioned. Wonder how the rest feel? Some of the boys who crashed the gates at the dance and got their name in the Rotunda? How do they rate?

Yours 'till next Rotunda!
Unrecognized Students

Dear Unrecognized Students:

As I do not know your names I can not come to you and explain personally the omission of names in last week's Rotunda. That would be the better way.

By accident the tickets were destroyed, and the club correspondent had to ask as many students as she could see for names, to make as full a report as possible. Had not the tickets been destroyed the list would not have been complete for it has been learned that many of the girls asked to keep their tickets as souvenirs of the dance.

With sincere regrets,
The Editor

HARVESTS

The mantling snow, the gentle rain,
Then the meadows green again
And poppies in the ripening grain.
But this vast blood-soaked battlefield
Groaning beneath the human shield,
Dear God! What harvest did it yield?
—L. H. '35.

A SECRET

I have a treasure quite unknown,
The dearest one of all I own.
It lies beneath the open sky,
Far from the high road rushing by.
A little spring—shaped like a cup—
Where joy is ever bubbling up.
And often through the lonely day
On eager feet I steal away
To kneel upon its fern-fringed brink,
And take a deep, cool sparkling drink.
—L. H. '35.

IDEALS

Faintly discernable, gently elusive,
Softly outlined by the sky and the dawn,
Escaping my fingers, evading my question,
Clearing my vision, inspiring me on,
And if I shall falter or turn eyes away
From the glory which promises dreams to fulfill,
There's something inside that defies understanding,
Yet leads me again to the path up the hill.
So all through my life, though it seems so unreal,
I must cling to the charm of my lovely ideal.
—Dorris Gaffney.

DISCOVERY

Oh, I have come to know by journeys far,
How happiness is found in simple things:
The Sabbath stillness of late afternoon;
A cottage silver-thatched beneath the moon:
A supper table blessed by evening grace:
Sweet benediction of the rain against my face:
Across the painted desert of the sky,
One lone bird's flight;
A garden where white lilies shine at night.
I often wonder who has set my task
Of learning where true joy is found at last,
—Perhaps it's God.
—Selected.

THE TAXI

When I go away from you
The world beats dead
Like a slackened drum.
I call for you against the jutted stars
And shout into the ridges of the wind.
Streets coming fast
One after the other
Wedge you away from me,
And the lamps of the city prick my eyes
So that I can no longer see your face.
Why should I leave you,
To wound myself upon the sharp edges of the night?
Amy Lowell

MY POTION

My heart is a bowl with golden rim,
Proudly I drink from its curving brim,
A wine that is wonderful, cool and clear,
Blended of laughter and joy and cheer,
Of music and splendor, of sparkle and shine,
Of fragrance and beauty, this nectar of mine.
Oh! if my bowl should empty be
What would sustain and nourish me?
L. H., '35

AT THE CROSSROADS

Whether we win or whether we lose
With the hands that life is dealing,
It is not we nor the way we choose,
But the fall of the cards that's sealing.
There's a fate in love and a fate in fight,
And the best of us all go under—
And whether we're wrong or whether we're right,
We win, sometimes to our wonder.
Here's luck!
That we may not go under!
Richard Hovey

SOCIALS

Eight girls from S. T. C. attended the Home-coming and dance at Washington and Lee University in Lexington during the past week-end These girls were Kathleen Bass, Jane Coulbourn, Mary Gilmer, Winifred Goodman, Martha Higgins, Virginia Hamilton, Mary Shelton and Mary Louise McNulty.

Marian Layne and Irene Bryant, went to Gladys for the week-end.

Many girls went home to visit parents and relatives over the past week-end. These were: Minne Adams, Jane Allen with Betty May Brown as her guest, Angorona Aydlette, Nancy Beard, Mabel Britt, Virginia Baker, Sarah Beck, Edith Coffey, Mildred Chandler, Nancy Dodd, Ruth Fleet, Kathryn Fitzgerald, Mary Alice Ferrell, Merwyn Gathright, Christine Childrey, Martha Glen Davis, Dorothy Glover, Susan Gresham, Kathryn Harvey, Mary Hastins Holloway, Bessie Hart, Bessie Hix, Hilda Inge, Louise Jeffreys, Dorothy Justis, Mary Jones, Caroline Jones, Rachel Jones, Barbara Kester, Virginia Leonard, Anne Mears, Mary Thomas Moyers, Dorothy Myers, Ella Mallory, Elma Rawlings, Dorothy Price, Elizabeth Ransom, Nelle Oakey Ryan, Elma Rawlings, Henrietta Slasbury, Christine Seay, Florence Sanford, Mildred Slayton, Wycliff Scott, Marion Shaffer, Inez Strong, Margaret Turner, Louise Van Lear, Amanda Wilson, Louise Wilkinson, Louise Whitehurst, Susie Webb, Ethel Winder, Maria Williams, Mary Mary West and Charlotte Young.

Virginia Bean, Margaret Dortch, Minnie Smith and Agnes Thompson went to South Hill for the week-end.

Four girls attended the dances at Annapolis, Md., the past week-end; they were: Claduia and Betty Barleon, Lois Moses, and Alliene Saunders.

Bell Buracher went to Luray for the week-end.

Phyllis Denit, Grace Eubank, Margery Anne Quarles, and Dorothy Stone went to Charlootesville during the past week-end.

To visit in Lynchburg the following left school over the week-end, Jean Foster, Eleen Howard, and Virginia Jones.

Mrs. Alevitt of Victoria had Frances Johnson as her week-end guest.

Many S. T. C. girls atteneded the Hampden-Sydney-University of Richmond game and dance in Richmond. Some of them yere: Helen Conquest, Margaret Eley, Doris Eley, Sara Goodwin, Lina Mae Gardner, Evelyn Garnett, Margaret Herndon, Sue Hume, Rachel Joyner, Bernice Jones, Evelyn Knaub, Elizabeth Kelley, Edna King, Irene Lacy, Eleanor Mitchell, Katherine Malone, Alice Magruder, Elibabeth Meredith, Jean McClure, Zella Newson, Dorothy Prescott, Edwina Richards, Lelia Sanford, Pauline St. Claire, Helen Shawen, Sallie Thornhill, Dorothy Wingfield, Elizabeth Ware, M. Webster, Virginia Waddell, Kathryn Woodson, Ethel Winden, Helen Allen, Burnley Brockenbrough, Helen Boswell, Mary Burgess Fraser, Louise Brown, Helen Rose Cunningham, and Katherine Conway.

Mary Virginia Johnson went to Crewe Friday to attend a dance there that night.

Virginia Moses spent the week-end in Chatham visiting her grand mother, Mrs. T. W. P. Moses.

JACQUELINE MORTON IS HOSTESS AT TEA

Miss Jacqueline Morton entertained last Thursday afternoon at tea at her home on Oak Street, in honor of the Zeta Tau Sorority. She was assisted in receiving the guests by her mother, Mrs. J. D. Morton. Mrs. W. C. Newman poured tea. A color scheme of orchid and silver, the colors of the sorority were carried out in the decorations and in the refreshments.

Among those who were invited to call, in addition to the local chapter, were Mrs. W. Edward Smith, Misses Bessie Jeter, Virginia Bedford and Mary Nichols.

Marquette University's football team has the fastest water boy in the world serving it. He is Frank Metcalf, the Olympic track star.

She: "Yes, I had you in my mind."
He: "How small you make me feel."

MR. ALFRED STRICK PLAYS AT PRAYERS

Mr. Strick gave a most beautiful and enjoyable recital at prayers Wednesday night. The following selections were rendered:

A Chorale ..... Bach
Sonato Pathelique ..... Beethoven
2 Songs Without Words. Mendelssohn

NOVEMBER IN VIRGINIA

November in Virginia—it's very sound is fascinating. Does it not bring up very vivid pictures? As I think back I can see a whole procession of November Saturdays, bright, glittering days. The cold sunshine glints palely on everything. A chill wind is blowing and my mother's cozy living room fire is very pleasant .The sky is like hard blue metal. It is very cold, early in the morning a sharp frost had crushed underneath our feet. The wind seems to cut through one like a needl, yet the air is invigorating, sparkling like clear colorless wine. The feeling of Thanksgiving is in the air.

Inside my mother's kitchen all is bustle and warmth. A steam rises on the air laden with the smell of good things. My mother and two or three helpers rush hurriedly about, various delicious eatables are in the process of construction. A fat turkey lies basting in the oven; golden brown pumpkin pies send forth a delectable aroma. Great chocolate cakes, beaten biscuit, pickles, canberry sauce of ruby hue, cheese cakes, and puddings, not to mention fluffy white popcorn to tantilize my appetite.

It is November—in Virginia. A magic month interspersed with snowy gray days and gay sparkling ones. It is harvest time, there is an abundance, and Virginia seems a lovely place.

MARGARET POLLLARD INITIATED AS MASTER IN ALPHA PHI SIGMA

On Tuesday, November 7, Margaret Pollard, having attained the requirements in scholarship and character, was initiated into the Masters Degree of the Delta Chapter of Alpha Phi Sigma which is the highest degree that the fraternity recognizes.

Besides having been a member of Alpha Phi Sigma for two years Margaret is outstanding in other school activities. She is a member of Pi Kappa Delta, honorary debating fraternity; the Debate Club; the Latin Club, and the Dramatic Club.

LOST COLUMN

Lost—a burnt orange Carter fountain pen and pencil set. Finder please return to the home office or room 15 C. H.

Lost: A pan and toaster which were rented from room 40. Please return there or to home office.

FARMVILLE HOCKEY TEAM SPLITS VICTORIES

Continued from page one

tournament not only by the teams which it sent and Miss Iler but also by a large number of alumnae who played in the tournament. Hildegarde Ross, Duvahl Ridgway and Lucille Crute were on the Roanoke team which played the coaches. Mary Gregory, another member of last year's graduating class, played on the Sweet Briar Campus Character's team which lost to the Westhampton alumnae 3-2.

Among other Farmville S. T. C. alumnae at the game were Rachel McDaniel, Marguerite Massey, and Gladys and Mary Jane Taylor.

C. E. Chappell
COMPANY
Stationery, Blank Books and School Supplies
Cigars, Cigarettes and Soda
Farmville, Virginia

S. A. Legus
TAILOR
CLEANING
PRESSING
REPAIRING
Phone 203

INTERCOLLEGIATE

The faculty of West Liberty College, West Liberty, West Virginia has adopted a new grading system. Instead of the usual "A, B. C." method they used the following: A—excellent, B—good, C—fair, D—passing, F—failing, and I—incompetent. — The Trumpet.

Mae West has received twenty-five letters addressed to "Come up and see me sometime—Hollywood." —The Alabamian.

Northwestern University students have the unusual rule of requiring that a student's picture must accompany his theme in order that the professor may know whose paper he is grading.

The Cotillion Club of Washington and Lee has signed Art Kassel and his "Kassels in the Air" for Thanksgiving hops. The V. P. I. German and Cotillion Clubs have signed Charlie Davis and Joe Haymes, respectively, for the annual hops. Reports from other colleges will appear shortly.

L. D. Simmons and V. Deitrich of V. P. I. will make a trip to Washington December 2 where President Roosevelt will present them medals as the best R. O. T. C. and C. M. T. C. students. V. P. I. should be congratulated for having both these honors bestowed upon her sons.

BETA PI THETA HOLDS MEETING

Beta Pi Theta held its regular meeting in the honors room Thursday, Nov. 9. Before being initiated into this fraternity it is necessary for students who have received the privilege of membership to write papers in French and present them to the old members. The program at this meeting consisted of the reading of these papers:

Versaille ..... Fannie Bosworth
Anatole France ..... Ann Putney
Victor Hugo ..... Carmen Clarke
Normandie ..... Katherine Walton

The papers of these girl showed much work and forethought. They will do much to hold up the high standard of Beta Pi Theta.

The meetings of Beta Pi Theta are conducted entirely in French. It is the aim of this fraternity to promote interest in French and to recognize high attainments in it.

What girl had such a heavy date from Court-land, that the "Rec" steps were truly wrecked? Well, rather—

DR. WALMSLEY SPEAKS AT PRAYERS

Dr. Walmsley concluded a series of talks on Buddha at prayers Friday night. He gave a short summary of the life and principal teachings of Buddha.

The principles of the Buddhist religion are still the same but the practice has changed. Religion has become commercialized; the worshippers are more impressed by the beautiful temples and shrines than by the teachings. Priesthood has become a profession. This is a fault of many other religions. People today do not think of religion as they have done in the past. The need for it is world wide.

Dr. Walmsley closed by recommending to us the talks on Confucius which will commence this week.

Lizzie, the maid on upper Student Building hall stopped a Junior the other day to request a little information about that "3 Z" fraternity on the door down there—"

DRESS MAKING — DESIGNING
HEMSTITCHING AND ALTERING
SINGER SHOP
Third Street
FARMVILLE, VA.
10-4-3t

Kleanwell
CLEANERS AND TAILORS
Expert Cleaning, Repairing and Remodeling of Ladies Garments
Main Street, Opposite Postoffice
PHONE 98

Lucille Shop
"Just Across the Street"
Street Floor — Hotel Weyanoke
Apparel for the College Girls
Nuf-Sed

LOOK "SMART" AT COTILLION
We are receiving stunning new evening creations daily in the glorious new high shades and the ever popular black and white. Taffeta, chiffon velvet, satin, and crepe $9.45 and $12.45.
Evening sandals in black, white and lovely pastels. All sizes. $3.97
Dance handkerchiefs, Sheer chiffon hose
THE DOROTHY MAY STORE
Main Street

SPORT WEAR
For the College Girl
One and Two Piece
KNIT SUITS & DRESSES
$4.95 TO $7.95
All New Styles
Colors and materials
DAVIDSON'S

EACO THEATRE
PROGRAM NOV. 15-22

Wednesday, Nov. 15
Kay Francis
Edw. G. Robinson
in
"I LOVED A WOMAN"
See the screen's man of thunder wrap his arms around the screen's woman of fire. The greatest scandal of the age was a moment to their passion. The stirring romance of a man who had everything he wanted but love—and a woman who wanted everything, including love.
Also Buddy's High Jinks and Chapter 2 "Gordon of Ghost City".

Thursday and Friday Nov. 16 and 17
Mary Brian
Roger Prior, Alexander Gray
in
"MOONLIGHT AND PRETZELS"
Here's the grand and glorious musical comedy-drama with a host of stage, screen and radio stars! with Four Eton Boys, Jack Denny and Orchestra, Frank & Milt Britton Band and Other Prominent Radio Entertainers and 50 of New York's most Beautiful Girls!
Added Attraction
NOTRE DAME GLEE CLUB

Saturday, Nov. 18
William Powell
(as Philo Vance)
Mary Astor, Eugene Palette
Helen Vinson
in
"THE KENNELL MURDER CASE"
Philo Vance returns to match his wits with the master criminal of all detective fiction. Love, romance and thrills.
Also Screen Song, "Pettin' in the Park". Fox Movietone News

Next Monday and Tuesday November 20 and 21
Katharine Hepburn
Douglas Fairbanks, Jr.
in
"MORNING GLORY"
The human and real story of a small town girl who "just knew" Broadway couldn't get along without her. With oceans of faith and an empty purse, she went down the scale until a great love found her. Nobody knows what it is, but everybody knows what a sensation Hepburn is today. Don't miss it.
Also Goofytone News and Oswald the Rabbit in "Ham and Eggs."

Next Wednesday, Nov 22
Joel McCrea
Ginger Rogers
in
CHANCE AT HEAVEN
You lie, you steal, you fight to reach it—but when it comes to you with open arms and trembling lips, would you dare to take your chance at Heaven? The story of a boy and girl who paid the devil's price for it. The story by Vina Delmar, author of "Bad Girl."
Also Screen Song and Chapter 3 "Gordon of Ghost City."

THANKSGIVING DAY!
Irene Dunne
in
"ANN VICKERS"
Daily matinees at 4 P. M. Evenings at 8 P. M.
Adults, 20c at Matinees, and 25c at nights; except on percentage pictures. We hope an increased attendance will permit us to continue these prices.

Professor: "And are you sure that this story is original?"
Student: "Certainly it is."
Professor: "Great heavens! I did not think that I would live to see the day I would meet Rudyard Kipling."

COLLEGE HIGH SCHOOL SWAMPS FRESHMEN

The S. T. C. freshmen bowed to the College High School team in an exciting hockey game, Wednesday afternoon, November 3, when the final whistle was heard the Freshmen had not tallied, while the high school girls had pushed the ball across the goal line two times, making the score 2-1.

The outstanding players on the College High team were Kitty Newman, Estelle Mann, and Gracie Cobb. Newman was responsible for one of the points made by the younger girls.

Bess McGlothlin and Kitty Roberts proved themselves worthwhile material for their class team. They will be a menace to the Sophs on Thanksgiving.

The line-up was as follows:

C. H. S.		Freshmen
Newman	C.F.	Grainger
Cobb	L.I.	Moore
Wilkerson	L.W.	Yorke
Hamilton	R.I.	Boles
Mann	R.W.	Burger
Andrews	C. H.	Roberts
Solomon	R.H.	Dressler
Geyer	L.H.	King
Potter	R.F.	McGlothlin
Clark	L.F.	Parker
Green	G	Mann

Hamilton and Newman made goals for C. H. S. Another game will be played before the end of this week.

BASKETBALL PRACTICES TO BEGIN THURSDAY

Basketball practices are scheduled to begin next Thursday, Nov. 23.

Competitive games in basketball fundamentals will be held in the gymnasium for each class. These games will be for the purpose of stimulating interest in the practices and to show the individuals what position she is best able to fill.

Every student is eligible to come out to the basketball practices, whether or not she has played before. Since Sarah Beck and Margaret Parker are the only two on last year's varsity team back the chances of others making the team are better than last year.

SECOND HOCKEY TEAM ELECTS RANSON HEAD

Kathleen Ranson was elected captain of the second varsity hockey team Friday, Nov. 10, at a special meeting called by Frances McDaniel, manager of hockey. Martha Nottingham, Alma Foster and Kathleen Ranson were voted on by the players present.

Kathleen showed her ability as a leader last year as captain of the freshman basketball and volley ball teams. She also played on the varsity hockey squad and on the class baseball team. She was elected secretary of the Monogram Club last spring and has capably filled that office.

ARCHERY

The weather permitting the usual archery practices will be held on Tuesday and Thursday afternoons from 4 to 6 p. m., back of the Junior-Senior building.

TENNIS NOTICE!

There is a tennis poster on the A. A. bulletin board with the name of each person who has entered the tournament and the matches they are supposed to play or to have played. Those that are in the tournament please find out who you have to play and play them off as soon as possible and record results.

FOOTBALL SCORES FOR NOVEMBER 11

Richmond 13; H. S. C. 0.
W. & L. 6; Virginia 0.
Langley Field 9; Guilford 7.
Emory and Henry 25; W. & M. 6.
Car. Newman 16; King 6.
Alabama 27; V. P. I. 0.
Kentucky 21; V. M. I. 6.
N. Carolina 26; Wake Forest 0.
S. Carolina 14; N. C. State 0.
Davidson 24; The Citadel 6.
Georgia 7; Yale 0.
Army 27; Harvard 0.
Duke 38; Maryland 7.
Baltimore 52; Bridgewater 0.
Columbia 14; Navy 7
Ohio State 20; Penn. 7.
Princeton 7; Dartmouth 0.
Ohio U 0; Marshall 0.
Bluefield 20; Texas West 6.
Purdue 19; Notre Dame 0.
Carnegie Tech 0; Mich. State 0.

SPORT SLANTS

Freshmen! on Thanksgiving Day you'll get your chance to avenge the Sophs! Remember if you come out on the fray at the big end of the score you can toss your rat caps to the wind!

We hope it will be all quiet along the Rotunda third floor front Wednesday night before Thanksgiving this year! But we know there'll be no end of excitement in those quarters and in other banner vantage points.

The Red and White have heard that Hildegarde Ross, the fleet runner of '33 will be back to witness the early morning rush. They're going to make sure this year that she won't be running for their rivals. Maybe we'll see the Rotunda swarthed in a red and white banner for a change.

A. Moore our last year's varsity cheer leader, will be back here over the holidays. All of the upper classmen are looking forward to seeing her.

Soon the gym will be the scene of athletic prowess. Basketball practices begin next week. You don't have to be an expert to enjoy the sport. Come out and learn the little techniques and have fun along with it.

Why even Margaret Parker and Sarah Beck—our two 1932-33 "letter men" had to learn sometime. Maybe you'll be a star someday! Who knows?

NEW FOOTBALL GUIDE COMPILED FOR FANS BY GRANTLAND RICE

Gridiron fans who have been seeking a compact football guide embodying schedules, rules, past records, play diagrams and officials' signals may now obtain the new Grantland Rice booklet free of charge.

A complete schedule of games for the 1933 season is conveniently arranged so followers of football can be familiar with outstanding games when they are commented on during the Grantland Rice radio broadcast on Friday evenings.

The book contains an article on football strategies illustrated with diagrams of famous plays; simple explanations of the new rules and their evolution since 1869, duties and signals of the game officials and a complete record of 1932 football scores.

"In this booklet", writes Grantland Rice, "I have endeavored to give the football fans something for which I have long felt there was a real need. We have gathered those things which our experience makes us believe are the most helpful to the average person when watching a football game, or discussing it afterwards."

These booklets are being given away free of all obligations at all Cities Service stations and dealers.

More Wise Words

Movie—The one business on a sound basis!

Aviation—Stuff marked "poison"—one drop fatal!

Roof Garden—The place to sow wild oats!

Money—A substance lost more ways than won!

Alimony—Just a grass widow's pension!

Worry—A kind of interest paid on future woes!

"Dear Sue:
I take my pen in hand
To say that all is well,
Just that I'd scribble off a line
Before the dinner bell.
There's really nothing much to say—
So wrote Josephus Dyer,
And then he crumpled up the page
And tossed it in the fire.

"Dear Sue:
This letter-writing job
Is not my line of biz
I've put it off from day to day
But you know how it is.
I hope that you'll forgive me, dear,
I know that I'm to blame"—
And here he paused and once again
The paper met the flame.

Then inspiration gripped his pen
And filled his heart with hope
And with a smile he licked the stamp
And sealed the envelope.
Though short, it told what every girl
Desires the most to know:
"My darling Sue:
I love you true
Affectionately, Joe.

From The Daily Press

THE BEAUTY SCHOOL

By HELENA RUBINSTEIN

During the college years, more than at any other time of life, your hair is what you make it. Later on, when you are out in the world, you may spend time and money to keep your hair looking its best—perfectly waved; lustrous, becomingly arranged. At college—with allowances not all they might be—we must take care of our own hair to a large extent. I hope you will take care of it well, for these years are so important—not only for the sake of your appearance now—but for the sake of hair beauty through the years.

At the moment we are hearing a great deal about "halo" coiffures—a soft roll of hair or curls across the crown of your head, framing the face with an angelic smartness. Short or shoulder length hair is necessary for a good effect with this type of coiffure, and the hair should be soft and fluffy.

If you are going to arrange your hair this way yourself, first have a hot balsam oil treatment. Heat the balsam oil slightly and use a medicine dropper to apply it to your scalp, or dab it on with bits of absorbent cotton. Leave it on for 20 minutes, and then wash it off with a herbal shampoo. This makes your hair soft and fluffy, but easy to handle, too.

Hand-dry your hair by first bracing your forehead between your thumbs and forefingers, then spread the fingers through your hair and move the scalp gently back and forth. While your hair is still damp, comb a waving fluid or hair tonic through it and then put it up in curlers.

For the halo effect, make a part from side to side about one inch in back of the hair line. Comb this portion of the hair over your face, and make a second part also from side to side about an inch further back on your head. Put this horizontal section into curlers—about six will be enough. Roll the hair from the ends, toward the front, and fasten securely. The hair that was combed over your face should be curled in the same way, but when you remove the curlers from this hair, flatten it into ringlets, and leave the hair on the crown of your head in a soft roll. Then smooth your hair back over the ears, and either add additional curlers to turn it up softly all around, or tuck the ends under.

If you have a personal beauty problem on which you need advice, write Woman's Interest Syndicate, 522 Fifth Avenue, New York City.

Col. Calvin Goddard, director of research in Northwestern University's crime detection laboratory, predicts another major crime wave within the next few months.

JUNIOR CLASS NOTES

The Junior class held a short meeting in Room 22 on Tuesday night, November 14.

After the minutes were read and approved and the roll called, Frankie McDaniel thanked the clas for the birthday present given her last week. Minor business—such as wearing white for Freshman classman presentation on Wednesday, November 15; the class' selling sandwiches this week; the collection of penny fines for absences from class meetings; not having Junior "Sing" this week-end but having it the next; girls to help at the circus both and in the orchestra Saturday night; coming to "pep" meetings and suggesting new school yells; handing in verses to be used under Junior's pictures in the annual this year; the ending of post cards inviting last year's Sophomores back for Thanksgiving—came before the class. Inez Strong and Murial Scott were appointed to write a class "pep" song. Nancy Dodd, Mary Wicker, and Elizabeth Ware were selected as a committee to help Helen Smith with the float for the circus parade Saturday.

The meeting then adjourned to sing class songs and give yells for Miss Moran and green and white.

SOPHOMORE CLASS MEET

At the Sophomore class meeting Tuesday night a committee composed of Margaret Clark, Mildred Slayton, and Josephine Clayton was appointed to work on the "color rush" banners in collaboration with the Senior class. At this meeting it was also decided to charge a fine of one cent to all who do not atend class meetings on Tuesday night. This will insure larger and more interesting meetings and will also mean extra money for the class.

Mack's
BARBER AND BEAUTY SHOP
323 Main Street
We use the Frederick Method
Hair Cutting and Thinning a Specialty

Martin JEWELER
Gifts of Lasting Remembrance
317 Main St. Farmville
We give Jubilee tickets

Electric Shoe Shop
Will Fix Your Shoes While You Wait
BEST WORKMANSHIP AND LEATHER USED

SouthsideDrugStore
(On the Corner)
Films Developed FREE
If bought at this store

YOU WOULD LOVE TO HAVE YOUR SHOES FIXED AT THE
Lovelace Shoe Shop
110 Third Street

WILLIS
The Florist
FLOWERS FOR ALL OCCASIONS
PHONES 181-273

Shannon's
Is Headquarters for the Best SANDWICHES —and— DRINKS —in— FARMVILLE!

Weyanoke
BEAUTY SALON
A Complete Beauty Service At Moderate Prices
What we have done for others we can do for you
WEYANOKE HOTEL
Farmville Va.

RICE'S SHOE STORE
Street and Dress Shoes
Dancing Slippers Dyed
Correct fits our speciality

At THE HUB S. T. C. HEADQUARTERS

Twin sweaters sets at ... $1.98 and $2.95

Broguish Oxfords, with low or medium heels. You will love them, $2.45, $2.95 and $3.50. All widths and sizes.

THE HUB DEPARTMENT STORE
"Farmville Best Place to Shop"

Showing at special sale prices the newest in dress or sport shoes, for College girls!
Price $3.00 to $4.50
First quality pure silk hose, —all new shades ..... 85c pr., $1.00 pr., $1.25 pr.
If it's new—it's at
BALDWIN'S
Quality—Price—Service

G. F. Butcher
High Street
"The Convenient Store"
FOR GOOD THINGS TO EAT AND DRINK

Gray's Drug Store
QUALITY—PRICE—SERVICE
Come in and Get Acquainted
We Are Glad to Have You With Us!
Farmville, Virginia

REMEMBER
THE PLAY
FRIDAY NIGHT

THE ROTUNDA

POE

STUDENTS!
COME OUT
FOR BASKETBALL

We Teach To Teach

Volume XIV | THE ROTUNDA, WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 22, 1933 | No. 9

Crowds Throng to 1933 Circus Held Saturday Night

Meg Herndon, Ringmaster, Presents Four Class Stunts For Approval

PHYLLIS DENIT IS QUEEN

With music, flash, glitter, sparkle, spangles, pink lemonade, gay-colored balloons, hot dogs and last but not least, a queen arrayed in pink tulle, the 1933 circus given by the student body in the big gymnasium came to a triumphant conclusion on Saturday night, Nov. 18, at 10:30.

The circus was indeed a colorful affair. A large crowd of town people, Hampden-Sydney boys and other visitors, as well as students in the school, were present. The gymnasium was decorated with different artistically made booths and side shows, peanut and hot dog stands in carnival style. At intervals during pauses in the entertainment- vendors in the concession booths yelled to the crowd about hot dogs and prizes, while a lady gypsy told passersby that there were secrets in their palms that could be revealed for a price.

The circus stunts were divided into four parts—the senior stunt, the junior, sophomore, and freshman stunts. The sophomores were awarded the prize of $5 for the best stunt and the freshman class took second place as the next best.

Meg Herndon, as ringmaster, began the entertainment with preliminary words of welcome and greeting. She then introduced Mary Shelton, who in turn presented the senior freaks in their stunt.

Among the freaks viewed with fascinated horror were: The tattooed woman, the armless, legless woman, the bearded woman, the two-headed woman, a four-armed woman, the woman with the head of a lion, and the "Old-Fashioned Girl"whose gold-

(Continued on page 3)

Teachers Assigned To Winter Positions

The following girls have been assigned to teach in the campus training school: Katherine Hoyle, Alfreda Shields, Dorothy Stone, Frances Yester in the first grade and kindergarten; Elizabeth Davidson, Myrtle Hundley, Addie Lee Jarman, Beverly Wilkinson in the second grade; Doris Button, Eleanor Button, Josephine Clayton, Nancy Parker in the third grade; Emma Bingham, Sarah Elam, Virginia Snodgrass, Virginia Wilson, Margaret Wolfenbarger in the fourth grade; Agerora Aydlette, Dorothy McNamee, Addie Norflett, Margaret Pringle, Marion Wright in the fifth and sixth grades; and Mary Alice Glass, Mildred Slayton, Lula Windley in the seventh grade.

Mary Elizabeth Alexander, Caroline Byrd, Florence Tankard, Irene Bryant, Lucy Price and Jane Main will teach at John Randolph; Elizabeth Rodgers, Ruth Talbott, Harriet Garnett, Jeanne Gwaltney, Bell Burracker and Amanda Wilson at Rice; Virginia Lee, Marcia Vick, Grace Eubank, Billie Morgan, Marion Raine, Ruth Roberts, Ophelia Booker, and Mary Virginia Johnson at Worsham.

At the Curdsville rural high school, Margaret Glenn will teach Latin; Estelle Jones, mathematics; Alice Tweedy, science; Alma Foster, French; Ida Miller, English, and Helen Frances Allen, history. At Worsham high school, Elizabeth Kelly and Louise Bullock will teach history and Elmer Rawlings, mathematics and biology.

Ed Poole, who plays title role in "The Admirable Crichton."

Member of College Faculty is Honored

That Miss Mary D. Pierce, associate professor of education, State Teachers College, Farmville, Va., has been appointed a member of a national committee on education for the new America was announced in Washington, November 16, by Paul C. Stetson, superintendent of schools, Indianapolis, Ind., and president of the department of superintendence of the National Education Association. The new education committee will meet and report at the Cleveland convention of the department of superintendence, February 24-March 1, 1934.

Miss Pierce is a life member of the National Education Association and has for a number of years been a member of the department of superintendence. She has taken an active part in many other national educational organizations and is a former member of the executive committee of the National Association of Supervisors of student teaching.

The education department at Farmville S. T. C. has had the services of Miss Pierce for eighteen years She has done other work in education as county supervisor of elementary schools in Delaware and as city supervisor of elementary schools in Alexandria. At one time she was State Supervisor of Elementary Education and of Teacher Training in Alabama.

Seven national education committees have been appointed by President Stetson. These committees will work for the advancement of education in the United States. They will give their attention respectively to problems of teacher training, a comprehensive program of public education, financing the schools, education for the new America, a national outlook on education, the interpretation of the school to the public, and public education and public welfare.

DE-HO-EC CLUB ELECTS OFFICERS FOR SESSION

The Home Economics Club held its first business meeting of the year on Friday, November 10. The following officers were elected:

President ..... Mary E. Driscoll
Vice-President ..... Elizabeth Wall
Secretary ..... Virginia Saunders
Treasurer ..... Agnes Crockett
Reporter ..... Ava Simmons
Sponsors—Misses Tupper and Jeter

A new constitution was read and adopted and a program committee for the year was appointed with Elizabeth Wall as chairman. Plans were made for the initiation of new members and a committee was appointed to arrange programs and work projects for the year.

Definite Date Set For Founders Day

March 9 and 10 have been decided upon definitely as the dates for the celebration of the fiftieth anniversary of the founding of the college, according to an announcement made by Dr. Jeffers, chairman of the Founder's Day Committe.

The committee for Founder's Day and the administration considered March 9 and the first part of May as posible dates for the celebration. After such factors as the weather, the convenience of the date to the alumnae, students, and faculty, and the nearness of the date to other major school activities were considered, March 9 and 10 were selected as definite dates.

If the date in May had been selected, the annual May Day celebration would have been combined with the Founder's Day activities or dispensed with entirely. The comittee realized that May Day pageant at Farmville has always been one of the most outstanding affairs of its nature in the state and did not want this worthwhile activity left out of the school program. The May Day pageant will be held as usual this year.

The official date set for Founder's Day is March 7. The celebration is held on the nearest Saturday to this date; this year two days later than March 7.

Pans for Founder's Day are rapidly being formed. The celebration will last two days this year; therefore more work will be required to complete the program. Miss Bedford has announced to the faculty and student body that she will see about making any posters necessary for the program.

Dr. Joseph L. Jarman Celebrates Birthday

S. T. C. CLAIMS 31 YEARS

Dr. Joseph L. Jarman, the fourth president of S. T. C. celebrated his sixty-sixth birthday anniversary, Sunday, November 19.

Dr. Jarman has been president of S. T. C. for thirty-one years. During these many years, he has done much for the betterment of the school, with very telling results. When Dr. Jarman came here in 1902, there were only thirteen faculty members and fifty-eight students in the professional course. Today, under his administration, the college has a training school, a faculty of fifty-seven, an alumnae of 5,158, and a student body of 615.

Our president was born in Charlottesville in 1867. Left an orphan at fourteen, he was sent to the Miller Manual Training School where he won a scholarship to the University of Virginia. At the University, he devoted himself especially to the natural and physical sciences. After completing his course at Virginia he taught natural science at Emory and Henry College for twelve years. From there he was called to Farmville where he has made a great contribution to education in the commonwealth of Virginia.

GIRLS ORDER PICTURES FROM ANNUAL PROOFS

Orders for photographs from "Virginian proofs may be given to Elma Rawlings, photographic editor of the annual, at any time during the school session. Photographs for Christmas gifts should be ordered immediately A variety of styles of pictures at moderate prices may be chosen.

Photographs ordered a week or so ago are being delivered this week by Elma Rawlings. These pictures must be paid for when delivered.

Nancy Harrison takes the leading feminine role in the fall production.

Educators to Hold Annual Convention

The Virginia Education Association will hold its annual convention in Richmond, November 28-December 1.

The purpose of this convention is to bring together all the educators connected with the public schools in Virginia. Problems in the various fields of education will be discussed.

Miss Lizabeth Purdom of S. T. C., as orchestra director, has an important part on the program. Miss Mary E. Peck will talk to a group on the social sciences.

The main speakers of the convention will be Governor Paul V. McNutt of Indiana; Dr. John J. Tigert, at one time U. S. Comissioner of Education and now a college president; Charl Williams, the first woman supervisor of county schools and president of the National Education Association at one time; Miss Lucy Mason Holt, president of the Virginia State Teachers Association; Governor John Garland Pollard; Dr. Sidney B. Hall State Superintendent of Public Instruction.

POLLARD INVESTIGATES S. T. C. POOL PROJECT

Of interest to all the S. T. C. girls, is the fact that Governor Pollard went to Washington today for a conference with the Federal Board of Review at the U. S. Department of Commerce, where applicaion of State institutions of higher learning for Federal public work advances will be discussed. While there he will investigate among other things the swimming pool project for S. T. C.

SODALITAS LATINA HAS EDUCATIONAL PROGRAM

Sodalitas Latina held its regular monthly meeting on Friday, November 17, at five o'clock in room O. After the minutes were read and the roll called the president, Mildred Linthicum, asked that a set day for the club meeting be decided upon by next time.

Carmen Clark made a talk on "Italy, Land of History and Romance"; Mabel Britt, on "Venice, Home City of Marco Polo"; Mildred Linthicum on "Genoa, Home City of Christopher Columbus;" and Annie Anderson, on "Capri, the Island Retreat of Roman Emperors."

Virginia Brinkley made a very interesting talk on early Roman beauty culture. Elizabeth Shipplett explained the value of Latin in English as shown in the preamble to the Constitution.

The program was concluded with a clever little game, Latin pencil golf, in which everyone participated.

Admirable Crichton To Be Given Friday By Dramatic Club

Harrison and Poole To Lead Experienced Cast in P ay in Auditorium

CHARACTERS ATTEND SING

"The Admirable Crichton" a comedy by Sir James Barrie will be presented in the college auditorium Friday, November 24 at 8:00 P. M. The play given jointly by the S. T. C. Dramatic Club and the Hampden-Sydney Jongleurs, is the annual fall production of the two groups. This production is under the direction of Miss Leola Wheeler, the S. T. CC. dramatic coach.

The cast is as follows: Edward Poole, Crichton; Nancy Harrison, Lady Mary; Dan Jenkins, Lord Loam; Sally Thornhill, Lady Catherine; Martha Stein, Lady Agatha; Merle Smith, Mo Treherne; James Elder, Ernest; Walter Woodward, Lord Brocklehurst; Margaret Herndon, Lady Brocklehurst; Evelyn Knaub, Tweeny; Henrietta Salisbury, Fisher; Dorothy Justis, Grace Eubank, Granville Crawford, Margaret Farrar, Audrey Clements, Woodrow Mackey, Oscar Shumate, Sue Mallory, Chic Dortch, John Wagner, and Jesse Clore, other servants.

Edward Poole, who will take the leading role of Crichton, the butler, has been in a number of plays here. As a butler in "The Dover Road" given last fall, he showed his unusual dramatic ability. As Mr. Primm in "Mr. Pimm Passes By" he won the praise of the entire audience.

The role of Lady Mary, the eldest daughter of Lord Loam, taken by Nancy Harrison, is that of a lovely English lady. Nancy has played in a number of S. T. C. productions including "The Ivory Door," "The Yellow Jacket" and "Barthane."

The dictatorial father, Lord Loam will be impersonated by Dan Jenkins, a sophomore at Hampden-Sydney. Dan also took part in "Barthane, given by the Y. W. C. A. last year.

Continued on page 3 col. 2

Pi Gamma Mu Will Sponsor Mardi Gras

The Mardi Gras, an annual festival ushering in the Lenten season, will be observed at Farmville State Teachers College again this year. The local celebration, sponsored by Pi Gamma Mu, will take the form of a masked ball, and will be held in the college gymnasium on Shrove Tuesday, which falls this coming year on February 13.

The true spirit of this pre-Lenten festival will be reproduced as nearly as possible at the ball. Such an occasion is characterized by gaiety, light-heartedness, and frivolity. At this time, each person can temporarily abandon his own personality and play any role he chooses. Costumes and masks will contribute to this colorful atmosphere of fantasy and romance.

The queen of the Mardi Gras, elected by popular vote of the student body, will preside at the ball. She will be accompanied by a king, whom she choses from some Virginia college. Eight princesses, selected by a special nominating commitee, will comprise the queen's court. Each of these attendants will likewise choose a prince from some Virginia college.

Preceding the opening of the ball, the participants will parade up and down High Street, starting from the front of Student Building and ending with a figure on the ballroom floor.

40605

THE ROTUNDA

Member Southern Inter-Collegiate Newspaper Association
Member Intercollegiate Press Association of Virginia

Published by Students of State Teachers College, Farmville, Va.

Entered as second class matter March 1, 1921, at the Postoffice of Farmville, Virginia, under Act of March 3, 1879.

Subscription ..... $1.50 per year

ROTUNDA STAFF

Editor-in-Chief .... Mary Shelton, '34
Associate Editor .... Lelia Mattox, '35

Board of Editors

News ..... Evelyn Massey, '36
Make-Up ..... Katherine Hoyle, '36
Literary Editor .... Birdie Wooding
Louise Walmsley, '36
World News ..... Velma Quarles, '34
Intercollegiate ..... Caroline Byrd, '36
Social ..... Marion Raine, '36
Art ..... Alice Rowell, '34
Feature ..... Elizabeth Walton, '36
Alumnae ..... Miss Virginia Potts

Reporters

Amis Montohery
Mary Hastings Holloway
Edith Shanks, '34; Mary Easley Hill, '34; Elizabeth Vassar, '35; Mary Elizabeth Alexander, '36; Lula Windley, '36.
Proof Readers: Katherine Coleman, '35
Grace Eubank, '36

Managers

Business ..... Mary Diehl, '34
Assistant ..... Elma Rawlings, '34
Circulation ..... Nell Oakey Ryan, '34
Assistant ..... Janice White, '35

The Rotunda invites letters of comment, criticism, and suggestion from its readers upon its manner of presenting and treating them. A letter, to receive consideration, must contain the name and address of the writer. These will not be published if the writer objects to the publication.

All matters of business should be addressed to the Business Manager and all other matters should come to the Editor-in-Chief. Complaints from subscribers as regards irregularities in the delivery of The Rotunda will be appreciated.

THANKSGIVING SPIRIT

With each passing hour Thanksgiving day draws nearer. Everyone is familiar with the history and the usual celebration of this day. However, S. T. C. has an unusual way of making the holiday worthwhile. Class hockey games will be played November 30. Enthusiasm, gayety, and class spirit will be displayed by each girl on that day.

For many ears there has been a spirit of friendly rivalry between the red and whites and the green and whites here. Individual and class interest is stimulated each year by the reward of a color cup to the colors winning the most points in class games and in other ways. The freshmen and juniors work together as green and whites, and the sophomores and seniors form the red and whites.

The color rush, familiar to upperclassmen and wondered about by the freshmen, will take place Thursday morning. Although each girl will do her best for her colors, there will be, of course, no hard feelings towards her opponents. Each person will play fairly, openly, and vigorously, but all roughness will be carefully avoided.

Yet, amid the fun, laughter, and competition, let's not forget the true meaning of Thanksgiving day. It is a day for thanks—a day each and every girl should review the many things she has to be thankful for and forget the few things which she does not like.

It is said that the dollar is lower today than it has been in seventeen years. Still, not many people look down on it.—Roanoke Times.

BICYCLE RIDING

The country has become bicycle-minded! Why, with the fad raging all around us, could we not enjoy this sport here? A bicycle club could be formed and arrangements made to rent bicycles cheaply. If there were enough girls interested, one of our local hardware dealers could probably get us some second-hand bicycles to rent for a small amount of money. Or perhaps the younger town boys, who have wheels, would be glad to make some money by renting them one or two afternoons a week.

It would afford us no end of pleasure and a splendid means of getting plenty of fresh air and good exercise, and there's nothing better than bicycles for keeping the figure just right.

There are numbers of seldom traveled roads in and around Farmville; so riding would not be dangerous. The road to Longwood should prove attractive to bicyclists.

Let us form a bicycle club and make bicycle riding a popular sport at S. T. C.

JOIN THE RED CROSS

"The Red Cross is the highest expression of the humanitarian sentiment of the nation," said Charles Evans Hughes. This great organization carries on all the year but makes only this one appeal; it works in every needy section of the states but asks only a minor part of local contributions for national work. Only fifty cents of all membership contributions, whether of one dollar or more, is sent to the national organization; the remainder is used for local work. For many reasons, the local need is great this year.

All contributions will be most acceptable. Please put them in the lock-box under the Red Cross poster or in Miss Nichols mail box. For all contributions of a dollar or more Red Cross membership buttons and cards will be given. Join or contribute now.

It pays to be nice to the people you meet on the way up, for the are the same people you meet on the way down.—Walter Winchell.

Dating in the "Rec" may be necessary, but it certainly wrecks your dates!

Prohibition has been repealed in order to have money to pay liquor control commissions.

Dollars are worth less now than they were three months ago. But who are the people who have more of them?

Uncle Sam should soon be wealthy. He is making more than 35 cents on every gold dollar turned in.

ALUMNAE NEWS

Alumnae and members of the S. T. C. faculty on the Thanksgiving program of the convention of the Virginia Education Association are:

Miss Lisabeth Purdom who will direct the orchestra of Virginia school children, Nov. 29, 8 P. M.

Miss Pattie Garrett who will preside at the meetings of the music section.

Miss Mary Dinwiddie who will preside at meeting of the Rural Supervisors section.

Miss Etta Rose Bailey speaker in Social Science section.

Miss Lois Fraser, speaker in S. S. section.

Miss Mae Kelly, speaker in Teacher Training section.

Miss Mary E. Peck, speaker in Teacher Training section.

Miss Bessie Mottley, who will preside over the vocational and educational guidance section.

Mary Page Archer was married to Mr. Allen Prewitt on November 11 in Waynesboro. She will live in Frankfort, Ky., where her husband is engaged in the practice of law.

Carolyn Virginia Cochran was recently married to Mr. Donald William Hunter. They will live near Evington, Va.

Announcement has been made of the marriage of Ruth Carney of Charleston, W. Va., to Mr. Richard Fitzgerald Cralle which took place on November 28, 1931.

Gladys Garrett became the bride of Mr. Robert Mottley of Farmville on Wednesday, Nov. 8. Mr. Mottley is in the construction and contracting business in Farmville.

WORLD NEWS

A leisure time school, the first of its kind in the U. S., has been founded in Racine, Wisconsin for those high alumni who cannot find jobs or afford to go to college. The faculty is made up of employed professional persons who volunteered their time and unemployed persons who wanted to be teachers. The courses offered are delightful and interesting: gymnasium, social dancing, bridge, dramatics, art, creative writing, public speaking, literature, personality, life problems, library orientation, nature study, photography, astronomy, and philosophy. Starting on its second year, the Leisure Time School is now offering some work that will receive credit in the University of Wisconsin.

Miss Perkins, secretary of labor, provides the cheerful news that 85,000 workers were added to the nation's payrolls during the last month, and weekly wages increased $5,000,000. Since March, according to Miss Perkins, more than 2,800,000 workers have found employment, while payrolls in October were $70,000,000 above the March figure.

The President proposes to increase the number of jobs by 4,000,000. $400,000,000 has been set aside for that purpose, and Harry L. Hopkins, relief administrator, has given $500,000 to the Federal surplus relief corporation "to buy low grade Texas cattle at a minimum price of $1.75 per hundred pounds."

EDUCATION AS TAUGHT IN THE "REC" HALL

Stop-Look-Listen-and-Get E ducated! In the "wreck" ("rec") on Saturday and Sunday nights new types of classes are being taught! Courses of rare interest (somewhat similar to those offered in Courses I, II, and III) are being intensely taught and studied. It is being proved in these courses that "cute" girls—or rather those girls who manage to get a week-end date according to "Leap Year" technique—can graduate within a shorter time than those who do not take this extensive "wreckage" course.

These courses give much practice in doing artistic and modernistic dances; they also help one to wind in and out among the "seated" and "conceited" couples on the stairway. In fact, one soon has no trouble, at all, in stepping over-under-around-or even backwards, if necessary. Much grace and patience is necessary to master this "stepping" course. Sometimes we think maybe we had better ask Mrs. Fitzpatrick to suggest a few extra dances for these natural dancers.

Who would ever believe that Aunt Lucy would ever be an instructor in Locker writing in Course IV! To pass this course one must be able to write his own name and the name of the desired mate. This might appear to be a snap course, but all students know that in that little scribble of the hand, the handsome hero displays his character—his personality—and his obedience to law and order. Occasionally Miss Mary and Miss Potts are rather strict in grading the papers in this writing course.

Mr. Grainger and other members of the English department are daily teaching that adjectives describe nouns and pronouns; yet, judging by the conversation of the Hampden-Sydney boys, the professors there must be teaching that "girl" is the only noun that really requires descriptive, flattering adjectives.

Poetry, too, is a popular subject. At least ten minutes of each Saturday night is spent in the reviewing of love lyrics. Some of these recitations may serve as a model in Miss Wheeler's class. Here they get the proper "emphasis"—at least.

"Make history instead of reading it" is the basis of the several history courses offered here. Truly, social history is being made in the "rec" It is rumored that Dr. Simkins will be offered a research fellowship in this new field of social history.

JOURNALISM STAFF

Editor-in-chief .... Evelyn Massey
Associate Editor .. Laeta Barham
News Editor ..... Mary B. Sullivan
Make-up Editor ..... E. Vassar
Athletic Editor .... A. Montgomery

SUBTLETIES OF THE SUBTLE

A blotter is something you look for while the ink dries.

The theatre of today: a play, with a cast of eight or nine, attended by fifty or sixty dramatic critics and a couple of customers.

Has there even been a spot remover invented to remove the spots left by a spot remover?

A man always chases a woman until she catches him.—El Paso Times.

My notion of a wife at forty is that a man should be able to change her, like a bank note, for two twenties.—Douglas Jerold.

Alexander Woolcott on the theatre: "Nothing risque—nothing gained."

Sign on a street urchin's shoe box: "Shine free, tax 5c."

Minister announcing a special attraction for the evening service: "Come early if you wish a back seat."

The thing most needed in the American home today is the family.

She was a good girl as far as good girls go, and as far as good little girls go, she went.

The best thing for a headache is whiskey the night before.—Ed Wynn.

COMMENTARY

Critic

You're modest demure and retiring
Your life is a pattern divine,
You're not very keen at acquiring
What's properly known as a line.
While other girls step out to dances
You revel in Harold Bell Wright;
You frown at all casual romances
And turn in at ten every night.
You never have fallen for smoking
And cocktails are foreign to you,
The lads who wax rough with their joking
Are constantly labelled taboo.
A paragon, surely, of virtue;
A lady I'll vow to the core
And while my opinion may hurt you,
You're really a terrible bore!
—Don Wahn

"We understand that the Student's Aid at Vassar is publishing a booklet of advice for girls on house party dates. The title probably will be: "What Every Young Lady Should No."—Dartmouth Jack O'Lantern.

Have you ever noticed:
Elizabeth Booth's scarlet polo coat? Quite a bright spot on a dull day.
Marion Raine's new eyebrows?
Frances Crawford's new jewelry?
Mary Bowles likeness to Janet Gaynor?
"Mickey" Adam's likeness to Sylvia Sydney?
The good looking picture on Minnie Smith's bureau?
How really big Sue Gresham's eyes would be if she'd open them wider?
How glad we are to see Margaret Gilmer back?
How much we miss Marjorie Ramey?
How different girls at S. T. C. look down the street and in Shannon's from what they do in classes?

"When I nestle in his arms
Is he coscious of my charms,
Or does he long for someone new
The way I do?"

Did you know that:
"The girl a man will not forget
Is one whom he has never met."

We recommend:
That those "Tigers" who knock so savagely our Cotillion Club dances be reminded that attendance is not compulsory.
That a certain girl stop talking about her sister so much. She reminds us of Gracie Allen.
That a certain freshman stop telling the world about her boy friends. It was amusing at first to laugh at her. Now it's beginning to get on our nerves.
That a particular freshman first report herself for misdemeanors to the government, and then the "other fellow."
That the person who's writing this column knock off for a while. Adios!

SONGS FOR MANY MOODS

THE LAKE ISLE OF INNISFREE

I will arise and go now, and go to Innisfree,
And a small cabin build there, of clay and wattles made;
Nine bean rows will I have there, a hive for the honey bee,
And live alone in the bee-loud glade.

And I shall have some peace there, for peace comes dropping slow,
Dropping from the veils of the morning to where the cricket sings;
There midnight's all a glimmer, and noon a purple glow,
And evening full of the linnet's wings.

I will arise and go now, for always night and day
I hear lake water lapping with low sounds by the shore;
While I stand on the roadway, or on the pavement gray,
I hear it in the deep heart's core.
William Butler Yeats

WHERE IT LISTETH

Love came—
But when or how I do not know—
A broken, warping sadness,
An aching lonely madness,
Told me so.

Love went—
But where or why I do not know—
A sunlit singing gladness,
A starlit dreaming madness,
Told me so.
—Lexie Dean Robertson

ABSENT

I am wearied of being surrounded by things:
Books in their neat rows,
Magazines scattered about
Even my kitchen with its shelves of cheerful yellow bowls
Does not stir me:
I wander about my little house
Like the wrath of a happy yesterday
Hunting lost joys.
I have no right to miss you so—in my little house.
But once you sat with me before my fireside.
And now the flames blaze at my heart,
Mocking me with the emptiness of my house.
—Lexie Dean Robertson

MY SINS AND I

I took my little secret sins
Down to the creek to drown.
Five cunning ones of black and white
And two of shining brown.

I sat them down in one long row
And bade them meditate
Upon their foolish wicked ways
That led them to this fate.

They looked at me so wistfully
And promised to be good,
I yielded to their pleading eyes
And hid them in the wood.

And when I had reached home again,
There perched upon my sill
Were all those naughty sins of mine,
And they are with me still.
—LeLxie Dean Robertson

THOUGHTS WHILE WAITING FOR AN ESCORT

This date will be like any other date,
This man, like any man at all, I know
They say that all things come to them that wait.
But as for me I have not found it so.

I have not found it so; it seems to me
It is my lot to try to lose my heart
To someone "diff'rent"—who turns out to be
The last man's replica and counterpart.

His counterpart in ev'ry last detail . ,
There is no hope; oh, why this futile fuss,
This endless longing is of no avail;
I am no fool, I know it will be thus.

I know it will be thus—but all day long
I've prayed that just this once I may be wrong.
—Vera Van

SOCIALS

Where our friends spent the week-end: Evelyn Wilson, Crewe; Irwin Staples and Rose Somers, Burkeville; Eleanor Ware, Amherst; Julia Derr, Marian Layne, and Gloria Mann, Lynchburg; Mary Berkeley Nelson, Norfolk.

• • •

Bessie Hart and Nell Boswell, Rice; Bess McGlothlin and Mary Hastings Holloway, Durham, Henrietta Salisbury, Charlottesville; Audrey Hawthorne, Tac Waters, Sarah Elam, Lula Windley, Minnie Smith, Elizabeth Billups, Margaret Murry, and Frances Smith, Richmond.

• • •

Betsy Wilkinson, Virginia Hamilton, Elizabeth Kelly and Dot Prescott, spent Sunday in Lynchburg; Lucille Good, Mary Elizabeth Newcomb, Margaret Pollard, and Carmen Clark, were in Roanoke, Thursday.

• • •

Dorothy Johnson, Alice Campbell, Charlotte Young, Annie Via, Florence Raney, Lois Jenkins, Susie Webb, Mary Alice Driscoll, Dorothy White, Wilma Denit, Katherin Hurt, Frances Johnson, Mary Easley Hill were in Roanoke Thursday.

• • •

The following girls went home for the week-end: Grace Virginia Bass, Beulah Travis, Virginia Inge, Hilda Inge, Estelle Jones, Mary Virginia Johnson, Louise Jeffreys, Blanche Kahn, Marie Hundley, Virginia Hall, Ann Diggs, Audrey Clements.

Dorothy Glover, Kitty Chappell, Elizabeth Coleman, Rebecca Cousins, Irene Bailey, Marguerite Bradford, Fanny Bosworth, Elizabeth Booth, Kitty Hoyle, Laura Kegley, Emily Meadows, Lucy Miller, Marie Moore, Lucile Moseley, Dot Rausom, Hazel Smith, Marguerite Rollins, Gertrude Sugden, Mildred Slayton, Elizabeth Smith, Elizabeth Vassar, Maria Vick, Polly Wall, Virginia Widgeon, Ann Wilson, Gay Stieffen, Kathleen Johnson.

Josephine Smith, Margaret Pringle, Ruth Roberts, Dot Stone, Elizabeth Huse, Margaret Eley, Avis Dunn, Jean Foote, Marian Pond, Margaret Clark, and Anthelia Robinettte.

Ruth Montgomery and Rose Puller of South Hill were the week-end guests of Amis Montgomery and Virginia Bean.

STUDENT COUNCIL GIVES BANQUET TO DR. JARMAN

In celebration of Dr. Jarman's sixty-sixth birthday anniversary, the Student Council gave him a banquet at Longwood, Monday evening. The guests were Dr. Jarman, Miss Mary White Cox, Miss Jennie Tabb, Miss Potts, Mr. and Mrs. Emerson Jarman, Mr. and Mrs. Graham, Dr. and Mrs. Hardy and Mrs. Tilman.

The golf theme was carried out both in the decorations and in the entertainment after the banquet. Small paper golf bags with tiny golf sticks in them were used for place cards. In front of Dr. Jarman's place was an attractive miniature reproduction of a golf green on which his birthday present of golf balls was placed.

After a real banquet dinner, each person wrote a toast to the person on his left. These were collected, shuffled and passed out again to be read. Some of these toasts proved original and clever. Alice McKay then gave a toast to Dr. Jarman.

After the banquet, a golf romance was read. The characters' names and different places in the romance were omitted. The guests were given a copy of the romance and told to fill in the blanks with the name of the selection. Louise Hyde played on the piano. The heroine turned out to be "Annie Laurie", who later married her lover. "At Dawning." A prize of a large stick of candy was given to everyone instead of to the one musical enough to fill in all the blanks.

MISS TALIAFERRO ENTERTAINS AT TEA

Miss Carrie Brown Taliaferro entertained the Orange girls at a four o'clock tea at her home, Sunday, November 19. Those present were Miss Irene Leake, Wycliff Scott, Katherine Coleman, Leila and Florence Sanford, Dorothy Morris, and Katherine Conway.

MU OMEGA SORORITY ATTENDS DINNER PARTY

Miss Wheeler entertained the Mu Omega sorority at a delightful dinner party at her home on High Street. The plates were most attractively arranged. She was assisted in serving by Miss Helen Draper.

Those invited besides the active members of the chapter were Mrs. James Fretwell, Mrs. Cabell Fitzpatrick, Miss Margaret Hubbard, and Miss Helen Draper.

CIRCUS HELD HERE IS MOST SUCCESSFUL

(Continued from page 1)

en locks had never been cut. Especially notable among the freaks were: Honey Hamilton, who as a snake-charmer, charmed her audience; Margaret Morgan as the human skeleton; Barbara Kester as the wild woman of Borneo; Frances Horton as a fat lady; Dot Prescott as the midget, and Alice and Grace Rowell as the Siamese twins.

Frankie McDaniel and Belle Lovelace as animal trainers, went through the difficult and courageous feat of introducing the wild animals to the crowd. Camels, tigers ,lions, elephants, dogs, monkeys, a giraffe and others fascinated and frightened the crowd. Clementine, the elephant, and the giraffe, Andreona, answered some rather embarrassing questions in a perfectly truthful manner.

The sophomores presented next a most picturesque stunt . A mellow moon shone in the foreground while groups of cowboys and cowgirls gathered singing around the glowing camp fire. Especially good were "Home on the Range" and "The Last Roundup." Lily Farrar and Nancy Parker, as a rough-and-ready cowgirl and cowboy, gave a most amusing tap dance. Florence Sanford as the lady bareback rider, in a brief, frilly skirt and tights, was the most realistic.

The freshman tumblers, about 20 girls, next came out dressed in green shorts and white shirts, their class colors. They displayed such dargin courage in their death-defying stunts that they were awarded second prize.

The climax of the evening came when the circus queen was crowned. It was quite a surprise to the crowd, as no one knew who the queen was to be until she appeared and was revealed as Phyllis (Chub) Denit, arrayed in a billowing pink tulle. She was drawn in a white chariot by heralds, dressed in green and white uniforms.

As the grand finale, all the participants in the circus, led by the queen, around the gym.

As a conclusion to the gala evening, the Hampden-Sydney orchestra played an hour for a dance.

Our idea of an optimist is the guy who sits in the last row of the gallery and winks at the chorus girls.
—Rommer-Jammer.

The mystery is not why lecturers come—but why the audiences come.
—Sinclair Lewis.

SUNSET

The evening sun is sinking,
The sky is turning blue.
The golden west is pointed
Shades of every hue.

But now, the sunset's faded,
The gilded edges—gone
The wooded hills are shaded,
And memory is my song.

S. W., '37

C. E. Chappell
COMPANY
Stationery, Blank Books and School Supplies
Cigars, Cigarettes and Soda
Farmville, Virginia

S. A. Legus
TAILOR
CLEANING
PRESSING
REPAIRING
Phone 203

ZETA TAU ENTERTAINS AT PICNIC SUPPER

The Zeta Tau Sorority had a picnic supper at the Log Cabin at Longwood Friday night with Miss Bedford and Miss Nichols as guests.

Hot dogs wrapped in bacon were roasted over the big fire which blazed in the fireplace. Sandwiches and hot coffee also added to the delicious supper, followed by toasted marshmallows and nuts of all kinds.

Songs were then sung around the camp fire, and the evening came to a close with a truck ride home

DRAMATIC PLAY WILL BE PRESENTED FRIDAY

Continued from page one

The parts of Agatha and Catherine, younger daughters of Lord Loam, are to be played by Sally Thornhill and Matha Stein respectively. Sally, a junior, is a transfer from Bluefield College, and she has had acting experience in several high school plays. Martha, a freshman had the leading role in "Peg O' My Heart" in high school at Winchester.

Merle Smith is also an experienced actor, having had a leading role in "The Dover Road". This fall he takes the part of Treherne, a staid young minister.

James Elder, who will characterize Ernest, a favorite of the ladies, is a sophomore. He took part in "Barthane" last year.

Walter Woodward, who will play the part of Lord Brocklehurst has had six years of experience in St. Christopher's dramatic club and five years in the Drama Guild of Richmond.

Margaret Herndon as Lady Brocklehurst is an overbearing dominant character. She has had past experience as Bottom in "Midsummer Night's Dream", given last year at commencement.

The role of Tweeny, a pert, pretty young kitchen maid, will be taken by Evelyn Knaub, who played the part of Puck in "Midsummer Night's Dream."

Henrietta Salisbury who played in "Barthane" will impersonate Fisher, a haughty maid.

Saturday night, November 18, the characters in "Admirable Crichton" were introduced to the S. T. C. student body at "sing". Each spoke a few lines, thus characterizing his part in the play.

Down in the hills of Kentucky it costs them so much to haul their corn to market that they have to distill it first.
—The Log.

FROM 1923 ROTUNDA

The oldest good story is the one about the boy who left the farm and got a job in the city. He wrote a letter to his brother, who has chosen to stick by the farm, telling of the joys of the city life, in which he said:

"Thursday we auto'd out to the country club, where we golfed until dark. Then we motored to the beach and Fridayed there."

The brother wrote back:

"Yesterday we buggied to town and baseballed all afternoon. Then we went to——and pokered till morning. Today we muled out to the cornfield and gee-hawed until sundown. Then we supperred and then we piped for a while. After that we staircased up to our room and we bedsteaded until the clock fived"—Besin.

SLIPS THAT PASS

Exiled German professor seeks furnished apartment with view (six beds) near Columbia.—New York Times want ad.

It's difficult to find a view of more than five in that location.
—Richmond Times-Dispatch.

DRESS MAKING — DESIGNING
HEMSTITCHING AND
ALTERING
SINGER SHOP
Third Street
FARMVILLE, VA.
10-4-3t

Kleanwell
CLEANERS AND TAILORS
Expert Cleaning, Repairing and Remodeling of Ladies Garments
Main Street, Opposite Postoffice
PHONE 98

Lucille Shop
"Just Across the Street"
Street Floor Hotel Weyanoke
Apparel for the College Girls
Nuf-Sed

LOOK "SMART" AT COTILLION
We are receiving stunning new evening creations daily in the glorious new high shades and the ever popular black and white. Taffeta, chiffon velvet, satin, and crepe $9.45 and $12.45.
Evening sandals in black, white and lovely pastels. All sizes. _____ $3.97
Dance handkerchiefs, Sheer chiffon hose
THE DOROTHY MAY STORE
Main Street

SPORT WEAR
For the College Girl
One and Two Piece
KNIT SUITS & DRESSES
$4.95 TO $7.95
All New Styles
Colors and materials
DAVIDSON'S

EACO THEATRE
PROGRAM NOV. 22 to 28

Wednesday, November 22
Joel McCrea
Ginger Rogers
Marion Nixon
in
"Chance at Heaven"
Here's the popular Vina Delmar story that ran in Liberty magazine, of a rich girl and a poor boy, with Joel McCrea, Marian Nixon and Ginger Rogers so perfectly suited to their parts that you will become part of the picture yourself and enjoy every minute of it. You will live it with them and come out of the theatre happy.
Also Screen Song and Chapter 3, "Gordon of Ghost City" with Buck Jones.

Thursday and Friday
November 23 and 24
IRENE DUNNE
CONRAD NAGLE, BRUCE CABOT
EDNA MAY OLIVER
in
"ANN VICKERS"
Sinclair Lewis' book that startled the world is on the screen. Squeamish souls shudder at such realism; prudes may deplore its frankness, but no one will deny its devastating accuracy. "Let the whole world condemn me—whisper about me—malign me—what does it matter? I have found love." Here's a picture that is the living symbol of the times. Not good for children under 16.
Also Aesop Fable and Harry Warren and His Orchestra.

Saturday, November 25
Bruce Cabot
Betty Furness
in
'MIDSHIPMAN JACK'
Here's the spirit of Annapolis to day; photographed at the Naval Academy with the cadets taking part. The hero is placed on probation for sneaking out of barracks to make love to his superior's daughter. How he sacrifices himself rather than betray a friend; his fight back to good standing and the winning of the heroine, all make such an enjoyable and exciting picture, you will simply love it; so be prepared for excellent entertainment.
Also comedy, "On the Air and Off" and Fox News.

Next Monday and Tuesday
November 27 and 28
Dick Powell
Ann Dvorak
Lyle Talbot
in
"COLLEGE COACH"
Slashing, singing, inside-the-huddle facts about college football and the man who "master-minded" a push-over eleven into a million-dollar machine of thrills. With a score of famous gridiron stars in lightning flashes of football as it has never been photographed before. Also a love romance that will thrill you. Boy, what a picture for a college town! Is college sport a business? Is college spirit the bunk? See for yourself.
Also Musical and Fable Cartoon.

Daily matinees at 4 P. M. Evenings at 8 P. M.

Adults, 20c at Matinees, and 25c at nights; except on percentage pictures. We hope an increased attendance will permit us to continue these prices.

Mae West: "The difference between an old-fashioned girl and a modern girl is that the old-fashioned girl apologized for wearing make-up and the modern one apologizes when she hasn't any on.

A.A. Council Decides Color Rush Rules

The Athletic Association Council met Monday night in Miss Iler's office to decide on rules for Thanksgiving color rush.

The following rules were agreed upon:

1. No one shall be on the halls between 5:30 A. M. and 6 A. M. No runner shall leave her room until the first tap of the 6 o'clock bell.

2. The five contested places for the color rush shall be: Student Building, White House Hall, Rotunda, Library Hall and Senior Building.

3. There shall be ten judges, one of each color, at each place, to decide which colors go up first.

4. No one shall go on the roof of any buildings or on the colonnade. No ropes, ladders or such devices can be used.

5. Colors shall not be put on the hotel or at random over the campus. Banners are to be the only decorations used.

6. Nothing shall be painted and the hockey goal shall not be touched.

7. No water shall be thrown on the floor. Blocking, pushing and tripping are not allowed.

8. No inanimate objects are to be used such as frying pans, alarm clocks, trunks, etc.

9. No rooms may be rushed. Where a solid occupies a room, a representative of that color may run from there. Where rooms are divided in color a representative from each color may run.

10. The decorations in the Rotunda are not to be touched or harmed in any way.

11. No sorority rooms, private offices, or the library may be used.

12. Any infringement of these rules will result in a forfeit of that color.

ALUMNAE PLAY HOCKEY GAME WITH VARSITY

An alumnae hockey game will be played here Thanksgiving between the alumnae of the school and the varsity squad. After the game the alumnae will be entertained, with the squad at supper out in the cabin at Longwood.

The alumnae expected back are: Gwenn and Louise Hardy, Janie Williamson, Marguerite Massey, Juliet Jones, Martha Gunter, Rachel McDaniel, Dot Snedeker, Duvahl Ridgway, Hildegarde Ross, Theodosia Beacham, Elizabeth Walthall, Mary Gregory, Lucille Crute, Mary Frances Hatchett, Ella Putney, Elizabeth Hunter and Kitty Bully.

COLLEGE HIGH DOWNS FRESHMAN TEAM 3-2

In a rather equally matched game November 16, at 4 o'clock, the College High School team defeated the S. T. C. freshman hockey team 3-2.

This is the second time this fall the College High team has defeated the freshmen, having won the other victory about two weeks ago.

The College High School team this year is being coached by Martha Putney and Alma Foster.

The next combat for the freshmen will be next Thursday, when they meet the sophomores in one of the Thanksgiving class games.

The Chinese population in the United States, according to the 1930 census, totaled 14,954. That means more clean shirts for those American citizens who still have a shirt.

CALENDAR

Wednesday, Nov. 22
5:00—Y. W. C. A. Cabinet
7:00—Rotunda staff
7:30-8:30—Pi Gamma Mu
Thursday, Nov. 23
7:00-8:00—Kappa Delta Pi
8:00-9:00—Beta Pi Theta
Friday, Nov. 24
8:00—Dramatic Club - Jongleurs play.
7:00-8:00—French Circle
7:00-8:00—Gamma Psi
Monday, Nov. 27
7:00—Virginian staff
7:00—Athletic Association Council
8:00-9:00—Alpha Kappa Gamma
Tuesday, Nov. 28
4:15—Artists Dance Group
7:00-7:30—Classes
10:00—Student Council

AS THE EARTH TURNS

Gladys Hasty Carroll, New York: The Macmillan Co. 339 pages. $1.98.

Gladys Hasty Carroll in her first novel, "As the Earth Turns," claims to portray realistically agricultural life in Maine. And truly she succeeds. The book is thoroughly readable and, perhaps unsurpassed in its field.

"As the Earth Turns" is the story of one year in the life of the Shaws, farming folk in Maine. Their social activities — family dinners, church suppers, visiting, serenading, the coming of the peddler with his goods— are described. Everyday happenings— Jen's preparing meals, Mark and Ed's mowing hay, Cora's sewing—are related in an interesting, sympathetic way. Mrs. Carroll shows Mark's and Jen's and little John's love of the land, but her characters are not all of the same type. There is adventurous Ralph, who at twelve years of age runs away from the soil and becomes an aviator. There is Lize, who dissatisfied with the quiet country and with the lack of money on the farms, goes to the city to work. Then there are the rather lazy George, the talented Margaret, the studious Olly —all products of the farm. One eagerly follows the story of each of these characters through winter, spring, summer, fall and winter again. Not only does the author write of her characters during each season but also she describes the land itself in these seasons—snow-covered in winter, sweet-smelling from the new-plowed soil in spring and from new mown hay in summer, colorful in fall.

Mrs. Carroll uses rather short sentences and sufficient dialect to make her novel attractively New England in tone. The action is not slowed by long soliloquies and statements of philosophies or long descriptions. Instead it moves on, incident after incident in quiet unhurried procession. This book, though somewhat like James Lane Allen's "The Kentucky Cardinal" and "Aftermath," is not so sweetly romantic. It is more like life itself. It is truly a sympathetic and poetic, yet realistic treatment of farm life today.

DUSTY ANSWER

Rosamond Lehmann. Henry Holt and Co. 310 pages.

"Oh, what a dusty answer gets the soul,
When not for certainties is this our life."

With a theme like this we cannot expect to get light pleasure from reading "Dusty Answer". But we are held spellbound by its high note of seriousness and its ringing note of truth. When we finish reading the book, we are left with a bitter taste in our mouths, but we have to admit that life is like that after all.

"Dusty Answers" should prove interesting to all of us, for it is the penetrating story of a young English girl, Judith, who is confronted with many of the same problems all young girls have. The book begins with a sensitive recording of Judith's early childhood, of how the five cousins, four boys and one girl who lived next door to her country home, made with each other what she believed was an impregnable circle of closeness. But, eventually, through her love and understanding of them, she breaks into their circle and plays a definite part in each of their lives. Three of the men love her at some time, each in a different way. The one she loves, however, does not return her love except for one brief night. To realize that she had given herself up with the abandon and faith to love and to discover afterwards that she wasn't wanted or valued, was a bitter thing to her. Yet the memory of the ecstacy of that one brief evening of requited love lived on and became more real than reality to her.

Her college days at Cambridge are vividly portrayed. It is here that she meets Jennifer, a striking, unusually popular girl. All of the girls worship Jennifer, but it is Judith whom Jennifer loves best. Judith is fascinated by this vibrant, moody girl and finally learns to love her very deeply. In this love, too, she is badly hurt. Jennifer, fickle and unmeaningly cruel, fails to come back to Judith after their college days; consequently Judith's heart is left numb and unfeeling. Yet she has gained a little peace in that inability to feel deeply any more. That cycle of her life over, she must think of the future. But not yet.

Rosamond Lehmann tells this human story through Judith. It is Judith's mind and soul revealed. We are given the privilege to know this sensitive, beautiful girl in her entirety. We glimpse her soul on every page of the book and are captivated by its spiritual loveliness and understanding.

Teams Elect Heads For Hockey Games

The results of elections held Friday for class hockey team captains were heard Monday, November 20.

Mildred Gwaltney, better known as "Ecomie" was elected senior captain. Ecomie is president of the Athletic Association and is on the varsity squad this year. She played left halfback in the tournament at Westhampton, several weeks ago.

Lelia Mattox was elected junior class captain. She was captain of the sophomore team last year, and plays left inside this year.

Evelyn Massey and Louise Walmsley were nominated as sophomore class captains, Louise Walmsley receiving the highest number of votes. Louise was varsity goal keeper this year and assistant manager of tennis last year.

Katherine Irby who played on the College High team last year and made varsity second team this year, was elected as freshman captain.

MANY COME OUT FOR BASKETBALL PRACTICE

Basketball practice was begun on Monday, Nov. 20. An unusually large number of freshmen as well as upperclassmen came out for practice and there is promise for a very good team.

The first week or two of practice will be spent in learning general technique of the game. An average of two practices one week and three the next will be required for eligibility to a class or varsity team.

Belle LLovelace is basketball manager for this year. She has not yet selected her assistant.

Freshman
Sophomore
Senior college
Culture
Learning
Lots of knowledge
Phi Beta Kappa
Much enjoyed
Graduation
Unemployed. —Brackety-Ack

Boss: "Sorry, but I'm afraid I can't find enough work to keep my own men busy!"

Applicant: "Aw, take me on, Mister, I won't work hard."

B. S. U. COUNCIL MEETS; PLANS WORK FOR YEAR

The B. S. U. Council met on Monday, with Dr. Cecil V. Cook, to map out the work of the Baptist Students Union for the remainder of the year. This organization has a two-fold purpose: that of creating a more widespread spirit of friendliness among the Baptist girls (in particular); and that of acting as a connecting link between the Baptist girls on campus and the local Baptist church.

Bernice Scott, president of the Council, presided. She urged the Council members to seek out the Baptist girls and enlist them as far as possible in the work of the Union. Arrangement were made for students' night to be held at the local church every third Sunday night, beginning January 21. Mabel Britt, the B. S. U. reporter gave some very helpful suggestions based on the work on the William and Mary campus.

It is the desire and intent of the Council not only to cooperate with the Y. W. C. A. in urging all students to attend the church of their preference, but also to aid in any possible way.

Mr. Dollar (arriving at dinner party with family): "Please announce Mr. and Mrs. Dollar and daughter."

New Butler (announcing in loud voice): "Three bucks."—Wampus.

FOOTBALL SCORES FOR NOVEMBER 18

Richmond 15; V. M. I. 0.
H. S. C. 31; Bridgewater 0
Davidson 12; W. & M., 7
Duke 21; N. Carolina 0.
Centre 12; W. & L. 0
Princeton 13; Navy 0
Harvard 12; Brown 6
Cornell 7; Dartmouth 0
Carnegie Tech 19; Georgetown 0
W. Va. 26; W. V. Wesleyan 13
Notre Dame 7; Northwestern 0
Iowa 14; Purdue 6
Furman 0; S. Carolina 0

Electric Shoe Shop
Will Fix Your Shoes While You Wait
BEST WORKMANSHIP AND LEATHER USED

YOU WOULD LOVE TO HAVE YOUR SHOES FIXED AT THE
Lovelace Shoe Shop
110 Third Street

WILLIS
The Florist
FLOWERS FOR ALL OCCASIONS
PHONES 181-273

Weyanoke
BEAUTY SALON
A Complete Beauty Service At Moderate Prices
What we have done for others we can do for you
WEYANOKE HOTEL
Farmville Va.

RICE'S SHOE STORE
Street and Dress Shoes
Dancing Slippers Dyed
Correct fits our speciality

Mack's
BARBER AND BEAUTY SHOP
323 Main Street
We use the Frederick Method
Hair Cutting and Thinning a Specialty

Martin JEWELER
Gifts of Lasting Remembrance
317 Main St. Farmville
We give Jubilee tickets

SouthsideDrugStore
(On the Corner)
Films Developed
FREE
If bought at this store

Shannon's
Is Headquarters for the Best SANDWICHES
—and—
DRINKS
—in—
FARMVILLE!

At THE HUB S. T. C. HEADQUARTERS

Twin sweaters sets at ... $1.98 and $2.95

Broguish Oxfords, with low or medium heels. You will love them, $2.45, $2.95 and $3.50. All widths and sizes.

THE HUB DEPARTMENT STORE
"Farmville Best Place to Shop"

Showing at special sale prices the newest in dress or sport shoes, for College girls!
Price $3.00 to $4.50
First quality pure silk hose, —all new shades ..... 85c pr., $1.00 pr., $1.25 pr.
If it's new—it's at
BALDWIN'S
Quality—Price—Service

G. F. Butcher
High Street
"The Convenient Store"
FOR GOOD
THINGS TO
EAT AND DRINK

Gray's Drug Store
QUALITY—PRICE—SERVICE
Come in and Get Acquainted
We Are Glad to Have You With Us!
Farmville, Virginia

CLASS TEAMS CLASH TOMORROW

THE ROTUNDA

POE

BE ON THE HOCKEY FIELD AT 9 O'CLOCK

We Teach To Teach

Volume XIV | THE ROTUNDA, WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 29, 1933 | No. 10

Holiday Celebration of Thanksgiving Begins At Dawn

Famous Child Story Is May Day Theme

Nomination for Queen and Court Will Be Held Monday Night

TO HOLD CELEBRATION MAY 5

"Alice in Wonderland" has been chosen as the May Day theme and plans are undergoing fast development for the celebration to be held on May 5.

Alice, the leading character, will be crowned queen and choose as her court favorites from her garden of live flowers.

In order not to conflict with preparation for Founder's day, all plans for May Day will be completed before Christmas.

On Monday night, December 4, nominations will be made for the queen and her court by the student body. Each student may nominate one person for queen and ten for the court. It has been customary for the girl receiving the second highest number of votes to be maid-of-honor. This plan will be observed this year.

Since the queen is to play a very prominent part this year, it is most essential for her to have a great deal of dramatic ability. Only Juniors and Seniors are eligible for May Queen.

Besides these the queen as well as the court must have certain other qualifications, namely:

1. They must be representative of the student body in character, personality, and school spirit.

2. They must be dependable, responsible, and willing to work.

5. They must be "fair of face" if not beautiful.

4. They must be graceful and have poise. The carriage is of especial importance.

Exhibit Plans Made For Founders Day

The alumnae who are planning to return for Founder's day will be interested in knowing that an exhibit of the school will be held on the first day of the celebration. All the rooms in the school will be open to all alumnae and vistors. This will be done so the former students can see just what is being done in the school.

The student government will be in charge of the exhibit because it is really a student enterprise. The faculty-members are also interested in the project and are working on some phases of the exhibit. Students will be in the different rooms to explain what is on exhibition.

One exhibit of interest will be that of all publications connected with the school. Annuals, papers, catalogues, and publications of faculty members and alumnae will be shown. Anyone who knows of any books or papers written by alumnae of former members of the faculty is requested to send his information to Miss Craddock, Miss Waters, Miss M. K. Talaferro, or some member of the committee working on this project.

The exhibit will begin at two o'clock and the various rooms will be open for several hours during the afternoon. During the time there will be several informal teas where the vistiors may rest and renew old acquaintances.

Gamma Psi, art fraternity here, is working on posters for the Founder's day celebration. These posters will indicate the rooms and positions of various exhibits and give information to the visitors.

Admirable Crichton Proves Big Success

Students Actors Play Difficult Roles With Ease and Understanding

The fall production of the Dramatic Club, "The Admirable Crichton" a light comedy of manners by J. M. Barrie, which was presented in the big auditorium Friday evening, November 24, met with high approval from the audience.

Nancy Harrison, who as Lady Mary Lassenby, was cast in the leading role, played her part in a brilliant and realistic manner, showing a decided dramatic talent. In certain scenes she rose to unequaled heights. In the first and second acts she depicted the character of "a lady to the manner born" a spoiled, lazy, and insolent sophisticated woman of the world. Her bearing and voice were both good. In the third and fourth acts she had developed into a more sympathetic and unspoiled girl. Nancy Harrison proved her ability as an actress by playing the part of a wilful English lady each in a lifelike and natural way. There was no abrupt transition. She accomplished this with ease and grace.

Ed Poole as "Admirable Crichton" himself, played a rather difficult role with rare sympathy and understanding. His acting was not overdone. It had a quiet dignity and charm that was becoming when he was a butler and equally becoming when he was the "Guv."

Martha Stine and Sally Thornhill as Nancy's sisters the Lady Agatha and Lady Catherine Lassenby were equally good. Martha, who is a freshman, shows remarkable talent for one with little experience, and with training she should become a good actress.

Dan Jenkins as Lord Loam was excellent. His characterization of the naughty eccentric English peer left nothing to be desired. The make-up group of the Dramatic Club is to be praised for very creditable work done.

Continued on page 4, column 3

JUNIOR SING GIVEN ON THANKSGIVING

The Junior Class gave a most attractive sing in the auditorium on Saturday night.

Thanksgiving day at Farmville S. T. C. is a long established tradition, to the theme of sing, "Thanksgiving day at S. T. C. Fifty Years Ago," was apt as well as interesting. Lena MacGardner had charge of sing and all girls taking part were members of the Junior Class.

Meg Herndon was the announcer of each scene and explained it with clever coments. The first tableau disclosed two girls rising early on Thanksgiving morning, shivering and grumbling with a fire to build and ice to break in the water pitcher. The next picture showed girls gathering for church and lining up under the critical eye of the head matron, Sally Thornhill. The procession finally trailed out, dressed in the latest mode for fifty years ago. This last scene portrayed the terrific strain under which girls were compelled to entertain their dates at S. T. C. those many years ago.

The curtain is drawn on Thanksgiving day activities of fifty years ago, to open for the snappy entrance of green and white and red and white hockey players of today. Their colorful and peppy tap dance appealed greatly to the audience. Sing ended with everyone joining in to the strains of "Onward Farmville."

CALENDAR

Wednesday, November 29
5:00—Y. W. C. A. Cabinet
7:00—Rotunda Staff
7:30-8:30—Pi Gamma Mu
Thursday, November 30
6:00 A. M.—Color Rush
7:00 A. M.—Morning Watch
7:30 A. M.—Breakfast
9:00 A. M.—Hockey games
11:00 A. M.—Services at Episcopal Church
1:00 P. M.—Thanksgiving dinner
3:00 P. M.—Alumnae-Pick-up hockey game.
6:00 P. M.—Supper
Friday, December 1
7:00-8:00—Monogram Club
8:00-9:00—Sigma Pi Rho
7:00-8:00—Gamma Psi
8:00—Kappa Delta Pi program
Monday, December 4
7:00-8:00—Virginian staff
7:00-8:00—A. A.
8:00—Lyceum
Tuesday, December 5
4:00-6:00—Japanese Bazaar
7:00—7.730—Class meetings
10:00—Student Council

C. W. A. Meets Here With 300 Present

Prompt action by Virginia cities and counties seeking Civil Works Administration was urged Wednesday by William M. Smith, executive secretary of the administration before three hundred representatives gathered in the S. T. C. auditorium.

The meeting was entirely informative and interpretative in which the set-up and explanation of the program was made. The National Government is attempting to give work to four million unemployed, immediately. The employment will last until February 15.

The town council of Farmville is suggesting the following projects: the grading of an airport, construction of a playground, minor water and sewer extensions, cleaning out branches running through town, opening of ditches, repairing the armory, and improvements on the town cemetery.

SIGMA PHI RHO INITIATES SIX NEW MEMBERS

Six new members have been initiated into Sigma Pi Rho this quarter. Each of these girls has been outstanding in various activities during her years at S. T. C. They are the following:

Carmen Clark—Carmen is a member of Alpha Phi Sigma and Kappa Delta Pi, and she was business manager of the "Tributum" in '32-'33.

Anne Putney—Anne is a member of Alpha Phi Sigma, Kappa Delta Pi, the College Choir, and the "Virginian" staff.

Maude Rhodes—Maude is also a member of Alpha Phi Sigma, Kappa Delta Pi, and is an active worker in Sodalitas Latina.

Birdie Wooding—Here is another member of Alpha Phi Sigma, Kappa Delta Pi, member of Rotunda staff, and a girl of outstanding ability.

Katherine Walton—Katherine is our literary editor of the "Virginian" and a member of Alpha Phi Sigma and Kappa Delta Pi.

Lila Jacob—Lila is a member of the College Choir, Le Cercle Francais, and Alpha Phi Sigma.

Sigma Pi Rho is a national honor fraternity in Latin. The Virginia Alpha Chapter was installed at Farmville in November 1929.

An Unusual Lyceum Number to be Given

Mischa Tulin, George Hirose and Helen Gordon To Appear Monday Night

Mischa Tulin on the Theremin with George Hitose, baritone, and Helen Gordon, pianist, will present an unusual program Monday night, December 4, in the college auditorium. This will be the second of a series of artist numbers, and it will be very different from any held before. The performers are well known in New York, Boston, Portland, and the larger cities of the United States.

The Theremin is a new electrical instrument which produces many musical sounds. It has no mechanical aid or sources of sound, no keyboard, strings, or reeds. Mr. Tulin will show what can be accomplished on the instrument in his performance Monday night. The Theremin is capable of the most exquisite beauty and tone. The tone ranges from that of the basson, to that of the string bass, cello, viola, violin, flute, and that of the human soprano voice.

George Hirose, Japanese baritone, has received the most favorable criticism of his recitals. The New York Herald-Tribune states, "He proved to be one of the best baritones we have heard." His delightful voice, manly style in singing and clearness of tone were praised by newspapers of the larger cities.

Mischo Tulin and George Hirose will be accompanied by Helen Gordon, pianist, who will also play several solos. The program is composed of beautiful songs including "Ave Maria," "Invictus", "Life Thine Eyes," "Life" and many others.

PI GAMMA MU OFFERS SCHOLARSHIP AWARD

The Virgina Gamma Chapter of Pi Gamma Mu, national social science fraternity, is offering this year for the first time a scholarship award to that student who has shown outstanding ability in the field of social science. This award is to be in the form of a scholarship key and will be presented at the beginning of the spring quarter.

The basis upon which the award will be made is as follows: "Pi Gamma Mu offers a scholarship key to that student who, having a high average at the end of the fall term of the sophomore year, has by the end of the winter term completed at least five social science classes and ranked highest on a combination of grades in class and on an essay written during the winter term on an assigned subject."

Pi Gamma Mu is establishing this award not only to encourage high scholastic achievement, but also to create more interest in the social science subjects.

SENIORS CHANGE DATE OF CLASS PRODUCTION

That the Senior Class production, slated for the evening of December 8, would be postponed, was announced Saturday.

Because of conflicting entertainments, the Seniors decided that December 8 would not be a suitable date for their musical production.

Galli Curci, the noted opera singer, will appear in Lynchburg that evening, and it is expected that many S. T. C. students will take advantage of the opportunity to hear this famous personality. The Hampden-Sydney German Club is having their Thanks-

Continued on page four

Thanksgiving Plans Promise Excitement

Day's Program Includes Color Rush, Games, Thanksgiving Dinner And Other Features

Excitement and class spirit run high for the usual Thanksgiving celebration here tomorrow which will include the color rush, Y. W. C. A. pageant, hockey games, the Thanksgiving dinner, and parties for alumnae.

At the first tap of the six o'clock bell tomorrow morning red and white and green and white runners will dash out from their posts to the vantage points, the Rotunda, Student Building, Library Hall, White House Hall, and Cunningham. The colors of the successful runners will wave from these places all day Thanksgiving. Members of the student council will act as judges for the color rush.

By a ruling of the A. A. Council Monday night, no alumnae will be allowed to run in the color rush on Thanksgiving morning. However, alumnae will be expected to take part in the other activities of the day.

The Y. W. C. A. will present a Thanksgiving pageant in the auditorium at 7 A. M.

At 9 o'clock the green and white hockey teams will meet the red and white teams in the class games which are always highly anticipated and enjoyed by the students, alumnae and visitors.

The first half of the freshman-sophomore game will be followed by the first half of the junior- senior game. The juniors and seniors will finish their game after the second half of the freshman-sophomore game. The games are expected to be over in time for those girls who wish to attend the Thanksgiving service at the Episcopal church to do so.

Miss Mary Frances Hatchett who was graduated here in 1930 and who is now teaching in the Petersburg Junior High School, will assist Miss Iler in umpiring the class games.

To determine the winner of the10

Continued on page 4, column 2

Appreciative Group Sees Puppet Show

Miss Elizabeth Eggleston and her marionettes scored an excellent performance Thursday evening, November 23 in the little auditorium. They presented scenes from "Treasure Island", and the audience was very much impressed with the skill with which it was done. Exclamations of delight and wonder greeted each scene.

The boys who manipulated the marionettes and spoke the lines were Asa Watkins, Henry Massey, George Walker, Jr., Bill Thacker, Alexander Williams, and Ray Moore, Jr.

Some time ago Miss Eggleston with a group of these young boys formed a club and started what is known as the Globe Theatre at Hampden-Sydney. It is the only one of its kind in the state—for young people alone. The members of the club made all the marionettes from a combination of cotton, wood, and flour. This required a great deal of time and skill. Asa Watkins is the present head of the group. Their performance showed excellent training on the part of Miss Eggleston.

This entertainment was brought here through the efforts of Miss Hiner and Miss Foster of the English department.

THE ROTUNDA

Member Southern Inter-Collegiate Newspaper Association
Member Intercollegiate Press Association of Virginia

Newspaper — National Scholastic Press Association — Member

Published by Students of State Teachers College, Farmville, Va.

Entered as second class matter March 1, 1921, at the Postoffice of Farmville, Virginia, under Act of March 3, 1879.

Subscription ..... $1.50 per year

ROTUNDA STAFF

Editor-in-Chief .... Mary Shelton, '34
Associate Editor .... Lelia Mattox, '35

Board of Editors

News ..... Evelyn Massey, '36
Make-Up ..... Katherine Hoyle, '36
Literary Editor .... Birdie Wooding
Louise Walmsley, '36
World News ..... Velma Quarles, '34
Intercollegite ..... Caroline Byrd, '36
Social ..... Marion Raine, '36
Art ..... Alice Rowell, '34
Feature ..... Elizabeth Walton, '36
Alumnae ..... Miss Virginia Potts

Reporters

Amis Montohery
Mary Hastings Holloway
Edith Shanks, '34; Mary Easley Hill, '34; Elizabeth Vassar, '35; Mary Elizabeth Alexander, '36; Lula Windley, '36.
Proof Readers: Katherine Coleman, '35
Grace Eubank, '36

Managers

Business ..... Mary Diehl, '34
Assistant ..... Elma Rawlings, '34
Circulation ..... Nell Oakey Ryan, '34
Assistant ..... Janice White, '35

The Rotunda invites letters of comment, criticism, and suggestion from its readers upon its manner of presenting and treating them. A letter, to receive consideration, must contain the name and address of the writer. These will not be published if the writer objects to the publication.

All matters of business should be addressed to the Business Manager and all other matters should come to the Editor-in-Chief. Complaints from subscribers as regards irregularities in the delivery of The Rotunda will be appreciated.

COLOR RUSH

In the forthcoming color rush and Thanksgiving hockey games, it would seem necessary that we remember our standards of sportsmanship.

In the past, we have pointed to them with pride. They are well worth fighting for, even though they might spell defeat in actual competition.

We have heard, times uncounted, that it is easy to be a good winner, but sometimes very hard to be a good loser.

And it is hard to see another class succeed in putting up its colors, or win an important game and not feel more than a twinge of disappointment in our defeat.

But there is more to consider. Regardless of actual scores, regardless of actual victories, in our standard of sportsmanship there is an invisible scoring in times of defeat as well as in times of success.

We want our classes to have a pride in refusing to allow prejudices to rule, in refusing to put actual combat with an opposing class before sporting ethics, and in refusing to stoop to anything below our standard in order to win a temporary victory, or to ease the sting of defeat.

LAUDING JOURNALISTS

To the five girls who issued The Rotunda last week goes our sincere admiration for the interesting news items, the well-written articles, and the excellent appearance of the entire paper.

Only those girls who have worked on the staff of a paper can fully realize the enormous proportions of this undertaking for five girls. Had they put out a mediocre paper we would have congratulated them, but as they issued an edition of such a high standard, we feel that too much praise can not be given them.

We particularly enjoyed the book reviews; they gave a clear criticism of the novels in question and showed an appreciative interpretation of the characters in each book.

We also want to show our appreciation of Miss Jenning's efforts in conducting the one-term course in journalism. All term she has given her class of five worthwhile instruction in journalistic twriting. Last week's issue of The Rotunda was the culmination of the work. Miss Jennings, you may well feel proud of this cerditable evidence of your excellent teaching.

WORLD NEWS

On a stormy autumn day last year in Worcester, Mass., President Roosevelt promised nine-year-old Catherine Murphy who suffered from infantile paralysis that she would some day receive the treatment which had enabled him to take his place among the nation's great in spite of his affliction. Last week the President did not forget his promise. He arranged for Catherine to start for Warm Springs, Ga., where he had arrived for his annual Thanksgiving fortnight of rest and treatment.

Speaking in Savannah last week, President Roosevelt for the first time took public notice of the crescendo of criticism of his monetary policies. As befitted the occasion the President studded his address with historical references. He said, "The saving grace of America lies in the fact that the majority of Americans are possessed of two qualities—a sense of humor and a sense of proportion. With the one they smile at all those who would divide up all the money in the nation on a per capita basis every Saturday night. With the other they understand the fact that in one year we cannot cure the chronic illness that beset us for a dozen years.

As he left the White House last week the nominal Secretary of the Treasury, William Woodin was asked by news hawks, "What have you got there?" He replied "Medalions of the President and they are going right back to the Philadelphia mint to be made over. The President doesn't like them. They make him too young, and show him wearing an army hair cut." The next day the President made over his Treasury Department command.

Alfred E. Smith went to Washington to be installed as a trustee of Catholic University. Not since he had stopped off in Albany on his way back from campaigning in Mass. for Franklin D. Roosevelt last year had the two old time friends met socially.

Mrs. Roosevelt made it known that she had taken the physical examination for an airplane pilot's license. So far, however, she has had no instruction. "Franklin said it would be foolish to take lessons unless I owned a plane myself," she explained, "and it would be too expensive to do that, of course . . . If I ever get a chance to fly to Europe in an airship, I will go in a minute."

The President has signed an NRA code for the newsprint, paper, and pulp industry, which is subject to revision after 90 days.

FROM OLD ROTUNDAS

November 25, 1922:

The play "Come Out of the Kitchen" was presented by the S. N. C. Dramatic Club under the direction of Miss Edna N. Spear, Friday evening, November 17, at 8:30. The performance was attended by a large audience and was one more success for the Dramatic Club to add to its already lengthy chain.

November 28, 1928:

Sections of the building will be apportioned equally between "Red and White" and "Green and White" for hanging their colors on Thanksgiving morning. This is a decided improvement over last year, when there was a mad rush for the vantage-places at six a. m. "Red and White" got all the outstanding places, thus keeping the "Green and White" from having a show. The aim for this year is an equal distribution of colors and a more artistic arrangement.

November 28, 1928:

"Peg O' My Heart," with its lilting Irish theme, presented Thursday and Friday evenings in the auditorium by the S. T. C. Dramatic Club and the Hampden-Sydney Jongleurs, was a complete success, judging by the two capacity crowds that attened the performances.

November 7, 1928:

Amid shrieks of laughter and enthusiastic cheers, the participants in one of the most unique and varied programs ever presented in the school made a spectacular entrance into the gym on Saturday night.

Tumbling, dancing, jumping or walking on the stage, the performers went gaily about their task of entertaining a delighted audience.

OPEN FORUM

Dear Editor:

Why is it that a college which pretends to be a college at all can hold its head high when it doesn't boast even one literary society? Frankly, have you ever heard of the most remote country school which made no attempt to provide a means for the development of literary talent and for the appreciation of classic and current literature?

We Americans are condemned because our conversation is so uninteresting. It is said that we can discuss only two things—shop and small talk. We know nothing of modern poetry, modern drama, art, music, sculpture. We barely manage to read one or two of the most talked of novels. Why? Perhaps it's because we have no one who is sufficiently interested in those things with whom we CAN talk! Certainly if we haven't developed our appreciation, college is the place to begin.

If anyone is willing to try to resusticate the dying or dead societies here, let him remember one thing: "More literary societies have died of ennui than of any other malady." There is no apparent reason why such a vital and absorbing subject as literature should be made tiresome, and there is no need for it. With the talent here, there should be no lack of interest, but the emphasis should be placed upon appreciation and not creation—all of us cannot write! It's very evident, isn't it?

"INTERESTED."

We hear so many references to the "dumb rats" or "dumb freshmen" and yet if we sit right down and think of it, are they, under the circumstances, really any dumber than we are? We may think we are pretty smart. We may even appear smart after we have learned what is being done and what is not; after we have learned when and where not to ask questions.

Freshmen in college are in an entirely new environment. They talk of more hestitating language than the folk, or they try to put on a sophisticated front, making themselves appear wise. They depend absolutely on what they are told in the "little book" and what upperclassmen tell them. The freshmen have no background of college experience from which to draw their knowledge or interpretation of the customs and traditions of their new alma mater.

Suppose that our whole senior class, after having taken French for four years in college went to France to study at the Corbonne. It's more than probable that the entire group would be at a complete loss. The period of adjustment would be hard because the French damoiselles would not realize that the American students were not used to their ways. The Americans would be college graduates; surely they would have a right to demand that people not say or even infer that they were just "dumb" because they could not fall right into the French way of doing things.

Think it over upperclassmen! Most freshmen are going to stick rather closely to what you tell them, for a while anyway. It might encourage them a little if we tried to help instead of constantly making fun of them. There is not one of us who is not willing to accept all the help she can get. We do not have to burden ourselves with the scout motto upperclassmen, but giving a little help when it is needed and especially if it is asked for is the least we can do.

"He who knows not
And knows that he knows not
Is a fool—shun him.
He who knows not
And knows that he knows not
Is asleep—wake him.
He who knows that he knows
Is wise—follow him.

L. Van Lear

AT OTHER COLLEGES

The student council of Randolph-Macon College, Ashland, moved to accept the newly formed student body constitution with the exception of the Honor Code section. This section will not be decided upon until an investigation and survey by Dr. Smith has been completed. Psychological problems will be worked out in Dr. Smith's classes, aided by the history and economic classes, the literary societies, Walter Hines Page Club and possibly the fraternities, who will carry out survey work.

V. P. I.'s "Virginia Tech" is on the air. Each Tuesday at 12:55 P. M. Dudley Thompson, managing editor, will unfold the high spots of the day's news, as well as comments on features, editorials, and the juciest bits of the scandal from the "blabber" columns. Judging from some comments appearing on the recent "Tech", S. T. C. will be a ready listener. This broadcast comes as a special feature over WDBJ, Roanoke, so get your radios all dusted off and new tubes put in and be ready for the next broadcast.

When the manuscript of the song "The Last Roundup," was submitted to song publishers two years ago they were not greatly impressed and put it away and forgot about it. Several months ago it was discovered and sent to George Olsen who introduced the song. It led phonograph record sales for Victor, Columbia and Brunswick. In six weeks over 200,000 copies of the sheet music had been sold.—Review-Courier, Alva, Okla.

From the psychological clinic of the University of Hawaii comes the statement that 25 out of every 100 students will cheat if the chance of escaping detection is good. —Sweet Briar News.

The prize freshman at the University of Minnesota is a youngster only 13 years of age, who went through grammar school in five years and high school in two and one-half.—The Spectator.

SUNDAY IN FARMVILLE

Ting-a-ling, ting-a-ling! Time to get up! What an unwelcome sound that is on a cold, cloudy morning! I lay in bed a few seconds trying to collect my vaguely scattered thoughts, when suddenly it dawned on me that it was Sunday and I could sleep as long as I wanted to. With a sigh of contentment, I turned over and was asleep again in five minutes.

"Get up, Kitty! You know you promised to go to church with me this morning, and it's 10:30 now. Aren't you ever going to wake up?"

While these words were being spoken, I was being shaked rudely by the shoulder by a wide-awake and fully-dressed room-mate.

"Well," I said sleepily, "you don't have to shake my whole arm off telling me about it. I can't see how I came to make such a foolish promise, to save my life. However, if you will be so kind as to get out my way, I may consider getting up."

In ten minutes we were on our way and I was seriously contemplating the problem of how I was going to keep awake in church. But the walk must have revived me, for when I got there, I was fully awake and continued to be so all through the services. Church services are all the same, but somehow one always feels better after going.

After church, what then? Well, the mail's up and by some miraculous chance, I MAY have a letter. But no—I'm doomed to disappointment. Not even a letter from home.

Ah! there goes the bell for dinner, the most welcome sound I've heard yet. My, how hungry I am!

A long dreamy afternoon is now in full swing. What a weary prospect! I think I'll go for a walk. No, it's too cloudy and cold. Maybe I'll go to the library and read the Sunday paper, or maybe I'll stay here and write letters. I owe a thousand.

And so another Sunday slips away and we're ready for another week. We might say we dread for Monday to come, but it's always a pleasure to get back into harness once more and to feel that we're accomplishing something.

54 miles of tape were used to bind up the players at the University of California during the last season.

POETRY

SOMEWHERE

Somewhere
Someone is waiting for
Some one
The wind and sleet make
Strange noises
Against the window.
Almost anxiously
Someone peers out into the storm.
Inside, the logs burning in the fireplace
Cast a spell of contentment,
And the dancing flames
Project shadows on the wall—
Like a magic lantern.
A knock
The sound of an opening door,
A momentary rush of wind—
Silence again—except for
Soft murmers and a husky whisper
Someone is happy.
Someone is not anxious anymore.

MY MEMORIES

At twilight, when the shadows fall
And day is nearly done,
I take out all my memories
And live them, one by one.

The ghosts of old friends come to me
And I can hear them call
To me, as in the days of old—
But stay, that is not all!

A sea, a moon, a lovely face
Comes laughing back to me.
I shut my eyes, and dream and dream
That one is all I see.

FALL RAIN

The rythm of the Fall rain
Struck my heart strings.
Wierd, lonely music
It seemed to play.
I miss you my love,
Just as the rain has
Torn the leaves from the trees;
So we have been separated,
From my window I see
The ground, covered in wet leaves—
They have lost their color ,
Just as I, now alone,
Have lost my glamorous happiness
Fall rains come when the Summer has gone.
You go, just as the seasons do
My dearest.
I cannot find solace in the leaves,
For the sun will dry them
And restore their color.
If the Fates be kind, I
Wonder if you, my Sun,
Will return?

H. S., '35

CONSOLATION

So proudly now I'll hold my head
As each tomorrow comes,
That those who looks at me will think
I walk to singing drums.

And maybe some of them will say
They wish that life would be
Just half as gay and nice to them
As it has been to me.

If they should bring one little grief
And little dreams to heal,
I think that I could help because
I'll know the way they feel.

—Helen Welsheimer.

LINES ON LIFE

Life is not measured by our years,
Nor tears,
Nor by our worldly fears,
Or cares;
For life is measured
And treasured
Only
By our dreams,
Our deeds,
Our faith,
Our prayers.

—E. W. G. Huffman.

WEALTH

There are two wonders in the world,
As every mortal knows.
In winter, how one gleams at us,
In summer, how one nods and blows:
The austere betauty of the stars,
The casual beauty of the rose.

One is a golden glory hung
In the stark beauty of the cold sky.
The other is a red flame flung
To light our road as June goes by.
How rich the beauty of this earth,
And, seeing it, how rich am I!

—Charles Hanson Towne.

SOCIALS

Many girls visited in Richmond during the past week end. They were Dorthy Morris, who visited Mrs. Ellis Baker; Mary Woodard, who stayed at the home of Mrs. J. L. Dawere Dorothy Morris, who visited Mrs. H. W. McLaughlin, and Claire Eastman, staying with Mrs. Ernest Dixon.

On November 23, Miss Moran took Virginia Brinkley, Louise Van Lear, Alice Disharoon, and Alberta Collins to Roanoke for the day.

Dorothy Woolwine visited Sara Hubbard in Buckingham during the week end.

Many girls went home for the week-end. Some of these were: Dorothy Eubank, Anne Anderson, Louise Briggs, Sarah Beck, Katherine Coleman, Katherine Conway, Grace Eubank, Jean Foster, Evelyn Knaub, Evelyn Garnett, Katherine Harvey, Claudia Harper, Louise Jeffrey, Jessica Jones, Virginia Jones, Pauline Jones, Virginia Lee, Leonora Long, Bobbie Mattox, Helen Lee Morris, Franklin Minter, Zilla Newsom, Irene Parker, Louise Potter, Elizabeth Ransom, Mildred Slayton, Christine Seay, Alva Sawyer, Lelia Sanford, Ruby Vestel, Eleanor Ware, India Westbrook, and Beverley Wilkinson.

Frances Martin and Alice Disharoon went to Blackstone Saturday, returning Sunday.

Lelia and Belle Lovelace visited Alice Moore in Hampton over ethe week-end.

Frances Johnson and Ellen Mason spent the week-end in Lynchburg.

Phyllis Denit left Friday to visit her sister, Mrs. D. H. Goodyear, in Carlisle, Pa. She attended the Army-Navy football game in Philadelphia on Saturday, and returned to school Monday.

ZETA TAU SPONOR ENTERTAINS SORORITY

The Zeta Tau Sorority was entertained by Miss Bedford at five o'clock coffee on Sunday afternoon at her studio on High Street. Delicious nut cake with jelly and whipped cream, hot coffee and mints were served.

Guests calling in addition to local chapter were Miss Nichols and Mrs. Irby.

THE BEAUTY SCHOOL

By HELENA RUBINSTEIN

This time of the year it is very easy to become careless. The first strangeness in getting adjusted to a new schedule has worn off, and the familiarity we have with our surroundings, our program and our friends, may make us careless.

I want to urge you not to let this feeling extend to your daily beauty program. You may neglect to get your economic lesson for a night or two and bone on it just before the exam. You may cut class and find out what the lecture was all about from some of your friends. But when you neglect your skin for even one night, you cannot make it up. And it is the days, weeks and months of neglect that are ready to mock us in later life.

The simpler your beauty program, the more likely you are to follow it, of course. But when you use only one or two preparations they must be highly specialized and entirely suitbale for your skin, or you are wasting even the small amount of time you spend on beauty care.

Reducing the beauty program to its simplest common denominator, I believe that one or two sets of preparations, used nightly, will answer the skin needs of every type. For the girl who has an oily or normal skin, with an inclination to blackheads and open pores, the simplest skin care would consist of a granular wash—beauty grains—to remove all dirt, to clarify the skin and to refine the texture, and a pasteurized face cream—an all 'round beauty cream—that could be used in conjunction with the wash, or separately, as a cleanser and beauty builder.

For the girl whose skin is very dry, and sensitive, a special washing paste to prevent and correct blackheads and open pores should be used. This cream should be followed by a special blend of the pasteurized cream—of a richer consistency than the ordinary blend. A dry skin, even when you are young, needs the soothing and nourishing action of a cream created to overcome the deficiency of the oil glands in supplying natural oil to the skin.

If you have a personal beauty problem on which you need advice, write Woman's Interest Syndicate, 522 Fifth Ave., New York City.

SIGMA SIGMA SIGMA OFFICIAL HONORED

Miss Mabel Lee Walton of Woodstock Virginia, who is national president of the Tri-Sigma Sorority and president of the Women's Pan-Hellenic Association of the United States, has been honored by the First Lady of the Land by being invited to attend a conference at the White House at noon, Monday, November 20. At the conference the question of the unemployed women of the country was discussed. Many outstanding men and women attended this conference, and Miss Walton was numbered among these because of her attainments.

Mrs. Roosevelt served a buffet luncheon to her guests.

Miss Walton, who has visited in Farmville frequently, is the daughter of Hon. M. L. Walton, and is the aunt of Mary Hastings Halloway, '37.

FRENCH CIRCLE HAS REGULAR BUSINESS MEET

The French Circle held its regular meeting on Friday, November 24, at 7:00 o'clock in the language room. This was primarily a business meeting.

The president called the meeting to order and asked that the members pay their dues before Christmas, if possible, in order that the picture for the annual might be paid for and an interesting social meeting was planned for Christmas.

A short program on Thanksgiving was then presented by the chairman of the program committee. This consisted of a song, a paper on Thanksgiving explaining its origin and customs in America read by Fanny Bosworth, and a game.

The meeting closed with another French song.

MISS MARY WHITE COX ENTERTAINS AT SUPPER

Miss Mary has been a charming hostess at four buffet supper in the lounge during the past week. She entertained the girls according to the seating arrangement in the dining room, taking eight tables at one time.

While waiting for the plates to be served the girls sang several well-known songs, and enjoyed the music furnished by Miss Virginia Potts.

Miss Mary was assisted in entertaining by Mis Virginia Potts, Alice McKay, and Honey Hamilton. The table hostess helped with the serving.

SMITH

Warwick Deeping, Alfred A. Knopf, N. Y. 1932; pp. 360.

"Smith", Warwick Deeping's novel forces one to leave his own life and live the life of the story. In this story Decping portrays, with vigor, two characters—stranse, wholesome, and dynamic in their personality.

Keir Smith, the seemingly shy and quiet carpenter, falls in love with Sybil, an attractive housemaid, whom he marries. Shortly after the birth of their little daughter, Joanne Mary, all their plannings and dreams are shattered. One tragedy after another breaks into the life of this courageous young couple. Eventually, Keir's illness places the "Merrow" household on the edge of a hopeless and fruitless future.

The way in which both Sybil and Keir face their heart-rending fate stamps indelibly upon the reader's mind the fact that to meet life cheerfully—life with its big and little ironies—requires courage—high courage. The fortitude with which these two meet life stimulates one to strive as well as to hope. Truly "Smith" is a worthwhile book!

CAMPUS COMMENTS

As the time for the Thanksgiving fracas draws near we hear that the Sophs have a new theme song — "Who's Afraid of the Green and Whtie". Their answer will be heard after tomorrow.

The paths between Farmville and Roanoke, Lexington, Richmond and other points will be well-trodden after this week-end, judging from the lines of girls waiting anxiously after every mail for Miss Mary's O. K. or veto.

We commend the H. S. C. dramatic critic for his courageous and frankness. It's well not to always laud everything that is given, but it seems to us that he overlooked some excellent acting in "The Admirable Crichton."

Long will be the faces of our Hampden-Sydney-minded girls on December 8 and 9 when they see their "best (?) beaus" dragging outside talent to the dances. Poor gals, it's a shame our crowded college life won't allow them that pleasure.

Here's a little dope I heard on some of our school mates the other day:

Elizabeth Smith is still true to the Newport News gents.

Betsy Wilkinson's smile-wreathed face the other day when a certain Salemite was in town proves that college romances do last.

Blanche Con's big moment made a very unexpected visit to our college recently.

Frances Crawford is some power—it is rumored a member of the opposite sex came six hundred miles and cut classes for a week to see her.

Honey Hamilton is having her cake and eating, too.

Dot Stone is still chairman of the ways and means committee as far as V. P. I. is concerned.

Marguerite Bradford is attending the V. M. I. dances well-chaperoned, I should say.

Jokes

Math Prof.: "Now watch the blackboard while I run through it once more."—Froth.

FROM 1923 ROTUNDA

The oldest good story is the one about the boy who left the farm and got a job in the city. He wrote a letter to his brother, who has chosen to stick by the farm, telling of the joys of the city life, in which he said:

"Thursday we auto'd out to the country club, where we golfed until dark. Then we motored to the beach and Fridayed there."

The brother wrote back:

"Yesterday we buggied to town and baseballed all afternoon. Then we went to——and pokered till morning. Today we muled out to the cornfield and gee-hawed until sundown. Then we supperd and then we piped for a while. After that we staircased up to our room and we bedsteaded until the clock fived"—Besin.

SLIPS THAT PASS

Exiled German professor seeks furnished apartment with view (six beds) near Columbia.—New York Times want ad.

It's difficult to find a view of more than five in that location.

—Richmond Times-Dispatch.

DRESS MAKING — DESIGNING

HEMSTITCHING AND

ALTERING

SINGER SHOP

Third Street

FARMVILLE, VA.

10-4-3t

Kleanwell

CLEANERS AND TAILORS

Expert Cleaning, Repairing and Remodeling of Ladies Garments

Main Street, Opposite Postoffice

PHONE 98

Lucille Shop

"Just Across the Street"

Street Floor Hotel Weyanoke

Apparel for the College Girls

Nuf-Sed

C. E. Chappell

COMPANY

Stationery, Blank Books and School Supplies

Cigars, Cigarettes and Soda

Farmville, Virginia

S. A. Legus

TAILOR

CLEANING

PRESSING

REPAIRING

Phone 203

LOOK "SMART" AT COTILLION

We are receiving stunning new evening creations daily in the glorious new high shades and the ever popular black and white. Taffeta, chiffon velvet, satin, and crepe $9.45 and $12.45.

Evening sandals in black, white and lovely pastels. All sizes. $3.97

Dance handkerchiefs, Sheer chiffon hose

THE DOROTHY MAY STORE

Main Street

SPORT WEAR

For the College Girl

One and Two Piece

KNIT SUITS & DRESSES

$4.95 TO $7.95

All New Styles

Colors and materials

DAVIDSON'S

EACO THEATRE

Program Nov. 29 to Dec. 5

Wednesday, November 29

Charles Farrell

Wynne Gibson

William Gargan

in

"AGGIE APPLEBY"

Based on a story of a girl who tries to change the natures of two men—er." She dances like a flame and loves red-blooded he-man. It is a comedy wherein Zazu Pitts as a chamber maid will double you up with laughter. A picture you will enjoy immensely.

Also Cartoon and Buck Jones serial.

Thursday (Thanksgiving) and Friday

Lilian Harvey

John Boles

and El Brendel in

"MY LIPS BETRAY"

The star of a cabaret singer and a king. She found herself under his bed. How she got there and how she got out makes one of the spiciest, sprightliest most amusing pictures of the year—and music and songs aplenty. A romance with a continual flavor with lots of comedy by El Brendel. You'll love it.

Also Louise Fazenda in "Stung Again."

Saturday, Dec. 2

Claudette Colbert

Baby Leroy, Cora Sue Collins

Ricardo Cortez

in

'THE TORCH SINGER'

Here's a new Colbert in what most critics consider her best picture. As a singer with a lovely baby, first played by Baby Leroy and then by little Cora Sue Collins, she wins you from the start and you will live the part with her. How she finds her child by means of the radio, and also finds her true love for a happy ending, makes one of the finest pictures of the year. Don't miss it!

Cartoon—"She Done Him Right," Pop Eye the Sailor, and News.

Next Monday and Tuesday, Dec. 4 and 5

CLARA BOW

Richard Cromwell

Jimmy Gleason

in

"HOOPLA"

The love of a college boy for a circus dancer from the play "The Barker". She dances like a flame nd loves like chained lightning. She knows men's tricks and trumps them with a woman's charms. Men's hearts beat to the pulsing rhythm of her sinuous dancing. Clara Bow, red-headed, warm-blooded dynamite in the most colorful role of her career. This is probably the first showing in the state.

Also Betty Boop Cartoon and a Surprise Reel.

Daily matinees at 4 P. M. Evenings at 8 P. M.

Adults, 20c at Matinees, and 25c at nights; except on percentage pictures. We hope an increased attendance will permit us to continue these prices.

The meanest girl we know was the one who sent back the engagement ring in a box marked "Glass. Handle With Care."—Witt.

There was an old man named Firth.
He was born on the day of his birth.
He was married, they say,
On his wife's wedding day,
And he died on his last day on earth.
—Rammer-Jammer

Fines for cutting class are levied on students of the University of Edinburg, Scotland. Each year the fines are used to buy a Christmas present for the president.—Junior Collegian.

Experts are people who know more and more about less and less.

ATHLETIC COUNCIL HOLDS REGULAR MEETING

The Athletic Council held its regular meeting Monday night, November 27. The main topic of discussion concerned the question of who should be asked to participate in this year's color rush.

Because everybody is so vitally interested in the subject the Council made a decision that a plan should be tried this year which would exclude all except active class members from running in this season's color rush.

In making this decision the Council hopes to keep color rushing on its usual satisfactory and fair basis.

BASKETBALL PRACTICES DRAW MANY STUDENTS

Basketball practice is in full swing with about 50 girls out every afternoon. Practices will continue to be held at 5 o'clock unless there is an announcement made to the contrary.

A competitive contest including fundamentals will be held a week before exams start.

An average of three practices one week and two the next must be had before one is eligible for class team.

STUDENT COMMITTEE CHECKS POINT SYSTEM

Mary Berkeley Nelson and Janice White, two members of the Students Standards Committee, with Fanny Bosworth, Lelia Mattox, Elmer Foster, and Elizabeth Huse who were selected from the student body at large have been working on the point system. This year the Students Standards Committee plans to enforce the point system.

The two girls from the Students Standards Committee with the four others chosen from the student body, have counted the number of points that each student is carrying who holds an office in school.

A list of the names of those girls who hold offices amounting to more than 10 points will be given to the Students Standards Committee will decide whether these girls should fill that many offices. They will advise those students who they deem it best should resign one or more offices.

DUSKIN

Grace Livingston Hill. 304 pp., N. Y.: Grossett and Dunlap

Grace Livingston Hill shows in "Duskin," as in many of her best novels, that the crisis in one's life must be met with courage and with trust in God. She illustrates this fact by giving an account of the trials, temptations, and worries of one young business woman who had the necessary faith, unselfishness, and determination to fight her way to the top of the ladder of success.

"Duskin" is written in a clear, compact style. There is an absence of beautiful, lengthy descriptions in this book. The reader, however, is carried on with the plot and gets stasifying description from bits of conversation and from different happenings. One is kept excited and interested in the book from the first page to the last.

Carol Berkely was an unusually efficeint, generous stenographer. She cared more for others than for herself and was willing to give up her vacation to protect the firm for which she worked. She agreed to face the dangers of a small western town, because the sight of her employer in pain touched her too deeply.

When Carol left to begin her great undertaking, her mother, Mrs. Beckley, warned her of the trials and temptations she would have to overcome. Then she gave her daughter a Bible and implored her to read it daily. Carol promised, but she really had no desire to spend her time that way. Yet she kept her promise and the reading of the Bible gave her strength.

"Duskin" is an inspirational book. It tells how one girl was wise enough to face the world and keep her gentleness and simplicity in the face of wickedness.

Mistress: "Dora, has my husband been very nappy while I was away for a month?"

Servant: "Well, Ma'am, at first he was in fine spirits but towards the end of the time he got less cheerful, and yesterday he was the dullest man I ever saw."

SPORT SLANTS

Has anybody failed to notice Louise Walmsley's hair when she flies down the hockey field? It seems to be just as much in earnest as her feet.

Watch Bonnie Lane's gymnastics between halves during the Thanksgiving games—it's a show at no extra cost.

We'd still like to see Chub Denit and Betsy Wilkinson make good with the hockey stick.

Gwaltney is strangely reminiscent of a fish out of water after the first half of a game. She gulps for air right and left. And we wonder what cuts her wind!

Muriel Scott is pretty good at playing wild animals in a circus but she's even betetr at hurling the old basket ball.

Putney seems to be back in the usual good form—storming down the court with every cylinder under control.

We'd like to nominate Frances Horton for the athlete's Hall of Fame. And how she can blow a whistle!

We'd like to see that fine cheer leader of last year A. Moore—and our equally good one of this year, Helen Shawen—get together as in days of yore and start a few yells about the college campus.

SENIORS CHANGE DATE OF CLASS PRODUCTION

Continued from page one

giving dances on December 8 and 9, therefore, the college boys would not be able to attend the senior show.

The work on this production was well under way. Margaret Eley and Honey Hamilton, who are in charge of the dances had selected the personnel of the choruses and started them on their dance routines. The show when pressed will be of a similar type musical as "Patches", the production of the Class of '34 last year, which met with enthusiastic approval of the student body.

No denfiinte date has yet been selected. The show will probably be given sometime in the spring. All suitable nights in the near future have been taken.

TENNIS

The Round Robin tournament has been definitely discontinued until the spring tennis season. However, the courts are being kept in good condition for play at any time.

COLLEGE HIGH SCHOOL PRESENTS SHORT PLAY

The Sophomore Class of the College High School presented a short play, "The First Thanksgiving Day," at the meeting of the Book Club, Monday night, November 27.

The Book Club is composed of the freshman and sophomore English classes, teachers, and supervisors, and it meets at various times during the school year. Each class, in turn, takes charge of the meeting, presenting a program and furnishing refreshments.

The play, which was very appropriate at this time, was excellently presented. Those taking part in it were: Mother, Margaret Wowdy; Father, Grace Cobb; Betty, Bertie Bowman; Aunt Ruth, Virginia Bowman; Mary, Kathryn Newman; John Alden, Margaret Ward; Priscilla, Ann Cocks; Robert, Evelyn Davis.

THANKSGIVING PLANS PROMISE EXCITEMENT

Continued from page one

points on the color cup for class championship, winners of the game tomorrow will play Saturday afternoon, November 2, at 2:30 o'clock.

At 12 o'clock a Thanksgiving dinner will be served in the dining room.

At 2:30 o'clock an alumnae team will play a Pick-Up team. The A .A. Council will give the alumnae hockey team a picnic at Longwood tomorrow afternoon at 5 o'clock.

At 10 o'clock tomorrow night the junior class will entertain at a party in the lounge those visiting alumnae who were in last year's sophomore class.

ADMIRABLE CRICHTON PROVES SUCCESSFUL

Continued from page one

Dan Jenkins through their aid made a very realistic looking old man.

Evelyn Knaub as "Tweeny" the pretty pert little kitchen maid who was "between" a kitchen and parlor maid and really nothing at all, sent the audience into gales of laughter each time she appeared. Her performance was touched with pathos in places and overtopped with rollicking humor in others.

Walter Woodward as Lord Brocklehurst was cast into another exceedingly comic and entertaining role, as the fussy, fastidious Lord Brocklehurst, who is in love with Mary. His accent, moustache, monocle and air of nervous hesitation were perfect to the last detail.

Margaret Herndon as Lord Brocklehurst's mother, the Countess of Brocklehurst played the part of a crochety, dignified old dowager, a really comic part, in a very superb manner. The only fitting adjective to describe her performance is "grand."

James Elder who played the part of Hon'. Ernest Wooley, Lord Loam's nephew, also portrayed another comic role in a delightful way. As the bright boy, who was nevertheless very lazy and conceited, he created a very lovable as well as humorous character.

Merle Smith as the Rev. Ernest Treherne, a sober, quiet parson took a rather small role in a commendable way. He was quite good.

In fact, the cast of the "Admirable Crichton" was on the whole a splendid selection. They were all admirably well suited to their parts, and showed remarkable understanding of their work.

A novel feature of the staging work done was the cyclorama in the second and third acts. A lovely purple glow was effected on the desert island by the use of lights and shadows. The rest of the scenery was also good.

The costuming group is to be commended for their work. It was very well done and quite suited to the actors.

In the first and last scenes which were laid in the English home of Lord Loam, The atmosphere of a haughty aristocratic English titled family was well carried out. The luxurious furniture, the afternoon tea, and the smooth, deft service of correctly trained English servants were quite perfect.

The work done by the minor characters was also good. Henrietta Salisbury, who was cast as Fisher, Mary's English maid, played her part with poise and ease, making the most of a rather small role.

J. M. Barrie's philosophy of life was "Be not only courageous, but also be courageous and gay." The "Admirable Crichton" was all of this.

CLASS NOTES

Senior Class

The Senior Class held its regular weekly meeting in Room 21 on Tuesday night after prayers.

After the meeting had been called to order by the president, Margaret Parker, Mary B. Nelson read to the class the rules for the Thanksgiving color rush.

Several announcements were then made. The meeting was turned into a pep meeting. Songs and yells were lustily given by the enthusiastic Seniors.

Junior Class

Lelia Mattox, vice-president of the Junior Class presided over the meeting last night in Room 22. Frankie McDaniel, president, and Miss Moran were in Roanoke for the evening.

Announcements about cleaning done by the Freshman Commission and about the bazaar to be given in the "Rec" next week by the Commission were made to the class.

Lelia read "rush rules" to the class. After that, other business was attended to, such as appointing girls to have charge of the Junior Class rummage sale down town this Saturday and appointing girls to sell sandwiches the rest of this week.

All Juniors were invited to the party for old class members to be given in the Lounge at 10 o'clock Thanksgiving night.

FOOTBALL SCORES FOR NOVEMBER 25

Randolph-Macon 21; H. S. C. 20
Maryland 33; W. & L. 13
Harvard 19; Yale 6
Army 12; Navy 7.
Princeton 26; Rutgers 6
Southern California 19; Notre Dame 0.
Duke 7; N. C. State 0.
Michigan 13; Northwestern 0
Chicago 39; Dartmouth 0
Purdue 19; Indiana 3
Stanford 7; California 3
Columbia 16; Syracuse 0.

Mack's
BARBER AND BEAUTY SHOP
323 Main Street
We use the Frederick Method
Hair Cutting and Thinning a Specialty

Martin JEWELER
Gifts of Lasting Remembrance
317 Main St. Farmville
We give Jubilee tickets

Electric Shoe Shop
Will Fix Your Shoes While You Wait
BEST WORKMANSHIP AND LEATHER USED

SouthsideDrugStore
(On the Corner)
Films Developed FREE
If bought at this store

YOU WOULD LOVE TO HAVE YOUR SHOES FIXED AT THE
Lovelace Shoe Shop
110 Third Street

WILLIS
The Florist
FLOWERS FOR ALL OCCASIONS
PHONES 181-273

Shannon's
Is Headquarters for the Best SANDWICHES
—and—
DRINKS
—In—
FARMVILLE!

Weyanoke
BEAUTY SALON
A Complete Beauty Service At Moderate Prices
What we have done for others we can do for you
WEYANOKE HOTEL
Farmville Va.

RICE'S SHOE STORE
Street and Dress Shoes
Dancing Slippers Dyed
Correct fits our speciality

At THE HUB S. T. C. HEADQUARTERS
Twin sweaters sets at ... $1.98 and $2.95
Broguish Oxfords, with low or medium heels. You will love them, $2.45, $2.95 and $3.50. All widths and sizes.
THE HUB DEPARTMENT STORE
"Farmville Best Place to Shop"

Showing at special sale prices the newest in dress or sport shoes, for College girls!
Price $3.00 to $4.50
First quality pure silk hose, —all new shades ..... 85c pr., $1.00 pr., $1.25 pr.
If it's new—it's at
BALDWIN'S
Quality—Price—Service

G. F. Butcher
High Street
"The Convenient Store"
FOR GOOD THINGS TO EAT AND DRINK

Gray's Drug Store
QUALITY—PRICE—SERVICE
Come in and Get Acquainted
We Are Glad to Have You With Us!
Farmville, Virginia

MAKE YOUR SCHEDULES EARLY

THE ROTUNDA

SEE THE CHAMPIONSHIP GAME

We Teach To Teach

Volume XIV — THE ROTUNDA, WEDNESDAY, DECEMBER 6, 1933 — No. 11

Concert Trio Gives Fine Program Here

Mischa Tulin, George Hirose and Helen Gordon Appear in Auditorium

Russia, Japan, and America through the personalities of Mischa Tulin, George Hirose and Helen Gordon, gave us stirking examples of their art in two recitals in the College auditorium.

The pianist, Miss Gordon, made her first appearance here and showed some musical ability. She has developed a fine technique and has a full share of rhymical sense, but her playing lacked warmth and breadth. Mr. Hirose, the baritone, has two things uncommon to his race namely: phyisical size and unusual vocal power. Japanese are small men with soft mezzo-voce voices and it was interesting at least to note these points of differentiation. His voice, big, vibrant, and commanding arrests attention, but here again there was noticeably a lack of warmth, fine feeling and deductive analysis. Again the vocal control was marred by an incessant vibration or "tonal unsteadiness" which affected the general of his singing. To his credit, however, one noted poise, personality, and the gift of "putting it across".

The outstanding artist was Mischa Tulin: Some years ago he astounded the musical world by his invention; therenin. It was regarded as the most remarkable musical invention in the last century. To analyze it the mere fact remains that this instrument, through the agency of electricity produces beautiful quality of tone throughout a wide musical compass.

Mr. Tulin through the peculiar vibration he gives out and which are concordant with those of his instrument, produces almost perfect tonal reproduction. It is questionable if any other nature of artistic tendency could produce such exactions of tone. The instrument and performer register sympathetic vibrations, the result being a perfect blending of mutual sympathy and cooperation.

The concert was intensely interesting to the musical and scientific mind and only reveals the thought that music is linked with agencies considered impossible.

P. T. A. and C. E. A. Become One Body

After many years of separate operation in behalf of the youth of Virginia, the two major extra-educational bodies of the state, the Cooperative Education Association of Virginia and the Parent-Teachers Association, voted to become one body on November 27.

The vote was taken in separate meetings in the annual meeting of each and was formally ratified at a joint meteing on November 28.

The following are the officers of the organization: Dr. W. T. Sanger, head of Medical College, president; Mrs. S. C. Cox, former president of Parent-Teachers organization, vice-president; Dr. J. L. Jarman, head of Farmville State Teachers College, second vice-president; Mrs. N. R. Hoyle of Newport News, third vice-president; Mrs. R. H. Barr of Virginia Beach, fourth vice-president, Dr. Sidney B. Hall, Richmond, fifth vice-president; Mrs. Hill Fleet of Irvington, secretary; Mrs. R. B. Jennings, Roanoke, treasurer, and Mrs. Kate Wheeler of Emory, historian.

Bishop James Cannon, Jr., one of the founders of the cooperatives, was one of the guests of the meetings, but he took no part in the discussions. He was present for the reception given the founders of the cooperatives on November 27.

JUNIOR ELEVEN ROUTS SENIORS BY 3-0 SCORE

The Junior hockey team, representing the green and white colors, swamped the senior red and white team Thursday morning with a 3 to 0 score.

Backed by an enthusiastic line of cheerers, the two teams met on the field for their last hockey contest. Each girl encouraged by the yells and desiring her team to win, entered into the game with a strong spirit of determination. From the first each player was ready to fight for victory —for her team.

The seniors put up a strong defense against the constant advancement of the opposing team. Well directed passes of the juniors were broken up but not forcefully enough to keep the green and whites from reaching thir goal. Th playng was fast, the technique was good — on either team.

Cheers, yells and songs followed the first score of the juniors. Martha Putney sent a straight shot which rushed past the defense into the goal. A second shot was made by Captain Mattox during the first half of the game. Putney again drove the ball over the goal line during the last half.

The brilliant playing displayed by the junior forward line, thrilled the spectators. Cooper, outstanding player of the senior team, stopped many onslaughts from Putney and McDaniel, who were determined that the ball should not be stopped until it crossed the goal line.

The line-up was:

McDaniel	R. W.	Allen
Putney	R.I.	Yeaman
Anthony	C.F.	Foster
Mattox (c)	L.I.	Vestal
Beck	L.W.
Scott	R.H.	Kester
Rhodes	C.H.	Cooper
Magruder	L.H.	Gwaltney (c)
Mattox	R.B.	Horton
Strong	L.B.	Rucker
Gills	G	Jones

JAPANESE BAZAAR HELD IN THE "REC"

The annual Japanese Bazaar was held in the "Rec" on Tuesday afternoon from three to six. The bazaar was sponsored by and for the benefit of the Freshman Commission.

The "Rec" was attractively decorated as a Japanese Bazaar and Tea Garden. The Freshman Commission girls dressed as Japanese maidens served tea. Annette Roberts sang several lovely numbers, and Gay Stieffen gave Japanese dances.

Japanese trinkets, charming and inexpensive gifts, were offered for sale. The bazaar was one of the most effective events at S. T. C. this fall.

CALENDAR

December 6-12

Wednesday
5:00—Open Cabinet Meeting
7:00—Rotunda staff meeting
7:30—Pi Gamma Mu

Thursday
2:00-6:00—Making of schedules
5:00—Student Standards
7:00—Dramatic Club

Friday
7:00—Debate
Gamma Psi

Saturday
6:45—Presentation of May Queen and Court.

Monday
7:00—Virgian Staff
Athletic Association Council
8:00—Alpha Kappa Gamma
10:00—House Council

Tuesday
7:00—Class Meetings
8:00—Alpha Phi Sigma
10:00—Student Council

Thanksgiving Morn Brings Color Rush To Exciting Close

At five-fifteen Thanksgiving morning, though the brisk air was chilly and the heavens still littered with stars, excited girls, with pajamas on and faces unwashed, were making their way to various rooms to witness the color rush. The old girls, remembering last Thanksgiving, were eagerly anticipating the event. The new girls, having heard much and understood little about color rush, were curiously waiting to see what would happen.

It was rumored that the Seniors had the Student Building and the Senior Building "sewed up," while the Juniors were sure of Library Hall and White House Hall. However, since the chances of flying the banner over the Rotunda were equally distributed, much interest was manifested in the runners for that place. Mary Berkley Nelson and Margaret Parker, seniors, and Victoria Gillette and Annie B. Anthony, green and whites, were on their mark, set and ready to go half an hour before the bell rang giving the signal to run. Amist much yelling and cheering, the green and whites were victorious and secured the Rotunda, in addition to Library Hall and White House Hall, upon which to fly their colors.

Thrilled and excited, the green and whites joined hands, making a lone line of enthusiastic classmates, and went through the halls and out on the campus singing class songs and giving class yells.

So full of pep and class spirit were most of the girls that they did not think of going back to bed. In fact, a few poetic souls went out on the roof to view the golden sun as it ushered in Thanksgiving day.

All the runners, Annie B. Anthony, Victoria Gillette, Lelia Lovelace, Lelia Mattox, Mary Berkley Nelson, Margaret Parker, Elizabeth Renfro, Ruth Roberts, Capitola Rountree, and Nell Stokes did their best and displayed fine school spirit. Enthusiasm ran high for the Thanksgiving day events to follow.

Juniors Entertain Old Class Members

The Junior class gave a party in the lounge at 10 o'clock on last Thanksgiving night. They entertained in honor of former class members back at school for the holiday. Lena Mac Gardner was in charge of the party.

Everyone sat around the blazing fire and sang familiar songs. While they were singing, girls talked in little groups about their experiences this year. Others told Miss Moran how they liked teaching out in the state.

Soft music came over the radio while quiet games were being played. On a green and white paper hockey ball each girl wrote things she was thankful for (words made from "Day of Thanksgiving"). Lists of words were read aloud. Nell Oakey Ryan then asked questions, the answers to which commenced with green (for example, "green-eyed" described the monster, Jealousy).

Shiny red apples and doughnuts, English walnuts and Brazil nuts were passed to all the girl, who ate and talked again as they sat together on the floor and on chairs before the fire.

Class songs and school songs were sung just before the party broke up to the strains of "Goodnight, Ladies!"

FROSH BATTLE SOPHS; 1-1 SCORE RESULTS

In a brisk morning air and spring-like sunshine at 9:00 o'clock on Thanksgiving day, eleven dashingand courageous freshmen battled on the athletic field the enthusiastic sophomores to a 1-1 tie in the annual Thanksgiving hockey games.

In a few plays after the opening bully the flashy sopohomores brought the cheering crowd to its feet as Kathleen Ranson dribbled past the green and white defense and succeeded in a straight shot for the goal, giving her team the lead. Each team "held its own" the remainder of the first half.

A few minutes after the start of the second half, the green and whites rallied to knot the count when Alice Grainger, the freshman left inside, slipped past her opponent for a safety.

The two teams were rather equally matched, so that most of the playing was forward and lateral pass work and interception of these passes.

Only one substitution was made on either team. During the second half Alice Grainger took Bonnie Lane's place as the freshman left inside.

Both teams played well. It is impossible to single out individuals and credit them with the major share of the spectacular playing.

The lineup was:

Freshmen		Sophomores
Burger	R.W.	Gathright
Bowles	R.I.	Ranson
Moore	C.F.	Sanford
Lane	L.I.	Nottingham
York	L.W.	Thompson
Johnson	R.H.	Walker
Roberts	C.H.	Massey
Irby	L.H.	Billups
McGlothlin	R.F.	Blanton
King	L.F.	Sanford
Mann	G.	Walmsley

The officials of both games were: Miss Olive T. Iler and Miss Mary Frances Hatchett; umpires: Mary B. Fraser; scorer, "Tac" Waters and, Katharine Hurt, timekeepers.

FACULTY LECTURE SERIES SPONSORED

The local chapter of the Farmville Alumnae Association is sponsoring a series of faculty lectures in the interest of scholarship and with the purpose of drawing together large numbers of alumnae and other interested people. Many addresses have been promised bya large number of faculty members. These will be given by request here, and in other chapters or interested groups.

Dr. J. E. Walmsley will give the first of these addresses on Thursday evening, December 14 at eight o'clock in the Little Auditorium of the college. His topic will be "Current Trends in Government, Politics and Economics. The public is invited and all alumnae are urged to be present. The stdents of all of the honor societies will be the guests of the alumnae.

EXAMINATION SCHEDULE

December 15-20

Friday
8:30—M. W. F. 2:00 classes
11:00—M. W. F. 3:00 classes
4:00—4:00 classes
7:15—M. W. 7:15

Saturday
8:30—M. W. F. 11:00 classes
11:00—M. W. F. 12:00 classes

Monday
8:30—T. T. S. 8:30 classes
11:00—T. T. S. 9:30 classes

Tuesday
8:30—T. T. S. 11:00 classes
11:00—T. T. S. 12:00 classes

Wednesday
8:00—M. W. F. 8:30 classes
10:00—M. W. F. 9:30 classes

Student Body Votes For May Day Queen

Nancy Harrison, Margaret Parker and Mary Shelton Are the Three Nominees

Nancy Harrison, Margaret Parker and Mary Shelton were selected as nominees for May Queen to preside over the annual college May Day celebration to be held as usual at the amphitheatre at Longwood by the student body at a meeting held in the large auditorium last night. Nomination were also made for the ten girls who will comprise the May Court.

The election of May Queen was held today, but the result will not be announced until the winning candidate is presented to the student body at Sing Saturday night. The girl receiving the second highest number of votes will be maid-of-honor. The third canidate will automatically become a nominee for the May Court.

The maid-of-honor and the nominees for the May Court will also be presented to the student body in evening dress at this time and the Court will be elected. The purpose of this presentation of the nominees at Sing is to acquaint the student body with the May Court and personnel.

Nancy Harrison, Margaret Parker, and Mary Shelton, three nominees for May Queen are all members of the Senior class and have all been members of former May Courts. Mary Shelton took the part of Robin Hood, the consort of the Queen in last year's festival.

V. E. A. Convenes In Annual Meet

The Virginia Education Association held its twenty-seventh annual convention in Richmond, November 28- December 1, with John Marshall High School as headquarters. The president of this association is Miss Lucy Moran Holt, prominent educator of the state.

The chief topic for discussion of the initial convention was curriculum making. Engaged in this discussion were many prominent persons in the field of education, among them Miss Mary E. Peck of the faculty of this institution.

Another discussion was held on a topic of interest not only to educators but to all citizens. This topic was that of the unemployment of a vast number of our teachers. Growing out of this discussion local chairmen were appointed to serve at various points throughout the state, and all unemployed teachers were urged to register within their own locality.

An interesting feature of the early part of the convention was a musical program presented by a state-wide orchestra, a band, and chorus. Directing the orchestra was Miss Lisabeth Purdom of the S. T. C. faculty, chairman of Junior Orchestras of the Virginia Federation of Music Clubs. The College Orchestra under the direction of Miss Purdom participated in the event.

An interesting social event of the convention was a luncheon given at the Westmoreland Club by the Alumnae Association of this institution. Miss Pauline Camper, president of the association, acted as toastmistress. Among the speakers were Dr. Jarman, Mr. Thomas Eason, and Dr. Jeffers. An unusually large group of alumnae was present, the credit for which should go to Mrs. Buss, an enthusiastic alumna.

A large delegation from the faculty of this college attended the meeting, many of them participating in various discussions and projcest undertaken.

THE ROTUNDA

Member Southern Inter-Collegiate Newspaper Association
Member Intercollegiate Press Association of Virginia

Published by Students of State Teachers College, Farmville, Va.

Entered as second class matter March 1, 1921, at the Postoffice of Farmville, Virginia, under Act of March 3, 1879.

Subscription ..... $1.50 per year

ROTUNDA STAFF

Editor-in-Chief .... Mary Shelton, '34
Associate Editor .... Lelia Mattox, '35

Board of Editors

News ..... Evelyn Massey, '36
Make-Up ..... Katherine Hoyle, '36
Literary Editor ..... Birdie Wooding
Louise Walmsley, '36
World News ..... Velma Quarles, '34
Intercollegite ..... Caroline Byrd, '36
Social ..... Marion Raine, '36
Art ..... Alice Rowell, '34
Feature ..... Elizabeth Walton, '36
Alumnae ..... Miss Virginia Potts

Reporters

Amis Montohery
Mary Hastings Holloway
Edith Shanks, '34; Mary Easley Hill, '34; Elizabeth Vassar, '35; Mary Elizabeth Alexander, '36; Lula Windley, '36.
Proof Readers: Katherine Coleman, '35
Grace Eubank, '36

Managers

Business ..... Mary Diehl, '34
Assistant ..... Elma Rawlings, '34
Circulation ..... Nell Oakey Ryan, '34
Assistant ..... Janice White, '35

The Rotunda invites letters of comment, criticism, and suggestion from its readers upon its manner of presenting and treating them. A letter, to receive consideration, must contain the name and address of the writer. These will not be published if the writer objects to the publication.

All matters of business should be addressed to the Business Manager and all other matters should come to the Editor-in-Chief. Complaints from subscribers as regards irregularities in the delivery of The Rotunda will be appreciated.

PLAN FOR FOUNDER'S DAY

Masses of people from far and near are expected here Founder's Day, which will commemorate the fiftieth anniversary of this school. According to the large number of the faculty who attended the teacher's meeting in Richmond during the Thanksgiving holidays, and according to the interested ones who were interviewed by our alumnae, and by those who are eager to visit here at that eventful and memorable time, all the students rooms as well as the guest rooms will be amply filled.

How are we going to accommodate our visitors in the best manner? We know Miss Mary, Dr. Jarman, Mrs. Jamison, and Phillip, our indispensable cook, as well as others, will be very busy. Dr. Jarman will have his hands full welcoming such a large number of guests, and a gracious host he will be. In spite of the additional tasks they must perform, we can count on each of them doing his part willingly and well.

How can we, the girls at S. T. C. best help to make this outstanding event successful? What responsibility should each of us feel in regard to carrying out the plans already formulated?

We can help most by cooperating with the various committees which are planning the Founder's day program, by being enthusiastic, and by making our visitors happy and comfortable.

WHAT IS A COLLEGE EDUCATION?

What is college education?

There is a little real doubt concerning this question in the minds of those who look at the college from the inside. Regardless of the different degrees of value that students place upon a college education, you hear of no one who regrets having spent four years of his life in higher education. But those who are on the outside looking in, what do they think of a college education? Why do parents, who have no education themselves, send their children to college? What do they expect and desire them to get there?

The object of the college, according to Woodrow Wilson, is intelectual discipline and moral enlightenment, and it is the immediate task of those who administer the colleges of the country to find the means and organization by which that object can be attained, "No one ever dreamed of imparting learning to undergraduates," said Wilson, "It cannot be done in four years. To become a man of learning is the enterprise of a life time." College is for the training of men and women who are to rise above the ranks. Quick apprehension, quick comprehension, quick action are what modern life puts a premium upon—a readiness to turn this way or that and not lose force or momentum. The man or woman who comes out of college into the modern world must, therefore, have got out of it. if he has not wasted four vitally significant years of his life, a quickening and a training which will make him in some degree a master among men. If he has got less, college was not worth his while.

"The hardest conviction to get into the mind of a beginner," says William Osler, "is that the education upon which he has engaged is not a college course, not a medical course, but a life course, for which the work of a few years under teachers is but a preparation."

In deploring the apparent lack of thinging among undergraduates, George Pierce Baker of Harvard university says, "One great difficulty which I find in my teaching is the restless activity of the undergraduate. Some of the best men, who really might do admirable work in their courses and win distinction in their undergraduate career, don't get results simply because they are always so busy with the other thing that the immediate piece of work never is done properly. That is the too common difficulty in undergraduate work; of course we know the excuse for it. It is, that these are young people. They are; but they are getting older, and take it that, in so far as age means judgment, discretion, we are here in these colleges largely to assist in making these youths somewhat older. I see no reason why they should not begin this training early in their college career. — The Folrida Flambeau.

INTERCOLLEGIATE NEWS

The North Carolina Collegiate Press convention will be held at Carolina Pines in Raleigh during April. Meredith College and State College will acts as hosts. This location was decided in in November, at the final business session of the 26th convention of the association.—Lenoir Rhynean.

Hamlin University, oldest college in Minnesota, no longer requires students to have credits for graduation. When they are able to pass a comprehensive examination they receive their diplomas.—Alabamian.

OPEN FORUM

Dear Editor:

Can it be true that members of our student body are throwing water on the dates as they leave the Rotunda on Saturday and Sunday nights? We realize that all of us are not so fortunate as to have dates, but even this is no reason why we should not be considerate of the company of those of us who do. Let us stop to think how much trouble and expense can be caused by a glass or two of water being thrown on one's clothes. We no longer consider ourselves children; so why do we stoop to such childish practices? In the future can't we be more thoughtful of others and refrain from such thoughtless behavior?

A Senior

Alumnae News

Have you been reading of the adventures of Mehitabel? He would be delighted to walk into "his" office on a Monday morning and find such a store of real news as we have to do in this week's "Rotunda." What with the alumnae returning, games, meetings and luncheons we are very proud of our report!

One of the most enjoyable of the many Thanksgiving meetings of the alumnae was the luncheon in Richmond, December 1, at the Westmoreland Club. The informal reception preceding the luncheon gave the "old girls" an opportunity to see Dr. Jarman, Miss Mary and one another and to greet their officers, Miss Pauline Camper, president, Miss Marnetta Souders, vice-president, Miss Ada Bierbower, secretary, Mrs. Anne Meredith Jeffers, treasurer, and Miss Ruth Campbell, director. The luncheon which followed was delightful in every way, the same atmosphere prevailing that we like to think of as the distinctive Farmville spirit. The three speakers for the occasion were happily chosen. Dr. Jarman inspired us with his reassurance as to the high service our alma mater renders; Mr. Thomas D. Eason, former faculty member, now director of higher education in Virginia, explained the hold Farmville has on those who have once been a part of the school; Dr. G. W. Jeffers outlined the plans for the fiftieth anniversary of the founding of the college, emphasizing the help and coperation the people of Farmville have always been so generously given the school. Altogether the annual reunion was a heart-warming one. We, the alumnae, are grateful to those who made it possible — to Mrs. Evelyn Dinwiddie Bass, chairman on arrangements, and to Miss Pauline Camper, and the other officers.

Faculty members, alumnae and guests attending were as follows:

Faculty: Misses Bessie Barclay, Martha Coulling, Mary B. Haynes, Mary P. Jones, Grace E. Mix, Ida W. Penney, Mary D. Pierce, Sarah B. Tucker, Mary Clay Hiner, Drs. G. W. Jeffers and J. P. Wynne, and Mr. T. A. McCorkle.

Alumnae: Misses Pearl Aylor, Catherine Bentley, Fannie and Mary Berkley, Ada Bierbower, Lady Boggs, Elizabeth Bowers, Ruth Campbell, Pauline Camper, Lucie Chrisman, Carolyn Cogbill, Mary White Cox, Zula Cutchins, Mary Dinwiddie, Mary Oliver Ellington, Susie Floyd, Margaret Fuller, Margaret Gathright, Grace George, Amanda Gray, Mary Clay Hiner, Elizabeth Hurt, Adele Hutchinson, Jessie Kellam, Cassie Laird, Willie London, Jacqueline Marston, Diana Minton, Bessie Mottley, Mary Nichols, Anne Dudley, Sue Roper, Loulie Shore, Rose Smith, Marnetta Souder, Georgianna Stephenson, Elsie Story, Virginia Tinsley, Carolyn Watts, Evelyn West, Elizabeth White, Pauline White and Elsie Wilson, Mesdames Evelyn Dinwiddie Bass, Minnie Taylor Bentley, Jessie Whitmore Booker, Eydney Guy Cabell, Anne Wilkinson Cox, Carrie Rennie Eason, Eleanor Jamison Folk, Anne Meredith Jeffers and her mother, Mrs. William Meredith, Ima White Smith, Martha Berkeley Tugle, Maria Meredith Turner, Kathleen Bondurant Wilson, and Josie Guy Yonce.

Honor guests: Dr. J. L. Jarman and Mr. T. D. Eason.

Congratulations to those alumnae chapters which have been good enough to send their reports to us! Get busy—you other chapters—and send us a write-up.

Culpeper held a meeting on November 16. New officers were elected, the old ones having served two years. Miss Ruth Winn was elected president; Miss Mary George Bolen, vice-president; Miss Nellie Norman, treasurer, and Miss Coleman, secretary. This chapter is working on a loan fund to help a student through the college.

Word from the Petersburg chapter tells us that they are actively engaged in raising dues for their loan fund. The officers in Petersburg for the year are: Miss Mary Frances Hatchett, president; Miss Elizabeth Willis, vice-president; Miss Gladys Wilkinson, treasurer and Miss Katherine Crowder, secretary. The executive and chapter meetings are evidence of real interest in the work of making the Alumnae Association a live organization.

Continued on page three

WORLD NEWS

Most of last week the real seat of U. S. Government was the front seat of President Roosevelt's car. In it for hours at a time he drove along the dried clay roads around Warm Springs, Ga., carrying all problems of state under his soft felt hat. With General Johnson he discussed 25 codes which the NRA Administrator had brought from Washington to be signed.

To the clamor sent up by anti-inflationists last week the President answered in a radio address occasioned by Md.'s tercentary: "It is a good thing to demand liberty for ourselves and for those who agree with us, but it is a better thing and a rarer thing to give liberty to others who do not agree with us."

Last week the President set up another potent governmental special bureau. The Executive Commercial Policy Committee, for the purpose of supervising negotiations of all commercial treaties such as are now anticipated between the U. S. and Sweden, Portugal, Brazil, Argentine, Columbia, and Russia.

Bright, bald-headed, young William Christian Bullit, first U. S. Ambassador to the U. S. S. R., went to Warm Springs for his last instructions before leaving for Moscow. He was told to go to his post, find a place to live, settle himself, and return as soon as he discovered what sort of U. S. and Russian pre-recognition claims the Kremlin would agree to.

"May we be grateful for the passing of dark days," declared the President's belated Thanksgiving proclamation.

CAMPUS COMMENTS

We hear Dot Stone had a number of unexpected experiences last weekend. Tell us about 'em, Dot.

Billie Rountree gave up a bid to go to V. P. I. so she could go to Norfol. What's the "interest" in the big city, Billie. Maybe the brass buttons don't always make such an impression.

Zella Newsom seems to have changed the "old saying" at V. P. I. Gentlemen prefer blondes, but now cadets prefer "red heads" She's our "Sophisticated Lady" and only a rat at that.

So Anne Thomas was the topic of conversation at "Crazy Inn" the other night. Good work, Anne!

"An apple a day keeps the doctor away," but what do lemons do? Ask Bernice Jones.

We've been hearing a lot about Lulie Wilkinson lately. Is everything "Jake" with you, Lulu!

So Louise Whitehurst has changed her mind about a certain young gentleman! Why the sudden change, Louise?

A picture can cause right much excitement sometimes. Ask Zell Hopkins about it.

What's this we hear about "Liz" Wall receiving a cabbage head from a truck gardner in Bristol? "Cash" really must have been low as he sent it collect.

We hear that Laeta Barham is giving a little maternal advice to some of the farmers at Blacksburg. Maybe those Hampden-Sydney love-lorns might like to hear about the S. T. C. Dorothy Dix.

Ask Dot Eley about her triumphant entry into Lexington last weekend.

Blanche Con has invented a new way to work higher mathematics—it's much less trouble than the Abascus—just use one twist of your hair for the 10 unit and work on up if your hair is long enough.

It seems that Margaret Dudley very suddenly decided to go out for bigger and better things last week-end, and the change in plans made her shift her territory from Staunton back to Farmville.

POETRY

ON HEARING A SONG OF SCHUBERT

Into the isles of sweet and silent peace,
The spirit of some great and beauteous dream
Awakes my soul as summer sun's first beam,
Touching the longing earth makes sorrow cease.
It seems that some great soul has found release
In prayer which seems to be my own light's gleam,
So softly does it fit into my dream
Of wooing my own part of earthly peace.
Oh mighty master of the ages past!
The music of your soul's own peaceful waking
Restores to me my goal in life at last.
I feel the olden doubts and fears forsaking
The chambers of my heart. All doubt is past;
Though years divide you've showed me life's awakening.

TRAVELER

I've lingered in old Samarkand
When purple dusk sifts down
To watch the camel caravans
Come jingling into town—
Once in a shadowed palanquin
I glimpsed a faded gown!

And then I sailed a painted junk
From Canton to Hong Kong,
And joined my voice in eerie chant
That coolies life in song,
And lit a scented joss-stick
At the call of temple gong.

I've looked upon the Taj Mahal
Exquisite as a dream
Of frosty carven loveliness
Caught in a clear moonbeam
And set in emerald gardens where
At night, white peacocks scream.

I've watched the fishing boats put out
When dawn breaks in Capri . . . . .
Oh, I have touched enchanted ports
In every foreign sea—
I traveled in a rocking chair
With books upon my knee.

Lexie Dean Robertson

PETITION

By Helen Welshimer

When I was small street-lighters came
With magic wands that made
The corner lamps walk down the street
In sudden bright parade.

And all the folks with homing hearts,
And boys and dogs and tramps
Were guyer when the dusk hnug out
Its row of yellow lamps.

Tonight my path runs dark and long
Beneath close-crowded trees . . .
Oh, lift your wand again, dear God,
And light a lantern, please!

FORGET ME

My love for you
Will live always
What matter
That you return it not?
Forget me,
Go on your way
Loving someone else.
Perhaps some day
We shall meet again,
Not as lovers
But as friends.

ONLY THE YOUNG FEAR DEATH

Only the young fear death.
A god has crossed their path and they are sure
Of happiness, if it would but endure.
Only the young fear death;
For when companions vanish on the way
And leave us one by one,
Is it not better done
Than to come lonely to the end of day?
Only the young fear death.
The aged speak not of it. At the door
They stand with cheerful faces to the last,
Like men who on the homeward way have passed
The steps of darkness many times before

Frederick Faust

SOCIALS

Among the girls who went home during the week-end were:

Frankie Minter, Iola McIntire, Addie Norfleet, Nan Edmunds, Virginia Edmunds, Phyllis Ferguson, Mary Alice Farrell, Faith Gaines, Susan Gresham, Evelyn Garnett, Iris Hart, Bessie Hix, B. Hart, Eileen Howard, Mary Hastings Holloway, Mary E. Hill, Margaret Hunter, Billie Rountree, Dorothy Ranson, Grace Rowell, Capitola Rountree, Martha Hamlet, Helen Harris, Hilda Inge, Mary Jones, Louise Jeffreys, Lois Jenkins, Frances Jamerson, Frances Johnson, Lelia Lovelace, aJne Main, Dorothy Morriss, Helen Lee Morris, Florence and Lelia Sanford, Mildred Slayton, Minnie Smith, Elizabeth Showell, Bertha White Babb, Kitty Chappell, Catherine Crews, Elsie Cabell, Alberta Collings, Christine Childrey, Rebecca Devaney, Mary Denny, Margaret Drake, Evelyn Dryden, Edna Dowley, Sue Waldo, Betsy Wilkerson, Margaret Webster, Elizabeth Walton, Mary West, June Allen, Grace Bass, Nell Snelly, Melva Smelly, Pauline Moseley, Virginia Brinkley, Virginia Bean Betty May Brown, Sally Rose Chappelle, Jestine Cutshall, Hilda Coffey, Margaret Turner, Mary Alice Wood, Clintis Mattox, Virginia Moses, Viki McGalliard, Virginia Payne, Charlotte Rice, Marian Schoffner, Elizabeth Shippett, Nancy Dodd, Lucille Good, Elizabeth Huse, Elizabeth Hart, Mary McCarn, Mervyn Gathright, Virginia Hannah, Julia Derr, Burnley Brockenbrough, Louise Alphen, Jeannette and Estelle Jones, Jane Colbourne, Georgia Spenser, Chic Dortch, Marian Raine, Kitty Bass and Amis Montgomery.

Farmville girls who attended the dances at V. P. I. this week-end were: Elizabeth Billups, Mary Bowles, Angerona Aydlette, Claudia Barleon, Claudia Harper, Nancy Parker, Louise Whitehurst, Elizabeth Huse, Helen Westmoreland, Nancy Harrison and Pauline Jones.

The following girls attended the Thanksgiving dances at V. M. I. this week-end: Virginia Hamilton, Chic Mosby, Mary Shelton, Martha Glen Davis, Dot Eley, Lloyd Kelly, Jean McClung, Margaret Carroll, Tac Waters, Carolyn Jones, Agnes Shaner, Marguerite Bradford, Jane Colbourne and Virginia Baker.

Girls who visited in Richmond over the week-end were: Ella Black, Katherine Malone, Christine Seay, Phyllis Ferguson, Helen Conquest, Rachel Joyner, Audrey Hawthorne, Alice Rowell, Elise Marshburn, Evelyne Howell, Dorothy Hutcheson, Bernice Eckler, and Sara Goodwin.

Girls who attended dances at W. & L. this week-end were: Mary Louise McNulty, Dorothea Dollings, Evelyn Knaub, Mary Gilmer and Martha Higgins.

Girls who spent the week-end in Roanoke were: Virginia Riddick, Lelia Whitehurst, Hazel Smith and Frances Graham.

Other girls who went home for the week-end are: Mary Wood, Elizabeth Vassar, Louise Van Lear, Virginia Widgeon, Brooks Wheeler, Billy Wilkerson, Fanny Bosworth, Helen Rose Cunningham, Louise Coleman, Anthelia Robinette, Elizabeth Rogers, Edna Hatcher, Josephine Kent, Marion Layne, Ellen Mason, Ida Miller, Catherine Gillespie, Elizabeth Renfro, Betty Barleon, Beatrice Bentley, Carolyn Jones, and Estelle Jones.

Ella and Sue Mallory visited their home in Lawrenceville this week-end. While there, they had as their guests: Nancy Dodd, Sarah Beck, Catherine Young and Catherine Fitzgerald.

Patsy Saunders and Mildred Chandler, spent the week-end in Bedford.

A. A. ENTERTAINS ALUMNAE PLAYERS

On Thanksgiving day the Athletic Association entertained the alumnae hockey players at Longwood with a picnic supper. Hot dogs, bacon, rolls, cheese and nut sandwiches, olive sandwiches, potato salad, cakes, apples, pickles, and hot chocolate made up the menu.

Besides the members of the A. A. Council were the guests: Miss Olive T. Iler, Mary Frances Hatchett, Hildegarde Ross, Dot Snedegar, Rachel McDaniel, Marguerite Massey, Nell Dickinson, Duvahl Ridgway, Ruth Jordan, Lucille Crute, Martha Gunter, and Elizabeth Walthall.

PAN-HELLENIC COUNCIL ENTERTAINS SORORITIES

The Pan-Hellenic Council entertained delightfully at a tea in the Student Building lounge, Tuesday afternoon December 5. The hours of calling were from four to six, during whic htime the members of the six sororities, Sigma Sigma Sigma, Alpha Sigma Alpha, Gamma Theta, Pi Kappa Sigma, Mu Omega, and Zeta Tau and the faculty advisors enjoyed delicious refreshments. Miss Grace Mix, Pan-Hellenic adviser, presided at the tea table and the council members served.

MISS ILER ENTERTAINS PI KAPPA SIG SORORITY

Miss Iler entertained the Alpha Epsilon Chapter of Pi Kappa Sigma this afternoon with a tea at Longwood. The room was dimly lighted by candles and bowls of fall flowers arranged throughout the room. An open fire added warmth and cheerfulness to the room.

THE WEEK AFTER THE WEEK-END BEFORE

A gay flutter and flurry of fur coats and smart hats, the thrill of the Thanksgiving game, the fat turkey dripping in delicious dressing, mince pie and ruby red cranberries of the Thanksgiving dinner, the dance at V. P. I. or W. & L. and the joy of going home, seeing old friends and the family! Thanksgiving!

And for the girls we left behind us—up here. The excitement of the color rush, the hockey game, various teas, and that Thanksgiving dinner!

Now it's all over and all of us feel curiously blank. Back to the orderly quiet of our rooms, books that have grown dusty over the week-end, and back to thoughts of tasks left uncompleted during Thanksgiving. The past week is a confused medley of laughter and perhaps tears. At parting, the gayety, the thrill and the joy of being home. Before us three humdrum weeks before Christmas—weeks that will be crowded with study and worry over examinations, weeks that will be sadly empty, until Christmas, and then the fun starts over again on a larger scale than before.

We straggled in all day Sunday—a worn out, exhausted group. Sunday was spent in talking over our week-end. Monday we were a dispiritless, sleepy-eyed crowd. No doubt our professors were disgusted at our lack of response, but many of us were dreaming in class of our good time. The reaction had set in—and we were showing it.

Oh, well—Christmas is just around the corner and we hope it shows up sooner than prosperity has. We'll get through those weeks some way, and then with examinations off our minds, we'll have a big time in a big way. Here's to the holidays.

OYSTER ROAST

"Oysters here, oysters there, oysters oysters everywhere" seemed to be the theme song at the roast Tuesday night given by the Tidewater Club of Hampden-Sydney at Farmville Lake. Those present besides the members of the club were Dr. and Mrs. Wilson of Hampden-Sydney, Mr. and Mrs. P. T. Atkinson of Hampden-Sydney, Page Nottingham, Florence Tankard, Winnie Richards, Billy Rountree, Sue Hume, Lula Wilkerson, Frances Woodhouse, Dot Justis and Helen Conquest. It can easily be said that a good time and plenty of oysters were enjoyed by all.

C. E. Chappell
COMPANY
Stationery, Blank Books and School Supplies
Cigars, Cigarettes and Soda
Farmville, Virginia

S. A. Legus
TAILOR
CLEANING
PRESSING
REPAIRING
Phone 203

ALUMNAE NEWS

(Continued from page 2)

Twenty-two valiant alumnae in South Norfolk have met and organized our newest chapter. This promises to be a very enthusiastic group. The officers are: Miss Pattie Smith, president; Miss Rosalind Harrell, secretary-treasurer, and Miss Lucile Scaff, reporter. We are proud of our infant organization and are looking to them for big things during the year.

Miss Lillian Minor, supervisor of elementary education in Norfolk county, will retain the office of treasurer of the Administrative Women's Council. She was elected to this office last year.

Miss Maggie Watkins, who recently sustained an injury in a fall while visiting her niece, Mrs. Maurice Miller, in Richmond is quite ill.

Miss Mary Virginia Ramsey of Bedford and Charles Wendall Venable of Antigo, Wisconsin, were married in Lynchburg on Dec. 1. They will live in Bedford where the groom is engaged in business.

Miss Carrie B. Taliaferro attended a meeting of the Reviewing and Unifying Committee of the Secondary Curriculum for Virginia in Richmond on November 28.

Among the alumnae visiting the college for the holidays were:

Easter Souders, Amelia; Rachel McDaniel, Hampton, Lucille Crute, Baskerville; Hildegarde Ross, Alexandria; Marguerite Massey, Post Oak; Martha Gunter, Evington; Mrs. Arthur T. Wise, Craddockville; Hattie Gilliam, Big Stone Gap; Gladys Monroe, Big Stone Gap; Duvahl Diggway, Roanoke; Elizabeth Walthall, Dante; Dot Snedegar, Roanoke; Nona Draper, Richlands; Margaret Beord, Falls Mills; Odelle Dressler, Covington; Elizabeth Magee, Broadnax, Viola Tuttle, Norfolk, Bessie Gunter, Vera; Edith Hailey, Gladys; Virginia Tohrnton, Milford; Ruth Jordan, Hampton; Mary Hood, Norfolk; Juanita Williams, Norfolk; Myrtle Ramirez, Madison Heights; Isabelle Allegree, Charlottesville; Elsie Story, Sweet Briar, Evelyn West, Willow, Elizabeth Hardy, Wattsboro; Adele Hutchinson, and Mary Oliver Ellington.

The President enjoyed an amiable visit from Brown Derby Democrat, John J. Raskob, a Warm Springs benefactor who had gone south to hear Trustee Roosevelt accept a new administration building and dining hall for the sanatorium.

MISS MARY ENTERTAINS AT DINNER IN LOUNGE

A silver service on a tea table in the candlelight, a roaring fire in the grate and soft music all have furnished the background for lovely dinners in the Lounge for the past few weeks. An idea was conceived several years ago of just such informal gatherings on cold winter evenings for the purpose of creating an atmosphere more closely akin to that of the home. We are delighted that this idea has become a reality and that we can enjoy these "chats-by-the-chimney."

Already half of the student body has been entertained, another group is having supper in the Lounge tonight, and the last will go on Monday.

Miss Mary has been assisted by Miss Potts, Alice McKay, Honey Hamilton and Martha Ann Laing, in looking after the guests and the evenings have been made informal by having the table hostesses help with the serving. The student body is deeply grateful to Miss Mary and to all of those who have made these parties possible; we think it a lovely plan.

DRESS MAKING — DESIGNING
HEMSTITCHING AND
ALTERING
SINGER SHOP
Third Street
FARMVILLE, VA.
10-4-3t

Kleanwell
CLEANERS AND TAILORS
Expert Cleaning, Repairing and Remodeling of Ladies Garments
Main Street, Opposite Postoffice
PHONE 98

Lucille Shop
"Just Across the Street"
Street Floor — Hotel Weyanoke
Apparel for the College Girls
Nuf-Sed

THE DOROTHY MAY STORE
NEW DRESSES ARRIVING DAILY
$5.45
New high shades, blacks, browns, Sunday-nite and afternoon frocks.
$9,45
Woolens, rough crepes, sheers, faille crepes
Do your Christmas shopping here—Lovely Underwear, pocketbooks, gloves, vanities, necklaces, handkerchiefs.

SHOP AT
DAVIDSON'S
FOR YOUR
CHRISTMAS GIFTS
A large variety to select from

EACO THEATRE
PROGRAM DEC. 5 to 13

Thursday and Friday December 7 and 8
Katharine Hepburn
Joan Bennett, Frances Dee
Joan Parker, Paul Lukas
in LOUISA M. ALCOTT'S
"LITTLE WOMEN"
Dear to the heart of every woman of every age—America's favorite love story! The joys and tears of girlhood's years, in a glowing drama of yesterday—fresh with the sweetness of eternal spring. You will thrill to the radiance of Jo, Beth, Meg and Amy. Also "Hollywood on Parade" with most of the well known stars.
Prices: Adults 35c night; 25c matinees.
Special Saturday A. M. Mat. Dec. 9 at 10:30, when children under 12 years will be admitted for 10c.

Saturday, December 9
Ruth Chatterton
George Brent
in
"FEMALE"
Girls, see this story of a woman who made a business of bossing men. Maybe you think you know how to handle men—just because you've managed to handle one man! But could you do the same thing with any man—with scores of men — as this girl did. Come and see how she does it—then try it for yourself.
Also Screen Song, Tintype and Fox News.

Next Monday and Tuesday December 11 and 12
Margaret Sullavan
(The New Star and a Norfolk Girl)
John Boles
and 93 Feature Players
in
"ONLY YESTERDAY"
Here's the biggest cast ever assembled in one picture—and what a picture! The critics have raved about it from one end of the country to the other. Here's the most absorbing love drama shown on the screen for many years—a vitally poignant love story which has never been equalled for sheer emotional quality. This picture will get you. And Margaret Sullavan, the girl from Norfolk—you will see a new star born.
Also Screen Souvenir.
Note—Better come early as this is a 2-hour picture and we start on time.

Next Wed., Dec. 13
Marlene Dietrich
in
'THE SONG OF SONGS'
Thrill to the new Dietrich—the woman of flame and desire. Love enveloped this beautiful woman—consumed her—drove her to the arms of many men, but it could not erase the memory of the one man. One of the world's great love stories comes to the star who can make it live. A really excellent picture.
Also Popeye the Sailor
Chapter 6, Buck Jones serial.

Daily matinees at 4 P. M. Evenings at 8 P. M.

Adults, 20c at Matinees, and 25c at nights; except on percentage pictures. We hope an increased attendance will permit us to continue these prices.

PERPLEXITY

He never tried to kiss me when I wore brocade
With silver slippers matching, and bracelet of jade
How strange he should have found me
Here among the mint
And kissed me long and deeply
In this faded print.

—Selected

Sunday School Teacher—Where do little boys go who fish on Sunday?
Johnny—Over to the deep hole on Perkins' farm.

ALUMNAE TEAM TIES S. T. C. PICK-UPS 1-1

The A. A. field wasa scene of wild excitment Thursday afternoon at 2:30 as the Alumnae and the Pick-Ups played hockey.

It gave everyone a grand feeling to see the alumnae back. They proved that they certainly had not forgotten how to play hockey.

It proved to be a good game as the final score was 1-1. After additional playing the tie still remained 1 to 1.

The line-up was as follows:

Alumnae		Pick-Ups
Ross	R.W.	McDaniel
Hatchett	R.I.	Beck
Gregory	C.F.	Ranson
Walthall	L.I.	Layne
Cunter	L.W.	York
Fudgway	R.H.	Sanford
Iler	C.H.	Cooper
Snedegar	L.H.	Rhoades
Massey	B.F.	Roberts
Rhodes	L.F.	Massey
Crute	G	Mann

Alumnae subs: Williamson, Dickinson, McDaniel.

Pick-Ups, subs: McGlothlin, Massey and Antony.

HOCKEY CHAMPIONS SCHEDULED FOR FRIDAY

The class championship hockey game has been scheduled for Friday afternoon, Dec. 8 at 4 P. M.

From the splendid showing both classes made in previous combats a great game is anticipated.

TENNIS

There was a mistake in last week's "Rotunda" about the tennis tournament being postponed until spring. As long as the weather permits, everyone out for tennis is expected to play all the matches possible, so the varsity team may be chosen early in the spring.

THE BEAUTY SCHOOL

By Helena Rubinstein

THREE THINGS RED

There's an old beauty rule that comes to us from the Far East. "A woman should have three things red—lips, cheeks and fingernails." Most of us live up to that rule today—even though we do not bother with a smart manicure or alluring makeup on the campus. But one of the reasons for practicing beauty rites occasionally is so that you can look your best, when you want to, as a moment's notice.

In the mater of "three things red" practice is important. I would suggest first that you study your face, just as you would study a math problem. Look at yourself with critical eyes, under a revealing light. Is your face a little broad? A little too long? A little too round? By using your rouge correctly you can minimize these slight disadvantages.

A broad face for example should wear rouge blended toward the center, to make the cheeks appear closer together, and to give the impression of an oval shape. A narrow face should follow the contrary rule and place the rouge out toward the temples. A too-long face must have rouge placed more in the center of the check; a too-short face, ought to have it placed high under the eyes.

Lips can be improved by the correct application of lipstick, too. At present, it is smart to rouge the lower lip heavily, the upper lip slightly. It is a good plan to follow if your upper lip is not well salped, If your lower lip is very full, however, make your own fashion rule, and rouge the upper lip more brightly.

Color plays such an important part in "three things red"! There are reds and reds. Generally speaking, I think a vivacious red coral shade is most becoming for the fair-haired, fair-skinned girl; red poppy for the Celtic brunette, red geranium for those with a tawny skin tone. Rouge and lipstick should match.

Nail groom should match the color of check and lips too, for a perfect grooming ensemble. And by all means, when you use brilliant color on your nails, put it on as carefully as a professional does.

"I think there is company downstairs."

"What makes you think so?"

"I just heard Mother laugh at one of Dad's jokes."

MAGNIFICENT OBSESSION

By Lloyd C. Douglas. Willet, Clark and Colby $2.50. 330 pages

When a book causes as much stir and comment as has Lloyd Douglas' "Magnificent Obsession" it is worth looking into. This is a book which is just as unusual as it is readable. The theme is one of spiritual and religious significance. The idea that you may become a glorious and successful person by secretely doing things to help others, thereby absorbing a part of their own personality into you, is new and startling. And yet, Lloyd Douglas tells us that the formula for acquiring this new personality is written on one page of our most familiar book—the Bible. Bobby Merrick, whose life has been saved at the cost of the life of Dr. Hudson, a famous brain surgeon, is an actual proof that the theory will work. In the beginning of the story, Bobby was a lazy, drunken boy who squanders away his millions drinking and gambling. But when his life is handed back to him, he determines to make something of it. After decipering the late Dr. Hudson's secreet journal, he, too, becomes obsessed with the strange idea of how to achieve success. He becomes as promnient a brain surgeon as Doctor Hudson, whose place he is aiming to fill. He even manages to invent a tool which revolutionizes brain surgery. The message of the book is a challenge to better yourself by helping others with no hope for praise or reward. How out of reach is this challenge for most of us! For the average reader is no millionaire like Bibby Merrick, who readily invested thousands of dollars in people to try out his scheme. It's nice to read about people doing wonderful things anyway.

The book not only gives Lloyd Douglas' views of religion, but there is a pleasing love story running through it. However, the first part of the book concerned with the magnificent obsession is more engrossing. It hints at so much and reveals so little. The author dramatically leads you incident by incident up to a high pitch and leaves you dangling there. You are not sure what you think of his religion. Then while you are still expecting to be enlightened, you are plunged headlong into the love story of Bobby and Helen Hudson. The love interest is pretty and pleasing, but not stirring. In fact, the whole book is too good to be true. It reads more like a fairy tale than real life. Some may read into it a deep significant meaning, some may take it just as a different and entertaining book, but all should read it for you are bound to have some reaction to its unusualness.

FROM OLD ROTUNDAS

November 28, 1928

Mabel "Baby" Fitzptrick and Geo. Francis took the leading roles in "Peg O' My Heart" presented by the S. T. C. Dramatic Club and the H. S. C. Jongleurs.

Miss Olive T. Iler was installed as senior classman in chapel, Saturday, Novembesr 24.

December 4. 1929:

On Thanksiving day the green and whites were victorious in both hockey games—the Juniors winning with a score of 4-3 and the Freshmen being victorious by an advantage of 2-1.

December 9. 1931

Nancy Burgwyn, a freshman, scored a success when she played the leading role in "Enter Madame," the fall Dramatic Club play. Playing opposite to her was Joe Perry, an old favorite on the S. T. C. stage. Others in the cast were Jenilee Knight, Eddie Bell, Edward Paulette, Sallie Russell, Ed Poole, Helen Warren, Margaret Banks, and Frank Pauley.

Teacher—Robert, here is an example in subtraction. Seven boys went down to the creek to bathe, but two of them had been told not to go in the water. Now, can you inform me how many went in?

Robert—Yes'm; seven.

Jones (meditating)—I hear that broadcasting has passed the infant stage. Now, if only my neighbor's infant would pass the broadcasting stage!

RICE'S SHOE STORE

Street and Dress Shoes
Dancing Slippers Dyed
Correct fits our speciality

SPORT SLANTS

We want to congratulate the Senior class on its splendid school spirit in coming out en masse for the Thanksgiving hockey games.

We extend congratulations to the Freshman class on its excellent cheer leader and its fine cheering.

Victoria Gillette said she had stage fright before the fatal bell rang on Thursday morning. In that case, we recommend it in large doses for future runners.

Strange sight number 562: Lelia Lovelace prancing up the Senior Biulding hall to place her colors triumphantly on the railing.

Alumnae will be—good. After struggling violently the Pick-Up team could only score 1-1 Thursday afternoon.

McKay, how could you? Don't you know you aren't supposed to scream loudly about the halls before seven o'clock in the morning?

Florence Sanford is pretty good at riding wooden horses, but she's a honey of a hockey player — even without "The Last Round-Up" to spur her on.

An orchid to Barbara Kester for her good sportsmanship and her steady playing in the Junior-Senior game!

How'd you like the freshman hockey team's cute outfits Thanksgiving? The sweat shirts made from bath towels were Bess McGlothlin's idea. Not bad, huh?

It surely looked good to see so many former S. T. C. stars back for Thanksgiving. And wasn't the 1932 senior team well represented? Eight of last year's eleven were here. Now, we're looking forward to seeing another reunion Founder's Day.

Maybe it would be a good thing for some of us to voluntarily pledge ourselves to basketball training rules before we go home Christmas. Besides saving our wind, it might help us out in our reducing(?) diet.

FOOTBALL RESULTS

Saturday, Dec. 2

Southern Calif. 31; Georgia 0
Notre Dame 13; Army 12
Princeton 27; Yale 2
Georgia Tech 6; Duke 0
Louisiana State 7; Tulane 7
S. C. 16; Auburn 14
Kansas 7; Geo. Washington 0

Thanksgiving

W. & M. 6; Richmond 0
V. M. I 0; V. P. I. 0
Emory & Henry 12; King College 0
Colgate 25; Brown 0
Cornell 20; Penn 12
Carnegie Tech 0; Pitt 16
N. C. 14; Virginia 0
Wofford 0; Citadel 14
Davidson 2; Wake Forest 13.

Weyanoke

BEAUTY SALON

A Complete Beauty Service At Moderate Prices

What we have done for others we can do for you

WEYANOKE HOTEL
Farmville Va.

"LITTLE WOMEN"

Reviewed by Meg Herndon

"Little Women" which was our favorite childhood book has been reproduced by M. G. M. into our favorite grown-up play. The most delightful thing about the whole show, besides of course the superb acting of Katherine Hepburn, Paul Lukas, Jean Parker, and the entire cast, was the fact that the simple story has not been changed.

Meg, Beth, Jr., Amy, Laurie, and the Prof. seem to have stepped directly from the glowing pages of Louisa M. Alcott's famous book. Straight through the story we laugh at Jo's tomboyish tricks, weep over Bethf's fragility, chuckle at Amy's grown-up ways and smile at Meg's half concealed love affair.

We are touched when the girls give their Christmas breakfast to a poor family; we are thrown into gales of laughter when Jo presents her original metrodrama "The Witche's Curse" in which she plays two parts and the noises off stage.

....Costume plays are always popular. You will love the hoop skirts, the girls wear especially Jo's ball dress which she burned by standing in front of the fire.

One of the most interesting features of the production was the gradual maturing of the girls from gay childhood into glowing womanhood.

If you loved the book you will surely not miss this glowing drama of yesterday and everyday.

Electric Shoe Shop

Will Fix Your Shoes While You Wait

BEST WORKMANSHIP AND LEATHER USED

YOU WOULD LOVE TO HAVE YOUR SHOES FIXED AT THE

Lovelace Shoe Shop

110 Third Street

WILLIS The Florist

FLOWERS FOR ALL OCCASIONS

PHONES 181-273

ALPHA KAPPA GAMMA SELLS CHISTMAS CARDS

Attractive Christmas cards are being sold by members of Joan Circle of Alpha Kappa Gamma. Some of the cards have a lovely snow scene of the front view of the college, while the others are regular gereting cards. The prices range from five to fifteen cents each for the cards. They can be obtained from any student or faculty member of Alpha Kappa Gamma, and they will be sold at the table in the hall.

Mack's

BARBER AND BEAUTY SHOP

323 Main Street

We use the Frederick Method

Hair Cutting and Thinning a Specialty

Martin JEWELER

Gifts of Lasting Remembrance

317 Main St. Farmville

We give Jubilee tickets

SouthsideDrugStore

(On the Corner)

Films Developed FREE

If bought at this store

Shannon's

Is Headquarters for the Best SANDWICHES —and— DRINKS —in— FARMVILLE!

At THE HUB S. T. C. HEADQUARTERS

Twin sweaters sets at $1.98 and $2.95

Broguish Oxfords, with low or medium heels. You will love them, $2.45, $2.95 and $3.50. All widths and sizes.

THE HUB DEPARTMENT STORE

"Farmville Best Place to Shop"

Showing at special sale prices the newest in dress or sport shoes, for College girls!

Price $3.00 to $4.50

First quality pure silk hose, —all new shades 85c pr., $1.00 pr., $1.25 pr.

If it's new—it's at

BALDWIN'S

Quality—Price—Service

G. F. Butcher

High Street

"The Convenient Store"

FOR GOOD THINGS TO EAT AND DRINK

Gray's Drug Store

QUALITY—PRICE—SERVICE

Come in and Get Acquainted

We Are Glad to Have You With Us!

Farmville, Virginia

WISHING YOU
A MERRY
CHRISTMAS!

THE ROTUNDA
POE

We Teach To Teach

Volume XIV | THE ROTUNDA, WEDNESDAY, DEC. 13, 1933 | No. 12

BEST LUCK
ON EXAMS!

Juniors Lose Hockey Championship To Freshman Team

After Two Extra Halves Freshmen Defeat Juniors 1-0, To Become '33 Victors

GAME CLOSES HOCKEY SEASON

After a final strenuous effort, the freshmen eleven succeeded in scoring one goal over the junior team in the last hockey game here for this year.

The juniors were playing under many difficulties. One of their team was unable to play. The freshmen had the fighting spirit that has been predominant in every game they have played. In most of the first half the juniors kept the ball within 15 yards of their goal, but they were unable to break through the freshman line. Bernice Mann, the freshman goal keeper, with many skillful plays, expertly prevented the ball from entering the goal. They managed to keep the ball in their goal zone, with every squad member playing well. Neither team had scored by the end of the game.

The two captains, Lelia Mattox, of '35 and Katherine Irby of '37 decided that the teams play off the tie in two five-minute halves. The freshmen started in their most forceful action and carried the ball down to the goal and scored. The last half they held the juniors in check by neat playing and deft shots.

The "Green Rats" were exhuberant over their successful year.

The line-up was:

Freshmen	Juniors
York	L.W.
Lane	L.T. ..... Mattox (c)

Continued on page four

Members of Faculty Talk On Traditions

Many interesting facts of S. T. C. in 1900, and traditions that have been handed down were discussed by Miss Coulling and Doctor Field to Miss Stubbs' sociology classes, Saturday afternoon, in the small auditoium.

Miss Coulling told of some amusing and odd customs that were practiced here then. It seems that the same boy was not allowed to call on a girl two week-ends in succession. There was no student government; the home department made and enforced all the rules. Doctor Field, who came in 1908 as the first woman physician here, had some entertaining memoirs to relate.

The college, of course, was much smaller. A high fence surrounded the building. The present day tea-room emerged from a work shop.

Morning watch is an old custom in S. T. C. Prayers are also an old tradition, although the candle light is something new. For years, the Seniors have turned over their caps and gowns to the juniors. Commencement exercises have been supplemented by class day. Wearing white for special occasions is another old tradition.

Miss Mary Woodrift, who was once principal of the training school and secretary of the Y. W. C. A., began the practice of singing Christmas carols on the streets of Farmville just before the holidays. She also initiated the red and green color rush at Thanksgiving. Miss Florence Buford started rat week, which has been practiced ever since.

The Rotunda was the first weekly newspaper published by the school. It has grown and improved, but still bears the same name.

From these talks, the four sociology classes are planning to publish a book on the traditions of the school and to present this book on Founder's Day.

College Choir Gives Christmas Program Sunday Over WRVA

The College Choir and the Men's Business Chorus of Farmville will broadcast a Christmas program over WRVA in Richmond on Sunday evening, December 17, from 5:00 to 5:45 o'clock.

The program consists of Christmas carols by the College Choir and Business Men's Chorus, a solo by Dr. Jarman, quartet by College Senior Quartette, a solo by Miss Irene Leake, solo by Miss Dorothy Fugate and a chorus: 23rd Psalm by the College Choir.

Those members of the choir making the trip are: Jean Allen Bowles, Jestine Cutshall, Wilma Denit, Dorothy Fugate, Margaret Eley, Margaret Garnett, Ruth Gaines, Rebecca Glenn, Edna Hatcher, Virginia Hamilton, Louise Hyde, Dorothy Justis, Lila Jacob, Elizabeth Kelly, Barbara Kester, Mary McCarn, Elise Marshburn, Audrey Mattox, Margaret Murry, Margaret Parker, Anne Putney, Margaret Pringle, Nell Oakey Ryan, Alfreda Shields, Ruth Showalter, Bernice Scott, Bessie Strick, Christine Seay, Helen Smith, Joyce Sturm, Alice Belle Strock, Sarah Hyde Thomas, Martha Scott Watkins, Dorothy Woolwine, Marian Umberger, Sue Yeaman, Nancy Harrison, Evelyn Howell, Alice Grainger, Hortense Faubush, Mary Elizabeth Wood, and Alice McKay.

STUDENTS PARTICIPATE IN WHITE CHRISTMAS

A very impressive White Christmas service was presented in prayers Monday night. Cathedral candles and soft music lent an air of solemnity and sacredness to the occasion. After a short but sincere and beautiful prayer, Miss Nichols told the legend of the first White Christmas, one that has been told before but which always has a strong appeal. Miss Nichols made clear the new spirit of Christmas, the spirit of giving instead of receiving. Her descriptions of the significance of white were particularly outstanding—white, a symbol of purity; white, beautiful in its physical aspects as revealed in the glistening snow of winter, and white in its figurative meaning of love and devotion. She concluded with the thought that we like the subjects of Kubla Khan and the Wise Men, might bring our love gifts to the King.

To the accompaniment of Christmas hymns played low, students, dressed in white, representatives of the various organizations in school, laid their gifts on an improvised altar. These donations are given to the Service Committee of the Y. W. C. A. —who were in charge of the entire program—to be used for the benefit of poor families in Farmville. After the last gift had been given, the service ended with the motto.

MISS LISABETH PURDOM CONDUCTS STATE HIGH SCHOOL ORCHESTRA

Ninety-four players from various high schools all over the state will give a joint concert in the John Marshall High School auditorium tonight at 8:15.

The program is unusual and includes:

"Andante from Surprise Symphony," Haydn; "Marche Militaire," Schubert; "Chanson san Paroles," Tschaikowsky.

It is a fitting honor that one of our faculty members was chosen for the conductor's position of such an outstanding organization.

Pi Gamma Mu Sends Delegates To Penn.

Dr. Walmsley, Birdie Wooding and Mary Wicker Represent Local Chapter

Dr. J. E. Walmsley, Birdie Wooding, and Mary Wicker have been chosen by the local chapter of Pi Gamma Mu as representatives to the national convention of that national honor society in social sciences to be held in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, December 27, 28, and 29.

This meeting, scheduled in Philadelphia during the Christmas holidays, is a biennual affair. The Benjamin Franklin Hotel in that city will serve as headquarters for the delegates from the many chapters of Pi Gamma Mu located in colleges all over the United States.

Dr. C. A. Edward of Duke University is national president of Pi Gamma Mu now. Election of national officers for the ensuing two years will be held. Dr. Walmsley is chairman of the nominating committee which will present a list of nominees for the offices.

The principal speaker of the convention is Professor E. A. Ross of the University of Wisconsin.

Y. W. Cabinet Gives Christmas Pageant

Tomorrow night, Thursday, December 14, a Christmas pageant will be presented in prayers by the Y. W. Cabinet. This entire week has been devoted to special Christmas programs, and it is believed that this pageant, one of the events of the holiday season most anticipated and enjoyed by both students and faculty members, will be a fitting close to four very lovely services. The cabinet hopes that everyone may go away from this service with a feeling of peace and beauty that will better enable each student to settle down to a week of hard work.

The theme is not original—simply the Christmas story portrayed tableaux and Christmas carols. It is expected to be effective through its simplicity and the charm of a story that "never grows old". The acting will be entirely pantomime, thus giving more of an air of sacredness and reverence and being more in keeping with the quiet joyfulness of the true Christmast spirit.

The following characters have been selected: Mary, Lucy Potter; Joseph, Helen Shawen; Angels, Nancy Harrison, Kitty Bass, Sallie Perrow, Nancy Beard; Shepherds, Libby Ware, Bobby Saunders, Mary Banks Sullivan; Wise Men, Jestine Cutshall, Wyc Scott, Sue Waldo; Reader, Honey Hamilton.

CALENDAR

December 13-20

Wednesday
5:00—Open Y. W. cabinet meeting
6:45—Miss Rice's Xmas story
7:30—Pi Gamma Mu
Thursday
6:45—Xmas pageant
7:00—Kappa Delta Pi
7:00—Student body meeting
8:00—Beta Pi Theta
10:00—Pan-Hellenic
Friday
Examinations
6:45—Hanging of the Greens
7:00—Monogram Club
7:00—Gamma Psi
Saturday
Examinations
2:00—Monogram hike
Sunday
3:15 P. M.—Carol Service
10:00 P. M.—Caroling in town

Margaret Parker Is May Festival Queen; Harrison Attendant

Margaret Parker of Suffolk was announced as the newly elected May Queen and Nancy Harrison of Petersburg, her maid of honor at "Sing" Saturday night. Margaret is the president of the senior class and has taken much interest in all school activities. Nancy, president of the dramatic club, played the part of Lady Mary in "The Admirable Crichton," the play recently given here by the Dramatic Club.

All nominees for the May Court were introduced to the student body by Elmer Rawlings, chairman of May Day. After the Queen was announced, the entire group of attendant nominees, attired in evening dresses, stood on the stage while the students voted by ballot for the personnel of the Court.

The court attendants chosen by ballot voting were: Kitty Roberts, Virginia Hamilton, Sue Yeaman, Louise Van Lear, Grace Rowell, Alice Rowell, Mary Shelton, Lucy Potter, Doris Eley, Elizabeth Kelley, Zaida Thomas, Mary Bowles, Dorothy Prescott, Mary Easley Hill, Margaret Farrar, Evelyn Knaub, Jane Coulbourne, and Kitty Bass.

DANCING FEATURES PROGRAM AT SING

Both tap dancing and natural dancing were featured in Sing Saturday night, given by Mrs. Fitzpatrick's dancing classes. Two unusual and original studies were also presented by the Artists Dance Group, a new and worthy organization in the school.

The tap dances were given first by talented students, dressed in delightful appropriate costumes. The British Grenadiers, School Days, O Semuel, and The Stick Horse Dance given by Sarah Beck, Ella Mallory, Ruth Showalter, and Katherine Young.

The natural dances which were gracefully and beautifully given consisted of various types including The Rabbit Dance, The Butterfly Dance, Marionettes, and the Frolic.

These dances were greeted with enthusiasm and applause on all sides, showing that the dances have really accomplished remarkable results through practice and training from Mrs. Fitzpatrick.

The original artists' dance numbers were also presented in a pleasing manner.

Following the dance program the May Queen and nominees for the May Court were presented and the May Court elected.

SPANISH CIRCLE HOLDS LAST FALL MEETING

El Circulo Espanol held its last regular meeting for this quarter on Friday night, December 8, in the Student Building lounge. The meeting was called to order by the president, Marguerite Rollins. The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved and the roll called. The question of dues for this year was discussed, and initiation of new members was mentioned.

Several very entertaining and instructional games in Spanish were played and a few Spanish songs sung, after which refreshments, consisting of peanuts and mints were served.

These meetings of the circle are conducted in Spanish, and besides being quite sociable and enjoyable, they are thought by the members to be very beneficial for broadening one's Spanish vocabulary and giving him an opportunity to speak the language more fluently.

S. T. C. Reinstates Forensic Relations With H. S. Debaters

Bondurant, Slayton, Smith and Gillette To Represent College

R. M. C. DEBATERS HERE

On Tuesday night, December 12, Hampden-Sydney and S. T. C. locked horns in a forensic way for the first time in several years, when a non-decision debate, the second of a series scheduled, for the winter, took place. The question discussed was, "Resolved: That the Federal Government should control all radio broadcasting, constitutionally waved." S. T. C., represented by Agnes Bondurant and Mildred Slayton, advanced the argument for the affirmative. F. D. Frasch and W. H. Armistiong, of Hampden-Sydney supported the negative.

Although no decision was at stake, the participants entered into the debate with considerable manifestation of interest and spirit.

On the preceding Friday night, December 8, another non-decision debate was held, Randolph-Macon College contesting with S. T. C. on this occasion. The same question—government control of radio broadcasting—was discussed. The Randolph-Macon team consisted of W. H. Harper of Philadelphia, and G. H. Davis of Warrenton, who argued for the affirmative. Helen Smith and Victoria Gillette in behalf of S. T. C. defended the negative.

The young men of the affirmative seemed quite at home on the S. T. C. platform, this being their second appearance here in debates. Both the affirmative and negative teams of Farmville were composed of new ma-

Continued on page four

Acting Group Gives 'Helena's Husband'

"Helena's Husband," a clever one act comedy by Philip Moeller, was presented Thursday, December 7, in the large auditorium by the apprentices of the acting group of the Dramatic Club. The play, given at the regular monthly meeting of the Dramatic Club, was coached by Margaret Pollard. The costuming, lighting, and staging were arranged by apprentices in those groups.

The part of Helen, beautiful wife of Menelaus, King of Sparta, was skillfully acted by Kitty Roberts. Helen was a vain, lovely queen who had everything she desired except love and excitement. She had as her adoring slave a dark skinned girl, Tsumu, characterized by Frances Johnson.

Eleanor Ware, as Menelaus, was a haughty, forceful king who bent only to the will of his handsome queen. Eleanor, in voice, manner, bearing, and costume, was a typical Spartan ruler. Analytikos, the king's librarian, an old, broken man who lived only to help his master, was excellently impersonated by Alice Barns.

The part of Paris, a young shepherd boy, really the Prince of Troy, was taken by Aileen Saunders. Paris made his way into Helen's dressing room, then robed himself as a prince. Aileen played both the roles of prince and of shepherd with talent.

Paris won the love of the beautiful Queen of Sparta, who deserted Menelaus and became Helen of Troy. This caused war between Sparta and Troy.

After the play, which is the last to be given by the apprentices, Miss Wheeler gave an interesting and instructive criticism of the acting, lighting, make-up, costuming and staging.

THE ROTUNDA

Member Southern Inter-Collegiate Newspaper Association
Member Intercollegiate Press Association of Virginia

Newspaper — National Scholastic Press Association — Member

Published by Students of State Teachers College, Farmville, Va.

Entered as second class matter March 1, 1921, at the Postoffice of Farmville, Virginia, under Act of March 3, 1879.

Subscription ..... $1.50 per year

ROTUNDA STAFF

Editor-in-Chief .... Mary Shelton, '34
Associate Editor .... Lelia Mattox, '35

Board of Editors

News ..... Evelyn Massey, '36
Make-Up ..... Katherine Hoyle, '36
Literary Editor ..... Birdie Wooding
Louise Walmsley, '36
World News ..... Velma Quaries, '34
Intercollegiate ..... Caroline Byrd, '36
Social ..... Marion Raine, '36
Art ..... Alice Rowell, '34
Feature ..... Elizabeth Walton, '36
Alumnae ..... Miss Virginia Potts

Reporters

Amis Montohery
Mary Hastings Holloway
Edith Shanks, '34; Mary Easley Hill, '34; Elizabeth Vassar, '35; Mary Elizabeth Alexander, '36; Lula Windley, '36.
Proof Readers: Katherine Coleman, '35, Grace Eubank, '36

Managers

Business ..... Mary Diehl, '34
Assistant ..... Elma Rawlings, '34
Circulation ..... Nell Oakey Ryan, '34
Assistant ..... Janice White, '35

The Rotunda invites letters of comment, criticism, and suggestion from its readers upon its manner of presenting and treating them. A letter, to receive consideration, must contain the name and address of the writer. These will not be published if the writer objects to the publication.

All matters of business should be addressed to the Business Manager and all other matters should come to the Editor-in-Chief. Complaints from subscribers as regards irregularities in the delivery of The Rotunda will be appreciated.

A MERRY CHRISTMAS

Once more the world has donned her holiday mien! Once more the shop windows shriek with tinsel and holly and festive aromas of tempting wares. Once more the streets and stores inhabit with shoppers, intent, absorbed, puzzled—shoppers hurried on by the newspapers' daily reminder that their shopping days are limited. Once more red candles and evergreen wreaths appear in the windows of peoples' homes. And in those homes there are sure to be whispered secrets on the wife and gay surprises in the planning. Once more the air resounds with snatched phrases of familiar carols. The whole world is teeming with a spirit of expectancy. Christmas is here again.

Christmas is here again with all that it connotes. Homes, gaiety, good times, old friendships renewed and new acquaintances made — this is something the synonomy that Christmas broke for us. Hearts open lives, the tantalizing pungence of pine and cedar reigns loud in abundance—more of what Christmas suggests. Then there is the childlike thrill we still receive upon opening gifts and the sustained pleasure we find in selecting them. There is a deeper joy too, for we share when we find that others thrill by our gifts to them. It is then that we most nearly experience the true Christmas spirit, the spirit of service, of doing little things for other people of comadeship, the happiness of others before our own. The spirit of friendliness, unselfishness, good will toward all — such is what makes Christmas really Christmas. May we remember then a sympathetic word, an unselfish deed some bit of sacrifice for our happiness and our's will be a joyous Christmas!

STOP, LOOK AND HEED!

Only nine more shopping days before Christmas! Only one more happy-go-lucky day before exams! Then watch the busy signs go up, and you won't smell hot coffee behind them, either! Let's try to remember that going over busy signs just "isn't done". And let's try to remember, too, that although we don't have an exam the next day that somebody else might have three. In other words, let's try to be a little more thoughtful than usual and be a little more considerate of other people—even of our roommates.

Just a hint—ever remember your mother's telling you to "avoid the appearance of evil?" Let's practice that during this next week, too. You know, your exam paper is to show the prof what you know. Bluffing is all right in its place—goodness yes, all of us try to do it! But this is a different matter. Think this over seriously, girls, because after all it isn't a joke—it's a matter of your own honor.

Dear Santa Claus:

I've been a good freshman keeping my temper always, even if the sophomores have infuriated me at times. So won't you please bring me three hours of extra sleep before breakfast? And don't you think it would be a good idea for each professor to provide chewing gum and candy for each class?

Thank you, Santa. I feel that school would be a much happier place if these improvements were instituted.

A Freshman

Dear Santa Claus:

I've been such a good girl this year, studied my lessons, and sang for Mr. Strick everytime he called on me.

Knowing that time's are not up to par I'm only asking you for some few things that the girls at S. T. C. want:

Claudia Harper wants a wreath of mistletoe so she can have a "big" Christmas.

Jean McClure wants a hymn book in order to have songs to sing (they go along with "preachers")

Sue Hume likes plain silver; any piece will be gratefully received.

"Bobby" Saunders wants a spacer for her front teeth.

Page Nottingham likes pickles—small, dill ones.

"Tac" Waters a larger sweater or a smaller pin.

Mrs. Lang has worn out her other slippers and wants a nice warm pair.

Jean Foote a package saying you're off campus."

Many Banks Sullivan two roommates who won't stay up all night.

Bernice Jones, some feet warmers (people get tired of sitting on them).

Zell Hopkins, things you don't write on paper, but you know everything, and so you'll guess that.

Lula Windley, two dallars to aid a pass across the Nansemond River bridge.

And now Santa Claus, I must say good night. No more paper. You might drop some down the chimney of the student building.

A good little girl

THE KING'S LETTER

We like to think that of all the letters King Gustaf of Sweden opened on his 75th birthday he was most pleased with the one beginning: "Darling, can you meet me this evening at the usual rendezvous?"

Pleased, but so surprised, he looked at the envelope again, and found that this loving message was not for him after all, but addressed to a sailor on the warship Gustaf the Fifth. The letter was marked Strictly Private, and that is why the secretary had left it unopened when dealing with the correspondence. The King did not attend the rendezvous, but the sailor did; for King Gustaf opened no more of his letters till he had dictated a telegram telling the captain of the ship that the sailor was to be given leave that evening. It must have been a very puzzled captain and a still more bewildered sailor for neither could understand the King's sudden interest in this particular subject.

Not until the story came out in the papers did the sailor's sweetheart know that she had addressed a King as Darling; but if we know anything of women she has since remarked: "Well, he certainly behaved like a darling."

CAMPUS COMMENTS

"Social tact is making your company feel at home even though you wish they were."—Readers' Digest.

Mae West's comment on her own stage roles: "When I'm good, I'm very, very good, but when I'm bad I'm better."

The best reducing exercise is to shake the head violently from side to side when offered a second helping.

Some of the modern sculpture is confusing. You never know whether its Pike's Peak or bust.—Life.

Twenty-five per cent of the licensed taxicabs in London are more than ten years old and three per cent are more than twenty years old.—Life.

A statistician has decided that football is not a strenuous game. For, out of the full sixty minutes of a football game, only from 8 to 12 are occupied by actual play. The remainder of the time is taken up calling signals and getting into position. In the brief period of actual action, however, there are approximately 160 plays.—Reader's Digest.

There is a bright side to everything.
But it gives no joy or fun
To see the shine upon the suit
We've worn since '31.
—Rammer Jammer.

She: "Do you love me for my beauty or my mind?"
He: "Oh, never mind!"
—Rammer Jammer.

General: "You are to be shot at sunrise."
Prisoner: "Oh, general, make it at sunset or you'll spoil my whole day."
—Froth.

WORLD NEWS

Through acting Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau, last week President Roosevelt sent out a message to Chairman Fletcher of the Senate Banking and Currency Committee. Aware that the debts of corporations to the extent of $1,500,000,000 must be refinanced within the next 18 months, and also aware that in the past six months capital has been on a strike, the President wanted the situation eased by having Congress liberalize the rigid Security Act.

Last week President Roosevelt held fast to his managed currency program. To dampen persistent tales of a rift between the Treasurer and the hard-money Federal Reserve Board, Governor Eugene Black, by all odds the funniest and funniest-looking man in the Administration, showed up at Warm Springs. In commenting on the story that he was about to resign, he said, "It isn't so much that it is all wrong, but here it occurs in the paper on which I was a director for 35 years."

As he had for the past nine years, President Roosevelt had Thanksgiving dinner with the Warm Springs patients. As he introduced Magician Julien Bochme and his assistant, Augustus Gennerick, the President's bodyguard, he said, "There are certain newspapers you need not read tomorrow for I can tell you what they are going to say. They are going to say that Dr. Bochme is going to be appointed Secretary of the Treasury and Gus Gennerick, head of the Federal Reserve Board."

Last week President Roosevelt left Warm Spring, Ga., where he has been for paralysis treatment to return to his work in Washington.

Dear Santa Claus:

I've been a good freshman, keeping my temper at all times, even if the sophomores have infuriated me at times. So won't you please bring me three extra hours of sleep before breakfast and don't you think it would be a good idea for each teacher to serve refreshments at the end of each period. Also please send them pillows to rest our heads on—those chair backs are so hard!

Thank you, Santa—I feel that school would be a much happier place if these improvements were instituted.

A FRESHMAN.

FROM OLD ROTUNDAS

Nov. 25, 1922:

The following expression from Dean Page of the University of Virginia was intended for the "Jarman number of the Rotunda" but reached the publishers too late to be included in that issue:

"I cannot write just as I would like to about my friend, President J. L. Jarman, for fear of being accused of exaggeration. But to my mind it is impossible for anyone to know him, even superficially, without recognizing the sterling traits upon which his success is founded.

His utter sincerity is immediately apparent; and the older I become the more I reverence sincerity in anyone. His simple and transparent honesty is so obvious that he is the despair of the trickster or liar. Endowed by nature with a strong intellect, his ambition to be a scholar was early aroused; and in achieving the object of his ambition he overcame obstacles which would have been insurmountable to most young men.

To the great good fortune of the State and of the country he decided to dedicate his life to the advancement of education; and he has already accomplished work in that field which will endure. Hundreds, and probably thousands of the most useful women in the state look back to the day when they met President Jarman as the day in which they began to learn something of the real meaning of life: namely, that life of precious opportunity for service.

May he be granted long life and strength to carry forward his great work.

Faithfully yours,
J. M. PAGE, Dean

Nov. 28, 1928:

"Peg O' My Heart" is presented by S. T. C. and H. S. C. dramatic clubs (This was the first joint-production of the clubs.).

Dec. 16, 1931:

Old English carol service will be made traditional at State Teachers College.

AT OTHER COLLEGES

According to the Duke Chronicle there is one football star who has played in 126 games. He is Thurle Thornton, West Seattle Athletic Club halfback. Thirty-six of these games he played at the University of Washington.

Although many of us have seen female ballets, chourses, etc., but perhaps our number is limited as to those of us who have seen an ensemble of male dancers. Mississippi State College for Women is having that privilege this week, Ted Shawn, probably America's leading male dancer, and his ensemble will perform. Mr. Shawn became interested in dancing as a method of recovering his health. He now has his school in the lovely Berkshire Mountains of New York, which lend themselves to the spirit of the interpretative dance group. Mr. Shawn has proved that a male group may present as lovely a dance program as can women. His chief interpretation is that the "Spirit of John Brown."

An interesting article appeared in the "Brackety-Ack" on Dec. 6, concerning a new factor that has been formed in the college. It seems that there are only two foreign-born students in school but one of these collected enough boys of foreign ancestors to form "The Bluebloods". Representatives from Poland, Italy, Germany, Ireland, Scotland, Russia, Hungary, France, Canada, Czechoslavakia and wherever the Hebrew hails from besides its crowning star, Korea, are present. Each of the languages is spoken while one man has mastered Chinese and Japanese.

The Student Body extends sympathy to Virginia Moses in her recent bereavement.

The Rotunda staff wishes to correct the statement made in the last week's issue which was that Mischa Tulin invented the Theremin.

The Theremin was invented by the Russian for whom it was named, Professor Theremin of Petrograd.

THE STAR

Many years ago on a beautiful clear night,
There was in the East a star shining bright.
The light of that star shone down on a humble shed,
Where the wee Lord Jesus lay in his manger bed.
The cattle were lowing very softly for fear
The noise should awaken the wee Babe so dear.

The shepherds keeping watch o'er their flocks, saw the star.
And they spread the good news to all near and far.
The Wise Men came to the manger to bring
Gifts of gold, myrrh, and incense to the new born King.
We are thankful Dear Lord for the day of His Birth,
May peace be to men and good will be on earth.

B. K., '34

THE OXEN

Christmas Eve, and twelve of the clock.
"Now they are all on their knees,"
An elder said as we sat in a flock
By the embers in hearthside ease.

We pictured the meek mild creatures where
They dwelt in their strawy pen.
Nor did it occur to one of us there
To doubt they were kneeling then.

So fair and fancy few would weave
In these years! Yet, I feel,
If some one said on Christmas Eve,
"Come: see the oxen kneel.

"In the lonely barton by yonder coomb
Our childhood used to know,"
I should go with him in the gloom,
Hoping it might be so.
—Thomas Hardy.

SONGS

Come, touch the strings of my heart,
Sound the chords to awaken
It from slumber
On wings of melody
Let my soul soar
Into heavenly realms
Far from reality here
To fields of fancy
To dream there
Sweet dreams of love.

M. I. S. '35

SNOW TOWARD EVENING

Suddenly the sky turned gray.
The day,
Which had been bitter and chill,
Grew soft and still.
Quietly
From some invisible blossoming tree
Millions of petals cool and white
Drifted and blew,
Lifted and flew,
Fell with the falling night.
—Melville Cane.

CHRISTMAS IN THE HEART

It is Christmas in the mansion,
Yule-log fires and silken frocks;
It is Christmas in the cottage,
Santa's filling little socks.

It is Christmas on the highway,
In the thronging busy mart.
But the dearest truest Christmas
Is the Christmas in the heart.
—Author Unknown.

ON CHRISTMAS DAWN

The snow in the heavens sifted softly down
On the dawn of Christmas day,
And voices in the church by the side of the road
Were singing hymns of far away.

In the thick of the blinding snow and wind
A lone traveller trudged along.
In appearance he was ragged, cold, and thin—
But his heart was light with a song.

When at last by the gate of the church he stood
He paused, and listened within,
He knew his life had not been good
But wrecked with crime and sin.

It seemed to the traveller as he stood at the gate
With a face so haggard and thin
A cellestial voice said, "It isn't too late
To dwell in Heaven". Amen.

S. W., '37

SOCIALS

Ava Simmons visited Elizabeth Davidson at Nuckols during the week-end.

The following girls went home: Edith Coffey, Hilda Inge, Virginia Inge, Pauline Jones, Laura Keeley, Mildred Slayton, Charlotte Young, Rose Somers, Irwin Staples, Evelyn Garnett, Helen Smith, Louise Ridgeway, Kathryn Harvey, and Mary Fitz-Dearman.

Ruth Gaines attended the Emory and Henry game in Richmond Saturday.

Louise Jeffreys visited her aunt in Richmond.

Because of her mother's illness, Audrey Mattox was called to Lynchburg Tuesday night, to return here Sunday.

Last Thursday, Elizabeth Kelly and Elizabeth Wall spent the day in Lynchburg shopping.

Dorothy Woolwine was called to Lynchburg because of the death of her uncle.

Freda Shields spent last Thursday at her home in Salem.

Misses Mary and Winnie Hiner, Mrs. Warren, Joyce Sturm, Alberta Collings, Peggy Stratton, Marion Umberger, Margaret Eley, Bessie Strick, Sarah Canada, and Margaret Parker heard Galli-Curci in Lynchburg Friday night.

Elizabeth Gills spent Sunday with Lelia Mattox at the later's home in Altavista.

Madeline Martin and Alice Tweedy visited in Rustburg over the week-end.

Elizabeth Booth left Friday for her home in Portsmouth to stay until Sunday.

Beverly Barksdale went home Monday on account of her grandfather's death.

Virginia Moses was called home Monday on account of illness in her family.

Dorothy Wise, Frances Martin, and Ann Mears, spent Sunday in Blackstone.

Katheryn Fitzgerald spent Saturday and Sunday visiting in Appomattox.

Jean Allen Bowles was a week-end visitor at the University of Virginia. Artense Fawbush and Dorothy Pugar were guests of the former's brother in Richmond Sunday.

Mrs. R. H. Potts has been visiting her daughter, Miss Virginia Potts since Sunday.

Mrs. Tilman has been Dr. Jarman's guest for several weeks.

The Methodist members of the faculty entertained Mr. and Mrs. Cromer, the Methodist minister his wife. Dr. Colonna, the presiding elder of the Farmville district, and Mrs. Colonna, at a Christmas dinner at Longwood last night.

CAROLERS WILL SING SUNDAY NIGHT AT 10

It is an old S. T. C. custom for the girls to go "caroling" on the Sunday night before Christmas holidays begin. The groups will leave from the back of the auditorium at 10 o'clock.

The "carolers" are divided into groups. Each group goes in a different direction. The town people put candles in their windows if they wish the girls to sing before their houses.

Last year the snow made a very fitting scene for the caroling service.

MARIONETTE SHOW GIVEN AS PROJECT

A marionette show was given Tuesday morning in the large auditorium by a group of girls in Miss Wheeler's Reading 121. The show was given by Dorothy Turner, Agnes Thomas, Martha Stine, Gay Stieffen, Helen Glass, Audrey Hawthorne, Dorothea Dollins and Virginia Coleman as a term project.

The marionettes and the stage were made by the girls, and the total cost of the show was 45c.

HOME ECONOMICS CLUB HOLDS MEETING

The Home Economics Club formerly the De-Hoc-Ec Club, held its regular meeting on Thursday, Dec. 7 at 5:00 o'clock in the Home Economics laboratory.

Plans were made for a Christmas bazaar and candy sale. Orders for candy will be taken through Mary E. Driscoll's senior mail box.

MATTIE LULA COOPER ENTERTAINS ZETA TAU

Miss Mattie Lula Cooper entertained the Zeta Tau sorority at tea on Sunday from 4:30 to 5:30 at the home of her aunt, Mrs. A. T. Gray, on High Street.

Mrs. Gray and Grace Rowell assisted the hostess in serving a delicious plate supper.

Those invited, other than the members of the local chapter, were Miss Virginia Bedford and Miss Mary Nichols.

MISS WHEELER READS POETRY AT PRAYERS

Miss Leola Wheeler last Thursday night at Prayers read poetry to an appreciative audience. Her selections were from works of modern poets. Miss Wheeler introduced each reading by explaining something of the author's style and something of the particular poem chosen.

"Ballad of the Goodly Fere" by Ezra Pound and two other poems, one by John Drinkwater and the other by Alfred Noyes, were the selections read by Miss Wheeler.

MISS RICE TELLS XMAS STORY TONIGHT

Tonight Miss Minnie V. Rice will tell the store of "The Other Wise Man" at Prayers. Each year this story of the fourth wise man who saw the star in the East, who started with his precious jewels to seek the King, who in serving the King gave all his jewels away and at last as an old man dying saw the Christ—this marvelous story by Henry Van Dyke—as told by Miss Rice. In the candle-lighted auditorium one goes back to the days when Christ was born and follows the story of the other wise man who sought Him.

COMMISSION SPONSORS HANGING OF THE GREENS

According to traditional custom, S. T. C. will hold its annual hanging of the greens after prayers Friday evening. The girls, singing the Christmas carols, will walk in a body from the auditorium to the Rotunda, where they will wind the greens around the white columns and hang them over the ballustrade. This is done to add good will and cheer to the Christmas season.

The Freshman Commission, whose members have charge of the occasion, will secure the greens.

PI KAPPA SIGMA FETED BY JOHNSON AND TRULY

The Pi Kappa Sigma sorority was entertained Tuesday night by Miss Mary Virginia Johnson and Elsie Truly. Sandwiches, cake, salted nuts, candy, and coco-colas were served. Besides the regular members the sposor, Miss Iler, was present.

The Pi Kappa Sigma sorority will be entertained Sunday afternoon at five o'clock by Martha Higgins and Jane Coulbourne. The Christmas theme will be carried out.

ST. NICHOLAS VISITS ALPHA KAPPA GAMMAS

The members of Alpha Kappa Gamma enjoyed a Christmas party in the Student Building lounge Friday night, December 8 at 9:30.

The students and faculty members gathered around the open fire sang carols and played Christmas games. One game especially enjoyed was a contest for determining the best - dressed Santa Claus—each person having two pieces of crepe paper, two pins, and a short piece of string to improvise a costume. Miss Nichols and Miss Potts' inventive genius won the former the title of "Saint Nick", after a close decision.

Here's to you, and to me, and to two more;
If them two loves us two
As us two loves them two,
Then here's to all four,
But if them two don't love us two
As we two loves them two,
Then here's to you, and to me, and to no more."

C. E. Chappell
COMPANY
Stationery, Blank Books and School Supplies
Cigars, Cigarettes and Soda
Farmville, Virginia

SATURDAY EVENING SET FOR CHRISTMAS DINNER

The annual Christmas dinner at S. T. C. will be served Saturday evening at 6 o'clock in the dining room. It is customary for the girls to dress formally for the occasion. The dining room will take on a festive appearance with appropriate red and green decorations.

MEDALS FOR POETS AWARDED IN ENGLAND

The King is to award a gold and a silver medal each year to poets in the British Empire.

The announcement is contained in an official statement issued from Buckingham Palace, which reads:

The King has graciously signified his intention of offering each year a gold and silver medal for poetry in the English language published in volume form within the Empire by British citizens.

The following committee has been appointed by the King to act as judges:

John Masefield (Poet Laureate), chairman; Laurence Binyon, Walter de la Mare, Professor Gilbert Murray, I. A. Richards.

A small sub-committee will be appointed abroad to recommend books from India, the Dominions, and colonies.

The medals will be awarded towards the end of each year for works published during the preceding year. The first awards will be made in December, 1934, for works published during 1933.

The medals will be given either for a poet's first or second volume of verse or to a poet still under 35 years of age.

The committee is empowered to withhold any recommendation for the medals in any year in which they consider the work submitted is not of a sufficiently high standard.

Only works that have been published in volume form will be considered, and all communications relating to these medals should be addressed to the Poet Laureate.

From The Manchester Guardian, Weekly.

Landford (to prospective tenant): "You know we keep it very quiet and orderly here. Do you have any children?"

"No."

"A piano, radio, or victrola?"

"No."

"Do you play any musical instrument? Do you have a dog, a cat or a parrot?"

"No, but my fountain pen scratches a little sometimes."

—Penn Punch Bowl.

Y. W. C. A. HOLDS SECOND OPEN MEETING DEC. 11

The Y. W. C. A. held its second open meeting of the year Wednesday, Dec. 6, in the cabinet room. "Honey" Hamilton, the president, announced the program of prayers for the week of December 11: Monday, "White Christmas; Tuesday, "Hanging of the Greens"; Wednesday, Christmas Story told by Miss Rice; Thursday Christmas Pageant.

Each cabinet member was given 100 Christmas seals to be distributed among her committee to be sold.

First frosh in math exam: "How far are you from the correct answer?"

Second Ditto: "About two seats."

In 1732 co-eds at Salem College could take baths only by special permission and at times indicated by instructors.

Co-eds at the University of Minnesota are liable to a fine of $10 or a jail sentence of six days if caught wearing a fraternity pin.—From the N. S. F. A. News.

DRESS MAKING — DESIGNING
HEMSTITCHING AND ALTERING
SINGER SHOP
Third Street
FARMVILLE, VA.
10-4-3t

Kleanwell
CLEANERS AND TAILORS
Expert Cleaning, Repairing and Remodeling of Ladies Garments
Main Street, Opposite Postoffice
PHONE 98

Lucille Shop
"Just Across the Street"
Street Floor — Hotel Weyanoke
Apparel for the College Girls
Nuf-Sed

THE DOROTHY MAY STORE
NEW DRESSES ARRIVING DAILY
$5.45
New high shades, blacks, browns, Sunday-nite and afternoon frocks.
$9,45
Woolens, rough crepes, sheers, faille crepes
Do your Christmas shopping here—Lovely Underwear, pocketbooks, gloves, vanities, necklaces, handkerchiefs.

SHOP AT
DAVIDSON'S
FOR YOUR
CHRISTMAS GIFTS
A large variety to select from

EACO THEATRE
Program Dec. 14 To 20

Thursday and Friday December 14 and 15
Mari Dressler
Lionel Barrymore
in
CHRISTOPHER BEAN
Another happy hit to the crowning glory of Marie Dressler. And what a treat is in store for you now! Marie and Lionel in their greatest roles—score a triumph that will tug at your heart-strings; make you laugh till tears roll down your cheeks. She was a kitchen slave, but what a glorious romance her private life was. One of those pictures that gets you and makes you part of the story. You'll love it. Also 2-reel Musical Comedy, "BIG BENEFOT."

Saturday, December 16
Joan Blondell
Glenda Farrell
Guy Kibbee—Lyle Talbot
in
"HAVANA WIDOWS"
For a breezy, peppy, hot-cha picture, here is the last word. The popular gold diggers are in town, so boys, chain down your pocketbooks. Watch this pair of damsels land in Cuba loaded with "a lot of what it takes to get along." See them shaking it up to the rhythm of the Rumba—and shaking down the sugar daddies to the tune of a million smackers. See Tony's wives go to town. Not a dull moment in this one. It's smart. ....
Also "Scraping the Skies", "Stoopnocrasy" and Fox News.

Next Monday and Tuesday December 18 and 19
Buddy Rogers
Cliff Edwards
June Knight
James Dunn
in
"TAKE A CHANCE"
50,000 people paid $5 apiece to see this smash hit musical comedy. Now it's on the screen after 52 weeks on Broadway. A "Sweet 'n Hot" romance, a rapid, rousing entertainment; with 8 new song hits, including "Eadie Was a Lady," "Should I Be Sweet?". And a beauty chorus! Oh, boy, wait until you see them. Here's a healthy sort of show full of animal spirit, bounding and gay, down-to-earth, and as satisfactory as a full meal to a starving man. You'll be entertained and delighted.
Also Gus Shy in the comedy, "Turkey in the Raw".

Next Wednesday, Dec. 20
Spencer Tracy
Claire Trevor
Ralph Morgan
in
"THE MAD GAME"
Love was the least of the mad game they played together. Each played a lone hand against the other, until love found them fighting shoulder to shoulder to expose America's maddest game—the kidnap racket. Men crumbled before him—only one woman understood him. A picture that dramatizes vengeance headlines. You'll learn plenty and enjoy the learning.
Also Chapter 7 BUCK JONES' SERIAL and Oswald Cartoon.

Daily matinees at 4 P. M. Evenings at 8 P. M.

Adults, 20c at Matinees, and 25c at nights; except on percentage pictures. We hope an increased attendance will permit us to continue these prices.

S. A. Legus
TAILOR
CLEANING
PRESSING
REPAIRING
Phone 203

FRESHMAN ELEVEN ROUT SOPHS 2-1

In the most exciting hockey game of this season the freshmen team defeated the sophomores, 2-1, Friday, December 8 at 4 o'clock.

The game Friday was a continuation of the freshman-sophomore Thanksgiving game which after two extra halves still remained a tie.

Both teams played unusually well Friday. The speedy freshmen, however, succeeded in scoring one more goal than the opposing red and whites, making one goal each quarter.

The long advances made by each of the teams only to be stopped by the other excited the cheering crowd and kept the game moving fast.

The lineup was:

Burger	R.W.	Gathright
Bowles	R.I.	Ranson
Moore	L.I.	Sanford
Lane	L.I.	Nottingham
York	L.W.	Thompson
Johnson	R.H.	Walker
Roberts	C.H.	Massey
Irby	L.H.	Billups
McGlothlin	R.F.	Blanton
King	L.F.	Sanford
Mann	G.	Walmsley

WELL ATTENDED SHOW GIVEN AT WORSHAM

The high school students of Worsham under the direction of Mrs. Lucille Dahl and Miss Louise Hyde, gave an operetta and a minstrel show, Tuesday night, December 12, in the school auditorium.

The entertainment followed a community league meeting attended by the patrons and teachers of the school.

The operetta, "The Family Doctor", short comedy, was well done by Dick Fagan, as the doctor, Inez Chappelle as his young love, Mary Duncan as her mother, George Walker, an alumnus of Worsham, as the grouchy father and a chorus of students. The entire cast played their parts with considerable talent, and their singing showed the effect of excellent training.

Leslie Power was interlocutor in the minstrel. The four comical endmen were Dupuy Redd, Roy Fore, Alexander Williams, and Billy Baskerville. No dignitary among the faculty or patrons was spared when these black faces told their jokes. The other participants sang several songs and gave recitations.

The proceeds from this entertainment which was well attended, will go to the community league.

Y. W. CABINET MEMBERS SELL CHRISTMAS SEALS

Anti-tuberculosis seals are being sold on the S. T. C. campus this week and next by members of the Y. W. C. A. cabinet.

A yule log and its bearer form the design for the 1933 seals. The double-barred cross, which is of course, present on the seal and is the emblem of the anti-tuberculosis movement, is a feature which has an interesting derivation.

Its origin lies in the Holy Roman Empire during the fourth century when the patriarchs of Jerusalem and Constantinople adopted as their emblem a cross with two horizontal bars. During the crusades, Godfrey of Lorrain saw this cross and adopted it as his insignia, changing its shape a little by slipping the lower bar down a little. In this form his descendants accepted it and it came to be called the Lorraine cross.

In 1906 the National Anti-Tuberculosis Association adopted the double-barred cross as the symbol of the campaign against tuberculosis. Every official seal bears this symbol, as a means of distinguishing it from commercial ones.

S. T. C. AND H. S. C. DEBATE AGAIN

Continued from page one

ternal only one of the members having participated formerly in a college debate. S. T. C.'s prospects for future varsity teams looking from these preliminaries are very fair.

A recent survey shows that there are more Harvard students at moving colonies than from all other American Universities combined and that Westminster and Iowa University students spend almost as much of their money on entertainment as they do on schooling.—The Spectator.

STUDENT BODY TO VOTE FOR 8 CUTEST GIRLS

The "Virginian" plans for this year include one page of the "cutest" girls in the school. There will be eight girls, elected by the student body, Thursday December 14, members of the annual staff will stay at the table in the hall and each girl is expected to vote for the eight girls that she considers the "cutes". The girls receiving the highest number of votes will be honored in the annual.

A CHRISTMAS TRAGEDY

(An original Christmas Story By a Freshman)

It was the most beautiful thing the child had ever seen. There it stood—all silvered, glittering tinsel and warm golden flame, the soft shining lights of many candles. It was a tall, slender, graceful Christmas tree, exuding that faint, but sharp and pleasant aroma of cedar, that is reminiscent of past Christmases. It typified the very spirit of Christmas.

To add to its fascination, it was the first Christmas morning, she had girl had even seen. There had been others before in he home, but she had been very young—too young to remember or pay any attention to them.

St. Nicholas had indeed been generous to the little girl earlier in the day. Awakening at dawn on that wintry Christmas morning she had discovered her stocking fairly bulging with toys of all descriptions. However, one thing was lacking—a doll. She was so very tiny, perhaps the jolly old Saint thought her too young to appreciate the beauties of this particular toy.

When the child saw the tree, she fairly danced with joy. Bright, slanting rays of sunshine came through the window and glinted on the brilliant tinsel. Heaped around the base of the tree and tied to its branches were mysterious looking boxes. Great square white packages wrapped in brightly colored paper vied with smaller ones tied with jade and scarlet ribbons.

On the very topmost branch of the tree, the little girl's eager eyes quickly discovered the loveliest object in the room. A big beautiful doll stood there; it drew and held the child's eyes. Its round blue eyes, golden curls, and pink organdy dress were beautiful, and its smile, although painted on was charming.

"Surely, it is for me," she thought.

Family, friends and relatives gathered round, and the presentation of gifts began. One by one the presents were taken from the tree, to be bestowed upon the various children, all except the little girl.

As she watched, the child's anticipation mounted higher and higher. As the last gift, the doll, was lifted slowly down, her heart came into her throat and pounded madly.

The doll was presented to another little girl, who received it with proud smiles and bore it complacently away.

The child's happy, peaceful and well-ordered world crashed in atoms about her. Her heart was broken right there. All was utter tragedy. She felt that she could not stand it. The beautiful Christmas tree which she loved already had not granted her a single gift. She was humiliated and felt herself a monenity. God, St. Nicholas, father, mother and friends had all forgotten her. Her heart was quite broken.

Dissolving in a storm of tears, she chokingly sobbed out the whole pathetic little story on her father's shoulder. He was astounded, never dreaming that his little daughter had wanted presents from the Christmas tree as long as she had received so many earlier in the day. But to the little girl it was life's blackest moment. The weight of sorrow and disappointment was almost more than she could bear.

Her father kindly tried to explain the whole matter, but her grief could not be appeased. He immediately took the little girl down to the finest toy store in town and bought her the largest and most beautiful doll in the store. The child felt a little better, but the whole bitter incident left a scar which was never quite erased.

RICE'S SHOE STORE

Street and Dress Shoes

Dancing Slippers Dyed

Correct fits our speciality

STUDENTS IN POLITICS IS CONFERENCE TOPIC

NEW YORK (NSFA).—Norman Thomas, Professor James T. Shotwell, Harry Woodburn Chase, Gerard Swope and Reinhold Niebuhr are some of the speakers who have been asked to take part in the National Conference on Students in Politics to be held in Washington, D. C., from December 28 to 31.

The National Student Federation, whose ninth annual congress will take place at the same time, also in Washington, plans to cooperate in an attempt to co-ordinate its meetings on politics on the last two days with the sessions of the other conference which is being sponsored by the Y. M. C. A., The League for Industrial Democracy, International Student Service and Young America.

According to the preliminary announcement of the conference, its purpose is to answer the following questions: Does the N. R. A. mean Recovery, Retrogression, Revolution? Is another World War imminent? What techniques are there for preserving peace? Can we trust any of them? Have students a responsibility in these matters? Is it our duty to participate in the social movement of our time?

In presenting the policy of the conference, the sponsors say: "It is our purpose to convene a widely representative conference of colelge and university students to consider the urgent issues of our times in the light of the political interests and responsibilities of the student classes. Students of America are becoming aroused to the necessity of political consciousness. This conference is being organized to give them an opportunity to discuss current national and international problems and to provide a means for a factual presentation of the various points of view held by significant groups in this country. It will be a deliberative, not a legislative, mass meeting of students."

"I shall now illustrate what I have in my mind," said the professor as he proceeded to erase the blackboard.
—Punch Bowl.

Expired

"Boys, I've quit the hold-up game,
I'll hang around joints no more
So with a sigh
And a faint little cry.
The gunner stretched out on the floor."
—Jazz.

EDITOR ANNOUNCES NEW STAFF MEMBERS

The editor-in-chief of the "Rotunda" announces the addition of two new members to the staff of the paper. They are Laeta Barham, a junior, and Mary Banks Sullivan, a sophomore.

Mary Banks and Laeta are both taking journalism this fall and have showed an unusual interest in newspaper work. Both have frequently contributed news to the "Rotunda", and Laeta has had past experience on the staff of the "Maury News."

Weyanoke

BEAUTY SALON

A Complete Beauty Service At Moderate Prices

What we have done for others we can do for you

WEYANOKE HOTEL
Farmville Va.

HOCKEY CHAMPIONSHIP TAKEN FROM JUNIORS

Continued from page one

Moore	C.F.	Anthony
Bowles	R.I.	Putney
Burger	K.W.	McDaniel
Irby (c)	L. H.	Magruder
Roberts	C.H.	Rhodes
Johnson	R.H.	Scott
King	L.F.	Strong
McGlothlin	R.F.	Mattox
Mann	G.	Gills

Miss Iler and Frances Horton umpired the game. Evelyn Massey was time keeper and Louise Walmsley, scorer.

WHERE ARE MY TEARS

When I seek
The solace of sleep
It eludes me.

When I want
To stay awake,
I cannot.

When I try
A serious mein,
I giggle.

When I'd like
A silly laugh
I'm solemn

And my tears
My only friends
Will not come.

M. H. A., '36

Electric Shoe Shop

Will Fix Your Shoes While You Wait

BEST WORKMANSHIP AND LEATHER USED

YOU WOULD LOVE TO HAVE YOUR SHOES FIXED AT THE

Lovelace Shoe Shop

110 Third Street

WILLIS

The Florist

FLOWERS FOR ALL OCCASIONS

PHONES 181-273

Sylvia Deane, graduate of Strayer College, who recently achieved the distinction of being the youngest woman (she is only 25) ever to be admitted to practice before the nations highest tribunal, the United States Supreme Court, is a notable example of the success that can be attained by industrious person who possesses both a brilliant mind and an abundance of personality and charm.—Yellow Jacket.

Sunday School Teacher—Where do little boys go who fish on Sunday?

Johnny—Over to the deep hole on Perkins' farm.

Mack's

BARBER AND BEAUTY SHOP

323 Main Street

We use the Frederick Method

Hair Cutting and Thinning a Specialty

Martin JEWELER

Gifts of Lasting Remembrance

317 Main St. Farmville

We give Jubilee tickets

SouthsideDrugStore

(On the Corner)

Films Developed FREE

If bought at this store

Shannon's

Is Headquarters for the Best SANDWICHES —and— DRINKS —in— FARMVILLE!

At THE HUB S. T. C. HEADQUARTERS

Twin sweaters sets at $1.98 and $2.95

Broguish Oxfords, with low or medium heels. You will love them, $2.45, $2.95 and $3.50. All widths and sizes.

THE HUB DEPARTMENT STORE

"Farmville Best Place to Shop"

Showing at special sale prices the newest in dress or sport shoes, for College girls!

Price $3.00 to $4.50

First quality pure silk hose, —all new shades ..... 85c pr., $1.00 pr., $1.25 pr.

If it's new—it's at

BALDWIN'S

Quality—Price—Service

G. F. Butcher

High Street

"The Convenient Store"

FOR GOOD THINGS TO EAT AND DRINK

Gray's Drug Store

QUALITY—PRICE—SERVICE

Come in and Get Acquainted

We Are Glad to Have You With Us!

Farmville, Virginia

DON'T FORGET
TO SEE "STARS"
FRIDAY NIGHT

THE ROTUNDA

POE

BE IN GYM
THIS AFTERNOON
FOR BASKETBALL

We Teach To Teach

Volume XIV | THE ROTUNDA, WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 10, 1934 | No. 13

Departments Offer Three New Courses For Winter Quarter

Sociology, Education and Physical Ed. Departments Sponsor Special Class

MANY STUDENTS ENROLL

Starting thsi winter quarter several new courses have been added to the curriculum.

The sociology department is offering a new course in child welfare work conducted by Miss Stubbs. Special emphasis placed on aspects of the work particularly helpful and interesting to prospective teachers. The class has secured the active interest and cooperation of Mr. James, head of the public welfare department in the state, and Mr. Painter, head of the division of child welfare. They will aid the class in observation of child welfare work in the state especially in Richmond. They will send lecturers to college and give any other help. Observation group visits will be made to several centers of interest, such as juvenile courts, mental hygiene clinics, nursery schools and schools for delinquents. In addition to general class work the class will work in small groups on some of the special phases of the subject, such as mental hygiene, effects of movies on children, and problem children.

The Department of Education at Farmville S. T. C. will offer a new course in the interpretation of the new curriculum. Several departments of the college will collaborate in giving the course but it will be under the direction of Doctor Wynne and may be taken for college credit in the Department of Education. The course is designed to meet the needs of the teachers in service who wish to study the new curriculum and of students in the college who will enter the schools as teachers next year. An effort will be made to interpret the state program as indicated in the tentative courses of study that have been developed; to explain the meaning of both the course for the ele-

Continued on page 4 colum 1

Registrar Announces Honor Roll for Fall

The following girls made the honor roll for the fall quarter, 1933:

M. Estelle Agee, Farmville; Margaret V. Alsop, Prospect; Annie Louise Anderson, Jetersville; Mary Elizabeth Bailey, Phenix; Betty Barleon, Portsmouth; Grace V. Bass, Evington; H. Virginia Bean, South Hill; Sarah E. Beck, Butterworth; Catherine Elizabeth Billups, Norfolk; Margaret E. Birdwell, Farmville; Ruby Hazel Blanton, Guinea Mills; Marjorie M. Booton, Luray; Marjorie Bradshaw, Zuni; Virginia H. Brinkley, Suffolk; Cornelia E. Bristow, Christ Church; S. Burnely Brockenbrough, Greensboro, N. C.; Irene Bryant, Hampton; S. Eunice Chernault, Worsham; Carmen Clark, Collierstown; Audrey Mae Clements, Hampton; Doris Coates, Norfolk; Katherine B. Coleman, Orange; W. Grace Conelly, Gladys; Helen Conquest, Atlantic; Katherine Cooper, Critz; Mattie Lula Cooper, Anniston, Ala; Nannie Ruth Cooper, Critz; Margaret B. Copenhaver, Tazewell; E. Frances Crawford, Beckley, W. Va.; Jestine M. Cutshall, Roanoke; Julia Louise Derr, Goldsboro, N. C.; Alice May Disharoon, Cape Charles; Edith Claire Eastman, Raleigh, N. C.; Doris Carr Eley, Norfolk; Margaret L. Eley, Norfolk; Winnie Frances Eubank, Franklin; Mary Alice Farrell, Richmond; Ruby Lee Gilles-

Continued on page 4 colum 1

DR. WYNNE DELIVERS SERIES OF LECTURES IN SMALL ADITORIUM

Dr. J. P. Wynne, head of the Department of Education and director of Teacher Training at Farmville S. T. C., will deliver a series of five lectures on the principles of education with special reference to the learning-teaching unit.

These lectures will be of interest to:

1. School administrators and supervisors who wish to get a general orientation with respect to the most recent developments of education.

2. Teachers and others interested in the use of units in teaching.

3. Sunday school officials and teachers who wish to keep abreast of progressive methods in teaching.

4. Citizens of the community who wish to know what the new education is like.

5. Members of the faculty and student body who wish to have a logical and consistent statement of the principles underlying the program of teaching in our training schools.

This series of lectures is arranged under the joint auspices of Kappa Delta Pi and Pi Gamma Mu, honor societies of the college. A cordial invition to attend these lectures is extended to the public. The first lecture will be given Wednesday evening, January 10 at 8:00 o'clock in the little auditorium of the Student Building. The dates for the other lectures in the series will be announced later.

C. W. A. Commences Work on the Schools

Projects planned by the Civil Works Administration are now being carried out both at S. T. C. and in the surrounding rural schools.

The exteriors of the College Training School, Cunningham Hall, and Library Building are being painted and repaired. The campus is being improved, and the woodland at Longwood is being cleared.

Curdsville will have indoor plumbing put in. Both the exterior and interior of the building will be painted and the grounds graded.

Two new rooms are nearing completion at John Randolph, a library and a class room. There, too, indoor plumbing is being put in and the interior of the building is being painted.

Worsham school is having cloak rooms added and its grounds graded. The interior of Rice is being painted.

Due to this work being in progress, Curdsville did not open until January 8; and John Randolph will not open until Monday, Jan. 15.

All these projects, which have provided work for the unemployed, must be completed by February 15.

THREE S. T. C. STUDENTS COMPLETE COURSES

Three students completed their college course in December. Two girls receiving B. S. degrees in education were Dorothy Wingfield, Lynchburg, and Annie Louise Via, Philpott. The diploma graduate was Nadine Guthrie, Brookneal.

Three new students, Frances Mayse, Katherine Richard, and Audrey Wilson, registered for the winter quarter.

Girls who returned after missing the fall quarter are Katherine Eggleston, Josephine Head, Eura King, Maymie Showalter, Alice Bell Strock, Gray Switzer, and Mary Jane Taylor.

Pi Gamma Mu Holds National Convention

Doctors C. A. Ellwood, L. Allen, G. L. Watkins and E. A. Ross Speak On Program

Dr. J. E. Walmsley, Birdie Wooding and Mary Wicker represented the local chapter of Pi Gamma Mu, the national social honor society, at its fourth national convention held at the Hotel Benjamin Franklin in Philadelphia, Pa., December 27, 28, and 29.

In an opening address to the convention Dr. Charles A. Ellwood, professor of sociology at Duke University and national president of Pi Gamma Mu, presented concisely the impending problem confronting social science organizations today.

Picturing in graphic terms the sociological illiteracy of our nation, Dr. Ellwood showed that this same social ignorance is at the bottom of all our disagreements, confusion, and conflict. While much effort has been exerted to remove ignorance of physical nature, language, literature, health, and disease, the problem of removing ignorance of the human world and of human relationships has scarcely been touched. In a world otherwise advanced to the machine age, our conceptions of human relationships date back to the rough stone age.

"Any progress toward bettered cultivation of a sociological intelligence and upon the breaking down of conventionalized antagonisms. This," he declared, "is the present task of Pi Gamma Mu and all other sociological organizations."

Carrying out the same theme as introduced by Dr. Ellwood, Dr. Leroy Allen, dean of Southwestern College and executive secretary of Pi Gamma Mu, addressed the assembly, at its second session, on "The Urgency of Social Science."

On Friday, December 29, at the last meeting the convention, Dr. Gordon S. Watkins, professor of economics, University of California, and national second vice-president of Pi Gamma Mu, discussed the problem of social sciences from a slightly different angle. Centering his remarks around the subject of "Pi Gamma Mu and Reintegration of the Social Sciences," Dr. Watkins stated that, in order to maintain efficiency the social sciences must reunite, following this, an era of specialization.

The annual Pi Gamma Mu dinner, held on Thursday evening, December 28, was an affair of especial interest. In a group of many people distinguished in the fields of political and social science, Dr. E. A. Ross, professor of sociology, University of Wisconsin, was particularly outstanding.

.... Continued on page 4, column 4

PLANS ARE BEING MADE FOR ANNUAL MARDI GAS

Plans for the Mardi Gras which will be held in the S. T. C. gymnasium on the night of February 13 are being made. The queen has been chosen by the student body but no one will know who she is until the night of the ball when she is to be crowned queen of the Mardi Gras festival and with the king reign supreme during the evening. The king is to be chosen by the queen and of course will meet all of the requirements of a king—be tall, handsome, brave and true.

After the coronation, the king and queen will lead the figure of the evening which will gradually break into the ball room dancing. This will continue until eleven. Prizes will be awarded for the most original costume, the prettiest costume, and the cutest couple in costume. A good orchestra will furnish the music.

There will be fortune-telling, food and drinks for those who tire of dancing.

DR. JEFFERS GIVES TALK OVER WRVA ON NOVEL DEVICE

Dr. Jeffers, head of the Biology Department of the State Teachers College at Farmville gave an interesting address over WRVA Thursday, January 4.

He told of a novel instrument which enables blind people to read printed matter through the transfer of photo-electric energy to the finger tips. This new device was developed by the Visagraph Institute for the Blind. It makes it possible for a blind personto read any printed matter handed to him. Dr. Jeffers saw the instrument demonstrated at the annual convention of the American Association for the Advancement of Science in Boston held during the latter part of December.

He also told of a new method of analyzing human blood. Dr. Burham H. Walker of Boston University, the disoverer discussed his find at the convention. Dr. Walker's technique for analyzing blood enables the bacteriologist to detect six parts of drug in 100,000 parts of blood. This method will be used in determining the amount of powerful drugs that should be used in medicine.

The talk given by Dr. Jeffers is one of a series of current scientific events broadcasted over WRVA each week.

Cotillion Club Holds Important Meeting

The Cotillion Club held an important meeting Tuesday night, January 9, to nominate Freshmen and new girls for membership in the club.

At the beginning of the meeting the club voted unanimously that Chic Mosby would act as president, filling the vacancy left by Margaret Eley who is not in school this term. Chic will also continue her duties as chairman of the dance committee. This change means that there will be a leader and three assistants in the figure at the spring dance, instead of four assistants.

The constitution of the club reads "the membership of the club shall not exceed two hundred." Thus the number of new members taken in will have to be limtied to approximately fifty. The names of girls nominated by members will be mimeographed, and voted on as soon as possible.

The date for the spring dance was not discussed, but it will be decided upon in the near future.

CALENDAR
January 10-16

Wednesday
4:00-6:00—Basketball practice
500—Open cabinet meeting
7:00-7:30—Rotunda staff meeting
7:30-8:30—Pi Gamma Mu
7:00—Practice for Junior play
Thursday
4:00-6:00—Basketball practice
7:00-8:00—Kappa Delta Pi
7:00—Practice for Junior play
8:00-9:00—Beta Pi Theta
10:00—Pan-Hellenic Council
Friday
7:00-8:00—Debate Club
7:00-8:00—Kappa Delta Pi program
8:00—Junior production
Saturday
6:45—Sing
Monday
4:00-6:00—Basketball practice
7:00-8:00—Virginian staff
7:00-8:00—A. A. Council
10:00—House Council
Tuesday
4:00-6:00—Basketball practice
7:00-7:30—Class meetings
10:00—Student Council

Clever Production To Be Presented Friday Night at 8:00

Meg Herndon and Lena Mae Gardiner Direct Original Musical Show

FIFTY JUNIORS TAKE PART

"Stars", an original production, will be presented by the Junior Class Friday night January 12 in the college auditorium at eight o'clock.

The scenes abound in witty lines, the dances have that Broadway tang of smartness, and the blues singers excel in moaning low.

The production is based on that whimsical nursery rhyme:
"Star light, star bright,
First star I've seen tonight
I wish I may, I wish I might
Have this wish I wish tonight."

The five leads are played by Sallie Thornhill, Sarah Beck, Margaret Dudley, Jestine Cutshall, and Wyc Scott.

The choruses are being coached by Catherine Young, Evelyn Knaub, Frances McDaniel and Sara Beck.

Phyllis Ferguson is in charge of the scenery.

The music is being furnished by Dorothy Wise, Christine Seay, and Dorothy Justis.

Frankie McDaniel, the Junior Class president, has solo work in the production, and about fifty other juniors take part.

"Stars" will include snappy choruses, wise-cracks, a domestic act, a real football game, a movie star in the act of emoting, and a radio star who could bet a contract anywhere.

Under the able direction of Miss Grace Moran, Lena Mae Gardner and Meg Herndon, the production is rapidly whipping itself into shape to be presented Friday night.

The admission for this entertainment will be 25c for adults and 15c for children. Member of the Junior class are selling tickets, and they will keep a table in the hall where tickets will be sold tomorrow and Friday. The tickets will not be put on reserve.

Twenty Girls Win Scholastic Honor

Miss Jennie M. Tabb, registrar, announced Tuesday, January 9, the Dean's List for the winter quarter. Girls making this scholastic honor have to be Seniors having all A's and B's with the exception of C on floor work in Physical Education.

Eight girls on the list were included in the Dean's List for the fall quarter. In the following list the stars before the name indicate the girls who have attained this average before.

Miss Tabb corrected the mistaken idea of many students that cuts and notes effect the Dean's List. This accounts for the fact that some names do not appear both on the Dean's List and the Honor Roll.

The list is as follows: *Virginia Brinkley, Suffolk; Nannie Ruth Cooper, Critz; *Margaret B. Copenhaver, Tazewell; Elizabeth Ann Glenn, Prospect; Virginia Willson Hamilton, Petersburg; Elizabeth L. Kelly, Big Stone Gap; Mary E. McMannes, Boykins; Margaret E. Morgan, Andersonville; *Mary Berkeley Nelson, Richmond; Margaret E. Parker, Suffolk; Dorothy Beverly Prescott, Big Stone Gap; Elma H. Rawlings, Lawrencivell; *Alice Frances Rowell, Smithfield; *Grace Warren Rowell, Smithfield; *Edith Shanks, Roanoke; *Mary Scott Shelton, Farmville; and *Dorothy C. Woolwine, of Ceres.

THE ROTUNDA

Member Southern Inter-Collegiate Newspaper Association
Member Intercollegiate Press Association of Virginia

Newspaper — National Scholastic Press Association — Member

Published by Students of State Teachers College, Farmville, Va.

Entered as second class matter March 1, 1921, at the Postoffice of Farmville, Virginia, under Act of March 3, 1879.

Subscription ..... $1.50 per year

ROTUNDA STAFF

Editor-in-Chief .... Mary Shelton, '34
Associate Editor .... Lelia Mattox, '35

Board of Editors

News ..... Evelyn Massey, '36
Make-Up ..... Katherine Hoyle, '36
Literary Editor ..... Birdie Wooding
Louise Walmsley, '36
World News ..... Velma Quarles, '34
Intercollegite ..... Caroline Byrd, '36
Social ..... Marion Raine, '36
Art ..... Alice Rowell, '34
Feature ..... Elizabeth Walton, '36
Alumnae ..... Miss Virginia Potts

Reporters

Amis Montohery
Mary Hastings Holloway
Edith Shanks, '34; Mary Easley Hill, '34; Elizabeth Vassar, '35; Mary Elizabeth Alexander, '36; Lula Windley, '36.
Proof Readers: Katherine Coleman, '35; Grace Eubank, '36

Managers

Business ..... Mary Diehl, '34
Assistant ..... Elma Rawlings, '34
Circulation ..... Nell Oakey Ryan, '34
Assistant ..... Janice White, '35

The Rotunda invites letters of comment, criticism, and suggestion from its readers upon its manner of presenting and treating them. A letter, to receive consideration, must contain the name and address of the writer. These will not be published if the writer objects to the publication.

All matters of business should be addressed to the Business Manager and all other matters should come to the Editor-in-Chief. Complaints from subscribers as regards irregularities in the delivery of The Rotunda will be appreciated.

TAKING STOCK

At the beginning of the year many business organizations take inventory, so it is appropriate that we too, pause and take stock.

In this time of distress our college has kept up its standards. We have not lost any activities or advantages, because of the efforts of the administration and faculty. Our school spirit has even increased during the years; we have felt more closely bound together.

As individuals we students have learned a saner way of living. We do not take our advantages as a matter of course; we appreciate them, because we have come to realize the constant sacrifices made for us by our parents. We are not made unhappy by this financial depression, but find a greater joy in simpler pleasures. Dissatisfaction has been smothered out with the feeling that we are the lucky few that can continue our education.

In his talk to the student body before Christmas Dr. Jarman reviewed for us the national and state rating of our college. As we listened to his inspiring talk our hearts were filled with pride. Bursts of applause followed his farewell words of "may you have a happy holiday and come home ready to find pleasure in your work." And so it was more like a home coming as happy greetings and laughter were heard around the halls on Tuesday when our college opened its doors for the second quarter of its fiftieth year.

OUR TEAM

Basketball practices began in dead earnest last Friday. Since then many have been enjoying this sport from 4 to 6 o'clock every afternoon.

Our team last year was unofficially the champion team of the state. Undefeated throughout the entire season, we took honors in the games with Blackstone, Sweet Briar, Richmond Normal, William and Mary and Harrisonburg. Probably, the most exciting game of the season was the one played here with Harrisonburg last February 17. Even with such fast competition as that team put up the blue and whites were victors 46-25.

Miss Iler, coach, and Belle Lovelace, manager, are doing their part in making the basketball season for 1934 as successful as it was last year. Much interest has been shown so far. However, there are among us freshmen who played on their high school teams and more upperclassmen who should be out for basketball. Is there any reason why they aren't? Shall we live up to our title of last year as the championship team?

WORLD NEWS

Like many a clerk who was auditing his firm's books at the end of the year, President Roosevelt spent much of last week studying budget figures scrawled across sheets of paper in his flowing, clerical handwriting.

The first photograph of the President and his cabinet taken some two months ago was tardily released last week just before it became obsolete. On New Year's Day President Roosevelt accepted Secretary of the Treasury, Woodin's second offer to resign his post. Henry Morgenthau, Jr., was made the new Secretary of the Treasury in the presence of the Roosevelt and Morgenthau families.

The President learned that he had received 1,620,000 letters and parcels and 20,000 telegrams since March 4. In December they came in at the rate of 18,000 a day.

A group which did not get to see the President was a crowd of 300 college youths who marched to the White House protesting against war and R. O. T. C. training in schools. Secretary Louis Henry Howe received their petition. The same day Mrs. Roosevelt received a bunch of roses from another, better behaved group of 300 collegians. They, student government officers, arrived from all over the nation in buses.

To be minister to the Court of Queen Wilhelmina of the Netherlands President Roosevelt appointed his onetime law partner, Grenville Temple Emmet of Manhattan.

Visitors of the week at the White House were President Manuel L. Quezon of the Philippine Senate and a party of Filipino politicians. Their faction had defeated in the Philippine legislature the first step toward independence under the Hawes-Cutting bill. President Roosevelt offered to give his earnest attention to any independence plan they might formulate when they got it written down.

FROM OTHER COLLEGES

Harvard has enough football equipment, besides 36 tackling dummies and 300 footballs, to outfit 600 men.

Purdue women are now given an opportunity to take a course in "Charm" where they learn such important things as how to hold a cigarette gracefully and how to avoid spilling cocktails on their best party gowns—Rensallar Polytechnic.

The five most heavily endowed universities in the United States are Harvard Columbia, Yale, Chicago and University of Rochester.

Columbia University granted a Ph. D. to the author of a manuscript on "The Duties of a Janitor."

A University of California doctor predicts the time will come when scientists will be able to turn men into women at will.

According to an investigation at the University of Iowa, only one out of every eleven college engagements results in marriage.

There seems to be some little dissention at W. and L. over the announcement that Johnny Hamp will play for the fancy dress ball, Jan. 28.

CAMPUS COMMENTS

Can anyone suggest any solutions to develop charm for Claudia Harper? It seems a V. P. I. cadet has gone to the trouble of sending magazine clippings to her pertaining to this subject.

Well, do we feel sorry for a certain sophomore who was taken down a couple of notches by a well known V. P. I. smoothie!

Imagine the let-down feeling of a freshman whose best boy friend gave her and her rival Christmas presents alike.

Do we have an artist's model in our midst? We're hearing tales about Doris Moore and her "pose."

Why was Elizabeth Showell so excited when she receives a letter from Lexington last week?

We wonder if the Seniors will heed Mr. McCorkle's warning about the apparently contagious disease passing throught the class? He calls it "wedditis."

The country is going Mae West crazy. She has even invaded S. T. C. One of our professor quoted her in class.

Our delicious New Year's dinner on Sunday with "the turkey and trimmings" almost rivaled our Christmas dinner with the exception of the lovely wreaths, the red tapers, and the presence of Dr. Jarman. We want to thank Mrs. Jamison for giving us such a treat!

NEW YEAR REVOLUTIONS

Yes, New Year Revolutions!—"because the day after I revolve back to all my habits which I resolved against," bemoaned Willy-Nilly on January 2. A deafening chorus of "Don't We All?" drowns out the subsequent remarks of the young gentleman.

Despite Mae West's influence there were many resolves after the big holiday dinner to take off ten or twenty pounds of the well known avoirdupois during the coming year.

What becomes of unresolved New Year's resolutions? For information on this subject we refer you to Gracie Allen or the Queerspondence Column in "Life". One young lady of the student body has successfully answered it by resolving never to make another New Year's Resolution.

After one glance at reports the whole student body with one accord shook their Christmas permanents and solemnly pledged their resolve for 1934 "Study!"

LETTER TO EDITOR

Dear Editor:

Why should girls continually work and work to make the honor roll? It is an honor, and each of us is proud to named on "honor roll student." We do not, though, have any privileges granted us for making high grades and for not cutting classes. We get our grades, and our reports go home marked "honor roll." We really are proud of these facts and would not have them taken from us.

However, a girl who makes the honor roll will probably continue her good work through more than one quarter. Why, then, do not honor roll students have the privilege of cutting a certain number of classes each quarter. We do not ask for unlimited cuts, but we would like to have about five unexcused cuts a quarter. It seems that we might be recognized in this manner. If it were tried for one year and wasn't a good plan, it could be dropped or changed.

"Honor Roll Student."

A thousand members of the Columbia Institute of Art and Sciences met and selected the ten "most significant books" written by American authors during the last century — "Huckleberry Finn," "The Scarlet Letter," "Emerson's Essays," "Leaves of Grass", Poe's "Tales," "Main Street," Mourning Becomes Electra," "The Virginian," "An American Tragedy," and "Autocrat of the Breakfast Table". Next in line were "My Antonia," "Moby Dick," "John Brown's Body" and Edith St. Vincent Millay's "Selected Poems."

ALUMNAE NEWS

Mrs. C. R. Waters of Onley, Va., announces the marriage of her daughter, Katherynn, to Mr. Harold Welty. Mr. and Mrs. Welty will make their home in Richmond, where Mr. Welty is engaged in business.

Mrs. D. Marshall Bacot of Ashland announces the marriage of her daughter, Elizabeth Jacquelin, to Mr. Robert Bolling Batte of Richmond. The wedding took place on Dec. 30 in Ashland.

Catherine Bentley took an important role in "Luncheon for Six," a play presented by the Seventh Street Christian Church, Richmond, early in December.

On Dec. 23, in the parlor of John Marhsall Hotel, Richmond, Miss Susan Elizabeth Garnett, of Farmville, and Joe Scott Caldwell, of Fishersville and Farmville, were married in the presence of members of the immediate families of the two parties. They will make their home in Farmville, where Mr. Caldwell is principal of Worsham High School.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bland Dutton, of Ware Neck, Gloucester county, Va., announce the marriage of their daughter, Virginia Elizabeth, to Roland M. Lewis, at high noon, Friday Dec. 22, in Richmond. Mr. and Mrs. Lewis will make their home for the present in Mathews, where Mr. Lewis is engaged in business.

Miss Louie Morris, of Farmville, and William Douglas Blanton of Richmond, were married in Oxford, N. C., Jan. 2. Mr. and Mrs. Blanton will make their home in Richmond, where the groom is employed by the Standard Oil Co.

Miss Louise Taylor and Mr. J. Boyd Bagby were married Dec. 26 at the Red Valley Church in Franklin county. They will live in Prospect where both the bride and groom are members of the faculty of Prospect High School.

Miss Ruth Fields McCarn and Vaughan A. Blakemore were married during the Christmas holidays. They will live in Staunton, where Mr. Blakemore is engaged in business.

Miss Marian Cecil Asher was married to John Earl Fawcett on January 4.

Mrs. S. Jean Boatwright (Jean Carruthers, class of '36) widow of A. S. Boatwright of Lynchburg, Va., died Dec. 9, in Sumter, S. C. Mrs. Boatwright was an honor graduate of the Lynchburg High School and of Farmville.

FROM OLD ROTUNDAS

January 10, 1925:

Miss Tucker is official representative at the American Historical Association, of international importance, held in Richmond.

Even the tea room holds no lure for the girls now because of the new dining room that has just been completed.

Go to the Sophomore Beauty Parlor for your shoe shines, hair cuts, shampoos, etc.

January 12, 1928:

Intercollegiate Press Association to be organized in Virginia with S. T. C. and H. S. C. joint host and hostess at the first meeting.

S. T. C. delegates attend Student Volunteer Conference in Detroit, Michigan.

January 1930:

January 8, 1930:

"What Every Woman Knows" by James M. Barrie, is to be presented by the S. T. C. Dramtic Club.

The Ben Greet Players presented "Twelfth Night" and "Hamlet" in the S. T. C. auditorium Monday afternoon and night, Jan. 6.

Great improvements have been made in Esco Theatre—new entrance concrete floors, instead of wooden, and cushioned seats.

January 14, 1931:

Story from "Fairie Queen" is selected as the theme of May Day.

The Hampden-Sydney Pan-Hellenic dance was held in the "Rec" Friday night, January, 9.

January 13, 1932:

Study hall is to be held for those girls who get three call downs.

The dean's list for fall quarter is announced.

POETRY

AN OFFERTORY

To Farmville State Teachers College.

It is a little while, I know,
A year and then a year or so,
And time shall bury in her way
The happiness of yesterday.

But I shall move the closing years
And fashion for my joys and tears
The fleeting instants of the past
And live their memory to the last,

And in the summers that go on,
And in the winter's living song—
The heart will keep the echo's notes
In many, many daughter's throats.

Eleanor Ryals Gleason

SEPARATION

Low in the mist, a whizzing cry,
Stirs in the failing light,
And hurrying for the sunlit heat
Waits for a shading noon.
The changing hours
Are like flowers,
Budding, full, complete,
And in a restless moment, dead
To all the beauty past.
With groping hands
And hollow lips
The heart moves on alone,
And in the fleeting even-tide,
Grief stricken and apart—
Its blood drips out
In silent drops,
And darkness slips
Across the heart.

Eleanor Ryals Gleason

SPRINNG PROPHESY

Brown, ugly, leaves and darkened twigs
Live now where beauty dwelt;
Only a little while ago, intrigues
Were stately kept in red-gold wealth.

Dark messengers in drone disguise
Bear two lives on tardy props,
Whose backward glance is in the skies
Where love has stored her crops,

And when the spring comes forth again,
These two may face the weather;
These two, who've had the sun and rain
May grow again together.

Eleanor Ryals Gleason

CANDLE LIGHT

How little have I to offer
From all that I may have—
The long white earth
Beneath the pines
And slender moons
And silver stars
Are but the Poet, God's.
The daylight sipping
Sunlight through the trees
Or flowers bending
In a breeze.
Or nature fondling
All her ones,—
Are but his own.
So little is this gift I have—
A candlelight of love
Whose slender flame is but my life,
Whose tall, white self my soul.

Eleanor Ryals Gleason

THE CARILLON WOODS

Have you ever been down by the Carillon place
When the leaves are light and thick,
And rustling water plays a tune
To the shadowing sun and leafy lace?

In all the narrow, glory there
Born in between the lengthy trees
And stilled by God to silent peace,
Comes music on the air.

In chiming notes from Carillon bells
And tinkling tones for a little stream,
The notes ride upward on the air
And fall again in the silent dells.

The light that shines in the belfry tower
Is a sun to the lonesome soul
And thoughts to God may well upring
In the song on the twilight hour.

Eleanor Ryals Gleason

Note: The Carillon spoken of is the one situated in Richmond, Virginia

SOCIALS

The Hampden-Sydney Pan-Hellenic dance which took place here in the "rec" Friday evening, January 5, was very successful.

During the course of the evening the various fraternities had "no break" dances. Duke's Collegians, who played, were indeed good, entertaining the dancers with the latest music and several specialities.

Girls from Farmville who attended the dance and their dates were:
Virginia Bean with Andy Leake,
Sarah Beck with "Soup" Campbell
Mary Bowles with Tay Jones
Helen Conquest with John Darling
Chic Dortch with Jordan Temple
Dot Eley with Jack Gray
Dorothy Fugate with R. D. Carson
Sara Goodwin with Lloyd Moss
"Honey" Hamilton with Bob Kinnaird
Nancy Harrison with S. McLaughlin
Mary E. Hill with Reese Tate Bowen
Sue Hume with Tommy Garber
Anne Irving with Green Lawson
Bernice Jones with Charlie Lemon
Rachel Joyner with R. Gardner
Dot Justis with Tanner Kinnier
"Lib" Kelly with J. T. Llewellyn
"Nubby" Knaub with Dan Jenkins
Lelia Lovelace with Don Bagwell
Ann Mears with C. Hudgins
Jean McClure with Edwin Bouldin
Mary Louise McNulty with K. Stone
Zilla Newsom with Monk Murray
Page Nottingham with W. Showalter
Margaret Parker with Junie Blake
Nancy Parker with Ted Tower
Elizabeth Phillips with C. Watson
Helen Shawen with Bill Price
Ruth Showalter with Ed Poole
Mary Shelton with Bene Dortch
Tib Simmerman with R. Young
Margaret Farrar with John Apperson
Frances Hudgins with R. Michaux
Martha S. Watkins with E. Owen
Pauline Jones with Dwight Rivers
Martha Stine with Jim Elder
Mary B. Sullivan with Larus Reed
Florence Tankard with S. Kellam
Anne Thomas with Barbe Betts
Frances Tilman with Mr. Stoddard
Marian Umberger with G. Crawford
L. Whitehurst with T. Whitehouse
Lula Windley with Gus Mayes
Katherine Young with T. Wilkerson
Margaret Eley with Moon Mullens
"Bug" Byrd with Malcolm Owen
Bebe Russell with C. B. Patchell
Lily Farrar with Ashby Jones

* * *

Very few girls spent the week-end away from Farmville. Those who did were:

Frances Martin and Dorothy Wise spent the week-end in Blackstone

Frances Jamerson spent the week-end in Pamplin.

Helen Westmoreland, Helen Smith and Jestine Cutshall were week-end guests in Roanoke.

Christine Seay spent the week-end in Dillwyn.

Iris Deane Hart and Janice White spent the week-end at Hampden-Sydney.

Irwin Staples spent the week-end at her home in Burkeville.

Elizabeth Kelley visited relatives in Kenbridge

Ruby Vestal visited her home over the week-end.

MISS MARY CLAY HINER ENTERTAINS AT TEA

Friday afternoon Miss Mary Clay Hiner entertained at tea in honor of Mrs. Cromer, wife of the new Methodist minister. Mrs. Cromer, Mrs. Elam, Miss Hiner and Miss Barnes were in the receiving line. Several of the college girls attended, giving Mrs. Cromer a chance to become better acquainted with them. Miss Hiner poured assisted by Mattie Lula Cooper and Katheryn Cotten. The guests included besides the honoree: Mrs. Elam, Miss Barnes, Sue Baynard, Lelia Mattox, Ella Arthur Black, Edna Hatcher, Louise Hyde, Mattie Lula Cooper, Frances Horton, Edith Shanks, Katheryn Cotten, Alice Magruder, Katharine Walton, and Marjorie Booton.

A. C. E. GIVES NEW YEAR PARTY

The Association of Childhood Education changed the Christmas party to a New Year party so that the fall teachers eligible for membership could be invited as well as old members. The party was given in the Senior Building lounge Saturday night at 10 o'clock. Christine Childrey the chairman of the program committee led several appropriate and enjoyable games. Chub Denit, "the new year" had a gift for each person with which the new year could be started off right.

COTILLION CLUB CHOOSES FIFTY GIRLS FOR FIGURE

In accordance with a change made in the Cotillion Club constitution to the effect that only fifty girls, including the five officials will take part in the figure at the spring dance, the following girls have been chosen: Lacta Barham, Jane Colbourne,Frances Crawford, Mary Diehl, Dot Eley, Lily Farrar, Margaret Farrar, Margaret Gilmer, Mary Gilmer, Mildred Gwaltney, Virginia Hall, Nancy Harrison, Mary Easley Hill, Sue Hume, Anne Irving, Lib Kelly, Evelyn Knaub Belle Lovelace, Gloria Mann, Ida Miller, Jean McClure, Alice McKay, Weesie McNulty, Berk Nelson, Martha Nottingham, Nancy Parker, Dot Prescott, Winnie Richards, Billie Rountree, Allce Rowell, Grace Rowell, Wye Scott, Helen Shawen, Mary Shelton, Ruth Showalter, Hazel Smith, Gertrude Sugden, Florence Tankard, Louise Van Lear, Tac Waters, Martha Scott Watkins, Betsy Wilkinson, Kitty Woodson.

The officers of the club are Margaret Eley, Chic Mosby, Jestine Cutshall, Margaret Parker and Honey Hamilton. All of the girls in the figure will wear white evening dresses. It is hoped that by eliminating such a large number of girls, a more intricate figure can be worked out.

POPULAR THEME SONG PRESENTED AT SING

"Puddin-Head, Wooden - Head Jones," the theme song of "Sing" proved to be most entertaining on Saturday night.

Preceding the song skit Catherine Conway sang the theme song of the program; she was accompanied at the piano by Nancy Beard. When the curtain rose, a school room scene was pictured on the stage. Sallie Thornhill played the part of teacher; Elise Marshburne, Sue Mallory, and Polly Wall, the little girls; Gay Stieffens, "Puddin-Head, Wooden-Head Jones", Victoria Gilette, a little boy, and Dot Dollins, the mother.

Each character dramatized her part as the entire class sang the song. The girl pupils crooned their way to success as "songsters" and the "stepping" number by Gay Stieffens brought forth much applause.

ALUMNAE CONTRIBUTES POETRY TO ROTUNDA

Miss Eleanor Ryals Gleason of Clifton Forge, contributed the poetry found in the literary column of this issue of the Rotunda. Miss Gleason, an alumna of S .T. C., is the president of the Farmville Alumnuae Association in Clifton Forge. In addition to her duties as a member of the public school faculty, Miss Gleason has devoted much time during the past years to writing poetry. A collection of her poems will be published next fall prior to her dearture in January for a year's study at Oxford University.

RADIO HIGHLIGHTS JANUARY 10, 1934

WRVA
7:00—Amos 'n Andy
9:00—Troubadours
11:00—Weede-Meyer's Orchestra
WMBG
7:00—Dinner music
7:15—Vincent Traver's Orchestra
8:00—Happy Bakers
9:15—Sparkling Tunes
9:30—Jimmy Hamner's Orchestra
10:00—Waring's Pennsylvanians
11:15—Isham Jone's Orchestra
11:30—Little Jack Little's Orchestra
WEAF
8:30—Wayne King's Orchestra
9:30—The Fred Allen Revue
11:00—Eddie Elkin's Orchestra
11:30—Don Bester and Orchestra
12:00—Phil Harris and Orchestra
WABC
7:45—Booke Carter
9:10—Stoopnagle and Budd
9:30—Guy Lombardo
11:30—Ozzie Nelson's Orchestra
12:30—George Hall's Orchestra
WJZ
6:45—Lowell Thomas
7:45—Irene Richin Hollywood
11:00—Pickens Sisters
11:30—Enric Madriguera's Orchestra
12:00—Carols Molina's Orchestra
12:30—Orchestra dance program

Causes for student worry, as found by a psychological study at Purdue were: studies, 42 per cent; financial, 30 per cent; family affairs, 15 per cent; religion, 4 per cent; and affairs of the heart 9 per cent.—Va. Tech.

MR. CROMER SPEAKS HERE AT PRAYERS

On Thursday, January 4 Mr. Cromer, the minister of the Farmville Methodist Church, spoke in Prayers on "Loyalty". Mr. Cromer opened and closed his subject with short prayers. He developed it by showing that to be truly loyal we must first of all be true to ourselves, then to our fellowman, and finally, to a cause. This cause, whatever it may be, must be a high and noble one—one to which we shall be proud to pledge our allegiance. At the beginning of another year is a fitting time for us to decide whether or not the cause to which we have pledged ourselves is really worthy of our highest endeavor; it is a time for revaluations and estimations. If it meet those high standards which we feel to be most pure, noble, beautiful, and sincere, then we should be true to it even unto death.

The Prayer Committee expects to have the other ministers talk at Prayers during the remaining weeks of January.

SENIOR CLASS MEETING

The Senior Class held its regular weekly meeting on Tuesday night, January 9 in Room 22 after prayers.

Margaret Parker, president presider. Virginia Binkley, business manager of the "Virginian" urged every senior to subscribe to the annual. The final list of subscriptions will be completed by the last of this month.

The president emphasized the importance of the senior's attending chapel every day, especially on Saturday. She also urged the members of the class to come out for basketball practice.

Mr. McCorkle, senior classman, thanked the class for Christmas remembrance. He reminded the class of the important events to take place in the near future, namely Founder's Day and the class production. He urged every senior to assist the class treasurer, Frances Horton, by paying dues promptly.

The president then appointed Dorothy Prescott and Edith Shanks to make out a list of the groups who are to keep the senior kitchen during this quarter. This list will be posted on the senior bulletin board.

This concluded the business and the meeting adjourned.

C. E. Chappell
COMPANY
Stationery, Blank Books and School Supplies
Cigars, Cigarettes and Soda
Farmville, Virginia

ALPHA PHI SIGMA SELLS ANNIVERSARY STAMPS

Fiftieth anniversary seals are being sold now for one cent each by a committee composed of members of Alpha Phi Sigma. Postal authorities forbid the use of these seals on the outside of envelopes, but they can be placed attractively on the inside of the letter.

These stamps may be obtained at any time from the folowing: Lila Jacob, chairman; Betty Barlow, Agnes Eondurant, Carmen Clark, Katherine Coleman, Lelia Mattox, Aileen Saunders, Joyce Sturm, Elizabeth Walton, Birdie Wooding, and Miss Maude K. Taliaferro.

Support your Alma Mater in her fiftieth anniversary by buying these anniversary seals.

JUNIOR CLASS NOTES

The Junior Class is presenting "Stars" Friday night, Jan. 12. Much concentrated work is being done. Hidden talent will be brought out and many surprises are in store for the student body. Practice for the play are taking place of the regular class meetings.

The class has many attractive plans for making money during the winter quarter. Save your pennies and let the class show you the best way to spend them.

DRESS MAKING — DESIGNING
HEMSTITCHING AND
ALTERING
SINGER SHOP
Third Street
FARMVILLE, VA.
10-4-3t

Kleanwell
CLEANERS AND TAILORS
Expert Cleaning, Repairing and Remodeling of Ladies Garments
Main Street, Opposite Postoffice
PHONE 98

THE DOROTHY MAY STORE
NEW DRESSES ARRIVING DAILY
$5.45
New high shades, blacks, browns, Sunday-nite and afternoon frocks.
$9,45
Woolens, rough crepes, sheers, faille crepes
Do your Christmas shopping here—Lovely Underwear, pocketbooks, gloves, vanities, necklaces, handkerchiefs.

SHOP AT
DAVIDSON'S
FOR YOUR
CHRISTMAS GIFTS
A large variety to select from

EACO
THEATRE
PROGRAM JAN. 11 TO 17

Thursday and Friday
January 11 and 12
Charlotte Henry
Cary Cooper, Cary Grant, Richard Arlen, Baby LeRoy, Charlie Ruggles in
"ALICE IN WONDERLAND"
The entertainment miracle of all times. Alice and her friends of the story that has been read by millions of all ages of all lands. They speak—the sing—they dance—they live. The picture follows the story in every detail. You'll love every minute of it.
Also "Morning, Noon and Night" with Rubinoff.
This being a percentage picture the prices will be 35c at nights and 25c at matinees

Saturday, January 13
10:30 A. M. Mat. of
"ALICE IN WONDERLAND"
Children under 12, 10c
Leslie Howard
Heather Angel
in
'BERKELEY SQUARE'
Here's the most beautiful love story the screen has ever told. The story of a young man of 1933 who goes back to the romantic past to find the girl of his dreams. The love story that spans time to live through eternity.
NOTE—See this picture from the start to enjoy it. Feature strats at 4:20 at matinees and at 8:20 at nights.
Also Fox News and "Fanny's Wedding Day".

Next Monday and Tuesday
January 15 and 16
MAE WEST
CARY GRANT
in
"I'M NO ANGEL"
She's here at last—just a sensitive girl who climbed the ladder of fame wrong by wrong. Mae says: "I wrote the story myself. It's all about a girl who lost her reputation but never missed it. Come up and see it sometime." Hear Mae sing "I'm No Angel", "No One Loves Me Like that Dallas Man" and "I've Found a New Way to go to Town." See her dance of the midway. She says: "You throw discretion to the winds—and your hips north, south, east and west." O Boy! O Boy!
Also Metro News and the "Harmonica Rascals."
Adults 35c and 25c; children 15c.

Next Wednesday, Jan. 17
MYRT AND MARGE
Radio's most popular team in a frantically funny feature picture full of laughs, drama, romance and music. What do they look like? Can they dance? Can they act? Are they as clever on the screen as on the air? Come and see for yourself—you'll be glad you did. Also Aesop Fable and Chapter 11 of .."Gordon .of Ghost ..... City" with BUCK JONES, ...
Daily matinees at 4 P. M. Evenings at 8 P. M.
Prices—Adults, 20c at matinees and 25c at nights; except on percentage pictures, when we must charge 25c and 35c.

The joys and sorrows of others are ours as much as theirs, and in proper time as we feel this and learn to live so that the whole world shares the life that flows through us, do our minds learn the Secret of Peace.—Annie Besant.

S. A. Legus
TAILOR
CLEANING
PRESSING
REPAIRING
Phone 203

REGISTRAR ANNOUNCES HONOR ROLL FOR FALL

Continued from page one

pie, Courtland; Mary M. Gilmer, Big Stone Gap; Elizabeth Ann Glenn, Prospect; Martha T. Hamlet, Phenix; Claudia E. Harper, Newport News; Ila L. Harper, Farmville; Dartha L. Harrison, Waverly; Edna Hatcher, Martinsville; Virginia C. Hooke, McDowell; Frances R. Horton, Roanoke; Katherine Hoyle, Newport News; Myrtle Marie Hundley, Sedley; Lila N. Jacob, Machipongo; Estelle E. Jones, Dillwyn; Jessica Ann Jones, Glen Allen; L. Crenshaw Jones, Lynchburg; Pauline E. Jones, Shepards; Virginia D. Jones, Norfolk; Rachel Joyner, Richmond; T. Lloyd Kelly, Big Stone Gap; Margaret B. Kent, Pulaski; S. Josephine Kent, Amherst; Barbara Kester, Martinsville; Evelyn Knaub, Richmond; Bonnie Emma Lane, Roanoke; Mildred Linthicum, Montvale; Lenora Long, Luray; Mary E. McCarn, Lexington, N. C.; Jean McClure, Spottswood; Bess McGlothin, Durham, N. C.; Iola McIntyre, Mt. Hope, W. Va.; Gertrude Maines, Boykins; Evelyn Massey, Post Oak; Bobbie Mattox, Big Island; Katherine R. Milby, Ballsville; Doris Moore, Richmond; Margaret E. Morgan, Andersonville; Mary Berkeley Nelson, Richmond; Martha B. Nottingham, Eastville; Claudine O'Brien, Appomattox; Margaret E. Parker, Suffolk; Elizabeth Phillips, Melfa; Margaret Pollard, Amelia; Mildred Potter, R. 1, Petersburg; V. Louise Potter, Petersburg; Dorothy Prescott, Big Stone Gap; Dorothy Price, Brookneal; Margaret Pringle, Rocky Mount; Anne Putney, Farmville; Marion Raine, Danville; Elma H. Rawlings, Lawrenceville; Lucille Rhodes, Mayesville, S. C.; Maude Rhodes, Hampton, Louise H. Ridgway, Roanoke; Ruth H. Roberts, Madisonville; Marguerite Rollins, Messick; Alice Rowell, Smithfield; Grace Rowell, Smithfield; Nelle Oakey Ryan, Shawsville; Edith Sanford, Alberta; Allene E. Saunders, Norfolk; Bernice Scott, Carrsville; Edith Shanks, Roanoke; Mary Scott Shelton, Farmville; Helen Smith, Roanoke; Dorothy Spencer, Meherrin; A. Irwin Staples, Burkeville; K. Gay Stieffen, Newport News; Joyce Sturm, Appalachia; Gertrude Sudgen, Hampton; Sarah Hyde Thomas, Staunton; Zaida P. Thomas, Wytheville; Dorothy Lee Turner, Crewe; A. Elizabeth Vassar, Keysville; Annie Louise Via, Philpott; Marcia H. Vick, Courtland; Elizabeth B. Ware, Dunnsville; Martha Scott Watkins, Farmville; Margaret Louise Webster, Norfolk; Alice Brooking Wheeler, Arrington; Dorothy White, Bedford; Janice White, Oak Hill, W. Va.; Mary Wicker, Farmville; Beverly Andrews Wilkinson, Lynch Station; Amanda Wilson, Forest; Mary Elizabeth Wood, Amelia; Margaret E. Woodard, Norfolk; Birdie Wooding, Halifax; Dorothy Woolwine, Ceres; Marguerite York, Farmville.

NEW COURSES OFFERED FOR THIS QUARTER

Continued from page one

mentary schools and the curriculum for the secondary schools; to outline methods by which various parts of the courses of study may be tested and evaluated in accord with the requests of the State Department; to make the adaption of the revised courses easier when they appear; and to answer questions in regard to the new courses of study with special reference to their application in practical situations.

The class will meet in Room 24 from 10 to 12 o'clock every Saturday morning beginning January 6.

The Physical Education Department is offering a course which has not been taught here for the past two years, Personal Hygiene Applied. This course will not be concerned so much with methods as with subject matter. It will be conducted by Miss Barlow.

How much easier our work would be if we put forth as much effort trying to improve the quality of it as most of us do trying to find excuses for not properly attending to it. —George W. Ballinger.

The longer I live the more my mind dwells upon the beauty and the wonder of the world. I hardly know which feeling leads, wonderment or admiration.—John Burroughs.

SPORT SLANTS

Has anybody seen Honey Hamilton in those blue shorts on the basketball court? Anyway, we've decided what we need is more and better blue pants.

We knew Ruby Vestal could knock a baseball over the back fence, but were we surprised to see her juggle the old basketball the other day? Versatility seems to be her trouble!

A very special orchid to Louise Walmsley for her never - failing sportsmanship.

Upperclassmen, we've got to watch those freshmen! They set a record in hockey which they seem determined to keep up.

We're expecting big things from the College High team this season, with Putney coaching. She tells 'em—and they like it.

N. R. Cooper, how do you do it? —Not a hair out of place—and not an extra pant—but still you cop the ball.

Sore muscles, where art thy mercy? After two weeks of work-outs merely of the social kind, a lot of groaning has been going on after certain gym classes.

We're glad to see Sarah Beck out and at 'em after the holidays.

And Kathleen Ranson—those long legs are a pleasure to watch on the court.

BASKETBALL

The A. A. Council announces that no basketball practice will be held on Friday afternoons. They have arranged practices so that any girl desiring will be able to get in all of her practices.

Belle Lovelace manager of basketball chose as her assistant Mary Bowles, a freshman from Petersburg.

NEW YEAR

Soon we shall silently go
Into the long, coming year,
And only ourselves may know
The joy of a laugh or the sob of a tear.

Like pine trees under the silver sky
Tall on a shapely moon,
Well may our heads the earth defy;
If our hearts have the same bright tune.

Eleanor Ryals Gleason

From Old Rotunda
January 10, 1925:

The Y. W. C. A. has taken another step forward this year and organized a Freshman Commission. The commission is to fill the gap between the already organized Y. W. C. A. and the new girls. Twenty girls were elected members.

The men who try to do something and fail are infinitely better than those who try to do nothing and succeed—Lloyd Jones.

Manhood, not scholarship is the first aim of education—Seton

People do not lack strength; they lack will—Victor Hugo.

The ladder of life is full of splinters, but they always prick the hardest when we're sliding down.—Brownell.

Self confidence is the first requisite to great undertakings.—Samuel Johnson.

The nation that has the schools has the future—Bismarck.

The victory of success is half won when one gains the habit of work—Sarah A. Bolton.

RICE'S SHOE STORE
Street and Dress Shoes
Dancing Slippers Dyed
Correct fits our speciality

PERSONAL SERVICE RENDERED

In the dignified "Saturday Review of Literature," which is in our library, is a column of personal advertisements. This started when Louis Untermeyer wished to sell a donkey and chose the "Saturday Review of Literature" to do his advertising. Later the editors of the magazine decided that many congenial literary and artistic spirits might be brought together through this column.

Today the column reads sometimes like an old-fashioned marriage bureau; some of the ads are indeed, very personal. However, the persons submitting these ads are cultured and refined. In fact, they are the intellectual high brows of the professional world.

There are a few of the ads picked at random:

"Is there a girl, intelligent, anywhere who would be interested in corresponding with a lonely young man of 30, who is not too serious but conscientious, fun-loving and active. Please write, "Lonesome."

"Romance, bubbling laughter, books, nature, dancing after; blonde, young, joyous, true. Would like to make a friend or two. "Lassie."

"S. O. S. Lonely, professional man, 35, attractive in person and personality, literary talents, travelled, wide knowledge, religious freethinker, seeks companionship of mature New York woman of depth, no gold seeker, preferably employed."

"Music lover, male, 22, intelligent, attractive, hitch-hikes 90 miles to New York concerts. Would appreciate a few hours fraternal hospitality. Address "Tommy".

"Young, middle-aged woman, with a car, wishes to meet a man of about fifty,accessible to Westchester county, who enjoys exporing unknown highways and byways and the exchanging of ideas. "Westchester."

PROCESSIONAL OR THESE I LOVE

I love the autumn for her head
Is bent in deeply reverent prayers
Before the solemn hush of death
Which is the quiet of winter hours.

I love the winter for her soul
Is steeped in meditative moods
Whose transiency bends to God
And brings a life from that which broods.

I love the spring whose very life
Is snatched from death's own dust,
And spread more beautiful than beauty;
I love her well because I must.

I love the summer whose refrain
Is carried on from spring,
Who reaches rapture then subsides
To fade and come again.

Eleanor Ryals Gleason

No man lives without jostling and being jostled; in all ways he has to elbow himself through the world, giving and receiving offense.—Carlyle.

Weyanoke
BEAUTY SALON
A Complete Beauty Service At Moderate Prices
What we have done for others we can do for you
WEYANOKE HOTEL
Farmville Va.

PI GAMMA MU HOLDS NATIONAL CONVENTION

Continued from page one

The convention of Pi Gamma Mu was one of sixteen national associations and societies meeting in Philadelphia at this time. Among the various interests represented were economics, sociology, history, and political science.

The discussion of a vast range of social and economic problems developed under the direction of world-famed scientists, economists, and educators.

LOVE

Oh Love! What art thou?
Can'st thou be but some fantastic demon,
Come to agonize the soul,
And drain the heart
Of its last dregs of happiness?
Nay Love, Thou can'st not be.
Thou art no damn villain,
Or contemptible knave—but Purity itself,
As gulleles as the new-born babe
Which slumbers 'gainst its mother's breast:
The seeds of Truth
Instilled in the depth of Man;
Yea. All these, and yet one more
—The infallible key
Which opes the aged doors of Humanity.

E. G., '37

Electric Shoe Shop
Will Fix Your Shoes While You Wait
BEST WORKMANSHIP AND LEATHER USED

YOU WOULD LOVE TO HAVE YOUR SHOES FIXED AT THE
Lovelace Shoe Shop
110 Third Street

WILLIS
The Florist
FLOWERS FOR ALL OCCASIONS
PHONES 181-273

W. EPES DIES AS RESULT OF AUTO ACCIDENT

Willie Epes, one of the well-known negro figures around the college campus died Friday afternoon, December 22 as the result of an automobile accident the preceding night.

Willie was returning from Lynchburg with a party of friends, when his car was crowded off the road, it is reported. The car overturned fracturing his neck when he was pinned under the steering wheel. Others in the car were not seriously injured.

Mack's
BARBER AND BEAUTY SHOP
323 Main Street
We use the Frederick Method
Hair Cutting and Thinning a Specialty

Martin JEWELER
Gifts of Lasting Remembrance
317 Main St. Farmville
We give Jubilee tickets

SouthsideDrugStore
(On the Corner)
Films Developed FREE
If bought at this store

Shannon's
Is Headquarters for the Best SANDWICHES —and— DRINKS —in— FARMVILLE!

At THE HUB S. T. C. HEADQUARTERS
Twin sweaters sets at ... $1.98 and $2.95
Broguish Oxfords, with low or medium heels. You will love them, $2.45, $2.95 and $3.50. All widths and sizes.
THE HUB DEPARTMENT STORE
"Farmville Best Place to Shop"

"PRIMROSE HOUSE" COSMETICS
Featuring Primrose House Face Powder Regular $1.00 box, Special 69c
50c size Spearmint Tooth Paste 10c
Spearmint Tooth Brushes, 10c
EVERYTHING FOR THE COLLEGE GIRLS AT
BALDWIN'S
Quality—Price—Service

G. F. Butcher
High Street
"The Convenient Store"
FOR GOOD THINGS TO EAT AND DRINK

Gray's Drug Store
QUALITY—PRICE—SERVICE
Come in and Get Acquainted
We Are Glad to Have You With Us!
Farmville, Virginia

SAVE A QUARTER FOR "DOIN' THE TOWN"

THE ROTUNDA

POE

CONGRATULATIONS TO VARSITY SQUAD MEMBERS

We Teach To Teach

Volume XIV | THE ROTUNDA, WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 17, 1934 | No. 14

Original Production By Juniors Proves Most Entertaining

Fifty Students Take Part In Show Under the Direction of Gardner and Herndon

SEVEN CLEVER ACTS GIVEN

Starlight, Star bright,
First star I see tonight,
I wish I may; I wish I might
Have the wish I wish tonight.

A soft drift of purple and silver starlight—great shining stars and a little group of girls wishing under the first stars of the evening—just as countless girls have wished under countless stars, through countless years—that was the way the Junior production which was given by the Junior Class on Friday, Jan. 12, opened.

The play entitled "Stars" which was under the direction of Meg Herndon, began at 8 o'clock in the big auditorium. A large audience made up of students and townspeople, was present.

Five girls were talking under the stars—of their hopes, aspirations and ambitions. Each expressed her greatest desire, making it a wish under each star. Sara Beck taking the part of a boy, wished under the first star to be a football hero; Margaret Dudley under the next star wished to be a radio star; June Cutshall under the third wished to be a perfect mother; Sally Thornhill wished to be a movie star, and Wyc Scott, also taking the part of a boy, wished to be a political star. How these wishes were carried out was the theme of the very delightful play.

In the football sketch, Sara Beck

Continued on page 4, col. 1

Dr. Wynne Lectures On Teaching Units

In the fourth of a series of lectures on the unit as a method of instruction, Dr. J. P. Wynne will center his discussion on the topic, "The Planning of Instruction," the lecture being given at 8 o'clock in the Student Building auditorium.

Preparing a background for this address, have been Dr. Wynne's lectures delivered during the past week, and particularly the one given last night on "The Technique of Teaching." Having established a clear definition of the nature of teaching as he advocates it this evening, Dr. Wynne will proceed to show how such instruction is planned.

This lecture will be followed tomorrow evening, Thursday, Jan. 18, by an account of "Reporting and Evaluating Instruction." This will conclude Dr. Wynne's series of discussions, sponsored by Kappa Delta Pi and Pi Gamma Mu, concerning the learning-teaching unit.

In his introductory lectures, delivered Wednesday, Jan. 10, Dr. Wynne defined the learning-teaching unit as feature of educational practice, saying that in this sense it consists of a series of activities related to some topic of experience.

Having made this clear, his conception of the unit, Dr. Wynne emphasized the point that the unit as a method of instruction may be good or bad—not necessarily good because it is a unit.

"To determine the practical value of a series of activities related to some topic of experience there must be some efficient, acceptable criteria for evalution," continued Dr. Wynne.

In the second of the lectures the following criteria were developed to be observed in teaching, planning,

(Continued on Page 3)

Large Delegation Hears E. S. Jones

A delegation of twenty students and faculty members went to Richmond, Saturday evening, January 13, to hear a lecture given by Dr. E. Stanley Jones at the "Mosque" at 8 o'clock.

This lecture was given under the auspices of the Richmond Ministers Association. Bishop Collins Denny of the Methodist Church introduced the speaker who is already well-known both by his books and his work. Dr. Jones is a missionary thoroughly familiar with both India and China, chiefly with India. Among the books which he has written are "The Chirst of the Indian Road", "The Christ of Every Road," and "The Chrisit of the Round Table."

In his lecture, Dr. Jones discussed the question, "Can we be missionaries, dare we be missionaries in an age of this kind?" He began his discussion with a statement of many of the objections which have been raised against the missionary enterprise today.

"Some people object," he stated, "that the missionary enterprises represents a desire to manage other people." He illustrated this point by citing injustices and wrongs done to Eastern and other peoples by narrow-minded missionaries. This period in missions has passed, Dr. Jones thinks; "this narrow conception has disappeared, and today missionaries are trying to undo the wrongs that have been done to these countries. More and more today, everyone is being invited to liberty and freedom, and the infinite possibilities in each man are being sought out and developed. The sacredness of human personality throbs at the heart of the missionary movement today. Missionaries are dealing with people, not as theosophists, not as Hindus, or Mohammedans, but as human beings, as individuals. Some have criticized American missionaries by saying that they do not try to find good in the culture and religion of other peoples, but try to Americanize everyone. Today, American civilization is not the message; the development of each individual soul is the goal.

Dr. Jones emphasized the fact that the world needs to forget denominationalism, to forget creedal narrowness; it needs to develop a universal-

Continued page 3, col. 2

LATIN CLUB HAS WELL-PLANNED PROGRAM

Sodalitas Latina held its regular monthly meeting Jan. 10, at 5 o'clock, in the language room. After a short business session, during which Katherine Milby was unanimously elected to keep the scrap book, Margaret Pollard, chairman of the program committee, took charge of the meeting.

Doris Moore explained the old Roman festival, the Saturnalia, in honor of Saturn ,the god who presided over the seed. The festival began on Dec. 17 and lasted seven days. Everyone participated in this lively celebration. The slaves were set free, feasting with and even waited on by their masters.

A clever little play, "The Saturnalia," was then given by Doris Moore, Annie Anderson, Mabel Britt, Elizabeth Shipplett, and Claudia O'Brien.

Anne Putney sang "Little Jack Horner" in Latin, after which the entire club joined her in singing it. Two quite interesting little puzzles were worked out, those winning the prizes being Katherine Coleman and Jeanette Jones.

Another little Latin play, "Ancilla and Cassius," was given by Lila Jacob and Katherine Coleman. The program was appropriately concluded with a new year motto, read by Margaret Pollard.

Twenty-Two Make Varsity Basketball Squad This Season

Sweet Briar, William and Mary and Blackstone Will Play Farmville In February

MANY FRESHMEN WIN PLACES

The 1934 varsity basketball squad as selected Friday, January 12, by Miss Iler, coach, and Belle Lovelace, manager, is as follows: Sarah Beck, Frances Burger, Sally Rose Chappelle, Victoria Gillette, Mildred Gwaltney, Margaret Kent, Bernice Mann, Paige Magee, Lelia Mattox, Margaret Parker, Martha Putney, Kathleen Ranson, Kitty Roberts, Ruth Roberts, Florence Sanford, Lelia Sanford, Robbie Smith, Linda Walker, Louise Walmsley, Ruby Vestal, Sue Yeaman, and Marguerite York.

Having shown outstanding basketball ability and having attended the required number of practices, these twenty-two girls were chosen from among those who tried out.

From this list, which as announced is subject to change, six girls will be selected to compose the varsity team. The team as well as other members of the squad will play in the games with other colleges. To make the team a member of the squad must play in three-fourth of the varsity games.

The varsity games scheduled to date are as follows:

Sweet Briar, vs. Farmville, Feb. 10, here.

William and Mary vs. Farmville, Feb. 17, here.

Blackstone vs. Farmville, Feb. 24, there.

Last year the S. T. C. varsity basketeers were unofficially the state champions. They succeeded in winning every game played. Among some of the teams which they competed were Sweet Briar, Blackstone, William and Mary, Richmond Normal, and

Continued on page 4

Cotillion Club Bids 37 New Members

At a meeting of the Cotillion Club on Monday night new member were voted on. The following girls have received bids to the club: Virginia Baker, Kitty Bass, Nancy Beard, Mary Bowles, Marguerite Bradford, Frances Burger, Betty Mae Brown, Martha Davis, Anne Diggs, Nancy Dodd, Chic Rortch, Kitty Fitzgerald, Jean Foote, Winnie Goodman, Zell Hopkins, Frances Hudgins, Bernice Jones, Caroline Jones, Virginia Jones, Sue Mallory, Page Nottingham, Virginia Rawlings, Cappy Rountree, Bebe Russell, Kitty Roberts, Florence Sanford, Lelia Sanford, Elizabeth Shiplett, Katherine Switzer, Frances Tilman, Virginia Tilman, Zaida Thomas, Nancy Wall, Libby Ware, Ella Ware, Lucille Ware, Peanut Woodhouse.

CLASS STAFFS TO EDIT ROTUNDA IN FEBRUARY

The February issues of the Rotunda will be edited by the four class staffs. The freshman, sophomore, junior, and senior classes each will appoint an editor-in-chief who will select the staff from her class. No member of the regular Rotunda staff will be on the class staffs.

The seniors will publish the first of the class issues, February 7, the juniors will issue theirs on February 14, sophomores February 21, and freshmen February 28.

A prize of $2.50 will be awarded the class staff publishing the best Rotunda as judged by the three judges who will be selected.

Dr. Jeffers, Founders Day Chairman, Announces Program for Celebration

Formal Dinner, Dramatic Club Play and Dance Are Special Social Features

PLANS ARE NEAR COMPLETION

The program for the celebration of the fiftieth anniversary of the college, to be celebrated March 9 and 10, was announced Tuesday, January 16, by Dr. G. W. Jeffers, chairman of the Founder's Day Committee.

These two days of celebration will have many new features that will make this Founder's Day a memorable affair. The activities will begin Friday morning with the academic program and culminate with a dance Saturday night in the gymnasium.

The program as outlined by Dr. Jeffers is as follows:

Friday morning 11:00—Academic program, preceded by the academic procession.

Friday, 2:30-4:30—Visitation of the college; 2:30-4:30—Symposium; 4:30—Informal teas.

Friday evening, 8:15—Dramtic Club play.

Saturday morning, 10:00—Alumnae meeting; 1:00, alumnae luncheon.

Saturday afternoon, 3:00—Alumnae parade.

Saturday vening, 6:00 — Formal dinner in college dining hall; 8:15—Program by college musical organizations; 9:30—Dance in gymnasium.

Further information on each feature of the two-day program will be given every week in the Rotunda. The exact hours of the entertainment have not been definitely decided. Some of the various plans have not been fully worked out, but will be completed in the next week or two!

S. T. C. Affair Patterns After Real Mardi Gras

The Mardi Gras festival, sponsored again this year by Pi Gamma Mu, is weaving itself into the life of the college in such a way that doubtless it will become a permanent institution at S. T. C. The student body has manifested much enthusiasm over this fascinating custom. Those who are promoting the carnival here are anxious that a spirit of gaiety and festivity, typical of that of the Creoles, permeate the entire affair.

The plans for the festival at S. T. C. being generally known, some of the highlights of the New Orleans carnival will be described here.

While some form of festivity is to be found in practically every country where the Catholic church is found, the custom has been developed more elaborately in New Orleans than elsewhere. Here an entire season—not just a day—of merry-making is observed. From New Year's Day till the midnight stroke on Shrove Tuesday, the revelry continues with gathering momentum. The term Mardi Gras, as applied to the Tuesday before Lent, means "Fat Tuesday," so called because of the fatted ox customarily paraded in the streets. It was thus that the forty days of sackcloth and ashes are preceded by a gay and vivid holiday—a tinselled festival in which the beautiful is jostled by the grotesque, a coronation ceremony and circus combined.

Each Mardi Gras finds the city of New Orleans overflowing with visitors, balconies and galleries overhanging the streets being filled with spectators. The carnival colors, yellow, green and purple, are festooned from house to house. There are day and night parades, when glittering mock-monarchs ride through the streets.

While all New Orleans is in a social whirl from the New Year on, the actual Mardi Gras pageantry begins on the Thursday before Ash Wednesday. Each night during this period some organization sponsors a procession and ball, the climax being the parade of Rex on Tuesday morning, followed by the ball of Comus and the ball of Rex on Tuesday night. The rulers of Mardi Gras are Rex and his Queen, the Queen and her

Continued on last page

FRESHMAN COMMISSION PRESENTS SING

The Freshman Commission, at "Sing" Saturday night, proved to the audience that school spirit in the class room is as equally important as it is on the football field.

The first scene pictured the crowd in the bleachers cheering the players as they supposedly played their way to fame. They were led in cheers by Dot Dollins and Mary Lib Slater. In the second scene—the school room scene—Zeda Thomas, the teacher, gave to each pupil an examination. She encouraged the class as a whole but gave special attention to the school room hero, Catherine Hurt.

The much admired scholastic hero fainted after several attempts to answer the difficult question. It was then that the class resorted to cheers as a final means of reviving their star. He was brought to most successfully; he made a second attempt —and—passed the exam.

Those playing the parts of the football spectators and the students were: Eleanor Kellam, Lucy Miller, Sue Mallory, Catherine Switzer, Elise Marshburn, Virginia Jones, Peggy Stratton, Jean Foote, Elizabeth Shipplett, Frances Tilman, and Rose Somers.

Sophomores Present "Doin' the Town"

All the thrills and excitement of New York night life can be had for only one quarter at the sophomore production "Doin' The Town" to be presented Friday night, January 26 at eight o'clock in the large auditorium.

Two couples start out to do the town and succeed! First, they take in Booth Tarkington's amusing comedy "The Trysting Place" The lines are screamingly funny and the situations involved and humorous. This play alone is worth your quarter. But there is more. The night is still young! So to the gayest and most elaborate night club they go. Catchy dances, the newest song hits and a general array of merriment all help them (and you) to have a big time. It's time for making whoopee and these entertainers certainly will get you in the spirit of the thing.

The sophomore class harbors plenty of hidden talent that shines out when behind the footlights. Broadway has been missing something by not seeing little dancers as will adorn our stage in this good production. "Doin' the Town" has what a good production needs—pep, sophistication and cleverness.

Hazel Smith has charge of the whole production; Claudia Harper, of the prologue; Margaret Pollard, of the play, and Margaret Farrar, of the night club scene.

There are many original dances contributed by Margaret Farrar. To the haunting strains of tantalizing music, the dancers portray Harlem madness. Red Riddick well suits the role of master of ceremonies and will make one even gladder that he saved his pennies for "Doin' the Town."

THE ROTUNDA

Member Southern Inter-Collegiate Newspaper Association
Member Intercollegiate Press Association of Virginia

Newspaper — National Scholastic Press Association — Member

Published by Students of State Teachers College, Farmville, Va.

Entered as second class matter March 1, 1921, at the Postoffice of Farmville, Virginia, under Act of March 3, 1879.

Subscription ..... $1.50 per year

ROTUNDA STAFF

Editor-in-Chief .... Mary Shelton, '34
Associate Editor .... Lelia Mattox, '35

Board of Editors

News ..... Evelyn Massey, '36
Make-Up ..... Katherine Hoyle, '36
Literary Editor .... Birdie Wooding
Louise Walmsley, '36
World News ..... Velma Quarles, '34
Intercollegite ..... Caroline Byrd, '36
Social ..... Marion Raine, '36
Art ..... Alice Rowell, '34
Feature ..... Elizabeth Walton, '36
Alumnae ..... Miss Virginia Potts

Reporters

Amis Montohery
Mary Hastings Holloway
Edith Shanks, '34; Mary Easley Hill, '34; Elizabeth Vassar, '35; Mary Elizabeth Alexander, '36; Lula Windley, '36.
Proof Readers: Katherine Coleman, '35
Grace Eubank, '36

Managers

Business ..... Mary Diehl, '34
Assistant ..... Elma Rawlings, '34
Circulation ..... Nell Oakey Ryan, '34
Assistant ..... Janice White, '35

The Rotunda invites letters of comment, criticism, and suggestion from its readers upon its manner of presenting and treating them. A letter, to receive consideration, must contain the name and address of the writer. These will not be published if the writer objects to the publication.

All matters of business should be addressed to the Business Manager and all other matters should come to the Editor-in-Chief. Complaints from subscribers as regards irregularities in the delivery of The Rotunda will be appreciated.

IMPRESSIVE ROUND-UP

The curiosity of the entire student body was aroused on Monday night when we were all requested to attend Student Body meeting. It proved to be a very important and serious one which consisted of a most appealing talk by Miss Mary.

Miss Mary gave to us a summary of our faults, that is the numerous rules which have been and are being broken by a large part of the student body.

Among them misconduct in the dining room was brought to our attention. All realize fully now the importance of watching a little more carefully our personal behavior and "table manners", and are aware of the fact that we do not conduct ourselves always as we would in our own dining rooms nor in a manner of which Miss Mary could be proud.

These bad manners are not signs of ill breeding, but would certainly appear so to vistors or strangers, and doubtlessly give a wrong impression both of the type of girls in our student body and of the training we receive while here.

Such faults as these in our everyday lives at school, however personal they may seem and however trivial, are surely most distressing to Miss Mary, who feels a grave responsibility for the conduct of her family. It is only because Miss Mary is so interested in our school and more especially in each one of us, that she reminds us of these misdoings. So let us give her our whole-hearted cooperation in making this student body a better one!

Correction in last week's Rotunda: The following names were omitted from the dean's list: Mary Easley Hill, of Pearisburg, Va.; Mary McCarn of Lexington, N. C., and Mary Louise McNulty of Lexington, Va.

ANOTHER PROBLEM

During one term of our college days we have our chance to put all that we have learned into practice. This is the time when we do our practice teaching—this is the culmination of our college education. It is the time when we have a chance to find out whether or not we are fitted for our chosen life work; it is the record that we make during this period that effects our chances of securing a teaching position more than any other term's work.

From the first day of our college career we are preparing ourselves for the time of testing. We are having our first opportunity to be on our own—to try our own wings. Preparing for a day's teaching takes time — even more than preparation for the same number of classes. This is, as it should be, for we must keep in mind above everything else that the three months of our practice teaching are three months of our pupil's education. We owe to those pupils our very best efforts.

Thus realizing the importance of this term's work many of our students feel that we should drop all extra-curricular activities and put our efforts solely on our teaching. Naturally, this applies to the girls who stay out in the country until four in the afternoon and the grade teachers in the training school. Suggestions have been made that every office in school activities should be dropped during the time of teaching to be resumed the next term.

This is a problem for the Student Standards Committee. It seems that this group could devise some plan under the point system that no girl could carry but a small number of points during her term of teaching.

It is the sincere hope of a large number of students that some plan will be made in the near future. The Rotunda staff has already adopted this policy by excusing from duty its members who are teaching this term. It would be well for other organizations to consider this.

World News

Last week the President called some thirty-five Washington correspondents to his office. Like a football coach going through field practice with the squad he read the budget message he was to send to Congress the next day. Then he answered the question of his digit-dazed friends. The reward of the President's patience was a uniform and intelligent presentation to the public through the press of his two-year $17,000,000,000 budgets.

To the Senate President Roosevelt sent nominations of more than 100 men who had already received interim appointments in the Administration. Included were those of Secretary of the Treasury, Morgenthau, three assistant Secretaries of State, two ambassadors, two Federal Trade Commissioners, and 19 ministers.

Last week President Roosevelt entered the House on the arm of his son James, and after a round of applause and a volley of cheers, began to deliver his message to the first and only regular session of the 73rd Congress.

FROM OLD ROTUNDAS

March 1924:

"In Time of Peace"

Farmville may not have another fire in twenty years. We hope not. It may have one tomorrow. Fires have a habit of being unexpected.

During the fire which destroyed part of our school, esprit de corps could not have been betetr. No one screamed, no one did anything excessively foolish; in fact the "Do unto others" rule was in pretty general usage. But that is not a guaranty that in case of a future fire everything will be the same. At any rate it isn't safe to tempt Providence. "In time of peace prepare for war". Practically all large colleges and boarding schools have realized the value of fire drills. They give a feeling of self-reliance, if not security. To have fire drills does not mean that we must be always expecting a fire, but it does mean that should a fire start, we would be prepared to meet it sanely.

CAMPUS COMMENTS

Noting the fences around the campus, one wonders whether S. T. C. is a kindergarten or a college—but we have ourselves to thank for that!

Which reminds us that Chic Dortch has not grown up yet. At any rate she has her dolly to keep her company while away from home.

Every year there's at least one girl at school who rates enough or should we say—who's friend rates enough—to be in the figure at W. & L. Fancy Dress. This time it's Wessie McNulty who'll dike up in the Russian glad rags.

We wish Frankie McDaniel didn't write to so many boys at one school—not that it's any of our business—but think of the confusion at Blacksburg when the Farmville mail comes in!

Everyone knows that Margaret Parker is Queen of the May and Chub Denit was the queen of the circus, but did you know that Anne ("Annie Rooney") Irving is a queen, too? We aren't sure of her title, but we've heard that she has a king! Bill, my boy, you'd better come out ah dat souf land!

Harriet Moomaw and Ruth Jordan really brightened up S. T. C. for a few days! Their presence always brings lots of fun!

It seems as though we just cannot entertain in the Student Building lounge and gets by with it—not on Saturday nights anyway!

Nancy Parker says that Santa Claus comes in the middle of January as well as on the well-known 25th of December! She seems very delighted with her doll—we wonder if it was the gift or the giver?

We wonder why Betty Mae Brown doesn't publicly show the latest addition to her jewelry!

Mr. Sam Graham has admitted that he is going to lose a bet made to a certain Senior. The Senior is gloating but is she counting her chickens before they hatch?

Have you ever seen Gay Steiffen with that Mae West twist?

Elsie, 'cause it's being done in Vogue!

Tib Simmerman, one-time love of a certain popular man-about-town, seems to be rather worried! Obvious reasons—a little dark-haired transfer!

Dear Editor:

Perhaps I shouldn't complain, for of all the steps that we have in school and about school one stairway is dangerous. It is used as much as—if not more than—any other flight of steps in the college because it is the back stairway to Cunningham Hall from the main building. They should be made safer.

If a railing were built beside them, the danger of falling down them at any time, but especially when they are ice-covered, would be greatly lessened. As it is now, anybody tripping or slipping on them would tumble down to the concrete sidewalk.

Another great improvement, however, could be made to remedy a greater fault of the steps. These light steps are each made of three wooden planks, and between each plank is a crack. At night, unless careful, one may walk off the edge of a step, thinking—until he hits the sidewalk! —that he is putting his foot on a crack!

Why could not a concrete flight of steps be made to lead from the main building to Cunningham? It seems to me that this would be a worthy CWA job!.

One Who Has To Climb Down Those Back Steps

At any rate the fire drill itself could do no harm.

February 10, 1924.

My Wish

If I could have a wishing ring, I'd never wish for pearls, nor limousines and all the things desired by many girls. I'd never wish for beauty rare nor yet for wealthy beaux; nor should I wish for world-wide fame as many would suppose. I would not wish for silken robes, nor treasure chests of gold. I'd simply wish for gobs of food—for more than I could hold.

HAVE YOU SEEN THE NEW S. T. C. ANNUALS

After spending two hours in the library looking at annuals dating back to the early 1900's, and after seeing "Berkeley Square" an idea for an article finally rounded itself into shape.

If you like to look at annuals, (and they really don't belong in the same category with family albums) you will have an intensely entertaining two hours browsing upstairs with the annuals. You will discover people from your home town in the days when they were sweet sixteen. The prophecies of the senior class of 1911 will amuse you as you read that Mary Smith is to star in grand opera, and you know her now to be comfortably married with four children and singing in the church choir.

But where does "Berkeley Square" come in? Your interpretation is probably different from any one else's, but don't you see that the spirit of the girls in the faded annuals is hovering over S. T. C. and affecting the institution which places its stamp upon you just as the spirits of Peter Standish and Helen Pettigrew reigned over the house in Berkeley Square?

While you're impatiently waiting for the annual of 1934 to come out, why not look up the annual of 1884? You'll find one as interesting as the other.

FROM OTHER COLLEGES

Sport slants reveal that the opening of basketball season is the center of interest in all colleges and universities. Also boxing and wrestling are the sports of importance at W. and L., V. P. I., Duke, V. M. I., and University of Virginia.

The Fancy Dress Ball at W. & L. this year will be very gorgeous with color and grandeur, for the decorations will reproduce Kremlin, the Romanoff Capitol. There will be a gold canopy over the throne and two long rows of red and gold columns running the length of the floor. The Fancy Dress Ball, "The Coronation of Alexander III", is Friday night, January 26.

Scholars from North Carolina University, University of Georgia, University of Virginia and Yale have been selected for the honor of the Rhodes Award.

For the first time in the history of Flora Stone Mather College of Western University, so far as anyone can recall, the freshman class this year was victorious in its annual attempt to find the hidden sophomore flag. It was found in a sofa pillow.

V. P. I. seems greatly disturbed that the elimination of R. O. T. C. is being considered by Congress. There is going to be a very important R. O. T. C. Conference held in Washington on January 27.

Thirty-seven colleges and university distributed throughout the country permitted to present their credentials seeking Phi Beta Kappa recognition resulted in the selection of four for recommendation. These were the Connecticut College for Women at New London, the University of Utah, at Salt Lake City the College of St. Catherine at St. Paul Minnesota, and Florida State College for Women at Tallahassee, Florida.

A dramatized representation of some of the highlights of Washington and Lee history and tradition will be broadcast January 26, from 8:30 to 9 over WSM. This is one of a series of programs about representative Southern colleges presented by this station on Monday, Wesdnesday, and Friday evenings. The Washington and Lee program will publicize traditions and personalities.

The Spectator of Mississippi State College for Women relates that Shattuck dining hall resembles a young green house, with white narcissus blooming on each table to relieve the bareness of tables during the winter months.

"Grave Diggers of 1933, or Horror We Doing" was the title of the mystery comedy given by the Men about Town at the University of Pennsylvania recently. "Ten Tights in a Barroom," would go over big hereabouts. (Rook players please note).

POETRY

NIGHTFALL

Dark shadows,
Interminal, shifting shadows
Reach out.
With great arms weird and ghostly,
With fingers of death and mystery
They grapple the sweet innocence of day.
Twilight, cloud clad, sweeps on.
Star fires lantern the skies.
A moon hangs, half hid in the east,
As she thrusts her unsheathed daggers
Far up the celestial stairs.
The love call of a low-throated dove . . .
An answer . . .
Night . . .

—E. G. '37.

THE MAN WHO KNOWS

I want to walk by the side of the man who has suffered and knows,
Who has measured his pace on the battle line and given and taken blows,
Who has never whined when the scheme went wrong nor scoffed at the failing plan—
But taken his dose with a heart of trust and the faith of a gentleman;
Who has parried and struck and sought and given, and scarred with a thousand spears,
Can lift his head to the stars of heaven and isn't ashamed of his tears.

I want to grasp the hand of the man who has been through it all and seen,
Who has walked with the night of an unseen dread and stuck to the world-machine,
Who has beaten his breast to the winds of dawn and thrusted and starved and felt
The sting and the bite of the bitter blasts that the mouths of the foul have dealt;
Who was tempted and fell, and arose again, and has gone on trusty and true,
With God supreme in his manly heart and his courage burning anew.

—Author Unknown.

HALF-WISDOM

How swift our half-wise judgment to condemn
The deed that had been ours but for the chance
That deals unequal cards to equal men,
Pitting clean wills against the circumstance.
Not theirs alone the glory who have kept
A straight and even road beneath bright stars,
But his as well whom utter darkness swept
Down in the dust to rise again with scars.
Who knows how well some staunch heart holds the walls
Against the siege of subtle powers until
At last, when the unguarded hour befalls,
They pierce the armor of a wearied will?
Or when some flagging nerve has failed his need,
What sharp goals press him to the unsought deed?

—Hugh Robert Orr.

OLD YEAR

I want to close the old year, Lord—
All finished like a book;
Turn eyes from smudged and dog-eared page,
Bar any backward look.

There are some scores I marked to pay—
Some large and some are small;
The grief they caused—I'm sorry now,
Forgive me for them all.

Then place a small book in my hand,
New pages I can read;
And give me from it deeds to do,
And thoughts of others' needs.

And when its pages I must close,
Pray let there be no grief;
But let my hands turn happily
The new book's last clean leaf.

—Clara Hood Rugel.

SOCIALS

Several girls went to Richmond last week to attend a lecture by Dr. Stanley Jones. Among these were: Grace Rowell, Louise Van Lear, Frances Horton, Marian Umberger and Lucy Potter.

Helen Westmoreland, Corrinne Mosby and Louise Whitehurst spent Thursday in Lynchburg.

Martha Higgins, Florence Tankard, and Evelyn Knaub went to Richmond shopping.

A number of girls went home this week-end. These were: Susan Gresham, Mildred Linthicum, Marian Shoffner, Evelyn Wilson, Ruth Gaines, Aileen Howard, Wyc Scott, Lelia Sanford, Dorothy Morris, Sarah Beck, Virginia Inge, Nancy Beard, Charlotte Young, Irwin Staples, Rose Somers, Elizabeth Ranson, Nancy Dodd, Katherine Harvey, Mildred Slayton, Martha Davis, Mary Denny.

Among those who spent the week-end with friends were: Margaret Dudley, Mary Louise Harry, Estelle Jones, Josephine Kent, Anthelia Robinette, Frances Johnson, Rachel Jones, Marjorie Woodard, Ruby Vestal.

TRI SIGMA ENTERTAINED AT BRIDGE SUPPER

The Alpha Chapter of Tri Sigma was entertained at seven tables of bridge, followed by a delicious supper, Thursday afternoon, January 11, by Martha Scott Watkins at her home on High Street.

The guests played bridge from 4 to 6. The high score prize was won by Elizabeth Wall and the low score by Mary Scott Martin.

Besides the members of the active chapter many alumna and friends were present. The faculty members came in for supper at 6 o'clock. Those present included: Miss Mix, Miss Pauline Camper, Miss Coulling, Miss Walker, a former advisor of Tri Sigma. Mrs. Edwin Lancaster, Martha Ann Lang, Mary Scott Martin, Isabel Allen, Margaret Armstrong, Betty Shields, Virginia Sanford and the active members of Tri Sigma.

ALPHA PHI SIGMA HAS PICNIC AT LONGWOOD

Alpha Phi Sigma entertained with a picnic for its new members on Saturday afternoon, January 13, in the cabin at Longwood.

When the guests arrived after a merry ride out on the school truck, they roasted hot dogs and marshmallows over the open fire and had hot chocolate. Tac Waters, chairman of the social committee, led the group in guessing games. After lolly pops had been served, everyone clambered back on the truck, and got back to school just in time to miss "Sing."

The guests of honor for the occasion were Dr. Jarman and Miss Jennie Tabb, honorary members of the fraternity, and Miss Helen Draper, faculty adviser.

LOUISE WALMSLEY GIVES VERY DELIGHTFUL TEA

Louise Walmsley entertained at a tea the members of Alpha Sigma Alpha Sunday afternoon, January 15, at her home. The hours of calling were from four to six. A salad course was served to the guests.

Among those present were: Miss Moran, Harriett Moomaw, Mary Berkley Nelson, Catherine Young, Doris Eley, Mary Easley Hill, Gertrude Sygden, Sarah Hyde Thomas, Ida Mason Miller, Lucy and Mildred Potter, Carolyn Byrd, Mary Elizabeth Alexander and Susie Webb.

ORANGE GIRLS ATTEND BRIDGE PARTY

Hope Robertson of Orange, guest of Lucy Shields, was the honoree at a bridge party given by Mrs. Mashall and Mrs. Newton on Friday afternoon, January 12. Several of the girls is school from Orange were present at this delightful affair.

Bridge was played from four until six. Betty Rivers received high score prize and Hope Robertson was presented with a guest prize. A delicious salad course was then served.

The guests included: Hope Robertson, Lucy Shields, Lelia Sanford, Wyc Scott, Katherine Conway, Emily Brumfield, Margaret Armstrong, and Betty Rivers.

DAY STUDENTS THANK Y. W. C. A.

Thanks to the Y. W. C. A. committee in charge, the town girls' room has been made very much more livable for the day students. Freshly laundered curtains, homey pictures on the walls, and a gaily flowering potted plant, all contribute to the attractiveness of the room and create an air of cheerfulness. The town girls wish to take this opportunity for thanking the Y. W. C. A. and especially Miss Jennings, adviser to the Y. W. town girls committee, for the interest they have taken in making the day students' room more enjoyable.

LARGE DELEGATION HEARS E. S. JONES

Continued from page one

ized sensitiveness. "Each nation should feel that it is bound up with the world, that each man's pain or joy or sorrow is shared by everyone else. The speaker gave as a proof of this the illustration of the supreme sensitiveness of Christ, who felt the hunger, pain, and thirst of every man. The world needs to turn to Christ as the way. Only to the degree that the church is sensitive to world needs are its members Christians. The missionary work at home and the work abroad are alternate beats of the same heart; no heart can beat unless in two directions. Thus each nation definitely needs the other; the resources of each and all must be pooled, and thus help to make for Christian solidarity."

Dr. Jones is a powerful speaker. The well-filled auditorium was an indication of the wide-spread interest in present day missions.

The World Fellowship Committee of the Y. W. C. A. helped to arrange for many students to go to the lecture and several faculty members provided cars. Among those from Farmville who attended the lecture were Miss Mary C. Hiner Miss Winnie Hiner, Dr. Walmsley, Mr. Graham, Louise Van Lear, Grace Rowell, Marian Umberger, Lucy Potter, Frances Horton, Sue Yeaman, Sue Waldo, Agnes Crockett, Phyllis Ferguson, Alberta Collings, Lelia Lovelace, Ruth Rucker, Virginia Hamilton, Mattie Lula Cooper, Edith Shanks, and Marjorie Booton.

DR. WYNNE LECTURES ON TEACHING UNIT

Continued from page one

and evaluating units:

1. Experienced Need. All selections should contribute to the satisfaction of needs experienced by the pupils in immediate situations.

2. Justifiable Objectives. All selections should contribute to the achievement of definable objectives that can be justified in proportion to time expended.

3. Unity of Experiencing. In all selections the unity of experience should be assumed.

4. Selective Choice. All undertakings should provide for selective choice.

5. Contingency. All selections should be contingent upon the conditions prevailing in the teaching situation.

A baby left on Franklin Roosevelt's Albany doorstep by Alfred E. Smith, and which he has come to cherish, is the projected hydro-electric power development on the St. Lawrence in New York State. The President prodded the matter along last week by urging the Senate to pass the Great Lakes-St. Lawrence Deep Waterway Treaty with Canada, a necessary preliminary before any dam can be built.

Unnecessary Congressional spending was also a matter of concern to the President. So he called in members of the House Appropriations Committee and sub-committees who promised they would get right to work pasing the necessary bills to provide the required budget billions. Still a little shocked at the budget's size they heartily agreed that further expenditures would be undesirable.

An interesting judge of the girls who make up the beauty section of the "Lagusippe," Louisiana Tech's annual, have been chosen. The judge will be none other than Mae West; wonder what the winners will look like, but maybe the "Come up sometime" gal doesn't practice what she preaches.—V. M. I. Cadet.

THE TWO BLACK SHEEP

Warwick Deeping

Deeping proves himself once again a novelist of distinction in his latest work"The Two Black Sheep". The character portrayals of Vane and Elsie Summerlays hark back to that sensitiveness of touch reminiscent of "Sorrell and Son."

The story in skeleton is concerned with the rebirth through love, of a man who has served a term in prison for the murder of his wife's lover. He finds solace and inspiration in Elsie Summerlays, a poor governess, with the same fundamental delicacy and fineness of spirit which characterize Vane.

Deeping's readers will be interested in deep emotional pitches he achieves through the spiritual struggles of his characters.

The sadistic child, and the morally tattered widow, the child's mother, serve to give the worldly hardness against which Elsie's sensitiveness has to beat, again and again, in their role as the child's governess.

Vane, the man we see after his imprisonment, could never have committed so brutal an act as murder. He explains his lapse into the primitive, red-blooded, fighting animal as an after-effect of his war exeprience. He comes out of prison a dull, introspective individual, with a phychosis of fear for all things human. He becomes actually ill with nausea in crowds.

With his gradual immersion into the world, he becomes more the man, needing only a love such as Elsie's to achieve his reawakening.

Elsie, a woman in the early thirties, has her phychosis of fear, too. She is afraid of the poverty which has always surrounded her; she is actually afraid of giving up a job which means a livelihood to herself an dto her mother, regardless of its bone-crushing aspects.

She has her dreams, however, which Deeping knows so well how to fathom.

She loves Vane before he tells her of his imprisonment. It is typical of the character the author is portraying that she should shy off and run away from the man, after his disclosure. One sees an animal frightened, frustrated. It is not the act of a coward nor a flirt. It is more fundamental than that.

Finally, her fineness and her love overcome her fear. But, before the reunion can be established, that spectre of poverty proves Miss Summerley's downfall.

When she fears that her mother is ill, she attempts to collect her salary from the widow so that she may go to her. In blind anger and frustration at not being able to do so, she enters the woman's apartments and takes her just due. She is caught and trapped, and under a relentless system, which even Vane cannot fight, she has to serve a short term in prison.

However, the man and woman at last find perfect understanding and happiness in a world owned by themselves, through their love.

SMALL THINGS

Small things
Touch my heart so deeply—
Warm color of a rose,
Fluttering of a butterfly's wing,
Flickering firelight,
Easter lilies in candlelight;
What wonder that when I saw you,
It made suc ha lasting impression
In my soul!

—E. B. Kanders.

C. E. Chappell

COMPANY

Stationery, Blank Books and School Supplies
Cigars, Cigarettes and Soda
Farmville, Virginia

DRESS MAKING — DESIGNING

HEMSTITCHING AND ALTERING

SINGER SHOP

Third Street

FARMVILLE, VA.

10-4-3t

Kleanwell

CLEANERS AND TAILORS

Expert Cleaning, Repairing and Remodeling of Ladies Garments

Main Street, Opposite Postoffice
PHONE 98

THE DOROTHY MAY STORE

NEW DRESSES ARRIVING DAILY

$5.45

New high shades, blacks, browns, Sunday-nite and afternoon frocks.

$9,45

Woolens, rough crepes, sheers, faille crepes

—Lovely Underwear, pocketbooks, gloves, vanities, necklaces, handkerchiefs.

No Mend Silk Hosiery

TESTED and APPROVED by Better Fabrics Testing Bureau for HIGHEST QUALITY

For your protection look for this seal on every pair.

$1.00

A MODEST price, to be sure—though you'll never know how modest until you see what it brings you, not only in Style and Quality, but, also, in Value and Wear. The little seal confirms the bargain.

DAVIDSON'S

EACO THEATRE

PROGRAM JAN. 18 to 24

Thursday and Friday, January 18 and 19

WILL ROGERS
Zasu Pitts
in
"MR. SKITCH"

What a father! What a family! And what laughs as those funny Skitches and their romantic daughter hit the tourist trail from Missouri to California. Romance, adventure and comedy galore.

SPECIAL! BING CROSBY
In a Two Reel Musical
"PLEASE". Adults 35c at night and 25c at matinees

Saturday, January 20

Paul Lukas
Elissa Landi
Nils Asther
in
"BY CANDLELIGHT"

He was a fast worker—when the lights went out and the candles glowed. Pretenders both, each was glad the other was not what deception had caused them to believe. It's the grandest romantically scandalous mixup ever screened. A sparkling sophisticated comedy of a handsome man and his too many affairs.

Also Baby Rose Marie in "Sing, Babies, Sing" and a cartoon and Fox News

Next Monday and Tuesday
January 22 and 23
Here They Are At Last!
4 MARX BROS.
in
"DUCK SOUP"

Duck your funny-bone in this musical soup and prepare for the grandest, goofiest musical funfest you've ever seen. Groucho, Chico, Harpo and Zeppo, the Mad Marxes, gallopping through the grandest musical show since Ziegfield. Girls you'd like to wrap up and take home. Songs that will burst the bathroom walls. New gags the whole town will be repeating. You'll have to see it twice to get all the gags you missed while you were laughing.

Also Musical Journey and Metro News
Adults 35c at night and 25 at Mats.

Next Wednesday, January 24

Gloria Stuart
Claude Rains
in
'THE INVISIBLE MAN'

H. G. Wells' Famous Story!

Here's the most weird fantastic picture you ever saw. It will awe you and make you gasp, and then you will find yourself laughing heartily. Imagine having a sweetheart who could make himself invisible and what havoc such a man could cause anywhere. Here's a real treat for you.

Also LAST CHAPTER BUCK JONES SERIAL and Screen Song

Daily matinees at 4 P. M. Evenings at 8 P. M.

Prices—Adults, 20c at matinees and 25c at nights; except on percentage pictures, when we must charge 25c and 35c.

Mary Banks Sullivan seems to be going quite well with one of the young Richmond spirits. Remember, "Mullie", if you're really interested, "absence makes the heart grow fonder for somebody else"—and keep going!

S. A. Legus

TAILOR

CLEANING
PRESSING
REPAIRING

Phone 203

ORIGINAL PRODUCTION PROVES ENTERTAINING

Continued from page one

was shown realizing her ambition to be a football hero. After a very amusing dance by Sara Beck, Clintis Mattox, Janice White, Ella Mallory, Lelia Mattox, Margaret McNamara, Jessica Jones, Sally Joe Kent, and Helen Smith, to the tune of "You've Got to be a Football Hero," Sara made the winning touchdown and was carried off the field on the shoulders of her fellow players, amid the admiring plaudits of the crowd.

In this scene, Margaret Gilmer as water boy, in brown khaki shorts and straw hat, attended solicitiously to the wants of the players and Audrey Mattox as the book worm watched the proceedings with envy.

Belle Lovelace and Katherine Young as cheer leaders, proved most realistic.

In the next scene, Angerona Aydlette and her secretary, Lois Moses, spent a most trying day hearing radio tryouts. Laeta Barham, Wilma Denit, Nancy Dodd, and Dot Justis were all concerned that they were radio stars in the making, and all determined to prove it to the harried manager, which they proceeded to do in a very ludicrous manner.

Margaret Dudley came in and explained her ambition to be a torch singer. She tried out and was an instantaneous success.

The next scene was bedtime in the nursery with Jestine Cutshall as mother, tenderly tucking her numerous offsprings in bed. Dressed in pink and blue flannel pajamas with pink and blue ribbons in their hair, Nubby Knaub, Frankie McDaniel, Mary Gilmer, Ann Irving, Fannie Bosworth and Christine Childrey did a very graceful little dance to the tune of "Ou-Ou-Ou-I'm a Night Owl."

The inside of a studio with Sally Thornhill trying to get inspiration to act proved the setting for the next scene. The actors decided to have a party. Jean McClure and Sara Beck did a dance step together and Dot Justis sang "Did You Ever See a Dream Walking" with great success.

Sally, Meg Herndon, Alva Sawyer, Mabel Britt and Helen Smith acted out an old fashioned melodrama, depicting the lovelorn maid, the irate father, the villain and the lover who saved the day at the last moment.

In the patriotic scene, Wyc Scott had realized her ambition to be President. The patriotic dancers, Kathryn Young, Nell Oakey Ryan, Belle Lovelace, Margaret McNamara, Wyc Scott, Elizabeth Vassar,Jessica Jones, Ella Mallory, and Lelia Mattox, arrayed in the stars and stripes, implored the President to "Please Mr. President, Do."

The pages, Anne Putney and Jean McClure, began the play and ended it with very appropriate songs.

In the last scene, the five ambitious persons were pictured together talking of their success. The stars began to peep out one by one and each girl with her particular star, danced lightly off the stage, bringing the play to a highly successful conclusion. The girls taking the part of the stars were: Frankie McDaniel, Ann Irving, Fannie Bosworth, Christine Childrey, Mary Gilmer, Katherine Walton, and "Nubby" Knaub.

"She said she'd be faithful to the end."

"Why, that sounds good."

"Yes, but I'm the quarterback."—Dodo.

"Do you play golf?" he asked the simple but gushing young maiden.

"Heavens, no," she replied bashfully. "I don't believe I should even know how to hold the caddie."

She is a decided blonde. She decided only recently.—Log.

Bob: "I've just come from a dog show."

Erma: "Did you win a prize?"—Log

She (at concert): What's that book the conductor keeps looking at?"

He: "That's the score of the overture."

She: "Oh, really. Who's winning?"—Log.

Then there was the absent-minded professor who thought he had left his watch at home so he took it out to see if he had time to go back after it.—Log.

CALENDAR

January 17-23

Wednesday, January 17
4:00-6:00—Basketball practice
5:00—Y. W. C. A. cabinet meeting
7:00-7:30—Rotunda Staff meeting
7:30-8:30—Pi Gamma Mu
8:30-9:30—Pi Kappa Delta
Thursday, January 18
4:00-6:00 Basketball practice
7:30—Dramatic Club
Friday, January 19
7:00-8:00—Monogram Club
7:00-8:00—Gamma Psi
8:00-9:00—Sigma Pi Rho
Saturday, January 20
6:45—Sing
Monday, January 22
4:00-6:00—Basketball practice
7:00-8:00—Virginian staff
7:00-8:00 — Athletic Association Council
8:00-9:00—Alpha Kappa Gamma
Tuesday, January 23
4:00-6:00—Basketball practice
7:00-7:30—Class meetings
10:00—Council meeting

S. T. C. AFFAIR PATTERNS AFTER REAL MARDI GRAS

Continued from page one

maids being chosen from the year's debutantes. Rex, King of the Carnival, is chosen by a committee.

By eight o'clock the adult maskers are abroad, making their way to the center of the city where the pageants take place at noon. Bands are playing and street vendors are out. Traffic is barred from the streets, which are given over to dancing. There are original and beautiful costumes; nuns, clowns, pirates, red-devils, ballet girls, snake-charmers, old maids with grotesque curls, giants on stilts, and men dressed as cows, horses, and elephants. The streets are full of singing and laughter, and there is a constant tinkling of tiny bells, forming parts of costumes. Horns, blowing, showers of confetti floating down from balconies, flags fluttering everywhere, sunlight glittering on spangles and ever-changing, ever-moving masses of red, purple, yellow, and green colors—This is New Orleans during Mardi Gras.

At noon, Rex, King of the Carnival, comes to town. This is the big moment of the day. The Rex parade is unusually lavish and costly. With mounted policemen clearing the way, velvet-clad, masked riders herald the triumphant arrival of Rex, riding high on his gilded chariot. Following him are twenty floats, bearing tableaux which present the story of some epoch in literature or history.

All through the afternoon the revellers continue their merriment. At twilight the masks are removed, but the dancing continues. Shortly after dusk the Comus parade appears. Comus is the last and most dearly loved of all the kings of Carnival, and the night pageant is a dream festival. Following the parade comes the ball of Comus, and at the Comus ball the world of society gathers for its last revel before Ash Wednesday. At midnight the climax of the entire festival is reached when Rex and his Queen have their ball and come to join Comus. The costumes are magnificent and the mingling of the two balls is the high moment of Mardi Gras.

"Have a good time while you may"—that is the spirit of Mardi Gras. All inhibitions are lost and all superficial dignity is cast aside. Troubles are forgot sorrows are banished, and for this one night of masked revelling, fantasy reigns supreme.

TWENTY-TWO MAKE BASKETBALL SQUAD

Continued from page one

Harrisonburg.

Of those who made last year's team only two, Sarah Beck and Margaret Parker, are among this year's number. There are, however, seven of the 1933 squad playing again. The other fifteen members include eight freshmen and several new recruits.

For this week, varsity practices are to be held at night.

RICE'S SHOE STORE

Street and Dress Shoes

Dancing Slippers Dyed

Correct fits our speciality

VAN LEAR AND PRESCOTT CHOSEN DANCE HEADS FOR MAY DAY FESTIVAL

The May Day Committee selected Louise Van Lear and Dorothy Prescott to be in charge of the dances for May Day to fill the place left vacant by Margaret Eley's failure to return to school.

Both Louise and Dorothy are members of the artist dance group and have been outstanding in natural dance work.

The work on the May Day pageant is progressing. Sue Yeaman has nearly finished working out the story of "Alice In Wonderland" into a usable form. Some of the costumes are being planned, and the music is being selected. Ideas and plans for many of the dances have been decided upon.

COLLEGE HIGH SENIORS FORM MUSIC CLUB

The Senior Class of College High School started a Music Club in December and have been having meetings regularly since that date every Wednesday afternoon at four o'clock.

This club was started to create an appreciation of music in College High School and to provide music for entertainments and commencement. At the first meeting of the organization Mr. Alfred H. Strick was present and talked to the members about what they should have as their aims and objectives.

The officers of the music club are: President ..... Mildred Gibbony
Vice-President ..... Mildred Potter
Sec. & Treas. ..... Frankie Minter
Music Librarian ..... Evelyn Doyne

Miss Mary E. Peck is sponsor of this group which at present has sixteen members. Underclassmen may be taken into the club if they meet with the qualifications for membership.

Fay Little, Sue Yeaman, and Gertrude Mannes are the college girl who have been helping with the work of this worthwhile club.

Senior: "Hey, frosh! You take English, what do you think of O. Henry?"

Frosh: "O. K., but the nuts stick in my teeth."—Owl.

John: "I never worry about my girl going out with other boys. She's crazy about me."

Vern: "Perhaps—but did it ever occur to you that she might have sane moments?"—Log.

Mack's

BARBER AND BEAUTY SHOP

323 Main Street

We use the Frederick Method

Hair Cutting and Thinning a Specialty

Weyanoke

BEAUTY SALON

A Complete Beauty Service At Moderate Prices

What we have done for others we can do for you

WEYANOKE HOTEL
Farmville Va.

RADIO HIGHLIGHTS

Wednesday

9:00—Troubadours (WEAF)
9:30—Guy Lombardo (WABC)
10:00—Fred Waring (WABC)
11:50—Jan Garber (WGN)
12:00—Abe Lyman (NBC)
12:10—Tom Jeffries (WGN)
12:30—Don Redman (WJZ)

Thursday

8:00—Rudy Vallee (WEAF)
9:00—Show Boat (WEAF)
9:30—Wayne King (KDKA)
9:30—Eddie Duchin (WJZ)
10:00—Glen Gray (WABC)

Friday

8:30—March of Time (WABC)
10:00—First Nighter, (WEAF)

Saturday

9:30—Leo Reisman (WEAF)
10:00—Byrd Expedition (WABC)
11:00—Guy Lombardo (WABC)

Sunday

3:00—Wayne King (WLW)
3:30—Jan Garber (WJZ)
7:00—Ted Weems (KDKA)
7:30—Ozzie Nelson (WJZ)
8:00—Eddie Cantor (WEAF)
9:00—Will Rogers (WLW)
11:00—Guy Lombardo (WABC)

Monday

8:30—Bing Crosby (WABC)
10:00—Wayne King (WABC)
1:00—Hal Kemp (WGM)

Tuesday

8:00—Wayne King (WEAF)
9:00—Ben Bernie (WEAF)
9:30—Ed Wynne (WEAF)
12:00—Ben Bernie (WEAF)

Electric Shoe Shop

Will Fix Your Shoes While You Wait

BEST WORKMANSHIP AND LEATHER USED

YOU WOULD LOVE TO HAVE YOUR SHOES FIXED AT THE

Lovelace Shoe Shop

110 Third Street

WILLIS

The Florist

FLOWERS FOR ALL OCCASIONS

PHONES 181-273

Jokes

"There's something dove-like about you."

"What's that?"

"You're pigeon-toed."—Red Cat

Could I interest you for a trivial monetary consideration in the purchase or acquisition of an amphibious fowl of the famile 'anatidoe, a fowl adapted by webbed pedantic extremeties to aquamarine existance?

In other words—Do you wanna buy a duck?

An engineering student walked up to his professor the other day and handed in a large bundle of assignments. Noticing a sheepish look on the face of the student the professor asked somewhat suspiciously, "What's all this?"

"These are my Mae West problems," explained the student.

"Mae West?"

"Yeah, I done 'em wrong."—Log

Martin JEWELER

Gifts of Lasting Remembrance

317 Main St. Farmville

We give Jubilee tickets

SouthsideDrugStore

(On the Corner)

Films Developed

FREE

If bought at this store

Shannon's

Is Headquarters for the Best SANDWICHES —and— DRINKS —in— FARMVILLE!

At THE HUB S. T. C. HEADQUARTERS

Twin sweaters sets at ... $1.98 and $2.95

Broguish Oxfords, with low or medium heels. You will love them, $2.45, $2.95 and $3.50. All widths and sizes.

THE HUB DEPARTMENT STORE

"Farmville Best Place to Shop"

"PRIMROSE HOUSE" COSMETICS

Featuring Primrose House Face Powder
Regular $1.00 box, Special 69c

50c size Spearmint
Tooth Paste 10c

Spearmint Tooth Brushes, 10c

EVERYTHING FOR THE COLLEGE GIRLS AT

BALDWIN'S

Quality—Price—Service

G. F. Butcher

High Street

"The Convenient Store"

FOR GOOD

THINGS TO EAT AND DRINK

Gray's Drug Store

QUALITY—PRICE—SERVICE

Come In and Get Acquainted

We Are Glad to Have You With Us!

Farmville, Virginia

S. T. C. WILL HAVE A SWIMMING POOL

THE ROTUNDA

REMEMBER "DOIN' THE TOWN" FRIDAY NIGHT

We Teach To Teach

Volume XIV | THE ROTUNDA, WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 24, 1934 | No. 15

S. T. C. Receives $40,000 For Swimming Pool

Sophomores Present Original Production

Tarkington's "Trysting Place" and Night Club Scene Are Main Features

SMITH AND FARRAR DIRECT

Friday night, January 26, at eight o'clock, the Sophomore Class will present "Doin' the Town" in the large auditorium. The original production, under the direction of Margaret Farrar and Hazel Smith, is humorous, unusual, exciting and thrilling.

The Sophomore Class will bring to you a typical scene of night life in a big city with its gaiety and romance. The adventures of two New York couples will amuse and entertain you for two hours. The experiences of young people who enjoy life and its mysteries and thrills will be revealed by clever, talented actresses.

The prologue, "Let's Go Places," is a scene in a New York apartment. Betty, Henrietta Salisbury; Lou, Agnes Shaner; Jack, Mary Elizabeth Alexander; and Bill, Lelia Sanford, set out to "do the town." They enjoy a comical play at the theatre; then, they finish the evening at the "Chez Paree" night club.

At the theatre they see a one act comedy, "The Trysting Place," by Booth Tarkington. The characters, who all decide to meet secretly at

Continued on page four

Four Classes Elect Competitive Editors

At the class meetings, held last night, the editors and associate editors for the class issues of the Rotunda were elected. The Seniors who will publish the first of the class issues, February 7, will have as their chief officers, Sarah Hyde Thomas, editor-in-chief, and Virginia Brinkley, associate editor.

The Junior editor will be Katherine Walton and the associate editor will be Kathryn Cotten. This issue will be published February 14.

The Sophomores who will get out their issue February 24, will have as their editor, Hazel Smith, and as their associate editor, Florence Sanford.

The Freshmen will publish theirs on February 28. Bonnie Lane has been elected editor-in-chief. The rest of the staff will be appointed later.

These girls were chosen by their classmates, because of their past experience in journalism, their dependability, and leadership. Both Sarah Hyde Thomas and Virginia Brinkley worked on high school papers and past class issues, while the latter was on the regular Rotunda staff. Katherine Walton and Hazel Smith did excellent work, also, on the Rotunda staff last year. The two new transfers Kathryn Cotten and Florence Sanford, have shown keen interest in journalistic work here and worked in

Continued on page four

MISS PURDOM BECOMES STATE MUSIC CHAIRMAN

Miss Lisabeth Purdom, a member of the music department of the college, was recently appointed state chairman for Virginia in the Southern Conference for Music Education. This appointement was made by Mr. J. Henry Frances, of Charleston, West Virginia, who is president of the Southern Conference.

Miss Purdom succeeds Miss Epps, of Fredericksburg State Teachers College who has recently resigned.

Alumnae Board Meets In College January 18

The Executive Board of the Association of Alumnae met in the college Friday afternoon, January 19.

The members of the Board who were present at this meeting were Miss Pauline Camper, president of the Alumnae Association, Miss Marnetta Souder, of Newport News, first vice-president, Mrs. G. W. Jeffers, of Farmville, treasurer, and Miss Carrie B. Taliaferro, organizer. Miss Mary White Cox and Dr. J. L. Jarman, ex-officio members, and Miss Ethel La Boyteaux, serving as proxy for Mrs. James Graham, who is second vice-president, and Mrs. Willson Cox proxy for Miss Ruth Campbell, director, also attended the important meeting.

Plans were made for the part that the alumnae will take in the fiftieth anniversary celebration. The annual message of the president was discussed. Miss Alice Carter was appointed secretary of the Board.

Miss Camper announced that the regional meeting of the American Alumnae Council will be held at Williamsburg January 26-17. This region includes Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, Florida, and Alabama. This association will be represented by Misses Camper, Taliaferro, and Carter.

The president was instructed to look into the matter of getting commemorative plates to be sold. These proposed plates will be of Wedgewood china, having on them, a picture of the main entrance of the school.

The Executive Board was the guest of the college at a delicious dinner served at Longwood.

MISS MIX RECEIVES STATE APPOINTMENT

Miss Mix who is supervisor of the kindergarten of Training School has been appointed as assistant in the State Deparment of Education, to advise and help in the establishment of nursery schools under the direction of Dr. George Williams who is director of the Emergency Education program in Virginia.

This is a temporary piece of work to help in the care of undernourished and underprivileged children in the state.

Miss Mix will spend part of each week in Farmville and part of her time in visiting the cities where the superintendent has asked for the establishment of nursery schools.

This last week she visited Richmond, Petersburg, Hopewell, Norfolk and Portsmouth. In several of these cities nursery schools are being established and will soon be in action.

The funds for this work are provided by the Federal Government and this movement was initiated by the Federal Relief Administration.

MR. HOLTON GIVES TIPS ON COACHING DEBATES

Th Debate Club held a most interesting meeting Tuesday night. Mr. Holton gave the first of a series of talks on "Coaching Debates". These tips are most helpful to those girls who plan to teach in high schools.

All girls interested in public speaking and debating are invited to tryout Monday night. A three minute talk on either side of the question: "Resolved that the number of student activities at S. T. C. should be decreased," is all that is necessary. The try-outs will be held in the little auditorium at seven o'clock, Monday, January 29.

FACULTY AND STUDENTS

In order fittingly to celebrate our Fiftieth Anniversary on March 9 and 10 it will be necessary to make certain expenditures. Faculty members and students are hereby advised to protect themselves by having all essential items of expense passed on by me before being approved by Mr. Graham, business manager.

G. W. Jeffers

Alumnae to Parade On Founders Day

One of the outstanding and perhaps most interesting features of the Founder's Day program will be the alumnae parade Saturday, March 10, at 400 o'clock in the gymnasium.

As many alumnae as can secure costumes will be dressed to represent the period when they were in school here. The others dressed in white will follow with the particular class of which they were members. Representatives from the class of 1884 will lead the procession and the others follow in chronological order.

Miss Bedford has drawn sketches from old annuals to aid the costuming committee in making their selections for the occasion.

While the alumnae are assembling in the locker room at 3 o'clock to prepare for the parade a demonstration of dances by the freshman Physical Education classes will take place in the gymnasium. Heretofore this presentation of dances from the gym classes has been an annual happening planned for no particular date. The demonstration this year will be planned as one of the features of the Founders Day program.

Miss Draper is chairman of the committee in charge of the alumnae parade. Other faculty members serving on this committee are Misses Virginia Bedford, Katherine Tupper Leola Wheeler, Grace Moran, and Virginia Potts.

The entire committee is gathering old costumes for this affair. Miss Tupper has made several period hats to be worn with the costumes.

Educators Discuss Curriculum Problem

The state curriculum conference met Tuesday, January 23, in the Student Building auditorium. The speakers for the meting were Miss Ruth Henderson, assistant supervisor of Elementary Instruction of the state department in Richmond, Dr. D. W. Peters, director of instruction of the state department, and Dr. H. L. Caswell of Peabody College for Teachers, Nashville, Tennessee, who is curriculum advisor for the state program.

The purpose of the meeting, as stated by Miss Pierce, who is chairman of the Farmville center, was to discuss problems that had arisen in trying out the new state course of study. A discussion of the curriculum for elementary schools was led by Miss Henderson in the Y. W. C. C. cabinet room. Dr. Peters led the discussion group on the new high school course of study. Recommendations were got from these groups as to revisions to be made before the course of study is printed. These revisions will be taken up by the state reviewing and unifying committees for elementary and secondary schools respectively. The committee for sec-

Continued on page three

Faculty Group Compiles Section In Magazine

The Virginia Journal of Education will have a part of its February issue given over to the subject of "Teacher Training" in Virginia. Miss Sarah B. Tucker, who is president of the local organization of the education association, was chairman of the committee in college that compiled this section. Through Miss Tucker's efforts, the permission of Dr. C. J. Heatwell, editor of the magazine, was secured to have this section.

The other faculty members working on this committee with Miss Tucker were Mr. Grainger and Mr. Holton. Mr. McCorkle supplied the cuts for several pictures that will appear in the journal. "Although this section was worked out by a Farmville group," states Miss Tucker, "it is not about our college only but about teacher training in general in Virginia."

The Virginia Journal of Education which will appear during the first week of February will have the following articles on teacher training: "Fifty Years of Teacher Training in Virginia" by Dr. J. E. Walmsley and Dr. Francis B. Simkins: "The Future of Teacher Training in Virginia" by Dr. Sydney B. Hall; and "The Field Work of Teacher Training Institutions" by Dr. J. P. Wynne. A poem, "The Trained Teacher" by Miss Jennie M. Tabb, will also appear in this section.

The faculty and student body will be particularly interested in having a copy of the February issue of the Virginia Journal of Education because some of Farmville's history will be included in the articles.

Copies of the magazine will be on exhibition during the Fiftieth Anniversary Celebration on March 9 and 10.

DR. WYNNE CONCLUDES SERIES OF LECTURES

Dr. J. P. Wynne concluded the last of his lectures on the learning-teaching unit last Thursday evening when he spoke on "Reporting and Evaluating Instruction."

On January 10 Dr. Wynne gave a definition of the unit in the first of his five lectures, "The Nature of the Learning-Teaching Unit." In "The Criteria of Instruction," his lecture on the following night, he gave his standards for judging a unit. Last week in the lectures on "The Technique of Teaching," "The Planning of Instruction," and "Reporting and Evaluating Instruction," Dr. Wynne gave methods for teaching, for planning to teach, and for reporting and judging work taught.

These lectures, sponsored by Kappa Delta Pi and Pi Gamma Mu and attended by county teachers, faculty members and students of the college here, were most helpful to everyone interested in education.

"THE VIRGINIAN" GOES TO PRESS

The last material for the 1933-'34 Virginian was sent to press on Friday, January 19.

J. P. Bell and Co., of Lynchburg, are printing the book this year, and the staff intends to have it ready for delivery by Founder's Day, March 9.

The staff succeeded in getting the necessary number of subscriptions, the last day for subscriptions being Tuesday, January 23.

Payments for the annual may be made at any time before March 9 to any member of the staff.

P.W.A. Approves the Indoor Pool Loan

Swimming Pool To Be Behind Gymnasium; Will Have Modern Equipment

24 MEN WORK ON PROJECT

The federal emergency administration of public works in Washington approved the application of Farmville State Teachers College for a loan and grant of $40,000 to be used to construct a swimming pool and a building to house it, according to an announcement received by Dr. Jarman last week.

Plans have been started for this pool. Mr. Stone, of Fry and Stone, of Roanoke, who were architects for all the recent college buildings was in Farmville Saturday. Mr. Stone was getting the levels and working out the detail plans.

The building that houses the pool, it was announced by Mr. Graham, will be attached to the rear door of the gymnasium. The building will be 50 x 108 feet, and the pool 35 x 70 feet. The pool will be of varying depth, with a spoon bottom. The chlorinating and circulating device will be of the latest type.

This project will provide direct work for twenty-four men for five months.

Fredericksburg Has Discussion Sessions

The International Relations Club of the State Teachers College at Fredericksburg, Virginia sponsored an International Institute at Fredericksburg on Friday and Saturday, January 19 and 20.

A cordial invitiation was extended to the International Relations Club and to the Y. W. C. A. at Farmville to send delegates to the Institute. Unfortunately, arrangements could not be made for delegates from Farmville to attend; however, the following program of the Institute will be of interest:

Program for International Institute January 19-20, 1934.

State Teachers College auditorium, Fredericksburg, Virginia.

First Session

Friday afternoon, January 19 at 2:45 p. m.

"Interdependence" (Motion picture illustrating the dependence of individuals, communities, and nations upon one another.)

Second Session

Friday evening, Jan. 19 at 8 p. m.

Address: "Source and Content of Foreign Policy" by Hon. Stanley K. Hornbeck (Chief of Division of Far Eastern Affairs, Dept. of State, Washington, D. C.)

Third Session

Saturday morning, Jan. 20, 10:30 a. m.

Address: "Education in the Present Crises and its World Significance" by Dr. Augustus O. Thomas (Educator and lecturer on educational topics; President World Federation of Education Associations.)

Fourth Session

Saturday afternoon, Jan. 20 at 2:30 p. m.

Address: "The Inter-American Situation Today" by Mr. William A. Reid (Foreign Trade Adviser of the Pan American Union, Washington, D. C.)

Fifth Session

Saturday evening, Jan. 20 at 8:00 p. m.

Continued on page 4

THE ROTUNDA

Member Southern Inter-Collegiate Newspaper Association
Member Intercollegiate Press Association of Virginia

Newspaper — National Scholastic Press Association — Member

Published by Students of State Teachers College, Farmville, Va.

Entered as second class matter March 1, 1921, at the Postoffice of Farmville, Virginia, under Act of March 3, 1879.

Subscription ..... $1.50 per year

ROTUNDA STAFF

Editor-in-Chief .... Mary Shelton, '34
Associate Editor .... Lelia Mattox, '35

Board of Editors

News ..... Evelyn Massey, '36
Make-Up ..... Katherine Hoyle, '36
Literary Editor ..... Birdie Wooding
Louise Walmsley, '36
World News ..... Velma Quarles, '34
Intercollegiate ..... Caroline Byrd, '36
Social ..... Marion Raine, '36
Art ..... Alice Rowell, '34
Feature ..... Elizabeth Walton, '36
Alumnae ..... Miss Virginia Potts

Reporters

Amis Montohery
Mary Hastings Holloway
Edith Shanks, '34; Mary Easley Hill, '34; Elizabeth Vassar, '35; Mary Elizabeth Alexander, '36; Lula Windley, '36.
Proof Readers: Katherine Coleman, '35; Grace Eubank, '36

Managers

Business ..... Mary Diehl, '34
Assistant ..... Elma Rawlings, '34
Circulation ..... Nell Oakey Ryan, '34
Assistant ..... Janice White, '35

The Rotunda invites letters of comment, criticism, and suggestion from its readers upon its manner of presenting and treating them. A letter, to receive consideration, must contain the name and address of the writer. These will not be published if the writer objects to the publication.

All matters of business should be addressed to the Business Manager and all other matters should come to the Editor-in-Chief. Complaints from subscribers as regards irregularities in the delivery of The Rotunda will be appreciated.

"BUILD YE MORE STATELY MANSIONS"

In this era of the new deal, new automobiles, new this and new that we are inclined at times to fall to see any merit in anything of the past. Age has been discounted in the minds of many of the American people. The American people have accepted in entirety the Biblical vision of the Apocalypse. "Behold, I will make all things new."

But we must not forget that age has its merits and that Rome was not built in the proverbial twenty-four hours. There is no harm in honoring the past; the harm comes worshipping the fabled stories of the deeds of the past. This year this institution is celebrating its golden anniversary as a teachers college. It is fitting that we should pause and accord honor to the years of the past, praise for the deeds of the present, and hope and determination to go forward in the years of the immediate future.

Fifty years is a long time in the life of a teacher- training institution in the South. The years themselves, however, would mean little were it not for the position this institution holds among similar colleges of the United Sates. State Teachers College is among the twelve leading teacher-training institutions in the United States, and it is the only one of the listed twelve from the South. The past has made us what we are. Let's give praise for the past, and, in uttering our full measure of devotion to Alma Mater determine that the future will give the past nothing to be ashamed of.

The student body wishes to extend sympathy to Alice and Grace Rowell in their recent bereavement.

LETTER TO EDITOR

Dear Editor:

The subject of many themes and open forum letters and audible complaints is the study hour. The hours for study, every school night, are from seven until ten o'clock, but we wonder how literally these hours are observed by the students of S. T. C.?

We find that it is practically impossible to set aside any important work that requires concentration, on the halls and the thoughtless interruptions and prolonged visits of our friends.

That last brings another thought to mind. Is is possible to study a little consistently and not be termed an unsociable bookworm and a dull study-bug? Thus in time more or less being passed over by one's friends and close associates? Perhaps they don't have to study as much, perhaps their work takes less time, perhaps their time budget varies, nevertheless we value their friendship and are desolated at the idea of losing contact.

In the daily class attendance a certain amount of work is acquired; if the course is to benefit us we must give some attention to the preparation of daily assignments. Naturally we wish to complete work as quickly as possible, for recreation and the social friendly side of the college is as important in that it makes for well-rounded and well poised personality, as the scholastic side.

The main solution would lie, don't you think, Dear Editor, in a more considerate observance of indicated study hours?

Some Struggling Students

Dear Editor:

Have you ever heard of anyone who stuck to his job faithfully and earnestly every day, and yet never received his just reward? No, we haven't either; that's why we freshmen are beginning to wonder when our reward shall come—having the same privileges which the Sophomores enjoy.

Don't you remember we were promised that? It was about the time of Miss Mary's little party, when she informed about half of the class they were on campus for a week, she said that if we were good, studious, observed rules and regulations and did not send too many F's to the registrar's office, we might be given sophomore privileges after Christmas.

Now, haven't we been good? There's a smooth path worn to the desk in the home office—we take no more chances. We really sign up each time we want to run down to the dime store and spend our last nickle.

If you don't believe we have been keeping company with our books, just glance down the honor roll which was published in the Rotunda. We have just as many names there as any other class.

Lights? Is is absolutely necessary that they go off at 10:30? We are inexperienced in the art of studying. We should have more time to prepare our lessons than the upperclassmen. Why not keep them on until 11 o'clock?

We're for the NRA—we do our part! Now how about the Sophomore privileges—do we get them or do we not?

A Questioning Freshman

WORLD NEWS

The first measure to reach the President's desk from this session of Congress was the liquor tax bill. He signed it with a flourish and was gratified when the Treasury reported that the increased rates had netted the Government $645,000 the first day.

From the bale he keeps for just such purposes, the President sent two handkerchiefs embroidered "Happy Days" to Franklin Delano Gallello and Roosevelt Gallilelo, New Rochele, N. Y., twins born on election night, 1932.

Last week President Roosevelt had on his desk an opinion from Attorney General Cummings on the Treasury's right to take over the Federal Reserve System's gold holdings. At his regular meeting with correspondents the President dropped two hints of his intentions: (1) that he was sure of his legal right to capture the Federal Reserve's gold, (2) that rumors of his intending to establish a new government controlled central bank were a bad guess.

CAMPUS COMMENTS

It's a very hard time for those gals who are Hampden-Sydney enthusiasts; but cheer up, fair ones, the lads will soon be through with their confining scholastic efforts, and you'll be going to Mid-Winter's—or will you?

Our congratulations go to Dot Eley who seems to have secured a monopoly on the "debutante's delight." Said "D. D." was known to our readers last year as "Freshmen's Delight."

Did you hear about the V. P. I. cadet who stopped Elise Marshburn and Sue Mallory to ask the way to Shannon's Pharmacy? They gave a little aid on the vernacular as well as direction, so we're told.

The girls on first floor Cunningham nominate Irwin Staples as "Little Miss Muffet." They say that she's emphatically frank in admitting that she's afraid of the big bad spider!

Here's a little item that may have escaped the social editor's eye—the big birthday dinner on Tuesday that was given to two seniors. Although we weren't among the lucky fourteen, we want to wish Edith Shanks and Barbara Kester "many happy returns."

I suppose you've heard about the Fraser-Foster art gallery in Cunningham Hall? We wonder if they got all those pictures Christmas, since they have just been put on exhibition—or were the owners jazy last fall?

Virginia Fisher leads a busy life—everyday she has to write a letter to the home town b. f. Is it love or just gratitude for the radio presented by the young gent at Christmas.

Another young swain said it with music, and now Helen Smith and her suite-mates are losing sleep listening to the "raddio."

Liz Rogers seemed to have caught Meg's nearsightedness or was she just suffering from indifference when she almost knocked her friend Cadet Pippin down in Shannon's last week-end?

FROM OTHER COLLEGES

The real purpose of the fancy dress ball at W. & L. is a good time. They do not consider it a publicity stunt, but a dance started by, and for, their student body.

The University of Maine offers a course in ice cream making. The school is located in the heart of a dairy country, where ice cream is one of the most important products.

According to a professor at Washington University, students who aim for A grades are barren of personalities. Those who get C's are the ones who move the world. This may not be true, but it is very encouraging.

The University of Richmond is proud of its alumni. Among the group are a number of college presidents: Francis J. Gaines, at Washington and Lee; Julian A. Burruss, at Virginia Polytechnic Institute; J. J. Hurt, at Union Seminary; Claton Cottingham, at Louisana College; M. L. Combs, at Fredericksburg State Teachers College; J. W. Cammack, at Averett College; J. F. Stinson, at Bluefield College; E. Gwathmey, at Converse College; I. W. Boatwright, at University of Richmond.

Former Governor John Garland Pollard is another noted alumnus of the University of Richmond.

The Harvard Astronomical Observatory has announced discoveries showing that the halo of white light observed around the sun during total eclipse comes from oxygen and not from some chemical unknown.—The Cadet.

Emma Goldman, good anarchist, has always been against all governments. Henry Ford, good capitalist, has always disapproved of meddlesome governments. Last week U. S. newspaper readers rubbed their eyes to read that on a single day Emma Goldman came out for President Roosevelt, and Henry Ford came out for the NRA.

ALUMNAE NEWS

Congratulations! First to our new chapters, of which there are two, and then to those chapters that are having regular meetings. Send us reports so the alumnae office and the other chapters will know what is going on.

A county teachers meeting held at Rustburg, Friday, Jan. 12 was considered a favorable opportunity to present the idea of a alumnae chapter so Miss Julia Asher telegraphed an invitation for Miss Camper, president of the state association, and for Miss Carrie B. Taliaferro, chapter organizer, to be present. The invitation was accepted and a group of about twelve met at 3:30 in one of the class rooms of the Rustburg High School; others expressed regret at not being there. Interest and enthusiasm were evident and plans were made to communicate with all the former students in the county. The new chapter, the first to be formed in 1934, is called the Campbell County Alumnae Chapter. The officers are: president, Julia Asher; and secretary, Elizabeth Boseley.

A stop was made at Pamplin and the feasibility of an organization discussed with a small group. It was suggested that an Appomattox-Pamplin chapter would be an effective combination and a committee was appointed to interview the alumnae in both places.

The second organization this year is Amherst. Sixteen loyal and enthusiastic alumnae of Amherst, Madison Heights, Monroe and Sweet Briar met on Saturday, January 20 in Amherst at the home of Mabel and Mary Gregory. Miss Camper and Miss Taliaferro were guests for the occasion from Farmville. They discussed reasons for having such clubs an dexplained the details of organization and operation. Much interest was manifested in the fiftieth anniversary celebration and other college activities, in directing their high school seniors to Farmville, and in the idea of Farmville Memorial plates.

Officers were elected: president, Mary Gregory; vice-president, Mrs. R. H. Guy; secretary and treasurer, Elsie Story. Those present, besides the officers were: Mrs. Gregory, Mrs. R. O. Woody, Mrs. Willie Cook, Mrs. Edward Sandidge, Mrs. Paul Glick, Misses Frances White, Lucille Ware, May Vaughan, Myrtle Ramirez, Julia Wilson, Mary Harrison, Anna Tucker, Christine McIvor, Evelyn Coleman, Lemma Price.

Evidence of enthusiasm has come from Roanoke telling of their plans (which we will let them tell more about at Founder's Day) and giving the names of the officers of their club. President, Eleanor McCormick; first vice-president, Nancy Nelms; second vice-president, Mrs. J. E. John; third vice-president, Mrs. Wm. Kearsley; secretary, Virginia Graves; corresponding secretary, Mrs. W. H. Barksdale and treasurer, Frances Wilson.

"With those who wed" we have several announcements: Mr. and Mrs. Harry L. Cross have announced the engagement and approaching wedding of their daughter, Martha Elizabeth to Ensign Frederick Northey Howe, U. S. N., now stationed in San Diego, Cal. The wedding will be celebrated in the early summer.

The wedding of Aredelle Willis of Skipwith to Mr. Charles W. Weisiger, Jr., of East Orange, N. J.,, will take place Saturday, Feb. 10, at 11 o'clock at the Trinity Methodist church in Skipwith.

Elizabeth Rucker and Mr. Warren Wilson Williams of Allendale, S. C., were married in Moneta on Dec. 31.

Marie Garnett Sutton and Mr. J. Chancey McCurdye of Pittsburg, were married on Jan. 6. They will make their home in Indianapolis.

Mary Virginia Leake and Mr. Barnett H. Fisher were married in Washington, D. C., Dec. 30. They will live in Chicago.

It is always a pleasure to hear of interesting work done by our alumnae whereever they are. Constance Rumbough, now superintendent of children's work of the Methodist Episcopal church, South, and located in Nashville, Tenn., has an article, "Goodwill Among the Children of the Nations," which was published in the November issue of the "World Outlook." Her work in creating goodwill among the children of the nations is quite a contribution. Published with this article are actual letters from some of the children. These might be helpful to teachers studying this particular phase of world conditions.

POETRY

PEACE

Are you tired of the struggle and strife,
Of the din of a strange, thoughtless crowd?
Do you long for a moment of peace—
For a solitude, Heaven endowed,
To ease thy soul?

Seek ye God in His nature. Go find
In the stillness of dark star-kissed skies;
In the beauty of night, all His love
All His tenderness. He satisfies
When Man cannot.

Feel His breath in the touch of the wind;
See His tears in the fall of the dew;
See His strength in the towering trees;
Understand . . . Let all these subdue
A tired heart.

E. G., '37

LINES

Cool ivy climbing up the college wayy
And catching on your leaves the bright moon's gleam,
You are to me symbolic now of all
For which I ever dream.

E. V., '35

THE LONG WALK ALONE

Take for your joy this green earth, hung with air—
It was never yours before; I give it new.
Nothing is lonely, least of all yourself
Alone in sunlight in the afternoon.
Nothing dies in the earth among the roots.
Thrust down your hand and find them growing there.
Go to the river-shore, in the rippling shade,
As naked as water, enter slowly in
Till water lifts you easily up and free.
Again, walk barefoot in the loose black loam;
It will be long before you leave so plain
A finished thing as footprints anywhere.
Lift stone, lift fire, shout in the silent wood,
Run on the hills until your rage is lost.
Stand where the wind blows and hold up your head;
Let the wind blow your sorrow to the clouds—
High in the air like smoke unclean but thin,
One ragged cloud is wasting into the blue.

John H. Holmes

OVER AT OUR HOUSE

At our house we have three girls. The oldest has gone now—she left us just about Christmas, and it will be a long time before we see her again; but we don't mind, for all our attention is centered on the second child, who is just at "that attractive age". Having learned to talk she says, "just the cutest things." To a stranger it's very amusing to watch her as she hurries along. There's really quite a lot that she has to get done; there's a quantity of ground that she must cover every day; and so she's busy from morn till night. At first we were worried about Baby—she seemed to grow so slowly, but she's gaining weight every day now and will be grown up before we even know it! She's into some new mischief every day. Last week she got into the Junior production! What? Oh yes, I forgot to tell you her name is Winter Quarter. Spring Quarter is our youngest—she's still an infant in arms, hasn't had her feet on the floor yet. She'll probably start walking about March 18. Oh, dear me. Please excuse me—Winter Quarter is up to something else! My goodness, its the Sophomore production. That child never lets me have a minute's rest. Well, goodbye!

What kind of finger nail polish does Elise Mayo use? It seems to be rather lasting. But don't mind us,

SOCIALS

Betsy Wilkinson visited in Salem last week-end.

Evelyn Wilson spent Sunday in Blackstone.

Mary E. Hill went to Richmond for the week-end.

Louise Briggs, Bernice Scott and Mildred Linthicum were in Victoria for the week-end.

Mildred Slayton was the week-end guest of Virginia Coleman in Crewe.

Dot Woolwine visited Mary Jones in Sheppards.

Frances Martin went to Blackstone.

The following girls went home for the week-end: Bertha White Babb, Mary Burch, Elizabeth Billups, Mary Alice Farrell, Lucille Good, Katherine Harvey, Frances Jameson, Evelyn Massey, Marian Pond, Velma Perkinson, Anthelia Robinette, Georgia Spencer, Marian Shaffner, Alice Magruder, Elizabeth Gills, Muriel Scott, Irwin Staples, Rose Somers, Charlotte Young, Louise Gathright, Christine Seay, Mildred Davis, Alice Campbell, and Louise Jeffreys.

Phyllis Denit, Ellen Simmerman, and Betsy Wilkinson spent Thursday in Roanoke.

Mary Denny visited Kitty Chappell for the week-end.

Frankie Minter visited in Chester.

The following girls were away last week-end: Agnes Thompson, Powhatan; Marjorie Quarles and Jeanallen Bowles, Charlottesville; Mary Burgess Fraser and Brookes Wheeler, Richmond; Evelyn Howell, Church Road; Margaret Stratton, Staunton; Illa Evans, Danville and Mary Elizabeth Newcomb.

Dot Justis and Mary Virginia Walker visited in Kenbridge.

Mary Howard was the week-end guest of Helen Westmoreland in Petersburg.

Among the alumnae visiting in school during the week-end were: Janet Harris, Josie Spenser, Jane Grey Irby, Frances Terrell and Lucille Tiller.

SIXTY-TWO GIRLS JOIN SORORITIES JANUARY 20

The six sororities in college issued bids Saturday night, January 20, following a week of rushing.

The girls pledged are as follows:

Sigma Sigma Sigma

Virginian Beane, South Hill; Mary Bowles, Petersburg; Betty May Brown, Washington, D. C.; Anne Diggs, Newport News; Margaret Dortch, South Hill; Phyllis Ferguson, Portsmouth; Victoria Gillette, Courtland; Winifred Goodman, Newport News; Mary Hastings Halloway, Woodstock; Katherine Irby, Farmville; Lloyd Kelly, Big Stone Gap; Amis Montgomery, South Hill; Florence Sanford, Orange; Lelia Sanford, Orange; Virginia Saunders, Richmond; Lucy Shields, Farmville; Minnie Smith, South Hill; Kathryn Switzer, Petersburg Zaida Thomas, Wytheville Elizabeth Ware, Dunnsville; Lucille Ware, Dunsville; Ella Ware, Dunsville.

Alpha Sigma Alpha

Marguerite Bradford, Hampton; Margaret Clarke, Crozet; Julia Derr Goldsboro, N. C.; Nancy Dodd, Chase City; Pauline Jones, Shepherd; Mary Jones, Shepherd; Elise Marshburn, Rocky Mount, N. C.; Bebe Russell, Covington.

Gamma Theta

Virginia Baker, Portsmouth; Kitty Bass, Danville; Martha Glenn Davis, Richmond; Jean Foote, Norfolk; Ann Galusha, Dinwiddie; Caroline Jones, Portsmouth; Virginia Jones, Norfolk; Virginia Leonard, Richmond; Elizabeth Shiplett, Roanoke; Jean Willis, Cape Charles.

Pi Kappa Sigma

Frances Burger, Farmville; Virginia Moses, Norfolk; Lucille Mooseley, Newoprt News; Kitty Roberts, Farmville; Pauline St. Clair, Tazewell; Elizabeth Smith, Newport News; Virginia Tilman, Saltville; Mary Alice Wood, Roanoke; Alice Zeigler, Richlands.

Mu Omega

Marjorie Bradshaw, Windsor; Helen Conquest, Atlantic; Claire Eastman, Raleigh, N. C.; Katherine Hurt, Salem; Bonnie Lane, Roanoke; Sue Mallory, Lawrenceville; Dorothy Price, Brookneal; Lucille Rhodes, Maysville, S. C.; Martha Stine, Winchester; Sue Waldo, Churchland; Evelyn Wilson, Boydton.

Zeta Tau

Doris Coates, Norfolk; Merwyn Gathright, Goochland.

AFTER SUCH PLEASURE

Dorothy Parker. Viking Press, 1933. 298 pages.

Dorothy Parker's unfailing wit shines out from every page of her new book, "After Such Pleasures." Those of us who have never had the extreme pleasure of reading her stories as they appeared originally in "Harper's Bazaar," "The New Yorker," "Cosmopolitan" and "Smart Set" should certainly make her acquaintance. There are eleven short stories in "After Such Pleasures" packed with humor, pathos and satire. She portrays vividly characters in New York City life which she sees around her—the unhappy married couple, the jilted girl, the insincere ladies' man, the frivolous debutante, and the aging actress.

Dorothy Parker is her funniest in "The Waltz," one of the included stories. It is a strange interlude of all the horrible, wretched thoughts that pass through her mind when she is "trapped like a rat in a trap," for she is left alone at a night club table, and forced to dance with a grinning boy who looks like a freak and dances worse than one. But, she says, what CAN a girl say when such a man asks you to dance? "I most certainly will NOT dance with you. I'll see you in hell first. Oh, yes, DO let's dance together—it's so nice to meet a man who isn't a scaredy-cat of catching my beribem."

In desperation, she gives up and says sweetly that she'd love to waltz. Oh, but her thoughts on the subject! "I'd love to waltz. I'd love to waltz. I'd love to have my tonsils taken out. I'd love to be in a midnight fire at sea!"

There is the alternaitve of sitting it out. "But look at him—what could you say to a thing like that! Did you go to the circus this year? What is your favorite ice cream? How do you spell cat? I guess I'm well off here. As well off as if I were in a cement mixer in full action."

And how many times, when we flattened some double-time, Swiftly or how effective his new step looks, are we having such dark thoughts as thtese going ons in our bewildered brain . . . "Effective when you look at it. Effective when you look at me. I must look like something out of the House of Usher. And he worked up this little step himself—he and his degenerate cunning. It's a tiny bit enticing, but I think I have it now. Two stumbles, one slip and a twenty-yard dash; yes, I've got it."

Mrs. Parker's wit is as certain as death and should be enjoyed by all. As a complement to her humorous stories are sympathetic betrayals of the human heart. She makes us feel the pathos of her characters' lives through grim, ironical and realistic treatment. She impresses us more favorably, however, with her crazy stories of the woman's mind at work.

The book is bound to amuse you. If not, it is your sense of humor that's lacking, for Dorothy Parker's bubbles over in "After Such Pleasures."

TRI SIGMA PLEDGES ENTERTAIN

Sigma Sigma Sigma's new girls entertained the pledges of the other sororities at a pajama party in the Tri Sigma Chapter room Tuesday night, January 23, at ten o'clock.

Hot chocolate and cookies were served to the guests who numbered approximately sixty.

PI KAPPA SIGMAS ENJOY PARTY

Margaret Copenhaver and Agnes Crocket entertained the Pi Kappa Sigma sorority Thursday night at an informal party in the chapter room. It was greatly enjoyed by all the members.

YOU WOULD LOVE TO HAVE YOUR SHOES FIXED AT THE

Lovelace Shoe Shop

116 Third Street

S. A. Legus

TAILOR

CLEANING

PRESSING

REPAIRING

Phone 203

FROM OLD ROTUNDAS

January 27, 1923:

Masquerade Ball

On Friday evening, January 19, a large number of our faculty and students attended one of the most enjoyable social affairs of the season, a benefit costume dance for the Student Building.

The gym was attractively decorated in colored crepe paper. Pretty girls in gay costumes represenedt several notables and personages. A prize was awarded for the best costumed group.

The music was furnished by the town orchestra and thoroughly enjoyed by spectators and dancers. Refreshments were sold during the entire dance by costumed waitresses.

The affair was pronounced a decided success by all who attended.

January 28, 1921:

A short time ago a London newspaper offered a prize for the best definition of "A Friend.'" Among the many thousand answers which were received, the following is the one that was awarded first prize:

"The first person who comes in when the world goes out." The second prize was given to the definition sen in by a small boy who wrote: "A friend is a feller who knows all about you and likes you just the same."

Both of these definitions are worthy of thought. However, I believe the second definition is typical. In these hays of hurrying and moving from place to place we make many new acquaintances but few real friends. It is those we have made since childhood, our schoolmates and our college chums who are our truest friends In the glamour of the new, we should not sacrifice an old and tried friend. The old friends are best—"The feller who knows all about you and likes you too."

RADIO HIGHLIGHTS JANUARY 24 TO 30

Wednesday

8:30—Wayne King—WEAF
9:00—Troubador Orchestra, WEAF
9:30—John McCormack, WJZ
9:30—Guy Lombardo, WABC
10:000—Lopez Orchestra WJZ
10:00—Waring Orchestra, WABC

Thursday

8:00—Rudy Valee Orchestra, WEAF
8:00—Morton Downey, WABC
9:30—Duchin Orchestra, WJZ

C. E. Chappell

COMPANY

Stationery, Blank Books and School Supplies
Cigars, Cigarettes and Soda
Farmville, Virginia

EDUCATORS DISCUSS CURRICULUM REVISION

Continued from page one

ondary schools met last week in Richmond. Miss Carrie B. Taliaferro, associate state consultant for high school mathematics, represented this college. The elementary committee will meet in Richmond Friday, January 26. Miss Lila London, associate state consultant for elementary mathematics, Miss Barlow, state consultant for physical and health education, and Miss Pierce will be present at this meeting.

The teachers and supervisors of the Farmville district, who have been selected to try out the new course of study in their schools, attended the curriculum conferences held here yesterday.

Miss Lila London entertained the speakers and several members of the faculty at a luncheon in the tea room.

10:00—Paul Whitman, WEAF
10:00—Glen Gray, WABC

Friday

8:00—Green Orchestra, WABC
8.00—Jessica Dragonette, WEAF
9:00—Lyman Orchestra, WEAF
9:00—Leah Ray, Harris Orch., WJZ
9:30—Maude Adams, WEAF
10:30—Dances Orchestra, WEAF

Saturday

8:00—Olsen Orchestra, WEAF
9:30—Duchin Orchestra, WJZ
10:00—Rolfe Orchestra, WEAF
10:00—Byrd Expendition, WABC
11:00—Lombardo, W. A. B. C.
11:30—Glen Gray, W. A. B. C.

Sunday

3:00—Wayne King, WEAF
3:30—Jan Garber, WJZ

DRESS MAKING — DESIGNING

HEMSTITCHING AND

ALTERING

SINGER SHOP

Third Street

FARMVILLE, VA.

10-4-3t

Kleanwell

CLEANERS AND TAILORS

Expert Cleaning, Repairing and Remodeling of Ladies Garments

Main Street, Opposite Postoffice

PHONE 98

"HE LOVED HER IN THE SPRING, because she was dressed in DOROTHY MAY clothes!

Chic, snappy new spring prints, dresses, also high shades in three price ranges—$2.97—$5.45 and $7.45

Gorgeous dance frocks—just arrived—$9.45 and $12.45.

Blue Moon Dollar Silk Hose, French Chiffon, Lac! Top. Special 69c

Lovely new Spring Coats and May West Suits—arriving daily

Where the Smart College Girl Shops

THE DOROTHY MAY STORE

No Mend Silk Hosiery

TESTED and APPROVED by Better Fabrics Testing Bureau

For your protection look for this seal on every pair.

$1.00

A MODEST price, to be sure—though you'll never know how modest until you see what it brings you, not only in Style and Quality, but, also, in Value and Wear. The little seal confirms the bargain.

DAVIDSON'S

EACO THEATRE

PROGRAM JAN. 25 to 31

Thursday and Friday January 25 and 26

Frederic March
Miriam Hopkins
Gary Cooper
in Noel CoCward's
'DESIGN FOR LIVING'

This picture should upset the town—women will rave: men will rant—about this daring, distracting drama of a girl who oloved two men—completely, simultaneously, daringly. She liked what they liked, and they liked each other. With Lubitch directing three such stars as March, Hopkins and Cooper, you can imagine what a treat this picture will be. Come early!

Also Blondes and Redheads Comedy, "Walking Back Home."

Adults, 35c and 25c; children 15c

Saturday, January 27

Douglas Montgomery
(of "Little Women")
Dorothy Wilson
Kay Johnson
in
"8 GIRLS IN A BOAT"

"No Men Allowed", School walls tried to shut out even the thoughts of men from these romance-hungry college girls; but love crept in. What takes place in a girls' school with eight of their number as the rowing crew. Healthy young girls bursting with life—hungry for romance that the rules denied them. Innocence is their only weapon against the knowing world; but one of the girls escapes the surveillance of the chaperone long enough to experiment with love, then—! Well, see the picture. It's a sensation! Reduced prices.

Also Screen Song, Fox News and "Motor Mania".

Next Monday, January 30

Kay Francis
Gene Raymond
in
"The House on 56th St."

Here is a Kay Francis you have never seen before, in a characterization that will charm and thrill you. It is a picture that has not a dull moment from beginning to end. Miss Francis' clothes will dazzle you, for she wears the styles of the Gay Nineties and later those of today. The story of the picture covers a period of 25 years. Don't miss one of the real treats of the season. Reduced prices.

Also Sigmund Spaeth in "The Tune Detective," Metro News and Heart of Paris."

Next Tuesday, January 30

Constance Bennett
Gilbert Roland
in
"AFTER TONIGHT"

Entrancing as an angel but dangerous as the Devil. Her haunting eyes lured lemons to their doom. Her shell-pink fingers that ran through his hair had sent 10,000 of his countrymen to death, yet she loved him above all men and he commanded her arrest. Here's a romance that throbs and thunders like the peal of a mighty organ in the hears of men. Reduced prices.

Also "Beanstalk Jack" & Metro News

Next Wednesday, January 31

Ginger Rogers
Norman Foster
"RAFTER ROMANCE"
in

Before you let your daughter share a room with a night watchman, see this "drummer". A story of Greenwich Village, where art is long, but love is brief and blind. How was she to know that he was the night-watchman who slept in her room in the daytime and paid half the rent? A snappy comedy-romance that you will thoroughly enjoy. Reduced prices!

Also musical "Kissing Time" and cartoon.

Daily matinees at 4 P. M. Evenings at 8 P. M.

Miss Wheeler Talks On Modern Drama

Miss Leola Wheeler, faculty advisor of the Dramatic Club talked on the current plays running in New York at the regular meeting of the club, Thursday night, January 18.

Miss Wheeler stated that she considered Maxwell Anderson's "Mary Queen of Scotland," "Let 'Em Eat Cake," which is a sequel to the winner of last year's Pulitzer prize. "Of Thee I Sing", O'Neil's "Ah! Wilderness", "As Thousands Cheer," and "Men In White" as the best of this year's drama.

Out of these plays, she selected "Mary Queen of Scotland" as perhaps her favorite, and particularly commended the acting of Helen Hayes in the title role. Anderson in this play is very sympathetic to Mary. Eugene O'Neil departs from his usual characterization in "Ah! Wilderness" and writes a leading part that is played successfully by George M. Cohan, which comes as a surprise to theatre-goers. This play is put on by the Theatre Guild, as are all of his plays.

The meeting was well attended by the members of the club and the apprentices. At the conlusion of Miss Wheeler's interesting talk the schedule for the apprentice exams was announced and the names of the girls to try out for the spring play were read. It was stated that the spring play, to be given during the fiftieth anniversary celebration, would be Shakespeare's "Mid-Summer Night's Dream." This play was given last year at commencement and met with such success that there were many requests for its repetition.

CLEVER SKIT PRESENTED SATURDAY NIGHT IN SING

Sing, which was presented by Meg Herndon Saturday night, was one of the most enjoyable of the year.

Bonnie Lane took the part of the sole clerk in a music store which had been hit by the depression. Madeline McCummins was at the piano for the service of possible customers. A customer did come in, in the person of Billie Rountree. She wanted a popular song, of which she knew only a short refrain.

The struggle to discover which song she meant, exhausted Madeline, Dorothy Wise and Rebecca Glenn in turn. Margaret Dudley then sang several songs, accompanying herself.

Finally the customer was satisfied with one of the songs. The clerk was almost overcome with relief and hastily got out copies of the song. The customer took out a pencil and paper and calmly copied the words of the piece of music. The clerk fainted.

The skit was cleverly presented and the music was excellent.

NEW DEAL INITIALS

E. C.—Executive Council
N. E. C.—National Emergency Council
R. F. C.—Reconstruction Finance Corporation
N. R. A.—National Recovery Administration.
F. C. A.—Farm Credit Administration.
P. W. A.—Public Works Administration.
A. A. A.—Agricultural Adjustment Administration.
C. W. A.—Civil Works Administration.
F. A. C. A.—Federal Alcohol Control Administration.
F. E. R. A.—Federal Emergency Relief Administration.
N. I. R. B.—National Industrial Recovery Board.
N. B. P. W.—National Board of Public Works
N. P. B.—National Planning Board
C. S. B.—Central Statistical Board
S. A. B.—Science Advisory Board
L. A. B. Labor Advisory Board
C. A. B. Consumers Advisory Board
S. R. B.—State Recovery Board
N. C. B.—National Compliance Board
N. L. B.—National Labor Board
I. B. R. T.—Interdependent Board on Reciprocal Treaties
F. H. L. B.—Federal Home Loan Bank
B. L. B.—Bank Liquidation Board
T. V. A.—Tennessee Valley Authority
F. C. T.—Federal Coordinator of Transportation.

ATHLETIC NEWS

BASKETBALL

A schedule of basketball practices has been made out, and although announcements will be made each day in chapel giving the hours of practice for that day, the schedule will not be changed from week to week. It is as follows:

4 p. m.	5 p. m.
Mon.—Gen. practice	Varsity
Tues.—Gen. practice	General
Wed.—Varsity	General
Thurs.—Varsity	General

There will be no practices on Friday.

To play in class games, each girl must have as many as twenty general practices. The schedule of class games has not yet been made out, but it is possible they will be played off before Founder's Day.

Belle Lovelace, manager of basketball, announced that two new names have been added to the varsity basketball squad. The girls winning a place on the squad are Ellen Gilliam and Frances Mayes.

MEANDERINGS TO MINNIE FROM MARGE

Friday morning

Dear Minnie:

I was sorry to hear about your going to the infirmary, but since you only have a sprained thumb and a broken jaw, perhaps it won't be so hard. We missed you at breakfast this morning—there was enough cream for the cereal since you weren't there.I heard you had three people in the ward with you, so at least you can brush up on your contract bridge, and I must say, as one friend to another, a little practice won't hurt you a bit.

I guess you have to drink through a straw on account of the jaw bone. I bet that's fun—things taste so good through straws. And maybe you use signs to talk to people—you know plenty of them, don't you?

It's time for class, now and so I'll write more later. Drop in when you can. Minnie.

Love and kisses

Marge

Friday night

Dear Minnie:

I was so glad to get your note and to find out your jawbone wasn't broken after all. There's a good book there for you to read. I got through the first six chapters when I was there before Christmas, and I can hardly wait to go back and finish it. I've forgotten the name of it, so I can't tell you which one it is, but it had a red back and pages 21 to 46 are missing. You just have to use your imagination along there.

There hasn't been much excitement in the old building today—two or three people sprained their ankles in tapping class this morning, but beyond that nothing has happened at all.

Well, goodnight, and don't bite any thermometers.

Marge

Saturday morning

Dear Minnie:

I'm shaking in my shoes. Miss Z is just about to call on me for principle points, and so I thought I'd write a line or two to you to calm the old nerves. Allah be praised: she started at the other end of the alphabet, so I'm safe for today!

I just found out I had to be in Sing tonight and Meg told me I had to be a Chinese laundryman, and me with not a word of Chinese to my name!

We seem to have started the World War in this class—why, I don't know—but since the fight must go on I bid you farewell.

Marge

Saturday Nite

Dear Minnie:

I'm so glad you're coming out tomorrow, although why you want to come back to classes I can't see. Oh yes, I meant to ask you whether you'd got any of that lovely pink medicine yet. Dr. Fields gave it to me but I guess she doesn't give the same colors for colds that she gives for sprained jawbones and thumbs.

Sing went off in fine style tonight, but I was a little disappointed because they pulled the curtain on me before I could say "chop chop", and so I'm afraid everybody didn't quite realize that I was a Chink.

Since you're coming out tomorrow I won't write anymore but I have lots to tell you so don't do anything rash before I see you.

Marge

RICE'S SHOE STORE
Street and Dress Shoes
Dancing Slippers Dyed
Correct fits our speciality

NUTS TO YOUSE!

To Whom It May Concern:

Wyc Scott would like to see you at Table No. 10 right away—has some straight dope to slip you—if you have n't caught on this, you'd better get it over with as soon as you can—

Many educations in millinery were completed Monday afternoon when the stormy weather forced our fair school mates to don all manner of queer headgears. Orchids to Jean McClure for the duckey orange creation, and to Weesie McNulty for that sleeve she swiped from somebody's red flannels.

Would some boy scout of societies do their good deed and dispose of that corpse that's been at large on second floor, Senior Building recently.

May we refer Mr. Bell who is so fond of "Miss Molly's" advice to Mr. "Big Shot" Lawson—he can solve any problem that may arise and is he willing?

We would like to give Room 25 C. H. its proper respect—it houses ten girls instead of the conventional two, names may be had by sending a self addressed envelope to Miss Betsy Wilkinson or any other member of the corporation.

Couldn't we be spared these V. P. I. mob scenes in the Rotunda every few nights—they may be grand stuff for Ripley, but we have enough "Believe it or nots" here all the time.

Congratulations to Anne Irving for her speedy work last week-end—and we're told he'll be good for at least four years.

Helen Shawen has been outstanding for her varsatality all year, being a musician, student heart breaker and cheer leader, but now, my good people, she has suddenly become an actress, just wait till you see "Midsummer Night's Dream!" We expect the greatest dramatic sensation since Margaret Dudley. And in conclusion, let's nominate for oblivion, Joe Penner's jokes, Chub Denit's singing and Ex Moodica's eager animation.

Hopefully yopr s,
Friend Flatissa

Mack's
BARBER AND BEAUTY SHOP
323 Main Street
We use the Frederick Method
Hair Cutting and Thinning a Specialty

Weyanoke
BEAUTY SALON
A Complete Beauty Service At Moderate Prices
What we have done for others we can do for you
WEYANOKE HOTEL
Farmville Va.

SOPHOMORES PRESENT ORIGINAL PRODUCTION

Continued from page one

five o'clock in the only quiet room in a big hotel become hopelessly entangled in extremely funny situations; yet, they manage to happily extricate themselves. Those taking part are: Kitty Bass as Mrs. Curtis, Eva Owen as Lancelot Briggs, Audrey Clements as Mrs. Brigg, Elizabeth Huse as Jessie Briggs, Evelyn Massey as Rupert Smith, and Sara Canada as Mr. Ingoldsby.

At the night club, "Chez Paree," the professional entertainers sing popular numbers and the choruses dance many intricate steps to modern rythms. Red Riddick makes an alluring mistress of ceremonies and welcomes her guests in a true night club manner. The blues singers interpret their numbers with feeling.

"Doin' the Town" will provide an unusual evening's entertainment. The admission is 25c; tickets will be sold until Friday night by members of the Sophomore class.

FOUR CLASSES ELECT COMPETITIVE EDITORS

Continued from page one

this field of activities at William and Mary Extension, Norfolk, and William and Mary, respectively. Bonnie Lane, the freshman editor, was a member of the staff of Jefferson High's paper in Roanoke last year.

The editors with the class presidents will appoint the rest of the staffs in the next week. The editors, associate editors, the make-up editors and other important members of each staff, will meet in the publication office Tuesday night, January 30 and watch the regular Rotunda staff make up an issue. Mary Shelton will explain to these girls the points that will be considered in judging these papers.

Electric Shoe Shop
Will Fix Your Shoes While You Wait
BEST WORKMANSHIP AND LEATHER USED

WILLIS
The Florist
FLOWERS FOR ALL OCCASIONS
PHONES 181-273

CALENDAR

January 25-31

Thursday, January 25
7:00-8:00—Kappa Delta Pi
8:00-9:00—Beta Pi Theta
7:00-8:00—French Circle
Friday, January 26
7:00-8:00—Gamma Psi
8:00—Sophomore production
Monday, January 29
7:0:0-8:00—Virginian Staff
7:00-8:00—A. A. Council
7:30-8:30—Pi Gamma Mu
Tuesday, January 30
7:00-7:30—Class meetings
Wednesday, January 31
5:00—Y. W. C. A. Council
7:00-77:30—Rotunda Staff

FREDERICKSBURG HOLDS DISCUSSION SESSIONS

Continued from page one

Address: "What is Happening in Europe and What it Means to America" by Prof. Alden G. Alley (Traveler and Lecturer and authority on international affairs.)

Martin JEWELER
Gifts of Lasting Remembrance
317 Main St. Farmville
We give Jubilee tickets

SouthsideDrugStore
(On the Corner)
Films Developed FREE
If bought at this store

Shannon's
Is Headquarters for the Best SANDWICHES —and— DRINKS —in— FARMVILLE!

THE HUB—Exclusive Agents
LADY ESTHER—four purpose vanishing cream
Listen in on Lady Esther program with Wayne King Broadcasting
75c Jar Four Purpose Cream 50c
Lady Esther Marvelous Powder 55c

Arriving daily—Lovely new spring coats and dresses. Spring shoes—lovel yties, pumps, and oxfords. Prices $2.9 5to $3.95.

FIRST TO SHOW THE NEWEST
THE HUB DEPARTMENT STORE
"Farmville Best Place to Shop"

"PRIMROSE HOUSE" COSMETICS
Featuring Primrose House Face Powder Regular $1.00 box, Special 69c
50c size Spearmint Tooth Paste 10c
Spearmint Tooth Brushes, 10c
EVERYTHING FOR THE COLLEGE GIRLS AT
BALDWIN'S
Quality—Price—Service

G. F. Butcher
High Street
"The Convenient Store"
FOR GOOD THINGS TO EAT AND DRINK

Gray's Drug Store
QUALITY—PRICE—SERVICE
Come in and Get Acquainted
We Are Glad to Have You With Us!
Farmville, Virginia

WATCH FOR THE CLASS ISSUES!

THE ROTUNDA

POE

MID-SUMMER NIGHT'S DREAM TO BE REPEATED

We Teach To Teach

Volume XIV | THE ROTUNDA, WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 31, 1934 | No. 16

Lyceum Number Is China-Japan Debate

Eminent Authorities Discuss International Controversy In Manchuria

TO BE GIVEN FEBRUARY 1

"China versus Japan" is the subject for the debate by No-Yong Pao and Kinnosuke Adachi to be held in the large auditorium Thursday, February 1 at 8 o'clock. The debate is the first Lyceum number to be held during the winter quarter.

Dr. No-Yong Pao and Kinnisuke Adachi are recognized authorities on this vitally important international question, "China versus Japan." Both hae studied conditions in the Far East, gathering the latest facts and information. The purpose of the presentation of their opposed viewpoints is to give the American public a clear understanding of the situation and to help Americans form an intelligent opinion regarding the controversy.

Dr. No-Young Pao is a native of Manchuria who has travelled and studied in China, Japan, Europe, and America. He is one of the most prominent speakers in America and Canada and is the author of several books. He is a "prize-winning student on international relations, a brilliant orator whose breadth of vision, wealth of experience, and information, power of analysis and keen sense of humor" have made him an outstanding speaker of today.

Kinnosuke Adachi, newspaper man, author, literary critic, magazine editor, and lecturer, has a very intimate knowledge of Manchuria and of Oriental problems. For twenty-five years he has been a noted authority and speaker on Far Eastern themes. He is one of a small group of self-appointed Japanese "ministers without Portfolio," and he presents the Japanese side of the question in a quiet, forceful way.

Both lecturers have a profound knowledge of Manchuria and its people and of China and Japan. They present their facts in a clear and simple form with fairness and restraint. They offer to the American public an opportunity to comprehend fully the present situation in the Far East. Thursday night this opportunity will be given to students, faculty members of the college and the people of Farmville.

Ted Shawn Group Dances at S. T. C.

February 16, Ted Shawn and his company of men dancers will appear in S. T. C. auditorium. Several weeks ago the support of the student body was requested in a meeting after chapel, and due to the enthusiasm displayed the Freshman Class have signed a contract which will bring these famous dancers to Farmville on their tour. Continued interest and cooperation of the student body will make this program a success.

Ted Shawn is hailed throughout the world as America's greatest dancer, and he has received the highest of praise by critics and audiences during this history-making tour of the U. S. a tour which is doing more than anything that has gone before to broaden the concept of what the art of the dance really is.

Recognizing the great contribution made to the dance by women, and without attempting in any way to detract glory from the great women dancers of the period, Mr. Shawn is proving that at least fifty percent of the expression of life through dance can be achieved only by men. Artis-

Continued on page 4, column 2

Alumnae Council Meets at William and Mary Friday and Saturday

Miss Pauline Camper, president of the Farmville Association of Alumnae, Miss Carrie B. Taliaferro, and Miss Alice Carter attended the Regionald Conference of District III, American Alumni Council, held at Williamsburg, January 26 and 27.

Williamsburg Inn was the headquarters for the delegates, Herbert F. Taylor of Worcester Polytechnic Institute, president of the American Alumni Council, was present at this regional conference. Mrs. Vivienne B. Breckenridge, Alumnae Secretary of Sweet Briar College, attended the meeting. Mrs. Breckenridge is Director of Distirct III, which includes Alabama, Florida, Georgia, North Carolina, South Carolina, and Virginia. The program committee was headed by J. Malcolm Luck, Alumni Secretary of the University of Virginia; the committee on local arrangements was in charge of Charles Taylor, Jr., of William and Mary College.

The conference opened at noon on Friday, January 26, with registration at Williamsburg Inn. The hours from 1:30 p. m. to 3:30 p. m. were given over to sightseeing in Williamsburg. Among the places visited were the restored Governor's Palace and Raleigh Tavern. At 3:30 p. m. the opening meeting was held. At this time William H. Wraneck, editor of the Virginia Alumni News, gave a lecture on "Editing the Alumni Magazine." A paper, "The Advertising Section," was read at the opening meeting by Myron Zobel, president Graduate Group. At 7 p. m. the College of William and Mary was host at a dinner for the delegates at the conference. Dean Hake of William and Mary extended a welcome to the guests and Mrs. Breckenridge responded. Mr. Taylor, president of the American Alumni Council, delivered the address of the evening.

On Saturday, January 27, the hours from 9 a. m. to 11 a. m. were devoted to the problems of Alumni Funds, Alumni Clubs, Office Routine, etc. These groups and meetings were respectively in charge of Felix A. Grisette, director Alumni Loyalty Fund, University of North Carolina; Katherine Lewis, Alumni Secretary, Rollins College, and Elizabeth Aldrich, Duke University. At noon on Saturday, Mrs. Breckinridge, Regional Director gave her report. Other

Continued page 4, column 3

FOLLOW-UP CARDS TO BE SENT TO ALUMNAE

At a recent meeting called of the heads of all organizations, plans were made by which each organization will send a certain number of post cards to alumnae, asking them to return for the Founders Day celebration, March 9 and 10. These cards are to serve as "follow-up" reminders to the 5600 letters which have already been sent by the alumnae committee.

Approximately 2500 cards were pledged by organizations. Some of the organizations not self-supporting offered to help write some of the cards.

A. C. E. MEETS THURSDAY; ENJOYS MUSIC PROGRAM

The Association of Childhood Education held its monthly meeting on Thursday night in Student Building. The program was one on public school Music. The children of the kindergarten, first, second, third and fourth grades each sang several songs characteristic of their grade. The purpose of such a program was to show the progress made in public school music by the grades.

The program also included two short talks on the same subject by Helen Rose Cunningham and Betsy Wilkerson.

Correction: Last week's headline stated "S. T. C. receives $40,000 for Swimming Pool." On account of certain legal procedures which must be followed S. T. C. has not yet received the money. However, the P. W. A. has approved the application of Farmville S. T. C. for a loan and grant of $40,000 to be used to construct a swimming pool and a building to house it.

Production Reveals Big City Night Life

"Doin' the Town" which was presented Friday night in the S. T. C. auditorium proved to be an unusual success. The production, presented by the Sophomore Class, gave the audience a delightful glimpse of night life in New York.

The play was opened by a prologue: "Let's Go Places". As the curtains were drawn two attractive young girls, Agnes Shaner and Henrietta Salisbury, were discussing the prospects of their dates. When the dates, Mary Liz Alexander and Lelia Sanford, arrived they discovered that the boys had planned an exciting evening. They were to attend the new play, "The Trysting Place" and then go to the "Chez Paree" night club. The prologue was directed by Claudia Harper.

The play which was Booth Tarkington's "The Trysting Place" proved to be amusing and interesting. It concerned the tangled romances of three couples who had arranged to meet at the secluded lounge at five o'clock. Excellent acting was done by the cast; Mrs. Curtis, Kitty Bass; Lancelot, Eva Owen; Mrs. Briggs, Audrey Clements! Jessie Elizabeth Huse; Mr. Ingolsby, Sara Canada, and Rupert Smith, Evelyn Massey. Margaret Pollard directed the play.

The next scene found the "pleasure seekers" at the "Chez Paree"

Continued on page 3, column 2

New Dramatic Club Members Initiated

The Dramatic Club was entertained Monday night with a series of stunts presented by the apprentices These original skits varying from individual recitation to song and dance numbers and pantomimes made up the first part of the initiation. At the conclusion of the stunts, the members were served with ice cream lolly-pops.

The formal part of the initiation was held Tuesday night at 10:00 p. m. in the little auditorium.

The following girls were initiated: Bess McGlothlin, Dorothy McNamee, Elise Marshburn, Dorothy Price, Kitty Roberts, Eileen Saunders, Muriel Scott, Polly Wall, Margaret York, Katherine Hurt, Ella Mallory, Sallie Thornhill, Elizabeth Glass, Helen Shawen, Katharine Walton, Doris Moore, Ophelia Booker, Helen Westmoreland, Phyllis Ferguson, Elizabeth Walton, Mary Bowles, Ila Evans, Kathryne Switzer, Merwyn Gathright, Margaret Pittard, Florence Tankard, Virginia Rawlings, Zaida Thomas, Margaret Clark, Wilma Denit, Mary Alice Glass, Rose Somers, Betty Mae Brown, Frances Burger, Doris Coates, Grace Collins, Chic Dortch, Nancy Dodd, Mercline Dressler, Victoria Gillette, Audrey Hawthorne, Katherine Irby, Frances Johnson, Addie Lee Jarman, Evelyn Knaub, Mariane Lane, Bonnie Lane, Julia Rerr, Mildred Hancock, Martha Stine, Claire Eastman, Louise Floyd, Mary Hastings Holloway, Margaret Pringle, Elizabeth Shipplett, Dorothy Ranson, Bessie tSrick, Mable Britt, Virginia Bean, Bertha W. Babb.

Sorority Founded Here Donated Scholarship To S. T. C. Girl Yearly

A scholarship gift is awarded every year to some worthy student at S. T. C., Farmville, by the Zeta Tau Alpha, an international women's fraternity, founded here nearly thirty-six years ago. The following portions of an article written by Shirley Kreasan Krieg, grand historian of Zeta Tau Alpha, give in brief the history and work of this organization.

Zeta Tau Alpha was founded in Farmville, Virginia, October 15, 1898, and early began its expansion, all of which, for many years, was in the South. Delta Chapter, at Randolph-Macon College, is the oldest active chapter. Zeta Tau Alpha was chartered as a legal corporation on March 15, 1902, largely through the efforts of Grace Elcan Garnett, and became the first woman's fraternity to be chartered in Virginia, as well as the only one ever to be chartered by a special act of legislature.

Today, Founder's Day, October 15, is formally announced all over the United States and Canada and is impresively celebrated throughout the fraternity with appropriate observance and ritualistic ceremony.

Zeta Tau Alpha is now the seventh largest of the twenty-three National Panhellenic Congress fraternities for women, with 62 chapters in the leading colleges and universities of this country and Canada, some 54 chartered alumnae chapters in all parts of the United States, and some 28 unchartered groups. Its membership is approximately 10,000.

For twenty-two years Zeta Tau Alpha has maintained a scholarship loan fund, from which loans are made to help both Zetas and non-Zetas complete their college courses. Scores of girls have been helped through college. On National Day, April 1, all chapters send their annual contribution to this fund, which is also supported in other ways. Zeta Tau Alpha recently established its highest loan record when from June 1930, to November 1932, a sum of $20,995 was lent to 57 girls. Loans from August 1930, to July 1, 1933 aggregated $33,-855 with 102 girls as beneficiaries.

Of particular interest to the Farmville State Teachers College is the Maud Jones Horner Scholarship gift. This is an annual scholarship gift

Continued on page 4 column 1

STATE CURRICULUM REVISION PROGRESSING

Three teachers from this College, Miss Lila London, Miss Mary Barlow, and Miss Pierce, spent last Friday, January 26, in Richmond attending a meeting of the Reviewing and Unifying Committee of the State Curriculum Revision Committee.

Last fall the new curriculum, both elementary and secondary in tentative form, was placed in the hands of a selected group of teachers for try-out. Recently Dr. Peters, director of this work, accompanied by Dr. Caswell, Dr. Campbell and Miss Ruth Henderson, held meetings at the various curriculum centers for the purpose of discussing the progress being made with this try-out and any suggestions, questions, or criticisms that might have arisen to date.

It was to take up the questions that had arisen at these meetings and plan the necessary revisions that the Reviewing and Unifying Committee met Friday.

It is the desire of Dr. Sidney B. Hall, State Superintendent of Public Instruction, that the revised curriculum go to press this summer, so as to be ready for State-wide use in September. To this end all of the committees are working with what those in charge of the work, feel are gratifying results.

Dramatic Club Gives Shakespearean Play

Mid-Summer Night's Dream, a Three Act Comedy To Be Given March 9

MISS WHEELER COACHES PLAY

To do its part to celebrate the Fiftieth Anniversary of this college, the Dramatic Club will present a play the first evening of the celebration, March 9.

Because of the many requests received the club will repeat Shakespeare's "Mid -Summer Night's Dream", which was put on at the 1933 commencement by the senior and sophomore classes of that year.

The lightness and beauty of this comedy make it well suited for such an occasion, yet it is a worthwhile play and one that appeals to any audience.

Several of the girls who took part in last year's production are in school this year. They will play again their same roles. These girls are Margaret Herndon, as Bottom, the leading comedy character; Evelyn Knaub, playing in an unforgettable way the role of frisky little Puck, the Robin Goodfellow; Jestine Cutshall, stern and dignified as an elderly nobleman of Athens, and Laeta Barham, in the role of Heppolyta, the Queen.

The entire cast has not yet been definitely selected. However, the most important parts have eben assigned. Helen Shawen, as Theseus, the king, makes her first dramatic appearance on an S. T. C. stage. Martha Scott Watkins and Mary Shelton, who take the parts of rival lovers, have been in several Dramatic Club productions before. Nancy Harrison, who will be remembered for her excellent performance in "The Admirable Crichton," plays the role of Oberon, the king of raiy land. Audrew Clement is the only other old girl who will be seen in this Shakespearean play. She takes the comedian part of Quince, the carpenter, played last year by Ruth Ford.

Freshmen and new girls have been assigned to play the other important characters. Martha Stien and Betty May Brown play opposite Mary Shelton and Martha Scott Watkins, respectively. Margaret Dortch has the role of Titania, the fair queen. Murk-

Continued on page 4, column 5

Staff Sells Bound Issues of Weekly

The Rotunda staff will begin taking subscriptions for bound copies of the year's issues immediately. Copies of the issues for this year will be $1.00 —for last year and this year combined the price will be $1.50. Subscriptions may be given to any member of the Rotunda staff at any time. The members will canvas the school soon for the benefit of those who have not subscribed before then.

In June the bound copies will be mailed to the subscribers. They can not be delivered at school because the last two issues must be included.

The bound form contains the paper published each week during the session and forms a complete picture of the events of the year. It affords each girl an opportunity to remember the happenings of her college days without pasting each article in her scrap book.

The money from subscriptions will be used for Founder's Day as a contribution to the Student Building fund.

THE ROTUNDA

Member Southern Inter-Collegiate Newspaper Association
Member Intercollegiate Press Association of Virginia

Newspaper — National Scholastic Press Association — Member

Published by Students of State Teachers College, Farmville, Va.

Entered as second class matter March 1, 1921, at the Postoffice of Farmville, Virginia, under Act of March 3, 1879.

Subscription ..... $1.50 per year

ROTUNDA STAFF

Editor-in-Chief .... Mary Shelton, '34
Associate Editor .... Lelia Mattox, '35

Board of Editors

News ..... Evelyn Massey, '36
Make-Up ..... Katherine Hoyle, '36
Literary Editor ..... Birdie Wooding
Louise Walmsley, '36
World News ..... Velma Quarles, '34
Intercollegiate ..... Caroline Byrd, '36
Social ..... Marion Raine, '36
Art ..... Alice Rowell, '34
Feature ..... Elizabeth Walton, '36
Alumnae ..... Miss Virginia Potts

Reporters

Amis Montohery
Mary Hastings Holloway
Edith Shanks, '34; Mary Easley Hill, '34; Elizabeth Vassar, '35; Mary Elizabeth Alexander, '36; Lula Windley, '36.
Proof Readers: Katherine Coleman, '35
Grace Eubank, '36

Managers

Business ..... Mary Diehl, '34
Assistant ..... Elma Rawlings, '34
Circulation ..... Nell Oakey Ryan, '34
Assistant ..... Janice White, '35

The Rotunda invites letters of comment, criticism, and suggestion from its readers upon its manner of presenting and treating them. A letter, to receive consideration, must contain the name and address of the writer. These will not be published if the writer objects to the publication.

All matters of business should be addressed to the Business Manager and all other matters should come to the Editor-in-Chief. Complaints from subscribers as regards irregularities in the delivery of The Rotunda will be appreciated.

FOUNDER'S DAY PLANS

We have the good luck of being in college during the Fiftieth Anniversary of our Alma Mater. This is a great privilege which is deeply realized by each student. The Class of '34 has been looking forward to this coming celebration for four years, for Dr. Jarman told them of it during their Freshman year, and made them understand then, how their Senior year would be made more colorful because of this unusual event.

All of the classes realize that this year we are commemorating more than an annual Founder's Day. To make the two days of March 9 and 10 a time to be long remembered in the history of S. T. C., every faculty member and every student must enter into the spirit of the occasion and do his part.

The faculty has stepped into line and has been doing the lion's share on the preparations for the celebration. The call is now for us, students. Let us respond one hundred per cent! Let us cancel our worthless pleasures and put that time in worthwhile work for Founder's Day!

Remember the saying: "The chain is as strong as the weakest link." So will our Fiftieth Anniversary be as successful as each one of us makes it.

ONE LITTLE THING

One unnecessary cause for trouble is the "false alarming" of the school bell.

Upon even brief consideration one may readily see the trouble that is caused by the untimely ringing of the bell. The girls receiving service scholarships, the maids and many others are greatly inconvenienced.

Perhaps the only real reason for this unnecessary childish act is thoughtlessness. Surely, none of us would deliberately play this prank simply to cause someone else trouble.

You, bell-ringers if this is your amusement why not find a more sensible form and stop?

World News

The executive pen in the Presidential hand decreed: (1) that the work of the Civilian Conservation Corps should be extended one year beginning April 1, (2) that all discriminating duties and imports on Soviet vessels and their cargoes should be forthwith ended; that veterans pension regulations should be eased.

Mrs. Roosevelt visiting Orange, Va., lunched in a tea room where the proprietor's dog jumped in her lap. When the embarrassed proprietor hastily called, "Come here, Hoover!" Mrs. Roosevelt smiled and petted the terrier affectionately.

The President summoned to the White House Ernest Tener Weir, chairman of Weirton Steel Co., and ordered him to settle the labor row in his mills. He also received Rev. Chas. E. Couglin of Detroit, Mich. When the priest emerged from the White House he reported: "I discovered that Mr. Roosevelt is about 20 years ahead of the thought that is current in the country today."

The President admitted to newshawks that he is thinking about a rest—next spring when Congress is ready to adjourn. His tentative plan: a voyage to Puetro Rico, Virgini Islands, Panama Canal, Hawaii, and California.

William Green of the American Federation of Labor took up with the President a resolution adopted by the brotherhood of Sleeping Car Porters asking for a New Deal. Their chief complaints were low wages, tips almost "at the vanishing point," the high cost of uniforms and shoe blacking and lack of sleep.

LETTER TO EDITOR

Dear Editor:

We wonder if you have noticed the decided lack of heat that has been manifested in the dormitories the last few days? We would hesitate to mention this if it were the first time it had happened; for, perhaps it could be attributed to the sudden change of temperature. Since it is not the first time that we have found it impossible to keep warm in our rooms without the aid of coats—and even blankets—we feel justified in bringing it to your attention.

The rooms on several of the halls are chilly throughout the day and become positively cold at night. To study in a cold room is almost impossible. Many of us have attempted to solve the problem by studying in the bed under our blankets. This has proved disastrous, as our eyes will not remain open very long in this too comfortable position.

We well know that criticism should not be offered without a suggested solution. In this case we beg to be excused, being ignorant of the cause of our discomfott. Nevertheless, we do find ourselves slowly but surely freezing. Do you suppose something could be done?

Sincerely yours,
Students

Dear Editor:

Our attitude toward saying grace before meals is certainly not a very reverent one. However, it is not entirely our fault. Most of the girls don't know the prayers and have no way of hearing them when only a few people mumble out their thanks between eating and gossipping.

Here are the prayers:

Breakfast: Our Father, who are in Heaven, bless our morning meal and keep us this day without sin, for Jesus sake.

Lunch: We thank Thee, Father, for this food. Bless it to our use and pardon our sins, for Jesus' sake.

Dinner: Grant us, oh Lord, an evening blessing on our food and protect us through the coming night, for Jesus' sake.

Let's see if we can't learn them and improve the bad situation. If we could be supplied with a printed copy of these prayers at each table, we would be more apt to learn them thoroughly.

A Student

CAMPUS COMMENTS

Here's another racket you'd better watch out for: Certain individuals saying to you in front of one of your friends, "I don't think Sallie's as much of a wash-out as you said she was." You'll have a swell time explaining your innocence.

Remember in "I'm No Angel" when Mae West played the record, "Nobody Loves Me Like that Texas Man". We wonder if Nubby is still singing that after last week-end!

The laugh of the week! Nancy Harrison earnestly teaching Chic Dortch the fine points of grace. Ask Meg. She saw it!

The Rotunda staff begins its well-earned holiday tonight. No longer will Tuesday nights seem like a nightmare to the "make-uppers" or at least not for that reason.

And while we're on the subject of Tuesday night, where is the once-famous organization who used to hold their terrifying meetings then?

Amis Montgomery had an old friend to call on Sunday. We wonder if she found that the ravages of time had changed him!

Sue Hume's Christmas conquest seems still to be interested. At least he's coming down to look the situation over in a few weeks.

FROM OTHER COLLEGES

On aJnuary 26 the annual W .& L. fancy dress ball (about which all the fair maidens of S. T. C. were sighing) was held. The title of the ball was The Coronation of Alexander III. This called for elaborate costumes on the part of the dancers. The ballroom was beautifully decorated as the court of Alexander III with a large, red throne covered with a cloth-of-gold canopy.

All of the intercollegiate papers seem to be filled with one great theme, exams are coming! Sorrowful pictures are presented of the youth of our country spending hours of their supposedly carefree college days in secluded corners in search of higher learning. Well, all we can do is to wish you luck, boys and girls.

The feminine contingent of the U. of Georgia have petitioned the university for a free bus service from each of the three campuses to the other. They claim that it is very unladylike to have to bum rides to get to classes on time.

The Richmond Division of William and Mary College in its seventeen years of existence has passed through many changes. These changes have always been for the improvement of the school. Today, this college has the position of the leading school of social work in the South which gives undergraduates instruction.

Dr. Paul H. Bowman when speaking at Harrisonburg S. T. C. on the future of education gave several striking examples of the future generation if we let the depression harm our great educational system. He stated that if something is not done the leaders of the future will be strangled by the hands of ignorance.

Lieut. C. A. Abele, Jr., president of Little America aviation and exploration, broadcasts the story of Byrd in the Antarctic weekly. The story is sent to New York headquarters where it is broadcasted over the country. This story is being presented in serial installments in the Harrisonburg Breeze.

Mrs. R. J. Dalton of Blackstone, under the auspices of Gamma Psi, gave a demonstration of all types of knitting and crocheting in the art room, Wednesday night. She had with her a display of yarns of various kinds, and samples of knitted materials.

Gamma Psi has samples on hand of wool, boucle and yarn, and is taking orders from those who are interested.

ALUMNAE NEWS

A frequent occurrence on a trip to any part of Virginia is a meeting with former Farmville students. In Richmond Miss Pauline Camper, Miss Alice Carter, and Miss C. B. Taliaferro, three members of the Executive Board of the Association of Farmville Alumnae were greeted by Miss Julia Ellison, now secretary to Mr. Robert Daniel of Brandon; in Williamsburg they were the house guests of Dr. Susan R. Price, a former resident physician of our college. Her home, "Marshall Lodge" is one of the oldest residences there, and has many attractive features. Across the street lives Mrs. Messick (Fannie Coleman) who joined her hospitality to that of Dr. Price. Miss Pearle Jones is secretary to President Chandler. Mrs. C. A. Taylor (Claudia Perkins) made the occasion more enjoyable by her interesting accounts of buildings and events. All were interested in the approaching anniversary.

Although we have received no write-ups from the organizations themselves we have had reported to this office the two meetings, one held in Lynchburg and the other in Petersburg, of alumnae chapters.

On the evening of Jan. 11 the Lynchburg chapter of the Farmville Alumnae had a delightful get-together dinner at the Virginian Hotel. The college was represented by Dr. Jarman and Miss Tabb and the Lynchburg Alumnae of fifty-six members ranging from the Class of 1889 down through that of 1933. Toasts, music, readings and friendly conversation made the occasion a most delightful one and Dr. aJrman aroused a great deal of enthusiasm by his talk which was largely on the extra-curricular activities of the college. At the close of the evening indications were that the group would practically come "in a body" to the celebration of the Fiftieth Anniversary.

The card party sponsored by the Farmville State Teachers College Alumnae was held in the home of Mrs. George Cameron, Jr., on South Sycamore Street, January 16. The party was attended by a number of out-o-town guests. Miss Olive T. Iler, Miss Grace B. Moran and Mary Burgess Fraser from Farmville were among those present." (Petersburg Progress Index). There were thirty-five tables and the whole affair proved a most attractive and profitable one. Mary Frances Hatchett, president of the Petersburg Alumnae and Lois Fraser were instrumental in having the party.

Mrs. Porter Blackard ("Libby" Mason) and Dorothy Waynick vistied in school this week.

Miss Anita Crane and Mr. Shelton Short Webb were married on December 23 in Adsit, Va.

Miss Susie Shepherd and Mr. Luther Gilliam were married in Farmville January 25. They will live in Dillwyn where Mr. Gilliam is mayor.

We ae sorry to report the death of Mrs. George Richards a teacher in the schools of Albemarle County for the past twenty-three years, and member of the Stony Point school for the past ten years who died in the University Hospital after a brief illness. She was buried in Palmyra on January 26.

"Of all human ambitions, an open mind—eagerly expectant of new discoveries and ready to remold convictions in the light of added knowledge and dispelled ignorance and misapprehensions—is the noblest, the rarest and the most difficult to achieve."—James Harvey Robinson.

Be not only good, but good for something.

The only way to gain a good reputation is to endeavor to be what you desire to appear—Socrates.

LIFE

Life is a flower;
A transient thing
Delicate as cobweb shadows
On the grass.
A tender bud;
A full blown plant;
A withered bloom.
Seared by the
Frosty breath of Age.

E. G., '37

POETRY

SONNET:

TO A RARE STUDENT
By T. P. Dilla

How high above all others you now stand,
My former pupil with the deathless name,
My Eloisa, whom I love the same.
As when I first could lead you by the hand!
For even then you were most nobly kind,
Compassionately thoughtful, feeling true;
Although your least experience was new,
A just imagination trained your mind.
You were one youthful heart without the stain
Of cruel self-sufficient blinding pride;
You recognized that sometimes age could guide
You to your goal, that wisdom was no chain.
You cherished well a gift most rare to find—
A sympathetic, keen and open mind.

WANDERLURE

All through the winter with its wind
And dull gray gloom,
Sad hearts are longing for the spring
When lilacs bloom.

But I would cling to each wild day,
Dread budding tree.
In winter I am sure that you
Will stay and play with me.

You love the open fire's light
Upon the floor,
You sigh and say how good it is
To roam no more.

But I well know, when springtime comes
And lilacs sway,
The road will call, and you will go,
Some April day.

Edith Tatum

I held a jewel in my fingers
And went to sleep.
The day was warm, and winds were prosy;

I said: "'Twill keep."
I woke and chid my honest fingers,—
The gem was gone;
And now an amethyst rememberance
Is all I own.

Emily Dickinson

We never know how high we are
Till we are called to rise;
And then, if we be true to plan,
Our statues touch the skies.

The heroism we recite
Would be a daily thing,
Did not ourselves the cubits warp
For fear to be a king.

Emily Dickinson

If I can stop one heart from breaking,
I shall not live in vain;
If I can ease one life the aching,
Or cool one pain,
Or help one fainting robin
Into his nest again,
I shall not live in vain.

Emily Dickinson

HIS TENDER HANDS

His tender hands have fashioned tiny things:
The wee blue petals of forget-me-nots;
A drop of midst; an insect's tissue wings;
A poppy seed; a caterpillar's spots;
The sensitive antennae of a bee;
Each amber globule of the desert sands . . . .
Then shall I fear, when he has said to me:
"Thy days, my little one, are in my hands!"

Winnie L. Rockett

THE MORE I SEE OF MEN

The more I see of men,
The more I learn their ways,
The more I am convinced
That, if anything, there is innate in men
A predeliction for the noble act,
A love for the good man.

Werden Grant

SOCIALS

During the past week-end one of the most important events on the winter social calendar in this state and the surrounding states, took place. It was the Fancy Dress Ball at Washington and Lee University. Besides the ball, the week-end gaieties started Thursday evening with Junior Prom and ended with the O.D.K. formal dance Saturday evening. Mary Louise McNulty was in the figure with her escort, Mr. Dick Edwards, and wore a Russian costume. The other girls from Farmville who attended were Evelyn Knaub, dressed in a Turkish costume; Mary Gilmer, wearing a Spanish dancer's dress; Anne Irving, dressed in Japanese pajamas; Mary Shelton, wearing an old gown of the "gay nineties" period; Mary Eleanor Kellam in colonial costume, and Martha Higgins, wearing an Alice-in-Wonderland frock. Many of Farmville alumnae were present. Some of them were: Medora Ford, Margaret Anne Moreland, Martha Moore, and Garnett Hodges.

• • •

Marion Howe Umberger attended the hops at United States Naval Academy. She left school for Annapolis on Thursday and returned Monday morning.

• • •

Doris Carlton visited friends in Blackstone for the week-end.

• • •

The following girls spent the week-end in Lynchburg: Eileen Howard, Betsy Wilkinson, and Charlotte Parish.

• • •

The following girls spent the week-end in Roanoke: Marian Shaffner, Mary Alice Wood and Charlotte Rice.

• • •

Nancy Dodd, Merwyn Gathright, Georgia Spencer, Dorothy Stone, Dor-Dorothy Glover, Patsy Saunders Margaret Parker, Charlotte Young and Louise Jeffreys went home for the week-end.

• • •

Bernice Jones spent the week-end in Suffolk.

• • •

Audrey Hawthorne and Henrietta Salisbury, spent the week-end in Richmond.

• • •

Martha Nottingham visited Mrs. Morris in Buckingham.

• • •

Annetta Purdy visited Georgia Spencer in Bornsville.

• • •

Christine Seay visited in Dillwyn. Evelyn Wilson visted in Boydton, Arlene Fawbush visted Geraldine Clayton in Richmond. Louise Floyd visited Madeline Marshall in Richmond.

• • •

Dorothy Woolwine visited in Buckingham.

• • •

Bernice Scott and Mildred Linthicum spent the week-end in Victoria.

• • •

Josephine Kent spent the week-end in Amherst.

• • •

Josephine Smith visited Mrs. Bristow in Richmond.

• • •

Maymie and Ruth Showalter went to Kenbridge.

• • •

Susie Webb spent the week-end with Dot Glover at her home in Arvonia.

• • •

Kathryne Megenley, a student at R. M. W. C. visited Kathryne Cotten this week-end.

MU OMEGA ENTERTAINS AT TEA

The Mu Omega Sorority pledges entertained in their chapter room from 4 to 6 Thursday afternoon at a tea in honor of the pledges of the other sororities.

A color scheme of black and white was carried out in decorations, refreshments, and favors. The guests numbered about sixty.

AMBITION

Like a mighty hand
With a strong, firm grip
It caught me.
My heart strings cried out
With desire to accomplish.
The task, 'tho great
Seemed conquerable.
And I, 'tho often discouraged,
Seemed cheered.
This ever onward, inward spirit
Like a restless child
Must be entertained.

H. S. '35

ANGEL IN THE HOUSE

Kathleen Norris—Doubldav-Doran

By Amis Montgomery

In her latest book Kathleen Norris is at her best, which is saying a great deal.

The scene is laid in southern California, and against its background of blue skies, the beauty of a well kept countryside, delightful climate, green lawns and gorgeous flowers, the action is well carried out.

Does age make a difference in love? This was the theme of a charming love story.

Lee Fargo had forgotten what it meant to be a woman—lovely, desired and desiring—until a man ten years younger reminded her.

Judson Calhoun had never known a woman like her. He refused to consider the difference in their ages. He told her, "There isn't any way in which I don't want you."

Angel was Lee's daughter, just beginning to awaken at eighteen. She was like a delicate fragile white flower, too sensitive to be exposed to the sun and beating rains.

What happened to these three? Does a woman let herself fall in love with a younger man? What does a mother do when her only daughter falls in love with the man she is going to marry? Kathleen Norris gives us the answer in this the absorbing love story of brilliant and beautiful Lee Fargo, and Judson Calhoun, the younger man.

Kathleen Norris' stories contain within themselves the actuality of mere living. She takes it and makes of it a charming story. This, her latest book, is no exception.

Kathleen Norris discusses a universal problem in this new novel. She writes of it with all her keen insight, her sympathy and tenderness, her wise understanding. You will find "Angel in the House" dramatic and exciting—an unforgettable story.

PRODUCTION REVEALS BIG CITY NIGHT LIFE

Continued from page one

night club. Here Red Riddick acted as mistress of ceremonies. The first number of the "late" floor show was an Argentine tango: Lyle Rippard and Margaret Farrar, a famous dancing team proved one of the hits of evening. They were assisted by a chorus, Billy Rountree, Kitty Woodson, Dot Eubank, Henrietta Salisbury, Sue Hume and Lily Farrar. Next Bessie Graybil charmed the audience by her interpretation of "I Want You, I Need You!" The three high hatters, Dot Eley, Margaret Webster, Nancy Parker then gave an excellent tap dance. Red introduced the four "Rhythm Girls" who gave a melodic interpretation of "Smoke Gets In Your Eyes". Dot Eley then gave her famous "Silver Dance" noted for grace and charm. One of the cutest numbers of the show was the duet "You're Such a Comfort to Me" sung by Lulie Wilkerson and Lily Farrar. The hit number of the show turned out to be "Black Moonlight" sung by Marion Jean Wright and danced by a chorus, Margaret Farrar, Ducky Woodard, Nancy Parker, Lulu Wilkerson, Virginia Hall, Margaret Webster and Dot Eley. The whole show was an original idea of Margaret Farrar's. The lighting was also unusual, giving the effect of a night club rather than a stage.

PEACE

Clear-toned, the swelling call to peace
Rings out above the Seven Seas
Till slaves and sybarites must hark
To new, compelling harmonies.

Sarah J. Wilson

YOU WOULD LOVE TO HAVE YOUR SHOES FIXED AT THE

Lovelace Shoe Shop

110 Third Street

S. A. Legus

TAILOR

CLEANING
PRESSING
REPAIRING

Phone 203

"ON SUNDAY AFTERNOON"

"Oh, Mabel, isn't it just glorious out-doors? I can't stand it inside another minute. Come on, let's go out on the campus. When I remember how we had to stay in on Sunday afternoons last year, I just don't see how I did!" And off they go, arms linked in girlish fashion.

"Thank heavens for Sunday afternoons!" These notes of gratitude are swelled to the skies by a serious looking be-spectacled young girl as she sat down to her desk, pen in hand at exactly 2:00 p. m. "It's the only time I have in the week to catch up my work." and without further ado she plunges into "Philosophy of Education."

"I hate Sunday afternoons! Look at all those people out riding, and here I sit!" A belligerent freshman is bemoaning her fate. "Why, at home, we always go riding Sunday afternoons. No, I'll never get used to doing any other way from the way I did at home."

"No, I don't want to go out on the campus. I'm going to bed. After last week, I know I'll never really be rested again. Tests, movies, practices and what-not. Don't even wake me for supper. Just let me sleep and sleep on Sunday afternoon." With an unfeigned yawn she rolled into bed and was soon chasing butterflies.

What did you do last Sunday afternoon? Oh, I see. You spent three hours trying to get an idea for an English theme. My sympathies to you—I wrote this article.

"We are having a raffle for a poor little beggar; would you take a chance?"

"What would I do with him if I won him?"—Log.

CALENDAR

Wednesday, January 31
5:00—Y. W. Cabinet
7:00-7:30—Rotunda Staff
7:30-8:30—Pi Gamma Mu

Thursday, February 1
5:00—Student Standards Committee
7:00-8:00—Debate Club
8:00—Lyceum

Friday, February 2
77:00-8:00—Monogram Club
7:00-8:00—Gamma Psi
8:00-9:00—Sigma Pi Rho

Monday, February 5
7:00-8:00—Virginia Staff
7:00-8:00—A. A.
8:00—Alpha Kappa Gamma

Tuesday, February 6
700—Class meetings
7:30—Artist Dance Group
10:00—Student Council

FROM OLD ROTUNDAS

February 6, 1929:

Cottage F was broken into Monday night during the basketball game. $5 in money and some valuable jewelry were taken.

Our grandmothers went to school to learn the three R's—Reading, Riting, Rithmetic. We might set as our goal the three C's—Character, Culture, and Citizenship (From an editorial)

Due to the deadly marriage epidemic sweeping over the school it has been deemed advisable by some to place a quarantine for some time.

February 5, 1930

The freshman class, Ann Johnson, president, presented Miss Iler to the student body in chapel.

Sprague players give two plays in the auditorium—"Back Home" and "The Rivals."

February 4, 1931:

The Hampden-Sydney Glee Club is formed with Mr. A. H. Strick as director.

The Rat Hall of Fame is announced. Here are some of the members:

Biggest bluffer ..... Betsy Wilkinson
Best all-round ..... Margaret Parker
Most versatile ..... Mary Diehl
Most intellectual .... Virginia Brinkley
Most studious ..... Alice and Grace
Prettiest ..... Nancy Harrison

February 3, 1932:

May Queen and maid of honor are announced. Medora Ford has first honor and Jenilee Knight has second.

The Flashy Faculty and the Feeble Freshmen to battle in a basketball game Feb. 22 in the gym.

C. E. Chappell

COMPANY

Stationery, Blank Books and School Supplies
Cigars, Cigarettes and Soda
Farmville, Virginia

Kleanwell

CLEANERS AND TAILORS

Expert Cleaning, Repairing and Remodeling of Ladies Garments

Main Street, Opposite Postoffice
PHONE 98

"HE LOVED HER IN THE SPRING, because she was dressed in DOROTHY MAY clothes!

Chic, snappy new spring prints, dresses, also high shades in three price ranges—$2.97—$5.45 and $7.45

Gorgeous dance frocks—just arrived—$9.45 and $12.45.

Blue Moon Dollar Silk Hose, French Chiffon, Lace Top. Special 69c

Lovely new Spring Coats and May West Suits—arriving daily

Where the Smart College Girl Shops

THE DOROTHY MAY STORE

No Mend Silk Hosiery

TESTED and APPROVED by Better Fabrics Testing Bureau, Inc. Member of Associated Testers

For your protection look for this seal on every pair.

$1.00

A MODEST price, to be sure—though you'll never know how modest until you see what it brings you, not only in Style and Quality, but, also, in Value and Wear. The little seal confirms the bargain.

DAVIDSON'S

EACO THEATRE

Program February 1 to 7

Thursday and Friday
February 1 and 2

Mary Carlisle
Buster Crabbe
Charles Sterrett
in
"SWEETHEART OF SIGMA CHI"

With Ted Fio-Rito and his orchestra

Cutey co-eds, frolicking freshmen, sentimental sophomores, tantalizing tunes, dashing dialogue, moonlight and mush, love and laughter, zip, zest and action—that's what this college picture is. The campus co-ed is the life of the party and she taught the boys things they couldn't learn from books—and they burned up the campus with hotcha. A college romance plus three great musical features—Ted Fio-Rito, The Three Midshipmen and The Three Blue Keyes. It has a thrilling ending that will make you want to cheer. Don't miss it. No advance in prices.

Also Dorothy Lee in "Plane Crazy" and first chapter of "Tarzan the Fearless."

Saturday, Feb. 3

Warner Baxter
Helen Vinson
in
"AS HUSBANDS GO"

When your husband meets the other man in your office and makes a chum of him, what are you going to do about it? Rachel Crothers' fast-clicking comedy about a wife who tells all and a husband and lover who won't believe her. Paris gowns that will excite your envy, gaiety, flirtation and a handsome young man. A woman's picture you will thoroughly enjoy.

Also first chapter of "Tarzan the Fearless" with Buster Crabbe. Fox Latest News.

Note—Saturday morning at 10:30, George O'Brien in "The Frontier Marshall" and "Tarzan the Fearless".

Saturday night, double feature—"As Husbands Go", "Frontier Marshall" and "Tarzan the Fearless", "Frontier Marshall" will be shown immediately after the main feature.

Next Mon. & Tues., Feb. 5 & 6

Delores Del Rio
Gene Raymond
Ginger Rogers
in
FLYING Down the RIO

Here's a breath-taking climax of all musical shows; the most stupendous spectacle ever born to rythm. Sensuous melody. Beautiful girls. Thrilling stars. Nothing like it has ever been produced before. See and learn the "Carico", the breath-taking, exotic dance by Fred Astaire and Ginger Rogers and three different Brizilian ensembles. It's a show that cannot be described but you will want to see it a second time. It's simply wonderful.

Also "Cannibal Islands" and Metro News. Prices, 25c at matinees and 35c at nights.

Next Wednesday, February 7

Dorothea Wieck
in
"CRADLE SONG"

For in her eyes lies the heart of all womankind. Men sense it and wonder. Women feel it and know. Here's a great story of mother-love and baby-love depicted by the newest star sensation, Dorothea Wieck. A story you will never forget, for it has that something that gets right into your heart and lingers in your memory.

Also Aesop Fable. "Galloping Fanny" and Tintype, "Where Is My Wandering Boy."

Daily matinees at 4 P. M. Evenings at 8 P. M.

Prices—Adults, 20c at matinees and 25c at nights; except on percentage pictures, when we must charge 25c and 35c.

New Members Taken Into Monogram Club

Alma Foster, Frankie McDaniel, Martha Putney Accept Bids to Monogram Club

INITIATION IS FRIDAY NIGHT

Alma Foster, Frankie McDaniel, and Martha Putney were formally initiated into the Monogram Club on Friday night, January 26 at 10 o'clock

These three girls having met the requirements for membership in the club and having been passed on for their sportsmanship received invitations to join that organization.

Alma, Frankie, and Martha have all been outstanding athletes, particularly in hockey. Alma and Martha coached the college high school team last fall. Frankie was selected by the A. A. Council as manager of hockey for 1933. She served very efficiently in that capacity. Frankie was also selected as one of the substitutes for the all-star game at the tournament in Richmond last fall.

Martha is now coaching the college high school basketball team and is also on the S. T. C. varsity basketball squad. Besides being unusually good in this sport, Martha was a member of last year's varsity tennis team.

On account of her teaching this quarter, Alma is not taking the part in basketball which she usually takes.

The Monogram Club takes in new members every quarter. Anyone who is physically fit and sufficiently interested in winning a Monogram can do so.

Miss Iler is sponsor to this organization.

GEOGRAPHY CLASS HEARS TALK BY DR. JEFFERS

Dr. Jeffers spoke to the geography classes Tuesday, Jan. 23 at 5 o'clock in the little auditorium on Newfoundland. As Dr. Jeffers, the head of the biology deparament, his subject was dear to him, which made it more interesting for those listening. He explained thoroughly the government of the country, the changes that have come about. Then he told enthusiastically of his country which lies to the north-east of the United States.

SORORITY FOUNDED HERE DONATES SCHOLARSHIP

Continued from page one

awarded to some worthy student at the Farmville State Teachers College, honoring the place of Zeta's birth, and the first Grand President. The first president Mrs. William Ferebe Horner, who was Maud Jones, was from New Store, Virginia, in Buckingham county.

In additional to all these aids and incentives to good scholarship and acquired education, Zeta Tau Alpha awards an interesting and unusual scholarship at the University of Texas in child care and training. It was established in honor of the fraternity's third Grand President, Dr. May Agness Hopkins, prominent woman physician of Dallas, Texas, and is the first of its kind in the country. From 1908-1919 Mrs. James Lukin Bugg of Farmville was on the Grand Chapter of Z. T. A. with Dr. Hopkins as Grand Secretary.

Then—in the mountains of Virginia, not far from Marion, Zeta Tau Alpha maintains one of the most commented upon and widely approved pieces of philanthropic work in the Greek letter world. Believing that no one lives fully who lives wholly selfish for himself alone, Zeta Tau Apha has enlarged her circle of interest and usefulness to a people living in the home state of the fraternity, and, in honor of the founders, established a Health Center in Currin Valley, Virginia.

Of Zeta Tau's seven presidents, three have been Virginians, and two were from the Farmville State Teachers College. The first president was Maud Jones Horner; the second was Mrs. William Emrys Daxis of Lexington, K., who graduated from the old Normal. Mrs. William Robertson Beverley of Richmond, Va., was the fifth president. Since its inception, Frances Yancey Smith, founder, of Charlotte Court House, Virginia, has been either chairman or honorary chairman of the National Philanthropic Committee.

S. T. C. Varsity Basket Ball Squad

Front Row—(seated from left to right): Louise Walmsley, Linda Walker, Bobbie Smith, Victoria Gillette, Ellen Gilliam, Sarah Beck, Margaret Parker, and Sue Yeaman.

Second Row—Belle Lovelace, manager; Florence Sanford, Kathleen Ransom, Bernice Mann, Ruby Vestal, Marguerite York, Frances Burger, Kitty Roberts, Ruth Roberts, and Miss Iler (coach).

Third Row—Martha Putney, Margaret Kent, Page Magee, Sally Rose Chappelle, Lelia Mattox, Lelia Sanford, and Mildred Gwaltney.

TED SHAWN GROUP DANCES AT S. T. C.

Continued from page one

tically and educationally the Shawn program this year conclusively proves his principles and argument.

For many years Ted Shawn has expounded his theories on dancing for men, carrying on, almost single handedly, a crusade against prejudice and custom. For years he has had this plan for a company composed entirely of men dancers. In all previous companies under his leadership, companies of women and men dancers, he has featured certain group numbers by the men alone. In recent years, it was these dances of the men alone, which aside from Shawn's own solos, that have ever stirred the audiences to the most frenzied applause. This corroboration and response spurred him on the fulfillment of his ambition to have only men dancers in his group.

RADIO HIGHLIGHTS JAN. 31-FEBRUARY 4

Wednesday

8:30—Albert Spalding, WABC
9:00—Troubadours, WEAF
9:30—John McCormack, WJZ
9:30—Lombardo, WABC
10:00—Lopez Orchestra, WJZ
10:00—Waring Orchestra, WABC
11:15—Negro Quintet, WABC
11:30Little Orchestra, WABC

Thursday

8:00—Rudy Valee Orchestra, WEAF
9:30—Duchin Orchestra, WJZ
10:00—Paul Whitman, WEAF
10:00—Gray Orchestra, WABC

Friday

8:00—Jessica Dragonette, WEAF
8:00—Green Orchestra, WABC
9:00—Leah Ray; Harris Orchestra, WJZ
9:00—Lyman Orchestra, WEAF
9:30—Maud Adams, WEAF
11:15—Boswell Sisters, WABC

Saturday

8:00—Olsen Ochestra, WEAF
9:30—Duchin Orchestra, WJZ
9:45—Oxford Quartet, WMCA
10:00—Rolfe Orchestra, WEAF
10:00—Byrd Expedition, WABC
11:30—Paul Whiteman, WJZ

Sunday

3:00—Wayne King, WEAF
8:00—Eddie Cantor
8:30—Waring Orchestra, WABC
9:00—Will Rogers, WJZ
9:00—Nino Martini, WABC

Professor: "No, this plant belongs to the begonia family."

Plebe: "Oh, yes, and you're looking after it for them while they're away on holiday."—Log

RICE'S SHOE STORE

Street and Dress Shoes

Dancing Slippers Dyed

Correct fits our speciality

ALUMNI COUNCIL MEETS AT WILLIAM AND MARY

Continued from page 1

reports and announcements were also made at this session.

After an open discussion of problems pertaining to alumnae work, resolutions were adopted, and the conference adjourned at 12:45 p. m. At 1:00 p. m. those attending the conference enjoyed an oyster roast on the Yorktown road. Then followed a sightseeing tour of Yorktown and Jamestown.

This Conference of District III, which includes several states, is designed to provide an interchange of ideals on common problems affecting organized alumni effort in the South, to stimulate the individual alumni association and to bring to the inexperienced worker the best prevailing methods employed to align alumni back of the extremely important educational work of the country.

Mack's

BARBER AND BEAUTY SHOP

323 Main Street

We use the Frederick Method

Hair Cutting and Thinning a Specialty

Weyanoke

BEAUTY SALON

A Complete Beauty Service At Moderate Prices

What we have done for others we can do for you

WEYANOKE HOTEL
Farmville Va.

Three cross-eyed men appeared before a cross-eyed judge:

Judge (to first one): "What's your name?"

Second one: "Jackson."

Judge: "I wasn't adressing you."

Third One: "I didn't say anything."

Electric Shoe Shop

Will Fix Your Shoes While You Wait

BEST WORKMANSHIP AND LEATHER USED

WILLIS The Florist

FLOWERS FOR ALL OCCASIONS

PHONES 181-273

DRAMATIC CLUB GIVES SHAKESPEAREAN PLAY

Continued from page one

land Dressler is Philostrate, the master of revels. The other comedy characters are done by Nancy Dodd, as Snug; Bonnie Lane as Thisby; Gay Stieffen as Snout; and Audrey Hawthorne, as Starveling. The rest of the cast will be announced later.

Practices began last week under the direction of Miss Leola Wheeler. So far, the lines in the first and second acts have been stressed. The third act will be learned this week, and next week the business in the play will be worked out.

All of the girls are working into their parts successfully under the effective coaching of Miss Wheeler. Although there is approximately a month in which to perfect this play, it is thought that "Mid-Summer Night's Dream" will be an excellent production.

Martin JEWELER

Gifts of Lasting Remembrance

317 Main St. Farmville

We give Jubilee tickets

SouthsideDrugStore

(On the Corner)

Films Developed FREE

If bought at this store

Shannon's

Is Headquarters for the Best SANDWICHES —and— DRINKS —in— FARMVILLE!

THE HUB—Exclusive Agents

LADY ESTHER—four purpose vanishing cream

Listen in on Lady Esther program with Wayne King Broadcasting

75c Jar Four Purpose Cream 50c
Lady Esther Marvelous Powder 55c

Arriving daily—Lovely new spring coats and dresses. Spring shoes—lovel yties, pumps, and oxfords. Prices $2.9 5to $3.95.

FIRST TO SHOW THE NEWEST

THE HUB DEPARTMENT STORE

"Farmville Best Place to Shop"

"PRIMROSE HOUSE" COSMETICS

Featuring Primrose House Face Powder Regular $1.00 box, Special 69c

50c size Spearmint Tooth Paste 10c

Spearmint Tooth Brushes, 10c

EVERYTHING FOR THE COLLEGE GIRLS AT

BALDWIN'S

Quality—Price—Service

G. F. Butcher

High Street

"The Convenient Store"

FOR GOOD THINGS TO EAT AND DRINK

Gray's Drug Store

QUALITY—PRICE—SERVICE

Come in and Get Acquainted

We Are Glad to Have You With Us!

Farmville, Virginia

DON'T FORGET MARDI GRAS

THE ROTUNDA

POE

SUPPORT THE TEAM SATURDAY

We Teach To Teach

Volume XIV | THE ROTUNDA, WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 7, 1934 | No. 17

Dr. Bruce R. Payne of Peabody College To Be Founders Day Speaker

Peabody Teachers College President To Make Address Here For Fiftieth Anniversary

Dr. Bruce Ryburn Payne, President of George Peabody College for Teachers will be a featured speaker of the fiftieth anniversary celebration to be held March ninth and tenth, according to an announcement made by Dr. Jeffers, chairman of the program committee.

Dr. Payne, a well-known educator, was for a number of years prominent in Virginia educational circles, having been a member of the faculty of both William and Mary College and the University of Virginia. He was at one time a member of the board of the local institution. He is also author of many books in the educational field, among them being "Elementary Curricula in Germany, France, England and America" and "Southern Prose and Poetry."

Receiving his education in several prominent colleges and universities, Dr. Payne has been recognized by various other universities and awarded honorary degrees by them. He is a member of Phi Beta Kappa and of the best-known educational societies.

His participation in the Founders Day program will be of such a nature that it no doubt will leave a lasting impression upon all who hear him.

Lectures On Child Welfare To Be Given

Beginning on February 8, the Virginia State Department of Public Welfare will give a series of four lectures on child welfare to Miss Stubbs' new class in sociology. These lectures will be delivered from 12 to one o'clock in room 18 on the following topics and on the specified

1. February 2—Public Welfare in Virginia, by Mr. Arthur W. James, Commissioner of Department of Public Welfare.

2. February 13—Mental Hygiene by a member of the State Mental Hygiene Bureau.

3. February 15—The Dependent Child, by Miss Helen Taylor, Director of the Mother's Aid Bureau.

4. February 20—The Delinquent Child, by Mr. W. L. Painter.

Each of the speakers will try to present the topic in the way that will be the most interesting and helpful for future school teachers. A limited number of visitors will be welcomed.

STUDENT GOVERNMENT CONVENTION IN TENN.

The Southern Intercollegiate Student Government Association of which the local student government is a member will hold its annual meeting the first week in April at the University of Tennessee at Knoxville. The local association has for many years been considered a vauable asset in connection with solving the problems which are brought to the attention of the whole association. Many practical suggestion have been accepted from Farmville in regard to solving student problems. At the past three or four conventions a representative of Farmville has prominently participated in the program.

It has been customary for a numbers of years to send the old and new presidents of the Student Council to the convention. For this reason local delegates cannot be named until after major electons are held.

Last year because of the conventons being held at Randolph-Macon in Lynchburg several members of the student council were able to attend.

Ted Shawn To Dance With Men Ensemble

Presenting a program of dances entirel by men, Ted Shawn, who has been hailed throughout the world as America's greatest dancer, assisted by six men dancers whom he has trained and Jess Meeker, pianist-composer, will appear in the S. T. C. auditorium on February 16 as part of a history-making tour which has won for Shawn, the pioneer, far greater acclaim than any of his previous achievements.

Nothing but the highest of praise has been recorded by critics and audiences since the start of this, the first tour of its kind; a tour which is doing more than anything that has gone before to broaden the concept of what the art of the dance really is. As such it is winning legions of followers, men who recognize the dance as a many sport and art.

Recognizing the great contribution made to the dance by women, and without attempting in any way to detract glory from the great women dancers of the period, Mr. Shawn is proving that at least fifty per cent of the expression of life through the dance can be achieved only by men. Artistically and educationally the Shawn program this year conclusively proves his principles and argument.

According to Shawn, his program will go a long way toward overcoming the prejudice against dancing for men on the part of the American public which has considered it effeminate that any man who takes up dancing as a career must of necessity be of that type.. Those who have been loudest in denouncing male dancing before seeing Mr. Shawn and this group, have been completely converted and are now preaching just as ardently in its favor. Much of this is due to the virility and stamina necessary to meet the requirements of the Shawn training and performances, and to the type of men he has selected.

Pointing out that the successful

Continued on page four

STUDENTS TO ATTEND Y. W. CONFERENCE

At the T. Z. Koo conference to be held February 10, at Grace Covenant Church in Richmond the local Y. W. C. A. will be represented by the World Fellowship committee of which Grace Rowell is chairman.

This conference which is of an interracial, student-faculty nature receives its name from Dr. T. Z. Koo, chief speaker who is considered one of the most impressive and convincing Oriental speakers in this country. Dr. Koo will deliver two addresses and lead the discussions which will follow.

The conference is being sponsored by the Young Men's and Young Women's Christian Associations throughout the state and a most cordial invitation has been extended to members of the student body and faculty of the higher institutions of learning.

SOUVENIR PROGRAMS TO BE PRINTED SOON

Souvenir programs covering the entire proceedings of the fiftieth anniversary will be printed and distributed to the students, faculty, and visiting alumnae during the Founders Day celebration. The committee in charge of arrangements is composed of Mr. Alfred H. Strick, Miss Lila London and Mr. T. A. McCorkle.

TO SING FOUNDERS DAY

MARIE MURRAY, well-known contralto, who will appear on Founders Day program.

Pi Gamme Mu Completes Plans For Mardi Gras

Queen To Be Presented With Court the Night of Ball—Held Secret

Enthusiasm developing at S. T. C. for some months will culminate on Tuesday night, February 13, when, at the stroke of the ninth hour, the identity of the queen of the Mardi Gras will be revealed.

With throngs of masked and masqueraded spectators looking on, the queen, with eight attendants and their princes, will enter the dance hall accompanied by the Rex of her choice.

Following the coronation, the queen will lead a figure, dazzling in its blending of gorgeous costumes and rhythmic dancing.

At the conclusion of the feature dancing, the mistress and monarch will begin the dancing, with the rest of the crowd then falling in.

The local festival of the Mardi Gras, S. T. C.'s replica of the Creole Carnival, promises to be a gala occasion in the life of the College.

Under the auspices of Pi Gamma Mu, plans for the affair are materializing with the degree of success which forecasts that the night of the thirteenth will mark the climax of social activities here for the year. Furnishing the music for the occasion will be the Hampden-Sydney orchestra. A special feature of the Mardi Gras will be the awarding of prizes for the most original costumes, both boys and girls.

The princesses, all charming young women, chosen by a facuty committee, will serve as an attractive background for the queen. Their costumes, vivid and unusual will be characteristic of the old Greek days. Each has chosen her escort and with him will play her part in the festival so enshrouded in mysticism.

In a glamorous atmosphere of romance, mystery and make-believe, contributed to by decorations under the direction of Gamma Psi and by costumes of all varieties, the gay masqueraders at the Mardi Gras will frolic for several hours, refreshed occasionally by the wares of Spanish maidens.

Well-Known Artists To Appear Founders Day for Fiftieth Anniversary

Four Artists to Appear With Local Groups to Add Entertainment to Program

The fiftieth anniversary celebration which is to be held March ninth and tenth will include a program given by the department of music. This program which is to be given Saturday evening, March tenth, will feature the following artists: May Korb, soprano; Marie Murray, contralto; George Tinker, tenor; and John Percival, bass. All of these singers are well-known, having appeared with the leading oratorio and orchestral societies.

The program arrangement for this concert has been divided into two parts:

Part I—"The Messiah."

Part II—Secular numbers.

The numbers from "The Messiah" will be:

Overture.

"Comfort Ye"—Recit "Every Valley—Air.

And the glory of the Lord—chorus.

"Thus saith the Lord"—Recit. "Who May Abie"—Air.

O thou that tellest—air and chorus.

Glory to God in the Highest—chorus.

Rejoice Greatly—Soprano with chorus.

Then Shall the Eyes—Recit.

He Shall Feed His Flock—Contralto, soprano and chorus.

Hallelujah chorus.

A selected group from the College choir will sing the chorus parts.

The second part will include solos by the artists and ensemble numbers by the College Choir, Choral Club, and Orchestra. A feature of the ensemble groups will be the presentation of a "Festival Ode," written and composed by Alfred H. Strick, head of the music depart-

Continued on page three

Debate Held Here Proves Interesting

The Sino-Japanese debate held last Thursday evening in the college auditorium certainly proved that a Chinaman is not without a sense of humor. All who heard Dr. No-Yong Pao, can vouch for this.

Dr. Pao has a delightful twist to his thought and to his sentences, his English is just foreign enough to make it fascinating. He does not take his subject seriously enough to make it tiresome even to the overworked college student who is so easily bored.

Mr. Adachi has practically no accent, but he is a wily Jap. His first speech was disappointing to those who noted that he did not touch his subject, but he built up a defense mechanism against the propaganda which he said was abroad in the world concerning Japan, and thus answered his opponent's points before they were made. His main argument was that he and the other Japanese were loyal and patriotic but dumb, that they could not speak for themselves, but in his 10 minutes of rebuttal he swept his audience off their feet with a burst of impassioned eloquence which was the event of the evening.

Dr. Pao was witty, sarcastic, and forceful in his assertions that Japan had no excuse or reason for her invasion of Manchuria, asserting that the independent existence of Manchukuo was a grim farce and its petty emperor, Mr. Henry Pu Yi, a mere tool of Japan. Many would have liked to hear him develop further his thesis that no matter what invaders come and conquer, China absorbs them all and goes on as of old.

The audience left believing that Dr. Pao had won his debate and many of them next day decided that victory lay with the flowery kingdom of Japan.

DR. WYNNE PUBLISHES A NEW BOOK

Dr. John P. Wynne, Head of the Department of Education and Director of Teacher Training, is publishing a book, entitled "The Learning-Teaching Unit," which will be ready for delivery by Founders' Day. This book contains the series of five public lectures given by Dr. Wynne in January and sponsored by the Beta Epsilon Chapter of Kappa Delta Pi and the Virginia Gamma Chapter of Pi Gamma Mu. The titles of the five chapters in the book are as follows:

1. The Nature of the Learning-Teaching Unit.
2. The Criteria of the Learning-Teaching Unit.
3. The Technique of Teaching Units.
4. The Technique of Planning Units.
5. The Technique of Reporting and Evaluating Units.

The discussion of the learning-teaching unit is especially worth while to teachers in the public schools and in the Sunday schools, and to students and all others who one interested in the new method of teaching. The college is greatly indebted to Dr. Wynne for publishing a book on such a timely subject as the learning-teaching unit which is of particular interest throughout the state of Virginia at this time.

Dr. Park Presents Book To Library

Dr. No-Yang Park, eminent Chinese writer and lecturer, who appeared on the Lyceum course last Thursday, has presented to the library a copy of his latest book, entitled, "Making a New China."

The book is the result of extensive study made by a native of Manchuria who has studied abroad and has become an authority on international relations. It is said, perhaps truly, that the book is biased; yet the author shows a remarkable ability to cast aside race prejudices for the greater international truth regardless whose toes are tramped upon.

The volume treats the political and social conditions of China about 1929 by throwing light upon the past conditions which have produced them. There is hope for the future, and a challenge to China as well as to the other nations. Gratitude is expressed to those powers to whom it is due for kindness to the Chinese. Especial emphasis is laid upon the unjust treatment of China by stronger nations, yet Dr. Park urges his countrymen to lay aside the shackles of foreign unfairness and to strive to release themselves from bondage by making their nation a strong one both in government and in civilization.

Although essentially a history, the book is as readable as a modern novel. It is enlivened by numerous incidents which now and then have a personal touch; here and there is a speck of the Oriental humor which characterizes the author's public speeches. One who reads this book will find rich food for thought before he passes it by.

THE ROTUNDA

Member Southern Inter-Collegiate Newspaper Association
Member Intercollegiate Press Association of Virginia

Newspaper — National Scholastic Press Association — Member

Published by Students of State Teachers College, Farmville, Va.

Entered as second class matter March 1, 1921, at the Postoffice of Farmville, Virginia, under Act of March 3, 1879.

Subscription ..... $1.50 per year

ROTUNDA STAFF

Editor-in-Chief ... Mary Shelton, '34
Associate Editor .. Lelia Mattox, '35

Board of Editors

News ..... Evelyn Massey, '36
Make-Up ..... Katherine Hoyle, '36
Literary Editor ..... Birdie Wooding
Louise Walmsley, '36
World News ..... Velma Quarles, '34
Intercollegiate ..... Caroline Byrd, '36
Social ..... Marion Raine, '36
Art ..... Alice Rowell, '34
Feature ..... Elizabeth Walton, '36
Alumnae ..... Miss Virginia Potts

Reporters

Amis Montohery
Mary Hastings Holloway
Edith Shanks, '34; Mary Easley Hill, '34; Elizabeth Vassar, '35; Mary Elizabeth Alexander, '36; Lula Windley, '36.
Proof Readers: Katherine Coleman, '35
Grace Eubank, '36

Managers

Business ..... Mary Diehl, '34
Assistant ..... Elma Rawlings, '34
Circulation ..... Nell Oakey Ryan, '34
Assistant ..... Janice White, '35

The Rotunda invites letters of comment, criticism, and suggestion from its readers upon its manner of presenting and treating them. A letter, to receive consideration, must contain the name and address of the writer. These will not be published if the writer objects to the publication.

All matters of business should be addressed to the Business Manager and all other matters should come to the Editor-in-Chief. Complaints from subscribers as regards irregularities in the delivery of The Rotunda will be appreciated.

A CORNERSTONE

There is no more fitting time than this for us to look back and consider with a kind of reverence those early pioneers in the field of teacher-training who laid the cornerstone for the edifice which we today know as our Alma Mater. It was no cornerstone of marble or granite—it was an ideal and a vision of an institution which some day would serve mankind. In fifty years in the new field of teacher-training this vision has become a realization which takes its place in the forefront of institutions of its kind. Had it not been for those founders of '84 with courage of their convictions and zeal in their hearts we at Farmville would not enjoy the prestige we do today.

DR. FREDERICK DIEHL

There are few lasting impressions made on a college student. In retrospect, during the four years of such a life, as transient as it needs must be, the strongest impressions have been, not of texts, not of classrooms, not of things, but of persons.

In the passing of Dr Diehl the student body of our college has lost a sincere friend, one whose penetrating understanding permeated the campus and one whose vision lifted us beyond the world around us. Those of us here during the fire will remember how he warmed hearts and hopes when it seemed there would be little left of the college; Seniors will remember his Installation Services and his regular attendance at Senior Chapel on Saturday, busy day that it is for a minister; the Y. W. will be grateful for his invocations and for his benedictions for which he came so graciously regardless of the time or size of meeting.

Though the student body experiences poignant grief at its loss, its spirit will rise with those voices singing, "Gloria In Excelsis", for a life so beautifully lived.

A Former Student.

World News

The President called all the Latin American diplomats to his office, told them that he thought the Cuban Government of President Mendieta was ripe for recognition, that he intended to recognize Cuba the next day. The diplomats were delighted at such unusual courtesy. After reaching home, the Ambassador from Chile and the minister from Colombia telephoned friendly diplomats to find out what the President had said, inasmuch as they understood no English.

When eight months ago the then Premier Daladier of France raised the cry in the Senate, "The Republic is in danger!" it seemed no more than a political trick to whip Senators into line. Last week every Frenchman realized that the Republic was in danger and to pull it out Edouard Daladier was made premier of France again.

So excessively dull is the diction of Deputy Stanislaw Car that most of the opposition strolled out into the lobbies of Polands Sejm last week while he expatiated on the Government party's bill to make the Government of Poland constitutionally a dictatorship.

Strengthened by President Roosevelt's recognition, Russia now feels strong enough, Comrade Stalin indicated to withstand an assault from either Japan or Germany.

Stimulated by the dollar stabilization as announced by President Roosevelt, a swift upward movement took place in most security prices last Thursday and many issues sold at the highest levels in several years.

INTERCOLLEGIATE NEWS

To take all the subjects offered at Creighton University would require 61 years, carrying 16 hours a semester. A total of 1,815 credit hours is offered, and 16 degrees and three certificates are granted at the University of Wisconsin.

Athenaeum.

The Stanford co-eds must pass a physical examination before they are allowed to stay out until 12 o'clock on week nights and until 1:30 on Saturday nights.

Carnegie Tartan.

Whoever was wishing to be in Florida last week when it was so cold would have gotten fooled had they been there. The Florida Flambean says that Florida State College shivered in fur coats last Tuesday and Wednesday. Red cheeks and noses could well be described as the current fashions in complexion, while conversations were at an ebb until the chilled conversants thawed out.

Alabama College has found after some research among the college boys of the University of Alabama, Auburn, Birmingham-Southern and Howard College that the preference for the "old fashioned" girl is dominant. The modern flapper no longer has a chance. The results show that the five most desirable traits were: good disposition, good cerversationalist, good figure, intelligence and consideration for others. Contrary to popular opinion too, it was found that gentlemen prefer brunettes, yet blue eyes are preferred to brown eyes. That complicates matters dradfully. We could do something about our crowning glory when it was the wrong color but what can we do about the eyes?

SENIOR ROTUNDA STAFF

Editor-in-chief Sarah Hyde Thomas
Associate ..... Virginia Brinkley
News ..... Margaret Parker
World News ..... Elmer Foster
Intercollegiate ..... Louise Van Lear
Socials ..... Dorothy Prescott
Feature ..... Virginia Hamilton
Literary ..... Gertrude Mannes
Athletic ..... Mildred Gwaltney
Proof Reader ..... Grace Rowell
Circulation Mgr. ..... Frances Horton
Assistant ..... Nannie R. Cooper
Reporters ..... Helen Westmoreland
Lelia Lovelace

REMINISCENCES

Did you hear Eddie Cantor Sunday night? Well, do you remember the hammer that was used to make people younger? Every blow from the hammer made Eddie Rubinoff and Jimmy five years younger. Of course, I realized that it was all a part of the program, but the funniest thing happened after I went to sleep.

I dreamed that I was on the program with Eddie Cantor. He hit me a tremendous blow on the head with the magic hammer and the next minute I was talking a blue streak to Martha Sanders, Butsey Carter, Martha Walters and any number of other girls who were on the train with us coming to Farmville my freshman year. Instead of going back five years, I only went back four years—probably because that was such a red letter one.

In less than ten minutes I had told Eddie about every happening I could remember connected with S. T. C. Must have been Floyd Gibbons style—something like this:

September 21, 1930, Farmville, Va.

Two hundred and eighty-five very green-looking girls entered State Teachers College today for the first time. Strange to say, more concern was shown over the arrival of six hundred and some other girls who had been to the college before.

Sept. 23, 1930.

Same two hundred eighty-five girls were much upset tonight. It seems that two clubs, namely the 14 and N. B. B. O. Clubs, have tried to pledge the same girls by hook or crook—mostly crook. However, at 10 p. m. both clubs, with their new findings well in hand—had very orderly (?) processions through the venerable halls of the college. Every now and then spectators thought they heard such remarks as "Hallelujah, I'm an N. B. B. O.!" or "We're the cutest girls in school!" (14's of course.)

October 30, 1930.

Terror reigns! The Sophomores hold rat court. It's hard to describe the amount of hidden talent that was discovered along lines of dancing, singing, debating—and even peanut-rolling with the nose! One girl made the following entry in her diary: "Tonight I sang to Alice Moore. My theme song was the laundry list to the tune of 'I'm Dancing with Tears in My Eyes,—her selection, not mine.'"

April 20, 1931.

Fear expressed for quite a number of girls in this remarkable freshman class. They may be seen at any time wandering around with colorless faces, most unusual-looking hair, long black skirts, middie blouses (a trifle loose-fitting!) black ribbed hose and tennis shoes! They absolutely refuse to use the Rotunda door and insist on being the last to enter the dining-room.

April 23, 1931.

Miss Mary has come to the rescue! By 3 p. m. all Cotillion Club goats must be transformed into their original selves. Old girls of the club have been noticed to remark that every (big) dog has his day—or night—"Just wait until Thursday in the big gym—and don't forget your paddles!" (Izzatso?)

February 6, 1932.

"Betty Lou," the musical comedy hit of the year, was presented last night by the Sophomore Class. Among other stars, Margaret Banks made quite a hit as the villain. What it takes to make a hit, she has it. (Quoted from today's Rotunda.) Will you ever forget Chub Denit's appearance in the last scene!

February 10, 1932.

Among the song hits of '34 we note:

1. Old Playmate—Martha Kello.
2. Be Careful with Those Eyes—Mary Harrison.
3. The One Man Band—Margaret Banks.
4. Navy Blues—Bidgie Warren.
5. I Don't Know Why—Anne McGann.
6. Happy Feet—Cack Jones.
7. Snuggle on Your Shoulder—Virginia Lamb.
8. You Darling—Clara MacKenzie.

March 1, 1933.

As a fitting climax to the successful production "Patches" presented by the Juniors last Friday nite, a mock red and white wedding was staged. As the bridal party marched down the aisle to Lehengrin's Wedding March, Margaret Eley appeared on the stage in a red Tux as the preacher.

Unforgettable practices made possible this remarkable production.

ALUMNAE NEWS

Some more alumnae chapters! We're growing by leaps and bounds and proud of every new organization! lege Alumnae Association of Winchester, Scottsville and Charlottesville. In spite of the weather—and in the past few weeks we've had some—enthusiasm is still being displayed.

The Farmville State Teachers College Alumna eAssociation of Winchester was delightfully entertained at the home of Mrs. Garland Quarles, on Tuesday, Jan. 23. Plans were discussed for attending the Founder's Day celebration at Farmville and officers for the coming year were elected. The new officers are: Pres. Adele Hutchinson, Sect. Agnes Watkins. Following the business a delicious tea course was served. The following alumnae are members of this chapter: Mrs. Garland Quarles (Nancy Chrisman) Mrs. Harold Brown (Helen Miller), Mrs. John Steck (Mary Fielding Taliaferro), Mrs. Jack Ingle (Isabelle Payne), Mrs. Clark Cooper (Katherine Montague), Mrs. Rhodes Huntsberry (Virginia O'Connor), Mrs. Bruce Graham (Helen Chrisman), Mrs. H. I. Pifer (Lillian Bugg), Misses Katherine Pannill, Mary Boxley, Beulah Kline, Mary Gray, Edith Cornwell, Edna Lamb, Henrietta Cornwell, Virginia Ann Huntsberry, Ella Hunt, Davis, Mary Darden, Virginia Fritts, Virginia Boyd, Agnes Watkins, Mildred Landis and Adele Hutchinson.

Saturday, Feb. 3, was certainly not a very good day for a long drive, but in spite of that Miss Camper and Miss Mary White Cox "braved the storm" and drove to both Scottsville and Charlottesville to meet representatives of alumnae in those places. In Scottsville a new chapter was organized and officers elected: President, R. Paulette Omohundro; Vice President Lady Boggs, Secretary-Treasury Mary Barclay Hancock. The alumnae present were very much interested in the organization and hope for a large chapter.

In Charlottesville no chapter was definitely formed but plans were made to get the "old girls" together for a tea for the purpose of considering organization. Mrs. Eugene Nuckols, Mrs. Eunice Watkins Wood and Mrs. Edith Dickey Morris made plans to have a meeting calling alumnae in Charlottesville and environs together. We hope in a very short time to have a report from this section saying we have another new chapter; indications are that we will have. Come on, alumnae—we're with you!

LETTER TO EDITOR

Dear Editor:

The time draws nearer and nearer to our Founders Day celebration! Have we ever had any thought of what part we are going to have in making it one of the most out-standing event ever celebrated at our College? Whether we have been asked to help or not, each one of us has some duty to perform, whether it be great or small. If asked to serve in any way, let's not refuse by saying, "I haven't the time to spare." Remember the old saying, "If you really want to do something, you can always find the time." Let us want to do our part!

A committee composed of faculty members and students has been working on plans for this celebration for many, many months. Let's show them our appreciation by gladly and willingly cooperating with them in every way possible. Let's make our Alumnae proud of us, proud that they, too, have attended our College!

A Student.

March 27, 1933.

Quite a commotion was created this morning by the Senior chapel exercises. There was much weeping particularly noticeable among the Seniors and Juniors. Any number of Juniors have declared that the '34 Senior Chapel will not be quite so sad if they have anything to do with it.

October 10, 1934.

Here my dream ended. Guess I only wanted Eddie to know that we actually reached the state of being Seniors. He received from me a very sketchy idea of our experiences. But Seniors, you don't need any reminders to be able to read between the lines or to add hundreds of lines that my dream has omitted.

POETRY

ANOTHER DAY

When the day breaks with its burst of sun,
And the whole world seems in a rush and run,
We want to stop and solemnly call
To the God we know has given us all.

And when from a sweet bird's throat
Come thrilling many a beautiful note,
We listen silently and hear
And know that God is near.

When the last tints of the sunset fade away,
And we see the end of another day;
When with the twilight covers a peace so still
We know then that God is real.

When with its thousand eyes comes the night
And the pale moon gives all nature light,
When we are alone and humbly kneel to pray,
We know God will hear us as we thank
Him for another day.

B. Y. K., '34.

TO——

Strange, isn't it, how time
Changes one—
You thought I would care
And so I did—then.
I have no regrets,
No bitter mem'ries to blame
You for—not even a tiny
Heartache.
Yet—once I thought
Life was more than I could bear.
Instead, those hours with you—
Hours filled to the brim
Of—living—
Have left my life
Richer.
After all—one learns
Some way.

A MESSAGE

Did you think
That by leaving me
You would cause me
Unhappiness?
Wherever you are—
In this world
Tonight—
Look at those stars
Above you
And read my message
As though we were together—
I only want you
To know
That—
I am merely wiser.

REMINISCENCES

At dusk tonight, I heard
A violin—
Shimmering, silvery and high.
I smelt the soft earth,
Felt the wind and the rain
On my face.
I though of other
Years I had known.
—When I was happy.

SEEN IN PASSING

I walked the streets of the city tonight,
Straight toward the setting sun,
And watched the faces of those who passed,
I studied them one by one.
I knew who had been happy,
Whose day had been filled with cheer—
I knew who had lost their hopes and dreams,
The ideals they held most dear.

In all these years of my lonely life,
I've watched the people I meet,
History is not half as revealing
As those faces I watch in the street.

TOLERANCE

People go about from Day to day—
Each thinks his little
Life so important.
I stand by and watch them—
A half smile—curving my lips—
Just to see them
So busy—going to and fro.
After all—what does it
Matter?
If they only knew—
Those things aren't life!

SOCIALS

Many girls spent the week-end visiting their parents. These girls are: Helen Smith, Vernell Ayscue, Alfreda Shields, Frances Horton, Lelia Hill, Irwin Staples, Jessica Jones, Sallie Perrow, Katherine Hoyle, Anne Diggs, Dorothy Ranson, Elma Rawlings, Bobbie Saunders, Elizabeth Ranson, Minnie Smith, "Chic" Dortch, Virginia Hall, Coffey, Mildred Slayton, Nell and Helen Boswell, Bessie Hart, Fanny Bosworth, Mary Alice Farrell, Irene Parker, Margarite Bradford, Katheryn Fitzgerald, Lena MacGardner, Bessie Hix, Vicki MacGalliard, Billie Rountree, Katherine Richard, Charlotte Young Margaret Pollard, Emily and Frances Channell, Mary Burgess Fraser, Alice and Grace Rowell, Virginia Widgeon, Mildred Gwaltney, Victoria Gillette, Bernice Scott, Lois Ruth Jenkins, Nell and Mena Smelley, Annetta Purdy, Pauline Mosley, Gertrude Sugden, and Doris Eley.

Dorothy Price, Irene Bailey and Avis Dunn visited Frances Elder in Brookneal this week end.

Those who attended the dances at V. M. I. this week end are: Bernice Jones, Page Nottingham and Frances Woodhouse.

Mary Louise McNulty and Ruth Gaines went to Roanoke with Miss Moran Thursday.

Brooks Wheeler was the guest of Betsy and Billy Wilkinson in Lynchburg this week end.

Elizabeth Stubbs visited Dorothy Wingfield in Lynchburg.

The following girls were visitors in Richmond: Louis Jeffreys, Elizabeth Kelly, Katherine Conway, Helen Shawen and Mary Denny.

Frances Martin was in Blackstone this week end.

Sallie Kent spent the week end in Amherst.

Frankie Minter visited Frances Jameson in Pamplin this week end.

"Chic" Mosby attended the dances at Chapel Hill.

Bess McGlothlin visited in Durham, North Carolina.

Frances Johnson spent the week end in Appomattox.

Mary Cunningham was in Buchingham this week end.

Winifred Goodman visited in Alexandria this week end and attended the German Club in Richmond Friday night.

Ella Mallory was Sarah Beck's guest this week end in Butterworth.

Virginia Moses visited Jestine Cutshall in Roanoke this week end.

Mary Berkeley Nelson spent the week end with the Eley's in Norfolk.

Edna Hatcher was in Danville this week end.

Rose Somers spent the week end in Burkeville.

Alice Elder visited in Clarkton.

Lucy Miller was in South Boston this week end.

Marion Layne visited in Gladys this week end.

GAMMA THETA HOLDS BANQUET AT LONGWOOD

A delightful banquet was given by Gamma Theta Sororiety in honor of the new pledges at Longwood on Saturday night, February 3. Those present, in addition to the old members and pledges were, Miss Stubbs, adviser; Miss Mix, Pan-Hellenic adviser; Mrs. T. J. McIllwaine and Mrs. Boyd Coyner, Alumnae.

The table was attractive decorated with yellow and white snay-dragon, and blue candles.

FRENCH CIRCLE HOLDS VALENTINE PARTY

Le Cercle Francais was entertained Monday night with a delightful Valentine party given by the president. Everyone was greeted with a small red heart, on which was written the name of some great lover in history. Much amusement and gayety was the result of deligent efforts in broken French to discover just who was who and who her lover was.

After a few remarks by the president, the thought of the evening turned from the somewhat American custom of Valentine Day to a more strictly French atmosphere with the following program:

Talk on Anatole France by Anne Putney.

Talk on Pasteur by Carmen Clark.

The meeting ended with the singing of the Marseillaise.

NEW BOOKS IN COLLEGE LIBRARY

Alice Tindale Hobart has given us "Oil or the Lamps of China," an epic o fan American trader in China. It is said by eminent critics that in this book Mrs. Hobart does for the American trader in China what Pearl Buck does for the native Chinese in "The Good Earth" and other stories. The picture is centered around a delightful love story that is easy to read, yet of intrinsic value as a portrayal of contemporary Chinese conditions.

"Innocent Bystanders"
Faith Baldwin

"Sherry and Jimmy were married in the summer" usually marks the end of a story.

But Faith Baldwin in her latest novel breaks away from the conventional theme. She gives us a picture of the early married life of a young couple very much in love with each other, but who are only "Innocent Bystanders" when it comes to facing life and its problems.

You will appreciate her solution of the problem that may face you some day.

"The Greater Courage"
Margaret Pedler

Is there ever an excuse for cowardice?

Was it cowardice when Jim Stafford left a strange boy to drown in a stormy sea? He was thinking only of an invalid mother entirely dependent upon him.

A most unusual love story is woven around what Jenifer thought was cowardice, but which Jim knew was the greater courage.

"Mother"
By Pearl Buck

"The Mother", by Pearl Buck, deals with Chinese peasants. There is very little subtle meaning in the book. It shows very plainly the similarity of the natures of people of different races. The superstitions of the people are presented so that they hardly seem to be superstitious at all; they seem to be real. The missionary is mentioned only once and then in the form of spothecary. Could that be an effort to show how few really efficient missionaries there are in China? Could it be a "dig" at the committee which caused the author's resignation from the missionary field?

The individual style of the author is very poetic and Biblical. The author's descriptive powers add a great deal to the book. Perhaps, if the same story was written by another author, it would be hardly acceptable.

The general effect is depressing and is not as good as that of "East Wind: West Wind" which is a beautiful book and one of the first written by Pearl Buck. Those who like realism in its most exact form will enjoy it to the utmost degree.

Miss Mix Entertains

Miss Mix delightfully entertained her Kindergarten teachers of this quarter and last at a tea Friday afternoon.

The favors carried out the Valentine theme.

Those attending were: Nancy Harleson, Ruth Talbot, Dorothy Justice, Mary Louise McNulty, Claudia Barleon, Martha Scott Watkins, and Helen Rose Cunningham. Alice McKay assisted in the serving.

Miss Hiner Entertains Y. W. C. A. Cabinet

Miss Mary Clay Hiner entertained the Y. W. C. A. Cabinet in her home Wednesday afternoon at tea.

The regular cabinet meeting followed the social hour.

"Dickering, dickering, Doc,
With patients lined up a block,
With fits and coniptions,
They wait for prescriptions,
Liquor me, liquor me, Doc."

YOU WOULD LOVE TO HAVE YOUR SHOES FIXED AT THE
Lovelace Shoe Shop
110 Third Street

S. A. Legus
TAILOR
CLEANING
PRESSING
REPAIRING
Phone 203

JOHN PERCIVAL, bass-baritone who will participate in Founders Day program.

CALENDAR

Wednesday, February 7:
5.00—Y. W. C. A. Cabinet Meet
7:00—Rotunda Staff
7:30—Pi Gamma Mu.
Thursday, February 8:
7:00—Kappa Delta Pi.
7:00—Debate Club.
8:00—Beta Pi Theta.
Friday, February 9:
7:00—Monogram Club.
7:00—Gamma Psi.
Saturday, February 10:
3:00—Basketball game.
Monday, February 12:
7:00—Virginia Staff.
7:30—A. A. Council meeting
8:00—Alpha Kappa Gamma.
Tuesday, February 13:
7:00—Class meeting.
7:30—Artist dance group.
9:00—Mardi Gras.
10:00—Student Council.

The student body wishes to express its sympathy to Misses Catherine and Mary Diehl in their recent bereavement.

WELL-KNOWN ARTISTS TO APPEAR FOUNDERS DAY

Continued from page one

ment. This number will be sung by two choirs, antiphonally. The first choir will be composed of the College Choir and Hampden-Sydney Glee Club, the second, the Choral Club and the Business Men's Chorus. Mr. Strick will accompany the artists and chorus and direct the "Festival Ode." Prof. White of Hampden-Sydney College and Mrs. William P. Gills will accompany the latter number.

Arrangements are being made to broadcast the second part of the program over the facilities of W. R. V. A. directly from the college auditorium. The broadcast will last one hour and begin promptly at 9 o'clock.

Because this program is one of the most pretentious ever planned in Farmville, students taking part are rehearsing daily in order that the high standard already set up by the choral groups may be surpassed and that credit may be reflected upon the Alma Mater who has alrady won recognition through the activities of her music department.

This concert will come as a fitting finale to the "Golden Jubilee" and will reflect something of the spirit of the last verse of the "Festival Ode."

Ride on, ride on! in majesty and in truth!
Virginia's honored name unfurl on high,
Your symbol hope in everlasting youth,
Mother of Souls, whose names can never die.

MODERN YOUTH IS CHANGING RAPIDLY

According to Dean Virginia C. Gildersleeve of Barnard College, Columbia University, the depression is producing an altered attitude of mind on the part of the youth of the land, and it is a change for the better. The spirit of blase indifference which was "rather prevalent among college students" seems now to have entirely disappeared.

The long ordeal through which the world has been passing cannot have failed to effect the temperament of youth and the vulgarity, the pertness, the sophistication characteristic while money was flowing has collapsed. The business of living has become a serious affair and college students recognize the need of grappling with the problems just as their elders do. It is reported that the average grades have materially increased in every institution of higher learning in the country. Dean Gildersleeve notes the change and rejoices over it as do all. Some good does arise from evil, it seems.

Kleanwell
CLEANERS AND TAILORS
Expert Cleaning, Repairing and Remodeling of Ladies Garments
Main Street, Opposite Postoffice
PHONE 98

"HE LOVED HER IN THE SPRING, because she was dressed in DOROTHY MAY clothes!

Chic, snappy new spring prints, dresses, also high shades in three price ranges—$2.97—$5.45 and $7.45

Gorgeous dance frocks—just arrived—$9.45 and $12.45.

Blue Moon Dollar Silk Hose, French Chiffon, Lace Top. Special 69c
Lovely new Spring Coats and May West Suits—arriving daily

Where the Smart College Girl Shops

THE DOROTHY MAY STORE

WE ARE especially fitted to Supply
the Needs of COLLEGE WOMEN
Call to see our NEW SPRING LINES
DAVIDSON'S

EACO
THEATRE
Program February 8 to 14

Thursday and Friday
February 8 and 9
Bing Crosby
and Marion Davies
in
'GOING HOLLYWOOD'
This picture is sheer delight. It has everything. Bing and Marion singing love—and making love. It is royal entertainment of romance and rythm, song and spectacle. A bevy of wonderful girls who can sing and dance Marion fell in love with a crooner (Bing) and followed him to Hollywood, and you get right in the center of the Metro Studios. You'll love it!
Also Fatty Arbuckle in "TOMALIO"
Prices: Matineess 25c; nights 35c

Saturday, February 10
Ann Harding
Nils Asther
Robert Young
in
"THE RIGHT TO ROMANCE"
Ann Harding penetrates the guarded depths of a woman's secret soul in this sublime picture of a sainted wife who stepped from her pedestal for a fling at life and love. She plunges into heart aguish when her surgical skill is solicited to restore the beauty of her husband's true love after an airplane crash. She comes through and then her happiness is found in the other man, who has been waiting for her a long time. It's splendid!
Betty Boop, Fox News
Chapter 2, Buster Crabbe in "Tarzan the Fearless"

Next Monday and Tuesday
February 12 and 13
Lilian Harvey
and
Gene Raymond
in
"I AM SUZANNE"
You've been waiting for a picture like this. A romance with "7th Heaven", music and spectacle like "Sunnyside Up", and a surprise novelty never before shown on the screen. Story—Two youthful hearts in a delightful romance. Music, wait till you hear "St. Moritz Waltz" and "Just a Little Garret." Spectacle—three sensational revue numbers; beauty, girls and magnificent settings. Novelty—Pedrecca's Piccoli Marionettes. A picture you will enthuse over and tell your friends about.
Also Vaugh DeLeith in "Radio Roundup," and Metro News. Prices: Matinee, 25c; Nights 35c.

Next Wednesday, February 14
Fay Wray
Nils Asther
in
"MADAME SPY"
She knew what she wanted and how to get it—the secrets from men they could divulge. She was as beautiful as she was ruthless; and cunning as she was alluring. The love story of a beautiful adventuress who became a loving wife, only to have a world plunge her back into the role of adventuress. It's a swift moving drama that plunges you among the innermost secrets of men and women of high places.
Also POPEYE THE SAILOR in "WILD ELEPHINKS"

Daily matinees at 4 P. M. Evenings at 8 P. M.

Prices—Adults, 20c at matinees and 25c at nights; except on percentage pictures, when we must charge 25c and 35c.

C. E. Chappell
COMPANY
Stationery, Blank Books and School Supplies
Cigars, Cigarettes and Soda
Farmville, Virginia

S. T. C. To Play First Varsity Basketball Game Saturday, February 10th

First varsity game of the season will be played in the S. T. C. gymnasium on Saturday afternoon, at three o'clock, with Sweet Briar College.

Unusual interest is being manifest in the game because of the local team's undefeated record of last season. The entire student body is expected to attend and cheer to victory the team which has always acquitted itself with honor.

The following compose the squad: Martha Putney, Margaret Kent, Page Magee, Sally Rose Chappell, Lelia Mattox, Lelia Sanford, Mildred Gwaltney, Florence Sanford, Kathleen Ranson, Bernice Mann, Ruby Vestal, Marguerite York, Frances Burger, Kitty Roberts, Ruth Roberts, Louise Walmsley, Linda Walker, Bobbie Smith, Victoria Gillette, Ellen Gilliam, Sarah Beck, Margaret Parker and Sue Yeaman.

TED SHAWN TO DANCE WITH MEN ENSEMBLE

Continued from page one

teachers of the dance from the dawn of history to the present time have been largely men, Mr. Srawn admits that the dance pioneers in America were women, chiefly because of the prejudice, through our puritan traditions, was greater here against men indulging in any form of art expression. But he insists, with the growth of the public thought in relation to the dance as a great and impotrant human activity, there will inevitably come to an acceptance of the idea of dancing as a virile and manly profession. The outstanding exhibit in this direction was the course in dancing conducted last fall by Mr. Shawn at Springfield College, one of the foremost schools of physical education in the country, where the most athletic-minded student body in the country studied dancing under him with the same seriousness and enthusiasm as they studied football under the football coach.

"The dance," Mr. Shawn explains, "cannot reach its compete development and fulfillment of expression unless it is an equal partnership. It will have to be just as much an art and career for men as for women; men of backbone and brawn, men of great calibre capable of making great lawyers, great merchants, great statesmen, but who see in the dance a wider field of usefuness to humanity."

Thus far in the Shawn tour, it has been the men who have attended his performances who have become the most stalwart of converts to his theories.

INTERESTING PROGRAMS TO BE IN LYNCHBURG

Miss Emma Adams, who for a number of years has been able to secure for this section of Virginia the very best in musical entertainment announces the appearance of several features of note.

Among these are Albert Spalding, famous violinist, and the Minneapolis Symphony orchestra, conducted by Eugene Ormandy. In addition to these, the famous Tory Sarg, Marionettes, will be presented.

A BIRTHDAY

A BIRTHDAY

My heart is like a singing bird
Whose nest is in a watered shoot;
My heart is like an apple tree
Whose boughs are bent with thickset fruit;
My heart is like a rainbow shell
That paddles in a halcyon sea;
My heart is gladder than all these
Because my love is come to me.

Raise me a dais of silk and down;
Hang it with vair and purple dyes;
Carn it in doves and pomegranates,
And peacocks with a hundred eyes;
Work it in gold and silver grapes,
In leaves and silver fleure-de-lys;
Because the birthday of my life
Is come, my love is come to me.

—Christina Rossetti.

Professor: "Will you men stop exchanging notes in the back of the room?"

Student: "These aren't notes, professor, they're cards. We're playing bridge."

Professor: "Oh, I beg your pardon."

NEWS FROM OTHER CAMPUSES

Education In Nazi Germany

Germany has decided that only 15,000 students will be permitted to enter Germany universities next year. Only one woman for every 10 men will be permitted to matriculate.

Thus Germany hopes to solve the problem of jobless possessors of doctor's degrees—and solve the problem it may, but we doubt if the results will help Germany at all.

Germany has taken the bull by the horns, however. In this country we turn out more and more educated youths each year, with no prospect for jobs.

We would not recommend such a solution as Germany's—not unless we want to go the whole way in fantastic control. But some solution must eventually be found. Unless our educators and unless our students themselves begin to sharpen their wits and work on the problem, some drastic procedure may be necessary for America some time in the not very distant future.

—Daily Illini.

Scraps for College Girls

"Wean out, but never rust out."

"All I know is that I know nothing."

"Be game—but not everybody's."

"Courage consists in hanging on one minute longer."

"It isn't a matter of how many words you speak, but how well you speak them."

"A lady is a woman who always remembers others and never forgets herself."

"The reason so few reach the top is because no successful method has yet been devised by which a person may sit down and slide up hill."

"Wouldn't this old world be better,
If the folks we met would say,
I know something good about you,
And then treat us that way?"

—Parley Voo.

Purdue Women Instructed in Gracefulness and Charm

Purdue women are now given an opportunity to take a course in "Charm" where they learn such important things as how to hold a cigarette gracefully and how to avoid spilling cocktails on their best in party gowns.

—Renssalaer Polytechnic.

RADIO HIGHLIGHTS FEBRUARY 7 TO 11

Wednesday

8:30—Albert Spalding, WABC
9:00—Troubadours, WEAF
9:30—John McCormack, WJZ
9:30—Lombardo, WABC
10:00—Lopez Orchestra, WJZ
10:00—Waring Orchestra, WABC
11:15—Negro Quintet, WABC
11:30Little Orchestra, WABC

Thursday

8:00—Rudy Valee Orchestra, WEAF
9:30—Duchin Orchestra, WJZ
10:00—Paul Whitman, WEAF
10:00—Gray Orchestra, WABC

Friday

8:00—Jessica Dragonette, WEAF
8:00—Green Orchestra, WABC
9:00—Leah Ray; Harris Orchestra, WJZ.
9:00—Lyman Orchestra, WEAF
9:30—Maud Adams, WEAF
11:15—Boswell Sisters, WABC

Saturday

8:00—Olsen Ochestra, WEAF
9:30—Duchin Orchestra, WJZ
9:45—Oxford Quartet, WMCA
10:00—Rolfe Orchestra, WEAF
10:00—Byrd Expedition, WABC
11:30—Paul Whiteman, WJZ

Sunday

3:00—Wayne King, WEAF
8:00—Eddie Cantor
8:30—Waring Orchestra, WABC
9:00—Will Rogers, WJZ
9:00—Nino Martini, WABC
10:00—Rebroadcast from Byrd Expedition, WABC.

"The keynote of success is the ability to conquor the things in which you have failed."

—Marie Dressler.

RICE'S SHOE STORE

Street and Dress Shoes

Dancing Slippers Dyed

Correct fits our speciality

FROM OLD ROTUNDAS

NAME IS CHANGED

Pending the signature of the governor is a bill passed by the Senate and Legislature changing the name of the State Normal School for Women at Farmville, Va., to State Teachers College. As a result of this change of name, men will be no longer debarred from entrance.

This change of name will come as a relief to the students, alumnae and patrons of this institution who have long felt that the former old-fashioned appellation was out of keeping with the advanced educational methods herein taught.

MISS TABB WINS CONTEST

Enthusiasm centering around Farmville's new hotel, the question arose as to what the name should be. The Hotel Corporation accordingly announced that a contest would be held and the person submitting the most suitable title would be awarded $10 in gold. When the contest closed, quite a number of names had been sent in. However, the board of directors latter announced that Hotel Weyanoke is the name selected for the new hotel, this name being suggested by Miss Jennie M. Tabb, Registrar of State Teachers College, and Mrs. Frank W. Fallwell of Farmville. The name as offered above is the name of the Indian tribe which inhabited this section of the country many years ago. We feel sure then that this name is, by far, the most appropriate from a historical standpoint.

A. C. E. INITIATES NEW MEMBERS

The Association of Childhood Education held its initiation ceremony Wednesday night at 10 o'clock. The following new members were initiated:

Elizabeth Darden, Mattie Lula Cooper, Burnley Brockenbrough, Nan Edmunds, Eva Owen, Dorothy Justis, Mary Louise McNulty, Iola McIntyre, Virginia Riddick, Cornelia Bristow, Beverly Barksdale, Margaret Woodard, Marjorie Booton, Claudia Barleon, Helen Boswell, Nell Boswell, Bessie Hart, Crenhaw Jones, and Margaret Murry.

"It is amazing how many people expect the world to get better but do not expect it to change."—Dr. Smart.

Mack's

BARBER AND BEAUTY SHOP

323 Main Street

We use the Frederick Method

Hair Cutting and Thinning a Specialty

Weyanoke

BEAUTY SALON

A Complete Beauty Service At Moderate Prices

What we have done for others we can do for you

WEYANOKE HOTEL
Farmville Va.

COMMON COURSE

All the students in all the colleges ever founded are taking one course in common—the art of "Chewing the Ragg."

It is a course in which there is involved no hard work, no professors, no assigned readings, or preparation of any sort, no examinations, no hours of credit and no degree.

Far from requiring any study itself the "Bull Session" is probably the worst enemy of study. Those who major in it are missing a great deal of college.

But, conversely, those who shirk it are missing equally as much; there is no single course which has as lasting an effect as the "Bull Session."

Little in the way of organized knowledge can be gained from the course, however, although the alert participant finds it easy to pick up some emperical facts and fancies concerning Jean Harlow, Russia, sex, jiu-jitsu, Samuel Johnson, May Cottage, Boecaccio, billiards and spring.

The chief value of the "bull-session" is its open frankness, its unaffected camarderie, its hearty give-and-take that can be found in no other college activity.

For when the stories, clean and otherwise, have been exhausted (and I have heard no new ones since November), the conversation is likely to turn to almost anything, and it is such discussion, often intelligent, usually foolish, always animated and always sincere, which helps immesurably in the most important thing in college life—making friends.

—Oberlin Review

Barley found in a 7000-year-old Egyptian tomb was shown to be identical with the barley grown in modern Egypt.

Electric Shoe Shop

Will Fix Your Shoes While You Wait

BEST WORKMANSHIP AND LEATHER USED

WILLIS
The Florist

FLOWERS FOR ALL OCCASIONS

PHONES 181-273

CHINA'S BOY EMPEROR HEADS MANCHUOKUO

Young and democratic Henry Pu-Yi will become emperior of two-year-old Manchuokuo on March 1, amid the splendor he knew as China's boy emperor.

His elevation from his present position as civilian executive of aMnchuokuo, established by the sponsorship of Japan in territory wrested from North China, will follow upon the promulgation of a new constitution like Japan's and a new proctocol to guarantee his Sovereignty and proclaim Japan's right to defend the infant state.

A variable star that changes its brightness 16 times a day was discovered at Yale's Johannesburg Station.

The first prize of the National Liars Club was awarded this year to B. Cereaso of Langeloth, Pa., who sent in this one: "My grandfather had a clock that was so old that the shadow from the pendulum swinging bak and forth had worn a hole in the back of it."

Martin JEWELER

Gifts of Lasting Remembrance

317 Main St. Farmville

We give Jubilee tickets

SouthsideDrugStore

(On the Corner)

Films Developed

FREE

If bought at this store

Shannon's

Is Headquarters for the Best SANDWICHES —and— DRINKS —in— FARMVILLE!

THE HUB—Exclusive Agents

LADY ESTHER—four purpose vanishing cream

Listen in on Lady Esther program with Wayne King Broadcasting

75c Jar Four Purpose Cream 50c
Lady Esther Marvelous Powder 55c

Arriving daily—Lovely new spring coats and dresses. Spring shoes—lovel yties, pumps, and oxfords. Prices $2.9 5to $3.95.

FIRST TO SHOW THE NEWEST

THE HUB DEPARTMENT STORE

"Farmville Best Place to Shop"

"PRIMROSE HOUSE" COSMETICS

Featuring Primrose House Face Powder
Regular $1.00 box, Special 69c

50c size Spearmint
Tooth Paste 10c

Spearmint Tooth Brushes, 10c

EVERYTHING FOR THE COLLEGE GIRLS AT

BALDWIN'S

Quality—Price—Service

G. F. Butcher

High Street

"The Convenient Store"

FOR GOOD

THINGS TO EAT AND DRINK

Gray's Drug Store

QUALITY—PRICE—SERVICE

Come in and Get Acquainted

We Are Glad to Have You With Us!

Farmville, Virginia

DON'T MISS TED SHAWN

THE ROTUNDA

SUPPORT YOUR TEAM SATURDAY!

We Teach To Teach

Volume XIV | THE ROTUNDA, WEDNESDAY, FEB. 14, 1934 | No. 18

Ted Shawn Dancers To Present Variety Performance Friday

Dances on Religious Themes, Humorous Numbers, and Music Visualization

SOLO DANCES BY TED SHAWN

When Ted Shawn and his men dancers appear here at S. T. C. Auditorium on Feb. 16 the program will include dances derived from purely masculine sources—rhythms of labor and sports, primitive dances, dances on religious themes, humorous numbers, and "music visualizations" of great classic composers.

Music Dances: The opening number of the program is danced to the "Polonaise" of Edward MacDowell by the ensemble of six men. Here is music which has the quality of a bugle call, stirring, full of conflict, and with dynamic impact. Shawn follows this with a solo to another MacDowell composition, "March Find," which is literally a tour de force. The two next dances are a plastique group to the Sixth Prelude from the Well-tempered Clavichord of Bach, which is like liquid-sculpture, dealing with pure design in movement and grouping, as Bach stands for pure mathematics in music: and the Two - part Invention, No. 4, in which two men dance one part exactly, and the other two men are equally exact in visualizing the second part, thus presenting a correct visual counterpart to the music. The music section of the program finishes with the exciting Brahms Rhapsody, (Op. 119, No. 4). This group in which Shawn dances with four men has already had over a hundred public performances, and has always stood out as a high point in every program. It is a masterful piece of dance writing, and grips the audience with an intensity not surpassed by a Dempsey-Tunney championship battle.

John Brown sees the Glory, Shawn's newest and greatest solo work, fills the second section of the program by itself. It is a great theme, an American epic, based on the life of John Brown the abolitionist, who was martyred in his fight for the cause of freedom. Jess Meeker, composer-pianist, who accom-

Continued pag 4, column 2

Four S. T. C. Girls Debate In Ashland

S. T. C. and Randolph-Macon College held a dual debate in Ashland at 8:15 o'clock Saturday night, February 10. S. T. C. was represented by Helen Smith of Roanoke and Victoria Gilette of Courtland, upholding the negative side, and Agnes Bondurant of Rice and Mildred Slayton of Crewe upholding the affirmative side. Mr. Holton, who coaches the debaters here, accompanied the team to Ashland.

The question debated was "Resolved That the Federal Government Should Control All Radio Broadcasting." The R. M. C. debaters on the affirmative side of the question were W. H. Hoopes of Philadelphia and George Davis of Warrenton. Their negative debaters were, Spottswood Kean of Ashland and James Turner of Hampton.

Both sides presented convincing arguments, showing careful preparation and thorough training. Since the debate was held for the purpose of giving practice to the debaters, no decision was rendered. The girls gained much helpful experience and many valuable ideas through the points of the critic judges.

Outstanding Speaker From Blue Ridge To Visit S. T. C. Soon

One of the outstanding events of the winter quarter will be the coming of Dr. W. A. Smart, professor of Biblical Theology at Emory University Atlanta, Georgia. Dr. Smart comes to Farmville under the auspices of the World Fellowship committee of the Y. W. C. A. and through the co-operation of other Virginia colleges. He will arrive in Farmville from Fredericksburg Wednesday night, February 21, with a group of the World Fellowship Committee, who will attend the state conference of World Fellowship workers at Fredericksburg which Dr. Smart will lead. He will remain in Farmville until Monday, February 26.

This four-day visit of Dr. Smarts will include individual conferences, select discussion groups, open discussion groups, talks to Sociology and History classes, talks in chapel, morning watch, prayers and two services at the Methodist Church. It is the wish of Dr. Smart that most of his time be taken up with individual conferences, these will be arranged. He will be honored with an informal reception Saturday night.

The S. T. C. delegates that attended the Southern Student Conference at Blue Ridge last summer were favorably impressed with Dr. Smart as a most thought-provoking speaker. From other delegates they learned that Dr. Smart spends all the time he can spare from university duties making speaking tours of colleges. With the co-operation of other Virginia delegates it was arranged that within the coming year Dr. Smart would visit Virginia. Farmville is extremely lucky, however, in having him on her campus longer than the other colleges.

Dr. Smart was the outstanding speaker at Blue Ridge and was often quoted. He is not only interesting but very stimulating. Young people

Continued on page four

MISS BARNES LECTURES ON TUDOR MUSIC

At the regular meeting of the Music Department of the Farmville Woman's Club held last Thursday evening in the student building lounge, Miss Helen Barnes of the English department of the college presented a most comprehensive paper on Tudor music.

Miss Barnes discussed in detail the various phases of this early music, bringing in the monarches under whose reigns it flourished, the composers, and the occasions upon which it was used. Much emphasis was laid upon the madrigal, an early form of composition.

By way of illustration at various points in the lecture several of the quaint old melodies were sung by Misses Edna Hatcher, Bernice Scott, Mary McCarn and Margaret Murry. Illustrating the music of Ben Jonson's day, Mr. Strick played, "Drink to Me Only With Thine Eyes."

PI GAMMA MU BIDS THREE NEW MEMBERS

The Virginia Gamma Chapter of Pi Gamma Mu, national honor fraternity of the social sciences wishes to announce the following new members: M. B. Coyner, Mary Diehl, and Mildred Linthicum. Mr. Coyner, a member of the Faculty, has made numerous investigations in the field of education and has shown marked interest and ability as an educator. Mary Diehl, a Senior, is also a member of Alpha Phi Sigma, Gamma Psi, and Pi Kappa Sigma. Mary has proved to be a very capable business manager of the Rotunda. Mildred Linthicum, a Junior, has done unusual work in the social sciences. She is a member of the Latin Club and of Kappa Delta Pi.

MISS GRACE MORAN

Junior Class Man

Plans For Founders Day Are Complete

Plans for Founders Day are rapidly nearing completion. There will be a combination of talent here unsurpassed in the history of the school: speakers, musicians, dance artists and distinguished guests.

Dr. S. C. Mitchell to Speak

Dr. Samuel Chiles Mitchell of the University of Richmond will be one of the principal speakers at the opening event Founders Day, the anniversary program to be held in the auditorium Friday morning.

Dr. Mitchell is a noted lecturer, editor, historian and educator. He received his M. A. from Georgetown College, his Ph. D. from the University of Chicago, and several honorary degrees from various universities. Dr. Mitchell has been especially interested in history, being at present professor of history at the University of Richmond and a member of the American Historical Association.

Dr. Douglass Freeman to Speak

Dr. Douglass Southall Freeman, the editor of the Richmond News Leader, will make a brief address at the formal dinner Saturday night.

Dr. Freeman has received, in addition to his A. B. taken at the University of Richmond and his Ph. D. from Johns Hopkins, honorary degrees from Washington and Lee and William and Mary. He is Phi Beta Kappa, Phi Gamma Delta and Omicron Delta Kappa. He has been interested in educational and historical research as well as in his literary work as author and editor, being a member of the National Education Council and president of the Southern Historical Association.

Dance Groups Present Program

A very attractive dance program will be presented Saturday morning at the annual Founder's Day program by the Artist Dance Group assisted by the natural dance and tap dancing classes.

Their concluding number will be a dance study of the college halls in tableau form at which time gifts from student organizations will be presented by Alice McKay, who will be the center of the tableau. This promises to make a beautiful and artistic picture expressing the loyalty of each one who has worked hard and faithfully toward making contributions.

Training School to Be Open

The Campus Training School will be open Friday afternoon from 2:30 until 5 o'clock for visitation. The Student Teachers and Supervisors will conduct the exhibition of the work done in the Training School.

Farmville Varsity Team Wins 18-13 In First Game of the Season

Farmville basketball team defeated Sweet Briar's team Saturday afternoon in a hard fought battle, ending with a score of 18-13.

The game started off with a bang. The pass work of Farmville was something to dream about, being of the fast follow-through type. Sweet Briar team fought hard, but were not able to succeed. Swift play continued throughout the first half, leaving the opposing team bewildered. The score at the end of the half was 9-7 in Farmville's favor.

At the beginning of the second half the Sweet Briar team seemed to have started anew, and the Farmville team was forced to fight much harder. The spectators were thrilled at the beautiful shots made by the Farmville team. Especially were the spectators overwhelmed when a Farmville forward made a long shot and the ball went rolling into the basket. Excellent work of our guards prevented Sweet Briar from rolling up the score while our centers and forwards played a fast game.

Both teams showed fine coaching and played a clean game.

A large per cent of the student body came out to support their team and gave their individual support to Rountree, in cheering for the team. Riddick, Anne Irving and Billy the cheer leaders, Helen Shawen, Red

Line up:

Sweet Briar		Farmville
Parker	R.F.	Cabell
Magee	L.F.	Huber
Ranson	S.C.	Myers
Putney	S.C.	Burwell
Beck (c)	R.G.	Silvester
Jilliam	L.G.	Alcott (c)

Substitutes: Farmville, Yeaman for Magee, Mattox for Putney, Putney for Yeaman.

FACULTY MEMBERS AT EDUCATORS MEETING

An educational meeting was held at Hotel Roanoke last Friday and Saturday, February 9 and 10. The discussion centered around "Efficiency of the Modern College" with many new tendencies continuously brought forward.

Prominent in the discussion was Dr. W. R. Smithy, nephew of our own Miss Estelle Smithy, head of the Modern Language Department. Drs. Jarman and Wynne of S. T. C. also took an active part in the discussions. Dr. Morris Allan of Hampden-Sydney presented a paper, thought by many to be the best, entitled, "Good Teaching From the Students' Point of View."

A very enjoyable banquet was held Friday night for the entertainment of the guests in the dining room of the hotel.

Many famous educators from all over the state were there. Those attending from S. T. C. were: Drs. Jarman, Walmsley, Jeffers, Wynne, and Miss Nichols.

ALPHA KAPPA GAMMA BIDS TWO JUNIORS

The Joan Circle of Alpha Kappa Gamma, national honor fraternity, for leadership, took into its circle Jestine Cutshall and Margaret Herndon.

Jestine Cutshall served on the Y. W. C. A. Cabinet her sophomore year as chairman of Sing. This year she is president of the House Council. She is also treasurer of the Cotillion Club and a member of Mu Omega, social sorority.

Meg Herndon has been particularly outstanding in dramatics being a member of the executive board of the Dramatic Club. Meg is associate editor of the Virginian this year. She is also serving on the Y. W. Cabinet as chairman of Sing and is a member of Mu Omega.

Margaret Parker Is Queen of S. T. C.'s Second Mardi Gras

Large Crowd Enjoys Music by the Hampden - Sydney Collegians

DECORATIONS BY GAMMA PSI

The Mardi Gras festival, sponsored by Pi Gamma Mu, was held last night in the gym. It proved to be one of the most brilliant social events of the year. The climax was the crowning of the Queen.

The dancing began at nine o'clock with music by the Hampden-Sydney Collegians. The Collegians have been materially aided by the addition of George Moffit, saxophone player, and with eleven new numbers added to their repertoire they have developed into a fine and well integrated orchestra.

At ten o'clock the floor was cleared for the crowning of the Queen. The court preceded the Queen on the floor. The princesses and princes were as follows: Lucy Potter with Reese Tate Bowen; Kitty Roberts with Fred Huffman; Wyclif Scott with Lyne Shackleford; Mildred Gwaltney with Reed Kelly; Virginia Hamilton with Green Dawson; Nancy Harrison with Sam McLaughlin; Mary Easley Hill with Alec Witten; Sallie Perrow with Madison Ballagh. The princesses wore evening dresses with Spanish shawls and mantillas.

After the court had assembled the pages, Jean McClure and Laeta Barham, laid a white walk for the Queen and then advanced to the throne. The Queen, Margaret Parker, with her consort, Junie Blake of Richmond, ascended the throne and was crowned amidst great applause. She then led the figure in which all the court participated. At a signal from her, the dancing was resumed.

After the coronation, three prizes were awarded by Dr. Simpkins. The first, awarded to the girl with the most beautiful costume, was won by Elizabeth Callahan. Her costume was of the colonial period of powdered hair and hoop skirts. Velma Quarles Perkinson won second prize for the most unique girls' costume. She was a pierotte dressed in a black and white checked suit. The third prize, awarded for the most unique man's costume, was won by Hugh Young. From his costume, green doublet and hose, he could have been taken for one of Robin Hood's band

Continued on page 4

May Day Committee Urges Co-operation

May Day plans were discussed in the Students' Day program in chapel this morning. Sue Yeaman reported that some progress had been made in planning the costumes and dances, but definite casting of characters had not yet been made. She urged that each student feel her responsibility in making May Day a success. In order to do this, each individual was requested to write her name and preferred work on a slip of paper to be placed not later than Saturday night in the box at the table in the hall.

To carry out the tentative plans, a majority of the girls in the Student Body will have to participate in the occasion by being character dancers or by serving on some committee. Anyone accepting a part in May Day must furnish her own costume which will be very inexpensive.

Co-operation with the May Day Committee is needed in order to arrange all definite plans before Founders Day and to begin practices as soon after that date as possible.

THE ROTUNDA

Member Southern Inter-Collegiate Newspaper Association
Member Intercollegiate Press Association of Virginia

Newspaper — National Scholastic Press Association — Member

Published by Students of State Teachers College, Farmville, Va.

Entered as second class matter March 1, 1921, at the Postoffice of Farmville, Virginia, under Act of March 3, 1879.

Subscription ..... $1.50 per year

ROTUNDA STAFF

Editor-in-Chief .... Mary Shelton, '34
Associate Editor .... Lelia Mattox, '35

Board of Editors

News ..... Evelyn Massey, '36
Make-Up ..... Katherine Hoyle, '36
Literary Editor ..... Birdie Wooding
Louise Walmsley, '36
World News ..... Velma Quarles, '34
Intercollegite ..... Caroline Byrd, '36
Social ..... Marion Raine, '36
Art ..... Alice Rowell, '34
Feature ..... Elizabeth Walton, '36
Alumnae ..... Miss Virginia Potts

Reporters

Amis Montohery
Mary Hastings Holloway
Edith Shanks, '34; Mary Easley Hill, '34; Elizabeth Vassar, '35; Mary Elizabeth Alexander, '36; Lula Windley, '36.
Proof Readers: Katherine Coleman, '35; Grace Eubank, '36

Managers

Business ..... Mary Diehl, '34
Assistant ..... Elma Rawlings, '34
Circulation ..... Nell Oakey Ryan, '34
Assistant ..... Janice White, '35

The Rotunda invites letters of comment, criticism, and suggestion from its readers upon its manner of presenting and treating them. A letter, to receive consideration, must contain the name and address of the writer. These will not be published if the writer objects to the publication.

All matters of business should be addressed to the Business Manager and all other matters should come to the Editor-in-Chief. Complaints from subscribers as regards irregularities in the delivery of The Rotunda will be appreciated.

ARE YOU BORED?

Who would dare entitle a book, name a lecture or even write an article about: "The Purpose of Education"?

Such a dull, dry, didactic, stupid subject would immediately drive away all listeners and readers. We must resort to subterfuge—we must have our pills sugar coated!

Here is one: The purpose of education is "to learn the avoidance of possible future boredom, the root of most possible future evil." That rather intriguing statement in simple language means that the purpose of education is to learn how to live and how to live more abundantly. It means that we must broaden our interests; that we must expand and grow. How many people there are who are interested in worthwhile things—in movies, in radios in parties and in sports; in the theatre, in literature, in music and in art; in psychology and philosophy, perhaps in science and theology, or even in studying! How many people are there who are interested in nothing! If we are bored, let us face this grim and unrelenting fact—we must be shallow.

We can't afford, of course, to make the mistake of misunderstanding the difference between boredom and being misunderstood: all of us are not bored, but all of us are misunderstood. Those who are familiar with James Branch Cabell will remember that even Saint Peter's wife misunderstood him, to go farther—but that's far enough. We may have high thoughts, be interested in noble deeds, in wonderful people; but we should never, never try to express those thoughts. There is greater understanding in silence. When we are silent, we may persuade ourselves that someone might understand, but as soon as we attempt to speak, our illusions vanish.

Remember one thing, be interested. You will increase 100 to 1 your chances of being interesting.

ARE YOU DOING YOUR PART?

The weeks are slipping away so fast and Founders Day is nearly here. We are all excited and busily making our plans, but we must remember that S. T. C. has need for us. There is much work to be done in the few remaining weeks.

Dr. Jeffers has brought forward many suggestions, and the faculty are busily engaged in preparation for the oncoming celebration. Miss Camper and her workers are getting the Alumnae letters on their way.

Students, where are we? What are we doing? Our plans must be forgotten! Let us enter whole-heartedly into the work which has been planned for this great occasion. When asked to take part whether now or later, let's all pull together! Are you doing your part?

OPEN FORUM

Dear Editor:

Now that basketball season is in full swing it seems that it is an opportune time for S. T. C. girls to show how much school spirit they really have.

Don't you think that the least we can do is to take enough interest in our team to go to the games and let the girls know we are backing them up by giving them a little pep? Nothing helps a team on to victory more than the knowledge of the fact that its school is back of it. And how can a team know its school is backing it up unless the girls go out and yell, yell, yell?

Come on now, let's give the cheer leaders a little co-operation and show our basketball girls that we are with them and out to win!

Next Saturday there will be a game at S. T. C. with William and Mary College. That will be a good chance for us to show our school spirit. Can't we fill the balcony and let our team know we are there?

Sincerely,
A Junior.

World News

A treaty with important measures was signed between Poland and Germany on January 26. These two nations have decided to keep peace for ten years and to settle their disturbances through direct negotiations between one another.

Since President Roosevelt sought to increase the price of silver, Mexico has begun to operate her previously stagnant silver mines. Many towns are now on the boom in Mexico. Perhaps President Roosevelt will bring two coutnries out of a depression instead of one.

Uncle Sam would have one less thing to worry about if folks on the other side of the Atlantic would take his surplus flour as willingly as they took his surplus dough.—Boston Herald.

Adolph Hitler's hair being inky black, the Ministry of Propaganda and Public Enlightenment last week announced: "Bondness is no test of Nordicism. The present craze for blondness is to be deplored. People contemplating marriage should pay less attention to the outer appearance of their future mates and more to their family trees."

JUNIOR ROTUNDA STAFF

Editor-in-chief ... Katharine Walton
Associate Editor .. Kathryne Cotton
News ..... Anne Putney
Make-up ..... Maude Rhodes
Literary ..... Carman Clark
World News ..... Lila Jacob
Intercollegiate ..... Sarah Beck
Social ..... Jean McClure
Feature ..... Lena MacGardner
Athletic ..... Frankie McDaniel
Reporters ..... Meg Herndon

Reporters

Meg Herndon .... Katherine Young
Jestine Cuthsall. Christine Childrey

Proof Readers

Mary Gilmer ..... Fanny Bosworth

CAMPUS COMMENTS

Don't pay any attention to Bonnie Lane's new nasal voice. She's in training for Martha Sander's old part in the play!

What was Mr. Coyner hinting at in Psychology class Tuesday morning? It was something about Lexington!

You might have thought that you were getting a big dime's worth of fun at the Mardi Gras last night. But wait until you hear about the Faculty Surprise next week!

Why the pale cheeks, the chatter of teeth and the nervous gestures Sunday night in the Geography Lab? Ask Annette Roberts—she should know!

Will wonders never cease! On rushing out of their rooms in the Senior Building last Saturday night, what should a group of astonished girls find, but Alice McKay doing hand springs up and down the hall!

More power to Chub Denit, who chooses 7:30 in the morning as a grand time for coasting. And furthermore, she doesn't use a sled!

There were quite a few costumes tux, and masks floating around school last night. The spirit of Mardi Gras might have been ingendered by the spirit of Mid-Winters. Who knows?

It seems to us that there were quite a few deviations from the "straight and narrow" path—Pine Street—last Tuesday night. (Psst—where did you get it?)

Jestine Cutshall has gone in for Parliamentary Law in a big way. Or can one adjourn a meeting before it has started? She did!

Wonder who's responsible for the evasive character of the lights on third floor Senior building—sorta like the heat on third floor annex—now it's here—now it ain't!

All these sprained ankles, bruises, scratches, etc., look mighty sad—but they say sleigh-riding down Buffalo Street is worth poor health for a while.

"Full many a flower is born to blush unseen"! Undiscovered talent was revealed in Junior French Class Saturday when Meg Herndon astonished the class with an original poem in French on "The Snow"!

INQUIRING REPORTER

Valentine Day is here! The day of love and romance. The day of lace Valentines and budding flowers. The day when every girls heart beats faster as her thoughts turn to "the ideal man."

We have inquired into the hearts of some members of our student body to ask this question—"Just what in your opinion is "the ideal man"?

These are answers received:

Margaret Parker:
My ideal man must not be a fake,
I know he won't if his name is——.

Frankie McDaniel:
I like a man who's got mroe than a dime,
One who'll come up to see me sometime.

Tac Waters:
My man must be quick to see
The faults of all women—except me.

Caroline Jones:
I like a man who hasn't been taught to sling a line—
One of the sincere and noble kind.

Elizabeth Showell:
Since I've the opportunity I must sieze it,
My ideal man must be collegiate.

Honey Hamilton:
It's awfully hard to forgive and forget,
But if HE will, he's mine—you bet!

Sally Thornhill:
A man who remembers I love candy,
I've always found to be most handy.

Dot Eley:
He must be peppy as can be
And full of good old "vitamin D."

Bonnie Lane:
Dumbness I never could bear,
It's gonna take "brains" to make me care.

Knubby Knaub:
He doesn't have to be tall at all,
For it doesn't take much to make me fall.

ALUMNAE NEWS

And still they come! Undaunted by snow, ice and arctic temperature, a small group of Farmville Alumnae met in Appomatox on Friday, February 9, at the hospitable home of Mrs. J. A. Burke for the purpose of forming an Appomatox County Alumnae Chapter. Others had notified the hostess of their interest and their inability to attend because of slippery roads, and other obstacles. Misses Camper and Taliaferro were guests and assisted in organizing the chapter, which has for its officers, Pres. Mrs. Merle Davis, Vice-Pres. Mrs. Florence Gregory Trent, Sect.-Treas. Miss Isabelle O'Brien. Other charter members are Mrs. Ola Furbush, Mrs. J. A. Burke, Mrs. Don Moses, Misses Nellie Cauthon, Flora Belle Williams and Mary Trent.

On Friday night, Feb. 9, the Farmville Chapter of Alumnae sponsored a card party given at "Longwood." Those playing were: Mrs. G. W. Jeffers, Mrs. W. A. Watson, Mrs. R. A. Vaughan, Mrs. Polk Bondurant, Miss Barlow, Mrs. John Lancaster, Mrs. N. M. Gill, Miss Ella Hiner, Mr. and Mrs. Willard Hart, Mr. and Mrs. Armstrong Smith, Mrs. Anderson, Miss Leola Wheeler, Mrs. Henry Logan Newbill, Mrs. J. A. Garland, Mr. and Mrs. Boyd Coyner, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Fitzpatrick, Mr. and Mrs. S. L. Graham, Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Holton, Mrs. Joel Watkins, Miss Kitty Watkins, Miss Alice Carter, Miss Helen Draper, Mrs. Tisdale, Mrs. Rivers, Mrs. Farrar Shelton, Mrs. Frank Blanton, Miss Grace Moran, Miss Sarah B. Tucker, Miss Patsy Watkins and Mrs. Frank Nat Watkins.

Miss Bertie Price has been appointed teacher in the Cumberland School.

Miss Lucille Tiller is in charge of a day nursery in Richmond under the work provided by Federal Emergency Relief Fund for Education.

Mrs. Maude V. Warriner has announced the marriage of her daughter, Eloise Brent to George Vernon Hobbs, of Big Stone Gap, which took place on Jan. 20.

INTERCOLLEGIATE NEWS

V. M. I. has got everything! And a little bit more:

V. M. I. given $360,000 grant to build a fireproof mess hall with kitchen and commissary department, (—Boys! Better eats to you) and, add to its chemical laboratory building, military store and tailor shop, and to construct a three-story basement fireproof utilities building. —Ring Tum Phi.

Are you superstitious about ground hog day? If so—

Warrinsburg, Missouri, is the place for you. The Y. W. C. A. of C. S. T. C. observed ground hog day at their regular. There were poems and talks presented about the ground hog.

Why didn't we get a holiday?
The Student.

Want a new spring outfit? Don't follow me boys—follow the Marshall Co-eds.

A Co-ed there found that her outmodel Empress-Eugenie hat when turned around makes one of the newest off the face models, while used parts of the same old lace curtains to make an attractive collar and cuff set, which can be used on many of her dresses. Perhaps the most practical idea of saving is being featured by a student who has made a striking beret, pocket-book and scarf out of porch furniture covering.

Shannon victrola trippers will use real nickels or?

An inventor, Prof. Anatali C. Selitzky, of Cleveland, invented a machine with a shrill voice and hefty punch.

When a counterfeit nickel is deposited in the turn stile the robot yells, "Stop, Thief." It then hits you over the head with a mallet, douses you with water, and imprisons you in a trap door cell until police arrive.

Let's you and I keep the inventor out of Farmville!
The Spectator.

POETRY

WHITE NIGHTS

I hail with joy the first pale star
And when the night wind, traveling far,
All dreams release.

My soul steals out on leafy ways.
Upon the far-off hills I gaze
And know their peace.

I linger where cool waters flow,
And dancing sunbeams come and go,
Still and alone.

I press the deep wood's tender heart
And of its wisdom beg a part,
To heal mine own.

Beneath the bracken fern I lie
Until the veery flitting by
New raptures wakes.

At last I find the rainbow's end
And have a pot of gold to lend
When morning breaks.

L. H., '35

HOME-COMING

I heard the new fire snapping as
I opened wide the door.
Your cards lay on the table,
Your papers on the floor.
The fragrance of your roses
Stole out caressingly,
And in your face, the welcome
That I came back to see.

But now when slowly, quietly,
I open wide the door,
The old loved things seem strangers
I have not seen before.
So still the room, so orderly,
With unfamiliar grace,
I did not know that home could be
So desolate a place!

—L. H., '35.

GARDEN TIME

I planted three small seeds today
In a corner of my heart:
Two rosy ones where shadows play,
And a wee white one apart.

I set them in a sunny place
Where little cool thoughts blow,
And left them such a lot of room
They cannot help but grow.

—Selected.

FRIENDSHIP

This is the friendship I would choose
Hard to win and hard to lose;
Slow to seek a separation
Quick to find an explanation
Smoldering in its early days
Growing like a forest blaze
Thru the season bravely living
Never asking, ever giving.

Hearing doubters that desert you,
Heeding nothing meant to hurt you,
Watching all your faults to catch them,
Finding faults of hers to match them;
Saying till the journey's end,
"Right or wrong, she's my friend."
Hard to win and hard to lose,
That's the friendship I would choose.

—Selected.

RECOMPENSE

Peace in Earth's greenness flowing wide,
Strength in her rugged mountainside.
Her stars and tranquil summer skies
Promise comfort, tender, wise.
She softely says, "Come joy or woe,
My loveliness no change shall know."

—L. H., '35.

MISTAKES

Somehow I know you loved me
But now you act so strange.
Just because I hurt you once
Will you never love again?

I made a mistake and was sorry,
You left me the very same day
You say you'll always love me
But keep on staying away.

Oh, can't you see I'm wanting you?
That the wrong has hurt me too.
Please come back and let me prove
That I can be true to you!

S., '35.

SOCIALS

Many girls went home for the week-end. Among these were:

Frances Johnson, Marian Pond, Georgia B. Spencer, Mary Thomas Mayers, Eileen Howard, Beverly Wilkinson, Kittie Chappell, Grace Collins, Lizabeth Glass, Catherine Crews, Elizabeth Ranson, Anthelia Robinette, Blanch Kahn, Lucille P. Mosley, Elizabeth Smith, Martha Glenn Davis, Irene Bailey, Marjorie Rainey, Marguerite Bradford, Charlotte Young, Emily Meadows, Evelyn Knaub, Henrietta Salsbury, Virginia Leonard, Mary Denny, Barbara Kester, Louise Briggs, Marion Bryant, Margaret Clark, Katherine Malone, Maria Williams and Belle Lovelace.

• • •

The following girls spent the week-end in Orange: Wyc Scott, Catherine Conway, Margaret Gilmer, Phyllis Denit,and Dorothy Morris.

• • •

Mary Alice Wood visited in Danville.

• • •

Eugenia McClung, and Helen Harris visited Brooks Wheeler at her home in Arrington.

• • •

Chic Mosby and Mary Louise McNulty spent the week-end in Lexington.

• • •

The following girls spent the week-end in Richmond: Kitty Bass, Dorothy Glover, Dorothy Hutcheson, Agnes Shaner, Sallie Thornhill, Sylvia Somers, Helen Westmoreland, Muriel Scott, Mary Howard, Josephine Head, Kitty Fitzgerald, Zilla Newsome, Virginia Baker, Phyllis Ferguson, Lula Windley and Ruth Gaines.

• • •

Evelyn Wilson attended the mid-winter dances at Davidson, N. C.

• • •

Sue Hume, Margaret Webster, Ann Thomas and Ann Joyce spent the week-end in Norfolk.

• • •

Mary Easley Hill, Katherine Hurt and Margaret Dudley attended the boxing matches and mid-winter dances at University of Virginia.

• • •

The following girls visited in Lynchburg this week-end: Martha Hamlet, Tac Waters, Martha Nottingham, Martha Higgins, Freda Shields, Florence Tankard, Louicse Van Lear, and Julia Derr.

• • •

Dorothy Wise and Frances Martin visted in Blackstone this week-end.

Kitty Woodson visited in Prospect this week-end.

• • •

Nellie Pierpont spent the week-end with Nancy Beard at her home in Amherst.

• • •

Katherine Eggleston went to Leaksville, N. C. this week-end.

Rachel Jones visited in Wilson, N. C.

• • •

Hazel Smith, Marion Shoffner, Lucille Wilkinson, Mildred Hancock, Elizabeth Meredith and Virginia Brinkley spent the week-end in Roanoke.

• • •

Charligne Hal, Mary Louise Harry and Codey Ingles went to Washington, D. C. this week-end.

• • •

Elizabeth and Bernice Welch visited in Powhatan.

Mu Omega Entertains

The Mu Omega pledge banquet was held Saturday, February 10, in the tea room. Those present in addition to the pledges and old girls were: Josephine Spencer, Paula Irving, Mrs. Fitzpatrick, Miss Draper and Miss Wheeler.

The Valentine motif was carried out both in the decorations and the entertainment during the banquet. After each guest had read her fortune, which was written on the placecards, the guests retired to the chapter room.

Sunday night Mu Omega pledges entertained the old girls in the chapter room. The guests included Josie Spencer and Miss Wheeler. After a most delicious suppper was served, the guests enjoyed the antics of Joe Penner.

"17" seems to be Irvin Staple's Big Number. At least, that's what she told Miss London in arithmetic the other day.

Y. W. HOLDS REGULAR OPEN CABINET MEETING

The Y. W. C. A. held its regular monthly open cabinet meeting in the Y. W. reception room on Wednesday, February 7, at 5:00 p. m. The meeting was called to order by the president, Honey Hamilton, and devotions were led by Alice McKay.

After the roll call and the reading of the minutes, reports of the work accomplished the last month were read by committee members or by the chairmen of the various committees. Katharine Walton, chairman of Prayers, presented four books to the Y. W. which the prayer committee thought might be helpful to the girls in securing talks. Meg Herndon, chairman of Sing, could not be present, but Honey congratulated the committee on having such good sing programs.

Grace Rowell, chairman of World Fellowship, reminded those present that Dr. Smar will visit here next week. There being no further business, the meeting adjourned with the motto.

Russian punch with wafers and tiny red hearts was served to those present.

SING

Sing Saturday night was based upon the familiar but always interesting movie theme. The scenery consisted of chairs and pictures of movie heroes and heroines pinned to the curtains. Elise Marshburn presided as the efficient secretary of some well-known movie magnate. Elsie is to be congratulated for her practically perpect stage poise.

The audience recognized many of their old acquaintances and some new faces among the extras waiting to sign contracts. They, along with the extras were given the thrill of watching Jean Harlow—portrayed by Frances Tilman—stroll across the stage and enter the director's office.

After everyone's heartbeat had fluttered back to normal, the extras presented their credentials: Kathrine Young and Ruth Showalter, with a tap number; Marion Jean Wright, with the song hits—"Music Makes Me" and "Black Moonlight"; Gay Steiffen and Mildred Chandler with their dance version of the "Carioca"; Chic Dortch, with a reading; and Patsy Saunders, with her interpretation of Zazu Pitts. Kathryn Switzer and June Blackwell were not allowed to present theirs. Madeline McCummins was the studio pianist.

CLASSES HAVE CHARGE OF PRAYERS IN FEBRUARY

Prayers during February have been given the four classes. The classes are given the privilege of presenting their own programs, for it is felt that this is not only of interest to the student body but is beneficial to the classes themselves. One of the purposes of the Prayer Committee and of the Y. W. is to train girls in Y. W. work, to develop in them a sense of responsibility, and even to aid them in public speaking.

The presidents of the various classes are asked to appoint those girls to lead who are most deeply interested in the work and who are capable of presenting a short and inspiring thought in an interesting manner. It is hoped that this will be a means of arousing more interest in the four classes as well as a way of providing opportunities for the individual.

MARY KORB, soprano, who will sing Founders Day.

WAITING FOR THE MAIL

Gee! but it's taking a long time for her to put the mail up this morning. I hate having to be quiet for so long. It really does make me quite nervous to stand here on tip toe, holding my breath and twisting my neck just so.

Did that letter go in box 154? You can't see? Well, I don't see why you can't see. You've certainly got the best view of any one here. If you'd only slip a little to the left I might manage to see in the door myself. I always did say it was a blessing that the glass in this door was broken—May Heaven smile on the courageous soul who broke it!

Oh, did you see that package slip go in my box? Please. Take your hand off my mouth. I have a right to squeal. It's the first mail we've had in the box since the South Side bills came out. I do wonder who's sending me a package. If it's for my room mate I'll just die.

Well, at last she's through!! Don't push me so. I'm going as fast as I can.

My! but it's heavenly to clasp a package slip once again. Now, if I can just manage to elbow my way out—Why does every one else come in the door I go out? Somebody ought to tell them.

What on earth do you suppose I have? I guess it's the dress I sent home to be fixed. I don't believe she's ever going to find it. She's turned over every package on the table. Oh, yes, here she comes. Why, it's from Jake!

LITTLE MAN WHAT NOW

The crude realism of this entertaining novel makes one want to laugh and weep with the young German couple. They have a right to wonder what will happen next in their many struggles and hardships of life. Serious complications arise when it is certain that there will be a third small member of the family to be fed on the already pathetic budget. The young man's mother, a lady of shady reputation, pretends to give financial aid, but her motives are selfish ones. Temptations come to the boy, but he escapes a nudist colony scandal in which his best and only friend is involved. The boy remains always a little man, but you will admire the loyalty of the one who always has faith in him.

FROM OLD ROTUNDAS

February 10, 1932

Saturday morning at chapel the "five-month old" Freshman class presented Miss Moran their classman, to the Faculty and student body.

February 17, 1932

Exhibiting all the pep their name implies the Flashy Faculty brought the feeble Freshman to defeat on Friday night, February 12, with a score of 17-11.

February 15, 1933

Farmville basketball team defeated Sweet Briar Saturday afternoon 28-10.

February 15, 1933

On Friday, February 10, the College choir, assisted by Dr. Jarman, presented a program over WRVA. The outstanding number on the program was Dr. Jarman's singing of "A Perfect Day" and "Keep On Hopin' " to the Alumnae who were listening in all over the land.

February 14, 1933

"Happy birthday, Miss Iler, happy birthday to you, sang the Seniors Monday night as Miss Iler entered the little sitting room. May we add, that she spend thousands more as enjoyable as that one!

February 15, 1933

The State Student Volunteer Conference for Foreign Mission is to be held at Lynchburg College from Friday, February 24, until February 26.

Kleanwell

CLEANERS AND TAILORS

Expert Cleaning, Repairing and Remodeling of Ladies Garments

Main Street, Opposite Postoffice

PHONE 98

"HE LOVED HER IN THE SPRING, because she was dressed in DOROTHY MAY clothes!

Chic, snappy new spring prints, dresses, also high shades in three price ranges—$2.97—$5.45 and $7.45

Gorgeous dance frocks—just arrived—$9.45 and $12.45.

Blue Moon Dollar Silk Hose, French Chiffon, Lace Top. Special 69c

Lovely new Spring Coats and May West Suits—arriving daily

Where the Smart College Girl Shops

THE DOROTHY MAY STORE

YOU WOULD LOVE TO HAVE YOUR SHOES FIXED AT THE

Lovelace Shoe Shop

110 Third Street

S. A. Legus

TAILOR

CLEANING

PRESSING

REPAIRING

Phone 203

WE ARE especially fitted to Supply the Needs of COLLEGE WOMEN

Call to see our NEW SPRING LINES

DAVIDSON'S

EACO THEATRE

Program Feb. 15 to 21

Thursday and Fri., Feb. 15 & 16

Robert Montgomery

Madge Evans

"FUGITIVE LOVERS"

He was trying to escape from the law. She was fleeing from love. Together they followed a trail of reckless romance with a thrill every foot of the way. Here's Montgomery's most spectacular screen appearance. It will hold you spellbound; and when he takes Madge Evans in his arms—what a thrill for feminine hearts!

Also Sidney Toler in the Comedy, "DUCKY DEAR"

NO ADVANCE IN PRICES.

"TAZAN THE FEARLESS" FRIDAY

Saturday, February 17

Irene Dunne

Clive Brooks

Nils Asther

"IF I WERE FREE"

Here's a woman who moved a mountain to claim the man she couldn't call her own—and braved the tongue of scandal for a love that was taboo. A drama of today's revolt against age-honored dogmas. Have you ever wondered why "thou shalt not?" Then you'll be thrilled by this fight of two against the world. A love story for women.

Also Chapter 3, BUSTER CRABBE In "TARZAN THE FEARLESS" Hollywood on Parade and Fox News

NOTE—MIDNIGHT SHOW Sunday Night, Feb. 18 at 12:05

Warner Baxter

Myrna Loy

"PENTHOUSE"

This picture will also be shown Monday Matinee, Feb. 19—Monday Night "MISS FANE'S BABY IS STOLEN"

Next Mon. & Tues., Feb. 19 - 20

Dorothea Weick

"MISS FANE'S BABY IS STOLEN"

Gang abducts world famous infant of star. The most famous infant in the world, Michael Fane, son of Hollywood's glamorous picture star was snatched from his nursery crib in one of Beverly Hills' most luxurious mansions. Her mother's cry rang across the continent—but it remained for another mother to answer the appeal. Here's excitement, heartache, thrilling rescue and happy ending. One of the most timely pictures ever produced.

NOTE—This picture will not be shown Monday Matinee, Feb. 19, but will be shown Monday night and Tuesday Matinee and Night. Also RUTH ETTING in "KNEE DEEP IN MUSIC" and Metro News

Next Wed., Feb. 21

Joe E. Brown

Jean Muir, Thelma Todd, John Mack Brown, Sheila Terry, Frank McHugh in

"SON OF A SAILOR"

Here comes the one and only Joe E. (What-a-Pan) Brown, bouncing over the bounding main in a howling gale of laughs. Gobs of girls. Gobs of fun. He's in and out of trouble all the time and you will double up with laughter watching his antics. Also "Shipwrecked Brothers," a cartoon and "Answering the Riot Call."

Daily matinees at 4 P. M. Evenings at 8 P. M.

Prices—Adults, 20c at matinees and 25c at nights; except on percentage pictures, when we must charge 25c and 35c.

What the students in Miami call handshakers are just plain ——?—— teachers' pets to us.

C. E. Chappell

COMPANY

Stationery, Blank Books and School Supplies

Cigars, Cigarettes and Soda

Farmville, Virginia

S. BECK ELECTED VARSITY CAPTAIN

The varsity basketball squad held a meeting Wednesday, February 7 at which time Sarah Beck was elected captain: nominations made were Margaret Parker, Kathleen Ranson, and Sarah Beck.

Sarah, now a Junior, has been on the varsity basketball squad every year. She has shown great interest in athletics, and she will be a most capable captain.

OUR TEAM WILL MEET WILLIAM AND MARY

Farmville S. T. C. varsity basketball team will meet William & Mary team in battle in S. T. C. gymnasium Saturday, February 17 at 7:30 p. m.

This will be the second varsity basketball game of the season. The student body is expected to attend 100 per cent and show the varsity players that they are backed by the student body.

Miss Iler is coaching the varsity in frequent practices, new passes and plays are being practiced, and the team is ready to make a good showing Saturday.

WORLD FELLOWSHIP PRESENTS PROGRAM

The World Fellowship Committee was unable to present its regular program Friday night in Prayers on account of the absence of Dr. Walmsley who was attending the educational meeting held in Roanoke.

A very lovely musical program was substituted. In addition to the regular candles the stage was lighted with several large cathedral candles. The selections consisting of a chant by the quartet, two piano solos by Louise Hyde and one vocal solo by Mary McCarn were:

The Lord Is In His Holy Temple
Ave Marie—Schubert
An Evening Prayer

In spite of the excessive cold in the auditorium over 100 girls were present.

DR. W. A. SMART WILL VISIT FARMVILLE

Continued from page one

are his chief interest and he is always ready to help solve their problems. It is not only our pleasure to have such a speaker but our privilege as well.

LATIN CLUB HAS VALENTINE PROGRAM

A very enjoyable Valentine party was given at the regular monthly meeting of Sodolitas Latina held this afternoon at 5 o'clock in the language room.

Carmen Clark read a brief but interesting account of the origin and meaning of St. Valentine's Day. This day has been celebrated by Catholics and Protestants alike. But not in a serious manner. It is not a legal holiday, but as long as girls are girls and boys are boys, it will be looked forward to with joy.

A poem, Saint Valentine's Day, was read by Katherine Milby.

One of the most entertaining features of the program was an alphabetical Valentine which all the members had part in working out.

Little hearts with Valentine verses written in Latin were given out, and each member had to read in English the verse on the heart given her.

After a contest to see who could make the most Latin words from "Saint Valentine," attractive baskets of heart-shaped candies were served.

CALENDAR

Wednesday, Feb. 14
5:00 Y. W. C. A. Cabinet.
7:00 Sophomore Rotunda Staff.
7:30 Pi Gamma Mu.
Thursday, Feb. 15
7:00 Dramatic Club.
7:00 Mathematics Club.
Friday, Feb. 16
7:00 Monogram Club.
8:00 Sigma Pi Rho.
8:00 Ted Shawn Dancers.
Saturday, Feb. 17
7:30 William and Mary Game.
Monday, Feb. 19
7:00 Virginian Staff.
7:00 A. A. Council.
Tuesday, Feb. 20
7:00 Class Meetings.
7:30 Alpha Phi Sigma.
10:00 Student Council.

An interpretation of one of the Ted Shawn dance numbers

VARIETY DISTINGUISHES SHAWN DANCE PROGRAM

Continued on page four

panies the Shawn programs, was first inspired by Stephen Vincent Benet's epic poem, "John Brown's Body" to write the music. The theme was one which Shawn had long wished to dance, and so in collaboration they completed the music and dance this summer. The audiences and critics who have already seen this new work proclaim it to be the beginning of a new chapter in dance history.

Primitive Themes, Play and Labor Rhythms are the basis of the dances of the third section. First comes a light, amusing number which always wins an encore from the audience—the Japanese Rickshaw Coolies. It is swift, humorous, and the music is gay and engaging. The running motifs of the rickshaw coolies are varied by pantomime of gambling games, imitating the melodramatic postures of the Japanese drama, and squabbles among themselves.

Two American Indian dances follow: The Invocation to the Thunderbird, solo by Shawn and the Osage-Pawnee Dance of Greeting by a group of four. The "Thunderbird" is to Shawn what "The Dying Swan" was to Pavlowa—a number which through the years has continually increased in popularity, and whenever he leaves it off a program, he receives hundreds of protests.

For sheer popularity, perhaps nothing Shawn has done equals his Flamenco (Spanish) dances. He did these for several seasons before American audiences had seen the native originals, and it is interesting to note that Shawn's Spanish dances are more popular now than ever before.

Religious Dances fill the last short section of the program. Mr. Shawn gives his profoundly beautiful and moving study of St. Francis of Assisi, called "O Brother Sun and Sister Moon." The music is by Ottorini Respighi, a prelude based on an old Gregorian melody. The dance is a study in dynamic stillness. The saint who as a young man turned his back on riches and luxury to embrace poverty and chastity, felt his actual kinship with birds, flowers, running water and the grass as being more real than a human relationship of son to father.

The program culminates with three negro spirituals: "Nobody Knows de Trouble I've Seen" which Mr. Shawn dances alone; "Go Down, Moses" and "Swing Low, Sweet Chariot" are ensemble numbers with solo parts for Mr. Shawn. In these numbers the religious and American motives are combined. All three have a deeply moving character, a sincere simplicity, and are so finely organized from a dance standpoint that they come fittingly as the climax to a program rich, varied and evocative—all of the dances masculine in essence and in performance, dances none of which could be or should be done by women.

This program runs the gamut of masculinity in the dance, and it is more than an evening's entertainment—it is an historic event, for it is the first exclusively male dance program of modern times.

RICE'S SHOE STORE
Street and Dress Shoes
Dancing Slippers Dyed
Correct fits our speciality

VIRGINIAN STAFF RECEIVES PAYMENTS

Various members of the Virginian Staff will canvass the halls tonight for second or last payments on the Virginian. If anyone has the money, it will probably be convenient for the student and certainly helpful to the staff if she will make another payment.

Bills are coming to the business manager each day, and she receives discounts on those which she is able to pay within ten days. So, when someone asks you for your payment, put yourself in her place and act accordingly.

MARGARET PARKER IS QUEEN OF MARDI GRAS

Continued from page one

of merry men.

Intermission came at 10:30 o'clock and the orchestra received a well-deserved rest of a half an hour. When the dancing was resumed, it continued until 12 o'clock. The gym floor, appeared to those dancing as filled almost to capacity, and the large number of on-lookers in the balcony before intermission together with the dancers would seem to indicate that the attendance ran up into the hundreds.

The gay costumes gave the gym a colorful atmosphere not equalled at any other time of the year. The gym itself was brilliantly decorated by Gamma Psi with flags of twenty-eight countries and a huge chandelier of colored ballrooms. The festival spirit of the occasion was manifested in every way.

Jelly Leftwich and Jack Wardlaw have been engaged for Midwinter hops, Feb. 16 and 17, at dear old U. P. T. But you must be some stately cadet's cupid or Valentine. How many will S. T. C. send?

Weyanoke
BEAUTY SALON
A Complete Beauty Service At Moderate Prices
What we have done for others we can do for you
WEYANOKE HOTEL
Farmville Va.

Wednesday, February 14
WEAF
Jack Pearl 8:00
Wayne King 8:30
Troubadours 9:00
Fred Allen 9:30
WABC
Al Spaulding 8:30
Lombardo 9:30
Florita Orchestra 10:00
WJZ
John McCormick 9:30
Vincent Lopez 10:00
Thursday, February 15
WEAF
Vallee 8:00
Maxwell House Show Boat 9:00
Paul Whitman, Al Jolson 10:00
WABC
Fred Waring 9:30
Casa Lama Orchestra 10:00
WJZ
Eddie Duchin 9:30
Friday, February 16
WEAF
Jessica Dragonette 8:00
Abe Lyman 9:00
Maude Adams: Peter Pan 9:30
WJZ
Walter O'Keefe 8:00
Phil Harris 9:00
WABC
March of Time 8:30
Ruth Etting 9:15
Olsen and Johnson 10:00
Boswell Sisters 11:15
Saturday, February 17
WEAF
Boston Symphony 8:20
Rolfe Orchestra — Ripley 10:00
WJZ
Eddie Duchin 9:30
Paul Whitman 11:30
WABC
Alex Woolcott 9:15
Byrd Expendition
Florito Orchestra 11:30

Someone wants to know whether the C. W. A. sign in front of Senior building means "Cute Women's Association" or "Cold Weather Ahead."

Electric Shoe Shop
Will Fix Your Shoes While You Wait
BEST WORKMANSHIP AND LEATHER USED

WILLIS
The Florist
FLOWERS FOR ALL OCCASIONS
PHONES 181-273

EXAMINATION SCHEDULE CHANGED FOR MARCH 13

Mr. McCorkle has officially announced that examinations will start Tuesday, March 13, instead of Monday, March 12, as scheduled. This change is due to Founder's Day programs that last through both Friday and Saturday preceeding exams.

On Monday, March 12, classes will be held according to schedule until 1 p. m. From 2:30 to 5:30 Monday schedules for the spring quarter will be made out.

There will be no holiday between terms. The spring term begins Saturday, March 19, at 8:30 a. m.

Mack's
BARBER AND BEAUTY SHOP
323 Main Street
We use the Frederick Method
Hair Cutting and Thinning a Specialty

Martin JEWELER
Gifts of Lasting Remembrance
317 Main St. Farmville
We give Jubilee tickets

SouthsideDrugStore
(On the Corner)
Films Developed
FREE
If bought at this store

Shannon's
Is Headquarters for the Best SANDWICHES
—and—
DRINKS
—in—
FARMVILLE!

THE HUB—Exclusive Agents
LADY ESTHER—four purpose vanishing cream
Listen in on Lady Esther program with Wayne King Broadcasting
75c Jar Four Purpose Cream 50c
Lady Esther Marvelous Powder 55c

Arriving daily—Lovely new spring coats and dresses. Spring shoes—lovel yties, pumps, and oxfords. Prices $2.9 5to $3.95.

FIRST TO SHOW THE NEWEST
THE HUB DEPARTMENT STORE
"Farmville Best Place to Shop"

"PRIMROSE HOUSE" COSMETICS
Featuring Primrose House Face Powder
Regular $1.00 box, Special 69c
50c size Spearmint Tooth Paste 10c
Spearmint Tooth Brushes, 10c
EVERYTHING FOR THE COLLEGE GIRLS AT
BALDWIN'S
Quality—Price—Service

G. F. Butcher
High Street
"The Convenient Store"
FOR GOOD THINGS TO EAT AND DRINK

Gray's Drug Store
QUALITY—PRICE—SERVICE
Come in and Get Acquainted
We Are Glad to Have You With Us!
Farmville, Virginia

DON'T MISS FACULTY GAME

THE ROTUNDA

SUPPORT YOUR CLASS TEAM

We Teach To Teach

Volume XIV | THE ROTUNDA, WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 21, 1934 | No. 19

Hollins Inaugurates Dr. B. C. Randolph As Official Adviser

New President Takes Oath of Office During Founder's Day Celebration

DR. J. L. JARMAN ATTENDS

President J. L. Jarman will be S. T. C.'s official delegate to the inauguration of President Randolph of Hollins, which will mark the celebration of Founder's Day, February 21, at Hollins College this year.

Dr. Bessie Carter Randolph, a distinguished graduate, was elected president of this liberal arts college for women last July. Since then she has been in active control of its affairs, but now, on the birthday of its founders, she will be formerly inaugurated in the presence of presidents and other representatives of many colleges and universities throughout the country. Thus fo. this old and beautiful college, founded in 1843, a new regime will be opened.

Miss Randolph, a native of Virginia, received her A. B. degree from Hollins in 1912 and her M. A. from Radcliffe in 1916, subsequently teaching history and government at Hollins and at Randolph-Macon Woman's College in Lynchburg. She was at one time a member of the faculty of Farmville State Teachers College. In 1924-26 she was Carnegie Fellow in International Law at Radcliffe, receiving her Ph. D. degree there in 1926. She then became head of the newly created department of political science at the Florida State College for Women at Tallahassee in 1926, and is widely known in her field.

The speech of President Henry N. MacCracken of Vassar, and Miss Randolph's inaugural address, will be the main parts of the installation program of the morning. In the afternoon, after an informal reception in honor of the new president, a large group of students comprising classes in music, dramatics, and dancing, will present Tschaikowsky's "Nutcracker Suite."

At a formal dinner that evening, guests, alumnae, faculty and students will hear Miss Sara Wambaugh of Cambridge, Massachusetts, expert adviser on International Law, and author of an authoritative work on plebiscites, speak on "The Last Peace."

Cotillion Makes Plans For Dances in March

At a meeting in January the Cotillion Club set the date for the spring dance as March 24. An added attraction this year is a tea dance on Saturday afternoon. The club voted upon the Duke Collegians as the orchestra for the occasion but were unable to get them on this date, therefore an orchestra contract has not yet been secured.

The figure this year will be limited to fifty girls elected by the club, who will wear white. The figure will be led by Margaret Parker and Ben Parker, Chic Mosby and Lewis Skinner, Honey Hamilton and Bob Kinnard.

In order to be assured of a sufficient number of stags, the club has made new rulings in regard to secure bids; that is, no new members may have either a girl or boy bid, visiting girls are not to bring dates, and old members may have only one girl and one boy bid. There can be no extra bids secured in anyway.

Gamma Psi is in charge of decorations for the dances and interesting plans are well under way.

Home Team Loses To Visiting Squaws

Yeaman and Holliday Star

On Saturday, February 19th, the Farmville girls lost a hard fought game to William and Mary. The teams were exceptionally well watched and afforded a good game for the spectators. In the first half of the game the Indianettes took an early lead which they continued to hold throughout the game, the final whistle blew, with a score of 23-17.

The Farmville girls are to be congratulated on their excellent passwork and careful defensive playing. Beck and Gilliam played a nice game as guards showing the use of brain work. In center S. T. C. was well supported by Putney and Ransom who unvariably secured the tye-off.

Holliday was the outstanding player on the visiting team being surprisingly accurate on long shots. In the third quarter they lost a valuable player when Hudak, their captain, who was playing guard was taken out on her third foul. In this third quarter the home team rallied and came back to score three consecutive goals whereupon our opponents followed suit, thereby evening up the score. The fourth quarter was one of hard and steady play the ball traveling rapidly up and down the court.

During the entire game only two substitutions were made, each team putting in a new guard. The lineups are as follows:

Wm. & Mary		Farmville
N. Horn	R.F.	M. Parker
A. Holliday	L.F.	S. Yeamen
D. Beck	J.C.	K. Ransom
E. Murphy	S.C.	M. Putney
E. Burgor	R.G.	S. Beck (c)
E. Hudak (c)	L.G.	E. Gilliam

Substitutes: Wm. and Mary Trevillian for Hudak Farmville, Walker for Gilliam:

After the game the two teams were entertained at a delightful tea by the Athletic Association. Tea and Longwood buns were served in the lounge before an open fire.

OUTSTANDING LECTURER COMES TO FARMVILLE

Dr. Smart, who is being sponsored by the Y. W. C. A. will begin his work here tomorrow. During his stay in Farmville, he will speak in several classes, in chapel, and at prayers. Dr. Smart is especially interested in individual and group conferences. Those desiring to talk with him personally may make arrangements to do so through Agnes Crocket.

Sunday morning there will be a special service at morning watch, at which time Dr. Smart will talk to Dr. Walmsley's Sunday school class.

His work in Farmville will reach a climax Sunday, which is College Day at Methodist Church. Dr. Smart will speak at both the morning and evening services. There will be special music by the S. T. C. choir, and the Y. W. C. A. girls will usher. The college girls are cordially invited to attend.

Dr. Smart is an outstanding speaker from Blue Ridge and is often quoted. Below are some of his most quotable expressions containing very worthwhile and practical counsel on ideas of religion.

"What your religious ideas impel you to do is far more important than what your religious ideas are."

"Faith is being dead sure of something you have never seen."

"Religion gives men a sense of their own importance—no man can hurt me that is outside of me."

"It is amazing how many people expect the world to get better but do not expect it to change."

"It wasn't sinners who crucified Jesus, it was saints."

Miss Virginia Bedford

Sophomore Class Man

Audience Proclaims Shawn Ensemble Of Men Dancers

When Ted Shawn and his ensemble of men dancers appeared on the stage of the S. T. C. auditorium last Friday night, they were greeted by an enthusiastic and appreciative audience. The varied program consisted of dances derived from purely masculine sources.

At the opening, the ensemble interpreted the "Polonaise" of McDowell. This type of dancing is new and was quite a treat to the audience. Arousing the men through its dynamic force, the music seemed to tear at their very souls. This stirring number was followed by a plastique group of the "Sixth Prelude" from the "Well-tempered Clavichord" of Bach and was danced by members of the ensemble. Ending this period of music visualization and interpretation, was the exciting "Brahms: Rhapsody Op. 119 No. 4, danced by Shawn and the ensemble, this masterful piece of dance writing gripped the audience with intensity which was followed by thundering applause.

An American Epic, "John Brown Sees the Glory," filled the second part of the program. Shawn interpreted his newest and greatest solo work as only a master of the dance is able to do. Based upon the life of the abolitionist who was martyred fighting for the cause of liberty, this dance slowly but powerfully follows the conflict that confronted this young man as he walked in the woods. He sees his whole life through this vision, and though his body lies moulding in the grave, his soul will go marching on. As the spirit descended upon John Brown, Shawn became a different person from the young man strolling in the woods. His facial expressions changed to torment and agony. Each

Continued on page 4 colum 1

DR. G. W. JEFFERS GIVES LECTURES ON SEA LIFE

Dr. Jeffers will give an illustrated lecture on "Living Conditions in the Sea on 8:30 Wednesday evening in the little auditorium. All are invited to be the guests of the local chapter of Farmville Alumnae who are sponsoring a series of faculty lectures here and before other interested groups.

This is the second of a series of faculty lectures sponsored by the Farmville Alumnae. In December Dr. Walmsley spoke on "Recent Trends in Politics."

Class Investigates Juvenile Problems

Welfare Heads Cooperate

The child welfare course, new in the Social Science department this quarter, has proved to be very interesting and most beneficial to girls in the class. The purpose of the course is to acquaint the girls with the oustanding problems they will meet as teachers and to teach them how to meet them. Special emphasis is put on prevention rather than cure.

To make the course practical and concrete speakers from the State Welfare Department were secured. Mr. James in address gave the class a picture of the set-up of the Welfare Department. To show the great work being done in Virginia, he said that the state is spending on the care of each of its wards, criminals, feebieminded, etc., as much as it is spending on one hundred and twenty normal citizens. He pointed out that most of this expense could be eliminated if society would prevent rather than try to cure such cases Miss Lamb, psychologist in the mental hygiene division of the children's bureau, talked on mental hygiene in relation to child welfare. Miss Lamb brought out the importance of knowing the child's mental status in order to understand his behavior and reactions. Miss Helen Taylor spoke on the dependent child and stressed the importance of teachers using a great amount of tact in approaching such cases. The class is looking forward to hearing Mr. Painter discuss the delinquent child Tuesday of this week. Mr. Painter will also sum up the work of the welfare department. The speakers have expressed themselves as being highly pleased with the plans and type of work this class is doing.

To give the group a still greater insight into this phase of public work, observation trips to Richmond have been conducted. Members of the class have visited and observed

Continued on page 4, col. 2

HIGH SCHOOL STUDENTS COMPETE IN SONG

The State High School contest in solo singing will be held on February 24, in the Student Building auditorium. The contest will take place from 11 a. m. to 4p . m.

High School singers from all parts of the state are competing. The students registering are splendidly trained and highly recommended. The two winners of the state contest will sing in Atlanta, on March 3. From this contest winners from the Southern District will be chosen to enter the national contest in Chicago. Six scholarships are offered by the American Academy of Teachers of Singing and the Music Supervisors National Conference.

PARKER AND ROWELL SPONSOR MID-WINTERS

Misses Margaret Parker of Suffolk and Alice Rowell of Smithfield have been named by "Junie" Blake, president of the German Club, and Geo. Wall, business manager, as sponsors for the Hampden-Sydney mid-winter dances. Misses Parker and Rowell are both outstanding members of the senior class. These dances are to be held on February 22-24, in the Comity Club at Hampden-Sydney.

Nick Laney and his popular orchestra, the Duke "Blue Devils" will play for the series of dances. The "Blue Devils" have played for exclusive clubs of the larger cities of both North and South Carolina, and have a splendid record.

Many Farmville alumnae and students are planning to attend the dances.

State Magazine Has Articles By Faculty Members of S. T. C.

Section Given Over To History of Teacher Training Especially in Farmville

MILESTONE REACHED

The added prominence which our school has taken on in the light of our fiftieth anniversary celebration is becoming more pronounced each day. Our birthday, which is to be celebrated on Founders Day, March 9 and 10, has aroused interest especially in the state educational circles. The February, 1934, issue of the "Virginia Journal of Education" features fifty years of training in the state. The termination of fifty years of successful work under an orderly system for the training of teachers for the state schools should indeed be an occasion for special celebration. The "Journal" has therefore devoted a section entirely to this important phase of the educational system—namely, the teachers college.

Photographs of the presidents of the four State Teachers Colleges in Virginia, Dr. J. L. Jarman, Farmville; Dr. John Preston, McConnell, East Radford; Dr. Samuel P. Duke, Harrisonburg, and; Dr. Morgan L. Combs, Fredericksburg, are included in the issue. The editorial on "Teacher Training in Virginia" gives a brief history of the teachers colleges in the state ,and in conclusion pays a fine tribute to Farmville in saying: "The Journal takes this opportunity of congratulating the Farmville State Teachers College upon its record of over a half century in the field of teacher-training. It set the pace for pioneer work in the state and through the years of its service it has maintained the highest progressive standards in the field of training teachers."

A more extensive history of teacher training in the state is recorded in an article entitled "Fifty Years of Teacher Training in Virginia." This article was written by two members of our own faculty, Dr. James Elliott Walmsley and Dr. Francis B. Simpkins. Article by another members of our faculty, Dr. John P. Wynne, is entitled "Program of Field Work for Virginia Teachers Colleges". "Teacher Training in Virginia in Relation to the New Curriculum" is discussed by Mr. Sidney B. Hall, State Superintendent of Public Instruction. "The Trained Teacher," a poem by Miss Jennie M. Tabb is printed on the inside of the front cover.

(Continued on page 4, column 2)

Math Club Members Discuss Theorems

The mathematics club held its monthly meeting February 15 at 7 o'clock. The program was based upon Geometry. For the first numbers Kathryn Harvey told something of the life of Pythagoras. She stated that there were over a hundred different proofs found for the Pythagoreon theory and demonstrated two. Bonnie Layne gave the proof of the theorem about the Simson lines, namely "The feet of the three perpendiculars dropped upon the sides of a triangle from a point of its circumcircle are collinear." Nannie Ruth Cooper explained four constructions basic to the problem of Appolonus which is, to draw a circle tangent to three given circles. Katherine Adams puzzled the members by apparently proving that every triangle is an isosceles triangle, and that two perpendiculars can be drawn from a line to a point outside a line. A few however, were clever enough to detect the falacy.

THE ROTUNDA

Member Southern Inter-Collegiate Newspaper Association
Member Intercollegiate Press Association of Virginia

Newspaper — National Scholastic Press Association — Member

Published by Students of State Teachers College, Farmville, Va.

Entered as second class matter March 1, 1921, at the Postoffice of Farmville, Virginia, under Act of March 3, 1879.

Subscription ..... $1.50 per year

ROTUNDA STAFF

Editor-in-Chief ... Mary Shelton, '34
Associate Editor .... Lelia Mattox, '35

Board of Editors

News ..... Evelyn Massey, '36
Make-Up ..... Katherine Hoyle, '36
Literary Editor .... Birdie Wooding
Louise Walmsley, '36
World News ..... Velma Quarles, '34
Intercollegiate ..... Caroline Byrd, '36
Social ..... Marion Raine, '36
Art ..... Alice Rowell, '34
Feature ..... Elizabeth Walton, '36
Alumnae ..... Miss Virginia Potts

Reporters

Amis Montohery
Mary Hastings Holloway
Edith Shanks, '34; Mary Easley Hill, '34; Elizabeth Vassar, '35; Mary Elizabeth Alexander, '36; Lula Windley, '36.
Proof Readers: Katherine Coleman, '35; Grace Eubank, '36

Managers

Business ..... Mary Diehl, '34
Assistant ..... Elma Rawlings, '34
Circulation ..... Nell Oakey Ryan, '34
Assistant ..... Janice White, '35

The Rotunda invites letters of comment, criticism, and suggestion from its readers upon its manner of presenting and treating them. A letter, to receive consideration, must contain the name and address of the writer. These will not be published if the writer objects to the publication.

All matters of business should be addressed to the Business Manager and all other matters should come to the Editor-in-Chief. Complaints from subscribers as regards irregularities in the delivery of The Rotunda will be appreciated.

HOW DO YOU SOUND?

In your attempt to please the eye by creating individuality in beauty and harmony of clothes, in grace and charm, in fastidiousness about the body, did you ever pause to think how you might please the ear? We all realize that individuality is essential today—that nothing has been overlooked in the education of the eye. But what about the ear? Why not let the fashion also include speech.

Words are brought to life in sound. People who speak flatly and volubly are tiresome to converse with. How often we hear one sage, "The speaker's subject matter was excellent but his voice grated on my nerves." It is quite a shock to hear a woman with a classical face talk in a strident voice. How dreadfully disappointing 'tis, after many years of waiting, to hear your favorite celebrity, in all her glory and charm, utter sounds which are painful to the ear. No doubt, if a girl realized the effect her voice has on the man over the telephone she would endeavor to change it. It is difficult to lay down any rigid rules concerning speech in our country and everywhere. Mis Astorbilt and her taxi-driver coin the same vocal currency. Yet back of the various manners of speaking, ones true personality is revealed. You can have your voice trained, acquire an accent, practice holding your r's and g's but if you are insincere or a snob your voice betrays you.

We find it rather obvious today that so many girls do not realize that a pleasing voice is a great part of their charm. We speak without color, here, because there is too little sense of the importance of expression. We use a few hard worked words and scream at the top of our voices in crowded places. We are more conscious of voice than of melody of speech.

The arrival of maturity to an individual is the conscious use of her power in any situation. Be angry but pitch your voice low. Don't scream. Uncontrolled speech shows a lack of coordination between the mind and tongue. Doesn't well balanced and controlled speech reveal one's real self. And when a girl is capable of this, would not a man's tribute be what Florizel says to Perdita in "The Winter's Tale:"

"When you dance, I wish you a
Wave o' the sea, that you might ever
Do nothing but that . . .
When you speak, sweet,
I'd have you do it, ever."

POISE AND MASTERY

Do you ever stop when you are worried or irritated, to turn an analytical eye upon the object of your worry or irritation, to see just what it really means to you? It may really be big and menacing, something that would wreck your life, but it's a safe assumption that few of our worries or irritation are of such a formidable nature.

We worry about small reverses, we are angered by acts which cannot possibly affect our well-being and we spend sleepless nights about possible developments, which would do us no harm if they did occur. When one is irritated by some happening, let him ask, "How will this thing which disturbs me so much today, look to me next week, or next month or next year? In nine times out of ten, he will find that the vent will be forgotten in a week or a year. It is an ephemeral thing—a passing incident.

Most fortunate are those who possess the rare but precious quality of poise. They do not spend all of their time evaluating incidents, but they learn to judge quickly the relative blaness of the various incidents of which their environments are composed. The things that really count they give heed to. The trivialities, they treat as such. Poise of this kind is the essence of mastery.

World News

Starting Monday, the Army will take over the air mail service. This was the President's order when many discrepancies were bared as a result of an investigation of the government air mail contracts.

After a week of rioting in Paris, a new French cabinet was formed under the head of ex-President Doumergue. The new government is an attempt to merge France's warring political factions together to disentangle the many problems confronting that nation today.

It is not definitely known whether Germany's premier is designing to eventually include Austria in the New Germany or just to attain economic control of an independent Austria. But at any rate Italy and France are showing a good deal of concern over her uncertain security.

President Roosevelt has recognized the new Cuban government. It is hoped that this government will be a stable conservative political organization.

Scotland Yard, famed police force, found the Viennese police outdoing them. After building the force up with younger and better educated men, Commissioner Trenchard obtained more pleasing results. They have taken definite action against all crimes. Since January 1, in London, there have been no murders or big robberies. What is the matter with the U. S.?

SOPHOMORE ROTUNDA STAFF

Editor-in-chief ... Florence Sanford
Associate Editor ... Hazel Smith
News ... Margaret Pollard
Make-up ... Frances Crawford
Literary ... Agnes Bondurant
World News ... Betty Barleon
Intercollegiate ... Lelia Sauford
Social ... Margaret Hurt
Feature ... Sue Hume
Athletic ... Margaret Clark
Alumnae ... Miss Virginia Potts

Reporters

Winnie Richards ... Ellen Mason

Proof Readers

Martha Nottingham ... Mildred Potter

ALUMNAE NEWS

The office is proud possessor of five letters and prouder possessor of the news reported from the chapters this week.

Charlottesville has organized with a most enthusiastic roll. Steering the chapter as officers will be: president, Mrs. Cornelia Dickinson Nuckols; vice-president, Mrs. Pace Bailey; secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Edith Dickey Morris. The alumnae met with Mrs. Morris and had a joint business and social meeting.

Salem has had a chapter but a meeting was held for the purpose of electing new officers and discussing plans for a gift for Founder's Day. Mrs. Frank Vest will be president of the chapter this year, Brownie Brown will be vice-president and Mrs. Josie Guy Yonce will serve as secretary, and Mrs. Eleanor Jamison Folks as treasurer. And, chairman of the finance committee is Jane Brown. It is interesting to note the different methods of organization and the different offices created.

Chase City with Margaret Finch as president and Mildred Lipscomb as secretary and treasurer, has a most unique feature in that Mary Finch, who is still in Japan doing missionary work, will be a member of their chapter. We are always delighted to hear from Mary and congratulate Chase City on having her as a member. We'll expect big things with two "Finches" at work.

Powhatan has organized and is sending representatives down for the Founders Day celebration. The officers of this chapter are: president, Carrie Elizabeth Rawls,; vice-president, Nancy Watkins; secretary, Mrs. T. L. Timberlake; treasurer, Kathryn Rhodes. In spite of the weather and the cold you did get together!

Richmond is "mobilizing", too. Instead of having one large chapter, different groups are organizing into small chapters. The first to report from the capitol is "The J. L. Jarman Chapter"". They have two officers: president, Mrs. Elizabeth B. White, and secretary, Mrs. Evelyn Dinwiddie Bass. That Richmond has begun organizing is a significant fact—we have so many alumnae there "once the ball starts it will be a long roll."

Further interest is being manifested among chapters who already have organized in the past years and are ready at work for their Alma Mater. In this group reporting this week is Culpeper with announcement of a benefit tea and bridge party to help on the student scholarship.

Alumnae—Send us your reports! We are anxious to have news of the interesting things you are doing!

FROM OLD ROTUNDAS

February 2, 1927:

The basketball team of Wake Forest College, North Carolina, will play the Hampden-Sydney team Friday. The game will be played in the S. T. C. gym.

Feb. 9, 1927:

A very beautiful wedding took place in the S. T. C. auditorium last night when Miss Rosebud Delicatessen became the blushing bride of Mr. Hercules Headlite. The head ushers were Dr. Walmsley and Mr. Walker Paulette.

February 16, 1927:

Tea dance! Come one—come all! Who? You and all your friends. Where? "Rec"! When? Thursday at 4:00 o'clock. Why? 'Cause if not you'.l miss one of the best dances of the season. The Hampden-Sydney orchestra will produce the music. You come and help manufacture the fun!

Russian Choir gives good program! A long to be remembered occasion by those who heard it will be the concert given by the Russian Choir.

This group was composed of well-trained artists who rendered a program far superior to those we generally have an opportunity to hear.

February 23, 1927:

Do you remember last year's "Todietown"? Of course you do! Those little freshmen, now most sophisticated, are going to give another performance equally exceptional February 19.

March 2, 1927:

The physical education department is offering a class in clog dancing next quarter if at least twelve girls desire such a dance. Hand your name in to Miss Barlow.

CAMPUS COMMENTS

We are glad to see Cousin Tommy up and about again.

How did Dot Dollins get so much money out of the "rec" the other night?

What is our dear editor's power over the other sex? She not only has V. P. I., V. M. I., Hampden-Sydney, Richmond and Virginia on the string but she even caught the eye of the great Ted Shawn, himself. Girls take a tip!

Ask "Tac" what dragged her to Richmond this week-end.

Has Jestine fallen in love with the trunk on third floor student building? She is seen there every night.

Since when did dear Hastings become so interested in the piano?

Doesn't it look queer not to see Jean and her Preacher hanging around?

A welcome back into the fold to our popular sisters, or should I say fortunate sisters, that attended the V. P. I. dances this week-end.

Let's propose a toast to Mr. Graham:

Always there,
Ready to help
Ready to care
Ever on hand,
Lets all admit
He's the best of the land!

Is all this nervous excitement for Founders Day or what?

And last of all—girls be nice to those Hampden-Sydney boys. Remember, mid-winters are this week-end. Mind your P's and Q's.

OPEN FORUM

Dear Editor:

Even though S. T. C. approaches our ideal there is constructive criticism to be offered and the biggest thing that comes to my mind is this business of class dues.

Why aren't class dues paid? Why is it that only a small minority meets this obligation? Is such a system of taxation fair? Answer these questions as you like, the fact remains that a percentage of every class roll fails to pay its dues. It isn't hard to realize just how "scarce" money is right now and it does hurt to spend our pennies on any kind of dues. However, the solution to this problem is not hard. Wouldn't it be plausible to include class dues in our check to the Registrar's office? This, it seems to me, would be the simplest and most satisfactory means of collecting class dues one hundred per cent and subsequently enabling the classes to function more effectively. With more financial support our Founder's Day gift would be more eloborate and more valuable to the college.

There is a psychological aspect, too. By this method the dues would not seem nearly so big a thing to us. These few dollars would be included in our tuition check from home and the business office would credit the proper amount to the account of each class. In a practical way all nagging and begging would be done away with. And as an afterthought it would eliminate more trouble than many of us realize. Under the present system countless hours of valuable time are spent in a futile effort to collect a few quarters and dimes.

What do you say, Upperclassmen and Freshmen? Do you agree with us? Are you interested in doing something about the siutation? Well, we are.

A Student

ME 'N MYSELF

Me'n myself were thinking
'Bout things awhile today
'N me 'n myself decided
There's something we want to say—
Life's been a whole lot brighter
'N more worth living too
Since me and myself had the pleasure
Of knowing some one like you—

Selected.

POETRY

GOD'S WORLD

O world, I cannot hold thee close enough!
Thy wind, thy wide gray skies!
Thy mists that roll and rise!
Thy woods, the autumn day, that ache and sag
And all but cry with color! That gaunt crag
To crush! To drift the lean of that black bluff!
World, World, I cannot get thee close enough!

Long have I known a glory in it all,
But never knew I this;
How such a passion is
As stretcheth me apart. Lord, I do fear
Thou'st made the world too beautiful this year,
My soul is all but out of me—,let fall
No burning leaf; prithee, let no bird call.

Millay

TEARS

When I consider Life and its few years—
A wisp of fog betwixt us and the sun
A call to battle, and the battle done
Ere the last echo dies within our ears;
A rose choked in the grass; an hour of fears;
The guests that past a darkening shore do best;
The burst of music down an unlistening street,—
I wonder at the idleness of tears.

Ye old, old dead, and ye of yesternight
Chieftians, and bards and keepers of the sheep,
By every cup of sorrow that you had
Loose me from tears, and make me see aright
How each hath back what once he stayed to max:
Homer his sight, David his little lad!

—Lizette Reese

WHAT LIPS MY LIPS HAVE KISSED

What lips my lips have kissed, and where, and why,
I have forgotten, and what arms have lain
Under my head till morning; but the rain
Is full of ghosts tonight, that tap and sigh
Upon the glass and listen for reply;
And in my heart there stirs a quiet pain
For unremembered lads that not again
Will turn to me at midnight with a cry.
Thus in the winter stands the lonely tree,
Nor knows what birds have vanished one by one,
Yet knows its boughs more silent than before:
I cannot say what loves have come and gone;
I only know that summer sang in me
A little while, that in me sings no more.

Edna St. Vincent Millay

GHOST

I'm comin' back and haunt you, don't you fret,
What if I get as far as Hell away?
They's things of me that just can't help but stay—
Whether I want or not, you can't forget.

Just when you think you got me wiped out clear,
Some bird that's singing—moonlight on a hill—
Some lovely thing'll hurt like it would kill,
And you'll hear somethin' whisperin' "He's here!"

And when somebody holds you closte, like this,
And you start in to hear your pulses race,
The face that's pressin' yours'll be my face;
My lips'll be the ones your lips'll kiss.

Don't cry . . . Which do you think it'll hurt most? —
Oh, Go! You think I want to be a ghost? . . .

—John V. A. Weaver

SOCIALS

Many girls spent the week-end at their respective homes. Among them were Grace Eubank, Dot Glover, Rebecca Cousins, Virginia Jones, Virginia Wilson, Katherine Young, Amis Montgomery, Nancy Dodd, Florence Raney, Dartha Harrison, Martha Harrison, Eleanor Mitchell, Edith Samford, Ruth Roberts, Virginia Hooke, Lelia B. Hill, Jeanne Gwaltney, Betty May Brown, Virginia Baker, Chic Dortch, Lula Windley, Mary Elizabeth Wood, Mary Lee Powell, Edna Hatcher, Mayne Showalter, Ruth Showalter, Honey Hamilton, Muriel Scott, Nelle Oakey Ryan, Virginia Bean, Rachel Joyner and Sue Waldo.

• • •

Zell Hopkins, Sallie Perrow, Kitty Fitzgerald, Zilla Newsom, Elizabeth Huse, Florence Tankard, Claudia Harper, Helen Smith and Red Riddick attended the V. P. I. dances this week-end.

• • •

These girls visited in Richmond: Ida Miller, Tac Waters, Mary Alice Farrell, Elizabeth Wall, Lloyd Kelly, Elizabeth Kelley, Pauline Moseley, Jean Willis, Mary Howard, Helen Owen, Eva Owen, Helen Westmoreland, Henrietta Salisbury, Susie Webb, Beulah Travis,, Sue Hume, Winnie Richards, Virginia Saunders and Elizabeth Ware.

• • •

Ducky Woodard, Jean Foote, Mary Banks Sullivan and Virginia Moses spent the week-end in Norfolk.

• • •

Pauline St. Clair and Betty Tice visited in Curdsville over the week-end.

• • •

Marion Raine attended dances at Washington and Lee this week-end.

• • •

Nancy Wall, Martha Stine and Louise Coleman visited Ella and Sue Mallory in Lawrenceville.

• • •

Dot Justis spent the week-end with her parents on the Eastern Shore.

• • •

Wilma Denit spent the week-end in Salem.

• • •

Elizabeth Spitler was in Luray this week-end.

• • •

The following girls were visitors in Lynchburg: Nancy Beard, Iris Hart, Janice White, Julia Derr, Grace Bass and Marion Layne.

• • •

Lucy Potter, Mildred Potter, Kathryn Switzer and Alva Sawyer spent the week-end with their families in Petersburg.

• • •

Phyllis Ferguson was in Churchland this week-end.

• • •

The D. A. R.'s had a lovely George Washington dinner in the tea room last Thursday night. The color scheme, red, white and blue was carried throughout the menu. Mr. Alexandria Spottswood delivered the address. The dinner was served in three courses.

• • •

The Ted Shawn dancers were delightfully entertained by the Freshman Class in the tea room Friday night. The guests including the dancers were Miss Iler, Miss Hatchett, the class presidents, Carolyn Jones, Tac Waters, Frankie McDaniel, and Margaret Parker. Others present were Mary Hastings Halloway, Lucille Moseley and Marguerite Bradford.

• • •

The Tri Sig pledges gave the old members a party after Mardi Gras Tuesday night. The decorations carried out St. Valentine's Day. Delicious strawberry short cake and hot coffee was served.

• • •

Misses Jestine Cutshall and Iola McIntyre entertained the members of the Mu Omega sorority with a delightful tea Sunday afternoon from 5 to 6.

Something New and Different

Perdue co-eds are now engaged in taking a course in "charm." Those who are proficient will know how to hold a cigarette gracefully, and how to avoid spilling cocktails. Perhaps we'll see after a few years a smaller number of women who hold cigarettes as if they were sticks of dynamite or just sticks. Years will tell.

ZETA TAU HAS BANQUET AT LONGWOOD

Zeta Tau held its Founder's Day banquet at Longwood Saturday evening. A color scheme of orchid and silver, the sorority's colors, was carried out in the decorations.

After the banquet Miss Mary Nichols entertained the chapter and visiting alumnae at bridge, at her home on Beach Street.

Among those present in addition to the local chapter were:

Miss Grace Mix, Miss Virginia Bedford, Mrs. Virginia Bledsoe Goffigan, Mrs. Ellen Smith Mason, Mrs. Maria Warren Bromleigh, Misses Virginia Robertson, Jean West, Alfreda Collings, Mabel Hayes, Mary Warren, Charlotte, Hutchins, Margaret Hix, Harriett Branch, Jackqueline Hix, Martha von Schilling, and Hannah Crawley.

FEB. 14 IS THEME OF SING

Until Sing Saturda y night we thought that be "My Valentine" was enough to make any school teacher fall but now we know full well that there's more to it than we had thought. We learned our lesson by observing the antics of a Valentine shop.

Virginia Leonard, the shopkeeper, had one customer, Florence Sanford who represented a Hampden-Sydney Collegian. He was accompanied by Nubby Knaub, the typical S. T. C. girl. His errand was something cheap and effective to give his girl After displaying a vast supply of colorful, though unedible, Valentines to no avail, the frantic clerk, resorted to things new and different. These took the form of having activities of several vanities. Louise Hyde portrayed an old-fashioned girl; Jean McClure very ably dramatized sophistication, Lucille Rhodes passed as cupid. Even Gay Steiffins as Mae West failed to satisfy the customer. The resourceful shop keeper persevered with more taking models. Elsie Marshburn appeared as a typical rah rah college girl and as a final resort Rachel Jones mimiced a bowry girl. Still my sale, but Yinna summoned her salesman's etiquette and tactfully mentioned appetite whereupon Nubby became wreathed in smiles. The last we sawy of the collegian he was making his get away.

SCHOOLMASTERS REVOLT

The school masters of the British National Association without claiming any mental superiority for male teachers, recently revolted. They issued two statements to all the local school boards of England and Wales, protesting against the service of school masters under head mistresses, and the inspection of physical training of boys by women.

In elaborating upon these statements the schoolmasters brought out the point that service under a mistress is distasteful to the majority of schoolmasters. They also said that it is neither desirable or natural that a woman should be placed in charge of the physical training of a boy.

"THE LAUGHING QUEEN"

The world knows Cleopatra under many names, but "The Laughing Queen" seems the most peculiar of all. In this biography by Barrington, Cleopatra is portrayed as the queen of Egypt who brought disaster every where she went. Because of her exceeding beauty, she caused the downfall of two outstanding characters in Roman history, Julius Caesar and Mark Antony. Barrington clearly depicts Cleopatra's life and the conditions of Rome and Egypt at that time, not as dry, uninteresting history but as readable fiction. In your spare time—read this romance!

YOU WOULD LOVE TO HAVE YOUR SHOES FIXED AT THE

Lovelace Shoe Shop

110 Third Street

S. A. Legus

TAILOR

CLEANING

PRESSING

REPAIRING

Phone 203

Dr. Payne, Founder's Day Speaker

IS AMERICA LACKING IN SENSE OF HUMOR?

The depression has sharpened the search for what is wrong with America. Many anxious ideas on this subject have been advanced in the last three years, and a very interesting one has been submitted by Dr. William McAndrew, former superintendent of schools in Chicago. He says that it is a great pity that of all our American colleges, none give courses in humor. He advised the Mark Twain Association to found a Mark Twain chair for the advancement of humor.

Some students of American life have complained that Americans have too much humor; that by their humor they turn the ills of life into facile jesting. Also one wonders whether humor could be taught, even by a most learned professor of humor.

ARE YOU READING WITH AMERICA?

Have you read Sinclair Lewis' "Work of Art," Hervey Allen's "Anthony Adverse," Norhoff's "Men Against the Sea", or Pearl Buck's "The Mother"? If not, you are not acquainted with some of the most popular fiction numbers in America today. In the non-fiction world, "Life Begins at Forty" and "More Power to You" by Walter B. Pitkin, "Brazilian Adventure" by Peter Fleming, and "Crowded Hours" and "Man of the Reaissance" by Ralph Rolder seem to be among the most popular numbers. According to weekly reports received from the leading book-sellers of the country, the books named above are the best sellers. We do well to acquaint ourselves with what those about us are reading. Let us spend some time reading!

Sign on bulletin board all girls whose mothers attended S. T. C. at any time but who did not receive a four-year degree.

CHANCE COMES TO KNOW CHAS. DICKENS

Are you acquainted with Charles Dicken's life? Or do you know him only through the scant biographical clements of his novels, such as David Copperfield? Personal letters of Charles Dickens will soon be available to the public. These letters, it is thought, will reveal some facts about the novelist's life that have often been disputed. They have been released only since the recent death of Sir Henry Dickens, the last son of Charles Dickens. Heretofore the letters have been preserved in the British Museum according to the wish of Mrs. Perugini, Sir Henry's sister. She requested that they not be published until the death of the last member of the family.

COLLEGES FIND NEW JOBS OPENING UP

According to Dean W. F. Russell of Columbia University, the NRA codes with their gift of leisure are already pointing to a new demand for high school teachers, for instructors for adult classes, and for teachers trained in the natural and social sciences.

Similarly, Professor A. P. Coleman of Columbia University predicts openings both in trade and in government posts for young people who will familiarize themselves with the Slavonic languages. He says that right now there is a shortage of Americans qualified for the new diplomatic and consular posts in the Soviet Union.

At Hunter College a new four-year program preparing for business and commercial teaching has just been introduced. Social and personnel work show bright prospects, and new programs preparing for them are in contemplation.

Kleanwell

CLEANERS AND TAILORS

Expert Cleaning, Repairing and Remodeling of Ladies Garments

Main Street, Opposite Postoffice

PHONE 98

"HE LOVED HER IN THE SPRING, because she was dressed in DOROTHY MAY clothes!

Chic, snappy new spring prints, dresses, also high shades in three price ranges—$2.97—$5.45 and $7.45

Gorgeous dance frocks—just arrived—$9.45 and $12.45.

Blue Moon Dollar Silk Hose, French Chiffon, Lact Top. Special 69c

Lovely new Spring Coats and May West Suits—arriving daily

Where the Smart College Girl Shops

THE DOROTHY MAY STORE

WE ARE especially fitted to Supply the Needs of COLLEGE WOMEN

Call to see our NEW SPRING LINES

DAVIDSON'S

EACO THEATRE

Program Feb. 22 to 28

Thursday, February 22

Claudette Colbert

HERBERT MARSHALL, WILLIAM GARHAN

In CECIL DEMILLE'S

"4 FRIGHTENED PEOPLE"

Never before have you seen such a Claudette Colbert. From a prim, shy S. T. C. school teacher to untamed beauty, free as the jungle animals whose skins she wore. Transformed overnight by the jungle that made ladies and gentlemen male and female. Four frightened people lost in a jungle, to kill or be killed; battling for love which belonged to the strongest.

Also Two-Reel Musical Comedy

Fri. & Sat., February 23 & 24

Gloria Stuart

Roger Pryor

(Of "Moonlight & Pretzels")

In

"I LIKE THAT WAY"

Oh, boy—look at those girls! Oh, girl—look at those boys!(Revel in romance. Sing with the songs. Giggle with the gags. Everybody have a good time—because it's here waiting for you in the snappiest picture since "Flying Down to Rio." Loosen up, laugh, relax; come and enjoy' yourself with this musical, romantic pep-show with Marian Marsh, Shirley Grey, Lucille Gleason and Merna Kennedy. It's a knockout. Also BUSTER CRABBE in Chapter 4 of "Tarzan the Fearless."

News and Don Redmond in "I Hear."

Next Monday and Tuesday, February 26 and 27

Janet Gaynor

Lionel Barrymore

Robert Young, Richard Cromwell

In

"CAROLINA"

(From "The House of Connelly")

The story of a decadent Southern family into whose ways comes a charming girl of the north. Her innocence and her disarming flair for romance find a wonderful setting with these Southerners who own a tobacco plantation. Of course the son falls in love with Janet and she saves the plantation and brings happiness to all of them. Here you will see splendid negro characterizations and singing, beautiful costumes and photography and authentic settings all of which make for one of the exceptional pictures of the year. You'll feel right at home. Also DONALD NOVIS, the Tenor, in "Little Broadcast," and Metro News.

Prices: 25c at Mats.; 35c at Nights.

Next Wednesday, Feb. 28

Edna May Oliver

Edward Everett Horton

ANDY DEVINE, LELIA HYAMS

In

"THE POOR RICH"

If you enjoy good, wholesome fun and can stand laughing until the tears run down your cheeks, don't fail to see this rich and hilarious comedy-drama wherein the girl of the family hopes to marry Lord Featherstone and thus restore the Spottiswood fortune. But in the end when it is discovered that the Featherstone are also broke, you double up with glee. One of those pictures you will be glad you saw. Also "Parade of the Wooden Soldiers" and "The Great Train Robbery."

Daily matinees at 4 P. M. Evenings at 8 P. M.

Prices—Adults, 20c at matinees and 25c at nights; except on percentage pictures, when we must charge 25c and 35c.

C. E. Chappell

COMPANY

Stationery, Blank Books and School Supplies

Cigars, Cigarettes and Soda

Farmville, Virginia

STUDENT SCRUB TEAM CHALLENGES FACULTY

A game that will prove to be one of the most exciting of the season is that of the faculty versus S. T. C. to be played Thursday night at 7:30 in the gym. Mr. Jeffers will referee Mr. Bell will be the announcer and Mr. French will be cheer leader.

The line-up:

Faculty	S. T. C.
Miss Moran	Lelia Lovelace
Miss Draper	Betsy Wilkinson
Miss Bedford	Jean McClure
Miss Iler	Elizabeth Showell
Miss Foster	Irene Parker
Miss Henry

FARMVILLE BASKETEERS MEET BLACKSTONE SIX

The S. T. C. Varsity will play their first game away from home Saturday, 24 at Blackstone. The game will be played at 8:30 Saturday evening. The team has improved a great deal although they have lost one regular guard temporarily. The line-up for the game will not be known until Saturday.

CLASS GAMES MARCH 5

Class games in basketball are to be played in the gym Monday, March 5. The championship game will be on the following Wednesdays. The schedule of practices beginning February 26.

Monday:
4:00—Freshmen and Juniors.
4:30—Sophs and Seniors.
Tuesday:
5:00—Sophs and Seniors.
5:30—Freshmen and Juniors.
Wednesday:
4:00—Freshmen and Juniors.
4:30—Sophs and Seniors.
Thursday:
5:00—Sophs and Seniors
5:30—Freshmen and Juniors.
Friday:
4:00—Freshmen and Juniors.
4:30—Sophs and Seniors.

AUDIENCE PROCLAIMS INTERPRETIVE DANCES OF SHAWN ENSEMBLE

Continued from page one

muscle in his body worked in perfect coordination. When the fall of the curtain marked the end of this section, the audience itself had passed through the ordeal with him.

"Play and Labor Dances," as the title signifies, were a vivid contrast to the emotional dance that preceded. With the ensemble attired in the native costume of the coolies, audience journeyed to Japan with them, while they rendered a Japanese "Rickshaw Coolie Dance." The swift humorous running movements of the coolies were varied by the pantomime of the gambling games, imitating the melodramatic pastures of the Japanese drama, and squabbles among themselves.

Following this were two American Indian dances. Shawn interprets the first "Invocation to the Thunder Bird," alone. Representing the superstitions of the early American race, who believed that through a supplication to the Indian Rain God they would be blessed with rain. This dance made a wide appeal to the imagination. Following this was a group dance, "Osage-Pawnee Dance of Greeting," which also paid tribute to the customs of the Indians.

"The French Sailor," a native dance of France, was delightfully portrayed by Barton Mumaw. An encore was given in response to the unceasing demands of the audience. This was a clever "Mexican Rodeo" Dance.

The "Spanish Solo Dance" of Shawn succeeded this. This dance greatly entertained the audience at S. T. C. as it has other audiences.

The "Wonders Songs of Middle Europe," "March of the Prodeariat," "Vagabonds Song," and the "Millers Song," were unusual to the modern dancing world.

Religious dances, culminated the last of the program. "O Brother Sun and Sister Moon" was a study in aynamic stillness. Interpreting the ascetic life of St. Francis. Shawn thrilled his audience with his mastery of the art.

Negro spirituals brought the program to a most successful end. "Go Down Moses," "Nobody Knows de Trouble I've Seen," and "Swing Low Sweet Chariot," were ensemble numbers with solo parts by Ted Shawn. All of these were of a deep moving character, and of a simplicity, that formed a fitting climax to an evening of unusual entertainment.

WITHIN THIS PRESENT

Margaret Ayer Barnes

We give a rousing good cheer to Margaret Ayer Barnes for her latest work, "Within This Present,' for she is at her best in this lively novel that holds your interest from the first page thru its 610. It is one of those books that once you begin, you can't stop till you've finished.

The story covers a period of several years, as is typical of the author's novels. This one begins in 1914 and runs to the present, with several years elapsing, unrecorded.

Mrs. Barnes tells in her own clever style, of the life of two southern families who became great bankers generations before and finally failed in the recent financial depression. Every character is individual and interesting and the life of each one is the making of another plot. These interwoven, form a continually interesting novel, written in that thoroughly fascinating manner peculiar only to Margaret Ayer Barnes.

STATE MAGAZINE HAS ARTICLES BY FACULTY MEMBERS OF S. T. C.

Continued from page one

On the cover of the magazine is a photograph of the Rotunda and the main entrance of Farmville State Teachers College. Around this photograph are grouped block-print likenesses of the four presidents of the institution—Dr. J. L. Jarman who has ben president since 1902, and his three predecessors, Dr. W. H. Ruffner, president from 1884 to 1887; Dr. J. L. Cunnington, president from 1887 to 1897, and Dr. Robert Frazer, president from 1897 to 1901.

For the benefit of our visitors copies of this magazine will be on exhibition Founders Day. It is, however, a current magazine in our library, and is, at any time, accessible in the reading room.

SENIOR CLASS HOLDS ATHLETIC MEETING

The Senior Class held its regular weekly meeting on Tuesday night in the gym after prayers. Each class member had been previously asked to wear either gym shoes or low-heeled oxfords to the meeting. This request was made because the class officers had planned a very interesting program of events.

The class was divided into two teams, the "Numbskulls' and the "Dumbells", and a basketball game was played. The game was a fast one and very interesting and thrilling. Excitement ran high among the players themselves as well as among the cheering sections. The line-up follows:

Numbskulls		Dumbells
Prescott	RF	Fraser
Westmoreland	LF	Gaines
Wilkinson (c)	JC	Woolwine (c)
Hix	RC	Horton
Scott	RG	Nelson
Gills	LG	Kester

Substitutes: Numbskulls: Rucker
Dumbells: Yeaman, Cooper

Referee: McCorkle.

Scorer and Timer: Copenhaver and Hatcher.

Lemons were served to players and cheerers between quarters. The final score was 3-0 in favor of the "Dumbells".

After the game a short business meeting was held. Meeting closed with the song to Mr. McCorkle and the senior class song.

CLASS INVESTIGATES JUVENILE PROBLEMS

Continued from page one

the workings of the Children's Bureau, the Juvenile Court, and the Domestic Relations Court presided over by Judge Ricks, the Detention Home, St. Joseph's Villa, the Industrial School for Girls at Bon Air, and the Nursery Schools. The Grace Arnt Nursery School was most interesting to the visiting girls. This school is a CWA project under the direction of Miss Lucille Tiller a 1933 Farmville graduate. Next week the class hopes to see what is being done to meet the new leisure challenge by the New Deal codes on child and adult care.

Speaking of the Grace Arnt Nurs-

RICE'S SHOE STORE
Street and Dress Shoes
Dancing Slippers Dyed
Correct fits our speciality

CALENDAR

Wednesday, February 21
5:00—Y. W. C. A. Cabinet
7:00—Rotunda Staff
7:30—Pi Gamma Mu
8:30—Pi Kappa Delta
Thursday, Feb. 22
7:00—Kappa Delta Pi
8:00—Beta Phi Theta
Dr. Smart
Friday, Feb. 23
7:00—Freshman Class
Gamma Psi
Saturday, Feb. 24
Dr. Smart
Monday, Feb. 26
7:00—Virginian Staff
7:00—Athletic Association
8:00—Alpha Kappa Gamma
Tuesday, Feb. 27
7:00—Classes
10:00—Council

INTERCOLLEGIATE NEWS

What you knew, straight from the University of Alabama, so they must be true, maybe:

That Charlemagne was the originator of mass production. He produced over one hundred offspring. The barracks cat is fast approaching his record though).

That "When Irish Eyes Are Smiling" was written by a Jew. Methinks Collins (sounds Irish to me) should hit back and write his memoirs of Solomon.—The Cadet Exchange Excerpts.

Professors seldom seem to realize the great amount of energy burned up in the process of writing term papers and taking examinations. A careful survey of the past semester's work reveals the following facts: Term papers writen: 750.00 words, or approximately enough material to fill eight large volumes. The number of words writen on examination papers amounted to approximately 1,-250,000 or sufficient material to fill more than fourteen volumes. The amount of time spent by all students in writing out and reviewing examination papers was slightly more than 15,000 hours, which amounts to a little less than two years of the life of one person.—Critograph.

Political Speaker: "I'm pleased to see such a dense crowd here tonight."

Voice from Audience: "Don't be too pleased. We're not all dense."

Log.

ery School Alice Magruder says: "It's remarkable what can be done in training these small children to perform everyday tasks with few mishaps. We feel that nursery schools give the children a good start by giving them a strong body and well adjusted personality."

The girls who have made an observation trip are: Helen Rose Cuningham, Elizabeth Gills, Frances Graham, Mary Howard, Alice McKay, Alice Magruder, Virginia Moses, Virginia Robertson, Muriel Scott, Inez Strang, Helen Westmoreland. Others will go next week.

Weyanoke
BEAUTY SALON
A Complete Beauty Service At Moderate Prices
What we have done for others we can do for you
WEYANOKE HOTEL
Farmville Va.

RADIO HIGHLIGHTS

Wednesday, February 21

WEAF—
8:00—Jack Pearl
8:30—Wayne King
9:00—Troubadours
9:30—Fred Allen
WABC—
8:30—Al Sapulding
9:30—Guy Lombardo
10:00—Florita Orchestra
9:30—John McCormic
10:00—Vincent Lopez
WEAF—Thursday, Feb. 22.
8:00—Vallee
10:00—Whiteman, Al Jolsen
WABC—
9:30—Fred Waring
10:00—Casa Lama Orchestra
WJZ—
9:30—Eddie Duchin
WEAF—Friday, February 23
8:00—Jessica Dragonette
9:00—Abe Lyman
9:30—Maude Adams
WJZ—
8:00—Walter O'Keefe
9:00—Phil Harris
WABC—
8:00—Green Orch., Men About Town
9:15—Ruth Etting
9:30—Denny Orchestra
10:00—Olsen and Johnson
11:15—Boswell Sisters
WEAF—Saturday, February 24
WEAF—
8:00—Olsen Orchestra
10:00—Rolf Orchestra
WJZ—
9:00—Stern Orchestra
9:30—Eddie Duchin
11:30—Paul Whitman
WABC—
9:15—Alex Woolscott
Byrd Expedition
11:30—Tionito Orchestra
11:00—Guy Lombardo
WEAF—Sunday, February 25
3:00—Wayne King
8:00—Eddie Cantor
WJZ—
7:30—Joe Penner, Nelson Orch.
9:00—Will Rogers
WABC—
7:00—Denny Orch. Ethel Waters songs
9:00—Nino Martini

Electric Shoe Shop
Will Fix Your Shoes While You Wait
BEST WORKMANSHIP AND LEATHER USED

WILLIS
The Florist
FLOWERS FOR ALL OCCASIONS
PHONES 181-273

John the Barber: "I fear that I got an infernal injury when I slipped on that ole banana peel."

Po Boy: "Yo, means internal injury, don't you? Infernal means de lower regions."

John the Barber: "Infernal am right, yas suh!"

Log.

Mack's
BARBER AND BEAUTY SHOP
323 Main Street
We use the Frederick Method
Hair Cutting and Thinning a Specialty

Martin JEWELER
Gifts of Lasting Remembrance
317 Main St. Farmville
We give Jubilee tickets

SouthsideDrugStore
(On the Corner)
Films Developed
FREE
If bought at this store

Shannon's
Is Headquarters for the Best SANDWICHES
—and—
DRINKS
—in—
FARMVILLE!

THE HUB—Exclusive Agents
LADY ESTHER—four purpose vanishing cream
Listen in on Lady Esther program with Wayne King Broadcasting
75c Jar Four Purpose Cream 50c
Lady Esther Marvelous Powder 55c

Arriving daily—Lovely new spring coats and dresses, Spring shoes—lovel yties, pumps, and oxfords. Prices $2.9 5to $3.95.

FIRST TO SHOW THE NEWEST
THE HUB DEPARTMENT STORE
"Farmville Best Place to Shop"

"PRIMROSE HOUSE" COSMETICS
Featuring Primrose House Face Powder
Regular $1.00 box, Special 69c
50c size Spearmint
Tooth Paste 10c
Spearmint Tooth Brushes, 10c
EVERYTHING FOR THE COLLEGE GIRLS AT
BALDWIN'S
Quality—Price—Service

G. F. Butcher
High Street
"The Convenient Store"
FOR GOOD
THINGS TO
EAT AND DRINK

Gray's Drug Store
QUALITY—PRICE—SERVICE
Come in and Get Acquainted
We Are Glad to Have You With Us!
Farmville, Virginia

SUPPORT YOUR CLASS TEAM

THE ROTUNDA

POE

FOUNDER'S DAY IS MARCH 9 AND 10

We Teach To Teach

Volume XIV | THE ROTUNDA, WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 28, 1934 | No. 20

Dr. Smart Delivers Religious Lectures To Farmville Girls

Youth Problems Were Discussed In Individual Conferences During His Stay

SPEAKER IS FROM EMORY

Dr. Smart, a professor of Biblical Theology at Emory University under the leadership of the Fellowship's committee of the YWCA has been a visitor on the campus for the past four days. Arriving late Wednesday night, Dr. Smart began his work Thursday morning with a series of group conferences with Y. W. C. A. committes.

From his experience and understanding service, with kindest sympathy and friendliness, he set about answering the questions, aiding in a solution of the problems which face the young student of today. Valuable group assistance and personal help were the reward of all those so fortunate as to work with him through the days he spent here. A beautiful character, he has become amply beloved and admired for his personality, honor, and keen appreciation of life's values.

Thursday afternoon, a most important meeting with the YWCA was conducted by Dr. Smart in the Y. room. Plans of the entire group were worked out and problems of major importance were brought to the attention of all for a joint solution.

At 5:30 the social committee served tea to the students, faculty and ministers of the town churches who were present Friday morning it was found practical to follow the plan for holding group conferences in view of the fact so many of the students were asking Dr. Smart's kindness for individual conferences. During the remaining two days, he met and talked with these girls of their own problems in forming their religious beliefs.

Dr. Smart is keenly interested in young people but especially is he endeavoring to direct their thinking, trying to guide them into meeting their problems of their lines and building within themselves their faith in God. His general keynote was sounded "religion in life and Christlikeness in living." By a series of inspirational talks in chapel and other general assemblies he succeed in challinging some thought on the part of every one who listened.

Saturday night an informal reception for Dr. Smart was held in the "Student Lounge that those members of the faculty and student body who had not had the opportunity of meeting him might do so and that those why had been working with him night enjoy an evening of general conversation. The group spent a most delightful evening together, the social committee

Continued on page 4

TRAINING SCHOOL ENTERTAINS WITH BAND

On Friday, February 25, at 7:30 p. m. a program for the benefit of the Harmonica band of Farmville was presented. This program was composed of a short play, a minuet, solos on the piano and harmonica, folk dances and melodies. The cast consisted of children under the age of 13. This is, Miss Norris stated, an example of an extra-curricula activity which may offer an opportunity for originality on the part of the teacher and the pupil. This type of activity will develop a spirit of cooperation among the pupils and the teacher and at the same time will teach the pupils to assume responsibility.

MISS OLIVE T. ILER

Freshman Class Man

Talk on Oceanic Life Made By Dr. Jeffers

Dr. Jeffers, head of the Biology department of S. T. C. gave a most interesting lecture on "Living Conditions in the Sea." Wednesday evening, February 1, in the little auditorium. Illustrative pictures helped to describe the conditions of sea life more vividly. His was the second of a series of lectures sponsored by the local chapter of the Farmville Alumnae. Dr. Jeffers continued his lecture on the fact that most area covered by water helps to show the relationship to the earth and its inhabitants. If the earth's surface were land, the water now held by the sea would completely covers it with a depth of about two miles. Perhaps the most vivid contrast of existence can be made between life on land and in water. Our life has been our chief concern, and we have failed to note the conditions that exist. Sea life also has its hardships, and there is a struggle to survive.

The keytone of sea life is a one celled animal known as the diatome. The characters of these animals are most interesting. They are the greatest of all mathematicians, as they multiply by dividing. Life is a food chain and its title is to eat and be eaten. "When do we eat?" is one of the most common problems of

Continued on page 4

STATE CONTEST IN SOLO MUSIC SPONSORED HERE

Miss Lizabeth Purdon, chairman of the High School Department of the Virginia Federation of Music contest held here Saturday, January 24. From the contestants representing all parts of the state, Mildred Garret of Danville and Edna Lawrence of Cherrydale, both lyric sopranos, were chosen to represent the state of Virginia in the Southern District contest which will be held at Atlanta, Georgia, on March 3. The Virginia representatives will compete with singers from practically all Southern States. Winners from the Southern District in this contest will be chosen to enter the national contest, which will take place in Chicago. Six scholarships are being offered by the American Academy of Teachers of Singing and the Music Supervisors National Conference.

NOTICE

All girls who have any old costumes please notify Miss Wheeler or Miss Draper immediately. Dresses typical of each year from 1884 to 1933 are needed for the Founder's Day program.

Blackstone Holds S. T. C. Team 30-30 In Thrilling Game

Magee Shoots Goal In Last Minute of Final Game Prividing Thrilling Close

The 1934 basketball season reached its climax in the Blackstone-Farmville game Saturday, Feb. 24. This last game of the season was played at Blackstone. It was the most intrinsically berath-taking game of the season. With a "last-minute to play" shot Page Magee made the score a tie, 30-30.

At the end of the first half Blackstone was heading the score with a margin of two points. Sanford, Parker, and Walker went in at the beginning of the third quarter. At the end of this quarter Blackstone was ahead, 26-18. Yeaman and McGhee returned to their respective places at the beginning of the fourth quarter. goals were scored immediately, and the score became 29-30. In the last moment McGhee made her free shot. The line-up was as follows:

S. T. C.	Blackstone
Magee, rf	Vaughan, rf.
Yeaman, lf	Killam, lf
Ranson, jc	Franklin, jc
Putney,sc	Holsinger, sc
Beck, rg	Irby, rg
Mayse, lg	Faranto, lg

The outstanding skill of this year's team was displayed in their excellent passwork. Ranson and Putney by accurate and deft passing kept the ball in the hands of the forwards. The yards held the forwards of the apponents in check, relayed the ball down the floor with improving skill. The forwards played accurate shots with their usual dexterity.

This season was played by a good team. The captain, Sarah Beck, commanded her team within a commendable manner. Her quick headwork plays, and her devoted backing inspired the team into perfect cooperation.

S. T. C. FACULTY OFFER STRONG COMPETITION

The Thunderbolts (Faculty) won a decisive victory over the Lightning Rods (Students) in a very exciting basket ball game, played in the gymnasium, Thursday night, Feb. 22.

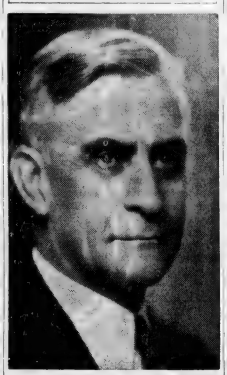
The faculty line-up was:

Miss Moran, Miss Potts, Miss Jenkins, Miss Iler, Miss Bedford, Miss Jones, Miss Fleming, Miss Draper, Miss Barlow and Miss Foster.

As they would get tired the others would gladly fill in. Someone told Miss Foster that she needed more wind. She made the reply that she was getting sufficient wind from the big open door but it didn't seem to do her any good.

Miss Moran proved to be an expert for she very bravely threw the goals. After struggling over a free shot she successfully made it, receiving the applause of an admiring crowd.

Miss Jennings had a big fall just a few minutes after entering the game which caused her to retire sooner than she had anticipated.



Miss Potts doesn't look strong at all, but she fooled the spectators in the game. She was snatching the ball right and left, overguarding at every breath.

Both the faculty and the students disreguarded the rules. They ran and tripped all over the courts, dashing after the ball and throwing it at each other. Dr. Jeffres refered—which accounts for all that.

The student cheer leaders were Meg Hernden and Sarah Beck. They were dressed in quaint old fashioned

Continued on page 4

GOV. GEO. C. PEERY

Governor Peery To Attend Founders Day Celebration

May Day Festival To Feature Dances

The theme for this year's May Day is "Alice In Wonderland." This story will be dramatized in the beautiful Longwood setting.

Dances of all types are the centered interests of the programs. In the prologue masses of bunny rabbits come out through the trees for an airing, showing that winter is over, and it is spring. Alice reads a book and then falls asleep. The dream fairies appear to cast a sleep upon the world. These dances will be beautifully done in the grace and beauty of woodland fairies.

The "father rabbit, Alice, and the Maid of Honor do a dance pantomime. In "Wonderland Alice" will see all. There will be the card dance, the checker board dance and the Oyster Dance. One of the most spectacular wil be the caterpillar dance. The caiterpillar crawls in its cocoon shell and breaks it open to become a beautiful butterfly.

In the court dance, each girl will represent a flower. Their bodies will be draped in green; their heads encircled with large petals, thus, every girl will be a live flower. The carefully designed sets will present a beautiful picture. Alice will be crowned in this live garden.

Continued on page 4

DR. WALMSLEY SPEAKS AT JANUARY MEETING

A series of discussions are being held at the monthly faculty meetings on the Report of University Professors on "Teaching in College." Following a plan which groups these discussions under various heads members of the faculty will lead each meeting.

Dr. Walmsley spoke at the January meeting, followed by Dr. Wynne and Miss Carter, in February. On Tuesday, March 6, Dr. Jarman and Miss Lila London will lecture. Dr. Morris Allen of Hampden-Sydney College will also be invited at this time to read a paper on "College Teaching," which he delivered so impressively in Roanoke at the last meeting of the Virginia Association of Colleges.

These lectures have done a great deal towards stimulating the professors' interest in the problem of good teaching, and in providing valuable suggestions. The student problems of various types are discussed and solved.

This series of lectures will terminate with the two April meetings, the first under the leadership of Miss Stubbs and Mr. Coyner.

Freshmen Present Folk Dances Of The Different Lands

S. T. C. Artist Group Also Featured in Founders Day Program

DANCES CREATE INTEREST

During the "Fiftieth Anniversary Celebration of Founder's Day" there will be many different and unique activities. One of the most interesting features of the program will be the Freshman demonstration of dances.

These dances will be given by the physical education classes of the Freshman Class under the supervision of Miss Iler and Mrs. Fitzpatrick.

At four-thirty, Friday, March 9th, this planned scheme of Folk dances will be given. These dances are the historical ditties of at least 10 nations. Every dance has been practiced with the most careful skill. The program is:

The Old Ruotric Dance	English
The Harvest is Over	Danish
French Reel	French
The Windmill	Dutch
Greensleeves	English
La Cachucho	Spanish
Irish Lilt	Irish
Quadrille (Bow-Wow)	American
Highland Schottische	Scotch
Newcastle	English
Athletic Born Dance	American
Serbian Kolo	Slavic
Half-Moon	German
Bummel Schottische	German
Seven Jumps (Sieben Sprunge")	German Version

The practice of these dances was the work of the Freshmen during the Winter quarter. The complete study of the dances of the nations was the class proects. This demonstration will be one of the most interesting themes in the "Founder's Day" program.

The dancing classes will present a most colorful selection of dances, March 10, in the gym at 10:30 a. m. The natural and tap dancing groups will give a most entertaining performance, consisting of graceful dances, learned during the year. The String Quartet will furnish rhythmic music for these dances, and gay costumes will add grace to the dancing artists. The program will consist of the following dances:

Ballet Scene ..... Gluik
String Quartet
School Day Memories . Arr. by Brem
School Day Memories
Arr. by Bremer
Dance Groups
Gega ..... Carelli
Dance Groups
Waltz Study ..... Chopin
Dance Groups
Spear Dance ..... Maykapar
Duet Dance
In the Gay Nineties
Arr. by Bremer
Dance Groups with String Quartet

Continued on page 4

BIENNIAL CONVENTION HELD IN OHIO

The biennial convocation of Kappa Delta Pi is being held in Cleveland, Ohio, Feb. 27, 28, 29. Anne Putney from Farmville is the Beta Epsilon chapter delegate. At this convocation questions of national importance will be discussed and chapter projects decided upon. Beta Epsilon is now completing a three-year project on history of the school This historical sketch which has been written will be ready for the 50th anniversary celebration on Founder's day. It is of special interest that this convocation is being held at the same time as the meeting of the department of superintendence of the N. E. A.

THE ROTUNDA

Member Southern Inter-Collegiate Newspaper Association
Member Intercollegiate Press Association of Virginia

Newspaper — National Scholastic Press Association — Member

Published by Students of State Teachers College, Farmville, Va.

Entered as second class matter March 1, 1921, at the Postoffice of Farmville, Virginia, under Act of March 3, 1879.

Subscription ..... $1.50 per year

ROTUNDA STAFF

Editor-in-Chief .... Mary Shelton, '34
Associate Editor .... Lelia Mattox, '35

Board of Editors

News ..... Evelyn Massey, '36
Make-Up ..... Katherine Hoyle, '36
Literary Editor .... Birdie Wooding
Louise Walmsley, '36
World News ..... Velma Quarles, '34
Intercollegite ..... Caroline Byrd, '36
Social ..... Marion Raine, '36
Art ..... Alice Rowell, '34
Feature ..... Elizabeth Walton, '36
Alumnae ..... Miss Virginia Potts

Reporters

Amis Montohery
Mary Hastings Holloway
Edith Shanks, '34; Mary Easley Hill, '34; Elizabeth Vassar, '35; Mary Elizabeth Alexander, '36; Lula Windley, '36.
Proof Readers: Katherine Coleman, '35 Grace Eubank, '36

Managers

Business ..... Mary Diehl, '34
Assistant ..... Elma Rawlings, '34
Circulation ..... Nell Oakey Ryan, '34
Assistant ..... Janice White, '35

The Rotunda invites letters of comment, criticism, and suggestion from its readers upon its manner of presenting and treating them. A letter, to receive consideration, must contain the name and address of the writer. These will not be published if the writer objects to the publication.

All matters of business should be addressed to the Business Manager and all other matters should come to the Editor-in-Chief. Complaints from subscribers as regards irregularities in the delivery of The Rotunda will be appreciated.

SISTERS IN OUR ALMA MATER

What does Alma Mater mean to the many girls who each year come back to the rambling long buildings of red brick and columns of stately white? Is it the buildings or the living traditions which they house? Since 1884 girls have been living in these roms, walking or hurrying along these halls, gay and young, thoughtful and slow, meditative and happy. In those first days when our college was designated as the State Female Normal School at Farmville, girls wore long skirts and white blouses for every day, with a cashmere or challie for Sunday best, crowned with queer hats, huge or diminutive, plumed, beribboned, of the latest vogue. Today even the name of the school is changed; it is now State Teachers College; though we dress in varied styles, we girls of this day are not so very different from those of the years past in our gay foolishness and shy dreams, our happineses and our work.

Look at the worn door sill at the Rotunda, the countless stair steps hollowed by the tread of many feet, tumbling joyously, slowly weary, swift with happiness and spirits high, leisurely and thoughtfully; steps worn by girls singly and by groups, girls here then and alumnae now, but still a part of our school and a part of us. These predecessors of ours have carried on and handed down a tradition that is of vibrant beauty, that is a heritage of which we must prove ourselves worthy and capable of understanding.

Think! 50 times has this institution opened in the autumn, 50 years protected and instructed its daughters, caring for them in an atmosphere of loyalty, friendship, and service, teaching them the meaning of these things. Related to the girls who have lived here the years before we came by a great, enfolding and wonderful sisterhood, we realize as time passes on, that we live in a home that shelters us as it has sheltered nearly 15,000 other girls not so very different from us. Our Miss Mary is the head of our home, with Dr. Jarman the understanding adviser, and faculty members as the instructive and wise elders, ready to guide and to teach. We together are sisters living in the close contact of a home, partaking and enjoying the homelike activities of parties in the lounge, of games, of entertainments of classroom groups, of ceremonies, and especially in the lovely custom of prayers.

Just as in the home there is that figurative, if not literal, fireside companionship and understanding, so we have the rare atmosphere surrounding us here of loving interest and friendliness. If these do not exist in a home, the lack is poignantly felt; if these qualities did not live in our college, its traditional spirit and vital atmosphere should cease to exist for us. So these things must be the bonds that irresistably each year draw back earlier daughters. We are proud to realize we have 15,000 sisters who worked and played, sang, sorrowed, hoped, despaired, dreamed, and loved, who lived in these buildings as we now live. It is not the spirit of our class, of classes before or after us that will bring us back as Alumnae are coming back for the 50th Founders Day—it is the spirit of Alma Mater which shell never fail!!

WORLD NEWS

It seems as if our government is not capable of taking over the mail project. The pilots, good as they are, and as the four crashes show, should not have to fly at night, through winter storms and over unfamiliar courses, which it took months for the commercial pilots to learn. The inadequacy of the army radios, which have a range of only 15 miles, was a direct cause of one of the accidents.

In the house of representatives the echo of the crashes rumbled when Representative Fish (Republican) of New York, said sending army men out with the mail without necessary training was "legalized murder."

The body of the knightly King Albert of Belgium lies in peace in the site of a little gray church near the Laeken royal castle.

Albert was buried with the pomp of courtly custom; several days later Leopold, his son, was made king with similar circumstance, but without the tears that marked the cartege of princes, diplomats, clergymen, and commoners honoring the dead monarch. It was Albert who gave us the saying:

"A nation that defends itself never dies."

General Sandino, who for five years rallied his Nicaraguan countryman against "an imperialistic United States foreign policy" was killed by his bitter enemies, the national guardmen. Probable immediate controversy was warded off when the government officials stated that the action of the national guard was contrary to the instructions of President Sarcasa to guarantee the lives of Sandino and his followers while in Managua. An immediate investigation and punishment has been ordered.

Chancellor Dollfuss of Austria has taken his first practical step toward organizing a new life for the Austrian working class by placing the directors of the official news agency in charge of the seized Socialist party publishing house. The distribution of government newspapers for workers is scheduled to begin next week.

FRESHMAN ROTUNDA STAFF

Editor-In-Chief ..... Bonnie Lane
Associate ..... Gay Stieffen
News ..... Bernice Jones
World News ..... Alice Granger
Intercollegiate .... Bess McGlothlin
Socials ..... Chic Dorich
Virginia Jones
Literary ..... Victoria Gillettee
Feature ..... Mary Bowles
Athletic ..... Sally Rose Chappelle
Alumnae ..... Virginia Potts

REPORTERS

Mary Elizabeth Slater... Elsie Cabell
Virginia Baker ..... Sue Wooding

UPTOWN LOWDOWN

Who was the adorable boy "Red" Riddick went to the dance with Saturday night?

We wonder if Sue Hume will ever make up her mind.

Ask Henny to tell you all about the best lotion to use for chapped lips.

What's this in the "Skipper about Angerona and Jean "Baby"?

Ask "Puffy" Jones about "The men Wonder why Elise Marshburn hates Monday and Thursday nights now?

Liz Alexander in the infirmary, or has she learned to take it?

Who is Helen's latest "Conquest" at Hampden-Sydney?

Ask Bess McGlathlin how it feels to be the center of attraction in a mess hall. Duke, for instance.

We wonder if Bebe Russell and her big moment at Hampden-Sydney have "Patched" things up after a quarrel over a certain frat pin?

Just think only 295 days 'till Xmas.

The eternal triangle—Geroge, Tac, and Benny.

And "Junie" finds competition from Madam Queen from U. of Va., I, and Randolph-Macon. Clever girl!!

Our advice to you is to keep your eyes on Lloyd because she has what it takes.

We wonder why Buffalo Hill holds such an attractive for Martha Stine. Could it be sleigh-riding???

Was Mariam Jean trying to tie up the Infirmary like a Xmas package or merely trying to escape?

MY REACTIONS TO "THE CONFESSIONS OF A COLLEGE PROFESSOR"

As a part of our assignment for history we were asked to read an article in the Readers' Digest entitled, "Confessions of a College Professor." This article was a great surprise to me, for it was not at all what I had expected it to be.

A certain college professor was teaching for the first time a group of college Freshmen. He went in with high ideals for his pupils and was shocked to find them so far below the standard set for college freshmen. According to him, they only reached a high school level in intelligence. In spite of the fact of their enability to prepare the lessons as they should be continued to assign college work to them. He was a "hand" teacher hoping in the end to raise the pupils to a higher standard of intelligence. He struggled with them for two terms amid groans and complaints. Finally, he was called before the Dean and asked to be easier on his pupils. A fellow-professor advised him to be easier also and to forget about scholarship and to please his pupils. He said that he did this and now because he is so easy on his pupils he is a very popular professor.

I can't agree with this professor when he says that all the pupils work is an "easy" profession and simple assignments. According to my definition of an "easy" professor they do not. I have heard numbers of students express their opinion on this subject and the vast majority vote for the "hand" professor. They want a teacher who expects something of them. A teacher that wants them to work and thinks they are capable of doing it is the teacher who won't be disappointed. They want someone who will make them do their best.

Isn't it possible that this professor let it be known that he expected poor work from his pupils? Are we Freshmen so very unintelligent? We hope not!

FROM OLD ROTUNDAS

Heorce at mail boxes:
"Nothing but dust."
"I'm going to change my box."
"That wouldn't bring any more mail."

"Look! She's playing around my box, but she hasn't put one in it."

"Please, please put one in my box. Let it be from my brother, and let it have mony in it."

"I wonden if it would do any good to play?"

"A—, the bell has rung. I don't care."

"I'm a wreck."

Wed. Feb. 26, 1930:

This week's issue of Rotunda dedicatece is those who have worked for our Alma Grater, and have contributes in an unconscipicious way to be growth and development.

ALUMNAE NEWS

Again Miss Camper and Miss Taliaferro have had a delightful week-end visit to the alumnae. This time the meeting was on Feb. 24 in Franklin and the Southampton County Alumnae Chapter was organized with nineteen members representing Boykins, Capron, Courtland, Franklin and Ivor. Mrs. J. P. King (Elizabeth Barham) was elected president and Mrs. J. S. Drewry (Lucy Moore), Lizzie Story nd Ethel Kirkland, vice-presidents for the different districts. Other vice-presidents will be appointed later. Elizabeth Hurt, to whose executive ability is due in large measure the organization of the chapter, is secretary and treasurer. Plans were made for a chapter gift on Founder's Day, for the entertainment of the high school girls in April, and for the collection of dues to be sent to the treasurer of the Association of Alumnae.

Other members present were: Mrs. Judith Anne Holland, Mrs. Elie Cutchins Clarke, Mrs. Patience Moore Britt, Mrs. Virginia Skinner Wade, Mrs. Lemma Garrett Johnson, Mrs. Frances Parker Bradford, Mrs. Frances Brightwell Vaughan, Mrs. Gustava Powell Watkins, Mrs. Varina Bailey Jenkins, Misses Marjorie Bryant, Winnie Sutherland, Irma Vaughan, Marion Cobb and Kathryn Claud.

INTERCOLLEGIATE NEWS

Tulane

An exceedingly rare and valuable book issued in 1542, containing not only the first printing of one of Captain-General Herman Cortes' few letters writen from the New World during his conquest in Mexico, but a part of an important mark by another early author, Peter Martyr, was acquired recently by the Department of Middle American Research at Tulane University.

Lexington

"Station WCDE, Graham Dormitory, Lexington, Virginia-Carlton Erickson announcing." Radio listeners of the vicinity need not be surprised should they tune in on such an announcement. Erickson, a freshman, broadcasts early over a set he has rigged up from the motor and pickups of an old phonograph and an eight tube radio set which he has attached together by means of an adapter transmitter. The broadcast may be received by using the short wave dial with full volume. Reception is particularly dear in the dormitories and about town.

Santa Barbara

Arthur Brisbane, famous colmnist, was made an honorary member of Alpha Phi Gamma, journalism fraternity, at the national conventions held at Santa Barbara State College.

A co-ed at a junior dance at the University of Michigan was finally persuaded, after much argument, to take off her shoes to reduce her advantage in height over her escort so that a more uniform appearance might be obtained for a photograph of the leaders.

THE EXAMPLE

Here's an example from
A butterfly,
That on a rough hard rock
Happy can lie;
Friendless and all alone
On this unsweetened stone.

Now let my bed be hard,
No care take I;
I'll make my joy like this
Small butterfly,
Whose happy heart has power
To make a stone a flower.

POETRY

HEART HOUSES

My heart is a little log cabin;
A tumbled in, weather-worn shack,
So humble and small
Few see it at all—
They pass it and never look back.

There are other heart houses much larger,
Much greater and stronger than mine.
There are mansions of gold
With splendor untold,
Just waiting to help and be kind.

My cabin is small; but its waiting
To shelter my fellowmen.
I hope it can be
A harbor at sea,
For one who is needing a friend.

E. G., 37

THE QUITTER

It's easy to cry that you're beaten—and die;
It's easy to crawfish and crawl;
But to fight, and to fight when hope's' out of sight—
Why, that's the best game of them all!
And though you come out of each gruelling bout,
All broken and beaten and scarred,
Just have one more try—its dead easy to die,
Its the keeping-on-living that's hard.

Robert Service.

HOTCHPOTCH

"One Minute To One!" "Turn Back the Clock."
"Tonight May Never Come Again."
"Hold Me." "Take Me In Your Arms."
"Heartbeaker" . . . "Kiss Me Again."

"You Must Believe Me", "Sweetheart Darling,"
"Everything I Have Is Yours"—
"What Would I Do If I Didn't Have You?"
"Dear Heart," "Heaven Only Knows."

"Don't Blame Me," "Because I Love You."
"You"—"You Mean So Much To Me."
"You've Got Everything," "Temptation!"
"I Want You—I Need You," "Close To Me."

"Goodnight Sweetheart," "Always," "Remember,
"You Have Taken My Heart,"
"Save Your Kisses For Me" . . . "I Love You,"
"I'm Lonely Too," "Without You Sweetheart."

E. G., '37.

PARTING

Dear Love, it was so hard to say Goodbye today!
You turned to go, yet going turned to stay!
Till suddenly at last you went away.

Then all at last I found my love unsaid,
And bowed my head;
And went in tears up to my lonely bed—
Oh, would it be like this if you were dead?

Alice Palmer.

Wear baggy clothes that never fit,
And weekly to New York, I'll flit,
Now that I'm a Freshman.

I'll burn my candle at both ends,
I'll drink my midnight oil,
I'll be a guy that freely spends
I'll seek each demon's toll,
My bills will all be in arrears,
My parents, weeping salty tears,
Now that I'm a Freshman.
I'll buy a snappy little car,
I'll cut off all my hair
I'll drive about both near and far,
Drag voigins to my lair;
I'll buy my themes all ready made,
I'll manage by my slams, well laid,
My tedious classes to evade,
Now that I'm a Freshman,
And then when after four long years,
I part with friends and foes with tears,
'Mid my professors' hearty cheers
I will be still a Freshman.

—Selected.

SOCIALS

Miss Margaret Parker, dancing with Mr. Junie Blake and Miss Alice Rowell with Mr. George Wall were sponsors for Hampden-Sydney Mid-Winters on Friday and Saturday evenings of last week. The ballroom was attractingly decorated, using the George Washington red, white and blue color motive. "Nick" Laney and his Duke Collegians furnished music. The following girls from S. T. C. were present.

Miss Angurna Aydlotte with Mr. O. B. Watson.
Miss Betty Barleon with Mr. Rooker White.
Miss Elizabeth Billups with Mr. Lyle Graham.
Miss Kitty Bass with Mr. Nelson Boswell.
Miss Louise Bailey with Mr. Landon Bill.
Miss Mary Bowles with Mr. Verne Fergusson.
Miss Helen Conquest with Mr. Rooker White.
Miss Helen R. Cunningham with Mr. I. E. Layne.
Miss Margaret Dudley with Mr. Arthur Carver.
Miss Burnley Brockenbrough with Mr. Joe Edmondson.
Miss Doris Eley with Mr. Shirley Mullins.
Miss Grace Eubank with Mr. Corbin Glass.
Miss Louise Floyd with Mr. O'Farrall Thompson.
Miss Kathryn Fitzgerald with Bill Cox.
Miss Eileen Howard with Mr. Bob Mercer.
Miss Virginia Hall with Mr. Charles Lemon.
Miss Claudia Harper with Mr. Harry Breakell.
Miss Virginia Hamilton with Mr. Bob Kinnaird.
Miss Nancy Harrison with Mr. Sam McLaughlin.
Miss Sue Hume with Mr. Tommy Garber.
Miss Anne Irving with Mr. Green Lawson.
Miss Mary Virginia Johnson with Mr. R. Patterson.
Miss Dorothy Justis with Mr. Tom Noble.
Miss Eleanor Kellam with Mr. Baldwin.
Miss Jean McClure with Mr. Edwin Bouldin.
Miss Mary McDearmon with Mr. Stuart Farrar.
Miss Iola McIntyre with Mr. Floyd Davis
Miss Jane Main with Mr. Dewal Martin
Miss Sue Mallory with Mr. Bruce Franz.
Miss Elizabeth Meredith with Mr. William Lacy.
Miss Zilla Newsom with Mr. Monk Merrey.
Miss Martha Nothingham with Mr. Howard Bouldin.
Miss Nancy Parker with Mr. Beverly Farrar.
Miss Sallie Perrow with Mr. Urguhart.
Miss Elizabeth Phillips with Mr. "Cut" Roberts.
Miss Virginia Biddick with Mr. Pete Frantz.
Miss Josephine Smith with Mr. Berle Young.
Miss Henrietta Salsbury with Mr. Bob Hundley.
Miss Ruth Showalter with Mr. Ed Poole.
Miss Ellen Simmerman with Mr. Curtis Hubbard.
Miss Mary B. Sullivan with Mr. George Moffitt.
Miss Kathryn Switzer with Mr. John I. Coulbourn.
Miss Florence Tankard with Clarence Campbell.
Miss Frances Tilman with Mr. Richard Wooling.
Miss Virginia Tilman with Mr. Pete Trent.
Miss Mary Virginia Walker with Mr. Kerr Mapp.
Miss Billy Wilkinson with Mr. Ernest Craddock.
Miss Evelyn Wilson with Mr. Billy Lipscomb.
Miss Lula Windley with Mr. Gus Mayes.
Miss Lucille Wilkinson with Mr. George Pernsberg.
Miss Louise Whitehurst with Mr. J. L. Wright.
Miss Katherine Young with Mr. Dwight Rivers.
Miss Mary Shelton with Mr. Paul Blanford.

PRAYERS

A beautiful musical program was the outstanding feature of a most inspiring prayer service which took place in the auditorium last Wednesday evening, February 24.

Mr. Staton Noel of Farmville who was the guest of the evening thrilled his enraptured listeners with the lovely selections, "Evening Star" and "Sylvia."

Mr. Noel sings in the choir and plays in the orchestra at Hampton-Sydney College where he is a student. He sings with a rich, melodious tenor voice and is widely known throughout Farmville and S. T. C. for his rare musical accomplishments.

SING

On Saturday night an operetta, "Woman's Way," was presented in sing. Mary Bowles introduced the characters. Nancy Harrison as, "O Yet Hopeful," made her appearance by bemoaning her fate. Suicide seemed to be the only outlet to her trouble. Virginia Lenard as Persil Scoob dashed in and tried to get all the details of the suicide. Just as she was ready to continue suicide, the undertaker, Meg Herndon as Mollishem rushed in and sold her a contract for burial. Louise Hyde, a Man Hater, came to the rescue and consoled O Yet Hopeful by telling her that all men were useless. O Yet Hopeful and Man Hater then sang a duet entitled "Free, I Am Free."

Honey Hamilton, a bouncing, robust, country lad rushed in and rescued O Yet Hopeful, after which they decided to elope.

The operetta ended with a touching duet, "Now the Foe Is Foed."

ON THE GO

Among the "cute girl" prom trotters this week-end, Berniece Jones seems to have met with a little trouble at the Randolph-Macon dances. We wonder how Mae Burch got along at the co-ed dances at William and Mary and Elizabeth House at Blacksburg.

Oh, these prom-trotters!!

Brooks Wheeler, Gay "Carioca" Stieffen, and Helen "Songbird" Shawen visited in Richmond this week-end. We see that Shawen's gone "West" again!

We see by the papers that Evelyn Knaub galvinated to Richmond Friday for the purpose of shopping. If it's not one thing, it's always a "Nubby."

Homes sweet homes! were infested this week-end with a gay mob of happy girls temporarily released from Farmburg—Martha Nottingham, Nancy Beard, Kitty Woodson, Sarah Beck, Helen Boswell, Nell Boswell, Elizabeth Booth, Josephine Clayton, Frances Elder, Dot Eubank, Merwyn Gathright, Louise Gathright, Iris Hart, Martha Hamlet, Virginia Inge, Frances Jamerson, Bonnie Lane, Lelia Mattox, Elizabeth Shipplett, Freda Shidds, Betsy Wilkinson, Helen Westmoreland, and Dorothy Wise.

Eyes, ears, nose and throat trouble again . . .

Various other reasons ,troubles, and what not called Jestine Cutshall, Jane Coulbourne, Dot Dollins, Mary Howard, Margaret Hurt, Martha Paulings, Billie Roundtree, Lucille Rhodes, Virginia Widgeon, Mary Alice Wood, Laeta Barham, and Elizabeth Billups to many other points on the globe.

Pastor: "I certainly was well pleased to see you at the temperance meeting last nite."

Rounder: "So that's where I was."

YOU WOULD LOVE TO HAVE YOUR SHOES FIXED AT THE
Lovelace Shoe Shop
110 Third Street

S. A. Legus
TAILOR
CLEANING
PRESSING
REPAIRING
Phone 203

BETWEEN THE LINES

Bobbie Dear: (you big baboon!)

After just a dash of sleep the first thing I'm doing is to (get this letter over with, and feed you the old line) write you how much I enjoyed being with you at your (lousy set of dances which were surely a feeble attempt at) Mid-Winter dances. They were the grandest dances (for a bunch of old maids, maybe), and they will linger long in my memory.

I enjoyed every minute (with the football captain) while I was there, and I shall never forget watching you beat up the drunk who was so rude to me on the way back to school (and when you pulled that old gag about no gas. I could have died!)

You are (the biggest bone-head I know, but the football captain is) a dear, and I want you to write as soon as you can, and come in town to see me soon. (I don't care if I never see you again!)

All my love (to that captain).
Sally.

ALPHA SIGMA ALPHA HAS PLEDGE BANQUET

The Alpha Chapter of Alpha Sigma Alpha held its annual pledge banquet in the banquet hall of the tea-room Saturday night, March 24.

A George Washington theme was carried out in menues, place cards, and toast scheme. Besides the chapter and pledges, the following guests were present. Miss Grace Moran, Miss Claudia Fleming, Mrs. Mattie Rogers Sydnor, Miss Martha Wells Catlin, Miss Mary Clay Hiner, Dr. and Mrs. J. E. Walmsley, all of Farmville, Mrs. Eva Organ of Chester, and Miss Mary Alice Young of Boydton.

ON THE SIDE

With a hey-nonny-nonny and a who's afraid of the big bad wolf, S. T. C. girls went hopping and skipping around school and down town all last week. In the drug store, (better known as Shannon's), did you notice how sweetly the girls greeted every Hampden-Sydney boy? Did you hear all of those hushed whispers—or was that sugar talk? The reason for all this enthusiasm was over the Hampden-Sydney Mid-Winter dances. Those sweet glances that the girls cast meant "You'd better dance with me Friday and Saturday nights!" Nevertheless; all the girls who went to the Hampden-Sydney dances said that they had a marvelous time. Keep up the good work, ole girls, because you know Easter is coming!

NOBEL PRIZES—PULITER PRIZES

The Nobel prizes were established in 1896 by the will of Alfred Nobel, the Swedish inventor of dynamite and other explosives. These are awarded anually to five men or women who have made permanent contributions during the year to the field of physics, chemistry, literature and medicine. Nine million dollars was left in trust, the income of this trust is divided into five equal parts each year. The amount of each prize varies with the income from the fund. The trustees may divide a prize between two or more individuals or make no awards if in their opinion there has been no worthy contribution during the year in that particular field of achievement. In 1931 the prize in literature was awarded posthunously to Erik Arel Kalteldt, the Swedish pact. In 1932 John Galsworthy was the recipient of the year's award in literature, but he was unable to appear at the ceremony in Stockholm eb,cause of illness Ivan Bunin won the literature prize for 1933.

Pulitzer prizes are a series of awards which were established in 1915 by the will of Joseph Pulitzer, publisher of the New York World, to be presented annually by Columbia University on recommendation of the advisory board of the Pulitzer School of Journalism for outstanding achievements in letters and ournalism. In 1931 Margaret A. Barnes "Years of Grace," was adudged the American novel which best presented the wholesome atmosphere of American life. In November of this year the announcement was made that in the award for novels, the prize previously restricted to or American author whose novel "best presented the wholesome atmosphere of American life" would thereafter be awarded for the best novel, regardless of theme, published during the year by an American author. Acting under this modification the jury gave the 1932 prize for the best novel to Pearl S. Buck, whose novel, "The Good Earth" presents a true picture of peasant life in China. T. S. Stribling was awarded the prize for his 1933 novel, "The Store."

Kleanwell
CLEANERS AND TAILORS
Expert Cleaning, Repairing and Remodeling of Ladies Garments
Main Street, Opposite Postoffice
PHONE 98

"HE LOVED HER IN THE SPRING, because she was dressed in DOROTHY MAY clothes!

Chic, snappy new spring prints, dresses, also high shades in three price ranges—$2.97—$5.45 and $7.45

Gorgeous dance frocks—just arrived—$9.45 and $12.45.

Blue Moon Dollar Silk Hose, French Chiffon, Lace Top. Special 69c

Lovely new Spring Coats and May West Suits—arriving daily

Where the Smart College Girl Shops

THE DOROTHY MAY STORE

WE ARE especially fitted to Supply
the Needs of COLLEGE WOMEN
Call to see our NEW SPRING LINES
DAVIDSON'S

EACO THEATRE
Program March 1 to 7

Thursday and Friday March 1 and 2
Joan Crawford
Clark Gable
Fred Astaire, Franchot Tone
In
"DANCING LADY"
The most sensational musical triumph of our times, with 300 exotic, dancing ladies and a cast of personalities. You will be completely gay, gloriously happy with Joan and Clark. Dazzling sights to see, merry melodies to hear and magic moments of splendor, plus a romantic story that carries you from start to happy finish. The kind of picture that Joan Crawford belongs in—the kind in which you like her most.
Also 2-Reel Comedy, "All at Sea."
Matinees, 25c; Evenings, 35c
Chapter 5 "Tarzan" Friday

Saturday, March 3
Kay Francis
Ricardo Cortez
Lyle Talbot
In
"MANDALAY"
Imagine a glorious woman in a land where beauty is a girl's misfortune. In the love-enchanted East—where the dawn comes up like thunder, to shatter the spell of bewitching nights. On the road to Manadlay, strewn with the hearts of men who knew her. The glorious Kay as a woman who swore to live her future so madly she'd forget the madness of the past. Hear her sing "When Tomorrow Comes." Don't miss this treat. Regular prices.
Also Chapter 5
With BUSTER CRABBE and Metro News

Next Mon. & Tues., (Not Mat.) March 5 and 6
Frederic March
Miriam Hopkins
George Raft
in
"ALL OF ME"
They don't speak the same language, yet they understand each other. Two pairs of lovers; one from Park Avenue and the other from Tenth Avenue. Unashamed, Park Avenue learns the true meaning of love, from two people who have nothing else. Contrast the society girl with strong love drama from the play, the girl from the slums. Here's strong love drama from the play "Chrysalis." You'll be thrilled.
Also RUTH ETTING in "California Weather" and Fox News
NOTE—TUES. MAT ONLY

Sally Eilers
Norman Foster
"WALLS OF GOLD"
Love against riches. Brought back by special request.

Next Wed., March 7
James Cagney
Mae Clarke, Margaret Lindsay
In
"LADY KILLER"
He's brought you thrilling sensation in every show, in every role. Now see him playing a dozen roles in "Lady Killer." It happened right in Hollywood in broad daylight, the blazing dramatization of a famous movie star's career. A knock-out picture you will thoroughly enjoy.
Also "Manhattan Lullaby" and Screen Souvenir

Daily matinees at 4 P. M. Evenings at 8 P. M.

Prices—Adults, 20c at matinees and 25c at nights; except on percentage pictures, when we must charge 25c and 35c.

C. E. Chappell
COMPANY
Stationery, Blank Books and School Supplies
Cigars, Cigarettes and Soda
Farmville, Virginia

CLASS TEAMS MEET MARCH 5TH

The class basketball games will be played Monday night, March 5th, in the gym. The fight between the "Red and White," and "Green and White," will be renewed. The Sophomores will play the Freshman. This game will be exciting because of old rivalry. A game between the Juniors and Seniors will follow this game.

Many girls have made the class teams. Practices have been held every week for the girls trying out for the teams. These games will be of outstanding interests for the student body.

The following are excerpets taking from Dr. Payne's talks elsewhere:

"More than in any previous epoch it has fallen to the teacher to dream the dreams of man and lift up before him visions of his future. In these times there are so few blazing the trail on the mountainsides to which ebuellient youth lift up their eyes and view the hills from whence cometh their help." Those who aided you in other years are no longer your helpful allies. The great prophets of yesterday who cried from Sinai are rare, while the messages of those remaining are weekened by the restlessness of the people. The stateman, philosopher is an extinct type. The politician is overpowered with today's legislation. The average wise commercial leader is too much engaged in unscrambling the industrial wreckage of the past and in scheming for the immediate profits of the present to be able to plan for or to peer very far into the future.

And I am asking that you do this some thing—clearly to conceive your dreams, preach them, fight for them, even until and unto death.

EXAM SCHEDULE

March 13

8:30—11:00 MWF classes.
11:00—12:00 MWF classes.
4:00— 4:00 p. m. classes.
7:15— 7:15 p. m. classes.

March 14

8:30—8:30 TTS classes.
11:00— 9:30 TTS classes.
2:00— 2:00 MWF classes.

March 15

8:30—11:00 TTS classes.
11:00—12:00 TTS classes.
2:00— 3:00 P. M. classes.

March 16

8:30 — 8:30 MWF classes.

TALK ON OCEANIC LIFE MADE BY DR. JEFFERS

Continued from page 1

sea life. This question is not foreign to us as we often hear it in our own dormitories.

The sea is self fertilizing, and the various deceased bodily structures tend themselves to its fertility. Light, however, is the limiting factor in plant life in the sea. The enormous depths of the sea hinder the full penetration of the radiant rays of light, and consequently only the plants that do receive light are permitted to grow.

The kingdom of the sea holds specimen of life that are yet uncertain. We cannot accurately foretell its future, neither can we enumerate its inhabitants. After all the sea is responsible for the lives of many men, and man should do his part to conserve its natural resources.

DR. SMART DELIVERS RELIGIOUS LECTURES

Continued from page 1

served a delicious punch and small cakes.

The Methodist services in the morning and evening were conducted by Dr. Smart. He ended his stay with two very beautiful messages. Those who were privileged to will long find them to be an aid in their lives. The text of the morning's service, "All things work together for good to them that love God", carried the theme and content of his sermon. In the evening Dr. Smart took into consideration the much discussed subject of prayer, but he developed his thought along a much less used and practical channel. His own views and suggestions upon the meaning of prayer, the place it has in Christian experiences, brought to a climax the thought he had challenged with all that he said during the four days on the campus.

DRAMATIC CLUB GIVES TEA TO NEW MEMBERS

The Dramatic Club gave a tea for the new members in the Dramatic Club Room, Thursday afternoon, February 22.

Nancy Harrison, the president, presided over the tea table. Tea and dainty sandwiches were served by the Executive Board. The guests enjoyed this social meeting.

HATS OF FIFTY YEARS

The millinery class has been busily engaged in making 50 hats illustrations of the styles from 1884 to the present date. They will be on exhibit during the Founders Day program in room 43 of Science Hall.

The class consists of Misses Hazel Cleoringer, Vernice Cralli, Mary Elizabeth Driscoll, Eileen Howard, Neva Martin, Joe Marton, Eva Simmons, Sussie Welt, and Elizabeth Wall.

CALENDAR

Wednesday, February 28

5:00—Y. W. Cabinet.
7:00-7:30—Rotunda Staff.
7:30-8:30—Pi Gamma Mu.

Thursday, March 1

5:00—Student Standards Committee.
7:00-8:00—Dramatic Club.

Friday, March 2

7:00-8:00—Monogram Club.
7:00-8:00—Gamma Psi.
8:00-9:00—Sigma Pi Rho.

Monday, March 3

7:00-8:00—Virginia Staff.
7:00-8:00—A. A.

Tuesday, March 4

7:00-7:30—Class meeting.
10:00—Council.

S. T. C. FACULTY OFFERS STRONG COMPETITION

Continued from page 1

costumes, but their methods of cheering were quite up to date.

Before the game began the grand faculty March around the gym was led by Dr. Simpkins. The participants were clad in red and white and brandishing banners gayly aloft amid the cheers of the crowd. All this caused much amusement to the spectators.

We will have to admit that our faculty are good sports as well as good basket ball players. We didn't realize, until the game, that there was so much hidden talent among them.

Miss Moran, Miss Bedford, Miss Foster and Miss Potts deserve special mention. Miss Moran for her excellent goal shooting power, and determination to "do or die" for the "deah old team." Moss Foster for her grand cooperation with Miss Bedford who we didn't realize, until that night, is as fast as the wind. Miss Potts for her defense work against the student forwards. In one or two instances she became so determined to make good that we were a little frightened for our sister students, who were defenseless lambs.

FRESHMEN PRESENT MANY FOLK DANCES

Continued from page 1

Reverie ..... Fanconier
String Quartet
Oysters .....Tionkin Finston
Artist Dance Groups
Minuet ..... Vandet
String Quartet
Crescendo ..... Sossar
Dance Group
Aria ..... Tenaglia
String Quartet
Romance ..... Richards
Artist Dance Groups
Alma Mater (Presentation of Gifts)
.....M. V. Potts
Dance Groups

Josephine Smith singing accompanied at the piano by Louise Hyde.

MAY DAY FESTIVAL TO FEATURE DANCES

Continued from page 1

The Artist Dance Group has composed the dances which will be used. Sue Yeaman, charman of the May Day program, is urging every girl in the student body to take part in this program.

RICE'S SHOE STORE

Street and Dress Shoes

Dancing Slippers Dyed

Correct fits our speciality

BEAUTY GOSSIP

When ladies talk to ladies, during that stranded interval at or after dinner for example, what do you hear? You hear gossip and mostly beauty gossip. Nor does anybody twitter about things any more. People come right out with them. Your hair's a nice shade tonight; is it henna? You know you've been there yourself. Here are the bits and pieces about mouth and eyes that are flying around these February days. For there is no question about it that your mouth and eyes are the two most important points of all in your face.

Lady Castlevasse, the British beauty who has been in New York uses no make up except lipstick and eye shadow, and she curls up her lashes with a little kurlash iron. Lots of people use this little iron for curling eyelashes and even carry it in their handbags.

A complexion transformation! If you notice one, don't be to sure that the ladies have been eating carrots. It has been learned that a cream, known as cover work, originally intended to conceal serious blemishes and scars, has been seized by alert ladies and used as make-up.

What about nail polishes! There's a rumor faint but present that scarlet nails are decreasing. And for why? Not because people are tired of them certainly, but once your fingers are used to them they look undressed without them. Deep polish, demanding constant renewal and double coats, does make the nails go dry and brittle.

Now, about the hair! It's going up and up. Paris cables that almost every smart head seen in the evening is dressed terribly high and every New York party brngis more brushed up coiffures. It is brushed straight up in back, just as in the pompadour days and at the top is a little circle of that ringlets. It is described as the washer woman's topknot.

With hair way up the ears come in for a bit of attenion, and you notice delicately rouged lobes which avoids a break in the rouge line and makes the rest of the ears look whiter. In Paris the new clip earrings are seen everywhere. Hair started up when hats again sat on an angle on one side of the head, and then hair started to be cut shorter and the brushed up effect followed. Hair that goes back smooth and unwaved from the hairline on the top looks smartest under off-the-face hats. Nobody thought much of these at first until a few very important ladies started wearing them. Then everybody began to wear them.

—Vogue.

JINGLE BELLS

"Get out your old gray bustle!
Get your fanny in a hustle!
'Cause the snow has come today.
Off.
We're gonna' shuffle—shuffle off to Buffalo!!
Strange little tunes like these were heard in the halls Sunday morning when the girls discovered the arrival of snow.

Weyanoke

BEAUTY SALON

A Complete Beauty Service At Moderate Prices

What we have done for others we can do for you

WEYANOKE HOTEL
Farmville Va.

RADIO HIGHLIGHTS

February 28, March 3

8:30—Albert Spalding, WABC.
9:00—Troubadours, WEAF.
9:30—John McCormack, WJZ.
9:30—Lombardo, WABC.
10:00—Lopez Orchestra, WJZ.
10:00—Waring Orchestra, WABC.
11:15—Negro Qintet, WABC.
11:30—Little Orchestra, WABC.

Thursday

8:00—Rudy Voke Orchestra, WEAF.
9:30—Duckin Orchestra, WJZ.
10:00—Paul Whitman, WEAF.
10:00—Gray Orchestra, WABC.

Friday

8:00—Jessica Dragonete, WEAF.
8:00—Green Orchestra, WEAF.
8:00—Green Orchestra, WABC.
9:00—Leah Roy; Hardis Orchestra, WJZ.
9:00—Lyman Orchestra, WEAF.
9:30—Maud Adams, WEAF.
11:15—Boswell Sisters, WABC.

Saturday

8:00—Oslen Orchestra, WEAF.
9:30—Duchin Orchestra, WJZ.
9:45—Oxford Quartet, WMCA.
10:00—Rolfe Orchestra, WEAF.
10:00—Byrd Expedition, WABC.
11:30—Paul Whiteman, WJZ.

Sunday

3:00—Wayne King, WEAF.
8:00—Eddie Cantor.
8:30—Waring Orchestra, WABC.
9:00—Will Rogers, WJZ.
9:00—Nino Martin, WABC.
0:00—Rebroadcast from Byrd Expedition, WABC.

The fair damsels nearly froze to death on Buffalo Hill, but the excitement of the night life made them forget the cold weather. Those girls who strayed away for the week-end were snow bound. Although they missed a lot of fun here, they were glad of the chance to stay away from classes.

Out from behind the clouds appeared the sun, causing many groans. "Do you think the sun will melt the snow?" was the question asked by many skirts.

Electric Shoe Shop

Will Fix Your Shoes While You Wait

BEST WORKMANSHIP AND LEATHER USED

WILLIS
The Florist

FLOWERS FOR ALL OCCASIONS

PHONES 181-273

EXHIBIT HELD OF CHILDREN'S CLOTHING

There will be a new exhibit of the self-help type of garments for children, on Tuesday, March the sixth in room 43 of Science Hall. This exhibit comes from the Home Economics Bureau at Washington, D. C.

The room wil be open to visitors from nine to five-thirty. The public is invited and urged to attend this exhibition. There will be no admission charged.

Mack's

BARBER AND BEAUTY SHOP

323 Main Street

We use the Frederick Method

Hair Cutting and Thinning a Specialty

Martin JEWELER

Gifts of Lasting Remembrance

317 Main St. Farmville

We give Jubilee tickets

SouthsideDrugStore

(On the Corner)

Films Developed

FREE

If bought at this store

Shannon's

Is Headquarters for the Best SANDWICHES —and— DRINKS —in— FARMVILLE!

THE HUB—Exclusive Agents

LADY ESTHER—four purpose vanishing cream

Listen in on Lady Esther program with Wayne King Broadcasting

75c Jar Four Purpose Cream 50c
Lady Esther Marvelous Powder 55c

Arriving daily—Lovely new spring coats and dresses. Spring shoes—lovel yties, pumps, and oxfords. Prices $2.9 5to $3.95.

FIRST TO SHOW THE NEWEST

THE HUB DEPARTMENT STORE

"Farmville Best Place to Shop"

"PRIMROSE HOUSE" COSMETICS

Featuring Primrose House Face Powder Regular $1.00 box, Special 69c

50c size Spearmint Tooth Paste 10c

Spearmint Tooth Brushes, 10c

EVERYTHING FOR THE COLLEGE GIRLS AT

BALDWIN'S

Quality—Price—Service

C. F. Butcher

High Street

"The Convenient Store"

FOR GOOD THINGS TO EAT AND DRINK

Gray's Drug Store

QUALITY—PRICE—SERVICE

Come in and Get Acquainted

We Are Glad to Have You With Us!

Farmville, Virginia

450 ALUMNAE RETURN FOR CELEBRATION FRI.

THE ROTUNDA

WELCOME ALUMNAE!

We Teach To Teach

Volume XIV | THE ROTUNDA, SATURDAY, MARCH 10, 1934 | No. 21

State Teachers College Observes Golden Anniversary

Four Noted Artists Sing Here Tonight On Music Program

Part II of Program Will Be Broadcast Over WRVA at 9:00 O'clock

LOCAL CHORUSES TAKE PART

The concert given by the choir of the College, the Choral Club, and the orchestra, will be presented Saturday night, March 10, at 8 o'clock in the College Auditorium. The following outstanding artists are to take part in the concert: May Korb, soprano; Marie Murray, contralto; George Milton Tinker, tenor, and Charles Trowbridge Tittman, bass-baritone.

The program will be as follows:

Part 1

"The Messiah," Handel, part the first.

Overture.

"Comfort Ye, "Every Valley," recit air.

"And the Glory of the Lord," chorus.

"Thus Saith the Lord," "But Who May Abide," recit. air.

"O Thou That Tellest," air and chorus.

"Rejoice Greatly," soprano with chorus.

"Then Shall the Eyes," recit.

"He Shall Feed His Flock," contralto, soprano and chorus.

Part 2

(a) "Spirit Dance," Gluck; (b) "Cabin Song," White; College orchestra.

(a) "Come Love With Me," Carnevali; (b) "Spinnerliedchen," German Folk Song; (c) "Voci di Primavera," Strauss by May Korb.

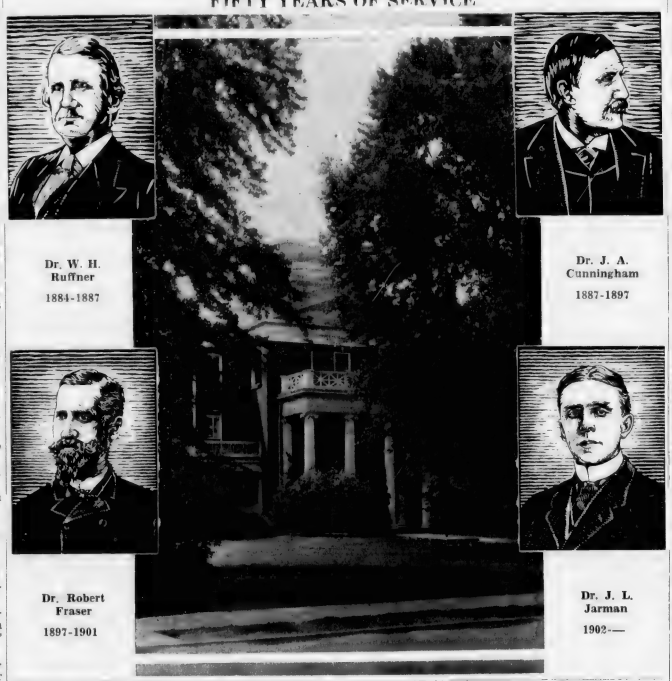
(a) "My Lady Walks In Loveliness," Charles; (b) "Joy," Wintter Watts by George Milan Tinker.

(a) "Serenade," Schubert; (b) "Liebestraum," Liszt, by the Choir of the College.

(c) "Festival Ode," Strick; the Choir of the College, Choral Club, Hampden-Sydney Glee Club, Business Men's Chorus, Farmville.

Continued on page 3

Dancing Classes Present A Recital



Friday afternoon, March 9th, at 4:30, the entire Freshman Class will gave a program of folk dances. These dances are some of the most representative folk dances at various countries over the whole world. All practice and preparation for the program have been done during class time in the winter quarter, so the presentation was more of a demonstration than an exhibition.

The Freshman Class was divided into groups under Miss Iler and Mrs. Fitzpatrick of the Physical Education Department; each section presented several dances.

The program is:

The Old Rustic Dance	English
The Harvest Is Over	Danish
French Reel	French
The Windmill	Dutch
Greensleeves	English
La Cachucho	Spanish
Irish Lilt	Irish
Quadrille (Bow Wow)	American
Highland Schottische	Scotch
Newcastle	English
Athletic Barn Dance	American
Serbian Kolo	Slavic
Half-Moon	German
Bummel Schottische	German
Seven Jumps (Sieben Sprunge)	German

FIFTY YEARS OF SERVICE

Dr. W. H. Ruffner
1884-1887

Dr. J. A. Cunningham
1887-1897

Dr. Robert Fraser
1897-1901

Dr. J. L. Jarman
1902—

Open House Embraces Departmental Exhibits

"Open House" was observed in the College from 2:30 until 5 o'clock on Friday afternoon, March 9. At this time every department in the school was open for inspection and had an exhibition work done in the department. Students acted as hostesses in the departments in which they are majoring.

The training schools each had work exhibited in the college. The Campus Training school was open for inspection and each grade had a display of work done during the year. Work brought from Curdsville, John Randolph, Rice, and Worsham, exhibited in rooms 29 and 30 in the west wing of the College, formed an important part of the displays.

Various departments in the College had unusual exhibits of different phases of instruction. The biology department displayed biological specimens, pictures, and models; the chemistry department, electrical devices. The publications of faculty members were placed in room 19 for inspection. The work of Miss Coulling's and Miss Bedford's art classes was shown in Dr. Walmsley's and Miss Bedford's class rooms. In room 20 was an exhibit by the Latin classes. The home economics department had a very interesting display of hats of various periods and of other work done this year. Maps designed in sand, of paper pulp, and with ink were shown in the geography department.

Tea was served at all times during "Open House" in the Student Building Lounge, the Biology Department, and the Home Economics Depart-

Continued on page 4

Alumnae Participate In Costume Parade

The Alumnae parade, scheduled for 4 o'clock, Saturday afternoon, March 10, will take place in the gymnasium. The class of '84 will lead this gala procession, and the classes will follow in chronological order.

Participants in the parade will assemble in the Recreation Hall shortly after they return from the Alumnae luncheon at Longwood. Instructions will be given and leaders for each class will be chosen. The leaders will wear one of the hats in class colors, which have been made by Miss Tupper's classes and a period costume, that will be provided by the committee on costumes. Each leader will carry a class colored pennant made by Miss Coulling's art classes.

From the Recreation Hall the Alumnae will march to the gymnasium. All of the Alumnae are expected to join this parade whether or not they are dressed in white. After the grand march there will be music, class songs, and yells.

Among the interesting costumes which are being secured for the occasion is one of pearl grey corded silk embroidered in lavender with chenille orchids and trimmed with lace. This gown, which is being lent

Continued on page 4

Hail to 1894!

The only Class that has kept a Class letter in circulation for forty years.

Welcome home, '94!

Eminent Persons At Anniversary Celebrat'n

A group of dignitaries surpassing in number any formerly-gathered group in the history of the institution were assembled yesterday morning for the Academic procession into the College Auditorium.

Leading the procession were Dr. J. L. Jarman, and Ex-governor Trinkle. Heading the group of speakers were Dr. Bruce R. Payne, president of George Peabody College for Teachers, and Dr. Samuel C. Mitchell, head of the Department of History of the University of Richmond, who delivered the principal addresses. Representing other institutions of higher learning and those who brought greetings were Dr. R. F. Blackwell, president of Randolph-Macon College; Dr. J. P. McConnell, president of Radford State Teachers College; Dr. Bessie Carter Randolph, president of Hollins College; and Dr. John L. Newcomb, president of the University of Virginia.

The following representatives of other colleges marched in the Academic procession; Dean K. J. Hoke, William and Mary; Fitzgerald Flournoy, Washington and Lee; J. D. Eggleston, Hampden-Sydney; President T. H. Jack, University Alabama; Dr. B. West Tabb, Richmond; Dr. W. T. Sanger, Medical College of Virginia; Pres. James N. Hillman, Emory and Henry; E. Southard Shields, V. M. I.; Dr. L. Wilson Jarman, Mary Baldwin; Dr. Charles Smith, Roanoke; Pres. F. N. Cammack, Averett; Dr. J. A. Burrus, V. P. I.; Prof. C. E. Normand, San Houston S. T. C.; Pres. Paul H.

Continued on page 4

Formal Exercises Start Celebration Of Fiftieth Year

Dr. Bruce R. Payne and Dr. S. C. Mitchell Deliver Fine Addresses

T. A. McCORKLE IS MARSHAL

The Fiftieth Anniversary celebration of the founding of Farmville State Teachers College began with the formal exercises Friday morning, March 9, at 11 o'clock. Dr. Bruce R. Payne, President of George Peabody College for Teachers, and Dr. S. C. Mitchell, University of Richmond, made the addresses at the exercises, over which Ex-governor E. Lee Trinkle presided.

The distinguished guests, the college faculty, and the Senior Class formed the academic procession, which was led by Dr. J. L. Jarman and Ex-governor Trinkle, with Mr. T. A. McCorkle as marshal. This procession marched from the Student Building, through the colonnade to the auditorium, where the exercises were held.

Reverend W. C. Gardner, pastor of the Farmville Presbyterian Church offered the invocation. An overture, "The Goddess of Liberty," by the College orchestra under the direction of Miss Lisabeth Purdom, was the first number on the program.

Governor Trinkle opened the exercises with a short tribute to the College and to Dr. Jarman. He said: "Virginia is proud of the work Farmville has done and is doing. I have a great respect for the work that Dr. Jarman has done. I say in all sincerity that I love Dr. Jarman as does that whole Commonwealth of Virginia."

He introduced Dr. Payne who made the first address. Dr. Payne recalled the years when he was a trustee of the college. He told of the improvements that have been made in education in Virginia in the past 30 years and pointed out the part that Farmville and the

Continued on page 3

Shakespearean Play Favorably Received

"Midsummer Nights' Dream," a Shakespearean play, which was presented by the Dramtic Club on Friday night, March 9, will be one of the most outstanding features of the Founder's Day celebration.

Most of us are familiar with this, one of the most popular of Shakepere's plays. It was given last year with so much success, that in response to the many requests for its repetition it was repeated again.

It is a fanciful play, unreal and mystical. The scene is laid in a wood near Athens on a midsummer's night. The characters are faries and mortals too. Effective and colorful costumes, and georgeous lighting go to make up a really beautiful play.

It was really a light and very fantasy. The stupid mortals go blunderingly about their affairs, while the fairies dance impishly and merrily in and out entangling relationships and mixing things up in a most amusing manner.

Many think Shakespere was at his best in the charming and delightful love story. Many strange things, all the work of the fairies, occur on this midsummer's night, the unraveling of which forms the theme of the play.

Continued on page 4

THE ROTUNDA

Member Southern Inter-Collegiate Newspaper Association
Member Intercollegiate Press Association of Virginia

Newspaper — National Scholastic Press Association — Member

Published by Students of State Teachers College, Farmville, Va.

Entered as second class matter March 1, 1921, at the Postoffice of Farmville, Virginia, under Act of March 3, 1879.

Subscription ..... $1.50 per year

ROTUNDA STAFF

Editor-in-Chief . Mary Shelton, '34
Associate Editor . Lelia Mattox, '35

Board of Editors

News ..... Evelyn Massey, '36
Make-Up ..... Katherine Hoyle, '36
Literary Editor ..... Birdie Wooding
Louise Walmsley, '36
World News ..... Velma Quarles, '34
Intercollegiate ..... Caroline Byrd, '36
Social ..... Marion Raine, '36
Art ..... Alice Rowell, '34
Feature ..... Elizabeth Walton, '36
Alumnae ..... Miss Virginia Potts

Reporters

Anne Montohery
Mary Hastings Holloway
Edith Shanks, '34; Mary Easley Hill, '34; Elizabeth Vassar, '35; Mary Elizabeth Alexander, '36; Lula Windley, '36.
Proof Readers: Katherine Coleman, '35
Grace Eubank, '36

Managers

Business ..... Mary Diehl, '34
Assistant ..... Elma Rawlings, '34
Circulation ..... Nell Oakey Ryan, '34
Assistant ..... Janice White, '35

The Rotunda invites letters of comment, criticism, and suggestion from its readers upon its manner of presenting and treating them. A letter, to receive consideration, must contain the name and address of the writer. These will not be published if the writer objects to the publication.

All matters of business should be addressed to the Business Manager and all other matters should come to the Editor-in-Chief. Complaints from subscribers as regards irregularities in the delivery of The Rotunda will be appreciated.

TO OUR ALUMNAE!

Greetings:

A reunion is always a joyous occasion, but it is natural that we look forward with even more than the usual thrill of pleasure to the celebration of our Golden Jubilee. We just wish that every graduate and every student who has ever been here could attend.

Many of you will be with us, you will add much to the occasion which would be over missed without you; many will wish that they could come—their thoughts and good wishes will help us.

To one and all we send greetings, we know you are with us in understanding your Alma Mater has throughout the country and that your interest in her is unflagging, but let us urge that whenever possible for you to do so you make a personal visit. It is hard to keep up an interest in anything with which you have no contact from time to time so, whenever it is in your power to do so, stop by and see the institution and what it is doing.

Hoping to have the pleasure of seeing you before long

Sincerely yours (signed)
J. L. Jarman, Pres.

On Friday and Saturday of this week we celebrate our Founders' Day. But the year we are celebrating something more than even the Fiftieth Anniversary of the college. We are celebrating, in fact, a half-century of organized teacher-training in Virginia.

For years we have looked forward to this occasion. For months we have planned for it, and now that time is upon us many of our anticipation has been surpassed and the preparations for the comments of our welcome we are still certain, but that our friends should decide to visit us in such numbers gives us some slight uneasiness as to our ability to give them the same personal attention that they have received in the past. On the other hand, the thought that those same friends will understand, reassures us.

Many people have shared in the responsibility of preparing the various programs for the two-day celebration. To all of them—faculty, home department, and students—our sincere thanks are due. We are all going to be on hand to give our visitors a real Farmville welcome. We sincerely hope for good weather, and we hope that our returning alumnae and friends are going to go away well satisfied with their stay with us.

—G. W. Jeffers.

World News

Nine years ago there was a great stir over the news that Herbert Hoover had secured transfer of the bureau of mines from the department of interior to the department of commerce. Last week President Roosevelt quietly issued an executive order transferring the bureau of mines from the department of commerce to the department of interior.

President Roosevelt, who has given up the handshaking habits of his predecessors, made an exception and shook the hands of 140 Grand Masters of Masonry.

To Congress the President sent a special message recommending that a federal communications commission be set up having power over telegraph, telephone, and radio similar to the powers which the Interstate Commerce Commission has over railroads and the federal power commission over electric companies.

The President signed a bill providing $40,000,000 as seed loans for farmers, but took the opportunity of pointing out to the press that of last year's $100,000,000 loans only $73,000,000 had been repaid by Jan. 1. Said he: "This 1934 loan by the government should be considered as the tapering off loan and should be the last of its kind.

FROM OLD ROTUNDAS

March 3, 1923

"I can think of no way for us to celebrate Founders' Day this year than our making this cash contribution to the building fund:

We're coming, we're coming,
This strong mighty band
Five dollars, five dollars
In each wielding hand!"

Pauline Camper.

Remember that the Student Building is to be the longest and handsomest building in the Campus and that it needs your help."

J. L. Jarman.

March 15, 1924

Fortieth Anniversary of Founder's Day celebrated."

Among the many stunts given in granting gifts for Founder's Day on the fortieth anniversary were these:

"Aunt Lucy brought in a bouquent; on the end of the many ribbons attached to it were tied bills. The De-Ho-Ec-Club sent this."

"The Training School lunch room sent $5 in the form of a sandwich."

An old alumnae writes in 1924:

"There's just not another Normal School like Farmville anywhere and I wish every girl I knew could go there."

Robert B. Trunstall, of Nesfall, was speaker on Founder's Day in 1927.

"The rising bell sounded through the halls at 6:45 on Tuesday, March 7, 1932, announcing that Normal School Day had begun. An early beginning was necessary to crowd in one day the love and loyalty that has been growing since March 7, 1884."

TO MISS COULLING, MISS RICE, AND MISS SMITHEY

Perhaps none have been more loyal to our college than three members of our faculty who have faithfully served in it since the first years of its life. To Miss Estelle Smithey, who has been here since 1896 as head of the Modern Language Department, to Miss Martha Coulling, who has taught art since 1887, and to Miss Minnie V. Rice, who has taught Latin since 1891 and has been head of that department for 43 years, we owe all the love and admiration that we can give.

To these three we are most grateful for their patience and service, and we know that a great deal of the credit for the growth of our school belongs to them.

On this Fiftieth Anniversary we offer our thanks to Miss Smithy, Miss Coulling, and Miss Rice.

OUR PRESIDENTS

The first teacher-training institution in Virginia was established in 1884 in Farmville. The building and grounds of what was then known as Farmville College were donated to the new school. As the bill was passed on March 7, this date is observed in the college as Founder's Day.

Dr. William Henry Ruffner was the first president of the State Female School. He was a man peculiarly well suited for the work of organizing the school. Before taking his position at Farmville Dr. Ruffner was the first superintendent of public instruction in Virginia. He brought to the new institution a thorough understanding of the needs of the public schools and the needs of the teacher.

In 1845 Dr. Ruffner was graduated with the master's degree from what is now Washington and Lee University, of which his father was president for many years. He entered the ministry and was at one time chaplain of the University of Virginia. His broad culture and wide experience were reflected in the school, as attested by the smoothness and efficiency of the organization from the beginning.

Farmville's second president came into office in 1887. Dr. John Atkinson Cunningham became the successor of Dr. Ruffner and carried on most efficiently the work begun three years previously. He was a man of sound scholarship, a student of the University of Virginia and a graduate of the University of Nashville. From his service as a professor in a college, in a military school, and as principal of Madison School in Richmond, he understood the problems and needs of the public school.

Dr. Cunningham served Farmville and the state for 10 years and died in service. He was an excellent administrator, and progress under his guidance was steady. He was a man of deep sympathy, and he gave his life to the school.

Upon the death of Dr. Cunningham, Dr. Robert Frazer, then president of the Industrial Institute and College at Columbus, Miss., was called to the presidency of the Normal School. "He brought to his new work a richly stored mind, a broad knowledge of life, and a varied and valuable experience in schools of many types. His four years' work was characterized by the same earnestness and zeal, the same conscientious devotion to his convictions of duty that he displayed elsewhere and the result, as before, was growth and expansion of a steady, stable kind.

Dr. Frazer resigned his position in 1902, to accept that of field agent of the general education board.

The fourth president of State Teachers College, Dr. Joseph L. Jarman, has served longer than all of the others combined. He is nationally known as an educator.

Among the changes that have taken pla ceunder the administration of Dr. Jarman may be noted that the name of the institution has been changed twice. From 1884 to 1914 it was known as the State Female Normal School, then as the State Normal School for Women. In 1916 the privilege of conferring degrees was granted, and in 1924 it became the present State Teachers College.

During the administration of the four presidents the school has expanded from the one original building to the present plant. Among the buildings which have been erected may be mentioned the East and West Wings, the Middle East Wing, the Training School, Infirmary, Dining Hall, Dormitories, the Laundry and Power Plant, and, the greatest achievement of all, the beautiful Student Building, which occupies the east end of the campus. The enrollment has varied from one hundred seven in 1884 to over one thousand.

ALUMNAE NEWS

We are most enthusiastic about the organization of another chapter. A letter from Jenilee Knight, chairman of the Nominating Committee, gives the details of the formnig of the Wise-Lee Alumnae Chapter. Sue Hyatt, of Norton, was elected president. We are expecting a great deal from this group since there are a number of "old girls" in that section.

The Staunton Chapter is always a busy one. This year, instead of the usual bridge-party method of making money they are putting on a benefit play, "The Queen's Husband." The cast is made up of Staunton people.

At the regular meeting of the Farmville Alumnae the past week plans for Founder's Day were discussed, a contribution decided on and a Nominating Committee appointed for officers for the coming year.

In the University of Virginia Record mention is made of theses being accepted for Master's Degrees by Easter Souders and Ann Holladay. Kathleen Saville has published an article on Rural School Supervision in Virginia.

ONE LONG WAITED FOR ARRIVES

Excitement has raged high on the campus, ever since the rumor, that the annuals were coming, spread. Thursday was the eventful day.

By 4 o'clock groups of girls could be seen pushing and cranning necks to get a peep at the boat.

After admiration of the lovely cover with the picture of the school today on the front and on the back the picture of it in 1884, was loudly acclaimed, the next move was to satisfy the much prevalent curiosity. "Who are the 'personalities'?" "There's McKay, Honey, Sue Yeaman, 'Queenie' Parker, Mary Shelton, and Nancey Harrison!"

"Now to find out who's showing their faces above the sheets!" "Oh! I'm so surprised (?)—There's Honey McKay, Shaver, Parker, and Betsy!"

"Have you seen our contest?" "Yes, McCoyner and Mr. French surrounded by Nancy Harrion, Honey Hamilton, Dot Eley, Ginny Hall, Anne Irving, Margaret Farrar, Meg Herndon, Ruth Showalter, Nancy Parker, Hazel Smith ,and Mary Bowles."

"Can't wait to read what Miss Coulling, Miss Rice, Miss Southerlin, and Dr. Jarman wrote about the by-gone days—that'll be interesting!"

"Don't you love the way the home was carried out?"

And so on and on until every picture, every word was examined and read and each of the many unusual features of this, our Golden Anniversary year book was admired.

Three rousing cheers, orchids, or brass buttons for Mary Burgess, "Burk," Mr. Mac, Miss Jennings and the staff!

INTERCOLLEGIATE

University of Vienna students who only come to classes for final exams pass the courses as often as those who attend regularly. Yes, but think how much more sleep the ones who attend classes get.

—Florida Flambeau.

Optional attendance at classes has been granted to students with a B average at Southwestern College, Winfield, Kan. The experiment will be tried during the second semester with the possibility of making it a permanent part of the system.

—Florida Flambeau.

An investigation conducted by a northern college revealed that there are six million college graduates in the United States. Incidentally there are the same number unemployed.

—Rensselaer Polytechnic.

The Fenn College Cauldron has reported the right way to the thing. Two professors at Vallepin College in Spain were locked in a room, says the Cauldron, by 50 students and were not released until they promised to pay the whole class without an examination.

—Tulane.

The students at Lenoir Dhyne College, Hickory, N. C., have been given mimeographed sheets explaining the purpose of the Lenten season and have been asked to sign a pledge to attend the mid-week service and read their Bible daily.

A newspaper staff in Knoxville was somewhat puzzled when a U. of T. co-ed walked into the office and timidly asked to have her picture printed. She explained that it was part of her sorority initiation—and the picture appeared the next day.

Co-eds at the University of Michigan answering to the name of Helen have formed a "Troy" Club.

—Brockety-Ack.

"It's a hell week for us as well as for the fraternities," stated Miss Moffit, resident nurse at Washington University as pledges, "come in by the dozens looking like something the cat brought in."

—The Spectator.

POETRY

THE COLLEGE SPEAKS

So fast the years have come and gone,
The busy, happy years,
It seems but yesterday that I,
A-thrill with needless fears,

First opened wide my doors to clasp
My children to my breast,
Determined from the first to give
In everything, the best.

My buildings, small and modest then,
Hav egrown from year to year;
My spirit has kept pace with them
And now, from far and near

My children come in hundreds where
They came in tens before;
But still within my heart I hold
Those dear, from days of yore.

A line of teachers stretches far
From '84 to now;
Some only came, then went, but some
Placed laurels on my brow.

And many thousand youthful feet
Have danced along my halls,
And many a shout of triumph has
Re-echoed from my walls.

But each as she passed through has
Some children were as true as steel
And some, alas, but sham, helped
To make me what I am.

And when their youthful hearts and minds
Grow in maturity,
They love to think and talk about

And now, when years have crowned my head,
It warms my heart to see
My children's children celebrate
My Golden Jubilee.
The hours they spent with me.

FOR FOUNDER'S DAY

Fifty years of joyful laughter
Has dear Alma Mater known
Gayest years of girlish progress
Can she now recall her own.

Footsteps racing down a stairway,
Voices singing songs of praise
Girls with visions of the Joan
She has loved through passing days.

It's not the place—the home we love most,
But the spirit hovering there
So here's a toast
To Alma Mater from one
Who never forgot to care.

May the students coming later
Bring new dreams
To grace our home
Make her prouder still
To claim them
When they, too, must roam.
May they find that human spirit
To which her children 'fore have bowed.
And for many times the fifty
Alma Mater will be proud.

—Mrs. W. J. Joyner.
(Margaret R. Fisher '32.)

SOCIALS

The Virginia Military Institute Mid-Winter dances, Friday and Saturday, March 3 and 4, attracted many students. The music was furnished by Bert Lonn and his orchestra. The set included the Friday night formal, Saturday afternoon dansant, and the Saturday night formal. The Farmville girls who attended the entire set were: Chic Mosby, Honey Hamilton, Tac Waters, Lloyd Kelly, Nancy Beard, Eugenia McClung, and Margaret Carroll. Those girls who were present for only the Saturday dances were: Anne Irving, Margaret Parker, Zilla Neuson, Bernice Jones, Frances Woodhouse.

Ophelia Booker, Kathryn Woodson, Evelyn Kraub, Virginia Saunders, Josephine Head, Martha Glenn Davis, and Virginia Leonard spent the week-end in their homes in Richmond.

Visiting friends in Richmond for the week-end were: Elizabeth Rogers, Alice McKay, Margaret Copenhaver, Elizabeth Kelly, Ella Ware, Sally Rose Chappelle, Bobbie Mattox, Frances Johnson, and Charlotte Young.

Those students returning to their homes or visiting friends in Lynchburg for the week-end were: Hilda Coffey, Eileen Howard Sallie Thornhill, Louise Van Lear, Ellen Mason, Florence Tankard, Elizabeth Huse, and Louise Coleman

Dorothy Morris, Katherine Conway, Lelia and Florence Sanford enjoyed a visit to their homes in Orange during the week-end

Iola McIntire spent the week-end in Lexington

Irwin Staples and Rose Somers spent Saturday night at their homes in Burkeville

Catherine Young and Josephine Smith left Saturday for Bodyton, returning Sunday.

Mrs. L. Frank Smith of Culpeper entertained Jean McClure over the week-end.

Helen Allen was the week-end guest of Miss Flora Neatrour in Petersburg.

To celebrate their birthday, Alice and Grace Rowell spent the week-end with their parents in Smithfield.

Carline Byrd, Mary Elizabeth Alexander, and Burnley Brockenbrough spent the week-end in Stanton. Caroline visited Mary Siz, and Burnley was the guest of Ann Bradford.

The following girls spent the week-end at their homes: Jane Main, Petersburg; Lois Jenkins, Powhatan, Virginia Inze; Dorothy Glover, Arvonia; Mary Thomas Mayers, Standardsville; Lucille Good, Roanoke; Virginia Brinkley, Suffolk.

Martha Higgins and Helen Smith spent Monday in Richmond.

ZETA TAU HAS TEA

Doris Coates and Merwyn Gathright were hostesses for a beautiful tea in the Chapter room on Sunday afternoon. The hostesses in afternoon gowns received the chapter members and Alumna guests in the newly furnished room with its soft lights and quantities of lavender sweetpeas. Varied delicious refreshments were served, and a radio musical program was enjoyed.

ALUMNAE LUNCHEON AT LONGWOOD SATURDAY

Longwood will be the setting for the Alumnae luncheon on Saturday, March 9, at 12:30. Dr. Jarman will be a guest of the Alumnae, over two hundred of whom are expected.

The fiftieth anniversary of Founders Day has long been anticipated so the number of Alumnae coming back to Farmville S. T. C. over March 9th and 10th should be large. After a business meeting of all Alumnae Association will preside, the buffet luncheon will be served at Longwood.

DR. G. W. JEFFERS

Who served at chairman of the Fiftieth Anniversary Celebration.

SYMPOSIUM

A symposium of interest to educators was held at 3:30 p. m. on Friday, March 9, in the small auditorium. The discussions at this meeting were devoted to articles dealing with teacher-training which were published in the Virginia Journal of Education for February, 1934.

Dr. John P. Wynne, head of the department of education at Farmvile presided. Speakers who led in the discussion are Dr. C. J. Heatwole, editor of the Virginia Journal of Education; Mr. W. J. Grifford of State Teachers College, Harrisonburg; Dr. M. L. Moffott of State Teachers College, Radford; and Dr. M. L. Altstetter, Dean of the State Teachers College at Fredericksburg. Other leading educators attended and took part in the discussions.

EDCCATION DEPARTMENT OFFERS NEW COURSE

A new course, described in the following paragraph, is to be offered in the spring quarter. Students who are interested may see Miss Mix about enrolling.

Education 415, the pre-school child, three hours a week for one quarter, credit three hours. Nutritional and physical care in early childhood, psychology of early childhood, physical and mental habits of the young child, methods of preventing nervous strain in childhood. History and development of the English and Americaan Nursery School in its relation to primary education.

This course is an elective in the third and fourth years of course one.

Kappa Delta and Zeta Tau Alpha, National Women's Social Sororities were founded at Farmville State Teacher's College. These sororities are now confined entirely to liberal arts colleges.

Sigma, Sigma, Sigma, national sorority at State Teachers College, is the oldest national organization confined to Teachers Colleges.

The Virginian annual at State Teachers College is over 30 years old.

C. E. Chappell
COMPANY
Stationery, Blank Books and School Supplies
Cigars, Cigarettes and Soda
Farmville, Virginia

YOU WOULD LOVE TO HAVE YOUR SHOES FIXED AT THE
Lovelace Shoe Shop
110 Third Street

S. A. Legus
TAILOR
CLEANING
PRESSING
REPAIRING
Phone 203

FORMAL EXERCISES START CELEBRATION

Continued from page 1

three other teachers colleges have played in this development.

Dr. S. C. Mitchell, in his address, "The Epitome of the South's Problem," told of the worthy aims and the wonderful work of the founders of Farmville, mentioning particularly Horace Mann, Currie, and Henry W. Ruffner. He stated: "The founders wanted to have this institution serve the Commonwealth and the Nation; the life of presidents have clung tenaciously to that aim." He challenged the students, who will become teachers in the state and nation, of the hard task that was before them during this period of change, which he compared to the Renaissance and Reformation.

After the addresses the choir of the College, under the direction of Mr. Alfred H. Strick, sang Schubert's, "The Twenty-Third Psalm."

Greetings were given by Dr. J. L Newcomb, president of the University of Virginia, Dr. Bessie Carter Randolph, president of Hollins College, Dr. R. E. Blackwell, president Randolph-Macon College, and Dr. J. P. McConnell.

Dr. Newcomb, representing the state institutions of higher learning for men said: "I congratulate you on your wonderful service during the past 50 years. All the colleges and universities of this Commonwealth owe you the debt of gratitude for the excellent training you have given."

Dr. Randolph, formally a teacher at this institution expressed the following sentiment: "I should like to say that this institution has done a wonderful pioneer work in the field of education in Virginia. Dr. Jarman has had wisdom and foresight never to play up his own institution before the good of the Commonwealth of Virginia." She brought greetings from the Liberal Arts Colleges for women not under the jurisdiction of the Commonwealth of Virginia.

Dr. Blackwell, representing the libreal arts colleges for men in the state complimented the culture and refinement of the girls who have gone from this college.

Dr. McConnell, bringing greetings from the three other State Teachers Colleges, paid high tribute to Dr. Jarman. He said: "Dr. Jarman has served the College 32 of its 50 years;

Mildred Slayton visited her parents in Crewe Sunday.

Y. W. C. A. NEWS

Prayers last week were conducted by the Senior Class.

Mr. McCorkle gave a very interesting and worth while talk on Wednesday night.

Mr. Gardner on Thursday night centered his talk around the verse, "I was blind, now I can see." He brought out that believing is not seeing, but seeing is believing. He said that artists do not explain, they create. A sculptor, saying "can't you see?" creates a beautiful statue. He concluded by saying that Jesus was an artist. He created by working miracles, saying, "can't you see?"

Mr. Cromer on Friday night also talked on believing. He brought out what religion should mean to the modern world. After prayers Mr. Cromer met and talked to those girls who had questions to ask him about Dr. Smart's lectures of last week.

FOUR NOTED ARTISTS SING HERE TONIGHT

Continued from page 1

(a) "Quiet," Sanderson; (b) "The Clock," Sachnowsky; (c) "Wings of the Morning," Gaines, by Marie Murray.

(a) "Mattinata," Tosti; (b) The Low Backed Car," Samuel Lover; (c) "Song of the Volga Boatman," Russian Melody; by Charles Trowbridge Tittmann.

Quartette, Rigoletto, by Miss Korb, Miss Murray, Mr. Tinker, Mr. Tittmann.

Part 2 of this program will be broadcast over the facilities of WRVA at 9 o'clock p. m., (E. S. T.)

Kleanwell
CLEANERS AND TAILORS
Expert Cleaning, Repairing and Remodeling of Ladies Garments
Main Street, Opposite Postoffice
PHONE 98

CONGRATULATIONS!

WELCOME! S. T. C. Alumnae and Students. We are Glad to see you.

Come down and see the newest in Spring apparel —at such low prices. Gorgeous dresses, lovely Frocks, Millinery, Hosiery and Accessories.

THE DOROTHY MAY STORE

SPRING IS HERE!

We have your needs in the newest Spring styles of ready-to-wear millinary, shoes, hose and accessories.

DAVIDSON'S

EACO
THEATRE
Week of March 12 to 17

Saturday, March 10—
JOHN BARRYMORE
BEBE DANIELS
DORIS KENYON
In
"Counsellor At Law"
Pronounced Barrymore's best picture to date, in the title role of a great New York stage success by Elmer Rice. See him fighting against disbarment, struggling to win the love of his wife, trying to make a man of his brother, reforming the son of a neighbor. He pulled the strings for the Dance of Life. Men and women in all walks of life were his to save—or destroy. One of those pictures that keep you on edge as you became intensely interested and gripped as its story unfolds to a perfect happy ending. A picture you cannot afford to miss.
Also Chapter 6
"TARZAN THE FEARLESS"
With Buster Crabbe
Fox News

Next Monday and Tuesday, March 12 and 13—
The Strangest Love Story Ever Unfolded on the Screen!
"ESKIMO"
(WIFE TRADERS)
A drama as strange, wild, and awe-inspiring as its magnificent background. Untamed, unashamed, unconquerable. A mighty drama of love, desire and bitter hate, revealing the strangest moral code on the face of the earth. Willingly they would lend their wives to each other, but when white men entered their paradise and left a trail of sin, the Eskimo heart cried out for vengeance. A truly great authentic romantic drama, overwhelming in its power. Different from all other pictures, and the one picture that every person in Farmville should see.
Also Metro News
NO ADVANCE IN PRICES

Next Wednesday, March 14—
LEW AYRES
JUNE KNIGHT
Alice White, Alan Dinehart
In
"CROSS COUNTRY CRUISE"
Romance, mystery and laughs on a bus—speeding across the country. From start to finish your interest is held and you are anxious to know just what the ending will be. The love interest between Lew Ayres and June Knight is made to order for feminine fans who delight in a real love story.
Also the sensational short,
"LITTLE BOY BLUE"
And Jack Denny and His Band

Daily matinees at 4 P. M. Evenings at 8 P. M.

Prices—Adults, 20c at matinees and 25c at nights; except on percentage pictures, when we must charge 25c and 35c.

DR. FREEMAN SPEAKS AT DINNER SATURDAY

At the Fiftieth Anniversary dinner which is to be held in the College dining room Saturday night at 8 o'clock, Sidney B. Hall, Superintendent of Schools in Virginia, will be toastor of ceremonies and Governor George C. Peery, guest of honor.

During the formal dinner, brief addresses will be made by Mrs. Mary Lou Campbell Graham president of the class of 1904, who will speak for the Alumnae, Miss Alice McKay for the students, President Jarman for the College, and Dr. Douglas Freeman, editor of the News Leader for the future.

The College orchestra will render incidental music at the dinner.

In order that there may be a place reserved for all those students and Alumnae who will attend, everyone will be required to have a ticket to the dinner.

State Teachers College has over 5,000 graduates.

Formal Dance Marks End Of Celebration

The formal dance and reception in the gymnasium and Student Building reception rooms on Saturday night will provide a fitting climax to the two-day Fiftieth Anniversary celebration program. This will be a formal affair and will serve as a final get-together of the student body and guests.

Admission will be by ticket only. Tickets will be given out during registration period Friday. A girl may invite one boy, and she may procure his ticket the same time she gets hers. Dates will be signed up for in the usual way.

Every student and every guest is welcome to come. Of course, the space will be limited, but with the cooperation of everyone in atendance the dance can be made a success. The lounges and rooms on the first floor and the sorority rooms on the second floor will be open, and will be just the place for small chats and gatherings.

The Hampden-Sydney orchestra, which made a splendid name for itself at the Mardi Gras, will begin playing promptly at 10 o'clock. At the last stroke of twelve, the dance, and the Fiftieth Anniversary celebration will come to a close.

Basketball Championships Goes To Red And White

The climax of the class game series was reached on Thursday at 4 o'clock when the Senior lost a well-played game to the Sophomores. The game ended with a final score of 23 to 16.

The two teams were usually well matched, affording an exciting and fastly played game. The Sophomores are to be congratulated on their excellent passwork and accuracy of long shots. Their team greatly surpassed that of the Seniors in size, causing the Seniors to be played at a great disadvantage. The game played by the Seniors was one of defense. They succeeded in breaking up numerous passes, and in making only a few fouls.

The Sophomores are now class champions, having previously, defeated the Freshmen. The Juniors were forced to forfeit to the Seniors.

Seniors		Sophomores
Horton	J.L.	Sanford
Magruder	S.L.	Wamberlie
Yeaman	R.F.	Sanford
Gwaltney	G.R.	Roberts
Cooper	R.K.	Ransom

Basketball championship goes to Red and White.

ALUMNAE PARTICIPATE IN COSTUME PARADE

Continued from page 1

by Mary Shelton, is of the late '90s.

Mrs. Mathew Cox, grand aunt of Pauline and Mary Hannah Jones, is lending the following costumes:

A green and gold striped taffeta made bouffant style with basque waist worn about 1890.

A black stripped silk mode with basque waist with very full long black skirt to the floor, the only trimming being a white lace color—worn during the '90s.

A white embroidered linen suit with shirt waist worn some time between 1905 and 1910.

Miss Mary White Cox contributed a white organdy trimmed with lace which she wore in 1919.

A more modern costume which will be exhibited is a tangerine colored evening dress trimmed in beads of 1926.

Mrs. Collins Denny, wife of Bishop Denny, of Richmond, has sent a black dress of the late '90s, and two evening dresses.

For 1927 there is a ruffled pink taffeta gown furnished by Miss Helen Draper.

Miss Iler is contributing two sport dresses worn in 1927 and 1928.

The war period will be represented by a red cross uniform worn by Miss Wheeler in France in 1918.

Besides these gowns there will be several wedding dresses, favorite college dresses, skirts and middy blouses, and graduating dresses. The Dramatic Club has also contributed some period costumes.

The idea of the Alumnae march is reminiscent of a custom which was carried out during commencement in the march in the gymnasium.

SISTER INSTITUTIONS SEND CONGRATULATIONS

At the close of the formal exercises Friday morning Ex-governor Trinkle read a list of the sister institutions, Normal Schools and Teachers Colleges, who have sent greetings to Farmville on her Fiftieth Anniversary. Good wishes were received from the following schools in 17 states:

San Diego, California; Teachers College, Columbia University, New York; Fresno, California; Springfield, Missouri; Minot, North Dakota; Chadron, Nebraska; Keene, New Hampshire; Plymouth, New Hampshire; Canyon, Texas; Arkadelphia, Arkansas; Madison, South Dakota; Duluth, Minnesota; Macomb, Illinois; Brockport, New York; Warrensburg, Missouri; Montclair, New Jersey; Murray, Kentucky; Richmond; Kentucky; Mankato, Minnesota; Mount Pleasant, Michgian; Salem, Massachusetts; North Adams, Massachusetts; and Goucher College, Baltimore, Maryland.

The following Alumnae chapters of Sigma Sigma Sigma Sorority sent greetings: Los Angeles, California; Tulsa, Oklahoma; Kansas City, Missouri; Tallahassee, Florida; Kirksville, Missouri; Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania; Roanoke, Virginia; Huntington, West Virginia; Toledo, Ohio; Washington, D. C.; Buffalo, New York; Denver, Colorado; Mahoning Valley; Youngstown, Ohio; Indianapolis, Indiana.

Congratulations were received from these active chapters of Sigma Sigma Sigma Sorority: Southwestern, Lafayette, Louisiana; Florida State College for Women, Tallahasse, Florida; State Teachers College, East Radford, Virginia; North East Missouri State Teachers College, Kirksville, Missouri; State Teachers College, Denver, Colorado; and State Teachers College, Whitewater, Wisconsin.

This is the complete list of greetings received by 11 a. m. Friday morning, March 9.

Eminent Persons Attend Anniversary Celebration

Continued from page 1

Bowman, Bridgewater; Mary P. Jones, S. T. C.; Florence, Ala.; Sarah B. Tucker, Winthrop College; N. A. Patilli, R.-M. Woman's College; Dr. Lucy S. Crawford, Sweet Briar; Pres. J. T. T. Hundley, Lynchburg; S. P. Duke, S. T. C. Harrisonburg, M. L. Combs, Fredericksburg; Alma Browning, E. C. T. C.; Carrie Sutherlin, Arlington Hall; Dr. John L. Manahan, Association of Virginia Colleges; Thomas D. Eason, director Higher Education, State Board of Education.

A fad in radio-hatched chicks is expected to start following the experiment of N. C. State in hatching three eggs in that instrument. The chicks apparently like their musical mother, judging from the way they hop around among the tubes.

—Va. Tech.

Dialogue predominates instead of the usual dancing and singing in the seven sorority Prep Follies skits, soon to be presented at Ohio University.

—The Spectator.

"Open House" Embraces Departmental Exhibits

Continued from page 1

ment.

The progress the College has made and is making was shown by the various exhibits of each department. "Open House" also afforded an opportunity for renewing old friendships and making new ones.

Electric Shoe Shop

Will Fix Your Shoes While You Wait

BEST WORKMANSHIP AND LEATHER USED

RICE'S SHOE STORE

Street and Dress Shoes

Dancing Slippers Dyed

Correct fits our speciality

FOUNDER'S DAY CALENDAR

Friday, March 9

10:30 a. m.—Auditorium — Preliminary Musical Programme.

11:30 a. m.—Auditorium—Anniversary Programme.
Honorable E. Lee Trinkle, presiding.
Academic Procession.
Invocation: Rev. William Gardner, pastor Farmville Presbyterian Church.
Overture: The College Orchestra.
Miss Lisabeth Purdom, director.
Address: Dr. Bruce R. Payne, president.
George Peabody College for Teachers.
Address: Dr. S. C. Mitchell, University of Richmond.
Selection: The Choir of the College
Alfred H. Strick, Director.
Greetings:
Dr. J. L. Newcomb, President University of Virginia.
Dr. Bessie Carter Randolph, President Hollins College
Dr. R. E. Blackwell, President Randolph-Macon College
Dr. J. P. McConnell, President State Teachers College at Radford
Benediction: Rev. William Gardner

1:30 p. m.—Guest Luncheon at Longwood

2:30 p. m. to 5:00 p. m.—College—Open House
Members of the faculty and students receiving.

3:30 p. m.—Y. W. C. A. Social room—Symposium
Dr. J. P. Wynne, presiding

4:30 p. m.—Gymnasium
Freshman Gym Demonstration

8:15 p. m.—Auditorium
"A Mid-Summer Night's Dream"
Miss Leola Wheeler, Director

Saturday, March 10

9:00 a. m.—Studen tBuilding Auditorium
Alumnae Business Meeting
Miss Pauline Camper, presiding

10:30 a. m.—Auditorium
Annual Founder's Day Program
Students in charge

12:30 p. m.—Alumnae Luncheon at Longwood

3:30 p. m.—Gymnasium
Parade of Alumnae by Classes in Period Costume

6:00 p. m.—College Dining Room
Fiftieth Anniversary Dinner
Superintendent Sidney B. Hall, Master of Ceremonies
Governor George C. Peery, guest of honor

Brief Addresses: Mrs. Mary Lew Campbell Graham, for the Alumnae
Miss Alice McKay, for the Students
President Jarman, for the College
Dr. Douglas Freeman, for the Future

8:15 p. m.—Auditorium
(a) Handel's Messiah
(Part the First)
(b) Secular Programme
College Choral Groups and Artists, Directed by Alfred H. Strick

10:00 p. m. to Midnight: Gymnasium
Fiftieth Anniversary Dance

Weyanoke

BEAUTY SALON
A Complete Beauty Service At Moderate Prices
What we have done for others we can do for you
WEYANOKE HOTEL
Farmville Va.

SHAKESPEAREAN PLAY FAVORABLY RECEIVED

Continued from page 1

"Titania, queen of the Fairies" is played by Margaret Dortch, and as the gay, and whimsical little queen, she gave a really good performance. This is her first prominent role in a play at S. T. C. and she seems to be developing into a very capable actress.

Nancy Harrison as "Oberon, the King of the Fairies," also did well. She has shown her ability many times before and her performance in the fall play, "The Admirable Crichton" will not be soon forgot.

Helen Shawen as "Theseus" the dignified and autocratic Grecian duke was splendidly adapted to the role. Laeta Borham as "Hippolyta," Theseus' wife, held the same part last year and also did well.

Mary Shelton and Martha Scott Watkins had the role of the two young lovers, Lysander and Demetrieus. They have both had acting experience before, and caught the spirit of their part in a really fine and convincing manner.

Martha Stine played the role of "Hermia," the beautiful young girl whom Lysander loves. She, too, is to be remembered for her work in "The Admirable Crichton."

Betty Mae Brown took the part of "Helena," the other lovesick young maid of Athens. This, too, is her first important role at S. T. C., and she gave an excellent performance.

In her characterization of "Bottom" Meg Herndon had a grand comedy role. She has shown her talent as an excellent actress many times before, and in her enterpretation of "Bottom," the amusing buffoon came vividly to life.

She is assisted in providing laughs by Audrey Clements, Bonnie Lane, Gay Steiffens, Nancy Dodd and Audrey Hawthorne who all turned in good performances.

The part of Philostrate the unyielding father of Hermea was ably played by Jestine Cutshall.

Hampden-Sydney Orchestra in attendance

WILLIS
The Florist

FLOWERS FOR ALL OCCASIONS

PHONES 181-273

Evelyn Knaub played the role of "Puck," that well-known and well beloved creation of Fairyland. She, too, had this part last year and did it extremely well. In her gay little costume she dances in and out of other people's affairs and exclaim surprisedly, "What fools these mortals be!"

This comprises the major roles in the play. There were many minor roles which were well acted not to mention a troop of colorful fairies which added much to the enchantment of the play.

This play was under the able direction of Miss Wheeler.

Mack's

BARBER AND BEAUTY SHOP

323 Main Street

We use the Frederick Method

Hair Cutting and Thinning a Specialty

Martin JEWELER

Gifts of Lasting Remembrance

317 Main St. Farmville

We give Jubilee tickets

SouthsideDrugStore

(On the Corner)

Films Developed

FREE

If bought at this store

Shannon's

Is H[illegible]arters for the Best
SANDWICHES
—and—
DRINKS
—in—
FARMVILLE!

We Congratulate S. T. C. On Your Fiftieth Anniversary

A cordual welcome to all S. T. C. Students and Alumnae to visit our store. We have just what you need and at the right prices.

THE HUB DEPARTMENT STORE
"Farmville Best Place to Shop"

"PRIMROSE HOUSE" COSMETICS

Featuring Primrose House Face Powder
Regular $1.00 box, Special 69c

50c size Spearmint
Tooth Paste 10c

Spearmint Tooth Brushes, 10c

EVERYTHING FOR THE COLLEGE GIRLS AT

BALDWIN'S
Quality—Price—Service

G. F. Butcher

High Street

"The Convenient Store"
FOR GOOD
THINGS TO
EAT AND DRINK

Gray's Drug Store

QUALITY—PRICE—SERVICE

Come in and Get Acquainted

We Are Glad to Have You With Us!

Farmville, Virginia

BE SURE TO VOTE FOR MAJOR OFFICERS

THE ROTUNDA

POE

ALUMNAE ISSUE OF ROTUNDA

We Teach To Teach

Volume XIV | THE ROTUNDA, WEDNESDAY, MARCH 21, 1934 | No. 22

Western Band Plays At Cotillion Dances Saturday, March 24

Parker, Mosby, Cutshall, and Hamilton Lead Cotillion Figure

The spring dances of the Cotillion Club will be given Saturday afternoon and evening, March 24 in the college gymnasium. The music for this set will be provided by Myron Lowther and his orchestra, from Seattle, Wash.

For the first time in the history of the club the spring formal will include a dansante. Only the members of the club and the alumnae with their dates will attend the afternoon affair. The dansante beginning at four will last until six.

The formal dance will start at 9 o'clock. However, the receiving line, made up of Miss Mary White Cox, Dr. J. L. Jarman, Mr. Sam Graham, and the officers of the club will form at eight-thirty in the Student Building Lounge. At 10 there will be a Cotillion figure led by Margaret Parker with her partner, assisted by Corinne Mosby, President; Justine Cutshall, Treasurer, and Virginia Hamilton, reporter and their partners. Fifty members of the club who have been elected to compose the figure, will execute the intricate formations, worked out by Margaret Parker and Corinne Mosby.

Myron Lowther and his orchestra will play for their first eastern engagement at the Cotillion dance. He is well-known in the west, having played at many of the large universities. After playing at the dance here he and his band will go to Richmond where they have been booked

Continued page 6, col. 4

Alumnae Take Part In Costume Parade

The alumnae parade in the gymnasium Saturday afternoon, March 10, was one of the most informal and enjoyable events of the anniversary celebration. Over 500 graduates marched in the parade, many of them in costume. A large and amused audience in the balcony watched the parade circle the gymnasium, led by Mrs. Asa D. Watkins and Mrs. George Richardson, representing the seminary period before 1884. Following them were the classes after 1884, each group having at least one representative in costume carrying a banner with the class numerals.

After the grand march there was a parade of costumes which evoked much hilarity from the spectators. There were some very beautiful as well as some very quaint costumes, many of which were loaned by the people of Farmville and vicinity. Graduation dresses, wedding gowns, middie blouses, the knee length dresses of 1928 and '29 as well as the quaint costumes of the '80's and '90's all brought forth bursts of applause from an appreciative audience.

The judges, Mr. J. H. Saunders, Superintendent of Schools, Newport News and a member of the State Board of Education, Mr. T. D. Eason, Director of Higher Education, and Miss Lula O. Andrews of the Extension Department of the University of Virginia reported that amidst such a bewildering variety of styles, they were incapable of rendering a decision. They chose a group of the most distinctive costumes and asked the wearers to step out in turn so that the audience by the amount of applause might indicate their de-

Continued page 3, col. 1

FOUNDER'S DAY PROGRAM HAS SPECIAL FEATURES

The regular Founder's Day program, was held Saturday morning, March 10 at 10:30 in the main auditorium of the college. The room was filled to capacity with students, alumnae, and visitors.

The special feature of the occasion was the dance recital under the direction of Mrs. Louise R. Fitzpatrick. Assisting in this program of interpretative dancing, beautifully presented by the dancing classes of the school, was the College String Quartet, directed by Miss Lisabeth Purdom.

Dr. Jarman awarded a certificate for fifty years of faithful service as chief cook and baker to Philip Ward at the beginning of the program.

Philip's response showed real humor as well as deep appreciation, and was greeted with a roar of applause. The certificate, with his picture, is in the 1934 Virginian, a copy of which was presented to him.

Reports from the alumnae chapters were given by representatives of each one. Their contributions were given to Dr. Jarman at this time.

A presentation of gifts from the various student organizations and classes completed the morning program. It has been stated that the sum of $2,374.00 was the total of contributions from the alumnae and the student organizations.

Students Exhibit Work at Open House March 9

Exhibits of work done by the departments of the school and by the training school were the chief features of "Open House" as observed on Friday afternoon, March 9, during Founder's Day celebration. Students were hostesses of the departments of their majors.

Tea was served in the Home Economics Department, in the Biology Department, and by the social committee of the Y. W. C. A. in the Student Building Lounge.

Two photograph galleries were open to inspection in Rooms 18 and 19. The pictures of families and children of the Alumnae were on parade in Room 18, while the Granddaughter's Club under the direction of Miss Coulling were hostesses in costume of the exhibition in Room 19 where photographs of the school and its activities were attractively displayed.

The geography specialty was a unit on Russia. Scrap-books, relief maps in sand, ink maps, and a moving picture machine prepared by a student were the features of this exhibit.

A miniature house completely furnished constituted the major display of the industrial arts class. Another attraction of this exhibit was a colonial bed-room that received much praise. The other art work consisting of water colorings, pastels, charcoals, life models, wood-cuts, and batistes was shown in Dr. Walmsley's class room.

The millinery display in the Home Economics Laboratory was particularly outstanding. Hats fashioned of crepe paper were shown representing each year from 1884 to 1934. They ranged in style from the flourishing Lady Devonshire-Mae West be plumed chaperons to the pert sailors of the post-war period with several present day models.

Miss Taliaferro's class room was turned into lounge where the faculty publications were shown. These consisted of books written by the faculty publications were shown. These consisted of books written by the faculty and administration, magazine articles and several paintings by Bess Barclay.

The training school was open for inspection all afternoon and was visited with considerable interest by

Continued page 3, col. 3

DR. J. L. JARMAN

DR. J. L. JARMAN who has served for thirty-three years as President of the college.

Dear Girls:

It is always a satisfaction to feel that people have taken your advice: Last year at this time I urged all of you to be making your plans to attend the Fiftieth Anniversary of your Alma Mater and I am delighted to say that about five hundred of you followed this advice. It was a pleasing and soul-stirring sight to see the classes from 1885 down to the present day, in line of march in the gymnasium. I wish every graduate and every former student of the institution could have been with us for this occasion.

And another evidence of your giving heed to my advice: last year we reduced the debt on the Student Building by a thousand dollars: we asked that you make a special effort for this Golden Anniversary and I am glad to report that you more than doubled that amount.

So, all things being considered, we want to say that you have more than come up to our expectations. We were glad to see every one of you who came to the celebration and hope you will come again; to those who could not be with us, we extend the hope that a large number of you will be present for Founders Day next year—we know those who were here this year will want to come back.

With best wishes for each and every one of you from your Alma Mater. I am,

Yours very truly,
J. L. Jarman, President.

DANCE GROUPS PERFORM AT ANNUAL CELEBRATION

A dance program, given by the Artist Dance Group, and the two dancing classes, under the direction of Mrs. Louise R. Fitzpatrick, was the chief attraction of the Saturday morning program of Founders' Day.

The program consisted of two tap dances and seven interpretative dances. Two of the dances were original products of members of the Artist Dance Group. Dorothy Prescott and Louise Van Lear composed the effective dance, "Romance," and Virginia Hamilton and Mary Shelton worked out the "Oyster" dance. Both of these studies were well done by the group.

The outstanding feature of the program was the concluding number done to the Alma Mater. This dance represented the Rotunda with the arches on either side. As the final formation was held, Alice McKay, representing the spirit of Alma Mater presented the student gifts in a large birthday cake lighted by 50 candles to Dr. Jarman.

Students Nominate Major Officers Today; Minor Elections Will Be Held Next Week

Heads of Main Organizations To Be Elected On Friday, March 23

Nominations for the officers of the major organziations in school were made by ballot on Wednesday from eight a. m. until 6 p. m. at the table in the main hall. The two girls receiving the most nominations will be selected to run for the offices. On Friday, March 23, the nominees may be voted on by the students.

The major officers are the President of the Student Council, President of the Athletic Asociation, President of the Y. W. C. A., Editor-in-Chief of the Rotunda, Editor-in-Chief of the Virginian, and President of the House Council.

Friday there will be tables in different sections of the building where the voting will be done. These tables will be kept by the present major of? ficers or by some member of those organizations. The girls on White House Hall, Annex, and Student Building will vote at the table between Student Building and Annex. There will be a table on the second floor of the Rotunda for the other students in the Main Building and one in the Senior Building for the girls rooming there. There will also be a table in the Main Hall for the town girls. Each girl must sign her ballot or her vote will not be counted.

The votes will be counted by the heads of the organizations and one or two senior members. Then they will be passed by Miss Mary before the results are announced.

Minor officers will be nominated and elected next week by practically the same procedure.

GUEST ARTISTS ASSIST IN MUSICAL PROGRAM

The Fiftieth Anniversary concert was given by the choir of the college, the Choral Club, and the orchestra in the college auditorium at 9 o'clock on Saturday evening, March 10. They were assisted by May Korb, Marie Murray, George Wilson Tinker, and Charles Trowbridge Tittman, guest artists here for the occasion, and by the Hampden-Sydney Glee Club and the Farmville Business Men's chorus.

The program, which was scheduled for 8 o'clock, began more than an hour later when the anniversary banquet was over. Part II of the program was given first in order that this part might be broadcast over the facultties of W. R. V. A. between 9 and 10 o'clock.

Part II follows:

(a) Spirit Dance .....Gluck
(b) Cabin Song .....White

College Orchestra

(a) Come Love With Me..Carnevali
(b) Spinnerliedchen..German Folk
(b) Spinnerliedchen.....
.....German Folk Song

Continued page 5, col. 4

Standards Committee Revises Point System

The point system, though somewhat disregarded heretofore, will be strictly enforced during the major and minor nominations and elections this spring.

Under the revised point system which follows, no student having less than a B average may carry more than 15 points or having less than a C average more than 10 points.

From a list of the major and minor nominations made this spring a committee composed of Janice White, Elizabeth Huse, Elmer Foster, Mary Berkeley Nelson, Lelia Mattox and Fannie Bosworth will calculate the number of points each nominee carries and will warn her if she should carry more than her average permits. The student, thus, before election to an office which would give her more than her allotted number of points may name her preference between that office and some other office which she holds or may hold.

The Student Standards Committee believes that under such an enforced point system no student will hold more offices than she is capable of filling and that the offices will be better distributed among students who are, perhaps, as able leaders though unrecognized under the present system.

STREETS DECORATED FOR FOUNDER'S DAY

The attention of all visitors for the Fiftieth Anniversary celebration was attracted to the banners of welcome and the decorations on the stores and public buildings of Farmville that lended a true atmosphere of festivity to the whole city.

The decorating which was done by the Bell Flag and Decorating Company of Richmond, was made possible by the Town Council, which appropriated funds for the 16 over head street banners displayed in various parts of town, and by the merchants who defrayed their own expenses. The chairman and committee of the Golden Anniversary celebration are much indebted to the Town Council and merchants for their splendid cooperation in this matter.

The decorating began on Monday, March 5, and lasted until Monday of the next week; thus, the spirit of celebration pervaded the school and town for the entire week.

Academic Procession Starts Celebration

The college was distinctly honored on the occasion of its Fiftieth Anniversary by an academic procession which formally inaugurated the exercises on Friday morning, March 9, 1934. The procession, which began at 11 a. m., marched out of the Student Building through the colonnade and into the college auditorium.

Many noted educators were in the procession which was led by Dr. J. L. Jarman and Ex-governor E. Lee Trinkle. The speakers who delivered the principal addresses marched in the procession. This group included Dr Bruce R. Payne, president of George Peabody College for teachers, and Dr. Samuel C. Mitchell, head of the Department of History of the University of Richmond. Prominent in the procession were other representatives of colleges and institutions of higher learning. Greetings were extended by Dr. R. F. Blackwell, president of Randolph-Macon College; Dr. J. P. McConnell, president of Radford State Teachers College; Dr. Bessie Carter Randolph, president of Hollins College; and Dr. John L. Newcomb, president of the University of Virginia.

The following representatives of other colleges marched in the academic procession.

Dean K. J. Hoke, William and Mary; Fitzgerald Flournoy, Washington and Lee; Dr. J. D. Eggleston, Hampden-Sydney; President T. H. Jack, University of Alabama; Dr. B. West Tabb, Richmond; Dr. W. T. Sanger, Medical College of Virginia; President James N. Hillman, Emory and Henry; E. Southard Shields, V. M. I.; Dr. L. Wilson Jarman, Mary Baldwin; Dr. Charles J. Smith, Roanoke College; President F. N. Camack, Averett; Dr. J. A. Burruss,

Continued page 6, Col. 2

THE ROTUNDA

Member Southern Inter-Collegiate Newspaper Association
Member Intercollegiate Press Association of Virginia

Newspaper — National Scholastic Press Association — Member

Published by Students of State Teachers College, Farmville, Va.

Entered as second class matter March 1, 1921, at the Postoffice of Farmville, Virginia, under Act of March 3, 1879.

Subscription ..... $1.50 per year

ROTUNDA STAFF

Editor-in-Chief .... Mary Shelton, '34
Associate Editor .... Lelia Mattox, '35

Board of Editors

News ..... Evelyn Massey, '36
Make-Up ..... Katherine Hoyle, '36
Literary Editor .... Birdie Wooding
Louise Walmsley, '36
World News ..... Velma Quarles, '34
Intercollegiate ..... Caroline Byrd, '36
Social ..... Marion Raine, '36
Art ..... Alice Rowell, '34
Feature ..... Elizabeth Walton, '36
Alumnae ..... Miss Virginia Potts

Reporters

Amis Montohery
Mary Hastings Holloway
Edith Shanks, '34; Mary Easley Hill, '34; Elizabeth Vassar, '35; Mary Elizabeth Alexander, '36; Lula Windley, '36.
Proof Readers: Katherine Coleman, '35
Grace Eubank, '36

Managers

Business ..... Mary Diehl, '34
Assistant ..... Elma Rawlings, '34
Circulation ..... Nell Oakey Ryan, '34
Assistant ..... Janice White, '35

The Rotunda invites letters of comment, criticism, and suggestion from its readers upon its manner of presenting and treating them. A letter, to receive consideration, must contain the name and address of the writer. These will not be published if the writer objects to the publication.

All matters of business should be addressed to the Business Manager and all other matters should come to the Editor-in-Chief. Complaints from subscribers as regards irregularities in the delivery of The Rotunda will be appreciated.

LET US VOTE OUR OWN CONVICTIONS

Today, each of us had the privilege of nominating, girls whom we consider capable of filling the five major offices in school. On Friday, we will make our final choice between the two highest nominees. It may happen that some of our nominees were eliminated, but that will not cause our interest to lessen.

Each one of us is personally concerned in these elections. Our love for our Alma Mater makes us want the most capable girls to head our student body, our Y. W. C. A., Athletic Association, anual, college paper, and our House Council, so that for the ensuing year each organization will have a head that can lead it successfully. These are our own organizations, that concern each one of us, therefore our voting should be 100 per cent.

During any election, there is usually the accompaning evil of politics. Even in our small community we either know the candidates personally, or know of their executive ability, we find girls eager to devise us in our choice. It is well to hear opposite opinions if they are based on real facts, before we make up our minds, but we should not let our votes be dictated.

We have good material; there are many girls in every line, who have ability and are worthy of trust. Let us make use of our privilege to make our own individual choice!

A RECORD IN LOYALTY

In an inspiring half century of service, the conclusion of which it celebrated last week, Farmville State Teachers College has set up many records, but none more truly unique than the one it added during the semi-centennial exercises. The class of 1884, graduated forty years ago, consisted of twenty-three members. When they left the "Normal school," as it was then called, these girls pledged themselves to keep in touch with one another. They did so. Six of their number have died since their distant graduation, but of the seventeen who remain, nine were present at the exercises Saturday. If that record was ever excelled, we do not know when or by whom.—News Leader.

THY DAUGHTERS

May Alma Mater enjoy many, many happy returns of her birthday! May her cake of service be ever lighted with an increasing number of candles placed lovingly by the hands of her daughters who "true, faithful and loyal always will be." Thus does a mother know in the home coming of her daughters that her life has not been lived in vain. Thus does she know that her loved ones still need her and challenge her to continue to serve and to love.

To the returning daughters the birthday celebration meant happy reunions, the recalling of cherished memories, a rejuvination of spirits, and a deep peace and contentment with the realization of a life well started. While faces, were missing and things had changed the bittersweet of the occasion made for a deeper inward evaluation of things worth while. As children draw to their mother in times of joy, so the daughters came home to laugh, to sing, to dine, to dance, to give praise to dear old mother. As at times children cry with secret sadnes a few daughters shed tears for missing beloved faces, for changes that broke a chain of cherished memories, for the newness that prevailed where the old had held sway. Through these tears gleamed simles of appreciation that mother dear kept her own by keeping pace with the times. As children linger for stories at eventime, so the daughters listened eagerly to anecdotes, reminiscenses, history, admonitions, and prophecies. A few remained for evening vespers and left, blessed with renewed spirits and ideals for the duties that called.

To the younger daughters who remained at home with mother, a new vision was caught, a deeper love inspired, and an earnest desire manifested to become grown, graduated daughters. These daughters, the babies, hold the dear love of the mother and the power to make her days filled with happiness. The love and little services of those at home count for much of the atmosphere, comfort and love of home life. Let us be daughters, true and faithful. As to a mother at her age for the enjoyment of her children. We are Cornelia's jewels.

Mary Nickols, '23.

INTERCOLLEGIATE NEWS

The Freshman Class at Hampden-Sydney have rebelled against their tyrannical superiors, the Sopho-Sydney has rebelled against it's rat caps, or in any way be under rat rules. This assertion caused quite a perturbance on the peaceful campus of that ancient college, in fact one student found it necessary to fight his rights with steel shaft golf clubs.

A new organization with its members numbering 100, has recently been organized on the Universtiy of Richmond campus. It is called the National Anti-Corsage Society." Its members feel that giving expensive flowers at Easter is useless, unnecessary, and wasteful." The list of members will, be shown to anyone, except girls!

The fight against the dogs on the Washington & Lee campus has taken on a new angle. The reason for this war against the poor mutts, as recently stated, is that they have been the cause of so many trite jokes. "Recent research shows that the unsuspecting canines had been the cause of 998 comments to the effect that the campus is going to the dogs."

Bernard College students have begun indoor practice for the Greek games next spring. Hoop rolling, burdling and discus throwing in the Greek form are the chief events.

Miss Jessie Dey, '04, of Norfolk brought to Dr. Jarman a copy of the oldest catalog of the college extant. This catalog was published in 1858.

Alumae Chapters

The goal of fifty chapters for the fiftieth reunion was not reached, but there was unusual activity, a live interest, and real accomplishment by the thirty that extended greetings to their Alma Mater and college sisters on March 10. Seventeen have been organized since last Founders Day, ten of these since January 1, 1934. Three more did not complete the work of organization before the meeting, but asked to be included in the list.

One of these is unique in that it is to be a state chapter. Mrs. Olive Smith Bowman has canvassed Pennsylvania by mail and found cordial response to her suggestions.

The Chase City chapter, in its report, expressed the sentiments of many others, therefore it is quoted in full:

"Our Band is very, very young,
We've earned no praises to be sung;
But we will grow and soon be fat—
We won't stay puny, so that is that.
Our thirteen members all are plucky;
With us, thirteen won't be unlucky.
No money can we send just now,
But our dues are 100%, Oh, wow!
Our aim and purpose you will see
Is to interest students in S. T. C.
'Tis our dear Alma Mater,
And we need not repeat it—
No school in the state
Can in any way beat it!"

The aims and activities of different chapters vary somewhat. A compilation from reports shows that they include interesting high school girls in selecting Farmville S. T. C. for their college, by talking to them, entertaining them at teas, having a Farmville representative visit their school; establishing loan funds to help local girls secure a college education; making loyalty gifts to Alma Mater for special purposes; cooperating as a unit with other clubs for civic enterprises; getting acquainted with each other in large county and city chapters and supplying the Association with news of the members; sponsoring lectures by Farmville faculty in their communities; meeting in a social way at teas and bridge parties.

Loyal, alert alumnae chapters are among the most valuable assets of a college. Farmville is proud of her bands of former students located in all sections of Virginia.

The following is a list of the alumnae chapters with their officers:

Amherst

President—Mary Gregory.
Vice-President—Mrs. R. H. Guy (Myrtle Gregory).
Secretary-Treasurer—Elsie Story.

Appomattox County

President—Merle Davis.
Vice-President—Mrs. Florence Gregory Trent.
Secretary-Treasurer — Miss Isabelle O'Brien.

Campbell County

President—Julia Asher.
Secretary-TreasurerElizabeth Moseley.

Charlottesville

President—Mrs. E. M. Nuchols (Cornelia Dickinson).
Vice-President—Mrs. Pace Bailey (Laura Klce).
Secretary-Treasurer — Mrs. J. R. Morris (Edith Dickey).

Chase City

President—Margaret Finch.
Secretary-Treasurer—Mildred Lipscomb.

Clarksville

President—Evelyn Jones.
Secretary-Treasurer—Mrs. H. W. Winston, (Mary Clements).

Clifton Forge

President—Eleanor Gleason.
Vice-President—Mrs. Veta Martin Key.
Secretary-Treasurer—Elizabeth McCoy.

Covington

President—Phyllis Pedigo.
Vice-President—Virginia Moore.
Secretary-Treasurer—Ann Bullock.

Culpeper County

President—Mary Ruth Winn.
Vice-President—Mary George Bolen.
Secretary—Frances Coleman.
Treasurer—Nellie Norman.

Danville

President—Rose Brimmer.
Vice Presidents — Peggy Walton, Virginia Raine, Mrs. Wayles Harrison (Sue Brown), Mrs. Ray Mitchell (Mary Mount).

Dinwiddie County

President—Susie Reames.

Eastern Shore

(Organization not complete; officers will be elected soon.)

World News

For the first time since the World War, German royalty was received by England's King and Queen when the Duke and Duchess of Brunswick went to Buckingham palace for luncheon.

The Republic of Panama is demanding to be paid her annuity in dollars of the old gold content. She declares that she will not accept the new dollar, worth 59 per cent of the old one, but must have full value since the Panama Canal treaty dated 1904, binds our Government to pay the lump sum of $10,000,000 in gold coin of the United States and also an annual payment of $250,000, beginning nine years later in like gold coin." The Government of Panama now reflects that like gold coin" means coin on the 1904 basis.

President Roosevelt has renewed the Philippine independence, thought dead for the rest of this session of Congress, and has asked the Senate and house to pass a new act granting freedom to the islands.

Premier Mussolini is scheduled to entertain two important visitors on March 14. Chanceller Dollfuss of Austria and Premier Goemboes of Hungary will arrive in Rome for two days of conversations with Il Duce. It is reported that projects for the improvement of economic relations among the three countries will be discussed, and the meetings are regarded as another effort of Mussolini's to check the growing influence of Germany in Central Europe.

By a vote of approximately 20,000 to 1, an American jury, gathered in Madison Square Garden for a mock hearing, indicted Adolf Hitler on a charge of committing a crime against civilization. The lone vote in the negative came from a blonde young woman who spoke good English with a slight German accent.

Farmville

President—Mrs. George W. Jeffers (Anne Merdith).
Vice-President—Louise Richardson.
Secretary—Mrs. J. C. Bondurant (Mollie Moore).
Treasurer—Mrs. Frank Nat Watkins (Mary Wisely).

Halifax County

President—Mrs. W. K. Ballow (Clara Edwards)
Vice-President—Frances Howard.
Secretary—Mrs. Berkeley G. Burch.
Treasurer—Elizabeth Paylor.
Chairman Program Committee—Mrs. W. H. Moseley (Mildred Evans)
Chairman Ways and Means Committee—Josie Carter Wooding.

J. L. Jarman, Richmond

President—Elizabeth B. White.
Secretary-Treasurer— Mrs. William Bass (Evelyn Dinwiddie).

Kenbridge

President—Virginia Gee.
Secretary-Treasurer — Anna Ruth Allen.

Lawrenceville

President—Elfie Meredith.
Secretary-Treasurer—Mildred Short.

Lynchburg

President—Agnes Christine Murphy.
Vice-President—Helen Virginia Robertson.
Recording Secretary—Mary Minor Carter.
Corresponding Secretary—Mrs. D. W. Evans (Gladys Owen).
Treasurer—Leola Harris Carter.

Peninsula

President—Marnetta Souder.
First Vice-President—Elizabeth Jarman, Newport News.
Second Vice-President—Mrs. Dan Philips (Amonette Demotte) Hampton.
Third Vice-President—Nancy Garrow, Denbeigh.
Fourth Vice-President — Bertha Hunt, Poquoson.
Secretary—Mrs. Edward Price (Maybelle Moran).
Treasurer—Mrs. G. B. Asher.
Treasurer—Mrs. E. L. Folk (Eleanor Jamison).
Chairman of Finance Committee—Jane Brown.

Scottsville

President—Mrs. George Omohundro (Ruby Faulette).
Secretary—Barclay Hancock.

Southampton County

President—Mrs. Jo King.
Secretary-Treasurer—Miss Elizabeth Hurt.

South Norfolk

President—Pattie Mae Smith.
Secretary-Treasurer—Rosalind Harrell.
Chairman of Student Loan Fund—Elsie Wilson.
Publicity Chairman—Mrs. J. W. Cox Anne Wilkinson).

Pennsylvania State

(Organization in charge of Mrs. Olive Smith Bowman; officers not yet elected).

Petersburg

President—Miss Mary Frances Hatchett.
Vice-President—Miss Elizabeth Willis.
Secretary—Miss Katherine Crowder.
Treasurer—Miss Gladys Wilkinson.

Portsmouth

President—Miss Margaret Johnston.
Vice-President—Miss Charlotte Hutchins.
Secretary—Miss Sue E. Roper.
Treasurer—Miss Eleanor Dashiell.
Press Reporter—Miss Virginia Rice.

Powhatan County

President—Miss G. Elizabeth Rawles.
Vice-President—Miss Nancy Watkins.
Secretary—Mrs. T. L. Timberlake.
Treasurer—Miss Kathryn Rhodes.
Reporter—Mrs. Agnes Laws.

Roanoke

President—Eleanor McCormick.
First Vice-President—Nancy Nelms.
Second Vice-President—Mrs. J. E. John (Mertie Edith McDonald).
Third Vice-President—Mrs. William Kearsley (Katherine Krebs).
Recording Secretary — Virginia Graves.
Corresponding Secretary—Mrs. W. H. Barksdale (Lula Sutherlin).
Treasurer—Frances Wilson.

Salem

President—Mrs. Frank Vest (Viola Woodson).
Vice-President—Brownie Brown.
Secretary—Mrs. G. V. Yonce (Josie Guy)
Reporter—Lucile Scaff.

Staunton

President—Mrs. E. F. Eldred (Sally P. Johnson).
Vice-President—Kathryn Wayte.
Secretary-Treasurer—Amanda Lindsey.

Winchester

President—Adele Hutchinson.
Secretary-Treasurer — Agnes Watkins.

Windsor

(Organization not complete; officers will be elected soon.)

Wise-Lee County

President—Susie Leyburn Hyatt.
Vice-President—Jenilee Knight.
Secretary—Gladys Meador.
Treasurer—Jacqueline Hix.

POETRY

THE COLLEGE SPEAKS

So fast the years have come and gone,
The busy, happy years,
It seems but yesterday that I,
A-thrill with needless fears,

First opened wide my doors to clasp
My children to my breast,
Determined from the first to give
In everything, the best.

My buildings, small and modest then,
Have grown from year to year;
My spirit has kept pace with them
And now, from far and near

My children come in hundreds where
They came in tens before;
But still within my heart I hold
Those dear, from days of yore.

A line of teachers stretches far
From '84 to now;
Some only came, then went, but some
Placed laurels on my brow.

And many thousand youthful feet
Have danced along my halls,
And many a shout of triumph has
Re-echoed from my walls.

Some children were as true as steel
And some, alas, but sham,
But each as she passed through has helped
To make me what I am.

And when their youthful hearts and minds
Grow in maturity,
They love to think and talk about

And now, when years have crowned my head,
It warms my heart to see
My children's children celebrate
My Golden Jubilee.

Jennie Masters Tabb. '93.

Alumnae Assemble In Annual Meeting

The annual business meeting of the Association of Alumnae of the College was held in the auditorium of the Student Building on Saturday, March 10, 9 a. m. with the largest attendance of any business meeting in the memory of those present. A special welcome was extended the reunion classes of 1894, 1904, 1914, and 1924 by Miss Pauline Camper, the president.

After the reports of the officers and committee chairmen, the delegates from the local chapters gave reports on the various activities of their chapters. Twenty-five chapters responded to the roll call.

Miss Hiner reported that the books bought for the Morrison Memorial Library had been put on a special shelf in the college library and said that she hoped everyone interested in this memorial library would see the books.

Dr. Jarman spoke of the value of loan funds, as an illustration of what comes from small beginnings, he said the Cunningham Memorial fund has been the means of helping more than one hundred girls through college.

Miss Marnetta Souder of Hampton, Virginia was appointed to take charge of the sale of commemorative plates which the Association is planning to have made. The plates of Wedgewood will have a picture of the main entrance of the college in the center done in blue.

At the suggestion of Mrs. Alice Atkinson Szanto, the members of the Association present made up a purse for Philip Ward. This was presented to Philip by Mrs. Szanto who expressed the appreciation of the alumnae of his faithful service as head cook at the college.

ALUMNAE TAKE PART IN COSTUME PARADE

Continued from page 1

cision as to the first, second, and third prizes. By this method, Mrs. J. D. Eggleston of Hampden-Sydney, class of 1887 was chosen for first place, Mrs. J. L. Bugg, Farmville, class of 1905, second place, and Mrs. H. Shawen, class of 1907, third place.

After the awarding of the ribbons by Mr. Saunders, chairman of the committee, several classes came out to the center of the gymnasium and sang class songs and yells, after which the entire alumnae body joined with the students in singing, "What's the Matter with Jarman," and the audience and alumnae left the gymnasium with the feeling that the "Good old days" had been most happily revived.

It is interesting to note that every class except those of 1885 and '86 had representatives in the parade. These two classes were represented by two of the present students wearing costumes of the period.

NOTE OF APPRECIATION

Last week I wrote a note for the Rotunda at the request of your editor; this time I write unsolicited.

I write to offer the sincere thanks of the Fiftieth Anniversary committee to all of those who helped to make our celebration the success that that it undoubtedly was. This college may well feel proud of the fact that everybody, from the president down to the humblest servant, could unite as a single body in a common undertaking and get enjoyment in so doing. Furthermore, the cordial relations that exist between the college and the town were never better exemplified.

I should like to single out the student body for a special word of commendation. While everyone had something to do and did it well, the role of the students demanded a peculiar type of finesse. Nevertheless, our students played their part with such grace and courtesy that they won the admiration of our visitors.

Our two-day celebration made many friends for Farmville. Its greatest value, however, was more intimate — the renewed knowledge that so many groups and individuals could co-operate in one common enterprize, and the deeper, finer appreciation of what it means to be a part of that indefinable "Farmville Spirit."

—G. W. Jeffers

Former Faculty Send Anniversary Greetings

All the letters and telegrams that were received showed evidence of the place that Farmville still holds in the hearts of its associates. We appreciate the greetings from each and everyone and we regret that we can give only a few parts from some of the letters.

Dr. Fannie W. Dunn: "I should certainly enjoy seeing you all again and having a share in the felicitations which must be yours on this occasion: I am wishing you all many happy returns of the day."

Dr. B. W. Arnold, Jr.: "I appreciate the invitation to the celebration, and know it will be an enjoyable occasion for all who attend.

Miss Elizabeth J. Freeborn: "It would be a pleasure to meet some of my contemporaries and I have warm friends outside the college whom it would be a pleasure to see again but it is a pleasure which I must forego.

Mr. S. T. Emory: "Seriously, a half-century of growth (I don't these current years) is something to talk about. I cannot possibly attend the celebration unless the C. W. A. deputizes me, but my congratulations are sincere."

Miss Josephine Johnson: "I am deeply interested in the Founder's Day celebration and am so sorry we can't be there for it.

Mrs. Julia Johnson Davis: "I am sorry indeed that I shall not be able to be in Farmville for the celebration, which will be most interesting and delightful, I know. Will you convey my regrets to the Class Reunion Committee?"

Dr. Robert T. Kerlin: "I was very happy during my two years in that excellent institution: happy in my teaching, happy in my associations, happy in the freedom I enjoyed under President Jarman. He was not simply my president; he was my friend. The school was as nearly ideal as any I have ever been connected with in over 50 years of teaching."

Dr. J. F. Messenger: I surely wish I could come to your celebration. I should like very much to see some of the old friends of the faculty and I should like to meet again some of the students I had while there."

Mrs. Jennette Edwards Rattray: "I appreciate being asked to take this small part in your celebration, and only wish that family duties any my newspaper work would allow me to attend the festivities."

Mrs. Carrie W. Barskowski Rogers: "I wish to present my heartfelt wishes for a continuance of the good work done and the great progress made along educational lines through the college influence."

Miss Alberta Waterbury: "Please extend my heartfelt congratulations to Dr. Jarman for his great success in making such a splendid institution—of which Virginia may be most proud."

Dr. Lula G. Winston: "It would give me great pleasure to meet my former colleagues and students and to renew old acquaintances."

Dr. Laetitia M. Snow: "It is with the deepest regret that I decline the invitation to attend the Fiftieth Anniversary celebration.

Mrs. Elizabeth E. Hewlett: Watkins, for California: "My connection with the faculty of your college holds many most happy memories. Mr. Cunningham was an ideal President, and such a kindly, genial friend to all his teachers, always encouraging and helpful; and the gracious, self-sacrificing services of Mr. Cox endeared him to every member of the faculty. The students were

Continued page 6, col. 5

MRS. W. A. MADDOX SENDS CHINESE RUG TO SCHOOL

One of the loveliest things that has been done for the college was done by a loyal alumna at the time of the Golden Anniversary, when Mrs. William Arthur Maddox (Susie W. Warner) Class '02) of Rockford, Ill., sent as an indefinite loan to the institution an exceedingly handsome Chinese silk rug, four by eight feet, representing Lao Tse, the Chinese Philosopher, and his Followers.

The colors are soft and lovely and the rug adds much to the atractiveness of the Senior Parlor, where it is given a conspicuous place.

The Class of 1894 presented to the Morrison Library a set of books by W. H. T. Squires. This library was established by the alumnae as a tribute to the memory of Mrs. Portia L. Morrison, for many years the beloved Head of the Home.

MISS PAULINE CAMPER

who is president of the Alumnae Association

EXECUTIVE BOARD OF ALUMNAE ASSOCIATION

President .... Miss Pauline Camper
1st V.-Pres. Miss Adele Hutchinson
2nd V.-Pres. Mrs. Ruth H. Coyner
Director ..... Miss Ruth Campbell
Director ..... Miss Jenilee Knight
Secretary .... Miss Alice E. Carter
Treas. ..... Mrs. Anne M. Jeffers

Nominating Committee

Miss Alice Carter ..... Chairman
Miss Helen Draper
Miss Patsy Watkins

STUDENT EXHIBIT WORK AT OPEN HOUSE MARCH 9

Continued from page one

many of the Alumnae. The work from Curdsville, John Randolph, Worsham, and Rice was on display in the west wing of the college. They featured sand tables, note books and drawings.

The language department had exhibitions in Rooms 20 and 34. The Science Departments had electrical devices on display in the chemistry laboratory and biological specimens, models, and drawings in the biology laboratory. Practically every phase of work in the college was on exhibition, thus giving the visitors an opportunity for really understanding something of the work done in the class rooms.

ALUMNAE LUNCHEON IS WELL ATTENDED

In the midst of a sudden snow storm which enhanced the beauty of Longwood, two hundred and eighty alumnae were present for the luncheon on Staurday, March 10 at 12:30 o'clock.

The house was beautifully decorated with baskets of Talisman roses, California Acacia and lavender sweet peas, giving the place a spring-like atmosphere—a decided contrast to the wintry outdoors from which the guests came.

This was the first real "get-together" for the alumnae in one place and proved to be a time for real reminiscing. Many of the "old girls" had never seen Longwood, and the phrase most often heard was: "Things were not like this when I was here." While old days were happy days, all agreed that the present students are most fortunate in their surroundings.

DR. JARMAN RECEIVES TWO SMALL SOCKS

During the fiftieth anniversary celebration Dr. Jarman received two tiny white socks tied with red bows, with the following note attached:

Dear Dr. Jarman:

"We have heard our mother talk so much about you and the Student Building, that we decided to 'hoard gold' in our socks for you, even if the President told us not to.

"We think today is a "golden opportunity' to give it to you, and with it goes our love and best wishes for a happy, happy day.

Billy and Jimmy Greene, Jr."

These little socks contanied a hundred pennies, given by the two young sons of Anne Smith, of the degree class of 1926.

Their mother, Anne Smith Greene, was an outstanding student of this college, being president of her class. The socks, with their bows, bore the red and white, colors of their mother's class.

23 Faculty Publications Exhibited For Guests

One of the many cozy corners that attracted much attention during the celebration was what could scarcely be recognized as Miss Taliaferro's mathematics classroom.

Here a committee composed of Miss Craddock, Miss Waters, Miss Draper, and Miss M. K. Taliaferro had attractively asembled the publications of former and present faculty members as an acknowledgement of the part they have played in the building of our institution.

An attempt was made to get in touch with every living ex-faculty member and with relatives of those that are deceased. Lack of space prevents our listing the titles of all publications received, but we are going to start a special catalog in the library for the published writings of anyone ever connected with Farmville.

It is significant that no less than four former members of this faculty have become college executives. Of these Dr. William A. Maddox was president of Rockford College, Rockford, Ill., until his untimely death last summer. The remaining three, Dr. Bessie Carter Randolph, president of Hollins College; Dr. Samuel P. Duke, president of Harrisonburg S. T. C.; and Miss Carrie B. Sutherlin, acting president of Arlington Hall, were all present for the occasion.

Below are listed the names and addresses of former Farmville instructors who sent greetings. A star indicates a contribution to our publications exhibit. We hope no name was inadvertantly ommitted.

*Dr. B. W. Arnold, R. Macon, Lynchburg.

Mrs. Carrie Bartkows Rogers, 2115 Maryland Ave., Baltimore.

Mrs. Grace Beale Moncure, 606 Woodbine Ave., Towson, Md.

Miss Helen Blackiston, Montevallo, Ala.

*Miss Anna L. Blauvelt, Drawer E, Harrison, N. Y.

Dr. and Mrs. W. D. Bowman, Huntington, Pa.

Dr. and Mrs. G. H. Bretnall, Shepherds Town, W. Va.

Mrs. Elizabeth Bugg Hughes, Kingsport, Tenn.

Miss Louise Bullock, S. T. C., Jacksonville, Ala.

Miss Myrtle Cash, 704 S. State St., Springfield, Ill.

Miss Kathleen Cleveland, Henderson, N. C.

Mrs. Myra Compton Allnut, Dawsonville, Md.

Miss Myrtle Cash, 704 S. State St., Springfield, Ill.

Miss Kathleen Cleveland, Henderson, N. C.

Mrs. Myra Compton Allnut, Dawsonville, Md.

Miss Ollive Counts, Prosperity, S. C.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Mattoon, Woodstock, Md.

Miss Emma Dietrich, 1781 Lakewood Ave., Cleveland, O.

Mrs. Louise Drake Moore, Waynesboro, Va.

*Dr. Fannie Wyche Dunn, Teachers College, Columbia University.

*Mrs. Jeannette Edwards Rattray, East Hampton, Long Island, N. Y.

Miss Elizabeth Eggleston, Hampden-Sydney, Va.

*Mr. Samuel T. Emory, Chapel Hill, N. C.

*Miss Elizabeth Falls, Southwest S. T. C., San Marcos, Texas.

*Mr. P. W. Fattig, Emory University, Atlanta, Ga.

Miss Elizabeth Freeborn, Warren, R. I.

*Dr. Thomas R. Garth, University of Denver, Denver, Colo.

Miss Myrtle Grenels, Fresno, Cal.

Mrs. Sadie Hardy-Claiborne, 927 Park Ave., Norfolk.

Mrs. Eloise Harris Wynne, Clinton, Tenn.

Miss Mary Frances Hatchett, 815 Shepherd St., Petersburg.

Mrs. Elizabeth Hewlett Watkins, 1631 Wayne Ave., S. Pasadena, Cal.

*Miss Josephine Johnson and.

*Mrs. Julia Johnson Davis, Stone Leigh Court, Norfolk.

Mrs. Worthy Johnson Crafts, State Hospital, Lima, Ohio.

Dr. Elmer E. Jones, 129 W. Irvington Place, Denver, Colo.

Fairview Ave., Spartenburg, S. C

*Dr. Robert T. Kerlin, Keyser, W. Va.

*Dr. and Mrs. Linus W. Kline, 124 Circular St., Saratoga Springs, N. Y.

Mis Natalie Lancaster, 3400 Brooke Road, Richmond, Va.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Merritt Lear, Chapel Hill, N. C.

Alumnae Appreciate College Hospitality

The alumnae have expressed great appreciation of the hospitality shown when during the celebration. The following are excerpts from some of the litters:

Executive genius is akin to genius in one of the fields of the fine arts; namely, the result must be so artistic, so perfect, that the method of achievement is obscured. That was certainly true in the lovely two-day program you people devised. If the children were sleeping on the piano, eating on a suitcase or combing their hair in the reflection of a brass door-knob, none of your guests ever knew of this inconvenience. So many people spoke of the sweet spirit with which everyone served, whatever that person's capacity. From beginning to end they were days of radiant happines for those who come back.

I want to thank all who had a part in making the occasion such an enjoyable one-especially do I want to thank the girls who gave up their rooms.

The two days were full of thrills for me and I feel very much indebted to you and the others responsible for such an interesting and happy visit."

I have always been proud of the State Female Normal School and now I am prouder than ever of the college that can have such a tremendous entertainment with so little seeming effort; it is in a class by itself. Think of a college that can entertain ever 500 alumnae so easily and then have a snow storm just at the right minute to show off beautiful "Longwood" to the greatest advantage.

The sympathy of the Association of Alumnae is extended to the families and friends of those members who have died during the past year.

Miss Mary Fredericka Stone, member of the English department from 1891 to 1901, died in the spring of 1933, Mrs. S. Jean Boatwright (Jean Carruthers, class of '86) Dec. 6, 1933; Lucy M. Dorrance, March 30, 1933; Mrs. Pattie Love Jones Lindsley, 1933; Mrs. George Richards, Jan. 24, 1934; S. Jayne Rucker, June, 1933; Atwell Sinclair, June, 1933; Mrs. Paulyne Anderson Seeley, February, 1933.

Miss Florence Meyer, 15 Cedar Place, Yonkers, N. Y.

Mrs. Elizabeth Lewis Battle, 1109 St. Marys St., Raleigh, N. C.

*Miss Amelia McLester, University, Va.

Mrs. Madeline Mapp Barrow Keller, Va.

Mrs. Blanche March Gerhart, 499 Broad Ave., Leonia, N. J.

Miss Edith Marshall, Pitsfield, N. H.

*Dr. J. Franklin Messenger, University of Idaho, Moscow.

Miss Hazel B. Millican, Waterloo Rd., Frederickton, N. B., Canada.

*Miss Eva Minor, Lexington, N. C.

Mrs. Nan Powell Hodges, 1312 Willowwood Drive, Norfolk.

Miss R. Advice Roane, 6 Oakenwold St., Staunton.

Miss Florence Rohr, Lynchburg, Va.

Miss Mary Savedge, Surry C. H. Va.

*Dr. Laetitia Snow, Wellesley College, Mass.

*Dr. Grover T. Somers, University of Indiana.

Miss Carrie Spradlin, 220 Washington St., Vinton, Va.

Miss Mabel Spratley, Hampton, Va.

*Dr. Cliff W. Stone, State College of Washington, Pullman, Wash.

Miss Philomena Supper, 5714 N. Fourth St., Philadelphia, Pa.

*Dr. W. F. Tidyman, S. T. C., Fresno, Calif.

*Miss Frances Treakle, Kilmarnock, Va.

Miss Helen May Turner, S. T. C., Mansfield, Pa.

Miss Mary Walters Vaughan, Amherst, Va.

Mrs. Clara Vickroy Balch, 116 Midland Ave., Montclair, N. J.

Miss Alberta Waterbury, 223 N. Seventh St., Newark, N. J.

*Mis Pauline Williamson, Metropolitan Life Insurance Co., N. Y.

Dr. Lula G. Winston, Meredith College, Raleigh, N. C.

600 Alumnae Attend Fiftieth Anniversary Celebration

Dr. Freeman Speaks At Formal Dinner

The fiftieth anniversary dinner was served at six o'clock in the college dining hall on Saturday, March 10. The students, alumnae, and guests entered the dining room to the musical overture supplied by college orchestra. After all the guests had assembled, the hearts of those present were thrilled by the singing of Alma Mater in such a way as it has probably never been sung before.

After a delicious three course dinner had been served, Dr. Jeffers presented a cup to the class of 1894. This cup, the Jarman cup, was presented to class of alumnae who had the largest percentage of their members present at the fiftieth anniversary celebration. A distinguishing feature of the class of 1894 is that for forty years the graduates of this class have kept up a chain letter circulating among them, a strong bond of friendship.

The college felt honored in having Dr. Sidney B. Hall as master of ceremonies. With customary ease and composure, he introduced those who brought greetings:

Mrs. Mary Lew Campbell Graham for the alumnae, Miss Alice McKay for the students, and Dr. J. L. Jarman for the college. These brief and simple messages were heart-felt expressions of the feeling of the various groups which they represented.

The chief event of the dinner, was the address by Dr. Douglas S. Freeman, editor of the Richmond News Leader. Dr. Freeman's subject "The Next Fifty", was ably developed as the audience had anticipated.

Dramatic Club Stages Shakespearean Drama

Friday night, March 9, the Fiftieth Anniversary of State Teachers College at Farmville, Shakespeare's drama, Midsummer Night's Dream was presented by the Dramatic Club. This was a beautiful and finished production, thoroughly enjoyed by a packed auditorium of alumnae, guests and students.

Midsummer Night's Dream is one of Shakespeare's most poular plays. Many think Shakespeare was at his best in the charming and delightful love story portrayed. This play was given last year with so much success, that as a response to many requests for its reptition it was repeated again this year for the celebration.

It is a fanciful play, unreal and mystical; many strange things occur, the fairies' work unraveling of which forms the theme of the play. The scene is laid in a wood near Athens on a wondrous midsummer's night. The characters are fairies and mortals, too, the mortals very stupidly and blunderingly going about their affairs, while the fairies dance impishly and merrily in and out entangling relationships and mixing life up in a fascinatingly amusing scheme.

Helen Shawen portrayed "Theseus", the dignified and autocratic Grecian duke of Athens, in a splendidly imperious and capable manner. "Hippolyta," Theseus' beloved was given with dignity and grace by Laeta Barham who played the same part last year.

Mary Shelton and Martha Scott Watkins had the role of the two

Continued page 6, col. 2

SORORITIES INSTITUTE 2 NEW LOAN FUNDS

The Gamma Theta and Sigma Sigma Sigma Sororities have both announced gifts to the College of scholarship loan funds to be awarded to worthy students. The recipients of these funds will not be selected from sorority girls alone, but will be given to those who are approved by the College authorities.

A loan fund has been maintained by the Mu Omega Sorority for several years so that three such scholarships are now available to students.

An additional gift of $100.00 for use in any way that Dr. Jarman shall choose was also made at Founders Day by the National Organization of Sigma Sigma Sigma in addition to the gift of the local chapter.

CLASS OF '94 WINS LOVING CUP

Here are eight of the nine members of the class of 1894 of the Farmville State Teachers College who attended the fiftieth anniversary last week-end. The cup won the loving cup for the largest percentage of return of class groups. Front row, left to right—Mrs. E. A. Ames, Onley; Mrs. W. E. Chappell, Meherrin; Mrs. T. M. Netherland, Dinwiddie; Mrs. A. E. Richarson, Dinwiddie; Mrs. Sam Tankard, Franktown. Second row—Mrs. M. B. Simpson, Norfolk, and Mrs. M. L. Eggleston, Roanoke. Mrs. H. S. Bland, Cologne, who was a member of the class and present at the celebration, is not in the picture. (Cobbs.)

Alumnae of Forty-Seven Classes Return To Commemorate College Golden Anniversary and Participate In Celebration

"There is in old Virginia a place we love to be," and six hundred and two alumnae proved this as they thronged the halls of the College, greeted faculty and friends, attended and participated in the various events of the celebration. Only three of the 50 classes from 1885-1934 lacked a registration card. The presence of former faculty members and of honorary members of the Association of Alumnae added a peculiar pleasure to the occasion.

Former Faculty Members

Miss Lula O. Andrews, Miss Bessie Barclay, Miss Fannie Berkely, Miss Ellen Bouldin, Mrs. S. W. Rockwell (Thelma Blanton), Miss Alma Browning, Miss Virginia Bugg, Miss Florence Buford, Miss Carolyn Cogbill, Mrs. A. T. Gray (Fleeta Cooper), Mrs. C. H. Davis (Mildred Dickinson), Dr. S. P. Duke, Mr. T. D. Eason, Mrs. W. H. Moseley (Mildred Evans), Miss Susie Floyd, Miss Elizabeth Gaines, Mrs. M. B. Coyner (Ruth Harding), Mrs. J. M. Shepherd (Katherine Hill), Mrs. J. D. Eggleston (Julia Johnson), Mrs. Dale Brown (Louise McCormick), Mr. R. V. Long, Mrs. G. W. Jeffers (Anne Meredith), Dr. C. G. G. Moss, Mrs. Herbert Stokes (Lydia Overall), Miss S. Gay Patteson, Dr. Bessie Randolph, Miss Alice Reed, Miss Mamie E. Rohr, Mrs. A. Y. Stokes (Katherine Scott), Miss Marnetta Souder, Dr. L. T. Stoneburner, Miss Lottie Thorpe, Miss Lula Walker, Mrs. Wilson Cox (Anne Wilkinson), Dr. Susan A. Price, Miss Carrie Sutherlin.

Honorary Members

Miss Lula O. Andrews, 1898-1912; Miss Martha Willis Coulling, 1887-1934; Miss Ottie Craddock 1923-1934, Mr. James M. Grainger 1910-934; Mrs. Bessie Camper Jamison 1903-1934; Miss Lila W. London 1903-1934; Miss Mary D. Pierce 1905-'18; 1929-1934; Miss Minnie V. Rice 1891-1934, Miss Estelle Smithey 1896-1934.

Alumnae Before 1884

Mrs. George Richardson, Mrs. Asa Watkins.

1887—Katherine Wicker, Mrs. Julia Johnson Eggleston.

1888—Fannie Berkeley, Mattie B. Duncan, Mrs. Annie Page Jones Cox.

1889—Mrs. Lucy Boswell Montague.

1891—Mrs. Lucy Irvine Irvine, Mrs. Susan Pattie Brown, Maude F. Trevvet.

1892—Mrs. Annie Burton Cox, Mrs. Myrtis Spain Hall, Mrs. Louise Twelvetrees Hamlett, Margaret Watkins.

1893—Alma Bland, Mrs. Bessie Morris Channell, Mrs. Mary Evelyn Noel Smith, Jennie Masters Tabb.

1894—Mrs. Mabyn Branch Simpson, Mrs. Mary Louisa Gayle Bland, Mrs. Mary Fitzhugh Eggleston, Mrs. Alma Harris Netherland, Mrs. Pauline Harris Richardson, Julia P. Leache, Mrs. Mabel Roberts Tankard, Mrs. Janie Staples Chappelle, Mrs. Lena Trower Ames.

1895—Mrs. Kate Burton Glenn, Mrs. Mary Ratcliffe Chenery.

1896—Mrs. Mary Lou Chernault Cralle, Mrs. Elizabeth Hatcher Sadler, Mrs. Bessie Lindsey Farmer, Mrs. Mary Moorman Thompson, Mrs. Lizzie Vaughan Hinkel, Mrs. Merrie Verser Howard.

1897—Mrs. Mattie Wainwright Hubbard.

1898—Mrs. Laura Harris Lippitt, Mrs. Loulie Cralle Lancaster, Mrs. Nellie Oakey Ryan, Mrs. Genevieve Venable Holladay, Elizabeth Woodson.

1899—Mrs. Annette Leache Gemmell, Mrs. Ruby Leigh Orgain, Carrie Brown Tallaferro, Mrs. Lucy Wright James.

1900—Mrs. Sadie Armstrong Greer, Lillian Simmons.

1901—Mrs. Alice Atkinson Szanto, Mrs. Vivian Binns Parker, Mrs. Hessie Chernault Yelton, Mrs. Grace Elcan Garnett, Mrs. Beulah Finke Horn, Mrs. Louise Hogwood Russell, Mrs. Pearle Watterson Showalter.

1902—Mrs. Ethel Cole Ould, Mrs. Ora Harris Chick, Katherine Vaughan Farrar, Mrs. Eva Walkley Mears.

1903—Mrs. Sally Crowson Justis, Mrs. Edna Elcan Jones, Mrs. Martha Goggin Woodson, Mary E. Peck, Mrs. Minnie Taylor Bentley, Mattie Willis.

1904—Mrs. Rena Armstrong O'Bannon, Mrs. Mary Lew Campbell Graham, Mrs. Inez Clary McGeorge, Jessie Dey, Mrs. Marie Etheridge Bratten, Mrs. Mildred Evans Moseley, Jessie V. Finke, Mrs. Amelia Harrison Palmer, Mrs. Mary Herbert Peake, Mary Clay Hiner, Mrs. Fannie Hodnett Moses, Mrs. Martha Holman Rand, Mrs. Byrd King Eckles, Mrs. Mellie Morehead Harry, Mrs. Bettie Murfee Ray, Mrs. Claudia Perkins Taylor, Lucy Jackson Stearnes, Carrie Sutherlin, Mrs. Louise Vaughan French, Mrs. Jessie Whitmore Booker.

1905—Mrs. Eleanor Abbitt Thomas, Mrs. Maud Anderson Soyars, Mrs. Anna Diehl Fraser, Myra Howard, Mrs. Elen Lee Wilson, Mrs. L. Manson Simpson, Mrs. Ursula Tuck Buckley, Mrs. Clair Woodruff Bugg.

1906—Mrs. Merle Abbitt Kirk, Mrs. Louise Adams Armstrong, Mrs. Irene Baird Clevinger, Mrs. March Edmunds Rivers, Mrs. Mary Ford Gathright, Lucy C. Hiner, Mrs. Anna Jolliffe Denny, Rhea C. Scott, Virginia Tinsley, Mrs. Pearle Vaughan Childrey, Mrs. Elizabeth Verser Hobson.

1907—Mrs. Mamie Baldwin Harvey, Mrs. Doris Daughtrey Corbin, Mrs. Sidney Guy Cabell, Mrs. Lois Leonard Shawen, Mrs. Lucy Rice English, Mrs. Mary Schofield Watkins, Mrs. Clara Smith Stoneburner Mrs. Minnie Withers Schenk.

1908—Mrs. Emma Blanton Vaughan, Mrs. Virginia Blanton Hanbury, Mrs. Mattie Bowles Black, Mrs. Rosa Caldwell Mann, Mrs. Nora Garrett Lancaster, Mrs. Annie Lancaster Rodgers, Mrs. Mollie Mauzy Myers, Mrs. Hattie Paulett Long, Mrs. Lois Watkins Franklin.

1909—Mrs. Anne Bidgood Wood, Martha King Blanton, Mrs. Minnie Blanton Button, Alice E. Carter, Zula Cutchins, Evelyn Read Hamner, Mrs. Natalie Hardy Graham, Mrs. Carrie Rennie Eason, Mrs. Lula Sutherlin Barksdale, Mrs. Kate Watkins Morton.

1910—Vida Murfee, Mrs. Mary Taylor Clark, Mrs. Laura Twitty White.

1911—Mrs. Archie Blain Campbell, Mrs. Ola Channell Berryman, Mrs. Sallie Goggin Rode, Mrs. Carrie Hunter Willis, Virginia H. Johnson, Elizabeth Jordan, Elsie F. Landrum, Mrs. May Langslow Menin, Mrs. Mertie McDonald John, Mrs. Susie Robinson Turner, Mrs. Trent Pratt Crute, Mrs. Ada Smith Shaffner, Lucy Steptoe, Lottie Lee Thorpe, Mrs. Vera Tignor Sandidge, Elsie Wilson.

1912—Hattie Ashe, Mrs. Annie Davis Shelburne, Mrs. Zuleime Du Val Harris, Susan D. Jordan, Louise Poindexter. Mrs. Annie Belle Robertson Paul, Mrs. Anne Wilkinson Cox, Margaret Woodward.

1913—Mrs. Thelma Blanton Rockwell, Virgilia Bugg, Ruth Campbell, Elizabeth Downey, Mrs. Grace Freeman Huffman, Winnie Hiner, Mrs. Lula Lee Nance, Sarah Evelyn Peake, Mrs. Eileen Spaulding Steele, Elsie M. Stull, Annie Tignor.

1914—Mrs. Pauline Bloxton Garnett, Mrs. Maria Bristow Starke, Mrs. Alice Clarke Orgain, Mrs. Alice Dadmun Murphy, Mrs. Carrie Galusha McIlwaine, Frances Idear Goldman, Mrs. Lucy Moore Drewry, Mrs. Josephine Phelps White, Mrs. Florence Sledd Howard, Mrs. Hazel Thompson Clark, Mrs. Mary Turnbull Vaughan, Mrs. Roche Watkins Gaines, Flora Belle Williams, Marguerite Wilson.

1915 — Mrs. Elizabeth Barham King, Olivia Compton, Mrs. Evelyn Dinwiddie Bass, Eugenia Harris, Mrs. Catherine Hill Shepherd, Elizabeth A. Jarratt, Mrs. Sally Johnson Eldred, Mrs. Sallie Perkins Oast, Anne Carter Preston, Mrs. Ellen Vaughan Friend.

1916 — Mrs. Julia Brittingham Monroe, Louise Bunch, Mrs. Mattie Carter Budwell, Mrs. Josephine Guy Yonce, Ruth Jamison, Mrs. Eliza-

Continued page 5, col. 2

Wedding Bells Ring For Many Alumnae

Wedding bells have rung often in the past year for Farmville alumnae. The list of marriages since Founder's Day 1933 are:

Mary Page Archer—Mrs. Allen Prewitt, Franfort, Kentucky.

Marion Asher—Mrs. John E. Fawcett, Berwind, W. Va.

Frances Major Booth—Mrs. William Walker Florance, 207 N. Boulevard, Richmond.

Elizabeth Jacqueline Bacot, Mrs. Robert B. Batte.

Susie Morton Baker, Mrs. J. A. Bragg, Jr., Culpeper.

Virginia Bledsoe—Mrs. P. N. Goffigon.

Pauline Blankenship—Mrs. W. D. Dunnington

Catherine Cogbill—Mrs. Cornelius DeWitt, Pittsburg, Pa.

Helen Elizabeth Crisman — Mrs. Bruce Gorman.

Carolyn Virginia Cochran — Mrs. Donald W. Hunter, Evington.

Ruth Carney—Mrs. Richard Cralle.

Martha Elizabeth Cross — Mrs. Frederick Howe.

Anita Crane—Mrs. Shelton Short Webb.

Margaret Canada — Mrs. Paul Whitlock, Salisbury, N. C.

Ellie S. Cutchin, Mrs. P. R. Clarke, Boykins.

Lillian M. Crenshaw—Mrs. J. E. Hodges, Troy, N. Y.

Sara Lee Cross — Mrs. David D. Squires.

Lula J. Crowder — Mrs. H. W. Puckett, Roxboro, N. C.

Dean R. Cox—Mrs. J. Gwaltney, Emporia.

Virginia Elizabeth Dutton —Mrs. Roland M. Lewis, Matthews.

Pattie Lee Darden—Mrs. D. F. Worth, Jr.

Lelia DeShazo—Mrs. Ballard Phillips, Church Road.

Pauline F. Deaver — Mrs. Siler, Natural Bridge.

Mary Josephine Evans—Mrs. Dewey S. Booth, Leechburg, Pa.

India P. Edmunds—Mrs. J. C. Burch.

Marjorie C. Elmore—Mrs. C. M. Heartwell.

Margaret Ruth Fisher—Mrs. W. J. Joyner, Jr., Portsmouth.

Elise I. Foster—Mrs. L. DeS. Langley, Clarendon.

Gladys Garrett—Mrs. Robert Motley, Farmville.

Susan Elizabeth Garnett—Mrs. Joe Scott Caldwell, Farmville.

Florence H. Gregory—Mrs. T. M. Trent, Appomattox.

Elizabeth L. Gordon—Mrs. J. H. Chenery.

Elaine C. Goode—Mrs. J. A. Field, Jr., University.

Mattie Louise Hamilton — Mrs.

Continued page 6, col. 3

DR. JOHN P. WYNNE CONDUCTS SYMPOSIUM

One of the outstanding features of the recent Founder's Day celebration was the symposium led by Dr. J. P. Wynne.

The Symposium was based on several articles which appeared in the February issue of the Virginia Journal of Education.

"Fifty years of Teacher Training in Virginia," by Dr. J. E. Walmsley and Dr. Francis B. Simpkins, was discussed by Dr. C. J. Heatwall, Executive Secretary of the Virginia Education Association and also Editor of the Virginia Journal of Education.

Dr. Wynne's article, "A Program of Field work Colleges," was discussed by Dr. M'Ledge Moffet, Dean of Women at East Radford.

The general discussion for the meeting was led by Dr. L. N. Alstetter of Fredricksburg State Teachers' College.

Dr. J. L. Manahan, Head of the Education department, University of Virginia, summarized his views in regard to principles and programs proposed.

Mr. Thomas Eason, Director of Higher Education in Virginia brought the meeting to a close by criticizing and evaluating the points that had been made.

Many other leading educators, including Dean Hoke of William and Mary and Dr. Bessie Carter Randolph, president of Hollins College, were present for the meeting.

SOCIALS

The following girls spent the week-end in Richmond: Mabel Britt, Mary Alice Farrell, Audrey Hawthrone, Elizabeth Kelly, Doris Moore, Helen Shawen, Virginia Saunders, Marion Wright, Virginia Hannah, Dorothy Woolwine, Mary Margaret Kellam Mary Shelton, Margaret Herndon, Lelia Mattox, Jestine Cutshall, Mary Easley Hill, Sue Hume, Edwina Richards, Margaret Parker, Margaret Woodard, Helen Westmoreland, Katherine Conway, Evelyn Knaub, Muriel Scott, Inez Strang, Elizabeth Giles, Margaret Drake, Alice McKay, Katherine Kent, Caroline Jones, Virginia Jones, Martha Barker, Martha Burkes, Laeta Barham, Margaret McMamera, Mary Berkeley Nelson, Mary Jane Taylor, Frances Tilman, Winifred Goodman.

The girls who spent the week-end in Roanoke are: Bonnie Lane, Eva Queen, Louise Whitehurst, Ruth Gaines, Lucile Wilkerson, Nelle Oakey Ryan, Helen Smith, Frances Horton, Mary Louise McNulty, Clintis Mattox, Charlotte Rice, Hazel Smith, Emily Meadows, Elizabeth Huse, Frances Graham, Mary Howard.

Those girls who visited friends for the week-end are: Evelyn Howell, Church Road, Frances Johnson, Victoria, Nancy Beard, Amherst; Elizabeth Welch, Crewe; Mary Denny, Drakes Branch; Bessie Hart, Rice; Helen Boswell, Rice; Grace Rowell, Lynchburg; Wyc Scott, Lexington; Mary Gilmer, Lexington; Lois Moses, Mevolk; Mildred Lenthicum, Victoria; Kitty Bass, Danville; Mary Cummingham, Buckingham; Ila Evans, Clifton Forge; Mary Gilmer, Lynchburg; Estelle Jones, Farmville; Vicki MacGalliard, Portsmouth Gloria Mann, Lynchburg; Virginia Rawlings, Kenbridge; Ava Simmons, Lynchburg; Virginia Tilman, Newport News; Margaret Furner, Franklin; Mary Virginia Walker, Kenbridge; Frances Woodhouse, Norfolk; Brooks Wheeler, Covington; Katherine Young, Kenbridge; Lelia Lovelace, Chase City; Christine Seay, Dillwyn; Dorothy Wise, Blackstone; Ann Mears, Blackstone; Bernice Scott, Victoria; Phillis Denit, Lynchburg; Elizabeth Spitler, Lynchburg; Chic Mosby, Lynchburg; Rose Somers, Burkeville; Murkland Dressier, Cumberland; Patsy Saunders, Bedford; Sally Rose Chappell, Big Island; Sarah Elam, Lynchburg; Burnley Brockenbrough, Staunton; Freda Shields, Lynchburg; Nellie Pierpont, Lynchburg; Dorothy Prescott, Petersburg.

The following girls spent the week-end at their respective homes: Angerona Adylette, Annie Anderson, Louise Bullock, Betty Mae Brown, Martha Higgins, Pauline Jones, Virginia Inge, Bernice Jones, Irene Parker, Elizabeth Ransom, Dorothy White, Mary Elizabeth Wood Lois Ruth Jenkins, Ruth Showalter, Nancy Dodd, Mary Alice Wood, Margaret Pollard, Nancy Parker, Honey Hamilton, Nancy Harrison, Ella Mallory, Sue Mallory, Katherine Switzer, Mary Bowles, Merwyn Gathright, Mildred Slayton, Kitty Chappell, Katheryn Harvey, Louise Van Lear, Evelyn Wilson, Dorothy Glover, Edna Hatcher, Sarah Beck, Sally Perrow, Bobbie Mattox, Gracie Bass, Marion Layne, Amanda Wilson, Barbara Kester, Sue Yeaman, Charlote Young, Alice Margrader, Margaret Stratton, Belle Lovelace, Jessica Jones, Claudia Harper, Nan Edmunds, Virginia Edmunds, Jean Foote, Virginia Jones, Susan Gresham, June Allen, Marion Pond, Anthella Robinette, Josephine Smith, Virginia Moses, Alberta Collings, Nancy Wall, Mary Jones, Fanny Bosworth, Frances Jamerson, Irene Bailey, Margaret Bailey, Mary McDearman, Irwin Staples.

Among the publications of faculty members of the college exhibited at Founders Day was a book called "Teaching Children Literature" written by Miss Penney, Miss Foster and Miss Mix, and published by the Globe Book Company, New York City.

This book is written especially for those who are college teachers of children's literature, but the lists of stories and poems especially suitable for primary grade children make it a valuable aid for teachers of the early grades of for mothers of young children.

ALUMNAE OF 47 CLASSES RETURN FOR FETE

Continued from page four

beth Jarman Hardy, Mrs. Vixella Rucker White, Mrs. Alice Smith Starke, Mrs. Lois Smoot Dymock, Elizabeth White, Mrs. Peggy Wonycott Newsom, Mrs. Carrie Wood Massenburg.

1917—Evelyn C. Barrow, Mrs. Kathleen Bondurant Wilson, Florence Buford, Mrs. Melva Carter Smith, Mrs. Jonnie Hiner Hamrick, Conway Howard, Mrs. Mollie Moore Bondurant, Agnes C. Murphy, Mrs. Lillian Obenshain Cocks, Mrs. Selma Owen Morrison, Irene Pugh, Elise Thompson.

1918—Mrs. Katherine Anderson Maddox, Nancy Louise Bush, Mary Gallup, Mrs. Belle Gilliam Smith, Josephine Gleaves.

1919 — Mrs. Martha Armstrong Robertson, Mrs. Lillian Marie Bristow Ashe, Annie Hancock, M. Shannon Morton, Mrs. Ruby Overton Brooks, Mrs. Gladys Owen Evans. Janet Peek, Catherine Riddle, Mrs. Estelle Rea Melcher, Ida Sinclair, Mrs. Berta Smith Canfield, Agnes Wells.

1920 — Mrs. Katherine Allen Bridgeforth, Mrs. Bettie Sue Bailey Barnes, Mrs. Juliet Ford Broocks, Mrs. Katherine Krebs Kearsley, Mrs. Ettie Jones Hughes, Mrs. Mary Lancaster Wall, Mrs. Frances Spicer Goodson.

1921—Myrtle Chappell, Mary Dinwiddie, Mrs. Virginia Dugger Robertson, Mrs. Justine Gibson Adams, Mrs. Virginia Gibbs Jeffreys, Mrs. Reva Graves Gregory. Mrs. Claudine Moring Hardaway, Mrs. Ruby Paulette Omohundro, Welby Saunders, Mrs. Thelma Yost Lehman.

1922—Hilda Baldwin, Lennie Blankenship, Mrs. Julia Clarke Saunders, Carolyn Cogbill, Mrs. Mildred Dickinson Davis, Mrs. Alice Ezell Samford, Annie Gannaway, Mrs. Margaret Grigg Cox, Mrs. Otey Helm Grubbs, Wyllis Loyall, Mrs. Lily Thornhill Reams.

1923—Mrs. Charlotte Anderson Eaton, Lou Gregory, Lucille Hogge, Mrs. Margaret Kite Sims, Mrs. Anne Meredith Jeffers, Flossie Mitchell, Mrs. Ardelle Moore Dortch, Mrs. Elizabeth Moring Smith, Mary Nichols, Mrs. Anne Glenn Perry Lush, Mrs. Ruth Shockley Reynolds, Mrs. Etta Smith Felty, Mrs. Martha Wells Catlin, Lois Williams.

Anna Ruth Allen, Catherine Watts, Mrs. Isabel Allen Ligon, Mrs. Christine Armstrong Jones, Mrs. Marion Byrd Denby, Ruth Cleland, Mrs. Elizabeth Cogbill Stevens, Dorothy Diehl, Mrs. Mary Garland Robertson, Edith Gills, Mrs. Gladys Griffin Jeter, Mildred Hall, Barclay Hancock, Bernice Harris, Elsie Mason, Mrs. Mabel Mays Scott, Nellie Norman, Eva Palmer, Catherine Parr, Archer Reames, Ruby Rose, Leah Spitler, Margaret Taylor, Mary Turnbull, Virginia Wall, Sylvia Yost, Mrs. Alice Mottley Overton.

1925—Annie Lee Barksdale, Lucille Barnett, Mrs. Dean Cox Gwaltney, Janet Cralle, Blanche Daughtrey, Mrs. Lucy Page Davidson, Mrs. Dorothy Hancock Bolling, Gertrude Hughes, Mrs. Judson Lifsey Parker, Sue Roper, Erna Shotwell, Margaret Turpin, Frances Eugenia White.

1926—Mary Allen, Mrs. Elise Anderson Rodgers, Mrs. Laura Anderson Moss, Clara Anthony, Harriet Bacon, Mrs. Mary Banks Fretwell, Sadie Baird, Virginia Boyd, Audrey Chewning, Alice Cocks, Eleanor Currin, Mary Darden, Elizabeth Diehl. Amanda Gray, Hallie McCraw, Daisy Mitchell, Gladys Moses, Catherine Murdoch, Gladys Poe, Evelyn Peak Mrs. Gertrude Quinn Thomas, Mrs. Florence Riss Richardson, Mary Rea, Mrs. Alice Roberts Walker, Mrs. Anne Smith Green, Martina Willis, Mary Ruth Winn.

1927—Jessie Bennett, Mary M. Carter, Edith Cornwell, Grace George, Virginia Graves, Mabel Groseclose, Anna Leigh Gwaltney, Virginia Hanrahan, Kitty Hatch, Mrs. Betty Hopkins Wagner, Dorothy Hudson, Margaret Johnston, Bessie Mottley, Rebecca Reames, Louise Richardson, Louise Rowlett, Georgianna Stephenson, Mrs. Virginia Vincent Saffelle, Agnes Watkins, Elizabeth Williams, Mrs. Mary Wisely Watkins.

1928—Alyce Page Adams, Mrs. Phylis Bennett Martin, Lucy Armstrong, Harriett Boker, Harriett Brown, Frances Cobb, Mary Frame, Mrs. Mildred Goodman Thompson, Nancy Holt, Lillian Jennings, Mrs. Polly Riddle Clemens, Rose Smith, Marnetta Souder, Pauline White, Elizabeth Woodson.

1929—Lucy Adams, Mrs. Ruth Allen Blankenship, Virginia Lee Bacon, Mrs. Eunice Bassett Leyland, Catherine Bentley, Mrs. Mae Boney, Elizabeth Bowers, Kathryn Bully, Elsie Clements, Florence Carmine, Rebecca Cocks, Mildred Deans, Nancy Denit, Margaret Finch Lois Fraser, Elsie Freeman, Mrs. Thelma Garrett Mottley, Mary Glover, Mrs. May Evans Harvey, Delphine Hatch, Mrs. Martha Henderlite Flunkett, Helen Hodges, Margaret Hubbard, Alma Hunt, Mrs. Jeannette Johnston McDearmon, Hilda Ligon, Lucille Logan, Helen McHenry, Marjorie Martin, Cornelia McIntyre, Florence McIntyre, Elinore Malone, Myrtle Matthews, Mrs. Martha Moore Gibson, Penelope Murdoch, Parke Leigh Organ, Willie Ozlin, Edith Page, Evelyn Pedigo, Garrie Elizabeth Rawls, Virginia Robertson, Margaret Rutherford, Sammy Scott, Anna Ruth Snellings, Mrs. Mary Taliaferro Steck, Mrs. Rosa Williams Atkinson, Julia Wilson.

1930 — Anne Irving Armstrong, Julia Asher, Flora Barclay, Elizabeth Blanton, Mary Browning, Mrs. Etta Camden Clark, Nell Cawthorn, Mrs. Kathryne Chambers Large, Mildred Cralle, Mrs. Ellie Cutchin Clarke, Sally Elliot, Elizabeth Etheredge, Claudia Fleming, Lucille Graves, Nancy Hudgins, Elizabeth Hurt, Paula Irving, Lucille Jones, Mrs. Marion Love Austin, Virginia Malone, Lottie Marsh, Edythe Martin, Katherine Nichols, Louise Nininger, Annie Pollard, Elsie Rainey, Gertrude Richardson, Gaynell Savedge, Loulie Shore, Helen Smith, Nellie Talley, Elizabeth Thornton, Grace Tunstall, Mary Jane Vaden, Carolyn Watts, Frances Whitehead, Frances Wilson.

1931—Mabel Barksdale, Marion Bradley, Jane Brown, Mary Derieux,

Continued page 6, col. 1

GUEST ARTISTS ASSIST IN MUSICAL PROGRAM

Continued from page one

(c) Voci di Primavera.....Strauss

May Korb, Soprano

(a) My Lady walks in Loveliness .....Charles

(b) Joy .....Wintter Watts

....George Milan Triker, Tenor....

(a) Serenade .....Shubert

(b) Liebestraum ..... Liszt

The Choir of the College

(c) Festival Ode (written and composed for the occasion...Strick Choir of the College, Choral Club, Hampden-Sydney Glee Club, Business Men's Chorus, Farmville.

(a) Quiet .....Sanderson

(b) The Clock .....Sachnowsky

(c) Wings of the Morning...Gaines

Marie Murray, Contralto

(a) Mathinata .....Fosti

(b) The Low Backed Car .....Samuel Lover

(c) Song of the Volga Boatman .....Russian Melody

Charles Trowbridge Tittmann, Bass Baritone

Only the last selections of Part I were given since the program was behind schedule. These selections from Handel's "The Messiah," Part the First, were:

Rejoice Greatly

.....Soprano with Chorus

Then Shall the Eyes.....Recit

He shall feed his flock

..... Contralto, soprano and chorus

This concert, showing the result of much practice on the part of the singers and players was well received by the audience which filled the auditorium.

7 STUDENTS COMPLETE COURSES IN WINTER

Four girls completed their courses for degrees at the close of the winter quarter. They are Margaret K. Rucker, Mrs. Velma Quarles Perkinson, Corninne N. Mosby, and E. Catherine Bailey.

Pauline E. Jones, Mildred Hancock, and Maynie Showalter completed a two year course.

Kleanwell

CLEANERS AND TAILORS

Expert Cleaning, Repairing and Remodeling of Ladies Garments

Main Street, Opposite Postoffice
PHONE 98

C. E. Chappell
COMPANY
Stationery, Blank Books and School Supplies
Cigars, Cigarettes and Soda
Farmville, Virginia

YOU WOULD LOVE TO HAVE YOUR SHOES FIXED AT THE
Lovelace Shoe Shop
110 Third Street

S. A. Legus
TAILOR
CLEANING
PRESSING
REPAIRING
Phone 203

CONGRATULATIONS!

WELCOME! S. T. C. Alumnae and Students. We are Glad to see you.

Come down and see the newest in Spring apparel —at such low prices. Gorgeous dresses, lovely Frocks, Millinery, Hosiery and Accessories.

THE DOROTHY MAY STORE

SPRING IS HERE!

We have your needs in the newest Spring styles of ready-to-wear millinary, shoes, hose and accessories.

DAVIDSON'S

EACO
THEATRE

Program March 22 to 28

Thurs. & Fri., March 22 & 23

Ramon Novarro
Jeanette MacDonald
in
"THE CAT AND THE FIDDLE"

Here's the sparkling musical marvel of the stage with two of the greatest voices of the screen—Novarro and MacDonald—in the harmony hit that hypnotized Broadway. The whole country is joining in the chorus of praise of a great musical romance. The heart throb story of a maid and a minstrel madly in love Hear these two great artists sing their hearts out. A real treat for everybody, Don't miss it.

Also Vincent Lopez and His Orchestra. Mats 25c; evenings 35c.

Saturday, March 24

Joan Blondell
Dick Powell
Adolphe Menjou, Guy Kibbee, Mary Astor, Frank McHugh in
"CONVENTION CITY"

Girls, beware! The world's smoothest traveling salesmen are coming to town Saturday for the most convlusing convention in history. They'll have the freedom of the city—and will they take liberties! Now you can learn what really happens on those conventions where business makes hey-hey. Tells why a million men leave home every year. It's rich, racy and romantic.

Also Mills Blue Rythm Band and Fox News.

Chapter 8 "Tarzan the Fearless" with Buster Crabbe.

Next Monday, March 26

Buster Crabbe
Ida Lupino
Toby Wing in
"Search For Beauty"
With 30 international "Search for Beauty" contest winners.

Here come the lovers—beauty and brawn of the nation's; stunning you with their physical perfection; displayed in a magnificent show of shows. Perfect men and girls showing you haw to live and love. One day only.

Also Song, "Pettin' in the Park" and Metro News.

Next Tues., March 27

Jean Harlow
Lee Tracy
in
"Blonde Bombshell"

This is lovely Jean Harlow's happiest role—as the vivacious, voluptuous bombshell of Hollywood who erupted so often she blew the lid off her own private life and loves. A joy-jamboree, with Lee Tracy at his funniest, as the star's irrepressible press-agent. The breeziest, love-riot in years. Here's the movie worlds through a keyhole. We guarantee you'll laugh your head off. One day only.

Also Oswald the Rabbitt in "Lumber Camp" and News.

Next Wed. and Thursday, March 29 and 30

Will Rogers
Evelyn Venable, Kent Taylor in
"DAVID HARUM"

This picture, held for three weeks in Richmond, is the best picture Will Rogers ever made and a tremendous hit wherever it has been shown. You laugh at Will mixing love and horses; fixing his young friends' romance; singing his trotter to victory in a whirl-wind finish for his greatest picture. He'd take your pants in a horse trade; but he'd help the poor and ask them not to tell.

Daily matinees at 4 P. M. Evenings at 8 P. M.

Prices—Adults, 20c at matinees and 25c at nights; except on percentage pictures, when we must charge 25c and 35c.

A. A. Council Plans Change In Practices

Volley ball practices were resumed Monday afternoon, March 19. It has been decided that there will be an hour of general practice at 4:00 o'clock, and doubles work outs at 5:00 o'clock every afternoon.

The plan for doubles playing is being tried out this season for the first time. A poster has been placed on the A. A. bulletin board upon which people interested in competing in practice are urged to sign up. The purpose is not to have Green and White pitted against Red and White, but to give Blue and White spirit all importance. Therefore, it is not necessary that partners of the same colors enter.

It was also decided by the Council that class games be played by the Round Robin tournament system, making each team play three matches. The winning team will be picked by the greatest number of games won.

Twelve practices will be necessary for eligibility to teams, and each class will be allowed as many teams as it wishes.

The games are scheduled for April 18, 19, and 20.

ALUMNAE OF CHAPTERS RETURN FOR FETE

Continued from page 5

Sarah Dinwiddie, Mrs. Elizabeth Dutton Lewis, Frances Edwards, Mary Edwards, Enza Evans, Mrs. Amanda Faris, Margaret Fuller, Alma Garlick, Vivien Garrett, Mrs. Florence Gregory Trent, Mabel Gregory, Elsie Hardy, Winifred Howell, Adele Hutchinson, Olive T. Iler, Catherine Jones, Martha Ann Laing, Stella Mann, Mrs. Lily Maxey Patteson, Blanche Moore, Florence Moore, Marion Moore, Mary Louise Morriss, Margaret Nuttall, Maude Pugh, Georgia Putney, Elsie Mae Roberts, Helen Robertson, Mrs. Alice Schenk Hubbard, Mildred Short, Elizabeth Spencer, Frances Elizabeth Stephenson, Helen Tankersley Elizabeth Temple, Sarah Thompson, Nancy Watkins, Evelyn West, Katherine Wilkerson.

1932 — Nancy Boykins, Louise Clayton, Elizabeth Coleman, Katherine Crowder, Ann Davis, Nell Fischer, Susie Floyd, Virginia Gee, Josephine Holman, Sara Hubard, Evelyn Jones, Elizabeth Jordan, Frances Lancaster, Lucie Anne Lane, Maury Leigh Lyons, Myra McIntosh, Alise Martin, Mrs. Dorothy Milteer Smith, Bertie Price, Grace Price, Mrs. Nancy Putney Baker, Cleo Quinsenberry, Myrtle Raminez, Ruth Reynolds, Anne Rice, Catherine Ritter, Martha von Schilling, Nancy Shaner, Mrs. Susie Shepherd Gilliam, Josephine Sneed, Easter Souders, Elsie Story, Katherine Watkins, Myrtha Watkins, Chappelle Weisiger, Janice Wilkerson, Grace Virginia Woodhouse.

1933—Eunice Allen, Frances Armistead, Margaret Armstrong, Virginia Baird, Mrs. Fay Martin Barrow, Margaret Bell, Lorena Bland, Cora Lee Briggs, Virginia Bugg, Frances Burks, Hazel Carlton, Winston Cobb, Frances Coleman, Helen Crute, Lucille Crute, Lottie Dixon, Mae Downs, Margaret Gathright, Mary Gregory, Martha Gunter, Janet Harris, Mary Harrison, Louise Hartness, Mrs. Fannie Haskins Withers, Violet Holt, Lucille Ingram, Ruth Jordan, Doris Lane, Mildred Lancaster, Myrtle Lawless, Rachel McDaniel, Mary Marshall, Inez Martin, Marguerite Massey, Clara Mistr, Harriet Moomaw, Alice Moore, Mrs. Frances Parker Bradford, Annie Hall Perkins, Mildred Perdue, Sara Pittman, Kate Porter, Lucy Read, Gay Richardson, Hildegarde Ross, Sarah Rowell, Jane Royall, Kathryn Royster, Virginia Sanford, Josie Spencer, Gladys Taylor, Viola Tuttle, Annie Louise Via, Mrs. Margaret Vinson Watts, Doris Wallace, Patsy Watkins, Ruth Page Watts, Dot Wingfield, Lillian Womack, Josephine Wooding, Dorothy Wooton.

1934—Annie Louise Via.

Quite a coincidence isn't it, that Harrisonburg is having its Spring Cotillion Club Dance the same week-end we are?—March 24.

A certain girls' face was really too red for words when in the dining room one night she was forced to tell Alice McKay that she was "a dumb kyfloosa."

DRAMATIC CLUB GIVES SHAKESPEAREAN PLAY

Continued from page four

young lovers, Lysander and Demetrieus. They both displayed their acting talent and proved previous experience on the stage in the naturalness and poise with which they portrayed the spirit of their parts.

Martha Stine played the role of "Hermia", the beautiful young girl whom Lysander loves. She is to be remembered for her work in "The Admirable Crichton," as well as the merit of this performance.

Betty May Brown took the part of "Helena," the lovesick young maid of Athens. This was her first important role at S. T. C. and she gave an excellent performance.

"Titania, Queen of the Fairies", was played by Margaret Dortch, and as the gay, whimsical, ethereal little queen, gave a charming performance This was her first prominent role in a play at S. T. C. and she proved herself admirably.

As "Oberon, the King of the Fairies," Nancy Harrison enhanced the part with delightful grace and ease. She has shown her ability many times before and her performance in the fall play, "The Admirable Crihton," will not be soon forgotten.

Meg Herndon had a blustering comedy role in her characterization of "Bottom." She has shown her talent as an excellent actress many times before and in her interpretation of "Bottom," the amusing buffoon came vividly to life. She was assisted in providing laughs by Audrey Hawthorne who also performed well.

Philostrate, the unyielding father of Hermea was played ably and well by Crenshaw Jones.

Evelyn Knaub played the role of "Puck," that well-known and beloved creation of Fairyland. She, too, had this part last year and again added to the charm of the part with spiritliness and grace. In her gay little costume she danced in and out of other people's affairs and exclaimed surprisedly, "What fools these mortals be!"

These comprise the major roles in the play. There were many minor roles which were well acted and the group of fairies attending their King and Queen added to the enchantment and atmosphere of the play. Effective and colorful costumes, and gorgeous lighting effects made the play exceptionally beautiful and delightful.

This drama was a finished success; it was under the able direction of Miss Wheeler.

ACADEMIC PROCESSION AT ANNUAL CELEBRATION

Continued from page one

V. P. I.; Professor C. E. Nermand, San Houston S. T. C.; President Paul H. Bowman, Bridgewater; Mary P. Jones, S. T. C., Florence, Ala.; Sarah B. Tucker, Winthrap College; N. A. Patilli, R.-M. Woman's College; Dr. Lucy S. Crawford, Sweet Briar; President J. T. T. Hundley, Lynchburg; S. P. Duke, S. T. C. Harrisonburg; M. L. Combs, Fredericksburg; Alma Browning, E. C. T. C.; Carrie Sutherlin, Arlington Hall; Dr. John L. Manahan, Association of Virginia Colleges; Thomas D. Eason, Director Higher Education, State Board of Education.

All the members of the college faculty and the Senior class also marched in the procession.

There are a limited number of souvenir programs left over. As long as the supply lasts any alumna who desires one may obtain a copy by writing the alumnae office.

From all reports Wye Scott's week-end at W. and L. must have been worth the effort.

Electric Shoe Shop

Will Fix Your Shoes While You Wait

BEST WORKMANSHIP AND LEATHER USED

RICE'S SHOE STORE

Street and Dress Shoes

Dancing Slippers Dyed

Correct fits our speciality

WEDDING BELLS RING FOR MANY ALUMNAE

Continued from page four

Clifford E. Hardy, Victoria.

Fannie G. Haskins—Mrs. R. E. Withers, Jr., Farmville

Margaret Frances Hanmer—Mrs. R. F. Willis, Staunton.

Aelaide Hargrave—Mrs. J. S.Easterly, Denver, Col.

Margaret R. Huyett—Mrs. J. B. Farra, New York.

Louise T. Harry—Mrs. J. B. Bagby, Prospect.

Mary Ellen Johnson—Mrs. F. H. Garber, III, 1418 Williamsburg Road, Richmond.

Frances Ambler Lee—Mrs. Thomas Davis.

Mary Virginia Leake—Mrs. Barnett H. Fisher, Chicago, Ill.

Marion Love—Mrs. M. M. Austin, Victoria.

Mary Morris—Mrs. Lewis Goodman, Lynchburg.

Mray Elizabeth McCauley— Mrs. Samuel P. Hunter, New Hope.

Louie Morris—Mrs. William D. Blanton, Richmond.

Ruth Fields McCarn—Mrs. Vaughan Blakemore, Staunton.

Alma Matthews — Mrs. J. T. Vaughan.

Ella Nolley—Mrs. Randolph Newman, Altavista.

Anne Oakey—Mrs. G. W. Davis, Reedville.

Ruth Esther Owen—Mrs. W. R. Carr, Chatham.

Anna Bell Payne—Mrs. Russell B. East, Altavista.

Elia B. Putney—Mrs. H. J. Rhodes, 1636 Kenyon St., N. W., Apt. 21, Washington, D. C.

Anne W. Palmer—Mrs. C. D. Runnels, Staunton.

Ada Evangeline Phipps—Mrs. D. M. Cassell, Burke's Garden.

Mary Gertrude Quinn—Mrs. Harry E. Thomas, Roanoke.

Velma Quarles—Mrs. L. H. Perkinson, Jr.

Mary Virginia Ramsey—Mrs. Chas. Venable, Antigo, Wisconsin.

Elizabeth Rucker—Mrs. Warren Wilson Williams, Allendale, S. C.

Pauline W. Revercomb—Mrs. F. H. Hammond, Rosedale, Covington.

Eliza T. Ramsey—Mrs. O. M. Emery, Blackstone.

Jennie Stephenson — Mrs. Harold P. Dixon, Jackson Heights, L. I.

Madie Garnett Sutton—Mrs. J. Chancey McCurdye, Indianapolis, Ind.

Susie Shepherd—Mrs. Luther Gilliam, Dillwyn.

Lucie Scott—Mrs. Henry Venable Lancaster, Farmville.

Lena C. Simpson—Mrs. F. L. Overstreet.

Mildred Lee Scott—Mrs. W. H. Yeakley, Staunton.

Louise Taylor—Mrs. J. Boyd Bagby, Prospect.

Louise Trotten—Mrs. S. D. Wooten, Goldsboro, N. C.

Dorothy W. Thompson—Mrs. F. E. Thompson, Charlottesville.

Maria Warren—Mrs. Gray Bromley, Chatham.

Marie Wyatt—Mrs. Cecil Cornelius Collins.

Helen Goodwin Woolfolk—Mrs. Russell Wolfe.

Ardelle Willis—Mrs. Charles W. Weisiger.

Eloise Brent Warriner—Mrs. Geo. Vernon Hobbs, Farmville.

Katheryn Waters—Mrs. Harold Welty, Richmond.

Lucille Woodall—Mrs. J. N. Morris.

The Alunae Editor of the Rotunda will be happy to have her name placed on the mailing list of future brides, in order that announcements of marriages may appear promptly.

Weyanoke

BEAUTY SALON

A Complete Beauty Service At Moderate Prices

What we have done for others we can do for you

WEYANOKE HOTEL

Farmville Va.

WESTERN BAND PLAYS AT COTILLION DANCES

Continued from page 1

for two weeks at Tantilla Gardens.

The decorations for the dances, which are being done by Gamma Psi, will be very unusual. Dark blue crepe paper will serve as a back ground for silver silhouettes, stars, and moons. The club goats are helping with these elaborate decorations.

The officers of the club state that the dance will be one of the best given in years. Because of the new ruling, which says that each member may ask only one boy and one girl, the floor will be less crowded, and the dance will be a much more successful affair.

In the spring tis said a young man or modern fancy turns to thoughts of love. This doesn't apply to S. T. C. girls because from all signs their fancy seems to have been turned there long before spring.

Lelia Sanford, Mary Bowles and Zaida Thomas seen walking down the hall in Cotillion garb in white long sleeved shirts with hair piled high on their heads, remind of three old maid school teachers.

Mack's

BARBER AND BEAUTY SHOP

323 Main Street

We use the Frederick Method

Hair Cutting and Thinning a Specialty

WILLIS

The Florist

FLOWERS FOR ALL OCCASIONS

PHONES 181-273

FORMER FACULTY SENDS GREETINGS

Continued from page 3

an inspiration to me." . . In closing, let me wish for the Farmville State Teachers College, during all the years to come, the best in all that progress, in the highest sense of the word, can bring."

Dr. Elmer E. Jones from Colorado to the class of 1904: Thirty years! Yet it seems but yesterday, so vivid is the memory of those beautiful days in Virginia. . . . I trust you will remember me to President Jarman whose life has built for Virginia a monument comparable to any of her distinguished sons who have gone on.

The Cotillion Clus Goats occupy most of our mind as well as space this week. With their yellow and green stockings and frizzed or straight plastered down hair, they present really a horrible spectacle. We give Suan Greshem and orchid.

Mary Gilmer evidently had a huge time at W. and L. this week-end. Have you seen what she brought back?

Martin JEWELER

Gifts of Lasting Remembrance

317 Main St. Farmville

SouthsideDrugStore

(On the Corner)

Films Developed

FREE

If bought at this store

Shannon's

Is Headquarters for the Best

SANDWICHES

—and—

DRINKS

—In—

FARMVILLE!

We Congratulate S. T. C. On Your Fiftieth Anniversary

A cordual welcome to all S. T. C. Students and Alumnae to visit our store. We have just what you need and at the right prices.

THE HUB DEPARTMENT STORE

"Farmville Best Place to Shop"

"FASHION FIRSTS"

—FROM NEW YORK AT BALDWIN'S—

Untrimmed Cloth Coats—Windblown Swagger Suits. Five hundred Dresses for street, evening, sports and dress wear. Saucy Hats—Swanky Shoes—Gloves— Bags — Hosiery— Lingerie— Neckwear. Smart clothes and fixings that do great things for you.

You'll always be first in fashion when you shop at

BALDWIN'S

Quality—Price—Service

G. F. Butcher

High Street

"The Convenient Store"

FOR GOOD

THINGS TO

EAT AND DRINK

Gray's Drug Store

QUALITY—PRICE—SERVICE

Come in and Get Acquainted

We Are Glad to Have You With Us!

Farmville, Virginia

EASTER GREETINGS TO ALL!

THE ROTUNDA

POE

We Teach To Teach

CONGRATULATIONS NEW OFFICERS!

Volume XIV | THE ROTUNDA, WEDNESDAY, MARCH 28, 1934 | No. 22

Cotillion Club Holds Spring Dance Set

Forty-Six Couples Form Intricate Figure: No-Break Dance Follows

OVER 500 ATTEND DANCES

The spring dances of the Cotillion Club were held in the college gymnasium on Saturday, March 24. The set consisted of a dansant and a formal dance at night. The figure was led by Misses Margaret Parker, "Chic" Mosby, Jestine Cutshall, and Honey Hamilton, assisted by Messrs. Ben Parker, Robert Berkeley, Myron Kendeson, and John M. Galwin, respectively. The girls in the figure wore white and the leaders carried arm bouquets of American beauty roses. Myron Lowther and his orchestra from Seattle, Washington, provided the music for the dances.

The decorations by Gamma Psi were quite effective. A deep blue sky splashed with shiny stars reminded the dancers of an evening in Paris. The walls of blue were crowned with silver dancers, musicians and the Eiffle Tower of Paris. Indefinite spot lights came through the sky in various places.

The dances were chaperoned by Miss Mary White Cox, Dr. J. L. Jarman, Miss Virginia Potts, Mrs. Laing, Miss Olive T. Iler and Mrs. Mann.

Margaret Parker.....Ben Parker
Chic Mosby .....Robert Berkeley
Jestine Cutshall ..Myron Henderson
Honey Hamilton...John M. Godwin
Margaret Gilmer .....Rudy Young
Mary Gilmer .....Jut Prescott
Mildred Gwaltney .....Reed Kelley
Nancy Harrison....Sam McLaughlin
Mary Easley Hill.....Tom Norris
Evelyn Knaub .....Charlie Heckler
Elizabeth Kelley .....Bonner Hasty
Belle Lovelace ..... Frank Dunbar
Gloria Mann ..... Frank Hancock
Ida M. Miller.....Billy Barr

Continued page 3, col. 3

Registrar Announces Spring Dean's List

Eligibility to the Dean's List requires a grade of A or B on every subject, are eligible to the Dean's List.

The Dean's List as announced by the Registrar this week contains the names of thirty seniors, six of whom also attained this honor in the fall and winter quarters, and six in the fall quarter.

The following seniors have made the Dean's List for the spring quarter, 1933-'34:

*Helen Allen, Roanoke; *Annie L. Anderson, Jetersville; Virginia Brinkley, Suffolk; Louise Bulloch Portsmouth; Alberta Collins, -Norfolk; *Alice Disharoon, Cape Charles; Virginia Hamilton, Petersburg; Nancy Harison, Petersburg; Edna Hatcher, Martinsville; Martha Higgins, Waverly; Elizabeth Kelley, Big Stone Gap; Alice McKay, Baltimore, Md.; Sarah Alice Magruder, Richmond; Mary B. Nelson, Richmond; Margaret Otten, Covington; Dorothy Prescott, Big Stone Gap; Elma Rawlings, Lawrenceville; Alice Rowell, Smithfield; Grace Rowell, Smithfield; *Bernice Scott, Cartersville; Muriel Scott, Richmond; Edith Shanks, Roanoke; Inez Strang, Richmond; *Joyce Sturm, Appalachia; *Gertrude Sugden, Hampton; Sara H. Thomas, Staunton, Louise Van Lear: Lynchburg; Helen L. Westmoreland, Petersburg; Dorothy White, Bedford; Dorothy Woolwine, Ceres.

*Fall; Winter Fall and Winter.

May Day Committee Casts Characters

The May Day Committee has already started the work of casting the characters who are to take part in the college's May Day celebration to be held at Longwood on the afternoon of May 5, 1934. Members of the committee are individually interviewing girls whom they should like to have take part in May Day.

The annual May Day festival is a distinct college event, representative of the entire school. This year the May Day committee hopes to include in the festival, which has as its theme, "Alice in Wonder Land," as many students as possible—at least two hundred and fifty—for the larger the number of participants the more beautiful the spectacle will be.

Work has also been begun on the planning and ordering of materials for the costumes. Jac. Morton is in charge of the costuming. Immediately after a student agrees to take part in May Day, the materials for her costume are ordered. It is therefore very essential that no one decide to drop her part after she has consented to participate, because the dropping of a part entails a distinct loss for the May Day Committee.

Schedules for practices will be made out immediately after the Easter holidays. These schedules will be planned so as to run as smoothly as possible in order that those taking part may know exactly when they are expected to practice and for how long. This plan will thus save a great deal of time for each student taking part.

STUDENT GOVERNMENT MEETING TO BE IN TENN.

From April 5th to the 7th, the Southern Intercollegiate Association of Student Government which will be held at the University of Tennessee, Knoxville, Tenn.

Mrs. Roosevelt has been invited and other prominent speakers who will complete a program planned to give an interesting and valuable exchange of ideas.

The annual meeting was last year held at Randolph-Macon Women's College at Lynchburg, Va. This year the meeting will be at a co-educational college and its type of problems will give interesting discussion. The purpose of these annual conventions is that each college's representatives may gain a broader and deeper appreciation of the real meaning of student government.

ROWELL TWINS NAMED FESTIVAL PRINCESSES

Alice and Grace Rowell have been chosen to represent the college at the annual Apple Blosoms Festival to be held ni Winchester in late April or early May.

Dr. Jarman selected these two Seniors in response to a request for a comely representative from S. T. C. After asking the permission of authorities to have two princesses, he announced the Rowell twins as his selections.

The plan of having representatives from the colleges as princesses in the two-day festival was tried out last year, and proved so successful, that it is being used again. Helen Cover was Farmville's representative last spring.

The festival includes two days of parades, coronations of the queen, receptions, dinners, and the Queen's ball. As the festival comes during the last week of May Day practices, Alice and Grace Fowell had to give up their places in the May court. That means that there will be sixteen instead of eighteen girls in the court.

Minor Nominations Students Make 17

Voting Ended at Six P. M. Today; Results To Be Announced Tonight

From the following list of nominations made Monday the student body today from 8 a. m. to 6 p. m. elected the minor officers for 1934-'35:

Student Council

Vice-President: Christine Childrey, Louise Hyde

Secretary — Florence Sanford, Hazel Smith.

Treasurer—Elizabeth Huse, Tac Waters.

Campus League Chairman—Victoria Gillette, Bess McGlothlin.

Y. W. C. A.

Vice-President— Dorothy Justice, Katharine Walton.

Secretary—Martha Glenn Davis, Jessica Jones.

Treasurer—Carman Clark, Marion Umberger.

Freshman Councilor — Margaret Clark, Agnes Crockett.

Athletic Association

Vice-President — Martha Putney, Louise Walmsley.

Secretary — Elizabeth Billings, Kithy Roberts.

Treasurer—Mary Bowles, Elizabeth Shiplett.

Virginian

Literary Editor—Mary Banks Sullivan. Elizabeth Walton.

Art Editor—Jean McClure, Janice White.

Business Manager—Elizabeth Rogers, Lelia Sanford.

Rotunda

Associate Editor—Evelyn Massey, Amis Montgomery.

Business Manager — Laeta Barham, Lena Mac Gardner.

House Council —Secretary, Ellen ("Tib") Simmerman, Sue Waldo.

Revisions Are Made In Point The System

The Student Standards Committee this year has been attempting to enforce the point system whereby no student with a B average may hold more than 15 points, or with a C average more than 10 points.

Certain revisions have been made to the point system which is printed in the 1933-'34 handbook. The entire point system as revised is as follows:

Student Association—president, 10; vice-president, 8; secretary, 8; treasurer, 5; chairman campus league, 5; class representative, 5.

Y. W. C. A.—president, 10; vice-president, 5; secretary, 5; treasurer, 5; reporter, 5; freshman counselor, 5; cabinet members, 5; committee members, 2.

Rotunda—Editor-in-Chief, 10; associate editor, 7; news editor, 5; make-up editor, 5; literary editor, 3; athletic edtior, 3; art editor, 3; feature editor, 3; intercollegiate editor, 2; social editor, 2; world news editor, 2; reporters, 2; proof reader, 3; asistant proof reader, 2; business manager, 5; circulation manager, 3; assistant circulation manager 3.

Virginian—Editor-in-Chief, 10; Assistant editor, 5; literary editor, 5; assistant literary editor, 3; art editor, 6; assistant art editor, 4; business manager, 10; assistant business manager, 4; advertising manager, 4; assistant advertising manager, 3; photographic manager, 5; assistant photographic manager 3; typist, 5.

House Council—president, 8; secreary, 5; hall president, 5.

Athletic Association—president, 8; vice-president, 5; secretary, 5; treasurer, 3; varsity squad member, 3.

Classes—president, 8; secretary, 3;

Continued page 4, col. 4

Tucker Jones Talks At Athletic Banquet

The varstiy hockey and basketball teams were delightfully entertained at a banquet given by the Athletic Association at Longwood last night at 6:30 o'clock.

Despite the rainy weather outside, the hockey and basketball players enjoyed chatting around a big open fire in the beautiful banquet room of Longwood.

Mildred Gwaltney, president of the Athletic Association, acted as toast mistress of the occasion. Toasts to Dr. Jarman, Miss Mary White Cox, Miss Iler, Mildred Galtney, Sarah Beck, the varsity squad, and Nannie Ruth Cooper were proposed.

Mr. Tucker Jones of the physical education department of William and Mary College was guest speaker of the evening. Mr. Jones emphasized in his talk the value of play and spoke of a teacher's responsibility.

Those students and varsity hockey and basketball members present at the banquet were: Frances Mayes Ellen Gilliam, Kathleen Ranson, Lelia Mattox, Florence Sanford, Lelia Sanford, Martha Putney, Marguerite York, Kitty Roberts, Sarah Beck, Margaret Parker, Frankie McDaniel, Bess McGlothlin, Nannie Ruth Cooper, Mildred Gwaltney, Louise Walmsley, Billie Rountree, Frances Horton, Elizabeth Billups, Frances Yester, Belle Lovelace, Mary Berkeley Nelson.

Other guests at the banquet were Dr. Jarman, Miss Mary White Cox, Miss Iler, Miss Barlow, and Dr. Walmsley.

THREE CLASSES RE-ELECT PRESIDENTS THIS WEEK

Carolnie Jones, Tac Waters, and Frankie McDaniel were re-elected this week as presidents of their respective classes for next year. They were chosen by their classmates because of their efficient work as presidents this year.

Caroline and Frankie were unanimously re-elected by the members of their classes. They have been selected to carry on the work the green and whites have so successfully engaged in during the past years.

When the four nominees, Tac Waters, Florence Sanford, Hazel Smith and Elizabeth Walton were voted on by the sophomores. Tac received the majority of the votes. Until the freshmen elect their president next year Tac is the only leader for the red and whites(but she has proved her ability in past work.

Besides being capable leaders of their classes Caroline, Tac, and Frankie have shown ability in other extra-curricula activities.

Class elections will be completed immediately after Easter holiday.

COTILLION CLUB SELECTS NEW OFFICERS MONDAY

The Cotillion Club met on Monday night to nominate and elect officers for the year '34-'35. "Chic" Mosby, acting president of the club, presided. It was voted upon to combine the offices of the business manager and the reporter, thereby having only four officers to lead the figure.

The following officers were elected: Evelyn Knaub, president; Jean McClure, leader; Hazel Smith, treasurer; Laeta Barham, business manager.

Jestine Cutshall, the present treasurer of the club gave a complete report on the finances of the club. "Chic" Mosby expressed her appreciation to the club for its co-operation in making the spring dance a successful one.

Jestine Cutshall Is Student Body Head

Smith, Beck, Vassar, Mattox, Ryan, Win the Other Major Offices

12 GIRLS ARE NOMINATED

The major officers for the session '34-'35 were officially announced by Alice McKay Friday night, March 23. The nominees, winners first, were: President of the Student Council, Jestine Cutshall and Louise Hyde; President of the Y. W. C. A., Helen Smith and Katharine Walton; President of the Athletic Association, Sarah Beck and Belle Lovelace; Editor of the Virginian, Elizabeth Vassar and Margaret Herndon; editor of the Rotunda, Lelia Mattox and Evelyn Massey; President of the House Council, Nelle Oakey Ryan and Elizabeth Huse.

Jestine Cutshall, President of the Student Council, is a member of Alpha Kappa Gamma, honorary fraternity for leadership, Mu Omega the Cotillion Club, the choir of the College, and the Mathematics Club. She faithfully served as Vice-President of her class for two years and as chairman of the sing committee last year. This year she was President of the House Council, thus an ex-officio member of the Student Council. She very capably filled the office and proved her ability as a leader.

As President of the Freshman Commission, a member of the membership committee, and chairman of the Social Committee, Helen Smith has been outstanding in Y. W. C. A. work during her three years in College. She is a member of Alpha Kappa Gamma, the Cotillion Club, the choir of the College, and the House Council. She is a varsity debater, President of the Debate Club, and has represented her class on the Student Standards committee two years.

Sarah Beck has done excellent work in the field of athletics at S. T. C. As captain of varsity basketball she led her team in many contests. She is a member of the

Continued page 3, col. 1

Senior Class Gives Final Production

"Rhythmic Revue", the Senior class production, will be presented Friday night, April 6 in the college auditorium. This program will be given in collaboration with the Hampden-Sydney Glee Club and orchestra.

The "Rhythmic Revue" will have varied features. There will be jazz numbers by the orchestra, songs by a trio of seniors as well as the Glee Club, and dances by the seniors.

The Hampden-Sydney Collegians have delighted S. T. C. with their smooth music at the Mardi Gras and the Founder's Day dance. They have developed a very praiseworthy band. This appearance of the orchestra and Glee Club is the first in a series of engagements on their spring tour.

The dancing by the Seniors will lend variety to the program. An interpretative dance by Alice and Grace Rowell, a tap dance by a chorus under the direction of Honey Hamilton, and other feature dances have been planned.

The last productions by the Class of '34 have received great praise. The Seniors state that "Rhythmic Revue" will come up to the standard set by "Betty Lou" and "Patches."

THE ROTUNDA

Member Southern Inter-Collegiate Newspaper Association
Member Intercollegiate Press Association of Virginia

Published by Students of State Teachers College, Farmville, Va.

Entered as second class matter March 1, 1921, at the Post Office of Farmville, Virginia, under Act of March 3, 1879.

Subscription ..... $1.50 per year

ROTUNDA STAFF

Editor-in-Chief ... Mary Shelton, '34
Associate Editor .... Lelia Mattox, '35

Board of Editors

News ..... Evelyn Massey, '36
Make-Up ..... Katherine Hoyle, '36
Literary Editor ..... Birdie Woolling
Louise Walmsley, '36
World News ..... Velma Quarles, '34
Intercollegiate ..... Caroline Byrd, '36
Social ..... Marion Raine, '36
Art ..... Alice Rowell, '34
Feature ..... Elizabeth Walton, '36
Alumnae ..... Miss Virginia Potts

Reporters

Anna Montgbery
Mary Hastings Holloway
Edith Shanks, '34; Mary Easley Hill, '34; Elizabeth Vassar, '35; Mary Elizabeth Alexander, '36; Lula Windley, '36.
Proof Readers: Katherine Coleman, '35
Grace Eubank, '36

Managers

Business ..... Mary Diehl, '34
Assistant ..... Eliza Rawlings, '34
Circulation ..... Nell Oakey Ryan, '34
Assistant ..... Janice White, '35

The Rotunda invites letters of comment, criticism, and suggestion from its readers upon its manner of presenting and treating them. A letter, to receive consideration, must contain the name and address of the writer. These will not be published if the writer objects to the publication.

All matters of business should be addressed to the Business Manager and all other matters should come to the Editor-in-Chief. Complaints from subscribers as regards irregularities in the delivery of The Rotunda will be appreciated.

EASTER SPIRIT

Once again the world has donned her holiday mask. With each passing hour the Easter holidays draw nearer. For many days there has been a different spirit all through the school. The excitement of each individual reaches its height when a vacation is just around the corner. We all seem to need a thrill that is hard to define.

Our spring holiday, unexcelled in we have looked forward to since we came back Christmas. And with March 29 almost here we are more excited than ever.

Once more the shop windows are filled with Easter outfits that are tempting to the pocket-book. Once more the streets and stores will be crowded with talent and absorbed shoppers.

And then Easter morn, but each one is familiar with the history and usual celebration of the day. Yet amid all this fun and laughter, lets not forget the true meaning of Easter.

WANTED-COOPERATION

The May Day Committee has been working hard over the production of this year's May Day. Work was begun on the parts last summer and has continued on up the present time. The heads of various committees in helping to plan and carry out the work in an effective and efficient way. Approximately 10 times as much time and effort have been spent by the committee on the plans and dances as the general will be asked to spend in taking a part in the production.

It behooves each member of the student body, therefore, to cooperate with the head committee to make May Day successful as it is presented. It is hoped that the May [illegible] this year will be the most beautiful festival in the history of the college.

FROM OLD ROTUNDAS

March 8, 1924.

The Y. W. C. A. on Feb. 26, the Farmville Chapter of the Alumnae Association gave a bridge card party to add to their Founder's Day contribution to the Student Building Fund. The committees in charge consisted of Mrs. Boyd Coyner, Mrs. [illegible] Parker, Miss Cary Jeter, Mrs. T. H. Hardy, Miss Mary Clay Hiner, Miss Ada Bierbower.

Watch the autos. You can't ever tell what they are driving at.

How soon the world forgets its heroes. Nobody seems to remember [illegible] of the person who [illegible] championship, a few months ago.

From the Kinkery Kolumn:

Dear Editor :

Is it proper now to wear a swagger stick on the street?—Ima Bird.

Dear Ima:

If you have nothing else to wear stay at home.—Editor.

Chinese students at Columbia University are teaching students the art of Mah Jongg in order to work their way through college.

March 15, 1924.

The program of the 40th anniversary of Founder's Day celebration opened with the singing of college songs, after which the stunts of the various classes and organizations were held. The total amount received for the Student Building, at this time was $3,661; $1,354 being contributed by the Students and Student Organizations.

INTERCOLLEGIATE

Two of the young men at the State College Station in North Carolina recently announced that they had discovered that their radio had the correct temperature for hatching eggs. They report that the eggs are coming nicely. Maybe the products of the eggs will be able to croon like Bing Grosby, or laugh like E. D. Wynn.

—ECHO.

According to an investigation at the University of Iowa, only one out of 11 college engagements results in marriage. The other 10 result in mirages.

—Spotlight.

As a punishment for stealing pencils from the library at the University of Oregon, students are deprived of their shoe laces, which are then used to tie the pencil to the desk . . . What do you suppose they'd do with [illegible]

—Florida Flambeau.

"Esquire" says that the Gypsies in Gyor, a provincial Hungarian town, have a queer custom incidental to [illegible] collection after a performance.

The Gyorian Gypsies, when passing the hat around, keep one hand always behind their backs. When asked why, they reply that there is a live fly in that hand, and that they must bring it back to the partners after collection is finished as proof that they didn't accidentally allow [illegible] hands to stay into the collection plate.

At Clemson College in South Carolina "several dozen verdant Freshmen" decided to get a taste of winter sports, regardless of the fact that there was no snow on the ground. They gathered together dust pans and wash basins to be used as sleds. It seems, however, that cement sleigh riding wasn't so very comfortable, as it resulted in several bruised spots on heads and other extremeties.

—Echo.

Weird and strange have been occurrences at Mary Baldwin recently. Groups of students have been holding real seances, and have been occupying their spare time by making tables walk and talk. [illegible] that would bother him to any [illegible]

CAMPUS COMMENTS

The general opinion voiced Sunday was that the Cotillion dances were the best in years! It seems we liked the exclusiveness of the affair —getting snooty maybe. We have the weather man as well as the good management of the officers to thank for being spared the usual mob scene.

Too bad the student body couldn't hear and see Dr. Jarman's take-off of the dance! His imitation of Dot Justis and several other fair ladies, smiling into their partner's face, was wonderful!

The Tuesday night news mongers had quite a pleasant and palatable surprise, last night, when strawberry short cake appeared before them. Their tired and befuddled minds went blank for a minute—a second to be exact! Thank you, Miss Mary, we, too, enjoyed your surprise party.

Here's the latest dope on "Soudie", the lesser of the Sanford twins! In the middle of the night she roused Lelia, calling for "Sonny." Lelia roused enough to tell her to look under the bed, and went back to sleep, as Florence was crawling around under the bed looking for said person.

Congratulations to Tac Waters! She timed her dates splendidly last week-end. We'd love to know how she managed with two boys and both from Lexington!

Margaret Gilmer and her date presented the long and short of it, when they were marching in the figure, Saturday night.

AMONG OUR CAPS AND GOWNS

HONEY HAMILTON

When Honey Hamilton, Alpha Kappa Gamma, President of the Y. W., varsity debator, government girl and choir member, leaves us this June, she'll be leaving a gap which we'll have a hard time filling.

Not only was she voted "cute" and "outstanding," but the girl has brains. She's been on the Dean's List for two quarters, now, and is still going strong.

She can work, dance, sing, look beautiful, and seems to be most expert at heart-breaking. In fact we've yet to come across anything Honey can't do. She is also a Cotillion Club member and a Sigma, Sigma, Sigma.

Here's to you, Honey. We're certainly going to miss you next year.

ALICE McKAY

Dynamic, vivacious, efficient with energetic creativeness and a dash of wit—that is Alice McKay! Alice did not start her college career with us, but with her ususual ability she soon found in our midst the place that is always waiting to be filled by some one who can do the right thing at the right time. As secretary of the Student Council her junior year, she won recognition as an excellent executive with the result that she was unanimously elected president of the student body the following year—the holding of which position speaks for itself. Her other activities have included dramatics, positions on the Student Standards Committee and Y. W. Cabinet, membership in Alpha Kappa Gamma, a national honor society for leadership and also membership in Zeta Tau Sorority.

MILDRED GWALTNEY

We know her only as "Roomie"—one whose friendly and happy smile we shall miss next year.

As president of the Athletic Association she has proven herself a most capable one. Ever since her Freshman year, she has been outstanding in every phase of athletic work. "Roomie" has served on the student council and on the student standards committee. Her excellent leadership ability was recognized when she was made a member of Alpha Kappa Gamma, an honorary fraternity for leadership. She is also a member of the monogram club and a member of the Mu Omega social sorority.

"Roomie" will be remembered for her ability to do everything—well! We wish her success and happiness.

ALUMNAE NEWS

Miss Etta Rose Bailey, Assistant Principal of Madison School in Richmond has an article in the Richmond Times-Dispatch on the honor roll and its problems. She says, "the wise teacher in the future will have no concern for the traditional honor roll depending upon a mark which he is going to "give." Rather will he try to understand each pupil physically, mentally, and try to direct him so that he will see his needs and take responsibility for his own improvement. "Is he doing the best he is capable of doing?" will be the standard of honor for all.

Miss Florence Buford, principal of George Rogers Clark School, in Charlottesville has been elected eighth president of the Business and Professional Woman's Club of that city.

Mrs. Gordon Linwood Vincent, of Emporia, announces the engagement of her daughter, Mary William, to Mr. Lloyd Elwood Thomasson, of La-Crosse. The wedding will take place in the early summer.

Miss Elizabeth Lewis, of Lynchburg, will be married to Mr. Holcombe A. Jones at St. Paul's Episcopal Church on Saturday, April 7.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hall, of Warminister, announce the marriage of their daughter, Pocahontas Scott to Mr. James Sinclair Brown, of Salem. Mr. Brown is the son of Col. James Sinclair Brown, speaker of the house of delegates.

Funeral services for Miss Ethel Baldwin Foster were held on March 5 at the Farmville Cemetery. She is survived by her father, Mr. J. B. Foster and seven sisters.

World News

The President is no exception. He has had a tinge of income tax headache along with Mr. John Smith. President Roosevelt last week greeted one of his regular gatherings of newspaper men with the statement that he has paid his Federal income tax. The tax, he remarked, looked like more money than he had. Also he hoped the check would be good at the bank.

After these playful remarks the President gave out a piece of real news. Henceforth, to avoid political repurcussions, officials of the Bureau of Internal Revenue and the Department of Justice will not be concerned with income tax evasion trials. All such cases will be sent to grand juries. Considering that 80,000 to 100,000 tax returns are incorrect or subject to dispute annually, money of the Mr. John Smiths of America will have even more severe headaches in the future.

In 1945 the Philippine Islands will be given complete freedom. The news that President Roosevelt on March 24 signed the McDuffie-Tydings independence bill was greeted with jubilation in Manila.

Philippine leaders announced that it would be acepted, May 1, by the Filipino legislature.

In a recent radio address from the Foreign Office Premier Gaston Doumergue warned France that if threats of Civil War were not quieted, and if financial stabilization did not take place immediately, France would be in danger of foreign invasion. This warning came simultaneously with the arrival in Paris of the body of Serge Stanvisky for another autopsy; and although France's condition was not mentioned, it was evident that several of Premier Doumetrgue's remarks were directed to the pawn-shop scandal that shook all France.

Most amazing of President Roosevelt's accomplishments in office has been the all-time highwater mark to which he has brought and held his personal popularity. Students of Valley Forge Military Academy at Wayne, Pa., holding a poll on the greatest U. S. President, voted 43 for Abraham Lincoln, 44 for George Washington, and 202 for Franklin D. Roosevelt.

To honor the President's mother, Manhattan Alderman Michael Pelligrino has named a thoroughfare in his district Sara Delano Roosevelt Parkway.

POETRY

DESOLATION

Do hearts always ache
As bitter tears flow down the pillow at night?
Do hearts always bleed afresh
When someone whispers, "Every thing will be all right?"
Or does some day the sun shine
through
And turn those burning tears
Into happines that lasts
Throughout the grief of years?
S. W. '37.

APRIL RAIN

It is not raining rain for me,
It's raining daffodils;
In every dimpled drop I see
Wild flowers on the hills.

The clouds of gray engulf the day
And overwhelm the town!
It is not raining rain to me,
It's raining roses down.

It is not raining rain to me,
But fields of clover bloom,
Where any buccaneering bee
Can find a bed and room.
A health unto the happy,
A fig for him who frets!
It is not raining rain to me,
It's raining violets.
—Robert Loveman.

A WHITE ROSE

The red rose whispers of passion,
And the white rose breathes of
love;
Oh, the red rose is a falcon;
And the white rose is a dove.

But I send you a cream white rose-bud t
With a flush on its petal tips;
For the love that is purest and sweetest
Has a kiss of desire on the lips.
—John Boyle O'Reilly.

THE PURPLE COW

I never saw a Purple Cow,
I never hope to see one;
But I can tell you, anyhow,
I'd rather see than be one.
—Gelett Burgess.

I'M NOBODY! WHO ARE YOU?

I'm nobody! Who are you?
Are you nobody, too?
Then there's a pair of us—don't tell!
They'd banish us, you know.

How dreary to be somebody!
How public, like a frog.
To tell your name the live long day
To an admiring bog!
—Emily Dickinson.

LITTLE BOY BLUE

The little toy dog is covered with dust,
But sturdy and staunch it stands;
And the little toy soldier is red with rust,
And his musket molds in his hands.
Time was when the little toy dog was new
And the soldier was passing fair,
And that was the time when our
Little Boy Blue
Kissed them and put them there.

"Now, don't you go till I come," he said,
"And don't you make any noise!"
So toddling off to his trundle-bed
He dreamed of the pretty toys.
And as he was dreaming, an angel
song
Awakened our Little Boy Blue—
Oh, the years are many, the years are long,
But the little toy friends are true.

Ay, faithful to Little Boy Blue they stand,
Each in the same old place,
Awaiting the touch of a little hand,
And the smile of a little face.
And they wonder, as waiting these long years through,
In the dust of that little chair,
What has become of our Little Boy
Blue,
Since he kissed them and put them there.
—Eugene Field.

SOCIALS

Sue Mallory and Mildred Gwaltney visited in Chase City during the week-end.

Three girls went to Lynchburg; they were Beverley Barksdale, Charlotte Parrish, and Eileen Howard.

Many girls went to their homes for the week-end. They were: Mildred Slayton, Kitty Chappell, Augcrona Aydlette, Jean Allan Bowles, Letty Mae Brown, Ila Evans, Martha Higgins, Belle Lovelace, Anne Mears, Mildred Bowles, Ruth Gaines, Virginia Jones, Elizabeth Smith, Bertha White Bobb, Evelyn Wilson, Georgia, Spencer and Rose Somers.

Mary Denny visited Miss Maude Watts in Keysville.

During the week-end Elizabeth Kelley went to Fork Union.

Some girls went to Richmond. They were: Mary Hastings Halloway, Virginia Bean, Lloyd Kelley, Virginia Leonard, Audrey Hawthorne, Dorothy Morris, Elizabeth Stubs, Virginia Wilson, Georgia, Spencer and Rose Somers.

Charlotte Young spent the week-end with Frances Burks in Bedford.

Y. W. C. A. Holds Last Open Meeting

The Y. W. C. A. cabinet held its last open meeting of the year in the Y. W. lounge Wednesday, March 21. Honey Hamilton presided and very interesting reports of the year's work were given by the chairmen of the different committees. An account of expenses was given by Edith Shanks, treasurer, thus winding up the work of 1933-4. Ice cream, cakes, and candy were served by the social committee.

Jestine Cutshall Is Student Body Head

Continued from page one

varsity hockey team and has shown great deal of interest and ability in baseball, volleyball, and tennis. Sarah is a member of Sigma Sigma Sorority and of the Cotillion Club.

For the past two years Lelia Mattox has served on the Rotunda staff competently filling the positions of News Editor and Assistant Editor. She is a member of Alpha Kappa Gamma, the Cotillion Club, Sodalitas Latina, and Alpha Phi Sigma, honorary fraternity for scholarship. Lelia has efficiently served as President of the Monogram Club and for a short time as President of the Mathematics Club. She has taken an active part in athletics being a member of the varsity hockey, tennis, and basketball squads.

Elizabeth Vassar has done excellent work as typist for the Virginian staff for two years and also as proofreader of the Rotunda. She is a member of Kappa Delta Pi, honorary society in education, and of Alpha Phi Sigma. She has been interested in the Y. W. C. A. and has served as its Secretary and on the Service and Membership Committees of that organization.

Nelle Oakey Ryan has not been a member of the House Council before, but she has taken an active part in many extra curricular activities. She is a member of the choir of the College, Alpha Phi Sigma, Granddaughter's Club, the Cotillion Club, and Le Cercle Francais. Nelle Oakey's leadership ability has been shown by her work as Vice-President of the Dramatic Club and Junior representative on the Student Standards Committee.

Alaskan Students Undaunted By Cold And Sunless Climate

Ever hear of Alaska College? Neither had I, but there is such a place. Their students recently made their first broadcast—their basketball team recently made a trip which cost $1,200.00; reminds one of Notre Dame's football trips—and only eight of their students went home Christmas; they had to use dog sleds and such for transportation—on December 21, the shortest day in the year, the sun appeared for only 3.7 hours of the entire day—the moon didn't set; it simply went around in circles. What a night for a hop!—The Cadet.—Sun Dial.

COTILLION ENDS FOR FRIGHTENED GOATS

What on earth is wrong with those poor little girls? "Oh, it's just Cotillion initiation."

With frightened looks in their eyes the goats, carrying paddles in their hands, filed into the gymnasium. Beside them strutted the old Cotillion members, some talking carelessly about the time they were initiated, others reminding their future club sisters of the disagreeable trials they were about to undergo.

A bit relieved but perhaps a bit uncomfortable, the goats ended the first part of their introduction to the club. Solemnly they sat wondering just what was going to happen next. My! What an excellent interpretation of the Carioka that Anne Diggs, Winnie Goodman, Bernice Jones and Mary Lee Powell gave! And Helen Smith really should double for Mae West. The old girls were quite pleased with some of the flattering speeches about them and their club. "But what spunk you have, Miss Jones." Why Bernice just stated that some of her upperclassmen might have refrained from being quite so "horsey." Having recovered from the shock, the club quite agreed with her. And Kitty, don't you know better than to get a permanent wave just before goat week?

Must you make such terrible faces? You ungrateful goats have no appreciation at all. It seems you might look pleasant when the Cotillion Club offers you such fine food. After all, you don't have caster oil and Vick's every day. And asphetiti for dessert is quite unusual!

Too bad it's all over, goats. Maybe some of you are glad. Who knows? That's right. Just wait 'til next year. You can get 'em too!

The Summer Institute

1887

Now that it is decided that Farmville will have a Summer Normal, it is our duty to make preparations for receiving and entertaining in proper manner the two hundred teachers who are expected to attend.

A place is honored in being selected for the holding of this institute, and entertaining in proper manner the two hundred teachers who are expected to attend.

A place is honored in being selected for the holding of this Institute, and it becomes us to honor ourselves by honoring those who honor us with their presence.

We learn from Mr. L. C. Irving, the County Superintendent of Schools, and general master of ceremonies attending the opening and conduct of the Normal, that it is expected that the people of the town will defray the incidental expenses consequent upon holding of the Institute here, such as keeping the lecture rooms of our Normal in order, servants' attendance, ice water, light, etc., and that these will amount to about $100. Just remember that at a most reasonable calculation, $4.000 will be left here by the teachers who attend, and that our young people will have the advantages of the lectures, and the amount will be forthcoming at once.

The Institute will open on the 26th of July and continue in session one month.

Taken from Farmville Journal, 1887.

Va. University Ranks 27th

Virginia university ranks 27th among the 114 institutions. Richmond university is in ninetieth place.

Harvard, Yale, and Columbia, in the order named, have the three largest endowments in the nation. The Middle West has the fourth ranking institution, the University of Chicago; the West is represented by Stanford University ranking seventh, while the South has the University of Texas ranking eighth.

The 1933 endowments of other institutions listed in the survey, which will be of interest in this section follow:

Johns Hopkins, $30.807,421; Duke, $23,333,473; Goucher, $2,441,672; Wage Forest, $2,272,870; and the University of North Carolina, $2,-000,000.

"Green Pastures," Marc Connelly's famous negro play, was presented for the 1480th time in the Memorial Auditorium of Ohio University last week. As usual, Richard Harrison, in the role of "De Lawd" kept his audience spellbound.

MISS MARY WHITE COX

Miss Mary, whose careful planning and good management helped to make the fiftieth anniversary the success that it was.

Cotillion Club Holds Spring Dance Set

Continued from page 1

Jean McClure.....Preacher Bouldin
Mary B. Nelson.....Ed Nottingham
Alice Rowell.....George Wall
Wyc Scott.....Allan Warren
Dot Prescott.....Reid Rankin
Helen Shawen.....Bill Price
Ruth Shawalter.....Ed Poole
Gertrude Sugden...Robert Hudgins
Louise Van Lear..Holmes Chapman
Martha S. Watkins...Everett Owen
Betsy Wilkinson.....Dooley Darden
Mary Shelton.....Van C. Holmes
Sue Hume.....Tommy Garber
Anne Irving.....Greene Lawson
Jane Coulbourn, U. O. Coulbourn, Jr.
Frances Crawford.....Dan Jenkins
Grace Eubank.....Jimmie Ship
Margaret Farrar.....Red Weisiger
Lily Farrar.....Wilson Foster
Virginia Hall.....Jack Gray
Weesie McNulty.....Dick Edwards
Sallie Perrow.....Johnnie Sugden
Billy Rountree....Billie Stephenson
Martha Nottingham.....Joe Burton
Lucy Potter.....Reese Tate Bowen
Nancy Parker.....Teddy Tower
Hazel Smith.....Luke Hancock
Florence Tankard....Soup Campbell
Kitty Woodson.....Dave Harris
Tac Waters.....Benny Ayres
Laeta Barham..Clarence Shelbourne
Mary Diehl.....Cameron Patchell

Dopey Dodson, Mac Birdsong, Scott Walker, Bob Stockley, Bob Stoakley, Frank Whitehouse, Kelley Ames, Mapp Dunton, Tommy Sanaders, Willard Henderson, Jimmie Blackwood, Bud Alexander, George Earnest, Larus Reed, Nat Terry, Marion Humphries, Bill Richards, John Young, Junie Blake, Waldo Harrison, Fred Spinckard, Garland Hudgins, Clarence Shelbourne, Claiborne Sniteman Bene Dortch, Berkeley Grizzard, Harry Knight, Harold Howkins, W. C. Newman, Sam Harding, John Coulbourn, Luther Gilliam, Maynard Smith, Dick Lewis, Granger West, Donnie I. Martin, Bill Anderson, Harold Shannon, Bob Morrison, Buster Jones, Hardy Moore, Winston Leevis, George F. Eavnan, Ashton Scott, Melville, Johns, Juan Fosser, Henry Downing, Alvin Dollins, George Whitley, Red Cash, J. W. Wheeler, Jr., Charlie McCallum, Taylor Palmer, Jimmy Thweatt, Monk Merrey, Stokes Kirk, Billy Burruss, Doug Williams, Birch Douglas, Joe Logan, Monkey Franklin, Mac Alexander, Clarence Garrard.

C. C. Trice, Jack Pobst, Sam Moore, Russell Garber, Rooker White, John G. Potts, Walter Wisecarver, Dr. C. P. Hurt, Bruce Franz, Preston Hundley, Brodie Paul Kincaid, Jack Bowman, Johnny Ferry, Paul Manns, Meredith Dortch, George Earman, Spec Snipes, Bitzer McCall, Bovall Diehl, Dave Harris, Francis Cash, Buddy Lewis, A. B. Urgubart, W. W. Stroud, Art Roberts, Bob Pendleton, Bill Richards, Montgomery Williams, George Sledge, Nat Terry, Bob Goodman, Billy Barr, Dave Henkel, Melville Johns, Doug Dowdy, Dwight Rivers, Garnett Smither, Scott Walker.

Among the alumnae returning for the dance were: Margaret Armstrong, Mrs. Dixon, Nancy Burgwyn, Mildred Hountcastle, Dot Ritchie, Mildred Jackson, Virginia Lanier, Hazel Burgwyn, Frances Dorin, Mary Conway, Martha Moore, Dot Legare,

Continued on last page

SING-GOERS AMUSED BY CLEVER SKITS

Very unusual and amusing, skits composed Saturday night by Alice who was presented to S. T. C. girls, our alumnae, and many Cotillion guests.

Its theme was that of a girl, greatly confused because she had received at the last minute a wire that her beau-lover would arrive for the occasion. This confused girl, Hazel Smith, was consoled by her friends Meg Herndon and Jestine Cutshall. The pals were planning some amusement for the visitor. Honey Hamilton proved that she'd entertain him by a tap dance. Margaret Dudley decided to croon for him and she did that beautifully. Some other girls agred to serenade him. After all the entertainment plans were completed the girls in abating storm received a second wire saying that said lover couldn't come. Thus the Sing ended amid tears, laughter and roses.

HITLER GETS READY FOR 1936 OLYMPICS

The German government has officially launched the building program in connection with the next Olympic Games, which were awarded to Berlin. The preparations for the games are assured the personal support and supervision of Chancellor Hitler by his proclamation:

"I have given my final consent to the construction of the Olympic Stadium. Germany hereby obtains a sports asset without parallel in the world.

"But buildings alone are not sufficient to guarantee adequate representation of German sports, which is of world importance to our nation. The decisive thing is the united and ready will of the nation to select the best competitors from all parts of Germany and train and steel them in order that in the coming competitions we may come out with honor.

"A task no less important is the permanent and effective cultivation of physical exercise among the entire people as one of the most important cultural values in the National-Socialist State. Thereby we shall create a permanent foundation for the spirit of the new Germany."

Governing bodies of athletic organizations in America and other countries have protested charging discrimination against Jewish athletes in Germany, gain little comfort from Hitler's promise "to select the best competitors from all parts of Germany," since he makes no specific promise with reference to either race or creed of the athletes selected to present Germany in the Olympic Game. Although there have been requests to hold the Olympics elsewhere Hitler is making arrangements for the Games to be held in Berlin.

He plans for a "sports field without parallel in the world," for a vast athletic plant that will seat 100,000 in its several units. Set off around a central stadium about as long as the Yale Bowl, a velodrome with a seating capacity equal to that of Madison Square Garden, swimming pool with spectator capacity of 10,-000 tennis stadium that will accommodate about the same number as the pool, and an open air theater with a capacity of 25,000.

These buildings and stadium will be erected at Grunewald, present site of the famous horse-racing course. This German Olympic village "will serve as headquarters for the nation, a central office for all the athletic and sports organizations in Germany."

Assured of the support of Chancellor Hitler, the German Olympics committee announce to all nations that it "has the honor of extending the invitation for participation in the contests and festivities, which will be held in Berlin, August 1-16, 1936."—Literary Digest.

DOROTHY MAY STORES
Easter Apparel Headquarters!

Millinery with that Expensive Look—$1.85 and $2.85
Gorgeous Suits $9.45 and $16.50

Dresses—Sunday night dance frocks and Sport $5.45 and $7.45

THE DOROTHY MAY STORE
First to show the Newest!

SPRING IS HERE!

We have your needs in the newest Spring styles of ready-to-wear millinary, shoes, hose and accessories.

DAVIDSON'S

C. E. Chappell
COMPANY
Stationery, Blank Books and School Supplies
Cigars, Cigarettes and Soda
Farmville, Virginia

YOU WOULD LOVE TO HAVE YOUR SHOES FIXED AT THE
Lovelace Shoe Shop
110 Third Street

S. A. Legus
TAILOR
CLEANING
PRESSING
REPAIRING
Phone 203

Kleanwell
CLEANERS AND TAILORS
Expert Cleaning, Repairing and Remodeling of Ladies Garments
Main Street, Opposite Postoffice
PHONE 98

Faculty Lecture List Made By Alumnae

The local Alumnae Chapter at Farmville, wishing to share with others what many members consider the best part of the year's program, has compiled a partial list of faculty lectures that are available upon request to other chapters and groups of alumnae.

LIST OF FACULTY LECTURES

Miss Mar Barlow
(Department of Physical Education)
Problem of Maintaining Physical and Mental Health in our Modern Civilization.
Character Development Through Physical Education
The Problem of Physical Education
Training for Leisure, a School and Community Problem.

Miss Helen Barnes
(Department of English)
Who Was King Arthur?
The Pulitzer Prize Novels
Tudor Music

Miss Martha Coulling
(Dept. of Fine and Applied Arts)
Any Phase of Art Appreciation

Mr. M. Boyd Coyner
(Department of Education)
Memory—What Makes It Good or Bad
Personality—Its Nature and Training
Psychology of Wit and Humor
Psychoanalysis
Recent Developments in Child Psychology.

Miss Nancy Foster
(Department of English)
Contemporary American Women Novelists.

Mr. R. H. French
(Dept. of Chemistry and Physics)
Any phase of Chemistry.

Mr. James M. Grainger
(Department of English)
Conservation of Our Folk Heritage
Music in the Home
The Making of Our Language
The Grammar We Teach That Ain't So.
Short Stories in the Bible
Jonah—A Biblical Masterpiece

Miss Mary C. Hiner
(Department of English)
Favorite Childhood Books

Mr. S. M. Holton
(Department of Education)
Any topic relating to High School teaching, or extra-curricular activities.
Inspirational Commencement Addresses.

Dr. G. W. Jeffers
(Department of Biology)
The Migration of Fishes
Investigating the Bay of Fundy Waters
How We Inherit
The Present Status of Evolution
The Biology of Chesapeake Bay
Virginia's Contributions to Science
The Biology of War
Plan or Perish

Miss Lucille Jennings
(Department of English)
Some Tendencies in Modern Poetry

Miss Bessie H. Jeter
(Department of Home Economics)
A Sane Reducing Program
Planning Adequate Meals on a Low Food Budget.

Miss Mary P. Jones
(Department of Education)
Topics relative to certification of teachers.

Miss Grace Mix
(Supervisor of Kindergarten).
Investments (Commencement Address)

Miss Grace Moran
(Department of Geography)
The New Curriculum
The Value of Centralized Education.

Mr. T. A. McCorkle
(Dept. of Chemistry and Physic).
Any phase of Chemistry or Physics

Miss Mary Nichols
(Department of English)
Any limited phase of recent fiction
Spanish Literature (limited phase)
Spanish Dress and Customs

Miss Mary E. Peck
Contemporary American Women in Politics.
International Relations (discussion group)

Miss Lisabeth Purdom
(Department of Music)
The Development of the Orchestra

Miss Minnie Rice
(Department of Latin)
The Work of the Normal League at Farmville

Mr. Alfred Strick
(Department of Music)
Church Music and Analysis of Hymn Tunes.
The Negro Spiritual.

Miss Florence Stubbs
(Dept. of History and Social Science)
Woman and the New Deal
The Challenge of the New Leisure
Family Adjustment and Social Change

Miss Jennie Tabb
(Registrar)
Father Tabb
Any topic of general information about the College.

Miss Carrie B. Taliaferro
(Department of Mathematics)
The Power and Beauty in Mathematics.
The New Curriculum for Secondary Mathematics.

Mrs. Stella B. Taylor
(Department of English)
The Taming of the Shrew (read)
John Masefield, the Poet

Dr. J. E. Walmsley
(Dept. of History and Social Science)
Recent Trends in Government, Politics, and Enonomics.

Miss Leola Wheeler
(Dept. of Reading and Dramatics)
Any phase of Literature (novels, drama, poetry) Plays (readings).

Dr. J. P. Wynne
(Department of Education)
Education and the New Deal.

COTILLION CLUB HOLDS SPRING DANCE SET

Continued from page three

Garnet Hodges, Martha Kello, Virginia Sanford, Elizabeth Jordan, Myra McIntosh, Josie Spencer, Marth Ann Laing, Lucille Tiller, Mrs. Lunsford, Ruth Floyd, Nell Thomas, Kathrine Logar, Hannah Crawley, Elizabeth Hart, Janet Harris, Mildred Lipscomb, Mary Scott Martin, Irving Armstrong, Mary Alice Young, Mrs. Catlin, Norma Franklin, Virginia Fox, Mrs. Walter Putney, Frances Dillon, Alice Leidtmann, Jenilee Knight, Jessie Lee Furiher, Doreen Smith, Mildred Elmore, Mary Lou Fritts, Katherine Weltry, Alice Hardaway, Gazelle Ware, Patty Ellison, Virginia Girley, Helen Warren, Betty Shields.

THE YEARS AT THE SPRING

The year's at the spring
And day's at the morn;
Morning's at seven;
The hill-side's dew-pearled;
The lark's on the wing;
The snail's on the thorn;
God's in His heaven
All's right with the world!
—Robert Browning.

Electric Shoe Shop

Will Fix Your Shoes While You Wait

BEST WORKMANSHIP AND LEATHER USED

RICE'S SHOE STORE

Street and Dress Shoes

Dancing Slippers Dyed

Correct fits our speciality

MISS MARY MARIE HOLTON

Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Holton, whose happy face is the youngest to appear in the 1934 Virginian.

HOYLE CONDUCTS CLUB DRAMATIC PROGRAM

The Dramatic Club held its regular meeting last Thursday night at seven o'clock in the Large Auditorium. After the business part of the meeting was over, Kitty Hoyle, head of the costume department of the Dramatic Club, presented a most interesting and instructing program on period costumes. During the first part of the program there was a display and explanation of the making of costumes of various periods ranging from early Roman through merry England. The last part of the program was made up of a discussion of different types of costumes, how they were made and how different effects could be gotten with dyes.

JOKES

First: "How does that watch go you won in the yacht race?"
Second: "Fine, it does an hour in fifty mniutes."

"Say waiter, this coffee is nothing but mud."
"Yes sir, certainly it is, it was only ground this morning."

"Can you crawl on your hands and knees?"
"Sure, I can."
"Well, don't. It's babyish."

"What's your son's average income?"
"From two to two-thirty A. M."

The only thing we get on our radio is dust.

He: "I say, dear, I have some tickets for the theatre."
She: "Fine, I'll start dressing."
He: "Yes, do, dear, they're for tomorrow."

"Who invented the hole in the doughnut?"
"Oh, some fresh air fiend, I suppose."

Diner: "Are you the waiter who took my order?"
Waiter: "Yes, sir."
Diner: "You're looking well after your vacation."

Visitor: "And what is your name my little man?"
Boy: "Henry, sir."
Visitor: "And why did your parents call you that?"
Boy: "Oh, I guess 'cause I'm the Eighth."

She: "Did anyone ever tell you how wonderful you are?"
He: "Don't believe they ever did."
She: "Then where'd you get the idea?"

Clerk: "What's the matter, sonny?"
Little Boy: "Please sir, have you seen a lady without a little boy who looks like me?"

Weyanoke

BEAUTY SALON
A Complete Beauty Service At Moderate Prices
What we have done for others we can do for you
WEYANOKE HOTEL
Farmville Va.

CAMPUS COMMENTS

Too bad the K. A.'s didn't prophecy Zilla Newsom's rise to favor in the eyes of several of the brothers, so they could have included her in the pictures of the Alpha Tau sweethearts.

We'd love to hear Mr. Strick's denunciation of Lowther's vocalization of "Three Little Piggies." Unaccustomed as our ears are to good music, we couldn't hand that much praise.

Despite the glowing reports of Myron Lowther and his Seattle Harmony Boys—the Casa Loma of the west—the favorite band of the wild and wooly west—they turned out to be O. K! We want more of these surprise packages.

Here's a suggestion for Student Day. Why not let Laeta Barham give a lecture on China? She heard quite a discourse on the subject Sunday night.

Students at Sewanee have approved heartily the recent faculty edict that comprehensive examinations before graduation include an examination on 20 books—10 to be prescribed by the faculty, 10 chosen by the student from a list of 100.

Only one person has ever successfully swum the "Devil's Whirlpool," below Niagara Falls. This great whirlpool is formed by a bend in the river forming a pocket in which the water whirls around with almost unbelievable velocity. A cable car has been constructed which carries sightseers over the whirlpool.

Mack's

BARBER AND BEAUTY SHOP
323 Main Street
We use the Frederick Method
Hair Cutting and Thinning a Specialty

WILLIS
The Florist

FLOWERS FOR ALL OCCASIONS
PHONES 181-273

REVISIONS ARE MADE IN PUT SYSTEM

Continued from page one

treasurer, 3; vice-president, 3.
Organizations — honor societies: member, 2.
Dramatic Club—member, 2; executive board, 3.
Debate Club—member 1
Choir—member 2.
Choral Club—member, 2.
Orchestra—member, 2.
Latin Club—president, 2; chairman program committee, 2.
French Circle—president, 2; chairman program committee, 2.
Spanish Circle — president, 2; chairman program committee, 2.
Mathematics Club—president, 2; chairman program committee, 2.
De-Ho-Ec—president, 2; chairman program committee, 2.
Granddaughters Club—president, 2
Monogram Club — president, 3; vice-president, 1; secretary, 1; treasurer, 1.
Association Childhood Education—president, 2.
Student Standards Committee — chairman, 1; secretary, 1.
Latin Newspaper, "Tributum", — Editor, 3; business manager, 2.

Martin JEWELER

Gifts of Lasting Remembrance
317 Main St. Farmville

SouthsideDrugStore

(On the Corner)
Films Developed
FREE
If bought at this store

Shannon's

Is Headquarters for the Best
SANDWICHES
—and—
DRINKS
—in—
FARMVILLE!

THE HUB
Headquarters For Sport Shoes

White—in the new cut-out sandals, pumps and ties. Brown & White, Black & White and Solid White—Black, Blue and Grey. All widths and sizes. Prices from $1.95 to $5.00.
COME IN AND LET US SHOW YOU THE NEWEST IN FOOTWEAR!

THE HUB DEPARTMENT STORE
"Farmville Best Place to Shop"

"FASHION FIRSTS"
—FROM NEW YORK AT BALDWIN'S—

Untrimmed Cloth Coats—Windblown Swagger Suits. Five hundred Dresses for street, evening, sports and dress wear. Saucy Hats—Swanky Shoes—Gloves— Bags — Hosiery— Lingerie—Neckwear. Smart clothes and fixings that do great things for you.

You'll always be first in fashion when you shop at

BALDWIN'S
Quality—Price—Service

G. F. Butcher

High Street
"The Convenient Store"
FOR GOOD
THINGS TO
EAT AND DRINK

Gray's Drug Store

QUALITY—PRICE—SERVICE
Come in and Get Acquainted
We Are Glad to Have You With Us!
Farmville, Virginia

BASEBALL SEASON IS HERE

THE ROTUNDA

LET'S START OFF RIGHT WITH OUR NEW COUNCIL

We Teach To Teach

Volume XIV | THE ROTUNDA, WEDNESDAY, APRIL 11, 1934 | No. 28

Rowell Twins Win Graduations Honors

Hoyle and Eley Take First and Second Places In Diploma Class

GRACE ROWELL VALEDICTORIAN

Grace and Alice Rowell of the degree class; Katherine Hoyle and Doris Eley, of the diploma class, are respectively the first and second honor graduates here this year.

It is coincident that Katharine Hoyle's mother, remembered here as Miss Elizabeth Edwards, was the first honor graduate in the class of 1907. It is also coincident that in high school Alice Rowell received the valedictorian's place, having by a slight margin a higher average than Grace. In college the situation has been reversed.

The Rowell twin sisters of Smithfield, Va., Katharine Hoyle, of Newport News, and Doris Eley of Norfolk, besides being honor graduates, have been leaders in campus activities.

Prior to the Rowell twins being namedl honor graduates they were appointed to represent the college as princesses in the court at the Winchester apple blossom festival.

At the graduation exercises, Grace Rowell will be the valedictorian and Katherine Hoyle the salutatorian.

Alpha Kappa Gamma Bids New Members

The Alpha Kappa Gamma, an honorary fraternity for leadership, has recently acknowledged the following girls: Frances McDaniel, Elizabeth Vassar, Nell Oakey Ryan, and Sarah Beck.

Frankie has served as president of her class and will again hold the office as president for her senior year. Not only has she shown splendid leadership ability in class work, but she has been an outstanding member of the Monogram and Dramatic Clubs.

Elizabeth Vassar, the newly elected Virginian editor, is also a member of Alpha Phi Sigma and Kappa Delta Pi, an honorary society in education. She has done excellent work on both the Rotunda and the Virginian and has taken much interest in Y. W. C. A. work.

Nell Oakey Ryan's ability as a leader was shown as vice-president of the Dramatic Club. Her College interests have been many, for she is a member of Alpha Phi Sigma, College Choir, and Granddaughter's Club. The student body expects bigger things from her as president of the House Council for 1934-'35.

Sarah Beck has proven herself an excellent captain of the varsity squad. Her interest in AA work has been unlimited ,and she has recently been elected as president of AA for the year 1934-'35.

MANAGERS APPOINTED FOR 1934-1935 SPORTS

Sarah Beck, President of the Athletic Council has announced the following managers of sports for 1934-'35:

Hockey—Bess McGlothlin.
Basketball—Florence Sanford.
Volleyball—Evelyn Massey.
Tennis—Elizabeth Shipplett.
Baseball—Kathleen Ranson.
Archery—Katherine Cooper.
LaCrosse—Mary Elizabeth Slater.
Field and Track—Frances Yester.

The other officers elected to the Council are:

Vice-president—Louise Walmsley.
Secretary—Elizabeth Billups.
Treasurer—Mary Bowles.

Hampden-Sydney Club Gives Annual Concert

The Hampden-Sydney Orchestra, Glee Club, and Ben Franklin, the magician, presented the first of their spring concerts Friday night, April 6, in the S. T. C. auditorium. The program was given under the auspices of the Senior Class of S. T. C.

The concert was divided into four sections. The first and last parts were conducted by the club, the second by the orchestra, and the third by Ben Franklin.

The Glee Club first sang "A Glass of the Finest" which was followed with "Deep Enambushed," and the "Largo". Staton Noel, club soloist, thne sang "In the Valley", and, as an encore, "aDnny Boy". The first section of the program was closed with "Lullaby," "Old King Cole", and as an encore, "A Kiss" by the club.

The "Collegians", under the direction of Graham Oliver, played many of the latest song hits. Oliver, Moffatt, and Moss sang several pieces with the orchestra.

Ben Franklin, a professional magician, amazed the audience with his clever performance. He was assisted by George Wall, who is business manager of the Glee Club.

The program continued with "The Bells of Saint Marys," "The Long Day Closes," and the "Pilgrim's Chorus" by the entire Glee Club. The concluding numbers were "Alma Mater" and the Hampden - Sydney "Medley."

This same program will be presented in Charleston, W. Va., at the Stratford Hotel, and at Mary Baldwin College in Staunton. The Glee

Continued on page 4, col. 2

DRAMATIC CLUB ELECTS NEW OFFICERS APRIL 4

The Dramatic Club met on April 4 for the election of officers. The following girls were elected: President, Margaret Herndon; Vice-president, Margaret Pollard; Secretary, Ella Mallory; Treasurer and Business Manager, Margaret Farrar; Head of Acting Department, Audrey Clements; Head of Staging Department, Phyllis Ferguson; Head of Costuming, Virginia Bean; Head of Lighting, Helen Shawen; Head of Property, Louise Coleman; Assistant, Ellen Simmerman, and Head of Music, Louise Hyde.

Meg Herndon has been very active in dramatics, being head of the acting department last year and also taking part in plays presented both last year and this. She is a member of the Y. W. C. A. Cabinet and was Associate Editor of the Virginian this year. Meg also belongs to Mu Omega Sorority and to the Cotillion Club.

Under the able leadership of these officers the Dramatic Club is sure of being most successful in next year's work.

WORK ON SWIMMING POOL STARTS THIS WEEK

The contract with C. W. Hancock and Sons for the building of the swimming pool was signed Saturday. Work is supposed to begin this Thursday, April 12. Four months will be needed to complete the pool, making it ready to jump into by the middle of August.

The pool will be 30 feet wide, 75 feet long and eight feet deep at its deepest part. There will be an arcade leading from the shower room in which the girls will dress, to the pool. A place for spectators to sit will be on one side of the pool and will be entered from the street by the gymnasium.

The building should add a great deal to the campus; it is to be brick and tile with wainscoting of enameled brick.

CALENDAR
APRIL 11 TO 18

April 11
Open Y. W. Cabinet Meeting 5:00
Rotunda staff 7:00-7:30
Pi Gamma Mu 7:30-8:30

April 12
Kappa Delta Pi 7:00-8:00
Beta Phi Theta 8:00-9:00
Pan-Hellenic 10:00

April 13
Debate Club 7:00-8:00
Gamma Psi 7:00-8:00

April 14
Sing 6:30

April 16
Virginian Staff 7:00-8:00

April 17
Class meetings 7:00-7:30
Gamma Psi 7:50-8:30
Council 10:00

April 18
Y. W. Cabinet 5:00
Rotunda Staff 7:00-7:30
Pi Gamma Mu 7:30-8:30
Pi Kappa Delta 8:30-9:30

Graduate Classes Plan For Final Exercises

The graduating classes made plans for their commencement exercises at their respective meetings last night. A committee of the Senior and Sophomore class presidents and class men had previously met to decide about the type of entertainment to have on Monday night of the exercises in place of a play as in usually the custom. The committee's plan of having a dance and choral club recital was accepted by both classes.

The class giftorians and historians were elected at the meeting. The Seniors nominated Honey Hamilton and Edith Shanks as historian, electing the latter. Virginia Brinkley won out over Mildred Gwaltney, Nancy Harrison, Honey Hamilton, and Mary Shelton for class giftorian. The girls will take part in the Senior class exercises that will be held at the Longwood ampitheatre, Monday afternoon of commencement.

At the class exercises of the graduating Sophomores, which will be held Monday morning of commencement, Carolyn Byrd will read the class history. Other nominees for historian were Red Riddick and Grace Eubank. Doris Eley won out over Billie Rountree, Addie Norfleet, Claudia Harper and Red Riddick for class giftorian.

The Sophomores re-elected Miss Virginia Bedford as their class man.

HUNDRED FIFTY-TWO ON QUARTER HONOR ROLL

One hundred and fifty-two make honor roll for Winter Quarter.

The following girls made the honor roll for the Winter Quarter, 1934:

Helen Frances Allen, Roanoke; Margaret E. Alsop, Prospect; Annie Louise Anderson, Jetersville; Virginia B. Baker, Portsmouth; Laeta Duff Barham, Richmond; Betty Barleon, Portsmouth; Kathleen Bass, Danville; Grace V. Bass, Evington; Helen Virginia Bean, South Hill; Laurine Billings, Farmville; Ella Arthur Black, Kingsport, Tenn.; Agnes M. Bondurant, Rice; Ophelia I. Booker, Richmond; Marjorie M. Booton, Luray; Marjorie Bradshaw, Zuni; Virginia Brinkley, Suffolk; Irene V. Bryant, Hampton; Louise Bulloch, Portsmouth; Frances D. Burger, Farmville; Carmen Clark, Collierstown; Audrey Mae Clements, Hampton; Hazel G. Clevinger, Farmville; Edith C. Coffey, Concord Depot; Katherine B. Coleman, Orange; Alberta Collings, Norfolk; W. Grace Collins, Drakes Branch; Margaret B. Copenhaver,

Continued page 4, col. 2

Practices Under Way For May Celebration

Plans for the College's annual May Day are rapidly going forward. The tentative plan for the May Day festival has been posted on the Y. W. C. A. bulletin board for the benefit of those who would like to have some idea of what the pageant is like before they see it presented. This plan gives a brief, but clear synopsis of the story of "Alice in Wonderland," as it is to be portrayed at Longwood on May 5.

A schedule of practices has also been posted and practices have already begun. The May Day committee has announced that for the first few weeks practices will not be held as frequently as they will be later. The committee urges, therefore, that those taking part in the pageant shall make a special effort to get their costumes made during these few weeks of light practices, so that when the heavier schedule begins, more time can be devoted to practicing.

Miss Bedford and her art classes are contributing much to the work on May Day. They have already made many of the masks to be used by the characters.

The May Day committee has suggested that any student who wishes to do so, may invite to attend May Day this year's Senior Class from her respective high school.

H. S. C. FRATERNITIES GIVE SPRING DANCE

The Pan-Hellenic Association of Hampden-Sydney College held their spring dances, Friday and Saturday nights, April 6 and 7. The Hampden-Sydney Collegians furnished the music for the set. This orchestra under the direction of Graham Oliver won great praise from everyone present. The novelty numbers sung by the trio were particularly good.

Besides S. T. C. girls and town girls, there were many girls present from Richmond, Lynchburg, and other surrounding cities and towns.

The S. T. C. girls with their escorts, who attended were: Bertha White Babb with W. D. Temple; Laeta Barham with Clarence Shelbourne; Virginia Bean with Charles Bernier; Sarah Beck with Dick Lewis; June Blackwell with Otis Thornhill; Helen Boswell with Fred Williams; Caroline Byrd with Bob Pendleton; Mildred Chandler with Art Jones; Margaret Dudley with Frank Hancock; Margaret Dortch with Jordan Temple; Sara Goodwin with Jack Bowman; Frances Graham with Jimmy Baskerville; Lily Farrar with Winston Lewis; Margaret Farrar with "Red" Weisiger, Honey Hamilton with Masby Phlegar.

Others who attended were: Nancy

Continued page 3, col. 2

CLASSES END ELECTIONS FOR MINOR OFFICES

The results of the class election which have been announced are as follows:

Sophomores: Vice-president, Julia Derr; Secretary, Mary Bowles; Treasurer, Martha Stine; Student Council Representatives, Elizabeth Shipplett, Bonnie Lane.

Juniors: Vice-president, Margaret Clark; Secretary, Grace Eubank; Treasurer, Louise Walmsley; Student Council Representatives, Lucy Potter, Louise Gathright; Student Standards Representatives, Henrietta Salisbury, Elizabeth Billups.

Seniors: Vice-president, Lena M. Gardner; Secretary, Jean McClure; Treasurer, Katherine Young; Student Council Representatives, Janice White, Katherine Walton; Student Standards Representatives, Jessica Jones, Margaret Herndon.

Student Government Holds Installation

McKay, Cutshall, Jarman, and Cromer, Take Part In Service

FOURTEEN GIRLS TAKE OATH

To the tune of the Alma Mater Tuesday night, April 10, the old council, accompanied by the incoming members, took their respective places on the stage of the auditorium. The invocation was given by Mr. Croner. Following this the retiring President said a few words, thanking the student body for their co-operation and wishing them success in their work next year.

The oath of office was then taken by the new President, Jestine Cutshall, who also made a short address, thanking the students for the honor given her and assuring them that she would do her best to perform all tasks expected of her and assigned to her.

Jestine then administered the oath of office to the remaining new members in the following order:

Louise Hyde—Vice-president.
Hazel Smith—Secretary.
Elizabeth Huse—Treasurer.
Bessie McGlothlin — Campus League Chairman.
Nell Oakey Ryan — President of House Council.

Continued page 3 col. 4

McKay and Cutshall Attend Conference

Alice McKay and Jestine Cutshall represented Farmville S. T. C. at the Southern Intercollegiate Association of Student government, otherwise known as the S. I. C. S. A., which held its 19th annual conference at the University of Tennessee, in Knoxville, April 5-7.

The convention was an unusually interesting one, having been planned the idea of combining work and pleasure to the greatest advantage of all.

The meetings began on Thursday with welcome to the delegates from Dr. J. D. Hoskins, the Acting President of the College, and greetings from Dean Massey and from Greve, Dean of Men and Women, respectively of the University. The speaker at luncheon that day was Dean Ruth Vaec of University of W. Va. The afternoon's program was composed of discussion groups on Freshman Orientation, led by Margaret Paiugh of U. C. C. W. and Social and Dormitory Problems in Women's Colleges, led by Dorothy Sitgreaver of Limestone College and co-educational problem ,led by Augusta Walker of Duke University.

The delegates were entertained at a very attractive banquet in the college cafeteria on Thursday evening. The theme of the banquet was, "Power," as the U. of Tennessee, is in the center of the great Lawrence Valley area which produces electrical power for that section of the country. Anne Watson of the University presided ably in the capacity of toastmaster, and Professor V. W. Bell spoke on the "Direction of Power," as reflected in leadership among women.

The program for Friday morning was a general meeting. Dr. Clifford Barbour, pastor of the Presbyterian Church spoke on, "The Religious Aspect of Our Present Social Order," and Dr. W. A. Worgan, director of T. V. G. spoke on, "A Social Experiment in the T. O. G." The latter gave a most interesting description of the project now going on in the T. V. C., its purpose, and the plan for it. The rest of the morning and

Continued page 4, col. 1

THE ROTUNDA

Member Southern Inter-Collegiate Newspaper Association
Member Intercollegiate Press Association of Virginia

Newspaper Member

Published by Students of State Teachers College, Farmville, Va.

Entered as second class matter March 1, 1921, at the Postoffice of Farmville, Virginia, under Act of March 3, 1879.

Subscription ..... $1.50 per year

ROTUNDA STAFF

Editor-in-Chief .... Mary Shelton, '34
Associate Editor .... Lelia Mattox, '35

Board of Editors

News ..... Evelyn Massey, '36
Make-Up ..... Katherine Hoyle, '36
Literary Editor .... Birdie Wooding
Louise Walmsley, '36
World News ..... Velma Quarles, '34
Intercollegite ..... Caroline Byrd, '36
Social ..... Marion Raine, '36
Art ..... Alice Rowell, '34
Feature ..... Elizabeth Walton, '36
Alumnae ..... Miss Virginia Potts

Reporters

Amis Montohery
Mary Hastings Holloway
Edith Shanks, '34; Mary Easley Hill, '34; Elizabeth Vassar, '35; Mary Elizabeth Alexander, '36; Lula Windley, '36.
Proof Readers: Katherine Coleman, '35
Grace Eubank, '36

Managers

Business ..... Mary Diehl, '34
Assistant ..... Elma Rawlings, '34
Circulation ..... Nell Oakey Ryan, '34
Assistant ..... Janice White, '35

The Rotunda invites letters of comment, criticism, and suggestion from its readers upon its manner of presenting and treating them. A letter, to receive consideration, must contain the name and address of the writer. These will not be published if the writer objects to the publication.

All matters of business should be addressed to the Business Manager and all other matters should come to the Editor-in-Chief. Complaints from subscribers as regards irregularities in the delivery of The Rotunda will be appreciated.

ON THE EVE OF DEPARTURE

As we, the old Rotunda staff, publish our last issue, our hearts are filled with regret. There is an empty feeling that is difficult to explain. A feeling, akin to homesickness.

All year we have worked together sharing the hardships and the joys, worrying together when news was hard to get, and sympathizing with each other when special articles were late in coming, and helping one another unravel the difficulties of make-up. However, all of these worries fade into nothingness beside the pleasures of the work. The pleasure of taking the news of each little group and giving it to the whole college family; of sending it out to let the Alumnae know that the groups that they have left in charge are carrying on—and the satisfaction of giving honor where honor is due.

The old staff appreciates the co-operation of the student body, faculty, and administration. They have been magnanimous about our mistakes, and we have been grateful for their interest and help. We want to give thanks, too, to our publisher, Mr. Barry Wall, and his staff. They have given us helpful suggestions and real assistance.

We wish the new staff luck and hope that they will reap as much profit and joy from their labors as we have done.

"PLEASE"

"Please" thus read the signs that remanded us to keep off the grass. Then the little green fences were built, and even Dr. Jarman appealed to us to develop a "campus consciousness." Now what?

Since the rain our campus is beginning to be beautiful again, and soon all those spots which were once bare and ugly will be hidden under soft green grass. That is, if we don't forget.

It is seldom that Dr. Jarman says "don't" to us, but when he does we usually co-operate. So this time we will co-operate and keep off the grass until it can grow. Then the little green fences may be removed, and we'll be justly proud of a beautiful campus.

CAMPUS COMMENTS

It is rumored that all work and no play makes Rudy a dull boy—We're asking Tih just how dull he's been since Saturday night.

We're beginning to wonder just what did cause the complications Friday night. Did Virginia Dean think it was a midnight dance or did Helen Shawen fear the competition.

Friday the "cute girls," showed sympathy toward the less cute—but what table doesn't turn, and soon Monday our faces registered sympathy even if they weren't able to detect it—what with droopy eyes.

Ask Mary Gilmer if the sweater was too big for the badge or the badge too big for the sweater. Careful Mary—W. & L. still has marvelous dances.

What's wrong with Jean Foote and Lelia Sanford? Are they trying to get rid of some of the "Horseyness" they acquired on Saturday? Are they really dieting or is it love?

Ask the twins what it's like to have your picture in the paper and then receive a letter saying you're ideal. (Wonder how he knew Grace from Alice?)

The orchids, or any other flowers you may think more suitable, go to a certain H. S. C. senior, one known to S. T. C. as "Prexy," "Ducklegs," or "Lil' Sugar Pie." In case you don't know—I'm speaking of ex-captain William Spottswod!

By the Hampden-Sydney Tiger we see that Nubby Knaub and her date, one "Dannie" (Boy) Jenkins were among the "many happy couples" last week-end at the dances.

We also noted that Bebe Russell and Sam McLaughlin enjoyed the set. Where were Nancy Harrison and Henry Mosby all the time?

Elizabeth Huse seemed to have a profitable week-end, judging from the boxes that she brought back with her—we counted up to ten and then lost track.

Jestine returned from her little trip about seven hours late, arriving at 3:00 p. m., in the morning. But she reports that it was well-worth the loss of sleep—please, we'd like to hear more about that.

There's an old saying that women have a right to change their minds—That was very true at Sophomore class meeting last night, we hear.

Mully Sullivan, when did you get so shy? We'll overlook your statement for maybe it was for the sake of argument.

Congratulations, Helen Smith! We were glad to see the happy expression on your face last night at installation. You can take it!

"In the spring—etc, etc.—" but here's a new one. In the spring Chub Denit blossoms forth and makes hit with men about town! We want the names, Chub, as well as the story!

A serum that is claimed to be a 100 per cent cure for whooping cough has been perfected by Prof. Louis W. Sauer of the University of Chicago medical school.—The Teco Echo.

Sir Arthur Smith Wodward of Cambridge University has made studies which make him believe the cradel of the human race was somewhere in Africa, probably the Rift Valley.—The Teco Echo.

I have no expectations of making a hit every time I come to bat.
Franklin D. Roosevelt.

ALUMNAE NEWS

Announcement has been received of the wedding of Miss Reba Hill of Virginia to Dr. Edward Marvyn Stafford of Raleigh, N. C., which took place in Virgilina on March 31.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Blanton Badgett, of Richmond, announce the marriage of their sister, Bess, to Mr. Reese Whitten Holmondollar, of Welch, W. Va., on Friday, March 30, in Washington, D. C. Mr. and Mrs. Helmondollar were recent guests in the home of Mrs. Southall Farrar.

Miss Emily Hillsman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Hillsman of Farmville, and Charles William Bailey, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Bailey, of Buckingham, were married Friday, March 30, in Richmond by Rev. Alpheus W. Potts. The ceremony was performed in the presence of the immediate families and a few invited friends.

Following the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Bailey left for a wedding trip through the south and will be at home after April 14 on Seminary Avenue in Richmond.

On Saturday morning, April 7 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Wilson a quiet but pretty marriage ceremony was solemnized when Miss Lucy Irene Wilson became the bride of Eugene South Hardy. Rev. E. L. Larson officiated. The bride had as her matron-of-honor, her sister, Mrs. Walter Crymes, of Keysville and as ring bearer, little Dorothy Anne Crymes. Mr. John Hillsman was Mr. Hardy's best man.

AMONG OUR CAPS AND GOWNS

MARGARET PARKER

We know her better as "Grit"—of the ever-ready smile and the way-down-Suffolk accent.

As President of the class her Junior year she was given ample opportunities to show her leadership ability, with the result that she was unanimously re-elected to lead the class her Senior year.

She has won recognition in Alpha Kappa Gamma, and has been outstanding in varsity basketball. She is also a member of Gamma Theta Sorority.

This year she was elected Queen of the Mardi Gras, and May Queen.

She will be remembered for her versatility, and her ability to take life not too seriously, but as she finds it.

MARY BURGESS FRASER

Interested in the "Virginian" and working on the staff since she came to S. T. C., Mary Burgess was chosen last spring to be editor-in-chief of the fiftieth anniversary annual. Its success is due in large measure to her thought and effort.

Not only has Mary Burgess been active in publication work last year, but she was first vice-president of the Virginia Intercollegiate Press Association, but also during her four years here she has taken part in sports, especially basketball. Her interest in athletics and her good sportsmanship have led to her membership in the Monogram Club. The Cotillion Club claims Mary Burgess as a member, as does the Granddaughter's Club. Last year Alpha Kappa Gamma, recognizing her leadership, bid her to membership.

In more ways than one Mary Burgess has given of her time and talents to S. T. C. In more ways than one we shall miss her next year!

MARY SHELTON

Although no one will be missed more than Mary Shelton, her Alma Mater is proud to send forth a girl who has shown such character and ability. Since she entered S. T. C. Mary has been outstanding in every phase of the college activities. She has served on the Student Council, Student Standards Committee, Y. W. C. A., World Fellowship Committee, and Sing Committee. In recognition of her leadership ability Mary was made a member of Alpha Kappa Gamma.

She has brains and is beautiful, too. She has been feature editor on the Rotunda staff, and this year she has worked in the capacity of editor-

Continued on page 3

INTERCOLLEGIATE

Woe is Pa—He toileth many moons—ploweth many cotton rows to send daughter to college—where daughter exudes smoke from her nostrils all the day like unto a locomotive getting up steam—he sendeth her to a finishing schol where the only thing she finishes is herself, the family bank roll and Pa—she returneth to the farm and getteth in when Pa getteth up to milk the cow—the neighbors talketh long and loudly bout the way Pa's gal cavorts with the village no-account—Short are his days—and long is his toil—Woe is Pa.—Exchange.

We nominate for the Hall of Oblivion the woman who swallowed 1,203 articles of hardware. In searching for a reason for such an absurd action, you might think she was trying to set the store back financially by causing the disappearance of gods in order to pay back an ancient grudge; but the woman herself, Miss Mabel Wolf, of Brooklyn says, "I did it to be funny."

The items were removed from the patient's stomach at King's County Hospital, New York City, last Saturday. Miss Wolf will recover, but the doctor in charge is prescribing a long rest and more suitable meals, of food not nails—in the future.

Among the hardware removed were upholstery tacks, carpet tacks, small and large screws and bolts, safety pins, straight pins, beads, pieces of wire, pieces of glass, and one teacup handle. The physicians are still puzzled as to how she could retain the metal in her stomach for so long a time.

"I swallowed everything in one week," Miss Wolf said. "Please don't ask me any more. I want to forget it. I want to go home now and forget." And (for wanting to obliterate the memory of such a lunatic action) we can hardly blame her.—Campus Comments.

The noise of American life is shortening the span of years of the average American in the opinion of Dr. Vern O. Knudsen, physicist and acoustics expert at the University of California in Los Angeles.

Prof. O. L. McCaskill, of the University of Illinois college of law, recently advocated the complete abolition of all grading systems. — The Teco Echo.

Studies of the oyster, starfish, and red sponge found along the Atlantic coast, now in progress at Yale University, indicate that they may prove to be important sources of food and chemicals. — The Teco Echo.

FROM OLD ROTUNDAS

April 21, 1922—

In this issue we find that girls back in '22, were having their little troubles, too. Here are some sentences from that issue:

"Now's the time to pay your dus!!"

"The Rotunda needs your support!"

"Support the Senior pageant!"

"Let's cut down on chapel cuts!"

April, 1934—

At a recent entertainment, the manner in which our faculty members would teach the rhyme, "Mary Had a Little Lamb," was initiated by different girls. The following teachers were impersonated: Mr. Bell, Miss Bierbower, Miss Craddock, Miss Coulling, Mr. Grainger, Miss Hiner, Miss Lila London, and Miss Tucker.

April 6, 1932—

"The Ivory Door," by A. A. Milne, will be presented this week by the Dramatic Club. Mary Shelton and Nancy Burgwyn will take the leading rolls. Martha Sanders, Nancy Harrison, and Alice McKay have important parts.

March 29, 1933—

Alice McKay was elected President of the Student Body at Student Body meeting this morning. Nominations for other major offices have been made.

The Hampden-Sydney Glee Club, assisted by the Hampden-Sydney Collegians and Ben Franklin, professional magician will give a concert in the S. T. C. auditorium Friday night at 8 o'clock.

POETRY

THE BEGGAR

"Have you anything to give?"
He cries all day, all night.
This man who cannot live
In his own right.

O, the day that he was born,
So was he tricked by fate.
He is lonely and forlorn,
Without love; without hate.

Knowing neither joy nor grief
That fountain from within,
He hungers for belief;
He thirsts for sin.

But alas, his soul is numb!
He is only flesh and mind,
Crying, "Give! Oh give a crumb,
You so well denied."

O, YOU AMONG WOMEN

When pails empty the last brightness
Of the well, at twilight time,
Are you among women—
O mouth of silence,
Will you come with me, when I sign,
To the far green wood that fences
A lake inlaid with light?

To be there, O lost in each other
While day melts in airy weather,
And the drake-headed pike—a shade
In the waves' pale stir!
For love is then, under the breath,
As a coy star is there in the quiet
Of the wood's blue eye.

PORTRAIT OF A YOUNG NUN

Her face is pressed upon the pane.
She sees,
Across the walls, another April stir
In making buds of red and lavender,
And sudden emerald capturing the trees.
She hears a robin break its heart upon
A black bough white with inewly petaled snow;
And now she sees a young lad whistling go
Beneath the apple branches pale as dawn.
She clasps her rosary with tightened hand
As down the convent corridors she hears
Slow music gathered from the holy land
Drift, as the hours will drift through all her years.
She gave her soul to God. Again, again,
She asks forgiveness, pressing at the pane.

THE LOOK AHEAD

I am done with the years that were;
I am quits;
I am done with the dead and old.
They are mines worked out; I delved in their pits;
I have saved their grain of gold.

Now I turn to the future for wine and bread;
I have bidden the past adieu.
I laugh, and lift hands to the years ahead.
"Come on! I am ready for you!"
Edward Markham

WHAT MOONLIGHT DOES TO A TREE

What does moonlight do to a tree?
A tree in moonlight all night long?
Sunlight transmutes gold to green.
Sunlight turns a green leaf golden
What does moonlight do to a tree?
Has any moon-mad gazer seen?
How is a moonlit tree beholden
To moonlight? What virtues belong
To the silver moon? What alchemy
Of color, scent, or silver song
Filters from moonlight all night long?
What does moonlight do to a tree?
Robert Francis

FOREST CONCERT AND PROCESSION

After the thunder split the lake in two
A night lark came and sang a song or two;
After the lightning flared its lurid flame
A school of timid butterflies gently came.

SOCIALS

Many girls went home for the week-end. These were: Nancy Beard, Mary Denny, Ruth Fleet, Jeanne Gwaltney, Virginia Hall Virginia Inge, Mary Jones, Elizabeth Ransom, Mildred Slayton, Charlotte Young, and Sue Yeaman.

Mae Burch visited Kitty Chappell at Drakes Branch during the week-end.

A number of girls went to Charlottsville to attend dances at the University of Virginia. They were: Page Nottingham, Billie Rountree, Alice Rowell, Mary Easley Hill, Jane Coulbourn, and Jean McClure.

Justine Cutshall and Alice McKay attended a convention of the presidents of the student bodies of different colleges in Knoxville, Tenn.

Lloyd Kelley and Nellie Pierpont visited Mrs. W. M. Harris in Kenbridge.

Billy and Betsy Wilkinson had Isla Macintyre as their week-end guest.

The following girls attended the V. P. I. dances: Frances Channell, Emily Channell, Doris Eley, Katheryn Fitzgerald, Elizabeth Huse, Katheryn Harvey, Bernice Jones, Slise Marshburn, Elizabeth Phillips, Florence Sanford, Dorothy Stone, Marion Umburger, Margaret Woodard, Louise Whitehurst, Elizabeth Rogers.

Elizabeth Kelley and Dorothy Prescott spent Saturday shopping in Richmond.

FRESHMEN GIVE JUNIORS EASTER EGG HUNT IN REC

The Freshman Class entertained the Junior Class March 28 at a very delightful party. Each Junior had a date with a Freshman and was escorted down to the "rec." After everyone had danced a while they were entertained with a chorus by a group of Freshmen. After this everyone joined in an Easter egg hunt. The girl and her date finding the most eggs received a prize. Numbers were given to every Junior, then a number was drawn and a prize was given to the girl holding that number.

Green suckers were served to everyone. Then the true Green and White spirit was brought out in some yells and songs, thus concluding a most delightful evening.

NEW Y. W. C. A. CABINET CHOSEN FOR NEXT YEAR

With the election of new officers for the coming year in all organizations Helen Smith, newly-elected president of the Y. W. C. A. has announced her cabinet for 1934-'35 session.

The new vice-president, Katherine Walton, has been very prominent in school activities this year, having been Literary Editor of the Virginian and Chairman of the Progress Committee, as well as a member of several honor societies; Martha Gleen Davis, Secretary, was a member of the Freshman Commission this year. Carmen Clark, Treasurer, has been identified with Y. W. activities for some time and holds memberships in several honor societies; Agnes Crockett, Freshman Counselor, has taken an active part in Y. W. work and also served on the Virginian Staff.

The Chairman of the committees are as follows:

World Fellowship.....Lucy Potter
Service .....Sue Waldo
Music .....Louise Hyde
Social .....Meg Herndon
Sing .....Hazel Smith
Town Girls .....Marguerite York
Church Co-operative
Winnie F. Eubank
Publicity .....Janice White
Prayers .....Margaret Clark
Ex-officio .....Jestine Cutshall

MISS MARY ENTERTAINED BY Y. W. AND COUNCIL

The Student Council and the Y. W. Cabinet entertained Miss Mary White Cox with a surprise dinner in the tea room Wednesday evening, April 4. Besides the members of the council and cabinet, the following were present at the three course dinner: Miss Mary White Cox, Mrs. Bessie P. Jamison, Miss Ethel Lee Boyteaux, and Miss Virginia Potts.

YOUTH AND SPRING THEME OF SING PROGRAM

Spring came tripping in Saturday night at sing in the form of Frankie MacDaniel as she danced across the stage. As usually happens in the spring, two happy youngsters, Ruth Stalwaller and Kat Young glided in on roller skates. Several old farmers upon entering and seeing it was spring, broke into a lively tap dance. Then, true to the old saying, a happy pair of lovers, Ophelia Booker, the dashing young gallant from Hamden-Sydney, with his true love, "Peanut" Woodhouse, entered. They wandered over to a park bench, and proceeded in the usual manner, with Rebecca Glenn adding to the romance by the selection, "You Have Taken My Heart." Marion Jean Wright expressed her joy in the coming of spring by the song numbers, "I Hate Myself For Being So Mean To You," and, "I Just Couldn't Take It Baby." Suddenly a cold wind arose, chilling the joy crowd, and showing us the fickleness of April.

H. S. C. FRETERNITIES GIVE SPRING DANCE

Continued from page one

Harrison with Sam McLaughlin; Virginia Hall with John Kenyon; Mary Hastings Halloway with Mark Williams; Ann Irving with Green Lawson; Mary Virginia Johnson with William Roberts; Pauline Jones with Bill Blandford; Rachel Joyner with Caswell Hardaway; Dorothy Justis with Tom Noble; Elizabeth Kelly with J. T. Llewellyn; Eleanor Kellam with Frank Baldwin; Evelyn Knaub with Dan Jenkins; Lelia Lovelace with Don Bagwell; Eleanor Mitchell with Buddy Lewis; Elizabeth Meredith with Fred Huffman; Margaret Parker with Junie Blake; Lucy Potter with Reese Tate Bowen; Nancy Parker with Ted Tower; Grace Rowell with George Wall; Bebe Russell with Henry Mosby.

The following girls also enjoyed the set: Mary Shelton with Bene Dortch; Martha Stine with Lewis Roach; Henrietta Salisbury with Jimmie Price; Ellen Simmerman with Rudd Young; Helen Shawen with Bill Price; Ruth Showalter with Walter Woodard; Mary Banks Sullivan with E. B. Ebel; Minnie Smith with Rucker White; Kathryn Switzer with Sidney Kellam; Anne Thomas with Bernard Dotson; Florence Tankard with Clarence Campbell, Frances Tilman with O. B. Watson; Virginia Tilman with Jim Elder; Elsie Truly with Paul Lantz; Margaret Webster with John Walden; Evelyn Wilson with Billy Lipscomb; Katherine Young with Dwight Rivers; Martha Scott Watkins with Everett Owen, and Alice Ziegler with Tanner Kinnier.

AMONG OUR CAPS AND GOWNS

MARY SHELTON

Continued from page two

in-chief. Her performance as Robin Hood in May Day last year was good in every sense of the word and she has been outstanding in Dramatic Club productions. This year she will appear in the May Court. Mary has been class vice-president. She is a member of the Cotillion Club and is Sigma Sigma Sigma.

Hats off to you, Shelton, and may you continue to make the most of your vast abilities.

S. A. Legus
TAILOR
CLEANING
PRESSING
REPAIRING
Phone 203

C. E. Chappell
COMPANY
Stationery, Blank Books and School Supplies
Cigars, Cigarettes and Soda
Farmville, Virginia

YOU WOULD LOVE TO HAVE YOUR SHOES FIXED AT THE
Lovelace Shoe Shop
110 Third Street

"THE TUMULT AND THE SHOUTING"
By Ursula Parrot

They say no two generations ever understand each other but Ursula Parrot, who is one of the young moderns, has managed to understand and interpret at least four generations in this novel of Boston that begins in 1877 and comes on down to the present. It ranges from those simple Irish souls who came from Ireland to Boston on sailing ships, with their belief in God and good women and hard work, to the disillusioned world-war generation that believed in nothing but the gratification of the senses.

Throughout the book the dominating figure is Dr. Michael Gavin, whom we meet first as a boy just out of medical school starting his practice. We follow him through to a fine and understanding manhood, his own romantic and tragic love affair, the death in the Spanish-American war of his only son, and the discovery that his son has left an illegitimate child not yet born. It is this daughter, Carol, with whom the book is chiefly concerned.

Close friends of the Gavins are the Burkes. Shank Burke II., Dr. Gavin's contemporary, is an exciting individual, who after a long and scandalous love affair with a georgeous red-haired scion of the Boston autocracy, marries properly and begets Shane III., who, in turn stands to Carol, for all that is romantic. He is with the Lafayette Escadville during the war, marries, loses his wife and returns blase and disillusioned. Carol has gone on the stage as a dancer in an effort to forget him, but now she is ready to have him on any terms.

Out of their casual, rootless lives, Dr. Michael Gavin, by being just himself, shames them back to a hold on the things that count. There comes to Carol a feeling of the importance of the individual of his place in the continuity of life, and a sense of the futility of the life she and Shane have led. And so the fourth generation learns from bitter experience what the first accepted on faith.

Here is a saga of a Boston family that is not only an exciting and emotionally moving novel, but confirms its author's early promies; for when a writer, with such a real genius of story-telling finds herself in possession of such a wealth of absorbing material, the result is a rich experience for her readers.

Woman is the stronger sex, Mary Sydney Branch, of Western College, claims in a recent book published by the University of Chicago press.—The Teco Echo.

STUDENT GOVERNMENT HOLDS INSTALLATION

Continued from page one

Janice White, Katharine Walton—Senior Representatives.

Louise Potter, Louise Gathright—Junior Representatives.

Bonnie Lane, Elizabeth Shipplett—Sophomore Representatives.

Helen Smith, Sarah Beck—Ex-Officio Members.

Dr. Jarman said a few words to the old and new members of the Student Government and to the Student body, saying he was expecting whole-hearted co-operation in making next year a success. Mr. Cromer pronounced the benediction, and the girls marched out in the same order.

Virginia War Carillion Will Sing to the World

RICHMOND, April 7.—The Virginia War Memorial Commission announced today that Anton Brees, the world renowned Carilloneur, will give a series of concerts upon the Virginia week, as many of the out of state visitors coming to Virginia for Gardcn Week will thus be given the opportunity to hear the Virginia Carillon played by a famous artist.

Following these two recitals, Mr. Brees will give recitals each Sunday afternoon at 4 p. m. and each Tuesday evening at 9 p. m., the last recital being Tuesday, May 29.

The War Memorial Commission states that it has received numerous inquiries from all portions of the country as to programs on the Carillon at Richmond, and anticipates that numbers of visitors will take advantage of the opportunity to hear Mr. Brees play.

The Virginia Carillon was erected by the general assembly of Virginia as a memorial to the sons and daughters of Virginia who participated in the World War, and is considered one of the finest Carillons in the world today. In addition to the bells, the Carillon tower has space in its base for a museum of World War relics, and during the past few years the War Memorial Commission has been collecting exhibits for this museum. Already a very large collection of interesting exhibits is on hand. Recently the commission has purchased the finest installment of cases for these exhibits, and is now endeavoring to arrange them in order that the museum may be opened to the public during the time of Mr. Brees' recitals.

"God order and justice—that is the religion of democracy," Dr. William L. Bryan, president of Indiana University, declared recently.

DOROTHY MAY STORES
Easter Apparel Headquarters!

Millinery with that Expensive Look—$1.85 and $2.85
Gorgeous Suits.....$9.45 and $16.50

Dresses—Sunday night dance frocks and Sport $5.45 and $7.45

THE DOROTHY MAY STORE
First to show the Newest!

SPRING IS HERE!

We have your needs in the newest Spring styles of ready-to-wear millinary, shoes, hose and accessories.

DAVIDSON'S

EACO
THEATRE
Program April 12 to 19

Thurs. and Fri., April 12 & 13
Katharine Hepburn
Robert Young
Ralph Bellamy
in
"SPITFIRE"

As Trigger, semi-wild girl of the mountains, Miss Hepburn will be seen in a characterization radically different from anything she has heretofore attempted. Here she is as the praying hell-cat of the hills whose flaming love set fire to the mountains. Critics say this is her best picture.

Also Cartoon—"Holland Days" and Metro News.
25c at matinees; 35c at nights.

Saturday, April 14
Barbara Stanwyck
Joel McCrea
in
"GAMBLING LADY"

Stanwyck says: "I waited five years for this story but it was worth waiting for." She played the game with an ace up her sleeve, but could not cold-deck the man she loved. The kind of drama that comes only once in the life of a star. Don't miss a really great picture.

Also chapter 11 "Tarzan the Fearless", Popeye the Sailor and Fox News.

Next Monday and Tuesday, April 16 and 17
Norma Shearer
Robert Montgomery
in
"RIPTIDE"

Here's Miss Shearer's first picture ture in more than a year, and what a picture! "Love is the very breath of life to me. I laugh and love and leave a trail of broken hearts. I have reached the heights of joy and plumbed the depths of despair—all for love—but I played the game." What is that emotion in a woman stronger than her intellect; which sweeps her on irrisistibly? It is RIPTIDE! A sensational picture you will thoroughly enjoy and long remember.

Also cartoon, "Mississippi Suite," and Metro News.
25c at matinees and 35c at nights.

Next Wednesday and Thursday April 18 and 19
George Raft
Carole Lombard
in
"BOLERO"

With Sally Rand, the Fan Dancer, just as she appeared at the World's Century of Progress.

His arms held rapture and ruin. Lovely dancing ladies, knowing a few months of ecstacy, then flung into the discard. Women melted in his arms to the seductive strains of the "Bolero", but his burnig heart demanded fresh beauty for his dance of life—and love. Don't fail to see Sally Rand's own original Fan Dance

Also Chapter 3 "Pirate Treasure".

Daily matinees at 4 P. M. Evenings at 8 P. M.

Adults, 20c at Matinees, and 25c at nights; except on percentage pictures. We hope an increased attendance will permit us to continue these prices.

Kleanwell
CLEANERS AND TAILORS
Expert Cleaning, Repairing and Remodeling of Ladies Garments
Main Street, Opposite Postoffice
PHONE 98

McKAY AND CUTSHALL ATTEND CONFERENCE

Continued from page one

part of the afternoon was devoted to discussion of group meetings: honor system lead by Carleen Vivial of Florida State College for Women, and faculty-student relations led by Julia Sadler of Sweet Briar, and three sororities led by Ailsie McCroskey of the University of Lawrence. A part of the afternoon's program was given over to one of our guest speakers, Dr. Julianna Haskell, advisor to graduate women of Columbia. She spoke most interestingly and clearly on, "Morality."

The entertainment for the evening was a tea dance held in the gymnasium from 6:30 to 8:30. Escorts were provided for the delegates and the evening was closed with a most delightful dance.

The convention adjourned after the reading of convention reports and the election of officers at the business meeting on Saturday morning. It was decided that the 20th convention will be held next spring at Florida State College for Women at Tallahassee, Fla.

Those guests who were able to stay over were taken on a lovely trip to the Norris farm and the home of Norris on Saturday afternoon. This farm and home is the center of the Tennessee Valley area project.

PRACTICES

Baseball practices will begin April 10, and will be scheduled from 4 to 6 o'clock each afternoon except Saturday.

As soon as possible a schedule of the number of practices necessary for class teams will be posted.

Classes are urged to come out and support their colors.

INTERCOLLEGIATE

Washington and Lee will hold their Easter dances in Daremdes Gym Friday and Saturday evenings, April 13 and 14. Mal Hallet and his orchestra will furnish the music.

The Hampden-Sydney major elections resulted in the election of the following men: Jack Humphries as President of the Student Body, "Soup" Campbell as President of the A. O.; J. L. Armstrong as Editor of the Tiger, and President of the Student Council, and F. A. Schaffer as President of the S. C. A.

V. M. I. views the banish rat rules and hazing at their institution as the cause of the drop in their enrollment. Action against these customs are being taken.

If Cleopatra's nose had been shorter, the face of the whole world would have been changed.—Pascal.

CLIPPED FROM THE VISTA

"What is your idea of an ideal girl"? This question was recently asked the male students of Central and here are some of the answers.

I'm afraid I don't have any.
I agree with Prof. Oakes.
"That would be telling."
That beats me.
I pass. I don't believe they are.
Oh, my gosh.
I'm afraid I couldn't tell you.
Can't say. Too bashful.
My wife.
Blonde, 5' 11" tall, 120 pounds.
Well I married the girl.
There ain't no such (We wonder what changed his mind).
I'd hate to tell you.
My wife.
She's at A. and M.
Light hair, blue eyes and can sing.
Blonde with personality.
Good sense of humor.
A small blonde.
I wouldn't know.
Mae West.
Small and blonde.
A good sport and freckles.
I don't have an ideal.
An ideal girl is still an unknown quantity.
Why Marjie, of course.
Well, one who adapts herself to any situation.
A good sport, good looking, good dancer. Most any girl can neck, but it takes a real girl to be entertaining and stay on the other side of the room.

FRENCH CIRCLE INSTALLS NEW OFFICERS MONDAY

The new officers of Le Cercle Francais were installed Monday April 9.

The new officers are:
Mary Gilmer .....Presidente
Bonnie Lane ..... Vice-presidente
Virginia Acworth ..... Secretaire
Winnie Frances Eubank..Tresoriere
Jeannette Jones .....Pianiste

All these girls have shown outstanding ability as well as interest in the study of French. It is necessay that the president speak the language quite fluently in order to conduct the meetings entirely in French. It is the aim of the circle to help the students in their study of French here and to give them training in organizing and conducting meetings in French if they are called upon to do so when they teach.

ONE HUNDRED FIFTY-TWO ON QUARTER HONOR ROLL

Continued from page one

Tazewell; Sarah E. Corbin, Windsor; E. Frances Crawford, Beckley, W. Va.; Jestine Cutshall, Roanoke; Phyllis Ann Denit, Salem; Julia L. Derr, Goldsboro, N. C.; Mary F. Diehl, Farmville; Bernice E. Eckler, Illion, N. Y.; Nan T. Edmunds, McKenney; Sarah Elam, South Boston; Doris Carr Eley, Norfolk; Winnie Frances Eubank, Franklin; Alma B. Foster, Portsmouth; Eleanor V. Gibbs, Standardsville; Ella Victoria Gillette, Courtland; K. Elizabeth Gills, Richmond; L. Alice Grainger, Farmville; Virginia W. Hamilton, Petersburg; Martha T. Hamlet, Phenix; M. Virginia Hannah, Richmond; Claudia E. Harper, Newport News; Dorotha L. Harrison, Waverly; Nancy Harrison, Petersburg; Edna G. Hatcher, Martinsville; Mary Easley Hill, Pearisburg; Bessie S. Hix, Prospect; Mary Hastings Holloway, Woodstock; Virginia Hooke, McDowell; Frances R. Horton, Roanoke; Mary H. Howard, Roanoke; Katherine Hoyle, Newport News; M. Marie Hundley, Sedley; Lila N. Jacob, Machipongo; Addie Lee Jarman, Standardsville; Kathleen L. Johnson, Amherst; Mary Virginia Johnson, Suffolk; Jessica Ann Jones, Glen Allen; Elizabeth L. Kelly, Big Stone Gap; Barbara Y. Kester, Martinsville; Bonnie E. Lane, Roanoke; Marion Gray Layne, Gladys; Virginia Mae Lee, Altavista; Louise M. Lewis, Appomattox; Leonora Long, Luray; Alice W. McKay, Baltimore, Md.; Dorothy McNamee, Farmville; Mary Louise McNulty, Lexington; S. Alice Magruder, Richmond; Sue N. Mallory, Lawrenceville; Gertrude Mannes, Boykins; Evelyn C. Massey, Post Oak; Audrey E. Mattox, Lynch Station; Emily J. Meadows, Roanoke;; N. Catherine Micou, Farmville; Katherine R. Milby, Washington, D. C.; Ida Mason Miller, Newport; Doris C. Moore, Richmond; Billie Morgan, Andersonville; Margaret E. Morgan, Andersonville; Mary Berkeley Nelson, Richmond; Mary E. Newcomb, Berryville; Claudine O'Brien, Appomattox; Margaret A. Otten, Covington; Virginia Payne, Petersburg; Margaret Pollard, Amelia; Dorothy B. Prescott, Big Stone Gap; Dorothy G. Price, Brookneal; Anne Putney, Farmville; Margery Quarles, Charlottesville; Marion P. Raine, Danville; Elma H. Rawlings, Lawrenceville; Lucile McB. Rhodes, Mayesville, S. C.; Ruth Roberts, Madisonville; Minnie Lee Rodgers, Farmville; Elizabeth Rogers, Newport News; Marguerite M. Rollins, Messick; Willie V. Rountree, Suffolk; Alice F. Rowell, Smithfield; Grace Warren Rowell, Smithfield; Margaret K. Rucker, Moneta; Nelle Oakey Ryan, Shawsville; Edith N. Samford, Alberta; Allene E. Saunders, Norfolk; Bernice D. Scott, Carrsville; Muriel E. Scott, Richmond; Mary Christine Seay, Dillwyn; Edith Shanks, Roanoke; Helen B. Shawen, Newport News; Mary Scott Shelton, Farmville; Alfreda W. Shields, Salem; Mary Elizabeth Slater, Lewisburg, W. Va.; Frances E. Smith, Buffalo Junction; Helen Smith, Roanoke; Virginia F. Snodgrass, Glade Spring; Dorothy S. Spencer, Meherrin; R. Elizabeth Spitler, Luray; K. Gay Stieffen, Newport News; Mamie Inez Strang, Richmond; Gertrude Sugden, Hampton; Elizabeth Sutton, Plain View; Sarah Hyde Thomas, Staunton; Zaida P. Thomas, Wytheville; Ella Agnes Thompson, South Hill; A. Elizabeth Vassar, Keysville; Marcia H. Vick, Courtland; Linda A. Walker, Guinea Mills; Louise J. Walmsley, Farmville; Elizabeth J. Walton, Clifton Forge; Katherine Lee Walton, Clifton Forge; Lucile R. Ware, Dunnsville; Susie M. Webb, Richmond; Helen L. Westmoreland, Petersburg; Alice Brooking Wheeler, Arrington; Dorothy E. White, Bedford; Janice Roper White, Oak Hill, W. Va.; Mary W. Wicker, Farmville; Va.; Mary W. Wicker, Farmville; A. Beverley Wilkinson, Lynchburg; Beverly A. Wilkinson, Lynch Station; Amanda M. Wilson, Forest; Lula I. Windley, Suffolk; Mary Elizabeth Wood, Amelia; Birdie O. Wooding, Halifax; Dorothy C. Woolwine, Ceres; Sue Yeaman, Martinsville; Frances A. Yester, Clarksburg, W. Va.; Marguerite York, Farmville.

RADIO HIGHLIGHTS APRIL 12 TO 15

Wednesday, April 11
6:30—Harold Stern WOR
7:45—Hollywood, Irene Rich WJZ
8:30—Wayne King WEAF
9:30—Guy Lombardo WABC
10:00—Vincent Lopez WJZ
10:30—Jack Denny WJZ

Thursday, April 12
8:00—Dudy Valee Orch. WEAF
9:30—Eddie Duchin Orch. WJZ
10:00—Glen Gray Orch. WABC
10:00—Paul Whitman, WEAF
11:20—Ishum Jones Orch. WABC
11:30—Harold Stern Orch. WEAF

Friday, April 13
9:00—Leah Ray with Phil Harris Orch. WJZ
9:00—Ahe Tyeman WEAF
9:15—Ruth Etting WABC
10:30—Jack Benny WEAF
11:30—Vincent Lopez WEAF

Saturday, April 14
7:00—Stars of Broadway and Hollywood WJZ
7:45—Isham Jones WABC
9:00—Harold Stern WJZ
9:30—Eddie Duchin WJZ
11:35—Paul Whitman WJZ

Sunday, April 15
8:00—Eddie Cantor WEAF
7:30—Joe Penner WJZ

The trees are whispering to themselves
They woke me up just now
I listen close, but not one tells
Why they are so confused.

I wonder if they are planning war
Or talking of one long past,
Perhaps, they see a bright new star
And are speaking in praise of it.

L. M. G., '35

MINOR ELECTIONS HELD WEDNESDAY, MARCH 28

Minor elections were held all day Wednesday, March 28. A list of nominations was published in last issue of the Rotunda; those elected are as follows:

Student Council: Vice-president, Louise Hyde; Secretary, Hazel Smith; Treasurer, Elizabeth Huse; Campus League Chairman, Bessie McGlothin.

Y. W. C. A.: Vice-president, Katharine Walton; Secretary, Martha Glenn Davis; Treasurer, Carmen Clark; Freshman Councillor, Agnes Crockett; Faculty Advisers, Miss Stubbs, Miss Nichols, Miss Foster, Mrs. Taylor.

Athletic Association: Vice-president, Louise Walmsley; Secretary, Elizabeth Billups; Treasurer, Mary Bowles.

Virginian: Business Manager, Lelia Sanford.

Virginian: Literary Editor, Elizabeth Walton; Art Editor, Janice White.

Rotunda: Associate Editor, Evelyn Massey.

HAMPDEN-SYDNEY CLUB GIVES ANNUAL CONCERT

Continued from page one

Club will begin its annual spring trip Thursday morning, April 12. Abobut twenty men, with Director White and Business Manager Wall, Ben Franklin, and the "Collegians" will make the trip.

Guests at Travellers Rest Sunday Miss Katharine Tupper attended the Home Economics meeting at the Jefferson in Richmond in Saturday, April 7.

DEPARTURE

You have gone and I do not cry.
I don't even care,
Yet if you had not come by
I'm sure I wouldn't dare.
To rack my brain for a rhyme
In which to say
That I am calm at the time
You go on your way.

L. M. G., '35

W. W. Mackey Elected President Jongleurs

Woodrow Mackey was unanimously elected president of the Jongleurs at a meeting held Friday, April 6. The other officers who were elected to serve for the coming year were J. L. Elder, business manager; Dan Jenkins, vice-president; George McGuire, unanimously elected stage manager, and "Doc" Waggener, also unanimously elected, as property manager.

Discussion was postponed until a later date, with President Mackey's promise to appoint a committee to investigate the matter of presenting a play.

Martin JEWELER
Gifts of Lasting Remembrance
317 Main St. Farmville

Mack's
BARBER AND BEAUTY SHOP
323 Main Street
We use the Frederick Method
Hair Cutting and Thinning a Specialty

SouthsideDrugStore
(On the Corner)
Films Developed
FREE
If bought at this store

WILLIS
The Florist
FLOWERS FOR ALL OCCASIONS
PHONES 181-273

Shannon's
Is Headquarters for the Best SANDWICHES
—and—
DRINKS
—in—
FARMVILLE!

Electric Shoe Shop
Will Fix Your Shoes While You Wait
BEST WORKMANSHIP AND LEATHER USED

RICE'S SHOE STORE
Street and Dress Shoes
Dancing Slippers Dyed
Correct fits our specialty

Weyanoke
BEAUTY SALON
A Complete Beauty Service At Moderate Prices
What we have done for others we can do for you
WEYANOKE HOTEL
Farmville Va.

THE HUB
Headquarters For Sport Shoes
White—in the new cut-out sandals, pumps and ties. Brown & White, Black & White and Solid White—Black, Blue and Grey. All widths and sizes. Prices from $1.95 to $5.00.
COME IN AND LET US SHOW YOU THE NEWEST IN FOOTWEAR!
THE HUB DEPARTMENT STORE
"Farmville Best Place to Shop"

"FASHION FIRSTS"
—FROM NEW YORK AT BALDWIN'S—
Untrimmed Cloth Coats—Windblown Swagger Suits. Five hundred Dresses for street, evening, sports and dress wear. Saucy Hats—Swanky Shoes—Gloves— Bags — Hosiery— Lingerie—Neckwear. Smart clothes and fixings that do great things for you.
You'll always be first in fashion when you shop at
BALDWIN'S
Quality—Price—Service

G. F. Butcher
High Street
"The Convenient Store"
FOR GOOD THINGS TO EAT AND DRINK

Gray's Drug Store
QUALITY—PRICE—SERVICE
Come in and Get Acquainted
We Are Glad to Have You With Us!
Farmville, Virginia

WORK HAS BEGUN ON THE SWIMMING POOL

THE ROTUNDA

DON'T FORGET THE VOLLEY BALL GAMES

We Teach To Teach

Volume XIV | THE ROTUNDA, WEDNESDAY, APRIL 18, 1934 | No. 24

Major Organizations Finish Installations

New Y. W. C. A. Cabinet and A. A. Council Are Installed in Impressive Services

OLD AND NEW TAKE PART

The new Y. W. C. A. cabinet was installed in the large auditorium on Thursday evening, April 12.

Marching to the music of "Ancient of Days," the out-going and incoming members of the Cabinet took their respective places on the stage. Following the invocation by Mr. Gardner, Honey Hamilton, the retiring president, expressed her appreciation to the members of the student body for their hearty cooperation and wished them success in the coming year.

The oath of office was taken by the new president, Helen Smith, who in a short but impressive address, thanked the students for the honor given her and assured them her best efforts to administer the work of the organization. She expressed the intention of the new cabinet "to continue the christian attitude in their influence and living, and to enter the fellowship of the Y. W. C. A. with a spirit of service—service to our Alma Mater, service to our fellow students, and service to our God."

In the shadow of the Blue Triangle, symbol of the Y. W. C. A. spirit, each of the new members of the cabinet ,including the officers and committee chairmen, lighted her candle from that of an old member, thus pledging herself to the new office.

After repeating the Y. W. C. A. motto the old and new cabinet members marched out to the tune of "Follow the Gleam."

A. A. COUNCIL INSTALLED

Bright lights on pure white, a word prayer, a murmured promise—not a wedding service but something almost as lonely and inspiring, the installation of the A. A. Councile which took place Wednesday, April 11, at seven o'clock in the large auditorium. New members walked with the retiring council down the center aisle divided right and left, and entered the stage

Continued page 3, col. 2

STUDENTS INTERESTED IN ROTUNDA TRY-OUTS

Thirteen girls reported to the Rotunda office last Wednesday evening to try out for the 1934-35 staff.

Twenty members were previously appointed from among those who had done journalistic work before or who were former members of the staff.

Tryouts will continue for three weeks, at which time ten additional staff members will be chosen.

Those already trying out and others interested will meet in the Rotunda office tonight at 7:30.

The girls who tried out this week were: Louise Hyde, Grace Collins, Jean Foote, Lila Jacob, Melwyn Gathright, Katherine Conway, Phyllis Ferguson, Betty Mae Brown, Charlotte Young, Mary Lee Newcomb, Virginia Jones, Kathleen Ranson, and Katharine Cooper.

MISS JENNIE TABB GOES TO REGISTRAR'S MEETING

Miss Jennie Tabb, Registrar here, left Monday, April 16, for Cincinnatti, Ohio, where she will attend a meeting of the National Association of collegiate registrars. Registrars from all the larger colleges and universities over the U. S. will be at the meeting in Cincinnati.

Head Major Organizations For 1934-1935

Above are shown the young women to lead the various student activties at Farmville State Teachers College for the next year. Top row, left to right: Miss Helen Smith, Roanoke, president Y. W. C. A.; Miss Nelle Oakey Ryan, Shawsville, president house council; Miss Sarah Beck, Butterworth, president athletic association. Bottom row, left Miss Elizabeth Vassar, editor-in-chief of The Virginian; Miss Lelia Mattox, Altavista, editor-in-chief The Rotunda; Miss Jestine Cutshall, Roanoke, president of the student body.

Honor Societies Elect Ryan, Putney, Walton, Jacob, as Presidents

Nelle Oakey Ryan, Anne Putney Lila Jacob, and Elizabeth Walton hold the presiding offices for 1934-'35 in Alpha Kappa Gamma, Kappa Delta Pi, Sigma Phi Rho, and Alpha Phi Sigma respectively.

Other officers chosen at the regular meeting of these honor societies last week were: Alpha Kappa Gamma: vice-president, Meg Herndon; secretary, Sarah Beck; treasurer, Jestine Cutshall.

Kappa Delta Pi: vice-president, Carmen Clark; secretary, Katherine Coleman; treasurer, Maude Rhodes; reporter, Birdie Wooding.

Sigma Pi Rho: Birdie Wooding, vice-president; secretary Maude Rhodes; treasurer, Carmen Clark.

Alpha Phi Sigma:

1st vice-president, Agnes Bondurant; 2nd vice-president, Winnie Frances Eubank; third vice-president, Fannie Bosworth; secretary, Leonora Long; treasurer, Victoria Gillette; corresponding secretary, Virginia Payne; historian, Lila Jacob..

E. VASSAR ANNOUNCES STAFF OF 'VIRGINIAN'

The 1934-'35 staff for the "Virginian," completed during the past week, follows:

Editor, Elizabeth Vassar; assistant editor, Anne Irving; literary editor, Elizabeth Walton; assistant literary editor, Doris Coates; art editor, Janice White; assistant art editor, Mary Banks Sullivan; business manager, Lelia Sanford; assistant business manager, Margaret Clark; advertising manager, Meg Herndon; assistant advertising manager; Eli-

Continued on page 4

Westhampton Loses To Farmville Team

Dorothy Woolwine and Margaret Pollard, S. T. C. varsity debaters, won over Westhampton College in a debate held there Friday night, April 13.

The question for discussion was "Resolved: That the Powers of the President Be Substantially Increased As a Settled Policy." The affirmative side was upheld by Alice Turner and Nellie Stevenson of Westhampton College. Dorothy Woolwine and Margaret Pollard of Farmville supported the negative side. The negative argued that an increase in the presidents' powers would be unnecessary, dangerous and undemocratic. The affirmative based their argument on the following points: first, that an increase in president's power would be of national benefit. second, that there is no better way to remedy present conditions.

Mr. Garden Ambler, of Richmond, was the critic judge for the debate. He declared that it was one of the best debates he had ever listened to and said: "I have been told many times that women couldn't reason, but after hearing these debaters tonight, I'm convinced that such a statement is not true."

Mr .and Mrs. Holton accompanied the Farmville team. After the debate, the party attended a most interesting program presented by the Westhampton Glee Club. The debaters returned to Farmville on Friday night.

These girls represent the Varsity Debating Team of Pi Kappa Delta. They have debated twice this season and won both debates. The match with Westhampton ended the varsity debating for this year.

Jacque Morton Wins Honorable Mention In National Contest

Jacque oMrton, a senior has been given honorable mention in a Designer's Fashion contest sponsored by Marshall Field & Company of Chicago. Dr. Jarman recently received the following letter:

Dr. J. L. Jarman,
Virginia State Teachers College
Farmville, Va.
Dear Dr. Jarman:

We are happy to announce that the sketch-design submitted by Miss Jacque Morton, in our Young American Designers' Fashion Contest for College Girls has reecived honorable mention.

We wish to congratulate Virginia State Teachers College on being so splendidly represented in this nation wide contest that was conducted in 254 colleges and universities from coast to coast.

It will be of interest to you, no

Continued page 3, col. 4

Choir of College Goes To Blackstone

Forty-one members of the College choir will leave tomorrow, Thursday, April 19, at 6:30 p. m. for Blackstone College, where they will participate in a concert there tomorrow night.

The concert to be given at Blackstone College tomorrow night will be sponsored by the Blackstone Woman's Club in co-operation with the College.

The program will consist of a lecture on, "Music and Psychology," by Alfred H. Strick, and musical nuinbers by the college choir, Miss Irene Leake, Miss Elsie Carter, and President J. L. Jarman.

Fraternity Delegates Attend Conventions

Alpha Kappa Gamma and Sigma Pi Rho Send Representatives

CONVENTIONS IN N. C. & W. VA.

Two honorary fraternities in the College, Alpha Kappa Gamma and Sigma Pi Rho, will send delegates to respective national conventions in April and May.

The Joan Circle of Alpha Kappa Gamma is sending Nelle Oakey Ryan, newly elected president, Alice McKay, 1933-34 president, Mildred Gwaltney, and Jestine Cutshall to the national convention of Alpha Kappa Gamma, to be held April 20-21 at Queens-Chicora College Charlotte, N. C.

The delegates will motor to Charlotte Thursday morning with Miss Stubbs, who is the national executive secretary. They will spend Friday and Saturday nights in the college, and return here Sunday.

There will be general discussions and circle groups in which a member of each chapter will lead the discussion.

The chief speaker will be Miss Alma Edwards of Charlotte, whose topic is, "Liberal Art Education in the Present Day." Many social functions have been planned for the delegates. These include a tour of Charlotte, a progressive luncheon from sorority houses on Saturday afternoon, and a formal banquet Saturday night.

Sigma Pi Rho Trip

The national convention of Sigma Pi Rho, honor Latin fraternity, will be held on May 11 at Fairmont State Teachers College, Fairmont, W. Va. The local chapter will be represented by Lila Jacob, new president, Virginia Brinkley, and the other new officers, Maude Rhodes, Carmen Clark, and Birdie Wooding. The delegates will be accompanied by Dr. Walmsley, national counsellor, in whose car they are planning to make the trip. They will spend Friday and Saturday nights in the college, returning to Farmville on Sunday.

In the absence of Lois Cox, an alumna of S. T. C. and national vice-president her report will be read.

EDUCATORS TO SPEAK AT CONVENTION HERE

The Farmville district of the Cooperative Education Association, Virginia branch of the Parent-Teachers' Association, which will meet in the student building auditorium Friday, April 20, has included on the program, Dr. E. F. Fox, of Ashland; J. H. Montgomery, of the state department; J. A. Stanley, Cumberland high principal, and Mrs. Charles Lyman Brown, Farmville, a former member of the educational staff of the Child Study Association of America.

SCHEDULED PRACTICES FOR MAY DAY POSTED

The schedule for May Day practices through April 2 is posted on the May Day bulletin board. On Wednesday night, April 25, there will be one addition to the schedule. The moss dance, including the white rabbit, moss rabbits, Dum and Dee, Jester, cards, wickets, knave of hearts, mock turtle, gryphon, mad hatter dormouse, March hare, frogs, red and white queens, gardners, carpenter and walrus, will practice in the Rec. at 8:15.

On Thursday and Friday, April 26 and 27, there will be a mass rehearsal of May Day in the gymnasium at 7:30 o'clock.

Practices at Longwood will begin Monday, April 30.

THE ROTUNDA

Member Southern Inter-Collegiate Newspaper Association
Member Intercollegiate Press Association of Virginia

Published by Students of State Teachers College, Farmville, Va.

Entered as second class matter March 1, 1921, at the Postoffice of Farmville, Virginia, under Act of March 3, 1879.

Subscription ..... $1.50 per year

ROTUNDA STAFF

Lelia Mattox, '35 ..... Editor
Evelyn Massey, '36 . Associate Editor

Board of Editors

Amis Montgomery, '37 ..... News
Florence Sanford, '36 ..... Make-Up
Kathryn Cotten, '35
Mary Banks Sullivan, '36, Literary
Anne Putney, '35 ..... World News
Mary Hastings Holloway, '37 ..... Intercollegiate
Anne Diggs, '37 ..... Socials
Margaret Farrar, '37 ..... Features
Lelia Sanford, '36 ..... Sports

Assistants and Reporters

Elsie Cabell, '37.
Bess McGlothlin, '37.
Katharine Coleman, '35.
Bernice Jones, '37.
Birdie Wooding, '35.
Bonnie Lane, '37.

Proof Readers

Virginia Bean, '37.
Elizabeth Walton, '36.

Managers

Lena Mac Gardner, '35 ..... Business
Alva Sawyer, '35 ..... Asst. Business
Maude Rhodes, '35 ..... Circulation

TO OUR READERS

In succeeding the 1933-'34 Rotunda staff, we, the new staff, fully realize the stern responsibility of the position entrusted to us. In their work we have recognized ability and steadfastness. Despite the many difficulties which arose during their term of office, they proved themselves capable and faithful newspapermen.

And so, as we take up where they leave off, we wish to assure our readers that they can count on our doing all we can to make the Rotunda representative of the school and its activities.

It will be our policy to give aid to any measure which, we think, is best for the welfare of the college. Our Open Forum is for the expression of student opinion, and we hope that many students will use this means of constructively criticizing any practice or project which they think should be improved upon or abolished. We ask our readers to send letters of comment, criticism, and suggestion.

And now as we, the new staff, congratulate and say goodbye to the retiring staff, we look forward to a year of work and pleasure and earnestly hope that with the co-operation of the student body in the coming year we may be of profitable service to the school.

"SIXTY SECONDS WORTH OF DISTANCE RUN"

There are approximately seven more weeks before the end of another college year. These seven weeks will be crowded with May Day baseball, field and track, examinations and other school activities. There will be a part for everyone. And each student must do her best to use each hour to the best advantage. There is important work to be done and time is short.

The seniors have given up their offices, but they are still a vital part of the school. To us, this, their last quarter, will be the most memorable scholastic work of their college career, and during these last months they will, of course, continue their excellent work in supporting every activity for the good of the college.

Farmville is well known for its school spirit and high standard in activities. During the next few weeks this standard will be raised even higher if the students co-operate and work together, for only in this way can the best results be obtained.

AT OTHER COLLEGES

The "Glomerata," Auburn's yearbook, has a page devoted to a summary of the ideal girl. Auburn students say their ideal woman is blond, blue-eyed, about five feet three inches tall, and weighing around 109 pounds. She must be modern, not ultra modern or old-fashioned. She may or may not smoke, it doesn't matter, but she must not drink. For her, kisses are rewards, not idle emotional outbreaks. And to crown her glory, she combines about equally the traits of sincerity and unselfishness. Randolph-Macon College at Ashland agrees, saying, "In short, she is a great and shining star that is just about as unattainable as Jupiter—but even so she is nice to wonder about."

The Institute of Geographical Exploration at Harvard University performed a wonderful feat in making an air map of Massachusetts. This is the first state to be completely covered. The area of 8,039 square miles was the largest ever surveyed in this fashion.

The Economics Club at New Jersey College for Women has a bank run by its student members. It is open daily for undergraduates to make deposits, draw loans and cash checks. In this way women get first hand knowledge of the intricasies of banking.

English Lacrosse players are on a six weeks tour of the eastern part of the United States. They are internationally known players and coaches who will play at Vassar, Smith, Holyoke, and Sweet Briar, and also lecture on lacrosse and play exhibition games in this country. Lacrosse was first taught in this country at summer camps, and since the organization of the Women's United States Lacrosse Association, which is sponsoring the Englishwomen's tour, the popularity of the game has increased tremendously.

Traditions at Meredith College, Raleigh, are followed every year: The seniors arise early in the morning on May Day to sing and present a basket of flowers to their president. Especially unique is the ceremony held one night during commencement—a huge bonfire is made for the burning of the article which they have most disliked during their four years at Meredith!

A harrassed instructor's latest invention: At the University of British Columbia there is a punctuality machine that flashes a cheerful "Welcome to prompt students and a sarcastic "late again" to those who amble in late!

IS IT MAY DAY OR—?

1.Why does everybody keep telling McKay that she is in a wonderland? —(Is is because she's just got off government?).

2.—Wonder why Mrs. Fitzpatrick talks with Sue Yeaman and Elma Rawlings so much. (They must have something on their mind.)?

3.—What makes Nelle Ryan and Janice White talk about "croaking" all the time? (Are they trying to be frogs?')

4.—Who told Louise Walmsley she was an insect? (We hope it won't give her an inferior complex.)

5.—Why didn't Meg Herndon tell us she was a Queen of Hearts?—(Some girls have all the luck.)

6.—Wonder why everybody complains of being sore from dancing? (Our girls must be getting quite a rush.)

7.—What's this talk about Mary Shelton and Nancy Harrison being in court?—(Is some one suing them for breach of promise?)

8.—Why didn't "Grit" Parker get to be in May Day? (We think she's cute.)

Premier Mussolini has inaugurated a system of mass education by radio in all Italian schools, the radio lessons being broadcast from Rome and reaching even the most remote rural schools.

Let us have no pious platitudes about the end of relief.We're going to keep on providing relief—probably permanently—Raymond Moley.

CAMPUS COMMENTS

Athletic boys are all the rage this spring — especially high jumpers. Ask Frankie McDaniel and Kat Young.

"When the cat's away the mice will play." Among those playing "mousie" last week-end were Honey Hamilton, Chub Denit, Nancy Beard and Zilla Newson.

We sympathize with the sophomore who fears that like all Gaul, her Romeo's affections are divided into three parts—among her and her two sisters.

"Red" Riddick and "Clark Gable" seem to be putting it on strong. Although someone else bid, "Beckon," while Red was "on the lawn," Clark is still faithful to her.

WORLD NEWS

A Glance at Soviet Russia

"Are Russians women?" We were inclined to believe that they were not a few years ago. When the Communist government, in the first glow of victory, announced its intention of making over human nature—especially feminine recreation—it must have entertained a faint distrust of its powers over the Russian version of Eve. The women themselves, however, smashed their mirrors, threw away their cosmetics, and donned the khaki of a comrade in the U. S. S. R. At last the girls awoke to the fact that the girl who could lay the most railroad ties, was not, after all, the most charming of all women; then came the dawn—the pendulum swung back. The Soviet government, wise and understanding, has permitted the use of brilliant pomades and even supplies them. The rest follows today; the latest of Parisian fashion are meticulously copied in Moscow and it is rumored that a fashion magazine has its first issue in the making, ready to burst upon a spellbound public.

Recently, the woman head of the state cosmetic trust has been awarded that most prized decoration, the Order of Lenin. Small as this announcement it, it demonstrates the great truth that a woman's desire to dress and make herself as beautiful as she can with rouge, powder, cream and lipstick, is more forceful than powerful propaganda of the world's largest nation.

AMONG OUR CAPS AND GOWNS

SUE YEAMAN

There is no greater compliment that can be paid a person than to say she is both sincere and unselfish, and there is no one who deserves this compliment more than Sue Yeaman. These two characteristics are shown in everything she does. That's one reason we're so glad to have Sue as theme chairman of May Day for this year. We believe from past experiences that it will be a success.

During her freshman year Sue showed marked ability in music, dramatics and athletics. Her other three years here have added to the records she made as a freshman. As a senior, we find Sue president of the College Choir, a member of the executive board of Dramatic Club, and an outstanding varsity player in basketball. Her own class showed their appreciation of Sue when they elected her as their vice-presidnt and Student Government representative.

MARY BERKLEY NELSON

"Berk!" our pride and joy, because she holds each of us to our best. There are neither words enough to describe nor ways enough to reward her merits. She has entered whole-heartedly into her work and play. Her versatility has been proven by her honors. She is a member of Pi Gamma Mu, Alpha Phi Sigma and Alpha Sigma Alpha; she was secretary and vice-president of the Athletic Council; she served on Students Standard Committee, Freshman Commission and Freshman Advisory Board, and is a member of Le Cercle Francais, Cotillion Club and Pan-Hellenic Council.

Not only versatile, but true as steel sincere, independent, dependable, and gracious—in short—"Berk."

Continued page 4, col. 3

ALUMNAE NEWS

On Thursday night, April 12, the Culpeper chapter of the Farmville Alumnae entertained at a delightful dinner in the new Lord Culpeper Hotel. The program consisted of informal talks by the president and officers of the chapter and by the guests, Dr. Jarman, Miss Mary White Cox, Miss Pauline Camper, Miss Virginia Potts and Mr. S. L. Graham. Dr. Jarman told the group how much the entire administration and college had enjoyed the Founder's Day celebration and had appreciated all that was done to contribute to its success.

Interest in plans for the future was evinced and a report made of what the chapter had accomplished to date. Those present included: Mary Ruth Winn, Sarah Dinwiddie, Virginia Tinsley, Anna Minter, Mrs. Coleman, Pearl Aylor, Frances Coleman, Kate Perry, Mrs. Thompson, Alma Garlick, Mrs. Lucille Holton Williams, Elizabeth Norman and Mary Bolen. Mrs. Grace Freeman Huffman and Ruth Campbell had planned to be at the dinner but were unavoidably kept away.

Lucy Taylor Irving, daughter of Mrs. P. A. Irving and the late Dr. Irving and William Shepherd of Guinea Mills, were married Saturday afternoon, April 7, in Rockville, Md. and Mrs. Shepherd will make their home in Farmville.

Anne Elizabeth Lewis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Granville R. Lewis and Holcombe Adams Jones, all of Lynchburg were married in St. Paul's Episcopal Church on April 7. They will make their home in Hemphill, W. Va.

Pauline Aderholt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Aderholt will be married in June to Mr. Samuel Meredith Carmack.

Mrs. J. L. Bugg was in charge of a recent program for the U. D. C. meeting in Farmville the topic for which was, "Forty Years With the U. D. C." Of special interest was the article on "Social Division of Confederate Women," by Dr. Francis Butler Simkins of the college faculty.

OPEN FORUM

Dear Editor:

A joke is a joke! But it can be carried too far. We have fun playing tricks on someone else, but the other person should be considered. Some people can laugh when they find themselves in unusual predicaments, but others "can't take it."

To see someone act in an amusing way when fooled brings a laugh. But when one is sincerely embarrassed, the situation is very difficult. A joke on someone who can't take it" is no joke.

None of us is alike in either looks or in manners. We all have different personalities. Whatever the circumstances are, there is no excuse why we should delight in making the other fellow feel unreasonably uncomfortable and embarrassed before a crowd.

Girls, if you consider the situation reversed—you the victim and the other person the laughing "hero"—I'm sure you will cut out some of your playful pranks.

A Student

Dear Editor:

During the past part of this year it has not been uncommon to hear different members of the student body grumbling because there were no song books. We only need to be asked to sing and then the fuss begins. Surely this is evidence in itself that we will take good care of the new books which have just been distributed. Placing them in the racks with backs up — refraining from writing in them—not tearing the pages, are only a few of the many methods we might use.

If we fail in this undertaking, however, small it may seem, there is one and only one conclusion to be drawn. We are not really interested in the welfare and the preservation of the property of the school, but rather we enjoy and make the best of our opportunity to find fault. With this point in mind, let us be careful that we receive no accusation.

—A Student.

POETRY

"The Years at the Spring"—Browning

"A beautiful poem is like a violin low drawn across the fibres of our soul, setting not only the thoughts of the past but our own souls singing."
—Anatole France

MY GARDEN

A garden is a lonesome thing, God wot!
Rose plot,
Fringed pool,
Ferned grot—
The veriest school
Of peace; and yet the fool
Contends that God is not—
Not God! In gardens! When the eve cool?
Nay, but I have a sign;
'Tis very sure God walks in mine.

T. E. Brown

A TULIP GARDEN

Guarded within the old red wall's embrace,
Marshalled like soldiers in gay company,
The tulips stand arrayed. Here infantry
Wheels out into the sunlight. What bold grace
Let's off their tunic, white with crimson lace!
Here are platoons of gold-frocked cavalry,
With scarlet sabres tossing in the eye
Of purple batteries, every gun in place.
Forward they come, with flaunting colors spread,
With torches burning, stepping out in tune
To some quick, unheard march. Our ears are dead.
We cannot catch the tune. In pantomime
Parades that army. With our utmost powers
We hear the wind stream through a bed of flowers.

Amy Lowell

SONG

April, April,
Laugh thy girlish laughter;
Then, the moment after,
Weep thy girlish tears,
April, that mine ears
Like a lover greetest,
If I tell thee, sweetest,
All my hopes and fear.
April, April,
Laugh thy golden laughter,
But, the moment after,
Weep thy golden tears!

—Watson

AMENDS TO NATURE

I have loved colours, and not flowers;
Their motion, not the swallow's wings;
And wasted more than half my hours
Without the comradeship of things.

How is it, now, that I can see,
With love and wonder and delight,
The children of the hedge and tree,
The little lords of day and night?

How is it that I see the roads,
No longer with usurping eyes,
A twilight meeting-place for toads,
A mid-day mart for butterflies?

I feel, in every midge that hums,
Life, fugitive and infinite,
And suddenly the world becomes
A part of me and I of it.

—Symons

NIGHT

The queen of darkness reigns on high
A mystic phantom of obscurity,
And stealthily across the sky
She creeps triumphant in security.

Her arms unfold with loving care
And silently invest the noisy land.
A sweet caress she gives as fare
To those who willingly accept her hand.

V. A., '36

SOCIALS

Now that spring is here, each week-end brings forth a larger number of social happenings.

Nancy Harrison, Margaret Parker and Lelia Lovelace spent the week-end in Charlottesville, where they attended the medical dances. Nancy also went to Lawrenceville.

Kitty Bass, Winifred Goodman, Ann Irving, and Evelyn Knaub ventured to Lexington, where they attended the dances at Washington and Lee.

Richmond claimed a large portion of the Farmville State Teachers College girls over the week-end for Susie Webb, Burnley Brockenbrough, Margaret Herndon, Helen Shawen, Elizabeth Shipplett, Henrietta Salsbury, Rachel Joyner, Jean Willis, Tac Waters, Mary Berkeley Nelson, Amis Montgomery, Helen Conquest, Virginia Snodgrass, Nancy Cunningham, Mary Lee Powell, Martha Glenn Davis, Virginia Leonard, Mary Alice Farrell, and Victoria Gillette spent the week-end there. Dorothy Woolwine, and Margaret Pollard also went to Richmond, where they were victorious in winning a debate from Westhampton.

The following girls spent the week-end in Lynchburg: Margaret McNamara, Marion Layne, Lois Jenkins, Hilda Inge, Grace Bass, Grace and Alice Rowell.

Orange, Va., must have offered quite a treat over the week-end for Lelia Sanford, Wyclif Scott, Florence Sanford, Katherine Conway, and Jean Foote spent the week-end there.

Other girls who went away for the week-end were: Emma Bingham to Washington, D. C.; Evelyn Bernard to Gretna, Va.; Louise Briggs to Glen Allen, Edith Coffey to Concord; Jane Coulbourn to Waverly; Nancy Dodd to Chase City; Mary K. Denny to White Post; Frances Graham to Roanoke; Dorothy Glover to Arvonia; Iris Hart to Hampden-Sydney; Martha Higgins to Waverly; Lelia Hill to Doylesville; Edna Hatcher to Martinsville; Ruth Roberts to Crewe; Edwina Richards to Roanoke; Elma Rawlings to Lawrenceville; Mary Howard to Roanoke; Jessica Jones to Glen Allen; Frances Jamerson to Pamplin; Estelle Jones to Dillwyn; Ava Simmons to Gold Hill; Ellen Simmerman to Brookneal; Elizabeth Ranson to Dillwyn; Frances Johnson to Suffolk; Jeannette Jones to Dillwyn; Tallie Kent to Amhurst; Barbara Kester to Martinsville; Christine Seay to Dillwyn; Irwin Staples to Burkville; Mildred Slayton to Crewe; Freda Shields to Salem; Dorothy White to Bedford; Amanda Wilson to Forest; Ella Ware to Blacksburg; Evelyn Wilson to Durham, N. C.; Betsy Wilkinson to Salem; Elizabeth Kelly to Kenbridge; Belle Lovelace to South Boston; Ella Mallory to Lawrenceville; Frankie Minter to Pamplin; Emily Meadows to Roanoke; Madeline Martin to Critz; Mary McDearman to Pamplin; Louise McNulty to Salem, where she attended the Roanoke College dances; and Charlotte Young to Crewe.

PI KAPPA SIGS FETED AT SUPPER AND PICNIC

The Pi Kappa Sigma Sorority enjoyed a delicious supper on Sunday evening in the chapter room with Hazel Smith and Elizabeth Huse as hostesses.

The pledges of the sorority entertained the members on Wednesday afternoon at the cabin at Longwood, when a beautiful supply of food was enjoyed, consisting of sandwiches, hot dogs, Longwood buns and cocacolas.

ROTUNDA STAFF ENJOYS BANQUET IN TEA ROOM

The 1933-'34 Rotunda staff met for the last time on Friday evening, April 13, the scene of this gathering being the banquet hall of the tea room, rather than the publication office.

Following several remarks by Miss Jennings, guest of the staff, Mary Shelton, the retiring editor made her farewell address to the staff. After thanking the members for the box of candy they gave her, Mary congratulated them on their fine co-operation spirit during the past year and spoke of the pleasure she had gained through her work with them as editor of the Rotunda.

NIGHT LIFE AT S. T. C.

Night life at S. T. C. was very effectively portrayed by the members of the house council in sing Saturday night.

Elsie Truly and Frances Yester happily made candy while Ida Miller and Virginia Moses lay on the bed and lazily matched them. While making fun of the poor freshman who (they said) went to bed at 10:30, Elmer Foster (who assumed the role of president of the house council) came in to tell them "lights out." Against her half-hearted protests they dragged her in, and soon she was merrily eating with the others. Susan Gresham as a freshman, came in with a cake of Lifebuoy, asking if she could take a bath that late. Several suggestive remarks were made, a commotion was heard outside and, upon closer observation, it turned out to be Gay Steiffen practicing a tap dance. She tapped a novel number to, "You're Such a Comfort To Me," with Caroline Byrd and Dot Justice furnishing the music. Caroline Byrd sang "Three Little Pigs," a song which she said she had just heard Bing Crosby sing over the radio.

After another loud commotion, all the "night owls" trooped out to find new excitement.

TRAINING SCHOOL PUPILS ENTER LATIN CONTEST

Hampden-Sydney College was the center for Latin students in Southside Virginia, Saturday, April 7.

In the tournament held at Hampden-Sydney College from 10 to 1 o'clock Saturday the contestants from College High School were Dorothy Wright, of the second year, and Esther Atkinson of the first year.

The proceedings for the tournament were in the hands of Dr. Wilson, Greek professor at Hampden-Sydney, and the tests were given in his class room in MacIlwaine hall.

After the tests were completed the students and their teachers had lunch at the College Club. Coach Bernier provided them tickets for the baseball game played that afternoon in "Death Valley" between Hampden-Sydney and the Medical College.

A. A. INSTALLED

Continued from page one

from each wing to meet again at the center as they filed into place on either side of the platform.

Mr. Gardner with an earnest word of prayer led the student body with a beautifully simple dedication service. Mildred Gwaltney, the retiring president of the A. A. Council, who with her loyal, wisely discerning guidance has led the students through a very excellent year's work addressed a few remarks of appreciation to her efficient and faithful council, to the student body, and wished for her successors a splendid year in 1934.

Sarah Beck, the new president, took her oath of office from Mildred and then in turn installed each of her new officers and the managers of the sports for this coming year. As she finished, Mr. Gardner asked the blessing and guidance of the Heavenly Father upon the new year's leadership. Following the benediction, the old and new council left the auditorium in the manner in which they entered.

S. A. Legus

TAILOR

CLEANING

PRESSING

REPAIRING

Phone 203

C. E. Chappell

COMPANY

Stationery, Blank Books and School Supplies

Cigars, Cigarettes and Soda

Farmville, Virginia

YOU WOULD LOVE TO HAVE YOUR SHOES FIXED AT THE

Lovelace Shoe Shop

110 Third Street

RETIRING EDITOR

MARY SHELTON, who served as editor-in-chief of the 1933-'34 Rotunda.

Katherine Roberts Is "Miss Farmville"

Katherine Roberts, better known as "Kitty," was selected as "Miss Farmville" in the American Legion Beauty Pageant held in the Farmville High School Friday night.

Forty Farmville girls, sponsored by local merchants, entered the contest held in the high school auditorium Friday night. "Miss Farmville" was sponsored by Newman Chevrolet Sales Corporation, and Mrs. Margaret Cox, winner of the second place, by The Hub. A silver cup was awarded to Kitty Roberts.

Kitty Roberts, "Miss Farmville" will attend the American Legion State Convention in Lynchburg next September, where State representatives will be selected to go to Miami, Fla.

Kitty, a freshman here, has taken part in all phases of athletics, is a member of the Dramatic Club, and will appear in the May Court this spring. She was one of the princesses in the recent Mardi Gras celebration.

The awards were made by out of town judges, and poise determined the selections.

The proceeds from the pageant went to the Community Rest Room.

The Virginia Gamma Chapter of Pi Gamma Mu, Social Science Fraternity will initiate the following new members tonight:

Margaret Birdwell, Fay Little, Dorothy Prescott, Joyce Sturm, Dorothy White, Lottie Whitehurst.

RADIO HIGH LIGHTS FOR APRIL 18 TO 22

6:30—Harold Stern, WOR.
7:00—Myrt and Marge, WABC.
7:30—Armbruster Orch, WABC.
8:00—Jack Pearl, comedian, WEAF.
8:30—Wayne King, WEAF.
9:00—Nino Martini (Metropolitan tenor), WABC.
9:30—Guy Lombardo, WABC.
10:00—Vincent Lopez, WJZ.
10:30—Jack Denny, WJZ.

Thursday, April 19

6:30—Raginsky Orch, WABC.
7:15—Vincent Lopez, WJZ.
8:00—Rudy Valee, WEAF.
8:30—Concert Orch, WABC.
9:00—Show Boat Concert, WEAF.
9:30—Fred Waring, WABC.
10:00—Paul Whiteman, WEAF.

Friday, April 20

9:00—Abe Lyman Orch, WEAF.
9:15—Ruth Etting, WABC.
9:30—Phil Baker, WJZ.
10:30—Jack Benny, WEAF.
11:30—Vincent Lopez, WEAF.

Saturday, April 21

7:15—Pickens Sisters, WJZ.
7:45—Isham Jones, WABC.
9:00—Harold Stern, WJZ.
10:00—Rebroadcast from Byrd Expedition, WABC.
11:35—Paul Whiteman, WJZ.

JACQUE MORTON WINS HONORABLE MENTION

Continued from page one

doubt, to know that the sketch-designs of the college girl winners were selected by a jury of prominent fashion authorities from literally thousands of sketches that poured in from every part of the country.

We wish to express our appreciation to your faculty and students for their interest and cooperation during this contest which was launched in a spirit of adventure and has succeeded in uncovering a great deal of interesting "native" talent.

On the whole the contestants displayed a sparkling originality and a genuinely American feeling that gave zest to the judging. It is the hope of those who conducted the contest that these fledgling young American designers will be spurred on by this auspicious beginning.

Marshall Field & Company

Kleanwell

CLEANERS AND TAILORS

Expert Cleaning, Repairing and Remodeling of Ladies Garments

Main Street, Opposite Postoffice

PHONE 98

DOROTHY MAY STORES
Easter Apparel Headquarters!

Millinery with that Expensive Look—$1.85 and $2.85
Gorgeous Suits.....$9.45 and $16.50

Dresses—Sunday night dance frocks and Sport $5.45 and $7.45

THE DOROTHY MAY STORE

First to show the Newest!

SPRING IS HERE!

We have your needs in the newest Spring styles of ready-to-wear millinary, shoes, hose and accessories.

DAVIDSON'S

EACO THEATRE

PROGRAM APRIL 18 to 25

Wednesday and Thursday, April 18-19

Sally Rand
(The Fan Dancer)
GEO. RAFT—CAROLE LOMBARD
George Raft
Carole Lombard
In
"BOLERO"
Wed.—Chapt. 3, "Pirate Treasure"

Friday, April 20
PERT KELTON
Jimmy Gleason—Zazu Pitts
El Brendel
In
"THE MEANEST GAL IN TOWN"

Five great funsters in a red flannel romance that will keep you in stitches and make you swallow your spearmint. A love romance of slickers and slackers in a small town. Crushed—and by a hussy—the truest heart that e'er did beat for a one-chair barber. Don't miss this scream.

Fox News and Last Chapter
"TARZAN THE FEARLESS"

Sat., April 21—One Day Only!
One Day Only!
Frederic March
Sylvia Sydney
In
"GOOD DAME"

He was used to having his own way with women, but for once his "will" power wasn't as strong as her "won't" power. He was an expert in handling women but didn't know what to do with a girl who refused to be handled. She was an angel but he played the devil with her heart. All because he fell for the kind of girl men don't forget. No matter what the role, Frederic March is always excellent.

Also last Chapter
"TARZAN THE FEARLESS"

Next Monday and Tuesday, April 23 and 24
John Boles
"Pat" Patterson
Spencer Tracy
"BOTTOMS UP"
"In the Musical Romance.

Totally different from anything that has gone before; rocking you with its comedy while it tugs at your heart. Swaying you with its song hits while it pounds at your pulse. The sadder you are the happier you get. A love story with laughter and music by the producers of "Sunny Side Up." There will be a laugh on your lips and a song in your heart when you leave the theatre. Wait until you hear these songs: "Turn On the Moon," "Little Did I Dream," "Waiting at the Gate for Katy," and "I'm Throwing My Love Away." Also screen song.

"The Owl and the Pussycat."
Metro News
Adults, 25c at Mats., 35c at Nights

Next Wed., April 25
Zazu Pitts
Pert Kelton
Edward Evertt Horton
Nat Pendleton
In
"SING AND LIKE IT"

No kidding. This is one of the funniest comedies let loose in years. Without the perfect direction, the screamingly hilarious dialogue and the flawless cast it could have been a swell flop, but it just happens to have that happy combination of state, brains and wit that raises comedy to high art.

Also Chapter 4,
"PIRATE TREASURE"
And Comedy

Daily matinees at 4 P. M. Evenings at 8 P. M.

Adults, 20c at Matinees, and 25c at nights; except on percentage pictures. We hope an increased attendance will permit us to continue these prices.

Athletic Association Institutes La Crosse

Lacrosse, a game fast becoming popular in other colleges, is soon to be started here.

Thursday, eight representatives of S. T. C. went to Lynchburg with Dr. Walmsley and Miss Iler to observe an exhibition lacrosse game there. Those who went were: Mary Lib Slater, Nannie Lauth Cooper, Frances Horton, Frankie McDaniel, Mary Bowles, Roomie Gwaltney, Sarah Beck and Belle Wallace.

Those who saw the game reported it very interesting and are looking forward to playing it. As soon as the equipment arrives, lacrosse will begin here. Mary Lib Slater is to be the manager.

The exhibition game was played between two teams of 10 players each, the blues and the greens. There are few rules in the game and a player is seldom put out for fouling. The object of the game is to get the ball in the opponent's goal. This is done with the crosses which are net baskets or cradles on long handles. The ball, which resembles a tennis ball, is caught in the crosses and thrown towards the goal. A player tries to knock the ball from her opponent's crosse or to catch it before it reaches the goal. The ball is never touched by hand.

In the exhibition game at Sweetbrier, the blues won after two exciting halfs had been played.

INTRAMURAL TEAMS TO DECIDE CHAMPIONSHIP

The inter-class volley ball games have been postponed until Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of next week. The games will be played off in a Round Robin Tournament, each team meeting every other team in one match.

Four capable captains were elected by their respective squads on Monday afternoon. They are: Freshmen, Mary Lena Anderson; sophomore, Elizabeth Billings; junior, Audrey Mattox; senior, Frances Horton.

The first game is scheduled for 4 o'clock on Monday.

BASEBALL WILL DECIDE WINNER OF COLOR CUP

Baseball, the final sport of the year will probably determine the winner of the color cup. Show your class spirit by supporting your team. It matters not how you swing the bat, just send the ball through the air while you make the circuit of the diamond. Another point made by you may win for your colors the victory. Let us see you at practices every afternoon at four o'clock.

E. VASSAR ANNOUNCES VIRGINIAN STAFF

Continued from page one

Elizabeth Shipplett; photographic manager, Agnes Crockett; assistant photographic manager, Martha Barber; typist, Virginia Leonard.

Work began Monday night when the new staff held its first meeting.

Mr. McCorkle is the business adviser, Miss Jennings the literary adviser, and Miss Bedford the art advisor of the new "Virginian" staff.

FROM OLD ROTUNDAS

April 18, 1925

The Virginian staff announces that the annual will be completed by the first of May, and deliveries will be made as soon as the money has been collected.

Spring elections are completed on April 16.

March 28, 1925

The Jongleurs of Hampden-Sydney presented "Seventeen" on March 20 in the S. T. C. auditorium. With A. L. Tynes and C. W. Kernan leading the cast, the play was a decided success.

The student body rejoices with Miss Moran that she was able to leave the hospital last Monday and hopes she will be back in school very soon. She has been missed a great deal, despite the fact that her classes have been ably taken care of by Misses Craddock and Waters.

CALENDAR

Wednesday, April 18

5:00—Y. W. C. A. Cabinet.
7:00—Rotunda Staff.
7:30—Pi Gamma Mu.
8:30—Pi Kappa Delta.

Thursday, April 19

7:00—Dramatic Club.

Friday, April 20

7:00—Monogram Club.
Gamma Psi.
8:00—Sigma Pi Rho.

Monday, April 23

7:00—Virginia Staff.
Athletic Association.

Tuesday, April 24

7:00—Classes.
10:00—Council.

LATIN CLUB HOLDS ELECTION OF OFFICERS

At the regular monthly meeting of Sodalitas Latina held on Wednesday, April 11, at 4:45, in the language room, officers for the session, 1934-'35, were elected as follows: President, Margaret Pollard; vice-president, Doris Moore; secretary, Katherine Adams; treasurer, Jeanette Jones; reporter, Katherine Coleman; pianist, Elizabeth Shipplett.

These girls have shown special interest and ability in the study of Latin, and were well chosen to fill their offices. Margaret Pollard, a member of next year's junior class, has membership in Alpha Phi Sigma, Pi Kappa Delta, Debate Club, Dramatic Club, and was for the past term vice-president of Sodalitas Latina. Under her leadership the club is expecting to accomplish much.

The following Tributum staff was also elected at that time: Editor, Maude Rhodes; assistant editor, Carmen Clark; literary editor, Lila Jacob; business manager, Virginia Acworth; assistant business manager, Katherine Milby; typist, Elizabeth Vassar.

At the conclusion of the business session, a very interesting program on mythology was given, consisting of a talk on "Icarius," by Doris Moore; another on "Orpheus and His Lute," by Claudine O'Brien; and a third on "Ceres and Prosperie," by Virginia Acworth.

MISS BISHOP

By Bess Streeter Aldrich

"Miss Bishop," a touchingly human story, traces the life of an idealistic, unselfish and courageous woman.

Wearing the changing ways of life from 1870 to the present day, the novel has plenty of action and plenty of tragedy.

The story is two-fold—the life of Ella Bishop, the teacher, and Ella Bishop, the woman. As a teacher, her influence is diffused through the years over group after group at Midwestern College. As a woman, we see her often pathetic struggle to make real her romantic dreams of love. She meets her ideal, but he deserts her for her cousin—a Becky Sharp type of girl. Still another figure comes into her life, but death snatches him. As the years pass by, a relentless fate pursues Miss Bishop. However, in making sacrifices lies her happiness.

This book should prove a source of inspiration to all who read it, especially to teachers or prospective teachers.

"Acts may be forgiven: not even God can forgive the hanger backs."
—Stevenson.

The Debate Club has elected the following new officers for next year: President, Margaret Pollard; vice-president, Grace Collins; secretary, Catherine Crews; treasurer, Sue Waldo.

Electric Shoe Shop

Will Fix Your Shoes While You Wait

BEST WORKMANSHIP AND LEATHER USED

RICE'S SHOE STORE

Street and Dress Shoes

Dancing Slippers Dyed

Correct fits our speciality

MEETING OF DE-HO-EC CLUB HELD APRIL 12

The De-Ho-Ec Club had its regular monthly meeting on April 12.

The election of officers for the coming year was held and the following were elected:

President, Elizabeth Ware; vice-president, Bobby Saunders; secretary, Agnes Crockett; treasurer, Virginia Tilman; reporter, Zaida Thomas.

AMONG OUR CAPS AND GOWNS

Continued from page two

FRANCES HORTON

No one else has shown us the real meaning of good sportsmanship more than "Horton." Since she first entered school here, Horton has gone out for all kinds of athletics. She has played in practically all the class games in every sports, and in doing so has certainly given us a fine picture of good sportsmanship. In her sophomore year Horton was elected captain of the class volley ball team. Again this last year the class showed their dependence and faith in Horton by making her class treasurer.

Horton has also done fine work on the Rotunda staff, in the Y. W. C. A. and Dramatic Club. She served very capably as assistant circulation manager of the Rotunda; on both the Membership and World Fellowship Committees of the Y. W. C. A., and on the Lighting Group of the Dramatic Club.

Hats off to a good sport, a dependable worker, and a fine friend —that's Horton.

NANCY HARRISON

Nancy has distinguished herself in almost every phase of college life. She is president of the Dramatic Club, and has shown versatile talent and ability as an actress, having taken a surprising variety of roles in the school productions. Her argumentative powers have been clearly demonstrated by her work in the Debate Club and in recognition of this Nancy is a member of Pi Kappa Delta.

She has been elected to the May Court every year. She is also Freshman Councilor this year. Among other things Nancy is a member of Sigma Sigma Sigma sorority, College Choir, Le Cercle Francais, Cotillion Club, and the Artists Dance Group.

The campus will miss her charm and personality, and the music, dramatics, and debating clubs will lose one of their most worthy members at the graduation of Nancy Harrison.

Summer Employment Solved

Student representatives to distribute educational literature. Three months' steady work. Local or traveling. Liberal compensation. Address College Dept., 1006 Arch L., Philadelphia.

Weyanoke

BEAUTY SALON
A Complete Beauty Service At Moderate Prices
What we have done for others we can do for you
WEYANOKE HOTEL
Farmville Va.

Y. W. C. A. NOTES

On Thursday night, April 12, the new Y. W. C. A. cabinet was installed in a beautiful and impressive ceremony. As we looked at each girl lighting her candle from the one of an out-going member, we knew that she was an in-coming member who had been appointed on the cabinet, because she had measured up to an ideal list of requirements.

Helen Smith, president of the Y. W. C. A., said in her talk: "It is through the members of the cabinet and their various positions in the association that we get our spiritual life on the campus."

Many of the little programs, such as: sing, prayers and morning watch, that we enjoy around school have been made possible through a considerable amount of work done by some member of the cabinet.

"A job in the Y. W. C. A. is a responsibility as well as an honor. In asking a girl to serve on the cabinet it is made clear that the office will require time, attention ahead of all other extra-curricula activities, personal concern about religion, and willingness to grow. She has some conception of the opportunity for fellowship and the working out of a full and creative life."

A Y. W. cabinet member to be a success must be reliable, dependable, sincere, and willing. She also knows how to work with people is a good sport, and has faith in the ability of other people.

With every girl measuring up to these high standards, we are assured of a most successful year in Y. W. C. A. work.

Mack's

BARBER AND BEAUTY SHOP
323 Main Street

We use the Frederick Method

Hair Cutting and Thinning a Specialty

WILLIS
The Florist

FLOWERS FOR ALL OCCASIONS

PHONES 181-273

A. C. E. PROGRAM BASED ON PRIMARY LITERATURE

The A. C. E. at its regular monthly meeting, April 12, at seven o'clock in the student building lounge, based its program on the book, "The Teaching of Children's Literature," written by Miss Foster, Miss Mix and Miss Penny. The program was as follows:

"The Value of Literature to the Child", Mary L. McNulty.

"Poetry and Its Uses," Burnley Brockenbraugh.

"Poems and Ways of Presenting Them," Marjorie Booton.

"Folk Tales and Realistic Tales," Claudia Barleon.

"Myths and Fairy Stories," Crenshaw Jones.

"How to Study Poetry," Virginia Riddick.

At the meeting the association learned the song which was written by Adele Hutchenson for this organization.

A short business meeting was held after the program and officers were elected for 1934-35. They are: Christine Childrey, president; Crenshaw Jones, vice-president; Audrey Mattox, secretary, and Lena MacGardner was re-elected treasurer.

Martin JEWELER

Gifts of Lasting Remembrance

317 Main St. Farmville

SouthsideDrugStore

(On the Corner)

Films Developed

FREE

If bought at this store

Shannon's

Is H[illegible]arters for the Best SANDWICHES
—and—
DRINKS
—in—
FARMVILLE!

THE HUB
Headquarters For Sport Shoes

White—in the new cut-out sandals, pumps and ties. Brown & White, Black & White and Solid White—Black, Blue and Grey. All widths and sizes. Prices from $1.95 to $5.00.

COME IN AND LET US SHOW YOU THE NEWEST IN FOOTWEAR!

THE HUB DEPARTMENT STORE
"Farmville Best Place to Shop"

GET A B. A. DEGREE

Here, B. A., Means (Baldwin Apparel)

You can be a style leader as well as a group leader when you wear clothes from BALDWIN'S.

See the new hats, shoes, dresses for summer wear. You can easily shop here without having to wire dad to send extra money.

Visit the Style Shop for Ladies

BALDWIN'S

Quality—Price—Service

G. F. Butcher

High Street

"The Convenient Store"

FOR GOOD

THINGS TO EAT AND DRINK

Gray's Drug Store

QUALITY—PRICE—SERVICE

Come In and Get Acquainted

We Are Glad to Have You With Us!

Farmville, Virginia

LET'S WORK ON MAY DAY!

THE ROTUNDA

COME OUT FOR LA CROSSE

We Teach To Teach

Volume XIV | THE ROTUNDA, WEDNESDAY, APRIL 25, 1934 | No. 25

Delegates Represent Alpha Kappa Gamma At Queens-Chicora

National Leadership Fraternity Meets In Farmville Next Year

MISS STUBBS LEAD DISCUSSION

Nelle Oakey Ryan, Alice McKay, Mildred Gwaltney and Jestine Cutshall, members of the Joan Circle of Alpha Kappa Gamma, represented the local chapter at its national convention held at Queen-Chicora College, Charlotte, N. C., April 20-21.

Miss Stubbs led a discussion Friday morning at a business meeting on "Problems of Individual Circles." Following this, delegates to the convention were invited to attend the imitation of eight new members of the Queens-Chiora Chapter of Alpha Kappa Gamma.

Friday evening at six o'clock the delegates were entertained at a banquet in the S. N. W. cafeteria, and later attended a theatre party.

Saturday morning's program was opened with a business meeting and further group discussions, including "The Challenge of Choosing and Discovering Alpha Kappa Gamma members in the making led by University of S. C.; "Aims" for next year; "What We Do With Our Ideals," led by S.-T.-C., Farmville; "The Place of Alpha Kappa Gamma in our college campuses," led by Queen-Chicora College.

An interesting feature of the convention was the student's day chapel exercise, sponsored by the honor society in English.

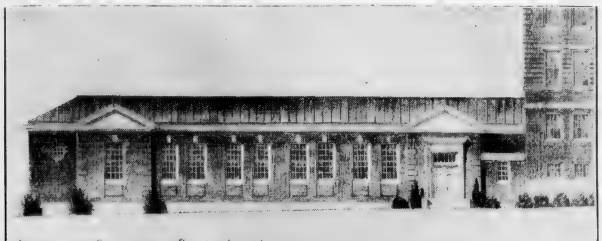
The Day Students served luncheon on Saturday.

Continued on page 4, column 2

Government Class Goes To Washington Thurs.

The eleven members of Dr. Walmsley's government class will leave tomorrow morning at 5:30 for Washington, D. C., where they will spend the day sight-seeing and in Congress.

The first stop that the party will make will be at Mount Vernon. Proceeding to the Nation's Capital, they will spend one hour in the Senate and one hour in the House of Representatives observing the workings of the government. From there they will make a tour of the city, visiting the Tidal Basin where the cherry blossoms are in full bloom, the Lincoln Memorial; and the Congressional Library.



The class, with Dr. Walmsley and Miss Peck, who is also making the trip, will return to the college late tomorrow.

Girls Explore "The Land of the Looking Glass" In Preparation of Grotesque May Day Costumes

It may be a bit perplexing to others but these lassies have great plans for the near future and are working with fine spirit toward their goal. One would think that the good old days of the Klux Klan had returned should he look into certain of the S. T. C. dormitories and see the yards and yards of white material pillowing our tables and beds, but if he should ask a question from out of the deeps a voice would answer "costumes."

Many nimble needles are flying busily in and out creating that atmosphere which on May 5 will so delightfully please those who assemble to see Alice skipping merrily about in her wonderland. The dancers who will entertain Alice and her court have spent many hours in careful preparation. Now that the time draws near when all shall join in the Farmville annual May Day frolic those of the light fantastic toes are exhibiting an equal skill in a more domestic art. The dances of this year, marked in their variety and unique development, have been carefully and in some instances quite elaborately costumed. It is felt that the program will be unusually interesting and entertaining. The grotesque, amusing characters which have so vividly held the imagination of childhood will live again in all their realness within the wooded dell at Longwood on Saturday, May 5.

INDOOR POOL BEING BUILT HERE

Architect's drawing of the $40,000 indoor swim ming pool which was started last week by C. W. Hancock and Sons, general contractors of Lynch burg. Photo shows how pool will connect with the gymnasium.

Students Will Attend Academy of Science

The Virginia Academy of Science will meet at Harrisonburg on May 4, and 5. The meeting place of the Academy was changed from Winchester to Harrisonburg because the date of the Apple Blossom Festival coincided with that of the Academy.

Dr. Wm. A. Kepner, the new president, from the University of Virginia will preside. This year's session of the Academy will have represented a number of Science Departments. Among them will be the department of biology, department of chemistry, department of physics and the department of mathematics.

Farmville girls are planning to attend the Academy of Science this year.

COLLEGE CHOIR GIVES BLACKSTONE CONCERT

The College Choir gave a concert in the auditorium of Blackstone College Thursday, April 19, at 8 p. m.

The opening feature of the program consisted of selections by the College Choir, followed by a solo by Miss Elsie Carter. After these selections Richmond Seay, member of the Blackstone faculty, introduced Alfred H. Strick who delivered a lecture on "Music and Psychology."

Miss Tyner, vocal teacher at Blackstone and a former pupil of A. H. Strick, accompanied on the pianos by Swann, rendered two solos. President J. L. Jarman sang "Tommy Lad" and "Invictus" and as an encore, "Keep On Hoping." Miss Elsie Carter, substituting for Miss Irene Leake, sang two solos.

May Day Rehearsals Continue In Earnest

Final practices for the annual May Day festival are beginning in earnest. The theme for this year, adapted from Lewis Carroll's beloved "Alice in Wonderland" and "Through the Looking-Glass," has been developed into a pageant which promise to be one of the loveliest ever presented by the college. The May Day committee, in presenting this theme, is seeking to present, not a May Day pageant of any country, but to present a picture which will be enjoyed because of its sheer beauty and loveliness. This year's pageant will be of peculiar interest to children as wel las to adults.

The Story In Brief

The festival opens with a mass rabbit dance, after which Alice and her sister appear—Alice as an impatient little girl who grows drowsy while her sister is reading and who finally falls asleep beside the spring. Alice's wonderful dream then begins with the entrance of the Dream-Fairies. The Sunflower (maid of honor) and the White Rabbit are among the first of the important characters whom Alice meets at the beginning of her adventures. She also meets the characters Dum and

Continued on page 4, Column 3

Schedule of Final May Day Practices

Wednesday, April 25—7:30 p. m.
mass rehearsal—gymnasium.
Thursday, April 26—7:30 p. m.
Mass rehearsal—gymnasium.
Monday, April 30—2 p. m.
Mass rehearsal—Longwood.
Tuesday, May 1—2 p. m.
Mass rehearsal—Longwood.
Wednesday, May 2—4 p. m.
Mass rehearsal—Longwood.
Thursday, May 3—4 p. m.
Mass rehearsal—Longwood.
Friday, May 4—7:30 p. m.
Mass rehearsal—gymnasium.

Note: Trucks taking girls to Longwood for afternoon practices will leave for the side door of the gym (colonnade exit) at 2 p. m. Students who do not have 3 o'clock classes on May 2nd and 3rd will go to Longwood during the 3 o'clock hour; those who have 3 o'clock classes will leave for Longwood at 3:50 p m. In case of bad weather on either of the days on which a practice at Longwood is scheduled, practices will be held in the gym at night, and all will practice at Longwood on Friday afternoon

For further schedule see May Day bulletin board.

Dr. Wolmsley Begins WRVA Historical Talks

Dr. Walmsley, professor of history here, gave a very interesting and educational talk over WRVA, Thursday, April 19, at 4:30 o'clock.

Dr. Walmsley's subject was "Lexington and Concord". This was the beginning of a series of talks which

Dr. Walmsley began his talk with over WRVA concerning some outstanding event. The date for his next talk has not been set.

Dr. Walmsleyk began his talk with the eloquent lives.

"Here the embattled farmers stood
And heard the shot heard round the world."

He concluded with these words—On that eventful day, April 19, 1775, two civilizations fought in their courses, two worlds, a new and old, faced each other men equally brave, equally patriotic, fought and died on each side. Today we join, as all true men do, in commemorating bravery and honoring loyalty, regardless of the flag under which it is found: we erect our joint monuments to the victor and to the vanquished at Quebec and at Appomattox."

F. SANFORD CHOOSES ASSISTING COMMITTEE

Florence Sanford has been chosen as chairman of the chapel committee to succeed Nell Oakey Ryan, the former chairman.

Florence's duty is to choose a committee of eight reliable girls to check on the chapel seats every morning. She also aids in checking off excused chapel absences. The

(Continued on page 2)

Construction Begins On Proposed Indoor Brick and Tile Pool

Contract Awarded to Lynchburg Company at Approximate Cost of $40,000

5 MONTHS ALLOWED FOR WORK

Construction of the proposed indoor swimming pool located between the gymnasium and the athletic field, began Monday, April 16. The contract was awarded to C. W. Hancock and Sons, Lynchburg, at the approximate cost of $40,000. The heating, chlorinating, and circulating units, which will be of the latest types, are to be installed by the Ideal Heating Company of Roanoke.

Plans for the pool were made by Fry and Stone of Roanoke, who were architects for the more recent college buildings. The building will be 50 by 108 feet and the pool 35 by 70 feet, of varying depth, with a spoon bottom. Plans show the building of brick and tile with wainscoting of enameled brick.

Entrances to the balcony will lead from the street and the gymnasium. The pool may be entered only through an arcade from the shower room.

Dirt from the excavation will be used for a retaining wall around the athletic field. This will add several yards to the length and width of the field.

Construction of the pool was made possible by a loan from the federal emergency administration of public works in Washington. The project provides work for 24 men for five months.

Chairman Summarizes Work of Committee

The Student Standards Committee, one of the connecting links between the faculty and the student body, has, according to the report of the committee chairman, promoted the following projects this year.

The attempt to cut down the over-organization of the college activities led to the abolishment of the Cunningham and Ruffner Literary Societies. The need for these two societies has been adequately filled by the Debate Club and the national honor societies on the campus.

The Student Standards Committee appointed a committee to schedule all activities for the year. A social calendar was pasted on the bulletin board and put in the Rotunda each week.

The need of a wider reading of

Continued on page 4, Column 1

Retrospect Brings Cheering Thoughts Of Year's Notable Accomplishments

The school term is nearing its close, and the other day while musing over this thought, we fell to thinking of what had happened during the year and were suddenly struck with the fact that S. T. C. has "done itself proud." Many notable things have been accomplished.

First, that biggest accomplishment of all S. T. C.'s Fiftieth Anniversary which was celebrated for three days beginning the 9th of March. What a happy time that was, the celebration of half a century of service! We must thank Dr. Jarman, Miss Mary, the faculty and our own student body for making possible the never - to - be - forgotten occasion, which we can look back to with pride and joy that we had a share in it.

We also have the happy realization that our swimming pool is well on its way, and will be completed by the middle of the summer. This will mean the addition of a new, handsome building to our campus, and also will be a source of pleasure and healthful exercise to us in the future. We are deeply endebted for this to Dr. Jarman who through his ceaseless and untiring efforts has made this possible.

To our athletic equipment also has been added three new tennis courts, which are certainly an improvement.

Have you noticed how fresh and shining every thing looks? Several buildings on the campus have been painted. The campus, too, looks lovely these spring days. The grass is smooth, velvety, and close-clipped. Nobly we decided to heed the plea to keep off the grass. The shrubberies are looking beautiful and so is that georgeous bed of vari-colored tulips near the outside door of the tea-room.

THE ROTUNDA

Member Southern Inter-Collegiate Newspaper Association
Member Intercollegiate Press Association of Virginia

Newspaper — National Scholastic Press Association — Member

Published by Students of State Teachers College, Farmville, Va.

Entered as second class matter March 1, 1921, at the Postoffice of Farmville, Virginia, under Act of March 3, 1879.

Subscription ..... $1.50 per year

ROTUNDA STAFF

Lelia Mattox, '35.....Editor
Evelyn Massey, '36..Associate Editor

Board of Editors

Amis Montgomery, '37.....News
Florence Sanford, '36.....Make-Up
Kathryn Cotten, '35
Mary Banks Sullivan, '36, Literary
Anne Putney, '35.....World News
Mary Hastings Holloway, 37
.....Intercollegiate
Anne Diggs, '37.....Socials
Margaret Farrar, '37.....Features
Lelia Sanford, '36.....Sports

Proof Readers

Virginia Bean, '37.
Elizabeth Walton, '36.

Managers

Lena Mac Gardner, '35.....Business
Alva Sawyer, '35.....Asst. Business
Maude Rhodes, '35.....Circulation
Miss Virginia Potts.....Alumnae

Assistants and Reporters

Elsie Cabell, '37.
Bess McGlothlin, '37.
Katharine Coleman, '35.
Bernice Jones, '37.
Birdie Wooding, '35.
Bonnie Lane, '37.
Laeta Barham, '35.

MISS MUNOZ

In the death of Miss Christine E. Munoz the state of Virginia has lost a most devoted and efficient member of her teaching staff and the State Teachers College a loyal friend and ex-faculty member.

In the fall of 1913 Miss Munoz entered upon her duties here as head of the department of music and for ten years gave her whole time and attention to the work that she loved as few teachers love their profession.

Under her guidance the department of music was strengthened and its interests broadened. Miss Munoz trained our first college orchestra and presented our first pageants; she was a genius in her ability to make the most of the materials at hand and some of her presentations with the Glee Club were very lovely and a great credit to the institution. She inspired her students with a measure of her great enthusiasm.

Miss Munoz had many friends in the town as well as in the college; genial and kindly of manner, she won her way into many hearts. At the end of ten years of service here she accepted a position as supervisor of music in the schools of Alexandria, Virginia, which position she held until her death on April 16. She is survived by a brother, several sisters, and two adopted daughters: Mrs. Harriet Munoz Riddle of Washington, D. C., and Miss Christine Munoz of Alexandria, Va.

TENNIS

Hurray! the tennis courts are again seen to be slightly inhabited. Three new courts in comparatively god shape should be. For quite a lengthy spell the tennis fans have abused the college for not offering them courts for their sport. Now that the school has given us six, let us not fail to take advantage of them. All our courts need to remain in condition is the continuous running and tramping of properly-shod feet on them. Out of a student body of nearly seven hundred there surely must be enough girls interested in the game to help the A. A. and Mr. Graham by participating.

Tennis is a great sport—a universal one. It may be that not enough emphasis has been placed on its advantages here at Farmville. Certainly some of these girls who are bored in their rooms and in Shannon's every afternoon, would enjoy a frolic on the new courts. Not only would they enjoy it, but they would become much healthier and fresher people, having been in the open air for several hours. The game is one of the cleanest and most recreative of our sports. And with a little practice everyday one can acquire quite a few tricky strokes which is all that is required to become a full-fledged player.

Why not try it, young damsels, in the bright spring days? Sincere enjoyment is guaranteed.

SWEET MUSIC!

New red hymn books! What a pleasant surprise last Tuesday in chapel and two pianos playing together!

After we had all wandered in and the chord was struck everybody stood up (which was quite unusual) and sang (something rather out of the ordinary). Imagine (if you can) nearly 600 girls each trying to outsing the other, with two pianos going strong. Sweet music? But it really sounded better the second day when we surprised Dr. Jarman with that old favorite, "What's the Matter with Jarman? He's all right."

Our singing in chapel has been done rather half-heartedly up to now, but now with our hymn books we sing like the birdies and offer another vote of thanks to Dr. Jarman.

AMONG OUR CAPS AND GOWNS

VIRGINIA BRINKLEY

Outstanding in many ways, Virginia Brinkley will be remembered, and she will be missed by all of us next year.

For four years, "Brink" has been a leader here at S. T. C. She has been active in Sigma Pi Rho, in Beta Pi Theta, in Alpha Phi Sigma, and on the Student Council as well as on both the Rotunda and Virginian staffs. This year she was business manager of the annual and vice-president of the student body. Also, "Brink" is a member of the Cotillion Club and of Zeta Tau. Kappa Delta Pi has recognized her high scholarship, and Alpha Kappa Gamma has recognized her leadership on our campus.

We all know her friendliness and love her for it; and we recognize, at least to a small degree, just how well she has served S. T. C.

ALICE ROWELL

Always cheerful, always happy, Alice, one of the Rowell twins, has certainly done her share in achieving the splendid record which both are leaving behind. She has served faithfully and successfully as president of Kappa Delta Pi and has also served on the Rotunda Staff.

She is second honor graduate of her class and is, with her sister Grace, representing S. T. C. at the Winchester apple blossom festival.

Alice is a member of Zeta Tau Sorority, Pi Gamma Mu, Alpha Phi Sigma, Gamma Psi, Debate Club, and Artist Dance Group.

We are proud to send from our college such a capable and attractive girl, for we know she has the qualities and personality to win sucess wherever she goes.

GRACE ROWELL

Will it be apple blossoms or orange blossoms? Well, just at present it's apple blossoms, for Grace and Alice have the double honor of representing the college this year at the Winchester Apple Blossom Festival.

"Where you see one, you'll see the other, does not hold true for these two, for Grace has been most active in Y. W. work. She was chairman of the World Fellowship Committee during her sophomore and senior years.

Zeta Tau sorority claims her as a member, and so does Kappa Delta Pi. Pi Gamma Mu, Alpha Phi Sigma and the Cotillion Club. Extra curricula activities have not kept Grace from being the valedictorian of her class, and we all wish her the best of luck.

F. SANFORD CHOOSES ASSISTING COMMITTEE

Continued from page one

committee, consisting Virginia Jones, Jean Foote, Dot Morris, Claire Eastman, Aileen Saunders, Polly Ware, Elizabeth Walton, and Annette Roberts, assumed their duties Tuesday, Tuesday.

AT OTHER COLLEGES

Some one at Emory University, Atlanta, is fond of calculating the consumption of Coca-Cola at the student co-op, and the figures appear in the school weekly regularly each quarter. The latest estimate is five and one-half gallons every 24 hours. Atlanta, incidentally, where Emory is located, is the center of the Coca-cola industry!

At Washington College the co-eds after a stiff fight were granted permission to smoke in classes. Next day, several came to one class smoking corn-cob pipes. The professor maintained his composure, and ordered that all windows be kept closed. In a short time the death gals began to excuse themselves rather informally. The infirmary shortly became rather over-crowded.

Did you know—Princeton Freshmen admit they perfer Phi Beta Kappa keys to varsity letters!

Playing for finals of 1934 will be Jan Garber's ninth engagement as finals band at Washington and Lee. The hop committee engaged "Genial Jan" before collecting subscriptions from the students, signing Garber up for only the senior ball and final ball. However, if enough students stay for the entire set of final dances, Jan Garber will be engaged for the entire set.

V. M. I. "Keydets" are opening the Dansant of their spring dances at which Ted Weems will play.

An interesting fight is about to take place down at N. C. State College. It is the annual Frosh-Soph Rush, and this year will take the form of a "Bag-Sattle." The details have not been fully mapped out, but the battle ground will be a torn up field in which are heavily loaded bags to be toted to a goal. To add to the fun, fire hoses will play upon the contestants who are getting the most bags near their goal, and also four will be thrown on general principles.

From the Spectator, Mississippi State College for Women at Columbus, comes, "Over five hundred alumnae of Virginia State Teachers College took part in a pageant during the celebration of the college's fiftieth anniversary. The pageant represented life at this institution since 1884; the wedding gowns, college frocks, and middie blouses of the '80s were of especial interest to the students." Do you remember Founders Day?

The Sweet Briar and University of Virginia Glee Clubs participated in a concert in the Chapel at Sweet Briar last week. Next week the Sweet Briar Glee Club will sing with the W. and L. Club in Lexington. Every spring the two clubs usually join in giving a concert.

Mary Baldwin College maintained an unbroken record for success in debating Hampden-Sydney last Saturday night in one of the most important debates of the season.

Hymn Books Inititated In Beautiful Chapel Service

The most beautiful chapel service this year was given last Thursday in dedication of our new hymn books.

Dr. Jarman's favorite hymn was sung, and the books were truly initiated with the most whole hearted singing heard in the auditorium in many a day. Mr. Gardner, the officiating minister, remarked approvingly about the excellent singing.

Jestine Cutshall gave Dr. Jarman a note of thanks from the student body, and everyone arose singing, "What's the matter with Jarman, he's all right." That was a small scene in which those participating will never forget.

CAMPUS COMMENTS

What a hair cutting craze we are now going through! Lots of newly shorn lassies are going about these days.

Ask Helen Conquest and Rachel Joyner when their "lease" on the back booth in Shannons expires.

Is it a "Gus" of hot or cold air, Ducky?

Ask Joyce Sturn why some of the library books "just can't go out over the week-end."

College girl's soliloquy: "To eat or not to eat! That is the question. Whether it is better in the end to suffer the pains and aches of raging hunger, or to eat. To eat — perchance to gain! Ah! There's the grub!"—Connecticut College News.

ALUMNAE NEWS

There are two interesting meetings to report this week. The Chase City Alumnae Chapter gave a benefit card party at the Gregory Hotel on April 13. A large crowd attended, and Friday the thirteenth proved to be a lucky day for the winner of the prize which was a lovely cake. The proceeds will be used to give the members of the Senior Class of the high school a tea at which time Dr. Jarman, Miss Camper and Miss Mary have been invited.

The beautiful colonial home of Mrs. Edith Goode Gills, in Powhatan, was the scene of the meeting of that chapter on Saturday, April 21. Miss Camper and Miss Bierbower were representatives present from the college. Those present from the county included Elizabeth Rawls, president, Edith Gills, Marian Bradley, Lucie Anne Lane, Nancy Watkins and Frances Cobb. This chapter is proof of the adage that "big things come in small packages." The chapter is a small one but judging from the enthusiasm and interest displayed they are going to do "big things." We'll watch them! Lucie Anne Lane is preparing a group of her children for a broadcast over WRVA—what will these Farmville girls do next? We're very proud of them.

Marjorie Goodwyn will have charge of the art work in the play, "The Belle of Bagdad" to be presented this week-end in Richmond by the pupils of the Thomas Jefferson High School.

Mary Channing Coleman, head of the Physical Education Department of the University of North Carolina has left for the annual meeting to be held this year in Cleveland, Ohio. She will preside at this meeting at which time Philip LaFollette, Newton D. Baker, Judge Florence Allen and others will appear on the program.

Josephine Johnson will read some of her poetry at the meeting of the Poetry Society of Virginia in Williamsburg on May 5. George Dilion, Pulitzer prize winner, will be on the program at the same time.

Mrs. Florence Clayton Perkinson and Susie Reames were among the winners in the old-fashioned spelling bee at Midway High School in Dinwiddie County.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Anthony Deffenbaugh, of Petersburg, announce the engagement of their daughter, Anne, to Mr. Edward Madison Grant of Portsmouth and Tarrytown, N. Y. The wedding will take place in June.

WORLD NEWS

Mussolini is the deciding figure in Europe today. Whether he will be the strongest is to be seen. Exceedingly dominant, he has the good of his people at heart. One of his striking characteristics is a magnificant scowl. Reality is his favorite word. Thinking in terms of Europe, he says, "No nation will disarm under present circumstances. I have said before, and I repeat that unless we develop an atmosphere of mutual comprehension, clear of vain illusion, we shall see the twilight of Europe, the urchin of our civilization."

Recently, Mussolini says he is willing to guarantee enforcement of an arms treaty. He stresses that he does not want war because of his many home problems.

The propect for a solution of the armaments problem is brighter than it has been for many months. Indications are that England and France will come to terms on an arms limitation convention which would recognize German rearmament and at the same time provide France with guarantees of security.

Is the financial and economic system of Germany about to crash? Her commercial interests are clamoring for a change of economic policy.

Many leaders have termed Japan as the "Germany of the Orient" since she startled the world on April 18 by the publication of a warning against the interference of Western powers in the Far East.

Library Column

The following books have been taken into the library since September, 1933:

(On the rental shelf):

Ostenso, Martha, "There's Always Another Year."
Fletcher, Joseph Smith, "Murder of the Only Witness."
Christie, Agatha, "Thirteen at Dinner."
Douglas, Lloyd C., "Magnificent Obsession."
Rosman, Alice Grant, "Protecting Margot."
Bailey, Temple, "Enchanted Ground."
Galsworthy, John, One More River."
De La Roche, Mazo, "The Master of Jalna."
Carroll, Gladys H., "As the Earth Turns."
Fallada, Hans, "Little Man, What Now?"
Hill, Grace (Livingston), "The Beloved Stranger."
Pedler, Margaret, "The Greater Courage."
Deeping, Warwick, "Two Black Sheep."
Parrott, Ursula, "The Tumult and the Shouting."
Corbett, Elizabeth, "A Nice Long Evening."
Undset, Sigrid, "Ida Elisabeth."
Barnes, Margaret (Ayer), "Within This Present."
Mackenzie, Scobie, "Doctor Fram."
Norris, Kathleen, "The Angel in the House."
Fisher, Dorothy (Canfield), "Bonfire."
Douglas, Lloyd C., "Previous Jeopardy."
Baldwin, Faith, "Innocent Bystander."
Bromfield, Louis, "The Farm."
Buck, Pearl S., "The Mother."
Street, Cecil J. C. (John Rhode, pseudonym), "The Venner Crime."
Baxter, Gregory, "Murder Could Not Kill."
Lewis, Sinclair, "Work of Art."
Rinehart, Mary Roberts, "The State Versus Elinor Norton."
Hobart, Mrs. Alice Tisdale, "Oil For the Lamps of China."
Queen, Ellery, "The Siamese Twin Mystery."
Deeping, Warwick, "Valour."
Bentley, Phyllis, "A Modern Tragedy."
Gorman, Herbert S., "Jonathan Bishop."
Hammett, Dashiell, "The Thin Man."
Parrish, Anne, "Sea Level."
Masefield, John, "The Bird of Dawning."
Hopkins, Stanley, "The Ladies."
Roberts, Kenneth L., "Rabble In Arms."
Beith, Janet, "No Second Spring."
Aldrich, Bess Streeter, "Miss Bishop."
Abbott, Jane L., "Beggarman."
Deeping, Warwick, "Smith."
Hill, Grace (Livington), "The Patch of Blue; The Gold Shoe; The Prodigal Girl."
Parker, Dorothy, "After Such Pleasures."
Wright, W. H. (S. S. Van Dine, pseudonym), "The Kennel Murder Case."
Walpole, Hugh, "The Fortress."
Hill, Grace (Livingston), "Blue Ruin."
Allen, Hervey, "Anthony Adverse."
Punshon, Ernest R., "The Cottage Murder."
Smith, Thorne, "The Night Life of the Gods."
Walpole, Hugh, "Vanessa."
"Widdemer, Margaret, "Golden Rain."

Those books taken into the Library from September, 1933, which are not fiction are:

Ferris, Helen, "This Happened To Me," (classified under Home Economics)
McGill, William H., "Caverns of Virginia (one copy presented by the author) not fiction.
Park, No Yong, "Making a New China."
Park, No Yong Ef::m
Lovejoy, Esther C., "Certain Samaritans."
Pound, Arthur, "The Turning Wheel."

The Folger Shakespeare Library, Washington.
France, Anatole, "The Red Lily."
Butler, Samuel, "Erewhon, and

The student body and faculty extend sympathy to Mr. Grainger in the recent death of his father.

SOCIALS

"Come out, come out—the weather is clear"—seems to be the message that spring conveys.

As usual a large number of girls ventured to Richmond for an enjoyable week-end, for Louise Bullock, Ida Miller, Alice Magruder, Margaret Pollard, Florence Sanford, Virginia Sanders, Inez Strang, Sallie Thornbill, Elizabeth Ware, Katherine Woodson, Audrey Wilson, Susie Webb, Artenae Fawbush, and Ophelia Booker spent the week-end there.

Nelle Oakey Ryan, Alice McKay Mildred Gwaltney, and Jestine Cutshaw attended an honorary convention in Charlotte, N. C.

Boydton was visited by Elizabeth Wall, Katherine Young, Nancy Wall, Ruth Showalter and Elise Marshburn visited in Boydton.

Among those who spent the week-end in Lynchburg were Mary Alice Wood, Billy Rountree, Charlotte Rice, Eleen Howard, and Dorothy Eubank.

Blackstone claimed Elizabeth Stubbs, Virginia Inge, Rebecca Cousins, and Bertha White Babb over the week-end.

Among other girls who spent the week-end away were: Mary Easley Hill to Powhatan, Mary B. Sullivan to Cobbam; Bobbie Mattox to Big Island; Caroline Jones to Portsmouth; Virginia Jones to Norfolk; Pauline Jones to Charlottesville, Sarah Beck to Butterworth; June Allen to Portsmouth; Virginia Baker to Portsmouth; Margaret Clark to Charlotte Courthouse; Nancy Dodd to Chase City; Margaret Copenhaver to University of Virginia; Kitty Chappell to Drakes Branch; Fanny Bosworth to Rawlings; Annie Anderson to Jetersville; Anthelia Robinette to Norfolk; Ruth Roberts to Crewe; Amanda Wilson to Brookneal; Georgia Spencer to Barnesville; Florence Raney to Freeman; Lula Windley to Suffolk; Charlotte Young to Crewe, Elizabeth Ranson to Dillwyn, Elma Rawlings to Lawrenceville: Edwina Richards to Roanoke; Mary Virginia Johnson to Crewe; Margaret Stratton to Staunton. Elizabeth Meredith to Cobbam; Bess McGlothlin Durham, N. C.; Margery Quarles to Charlottesville; Marian Pond to Norfolk; Margaret Murry to Portsmouth; Frankie Minter to Staunton; Lois A. Jenkins to Powhatan; Martha Hamlet to Phoenix; Frances Johnson to Suffolk; Mary Jones to Sheppards; Virginia Moses to Durham, N. C.; Emily Meadows to Roanoke; Mary McDearman to Pamplin; Addie Norfleet to Suffolk. Lois Jinkins to Ashland; Belle Lovelace to South Boston; Helen Lee Morris to Jetersville; Bessie Hart to Rice; Sally Rose Chappelle to Big Island; Grace Collins to Drakes Branch. Merwyn Gathright to Goochland; Iris Hart to Hampden - Sydney; Katherine Harvey to Curdsville; Evellyn Howell to Church Road; Lottie Whitehurst to Turry; Brooks Wheeler to Arlington. Dorothy Woolwine to Charlottesville; Rose Somers to Burkeville; and Irwin Staples to Burkeville.

TRI SIGMA CELEBRATES THIRTY-SIXTH BIRTHDAY BY LONGWOOD BANQUET

In commemoration of Tri Sigma's 36th birthday, the active members of the chapter, alumnae, Dr. Jarman, Miss Mary White Cox, Miss Camper and guests celebrated at a banquet at Longwood, Friday, April 20.

Covers were laid for seventy people in two drawing rooms which were beautifully decorated with white candles and lilacs, the color scheme being purple and white.

Songs were sung between courses and toasts given at the end of the banquet.

The alumnae present were: "Chubby" Gray, Mary Richardson Lancester, Mary Petter Fitzpatrick, "Dodie" Shoffner Brown, Margaret Banks, Virginia Sanford, Virginia Potts and Martha Ann Laing.

Miss Coulling, Miss Bierbower, Miss Mix, Mrs. Shawen, Mrs. Sanford, Mrs. Laing, Mrs. Watkins, and Mrs. Shelton were other guests at the banquet.

"He has went,
He are gone;
He have left I all alone;
I can never go to he,
Him can never come to we,
It cannot was."

—The Breeze.

RETIRED MAJOR OFFICERS

(Left)
Mildred Gwaltney,
President of the Athletic Association

(Right)
Virginia "Honey" Hamilton,
President of the Y. W. C. A.

(Left)
Mary Burgess Frasier,
Editor of the Virginian.

(Right)
Alice McKay,
President of the Student Council.

The other major officers, Mary Shelton, editor of the Rotunda, and Jestine Cutshall, president of the House Council, were shown last week.

MU OMEGA SORORITY HAS BANQUET AT LONGWOOD

The Mu Omega sorority held its annual spring banquet at Longwood on Saturday night, April 22. The tables were attractively decorated with white candles and narcissi.

The guests for the evening included Dr. Jarman, Miss Mary White Cox, Miss Wheeler, sponsor of Mu Omega, Miss Draper and Mrs. Fitzpatrick, honorary members of the chapter, and Miss Mix, sponsor of the Pan-Hellenic Association.

In addition to the active members, the following alumnae were present; Josie Spencer of Lynchburg; Adele Hutchinson, Winchester; Ruth Hunt, Rocky Mount; Frankie Smoot, Alexandria; Edith Cornwall, Winchester; Kitty Hatch, Waverly; Janet Harris, Lynchburg; and Mrs. Jimmy Fretwell, Farmville.

MISS JENNIE RETURNS FROM CONVENTION

Miss Jennie Tabb returned Friday from Cincinnati where she attended the annual convention of Registrars. This convention was held at the Hotel Gibson and Registrars from colleges and universities all over the United States were present.

The convention wa sfrom Tuesday until Friday and the days were full of meetings, conferences, and friendly gatherings. Many of the Registrars are old friends, so a most enjoyable and interesting time was spent at a conference that is beneficial to all colleges and universities participating.

SOPHOMORES GIVE SENIORS PICNIC

The sophomores entertained the seniors Wednesday afternoon, April 18, at a picnic at the Longwood Cabin. Almost every sophomore and senior turned out for the fun.

Many were driven in a truck and everyone had to hold on for dear life while it raced up and down the hills at five miles an hour.

A fast baseball game was played between the two classes on the May Day field while waiting for the cry of "Come and get it." At 6 o'clock there was a dash for the cabin and the out-door fireplace where hot dogs with all accessories.

Forty-three colleges in the United States have blue and white as their colors.

Y. W. Notes

Music Committee

The music committee of the Y. W. plays a very important part in this organization, its purpose being to provide music for prayers and vespers and for any other occasions where the necessity arises.

It's aim is to sponsor and promote good music and to give to the student body the best there is in the musical field.

Each year special programs are arranged by this committee at which time guest soloists are presented. Plans have been made for the presentation of a series of such programs to be given in the near future.

The committee is headed this year by Louise Hyde as chairman with Dorothy Wise, Madeline McCommons mins and Christine Seay as committee members and Miss Virginia Potts, adviser.

In these notes will be included within the following weeks a summary of the purpose and work of each of the Y. W. C. A. committees. The music and service committees write-ups follow.

The Service Committee

The service committee has as its motto, "Each one in her place." It is headed this year by Sue Waldo as chairman, with Elizabeth Shiplett, Doris Coates, Billy Wilkinson, as committee members and Miss Iler as adviser.

The committee keeps the infirmary list posted, and tries to put magazines and papers in the Infirmary mail box whenever possible. It also is trying to build up an Infirmary Library.

The committee sends cards of sympathy and flowers to girls and faculty members in the hospital. At Thanksgiving, Christmas, and Easter it sends cards to Dr. Jarman, Miss Mary, Miss Jennie Tabb, ministers in town, and faculty advisers.

Soup and cocoa are served by the committee to the children in the training school during the winter months and sometimes even until Easter. At Christmas and Thanksgiving it sends baskets to the poor.

This year it contributed $75 to the Normal League.

A. S. A. SORORITY FETED AT BUFFET SUPPER

The Alpha Sigma Alpha were delightfully entertained Thursday evening at a buffet supper which was served in the chapter room at 6 o'clock. The hostesses were Elizabeth Billups, Burnley Brockenbrough, and Sallie Perrow. Twenty-eight members of the chapter were present, and each one enjoyed herself immensely.

EACO
THEATRE

Program April 26 to May 2

Thursday, April 26
Hal LeRoy
The Tap Dancer Par Excellence
Rochelle Hudson
in
"HAROLD TEEN"

Harold Lillums, Shadow, Pop and all the rest brought to life in a hilarious jamboree of laughter, song and flaming youth. Watch Hal LeRoy, Broadway's greatest dancer, do his stuff in "Collegiate Wedding". The world's most famous lovers come to life on the screen.

Also Comedy, "Pugs and Kisses".

Friday, April 27
Boris Karloff
Victor McLaglen
Wallace Ford, Reginald Denny, Douglass Walton in
"THE LOST PATROL"

More inspiring than "The Big Parade" or "What Price Glory." Every woman living will love this staggering drama of living men. Hearts that burn for women on the burning sands of hell. Immense as the trackless desert. Deep as the star less night. Cruel as Satan. Tender as a baby's arms—this heart-wrenching drama of love that surpasses love—the love of man for a man. Pronounced the greatest drama of the year.

Also "The World's Greatest Thrill" Most Exciting Reel You Ever Saw

Saturday, April 28
Jimmy Dunn
Claire Trevor
in
"HOLD THAT GIRL"

Here's that lively and romantic young team in a spicy, entertaining comedy drama, handled in the typical Dunn style, about a quick-thinking girl reporter and a young detective. Claire gets the story for her paper, and Jimmy gets a promotion, and incidentally a wife. One of those pictures that make you feel good and leave the theatre with a smile in your heart.

Also Screen Song, "Sing Like the Birdies Sing." Fox News and World's Greatest Thrills will be repeated after the feature.

Next Monday and Tuesday April 30 and May 1
Clark Gable
Myrna Loy
Elizabeth Allan
in
"MEN IN WHITE"

While the great stage play "Men In White" packs them in on Broadway, in its 8th month, we will give it to you on the screen in a thrilling picturization. Never before have you seen Gable in such a role; as the doctor caught betwen his love for one woman and his duty toward another. Here is a gripping story that gets under your skin and your heart goes out to the characters. It is purely adult entertainment but the kind of picture you will want to see the second time.

Also Screen Souvenir and Fox News.

Adults, 25c at mats; 35c at nights; children 15c.

Daily matinees at 4 P. M. Evenings at 8 P. M.

Adults, 20c at Matinees, and 25c at nights; except on percentage pictures. We hope an increased attendance will permit us to continue these prices.

S. A. Legus
TAILOR
CLEANING
PRESSING
REPAIRING
Phone 203

C. E. Chappell
COMPANY
Stationery, Blank Books and School Supplies
Cigars, Cigarettes and Soda
Farmville, Virginia

YOU WOULD LOVE TO HAVE YOUR SHOES FIXED AT THE
Lovelace Shoe Shop
110 Third Street

DOROTHY MAY STORES
Easter Apparel Headquarters!

Millinery with that Expensive Look—$1.85 and $2.85
Gorgeous Suits.....$9.45 and $16.50

Dresses—Sunday night dance frocks and Sport $5.45 and $7.45

THE DOROTHY MAY STORE
First to show the Newest!

SPRING IS HERE!

We have your needs in the newest Spring styles of ready-to-wear millinary, shoes, hose and accessories.

DAVIDSON'S

Kleanwell
CLEANERS AND TAILORS
Expert Cleaning, Repairing and Remodeling of Ladies Garments
Main Street, Opposite Postoffice
PHONE 98

Sophomores Acquire Championship Title In Volleyball Games

Midst the cheers of their classmates, the freshmen met the seniors in the volley ball court Tuesday at 4 o'clock. The teams were well-picked and the game proved to be very fast and exciting.

The final score was 33-14 in the seniors favor.

After the senior-freshman meet, the sophomores won a victory over the juniors by a score of 34-10.

Since the three teams, freshmen, sophomores, and seniors had all won two games and lost one it was decided to draw straws to see who would play first. Horton, senior captain, drew the "by" slip, thus allowing the seniors to play only in the final match.

The sophomores' well-balanced team swept to a 20-12 victory over its old rival, the freshmen. Both teams entered the game with zest, each determined to win for her class. The sophomore team stood on top at the end.

The last game was played between the sophomores and seniors, with the sophomores winning, 24-4.

This gave the sophomores the championship, adding ten more points to the red and whites on the color cup.

Monday afternoon, April 23, at 4 o'clock the freshmen met the Sophomores in a fast and exciting volley ball match. The first half ended with the freshmen leading, 18-8. The last half was closely played with splendid volleying on both sides, the freshmen scoring 10 to the sophomores 13 points.

The final score was 26-23 in the freshmen's favor.

The line-up:

Freshmen	Sophomores
Gilliam	Ranson
Chandler	Massey
Grainger	Roberts
Mayse	Walmsley
Anderson	Sanford
Mann	Jarman
Bradshaw	Billups
Corbin	Coleman
(Jenkins)	(Harrison)

Junior-Senior Meet

Following the freshman-sophomore meet the seniors scored an 18 to 16 victory over the juniors.

In the first half the seniors scored 9 to the juniors' 5. The last half was closer and more exciting, resulting in a 11-9 score with the juniors leading.

The final score was 18-16, in favor of the seniors.

The line-up:

Juniors	Seniors
Putney	Cooper
Mattox, L.	Gwaltney
Smith	Yeaman
Anthony	Horton
McDaniel	Kester
Newcomb	Scott
Mattox, A.	Hatcher
	Bucker
	(Magruder)

Just to show that they are quite capable of turning the trick when exigencies demand it, the sophomores squared away against the seniors at 5 o'clock and won, 37-22.

A 28-16 score gave the freshmen their second straight victory in volleyball, playing against their sister class, the juniors.

Splendid playing was seen in every match. Miss Iler acted as referee with Beck as time keeper.

CHAIRMAN SUMMARIZES WORK OF COMMITTEE

Continued from page one

newspapers, an important phase of education, was discussed. This matter was turned over to the World Fellowship Committee of the Y. W. C. A. which furnished the Freshman Class one hundred subscriptions to the "American Observer," a weekly review.

The Point System has been enforced for the first time in several years. A committee composed of a chairman and another member of Student Standards Committee and three members appointed by the president of the student body effected this work.

The Student Sandards Committee will continue its work with Elizabeth Billups as chairman and Jessica Jones, secretary.

PAN-HELLENIC COUNCIL INSTALLS NEW OFFICERS

A most impressive candle-light installation was held Monday night by the Pan-Hellenic Association. The old and new officers formed a crescent on the stage. The out going president, Tac Waters, gave the purposes of the organization and its meaning to the school.

The new officers were sworn into office; these are: President, Carolyn Byrd of the Alpha Sigma Alpha sorority; vice-president, Martha Stine of the Mu Omega sorority; secretary, Grace Eubank of the Pi Kappa Sigma Sorority; treasurer, Ophelia Booker, of Zeta Tau Sorority; program chairman, Anne Irving of the Sigma, Sigma, Sigma sorority; and publicity chairman, Sue Hume of the Gamma Theta Sorority.

In a candle-light ceremony the new heads of the sororities received their responsibilities. The new heads are: president of Pi Kappa Sigma, Elizabeth Huse; president of Sigma, Sigma, Sigma, Florence Sanford; president of Mu Omega, Meg Herndon; president of Gamma Theta, Jean McClung; president of Zeta Tau, Doris Coates, and president of Alpha, Sigma, Alpha, Burnley Brockenbrough.

The alternates were installed and the service terminated with the beautiful strains of "Follow The Gleam."

DELEGATES REPRESENT ALPHA KAPPA GAMMA

Continued from page one

In the afternoon Miss Alma Edwards, who is to be the social dean next year, made an address on the "Liberal Arts Education in the Present Day."

Reports were made by different committees, and new officers were elected as follows: Executive Secretary, Miss Florence Stubbs, Farmville; President, Etta Marshal, Portsmouth; vice-president, Frances Nannie Lou Wilson, Hunley, Virginia Cardwell, Columbia, S. C, treasurer; historian, Davice Jackson, Columbia, S. C.; corresponding secretary, Helen Smith, Roanoke.

At four-thirty delegates were given a choice of touring Charlotte or of going shopping. Our delegates being fortunate in having a car, were able to do both.

Friday evening the sororities entertained with a progressive dinner.

On the return trip the party stopped by Pinehurst, Southern Pines, Chapel Hill, and Duke.

The National Convention of Alpha Kappa Gamma will meet here next year.

To the Novelist

"Console me, amuse me, make me sad, make me sentimental, make me dream, make me tremble, make me think, make me weep."

NOTICE!

The A. A. Council has tennis balls and rackets for sale. Anyone interested in purchasing these, see any member of the council.

WILLIS
The Florist
FLOWERS FOR ALL OCCASIONS
PHONES 181-273

Electric Shoe Shop
Will Fix Your Shoes While You Wait
BEST WORKMANSHIP AND LEATHER USED

RICE'S SHOE STORE
Street and Dress Shoes
Dancing Slippers Dyed
Correct fits our speciality

FIVE SORORITIES ISSUE BIDS TO EIGHTEEN GIRLS

Five sororities in college issued bids Friday afternoon, April 20, following two weeks of rushing.

The girls accepting bids are as follows:

Sigma Sigma Sigma, Nellie Pierpont, Salem.

Alpha Sigma Alpha, Ruth Showalter, Kenbridge; Nancy Wall, Boyton.

Gamma Theta, Zilla Newson, Cape Henry; Frances Woodhouse, Norfolk.

Pi Kappa Sigma, Bernice Jones, Suffock; Blanche Kahn, Hilton Village; Frances Tilman, Saltville; Virginia Widgeon, London Bridge; Dorothy Wise, Craddockville.

Zeta Tau, Beatrice Bentley, Norton; Jane Main, Petersburg; Doris Moore, Richmond; Ernestine Payne, Warm Springs; Elizabeth Renfro, Dorchester; Annette Roberts, Norton; Elizabeth Spitler, Luray; Margaret Turner, Franklin.

KATHERINE COLEMAN IS HEAD OF SPANISH CIRCLE

At a called meeting of El Circulo Espanol held on Friday, April 20, the following officers for the session 1934-'35 were elected: President, Katherine Coleman; vice-president, Virginia Payne; secretary, Margaret McNamara; treasurer, Katherine Milby; program committee: Elsie Cabell and Jeanette Jones; and pianist, Charlotte Young.

Besdies being president of the Spanish Circle, Katherine has been elected secretary of Kappa Delta Pi and a reporter on the Rotunda staff. She is also a member of Sodalitas Latina, Alpha Phi Sigma, and Granddaughter's Club.

MAY DAY REHEARSAL CONTINUES IN EARNEST

Continued from page one

Dee, as well as the King and Queen of Hearts, the Jester, Knave of Hearts, Cards, and Wickets—all of which characters figure in marches and dances. After the trial of the Knave of Hearts, Alice says goodbye to Dum and Dee and the others, and they depart.

Alice then encounters the Gryphon and the weeping mock turtle who show her a part of the Lobster Quadrille.

Then follow dances by the checkerboards, by the Red and White Queens, and Knights. In the meeting between Alice and the Queens, the Red Queen's crown falls off and Alice, picking it up, tries it on her own head. This makes the Red Queen angry and she recovers her crown, promising Alice that she (Alice) may have a crown provided she finishes the eighth square of the checkerboard. After this group has left the stage, the garden scene ensues, in which the insects dance through the garden.

The Red and White Queens re-enter the garden, preparing for the crowning of Alice. The flowers (the court) enter and dance through the garden. The White Rabbit, on looking at his watch discovers that it is time for the party (the crowning of Alice). All the characters now re-enter for the party, accompanied by the Mad Hatter, the Dormouse, the March Hare and the Frogs.

Alice re-enters and after ascending the throne is crowned Queen in the midst of the flower garden. Then follows entertainment for Queen Alice in the form of dances such as the story of the Carpenter and the Walrus, the Lobster Quadrille, and the conflict between the Knights.

At the noise of drums, confusion begins after which all the characters disappear. When the confusion has subsided, Alice's sister is seen sitting beside the spring as in the beginning—the Dream Faries are dancing, and Alice, rubbing her eyes, awakens to find herself back in an every-day world again.

The May Day committee has urged that everyone read over again the story of Alice and her adventures, in order to get the fullest enjoyment from the pageant.

The following is a list of the chairmen of the most important May Day committees:

Theme chairman ..... Sue Yeaman
General Chairman ... Elma Rawlings
Dances—
Dances ..... Dorothy Prescott and Louise Van Lear
Music ..... Louise Hyde
Costumes ..... Jac Morton
Stage ..... Lena MacGardner
Ushers ..... Virginia Brinkley
Transportation .....
..... Burnley Brockenbrough
Publicity ..... Edith Shanks

The pianists for the various dances are: Dorothy Wise, Josephine Smith, Edna Hatcher, Louise Hyde, Elizabeth Phillips, Christine Seay, Margaret Murry, Sue Yeoman, Dorothy Justis, Elizabeth Wheeler, Elizabeth Walton.

Summer Employment Solved
Student representatives to distribute educational literature. Three months' steady work. Local or traveling. Liberal compensation. Address College Dept., 1006 Arch t., Philadelphia.

Weyanoke
BEAUTY SALON
A Complete Beauty Service At Moderate Prices
What we have done for others we can do for you
WEYANOKE HOTEL
Farmville Va.

G. F. Butcher
High Street
"The Convenient Store"
FOR GOOD
THINGS TO
EAT AND DRINK

Gray's Drug Store
QUALITY—PRICE—SERVICE
Come in and Get Acquainted
We Are Glad to Have You With Us!
Farmville, Virginia

RADIO HIGH LIGHTS

For April 25 to 29

6:30—Harold Stern, WOR.
7:00—Myrt and Marge WABC.
7:30—Armbuster Orch, WABC.
8:00—Jack Pearl, comedian, WEAF.
8:30—Wayne King, WEAF.
9:30—Guy Lombardo, WABC.
10:00—Vincent Lopez, WJZ.
10:30—Jack Denny, WJZ.

Thursday, April 26

6:30—Raginsky Orch, WABC.
7:15—Vincent Lopez, WJZ.
8:00—Rudy Valee, WEAF.
8:30—Concert Orch, WABC.
9:00—Show Boat concert, WEAF.
9:30—Fred Waring, WABC.
10:00—Paul Whitman, WEAF.

Friday, April 27

9:00—Abe Lyman Orch, WEAF.
9:15—Ruth Etting, WABC.
9:30—Phil Baker, WJZ.
10:30—Jack Denny, WEAF.
11:30—Vincent Lopez, WEAF.

Saturday, April 28

7:15—Pickens sisters, WJZ.
7:45—Isham Jones, WABC.
9:00—Harold Stern, WJZ.
10:00—Rebroadcast from Byrd Expedition, WABC.
11:35—Paul Whiteman, WJZ.

Martin JEWELER
Gifts of Lasting Remembrance
317 Main St. Farmville

SouthsideDrugStore
(On the Corner)
Films Developed
FREE
If bought at this store

Mack's
BARBER AND BEAUTY SHOP
323 Main Street
We use the Frederick Method
Hair Cutting and Thinning a Specialty

Shannon's
Is H. ... arters for the Best
SANDWICHES
—and—
DRINKS
—in—
FARMVILLE!

THE HUB
Headquarters For Sport Shoes
White—in the new cut-out sandals, pumps and ties. Brown & White, Black & White and Solid White—Black, Blue and Grey. All widths and sizes. Prices from $1.95 to $5.00.
COME IN AND LET US SHOW YOU THE NEWEST IN FOOTWEAR!
THE HUB DEPARTMENT STORE
"Farmville Best Place to Shop"

GET A B. A. DEGREE
Here, B. A., Means (Baldwin Apparel)
You can be a style leader as well as a group leader when you wear clothes from BALDWIN'S.
See the new hats, shoes, dresses for summer wear. You can easily shop here without having to wire dad to send extra money.
Visit the Style Shop for Ladies
BALDWIN'S
Quality—Price—Service

BE ON TIME FOR MAY DAY 5 O'CLOCK

THE ROTUNDA

FOUR MORE WEEKS TILL VACATION

We Teach To Teach

Volume XIV | THE ROTUNDA, WEDNESDAY, MAY 2, 1934 | No. 26

Pi Gamma Mu Sends Delegates to V. P. I.

College International Relations Clubs Hold First Statewide Convention

TEN COLLEGES REPRESENTED

Danger spots in Europe were pointed out by Alden G. Alley, representing the National Council for the Prevention of War at Saturdays' meeting at Virginia Tech of the first Statewide Conference of College International Relations Clubs. About seventy representatives from ten colleges attended.

Following the address the conference divided into seven groups for discussions on various problems. The topics and leaders were: "Pan-American Co-operation," James E. Walmsley, Farmville Teachers College; "The Munition Industry," Oscar H. Darter, Fredericksburg Teachers College. "Disarmament," C. B. Swaney, Radford Teachers College; Han Shauld Students Participate In Politics," Will A. Young, Sweet Briar; "Nazism," Fritz Marti, Hollins; "The Question of Philippine Independence," J. W. Hill, Emory and Henny; "National Self-Efficiency vs. International Co-operation," R. N. Lattune, Washington and Lee.

The convention ended Sunday with a summary of the work for the three days. Next year the convention will be held at Washington and Lee.

Farmville Teachers College sent the following delegates; Margaret Copenhaver, Lottie Whitehurst, Mary Wicker, Mary Berkeley Nelson, Louise Bullock, Dr. J. E. Walmsley,

DELEGATES SELECTED FOR BLUE RIDGE MEET

Helen Smith, Katharine Walton, Margaret Herndon, Lucy Potter, and Hazel Smith have been chosen to represent the local Y. W. C. A. at the Southern Student Conference to be held at Blue Ridge, N. C., June 9-18, 1934.

For more than a generation southern students from both universities and colleges have met in conference in the Blue Ridge mountains. In years past men and women have met in separate conferences. In June of this year, for the first time, over three hundred leading students of our southern colleges will meet together at Blue Ridge at the first joint Blue Ridge Student Conference

CHILDREY TO HEAD GRANDDAUGHTERS CLUB

Christine Childrey was re-elected to the presidency of Granddaughter's Club which has for its members the girls in school whose mothers attended S. T. C. The other officers for next year are: Janice White, vice-president; Victoria Gillette, secretary, and Laeta Barham, treasurer.

Y. W. REPRESENTATIVES GO TO PHILADELPHIA

Helen Smith and Agnes Crockett left yesterday for Philadelphia where they will atend the national Y. W. C. A. convention which is in session from May 2 through May 6. The S. T. C. representatives will return to school on May 8.

The Benjamin Franklin Hotel is headquarters for the convention, and that will be the stopping place for Helen and Agnes.

The Y. W. C. A. Cabinet selected Helen, the newly elected Y. W. C. A. president, and Agnes, freshman Besides receiving many constructive suggestions and new ideas for Y. W. counsellor, to attend the convention work, the girls are expecting to have an enjoyable time attending the social functions planned in honor of the delegates.

Tentative Teaching Schedule Announced

Tentative assignments for practice teaching in the rural high schools for 1934-1935 have been named as follows: (F-fall, W-winter, S-spring).

Curdsville

French: Mary Gilmer (f), Margaret Herndon (w), Charlotte Young (s). Latin: Maude Rhodes (f).

History: Margaret Gilmer (f) (Eng. 1; Hist. 2), Mabel Agee (w), Virginia Brock (s) (Eng. 1; Hist. 2), Lois Moses (s).

English: Iris Hart (f) Wyclif Scott (w), Dorothy Glover (s).

Mathematics: Jessica Jones (f) (Eng. and Math.) Virginia Rawlings (w) (Eng. and Math.).

Science: Bernice Echler (f), Ila Harper (w), Jean McClure (s).

Worsham

History: Sallie Thornhill (f), Mabel Britt (w), Elizabeth Showell (s), Mathematics; Brooks Wheeler (f), Mamie Barns (w), Clintis Mattox (s).

Biology: Brooks Wheeler (f), Frances Elder (w), Clintis Mattox (s).

English: Kathryne Cotton (f), Minnie Rodgers (w), Ruth Showalter (s).

Local Lions Club To Entertain Here

The Farmville Lions Club is making elaborate plans for the entertainment of the State Lions Convention which is to be held in Farmville on Thursday and Friday, May 10 and 11. J. E. Garland is chairman of the general convention committee for the event which promises to be one of the outstanding affairs of the season in Farmville.

More than four hundred guests are expected to attend the convention which will be called to order on Thursday morning, May 10, by District Governor John W. Boozer of South Boston. After the delegates are welcomed by Mayor E. W. Sanford, past Lion's Club president, there will be a business session.

A baseball game which has been specially arranged between the Hampden-Sydney Tigers and Richmond University Spiders will be the feature of the afternoon entertainment. The facilities of the Farmville Golf Club will be open to the guests.

The evening session will open with a banquet in the State Teachers College's dining room, at which Lion E. S. Shields will be toastmaster. The principal speaker will be Edward R. Kingsley, Parkersburg, West Virginia. Ladies' night for the Farmville Club will be held simultaneously with the banquet. Following the banquet the governors' ball will be given in the college gymnasium with the Hampden-Sydney orchestra furnishing the music.

The Saturday morning session will complete the business, election of officers and selection of the place of the next meeting.

No efforts are being spared to make the convention eclipse the one held here in 1927 which was generally conceded to have been one of the best conventions in the history of Lionism in Virginia.

HEAR MR. ALLEN!

Faculty members, students, and any others interested in newspaper work are invited to hear John E. Allen, editor of the Linotype News, speak here in the small auditorium Monday evening at 8 o'clock. His illustrated lecture is expected to be of much value to those interested in journalism.

MAY QUEEN

Margaret Parker

Honor Organizations Elect New Officers

The Virginia Gamma chapter of Pi Gamma Mu, honorary fraternity for history and social sciences, elected the following officers for the 1934-'35 session: Lottie Whitehurst, president; Birdie Wooding, vice-president; Margaret Birdwell, secretary; Mary Wicker, treasurer; Mildred Linthicum, alumnae secretary.

To head the Pi Zeta chapter of Beta Pi Theta, honorary French fraternity, the following officers were chosen: Katharine Walton, president; Maude Rhodes, vice-president; Carmen Clark, secretary; Fannye Bosworth, treasurer; Anne Putney, critic.

The local art honor fraternity, Gamma Psi, chose the following officers for next year: Janice White, president; Jean McClure, vice-president; Merwyn Gathwright, secretary; Christine Seay, treasurer.

These honor organizations are composed of students and faculty members who have been especially outstanding in these fields of work.

$50.00 Is Price Set For Six Day Tour To the World's Fair

Fifty dollars is the total cost of an all expense tour to the Chicago World's Fair, leaving Farmville June 5, 1934, and returning June 11, 1934.

Mr. Holton is organizing and conducting this trip in co-operation with Mr. T. C. Coleman, ticket agent of the Norfolk and Western Railway, Farmville and the American Express Travel Department for the benefit of State Teachers College and Farmville.

All meals, hotel cost, and transportation are included in the price. Baggage will be taken care of. Transportation includes that in Chicago as well as on the way. The Sherman or Morrison Hotel in Chicago will be used, every room with private bath. Only items such as extra refreshments, theatre tickets, and laundry are not included in the price.

The final payment must be made by May 29, 1934, but the deposit will be refunded, if, because of illness, the trip cannot be made. This tour has been arranged for between twenty-five and fifty people. If more than fifty people go, the price will be reduced accordingly. Registration may be made on the coupon in the folders which are obtainable from Mr. Holton.

Dr. Jarman Is Guest At Annual Reception

Dr. J. L. Jarman attended the annual reception given by the president and faculty of the State Teachers College, Fredericksburg, at Seacobeck Hall, Wednesday, April 25.

The receiving line, headed by Dr. and Mrs. Morgan L. Combs included the members of the State Board of Education and their wives and the faculty of the Fredericksburg college.

Members of the State Board of Education are: Former Governor E. Lee Trinkle, of Roanoke; Major Robert W. Daniel, of Brandon; Supt. Joseph H. Saunders, of Newport News; Hon. Virginus R. Shackleford, of Orange; Judge Rose MacDonald, of Berryville; Hon. Robert M. Hughes, of Norfolk; Hon. J. Gordon Bohannon, of Petersburg, and Dr. Sidney B. Hall, of Richmond.

Other distinguished visitors included: Congressman and Mrs. S. Otis Bland, of Newport News and Washington; Col. J. H. Bradford, Director of the Budget; the State Comptroller and Mrs. A. B. Gathright; Dr. K. J. Hoke, Dean of the College of William and Mary, Williamsburg; the President of the Radford State Teachers College and Mrs. J. P. McDonnell; Justice George L. Browning, of Orange; Col. and Mrs. R. A. Gilliam, of Richmond; Supt. and Mrs. D. N. Davidson, of Orange; Supt. and Mrs. W. A. Vaughan, of

Continued on page 4

Rowells Represent S. T. C. At Festival

The Apple Blossom Festival will be celebrated this year on May 4-5 at Winchester. On these days the apple region of Virginia will formally welcome spring. Each year thousands of tourists visit the Shenandoah Valley to view the fete of the Apple Blossoms.

Mrs. John Hay Whitney of Langollan estates near Upperville, has been chosen to reign as Queen Shenandoah XI. Among the princesses in her court are Grace and Alice Rowell, the senior twins who will represent S. T. C. Farmville has the distinction of being the only college that is represented by two Princesses in the court.

Among those attending the festival from S. T. C. besides the two princesses are Mae Burch, Martha Stine, Sue Mallory, and Mary Newcomb.

SIGMA PI RHO INITIATES 2 AND INSTALLS OFFICERS

Two new members were initiated Monday, April 30, at 7 p. m., into Sigma Pi Rho, a national honor fraternity in Latin. They were:

Katherine Adams—Katherine is a member of Alpha Phi Sigma, Mathematics Club, secretary of Sodalitas Latina, and assistant business manager of the "Tributum," for 1933-1934.

Mary Gilmer—Mary is a member of Sigma, Sigma, Sigma sorority, Sodalitas Latina, Cotillion Club, and president of Le Cercle Francais.

After the initiation the following new officers for the year 1934-'35 were installed:

President, Lila Jacob; secretary, Maude Rhodes; treasurer, Carmen Clark.

NOTICE

The Senior Class of the College High School will present its commencement play, "Moonshy," a comedy in three acts, in the S. T. C. auditorium on Friday, May 11. (Admission 15c.)

Students Celebrate May Fete Saturday

"Alice In Wonderland" Theme to Be Presented In Natural Amphitheater at Longwood

MANY TAKE PART

The college's annual May Day exercises will be presented in the natural amphitheater at Longwood on Saturday afternoon, May 5, at 5 o'clock.

In order that those atending may better understand the program presented Saturday a brief summary of the story as arranged by Sue Yeaman from Lewis Carroll's, "Alice In Wonderland," and "Through the Loking Glass," follows:

"In fancy they pursue
The dream-child moving through a land
Of wonders wild and new,
In friendly chat with bird or beast
And half believe it true."

It all began with the dream fairies who cast a spell over Alice when she fell asleep in the rabbits favorite playground. Of course, when the White Rabbit appeared, Alice tried to follow him—but who wouldn't have tried when he seemed to be in such a flurry to keep an important appointment? And when the stately sunflower unbent sufficiently to point in the same direction, Alice felt sure she would be able to find the garden of Wonderland, where all the flowers come to life.

Tweedledum and Tweedledee delayed her with their pranks, and she found herself involved in such a whirl of enchanting adventures that she forgot to follow the White Rabbit and so could not find the way to the garden. None of the creatures she talked with helped the bewildered little girl very much for each had his own tale to tell or his own plans to follow up.

The Red and White Queens at last took pity on her and told her that she must go through the Checkerboard, "When you get to the Eighth Square you'll be a Queen . . . and it's all feasting and fun!" The two Queens commanded that the insects be driven away and everything made ready for the coronation. And so at last "Queen Alice" reigned for a brief while in the enchanted "Garden

Continued on page 4

J. E. Allen To Speak On Newspaper Work

Mr. John E. Allen, editor of the Linotype News, will speak to the combined staffs of the Rotunda and Tiger next Monday evening at eight o'clock in the small auditorium here. Mr. J. Barrye Wall, who is chiefly responsible for our being able to get Mr. Allen, plans to have a reception for the lecturer, following the talk.

Since Mr. Allen is such a valuable guest, representatives from the staffs of surrounding college newspapers will be invited to hear him. Prior to his visit here, Mr. Allen will speak at Washington and Lee University.

The lecture will be chiefly on newspaper make-up with which Mr. Allen is thoroughly familiar. For his lecture he will have a large board which will represent the front page of a newspaper. On this board he will illustrate the correct make-up for that page of a newspaper.

The Linotype News is a publication of much value to all editors. Any student or faculty member of the college who is interested in the technical side of a newspaper is cordially invited to attend the lecture.

THE ROTUNDA

Member Southern Inter-Collegiate Newspaper Association
Member Intercollegiate Press Association of Virginia

Newspaper NATIONAL SCHOLASTIC PRESS ASSOCIATION Member

Published by Students of State Teachers College, Farmville, Va.

Entered as second class matter March 1, 1921, at the Postoffice of Farmville, Virginia, under Act of March 3, 1879.

Subscription ..... $1.50 per year

ROTUNDA STAFF

Lelia Mattox, '35.....Editor
Evelyn Massey, '36..Associate Editor

Board of Editors

Miss Virginia Potts.....Alumnae
Amis Montgomery, '37.....News
Florence Sanford, '36.....Make-Up
Kathryn Cotten, '35
Mary Banks Sullivan, '36, Literary
Anne Putney, '35.....World News
Mary Hastings Holloway, 37
.....Intercollegiate
Anne Diggs, '37.....Socials
Margaret Farrar, '37.....Features
Lelia Sanford, '36.....Sports

Proof Readers

Virginia Bean, '37.
Elizabeth Walton, '36.

Managers

Lena Mac Gardner, '35.....Business
Alva Sawyer, '35.....Asst. Business
Maude Rhodes, '35.....Circulation

Assistants and Reporters

Elsie Cabell, '37.
Bess McGlothlin, '37.
Katharine Coleman, '35.
Bernice Jones, '37.
Birdie Wooding, '35.
Bonnie Lane, '37.
Laeta Barham, '35.

THE HEART OF S. T. C.

"Upon entering, a beautiful reception hall greets one; above are the balcony and the dome with its magnificent paintings. Here the artist, the late E. Monfalconi of Richmond, Va., has placed the portraits of Thomas Jefferson, Horace Mann, J. L. M. Curry and Dr. W. H. Ruffner, first president of the college. Between each of these portraits is a symbolic picture in rich colors, representing the four purposes of the institution: Study, meditation, recreation, and rest. In this painting we have the very heart of a school which gathers her daughters about her, shares with them her knowledge, inspires them with her spirit and sends them forth to train growing minds and growing ideals. Farmville, the oldest of all normals; the great Mother Teacher." Thus reads a beautiful description once given in the Norfolk and Western magazine of our college. Let us think over this quotation and try to realize how true each statement is. Then, consider the fourfold purpose of the school. How often do we forget this purpose and unconsciously hinder its progress? Many are the times when we thoughtlessly make noise during study hour, stay up later than we should, and put off our studying until the last moment. These small acts often annoy someone else and they can easily be avoided if we only think ahead of time.

We love our Alma Mater and are proud of her campus, halls, administration, "rating" and beauty. If we pause to think how much our school has done for us, we will surely do our best for our Alma Mater.

DANCES EVERYWHERE?

The exodus from S. T. C. began Friday, and the "stragglers" were still trudging toward the railroad station and bus stop Saturday afternoon. The why and wherefore of this seems to have been dances—at V. P. I., V. M. I., and Richmond. Of course, the dances everywhere were more marvelous than ever, the orchestra perfect, all of which accounts for bigger and better circles and hollow eyes. From what we can find out the dances at Hampden-Sydney were plenty good, but S. T. C. girls would not know about that.

We have dances next week-end, too—May Day dances.

AT OTHER COLLEGES

The Holly Leaf of Maryland State Normal Schol at Calisbury, Md., was awarded first place in the tenth annual contest held by the Columbia Scholastic Press Association at Columbia University, New York City. This is the first time that the paper has received first honor although it has been given third place for two consecutive years.

The members of the varsity rifle team at Presbyterian College recently fired a match against the girl's team. In order to make the contest more equal, the co-eds were allowed to make use of all available means of disconcerting their adversaries, urging them on, applauding, etc. Needless to say, the boys lost . . . the rifle match, no doubt due to the etc.!

V. M. I. graduates are now qualified as instructors, being awarded the collegiate certificate. Collegiate professional certificate isn't available because of the lack of educational courses, however. Teachers from S. T. C.'s beware for your jobs!

The great granddaughter of Sam Houston may enroll at Northwestern University at Alva, Oklahoma. She is the daughter of Sam Houston III, captain and instructor at Claremore Military academy.

Maryland University's co-ed debating team had a unique record for the past season. They finished the season without a loss, after scheduling six matches and debating none! Congratulations!

Florida State has a special "special" deliverer. Twice a day the student postwoman takes special delivery letters to the five domitories. By the end of the session exact statistics may be computed as to the "rating" of each dormitory.

The American Association of Medical Milk Commissions, Inc., offers prizes to the authors of the two best articles on "Certified Milk." The Tulane College of Medicine was selected by the association to compete. The New Orleans Pure Milk Society Commission urges the milk essayists on—by the way, what do we know about Medical Milk?

Wellesley College offers its girls a course in automobile mechanics in which they may satisfy their curiosity and requirements for graduation at the same time.

V. P. I. seniors no longer listen to the news of the world and the melodies of their favorite dance orchestras, for due to "continued violation of regulations regarding the operation of radios," an order has been given by the commandant that radios will not be operated at any time.

W. and L. University joined Harrisonburg State Teachers College in a concert at Harrisonburg recently. This was a return program for a joint concert which was given last year in Lee Chapel, Lexington. The Glee Club of Harrisonburg S. T. C. leaves soon on their spring tour of southwest towns.

Thirteen classes expect to hold reunions at V. P. I. this year in June. Over nine hundred alumni are expected back for finals—it's going to be a full town, there at Blacksburg.

RUSSIAN SHIP DOCKS

When the Russian ship, Kim (to non-Russian speaking people) anchored at the Brooklyn dock, the Russian ambassador—Comrade Alexander Troyanovsky—forgot his diplomatic pomposity and went to greet his country's freighter, a thing seldom done in ambassadorial centers. However, here he proved his wisdom, for in what better way could he show pride in his country than by greeting at the waterfront the first Russian boat to put into port in the U. S. A. in seventeen years?

The Kim is a model ship, sent to start the trade between the United States and Russia. She was built in 1931, is trimly painted and contains an up-to-date motor. (There are no half-way measures with the Communists; when they decided to cut off their beards and throw their bombs away, they revolutionized their ships and set up a high standard in freighters). She carries cargo of cement, mica, chalk, Caucasian wine, fuller's earth, oil of apricots and juniper berries. Although the motto in the crew's game room is "Ahead to world revolution," her officers have taken every precaution not to offend the sensibilities of her new friend. Her crew is forbidden to get drunk on shore-leave and she refuses to recognize any loud-mouth

Continued on page 3

OPEN FORUM

Dear Editor:

Spring has come now and that old saying, "In the spring a young man's fancy lightly turns to thoughts of love," seemingly still holds true; apparently also the fancy of S. T. C. has turned to thoughts of nooks on the campus for dates.

We all know that we have a regulation against dating on the campus, yet we hear such remarks, "It's just one of those rules no one expects you to obey." Anyone who considers it for a moment, realizes that such a statement is absolutely untrue. We have had our attentions repeatedly called to our campus conduct. Dr. Jarman especially asked that we be careful of the new grass, and also of our old problem of girls lounging on the student building steps and walls, and every night we hear a request to "please date inside."

As long as we have rules, it is every student's responsibility to govern herself accordingly. And we have to have rules, because of the few who don't fall into line for the good of the group. The majority of us refrain from last minute conversations with dates on the student building entrance library hall entrance, and the other quiet spots which add so much to our campus when properly used, and we feel that the cooperation of everyone should be given our league. It is only five weeks until we may have our dates anywhere we like, and until then it seems the fair thing to make the best of our situation here. It's true that when we have such a lovely campus and nights are warm it is much nicer to be outdoors, but as long as we do not have that privilege it would be much pleasanter and certainly less embarrassing to all concerned to eliminate the necessity of having to have a patrol of the campus each afternoon and evening.

A Student.

Dear Editor:

A number of us knows what it is to get all pepped up over playing a game of tennis and then go out to the courts and spend our time in just "hanging around" waiting for a court. Since all can not be accommodated we should remember to share the courts with others. Isn't it better for two groups to play a short time than for one group to play the entire afternoon. We're sure to think so if we've ever been among the group who waited in vain.

A Tennis Player

CAMPUS COMMENTS

For the sake of several girls around school we believe that Marjorie Ramey should not have told her dream before breakfast.

The booby prize for dumbness goes to Margaret Gilmer. She wants to know what to give her mother for Founder's Day. Do we have to tell you she meant Mother's Day?

We wonder if Tac is sorry she didn't swallow her pride and go to V. M. I.

Hampden-Sydney boys have discovered a good way to get Sunday dates at S. T. C. Just have your mother down. Martha Stine knows all about it.

Say, Dot, you haven't gone, back on the ole standby, have you? We've seen Jack doing a great deal of aimless strolling lately. Could it be that there are other fish in the sea besides Eel-y?

Club seems to have done everything but move to Shannon's. Who's the lucky attraction—Hunter or Fletcher?

Evidently, Frankie McDaniel doesn't believe in the old saying, "We love a person for what he does for us". Her motto seems to be, "Love 'em and leave 'em"—in a bad humor.

Most everyone knows it'll be a relief when May Day has gone over in a big way, but think how much "Young"--er Tots Smith will be when she doesn't have to play the piano for practices.

ALUMNAE NEWS

The Amelia Alumnae Chapter was reorganized April 25 when a group of alumnae met with Miss Camper and Miss Taliaferro at the Amelia High School. The group, though small, was thoroughly interested in news of the college, the success of the Amelia students and in plans for furthering the interests of their Alma Mater. Some expect to return soon to take courses leading to renewal of certificates or to a degree, and asked especially about new courses being planned for the summer and for next session. On May Day the alumnae will bring a party of high school girls to enjoy the festiva land to see the college.

Those present were: Mrs. Dorothy Smith Marshall, Misses Hazel Holloway, Mildred Spindle, Mary Mann Baskerville, Alice Baskerville, Mazie Lee Hines, Easter Souders, Laura Cooper, Virginia Cobb, Elizabeth Scott. The officers will be: Mrs. J. D. Rand, president; Miss Otelia Harvey; vice-president, and Miss Courtney Taylor, secretary.

Mr. and Mrs. Thornton Sampson Baskerville of "Sunset View" announce the engagement of their daughter, Mary Mann to Mr. Peyton Giles Jefferson of Amelia and Baltimore. The wedding will take place in June.

Mrs. William Cabell Flournoy (Mary Hannah Boyd) has recently given two very inspirational talks, one in Lexington for the Woman's Club on "Woman's Influence on Civilization," and the other on "Stratford, Past and Present" for the Highland Chapter of the United Daughters of the Confederacy meeting with Mrs. Charles Roller, of A. M. A. at Fort Defiance, Va. Alumnae of the school were proud to have Mrs. Flournoy as the Founder's Day speaker several years ago.

State Senator William M. Tuck was an invited guest at the meeting of the Farmville State Teachers Alumnae Association meeting which was held at the C. H. Fried High School in South Boston on April 26. His remarks to the teachers dealt with House bills relative to teachers and the public school system. Mr. Tuck paid high tribute to Farmville State Teachers College and its graduates. Officers for the coming year were elected as follows: Frances Howard, president, Mrs. Kerford Burch, secretary-treasurer. The next meeting will be held in the fall. We are delighted that South Boston is showing such interest and that Senator Tuck was invited to meet with the chapter.

An account of the Scott-Sykes wedding came in too late to appear in last week's issue of the Rotunda but we are glad to print it at this time.

A wedding of interest in Tidewater Virginia took place at the Smithfield Baptist Church when Miss Sarah Elizabeth Sykes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel W. Sykes, of Smithfield, became the bride of bride of Charles Landon Scott, third, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Scott, Jr., of Danville. Miss Pearl Sykes, sister of the bride, was maid of honor, and Miss Claire Scott, of Danville and Miss Miriam Coleman, of Smithfield were bridesmaids. Whitcomb Randolph Scott, of Danville, was best man. After an extended motor trip the couple will make their home in Danville.

One of the most interesting alumnae meetings of the year was hel dat the Stonewall Inn, in Franklin on Friday night, April 27. Dr. Jarman, Miss Mary White Cox, Miss Virginia Potts and Mr. S. L. Graham represented the school and there were 35 alumnae present. Mrs. Elizabeth Barham King was toastmistress and a program had been arranged consisting of musical numbers. Those present were: Carolyn Page McCall, Carlynne Perrow Gillette, Marjorie Mathews Grizzard, Lemma Garrett Johnson, Blanche Daughtrey, Lizzie Story, Elizabeth Hurt, Frances Brightwell Vaughan, Judith Holland Hill, Patience Moore Britt, Lucy Moore Drewry, Marion T. Cobb, Mary Thomas Rawls, Frances Parker Bradford, Ethel Fisher Claud, Alice Everett Worrell, Marie Eley, Mary Irvin Arthur, Elizabeth Drewry, Aylce Page Adamsñ Ellen Babb, Eleanor Brooks Manry, Kathryn Claud, Ethel Kirkland, Gustava Powell Watkins, Virginia Ford Rawlings, Gaynell Savedge, Kitty Hatch, Jessie Parker, Virginia Skinner Wade, Zula Cutchins, Buna Butler Johnson, Marian Fitchett, Lydia Harrell and Ruby Johnson.

"A Thing of Beauty Is a Joy Forever"

SONG ON MAY MORNING

Now the bright morning star, day's harbinger,
Comes dancing from the east, and leads with her
The flowery May, who from her green lap throws
The yellow cowslip and the pale primrose.
Hail, bounteous May! that doth inspire
Mirth and youth and warm desire;
Woods and groves are of thy dressing,
Hill and dale doth boast thy blessing.
Thus we salute thee with our early song,
And welcome thee, and wish thee long.

—Milton.

THE RAIN

I hear leaves drinking rain;
I hear rich leaves on top
Giving the poor beneath
Drop by drop;
'Tis a sweet noise to hear
These green leaves drinking.

And when the sun comes out,
After this rain shall stop,
A wondrous light will fill
Each dark, round drop;
I hope the sun shines bright;
'T will be a lovely sight.

—W. H. Davies.

LEISURE

What is this life if, full of care,
We have no time to stand and stare.

No time to stand beneath the boughs
And stare as long as sheep or cows.

No time to see, when woods we pass,
No time to see, in broad daylight,
Streams full of stars, like skies at night.

No time to see, when woods we pass,
And watch her feet, how they can dance.

No time to wait till her mouth can
Enrich that smile her eyes began.

A poor life this if, full of care,
We have no time to stand and stare.

—W. H. Davies.

"LOVELIEST OF TREES"

Loveliest of trees, the cherry now
Is hung with bloom along the bough,
And stands about the woodland ride
Wearing white for Eastertide.

Now, of my threescore years and ten,
Twenty will not come again,
And take from seventy springs a score,
It only leaves me fifty more.

And since to look at things in bloom
Fifty springs are little room,
About the woodland I will go,
To see the cherry hung with snow.

—A. E. Housman.

SPRING ECSTACY

Oh, let me run and hide,
Let me run straight to God;
The weather is so mad and white
From sky down to the clod!

If but one thing were so,
Lilac, or thorn out there,
It would not be, indeed
So hard to hear.

The weather has gone mad with white;
The cloud, the highway touch.
White lilac is enough;
White lilac is enough;
White thorn too much!

—Lizette Woodworth Reese.

(With apologies to Carl Sanburg)

The fog comes on little cat feet—
about the time of Examinations—
It sits looking over desk and chair—
on silent haunches;
Then moves on.—
And sometimes it stays.

—Williams Purple Cow

SOCIALS

S. T. C. Society spent an unusually busy week-end fitting numerous social engagements into the plans which included the dances at Lexington and Blacksburg, and visits with friends and at home. As always at this season of the year, there is to be found a riot of beauty and much pleasant entertainment.

Those who spent the week-end in Lexington were Evelyn Knaub, Virginia Riddick, Fanny Bosworth, Margaret Dudley, Bernice Jones, Martha Glenn Davis, Sue Hume, Margaret Webster, Frances Woodhouse, Kathryn, Fitzgerald, Margaret Carroll, Virginia Hamilton, Lloyd Kelly, Mary Scott Shelton, Sarah Beck, and Nancy Parker. Nancy and Bernice Jones also went to Blacksburg, where they attended the dances. Others who visited Blacksburg were Claudia Barleon, Anthilia Robinette, Margaret Copenhaver, Dorothy Stone, Virginia Tilman, Sylvia Somers, Louise Bullock, Frances McDaniel, Mary Berkeley Nelson, Gertrude Sueden, Lottie Whitehurst and Virginia Moses.

Richmond proved quite entertining last week-end for Elizabeth Kelley, Dorothy Prescott, Grace Rowell, Helen Shawen, Nancy Harrison, Ella Ware, Martha Nottingham, Zilla Newsom, Tac Waters, Lelia Mattox, Elizabeth Gills, Alice Magrunder Audrey, Mattox, Sarah Godwin, Muriel Scott, Gay Stieffen, Helen Cunningham, Winifred Goodman, and Maude Rhodes gallavanted there.

Julia Derr, Gloria Mann, Ellen Mason, Christine Childrey, Ann Diggs Lotta Barham, Charlotte Parrish, Helen Harris and Annie Anderson visited in Lynchburg.

Other near places that offered interest and were visted by S. T. C. girls are Williamsburg by Marian Umberger, Zaida Thomas and Martha Barber; Roanoke by Rise Tunly, June Allen, Mary Virginia Johnson, and Margaret Pollard; Drakes Branch by Mattie Lula Cooper, Mae Burch, Audrey Wilson, and Kathryn Harvey; Norfolk by Sallie Perrow, Burnley Brockenbraugh, and Elizabeth Billips; LaCrosse by Maude Jones Anna Cobb, and Martha Gwaltney; Staunton by Josephine Smith and Virginia Brown; Suffolk by Lelia Lovelace; Ashland by Lois Jinkins; Crewe by Sue Yeaman; Burkeville by Ervin Staples and Rose Somers; Hague by Addie Norfleet; Pamplin by Lucile Rhodes and Margaret Hunter; Clarksville by Margaret Turner; Cape Charles by Jean Willis; Buckingham by Mary Cunningham; Gladys by Marian Layne; Blackstone by Mildred Gwaltney; Capron by Katherine Balone; Goochland by Patsy Saunders, South Boston by Frances Smith, and Sarah Elam; Victoria by Bernice Scott; Brookneal by Wilma Denit, Rustburg by Irene Bailey; and Lening by Catherine Crews.

And still, there's no place like home. So think Kitty Chappell, Dorothy Woolwine, Marguerite Bradford, Virginia Lee, Josephine Kent, Mildred Linthicum, Beverly A. Wilkerson, Ruth Showalter, Mary McDearman, Mary Alice Farrell, Irene Parker, Virginia Hall, Edwina Richards, Grace Bass, Frances Elder, Inez Strang, Annetta Purdy, Georgia Spencer, Jestine Cutshall, Julia Allred, Virginia Wilson, Louise Gathright, Phyllis Furguson, Charlotte Young, Bonnie Lane, Billy Wilkinson, Neil Smelley, Mena Smelly, Pauline Moseley, Mildred Slayton, Henrietta Salsbury, Virginia Hannah, Ophelia Booker, Edith Coffey, Wilkinson, Belle Lovelace, Alice Elder, Bessie Hix, Elizabeth Huse, Hazel Smith, Charlotte Rice, Mary Alice Wood, Marian Shaffner, Louise Whitehurst, Ruth Gaines, Elizabeth Shippiett, Inez Martin, Sarah Beck, Mary K. Denny, Dorothy Morris, Mary Lee Powell, Capitali Runtree, Elizabeth Sutton, Katherine Milby, Florence Tankard, Christine Seay, and Grace Eubank.

Miss Virgilia Bugg, Mrs. Mary W. Watkins, and Miss Catherine Diehl attended the meeting of the Association of Virginia Registrars at East Radford, on Saturday, April 28.

That southern women have larger feet, are more slender, have narrower hands, a somewhat flatter chest and a faster pulse rate than northern women was recently revealed to the American Association of Anatomists by Dr. Harley N. Gould of Tulane University.

Y.W.C.A. AND S.C.A. ENJOY JOINT PICNIC AT CABIN

On Friday evening, April 28 the Y. W. C. A. cabinet of S. T. C. and the S. C. A. of Hampden-Sydney enjoyed a joint picnic at the Longwood Cabin.

Interesting games, arranged by Meg Herndon, kept everyone highly entertained.

Just as the sun set, a fire was built in the out-door fireplace, where weinies and marshmallows were roasted.

The picnickers returned to their respective schools about 8:30 o'clock after spending an evening of enjoyment.

GAMMA PSI IS HOSTESS AT DELIGHTFUL BANQUET

Gamma Psi held its annual spring banquet in the banquet room of the Tea Room on Thursday night, April 26. The table was attractively decorated with iris, tulips and green candles.

The guests for the evening included Miss Bedford, faculty member and Miss Coulling, honorary member. Fifteen members of the fraternity were present at the spring Gamma Psi banquet.

COLLEGE GIRLS ATTEND OYSTER ROAST AT LAKE

The Tidewater Club of Hampden-Sydney College entertained the following S. T. C. girls at an oyster roast at 8 o'clock:

Kitty Fitzgerald, Page Nottingham, Martha Nottingham, Ann Mears, Sarah Goodwin, Florence Tankard, Virginia Tilman, Helen Conquest, Rachel Joyner, Elizabeth Phillips, Katherine Switzer, Margery Ramey, Zilla Newson, Frances Woodhouse, Dot Stone, Billy Roundtree, Betty Baleon and Minnie Smith.

After the roast, everyone sat around the open fire and sang songs. The party broke up at 10 o'clock.

S. T. C. TEA ROOM IS SCENE OF PI KAP. SIG BANQUET

The S. T. C. Tea Room, decorated in Pi Kappa Sigma's colors of turquoise and blue, was the scene of that sorority's spring banquet, Wednesday, April 25, at 6:30 p. m.

The program for the Pi Kappa Sigma banquet opened with a toast song followed by toasts to the pledges, to Miss Iler, and to the graduates. Elizabeth Huse presided as toastmistress.

The thirty-one guests in the tea room at the Pi Kappa Sigma banquet included sorority members, the pledges, Miss Mary White Cox, Miss Iler, adviser of the sorority, and Mrs. Archie Paulette, alumna.

Each of the fourteen pledges received as a favor a box of stationery, bearing the sorority seal.

Kleanwell

CLEANERS AND TAILORS

Expert Cleaning, Repairing and Remodeling of Ladies Garments

Main Street, Opposite Postoffice
PHONE 91

S. A. Legus

TAILOR
CLEANING
PRESSING
REPAIRING

Phone 203

C. E. Chappell

COMPANY
Stationery, Blank Books and School Supplies
Cigars, Cigarettes and Soda
Farmville, Virginia

YOU WOULD LOVE TO HAVE YOUR SHOES FIXED AT THE

Lovelace Shoe Shop

110 Third Street

"THE BARRETTS" AS ACTED BY KATHERINE CORNELL

By Margaret Farrar

After seeing Monday night's performances of "The Barrets of Wimpole Street," one realizes there is only one Katherine Cornell and without her, "The Barretts," would not be the stage success it is. It is impossible to think of another actress who could have combined all the qualities of mind, body, and spirit that she brings to the creation of Elizabeth Barrett.

Although Miss Cornell dominates the stage every minute with her clever and persuasive power, she augments the work of each member of the cast in making the Barrett family one of entirely individual personalities rather than subordinates to the great central figure.

Charles Waldron gave a remarkably fine interpretation of the severe and dominating father, Mr. Barrett. His acting excelled that of Basil Rathborne in the character of Robert Browning. Although he is a most ardent admirer he somewhat fails to read the perfection of Brian Aherne who was in the original cast.

Each character deserves a tribute for the excellent interpretation of his part. But since that is impossible the four members of the original cast with Miss Cornell, Brenda Forbes, Charles Waldron and Flush deserve appreciation.

CALENDAR

Wednesday, May 2
7:00—Rotunda Staff.
Thursday, May 3
4:00—May Day Practice at Longwood.
5:00—Students Standards.
7:00—Dramatic Club.
Friday, May 4
7:00—Monogram Club.
Gamma Psi.
7:30—May Day Practice in gym
8:00—Signia Pi Rho.
Saturday, May 5
5:00—May Day.
Monday, May 7
7:00—Virginian Staff.
Athletic Association.
8:00—Alpha Kappa Gamma.
10:00—House Council.
Tuesday, May 8
7:00—Classes.
8:30—Alpha Phi Sigma.
10:00—Council.

Mother of S. T. C. girl: When our daughter has completed her education, what will she be?"

Father of same: "An old woman."
- Judge.

Wife: "I can't decide whether to go to a palmist or to a mind reader."

Husband: "Go to a palmist. It's obvious that you have a palm."

Y. W. NOTES

The Social Committee

The Social Committee of the Y. W. C. A. with Margaret Herndon as head and Mrs. Taylor as adviser, is composed of Ella Mallory, Liz Rogers, Tib Simmerman, Helen Shawen, Florence Sanford, and Rebecca Cousins.

The general duties of this commitee are to have a reception in the fall for Little Sisters, to entertain each freshman at a Saturday night party, to provide entertainment and refreshments for each open Y. W. meeting, and to entertain all visitors and speakers to the school under the auspices of the Y. W.

"SING" APRIL 28

Title: A Week-End at S. T. C.

Characters: Dot Dollins, Dot Wise, Virginia Fisher, Virginia Leonard, Polly Wall, Merwyn Gathright, Virginia Baker, Mary Bowles.

Producers: Freshman Commission.

Plot: Concerned with the changeableness of a man's mind. A cadet of V. P. I. invited a "cute" girl at S. T. C. to the dance but wired he could not take her; he had to take his cousin. The sweet country lass announced she was going to the dance with her cousin at V. P. I. Then a cousinly telegram came which said he had had a heart attack. A few minutes later another telegram came to the "cute" girl. "Come!" it said.

What a man! Such convenient heart attacks!

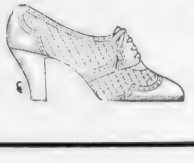
RUSSIAN SHIP DOCKS

Continued from page 2

Reds.

Three days after her arrival, this very diplomatic beginning received a setback because the House of Representative refused Secretary Hull a power to O. K. loans to the Soviets by bankers in our country by quietly passing the Johnson bill "forbidding the making of loans to any government in default to the U. S." The Kerensky government owed the U. S. $187,000,000 but the Soviets maintain that this is not their debt. With resolutions passed by the Export-Import Bank and the Johnson bill, Secretary Hull is not exactly in a position to bargain with Comrade Troyanovsky. Furthermore, by interpretation of the Johnson bill, Hull might stop the sale of Soviet bonds in the U. S. and keep the Soviet's export company, Amborg, from obtaining commercial credit; in short, he can demolish the framework that has been so carefully built, and put an end to trade relations between the U. S. and U. S. S. R.

DOROTHY MAY STORES
Easter Apparel Headquarters!



Millinery with that Expensive Look—$1.85 and $2.85
Gorgeous Suits.....$9.45 and $16.50

Dresses—Sunday night dance frocks and Sport $5.45 and $7.45

THE DOROTHY MAY STORE
First to show the Newest!

DAVIDSON'S

Spring and summer footwear now on display. For your inspection. In the newest styles

$3.50 — $5
& $5.95

EACO THEATRE

Program May to 9

Thurs., May 3—One day only
Ramon Novarro
Lupe Velez
"LAUGHING BOY"
She yielded to the spell of his haunting, "Call of Love." Out of the Pulitzer Prize novel steps an impetuous, exotic romance, throbbing with the mystic spell of desert nights. Here's the romance of "The Pagan," with the firebrand lovers of the screen Navorro and Velez, and Novarro singing his heart out.
Also Special all-Color Comedy "Roast Beef and Movies"

Friday, May 4
Heather Angel
Niger Bruce
Victor Jory
"Murder In Trinidad"
In
Her youth and beauty used as a bait with which a slow-moving detective caught the fastest-thinking murderer in the land of mystery and danger. World-famous criminologists gasped at this amazing mystery; and so will you, and you will thrill and shudder as you try to solve it. The year's most startling mystery romance.
Also POPEYE THE SAILOR and Fox News

Saturday, May 5
Fay Wray
Paul Lukas
"The Countess of Monte Cristo"
Fine clothes, furs, jewelry, cars, servants—all these she possessed, but she didn't own a dime. At the swell resort they thought she was a real countess. See this romantic, deliciously diverting comedy-drama of a poor but beautiful girl who not only gained fame but the man of her heart. An intensely interesting picture you will thoroughly enjoy.
Also Comedy, "In Vienna" and Fox News

Next Monday, May 7
Lilian Harvey
Charles Boyer
"HEART SONG"
Here's gay, vivacious Lilian bringing new love, new songs and new laughter in a new kind of romantic comedy. He found a girl's garter; then he almost broke his neck and his heart trying to find the girl. She was the girl of his dreams. He heard her song—he felt her kiss; then tried to find her when he awoke. A delightful musical romance that will enchant you.
Also Comedy, "Station T. O. T." and Metro News

Next Tuesday, May 8
Frances Dee
Ginger Rogers
Bruce Cabot
'FINISHING SCHOOL'
This picture unfolds in a school where wealthy parents send their daughters to get finishing touches in culture. Frances Dee has a sweetheart in Bruce Cabot and in spite of strict rules of the school they meet in the gatekeeper's cottage frequently, and from then on you will be on the edge of your seat hoping they will not get caught and "pulling" for a happy ending. You'll love it.
Also Song Hits by Roy Turk and Metro News

Next Wednesday, May 9
Sally Eilers
John Mack Brown in
"3 On A Honeymoon"
Also Chapter 6, "PIRATE TREASURE" and Cartoon, "Ha? Ha? Ha."

Daily matinees at 4 P. M. Evenings at 8 P. M.

Adults, 20c at Matinees, and 25c at nights; except on percentage pictures. We hope an increased attendance will permit us to continue these prices.

Sweet Briar Defeats S. T. C. Racketeers

The 1934 tennis season was officially opened for S. T. C. at 2:30 April 28th, when they met the Sweet Briar team on their courts. The final scores were decidedly in favor of Sweet Briar, although our girls made a remarkable showing, when the amount of practice they have had is taken into consideration.

The team was accompanied by Miss Iler, coach, and Billy Rountree, manager. Mary Virginia Walker made the trip as alternate. The results of the matches were as follows: singles—Dudley defeated 6-1, 6-2; Vestal defeated 6-0, 6-1, Putney defeated 6-1, 6-3. Doubles Farrar and Cable defeated 6-2, 6-2.

After the matches the Sweet Briar girls were hostesses at a delightful tea in their A. A. room. Tea and cookies were served and afterwards the Farmville girls were shown over the campus.

Our team is working hard this week in preparation for their trip to William and Mary. They expect to make a better showing there.

LACROSSE

As yet there has not been much progress made in lacrosse, nor has there been much interest shown in the game. It is to be hoped that this lack of interest will not continue and it most surely will not as this game is really worth going out for. So far there have been three pratcices and those who went out showed a keen interest and desire to learn more. No regular day for practices has been set yet as May Day and tennis have taken the time. After May Day lacrosse will really begin in earnest and a lot of fun is in store for those who go out for it.

AMONG OUR CAPS AND GOWNS

SARAH HYDE THOMAS

Sarah Hyde has won a place in the heart of each of us by her dignity, graciousness, and her sweet, steady personality. Her willingness to serve whole-heartedly has made her an outstanding personality on our campus. During her junior and senior years, she has served as class representative on the student council. She is a member of the freshman advisory board, college choir, Choral Club and Alpha Sigma Alpha Sorority.

With character, determination and the love of all to aind her, Sarah Hyde Thomas is a girl of whom the college is justly proud

"DOT" PRESCOTT

Dot is one of those rare persons who possess not only brains and ability but a charming personality.

As a class representative on the Student Council and a treasurer of that organization, she has distinguished herself in service to her class and Alma Mater. Other evidences of her faithful service are seen in her work as chairman of the Student's Day committee and as one of the social committee of the Y. W. C. A. The staffs of both the Rotunda and the Virginian have profited by her varied abilities.

These talents are all abetted by a loveliness of personality which attracts friends enumerable. Appreciation of her poise, grace and charm are shown in her election to the May Court and her work in the Artists' Dance Group. She is also a member of the Sigma Sigma Sigma Sorority and the Cotillion Club.

Dot is easily recognized as one of the best loved members of the Senior Class and will be missed far more than she can know.

ELMA RAWLINGS

Quiet and reserved, doing effectively and unostentatously arduous tasks that others would scarcely tackle—that is Elma Rawlings. Her whole college career has been devoted to the performance of duties involving detail and care. Particularly outstanding has been her work for the past two years on the staffs of both the Rotunda and Virginian, on the former staff having served as assistant business manager and on the latter as associate editor and photographic editor. Her class has had her cooperation, and in this organization she served as treasurer.

SPORT SLANTS

Baseball practices are being held every afternoon from four until six. Only ten hours are needed for a player to be eligible for the class teams. These games will be slated soon. Let's see how many girls have enough class spirit to give this much time toward helping their class to win the cup.

Don't let missing the show worry you. You'll be getting in for bigger and better laughs when you go out to play baseball with Dot Eley as the powerful pitcher and Wye Scott as a staunch first baseman. Then there are Mary Gilmer and Billy Wilkinson upholding the opposing team. You'd better try it. Babe Ruth, second nasn't been chosen so far and you may be just the person.

Among the many shocking spectacles that have lately come into view, one especially deserves honorable mention—that of Libby Ware on the tennis courts at 6 a. m., Sunday.

Have you noticed the grace Horton has acquired since she began practicing that rythmical game — Lacrosse?

STUDENTS CELEBRATE MAY DAY FETE

Continued from page one

of Live Flowers."

The characters in the May Day exercises are:

Rabbits: Elizabeth Shipplett, Martha Hamlet, Bess McGlothlin Lucy Miller, Marion Shaffner, Silvia Somers, Mary Stuart, Mary Chappell, Edith Coffey, Virginia Fisher, Florence Fleming, Blanche Kahn, Sally Martin, Lucille Rhodes, Dorothy Robertson, Marguerite St. Clair, Frances Tilman, Ella Ware, Annette Roberts, Mena Smelley, June Allen, Frances Brumfield, Emily Brumfield, Margaret Drake, Martha Gwaltney, Kathleen Johnson.

Alice: Margaret Parker.

Alice's Sister: Mattie Lula Cooper.

Dream Fairies: Fanny Bosworth, Nancy Parker, Virginia Hall, Mary Gilmer, Ann Irving, Lula Windley, Dorothy Eubank, Katharine Walton, Elizabeth Wheeler, Henrietta Salsbury, Marion Umberger, Christine Childrey.

Sunflower—Nancy Harrison.

White Rabbit—Dorothy Justis.

Tweedledum and Tweedledee—Ruby Vestal and Ruth Gaines.

King of Hearts—Jestine Cutshall.

Queen of Hearts—Margaret Herndon.

Cards: Virginia Bean, Ella A. Black, Kitty Fitzgerald, Page Nottingham, Alice Campbell, Bobbie Mattox, Mary L. Anderson, Margaret Dortch, Dorothy Morris, Frances Johnson, Lois R. Jinkins, Amis Montgomery, Doris Carlton, Katherine Irby, Irene Parker, Frances Mayse, Hilda Coffey, Rose Somers, Beatrice Bentley, Alice Ziegler, Julia Derr, Jean Willis, Pauline St. Clair, Zilla Newsome, Charlotte Rice, Marguerite York, Bernice Jones, Martha Davis, Miriam Pond, Alice Elder, Betty Rivers, Lucille Ware, Dorothea Dollins, Mary E. Bailey, Bernice Mann, Frances Channell, Sue Wooding, Lois A. Jenkins, Minnie Smith, Emily Channell, Elizabeth Andrews, Margaret Carroll.

Knave of Hearts—Helen Shawen.

Jester—Martha Higgins.

Wickets: Bonnie Lane, Nellie Pierpont, Eleanor Harris, Ellen Gilliam, Anne Diggs, Marguerite Bradford, Elizabeth Smith, Lucille Moseley, Mary Alice Wood, Virginia Hannah, Marie Moore, Virginia Baker, Betty Mae Brown, Lloyd Kelly, Dot Price, Alice Grainger, Kathryn Switzer, Margaret Stratton, Victoria Gillette, Claire Eastman.

Mock Turtle: Nancy Dodd.

Gryphon: Jean McClure.

Checkerboard: Solo ist, Edna Hatcher, Ellen Mason, Lila Jacob, Maude Rhodes, Ava Simmons Lelia Sanford, Joyce Sturm, Lottie Whitehurst, Christine Seay, Dorothy Woolwine, Jessica Jone, Anne Thomas, Sallie Perrow, Crenshaw Jones, Lena MacGardner, Iris Hart, Margaret McNamara, Martha Nottingham, Phyllis Ferguson, Betty Stubbs, Mabel Britt, Mildred Potter, Hazel Clevinger, Kitty Chappell, Mary E. Wood, Sally Thornbill, Virginia Snodgrass.

Red Queen—Laeta Barham.

White Queen—Barbara Kester.

Red Knight—Margaret Webster

White Knight—Frankie McDaniel

Insects: Eileen Howard, Louise Walmsley Audrey Mattox, Lily Farrar, Katherine Harvey, Margaret Woodard, Virginia Inge, Estelle Agee, Mary Virginia Johnson, Hazel Smith, Florence Tankard, Elizabeth Huse, Elsie Truly, Muriel Scott, Inez Strang, Ruth Talbot, Irene Bryant, Allene Saunders, Emma Bingham, Elizabeth Vassar, Anne Putney, Fay Little, Louise Coleman, Winnie F. Eubank, Lois Moses, Elizabeth Renfro, Rachel Joyner, Helen Conquest, Addie Norfleet, Alva Sawyer, Iola McIntire.

Gardners: Sarah Beck and Martha Putney.

Flowers (court): Dorothy Prescott, Mary Shelton, Mary Easley Hill, Elizabeth Kelly, Sue Yeaman, Lucy Potter, Doris Eley, Kitty Bass, Jane Colbourne, Margaret Farrar, Kitty Roberts, Mary Bowles, Zaida Thomas, Evelyn Knaub, Louise Van Lear, Virginia Hamilton.

Sunflower (maid of honor): Nancy Harrison.

Queen Alice: Margaret Parker.

Mad Hatter: Martha Scott Watkins.

Dormouse: Katherine Young.

March Hare: Audrey Clements.

Frogs: Nelle Oakey Ryan and Janice White.

Carpenter: Alice McKay.

Walrus: Sue Waldo.

Oysters: Elizabeth Billups, Louise Floyd, Frances Crawford, Elizabeth Darden, Ida Miller, Doris Moore, Evelyn Massey, Gertrude Sugden, Florence Sanford, Sue Hume, Margaret Clark, Dorothy McNamee, Betty Mae Brown, Nellie Pierpont, Frances Yester, Louise Whitehurst, Ophelia Booker, Louise Gathright, Grace Eubank, Doris Coates, Billy Wilkinson, Pauline Jones, Virginia Moses, Mary Alice Glass.

Lobsters: Helen Boswell, Nell Boswell, Virginia Riddick, Elizabeth Rogers, Marjorie Booten, Alfreda Shields Claudia Harper, Billy Rountree.

Caterpillar and Butterfly: Fanny Bosworth.

May Day Committees

Chairman .....Elma Rawlings
Theme ..... Sue Yeaman
Dance: .....Dorothy Prescott and Louise Van Lear

Mary Shelton, Billy Rountree, Alice Rowell, Edna Hatcher, Fanny Bosworth, Christine Childrey, Frances McDaniel, Evelyn Knaub, Bonnie Lane, Elizabeth Shiplett.

Music ..... Louise Hyde

Dorothy Wise, Edna Hatcher, Josephine Smith, Madeline McCommons, Christine Seay, Elizabeth Phillips, Margaret Murry, Dorothy Justis, Elizabeth Wheeler, Elizabeth Walton, Sue Yeaman.

Costume, Jac Morton.

Mary Diehl, Itasca Waters, Ava Simmons, Frances Channel, Eileen Howard, Ophelia Booker, Christine Childrey, June Blackwell, Alice Grainger, Capitola Rountree, Lelia Mattox, Elizabeth Rogers, Martha Davis, Rebecca Cousins.

Masks: Jean McClure, Janice White.

Setting, Lena Mac Gardner, Elizabeth Walton, Mary E. Wood, Phyllis Ferguson, Bobby Saunders, Betty M. Brown, Ida Evans, Elizabeth Ware.

Publicity, Edith Shanks.

Head usher, Virginia Brinkley.

Transportation, Burnley Brokenbrough.

Advisers, Louise Robertson Fitzpatrick, Leola Wheeler, Virginia Bedford, Olive T. Iler, Katherine Tupper, Mary Barlow.

Note: In case of rain on Saturday afternoon the May Day exercises will be held at 5 o'clock on the first suitable afternoon of the following week.

DR. JARMAN IS GUEST AT ANNUAL RECEPTION

Continued from page one

Bowling Green; Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Combs, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas D. Eason and Mr. and Mrs. James C. Harwood, all of Richmond. Mary Farmville alumnae were present at the reception.

MONOGRAM INSTALLS PRESIDENT & SECRETARY

Evelyn Massey and Louise Walmsley took the oath of office as president and secretary, respectively, of the Monogram Club Tuesday night at ten o'clock. Frances Horton, a senior who has been outstanding in athletics, sportsmanship, and scholarship, was initiated into the club.

A hike will be led from the Rotunda at six o'clock Friday morning. There are only four more weeks for hikes and physical efficiency tests. Listen for announcements in the dining hall.

WALTON AND WHITE ARE TWO FRATERNITY HEADS

The Pi Zeta chapter of Beta Pi Theta, national honorary French fraternity, recently elected the following officers to serve for the 1934-35 term: Katharine Walton, president; Maude Rhodes, vice-president; Carmen Clark, secretary; Fanny Bosworth, treasurer; Anne Putney, critic.

Gamma Psi, honorary art fraternity, has elected the following new officers: Janice White, president; Jean McClure, vice-president; Merwyn Gathright, secretary; Christine Seay, treasurer.

Summer Employment Solved

Student representatives to distribute educational literature. Three months' steady work. Local or traveling. Liberal compensation. Address College Dept., 1006 Arch t., Philadelphia.

WILLIS
The Florist
FLOWERS FOR ALL OCCASIONS
PHONES 181-273

Electric Shoe Shop
Will Fix Your Shoes While You Wait
BEST WORKMANSHIP AND LEATHER USED

RICE'S SHOE STORE
Street and Dress Shoes
Dancing Slippers Dyed
Correct fits our speciality

Weyanoke
BEAUTY SALON
A Complete Beauty Service At Moderate Prices
What we have done for others we can do for you
WEYANOKE HOTEL
Farmville Va.

G. F. Butcher
High Street
"The Convenient Store"
FOR GOOD
THINGS TO EAT AND DRINK

Gray's Drug Store
QUALITY—PRICE—SERVICE
Come in and Get Acquainted
We Are Glad to Have You With Us!
Farmville, Virginia

Mack's
BARBER AND BEAUTY SHOP
323 Main Street
We use the Frederick Method
Hair Cutting and Thinning a Specialty

Martin JEWELER
Gifts of Lasting Remembrance
317 Main St. Farmville

SouthsideDrugStore
(On the Corner)
Films Developed
FREE
If bought at this store

Shannon's
Is H[illegible]arters for the Best
SANDWICHES
—and—
DRINKS
—in—
FARMVILLE!

THE HUB
Headquarters For Sport Shoes
White—in the new cut-out sandals, pumps and ties. Brown & White, Black & White and Solid White—Black, Blue and Grey. All widths and sizes. Prices from $1.95 to $5.00.
COME IN AND LET US SHOW YOU THE NEWEST IN FOOTWEAR!
THE HUB DEPARTMENT STORE
"Farmville Best Place to Shop"

GET A B. A. DEGREE
Here, B. A., Means (Baldwin Apparel)
You can be a style leader as well as a group leader when you wear clothes from BALDWIN'S.
See the new hats, shoes, dresses for summer wear. You can easily shop here without having to wire dad to send extra money.
Visit the Style Shop for Ladies
BALDWIN'S
Quality—Price—Service

CONGRATULATIONS TO THE MAY DAY COMMITTEE

THE ROTUNDA

POE

CAFETERIA IN "REC" TOMORROW NIGHT

We Teach To Teach

Volume XIV | THE ROTUNDA, WEDNESDAY, MAY 9, 1934 | No. 27

"Alice In Wonderland" Is Theme For Beautiful May Day Festival

Approximately 230 Students Participate In Successful Celebration May 5

One of the most beautiful May Day festivals in the history of the college was celebrated in the natural amphitheatre at Longwood, Saturday, May 5, at 5 o'clock.

Approximately two hundred and thirty students participated, and everyone co-operated to make a successful fete which was enjoyed by the student body, faculty, parents and friends. The weather was perfect, and the lovely trees and grass at Longwood furnished a most suitable setting for the theme, arranged by Sue Yeaman from Lewis Carroll's ever loved "Alice in Wonderland" and "Through the Looking Glass."

The leading characters of the festival were as follows:

Alice (Queen)—Margaret Parker.

Alice's sister—Mattie Lula Cooper.

Sunflower—(Maid of honor) — Nancy Harrison.

Flowers (the court):

Red Roses—Zaida Thomas, Elizabeth Kelly, Mary Easley Hill, Jane Coulbourn.

Continued page 3, Column 3

SMITH AND CROCKETT ATTEND CONVENTION

Helen Smith and Agnes Crockett returned last night from Philadelphia, where they attended the national Y. W. C. A. convention.

The morning after their arrival the student assembly was held at 10:30 in which all representatives were introduced after short speeches of welcome by the national officers.

The first open session was held at 2:30 Wednesday afternoon. Mrs. Harrie R. Chamberlin, national president, and Mrs. C. M. Van Asch Van Wyck, world president from Holland, extended greetings.

Each morning there were open worship services, business meetings and addresses. Each afternoon Student Assemblies were conducted in the Green Room of the Y. W. C. A. in Philadelphia. "The Student Movement in America" was the

Continued page 3, Column 2

Rotunda Staff Sells Bound Copies At $1

Tonight the Rotunda staff begins the sale of bound copies of the Rotunda for the year 1933-34. The price will be one dollar and all issues published during the whole of the school year will be included.

As there are only a limited number of copies available students are advised to buy at their earliest convenience.

Shoe Factory Opens In Farmville Soon

A branch of the Craddock Terry Shoe factory is to be established in Farmville. Machinery, that will be used in remodeling the Walker factory, has already arrived. The remodeling plans are being made by architects and efficiency experts.

Under the supervision and instruction of expert shoe operators, a school will be opened in which instructors will be given to the local people who are applying for positions with this company. The most efficient members of the school will be given permanent positions with the factory when it opens.

Farmville and all surrounding communities are enthusiastic over the establishment of this concern.

Candidates Selected For Honors Courses

During this week the eligible candidates for honors courses next year will be chosen.

The honors courses are designed to give capable students special intensive training, during their senior year of college. This enables them to pursue independent, individual work of an advanced character for credit and with a possibility of winning special honors in the department in which the major portion of the work falls. The work may be (1) original research with a view of discovering new knowledge in a field, (2) collecting, organizing, and stating the significance of first hand data and materials, (3) experimentation, demonstration, application, or theories interpretation, or interpretation of theories or principles in a given field, (4) creative work in art, literature, or music.

Any student who, at the end of the second quarter of her junior year, has attained an average not lower than C on all of her college work and an average not lower than B in the department of her major subject is eligible for honors work in the department in which she has

Continued page 3, Column 4

Sociology Workers Plan Rural Youth Movement

Miss Stubbs, Belle Lovelace, Helen Westmoreland and Itasca Waters represented the sociology department of S. T. C. at the initial meeting of the Country Life Association of America at Richmond Friday and Saturday.

The meeting was held in the club room at Murphy's Hotel and Professor B. L. Hummel of Virginia Polytechnic Institute presided. The purpose of the association is to direct the rural youth movement in Virginia. All sides of the question were explained by speakers representing colleges of the state. Professor Hummel explained the V. R. A. and F. E. R. A. Dean Prichard of the University of Richmond, Dean Brown of Roanoke College, Dr. Spicer of the University of Virginia and Mr. Arthur James of the State Welfare Department also made talks pertaining to rural youth in Virginia.

After discussions Saturday afternoon, Mr. Hummel organized a steering committee to direct the work in the State, Miss Florence Stubbs of Farmville State Teachers College was requested to aid the committee in its work.

May Day at various colleges interfered with attendance at the meeting. There were representatives from Radford State Teachers College, Fredericksburg State Teachers College, Farmville State Teachers College, Virginia Polytechnic Institute and from clubs and other organizations.

STUDENT DAY CHAIRMAN AND COMMITTEE CHOSEN

Christine Childrey has been selected chairman of the students' day programs for the coming year. She has chosen for her committee: Sue Waldo, Dot Wise, and Margaret Turner. These girls have already begun work. They presented last Wednesday a fine program here. Anyone wishing to put on a program may see the chairman or one of her committee. The student body is looking forward to good programs.

CALENDAR

May 9 to 16

May 9

Y. W. Cabinet meeting—5:00.
Rotunda Staff—7:00-7:30.
Pi Gamma Mu—7:30-8:30.

May 10

Kappa Delta Pi—7:00-8:00.
Beta Phi Theta—8:00-9:00.
Pan-Hellenic—10:00.

May 11

Debate Club—7:00-8:00.
Gamma Psi—7:00-8:00

Maly 14

Virginian Staff—7:00-8:00.
A. A. Council—7:00-8:00.
Alpha Kappa Gamma—8:00-9:00.
House Council—10:00.

May 15

Class Meetings—7:00-7:30.
Student Council—10:00.

May 16

Y. W. Cabinet Meeting—5:00.
Rotunda Staff—7:00-7:30.
Pi Gamma Mu—7:30-8:30.
Pi Kappa Delta—8:30-9:30.

GraduationSpeakers RecentlyAnnounced

Dr. J. Joseph Rives, pastor of the Emory Methodist Church, Washington, D. C., will give the commencement address at the graduation exercises here, Tuesday morning, June 5. Dr. Solon B. Cousins, pastor of the Second Baptist Church, Richmond, will deliver the baccalaureate sermon Sunday evening, June 3.

More than 200 girls will be participants in this year's commencement exercises. The program will begin with a reception for the graduating classes Saturday, June 2. On Monday an interesting feature of the class day exercises will be presented at Longwood.

The valedictorian will be Grace Rowell, the salutatorian, Katherine Hoyle. They will give their addresses Tuesday morning at the exercises.

SIGMA PI RHO DELEGATES GO TO FAIRMONT FRIDAY

Sigma Pi Rho will send six delegates to a convention in Fairmont, West Virginia on May 11. The delegates are: Dr. Walmsley, national councilor; Lila Jacob, president; Carmen Clark, treasurer, Maude Rhodes, secretary; Virginia Brinkley, senior representative, and Katherine Adams, new member. They will leave in Dr. Walmsley's car early Thursday morning and return on Saturday. They expect to have a pleasant and profitable trip.

Lions Convention To Be Held Here Thursday and Friday of This Week

Students Will Entertain After Formal Banquet in Main Dining Hall

Final preparations are being made for the State Lions Convention which is to be held in Farmville on Thursday and Friday of this week.

District Governor John W. Boozer will call the convention of over four hundred Lions together on Thursday morning. Mayor E. W. Sanford will welcome the delegates and will present them with the key to the city of Farmville.

On Thursday evening at 6:30 p. m. a banquet will be held in the S. T. C. dining room. A number of short speeches will be given during the dinner which will be concluded about 9 p. m. The Lions will then be entertained in the gymnasium by the following dances to be given by S. T. C. girls: the flower dance (May Day court), dream fairy dance, spear dance, butterfly solo, gay nineties tap dance, and the private dance. The ball will begin immediately after the program.

Since the dining room will be used for the Lions' banquet on Thursday night, S. T. C. girls will be served supper cafeteria style in the recreation hall promptly at 6 p. m. With the exception of student waitresses and the girls invited to the banquet, all students will be expected for dinner in the "rec" on Thursday night. Miss Mary will also give permission to those invited to the ball on Thursday night to go.

The business of the convention will be translated on Friday morning. At that time state officers will be elected and a place will be selected for the next convention.

Mr. Coyner Presents Paper at Convention

Mr. M. Boyd Coyner presented a paper on "Some Relations between Mental Test Scores and Academic Rankings" at the 1934 session of the Virginia Academy of Science which [illegible] Harrisonburg [illegible] from Dean's lists records for several years.

Some interesting conclusions presented in the paper were: one-half of those girls on the Dean's List only one term were from the A and B group, according to the Otis Test clasification, as freshmen; two-thirds of those on for two terms were from the A and B classification; three-fourths of those on three terms were from the A and B groups. The paper, as presented by Mr. Coyner, will appear shortly in the Virginia Teacher at the request of the editor, Mr. Logan.

Four hundred people were registered at Harrisonburg for the meeting. This is the largest registration in the history of the organization which is comprised not only of those interested in science from the educational point of view but also of those interested from industrial fields. Dr. Sanger of the Medical College of Virginia was elected president for the ensuing year. Since Harrisonburg was "pinch-hitting" for Winchester, in the words of Mr. Duke, the Academy will not favor us by meeting here next year, but will hold its annual session at Richmond.

Scholastic Fraternity Initiates 13, Promotes 5

Those to be initiated in the Delta chapter of Alpha Phi Sigma for this quarter are:

Margaret Alsop, Irene Bryant, Audrey Clements, Grace Collins Julia Derr, Claudia Harper, Virginia D. Jones, Bonnie Lane, Bess McGlothlin, Margaret Pringle, Marjorie Quarles, Gay Stieffen, and Amanda Wilson.

Two freshmen were promoted to the masters degree. They were Lloyd Kelley and Lucille Rhodes.

The three girls promoted from the novice to the apprentice degree were: Mary B. Nelson, Janice White, and Mary Wicker.

Apple Blossom Festival Held At Winchester Proves Very Successful Despite the Rain

Rain or sunshine the Apple Blossom Festival goes on! The only thing that the rain bothered in the least was the outside coronation, which was to have been held in the amphitheatre. Handley auditorium, though it seated only one thousand of the hundred thousand that the amphitheatre can accommodate was used for this purpose.

Because of rain, the pictures that were to have been taken on Thursday by the Pathe and Universal moving picture companys while the princesses promenaded under the Apple Blossom arbor, were taken at the home of Mrs. Russell just before the reception.

Many prominent people were at this extraordinary eevnt. The "Budget Man" of Washington crowned the queen, Mrs. John Hay Whitney, in the absence of President Roosevelt. Mrs. Whitney had as her escort Mr. Thomas Byrd.

Friday, the weather was perfect and the day started off with the pageant "Spirit of the Years". This outstanding event was produced by the teachers and eight thousand children of the Winchester schools. The feature parade, "The Trail of the Pink Petals" was led by 3,000 children dressed in pink. The chariot of her majesty was drawn by four dapple-gray imported horses from Mrs. Whitney's Llangollen Stables in Loudoun county. The floats, each repreesnting some specified thing, extended four miles.

Every minute soemthing was planned to add to the enjoyment of the participants—dances, receptions, and all the things that go to make up an enjoyable time. Each of the princesses from various schools was escorted by a cadet. These cadets in turn, gave many effective drills.

Misses Alice and Grace Rowell represented Farmville State Teachers College as Twin Princesses at the festival.

Mr. Allen Discusses Newspaper Make-up

Mr. J. E. Allen, editor of the Linotype News, spoke to the combined staffs of the Rotunda and Tiger Monday evening at eight o'clock in the little auditorium. After the talk the two staffs were entertained in the Student Building Lounge.

Mr. Allen's lecture was on newspaper make-up which he illustrated with a large board on which he presented, "The Ordinary Newspaper," and, "The Distinguished Newspaper." He discussed the tabloids first, reading some of the glaring headlines such as "Double Crosser Gets the Chair," "Lone Nest Harbors Gin Mill Loot," and "Night Club Vamp Gives Big Shot Chair." This type, which was popular years ago, would not even be considered headlines today.

He discussed the front page of a newspaper which he said used to be considered merely as a covering for the precious inside. Now the front page is the show window, and the most important stories begin there even if they must be continued. The type is the most striking factor, and type is made to read—not for pretty designs. Type is the vehicle of expression in our newspapers, on the front page as well as other.

Mr. Allen then explained the three ways of placing advertisements, which are: pyramiding, compromise pyramiding, and magazine or mell. He concluded the lecture by asking anyone who wished to leave his name and address and receive the sample papers to study.

After the lecture Mr. Wall gave the Rotunda and Tiger staffs an informal reception in the lounge, which was beautifully decorated with wild flowers. Punch and cakes were served and every one had an enjoyable evening.

THE ROTUNDA

Member Southern Inter-Collegiate Newspaper Association
Member Intercollegiate Press Association of Virginia

Newspaper Member

Published by Students of State Teachers College, Farmville, Va.

Entered as second class matter March 1, 1921, at the Postoffice of Farmville, Virginia, under Act of March 3, 1879.

Subscription ..... $1.50 per year

ROTUNDA STAFF

Lelia Mattox, '35.....Editor
Evelyn Massey, '36..Associate Editor

Board of Editors

Amis Montgomery, '37.....News
Florence Sanford, '36.....Make-Up
Kathryn Cotten, '35
Mary Banks Sullivan, '36, Literary
Anne Putney, '35.....World News
Mary Hastings Holloway, 37
.....Intercollegiate
Anne Diggs, '37.....Socials
Margaret Farrar, '37.....Features
Lelia Sanford, '36.....Sports
Miss Virginia Potts.....Alumnae

Proof Readers

Virginia Bean, '37.
Elizabeth Walton, '36.

Managers

Lena Mac Gardner, '35.....Business
Alva Sawyer, '35.....Asst. Business
Maude Rhodes, '35.....Circulation

Assistants and Reporters

Elsie Cabell, '37.
Bess McGlothlin, '37.
Katharine Coleman, '35.
Bernice Jones, '37.
Bonnie Lane, '37.
Laeta Barham, '35.

BEAUTY AND FRIENDSHIP

"Thy Campus With Blossom Perennially Fair."

At this time of the year our campus is really awe-inspiring. The tender green grass, the profusion of yellow and white flowers, the trees with their new leafy foliage—all set off by a background of vine-covered, red brick walls present an indescribably beautiful picture. As we let its beauty sink into our souls, we feel an endearment for our school.

Some of us will leave in June—graduation after four years of work and play. Friendships have been formed that nothing can sever, happy hours have been spent, the memory of which time will not obliterate. Some of us will come back next year to strengthen our friendships and add new ones to our list.

When a person writes in your annual, "I've enjoyed being with you at S. T. C. and I'm hoping to see you lots more next year," nine times out of ten she honestly and sincerely means it, though she has written it many times. That is what college really means: the forming of friendships, relationships—intimate or casual—is what goes to make up four glorious years spent in college. These are what sink deepest and remain longest. Names and faces will be forgotten in years to come, but the hours spent under the same roof and on the same campus, with hundreds of girls who have the same things at heart will leave an impression that nothing can ever entirely erase.

Just as the beauty of nature is rare and precious, so is true friendship. Our friendships should be carefully cultivated, and they, too, will blossom "perennially fair."

OUR MAY DAY

May Day is over and all of us are doubtlessly glad. There are various and sundry measures for our attitude, some selfish maybe but for the most part they are reasons of which to be proud.

First of all we rejoice because we can say that our May Day was a grand success in every sense of the word—the weather was perfect, the crowd appreciative and the participants were at their best. Members of the audience conversed enthusiastically about the colorful costumes and the beauty of the whole performance. We are glad that our efforts, no matter how strenuous, afforded pleasure for others. Finally, we are reveling in the thought that our afternoons are our own and not to be occupied by tedious hours of waiting for our cue to rehearse.

The general opinion that we upheld our reputation by putting on a May Day celebration which was gratifying to our visitors and our Alma Mater is well justified. Unselfishness and while hearted selfishness and whole hearted co-operation is the secret of this success.

ALMA MATER

During this week when we unitedly think very particularly of mothers, when we think of and do the kindnesses for those who most patiently have served us best would it not be well to include in our Mother's Day tribute our Alma Mater? She stands in our lives for those same under services for which the mother of our childhood days is so dear. She upholds the same standards of worth, of truth, of loyalty, love and service. Untiring effort and endeavor to serve mankind, to maintain the ideals of a Christian love is likewise her request of us. In being true to our Alma Mater, we are true to that which mother would have us be; and so let us propose a toast to our mothers in truth and in spirit, to the best, to the finest, to the most loyal and loving, our mothers!

OPEN FORUM

Dear Editor:

The tumult, so to speak of May Day is over, but the shouting lingers yet. To use one of Dr. Jarman's expressions, "the performance came up to our usual high standard", but that could not have been possible without the wonderful co-operation of all the participants and everyone else who contributed to the huge success of May Day.

In behalf of those who saw the May Day program, I wish to express appreciation for this well planned and beautifully presented performance.

A Student

Dear Editor:

Why couldn't the privilege of an open library be granted to the seniors? Although this system did not work several years ago with the whole student body, the seniors are not apt to abuse it. The benefits to be derived from the open library outweigh the few chances taken on having books lost. More reading would be done and a greater knowledge of books and authors. And think of the pleasure browsing around in a large library, such as we have. Although the librarians do their best as things are, there would be no time lost in having to wait for books.

If this privilege is too much to ask for, why not set aside, say two hours each day during which the seniors can go free in the library? Let them prove that they can be trusted!

JOHN BULL SHOWS HIS TEETH

"Economic conflict is the basis of all modern war." It has been said. Granted that this is true, we can have no doubt that the differences between Japan and Great Britain have led the latter to take her most recent, and for her, most drastic step in declaring a virtual economic and commercial state of war on her ambitious rival in the Yellow Sea.

The trouble between the two island kingdoms has been growing for several years—in fact, it was in 1932 that the textile mills in Lancahier clamored for relief from Japanese competition in the manufacture of cotton-goods, which is the present bone of contention. The British ministry duly opened negotiations to protect its textile exports from this menace. However, in March of this year, Japan flatly refused to hold her exports to their "then-level" until cotton goods ceased to be a drug on the market.

There are many reasons for Japan's refusal: her factories have recently been rationalized and are in better working condition than the British mills; the yen is depreciated; her warehouses are full of American cotton that she purchased for 5c or less; her wage scale permits her to undersell foreigners. She therefore, is in fine shape for competition, and England has been surpassed in her export of textiles by a competitor for the first time in her history.

The British were thoroughly

Continued on page 4

AT OTHER COLLEGES

A contest is being sponsored by the Collegian of Richmond University, in an effort to find the most representative lady for the title of the "All-American Co-ed." Say they, "Rally, Richmond great lovers, rally to the cause and send in the name of your secret passion. Use your eyes and notice the beautiful "gals' gliding by!"

During recent elections at Washington and Lee the oratory and old-fashioned propaganda and general suave manners of all politicians held full sway. Parties were formed, independents declared themselves in, and complete platforms were outlined at a rally held by the candidates before the election. Afterwards even a smoker was given—with free beer!

Voting at University of Alabama a few weeks ago was indefinitely postponed due to the fact that one candidate for the editor-in chief of the Crimson and White was shot and the other one abducted. Big time politics entering into college elections!

Amusements: Ohio State University has provided equipment for co-ed golfers who are eager to improve their drives. S. T. C. at Eau Claire, Wis., deems skiing as their most popular sport, whi bicycling is all the recreation at James Milliken U.

The library of Dartmouth College is being decorated by the Mexican artist, Orozco. The panels depict the gods of the modern and ancient worlds as Orozco interprets them.

At Florida State College on the morning of May Day the sophomores entertained the seniors at breakfast. The May Fete was an all-day celebration with the entertainment being held in the open air theatre at five in the afternoon. The theme was based upon an old story of the Queen of Alsace Lorraine who gives a bag of gold for the most pleasant entertainment of the day.

The prize freshman at the University of Minnesota is a youngster thirteen years old who went through grammar school in five years and

Continued page 4, Column 2

CAMPUS COMMENTS

A certain young girl, with tennis racquet in hand, was asked how the court was. Being unable to get her mind off the May court, she replied, 'It's doing very well but the costumes really aren't so pretty."

Evelyn Wilson really had a time Saturday night. Does it always pay to be cute enough to have three on your trail?

It seems quite a shame that "Knubby" Knaub and Pauline Jones neither got to V. P. I. this past week-end. Maybe complications could have been avoided if they had compared notes a little earlier in the game.

Maybe short hair gets them after all. How about it, Minnie?

In the midst of the May Day program some comical sights were noted. Namely Betty Mae lying in the grass laughing while others continued to dance. Bonnie Lane registering embarrassment as she made her exit; a red card cowering among the blocks in the court scene.

Rather a modest crew these girls we have here at S. T. C. Why the red faces giving the effect of a continual blush. Here's hoping the color fades or should we say changes before the big day when we leave for our various homes.

Red Riddick was cute enough to go to V. M. I but no one there seems to have been cute enough to persuade her that Clark Gable isn't the ideal man.

It's sisterly love or love for the sisters with the Potters. Lucy, we suggest that you reinstate or else get an eye on your sister.

What caused Shawen to pace the floor Monday night? Maybe she suspicioned that someone had taken her "Hard-a-way."

ALUMNAE NEWS

The only meeting to report this week was a most delightful one held at Chase City on Monday night at which time Miss Mary White Cox, Dr. Jarman, Miss Pauline Camper, Miss Virginia Potts and Mr. S. L. Graham represented the college. The party was a unique one in that there was a musical and dance program furnished by three of Chase City's "younger set." Misses Boswell and Bryant gave a tap dance and Mr. Swift Gregory played the piano. The honor guests for the occasion were the girls of the high school graduating class. Alumnae of the college were hostesses.

Mrs. S. J. Claiborne, formerly principal of the college training school, was the week-end guest of Miss Mary White Cox. Miss Cox entertained Mrs. Claiborne at Longwood at a luncheon on Saturday and again that night in the Y. W. Reception Room.

The schol is always glad to have its alumnae back. The large numbers of "old girls" visiting us this year have been very gratifying. May Day was another evidence of the loyalty and love of our Alma Mater's daughters.

AMONG OUR CAPS AND GOWNS

JOYCE STURM

Cheerfulness is the keynote of Joyce's character. Joyce is not only willing to serve, to be helpful, and do little kindnesses—she is cheerfully willing.

Keynote is a peculiarly fitting word to use in describing Joyce—music has been one of her outstanding interests during her four years at college. She has been one of the leaders in the College Choir, her clear soprano voice enabling her to sing successfully solo parts. Her musical ability helped to secure for her the place of chairman of music on the Y. W. Cabinet last year. Having proved her executive ability, she was chosen vice-president of the Y. W. for this past year. As vice-president, Joyce was chairman of the alumnae and membership committee and in this capacity was responsible for a large share of the work Founder's Day.

One would search a long time before finding a girl so simple, sincere, sweet, and dignified as Joyce.

EDITH SHANKS

Through her quiet leadership, high ideals, friendliness, and wit, Edith has won a never-to-be-forgotten place in all our hearts.

She has shown us her ability as a Y. W. worker by serving as chairman of the Alumnae Committee during her sophomore year, secretary her junior year, and treasurer this year.

We recognize her high scholastic ability by her membership in Kappa Delta Pi, Sigma Pi Rho, and Alpha Phi Sigma.

Edith served on the Rotunda staff this year, and is a member of Sodalitas Latina and Le Cercle Francais.

Having been such an asset to the college, we are sure that Edith will be greatly missed next year.

AFTER FLASHES OF MAY DAY

"Well, it's over," sobbed the walrus." "Yes, it's over, all over, and we're getting back too late for supper.' The rabbits exchange puzzled expressions on hearing this comment from the walrus. It's well known by those who were in Wonderland that the Walrus had 24 or more oysters—and why should she be sobbing now for food? The Carpenter says the walrus wants an excuse to join in a parterhip sobbing party with the Mock Turtle. The Mock Turtle, however, has checked his tears long enough to tell "a Wicket" that May Day was fun and the Wicket assures him that it was "a good game." The Red Queen arises and demands to know the exact time. This causes the Wild March Hare to pull forth his watch and announce to his companions that they are late; where upon, the insects start a most annoying hugging and wish to be off. There's really little that can be done—even the knights are at loss as how to keep order. The frog, dear fellows, croak continually. It seems a shame that they should insist on

Continued on page 4

Mother

A mother's love—how sweet the name!
What is mother's love?
A noble, pure and tender flame,
Enkindled from above,
To bless a heart of earthly mold;
The warmest love that can't grow cold;
This is a mother's love.

—J. Montgomery.

"MOTHER'S DAY"

"One day in the year set aside for mothers—how strange a custom! Like setting one day aside to grasp the beauty of the sun, the moon, the stars—all the lovely, natural things that bring warmth, light, comfort.

"Many times I have longed to set my thoughts down upon paper. Not in flowery language of greeting cards, but in the simple language of love. I write the words, 'Dear mother'—lovely tender words—and grow silent beneath the weight of thoughts and memories that, lying buried like precious jewels beenath the dust of years, arise clear and glowing in my mind.

"Impossible to describe the homely beauty of those thoughts: warm kitchen filled with the scent of bread, sunlight dappling a clean white cloth, touching the rosy apples in their copper bowl; tender memories of loving acts and dreary tasks done smilingly while the sun shone and the years marched swiftly past, and youth, perhaps secretly mourned, passed with it.

"How to describe the broad- deep-bosomed earth, symbol of maternity—awakening in the spring of the year, lying fruitful beneath the summer suns, resting from its labors in the autumn and dreaming peacefully wrapt in snowy mantle? Dwelling upon these thoughts we hear home strong on the wind, the galloping hoop of Time astride the ceaseless cycles of the years, drawing nearer and nearer. Then caught by a vague fear, we say or we think or we write, 'Dear Mother.' "

—Ester Elwolsky (age 14)

THE LIGHT THAT FAILED

If I were hanged on the highest hill,
Mother o' mine, O mother o' mine!
I know whose love would follow me still,
Mother o' mine, O mother o' mine!

If I were drowned in the deepest sea,
Mother o' mine, O mother o' mine!
I know whose tears would come down to me,
Mother o' mine, O mother o' mine!

If I were damned of body and soul,
Mother o' mine, O mother o' mine!
I know whose prayers would make me whole,
Mother o' mine, O mother o' mine!

—Rudyard Kipling.

Youth fades, love droops, the leaves of friendship fall;
A mother's secret hope outlives them all.

N. P. Willis.

There is a Jewish saying that "God could not be everywhere and therefore he made mothers."

Men are what their mothers make them.

—R. W. Emerson.

No joy in nature is so sublimely affecting as the joy of a mother at the good fortune of her child.

—Ritcher.

Many make the household but only one the home.

—James Russell Lowell.

All that I am, or hope to be, I owe to my angel mother.

—Lincoln.

No language can express the power and beauty and heroism and majesty of a mother's love. It shrinks not where man cowers, and grows stronger where man faints, and over the master of worldly fortune sends the radiance of quenchless fidelity like a star in heaven.

—E. H. Clapin.

SOCIALS

The May Day exercises at Farmville when Miss Margaret Parker was crowned as queen, and the festivities attendant upon the Apple Blossom Festival at Winchester were the important events of the week-end.

Among those who attended the Apple Blossom festival were Martha Stine and Sue Mallory. Alice and Grace Rowell were very much there also, for they represented Farmville as princesses.

Helen Smith and Agnes Crockett ventured to Philadelphia where they attended the Y. W. C. A. convention.

Home still holds a big spot in the hearts of many for Wyclif Scott, Frances Woodhouse, Mary Elizabeth Wood, Kathryn Woodson, Dorothy White Beulah Travis, Dorothy Ranson, Zilla Newsom, Mary Mayers, Audrey Wilson, Emily Meadows, Evelyn Knaub, Berniece Jones, Mary Jones, Martha Hamlet, Zell Hopkins, Virginia Inge, Kathryn Harvey, Virginia Hamilton, Eleanor Gibbs, Ruth Fleet, Nancy Beard, Christine Childrey, Mildred Davis, Jeanne Gwaltney, Annie Anderson, Dot Morris, Virginia Widgeon, Mary Alice Farrell, and Audrey Wilson spent the week-end at home.

Harrisonburg had quite an eventful week-end for Harrisonburg, S. T. C. held its May Day exercises Saturday afternoon, and Virginia Academy of Science met. Those from here who attended were Frances Horton, Irene Bailey and Maude Jones.

Richmond for the week-end claimed Helen Westmoreland, Louise McNulty, Belle Lovelace, Elizabeth Meredith, Betsy Wilkinson, and Tac

Other near-by places that proved entertaining and were visited are Kenbridge by Lloyd Kelly, Elizabeth Kelly, and Rebecca Cousins; Salem by Katherine Hoyle; Lynchburg by Dot Dollins and Louise Van Lear; Arrington by Dorothy White, Helen Harris; Bedford by Bessie Hix; Pamplin by Mary McDearman, Frankie Minter and Frances Jamerson; Phenix by Margaret Hunter and Lucille Rhodes; Crewe by Mildred Slayton and Elizabeth Welch; Williamsburg by Eleanor Mitchell, where she attended Chi Omega Alumnae Week-end at Wm. and Mary College; Ashland by Lois R. Jinkins, Alta Vista by Virginia Lee Lynchburg Station by Beverly Wilkinson; Berryville by Mary Elizabeth Newcomb; Boyce by Mae Burch, Waverly by Martha Harrison; Blacksburg by Bertha White Babb; Culpepper by Jean McClure; Chase City by Nancy Dodd; Buckingham by Dorothy Woolwine; Blackstone by Evelyn Wilson; Burkeville by Irwin Staples; Norfolk by Mary B. Sullivan; Charlottesville by Eva Owen, where she attended the University of Virginia dances; Aylett by Branche Lewis; Washington by Winifred Goodman; White Post by Mary Denny; Amherst by Margaret Dudley; Danville by Ione Concert; and Concord by Edith Coffey.

JUNIOR WOMAN'S CLUB HAS DANCE AT ARMORY

The dance given by the Junior Woman's Club on Saturday night in the Armory was quite successful. The crowd was composed mostly of school girls and Hampden-Sydney boys, although numerous town people attended.

The Hampden-Sydney Collegians played for the dance. Being greatly handicapped by the loss of a saxophone and bass player, their music was not up to par; however, few of the dancers were conscious of this and enjoyed the eevnt very much.

The May Day Committee wishes to express its appreciation to the student body, faculty and friends who had any part in making May Day a success.

Peggy Ann PHOTOS
10 for 10c
Just the thing for Exchange and Memory Books
For Short Time Only
Studio Rooms
Over Hub Bargain Basement
Main Street Farmville, Va.

Y. W. C. A. NOTES

Music Week At Prayers

"Here we will sit and let the sounds of music creep into our ears," as Shakespeare had his characters do. I've often thought of what a comforting thing it is that there is music written without words; soothing thing it is to be able to think your own thoughts, to dream your own dreams, to fashion your own rainbows to Liebestraum, or to Schubert's Serenade or to Traumerei, or to any of the hundreds of things with which we are familiar—no laws—no bounds—no limits—we can soar to our own heights and at the end of it all be lifted to "mountains of joy" with interpretations, wholly our own. "Joyful music lifts us sunward in the triumph song of life."

Did it ever occur to you how often you crave music because of its congeniality? There's evidence enough of the fact on the campus—if you don't believe it try taking a nap or concentrating within a block of any piano on the place. Some of us are contemplating camp this summer. At camp, the first thing in the morning, you sing; the minute everybody gets to the table, you sing; after the last meal is over at night, to the bonfire and you sing; when it's time for "light's out," you sing. The one form of recreation which the most of us enjoy, dancing, appeals to us because of the rhythm and melody of the music. The Indians and barbarians tried it with-

Continued on page 4. Column 3

CROCKETT AND SMITH ATTEND CONVENTION

Continued from page 1

chief topic of discussion in these meetings.

Among the interesting addresses were the following: "An Approach to Better Race Relations," by Dr. Charles H. Houston, colored, dean of Lou School, Howard University, Washington, D. C.; and "National Recovery" by Dr. Walton Hamilton, dean of Law at Yale.

Mrs. Franklin Delano Roosevelt spoke on Friday at the ALL convention luncheon at Scottish Rite Temple. There were 2100 delegates seated for the luncheon. Mrs. Roosevelt's topic was "The Responsibility of Women for Better Industrial and World Relations."

Other features of entertainment consisted of a tea at Temple University, student banquet at University of Pennsylvania where the delegates and guests were greeted by student representatives in native dress from all countries of the world, a trip to Valley Forge through Germantown and Bryn Mawr, a tea at Woman's Medical College, and a concert by the Philadelphia Symphony Orchestra at the New Art Museum.

Kleanwell
CLEANERS AND TAILORS
Expert Cleaning, Repairing and Remodeling of Ladies Garments
Main Street, Opposite Postoffice
PHONE 98

S. A. Legus
TAILOR
CLEANING
PRESSING
REPAIRING
Phone 203

C. E. Chappell
COMPANY
Stationery, Blank Books and School Supplies
Cigars, Cigarettes and Soda
Farmville, Virginia

YOU WOULD LOVE TO HAVE YOUR SHOES FIXED AT THE
Lovelace Shoe Shop
110 Third Street

ALICE IN WONDERLAND IS THEME OF MAY DAY

Continued from page 1

Ragged Robins—Doris Eley, Mary Bowles, Margaret Farrar, Evelyn Knaub.

Tea Roses—Kitty Roberts, Sue Yeaman, Kitty Bass, Louise Potter.

Daisies—Virginia Hamilton, Dorothy Prescott, Mary Shelton, Louise Van Lear.

White Rabbit—Dorothy Justis, Tweedledum and Tweededee—Ruby Vestal, Ruth Gaines.

King of Hearts—Jestine Cutshall.

Queen of Hearts—Margaret Herndon.

Knave of Hearts—Helen Shawen.

Jester—Martha Higgins.

Mock Turtle—Nancy Dodd.

Gryphon—Jean McClure.

Red Queen—Laeta Barham.

White Queen—Barbara Kester.

Knights—Frances McDaniel, Margaret Webster.

Gardners—Sarah Beck, Martha Putney.

Mad Hatter—Martha Scott Watkins.

Dormouse—Katherine Young.

March Hare—Audrey Clements.

Frogs—Nelle Oakey Ryan, Janice White.

Carpenter—Alice McKay.

Walrus—Sue Waldo.

Caterpillar and Butterfly—Fanny Bosworth.

Of those who are responsible for the brilliant success of May Day, Sue Yeaman, who arranged and adapted the theme, and Elma Rawlings, chairman of May Day, deserve a great amount of credit. Everyone who had any part in May Day, contributed to make it a most attractive festival. The advisers were Mrs. Louise Robertson Fitzpatrick, Misses Leola Wheeler, Virginia Bedford, Olive T. Iler, Katherine Tupper, Mary Barlow.

She: I'm hungry.
He: What?
She: I said I was hungry.
He: Sure, I'll take you home; this car makes so much noise that I thought you said you were hungry.
—Arizona Kitty Kat.

Little Boy: Mamma, what is a second story man?
Mother: Your father is one, dear; if his first story won't do he always has a second.

1c—"I warn you girlie, I'm dynamite."
Drag: "Well, I'm your match."
—The Log

Doctor: "You must avoid all forms of excitement."
Male Patient: "But, doctor, can't I even look at them on the street?"
—The Log.

RADIO HIGHLIGHTS

May 9 to 13

Wednesday, May 9
6:30—Harold Stern, WOR.
7:45—Sketch, with Irene Rich WJZ.
8:30—Wayne King, WEAF.
9:30—Guy Lombardo, WABC
10:00—Vincent Lopez, WJZ.
11:30—Jack Denny, WJZ.
11:00—Pickens Sisters, WJZ.

Thursday, May 10
800—Rudy Vallee—WEAF
9:30—Eddie Duchin Orch., WJZ.
10:00—Glen Gray Orch., WABC.
10:00—Paul Whitman, WEAF.
11:30—Isham Jones Orch., WABC
11:30—Harold Stern Orch., WEAF.

Friday, May 11
9:00—Leah Ray with Phil. Harris Orch., WJZ
9:00—Abe Tyeman, WEAF
9:15—Ruth Etting, WABC.
10:30—Jack Benny, WEAF
11:30—Vincent Lopez, WEAF.

Saturday, May 12
7:00—Isham Jones, WABC
7:45—Pickens Sisters, WJZ.
8:00—Rich Orch., WABC.
9:30—Eddie Duchin, WJZ.
11:15—Dance Orch., WEAF.

Sunday, May 13
7:30—Joe Penner, WJZ.
8:00—Eddie Cantor, WEAF.

CANDIDATES SELECTED FOR HONORS COURSES

Continued from page 1

her major. The committee on honors courses requires that the student who is eligible be recommended during the third quarter of her junior year by the head of the department in which she did the greater portion of her work.

The honors courses are under the general direction of a committee, appointed by Dr. Jarman. The work of each candidate is supervised by a special committee, the chairman of which is head of the department in which the major portion of the candidate's work falls and two or more additional members of the faculty chosen by the chairman and the candidate.

Those students who have met all requirements, who have kept the average of all their college work up to the level required for entrance upon honors courses, and who have produced work worthy of honors will, on graduation, receive the degree of B. S. with honors in the departments of the honors courses.

Gish—"Aw-gimme a kiss."
Drag—"Now I'm a gude Scotch lassie."
Gish—"Well, let's trade a few, then."
—The Log.

DOROTHY MAY STORES
Easter Apparel Headquarters!
Millinery with that Expensive Look—$1.85 and $2.85
Gorgeous Suits ..... $9.45 and $16.50
Dresses—Sunday night dance frocks and Sport $5.45 and $7.45
THE DOROTHY MAY STORE
First to show the Newest!

DAVIDSON'S
Spring and summer footwear now on display. For your inspection. In the newest styles

$3.50 — $5
& $5.95

EACO THEATRE
Program May 10 to 16

Thurs. &Fri., May 10 and 11
Frederic March
Rosemary Ames, Rochelle Hudson
in
'Death Takes a Holiday'
For three days Death takes a holiday. The whole world pauses while a strange lover takes a beautiful girl in his arms. No woman ever had such a lover. He was dangerous; fascinating; a lover tasting the joys of mortal emotions for the first time. Three men adored him but only one was willing to die for him. Men's hearts stood still. Women's pulses quickened at the sight of him. This is Frederic March's greatest role as Death loving a mortal woman. You just cannot afford to miss it.
Also Big Crosby in "Just An Echo"
Adults 25c at Mats and 35c at nights

Saturday, May 12
Richard Arlen
Ida Lupino
Toby Wing
in
'COME ON MARINES'
Here's music, soldier boys and pretty girls in a rollicking comedy-drama right up to the minute. When the boys are sent to rescue a group of "children" they find a bevy of debutantes, and then the fun begins. Bandits and blondes both loose in the same jungle in the Philippines. The boys didn't know whether to shoot first and kiss afterwards, or just kiss A really enjoyable picture that will hold your interest from first to last happy scene.
Also song, "Traveling the Road"; Cartoon, "Red Hot Mama" and Fox News.

Next Monday and Tuesday May 14 and 15
Warner Baxter
Rosemary Ames
Mona Berrie
in
"Such Women Are Dangerous"
Baxter as you like him best: dashing, debonaire, daring and dramatic. In a role that is different from any he has ever played; in story more exciting than any he has done before. He wrote about women, then learned about love. His love stories lured feminine hearts, and feminine worship lured him to disaster. He was gallant to the end and honorable to a fault. He never told a lady's secrets—even though many ladies told secrets about him. How you will enjoy this unusual love story.
Also "Rumba Rythm" and Metro News.

Next Wed., May 16
BEN FRANKLIN IV.
In An Entirely New Performance of Magic Never Before Seen in Farmville.
Mr. Franklin will appear on the stage at both matinees and night.
On the screen:
Lew Ayres
Patricia Ellis - Frank McHugh
in
"LET'S BE RITZY"
Are you four flushing? See what happened to two young folks who tried putting on the dog; who tried to high-hat the town on a woolen-cap income. You'll struggle with them, laugh with them, thrill with them at their adventures in the high places. A down-to-earth picture of today. Don't miss it.
Also Chapter 7 "Pirate Treasure". No advance in prices!

Daily matinees at 4 P. M. Evenings at 8 P. M.

Adults, 20c at Matinees, and 25c at nights; except on percentage pictures. We hope an increased attendance will permit us to continue these prices.

The management of the Eaco Theatre has asked that we not eat peanuts or pop corn in the theatre.

Varsity Team Plays At W. & M. Saturday

On Saturday, May 12, the Farmville tennis team will meet the Indianettes on their court. It is expected that the William and Mary team will be a rather strong one as they lost only two of their last year's players. The watch will be composed of three singles matches and two doubles.

The Farmville team composed of Mary Berkley Nelson, Ruby Vestal, Martha Putney, Margaret Dudley, and Mary Virginia Walker will leave here Saturday morning accompanied by Miss Iler. The team will arrive in Williamsburg around noon and the matches will be held at 2:30. Thty will spend the night there and return to Farmville Sunday morning.

Last year the matches were won by Wm. & M. with the exception of one doubles match. This year the team expects to make a better record.

Government Class Sees Congress In Session

Dr. Walmsley's government class left Tuesday morning, May 8, at 6 a. m. to see congress in session and make a tour of the city of Washington. The party included the teacher, Dr. Walmsley, and twelve S. T. C. students.

The day being ideal for travelling, the party arrived at Mount Vernon about 10:30 a. m. after having stopped a short time for breakfast in Richmond.

Among the interesting historical sights that the class saw on the way to the capitol were Pohick, the church which George Washington attended, and Aquia Creek, the first Catholic settlement in Virginia.

Everyone on the trip enjoyed the visit to Mount Vernon, the ancestral home of the Washington family. The mansion with its colonial furnishings is situated on a high hill overlokng the beautiful Potomac river. One could spend days at this historic shrine without seeing everything thoroughly. As time was limited the party had to leave early to see congress.

On reaching Washington they went to the house of representatives where they met Congressman Drewery who showed them his office and gave them personal cards by which they might see the house in session.

On first glance the house seems to be a room where confusion reigns—men talking at the same time, newspaper reporters taking notes, and everyone doing as he pleased.

In contrast to this the senate is a place where a more dignified discussion is taking place. Among the senators present the class was fortunate in seeing Byrd, Glass, Huey Long, and others.

After seeing congress in session the sightseers saw the following places: Congressional Library, Washington Monument, White House, Lincoln Memorial. While driving over the city they saw many other places of interest.

About 11:30 last night the party returned S. T. C. The class enjoyed the day and considered it a perfect way to study government in action.

Rotunda Staff Adds Ten New Members

From among the try-outs for the Rotunda Staff, Grace Collins, Katherine Conway, Katherine Cooper, Merwyn Gathright, Susan Gresham, Lila Jacob, Mary Lee Newcimb, Kathleen Ranson, Aileen Saunders and Minnie Smith have been appointed as members. These girls will come to the regular meeting of the staff tonight at 7 o'clock.

Much interest was shown in the try-outs for the Rotunda Staff. Those who did not make the staff this spring may be asked to fill any vacancy that occurs next fall. Any others interested in trying out for the staff will do so in the fall.

The co-ed system is evidently new at Northern State Teachers College, Aberdeen, N. D., for the dorms for the eighteen male students are indeed unique—the loft of the garage and the old gym, where as the "Exponent" states are all the comforts and conveniences of a modern home!

TRAINING SCHOOL PUPILS GIVE PROGRAM IN CHAPEL

The seventh grade of the training school gave an attractive and unusual program in chapel this morning. Dressed in costumes of the different nations of the world they sang songs representative of those countries. Helen Shawen was in charge of the program and Dot Wise served as pianist.

The following well-known songs composed the program: Russian, Volga Boat Song; Italian, Santa Lucia; French, Pierrot's Door; Japanese, Jasmine Flower; Chinese, Magic Ball; Scotch, Blue Bells of Scotland; English, John Peel; American, Home on the Range.

JOHN BULL SHOWS HIS TEETH

Continued from page 2

awakened when it became known that Japan was stealing from under the very nose of the scouts, and whatever else they have in India, this choice market. When she was found to be actually out-selling the British there, the trade agreement of January 5, 1934, was developed by which Japan agreed to an import duty of 50 per cent. Japan has also expanded her markets into Africa, South America, Egypt, the United States (her largest market) and even Australia. It is no wonder that Britain is thoroughly alarmed and even contemplates excluding Japanese textiles from all her dominions.

No one can deny the seriousness of a trade war and the effect upon both belligerents in every way, for the very life of either of these empires is dependent upon the sale and export of manufactured products. Japan seems to be undaunted, however, and continues her antics begun years ago. She flirts with the League of Nations, steals China's pet provinces, flaunts her audacity in the face of the United States, and, mirabile dictu, flicks her heels at her former friend and ally, the mighty British Empire, leaving all her competitors to trail along in her economic dust.

AT OTHER COLLEGES

Continued from page 2

high school in two and a half—

Says the Florida Flambeau, "A grandmother club has been formed at Virginia Intermont College and its purpose is to train girls to be better grandmothers. . . . .Now that's what we call counting your chickens before they hatch." What's the purpose of our Granddaughter's Club??

Fraternities at Randolph-Macon College have decided against the system of delayed rushing after trying the experiment, for distrust of each other was the major cause of failure. The Greeks on this campus have decided to return to the old system of "cut-throat" rushing.

Will the "rat system" at V. P. I. be abolished? The Monogram Club supported this move and now three more student groups renounce the practice of all-powerful domination of "rats" by upperclassmen. The old order is indeed changing . . . .

WILLIS
The Florist
FLOWERS FOR ALL OCCASIONS
PHONES 181-273

Electric Shoe Shop
Will Fix Your Shoes While You Wait
BEST WORKMANSHIP AND LEATHER USED

RICE'S SHOE STORE
Street and Dress Shoes
Dancing Slippers Dyed
Correct fits our speciality

SPORT SLANTS

By L. SANFORD

This week-end our tennis team will have a chance to redeem themselves. In their last match we made excuses for them, the first match, they had had only a little practice, etc. This time excuses will be hard to find and so we hope they will bring home the bacon.

You may be an amateur at tennis but experience is the best teacher. Why not come on out and try your luck. We realize that the number of players outnumbers the number of courts, but double up and make a foursome. Those of you who come from the crowded city districts should really feel quite at home on our courts. One solution of the problem could be found in an alarm clock set for 5 a. m.

We're not accusing anyone of not getting what they go after but why not try archery and improve your technique. Practices will be held back of the senior building on Tuesday and Thursday afternoons from 4:00 until 5:00 o'clock. Frances Horton, manager, as yet hasn't completed the plans for the final tournament but it is to be held within a few weeks. Why not help make the season a success and win ten points more for your color toward the color cup?

What our sports department needs is a few more people as faithful as Louise Walmsley. We congratulate her on the wholehearted way in which she takes part in the different athletics.

Y. W. C. A. NOTES

Continued from page 3

out any accompaniment except the clapping of hands and the stamping of feet and soon they were making instruments of reeds cut out and skins dried and drawn. To them it was not only their recreation but their worship. They worshipped the sun and the moon with their dancing and, what to them was, their music.

England had sung, "It's a Long Way To Tipperary," but in due and dreadful season England came to a spirit for which Tipperary was not adequate. Nearly seven hundred and fifty thousand of her sons, the flower and bloom of her youth, lay in their graves in the Gallipoli Peninsula or out at the Flander's Front. "Tipperary was not deep enough for myriad tombs." So the English fell back on the Recessional and began to sing in mournful cadences to the "Lord of our far-flung battle line" and to chant in tragic sincerity, "Lord, God of Hosts, be with us yet Lest we forget, Lest we forget."

Our worship has come to be a joy, but it will always remain a solemn joy. The most magnificent cathedral and the best minister would be incomplete worship to us were there no praising the Lord together with song, were there no instrument, no choir.

Is it wonder that when men had waited for a Messiah for some Prince to come in regal pomp and splendour; that when the Prince of Peace did come to earth he came as a wee babe and that his tiny feet came marching to earth on the triumphant strains of the angel voices singing, "Glory to God in the Highest and on Earth Peace, Good Will To Men"? Music—music of the angel choirs around the throne of God. In a wonderful sense, Jesus Christ can be called, nearly two thousand years later, "The Singing-Master of the Centuries."

"God cannot be worshipped beautifully enough."

M. V. P.

Tentative Positions Assigned Teachers

Tentative teaching assignments for the grammar grades of the rural school are as follows for the fall term 1934:

John Randolph: first grade, Elizabeth Andrews, Kathleen Bass; second grade, Marian Grey Layne; third grade, Page Nottingham; fourth grade, Sarah Alice Zeigler; fifth grade, Elva Kidd, Sally Rose Chapelle.

Rice: first grade, Ella Arthur Black; second grade, Minnie Smith; third grade, Zilla Newsom; fourth grade, Emily Channell, Marjorie Bradshaw.

Worsham: second grade, Kathryn Fitzgerald; third grade, Lillian Frances Johnson; fourth grade, Patsy Saunders; fifth grade, Frances Channell, Bobbie Mattox; sixth grade, Carrie Putney, Pauline St. Clair.

Summer Employment Solved
Student representatives to distribute educational literature. Three months' steady work. Local or traveling. Liberal compensation. Address College Dept., 1006 Arch t., Philadelphia.

Weyanoke
BEAUTY SALON
A Complete Beauty Service At Moderate Prices
What we have done for others we can do for you
WEYANOKE HOTEL
Farmville Va.

G. F. Butcher
High Street
"The Convenient Store"
FOR GOOD THINGS TO EAT AND DRINK

Gray's Drug Store
QUALITY—PRICE—SERVICE
Come in and Get Acquainted
We Are Glad to Have You With Us!
Farmville, Virginia

Mack's
BARBER AND BEAUTY SHOP
323 Main Street
We use the Frederick Method
Hair Cutting and Thinning a Specialty

AFTER FLASHES OF MAY DAY..

Continued from page 2

staying near the King and Queen of Heart. They quite detract from the romantic atmophere, but it's the King's own fault. There's the whole court of flowers in whose midst he could take his Queen if he wasn't too lazy to move.

Dun and Dee announce quite solemnly to their friends that they don't want to leave Alice and her Wonderland. Alice was a sweet child. It was a pretty wonderland. Perhaps, -insects, frogs, checker boards, wickets and all are sorry to leave it and turn back into a college girl.

What are Raphael's Madonnas
but the shadow of a mother's love, fixed in permanent outline forever.
—T. W. Higginson.

Earth held no symbol, had no living sign
To image forth the mother's deathless love.
—Mrs. Hale.

Martin JEWELER
Gifts of Lasting Remembrance
317 Main St. Farmville

SouthsideDrugStore
(On the Corner)
Films Developed
FREE
If bought at this store

Shannon's
Is H: [illegible]arters for the Best
SANDWICHES
—and—
DRINKS
—in—
FARMVILLE!

THE HUB
Headquarters For Sport Shoes
White—in the new cut-out sandals, pumps and ties. Brown & White, Black & White and Solid White—Black, Blue and Grey. All widths and sizes. Prices from $1.95 to $5.00.
COME IN AND LET US SHOW YOU THE NEWEST IN FOOTWEAR!
THE HUB DEPARTMENT STORE
"Farmville Best Place to Shop"

GET A B. A. DEGREE
Here, B. A., Means (Baldwin Apparel)
You can be a style leader as well as a group leader when you wear clothes from BALDWIN'S.
See the new hats, shoes, dresses for summer wear. You can easily shop here without having to wire dad to send extra money.
Visit the Style Shop for Ladies
BALDWIN'S
Quality—Price—Service

EXAMINATIONS BEGIN MAY 29

THE ROTUNDA

SENIOR BANQUET TO BE ON JUNE 1

We Teach To Teach

Volume XIV | THE ROTUNDA, WEDNESDAY, MAY 16, 1934 | No. 28

Indianettes Swamp S. T. C. Tennis Team

C. Rountree Wins Singles, Vestal and Putney Tie In Doubles

The William and Mary College tennis team was the victor over the S. T. C. racketeers in one double and two single matches played there Saturday, May 12.

Farmville won one single and tied a double match in the hard-fought games. Both the Wm. and Mary and S. T. C. girls showed quick and accurate playing throughout the matches. The speed and precision used in placing the balls made the receives hard to return.

Singles

Hudak—Vestal (7-5, 6-3).

Dunleavy—Putney (4-6, 6-0, 8-6).

Rountree — Cummings (5-7, 9-7, 8-6).

Doubles

Murphy and Mitchell vs. Nelson and Dudley (6-3, 6-3).

Vestal and Putney vs. Holladay and Torrence (8-6, 4-6).

The players with Miss Olive T. Iler, Billie Rountree, manager and M. Walker, alternate, left Farmville Friday at two o'clock and returned Sunday night at 6:30.

Kappa Delta Pi Issues Invitations to Reception

Beta Epsilon Chapter of Kappa Delta Pi will have its annual reception for those freshmen and sophomores whose averages are in the upper quartile, on Thursday evening, May 17, at 8:30, in the lounge.

Invitations have been issued to Dr. J. L. Jarman, Miss Jennie M. Tabb, Miss Mary White Cox, Miss Virginia Potts, the entire faculty, and the following students: Margaret Alsop, Virginia Bean, Agnes Bondurant, Doris Eley, Alice Grainger, Mary Hastings Holloway, Floyd Kelly, Bonnie Lane, Leonora Long, Bess McGlothlin, Evelyn Massey, Katherine Milby, Doris Moore, Virginia Payne, Margaret Pollard, Lucile Rhodes, Elizabeth Spitler, Elizabeth Walton, and Marguerite York.

A. C. E. Initiates 35 New Members Tuesday

Initiation of new members into the A. C. E. organization was held Tuesday night in the Recreation. The 35 initiated were:

Helen Owen, Ruth Fleet, Sue Yeaman, Louise Gathright, Vera Carr Twaddell, Kemper Cobb, Edna Dowley, Lucile Good, Chesta Hubbard, Martha Harrison, Dorothy Eubank, Lily Farrar, Billie Rountree, Louise Whitehurst, Virginia Inge, Nell

Continued page 4, column 2

Miss Stubbs Discusses "Women In New Deal" At Fraternity Meeting

"Women in the New Deal" was the subject which Miss Stubbs discussed at the meeting of Kappa Delta Pi on Thursday night of last week.

Miss Stubbs proceeded to show what the New Deal has meant to women. Since women are more generally underpaid than men, the setting of minimum hours and wages has been very beneficial to them. It was brought out that women do about 85 per cent of the buying in this country; therefore, appeals of "Buy now" were addressed to the women of the nation upon whom rested the return of normal conditions. "The restrictions against child labor in the mills, with minimum age 16, and in the coal mines 17, accomplished in fact what women have been trying to do for years. The whole "Alphabet Soup," FERA, NIRA, AAA and the rest, have proved helpful to women."

"On the other hand, we have the part that women have played in the New Deal. Miss Frances Perkins, secretary of labor, is one of the leaders of women in the government. The appointment of Ruth Bryan Owen as representative of our government to Denmark shows that Washington is aware of the service that women can render to the nation. Then there is Mrs. Bannister, sister of our own Carter Glass, who is assistant secretary of the treasury. Many women fill the places of directors and administrators in the numerous branches of relief. Last, but foremost of all, we have Eleanor Roosevelt whose talents place her in the position of leader among women and First Lady of the land in many ways," said Miss Stubbs.

Dr. F. Simkins Delivers Social Science Lecture

The Virginia Gamma Chapter of Pi Gamma Mu will hold its annual open meeting in the Student Building lounge tonight at 7:30. At this time Dr. Simkins will lecture on "Research and Creative Thinking." Dr. Simkins has done much work in social sciences and he is very interested in the subject of his talk. The lecture is of educational value and is expected to be beneficial to college students.

P. Gamma Mu invites all persons interested in social sciences, research, and creative thinking, to attend the meeting. The faculty, associate members of the chapter, members of honor fraternities, and dean's list and honor roll students are especially urged to hear the lecture.

EXAMINATION SCHEDULE

May 29-June 1

Tuesday, May 29

Class hour	Exam.
11:00 M. W. F.	8:30
12:00 M. W. F.	11:00
4:00 P. M.	4:00
7:15 M. W.	7:15

Wednesday, May 30

8:30 T. T. S.	8:30
9:30 T. T. S.	11:00
2:00 M. W. F.	2:00

Thursday, May 31

11:00 T. T. S.	8:30
12:00 T. T. S.	11:00
3:00 P. M.	2:00

Friday, June 1

8:30 M. W. F.	8:30
9:30 M. W. F.	11:00

Conservatory Students Broadcast Over WRVA

The voice and piano students of the Schemmel Conservatory of Music will broadcast over WRVA, Richmond, from 12:00 to 12:30 on Saturday, May 19. Many S. T. C. students will take part in the program.

Special features of the program include a duet by Margaret Dudley and Edwin Cralle, a solo by Mrs. Dahl, piano solos by Christine Seay and Jeannette Jones, a duet by Mrs. Dahl and Edwin Cralle, and a chorus, Carmena," by the college girls.

S. T. C. students, who will participate in the program, are Lila Jacob, Sarah Canada, Annette Roberts, Ernestine Payne, Patsy Saunders, Joyce Sturm, Addie Norfleet, Caroline Jones, Margaret Wolfenbarger, Ella Arthur Black, Elizabeth Ranson, Claudia Barleon, Jeanne Allen Bowles, Dorothy Woolwine, Christine Seay, Jeannette Jones, and Margaret Dudley.

State Lions Convention Meets Here May 10-11

District Governor John W. Booze r called the convention of over four hundred Lions together on Thursday morning, May 10. Mayor E. W. Sanford welcomed the delegates and presented to them the key to the city of Farmville.

On Thursday evening at 6:30 p. m. a banquet was held in the S. T. C. dining room. Lion E. S. Shields was toastmaster and the principal speaker was Edward R. Kingsley, Parkersburg, West Virginia, national vice-president.

After the banquet the Lions were

Continued on page 4

SUMMER SCHOOL SESSION OPENS MONDAY, JUNE 11

Summer school will open on Monday, June 11. The quarter will be divided, as usual, into two terms, the first lasting six weeks, and the second continuing through five weeks.

The work of the summer quarter is largely of the first and second years of courses I and II, yet each year a good many advanced courses are open to third and fourth year students of courses I, II, and III. A number of classes in the summer quarter are daily.

Among the faculty who plan to teach this summer at S. T. C. are: Misses Barlow, Bedford, Bierbower, Foster Haynes, Henry, Hiner, Iler, Jennings, Lila and Wilhelmina London, Moran, Mix, Nichols, Peck, andn Stubbs, Mr. Bell, Coyner, Grainger Holton, McCorkle, Strick, and Drs. Walmsley, Wynne, and Jeffers. Miss Carolyn Cogbill of Petersburg, Va., who holds an M. A. degree from Columbia University will be critic teacher for the fifth, sixth and seventh grades. Miss Cogbill is a former student of S. T. C. and was assistant to Miss Carter while doing her degree work.

Sociology Class Hears Mrs. Booker Discuss Education of Negro

Mrs. M. M. Booker, who is the Jan's Fund agent in Mecklenburg County, spoke on Wednesday to Miss Stubbs' sociology class which is making a particular study of the negro.

As an introduction to her talk Mrs. Booker told the class of her life. She graduated from Petersburg State Normal in 1911 and since that time she has done educational work among the negroes in Cumberland and Mecklenburg counties. For two years she taught and for the last twenty-one has been supervising the work in the negro schools. In describing her work she gave the class a picture of the conditions existing among the negroes. She stressed the desire of her race to become educated in order to be a contributing part of American society. Her review of some of the accomplishments made by the negroes in recent years showed that he is anxious to improve himself and his race.

Mrs. Booker threw some light on the interracial side of her work and in so doing made the members of the class more sympathetic and understanding in regard to their problem. Always she praised the whites who have been instrumental in furthering her work.

Following the main talk there was a period of open discussion. Mrs. Booker's talk was intelligent, interesting and constructive and the class is looking forward to hearing more of such lectures.

Miss Andrews Speaks to Alpha Kappa Gamma

A talk by Miss Lula Andrews of Richmond, featured the Alpha Kappa Gamma picnic program at the Longwood cabin Monday afternoon.

Miss Andrews, an honorary member of Alpha Kappa Gamma, and a former faculty member here, spoke to the Joan Circle of Alpha Kappa Gamma on the life and character of Joan of Arc, patron saint of that fraternity. In an interesting and inspirational talk, Miss Andrews stressed the courage, faith, and confidence of Joan of Arc, who contributed to France her great gift of leadership.

Following the Alpha Kappa Gamma picnic and talk by Miss Andrews, the fraternity and guests returned to college for the installation of officers.

At the picnic and installation were: Misses Lula Andrews, Jennie Tabb, Mary Clay Hiner, Nichols, Stubb, Mix, Dr. Stevens, Grace Virginia Woodhouse, Alice McKay, Jestine Cutshall, Nelle Oakey Ryan, Meg Herndon, Sarah Beck, Frankie McDaniel, Elizabeth Vassar, Mildred Gwaltney, Helen Smith, Honey

Continued on page 4

Sigma Pi Rho Meets In Fairmont, W. Va.

S. T. C. Sends Six Delegates; Farmville Representatives Fill Two Offices

Enthusiasm and expansion were the keynotes at the second national convention of Sigma Pi Rho, national honorary fraternity in Latin which assembled in Fairmont, West Virginia, May 11.

Farmville sent six delegates: Dr. Walmsley, Lila Jacob, Carmen Clark, Maude Rhodes, Virginia Brinkley, and Katherine Adams.

Much was accomplished through the efficient manner in which the business of the convention was carried on. A new chapter, the Georgia Alpha Chapter, was installed through Miss Evelyn Howard, delegate from Georgia State College for Women, Milledgeville, Georgia. The constitution was revised so as to better fit the needs of the expanding organization. The ritual was rewritten and the iris, purple, yellow, and white was adopted as national flower to carry out the colors of the organization. It was decided to establish a semi-annual publication in order to keep the chapters in close communciation.

Two of the national officers for next year are representatives of Farmville. Dr. Walmsley, national counsellor, keeps the place in which he serves a four-year term. Miss Lois Cox, graduate of Farmville, was re-elected national vice-president.

At the banquet in the Fairmont Hotel Friday night, Dr. Rogier, president of Fairmont College expressed pride in the fact that Fairmont was among the founders of Sigma Pi Rho. Mrs. Cook, faculty adviser of the West Virginia Alpha Chapter made the impressive statement that "Now that people have more leisure time, Latin and the classics will

Continued page 4, column 5

College High Seniors Present "Moon Shy"

"Moon Shy," a play by Helen A. Monsell, was presented by the senior class of the college high school on Friday, May 11, at 8 p. m. in the large auditorium.

A large crowd was present to enjoy the play given by a cast of home talent. Each year the graduating class presents some dramatic form of entertainment for the benefit of their "Alma Mater." This year's production was under the capable direction of Margaret Herndon a junior at S. T. C.

The play was a success and greatly enjoyed. Between acts the audience was entertained with music furnished by the Farmville High School orchestra, and the songs of Bessie Graybill, an S. T. C. student.

Numerous Improvements Made This Year at S. T. C.; Many More in Prospect for Next Year

Yes, this year at S. T. C. has been a memorable one. Several weeks ago an article was written in retrospect of this year in our college. Perhaps now, we may consider next year and its prospects at S. T. C.

Can you wait to go swimming in the "ole swimming hole" next year? Our pool will be up to date in all of its equipment and will add another modern building to our campus. Certainly this project will be a drawing card for Farmville, and to the old students it will be a bright spot in our bigger and better next year.

We notice that the field connected with the tennis courts is being leveled and filled. It is understood that this lot will be used for baseball and lacrosse. The latter game will be added to our sports for next year, and many are looking forward with pleasure to playing.

In prospect as in retrospect we happily think of Founder's Day. Our Fiftieth Anniversary was a memorable occasion, and will encourage us in trying to make the Founder's Day that begins our next fifty years a big success.

When we return to school in the fall we may look forward to seeing shining buildings, freshly painted walls and nice clean rooms. The campus also, will be in keeping with the season, for it will be in the height of its fall beauty.

It is nice to reminisce of yesterday, but after all it is the adventurous tomorrow that we seek.

Simple Faith of Washerwoman Inspires Alumna To Write Story: "God's Bank Ain't Busted Yet"

One bright spring morning several weeks ago, an old colored washerwoman was standing in a back yard hanging clothes on the line. Her fat arms were dripping with soap suds; her gay checked apron was drenched, but even now her face was like a ray of sunshine, and she sang loudly and joyfully as she worked.

Her mistress, glancing out of the window saw and heard the singer. She wondered how anyone could be so cheerful! The mistress, herself, was in a fog of doubt, misery, and dread. A substantial amount of money, in fact every thing she had owned and worked for in anticipation of the proverbal "rainy day," had just been swept away in a recent bank failure. Now, the rainy day had come and she had no money with which to meet it. It was so hopeless and final, all her work had been futile.

Suddenly she was struck with the thought that she was not alone in her great loss. Her old colored washerwoman had lost everything at the same time she had lost hers. It was hardly more than a pittance that Miranda had lost, yet surely it must have represented everything in the world to her.

Hurrying out she joined the old woman in the back yard. "Miranda, how can you sing so cheerfully?" she asked anxiously, "Haven't you lost everything you possess? Don't you regret it?"

Continued on page 4, column 1

THE ROTUNDA

Member Southern Inter-Collegiate Newspaper Association
Member Intercollegiate Press Association of Virginia

Newspaper — National Scholastic Press Association — Member

Published by Students of State Teachers College, Farmville, Va.

Entered as second class matter March 1, 1921, at the Postoffice of Farmville, Virginia, under Act of March 3, 1879.

Subscription ..... $1.50 per year

ROTUNDA STAFF

Lelia Mattox, '35.....Editor
Evelyn Massey, '36..Associate Editor

Board of Editors

Amis Montgomery, '37.....News
Florence Sanford, '36.....Make-Up
Kathryn Cotten, '35
Mary Banks Sullivan, '36, Literary
Anne Putney, '35.....World News
Mary Hastings Holloway, 37
.....Intercollegiate
Anne Diggs, '37.....Socials
Margaret Farrar, '37.....Features
Lelia Sanford, '36.....Sports
Miss Virginia Potts.....Alumnae

Proof Readers

Virginia Bean, '37.
Elizabeth Walton, '36.

Managers

Lena Mac Gardner, '35....Business
Alva Sawyer, '35.....Asst. Business
Maude Rhodes, '35.....Circulation

Assistants and Reporters

Elsie Cabell, '37.
Bess McGlothlin, '37.
Katharine Coleman, '35.
Bernice Jones, '37.
Laeta Barham, '35.
Grace Collins, Katherine Conway, Katherine Cooper, Meryn Gathright, Susan Gresham, Lila Jacob, Mary Lee Newcomb, Kathleen Ranson, Aileen Saunders and Minnie Smith.

SHALL IT CONTINUE?

An awakening or sleeping—which is it that spring brings us? It seems that the old malady, known as spring fever, has visited the school and the results are somewhat disastrous in the field of athletics.

What has happened to the interest in organized sports on the campus? Warm weather cannot be the entire cause of the noticeable lack of interest which was evident earlier in the year. Through the hockey, basketball, and volley ball seasons the number of active and inactive participants has decreased. There were not more than seventeen spectators at any one of the class volley ball games, and all the teams were not complete.

Winning the color cup is an honor to the successful classes. It is also an honor to the individual who can feel that she helped bring victory to her colors.

Baseball season is almost over and no class has nine players who have ten practices each. Field and track practices have been announced for several days, but no one has shown enough interest or energy to take part. Lacrosse and other athletics have also met with difficulties. No sport can continue without a sufficient number of participants.

Lack of time is often given as a reason for not engaging in athletic activities. Have not the previous classes faced the same heavy schedules and found spare moments for sports? There are very few classes after four o'clock, and the two hours until dinner are usually spent sleeping, on campus, or reading. Baseball and other games furnish an interesting form of exercise and they bring pleasure and health. Remember that your class needs your support, and that you are doing yourself an injustice by not taking part in athletics.

KNITTING AND CROCHETING

The war time craze for knitting and crocheting is having a revival judging from the way needles are flying at S. T. C. We see pink, yellow, blue, red, white—in fact varied and sundry colored hats and sweaters taking form here and there.

Asking a knitter the other day the reason for so much frowning we found that it is possible to make the very bad mistake of "dropping a stitch," resulting in a great deal of trouble and extra work. In this respect, there seems to be a rather strong analogy between life and knitting. The average life is pretty well dotted with "dropped stitches"—mistakes that are discovered too late, and we cause ourselves an unnecessary amount of trouble by rushing into situations and making arrangements or plans without giving to them the thought which their serious nature deserves. The axioms of "haste makes waste", "fools rush in where angels fear to tread," and "a stitch in time saves nine," are perfectly true although we laugh at them quite often.

We have to make decisions now that will materially affect us the remainder of our lives. Slow and careful thinking will solve many problems and aid in avoiding a number of "dropped stitches." Life is a big ball of yarn—look out for the tangles and the "dropped stitches."

OPEN FORUM

Dear Editor:

We notice that a couple of the common "beverage" fountains have been fixed; however, there are still as many as five which are not working. These with their dirty and broken down appearance make ugly spots in our school. It is true that the water fountains have been well located in the buildings, but, at present, with so many of them not working one very often has to walk to the other end of a building to quench her thirst.

Of course, these fountains are needed more than ever in this warm weather, and if they were fixed I'm sure the entire student body would be deeply grateful. In fact, we would be so pleased that I'm sure the fountains would not be found clotted up with paper, trash and chewing gum as they used to be.

AT OTHER COLLEGES

"Springtime! Soft music! Smooth girls!" and the search for the "All American Co-Ed" progresses! The "cherchez la femme" contest being held by the Collegian of Richmond University seems to be more successful than the most collossal of expectations—"for the only reason the candidates' names have not been published as promised is that the printer will need at least two more weeks to set the type for names already received"!? Two names thus far—what a slur upon the pulchritude of the fair! So still the "great lovers" of Richmond U. are urged to search, to find the girl of their dreams and incidentally aid the contest by a few nominations for the exalted title—"All American Co-Ed".

The Duke Chronicle was awarded first prize at the Collegiate Press Convention recently held at Lexington, Ky. It was judged as one of the best college newspapers in the United States. The editor and business manager as a result of their paper's fine showing were awarded commissions in the Honorable order of Kentucky Colonels.

Don't take all—have a choice; for it is said that to finish every course offered at the University of Minnesota, working at the rate of 17 credits a quarter, the average person would spend 503 years!

The ideal college—Rollins at Winter Park, Fla., for here indeed are modern educational methods, don't you think? Classes last only two hours a day, being over at 3:30 and held under the trees on the campus or down on the dock in bathings suits. Individual work is what counts and it is President Hamilton Holt's theory that play is as necessary in a student's life as classroom work.

From the Florida Flambeau, State Women's College at Tallahassee, "In some parts of the world natives still use fish for money. The Plainsman thinks that's a sloppy way to get gum out of a slot machine . . . and feature the preacher announcing that the deacons will now pass tubs for the morning's offering . . . .!"

It would seem that Duke has the most cosmopolitan campus around these parts. Of forty cars parked in one spot, nineteen different states are represented; in one of the dorms, monthly allowances are received from twenty of forty-eight commonwealths . . . occasionally one runs across a native North Carolinian . . .

"This above all to thine own self be true, Thou cans't not then be false to any man."

—Shakespeare.

Nothing To Say About Much

Greetings, Folks:

This colyuming is supposed to be some stuff. Supposed to be is right, but no soap—not after one's had to count sheep all nite. Sheep! What a horrid, measly little animal, why you can tell the minute one enters the room. Who wants to count sheep, anyway? Do you want to spend the rest of your life figuring how many sheep jumped the stile? Darn it! If they're so crazy mad after mathematics, let 'em count themselves.

* * *

Reflection on veracity, purity is obscurity.

How the lions roared and barked—yelped in their Farmville jungle. And "kings" made themselves right at home.

* * *

Reminiscent

When I consider how my life is spent I hardly ever repent.

* * *

Hurray! two more weeks and exams. More fun! It's been a heck ova long time since we've had a chance to read the ole text and stay up nites. I hope the student body will go in for exams in a big way and show the Alma Mater our deep appreciation.

* * *

Introspective Reflection

I would live all my life in nonchalance and insouciance
Were it not for making a living
Which is rather a nonciance.

* * *

Why, I recall it's news that's expected.

Lombardo will shortly go on a tennis star. Vines must soon sink into oblivion even if he does tramp the courts bare-footed.

Jack Benny is the best comedian on the air, and Rudy Valee has the best commercial program.

Yellow Jacket, Sidney Howard's new show, appears to be more than a six weeks' affair on Broadway.

Jelly Leftwich is opening the Sea Side Casino at Virginia Beach June 1.

Farmville is going commercial, what with a shoe factory coming up. Send in your application, girls. You might have a chance to get at some heels yet.

Hal Kemp opens Lincoln Tavern, Chicago and will be on N. B. C. network after May 25.

"Death Takes a Holiday," makes one think.

The most popular tune of the month is "The Beat of My Heart." Try to figure out the words.

* * *

One more . . .

Biological Reflection

A girl whose cheeks are covered with paint,
Has an advantage with me over one's whose ain't.

* * *

And so—you so and so's you must be convinced by now that this pastoral mathematics gets in one's hair.

CAMPUS COMMENTS

Rudy says Nancy Harrison's theme song is "Go in and out the windows." Seems to me it orta be, "I'm just a bird in a gilded cage."

This faculty of ours she can rise to the occasion. Who would ever have pictured Dr. John P. Wynne, M. A., Phd., NRA, in a print dress, sox and a bonnet!! Wasn't Mr. Holton cute!

Aunt Lucy's theme song, "Brighten the Corner Where You Are."

Bess's theme song, "Whistlin' in the Dark."

We knew the Lions were right bad off but when they got to the point where they thought Meg Herndon was dean of women we gave up.

Tarzan has at last found his mate. Isn't that true, Laeta?

Fancy Chub Denit reaching the point where she can give Weesie and Wyc lessons on how to take it. Foolish, isn't it?

Katherine Coleman thought she was taming a Lion but he turned out to be only a dentist.

Exmoodica reports a swell dance Thursday night. Just exactly how does she know?

We extend our condolence to Nancy Parker. Too bad you won't be here to share Ted's honors as president of German Club next year.

Krish (Helen Westmoreland) and Grit Parker weren't cute enough to get to the dance Thursday night, but they sho were cute before it was over!

ALUMNAE NEWS

There have been two very interesting articles by alumnae which have appeared in recent issues of Richmond Times - Dispatch. Florence Ingram has published an article, "English Study Held Basis of All Education" and Lottie Lee Thorpe has one, "Pupil's Health Needs Increase In Depression."

Mrs. Lillian Bugg Pifer has been elected vice-president of the Shawnee Garden Club of Winchester and Mrs. Helen Miller Brown elected secretary of the same organization.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Dillard Watts announce the marriage of their daughter, Ann Elizabeth, to Mr. Redmond Prindiville Hogan on Saturday, April the 21st in Beckley, West Virginia.

The Amherst Chapter of Farmville Alumnae will hold its spring meeting this Saturday, May 19. We will be glad to make a report of the meeting in the next issue of the Rotunda.

THE NEWSMONGER

Who Makes War?

May 18 will be celebrated as World Goodwill Day, and on that day it is hoped that the world will turn its attention away from destruction to friendship. Happenings in the past week, however, almost make us fear for world amity and make us wonder who is responsible for the present unrest, anyway.

France, jealously guarding her "security," announced to the world on May 9 that she was inquiring about an order for eighty airplane motors now being filled in England. She maintained that the motors were for military planes of the Hitler government. Britain coldly received the inquiry about her "private business" and indifferently replied that she had "assurance the engines were for the great German air service, Lufthansa, and were not to be put into military air-craft."

The short-sightedness of England who holds that "business is business" even if her manufacturers sell to a nation who, she has every right to believe, will try again to destroy her, brings our attention to the munition manufacturers the world over. We, ourselves, are selling nitrates and other materials of war to Japan while the English admit that they do not know whether a supply of guns they recently shipped to the continent were really going to Austria for defense or were placed in the hands of the German government. The influence of munition-makers seems paramount in this question of world armament, as ably pointed out by Senator Borah who said on March 5: "So long as the munition manufacturers exercise the influence which they now wield with governments we shall make little progress in reducing armaments . . . I know of no way to restrain them except for the government to take from them the power to manufacture . . . " It has been estimated that it costs $25,000 to kill a soldier in time of war, a great part of which goes into the pockets of the munition manufacturers. No wonder they have influence!

Today, Germany is seeking to persuade the world to her point of view in re-arming, and Britain is trying to justify her position in supplying her with materials to make her well-equipped by 1936. With all the propaganda abroad, the fear nations have of each other, the accelerating pace of armament, it is not surprising that disarmament conferences fail. Before amity and goodwill will accomplish anything in the world, all detracting influences and selfish interests must be destroyed.

Quotation from, "False Deference To Wealth":

"Pray tell me, why is wealth preferred
"To wisdom?" "That's a silly question friend," Replied the other: "Have you never heard
"A man may lend his store of gold or silver ore,
"But wisdom none can borrow, none can lend?"

—Khemnitzer.

High Street—"The Boulevard of Broken Dreams."

"Lamb In His Bosom" and "Men In White" Win Pulitzer Prizes

"Men In White", a surgical drama, by Sidney Kingsley and "Lamb in His Bosom", by Caroline Miller, received the 1933-34 prizes in letters in the annual award of Pulitzer Prizes mad on May 7 at a dinner in New York.

The play was finally decided upon by the advisory board over such fiercely competitive productions as Eugene O'Neill's "Ah, Wilderness", Maxwell Anderson's "Mary of Scotland," and Sidney Howard's stirring play of the Walter Reed yellow fever eradication campaign, "Yellow Jack."

"Men In White" is an extraordinary play. It captures reality with almost a passion of sincerity and it breathes a spirit of idealism — the idealism of the medical profession. In a world of unncertainty the men of science go on to a certain goal and with no fuss illustrating the beauty of self-sacrifice. It deals with the medical profession, with the doctors and nurses who consecrate themselves to the Hippocration ideal, and with a young doctr's initiation to the rigorous realities by which alone the profession of medicine can maintain its high ethical level. No compromise with those realities. Dr. Ferguson learns, can be tolerated. Mr. Kinsley has developed in dramatic and exciting terms the conflict between the doctor and his fiancee to the tragic consequences of his attempt to mix the things of the world with his duty. "Men In White" is dedicated thus: "To the men in medicine who dedicate themselves with quiet heroism to man."

"Lamb In His Bosom" is a beautiful and deeply moving book. It is laid in southern Georgia the half century preecding the Civil War. The people are all real, living people. Lonzo speaks through deed; and has the strong vigor of the pioneer. Ceean, his wife, shows the woman is stronger than man. Life comes to them more or less as a tragedy. She learns the lesson that grief carries one nowhere, and accepts without complaint. The novel shows elemental life in the out-of-way places. Mrs. Miller impresses one as telling without melodrama or self-consciously the story becomes warm and pleasurable. Its explicitness of sight and sound and feeling; its unusual turns of simple word and phrase, give it honest beauty.

CLIPPINGS

"We go on fancying that each man is thinking of us, but he is not; he is like us—he is thinking of himself."

—Reade.

Quatrain ..... Life.
Life has fed me bitterness
And deep I wear its scar,
But through the blinding darkness
I saw ..... a star.

"Politeness is like an air cushion, there may be nothing in it, but it eases our jolts."

—Tony Wons.

Pearls From a Persian Rosary
(Strung by Mirza Ahmad Salrah)

Love and serve humanity.

Be original. Be inventive. Do not imitate. Be yourself. Know yourself.

Stand on your own ground. Do not lean on the borrowed staff of others. Think your own thoughts.

Be deaf and dumb concerning the faults of others.

Let your life be like unto a rose; though silent it speaks a language of fragrance.

"Light is good in whatsoever lamp it is burning,
A rose is beautiful in whatsoever garden it may bloom,
A star is radiant whether it shines from the east or the west."

—Abdu'l Baha.

"There's room at the top," one day I was told;
I climbed and climbed like the toilers of old.
The years multiplied and still did I climb
'Til one day I saw the summit sublime.
But ere I could land where the glory light shone
I saw they had built another piece on."

SOCIALS

May Day festivals are now a matter of history, and thoughts of various groups are turning to commencements, final dances and vacation plans. The social calendar will be greatly enlivened during the coming weeks.

Week-end after week-end Richmond proves an interesting place—at least, it seems that way to the F. S. T. C. girls. Those who spent the week-end there were: Grace Eubank, Louise Whitehurst, Dorothy Glover, Marion Layne, Helen Cunningham, Claire Eastman, Audrey Hawthorne, Bebe Russell, Mary Easley Hill, Edwina Richards, Sue Hume, Jeanne Gwathney, Ruth Fleet, Margaret Woodward, and Virginia Saunders.

Lynchburg claimed quite a number also, for Sallie Perrow, Nellie Pierpont, Lucille Ware, Elizabeth Phillips, Burnley Brockenbrough, Sarah Elam, Martha Hamlet, Nancy Beard, Grace Bass, and Eileen Howard spent the week-end there.

Among other "S. T. C. globe-trotters," who packed their week-end bags to leave Farmville—there were quite a number who spent the week-end at home for Sunday was Mothers Day! Those who ventured home were: Lucile Moseley, Elizabeth Smith, Blanche Kahn, Anne Thomas, Mary Hastings Holloway, Dorothy Stone, Mary Bowles, Hazel Smith, Lelia Sanford, Elizabeth Huse, Marion Raine, Evelyn Knaub, Susan Gresham, Nancy Wall, Merwyn Gathright, Lelia Lovelace, Ruth Roberts, Edith Sanford, Florence Raney, Virginia Lenard, Martha Glenn Davis, Kat Young, Margaret McNamara, Mary Alice Farrell, Elizabeth Wall, Nancy Dodd, Patsy Saunders, Margaret Pittard, Mildred Chandler, Betty May Brown, Lois A. Jenkins, Mary Elizabeth Wood, Eleanor Mitchell, Dorothy Blair, Mary Thompson, Evelyn Bernard, Mary Lee Powell, Virginia Moses, Lucille Good, Margaret Pringle, Frances Graham, June Allen, Muriel Scott, Elsie Mayo, Hilda Coffey, Grace Collins, Alice Boggs, Margaret Drake, Mary B. Fraser, Kathryn Harney, Estelle Jones, Jessica Jones, Helen Morris, Irene Parker, Ruth Rucker, Mildred Slayton, Helen Westmoreland, Katherine Coleman, Charlotte Young Kathryn Eggleston, Madeline Martin, Estelle Wood, Martha Higgins, Catherine Crews, Lizabeth Glass, Jestine Cutshall, Jane Main, Claudia Harper, Louise Alphin, Brooks Wheeler, Elizabeth Wheeler, Margaret Clark, Kathryn Fitzgerald, Virginia Inge, Pauline Jones, Julia Allred, Virginia Wilson, Marion Pond, Margaret Carroll, Tac Waters, Sally Rose Chappell, Vernell Askcue, Marian Jean Wright, and Mary Virginia.

Other places visited by S. T. C. girls: South Boston by Davis Carlton and Anne Wilson; Newport News by Lula Windley; Brookneal by Dorothy Price; Burkeville by Irwin Staples and Rose Somers; Arvonia by Nancy Beard, Scottsville by Janice R. White; Cumberland by Lelia Hill; Covington by Margaret Parker; Blackstone by Elma Rawlings; Amelia by Ida Evans; Walkerton by Mildred Davis; Evington by Evelyn Massey; Chapel Hill by Zilla Newson and Margaret Farrar, Boydton by Elise Marshburn, and Evelyn Wilson; Buckingham by Nancy Cuningham; Madisonville by Virginia Hooke; South Boston by Belle Lovelace, and Rocky Mount by Audrey Clements.

DR. AND MRS. MALLORY ENTERTAIN MU OMEGAS

Dr. and Mrs. J. B. Mallory, parents of Ella and Sue Mallory, entertained the Mu Omega sorority with a feast in the cabin at "Longwood," Saturday night. Dr. Cocks, Grace and Frances Mallory, accompanied the party.

The table was overladen with delicious fried chicken, ham and salads. After this repast the girls listened to a fireside story told by their adviser, Miss Wheeler.

After a most enjoyable evening in the cabin at Longwood the girls returned to school.

Wife—"You ought to be ashamed of yourself, coming home at this hour of the morning."

Husband: "I am, but you see there was no place else open."

—The Log.

COMMENCEMENT PROGRAM

STATE TEACHERS COLLEGE
Farmville, Va., June 3-5

Baccalaureate Sermon ..... Sunday, June 3, 1934—8:00 P. M.
College Auditorium

* * *

Class Day Exercises of the Sophomore Class .. Mon., June 4—10 a. m.
Joan Court

* * *

Class Day Exercises of the Senior Class .... Mon., June 4—3:30 p. m.
Longwood Amphitheatre

* * *

Commencement Exercises ..... Tuesday, June 5—10:30 a. m.
College Auditorium

GIRLS ENJOY FACULTY PERFORMANCE IN SING

A primary school featuring children of yesterday was most effectively presented in the auditorium last Saturday night by the faculty members. Miss Mix was the teacher who patiently tried to teach the children the fundamentals of primary work. The roll was called as follows: Wilhelmina Paleske London, Virginia Potts, Mary Barlow, Lisabeth Purdom, Mary Nichols, Leon Bell, Estelle Taylor, Alfred Strick, (absent), John Wynne, Boyd Coyner, Francis Simkins, and "Sammy" Holton. Classes of spelling and reading were had, during which the children were continually interested in other happenings of the room. The recitations, however, were frequently interrupted by pupils who insisted upon breaking rules to enjoy a "sucker" or some sort of outside amusement. Mary Barlow, Boyd Coyner, and "Sammy" Holton were most graceful solo dancers, which Leon Bell, Lisabeth Purdom, and Virginia Potts rendered a most harmonious musical number. Estelle Taylor, regardless of the fun made by the "naughty" boys recited Edward V. Cooke's "Moo Cow Moo." Even though Francis Simkins' trousers were short, John Wynne's dress had likewise been out grown.

WESLEY FOUNDATION INSTALLED SUNDAY

Sunday evening the Epworth League service at six forty-five in the Methodist church was devoted to the installation of the officers of the Wesley Foundation. Mr. Cromer led the very beautiful candle light service with a message of encouragement to the new council and appreciation of the work begun by the retiring officers under the leadership of Mattie Lula Cooper. Under the new guidance of Louise Hyde and the other officers, with the interest and cooperation of our student body, the foundation expressed the hope that the new year's work will be very successful and beneficial to each girl on the campus.

Kleanwell

CLEANERS AND TAILORS

Expert Cleaning, Repairing and Remodeling of Ladies Garments

Main Street, Opposite Postoffice
PHONE 98

S. A. Legus

TAILOR

CLEANING
PRESSING
REPAIRING

Phone 203

C. E. Chappell
COMPANY
Stationery, Blank Books and School Supplies
Cigars, Cigarettes and Soda
Farmville, Virginia

YOU WOULD LOVE TO HAVE YOUR SHOES FIXED AT THE
Lovelace Shoe Shop
116 Third Street

RADIO HIGH LIGHTS FOR MAY 16 TO 20

Wednesday, May 16
6:30—Harold Stern, WOR.
7:00—Myrt and Marge, WABC.
7:30—Armbuster Orch., WABC.
8:00—Jack Pearl comedian, WEAF.
8:30—Wayne King, WEAF.
9:30—Guy Lombardo, WABC.
10:30—Jack Denny, WJZ.

Thursday, May 17
8:00—Rudy Vallee, WEAF
8:30—Concert Orch., WABC.
9:00—Show Boat Concert, WEAF.
9:30—Fred Waring, WABC.
10:00—Paul Whiteman, WEAF.

Friday, May 18
9:00—Abe Lyman Orch., WEAF.
9:15—Ruth Etting, WABC.
9:30—Phil Baker, WJZ.
10:30—Jack Benny, WEAF.
11:30—Vincent Lopez, WEAF.

Saturday, May 19
7:15—Isham Jones, WABC.
9:00—Harold Stern, WJZ.
10:00—Rebroadcast from Byrd Expedition, WABC.

Thursday, May 17

A. C. E. HOLDS BANQUET IN TEA ROOM TONIGHT

The Association of Childhood Education is holding its annual banquet in the Tea Room tonight at 6:30. Approximately 75 guests are expected, including new members, supervisors of elementary grades and Dr. Jarman, honored guest.

Among the speakers of the evening will be Miss Mix supervisor of Kindergarten, and serveral other members of the Association.

"Daddy, what is meant by college bred?"

"Son, it's a four-year loaf made of daddy's dough."

V. P. I. Skipper.

Y. W. C. A. NOTES

Church Cooperative Committee

The Church Cooperative committee of the Y. W. C. A. with Winnie Frances Eubank as chairman and Mr. Coyner as adviser has as members Marian Cord, Mae Burch, Mattie Lula Cooper, Lelia Mattox, Virginia Hooker, Crenshaw Jones, and Elizabeth Coleman.

This committee acts as a connecting link between the students and the four churches represented. It's aim is to encourage girls to attend church while away from home. This is done by means of a bulletin board upon which posters and clippings are posted daily.

The Town Girls' Committee

The Town Girls' Committee of the Y. W. C. A. was originally created to give the town girls an opportunity to actively participate in the activities of the school and to make them feel more at home in the school. The Y. W. C. A. is the only organization in the school which leaves a definite office open to only town girls. In this way the town girls are kept in touch with what is planned for the school and are also given an opportunity to comment on or bring up any problems that confront them.

There are, however, more underlying purposes or aims of the committee. It has already succeeded in obtaining a special room that the town girls may call their own. Of course it was and is the duty of the committee to see that this room is kept attractive. That is one of the big problems confronting the committee today.

The committee has also succeeded in getting all notices posted every day on the notice board in the hall. The committee is now trying to get a recording secretary for each organization so that all town girls may be notified of change of dates for meetings, etc.

The chairman of this committee for the coming year is Marguerite York; Miss Nichols is adviser. The committee has as members the following girls:

Helen Glass, Dorothy McNamee, Dorothy Billings, Louise Lewis, Katherine Irby, and Carrie Putney.

Wife: "Haven't I beautiful lips, to say the least?"

Hubby: "Yes, but you use them to say the most."

—The Log.

How was your date?
He wasn't half bad,
Better luck next time, dearie.

—The Log.

"SUMMER APPAREL IN ALL IT'S GLORY, AND LEST YOU FORGET"

DOROTHY MAY STORES—Graduation headquarters. Lovely pique suits in white and pastel colors. Linen and two piece washable silks, sheer organdie dresses, gorgeous evening gowns—prices $2.97—$5.45 and $9.45.

Toeless Sandals Special $1.49

THE DOROTHY MAY STORE
First to show the Newest!

DAVIDSON'S

Spring and summer footwear now on display. For your inspection. In the newest styles

$3.50 – $5
& $5.95

EACO
THEATRE
Program May 17 to 23

Thursday and Friday, May 17 & 18
Joan Crawford
FRANCHOT TONE
In
"SADIE McKEE"

This picture is so new that you probably have not heard of it, yet the preview critics praise it as the best picture Joan Crawford ever made. The management had difficulty getting it before college closes and its showing here is before any of the large cities. It is from the story by Vina Delmar; ran serially in Liberty. It is a fast-action story of the romantic and dramatic career of Sadie McKee, a girl whose driving ambition for fame and love carried her from calico to ermine with many amazing interludes. The kind of picture you like Joan Crawford to appear in. Don't miss it.

Also Eugene Palette and Walter Catlett in "Sailors Beware" and Metro News.
Adults: 25c at Mats., 35c at nights

Saturday, May 19
Frances Dee
Gene Raymond
In
COMING OUT PARTY

"It cost me $50,000 to meet my friends," says this deb. Beauty on the bargain counter, pawed over by a lot of Park Avenue play-boys. Look behind the scenes; see the high-pressure methods of an ambitious society mother trying to sell her beautiful daughter to the highest bidder. This deb was launched like a battle ship, with crowds cheering bands playing, champagne effervescing—and did she make a splash. She fell for a poor guy at that.

Also Cartoon, Screen Souvenir and Fox News

Next Monday and Tuesday May 21 and 22
Bing Crosby
Burns & Allen
Carole Lombard
In
"We're Not Dressing"

Here's tasty dish for your entertainment appetite. A generous portion of fun and wisecracks by Burns and Allen; sprinkled with the comedy of Leon Errol; spiced with the beauty of Carole Lombard; with a dash of song by Ethel Merman; and a great helping of Bing Crosby at his very best. Hear Bing sing, "Love Thy Neighbor," and other hits. One of those decidedly unusual musical pictures you will want to see the second time.

Also "New Deal Rhyth" and Metro News.
Adults 25c & 35c; Children 15c

Next Wednesday, May 23
Clive Brook
Diana Wynyard
In
"DOVER ROAD"
"Where Sinners Meet"

Every S. T. C. girl will want to see this picture because of its having been produced as a play at the college under its original title, "Dover Road." You all know the story of a husband eloping with another man's wife and running into his own wife eloping with another man. With Clive Brook as Latimer and Diana Wynyard as Anne you will certainly enjoy the sterling performances in this excellent story you all know so well. A real treat. Also comedy.

"Broadway Knights" and Chapter 8, "PIRATE TREASURE"

Coming Thurs. & Fri., May 24 and 25
"Stand Up and Cheer"

Adults, 20c at Matinees, and 25c at nights; except on percentage pictures. We hope an increased attendance will permit us to continue these prices.

Field and Track Meet To Be May 22 at 2:30

On Tuesday, May 22, at 2:30 p. m. the annual internural track meet will be held. The purpose of the meet is two - fold: first, the outstanding individual and second choosing the class with the highest record. To be eligible to take part in this meet a person must have attended at least five of the practices which are being held from 4-6 o'clock each afternoon.

A contestant may enter 1 jumping, 1 running and 3 throwing events, or 2 jumping and 3 throwing events or 2 running and 3 throwing events and a class relay.

The events that will compose the meet are as follows:

Running high jump, standing broad jump, dash, Indian club race, shot put, javeline, baseball distance throw, basketball goals per minute, baseball target, and class relay.

Following is a list of the field and track records as they stand now:

Running high jump, 4-4¾; Va. Perkins 1925.

Baseball distance throw 207 feet, K. Hundley, 1932.

Shot put, 32-6, K. Ranson, 1933.

Javelin, 66-1, M. F. Hatchett, 1930.

Dash, 6 sec., M. Gregory, 1933.

Class relay, seniors, 1933.

SIMPLE FAITH INSPIRES ALUMNA TO WRITE

Continued from page one

"Yes, Ma'm," was the reply, "But what's the use to fret? God's bank ain't busted yet."

What a glorious philosophy is summed up in these simple words! the mistress thought.

The mistress in this story is none other than Mrs. Alice P. Moss of Chase City, whom no doubt many of us know, as she has attended summer school here for several summers. The incident impressed Miss Moss so deeply that she has written the following poem about it:

"God's Bank Ain't Busted Yet"

The bank had closed; my earthly store had vanished from my hand;
I felt there was no sadder one than
I in all the land
My washerwoman, too, had lost her little mite with mine,
And she was singing as she hung the clothes upon the line
"How can you be so gay?" I asked;
"your loss don't you regret?"
"Yes, ma'm, but what's the use to fret? God's bank ain't busted yet."

I felt my burden lighter grow, her faith I seemed to share;
In prayer I went to God's great
throne and laid my troubles there.
In prayer I went to God's great
throne and laid my troubles there.
The sun burst from behind the clouds, in golden splendor set;
I thanked God for her simple words:
"God's bank ain't busted yet."

And now I draw rich dividends, more than my hand can hold
Of faith and love and hope and trust and peace of mind untold.
I thank the Giver of it all, but still
I can't forget
My washerwoman's simple words:
"God's bank ain't busted yet."

Oh, weary ones upon life's road,
And losses loom on every hand, and skies seem not to clear;
Throw back your shoulders, lift your head, and cease to chafe and fret,
Your dividend will be declared:
"God's bank ain't busted yet."

—Alice P. Moss.

CALENDAR

Dramatic Club 7:00- 8:00

Friday, May 18

Monogram Club 7:00- 8:00
Sigma Pi Rho 8:00- 9:00
Gamma Psi 7:00- 8:00

Saturday, May 19

C. H. S. Dance in Gym 9:00 12:00

Monday, May 21

Virginian Staff 7:00- 8:00
A. A. Council 7:00- 8:00

Tuesday, May 22

Class Meetings 7:00- 7:30
Student Council 10:00

Wednesday, May 23

Y. W. Cabinet Meeting .. 5:00
Rotunda Staff 7:00- 7:30
Pi Gamma Mu 7:30- 8:30

TENNIS MATCHES FOR SINGLES CONTINUES

The tennis tournament was continued this week from last fall. The girls are playing for the singles championships and the following first matches have been posted.

D. Carlton—I. Evans; R. Vestal—K. Cotten; F. Sanford—B. Rountree; B. Lovelace—E. Cabell; A. Aydlette—L. Walmsley; F. Crawford —M. Umberger; M. Farrar—M. Beckam; D. Morris—M. B. Nelson—M. Moore; M. Carroll—F. Johnson; S. R. Chappell — C. Rountree; A. Bondurant—C. Hubbard; L. Walker —M. Putney; N. O. Ryan—L. M. Dudley — F. Burger; E. Gills—E. Massey; K. Roberts—M. V. Walker; M. Shanks—L. Farrar.

As announced by Miss Iler, coach of tennis, the first match should have been played on or before Monday, May 14, 6 p. m. The second round must be played by Friday, May 18, 6 p. m., and the third match must be played by Wednesday, May 23rd.

AMONG OUR CAPS AND GOWNS

Louise Bulloch

Although Louise has been with us only these past two years she has become an important part of S. T. C. For her years at Breneau we can not speak, but we know that she has shown qualities of leadership here. As president of Pi Gamma Mu we see Louise in one of her most outstanding interests. Her artistic ability has often been ndisplayed in the many posters which she has willingly made for the various organizations in school. Those of us who saw, "The Admirable Crichton," and "A Midsummer Night's Dream," will always remember the realistic and effective scenery which was made by the staging group under the capable direction of Louise. In the Y. W. C. A. we find Louise as chairman of the Service Committee. Strange in her likes and dislikes, determined and careful—these are some of the characteristics by which we know Louise.

Nannie Ruth Cooper

Quiet, unassuming, extremely capable—this is Nannie Ruth. During her four years here Nannie Ruth has been unusually active in athletics, having gone out for almost every sport. She has been a member of the varsity hockey squad and has played on the class teams all four years, having been captain of the class hockey team in her freshman and juniors years. As a sophomore she was assistant manager of hockey, and during her junior and senior years she played on the varsity hockey team, serving as captain during her senior year. Nannie Ruth has distinguished herself in other sports such as basketball and volley ball, and has played on class teams in both of these sports.

Nannie Ruth is a valued member of the Monogram Club and this year has served as treasurer of the Athletic Council. She is also president of the Mathematics Club.

All of us who know Nannie Ruth admire her very much, for she is truly a good sport, a steady worker, and an altogether interesting and lovable girl.

A. C. E. INITIATES 35 NEW MEMBERS TUESDAY

Continued from page one

Stokes, Jane Coulbourne, Dorothy Stone, Bessie Graybill, Julia Allred, Kathryn Woodson, Lucille Wilkinson, Virginia Hall, Beulah Travis, Nell Smelley, Ethel Winsor, Louise Alpha, Mildred Smith, Estelle Wood, Dorothy Blair, Hilda Brumfield, Elizabeth Rogers, Gray Switzer, Elizabeth Meredith, and Virginia Widgeon.

WILLIS
The Florist
FLOWERS FOR ALL OCCASIONS
PHONES 181-273

Electric Shoe Shop
Will Fix Your Shoes While You Wait
BEST WORKMANSHIP AND LEATHER USED

RICE'S SHOE STORE
Street and Dress Shoes
Dancing Slippers Dyed
Correct fits our speciality

SPORT SLANTS

By L. SANFORD

We take this opportunity to congratulate our tennis team on the improvement and skill they displayed in their matches Saturday. When a singles match requires two hours and a half for the playing there's bound to be some competition and that's exactly what we gave William and Mary.

Anyone who failed to go out for tennis missed a lot of fun. For verification of this statement see Billy Rountree and get her to tell you about the week-end at William and Mary. The matches were very, very good but other things seem to have been good too.

Ask Sarah Beck about the new baseball rules. She seems to have an idea that when a person gets a little bored with second base, they should move on, at least this is the impression she gave when she yelled to a fellow sufferer who was hung on second, "What do you say we go on home now?"

And speaking of fortune telling, after gazing at those speedy balls, Mary Jane Taylor pitches, we predict for her a place on the big league in the near future. If you don't believe they're mean try writing one or better yet catching them.

We're not begging any of you to "come on out" but if somebody doesn't brush up on their track and do it in a hurry, Kathleen Ransom will have an easy time cleaning up. Go ahead, Kathleen, the best man always wins and the same goes for classes.

Here lately we noticed that the Lacrosse field hasn't been so densely populated. The game's in a tight place, the novelty has worn off and we haven't learned enough about it to really like it. What do you say we give it just one more good trial?

Old and New Virginian Staffs Give Banquet

A banquet was given by the old and new Virginian staffs Wednesday night, at six o'clock in the tea room.

After dinner Dr. Jarman, the guest speaker, gave an intertaining, informal talk. Mary Burgess Frasier and Mr. McCorkle were then presented with gifts in appreciation of the good work done on the 1934 annual. Miss Jennings and Miss Bedford, Virginian advisers, and Mrs. McCorkle were also at the banquet.

The tea room was attractively decorated with bridal wreath and iris. At the place of each guest were a red rose and a modernistic place card representing the last fifty years and the next fifty.

LIONS CONVENTION MEETS HERE MAY 10-11

Continued from page one

entertained in the gymnasium by the following dances given by S. T. C. girls: the flower dance (May Day Court) dream fairy dance, spear dance, butterfly solo, and gay nineties tap dance. The ball began immediately after the S. T. C. dance program.

On Friday morning state officers were elected, and Ocean View, Virginia was chosen as the meeting place for the next convention.

Weyanoke
BEAUTY SALON
A Complete Beauty Service At Moderate Prices
What we have done for others we can do for you
WEYANOKE HOTEL
Farmville Va.

G. F. Butcher
High Street
"The Convenient Store"
FOR GOOD THINGS TO EAT AND DRINK

Gray's Drug Store
QUALITY—PRICE—SERVICE
Come in and Get Acquainted
We Are Glad to Have You With Us!
Farmville, Virginia

SIGMA PI RHO MEETS IN FAIRMONT, W. VA.

Continued from page one

come into their own as a means of greater culture. "Miss Shaid, Latin teacher in Fairmont High School, greater culture." Miss Shaid, Latin and Dr. Walmsley gave some points in the teaching of Latin.

The delegates from Farmville had a very pleasant trip and were especially impressed by the beauty of the mountains, and the hospitality shown them. They returned full of enthusiasm for Sigma Pi Rho and for its work.

MISS ANDREWS SPEAKS TO ALPHA KAPPA GAMMA

Continued from page one

Hamilton and Lelia Mattox.

Nelle Oakey Ryan, president; Meg Herndon, vice-president; Sarah Beck, secretary; and Justine Cutshall were installed at the meeting Monday night.

Mack's
BARBER AND BEAUTY SHOP
323 Main Street
We use the Frederick Method
Hair Cutting and Thinning a Specialty

TENTATIVE TEACHING SCHEDULE ANNOUNCED

Tentative assignments for practice teaching in the College Training School for the fall quarter of 1934 have been named as follows:

Kindergarten (first grade-winter): Katherine Conway, May Elise Marshburn, Kathleen Bass.

First Grade (Kindergarten—Winter): Julia Derr, Sue Mallory, Audrey Mattox, Bebe Russell, Rose Somers.

Second Grade — Virginia Beau, Mildred Davis, Margaret Dortch, Marion Layne.

Third Grade—Bertha Babb, Elizabeth Davidson, Virginia Bernice Jones.

Fourth Grade: Beatrice Bentley, Evelyn Wilson, Frances Woodhouse, Anna Laura Cobb.

Fifth and Sixth Grades: Sarah Corbin, Lois Jenkins, Gertrude Manning, Elizabeth Smith.

Seventh Grade—Kathryn Cotten, Minnie Rodgers.

Summer Employment Solved
Student representatives to distribute educational literature. Three months' steady work. Local or traveling. Liberal compensation. Address College Dept., 1006 Arch t., Philadelphia.

Martin JEWELER
Gifts of Lasting Remembrance
317 Main St. Farmville

SouthsideDrugStore
(On the Corner)
Films Developed
FREE
If bought at this store

Shannon's
Is H[illegible] arters for the Best SANDWICHES —and— DRINKS —in— FARMVILLE!

Graduation Apparel at Right Prices
Lovely sheer organdie dresses—washable silk crepes, pique and linens, one and two piece ensembles, solid white and pastel colors. Prices to suit you
$2.95 $4.95 AND $7.85
Lovely white and pastel millinery—$1.00 and $1.95
Gorgeous Summer Footwear!
COME IN AND LET US SHOW YOU
THE HUB DEPARTMENT STORE
"Farmville Best Place to Shop"

GET A B. A. DEGREE
Here, B. A., Means (Baldwin Apparel)
You can be a style leader as well as a group leader when you wear clothes from BALDWIN'S.
See the new hats, shoes, dresses for summer wear. You can easily shop here without having to wire dad to send extra money.
Visit the Style Shop for Ladies
BALDWIN'S
Quality—Price—Service

LAST ISSUE OF ROTUNDA

THE ROTUNDA

GOOD LUCK ON EXAMS

We Teach To Teach

Volume XIV | The Rotunda, Farmville, Va., Wednesday, May 23, 1934 | No. 29

Approximately 200 Will Be Graduated

Candidates For Graduation In Degree and Diploma Class Announced

The candidates for graduation in June, 1934, are:

Degree: Helen F. Allen, Roanoke; Annie L. Anderson, Jetersville; E. Catherine Bailey, Phenix; Larine R. Billings, Farmville; Jeanallan P. Bowles, Roanoke; Virginia H. Brinkley, Suffolk; Louise Bulloch, Portsmouth; S. Eunice Chernault, Worsham; Hazel G. Clevinger, Farmville; Alberta Z. Collings, Norfolk; Nannie Ruth Cooper, Critz; Margaret B. Copenhaver, Tazewell; Phyllis Denit, Salem; Mary F. Diehl, Farmville; Alice May Disharoon, Cape Charles; Mary Elizabeth Driscoll, Salem; Dorothy Field, Lincoln, Nebr.; Alma B. Foster, Portsmouth; Elmer W. Foster, Remington; Mary Burgess Fraser, Blackstone; Ruth L. Gaines, Roanoke; Margaret M. Garnett, Farmville; Nannie A. Gilbert, Farmville; Elizabeth Ann Glenn, Prospect; Frances A. Graham, Roanoke; Mildred Gwaltney, Windsor Virginia W. Hamilton, Petersburg; Nancy W. Harrison, Petersburg; Edna Grace Hatcher, Martinsville; Martha C. Higgins, Waverly Mary Easley Hill of Pearisburg; Bessie Hix, Prospect; Frances R. Horton, Roanoke; Mary H. Howard, Roanoke; Margaret F. Hunter, Appomattox; Estelle Elizabeth Jones, Dillwyn; Elizabeth Kelly, Big Stone Gap; Barbara Y. Kester, Martinsville; Lelia Lovelace, Halifax; Mary Elizabeth McCarn, Lexington, N. C.; Mary A. McDearmon, Pamplin; Alice W. McKay, Baltimore, Maryland; Gertrude Mannes, Boyce; Neva Martin, Cullen; Emily J. Meadows, Roanoke; Nancy Catherine Micou, Farmville; Ida Mason Miller, Newport; Margaret E. Morgan, Andersonville; Jacqueline Morton, Farmville; Corinne N. Mosby, Virginia Beach; Margaret Murry, Portsmouth; Mary Berkeley Nelson,

Continued on page 4, col. 1

Kappa Delta Pi Holds Reception In Lounge

The formal reception held by Kappa Delta Pi, honorary scholastic fraternity for juniors and seniors, Thursday evening at eight-thirty in the lounge was a very lovely and enjoyable one to those who were present.

Guests entered the lounge, beautifully lighted and exquisitely decorated with iris, and were received by Anne Putney, president of Kappa Delta Pi, Dr. Jarman, Miss Jennie Tabb, and a number of the faculty who were assisting in the receiving line. An attractive feature of the evening was the dainty corsage given to each guest. Interest and pleasure were added to the gay conversation of those attending by the music which lent an especially fine touch to the entertainment of all. Mr. Cralle and Miss Suie Yeaman, as soloists, sang delightfully several very beautiful numbers, accompanied by Miss Louise Hyde and Miss Edna Hatcher. During the evening the Misses Yeaman, Wise, and Seay were at the piano.

Among the guests were the faculty and those underclassmen whose averages are in the upper quatraine for this year.

LENA MAC GARDNER IS 1935 MAY DAY CHAIRMAN

Upon the recommendation of the Student Council, Lena Mac Gardner was nominated and unanimously elected May Day chairman for next year at a student body meeting held last Wednesday morning after chapel.

Dr. Hancock Discusses The American Negro

Mr. Reynolds, an interracial worker who has done a great deal toward putting the relationship between whites and blacks on a more sane basis, introduced Dr. Gordan Hancock of Union University to an audience in the small auditorium on Wednesday, May 16. In his few remarks, Mr. Reynolds stressed the importance of fostering a more congenial attitude between the two races. He said that a study of real facts is the true basis for such an undertaking. Mr. Reynolds, in introducing Dr. Hancock related some of his accomplishments and his influence among his race.

Dr. Hancock, an unusual specimen of the negro race, provided to captivate the attention of his audience and in his remarks brought out some striking facts. In regard to the economic status of the American negro, he said that the negro was brought to this country, not for his culture nor of his own will, but merely for the labor of his hand. He further stated that in modern society the demand for negro labor is less than ever. Then, "What can the negro do to earn an honest living?" "He must have a living and should be allowed to earn it and not have it given him."

The audience was struck with Dr. Hancock's unprejudiced attitude attitude and with his versatility and integrity.

The sociology class, making a study of the negro, remained for a discussion period which proved to be very instructive. The girls asked questions which Mr. Reynolds and Dr. Hancock answered quite satisfactorily. Dr. Hancock showed a keen sense of humor throughout the discussion.

$15 Campus Fee Added For Swimming Pool

Next year each student must make the following payments at the beginning of each quarter: campus and college fees, $30; board, $85 for the first quarter and $70 for the winter and spring. The extra $15 has been added for the use of the new swimming pool.

Tuition for pay students (those who do not hold state scholarships), will be $10 per quarter in addition to the above. This may be paid in advance.

S. T. C. Faculty Sends Materials for Exhibit

The faculty of S. T. C. has been asked to lend publications to a book review to be held at Bridgewater, Massachusetts, next September. The State Teachers Colleges and Teacher Training Schools of Masachusetts have planned to have an exhibit of books and educational materials published since January, 1932, at their annual conference. The materials to be shown include work books, maps, charts, etc., published for use in teachers colleges, elementary and secondary schools in various

Continued page 4, col. 2

ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION AWARDS BLAZERS FRIDAY

Friday morning in chapel the Athletic Association will award blazers to the students having the required number of points. Blazers of class colors will be given those having at least seven hundred points, and those having eighteen hundred points will receive blue and white blazers.

The Athletic Association makes these swards as recognition of athletic ability, sportsmanship, and scholarship. The custom has been practiced for many years and each season several blazers are given.

N. Y. Times Reviews Book By Dr. Wynne

The New York Times Book Review gives us an idea of the true value of Dr. Wynne's latest book. (Reprint from the New York Times, May 13, 1934):

The Learning-Teaching Unit
By John P Wynne

Here is a book that teachers everywhere are looking for. Within the scope of a few pages it contains the principles governing unit instruction; techniques by units; methods to be observed in planning units and procedures to be followed in reporting and evaluating units.

This is perhaps the most useful publication that has yet appeared for the guidance of teachers interested in unit teaching. It should also be very useful for curriculum workers who are developing courses of study. It is authoritative, non-technical, definite, and practical

Artist Dance Group Makes Plans for Club

Plans for a new club named, "The Dance Club of Farmville State Teachers College," have been made by the Artist Dance Group. Membership in this club will be open to any girl in school interested in dancing.

The purpose of the dance club, as stated in the constitution is "to further the interest in dancing in this college, to sponsor the dancing of the annual May Day Festival, and possibly to present a dance recital."

A period of apprenticeship is required for any girl desiring to belong to this organization. The fall term will be given over to this. During this time fundamental rhythms will be taught at least once a week. At the end of the quarter a committee will judge the apprentices at an exhibition, and bid those girls who show ability.

The artist group will be the honor group in the club. Members of the Dance Club, who show unusual ability will be asked to join this group. The officers of the club will be elected from the artist group.

All girls in school who are interested in this club are asked to meet in room 22 after prayers tonight.

LAST ISSUE "TRIBUTUM" TO APPEAR THIS WEEK

The spring issue of the Tributum, the last issue under the present staff, will appear this week. It will contain the following articles:

1. The Latin Element in English, Anne Putney; a poem, "A Book, Emily Dickenson; The First Book Published in America, Claudine O'Brien; Rape of the Sabine Women (translation), Lelia Mattox; acta Diurna.

2. Programs for Latin Clubs, Margaret Pollard; Easter; Fall; Christmas; Mater Anseris, Pauline Gibb; Parva Bo Peepa, Robert Ranson; Latin songs; Little Jack Horner; Mistress Mary, Quite Contrary.

The Tributum is a quarterly published jointly under the auspices of Sigma Pi Rho and Sodalitas Latina.

BOUND ROTUNDA COPIES ARE BEING ORDERED NOW

Orders for bound copies of The Rotundas published during 1933-'34 may be given now.

The bound copies are selling for $1 each and will be given out before the close of school.

As only a limited number are being bound, seniors and graduating sophomores are urged to give their orders at once. Lena Mac Gardner, business manager of The Rotunda, will take the orders. After Saturday, May 26, no orders will be taken.

Y.W. Set-up Conference Meets At Longwood

The Y. W. cabinet held its annual set-up conference at Longwood on Thursday, May 17. The purpose of this conference is to make plans for the work of the Y. W. C. A. during the coming year. In the past these conferences have been held in the fall as soon after returning to school as possible. It is believed that the cabinet decided wisely in holding their conference this spring because now work can be carried on effectively and without delay the day school opens, and also because advice could be secured from the old cabinet, many of whom will be gone next fall.

At the regular cabinet meeting on Wednesday the plans of each committee were presented to the cabinet and criticized and corrected. These plans were then rewritten and presented to the advisory board at the conference on Thursday. All the plans are, of course, tentative and subject to change by the committee chairmen; but to have a definite goal towards which to work gives each committee a feeling of stability and responsibility.

After the business part of the conference was over, each cabinet member was given a few minutes to talk with and become acquainted with her adviser. Then followed a most delightful informal dinner party served in the tea room. Everyone present seemed to have enjoyed a beneficial and pleasant evening.

MUSICAL PROGRAM GIVEN BY FRESHMEN IN CHAPEL

The freshman class gave a beautiful musical program in the chapel exercises yesterday. The three selections sung were, "We Thank Thee Lord," by George Chadwick, "Follow the Gleam," and "Crossing the Bar," by Tennyson.

The inspiring melody of one of the most beautiful songs of American poets was harmoniously sung by these freshmen. The tone quality of their second selection was clear and bell-like. They culminated their tone beauty in that ever favorite song, "Crossing the Bar."

Artist Dance Group Initiates Nine Girls

Because of their outstanding dancing ability and interest shown during the past year, nine girls were initiated into the artist dance group, May 21, 1934. These new members are Alice Rowell, Louise Van Lear, Frances McDaniel in the fall: Fannie Bosworth, Christine Childrey, Margaret Farrar, Anne Irving, Evelyn Knaub, and Katherine Walton, who were bid after May Day.

The members who began the year's work in this year-old organization are, Dorothy Prescott, Mary Shelton, Honey Hamilton, Edna Hatcher, Louise Hyde, Gertrude Sugden, and Nancy Harrison. Mrs. Louise R. Fitzpatrick is honorary member of this group.

SENIORS BID STUDENTS AND FACULTY FAREWELL

The senior class will say goodbye to the faculty and students and greet the juniors as seniors in their farewell ceremony in chapel Saturday morning.

The seniors, in caps and gowns, will march to the Alma Mater to their regular seats. The juniors, dressed in white will follow and sit directly behind the seniors.

Honey Hamilton will have charge of the devotionals. After this the seniors will sing their class and classman songs for the past four years. A farewell song, words and music by Edith Shanks and Sue Yeaman, has been written for the occasion.

1934 Commencement Begins Sunday Night

Rev. Solon B. Cousins, Richmond, Will Preach Baccalaureate Sermon

The commencement activities for 1934 at S. T. C. will begin at 8 o'clock Sunday night, June 3, when the baccalaureate sermon will be preached by Rev. Solon B. Cousins of the Second Baptist Church. Richmond, Va.

The Class Day exercises of the Sophomore Class will take place Monday morning, June 4, at 10:00 in Joan Court. The following program will be present:

Processional—class song.
Welcome—Tac Waters.
Class History—Carolyn Byrd.
Presentation of Gifts—Doris Eley.
Presentation of Symbols of office.
Farewell song.

The Senior Class Day exercises will be held June 4 at 3:30 p. m. in the amphitheatre at Longwood. The following program has been planned.

Daisy Chain.
Welcome—Margaret Parker.
Class History—Edith Shanks.
Class Song.
Gifts—Virginia Brinkley.
Presentation of Symbol of Office to incoming senior class.
Presentation of Gift to School.
Farewell song.

At 8:15 o'clock Monday night in the main auditorium the commencement concert will be presented. The concert will be composed of numbers by the college orchestra, the dance groups, the college choir, the Choral Club, and solos by Dr. Jarman and Mr. Strick.

Dr. Joseph Rives of Emory Methodist Church, Washington, T. C. will deliver the commencement

Continued page 4, column 5

College Orchestra Goes To Arvonia Tuesday

The college orchestra gave an interesting and varied musical program at Arvonia on Tuesday night, May 22. The orchestra was accompanied on this engagement by Miss Lisabeth Purdom, the conductor. It is composed of S. T. C. students with the exception of two players who are from Farmville.

Among the selections rendered on this program were "Goddess of Liberty," an overture by Isenman, and "Oasis" taken from "Desert Suite."

As a novelty number the orchestra members gave a demonstration of their instruments. There also was a bassoon solo, and a musical offering by the string quartet. A violin solo will be played by Gertrude Mannes.

As an additional feature on the entertainment list there was tap dancing by Janice White and Nelle Oakey Ryan.

After the program an informal reception was given the members of the orchestra.

FRESHMAN CLASS GIVES MUSICAL THURS. NIGHT

The freshman class will present an attractively arranged musical program in the auditorium Thursday night, at 7 o'clock.

There will be song skits containing several scenes in which popular songs are featured. Ed Cralle will be a featured vocalist. Several original chorus dances will also be staged.

Among those starring are Mary Bowles, dance soloist Katherine Conway and Virginia Leonard, both in song solos.

Admission is only five cents, so a large crowd is expected.

THE ROTUNDA

Member Southern Inter-Collegiate Newspaper Association
Member Intercollegiate Press Association of Virginia

Newspaper — National Scholastic Press Association — Member

Published by Students of State Teachers College, Farmville, Va.

Entered as second class matter March 1, 1921, at the Postoffice of Farmville, Virginia, under Act of March 3, 1879.

Subscription ..... $1.50 per year

ROTUNDA STAFF

Lelia Mattox, '35 ..... Editor
Evelyn Massey, '36 ..... Associate Editor

Board of Editors

Amis Montgomery, '37 ..... News
Florence Sanford, '36 ..... Make-Up
Kathryn Cotten, '35
Mary Banks Sullivan, '36, Literary
Anne Putney, '35 ..... World News
Mary Hastings Holloway, '37
..... Intercollegiate
Anne Digges, '37 ..... Socials
Margaret Farrar, '37 ..... Features
Lelia Sanford, '36 ..... Sports
Miss Virginia Potts ..... Alumnae

Proof Readers

Virginia Bean, '37.
Elizabeth Walton, '36.

Managers

Lena Mac Gardner, '35 ..... Business
Alva Sawyer, '35 ..... Asst. Business
Maude Rhodes, '35 ..... Circulation

Assistants and Reporters

Elsie Cabell, '37.
Bess McGlothlin, '37.
Katharine Coleman, '35.
Bernice Jones, '37.
Laeta Barham, '35.
Grace Collins, Katherine Conway, Katherine Cooper, Meryn Gathright, Susan Gresham, Lila Jacob, Mary Lee Newcomb, Kathleen Ranson, Aileen Saunders and Minnie Smith.

IF YOU WORRY, YOU WEAR DARK GLASSES

Never in the world did worry help you. It has killed more people than war and pestilence together. It has taken the joy out of living for thousands. It is a constant bugbear and a dark shadow always close at hand. We are always fearing that which might happen, though usually doesn't. Worry saps your life force. It makes you sick.

Have you even seen the use of crying over spilt milk? No. That doesn't help! Of course, there may be times when even the bravest worry, but that is only when they are sick or feel incapable of the best and greatest that is in them. If they knew that they had within themselves all the capabilities for overcoming any obstacle they would not worry as exams draw near. As they approach they are at their worst. Think what's at the other end of them—graduation, vacation, summer.

THE GREAT SYMPHONY

Music may be called the director of the great band of life. If you would only stop to think about it, you would feel justified in believing that.

Let's stop and think:

People are life, are they not? Some one feels blue—we have music which will almost speak out how someone feels, even though there are no words powerful enough to express his feeling.

However, when we feel gay, we want to dance and sing, but the tune is lively and happy in accordance with our mood.

Old friends who meet, old schoolmates who rewrite after mates who reunite after years of separation, reveal their joyful reminiscence through song. A picture we all know—arm in arm—small groups college 'Alma Maters' we tingle to think of it.

Church bells, factory whistles, blocks, pots and pans such common place—every-day things are some one instrument in this band.

Nature will always take a great lead—leaves rustling in the wind, water lapping on the sand or splashing over the rocks, birds twittering in early morning, soft pattering of rain on the window pane. They all seem too great for verbal expression, our reaction to them is inward emotion.

All in all there are numerous things, unimportant, commonplace things, and more exquisite, rarer things which are quiet, but seem to sing through their solitude and show how music leads on to higher—more spiritual things—such as a real band attacks more classical compositions.

WILL WE?

Why can't there be quiet in the halls during study hour while we study for examinations, and afterwards while we are trying to sleep?

During this weather when it is so hot many doors are open to catch a possible breeze, but this is scarcely an advantage because of our neighbor's overloud radio or conversation. This is especially irritating now that it is so hot and everyone's nerves are on edge anyway.

It's not from maliciousness that we are noisy; it's merely our forgetfulness. Common courtesy would demand enough consideration for others that we would make less noise even if we ourselves had nothing to study.

The noise is needless and a little thoughtfulness and consideration would abolish it. This would surely be a help to those who have term papers to write, books to read, parallel notebooks to get in order, as well as examinations to study for.

We could do one good deed daily by keeping quiet during study hour and after, if we would. Will we?

OPEN FORUM

Dear Editor:

Each year at this time we hear much talk about payment of class dues. The classes are always in need of these dues at the end of the session, and a special effort is made to collect them. Incidentally, most students who neglect paying until now find it very hard to do so, for they too are more burdened with financial responsibilities at the end of the session.

Why can't this situation which is unpleasant to all concerned be eliminated by having class dues included in the college fees we pay each quarter?

Also would it not be a good plan to include the cost of an annual in with the other fees? There is no doubt that every girl wants an annual, but some are not able to subtract its cost from their allowance of spending money.

Perhaps by combining the class dues and the cost of the annual the fee would be less than the amount paid in the present arrangement.

A Student.

AT OTHER COLLEGES

Representing the various colleges of North Carolina, eleven May Queens will be the guests of honor at the Central Carolina German Club's famous, "Queen's Ball," at which Glen Gray and his noted Casa Loma orchestra will play.

The historic place of pretzels with beer is being usurped by a modern concoction. At the University of Texas these days the usual pretzels are not served with beer, for instead there is a new crisp snake compound—these snake flesh delicacies are called "snake cracks." Have some?

University of Kentucky's candidates for the cheering squad must first take a six weeks course in tumbling before even trying out for a cheer leading job.

Each school has its respective style of dancing, so it would seem. Washington and Lee favors the so-called "straight-smooth" style, and at V. P. I. there is more of the hop-skip-jump effect. University of Richmond and Randolph-Macon both dance the shag with violent enthusiasm, while over at Charlottesville the dancing is rather similar to W. and L.'s except the arm is held straight out as in slow waltzes. Up north, styles vary even more, for at Rutgers everyone dances in a gliding manner, always sideways, and at Colgate the idea is to stand in a two-foot circle and merely move the feet. At Penn State—well ,it's rather grotesque! Rimstum Phi mentions it thus: "Penn Staters maintain it is the only real way to dance—the boy places his chin on the girl's shoulder and the girl does likewise. Of course, the posterriors drop out at a considerable angle, producing quite a comical effect when some half a thousand terse around the floor in that manner."!!

Nothing To Say About Much

Greetings:
Well! Well!
The day's at the morn!
Dandy old day!
Dandy old morn!
Oh! Look!
The hillside's dew-pearled!
Nicely old hillside!
Nicely dew-pearled!
And oh look!
The snails' on the thorn!
Lucky old snail!
Lucky old thorn!
All's right with the world!
Hurrah for the world!

Boy oh boy—what'a life. This springly fever is devouring me. Getting me down—so far down that the possibility of ever emerging again appears utterly hopeless. Such luck too, to be submerged right here with examinations, staring me in the face. "Staring", that's a mild way of putting it!

Why I'm becoming blinded with all of this work hitting me in the eyes. I'm down on my back now—who would have thought units or notebooks would be so tremendous as to lay a guy flat on his back. Ouch! what was that—what a wallop—oh—I see a nasty thousand word term paper—great sport you fellows are having—eh?

Reflection on caution.
Affection is a noble quality
It leads to generosity and jolliety,
But it also leads to breach of promise
If you go around lavishing it on a red hot momise

Some terrific dance Saturday nite. A great crowd of two hundred people, I hear. I never deemed it possible that a crowd of two hundred could fill the gym. But since that was the number of tickets sold, I concluded two hundred was the number. Still it was a mighty two hundred. Had I not known the honesty of these school girls I would venture to say quite a number entered the dance by a method known as "crashing the gate." But of course the thought is absurd—pardon please my suggesting such a monstrosity!

Family Court

One would be in less danger
From the wiles of the stranger
If one's own kin and kith
Were more fun to be with.

If perchance, some feeble-minded roule attempted to wade through this column last week, he no doubt became amazed when reading of Lombardo's "going on a tennis star." Some sport, Mr. Publisher—you most assuredly possess a subtle sense of humor. I do believe, however, that Guy Lombardo will go on a tour until June, when he will open the New Waldorf Astoria. Since music is more in his line, we'd better have him finesse the athletic stardom—don't you think?

The good old library is the place for me—and since they forbid deep thought within its four walls—I had better say, "so long."

THE NEWSMONGER

Congress Accepts Virginia's Gift

Virginians learn with pride that Congress has at last accepted the gifts of the statues of Virginia's noblest sons to be placed in the Hall of Fame in the Rotunda of the Capitol in Washington. The statues are of George Washington and Robert E. Lee and fill the places allotted to Virginia by the national government in the Hall of Fame where each state has the opportunity of placing statues of her two most distinguished citizens.

After decades of delay these two statues were formally accepted by Congress on May 18th.

Up to the present, the grey uniform that Lee wore has kept Congress from thanking the Old Dominion for her gifts. Resolutions have been introduced three times to acknowledge the gifts. The first two times they were allowed to die because their Virginian authors learned that the prejudice against the recognition of the Southerner who fought for the Confederacy was very strong. The last time—in 1932—Representative Woodrum of Virginia introduced a resolution which passed, although there was some objection to the wording of the bill. The obections came from Representative Stafford of Wisconsin, who suggest-

Continued page 4, col. 1

ALUMNAE NEWS

We are sorry to report that Miss Pauline Camper, president of the State Alumnae Association, is in the hospital in Roanoke for treatment. We are hoping she will be back in school very soon now.

On Saturday afternoon, May 19, Dr. Jarman, Miss Jennie Tabb, Louise Hyde, Doris Eley and Nancy Beard went to Amherst for an interesting meeting of the alumnae chapter there. The meeting was held in the Parish House after which refreshments were served at the home of Mary Gregory, president of the chapter. A unique feature of the entertainment was that Master Joe Glick, the two-and-a-half year son of one of the alumnae was placed on a table and sang, "What's the Matter with Jarman?"

Amherst has a small chapter but the fact that eleven of the thirteen members were present is indicative of real interest.

Mrs. R. S. Ellis has announced the engagement and approaching marriage of her daughter, Virginia McCue, to Mr. Frank C. Richter, of New Haven, Conn. The wedding will take place in July. Virginia was a popular student on the campus while at Farmville and has made a successful teacher in the Staunton Public School System since she left here.

On May 5, Mary Johnson Norvell was married to Mr. William Foster of Dillwyn. Mary Johnson is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Norvell.

At a meeting of the Farmville Chapter the following officers were elected for the coming year:

President, Mary Nichols; vice-president, Mrs. G. W. Jeffers; secretary, Mrs. F. S. Farrar; treasurer, Mrs. F. N. Watkins.

Mrs. Edwin P. Lancaster left Wednesday for Washington and Baltimore where she will visit friends before sailing for New York in June to join Mr. Lancaster.

Eloise Perkins has been elected queen of the flower pageant which is being sponsored by the Blackstone Garden Club.

The members of the Clifton Forge Chapter entertained with a reception on Saturday afternoon for the senior class of the High School. The room was attractively decorated with flowers and candles and a color scheme of green and gold, the class colors, carried out. There was a program of music and dancing.

Mrs. Lillian Obenshain Cocks, of Farmville, has been appointed chairman of the woman's work committee for Prince Edward County under the VERA.

CAMPUS COMMENTS

Mighty considerate of the chapel committee to make it "more convenient" to spend the next week studying for exams for that flock of students that don't like to go to chapel.

We knew they were "little" sisters but not so little they had to be amused with toy boats in the bath tub at 11 p. m.

We hear that Helen Smith is an advocate of good health. Her motto is "mind strong; heart strong; but, most of all, Armstrong".

We hear that Mildred Gwaltney is looking forward to a summer with "Skeeter." That's funny—most of us think the ideal summer is without "skeeters."

The accepted belief that all seniors are dignified has been weakened a bit after Monday night's "frolic" on the green.

Does anyone know why Louise Hyde's little sister gave her a bottle of ale?

It's a shame that Lena Mac Gardner had to come to College to learn to walk the "straight and narrow rail"? Or has she learned?

Frankie McDaniel must have her recreation. Snuff said.

"I Must Down To The Seas Again."

SEA-FEVER

I must down to the seas again, to the lonely sea and the sky,
And all I ask is a tall ship and a star to steer her by,
And the wheels kick and the wind's song and the white sail's shaking,
And a gray mist on the sea's face and a gray dawn breaking.

I must down to the seas again, for the call of the running tide
Is a wild call and a clear call that may not be denied;
And all I ask is a windy day with the white clouds flying,
And the flung spray and the blown spume, and the sea-gulls crying.

I must down to the seas again to the vagrant gypsy life;
To the gull's way and the whale's way, where the wind's like a whitted knife:
And all I ask is a merry yarn from a laughing fellow-rover,
And quiet sleep and a sweet dream when the long trick's over.

—John Masefield.

THE LEGEND OF THE SEA-GOD NEPTUNE

When Jupiter assigned to each of his brothers a separate portion of the universe, he decreed that Neptune, or Roseidon, should govern all the waters upon the face of the earth and be sole monarch of the ocean.

Neptune was of an exceedingly grasping disposition. Dissatisfied with the portion allotted him, he conspired to dethrone Jupiter, but, his plot was discovered before he could put it into execution. When Jupiter found out about his treachery, he exiled him to the earth, where he was condemned to build the walls of Troy for Laomedon, king of that city. Laomedan promised him a handsome compensation to build these walls.

Fortunately Apollo, also banished from heaven at the same time, volunteered to aid Neptune by playing on his lyre, for sweet music had the power of moving stones for the wall. The walls built. Laomedon refused to pay, whereupon Neptune created a terrible monster which came upon the shore, devoured the inhabitants and devastated everything within his reach. Hercules finally killed the serpent with the oak club he carried. When Neptune's term of exile was eventually over he was reinstated into his royal position. Again as god of the sea, he dwelt way down in the coral caves of his kingdom, over which he ruled supreme. By only one word he could stir up or calm the wildest storm, and cause the billows to roar with fury or subside into peaceful ripples.

And today he still rules the sea!

—K. E. C.

THE SEA-MEW

I had loved the pretty birds that by my window sung—
The gentle thrush that had his nest
the perfumed pines among:
The chaffinch with his sudden note,
his song so clear and bold;
The sad rhyme of the robin, too,
that comes when winds grew
cold;

The happy lark whose lenison fell from the sunny sky;
The nightingale that through the night told his low rosary;
The finches with their little tunes were all beloved by me.

I learned to hear each lovely note through each enchanted day!
And thought no minstrelsy so fine,
while all content I lay,
When to my ear, across the sky, I heard a sea-bird's scream,
And flapping slow across the blue, I saw him flash and gleam.

I cared not then for singing birds, I loved the sun no more.
I heard the flashing of the waves
upon a far-off shore,
And lonely, lonely cried my heart in answer to its call—
Ah, best I held the sea—mew's note that had no song at all!

—Dora Sigerson Shorter.

Socials

Several social affairs are being planned as a part of the program for commencement at Farmville S. T. C. The exercises which will begin on June 2 and will continue through June 5 will close the fiftieth session of our school.

Spent the Week-end in Richmond

Those who ventured to Richmond to spend the week-end were: Claudia Barleon, Louise Bullock, Patsy Saunders, Ida Miller, Annette Roberts, Lila Jacobs, Rachel Joyner, Addie Norfleet, Ella A. Black, Margaret Dudley, Edwina Richards, Estelle Jones, and eJannette Jones.

To Petersburg

The following girls spent the week-end in Petersburg: Phyllis Ferguson, Doris Moore, Mary Howard, Heeln Westmoreland Bernice Scott, and Josephine Kent.

To Roanoke

Roanoke claimed a large number of S. T. C. girls this past week-end for Mary Easley Hill, Marion Shoffner, Helen Smith, Frances Horton, Emily Meadows, and Mary Louise McNulty spent the week-end in the Magic City.

Spent Week-end In Lynchburg

Janice B. White, Iris Hart, Betsy Wilkinson, Iola McIntire, and Dorothy Eubank spent the week-end in Lynchburg.

Home

Those spending the week-end at home were: Margaret Dortch, Ruth Gaines, Dorothy Glover, Nancy Harrison, Sarah Beck Lois R. Jinkins, Henrietta Salisbury, Amanda Wilson, Charlotte Young, Frances Johnson, Martha Barber, Jessica Jones, Virginia Moses, Virginia Hamilton, Sue Mallory, Nan and Virginia Edmunds, Bobbie Mattox, and Lelia Mattox.

To Pamplin

Among those who visited Pamplin over the week-end were: Frances Jamerson, Lucille Rhodes, Margaret Hunter, and Mary McDearman.

Other Places Visited

Among other places that claimed S. T. C. girls were: Blackstone by Mary Burgess Fraser, Elma Foster, and Elizabeth Stubbs; Keysville by Eleanor Gibbs, Addie Lee Jarman, and Mary Mayers; Amherst by Bernice Scott, Josephine Kent, Mildred Linthicum and Alice Magruder; Dillwyn by Helen Allen; Christine Seay, and Virginia Callahan; Shipman by Elsie Cabell and Virginia Fisher; Gladys by Marion Layne, and Margery Quarles; Victoria by Dorothy Hutcheson, Virginia Inge, and Ann McCready; Crewe by Sarah Corbin, Mildred Slayton, and Elizabeth Welch; Charlottesville by Margaret Parker, and Lelia Lovelace; Norfolk by Elizabeth Huse; Franklin by Evelyn Howell; Tank Union by Elizabeth Kelley; Martinsville by Sue Yeaman; Willis Mt. by Jindrey Mattox; Front Royal by Rebecca Cousins; Burkeville by Irwin Staples and Rose Somers; Lawrenceville by Elma Rawlings; Boydton by Evelyn Wilson; Rice by Bessie Hart; Sheppards by Gertrude Sudgen; Butterworth by Gloria Mann; Buckingham by Mary Cunningham; South Boston by Belle Lovelace; Dinwiddie by Dorothy Woolwine and Amelia by Edna Hatcher.

SENIOR CLASS GIVES PARTY TO LITTLE SISTERS

On Monday night, May 21, at ten o'clock the seniors gave their little sisters a party on the Senior Building campus. Each senior brought a small gift for her little sister. Miss Bedford, sophomore class man, Mr. McCorkle, senior class man, and Mrs. McCorkle were guests of honor. Lawn games were led by Frances Horton, while Sue Yeaman most effectively directed selections of popular songs. The gifts, which were delivered by "Roomie" Gwaltney, were brought out in a wheel barrow decorated with the class colors, red and white.

PEGGY ANN PHOTOS
For Short Time Only
Just the thing for Exchange and Memory Books
Studio Rooms
Over Hub Bargain Basement
Main Street Farmville, Va.

"Pupils" in Sing Make Interesting Discoveries

A very amusing and enjoyable program was presented at Sing in the auditorium last Saturday night, Laeta Barham was the teacher, who tried to teach her pupils, Margaret Herndon, Bonnie Lane, Elise Marshburn, and Blanche Kahn, about some great men, who had made important discoveries. "Einstein," said Miss Barham, discovered his own theory." At the conclusion of the class period, the teacher told the pupils to make some discoveries of their own, and to be able to tell the class, the next day, what discoveries they had made.

When Miss Barham called on her class for discoveries, the following were given: Margaret Herndon discovered that Madeline McCummins could really handle a piano, and Madeline proved that Margaret's discovery was correct. Elise Marshburn discovered that Gay Steiffen was a swell dancer, and Gay showed the audience that Elise was right. The last but\not least discovery was that it was time for lunch. No sooner had Blanche Kahn stated this, than the teacher and pupils had risen from their seats and were dashing off for lunch.

MISS OTTIE CRADDOCK ENTERTAINS AT DINNER

The Eastern Shore Club was entertained at Longwood at dinner, Wednesday, May 16 at 6 p. m. by Miss Ottie Craddock, sponsor of the club. After the dinner everyone gathered around the piano and sang songs.

Those enjoying Miss Craddock's hospitality were: Virginia Acworth, Alice Disharoon, Louise Floyd, Margaret Hurt, Lila Jacob, Dorothy Justis, Katherine Malone, Anne Mears, Martha and Page Nottingham, Elizabeth Phillips, Sylvia Somers, Florence Tankard, Virginia Walker, Tac Waters, Jean Willis, and Dorothy Wise.

MISS MARY ENTERTAINS OLD AND NEW COUNCILS

Miss Mary White Cox entertained the old and new student councils with a delightful breakfast in the tea room Sunday morning at 8:30 o'clock. The menu consisted of strawberries with sugar and cream, boiled chicken, waffles, syrup, rolls, butter and coffee.

ZETA TAU SORORITY HAS BANQUET IN TEA ROOM

The Zeta Tau Sorority held its annual spring banquet in the banquet room of the tea room on Friday night, May 18. The tables were attractively decorated with orchid candles, iris and peonies.

The guests for the evening included Miss Bedford, faculty adviser and Miss Nichols, faculty member. Twenty-one active members of the chapter were also present.

Kleanwell
CLEANERS AND TAILORS
Expert Cleaning, Repairing and Remodeling of Ladies Garments
Main Street, Opposite Postoffice
PHONE 98

S. A. Legus
TAILOR
CLEANING
PRESSING
REPAIRING
Phone 203

C. E. Chappell
COMPANY
Stationery, Blank Books and School Supplies
Cigars, Cigarettes and Soda
Farmville, Virginia

YOU WOULD LOVE TO HAVE YOUR SHOES FIXED AT THE
Lovelace Shoe Shop
110 Third Street

Y. W. C. A. NOTES

Membership and Alumnae Committee

The membership and alumnae committee of the Y. W. C. A. is composed of the following:

Miss Stubbs, adviser; Katharine Walton, chairman; Anne Irving, Lena Mac Gardner, Jessica Jones, Florence Tankard, Ohpelia Booker, Elizabeth Walton, Polly Ware, Victoria Gillette and Dot Price.

The purpose of this committee is to secure new members (freshmen) and to keep in touch with former members (alumnae). This spring the committee has written one hundred letters to alumnae describing May Day and inviting them to return for commencement. The committee also sees all the graduating sophomores and seniors and asks them to sign their alumnae membership cards. If they sign these, it obligates them in no way—it merely means that they will receive letters from the committee next year. If any girl wishes to pay her alumnae dues of $1.00 a year, she will receive letters for two years.

The membership committee has charge of assigning "little sisters" and welcoming the freshmen next fall. A "little sister" paper has been posted on the bulletin board so that the upper classmen could sign for their "little sister". They will be notified during the summer as to who their "little sisters" are. The cabinet has been asked to write letters this summer to the freshmen. The membership committee will return to school a day early next fall to welcome the freshmen. They will be assisted by the Freshman Counsellor and the Freshmen Commission.

THE SING COMMITTEE

The Sing Committee is composed of the following girls; Elizabeth Huse, Katheryn Switezer, Gay Steiffen, Margaret Farrar, Dorothy Justis, Charlotte Rice, Hazel Smith, with Mr. French as advisor.

The Sing Committee presents, each Saturday night, a short program. These programs are informal and are amusing. Life, activities and the talents of S. T. C. girls are used as themes.

For the coming year the Sing Committee has made many plans. It hopes to have more girls taking part in the skits; we have more organizations interested in giving them.

RADIO HIGHLIGHTS FOR MAY 23 TO 27

Wednesday, May 23
6:30—Harold Stern, WOR
7:00—Myrt and Marge, WABC
7:30—Armbuster Orch., WABC
8:00—Jack Pearl, WEAF
9:30—Guy Lombardo, WABC
10:30—Jack Denny, WJZ

Thursday, May 24
8:00—Rudy Vallee, WEAF
8:30—Concert Orch, WABC
9:00—Fred Waring, WABC
10:00—Paul Whitman, WEAF

Friday, May 25
9:00—Abe Lyman Orch., WEAF
9:15—Ruth Etting, WABC
9:30—Phil Baker, WJZ
10:30—Jack Benny, WEAF
11:30—Vincent Lopez, WEAF

"THE GREATER COURAGE" By Margaret Pedlar

The same courage that caused Jenifer to love Jim caused her to hate him, then later to love and marry him.

The first time she met him he saved her from a bandit and didn't ask her name. The second time he rescued her from a frozen death in the Alps. To the world he was Fenton Trafford, the play wright; to her he was just Jim Trafford, her beloved.

Then one day a man with revenge in his heart told her an accident of the past and she sent him away as a coward. It was Jim who had let Denny, a very dear friend of her and her father, die a horrible death in the lake.

The author solves the problem by showing that there are times when a man should not risk his life for others. By this one incident the sadness and bitterness, the gloom and sadness that had darkened their way faded into the air.

MEMOIRS

Into my heart's memory
I slipped a sweet thought
That cannot be taken
Nor can it be bought.
Oh, better than flattery
From false, would-be friends.
Is the safe-kept memory
Of a lovely thing.

M. K. R.

I always fly
Into a rage
When some dame chatters,
"Be your age."

In what did Bill make his letters in college?
Poker.
How's that?
I. O. U.

"SUMMER APPAREL IN ALL IT'S GLORY, AND LEST YOU FORGET"

DOROTHY MAY STORES—Graduation headquarters. Lovely pique suits in white and pastel colors. Linen and two piece washable silks, sheer organdie dresses, gorgeous evening gowns—prices $2.97—$5.45 and $9.45.

Toeless Sandals Special $1.49

THE DOROTHY MAY STORE
First to show the Newest!

DAVIDSON'S
Spring and summer footwear now on display. For your inspection. In the newest styles

$2.95 – $3.95 – $5.00

EACO THEATRE
Program May 23 to 30

Wednesday, May 23
Clive Brook
Diana Wynyard
in
"DOVER ROAD"
("Where Sinners Meet")
Comedy and Chapter 8, "Pirate Comedy and Chapter 8, "Pirate Treasure"

Thurs. & Fri., May 24 & 25
Warner Baxter
Madge Evans, John Boles, James Dunn, Stephin Fetchit, Shirley Temple, Sylvia Froos, "Aunt Jemima," and scores of others in
'STAND UP & CHEER'
See the loveliest, freshest, most beautiful girls; hear the newest, liveliest, catchiest tunes; thrill to the most amazing, breath-taking spectacles; laugh over the most novel comedy idea ever. Here's the show of a 1001 surprises. Don't miss the treat of the year.
Comedy, "How'd You Like That"

Mats 25c, Evenings, 35c, Children 15c
Saturday, May 26
Irene Dunne
Ralph Bellamy
in
"THIS MAN IS MINE"
How an intelligent young wife undertakes to revive the honeymoon ardor of her husband by deliberately throwing him into the arms of another woman forms the colorful and thrilling theme of this excellent picture. A woman swallows her pride and fights for her wayward husband. Miss Dunne has a beautiful voice and she sings in this picture.
Also Popeye the Sailor, "Across the Sea" and Fox News

Next Monday and Tuesday
Al Jolson
Dolores Del Rio
Kay Francis
Dick Powell
in
"WONDER BAR"
Here at last, the greatest all-star musical of the season; the wonder show of all time. Not a back-stage musical comedy, but a blazing human; passionate drama that cracks like a thunder-bolt, amid songs, girls, laughs and astounding surprises. See Dolores Del Rio and Ricardo Cortez in the most sensational tango ever danced. Hear Al Jolson sing, "Goin' to Heaven on a Mule," and Dick Powell sing "Don't Say Good-Night." A wonderful treat is in store for you, for the whole roaring world broadcasts the wonders of this show.
Also Screen Souvenir & Metro News
Mats. 25c, Nights 35c, Children 15c

Next Wednesday, May 30 May 28 and 29
Robert Montgomery
Elizabeth Allan
Lewis Stone
In
"Mystery of Mr. X"
Follow Montgomery as the gentleman crook with love and the law on his side. He'll lead you along the trail of mystery and romance; as he tracks the killer, with one sensation crowding the next. It's his most exciting role
Also Lanny Ross in "Tune Up and Sing" and Chapter 9, "PIRATE TREASURE"

Adults, 20c at Matinees, and 25c at nights; except on percentage pictures. We hope an increased attendance will permit us to continue these prices.

The more we work for a thing the more we enjoy it, was never more true than on the past Saturday night. Ask some of these persistent people who finally managed to make an appearance at the dance.

FRESHMEN, SOPHOMORES CLASH IN BALL GAME

The first class baseball game was played this afternoon at four o'clock on the athletic field. Tomorrow at four the juniors will battle the seniors, and the winners of the two games will play Friday for the championship which decides the winner of the color cup.

The class teams elected captains Monday afternoon. Mildred Chandler, Doris Eley, Frances McDaniel, and Honey Hamilton head the freshmen, sophomore, junior and senior teams respectively. Each of these girls has proved her ability as a leader in previous activities

THE NEWSMONGER

Continued from page 2

ed that the phrase "honorably identified with the history of our country" be changed to read "prominently identified with the history of our country," because Lee, although once an officer in the United States army had refused the command of it in 1861. The Southern Democrats in the house rallied to oppose the change and Stafford tactfully withdrew his opposition and did not force the issue.

The gifts were presented by Governor George C. Perry at the ceremonies in the Capitol Rotunda. Senator Walsh, a Democrat from Massachusetts, accepted the gifts. Others on the program were Judge Don P. Halsey of Lynchburg, who arranged for the placing of the statues in 1909, and Dr. Francis Pendleton Gaines, president of Washington and Lee University.

After the many years of delay and dispute, we are glad that Congress has recognized the Americanism of these two who fought for what they believed to be right and has accepted the statues of the two men Virginia reveres most—Washington and Lee.

APPROXIMATELY 200 WILL BE GRADUATED

Continued from page one

Richmond, Route; Margaret Otten, Covington; Margaret E. Parker, Suffolk; Charlotte R. Parrish, Lynchburg; Mrs. Velma Quarles Perkinson, Charlottesville; Dorothy B. Prescott, Big Stone Gap; Elma H. Rawlings, Lawrenceville; Betsy T. Ross, Lynchburg; Alice F. Rowell, Smithfield; Grace W. Rowell, Smithfield; Margaret K. Rucker, Moneta; Ruth P. Rucker, Moneta; Bernice D. Scott, Carrsville; Edith Shanks, Roanoke; Mary Scott, Shelton, Farmville; Ava Ruth Simmons, Floyd; Josephine Smith, Staunton; A. Irwin Staples, Burkeville; Joyce L. Sturm, Appalachia; Gertrude L. Sugden, Hampton; Sarah Hyde Thomas, Staunton; Margaret Louise Van Lear, Lynchburg, Ruby Lee Vestal, Roanoke; Annie Louise Via, Philpott; Elizabeth B. Wall, Bristol; Martha Scott Watkins, Farmville; Helen Westmoreland, Petersburg; Dorothy E. White, Bedford; Beverly Andrews Wilkinson, Lynch Station; Mary Elizabeth Wilkinson, Lynchburg; Maria Dorothy Williams, Portsmouth; Dorothy M. Wingfield, Lynchburg; Dorothy C. Woolwine, Ceres; Sue M. Yeaman, Martinsville.

Diploma: Mary Elizabeth Alexander, Staunton; Cora Louise Alphin, Buchanan; Angerona Aydlette, Norfolk; Vernell Van Ayscue, Petersburg; Mattie Louise Bailey, Jeffress; Beverley E. Barksdale, Sutherlin; Claudia P. Barleon, Portsmouth; Catherine Elizabeth Billups, Norfolk; Emma F. Bingham, Norfolk; Dorothy Male Blair, Java; Nancy Leigh Bland, Plain View; Ophelia Isabell Booker, Richmond; Marjorie M. Booton, Luray; Helen Jeffress Boswell, Bracey; Nell G. Boswell, Bracey; Cornelia Ellen Bristow, Christ Church; S. Burnely Brockenbrough, Greensboro, N. C.; Hilda Grace Brumfield, Level Run; Irene V. Bryant, Hampton; L. Mae Burch, Boyce; Doris V. Button, Rixeyville; Eleanor A Button, Rixeyville; Caroline H. Byrd, Warm Springs; Sarah Isabelle Calhoun, Darlington Heights; Margery T. Chambers, Dinwiddie; Josephine C. Clayton, South Hill; Mary Kemper Cobb, Farmville; Elva C. Connelly, Gladys; Helen G. Conquest, Atlantic; Mattie Lula Cooper, Anniston, Ala.; Jane W. Coulbourn, Waverly; Elizabeth B. Darden, Norfolk; Edna Victoria Dawley, Princess Anne; Evelyn V. Dryden, Poquoson; J. Margaret Dudley, Bluefield; Harriet V. Edmunds, Charleston, W. Va.; Nan T. Edmunds, McKenney; Virginia F. Edmunds, McKenney; Sarah Elam, South Boston; Doris C. Eley, Norfolk; Dorothy Marie Eubank, Madison Heights; Grace W. Eubank, Newport News; Mary Alice Farrell, Richmond; Louise G. Gathright, Goochland, C. H.; Ruby Lee Gillispie, Falling Springs; Lucille Annette Good, Roanoke; Sara Minor Goodwin, Louisa; Nadine Guthrie, Brookneal; Jeanne O. Gwaltney, Beulahville; Mildred R. Hancock, Roanoke; Claudia E. Harper, Newport News; Irma Nell Harrell, Suffolk; Martha Lucile Harrison, Waverly; Bessie Dru Hart, Union Level; Katherine R. Hoyle, Newport News; Chesta A. Hubbard, Rice; Myrtle Marie Hundley, Sedley; Addie Lee Jarman, Standardsville; Mary Virginia Johnson, Suffolk; Lois Crenshaw Jones, Lynchburg; Pauline E. Jones, Sheppards; Rachel Joyner, Capron; Virginia Mae Lee, Altavista; Iola McIntire, Mt. Hope, W. Va.; Jane Alyce Main, Petersburg; Katherine Belle Malone, Atlantic; Evelyn Byrd Martin, Cullen; Billie Morgan, Andersonville; Virginia Moses, Norfolk; Addie N. Norfleet, Suffolk; Martha Bacon Nottingham, Eastville; Eva Virginia Owen, St. Paul; Elizabeth M. Phillips, Melfa; Mildred Potter, Petersburg; Virginia Louise Potter, Petersburg; Mary Lee Powell, Boykins; Margaret Pringle, Rocky Mount; Marion Price Raine, Danville; Florence M. Raney, Freeman; Dorothy D. Ranson, Hampton; Elizabeth E. Ranson, Dillwyn; Mary Kathleen Ranson, Farmville; Elizabeth C. Renfro, Dorchester; Virginia W. Riddick, Suffolk; Ruth H. Roberts, Madisonville; Elizabeth B Rogers, Newport News; Willie V. Rountree, Suffolk; Edith N. Sanford, Alberta; Agnes C. Shaner, Lexington; Alfreda W. Shields, Salem; Maynie Showalter, Kenbridge; Mildred A. Slayton, Crewe; Nell R. Smelley, LaCrosse; Frances Elizabeth Smith, Buffalo Junction; Mildred W. Smith, Farmville; Virginia F. Snodgrass, Glade Spring; Georgia B. Spencer, Barnesville; Elizabeth B. Sutton, Plain View; Ruth E. Talbott, Clarksburg, W. Va.; Florence M. Tankard, Franktown; Anne de G. Thomas, Norfolk; Mary Elia Thompson, Gretna; Beulah Leigh Travis, Richmond; Jessie L. Vick, Court L. Jr., Walker Guinea Mills; Margaret Louise Webster, Norfolk; Elizabeth C. Wheler, Jarratt; Louise Whitehurst, Roanoke; Virginia Widgeon, London Bridge; Lucile Kathryn Wilkinson, Cloverdale; Amanda Maude Wilson, Forest; Virginia S. Wilson, Virginia; Ethel W. Winder, Atlantic; Lula Imogene Windley, Suffolk; Margaret H. Wolfenbarger, Appalachia; Estelle F. Wood, Wingina; Margaret Elizabeth Woodard, Norfolk; Kathryn Ann Woodson, Richmond; Marion Jean Wright, Portsmouth; Frances A. Yester, Clarksburg, W. Va.

FACULTY LENDS EXHIBIT

Continued from page one

fields.

Among the publications of the S. T. C. faculty which will be lent to the exhibit are: "Teaching History in High School, Peck; "Modern Theories of the Elementary Process," Wynne; "School Career of Study for the Kindergarten and Primary Grades", Holton; Teaching Child's Literature," Penny, Mix and Foster; "Principles and Analysis of Curriculum Making," Wynne.

WILLIS
The Florist
FLOWERS FOR ALL OCCASIONS
PHONES 181-273

Electric Shoe Shop
Will Fix Your Shoes While You Wait
BEST WORKMANSHIP AND LEATHER USED

RICE'S SHOE STORE
Street and Dress Shoes
Dancing Slippers Dyed
Correct fits our speciality

SPORT SHORTS

By L. SANFORD

We regret to announce that there will be no field and track meet this year. The reasons for the lack of participation in this activity seem to be numerous. There is no jumping pit available at this point, and far more serious than that is scarcity of students taking part. There were not enough to make the practices worthwhile.

Mildred, Frankie, Dot and Honey, we congratulate you on your election to captainship of your respective class baseball teams. We were a little curious as to why Honey was chosen but she tells us she can "outfield" 'em all.

We take it that Mary Gilmer is a firm believer in the old saying, "The best ball players sit on the fence." That's the impression we got when she climbed down from her throne on the lumber pile to pick up a hot one. Some may call it rest, but we'd call it plain ole bragging.

Mary Berkeley Nelson must have what it takes in tennis. She's won two singles matches in the tournament for class championship. Incidentally, they were both gotten through default of the opponent.

Tennis is a good game any way you take it but if you really want to have a big time you should try S. T. C.'s latest—mixed doubles. For information on the subject we refer you to Margaret Gilmer or Helen Shawen.

Red or green? Which will it be? Who'll get the cup this year? That remains to be seen. Regardless of which color comes out on top we must say they really had to work for it. The classes have loyally supported red and white and green and white thereby upholding the standards of blue and white.

SYMPHONY IN X?

"You're getting to be a habit with me"—8:30 Class Cuts.

"Everything I have is yours"—Shannon's.

"I'm a night owl"—Mrs. Blanton.

"You're such a comfort to me"—Mail.

"You've got everything" — Tea Room.

"May I"—go down town (campus queens).

"Gather Lip Rouge while you may"—Week Ends.

"Heaven only knows" — Exam Questions.

"O, you nasty men"—Lions.

"I'm Living on Love"—S. T. C. girls.

"I Just Couldn't Take It, Baby"—infirmary.

"Got the Jitters"—June 1st.

TRAINING SCHOOL DANCE IS ENJOYED BY STUDENTS

The Training School gave a co-ed dance for the benefit of their Athletic Association in the S. T. C. gymnasium on Saturday, May 19, from 9 to 12 p. m.

The gym was gaily decorated with vari-colored banners and soft lights. Among the approximate 200 people who were present, both S. T. C. and Hampden-Sydney were well represented. Music for the occasion was furnished by the Southside Club

Nellie is a treasure.

Yeah—the kind you have to dig for.

Skipper.

Until you try to borrow money you never realize what close friends you have.

Skipper.

How do you know he was drunk? He was looking for eggs in the cuckoo clock.

Skipper.

Tennis

At present the tournament for individual and class championship is being played off. Those people who are signed up on the ladder should see their opponents and arrange to play their matches off within the next few days. Seven games compose a set.

The results of the matches to date are as follows:

Vestal, Cotten (6-1), Cabell, Lovelace (6-1), Walmsley Aydlette (5-2), Nelson, M. Moore default, Nelson, D. Merres default, Johnson, Carroll default, L. Mattox, Beck (5-2), E. Gills, E. Massey (5-2).

SORORITY STANDINGS

Zeta Tau	1.977
Mu Omega	1.711
Alpha Sigma Alpha	1.672
Sigma Sigma Sigma	1.620
Pi Kappa Sigma	1.572
Gamma Theta	1.357

Mack's
BARBER AND BEAUTY SHOP
323 Main Street
We use the Frederick Method
Hair Cutting and Thinning a Specialty

Weyanoke
BEAUTY SALON
A Complete Beauty Service At Moderate Prices
What we have done for others we can do for you
WEYANOKE HOTEL
Farmville Va.

G. F. Butcher
High Street
"The Convenient Store"
FOR GOOD THINGS TO EAT AND DRINK

Gray's Drug Store
QUALITY—PRICE—SERVICE
Come in and Get Acquainted
We Are Glad to Have You With Us!
Farmville, Virginia

1934 COMMENCEMENT BEGINS SUNDAY NIGHT

Continued from page one

address in the large auditorium at 10:30 Tuesday morning, June 5. The program is as follows:

Processional.

Invocation—Rev. H. E. Cromer.

Salutatory—Miss Katherine Reed Hoyle.

"Songs My Mother Taught Me"—Dvorak; string quartette.

Address—Dr. J. Joseph Rives.

"Farewell to Cucullain"—An Irish Melody; string quartette.

Valedictory—Miss Grace Warren Rowell.

Delivery of Diplomas and Degrees, Dr. J. L. Jarman.

Recessional.

Darling: "Did I bring anything over here besides myself?"

Goodwill: "You didn't bring anything including yourself.

Skipper.

Summer Employment Solved
Student representatives to distribute educational literature. Three months' steady work. Local or traveling. Liberal compensation. Address College Dept., 1006 Arch St., Philadelphia.

Martin JEWELER
Gifts of Lasting Remembrance
317 Main St. Farmville

SouthsideDrugStore
(On the Corner)
Films Developed
FREE
If bought at this store

Shannon's
Is H. ... arters for the Best
SANDWICHES
—and—
DRINKS
—in—
FARMVILLE!

Graduation Apparel at Right Prices
Lovely sheer organdie dresses—washable silk crepes, pique and linens, one and two piece ensembles, solid white and pastel colors. Prices to suit you
$2.95—$4.95 AND $7.85
Lovely white and pastel millinery—$1.00 and $1.95
Gorgeous Summer Footwear!
COME IN AND LET US SHOW YOU
THE HUB DEPARTMENT STORE
"Farmville Best Place to Shop"

GET A B. A. DEGREE
Here, B. A., Means (Baldwin Apparel)
You can be a style leader as well as a group leader when you wear clothes from BALDWIN'S.
See the new hats, shoes, dresses for summer wear. You can easily shop here without having to wire dad to send extra money.
Visit the Style Shop for Ladies
BALDWIN'S
Quality—Price—Service

PAY YOUR DUES!

The Rotunda

We Teach To Teach

PATRONIZE OUR ADVERTISERS

Volume XV. THE ROTUNDA, WEDNESDAY, SEPT. 26, 1934 No. 1

615 Students Enroll For Coming Session

Ten States and China Represented In Enrollment

MANY TRANSFERS

Six hundred and fifteen students enrolled September 18, to begin the fifty-first session of this institution. New students are continually arriving, and the coming year is expected to be an unusually successful one.

Many familiar faces here last year are greatly missed this fall. However, reports of the new girls give assurance that they will help fill the place left by last year's students not returning.

The student body is composed this year of girls from ten states, including Georgia, Kentucy, New York, Maryland, Texas and many others; China also supplies one student; Virginia furnishes a majority.

Freshmen and new girls make up a large percentage of the student body. Transfers come from William and Mary, Sweet Briar, Averett, Charlestown College, Duke, and other well known colleges.

The Y. W. C. A. helped the new girls matriculate, find their rooms and come settled. Members of the Y. W. cabinet met both old and new girls in the Rotunda and at the station.

The enrollment for the new session practically fills all dormitory rooms and all classes are sufficiently large.

Annual Photographer Will Come Monday

Dunbar and Daniel, photographers for the 1935 Virginia, will be here next week, beginning on Monday morning, October 1, to take pictures for the annual.

Appointments for pictures were made today and may be made tomorrow and Friday at the table in the hall. The cost for each picture taken is one dollar, which may be paid just before the picture is made. Everyone is urged to make an appointment for a picture at once in order that she may be represented in this year's annual.

Wyc Scott Crowned Miss Orange Co.

A large portion of Virginia's history will pass in review at the four-day bi-centennial celebration, lasting from Tuesday Through Friday of this week, in Orange County.

Wyeliff Scott, a senior at State Teachers College has been crowned queen of the celebration as "Miss Orange County." She was one of the center figures in the pageant, having a cast of over one thousand. Florence Sanford junior here, has been named "Miss Columbia," who acted as a center figure in the finale of the pageant. A gigantic wheel was formed by the cast with Miss Columbia as the center.

The Bicentennial dance will take place Wednesday night. Miss Orange County and Miss Columbia will attend with their courts and occupy thrones of gold.

Friday night is the grand finale of the whole celebration. The Queen's Ball is the climax of the event and is held in honor of Miss Orange County.

Orange County was the largest county ever formed. It stretched to the Mississippi and the Great Lakes, a territory now occupied

Continued to page 4, column 2

Appointed Registrar

MISS VIRGILIA I. BUGG

Miss Bugg Chosen College Registrar

That Miss Virgilia I. Bugg has been appointed registrar of the College and Mary Wisely Watkins, Secretary to the President, was officially announced today.

Miss Bugg, who has lived in Farmville all her life, taught in Roanoke Public Schools for three years following her graduation from this college in 1913.

In September, 1921, she came to this college as an assistant in the office, and in 1929 she was appointed assistant registrar.

Miss Bugg is well qualified to fill her position capably, having had thirteen years of experience under the late Miss Tabb. She is also secretary of the Virginia Association of collegiate registars.

Mary Wisely Watkins who has been appointed Secretary to the President, received her B. S. degree from Farmville S. T. C., in 1927. Followingw three years of teaching experience she came from Fairfax Hall to Farmville in 1930 as Clerk in the registrar's office.

Frances Lancaster of Farmville has been appointed clerk in the office. She received her B. S. degree from Randolpf-Macon Woman's College.

Farmville Contributes Eighty New Teachers

Farmville had the honor this year of contributing eighty new teachers to the educational system. These girls were graduates of the degree and diploma classes of 1934. Forty-nine degree graduates and thirty-one from the diploma class were fortunate in being chosen as teachers. Farmville is particularly well represented in the schools of Virginia. One graduate from the degree class has the distinction of being on a school faculty in Havana, Cuba. With this record on file the outlook for the present S. T. than it has been for several C. students is more hopeful years.

The following list gives the names and teaching addresses of those 1934 S. T. C. graduates who secured positions this fall as teachers:

From the degree class:

Anderson, Annie, Amelia; Billings, Laurine; Bowles, Annalian, Clifton Forge; Brinkley, Virginia, Staunton, Va.; Clevenger, Hazel, Red Hill, H. S., Albermarle; Collings, Alberta, Norfolk, Va.; Cooper, Nannie Ruth, Fieldale; Copenhaver, Margaret, Witers Mill, Wise Co.; Disharoon, Alice, nurse, New York City; Foster, Elmer, Morrisville; Fraser, Mary Burgess, Dinwiddie, Midway H.-

Continued to page 3, column 4

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE TO OUR NEW STUDENTS

Just a word to Freshmen and other new students to say we welcome you to our college with its many opportunities. Most of you are new to college life, and to make the transition from school to college or home to college requires a little time for adjustment. It is surprising how quickly the adjustments are made. That is because of youth. Put your regular work first, and start with the determination to do your best with it. Then find an opportunity to develop your special talents, for you have different talents. Identify yourself with one of the extra-curricular activities in line with your particular gift or talent. Wholehearted participation in at least one of the many student activities on the campus will give added zest to your regular work and will do much to develop your personality. Remember that you are among friends. Everyone here — student, faculty, administration,— is eager to help you find your place in our college life.

J. L. Jarman

Goodwin Directs Pi Gamma Mu Tour

October Trip Includes Restoration of Historic Town

Dr. W. A. R. Goodwin will personally conduct the members of Pi Gamma Mu on a trip to Williamsburg some time in October to see the restoration of that historic old college and town. Dr. Goodwin was the guest speaker of the Farmville Woman's Club here last October.

Years ago when Dr. Goodwin was a student of history he dreamed of restoring the four colonial cities, Philadelphia, New York, Boston and Williamsburg. Once, by chance he met John D. Rockefeller and told him of his dream of restoring the Virginia Colonial capital—as a result of Mr. Rockefeller's interest a large number of buildings have already been restored. The foundations of buildings a hundred years old or more have been found, and architects have discovered the exact size and shape of the buildings. The Christopher Wren building, and Brafferton Hall, and the president's house have been remodeled on their old lines. The Governor's Mansion is the latest of these buildings to be reopened.

Old Gloucester street with the college at one end and the rebuilt colonial capitol at the other, has taken on its appearance of two centuries ago. The famous old Raleigh tavern which is valuable in Pre-Revolution story-lore has been completed. Fragments of china and silver found on the site have been the basis of the reconstructed furnishings for the tavern.

After seeing Williamsburg the members of Pi Gamma Mu will go through Jamestown and Yorktown.

Rotunda Changes Size, Paper, Heading

With this issue the following changes have been made in The Rotunda: from a five to a six column page, from magazine to news print paper, a different heading for the front page, and on the editorial page from a single column to one and a half columns for editorials. These changes from last year's Rotunda will be observed throughout the session 1934-'35. The Staff expects through these changes to improve the make-up and general appearance of The Rotunda.

FERAScholarships Awarded 80 Girls

Approximately eighty FERA scholarships have been awarded to Farmville S. T. C. students. These scholarships have enabled many girls to begin or to renew their academic studies who might otherwise have ben forced to drop out.

The two-fold purpose of these scholarships is to aid students financially and educationally.

About $10,000 has been turned over to Farmville, S. T. C., thus giving these girls a scholarship fund of around $100 each. The work will continue throughout the year.

Teachers and town people are at the head of each department. All the work is educational. Half the girls receiving dining room service scholarships and a small number of the library girls are working under the FERA system. Others receiving scholarships are employed as assistants to professors, typists, assistants to supervisors, or as welfare workers in Farmville.

Many other colleges are granting scholarships under the same system. The student body expresses appreciation to the Administration Board for the sum appropriated here.

Collegiate Digest Is Feature of Rotunda

Beginning with this issue of the Rotunda, students of S. T. C., will each week receive the Collegiate Digest, a rotogravure section containing national collegiate news in picture and paragraph, as a regular feature of the Rotunda.

Presenting each week a pictorial review of college events, Collegiate Digest contains many features that will be of interest to our readers. Its new department, "Report Card," contains the latest news of the entertainment world.

Photographs of events on our campus will appear in Collegiate Digest, and students are urged to send photos to the editor (Box 472, Madison, Wis.) so that he may have a greater choice of interesting news from our college. He will pay $1 for all photos accepted for publication when published.

This will be the first year that The Rotunda has distributed Collegiate Digest as a regular feature for its readers. It is published by the Associated Collegiate Press, a co-operative organization of some 50 college and university newspapers in the United States, and has proven its "readibility" during the time that it has been published.

Some of the other colleges that use this feature are Harvard, Dartmouth, Brown, Rutgers, Wis-

Continued on page 4, Column 2

Well Known Dancer Will Appear Here

Begins 33rd Year

Dr. J. L. Jarman

Dr. Jarman Receives Note of Appreciation

Dr. Jarman received the following note this morning:

Dear Dr. Jarman:

The Student Body wishes to express appreciation for the swimming pool. We are deply grateful for your untiring efforts in securing this beautiful and useful addition to our campus and school.

We hope that we may be deserving of your thoughtfulness and kindnesses to us. In co-operating with you, the administration, and the faculty, our aim will be to uphold the highest standards of the school which we feel are embodied in you, our dearest friend.

Sincerely,

JESTINE CUTSHALL,

President of the Student Body.

The Student Body voted unanimously in the meeting Wednesday night that this note be sent to Dr. Jarman.

Two Courses Added to College Curriculum

Two new courses, pre-library and pre-nursing have been added to the curriculum this year.

The pre-library course is designed to provide a student, while receiving a broad general education with experience in that work. Since a librarian must have a broad acquaintance with books, the course emphasizes literary historical and linguistic studies. Also it seeks to provide contact with all the departments in general.

During the first two years of college a student specializing in the pre-library course should study and become acquainted with various subject in general, such as history, English, and languages. The last two years are devoted to a more specific regard for the cultural subjects together with apprenticeship and regular practice in library work.

This course should be very beneficial to students desiring to become librarian or to those who are interested in this work as an

Continued on page 3, Column 3

All freshmen, with or without journalistic experience, interested in trying out for The Rotunda staff, come to the publication office tonight at 7:30. Any who cannot come at this time may see the editor this week.

Tickets to Be Secured From Registrar's Office

FIRST OF LYCEUM

Famous intepretative dancer, Miriam Marmein will appear here Monday, Oct. 1, at 8 o'clock in the large auditorium.

Miss Marmein, American dancer of unusual ability made her professional debut in a program of solo dances under the management of Maurice Browne. This was followed by a wide experience in the theatre and concert fields, both in England and America, including appearances with the New York and Philharmonic Symphony Orchestra, the Westchester, Newark, and Worchester Music Festivals, the Washington Opera, the University of Virginia and many similar musical and educational organizations.

Her program will be one of great variety and originality, combining moments of lyric beauty, tragedy, and satire. It was especially planned for the students and will be of a somewhat different nature from lyceum numbers of previous years.

Tickets for the performance may be secured from the Registrar's office on Monday, Oct. 1st.

A large audience is expected and formal dress will be worn.

College Choir Elects Manager

Starting the year with spirit and enthusiasm members of the College Choir elected officers and made plans for the year in their first meeting Thursday night.

Mr. Strick announced that instead of having a President, as formerly, a manager would be elected twice every college year, thus giving outstanding students in music opportunity for administrative work. Louise Hyde was voted manager for the first half year.

The College Choir, assisted by leading soloists, will in March again present the first part of the Messiah, and supplementry this oratoro an intensive study of the Charles of Johnann Sebastian Bach will be taken up. The Vassar editor, edited by Dr. Green will be used.

Quite an interesting feature of the meeting was the presentation of a beautiful pin to Louise Hyde who graciously thanked the choir and stated that the choir committee (composed of the student body president and four others) would award similar pins to choir members for outstanding work.

The choir will have its informal reception this week.

Shall H. S. C. Be Annexed "Debaters"

"Resolved that Farmville State Teachers College should annex Hampden-Sydney as a practice school" will be debated Friday night, Sept. 28, at 7:30 o'clock in the large auditorium. The debate is sponsored by S. T. C. Debate Club. Each debater is allowed 5 minutes for her and approximately 3 minutes will be given each speaker for rebuttal.

Do you favor this annexation? The entire student body is cordially invited to attend, and women will be special honor

THE ROTUNDA

Member Virginia Intercollegiate Press Association

Published by students of the State Teachers College, Farmville, Virginia

Entered as second class mater March 1, 1921, at the Post Office of Farmville, Virginia, under Act of March 3, 1934

Subscription ..... $1.50 per year

Associated Collegiate Press Member

MEMBER
Associated Collegiate Press
1934 Collegiate Digest 1935
MADISON WISCONSIN

Staff

Lelia Mattox ..... Editor
Evelyn Massey ..... Associate Editor

Board of Editors

Miss Jane Royall ..... Alumnae
Amis Montgomery ..... News
Florence Sanford ..... Make-up
Kathryne Cotten ..... Literary
Anne Putney ..... World News
Anne Diggs ..... Social
Margaret Farrar ..... Feature
Lelia Sanford ..... Sports

Proof Readers

Elizabeth Walton

Managers

Lena Mac Gardner ..... Business
Alva Sawyer ..... Asst. Business
Maude Rhodes ..... Circulation
Grace Collings ..... Asst. Circulation
Lila Jacob ..... Asst. Circulation

Assistants and Reporters

Elsie Cabell, Bess McGlothin, Katherine Coleman, Birdie Wooding, Bonnie Lane, Laeta Barham, Minnie Smith, Susan Gresham, Mary Lee Newcomb.

Wednesday, September 26, 1934

FINE SPIRIT OF STUDENT BODY

After a summer full of play we sometimes find it hard to settle down to a winter where there is to be both work and play. Yet, once accepted we realize that the work is really the interesting part. Our student body this year seems willing to accept it, in fact, they seem to be glad to get back in the game again. The old girls know just how nice a year at S. T. C. can be, and if the new girls are expecting the big things we are expecting for them—well, they're expecting, that's all!

Another year to plan and work in and it is most important that we make this year a success. It will mark the 51st birthday of our alma mater—the beginning of the next fifty and, of course, a good start means everything. We want to start things out so that people celebrating 100th anniversary of our school will remember that the 51st year of our history was a successful one.

THIS THING CALLED OPPORTUNITY

Freedom of opportunity is America's contribution to modern democracy. It means, as Horatio Alger, jr., tells us, that the bootblack can become president of the bank and the boy born in a log cabin can become President of the United States; that the daughter of the cobbler can become president of the college or the wife of the corporation president. This is the American Miracle, that which lures the immigrant to these shores and inspires the farm-boy with hope and self-confidence instead of a peasant fatalism.

But, as Theodore Dreiser has indicated in his greatest novel, the American Miracle may be the American Illusion; the freedom of opportunity offered by our society may spell tragedy instead of happiness. This pessimist even affirms that tragedy is more often the result than happiness. Under exceptional circumstances ambitious youth may become the gangster who ends his days in the electric chair; under ordinary circumstances ambition; may bring an ironic success: success accompanied by the realization that one is in a position beyond his abilities. For example, one may industry win the position of teacher, only to be cursed by the conviction that he has neither the wisdom nor the culture necessary for the place.

The moral is simple. Do not pluck without self-criticism the ripe fruit which this bountiful country affords. Be sure that one's own worth. For a peasant in the field the requirements of one's aspirations. Let not the seeking of golden opportunities come before the opportunity to measure ones own worth. For a peasant in the field is greater than a clown upon a throne, and a wage-earner happier than a witless or dishonest bank president.

JUST A KIND WORD

Freshmen, if you are finding it hard to become adapted to your new home, do not be discouraged. Here at college as well as in high school there are sincere friends and sympathetic teachers for you to know and love, as well as good times for you to enjoy. To receive the richest fulfillment of these possibilities, however, you must do your part. Don't always wait for the other girl to say "hello" to you. Say it yourself!

Perhaps you think there is not time to do as much work as is required. There is, however, time for you to be a good student and a good citizen if no moments are wasted. It is easily possible to not only do assigned work but also to search out the answer to questions or find the solution to problems that naturally arise as your education progresses. The good times will come, too, if you use all your opportunities for taking part in whatever wholesome fun is going on around you. The privilege of participating in extra curricular activities, such as athletics, dramatics, debating, is open to all.

Lastly, freshmen, remember at all times to be considerate of others, alert in the classroom, and most important of all, don't forget: your folks back home are behind you. They believe in you. Can you disappoint them?

JES' RAMBLIN'

School days—school days—dear ole golden rule days. Reading and 'riting and 'rithmetic and psychology—and this list might run on. But anyway, school has begun, and . . .

Well, it kinda looks like we're here. But quite obviously the majority of the freshmen seem to bitterly regret that fact. So bitterly that they have no scruples about shedding tears. Of course this is to be expected at the beginning of every year, but we do wish when on the verge of precipitating the little drops of water, the tots would dash to the swimming pool and there weep to their heart's content, or to the pool's content.

The last year juniors apparently are eating up their newly acquired privileges. And for some unforseen reason some of the just-become juniors are enjoying the same. Or have the juniors just decided to skip a year. It's rumored that there were some accomplished sophomores last year. Perhaps they were allowed to jump a grade, too.

Hampden-Sydney seems to have an option on S. T. C. new girls, and as usual, they are making use of it. Several sophs, we've noticed, are mosing into the regions of distant interest. Being no longer "fresh and innocent" around these hyar parts, stand by—the freshmen take control.

Now for that little bit of outside news . . . From all reports, Norma Shearer, Frederick March and Charles Laughton have succeeded in giving a real performance in "The Barretts". Their task was no easy one, especially for Miss Shearer who stepped into the role vacated by Katharine Cornell.

I should say the three hit tunes of the summer were "Moonglow," "I Never Had a Chance," and "Love in Bloom". The fall's edition is a great improvement with "Not Bad," "Fun to be Fooled," and "Out in the Cold Again". These are very nice lyrics.

Bob Crosby who sings with the Dorsey Brothers and who happens to be Bing's little brother is sure stealing his well-known brother's stuff and doing a nice job of it, too. He sings over NBC every night around ten o'clock.

Enough's enough and enough of enough.

Letters Home

Dear Mama,

This is a very nice school, but I long to be back in Hicksville with you papa, and little Oscar.

A girl, dressed in white met me at the train and took me to my room. She called the hall "Tacky Alley." I don't know why, mama. I started to get my room changed, but the girls on the hall looked all right to me, so I decided to stay.

The school is awfully big, in fact it is the biggest building I have ever seen. As you go into the main door, you come to a funny room, that has a big hole in the ceiling. I asked some girls when they were going to have it fixed, but they only laughed at me. I don't understand why, do you, mama?

In the middle of this same room a funny woman is squatting. She must be tired, too. After walking around this school looking for classes, I'd like to squat there myself.

My roommate's name is Sadie Green. She's right nice, but I don't exactly approve of her. Do you know what she does, mama? why she paints her face, wears silk underwear, and dashes off every afternoon to some wild place called "Shannon's."

I have just finished studying my geography, and chewing on the luscious chocolates that Uncle Amos sent me. I must stop now, so that I will have time to study my English before supper.

Although I am far away from Hicksville, my heart is still there with you, papa, and little Oscar.

Oceans of love,
Mahtilda

Mom,

This school is very exmoodica (that's the way everyone talks here). It's really the stuff. Everybody's swell.

I'm rooming with a cute girl, whose name is Flossie Fleming. She says she knows slews of the Hampden-Sydney boys. I've been extra nice to her ever since she told me that, "cause I'm nuts to meet them.

Our room is simply adorable. We decided to have red and white for our color scheme, as they are also our class colors. I put the pendants that "Izzy" gave me, on the wall, but some lady came in and jerked them down. She said we weren't allowed to have nails in the walls, so I don't guess I'll be able to put them back up.

I simply dote on going to Shannon's. I always met up with people I know down there. I have met several Hampden-Sydney boys, but as you are not allowed to talk to them but three minutes, it did me no good. It takes me longer than that to make time, Momsie.

The Athletic Association gave the freshmen a swell weiner roast at "Longwood." I had a simply marvelous time! Longwood is a beautiful place owned by the college.

I must go and meet Fanny to go down town. Hope you are all well.

Love,
Mamie

GO TO CHURCH

JOHNS MEMORIAL CHURCH

Rev. A. Campbell Tucker, Rector

Sunday School—9:30 a. m. — Mrs. A. T. Gray and Miss Meta Cooper, teachers.

Morning prayer and sermon—1111:00 a. m. Sermon topic—The Four-Fold Life. Evening prayer and sermon—7:30 p. m. Sermon topic: The Keys of the Kingdom.

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

Rev. W. V. Gardner, Minister

Sunday school, 9:45 a. m. (This service is called "Rally Day".) Mr. McCorkle, teacher. Morning sermon, 11 a. m. Sermon topic: Hemmed In. Evening league, 6:30 p. m. Sermon topic: Having Done All, to Stand.

BAPTIST CHURCH

Cecil V. Cook, D. D., Pastor

Sunday school, 9:30 a. m., Miss Rice, teacher. Morning sermon, 11:00 a. m. B. Y. P. U. 6:30 p. m. Evening sermon 7:30 p. m.

METHODIST CHURCH

Rev. H. E. Cromer, Pastor

The Bible Hour with Dr. Walmsley in Room 21 9:45 a. m. The church hour, 11:00 a. m. The Vesper hour 6:45 p. m. (This is a special meditative quiet for the students). The evening hour 7:30 p. m.

Alumni News

Among the marriages of Farmville alumnae that have taken place this summer, the following are of particular interest:

Miss Virginia Potts, Secretary to the head of the home of S. T. C., to Rev. J. A. Redhead of Tampa, Florida.

Lucille Norman of Winston-Salem, North Carolina, to William Lee O'Brien, Jr.

Martha Cross of Suffolk to Ensign Frederick Southy Howe, U. S. A.

Dorothy Meyers, of Danville to William Carter Farrar of Charleston, W. Va.

Mary Arthur Billups of Norfolk to Benjamin Clifton Prince, Jr.

Mary Pearson of Bristol to Waller Sanford of Farmville.

Anna Minter of Culpeper to Waverly Jefferson, a Hampden-Sydney graduate.

Lorena Bland of Boydton to Edward Paulette of Farmville.

Lois Bradshaw of Crewe to Joseph Sharrer of Harmony, Pa.

Virginia Ellis of Buckingham to Frank Charles von Richter of New Haven, Conn.

Mary Mann Baskervill of Hampden-Sydney to Peyton Giles Jefferson.

Mary Louise Harry of Hiawatha, West Virginia, to Charles Walter Howell.

Alma Lancy of Henderson, N. Carolina, to Charles Allen Stovall, Jr.

Eva Powers of Northwest, Va., to William Thomas Madrin.

Alice St. Able Harrison of "Needham" to Taylor Dunlap of Cuga, Philippine Islands.

Mary Evelyn Stephenson of Buena Vista to Dr. Dawson Edward Watkins, Jr., of Waynesboro.

Henrietta Cornwell of Winchester to Frederick Marshall Ritter.

Hanna Crawley of Cumberland to John Russell Young Jr., of Washington.

Mary Louise Carwile of Pamplin to Dance P. Pittman of Gates, N. C.

Mary Lee Carter of Blue Spring Run to William Hubbard of Covington.

Louise Barlow of Pennington Gap to Oscar Gibson of Pennington Gap.

Irene Piggeott of Purcellville to Charles Hafner of Newark, N. J.

Martha Blunt Par of Lynchburg to Alexander Wills Boxley of New Glasgow.

Carolyn Maddux of Blackstone to James W. Sutherland of Petersburg, Va.

Mr. and Mrs. Jeffries Samuel Dortch of Southill have announced that on October 27 their daughter, Lucy Livingston, will become the bride of Dr. Clarence Knight Garrard of Lynchburg.

Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Webster Perkins of Blackstone have announced the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Virginia Eloise to Homer Philander Elliot, Jr., of Charleston, W. Va.

Mrs. Samuel Burroughs Barber of Woodville has announced the approaching marriage of her daughter, Martha Wallace to Alfred Ringold Armstrong of Williamsburg and Clover Hill, Rappahannock County.

Dr. W. C. Archer of Waynesboro has announced the engagement of his daughter, Rosabel, to Howard Wesley Suit. The wedding will take place in October.

Mary Diehl will be associated with Mrs. M. M Layne's Business School this session and will have charge of the English and Literature Department.

Two Vacancies Filled By Stone and Royall

Miss Ada Bierbower and Mrs. John Redhead, formerly Miss Virginia Potts, are not with us this year. Miss Annie L. Stone is filling the place on the faculty left by Miss Bierbower, and Miss Jane Royall is secretary to the head of the home.

Miss Ada Bierbower, former supervisor of John Randolph Rural School is now supervisor of the Nottaway County schools and is making her home in Blackstone.

What They Say of "Opportunity"

"A chance to show what is in you." Dr. Walmsley.

"Opportunities of various kinds come to every one. Their success in life largely depends on the advantage that they take of the opportunities as they present themselves."

—Dr. Jarman.

"Opportunity is making the best of everything that comes to you."

—Mr. McCorkle.

How common is the expression, "Make the best of your opportunities"—especialy to the college girl or boy. At all times in a person's life there are opportunities, if he but see them as such. The prince, in Edward Rowland Sill's "Opportunity," won a heroic bottle and saved a great cause with the broken sword that a visionless soldier had discarded.

Perhaps, during the years of a person's college life, opportunities are more numerous and available than any other time. Disraeli stresses the point of knowing when to take advantage of an opportunity. He says, "Next to knowing when to seize an opportunity, the most important thing in life is to know when to forego an advantage."

The keen, discerning college student will sense the many opportunities surrounding him. He will realize that many of these opportunities will not be found elsewhere and take advantage of them now. He will agree with Disraeli that it is of primary importance to know when to seize an opportunity.

An invitation to climb the ladder of success.—Tac Waters.

Opportunity is using life to fit yourself for bigger and better things.

—Billie Rountree.

Any chance to better one's self.
—Lelia Mattox.

Three-fourths fate and one-fourth action.

—Belle Lovelace.

A chance to do something big if realized in time.

—JeanMcClure.

The taking advantage of chances thrown your way.

—Nubby Knaub.

Something which if taken advantage of will lead one toward fuller and richer life.

—Grace Eubank.

The News-Monger

A new line-up of the teams of Europe seems to be the outcome of events in the past week. First in importance is the admission of Russia to the League of Nations with a permanent seat on the Council. Opposition, led by Switzerland, developed in the Assembly, however, after the Soviets had been invited to join the League by thirty of the members. France, Great Britain, Italy, Czechoslavakia, and Turkey ran interference for Moscow through their veteran representatives making the final score as follows: for admission, thirty-eight; against admission, three (Holland, Portugal, and Switzerland); and abstentions, seven. The significant fact about the results is that the nations opposing the admission strenously have recently been bothered with Communistic trends in their own borders.

Although Germany's rejection of the proposed Eastern Locarno appeared to be a threat, conditions on the whole are favorable for Russia. By building up her aerial strength in Siberia she removed the possibility of a war in the near future with her old-time rival, Japan, and actualy declined an invitation tendered by her to demilitarize a fifty-mile strip between Siberia and Manchuria.

Since France is convinced that Poland served notice of her signing up with the Nazis in her denunciation of her Minorities Treaty, the new lineup calls for the substitution of Russia for Poland as a French ally.

SOCIALS

After many (?) months of vacation, a few of the "Farmville vagabonds" still seem to want to "globe trot". Among those who spent the week-end at home were Wyc Scott, Lelia Sanford, Dorothy Glover, June Allen, Katherine Conway, Dorothy Morris, Mary R. Black, Pauline Pearson, Eleanor Meredith, and Ida Sue Carter.

To Amherst

Mildred Meeks ventured to Amherst for the week-end.

At Fair

...Elizabeth Huse has gone to Chicago where she will attend the World Fair.

Other places visited during the week-end were: Jarrett by Rebecca Mayes; Appomattox by Ella Lewis; Burkeville by Mary Virginia Pilcher; Pamplin by Frances Jamerson; Meherrin by Eleanor Shackleton; P Oak by S. Frances Jones; Fo nion by Ethel Burgess ;and n by Marjorie Robertson.

Faculty Travels

Members of the S. T. C. faculty spent their summer vacation in various ways at many places.

Mr. Grainger taught both sessions of summer school at S. T. C.

Miss Draper attended Middlebury College at Middlebury, Vt.

Miss Barnes spent some time in Washington in the early part of the summer. After spending three weeks in the mountains near Staunton she went on an extended motor tour of the New England states, visiting New York, Philadelphia, Marblehead, New Haven, Gloucester, and other points of interest.

Miss Willie London taught at S. T. C. the first session; Miss Lila London taught both sessions after which they vacationed i n New York, Philadelphia, Washington, and Ocean City, Md.

Dr. Walmsley interspersed his two session of teaching summer school at S. T. C. with motor trips throughout Virginia.

Miss Tucker spent the summer at Lake Junaluska, N. C., with trips to Charlotte, N. C., and St. Matthew, S. C., where she attended the wedding of her niece.

Mr. French enjoyed a summer of fishing on Chesapeake Bay.

Miss Iler was at her home in Monmouth Beach, N. J. the first part of the summer, returning to S. T. C. to teach the second session.

Mrs. Fitzpatrick attended the Bennington School of Dancing at Bennington, Vt.

Miss Bedford taught at State Teachers College in Cape Geradeau, Mo.

Mr. Bell recuperated from an operation in the early summer and attended the Century of Progress in Chicago.

Miss Nichols spent the early summer at World's Fair in Chicago and visited Niagara Falls, spending some time in Canada. She taught the second session at S. T. C.

Miss Jennings went to Florida in June returning to attend summer school at the University of Virginia, later visiting in Blacksburg, Norfolk, Lynchburg, and Madisonville. She taught in Farmville at S. T. C. the second session of the summer quarter.

Miss Stubbs taught both sessions of summer school at S. T. C. and then spent three weeks camping in Goshen Pass, Va.

Miss Camper taught summer school at Roanoke College.

Dr. Jeffers went to Newfoundland for his vacation after teaching the first session of the summer school at S. T. C.

Dr. Stevens spent the summer at her home in West Virginia.

Miss Mix visited in Vermont.

Miss Moran went to Boston, stopping off at Monmouth Beach to visit Miss Iler, and later returning to teach the second term at S. T. C.

Collegiate Digest will pay $10 for all original cross-word puzzles done by students or faculty members and which have a college angle to them.

All entries in these various contests should be sent to the Editor, Collegiate Digest, Box 427, Madison, Wis.

Major Officers Lead Prayers First Week

Prayers are being held every night except Saturday and Sunday in the large auditorium immediately after dinner. The first six nights the major officers of the school led, Thursday night, Jestine Cutshall, president of the student body led, Friday Helen Smith, president of the Y. W. C. A., Monday, Neil Oakey Ryan, president of the House Council, and Tuesday, Sarah Beck, president of the Athletic Association. Tonight and tomorrow night prayers will be led by the heads of the two publications. Elizabeth Vassar, editor of The Virginian, and Lelia Mattox, editor of the Rotunda.

The World Fellowship Committee will conduct prayers Friday night.

If I Were a Freshman

In the first place, I'd be a Freshman—a real one, not a make-believe Sophomore, that is, I wouldn't be "horsey." When I look back on my own Freshman class, I remember that those of us who never let any one put anything over on us really those of us who "just couldn't take it") never rose very high later. I wish I had known then that the Freshman who had most beds to make and most laundry bags to carry is the one who is worth noticing, and that the college leaders of today are those who did most stunts for the amusement of upper classmen in the verdant days.

Then I'd try not to be one-legged, that is not to narrow myself into one line. I wouldn't run with one little crowd all the time. I'd take up some form of athletics, even if I didn't hope to be the star forward, I'd do some form of literary work, for the Rotunda, the Debate Club, the Choir, or the Orchestra. I'd not neglect the spiritual side of my life—some day it will be too late to take it up again — I'd help somewhere in the Y work, I'd join some one's Sunday School class, and I'd attend, too, if I got anything out of it.

And I'd be a student. No, I wouldn't be a grind. I have a hunch that even the Faculty members don't like grinds, bookworms. They are grubby, selfish people. But I'd meet some of those faculty folk in their own day by following out one of those ground. I'd startle them some lines of suggested reading and I'd do some original thinking. And I'd make some grades. "C is a lady's grade." Is it? Yes, if C is the best the lady can do.

Then I'd read a newspaper. I know some of those teachers keep harping on newspapers, but in spite of that, it does pay to keep up with what is doing. Didn't one of my class-mates lose a job because a superintendent wanted to talk to her and she "just didn't know nothing?"

Then I'd learn one thing more, and not the way I did. Certain social customs that were all right in the home town just don't go here. All college communities have certain codes that are different, and I'd learn that.

Yes, if I could just be a Freshman today, I wouldn't miss a trick.

Y. W. Greets New Girls at Reception

The Y. W. C. A. Reception, honoring all new girls, was held Friday night in the Student Lounge and Gymnasium.

Members of the faculty and upperclassmen were hosts and hostesses for the occasion. Each guest was accompanied by her big sister, who introduced her to those in the receiving line and other friends.

Delicious punch and cakes were served at intervals during the evening.

Irene Leake, Nancy Robts Patsy Nottingham and Rebecca Glenn entertained with special songs and music. Meg Herndon, chairman of the Social committee of the Y. W. C. A., gave the girls a chance to meet one another by playing a number of interesting games.

Dancing was the principal feature of the program and music furnished by the Junior class

Blue Ridge Delegates Tell of Conference

When the staff repotrer interviewed the Y. W. C. A. delegates: Helen Smith, president; Katharine Walton, vice-president; Lucy Potter, chairman of World Fellowship; Meg Herndon, chairman of Social Committee; Hazel Smith, chairman of Sing; Mrs. Taylor, adviser, she was informed that all of them enjoyed a most pleasant week of study and play. They reported that they not only believed that each discovered new and interesting facts about herself and other people, but that they hoped, to some extent at least, to recreate a part of Blue Ridge's atmosphere here at S. T. C.

This, of course, is the aim of every group which attends the summer conferences. This group, however, seemed particularly sincere, and particularly anxious that the student body as a whole cooperate with the Y. W. in realizing this deal. It was mentioned that at the open Y. W. cabinet meting, which will be held next Wednesday afternoon and to which everyone is invited, a report of the conference will be given.

Meg Herndon Gives Dramatic Program

Meg Herndon, the president of the Dramatic Club, at a meeting Monday night, gave a brief sketch of the programs for the coming year. Each department of the club will direct a carefully organized program to instruct the members in every field of dramatics. All types of plays will be dramatized, and every girl anticipates participating in some phase of these entertainments. The first play will be given October 17. Preparations are already being made.

A definite project was discussed for preparations for the new apprentices. All freshmen are invited to participate in some group and try out for membership. After Christmas, the invitations for membership will be issued.

A committee has been appointed to select the fall play that will be dramatized by the Club in co-operation with Hampden-Sydney. These committee members are Frankie McDaniel, Evelyn Knaub, Meg Herndon, and Audrey Clements.

Tib Simmerman was elected head of the costume group; Julia Derr was elected chairman of the make-up department. and Bonnie Lane was alected assistant secretary. These girls having been active workers in the Club in the past, will fill their positions capably.

CLASS NOTES

The following business was enacted at the class meeting last night: Freshmen, the "Rats," have not organized yet.

Sophomore — Merwyn Gathwright was elected as sophomore representative to the Student Council.

Miss Iler, the classman, is giving the class a "Hamburger Feast," Friday, at "Longwood."

Junior, "Bug" Byrd and Billie Roundtree were elected cheerleaders.

Senior—The following senior chaperons were elected: Jean McClure, Kat Young, Lena Mac Gardner, Frankie McDaniel, Louise Hyde, Jestine Cutshall, Nell Oakey Ryan, Lelia Mattox, Belle Lovelace, and Sarah Beck.

The class will be installed Tuesday night. They have planned an interesting program for the ceremonial.

Two Courses Added College Curriculum

Continued from page 1

avocation.

The pre-nursing course is offered in the hope that it may help those students who want to study nursing as a side line, or to go in training later on. This course requires two years of study in such subjects as Physical Education, Biology, Chemistry, and Home Economics, Special emphasis is laid on the classes in Science and Home Economics.

S. T. C. is especially fortunate in being able to offer to students,

Farmville Contributes Eighty New Teachers

Continued from page 1

S.; Gaines, Ruth, Fisherville; Garnett, Margaret, Buckingham Co.; Gilbert, Nannie, Talhimer & Art School; Gwaltney, Mildred, Smithfield; Hatcher, Edna, Martinsville; Higgins, Martha, Martinsville; Horton, Frances, Unionville; Howard, Mary, Ironto; Hunter, Margaret, Wyliiesburg, Kely, Elizabeth, Covington; Kester, Barbara, Waverly; McCorn, Mary 1, Arcadia; McKay, Alice, Flint Hill; Mannes, Gertrude, Chincaleague; Martin, Neva, Valley High School Bath; Meadows, Emily, Miller, Ida., Newport, Morgan, Margaret, Dillwyn; Morton, Jacqueline, Arvonia; Mosby, Corinne, Havana, Cuba; Nelson, Mary Berkley, Manassas; Otten, Margaret, Covington; Perkinson, Velma, White Top; Rawlings, Elma, Blackstone; Rowell, Alice, Gallandette College, Washington, D. C.; Rowell, Grace, Windsor; Rucker, Margaret, Moneta; Rucker, Ruth, Moneta; Shanks, Edith, Shawsville, Va.; Shelton, Mary, Chatham, Va.; Simmons, Ava, Check; Sturn, Joyce, Big Stone Gap; Van Lear, Louise, Covington; Wall, Elizabeth, Watkins, Martha Scott, Windsor; White, Dorothy, Dumfries; Woolwine, Dorothy, Bland Co.; and Yeaman, Sue, Blackstone.

From the diploma Class, 1934: Ayscue, Vernelle, Bellmeade School, Chesterfield; Billups, Catherine, Norfolk Co.; Brumfield, Hilda, Schoolfield; Bryant, Irene, Hampton, ; Bush, Mae, Clarke Co.; Button, Doris, Richardville; Dawley, Edna, Creeds; Eggleston, Kathryn, Meadows of Doen; Eley, Doris, Norfolk; Eubank, Dorothy; Madison Heights; Harrell Nell, Driver; Hubbard, Chesta, Darlington Heights; Jarman, Addie Lee; Grene Co.; Jones, Pauline, Buckingham Co.; McIntire, Iola, Mt. Hope, Va.; Moses, Virgina, Norfolk; Nottingham, Martha, N. C.; Ransom, Dorothy, Hampton; Rogers, Elizabeth, Newport News; Smith, Frances Elizabeth, Virgilina; Thompson, Mary Elizabeth, Gretna; Travis, Beulah, Richmond, Private School Walker, Jane, Cartersville, Va.; Whitehurst, Louise, Reba, Va., R. F. D.; Va.; Wilkinson, Lucile, Cloverdale; Wilson, Amanda, Bedford Co.; Wilson, Virginia, Virgilina.

old and new, these two courses, pre-library, and pre-nursing. Besides providing a wider range of subjects from which students may choose their work—these courses in themselves are expected to be worth while.

C. E. Chappell Co.
Stationery, Blank Books and School Supplies
Cigars, Cigarettes and Soda
Farmville, Virginia

Rice's Shoe Store
Street and Dress Shoes
Dancing Slippers Dyed
Correct fits our specialty 1t

WILLIS The Florist
Flowers for all occasions
PHONES 181-273

Martin the Jeweler
Gifts of
Lasting Remembrance
317 Main St. Farmville

Shannon's
Is Headquarters for the Best
SANDWICHES
—and—
DRINKS
in Farmville!

Kleanwell
CLEANERS AND TAILORS
Expert cleaning, repairing and remodeling ladies garments
Main Street, opposite Post office
Phone 98

S. A. Legus
TAILOR
CLEANING
PRESSING
REPAIRING
Phone 203

Overton-Mottley Hdwe. Co.
ELECTRIC GOODS!
Tennis Rackets and balls
Roller Skates

Southside Drug Store
(On the Corner)
Films Developed
FREE
If bought at this store

Gray's Drug Store
QUALITY—PRICE—SERVICE
Come in and Get Acquainted
We are glad to have you with us!
Farmville, Virginia

Mack's
BARBER AND BEAUTY SHOP
323 Main Street
We use the Frederick Method
Hair cutting and thinning a Specialty

GO TO .....
GILLIAM'S
—FOR—
EVERYTHING—SCHOOL SUPPLIES, CANDIES, FRUITS, CONFECTIONS, ETC.
Open 'till 9:00 p. m.

WELCOME S. T. C. STUDENTS
We invite you to visit our store,
CORRECT CLOTHES FOR STUDENTS
Farmville's Largest Department Store
DAVIDSON'S

ARE YOU SATISFIED WITH YOUR STOCKINGS?
Rings on your fingers—Yes — Rings in your Hose—No!
Therefore, wear only DEXDALE genuine "Silk-Sealed Hosiery
"Silk-Sealed" for greater sheerness and for better wear
They are different!
VERSER'S

PHILCO RADIO
World's largest manufacturers of Radio
A complete line
Watch repairing a specialty
Sheet Music—Strings for Instruments
LYNN, The Main Street Jeweler

YOUR NEIGHBOR,
The Weyanoke Beauty Salon
invites you to drop in and take advantage of their Special prices now in effect.
Permanent Waves—$4 & $6 Shampoo & Fingerwave 75 cents
Manicure 40 cents
Indiivdual, courteous, efficient service and an established reputation for dependability and satisfaction. That is our guarantee, and your assurance of perfect workmanship.

Jennie Masters Tabb

When the papers carried over Virginia the news of the death, in the early morning of June 18, of Miss Jennie M. Tabb, Registrar of the State Teachers College at Farmville and for thirty years President Jarman's secretary, they brought to her numberless friends not only the inevitable feeling of irreparable loss but also a sense of surprise and finality such as characterized everything Miss Jennie did, for she was always just that—clear cut, decisive forthright, with a fine element of the unexpected.

Miss Jennie was the last of her immediate line, descending from gentle English Cavalier people who brought their means and culture to Virginia in the middle of the seventeenth century. Her father, William Barksdale Tabb, was a Southern gentleman of the old regime with all the devotion to truth and beauty and learning, exact proprieties, elegant manners and fine principles. He was the elder brother of the poet, John Bannister Tabb and his early guide and instructor, a colonel in the Confederate army, and, said Colonel Mosby of him, "one of the best officers of his rank in our army". His only daughter was born in Amelia county, April 16, 1873, when the best Southern people were striving to rebuild their fallen commonwealths and many, like Lee, turning to education as the best means. Colonel Tabb died when his child was only two, but she had in her that which would enable her to carry on in the best traditions of her family and through her service to education to make her own invaluable contribution to the New Virginia.

But it was to her mother, Mrs. Pattie Masters Tabb, that Miss Jennie owed her early training and education, for the two were inseparable until her mother's death in 1923. Her mother brought her to Farmville to the newly established Normal School that she might have the benefit of the best professional training offered in the state, before taking up the work of a teacher. She was graduated in the class of, 1893, and her standing is sufficiently attested by her appointment as a teacher in the school for the blind at Staunton, where she taught for a number of years. In 1904 she returned to Farmville to become secretary to the newly elected president, Joseph L. Jarman.

The demands upon the president's secretary in a new and growing normal school are many and varied, and when the duties of registrar are added, and in time the little normal school becomes a great teachers college, the position requires versatility of a high order. For unlike the usual college with its range of studies covering four years, the work under the direction of the president of a teachers college, with its training and practice schools, includes all the educational activities of seventeen years and makes demands proportionately broad and varied and complex upon all those connected with its administration. It was into such a position that Miss Jennie came in the next thirty years. To any one discerning the quality of her mind and heart, it would be obvious that this would open up for her an opportunity for wonderful growth and great service. She was one of a group or rare personalities whom President Jarman gathered around himself as he built toward his dream of a great institution serving the state through the professional education of teachers. The growth of the school, his own growth, and the growth of those associated with him have gone on parallel for some thirty years in a spirit of loyalty and co-operation and Miss Tabb's part in this growth has been second only to that of the president himself. To him she has been as a right hand. Her loyalty has been of the finest. But she has also maintained her own individuality and made her own contribution.

Miss Jennie was an effective organizer and executive; she gave to the offices of president's secretary, registrar, and secretary of the Faculty a high quality of service. Patient, painstaking, orderly, and efficient in the infinite and exacting detail of her work, but intolerant toward slovenliness, futility, or fuzzy-mindedness, clever, clear, and quick in mind and remarkably facile with tongue and pen, she was ideally equipped for the position and performed its duties extremely well. She had her own well-thought views and was none too ready to give them up. She did not hesitate to disagree with others and to give her reasons; and woe to the student whom she found neglecting her opportunities or trying to get by with shams! By such she was feared. But she was loved and admired by thousands of those who have come and gone during the past thirty years, for her readiness to recognize merit, her quick wit an clever stories, her understanding and sympathy, and her constant loyalty.

But her gift to the life and growth of the college was more than that demanded by her official position. Many of her poems were written for special occasions in the college and the community. She wrote the words for the best of the college songs which the students use constantly. Her own volume of poetry "For You," which has much of the quality of the work of her famous uncle whom she resembled also in personality, and her life of Father Tabb, that same uncle, as well as many other writings and an extensive correspondence, her participation in the activities of her church and community, her music, all reflected credit on the institution. And the students honored her, as when they selected her as the first honorary member of Pi Kappa Omega, the first honor society organized at Farmville, and of its sucessor, Kappa Delta Pi, and in many other ways. She was also actively recognized as a participant in the work of the National Association of College Registrars. Considering all that she accomplished in the thirty years of her steadfast service to education in the state, it seems not too much to place her high among the most useful women of Virginia.

Genealogically speaking, Miss Jennie was the last of her line and that a distinguished one. But in a spiritual sense her line goes on. It is impossible to think of one so much alive as even sleeping. She lives on in the very efficiency and forthrightness she has helped give to every aspect of the teachers college, to say nothing of its fine loyalty and co-operation for which she set the best example; but she lives on even more vitally in the lives of people throughout Virginia whom as young aspiring teachers her sympathetic guidance, understanding, and inspiration sent "on their way rejoicing." '

Perhaps the best clue to all that she grew to be may be found in her own beautiful sonnet called "A Collect," which closes

And teach me, Lord, to count each added day
A gift from Thee, accepted or refused
According as each moment on its way
From me to Thee, by me is lost or used.
Ah, used so reverently that none may say
That I have e'er Thy gift of Time abused.

J. M. G.

You Would Love to Have Your Shoes Fixed at

Lovelace Shoe Shop
110 Third Street

SUPPERS AND SMALL PARTIES
Good Breakfast
Dinners
Suppers
DAILY
CACTUS INN
ANN HOLLIDAY
Mrs. Lucy Irving Shepherd
Proprietors

Wyc Scott Crowned Miss Orange County

Continued from page 1

Western Virginia. Tribute was paid to the German Settlers, the contributions of Jews, the Reformed church and other denominations. The 150th anniversary of Zachary Taylor's also forms a part of the celebration.

Six famous estates, among them Montpelier, the home of President Madison, will be open for visitors. Great crowds are expected to attend the celebration for the four big days. Governor Perry, Lieutenant-Governor Price, and Dr. Hans Luther German Ambasador to the United States, are among those attending.

Collegiate Digest Is Feature of Rotunda

Continued from page 1

consin, Minnesota, Chicago, Notre Dame, Columbia, Georgia, Alabama, Florida, and many others, all of which are members of the Associated Collegiate Press.

The editors of the Collegiate Digest invite the comment and criticisms of the students of S. T. C. who are regular readers of The Rotunda.

Aquatic Sports Vie With Best Athletics

Aquatic sports henceforth will vie for popularity with hockey, tennis, and the established best sellers in the athletic world at S. T. C.

Through the opening of a thoroughly modern, up-to-date indoor swimming pool, the College now offers a new field in which those students and teachers with a predeliction for sports may distinguish themselves.

The Physical Education Department reports that the maximum enrollment has been reached in the classes in swimming and diving, offered under the direction of specially trained instructors.

Through the guidance of these directors, the possibilities present themselves for the ambitious to become good swimmers and for the good ones to become better.

Regulation swimming suits, distributed early this week, complete the equipment necessary for the christening of S. T.C.'s newest and proudest possession — the swimming pool.

Greeting former students as the fulfillment of a cherished hope, and welcoming new students as an unexpected pleasure, the pool appeals to all as the acme of beauty and perfection.

In terms of sports, there remains yet another, even more attractive than ever. What with the shrubs neatly trimmed and the campus looking its fall best, the universally popular pastime —bench sitting—is still a favorite.

Farmville Mfg. Co.
BUILDING MATERIALS
MILLWORK
Farmville, Va.

Special orders for
Teas and Parties
Try our doughnuts
Foley's Bakery
Third Street

EACO THEATRE
Mats. 4 p. m.; Nights 8 p. m.
Adults 25c; Children 15c
Unless otherwise noted

Wed., Sept. 26
Paul Lukas
Wynne Gibson
in Vicky Baum's
I GIVE MY LOVE
Chapter 10
"VANISHING SHADOW"

Thurs.-Fri. Sept. 27-28
Ruby Keeler
Dick Powell
in
"DAMES"
Also "Spanish America"
Adults 25c and 35c

Sat., Sept. 29
Warren William
Margaret Lindsay
in
"Dragon Murder Case
also
SHIRLEY TEMPLE
in "Kiddin' Africa"
Comedy and News

Next Mon. & Tues.
October 1 & 2
Grace Moore
in
One Night of Love
Adults 25c & 35c

ROOM FURNISHINGS
SCHOOL SUPPLIES
CANDIES
ROSES
5-10-25c Store
FARMVILLE, VA.

POTTED MEATS
SANDWICH SPREAD
SANDWICH ROLLS
HOT DOGS
Everything for the Picnic
W. R. Drumeller
Main Street Farmville

Electric Shoe Shop
Will Fix Your Shoes
While You Wait
BEST WORKMANSHIP
AND LEATHER USED

The Fashion Shoppe
Reflects the newest styles. All dresses $2.95 up
COATS, SUITS, DRESSES, UNDERWEAR
Silk Hose
Fine quality ..... 49c 59c and 69c

G. F. Butcher
High Street
"The Convenient Store"
FOR GOOD THINGS
TO EAT AND DRINK

Buy Your
CANDY
To Sell at
H. T. Stokes & Co.

WELCOME S. T. C. GIRLS!
To The Dorothy May Store—Farmville's only College Shop.
Catering to college girls with advance styles in Dresses, Coats, Sport Togs, Millinery, Hosiery and Lingerie.
Introductory offer this week—69c French Chiffon Hose 47c a pair.
DOROTHY MAY STORES
FARMVILLE, VA.

We Cordially invite the
S. T. C. STUDENTS to visit our Beauty Shoppe on the mezzanine floor—
SPECIALIZING in Beauty Culture
Phone 163 for appointments
DAVIDSON'S
BEAUTY SHOPPE
Farmville Virginia

..and a box of Primrose House Chiffon

the powder that has no shine!

You will be thrilled with the marvelous texture of this soft, unshining powder—so light and fine that it cannot cake or clog the pores—yet it gives a soft, dull finish that lasts for hours. Primrose House Chiffon actually looks as if it were a part of your skin.

Eight lovely shades—in $3.00 and $1.00 boxes.

primrose house
BALDWIN'S
FARMVILLE, VIRGINIA

SENIORS, DON'T FORGET

The Rotunda

We Teach To Teach

COME OUT FOR HOCKEY, TENNIS AND BASKETBALL

Volume XV. Farmville, Virginia, October 3, 1934 No. 2

Dr. Jarman Installs 51st Senior Class Tuesday, Oct. 2

Class Officers Lead Seniors and "Little Sisters"

QUARTETTE SINGS

The fifty-first Senior Class of State Teachers College, Farmville, Va., was formally installed Tuesday night, Oct. 2, in the S. T. C. auditorium.

The seniors, led by Frances McDaniel, president, Lena MacGardner, vice-president, Jean McClure, secretary, and Katherine Young, treasurer, marched down the aisle. Behind every two seniors were their senior little sisters, dressed in white and carrying their big sisters' caps.

Rev. William R. Gardner of the First Presbyterian Church led the invocation.

The ceremony was effective. As each senior, her little sister holding her cap, marched across the stage, she knelt in front of Dr. Jarman. He took the cap from her partner and placed it upon the Senior's head, thus, according to a custom of long standing in this college, officially installing her as a fourth year girl. Miss Grace Moran, senior classman, in academic robe, sat on the stage with Dr. Jarman and Rev. W. R. Gardner.

A talk by Dr. Jarman followed the installation. He charged the class with their responsibilities and rights as seniors.

On the program was included a selection, "Dear Lord and Father of Mankind," sung by the Senior quartet, Louise Hyde, Frankie McDaniel, Anne Putney, and Jestine Cutshall. The class marched out to the stirring strains of the "Alma Mater."

Twenty-three Girls Compose Deans List

Twenty-three girls enjoyed the distinction of being eligible for the Dean's List for the fall quarter, 1934. Students are accorded this honor in recognition of their high scholastic attainment.

To be on the Dean's List a student must receive an average of A or B on all her classes except physical education. An average of C is required on the latter subject.

These girls have met the above requisite: Fannie Campbell Bosworth, Brownsburg; Carmen E. Clark, Collierstown; Anna Louise Coleman, Buffalo Junction; Katherine B. Coleman, Orange; Jestine M. Cutshall, Roanoke; Bernice Eckler, R. 2, Ilion, N. Y.; Margaret E. Gilmer, Big Stone Gap; Dorothy P. Glover, Arvonia; Ila Harper, Farmville; Lucille M. Jones, Penlan; Ethel Leigh Joyner, Courtland; Belle M. Lovelace, South Boston; Ella Mallory, Lawrenceville; Lelia R. Mattox, Altavista; Lois Moses, Augusta, Ga.; Anne Putney, Farmville; Margery Quarles, Charlottesville. Marguerite Rollins, Messick; Katharine Lee Walton, Clifton Forge; Mary Elizabeth Stubbs, Petersburg; Janice Roper White, Oak Hill, W. Va.; Birdie Wooding, Halifax.

Students May Attend Five County Fair

Students may attend in the afternoon the Five-County Fair now being held near the airport in Farmville, Dr. Jarman stated today.

Climaxing the fair will be Good Will Day Saturday, October 6. Cash prizes amounting to $250 will be given away at 3 o'clock by the merchants.

Artists Dance Group Meets to Form Club

Plans for a new club named, "The Dance Club of Farmville State Teachers College," have been completed by the Artist Dance Group. Membership in this club is open to any girl in school who is interested in dancing.

The purpose of the dance club, as stated in the constitution is to further the interest in dancing in this college, to sponsor the dancing of the annual May Day festival, and possibly to present a dance recital.

A period of apprenticeship is required for any girl desiring to belong to this organization. The fall term will be devoted to this apprenticeship. During this time fundamental rhythms will be taught at least once a week. At the end of the quarter a committee from the artist dance group will judge the ability of the apprentices. Juniors and seniors who, after two quarters in the natural dancing class, show unusual skill will be bid into the artist dance group.

Choral Club and Choir Launch Year's Work

Try-outs for choral club and the college choir are over, and both of these organizations have launched their year's work with great enthusiasm.

The choir has begun preparation for a sacred musical program to be presented at the Methodist Church the first of December, it has begun also a program for Founder's Day. At this time the choir will sing with out-of-town artists and with the Business Men's Chorus.

The try-outs last Tuesday night showed that there was a rich source of material in the freshman class. The members of this class have already begun to prepare for a radio program to be broadcast from Richmond.

The following girls are members of the choir of the College:

Continued to page 3, Col. 1

Photographer Takes Virginian Pictures

Pictures for The Virginian, the college annual, are being taken this week in the Little Sitting Room. Mr. Dunbar of Dunbar and Daniel, Inc., Raleigh, North Carolina has charge of the photographic work this year.

The Virginian Staff feels encouraged that more than half the student body have already signed for appointments to have their pictures made for the '35 Virginian. "The nearer 100 per cent representation from the entire student body, the better this year's annual will be," says Elizabeth Vassar, editor.

Appointments for having pictures made and subscriptions to the annual will be taken at the table in front of the Little Sitting Room the remainder of this week. The total subscription price of $5.00 may be paid in full now or in separate payments throughout the year.

69 Juniors and Seniors Enroll for Degrees

Fifty-two juniors and seventeen seniors in courses I and II have enrolled for degree work this fall: They are in the ior class: Laeta Barham, Kathleen Bass, Emily Blanton, Christine Childrey, Ida Foster, Lena Mac Gardner, Helen Harris, Evelyn Knaub, Mary Louise McNulty, Elizabeth Mann, Audrey Mattox, Marjery Quarles, Christine Reynolds, Nell Oakey Ryan, Alva Sawyer, Edith Joyner and Helen Smith; in the Junior class: Gargarette Aldridge, Martha Louise Bailey, Emma Bingham,

Continued to page 3, Col 4

Miss Peel Presents Program, Folklore

Kappa Delta Pi Sponsors Noted Singer

News that the local chapter of Kappa Delta Pi will present Miss Alfreda Peel of Salem, Virginia, in a program of Virginia folklore and witchcraft on October 12 will be of interest to many students here.

Miss Peel, who is a cousin of the eminent English actor, Cyril Maude, has spent many years collecting ballads in cooperation with the Virginia Folk-Lore Society and the late Dr. Alphonso Smith.

An account of the splendid work of Miss Peel is included in the introduction to "Traditional Ballads if Virginia". Her own narrative, charged with local color and vivid with photographic description, tells how she collected ballads in Virginia.

Miss Peel will bring with her, her friend and accompanist, Miss Caroline Melbard.

Major Organizations Give Birthday Parties

'Birthday Dinners" which will be held once a month in the dining room, and sponsored by major organizations on the campus will be a feature of especial pleasure to the student body this year.

The Student Government Association will give the September, October Banquet, which will be held the latter part of October. Each girl having a birthday come in either of these two months will be an honor guest. These girls will set at special tables, have placards, toasts drunk to them, and each will receive some small gift.

A Hallowe'en motif of black cats, autumn leaves, black and orange ribbons, pumpkins, owls and witches will be carried out in the decorations for the first dinner.

Pi Gamma Mu Elects Nineteen Members

The Virginia Gamma Chapter of Pi Gamma Mu announces the following new members:

Grace Bass, Ruby Blanton, Marjorie Booton, Helen Boswell, Burnley Brockenbrough, Katherine Coleman, Bernice Eckler, Margaret Farrar, Virginia Hooke, Kitty Hoyle, Lila Jacob, Jessica Jones, Ethel Joyner, Mary Lee Newcomb, Marjorie Quarles, Louise Walmsley, Katherine Walton; Mary Elizabeth Wood, and Charlotte Young.

Professional Dancer Gives Program Here

Miriam Marmeir, interpretative dancer, who appeared Monday night in the year's first Lyceum number, afforded an evening of rare pleasure to the large audience.

Miss Marmein's art belongs to the modern school of dancing. It is purely interpretative and much of it a study in facial expression and arm movement. She possesses that quality of carrying her audience along with her mood in moments of high emotional tensity as well as in light capering humor. Her costuming was excellent, fitting in well with each characterization. All in all Miss Marmien proved herself not only a brilliant dancer but also a [illegible] actress

"The Fountain" was particularly good. Her interpretation of the rippling flow of water playing in the moonlight was a work of art. "The Serpent," was a sculpured and finished piece of work, embodying all the wise sophistication and subtle malice of that reptile.

Of her lighter work, "La Ballerine, "Garcon," and "Prima Donna" were superb examples. "La Ballerine" mimicked an early Victorian Danseuse in the stilted, studied movements of the ballet of that period.

"The March" was interpreted in a stirringly realistic manner by Miss Marmein. The brave, unflinching spirit of the soldier shone through the bodily cloak like a light.

The strength of will and mind and soul and heart, the pathetic droop of the shoulders, all were portrayed.

These, the highlights of the program, were supplemented by other dances.

Debate Club Try-outs Will Be Held Friday

Try-outs for the Debate Club will be held Friday night, Ooctober 5 at 7:30 o'clock in the small auditorium.

The question for discussion is: "Resolved that married women teachers should not be employed in the State of Virginia." Contestants may choose either side of the question, but may develop only one point. Each speaker will be allotted three minutes.

The Debate Club includes public speaking, reading, and various forms of debating. As yet no definite arrangements have been made for intercollegiate debates, but as many debates as possible will be held on the campus. An attempt will be made to vary the debates rather than limit the material and an unusually successful year is expected.

Dr. Walmsley has been elected sponsor of the Debate Club for this year. Margaret Pollard is president; Grace Collins, vice-president; Catherine Crews, secretary, and Sue Waldo, treasurer.

Roles Assigned to Apprentices By Dramatic Acting Group

Woe and woe! The Dramatic Club has stirred up some more tormenting emotions. The freshmen were getting along beautifully until the other night; their hopes and desires were well in hand for the time being. But—Audrey Clements called a meeting of freshman aspirants to that magical circle of recognized actresses at S. T. C. That was only the beginning. The purpose of this well-meaning but ill-effecting meeting was to cast the one-act play to be presented as the premier performance of these struggling youngsters in their efforts to show their superiors-in-experience that they are worthy to be eclysped "sisters."

The trouble was this: the casting calls for a number of men. Now, it is most likely that every girl has, at many times in her life, fervently wished to be a boy. Usually by the time a young lady has reached college, this yearning has become dormant, hardly recognized except at certain times: for instance, at a football game when the team of her heart is not doing well enough to merit hat-throwing cheers, it is to be expected that dainty young women speak thusly, "Why don't they do something? I bet if I were a boy on that squad, I'd

Continued to page 4, Col. 1

Johnny Long Plays For Dance Nov. 3

28 Sets of Sisters Register in College

Twenty-four sets of sisters and four twins are attending S. T. C. this year.

This year the sisters are: Lois and Elizabeth Vassar, Betty and Jane Tice, Amis and Ruth Montgomery, Mary and Helen Glass, Mary Lee and Livian Powell, Margaret and Caroline Alsop, Helen and Nell Boswell, Anne and Catherine Galusha, Mary and Margaret Gilmer, Lucy and Mildred Potter, Bess and Madeline McGlothlin, Bessie and Edith Hart, Kathleen and Dorothy Johnson, Bernice and Evelyn Mann, Annette and Elizabeth Roberts, Iris and Willie Rountree, Patsy and Deane Saunders, Frances and Virginia Tilman, Birdie and Sue Wooding, Ella and Sue Mallory, Elizabeth and Lucille Ware, Julia Anne Waldo, Katherine and Elizabeth Walton, and Wyc and Will Scott.

The twin combinations are: Ruth and Mary Hubard, Dartha and Martha Harrison, Emily and Frances Channel, and Lelia and Florence Sanford.

Monogram Club Hike Led by L. Walmsley

The first hike of the season was led by Louise Walmsley, secretary of the Monogram Club, Saturday afternoon. Nine girls joined the hike and enjoyed buns and coca-colas on the lawn at Longwood.

The purpose of the Monogram Club is to recognize athletic ability, sportsmanship, and scholarship. In recognition of these each member receives a blue and white monogram. Eligibility for membership in the club requires 400 points including the physical efficiency tests or 600 points without these tests. The points and tests are fully explained in the handbook.

Each Friday afternoon some member of the club will conduct physical efficiency tests in the gymnasium. These tests include badge tests, stunts, and field and track events.

When the weather is suitable, there will be a hike each Saturday afternoon. Six five mile hikes county fifty points toward membership in the Monogram Club and towards blazer awards.

Freshman Try Outs For Staff Continue

More than twenty students answered the call for try-outs to The Rotunda Staff last Wednesday night. The try-outs will continue for three or four weeks and are open to any student interested in journalistic writing.

Several upperclassmen reported among the following try-outs this week for The Rotunda Staff: Gertrude Reyner Leoy, Valla Nimmo, Carter Belle Munt, Valla eline McGlothlin, Virginia Agee, Louise Gathright, Jacqueline Johnson, Dorothy Deane, Edith Coffey, Catherine Crews, Blanche Lane, Elise Turner, Nellwyn Latimer, Lucille Davis, Julia Ann Waldo, Grace Allen Pittard, Ruth Phelps, Mary Hubard, and Grace Price.

Additional proof readers, typists, and feature writers are in demand. Those girls trying out for the staff last week and any others interested will meet in the publication office at 7:30 o'clock tonight.

Orchestra Composed of Eleven Pieces

Revelry will be the order of the evening Saturday night, November 3, when the Cotillion Club will hold its annual fall hop in the S. T. C. gymnasium.

The highly recommended Johnny Long with his Duke Collegians, has contracted to play for the dance. Johnny Long states in his letter that the orchestra is composed of eleven pieces and that an amplifying system will be installed for use during the dance. His orchestra was selected from a list of eight or more well known orchestras. Johnny Long played last spring for the Hampden-Sydney Pan-Hellenic dances and is particularly well known in Eastern Virginia.

The Cotillion Club is composed of approximately ninety - five members, headed by Evelyn Knaub, president; Jean McClure, leader; Laeta Barham, business manager, and Hazel Smith, secretary and treasurer.

Each active member of the club will be charged $1.50 admission. This charge includes bids for one boy and two girls. The executive group has stated that no violation of this regulation will be considered.

The members are enthusiastic about the dance and many alumnae are expected back for the event, November 3.

Freshmen Taught Rules of College

Orientation classes for freshmen are being conducted every Monday, Wednesday, and Friday night from 7:00 'till 7:30 o'clock. These classes are offered to acquaint freshmen and new girls with the rules and regulations of the college.

Louise Hyde, chairman of the orientation classes, is assisted in the teaching by Laeta Barham, Sarah Beck, Christine Childrey, Agnes Crockett, Margaret Clark, Meg Herndon, Jessica Jones, Ella Mallory, Lena Mac Gardner, Bess McGlothlin, Frankie McDaniel, Margaret McNamara, Margaret Pollard, Louise Potter, Nell Oakey Ryan, Katharine Walton, Tac Waters and Janice White.

Portsmouth Girls To Organize Club

Students from Portsmouth will be called together tomorrow night to elect officers for The Portsmouth Club, which is being organized here this year.

Miss Hiner Sponsors Granddaughters Club

At a recent meeting of The Granddaughters' Club Miss Mary Day Hiner was elected sponsor to the Club to fill the vacancy left by the late Miss Jennie M. Tabb, who faithfully filled this office from the founding of the Club until her death in June.

Miss Hiner is a graduate from this college in the class of 1906 and a member of the English Department.

To the Granddaughters' Club belong all girls whose mothers attended S. T. C. A large number of freshmen will be taken into the club this fall.

THE ROTUNDA

Member Virginia Intercollegiate Press Association

Published by students of the State Teachers College, Farmville, Virginia

Entered as second class matter March 1, 1921, at the Post Office of Farmville, Virginia, under Act of March 3, 1934

Subscription ..... $1.50 per year

MEMBER
Associated Collegiate Press
1934 Collegiate Digest 1935

Staff

Lelia Mattox ..... Editor
Evelyn Massey ..... Associate Editor

Board of Editors

Miss Jane Royall ..... Alumnae
Amis Montgomery ..... News
Florence Sanford ..... Make-up
Kathryne Cotten ..... Literary
Anne Putney ..... World News
Anne Diggs ..... Social
Margaret Farrar ..... Feature
Lelia Sanford ..... Sports

Proof Reader
Elizabeth Walton

Managers

Lena Mae Gardner ..... Business
Alva Sawyer ..... Asst. Business
Maude Rhodes ..... Circulation
Grace Collings ..... Asst. Circulation
Lila Jacob ..... Asst. Circulation

Assistants and Reporters

Elsie Cabell, Bess McGlothin, Katherine Coleman, Birdie Wooding, Bonnie Lane, Laeta Barham, Minnie Smith, Susan Grasham, Mary Lee Newcomb, Merwyn Gathright, Kathleen Ranson

WEDNESDAY, OCT. 3, 1934

CLASSICAL MUSIC VERSUS JAZZ MUSIC

Classical music is like fine literature, for it is something that has stood the test throughout the ages. This fact, in itself, shows that it is more enjoyable than jazz music. Where are all the jazz pieces that are only a few years old? They have been discarded, because people are tired of them. The works of Beethoven, Schubert, Chopin, and other great composers have lasted through the centuries and people still flock to hear them whenever they are played. In fact, the more a person hears the works of these composers of great classical music, the more he enjoys them.

Jazz music appeals more to the physical being for it is boisterous; classical appeals to something higher more vital—the spirit. If a jazz orchestra begins to play, there is an immediate stamping of the foot, or some movement of the body to keep time. If a symphony orchestra begins to play, there is a quality in the music that makes even children sit quietly, and attentively listen so as not to miss any of the beautiful music.

There is classical music suitable for every occasion: religious services, weddings, funerals, and dances. What music do most wonderful dancers use? They use the classical music. What do the people who spend their lives studying voice and piano, sing and play? Of course, it is the classical music that they played and sing. In classical music, we find enjoyment like that which we find in other fine arts—a type of enjoyment that cannot be found in superficial jazz.

WANDERLUST

"There is something in October sets the gypsy blood astir;
We must rise and follow her,"—

In this appealing Vagabond Song Bliss Carmen has caught the spirit of the autumn. The thrill which courses through our veins when we discover a first touch of red and gold upon the leaves; when we whiff wood smoke in the air; when a brisk October breeze fans our cheek! We have all experienced it!

The gypsy blood asserts itself. The wanderlusut captivates us. That universal longing to strike out on trails of our own choice is powerful! With our daily lives patterned by prescribed courses of study, future responsibility, and all that, we can hardly afford to answer when the "hills of flame call each vagabond by name."

But we can blaze new trails! In library and laboratory there are discoveries awaiting us—discoveries equally as thrilling as those out-of-doors in October. We can roam to our hearts' content from the beaten roads of work and find new worlds for ourselves.

Where ever we are, we need not ignore October's challenge!

A MEMORIAL

That a memorial be erected to the memory of Miss Jennie Masters Tabb is doubtless the desire of the students, alumnoe, administration, and faculty of S. T. C.

Miss Tabb as secretary to Dr. Jarman and as Registrar of the Farmville State Teachers College devoted thirty years of her life to helping Dr. Jarman make this institution grow from a small normal school to one of the outstanding colleges in the state.

It is believed that in the near future a memorial to Miss Tabb will be erected by those whose lives were made better and mor beautiful because they had come in contact with her.

AT OTHER COLLEGES

Hal Thurston and his Carolina orchestra will play for the Pan-Hellenic dances to be held at Hampden-Sydney this weekend. There will be three dances to the set, Friday night, Saturday aftrnoon, and Saturday night.

The Virginia Cavaliers defeated the Hampden-Sydney Tigers 8-0 Saturday afternoon. The Cavaliers scored a touchdown during the first few minutes of play, but the Tigers succeeded in holding them in the rest of the game.

John Stuart Bryant will be inaugurated as President of William and Mary College on October 20. The program includes an address by President Franklin D. Roosevelt and the awarding of honorary degrees to President Roosevelt and Governor Peery.

V. P. I. Openings will be held the weekend of October 19th and 20th.

The "rat system" at V. P. I. has been supplemented by military rules. No upperclassman shall require or force a first-year cadet to perform any personal duty or service except in line of official duty.

The freshmen enrollment at V. P. I. shows an increase of thirty per cent over last year's class, with 441 men registered.

Three hundred Italian university students are in this country this fall on a tour of American colleges and universities.

Prof. Richard U. Light of Yale University has completed a flight across the Atlantic by way of Greenland and Iceland, and now is making plans for a flight around the world.

Italy's new educational program calls for the construction and opening of 1,250 new elementary school buildings before the next academic year begins.

Bellefonte Academy, a Pennsylvania prep school which failed to open its doors this fall for the first time in 100 years, has become the property of the Fidelity Turst Co., of Pittsburg, o cials of which admit they don't know what they are going to do with the school.

A request has come from the Student Council that Sunday night church-goers not stop by the drug stores and wait outside for orders sent in. This is a reasonable request which unless seriously considered will, no doubt, necessitate further action to break up the Sunday night congregation of S. T. C. students outside the drug stores.

Open Forum

A Give-and-take Proposition

Fellow Town Students: . . . . . .

Doubtless you are all aware of the plans of the Town Girls Committee in connection with the room claimed by us day students, plans which are visibly materializing!

To the majortiy of us—113 in all — whatever improvements made there will be most heartily appreciated. Having expressed the desire our wish that the town girls' room be made more attractive has been granted us. Soon we shall have at our disposal a comfortable lounge, appropriately furnished. The idea is that we go to the library to study rather than attempt to concentrate on Latin or Biology or something of the sort in the face of an interesting conversation developing some where else in the room. Now we will make it purely a sitting room, where we can enjoy our spare moments in pure relaxation.

Writing in behalf of S. T. C.'s "sixth girl" I thank the Town Girls Committee and the Home Office officials for the interest they are manifesting in our welfare. We appreciate it.

And just as one town girl to another, let's make this a give-and-take proposition! Let's make the most of our advantages! May we not forget the obligations on our side of the house, also. Class meetings, prayers, Sing, programs —yes, there is a part for us to do!

—A Day Student.

Editor, The Rotunda,

To get into a rut is the easiest thing in the world. Accordingly, I for one am glad to know that the present Rotunda staff has broken away from tradition to change considerably our weekly paper. Not that I agree with all of these innovations, but I do agree with the spirit that brought them about, and I am writing to tell you about it.

I cannot say that I have been particularly proud of the Rotunda in recent years, and I welcome these changes. However, it is not sufficient merely to change the form of the paper; other internal improvements are even more essential, and I shall look forward to future issues with anticipation. Yours for a rejuvenated Rotunda,

G. W. Jeffers

Dear Editor:

Few of us can appreciate what we haven't experienced. To those of us who have worked on The Rotunda the changes in it are very apparent. To those who haven't they may be scarcely noticeable. The Freshmen see no change at all. Nevertheless, whether we recognize them or not, there are changes in the paper, and the staff deserves the heartiest congratulations!

First, the enlarged columns on the editorial page make it look like an editorial page. They lend distinction to the page itself and interest and variety to the articles. The larger print makes them more readable, too.

Then, the six column paper makes the biggest difference in the world in the appearance of the front page. It not only permits of more news but presents a more balanced and neater looking page. And — what is most important—it gives our paper the air of a real newspaper.

The type of paper and the change in the heading both contribute to making our college paper more like a newspaper. For several years The Rotunda has been criticized on these two points. Now that they have been remedied it is more than probable that The Rotunda may win a place of honor in the intercollegiate contests.

—A Student.

Dear Editor:

This year the faculty will enjoy a hitherto to unknown pleasure each morning by being able to look into the shining faces of some four-score members of the class of '35. Thus will they be relieved of the nightmare of two rows of empty seats, made more unsightly last year by the exceedingly irregular attendance of those then destined to the front-row seats of honor. What a pleasing experience, you say!

Let us turn the tables. The seniors are now entering their fourth year of compulsory attendance in exercise which, it seems to us, ought to have justified itself for being in three years time. We think the seniors realized its value as a school institution, for didn't they fill every seat in the allotted rows the whole week before seats were assigned? (By the way, this class was the only one forced to take freshman song class without credit!)

The idea of forcing them to do six days a week what no other seniors class has been made to do at all may appear to the whole student body an act of heaping upon the heads of the class of '35 the results of the abuse of their predecessors. Be that justifiable or unjustifiable, the seniors have shown an admirably fine spirit about the whole deprivation of privileges, incurred by no act of theirs, and have displayed definitely that they to express it in a current expression of a few seasons hence —are a class that "can take it"!

—An Observer.

Alumnae News

One of the most beautiful weddings of this season was that of Mary Clare Booth to Sidney B. Lloyd, both of Lynchburg.

Miss Mildred Lee Cralle is president of the Covington Alumnae Chapter and reports plans for an active year along social and business lines.

Of interest, especially to last year's Student Body, is the announcement of the wedding of Angerona Aydlette of Norfolk to Jean Gilmer, Jr., of Hampton.

Announcement has been made of the marriage of Louie Mae Morris, of Buckingham County, to Norton Foster, of Cumberland County. The wedding took place on Sept. 9, at Appomattox Courthouse.

A September wedding of interest was that of Elizabeth Sydor McGraw to Dr. Berkeley Hancock Martin. The ceremony was performed at the home of the bride's mother on Grove Avenue in Richmond. Dr. and Mrs. Martin left for a motor trip through the North and upon their return will make their home at 6007 Three Chopt Road.

Campus Comments

Buck Pleasants wonders if Miss Mary is the delightful girl with the bangs. And the S. S. and G. air?

Another clean minded Freshman asked if it were absolutely compulsory to send laundry on Monday—adding, "I have nothing to send."

And there's another "rat" that wonders if they charge more than $1 for seats in Chapel.

Can you get reserved seats?

Was it rain on the roof or was it the Chi—sir?

Some people seem never to be satisfied. After a wonderful Lyceum performance one wanted to see Sally Rand. (Psychologically queer??)

The home ministry of Japan has issued the following outcomes of the typhoon which swept her shores on the twenty-first:

Dead—1,661.
Injured—5,414.
Missing—562.
Buildings destroyed—18,391.
Buildings damaged—22,637.
Buildings washed away—862.

Damage to property was estimated at $300,000,000. The ruin of the manufacturing areas seems to spell the downfall of Japan's ambition as an exporting nation and the losing of the markets which she so laboriously procured since orders in her hands cannot be filled. Twenty per cent of the ripening rice crop is estimated damaged.

This is the greatest disaster in Japan since the terrible earthquake in 1923, of which Tokio was the center.

Men—What Are They?

It all depends upon the man.—M. G.

As a general run—good sports, tremendously conceited, easy to get along with.—Bess.

Collars and ties,
And lips that tell lies.

Straying, betraying and playing around—men!
Vicious, ambitious, delicious, officious—men!
Loudly and proudly they lure us, the lazy ones;
Blandly they bore us, the dreamy and hazy ones;
Pet or ignore us! We crowd to the crazy ones—men!
Thieving, deceiving, receiving our hearts—men!
Slyly, and dryly, still playing their parts—men!
Here we go, blissfully giving our years to them;
Giving still wistfully, yearning and tears to them;
Leers to them! Cheers to them!

MEN!

I don't know! I'm just a freshman—M. E. M.
Men—that which illuminates S. T. C. on Saturday and Sunday nights.—Henny.

Campus Pests!
That to which a young girl's "fancy lightly turns."—L. G.
A woman's heart.—Kitty.
Men—What I live for!
The world's greatest nuisance.—Yet amusing at times.
A necessary bore.—A. R.
Different enough to be interesting.—Madeline.
God's gift to us all.—A. M.
Men are all alike except for their hearts, souls, and faces.—M. J. C.

Review of the News

This column heretofore known as The News Monger, will henceforth go under the above heading.

Japan's typhoon disaster of last week continues to be news as reports of damages continue to pour in. Around two thousand lost their lives — two hundred school children were crushed in one building—while the damage to property and industry is estimated in the hundred millions. Certainly, the crippling of factories leaves Japan unable to hold her foreign markets and leaves her in the position of painfully acquiring them again. Since she can not adequately equip her armies with her damaged munition plants, the nations of the world, especially Russia, cease to fear Japanese agression in the near future. Japan is busy restoring order out of the chaos resulting from the greatest disaster since the terrible earthquake in 1923.

The League news of the week reevals the admission of Afghanistan, bringing the total number of members to fifty-nine. Poor China is still apprehensive lest the League, since it won't elect her on the council, abandon her to her terrible fate of being absorbed by Japan.

Another coup d'etat was brought to our attention last week when an editorial in the Richmond News-Leader proclaimed the downfall of King Cotton in our Southland. No longer can we boast of producing more cotton than the rest of the world combined. A succession of bad price years with flooded markets and the more recent crop curtailment by our government are the underlying causes of the present state. The announcement as made last week has caused some alarm among cotton growers who vainly look around for another sovereign.

General Johnson must have realized his superfluity in the NRA; at any rate, he tendered his resignation from the head post and expects to retire around the middle of this month. The new organization over which the president tells us, will not deal with details. The reorganization of the recovery administration seems to indicate that Mr. Roosevelt desires to clinch the election of a Democratic congress with recent election returns, especially the ones from Maine, already pointing that way.

SOCIALS

Annual welcome parties given Saturday night at The Presbyterian and Methodist Churches were well attended by S. T. C. students of those denominations.

The large number of parents, friends, and alumnae visiting here for football games at Hampden-Sydney and elsewhere, and the call of the "ole home town" account for the majority of S. T. C. being hostess or visitor for the week-end.

At Home

Among those who spent the week-end at home were: Gay Stieffen, Grace Eubank, Claudia Harper, Dorothy Glover, Kitty Bass, Louise Bailey, Eleanor Shackleton, Georgia Powell, Irene Parker, Sibyl Morris, Doris Moore, Margarette Aldredge, Ethel Burgess, Mary Louise French, Katheryn Harvey, Martha Glenn Davis, Nancy Dodd, Elizabeth Coleman, Frances Jamerson, Rose Marie Hunter, Ruth and Mary Hubard, Edna Shanter, Rebecca Carter, Edna Bolick, Charlotte Young, Bobbie Mattox, Elizabeth Mann, Belle Lovelace, Virginia Leonard, and Frances Jones.

In Charlottesville

Charlottesville claimed its share of S. T. C. girls: Margaret Gilmer, Lucy and Mildred Potter, Mary Bowles, Minnie Smith, Virginia Bean, Sallie Perrow, Burnley Brockenbrough, Bebe Russell, Copeland Johnson, Elizabeth Vaughan, and Leslie Bradshaw.

To Richmond

Evelyn Massey, Jean Willis and Elsie Mayo motored to Richmond for the week-end.

At Drakes Branch

Kitty Chappell, Pattie Jeffreys, and Elizabeth Trent were week-end visitors in Drakes Branch.

Other Places Visited

Among other places visited during the week-end were: Newport News by Patsy Nottingham; Chase City by Winifred Goodman; Lexington by Zila Newsom and Frances Woodhouse; Orange by Katherine Coleman; Boydton by Evelyn Wilson; Blackstone by Fletcher Walker and Rebacca Mayes; Dillwyn by Nannie Page Trent, Edna Earl Harvey, Marjorie Robertson, and Pauline Pearson; Big Island by Frances Johnson and Sallie Rose Chappelle; Fork Union by Margaret Herndon; Roanoke by Agnes Crockett and Kathryn Jamison; Williamsburg by Billie Rountree and Virginia Rawlings; Lynchburg by Roberta Brooke; Keysville by Mary Denny; Church Road by Evelyn Howell; Phenix by Martha Hamlet; Dendron by Audrey Mattox; Curdsville by Dorothy Robertson; Jetersville by Elizabeth Rucker; and Kenbridge by Lloyd Kelly.

Choral Club and Choir Launch Year's Work

Continued from page 1

Boswell, Caroline Byrd, Kitty Chappell, Edith Coffey, Jestine Cutshall, Virginia Doughty, Margaret Drake, Bernice Estes, Louise Francis, Louise Gathright, Helen Glass, Louise Hyde, Lila Jacob, Dorothy Justis, Elizabeth Mann, Audrey Mattox, Addie Norfleet, Grace Olgers, Marion Pond, Anne Putney, Annette Roberts, Nell Oakey Ryan, Edith Samford, Helen Shawen, Helen Smith, Elizabeth Trent, Marion Umberger, Audrey Wilson, Ella Ware, Elizabeth Ware, Lucille Ware, Dorothy Wise, Mary E. Wood, Frances Yester, Louise Ceezee and Catherine Zimmerman.

Student Day To Be Held on Wednesdays

Every Wednesday has been set aside as Student Day in chapel in which the girls are given an opportunity to develop leadership. The Student Day chapel committee is composed of Christine Childrey, chairman; Elizabeth Morris, Sue Waldo, Margaret Fraley, and Dot Wise, chairman of music. The duties of the committee are to secure leaders for the devotional, and to plan interesting and varied programs.

The four class presidents will have charge of the first four Student Day programs. This morning's chapel was led by Tac Waters, president of the Junior class.

Honor Roll

The Honor Roll for the Spring Quarter, 1934, is given below. To make this record a student must meet the following requirements: Not less than A or B on three-fourths of her work for the quarter, no notes from the Home Department or from the Student Council, no notice from the Registrar's office for class or chapel cuts, no conditions or failures on class work.

The distinction of being on the list which follows belongs only to those students who have successfully met the above specifications.

Adams, Katherine; Agee, Estelle; Allen, Helen; Allred, Julia May; Anderson, Annie; Ayscue, Vernell; Bailey, Elise; Barleon, Betty; Bass, Grace; Bernard, Evelyn; Billings, Laurine; Birdwell, Margaret; Blanton, Ruby; Bondurant, Agnes; Booker, Ophelia; Booton, Marjorie; Boswell, Helen; Bosworth, Fannie; Bradshaw, Marjorie; Brinkley, Virginia; Brockenbrough, Burnley; Brumfield, Hilda; Bryant, Irene; Burger, Frances; Cabell, Elsie Frances; Chernault, Eunice; Childrey, Christine; Clark, Carmen; Clements, Audrey; Clevenger, Hazel; Coates, Doris; Cobb, Kemper; Coleman, Anna; Coleman, Katherine; Collings, Alberta; Collins, Grace; Cooper, Katherine; Cooper, Nannie Ruth; Coulbourn, Jane; Crawford, Frances; Crews, Catherine; Cutshall, Jestine; Denit, Phyllis; Derr, Julia; Diehl, Mary; Diggs, Ann Randolph; Disharoon, Alice May; Eastman, Clair; Eckler, Bernice; Elam, Sarah; Eley, Doris; Eubank, Dorothy; Eubank, Winnie Frances; Foster, Alma; Gaines, Ruth; Garnett, Margaret; Gathright, Louise; Gibbs, Eleanor; Gills, Elizabeth; Gilmer, Margaret; Glass, Mary Alice; Glenn, Elizabeth; Good, Lucille; Gwaltney, Mildred; Hamilton, Virginia; Hamlet, Martha; Harper, Claudia; Harper, Ila; Harris, Helen; Harrison, Nancy; Hatcher, Edna; Holloway, Mary Hastings; Hooker, Virginia; Horton, Frances; Howell, Evelyn; Hubbard, Chesta; Hyde, Louise; Jones, Jeannette; Jones, Jessica; Justis, Dorothy; Kelly, Elizabeth; Kent, Josephine; Knaub, Evelyn; Lewis, Louise; Linthicum, Mildred; Long, Leonora; McKay, Alice; Magruder, Alice; Mallory, Ella; Martin, Neva; Massey, Evelyn; Mattox, Audrey; Milby, Katherine; Moore, Doris; Morgan, Margaret; Moseley, Lucille; Nelson, Mary Berkeley; Newcomb, Mary; Otten, Margaret; Payne, Ernestine; Pollard, Margaret; Potter, Mildred; Prescott, Dorothy; Price, Dorothy; Putney, Anne; Quarles, Margery; Rawlings, Elma; Rhodes, Maude Roberta; Roberts, Annette; Roberts, Ruth; Rollins, Marguerite; Rowell, Alice; Rowell, Grace; Rucker, Ruth; Saunders, Allene; Scott, Bernice; Scott, Muriel; Shanks, Edith; Smith, Frances; Spencer, Dorothy; Spencer, Georgia; Spitler, Elizabeth; Staples, Irvin; Stieffen, Gay; Stokes, Nellie; Stone, Dorothy; Strang, Inez; Stratton, Margaret; Sturm, Joyce; Sugden, Gertrude; Thomas, Sarah Hyde; Thomas, Zaida; Thompson, Agnes; Travis, Beulah Van Lear, Louise; Vassar, Elizabeth; Vestal, Ruby; Walker, Jane; Walker, Linda; Wall, Elizabeth; Walmsley, Louise; Walton, Katharine; Watkins, Martha Scott; Westmoreland, Helen; Wheeler, Alice Brooking; White, Dorothy; White, Janice; Whitehurst, Mrs. Lottie West; Wicker, Mary; Wilkinson, Beverley; Wilkinson, Mary Elizabeth; Williams, Maria; Wilson, Amamda; Wood, Estelle; Wood, Mary E. Woolwine, Dorothy; York, Marguerite; Young, Charlotte, Walton, Elizabeth.

Council Entertains Frosh at Longwood

The Athletic Council entertained the freshmen at a weenie roast at Longwood Saturday afternoon. Approximately one hundred twenty freshmen, accompanied by about twenty old girls, were present.

Sara Beck, President of the Athletic Association, welcomed the guests and invited them to roast their own weenies and eat all the food.

After the "feast" Meg Herndon and Helen Smith conducted games in the ampitheater. Everyone entered into the spirit of the occasion, and the afternoon was apparently enjoyed by all present.

Town Girls Renovate Day Student Room

That 113 of the 615 girls enrolled at S. T. C. for the fall quarter are day students was the startling fact recently brought to the attention of the Town Girls Committee of the Y. W. C. A.

The result of further investigation showed that this group of girls, constituting more than one sixth of the entire student body, has definite needs which demand attention.

Under the direction of Marguerite York, chairman, and Miss Nichols, adviser, the committee is putting into effect plans which will meet these needs. Their project consists of improvements in the town girls' room and of some provision for calling the attention of out-of-dormitory girls to important announcements made in the college dining room.

The room, which is undergoing considerable renovation, will soon present itself as a lounge for the day students, relaxation and comfort.

This new arrangement will be of particular convenience and enjoyment to those girls who live some distance from the college and who are obliged to spend their entire day at school.

Day beds, rocking chairs, and other comfortable furniture will add to the attractiveness of the sitting room.

At an informal house warming soon to be held in their new lounge, the day students will make contributions of their own choice, such as pillows, pictures, and magazines, in order to make their college room a more livable one.

Hymn Study Begun For College Students

A departure from the usual freshman song class was started last Monday in Chapel, when the entire student body assembled in the auditorium. Mr. Strick, Head of the Music Department announced that the Chapel period every Monday would be devoted to a study of hymnology.

Rev. Cromer in a most interesting manner gave the history of the two-hymns to be sung. He mentioned the nations from which they came, the type of hymn they represented and the name of the first collection of hymns in which they appeared.

Directed by Miss Purdom, with Mr. Strick at the piano and the College Choir seated on the stage the entire student body joined in the whole hearted singing of the two hymns.

This study of hymnology will not only improve the group singing in chapel, but is expected to be a great asset to our future teachers in conducting the hymn singing in the schools.

Sunday-school Teacher—Riches take to themselves wings and fly away, it is said. What kind of riches is meant?

Bright Boy—I guess it means ostriches.

69 Juniors and Seniors Enroll for Degrees

Continued from page 1

Nancy Lee Bland, Marjery Booten, Helen Boswell, Nell Boswell, Susie Brochenbrough, Caroline Byrd, Sallie Carter, Mary Kemper Cobb, Halen Conquest, Alma Elliott, Grace Eubank, Louise Floyd, Bernice Fretwell, Harriet Garnett, Louise Gathright, Mary Glass, Nell Virginia Hall, Claudia Harper, Martha Harrison, Mary Harrison, Bessie Hart, Katherine Hoyle, Myrtle Marie Hindley, Crenshaw Jones, Rachel Joyner, Virginia Lee, Dorothy McNamee, Jane Main, Katie Massey, Billie Morgan, Addie Norfleet, Mary Nottingham, Louise Potter, Mildred Potter, Mary Virginia Powell, Kathleen Ranson, Billie Rountree, Edith Samford, Ellen Simmerman, Mildred Smith, Elizabeth Sutton, Florence Tankard, Betty Tice, Clyde Tuck, Marcia Vick, Eleanor Wade, Linda Walker, Alliene Wilkinson, and Frances Yester.

Charlotte Rice has been appointed associate photographic manager of The Virginian. This position was left vacant by Martha Barber. Other appointments to be made within the next few weeks are assistances to the typist, art and advertising departments.

The only men I kiss are my brothers. What fraternity do you belong to?

Skipper.

C. E. Chappell Co.
Stationery, Blank Books and School Supplies
Cigars, Cigarettes and Soda
Farmville, Virginia

Rice's Shoe Store
Street and Dress Shoes
Dancing Slippers Dyed
Correct fits our specialty 1t

Kleanwell
CLEANERS AND TAILORS
Expert cleaning, repairing and remodeling ladies garments
Main Street, opposite Post office
Phone 98

S. A. Legus
TAILOR
CLEANING
PRESSING
REPAIRING
Phone 203

Overton-Mottley Hdwe. Co.
ELECTRIC GOODS!
Tennis Rackets and balls
Roller Skates

Southside Drug Store
(On the Corner)
Films Developed FREE
If bought at this store

Gray's Drug Store
QUALITY—PRICE—SERVICE
Come in and Get Acquainted
We are glad to have you with us!
Farmville, Virginia

Mack's
BARBER AND BEAUTY SHOP
323 Main Street
We use the Frederick Method
Hair cutting and thinning a Specialty

WILLIS
The Florist
Flowers for all occastons
PHONES 181-273

Conoco Gas and Oil
Fill up at
Johns Motor Co.
Farmville, Va.

Martin the Jeweler
Gifts of
Lasting Remembrance
317 Main St. Farmville

PRINTING .....
When you think of Printing thing of
—The—
FARMVILLE HERALD

NEW WINTER COATS AND DRESSES
See them at THE HUB DEPARTMENT STORE first. Shoes to go with each ensemble
THE HUB DEPARTMENT STORE
Farmville, Virginia

GO TO .....
GILLIAM'S
—FOR—
EVERYTHING—SCHOOL SUPPLIES, CANDIES, FRUITS, CONFECTIONS, ETC.
Open 'till 9:00 p. m.

WELCOME S. T. C. STUDENTS
We invite you to visit our store,
CORRECT CLOTHES FOR STUDENTS
Farmville's Largest Department Store
DAVIDSON'S

ARE YOU SATISFIED WITH YOUR STOCKINGS?
Rings on your fingers—Yes — Rings in your Hose—No!
Therefore, wear only DEXDALE genuine "Silk-Sealed Hosiery
"Silk-Sealed" for greater sheerness and for better wear
They are different!
VERSER'S

PHILCO RADIO
World's largest manufacturers of Radio
A complete line
Watch repairing a specialty
Sheet Music—Strings for Instruments
LYNN, The Main Street Jeweler

YOUR NEIGHBOR,
The Weyanoke Beauty Salon
invites you to drop in and take advantage of their Special prices now in effect.
Permanent Waves—$4 & $6 Shampoo & Fingerwave 75 cents
Manicure 40 cents
Indiivdual, courteous, efficient service and an established reputation for dependability and satisfaction. That is our guarantee, and your assurance of perfect workmanship.

Sporting Whirl

By L. SANFORD

First, will out to congratulate you freshmen on the interest and ability you are showing in athletics. Keep up the good work, and don't forget that sports are not work. They are play for pleasure and the pleasure is yours, when you put yourself into a game.

Hockey will of course be the outstanding out-door sport of the fall season. Instructive practices will be held as follows; Mondays at 4, Wednesdays at 4 and 5 regular practices; Mondays at 5, Tuesdays at 5, Thursdays at 4 and Fridays at 5. The practices this week have been very well attended by old girls, freshmen, and quite a number of transfers. It looks as if the Thanksgiving games, played the four classes, will be closely contested.

The varsity squad will be chosen soon. Careful you don't come up lacking on the required number of practices.

Archery, fast becoming one of America's most popular sports, is also gaining popularity among these offered here at S. T. C. Classes are being held Tuesdays at 5, Wednesdays at 3, Thursday at 5 and Fridays at 3, under the direction of Katherine Cooper, manager.

Classes of instruction in tennis are now being held twice weekly: Monday at 5, Thursday at 4. Belle Lovelace has been chosen manager of tennis for the coming year, filling the vacancey left by Elizabeth Shipplet. Belle has previously proven herself capable and efficient as a worker with athletics and we look forward to a most successful tennis season under her management.

Lacrosse practices have been postponed until spring, due to numerous other sports running this fall.

Has a question arisen in your mind concerning the whyfore of the various school letters now around school? These letters signify that the wearer is a member of the Monogram Club, the purpose of which is to recognize athletic ability, sportsmanship, and scholarship. Mememberships entitle a girl to wear the S. T. C. letters in Monogram form and to enjoy other privileges of the club. The standards are high but not above attainment—eligibility requires 400-points, a scholastic average of C and a satisfactory performance of the physical efficiciency tests. The whole club approves of a person from the standpoint of sportsmanship before she is admitted.

Martha Stine has been appointed secretary of the Athletic Association to fill the vacancy left by Elizabeth Billups.

Prepare to take your first dip in our new swimming pool soon. Those persons who are not taking a class will have the privilege of using the pool during optional periods in the afternoons.

CALENDAR

Wednesday, Oct. 3
5:00—Y. W. C. A. cabinet meeting
7:15—Dramatic Club
7:00—Rotunda Staff

Thursday, October 4
4:15—Artist Dance Group
5:00—Students Standards

Friday, October 5
7:00—Monogram Club
8:00—Sigma Pi Rho

Monday, October 8
7:00—Virgiinan Staff
7:00—A .A. Council
8:00—Alpha Kappa Gamma

Tuesday, October 9
7:30—Gamma Psi
7:30—Alpha Phi Sigma
8:30—Pi Gamma Mu
10:00—Student Council

Lots of people
Do not like Statues
And paintings of Figures
In the nude—
But I do
I don't know why
I guess
I was born that way.
Skipper.

Peewit — I understand the Richmore fortune was started by a man who simply profited by other people's mistakes.
Quiggle—How could that be?
Peewit—He invented the little rubber tip for lead pencils.

1934 FOOTBALL SCHEDULES

School	OCT. 6	OCT. 13	OCT. 20	OCT. 27	NOV. 3	NOV. 10	NOV. 17	NOV. 29
Duke	Clem. Dur.	G. Tech Dur.	David. David.	Tenn. Knox.	Auburn Birm.	W-For. Dur.	N.C. C-Hill	NCS Dur.
N. C. State	W-For. Ralei.	SC Ralei.	Fla. Tampa	NC C-Hill	Clem Ralei.	VPI Ports.	Ga. Athens	Duke Dur.
Roanoke	Guil'd Salem	L-Field L-Field	E&H Emory	W&M Wburg		Gtown Wash	Balt Salem
Maryland	W&L Lex	Navy Annap	VPI N'folk	Fla. Balt	VA CPark	VMI CPark	Ind'a Bton	JHop Balt
N. C.	Tenn CHill	GA Athens	KY CHill	NCS CHill	G-Tech Atlanta	David David	Duke CHill	VA Cville
Richmond	Cornell Ithaca	E&H Bfield	VMI Rich	H-S Rich	Gtown Rich	D-E Rich	C-For Charl	W&M Rich
S. C.	VMI Colum	NCS Ralei	Citadel Oburg	Clem Colum	VPI Colum	Villa Phila	Furm Gville	W&L Colum
V. P. I.	Fla Bburg	W&M Rich	MD Nfolk	W&L Lex	S.C. Colum	NCS Pmo'th	VA Bburg	VMI Rnoke
V. M. I.	SC Colum	Colum N.Y.	Rich Rich	VA Lex	W&M Nfolk	MD Cpark	David David	VPI Rnoke
Virginia	Navy Wash	StJ Cville	Darth Hover	VMI Lex	MD Cpark	W&L Cville	VPI Bburg	NC Cville
W. & M.	E&H Wburg	VPI Rich	Gtown Wash	Rnoke Wburg	VMI Nfolk		W&L Wburg	Rich Rich
W. & L.	MD Lex	WVA Chton	Pr'ton Pr'ton	VPI Lex	Navy Annap	VA Cville	W&M Wburg	SC Colum

Roles Assigned to Dramatic Apprentices

Continued from page 1

snow those ruffians a thing or two."

This age-old desire of girlhood was brought to active life at the event of the casting. On the call for volunteers to try for the male parts there was hardly a girl left who did not have at least one hand waving in frantic, unconcealed pleading for a chance to be what she has always wanted to be—a boy. The next question was concerning voices. "Who talks low?" A voluminous voice of assurances rose to the ceiling.

Some merely amusing and some really comical efforts at reading lines on the stage—the only place where a girl's dream come truest to reality followed. Dreams were shattered or fulfilled as the anxiously awaited decisions were announced.

Life flows on, but there is a new ripple in it for those freshmen newest at that last heart-troubling gathering. They have not given up in despair — no never! Why should they, for isn't there to be another chance for them in the future plays? Are the critics growling? Indeed, no! They are heavy, chesty notes you hear but who does not know that 'practice makes perfect'?

Judge: Prisoner at the bar, you have been found guilty by a jury of your peers.
Clyde: Please sentence me without mocking me, your honor.

Buy Your
C A N D Y
To Sell at
H. T. Stokes & Co.

G. F. Butcher
High Street
"The Convenient Store"
FOR GOOD THINGS
TO EAT AND DRINK

You Would Love to Have Your Shoes Fixed at
Lovelace Shoe Shop
110 Third Street

SUPPERS AND
SMALL PARTIES
Good Breakfast
Dinners
Suppers
College Tea Room
and
LONGWOOD

Shannon's
Is Headquarters for the Best
SANDWICHES
—and—
DRINKS
in Farmville!

Farmville Mfg. Co.
BUILDING MATERIALS
MILLWORK
Farmville, Va.

Special orders for
Teas and Parties
Try our doughnuts
Foley's Bakery
Third Street

EACO
THEATRE
Mats. 4 p. m.; Nights 8 p. m.
Adults 25c; Children 15c
Unless otherwise noted

Wed., Oct. 3
Will Rogers
in
"HANDY ANDY"
Chapter 11
"VANISHING SHADOW"

Thurs.-Fri., Octo 4-5
Jackie Cooper
Wallace Beery
in
"Treasure Island"
Adults 25c and 35c

Saturday, Oct. 6
James Cagney
Joan Blondell
in
"Here Comes the Navy"
News and Comedy

Next Mon. and Tues. Oct. 8 and 9
Leslie Howard
Kay Francis
"British Agent"
Adults 25c—35c
Merrie Melody and News

ROOM FURNISHINGS
SCHOOL SUPPLIES
CANDIES
ROSES
5-10-25c Store
FARMVILLE, VA.

POTTED MEATS
SANDWICH SPREAD
SANDWICH ROLLS
HOT DOGS
Everything for the Picnic
W. R. Drumeller
Main Street Farmville

Electric Shoe Shop
Will Fix Your Shoes
While You Wait
BEST WORKMANSHIP
AND LEATHER USED

The Fashion Shoppe
Reflects the newest styles. All dresses $2.95 up
COATS, SUITS, DRESSES, UNDERWEAR
Silk Hose
Fine quality ..... 49c 59c and 69c

WELCOME S. T. C. GIRLS!
To The Dorothy May Store—Farmville's only College Shop.
Catering to college girls with advance styles in Dresses, Coats, Sport Togs, Millinery, Hosiery and Lingerie.
Introductory offer this week—69c French Chiffon Hose 47c a pair.
DOROTHY MAY STORES
FARMVILLE, VA.

STATE CLEANING CO.
Third Street
NEXT TO BAKERY
TWO DAY SERVICE—Satisfaction Guaranteed
Ladies Dresses, plain, cleaned and pressed 50c
Ladies Dresses, pressed only 35c
Ladies Coats, plain, cleaned and pressed 50c
ALL OTHER CLEANING AT REDUCED RATES
1t

TRULY THIS IS A BEAUTY MIRACLE
One cream to buy, one cream to apply
From the very first application of DELV you will be thrillingly aware of an improvement in your skin. You will realize that here is a cream that is entirely different from anything you have ever used. And it is!
DELV embodies a new cosmetic principle. It was created by Primrose House after long research to find an ingredient that duplicates the natural oil of the skin. DELV is a basic all-around cream. It cleanses, nourishes and helps keep the skin young and vital looking. The daily use of DELV literally creates a new skin texture.
Try a jar today. One cream to buy—one cream to apply.
PRIMROSE HOUSE DELV $1.00
BALDWIN'S
FARMVILLE, VIRGINIA

Hampden-Sydney Quartet will sing at Presbyterian church Sunday night, 7:30

The Rotunda

We Teach To Teach

WATCH ATHLETIC BULLETIN BOARD

Volume XV. Farmville, Virginia, October 10, 1934 No. 3

Date For Circus Set For Oct. 27; Beck Is Chairman

Alpha Kappa Gamma To Sponsor Annual Carnival

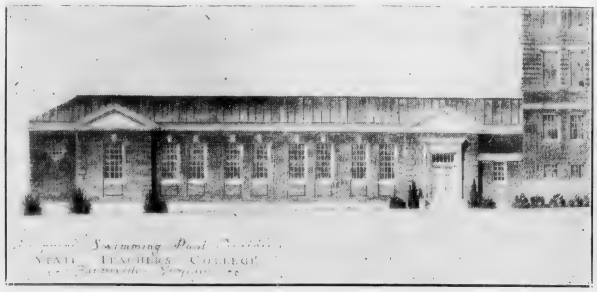
BOOTHS FOR CLASS

Saturday night, October 27, is the date for the annual S. T. C. Circus, sponsored by Alpha Kappa Gamma with Sarah Beck as chairman.

Plans are going forward rapidly for the event which will be one of the biggest affairs of the year. A circus queen will be crowned as usual. At class meetings Tuesday night one girl was nominated from each class. These girls will be voted on soon by the entire student body, but the result will not be revealed until the queen is crowned the night of the circus. Each vote will cost a penny. Knubby Knaub from the senior class, Addie Norfleet, from the junior class and Caroline Jones from the sophomore class were nominated. The freshman nominee will be added to the list as soon as that class is organized.

The gymnasium will serve as a large tent and will be decorated to suit the occasion. Alpha Kappa Gamma and the four classes will be in charge of these decorations.

There will be four big stunts, each class sponsoring one. Alpha Kappa Gamma will elect a ring master in the near future. Each class will have different booths as usual. The Senior class has decided on the Dance Booths.



The Publicity, Advertising, Ticket, and Parade Committees have been chosen and will be announced later.

Alpha Phi Sigma Bids Twenty-five Girls

The Delta chapter of Alpha Phi Sigma announces the following new members to the novice degree: Mary Rives Black, Marjorie Robertson, Blanche Lane, Izell Houck, and Rebecca Carter; to the apprentice degree: Dorothy Price, Elizabeth McClenny, Janie Lee Young, Ruth Phelps, Ethel Joyner, Ellen Elizabeth Rucker, Julia Derr, Caroline Alsop, Mary Virginia Putney, Gertrude Levy, Elna Shorter, Anne Graham, Sylvia Dunnavant, Dorothy Rhodes, Pattie Jeffreys, Elizabeth Morris, Elizabeth Puckette, Tyler Wood, Lois Vassar, Audrey Clements, and Margaret Russell.

Alpha Phi Sigma is a national honorary fraternity whose ideal is the recognition and development of higher scholarship. The Master's degree at S. T. C. recognizes the very highest degree of scholastic attainment. Alpha Phi Sigma is one of the two honor societies at S. T. C. which admit freshmen and sophomores as members.

LET'S GO SWIMMING!

Above is the new S. T. C. swimming pool which will be opened soon.

Rev. Smith Leads Chapel Wednesday

Rev. Wade C. Smith had charge of the chapel exercises Wednesday morning. Mr. Smith has been a field worker for the Department of General Assembly's Training School in Richmond since 1925. He has been author of one of the columns in the Sunday School Times in Philadelphia since 1912, and has published several books. The subject of his talk in chap-

Continued on page three

The Virginia Gamma Chapter of Pi Gamma Mu wishes to add the name of Claudia Harper to the list of new members announced in last week's Rotunda.

Honor Fraternity Adds 5 Members

The Pi Zeta Chapter of Beta Pi Theta announces the following new members:

Mary Gilmer, Agnes Bondurant, Virginia Payne, Winnie Frances Eubank, Elizabeth Walton.

These girls have been outstanding students in French. They have shown interest and ability in spoken and literary French. Mary Gilmer is this year's president of Le Cercle Francais. They have maintained the highest scholastic standards — Agnes Bondurant, Virginia Payne, and Winnie Frances Eubank are members of Alpha Phi Sigma, scholarship fraternity, of which Elizabeth Walton is president.

They have not only shown their interest in French and maintained a high scholastic average but were chosen to this honor on the basis of their service to the school and their qualities of leadership. Winnie Frances Eubank is a member of the Y. W. Cabinet, and Elizabeth Walton is a member of the Rotunda Staff and literary editor of our college annual.

Noted Entertainer To Perform Friday

To Sing and Dramatize Va. Folklore and Ballads

Miss Alfreda Peel will present her program of ballads and folklore Friday night, October 12, at 7:30 o'clock in the Little Auditorium.

The program will be divided into three groups. The first group will include Miss Peel's personal account of the collecting of ballads in Virginia. She has collaborated with Dr. Arthur Kyle Davis who compiled the book of Virginia folklore and ballads, and has made extensive tours in many parts of the state in connection with this work.

The second division will include the singing of ballads that have been found in our native state. Miss Peel's rendition of the ballads discovered in the mountains is said to be excellent because of the fact that her ability as an actress and a dramatist has allowed her to enter into the very spirit of the mountaineers and to reproduce the melodies as she heard them.

The last group in the program will include sketches of folklore and witchcraft in Virginia. Miss Peel has found many interesting facts about these two phases of folk tradition and is ready to prove that witchcraft has not been solely confined to Salem Massachusetts.

Henrietta Salsbury Elected Head of Student Standards

Henrietta Salsbury was elected chairman of the Students Standards Committee at the regular meting of that committee Thursday, October 4. Henrietta fills the vacancy left by Elizabeth Billups. Doris Moore, recently elected representative from the Junior class, was present at the meeting Thursday.

Privilege and Honor of Dean's List Now Accorded to Juniors

That the Junior Class would have the privilege of being on the Dean's List from now on, was announced Tuesday morning in chapel by Dr. Jarmen.

This is a privilege hitherto unprecedented, having before been extended only to Seniors. Those juniors who have met all requirements for the Dean's List are:

Margaret Virginia Alsop, Agnes M. Bondurant, Susie Burnley Brockenbrough, Audrey Mae Clements, Winnie Frances Eubank, Margaret Farrar, Mary Alice Glass, Claudia E. Harper, Virginia C. Hooke, Evelyn C. Massey,

Continued page 4, col. 2

Choral Club Enrolls Freshman Singers

Much talent has come from the Freshmen class this year for the Choral Club. The Club is making preparations now for a broadcast program over WRVA, Richmond.

The Choral Club has enrolled this year: Elizabeth Carroll, Rebecca Carter, Inez Chappell, Grace Collins, Mary J. Cox, Margaret Fraley, Louise Francis, Helen Glass, Anne Graham, Elizabeth Harris, Edith Hart, Bessie Hart, Virginia Harvey, Edith Hines, Anna Hock, Evelyn Holmes, Mildred Meebs, Emma McMullen, Martha Moore, Jenny Morton, Elizabeth Overby, Sarah Parker, Ruth Phelps, Grace Pittard, Annette Roberts, Elizabeth Roberts, Alfreda Strick, Elizabeth Trent, Audrey Wilson, Eleanor Wood, Marjorie Woolfolk, Charlotte Young, Juanita Zeigler, and Catherine Zimmerman.

Rat Week Begins Soon

"Rat Week" will be observed when orientation examinations are completed and the freshman class is organized. That the "rat rules" have been drawn up and approved has been announced by Caroline Jones, president of the sophomore class. "Rat Week" will therefore be either next week or th week following.

College Musicians Organize Talent

The College Orchestra is beginning the 1934-'35 session with these new members: Mary I. Arthur, Juliette Barret, Mary R. Black, Ann M. Graham, Jane Main, and Mary Robeson. Former members playing in the orchestra again this year are: Sue Baynard, Lucklin Bugg, Nelly Davis, Jimmie Grainger, Mary Grainger, Alice Grainger, Eleanor Gibbs, Catherine Gillespie, Lucy Lancaster, Mildred Lancaster, Faye Little, Madeline McCommons, Martha McCorkle, Will Putney, Christine Reynolds and Dot Wise.

The orchestra plans to give concerts in and around Farmville during the year, and they will probably broadcast from WRVA in Richmond later on in the season, according to Miss Purdom, director.

The following officers of the College Orchestra were selected at a recent meeting: Madeline McCommons, president; Sue Baynard, vice-president; Dot Wise, secretary-treasurer, and Jane Main and Eleanor Gibbs, librarians.

A small ensemble composed of four violins, viola, 'cello, double base, flute, and piano has been organized to play for entertainments and programs when it will

Continued page 4, col. 2

Cotillion Club Bids 33 New Members

Decides $1.50 and $2.50 Admission for Fall Dance

Admission fees for the fall dance were decided on and thirty-three "old girls" were voted into the Cotillion Club Wednesday night, Oct. 3.

Old members of the Club will pay $1.50 and "goats" $2.50 for the fall dance to be Nov. 3.

The following girls received bids to the Cotillion Club Monday night: Marjorie Bradshaw, Evelyn Massey, Phyllis Ferguson, Amis Montgomery, Anne Galusha, Catherine Conway, Bobby Saunders, Nellie Pierpont, Dot Wise, Jean Willis, Elizabeth Spitler, Dot Robertson, Midge Davis, Julia Derr, Mary Alice Wood, Katherine Hurt, Claudia Harper, Charlotte Rice, Merwyn Gathright, Claire Eastman, Lucille Moseley, Zilla Newsom, June Allen, Addie Norfleet, Elizabeth Smith, Marion Shoffner, Minnie Smith, Eleanor Mitchell, Virginia Bean, Martha Hamlet, Lucille Rhodes, Katherine Irby, and Louise Hyde.

Portsmouth Students Elect Club Officers

Sue Waldo was elected president, Elsie Green, secretary, and Phyllis Ferguson, treasurer of the Portsmouth Club which held its first regular meeting Thursday night, October 4.

The club is composed of girls living in Portsmouth, and in the suburbs of Portsmouth. This is the only club of its kind in school at the present time.

NewHouse Council Installed Tuesday

Installation of the new House Council took place on Oct. 3 at 7 p. m. in the large auditorium.

The procession of Hall Presidents led by Jestine Cutshall and Nelle Oakey Ryan marched to their seats on the stage, and remained standing while the invocation was given by Rev. Tucker of the Episcopal Church.

Nelle Oakey Ryan, New House Council President, was given the oath of office by Jestine Cutshall, president of the student body. Nelle Oakey in turn installed. Sue Waldo and Mildred Potter as vice-president and secretary respectively of the House Council. The hall presidents, about eighteen in number, took the oath of office as a group.

In accepting her new duties, Nelle Oakey asked help and cooperation from the student body,

Continued page 4, col. 2

International Club Discusses Current Problem at Hollins

Birdie Wooding and Helen Boswell Represent S.T.C.

MEETS OCT. 12 - 13

"Can Peaceful Methods Be Effective with Present Menaces?"

This is the current problem before the Women's International League for peace and freedom at its regional conference to be held a tHollins College this week-end.

Delegates from the International Relations Club of Farmville State Teachers College, as well as from similar collegiate organizations throughout eastern United States, will meet at Hollins College on October twelfth and thirteenth to discuss the question of International Peace.

"It gives me great pleasure as president of the International Relations Club of Hollins to extend on behalf of the College an invitation to the International Relations Club of your college to send two representatives to this conference," said Miss Edith K. Wiggins, in a recent letter to Dr. Jarman.

Committing the invitation to the local organization, combined on this campus with the Virginia Gamma Chapter of Pi Gamma Mu, Dr. Jarman suggested that it should act upon the matter according to its pleasure.

That the S. T. C. chapter of the International Relations Club will be represented at the Hollins Conference was the decision of its members.

Birdie Wooding and Helen Boswell, elected as delegates, will be the guests of Hollins College at the International Conference for Pace and Freedom.

Debate Club Initiates Twelve New Members

Initiation of new Debate Club members will be held Friday night, October 12, at 7 o'clock in the small auditorium. There were fifteen try-outs for the club and the following girls will be taken in at this time: Lucille Rhodes, Sylvia Somers, Martha Hamlet, Addie Norfleet, Virginia Hooke, Roberta Haskins, Janie Lee Young, Louise Francis, Dudley Allen, Martha Stine, Katherine Cotton, and Margaret Russell.

3 Class Rooms Will be Open For Students' Convenience

Miss Couling, Miss Moran's and Miss Smithey's class rooms will soon be open to students.

Caroline Byrd, Bonnie Lane

Continued page 4, col. 2

Opening of New Swimming Pool, Made Possible By FERA, Planned for Future

That the swimming pool will be ready for use soon is welcome news to both old and new students.

The hours scheduled for recreational swimming are: 4-4:30 p. m., M. T. W. Th. F., 4:30-5:00 p. m., M. T. W. Th. F.; 5:00-5:30 M. T. W. Th. Students are requested to observe these half hour periods.

From 5:00 to 5:30 o'clock every Tuesday afternoon a beginner's swimming non-credit class, open to all students, will be conducted. This class will be offered for those who could not take the scheduled class.

Mrs. Fitzpatrick, who is in charge of the pool, and Louise Walmsley, who studied swimming instruction at Columbia this summer, will teach all swimming classes. Margaret Farrar and Lelia Sanford will assist.

The gallery will be open to student visitors from 5 to 5:30 Mondays, Wednesdays, and Fridays. This hour is subject to change at any time.

Rules for the use of the pool have been given each student; lockers have been assigned; suits have been bought, numbered, and laundered. Everything is ready for the S. T. C. swimmers!

"Seniors, Seek Opportunities, Not Privileges," Says Dr. Joseph L. Jarman

Not a vacant seat could be found in Room 24 Tuesday night when Dr. Jarman met with the Senior Class. He explained to the class his reason for asking Seniors to attend chapel every morning and the Seniors asked him to consider their proposal, which was, that compulsory chapel be for Monday, Wednesday and Saturday only. Their reason for this proposal was to give the Seniors Tuesday, Thursday and Friday to prove their willingness to attend Chapel of their own accord. Dr. Jarman promised to give the proposal serious consideration.

Dr. Jarman warned the class not to confuse the definition of the word, "privilege," saying that it was not a privilege to withdraw from student activities, but in truth a disadvantage. He also said that the respect of the underclassmen had to be won by individual achievements, not by privilege given to the class by the administration. "Do not think in terms of privilige, but in terms of opportunities," be good naturedly told the class.

The meeting was considered to be a huge success by all who attended. The Seniors are anxious for an opportunity to prove their appreciation to Dr. Jarman for his good nature and reasonableness shown in his talk to them.

THE ROTUNDA

Member Virginia Intercollegiate Press Association

Published by students of the State Teachers College, Farmville, Virginia

Entered as second class mater March 1, 1921, at the Post Office of Farmville, Virginia, under Act of March 3, 1934

Subscription ..... $1.50 per year

MEMBER
Associated Collegiate Press
1934 Collegiate Digest 1935
MADISON WISCONSIN

Staff

Lelia Mallox ..... Editor
Evelyn Massey ..... Associate Editor

Board of Editors

Miss Jane Royall ..... Alumnae
Ann Montgomery ..... News
Florence Sanford ..... Make-up
Kathryne Cotten ..... Literary
Anne Putney ..... World News
Anne Diggs ..... Social
Margaret Farrar ..... Feature
Lelia Sanford ..... Sports

WEDNESDAY OCTOBER 10, 1934

Patronize Our Advertisers!

In recognition of the splendid cooperation and backing that has come to The Rotunda from the Farmville business men, we wish to express appreciation. It is not often that students meet friends in town to tell them how much their friendliness and assistance mean, but for their fine spirit in advertising with us this year and for their interest in the college and its activities we take this opportunity to thank them.

And now our part — By reading the weekly advertisements in The Rotunda and by patronizing the business houses of our friends we not only show our appreciation to them but we may be sure of reliable service and quality.

The Power of Prayer

The spirit of prayer requires cultivation. No life is entirely prayerless; yet few lives are sufficiently prayerful. Since the language of prayer is not easy except in a time of a crisis or in a moment of rapture the yearning heart may express its appeal as James Montgomery did in the words:

"O Thou, by whom we come to God,
Thy Life, Thy Truth, Thy Way;
Thy path of prayer thyself has trod.
Lord, teach us how to pray."

For the benefit of the young people who feel the need of assistance in their private devotions and in their efforts to speak aloud in meeting their praise and supplications, the Y. W. C. A. has planned a regular prayer service. The leaders of these services are young Christians with deep earnestness; therefore, they understand the eager minds of other young people.

The strong and sweet companionship with God, which is obtained so mysteriously in these short prayer services, make happy those who attend these services regularly.

Vocabulary and Success

That a good vocabulary is a strong indication of success is true, experimenters declare.

Recently Dr. Johnson O'Connor (director of Human Engineering Laboratories at Steven's Institute of Technology and assistant professor of Industrial Research at Massachusetts Institute of Technology) gave a vocabulary test of one hundred-fifty words to high school freshmen, college freshmen, college graduates, and major executives. Of these groups the major executives scored highest, seven errors being the average.

Why do the major executives have the best vocabularies? Of course many of them are college graduates, and thus they obtained much of their word knowledge in school. But Dr. O'Connor presents sufficient evidence to show that those who had not been to college also scored high on the test. The conclusion, then, is that those men who have climbed to the highest ring of the ladder realized as they climbed that they had to gain a knowledge of words if they ever understood the highest thought-processes of business.

The definitions of the following words were those most often missed: polygot, scurrilous, enervating, garrulity, glabrous. For how many of these words can you give a synonym?

An unlimited vocabulary may not be a requirement of success, nor does success always go with a broad vocabulary, but certainly one's vocabulary is a good indication of one's present and future level in his vocation. Therefore, if your vocabulary is deficient, it behooves you to read more widely and to make better use of the dictionary.

"I Don't Like Ladies"

Ladies, if we are ever in danger of becoming too satisfied with ourselves we should read what Joan Mayburn says in the August issue of Scribner's, 1933. In this article, "I Don't Like Ladies," reasons are not based entirely on facts. They are, however, forceful—so forceful, in fact, that they will not only wage us up but set us to thinking.

We who like to think of ourselves as ladies resent such statements as these: "Ladies are cruel and secure"; "they are snobs beyond a doubt"; 'they can not tell the precise truth"; and then this, the final insult, "The ladies' edges are fuzzy and her straight lines blurred." We may find consolation in saying that Joan Mayburn does not have the true definition of a lady, for a lady is not necessarily a snob, nor is she necessarily cruel, or foolishly frilly. These are just undesirable traits. Of course, there are just as many ladies in the world who are thoughtful, cultured and truly refined as there are men. And the lady who is capable of proving her worth is still alive. Of her Lawrence Benyan writes,

"Amid the thunder of guns
The Lightening of lance and sword,
Your hope, your dread, your throbbing pride,
Your infinite passion is outpoured."

The criticism made by Joan Mayburn of ladies can not justly be confined to the feminine sex. The faults she likes as belonging to the ladies may be found in men, also. They belong to all those who feel themselves superior to other members of the human race.

We may not agree in the least with what Joan Mayburn says is the real lady, but we can prove that she is wrong? Truly, are we, as ladies, developing in ourselves characteristics that will prove a "lady" is a person whose culture and refinement are always with her?

Conceit

How often we say, "I hate conceited people." Yet conceit is a common complaint, we all have this quality but in varying degrees. We don't notice it in every individual's character but we are conscious of it when one's conceit is guided in the wrong direction. The person whom we label "conceited" has developed this valuable part of his make-up into something obnoxious, something that detracts from a might-be charming personality. This is the form of conceit that causes us to say, "I hate conceited people."

What is it that makes some persons leaders, outstanding and valuable? Confidence, but isn't confidence just another form of conceit? Of course, energy and perseverance are essential but one must have confidence in himself and his ability before he is able to lead other persons. These are people that capitalize their conceit and combine it with good qualities to make themselves personalities. We do not call this type of person conceited but on the other hand, we admire and respect their achievements.

Finally, we do not hate all conceited people because all of us are that way. If we weren't conceited, how would we get along?

Open Forum

Dangerous Experimenting

Many S. T. C. girls seem, of late, to have developed a distinct trend for the sciences. They fool for hours on end in the laboratory; and then, on a day of days, they emerge with their faces split in that grin which clearly denotes success in all its glory. They are heard to explain with righteous smugness or uncontrolled exhilaration, "Eureka! fellow fact-seekers. I have at last completed that lovely experiment that has occupied my time and thoughts for these last three weeks!"

Now, it is quite all right to dabble around with some things, adding a bit of this and that; but these supposedly intelligent upperclassmen should recognize the fact that there are some compositions in which it is fatal to juggle the elements. Speaking in terms these promising young scientists will comprehend out of the realm of human knowledge, if the experiment has no material with which to work—much less any practice in fusing such material—what is he going to do when the crucial moment of test comes?

Is it possible that our practical minded upperclassmen look for the gratifying results of perfect teamwork when they have supplied no material or fusing practice to generate a basketball or hockey squad?

This unfortunate experiment of seeing what will happen if no energy is applied may be most unconsciously carried on by the sophomores, juniors, and seniors. There is a good chance that they will become sorrowfully conscious when they hear the heart-breaking reports that their Alma Mater has suffered defeat after defeat in the laboratory of athletics—the gym and the field.

It is not too late to begin the dabbling that leads to victory, with a hockey stick as the mixing spoon, the gym and field as the mixing bowl, and best of all—S. T. C. girls as the experimenters ready to start the scientific, athletic struggle that will net them a heart-felt O. K. by all their classmates, professors, and other admirers.

An Observer.

Review of the News

Those of us who were interested in the daily quotations of the price of gold last year as given out by our treasury department might be interested in the fact that our dollars—few as they are!—have returned to speaking terms with the British pound. The relationship is at present more nearly par than it has been since the dollar and the pound began their vacillations and erratic travels a year or so ago. Economists tell us that when hostilities cease and a stable relationship between the two is agreed upon, we may be assured that the long hoped-for recovery will be "just around the corner."

Spain now seeks the spotlight with a new revolution on her hands. A general strike was called on October 2 by the radicals after the Samper cabinet resigned. The president, Zamora, instructed Lerroux to form a new cabinet, but he was unable to do so without including the "enemies of the republic"—in other words, the Catholics and Catholic sympathizers. Ever since the formation of the public Spain has suffered for the lack of liberal party to guide a moderate course between the left and the right wings.

The strike has assumed warlike appearances with bloodshed on both sides. Strikers and army regulars have not hesitated to fire at each other and to inflict death on all sides, non-combatants not excepted.

President Zamora has retained control of the army so far, but the outcome is still doubtful.

We judge from all reports that Italians just laughed and laughed when Mussolini told them of the improved relations between France and Italy.

"Italy must be either friends or enemies with the nations of Europe. There is no indifferent point," he stated to over a half-million of his objects.

Speaking of relations with Jugoslavia, he continued: "There are no great possibilities for bettering our situation with our neighbor to the east."

He referred to the Austrian situation by saying, "We have defended the independence of the Austrian republic. This independence has been consecrated by the blood of the late Chancellor Dollfuss, a little man with a great heart."

In the course of his address he stated that the development of Europe would be "inconceivable" without Germany and that relations between nations in Europe were improved as a consequence of the failure of the disarmament conference.

Alumnae News

Miss Sue Ayres wrote and directed the pageant for the Piedmont Virginia Dairy Festival, which took place so successfully at Manassas the latter part of September. Miss Ayres depicted to the thousands of visitors the value of milk to the growing child. Her entire summer was spent in preparation of the pageant, the result being that her finished product has been pronounced a veritable masterpiece.

Harwood-Martin

In a simple ceremony Thursday eevning, October 4, in the home of her mother at Farmville, Miss Mary Scott Martin, daughter of the late E. Scott Martin and Mrs. Martin, was married to John Elliott Harwood of Newport News. The Rev. Horace E. Cromer, pastor of the Farmville Methodist Church, performed the ceremony. Only relatives and a few close friends of the contracting friends were present.

Engagement Announced

Miss Emma Lou Pulliam, daughter of Mrs. Samuel T. Pulliam of Richmond and the late Mr. Pulliam will be married on Saturday, Oct. 27, to William Melville Willis, son of Dr. and Mrs. W. D. Willis of Crozet. The ceremony will take place at Centenary Church in Richmond at 4:30 o'clock.

Miss Gertrude Wright, of Blackstone, and Mr. Richard David Maben, Jr., were married Tuesday, October 2, at Denton, Md.

Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Donnan Hamilton, of Petersburg, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Virginia Wilson, to Mr. Roy Tripp Evans, Jr., Lieutenant, United States Army. The marriage will take place late in November.

Campus Comments

Since when does Ginny Hall rate the power to steal "Gray" eyes.

"Resolved that Hampden-Sydney should be annexed to S. T. C. as a training school." That was the debate question and the affirmative won. Now the question is does the affirmative team think itself capable of doing the training in the talked of school.

Not meaning to be critical but what do these "fine dames" who stay away from school for three weeks think? Need crowning is our guess.

Could it by any chance be "Ale" that causes Louise Hyde's spirits to rise so. Betta Buck.

Frankie McDaniel thinks it's great spirit stepping out with millionaires. Especially she says, when you're taken by suprise.

And now Chic Dortch crashes Hampden-Sydney Society. When does the crowning "Queen of the Freshmen Class" take place?

Addie Norfleet was heard to make the remark. "I'll spend 'bout a hundred pennies to get the right circus queen." Since you've become a nominee, here's hoping the undertaking won't be too expensive.

In the Tiger write up of Pan-Hels, the dates of six or eight of our "cute" girls were listed as stags.

Among Our Poets

Be A Sport

I may not know the game so well,
But I stand for what is right;
And I'll stick it out until the end,
And play with all my might.
I might even lose it now and then
For I cannot always win,
But when I lose, I'll even smile,
And take it on the chin.
My every fault will be a dare
To play much better on the morrow
For life will fade and lose its zest
If I tightly cling to every sorrow.
Always, through each new detail
I'm ever willing to abide,
'Til every fault is overcome
And all my hopes are satisfied.
I can't forever be behind
For hard work sometimes earns repay.
Especially since my motto is,
To give the best I have each day.
I shall not be so vain and bold
To boast one false report,
But play the game the best I can
And always be a sport.

—Elizabeth Mann.

Once a month this column will be composed of poetry contributed by students. Even though the Rotunda is a newspaper, this is our only means of publication for such literary work. Contributions will be welcomed at any time. Anyone poetically inclined, will please give her work to the Literary Editor or put it in the Rotunda box.

—K. E. C.

At Other Colleges

We hear that Jan Garber has competition at V. P. I.—a namesake; and Richmond Division of William and Mary boasts a Jan-et Garber.

The internationally known Ted Shawn and his ensemble of men dancers, whom we all remember so favorably from their performance here last year, will be a feature on the Artist series program at Florida State in February.

Will the new rules at V. P. I. dampen the enthusiasm of the corps? In a late decree, the president of the college stated that all cadets under 21 years of age will be required to have a written permission from their parents to make the trip to Richmond for the Tech-William and Mary game on October 13.

Chess clubs are becoming popular in American colleges. The United States has twice won the International Chess Team Championship of the world. The Intercollegiate Chess Association (coed) was first launched from Duke University and University of North Carolina in 1934.

The Keydet Home-coming will be an elaborate celebration on October 26-27. Coincidentally, Washington and Lee's Home-coming falls on the same week-end.

An interesting spelling bee has been going on in Lexington between the professors of V. M. I. and Washington and Lee.

The Virginia Intercollegiate Press Association will meet this year at Blacksburg with V. P. I. and Radford S. T. C. entertaining the delegates. This meeting will be called in October and will be in session two or three days. The V. I. P. A. meets once a year with students representing newspapers from every college in the State of Virginia.

"The Skipper," the V. P. I. monthly comic magazine, has been discontinued. Dr. Burruss, president of the institution, said the abandonment was made because it was not needed by student life nor did it lend any beneficial services to campus activities. It was understood that the magazine in several of its numbers last year contained material objectionable to the college authorities.

SOCIALS

Along with the panorama of brilliant fall costumes and bright foliage that autumn ushers in, comes another panorama that of peppy week-ends.

Spent the Week-end in Richmond

As usual, a number of girls spent the week-end in Richmond. Among them were Winifred Goodman, Lacta Barham, Margaret Drake, Margaret Thomas, Maude Rhodes, Belle Lovelace, and Eleanor Dodson.

To Lynchburg

Mary Alice Wood, Charlotte Rice, Jennie Belle Gilliam, Frances Glass, and Ellen Mason spent the week-end in Lynchburg.

At Home

Home seems to be the most popular place over the week-end for Virginia Hurt, Evelyn Knaub, Marjorie Ramey, Marion Shoffner, Mary R. Black, Marion Pond, Frances Jones, Rose Friend, Maude Jones, Sarah Beck, Ruth Showalter, Elizabeth B. Ware, Virginia Saunders, Catherine Zimmerman, Nancy Beard, Elizabeth Butterworth, Elizabeth Conner, Mary E. Wood, Thulia Parke, Audrey Hawthorne, Frances Elder, Pauline Pearson, Annie Bailey, Dudley Allen, Lucille Akers, Grace Collins, Pattie Jeffreys, Lelia Mattox, Anna Cobb, Susan Lane, Annie W. Holden, Louise Bailey, Anne Peple, Lelia Hill, Inez Chappell, Irene Bailey, Audrey Wilson, Kathryn Pope, Louise Partridge, Evelyn Howell, Doris Coates, and Mena Smelley.

In Williamsburg

Agnes Oglesby, Margaret Pittard, and Margaret Bailey visited in Williamsburg during the week-end.

Spent Weekend in Newport News

Nancy Dodd and Patsy Nottingham ventured to Newport News for the week-end. Nancy was the guest of Winnie Goodman.

Vistied Other Places

Other girls who spent the week-end away were: Lloyd Kelly and Virginia Daughtrey to Kenbridge; Caroline Jones to Petersburg; Ernestine Payne and Anthelia Robinette to Norfolk; Kathleen Powell and Anna M. Campbell to Chatham; Mildred Davies and Katherine Fitzgerald to Culpepper; Fletcher Walker to Blackstone; Emily Cannell to Danville; Paige Magee to Fredericksburg; Elizabeth Stubbs to Woodville; June Allen to Roanoke; Dorothy Moffatt to Buckingham; Virginia Tissue to Alta Vista; Madeline Martin to Martinsville; Margaret Clark to Burkville; Marjorie Robertson and Edna Harvey to Dillwyn; Mary Denny to Keysville; Rebecca Mayes to Jarrett; Mildred Meeks to Amherst; Elizabeth Trent to Appomattox; Ethel C. Burgess to Fork Union; and Mildred Habel to Jetersville.

College Choir Holds First Social Meeting

The choir held its first social meeting last Thursday night after choir practice in its own reception room. New members of this organization were introduced to the old members and there was an atmosphere of friendliness and good will. After refreshments were served, the members enjoyed a social time in song.

REV. SMITH LEADS CHAPEL WEDNESDAY

Continued from page one

el was the first thirteen verses of the twenty-fifth chapter of Matthew. By the use of his own illustrations he presented the parable of the ten virgins in a clear and direct way. He showed the ten virgins as they went to meet the bridegroom, and the five unwise maidens begging oil from those who were more wise. The sadness and pleading for entrance at the closed door by the maidens were demonstrated by Mr. Smith who regarded this as the most pathetic scene.

Mr. Smith continued his talk with verbal illustrations from life today, which showed that those who reach the highest peaks of material achievement in this world are not satisfied, but to those who reach spiritual heights comes peace. It is harder to live life as it should be than to give one's life for a just cause.

Y. W. C. A. Notes

Here Come the British!

"Sing" Saturday night went off with a bang as the British invaded our midst. Dot Justice announced their coming with the popular song, "Here Come the British.'" As the curtains opened the audience saw Meg Herndon, the school ma'am, instructing the class in history. Members of the class become so enthusiastic that they patted their feet and even stood up and sang. Ere long Paul Revere with his proverbial cape waving in the breeze and his broom stick mount, dashed through the room. No far behind him was George Washington all posed to cross the Delaware but of course there was no boat, and George just walked through the room. A short person walking silently and wearing a three-cornered hat represented Napoleon. As in all schools, the novelty of studying had worn off in this class. Bonnie Lane and Gay Stieffen representing Hampden - Sydney freshmen appeared, and with that, the class went into an uproar, screaming at intervals, "Here Come the Freshmen."

Prayers

Y. W. Cabinet members are leading Prayers this week. Katharine Walton vice-president spoke Monday night on Loyalty. Tuesday Martha Glen Davis, secretary, led. Carmen Clark, treasurer, will speak at prayers tonight and Winnie Frances Eubank, chairman of the Church Cooperative Committee, will lead tomorrow night.

The prayer services have been well attended this year.

Open Cabinet Meeting

Reports from the treasurer and committee chairmen comprised the business of the Y. W. C. A. open cabinet meeting Wednesday, October 3.

Agnes Crockett led the devotionals and Helen Smith, president, welcomed freshmen and visitors to the meeting. The social committee of the Y. W. C. A. served refreshments.

Miss Foster, Mr. Coyner, and Mr. French were the faculty members present.

Y. W. C. A. Entertains at Longwood Picnic

The cabin at Longwood will be the scene of a merry gathering Thursday evening, Oct. 11, when the Y. W. C. A. cabinet will entertain their faculty advisers and committee members. This group will include 12 faculty members and more than a hundred students.

It will be the first time for many years that all chairmen, advisers, and committee members have had their fall social together. Helen Smith, president of the Y. W. C. A. says she hopes this joint social will bring the entire Y. W. C. A. into a closer relationship as a working unit.

'36 and '38 Classes Will Meet Tonight In Informal Party

The juniors will entertain the freshmen at an informal party in the "Rec" at ten o'clock tonight, October 10. Approximately two hundred-fifty freshmen and juniors are expected to attend this informal meeting of these two classes.

Tempting refreshments have been planned by the committee in charge, headed by Sue Waldo.

'Spices of 1934' Staged at National Friday

The new "Spices of 1934", Broadway's ace musical comedy revue, comes to the stage of the National, Richmond, Friday, October 12, with a cast of 52 Broadway stars and 24 mammoth scenes presented on a giant double stage and marks the opening of the fall season for this theatre's greater stage and screen shows.

An an added attraction with the showing of "Spices of 1934" patrons will get a close-up vie wof Europe's latest novelty—The Girl in the Goldfish Bowl.

Mr. Smith will preach at Hampden-Sydney in the College Church each night this week at 7:30 under the auspices of the Students' Christian Association.

Pan-Hell Sponsors First H. S. Dances

Hal Thurston's Orchestra Plays; Many Girls Attend

The Pan-Hellenic Association of Hampden-Sydney sponsored the opening dances of the year at the Comity Club on Oct. 5 and 6th. An eleven-piece Carolina band under the direction of Hal Thurston furnished appropriate music for the dances. The S. T. C. girls and their escorts who enjoyed the hops were:

Mary Arthur — Clarence Thompson.
Virginia Bean—Roaker White.
Mary Bowles—Billy Blandford.
Frances Britton—Jimmy Baskerville.
Kitty Chappell—Watkins Morton.
Helen Conquest — Jack Bowman.
Margaret Dortch—Jack Long.
Louise Floyd—Max Whitlock.
Jennie Belle Gilliam — Red Wiesiger.
Emie Belle Grey—"Teet" Holden.
Virginia Hall—John Kenyon.
Elizabeth Harvis—Arley Hayman.
Kathryn Harvey—Frank Johns.
Zell Hopkins—Tay Jones.
Mary Hubard—William Hapstetter.
Ruth Hubard — Taylor Williams.
Anne Irving—Greene Lawson.
Eugenia Jolly—Jarmon Hunter.
Dorothy Justice—Tom Noble.
Rachel Joyner—Carley Watson.
Kathleen McCann—Bill Hayword.
Jean McClure—Mosley Phlegen.
Ruth Montgomery—Gus Mayes.
Carter Belle Munt — Bene Dortch.
Zilla Newsom—"Junnie" Blake.
Page Nottingham — Charles Lemon.
Frances Lee Parker — Vernon Spratley.
Sally Perrow—Courtney Adams.
Isabel Plummer—Freddie Robertson.
Lucy Potter—R. T. Bowen.
Dot Price—Woodrow Wilkerson.
Rose Puller—Henry Snead.
Frances Robinson—Verne Ferguson.
Dot Robinson—Edward Payne.
Bebe Russell—Dwight Rivers.
Dot Rust—Walter Young.
Henrietta Salsbury—Norment Custis.
Martha Stine—Jim Elder.
Nan Seward—John Boyd.
Helen Shawen—Bill Price.
Minnie Smith—Frances Organ.
Ellen Simmerman — Rudy Young.
Kathryn Switzer — Randolph Gardner.
Frances Tilman—O. B. Watson.
Virginia Tilman—Joe Hassett.
Mary Lynn Thomas — Henry Mosby.
Frances Woodhouse — Dick Lewis.
Marion Umberger — Henry Reed.
"Kat" Young—T. C. Wilkerson.
Alice Zeigler—Billy Crawford.
Mary H. Vaughan—Don Bagwell.

WILLIS The Florist
Flowers for all occastons
PHONES 181-273

Conoco Gas and Oil
Fill up at
Johns Motor Co.
Farmville, Va.

Martin the Jeweler
Gifts of
Lasting Remembrance
317 Main St. Farmville

Calendar

Wednesday

5 p. m.—Y. W. C. A. Cabinet.
7 p. m.—Rotunda Staff.

Thursday

4:15 p. m. — Artist Dance Group
7 p. m.—Kappa Delta Pi
8 p. m.—Beta Pi Theta.
10 p. m.—Pan Hellenic Association.

Friday

7 p. m.—Debate Club.

Monday

7 p. m.—Virginia Staff.
7 p. m.—A. A. Council.
10 p. m.—House Council.

Tuesday

8:30 p. m.—Pi Gamma Mu.
10 p. m.—Student Council.

Gumboil—I see the newspapers are speaking about me again this morning.

Coleslaw—Is that so? In what connection?

Gumboil—An article says there are now 130,000,000 people in the United States, and I'm one of 'em, ain't I?"

Fanny Bosworth — Ben Franklin.
Leslie Bradshaw—Pernell Baird.
Kathryn Fitzgerald — Howard Bolling.
Lizabeth Glass—Noel Fallwell.
Annie Watson Holden—Jimmy Price.
Frances Jamerson — Odis Thornhill.
Evelyn Knaub—Barlie Betts.
Amis Montgomery — W. D. Temple.

C. E. Chappell Co.
Stationery, Blank Books and School Supplies
Cigars, Cigarettes and Soda
Farmville, Virginia

Rice's Shoe Store
Street and Dress Shoes
Dancing Slippers Dyed
Correct fits our specialty 1t

Kleanwell
CLEANERS AND TAILORS
Expert cleaning, repairing and remodeling ladies garments
Main Street, opposite Post office
Phone 98

S. A. Legus
TAILOR
CLEANING
PRESSING
REPAIRING
Phone 203

Overton-Mottley Hdwe. Co.
ELECTRIC GOODS!
Tennis Rackets and balls
Roller Skates

Southside Drug Store
(On the Corner)
Films Developed FREE
If bought at this store

Gray's Drug Store
QUALITY—PRICE—SERVICE
Come in and Get Acquainted
We are glad to have you with us!
Farmville, Virginia

Mack's
BARBER AND BEAUTY SHOP
323 Main Street
We use the Frederick Method
Hair cutting and thinning a Specialty

PRINTING . . . . .
When you think of Printing think of
—The—
FARMVILLE HERALD

YOU CAN SAVE ON YOUR PURCHASES AT THE HUB DEPARTMENT STORE
Good looking oxfords for sport wear; snappy ties and pupms in high or low heels for dress wear in two price groups—$2.95 and $3.95.
Now showing—new punjab—large check material, several coolrs. Special 25c yard.
THE HUB DEPARTMENT STORE
Farmville's Best Place to Shop!

GO TO . . . . .
GILLIAM'S
—FOR—
EVERYTHING—SCHOOL SUPPLIES, CANDIES, FRUITS, CONFECTIONS, ETC.
Open 'till 9:00 p. m.

WELCOME S. T. C. STUDENTS
We invite you to visit our store.
CORRECT CLOTHES FOR STUDENTS
Farmville's Largest Department Store
DAVIDSON'S

ARE YOU INTERESTED?
JACKETS of Grain and Suede Cloth and Wool SWEATERS.
We are showing the season's newest. Come in. We are glad to show—Just what we have—and the line is very attractive.
VERSER'S

PHILCO RADIO
World's largest manufacturers of Radio
A complete line
Watch repairing a specialty
Sheet Music—Strings for Instruments
LYNN, The Main Street Jeweler

YOUR NEIGHBOR,
The Weyanoke Beauty Salon
invites you to drop in and take advantage of their Special prices now in effect.
Permanent Waves $4 & $6 Shampoo & Fingerwave 75 cents
Manicure 40 cents
Individual, courteous, efficient service and an established reputation for dependability and satisfaction. That is our guarantee, and your assurance of perfect workmanship.

Sporting Whirl

By L. SANFORD

We notice a lot of quality in one hockey players, but a check on quality reveals quite a number of vacancies in the various class teams. Tac Waters has caught the spirit and is fast becoming a star player: What she needs more is a bit of competition.

Two practices a week are required to make the hockey squad. After this week there will be no making up of back practices.

Basketball practices have been taken up largely with technique work. Regular playing practices are beginning now.

Freshman and sophomores have a good representation both in numbers and ability. Upperclassmen, there's work to be done if these games are to be taken.

Anyone wishing to sign up for tennis must do so before Friday, Oct. 12th.

CALENDAR

CALENDAR FOR YEAR

Monday

A. A.—Every Monday at 7:30 p. m.

Virginian—Every Monday at 7 p. m.

Alpha Kappa Gamma — 2nd and 4th Mondays at 8 p. m.

House Council—1st and 3rd Mondays at 10 p. m.

Tuesday

Gamma Psi — 1st and 3rd Tuesdays at 7:30 p. m.

Pi Gamma Mu—Every Tuesday at 7:30 p. m.

Alpha Phi Sigma—2nd and 4th Tuesdays at 7:30.

Student Government—Every Tuesday at 10 p. m.

Wednesday

Y. W. C. A. cabinet—Every Wednesday at 5 p. m.

Rotunda staff — Every Wednesday at 7 p. m.

Dramatic Club—1st and 3rd Wednesdays at 7:15 p. m.

Pi Kappa Delta—3rd Wednesdays at 8:30 p. m.

Thursday

Artists Dance Group—Every Thursday at 4:15 p. m.

Students Standards Committee—1st Thursdays at 5 p. m.

Kappa Delta Pi—2nd and 4th Thursdays at 7:00 p. m.

Association of Childhood Education—3rd Thursdays at 7 p. m.

Beta Pi Theta—2nd and 4th Thursdays at 8 p. m.

Pan-Hellenic Council — 2nd Thursday at 10 p. m.

Friday

Monogram Club—1st and 3rd Fridays at 7 p. m.

Debate Club—2nd and 4th Fridays at 7 p. m.

Sigma Pi Rho—1st Fridays at 8 p. m.

Radio Highlights October 10-13

Wednesday Evening

6:30 WJZ, Three X sisters, songs.
7:45 — WABC, Booke Carter, commentator.
8:30 WJZ, Lanny Ross, tenor.
9:00 WABC, Nino Martini, tenor.
9:30 —WABC, George Burns and Gracie Allen.
10:00 WEAF, Lombardo Land.
12:00 WEAF, Dance Music.

Thursday Evening

8:00 WEAF, Vallee's orchestra.
8:00 WABC, Easy Aces.
9:00 — WEAF, Cap. Henry's Show Boat.
9:30 WABC, Waring's Orchestra.
11:00 WABC, Vera Van, songs.
11:30 WEAF, Formal opening of the Rainbow Room, RCA Building.

Friday Evening

8:30 WEAF, Burdon Orchestra, dessert Dragonette, Soprano.
8:15 WABC, Edwin C. Hill, commentator.
9:30 WJZ, Phil Baker, comedian.
10:30 WABC, Kate Smith, songs.

Saturday Evening

6:00 WOR Dance Orchestra.
6:45 WEAF, Football scores.
7:45 WJZ, Pickens Sisters, songs.
8:30 WJZ, Jamboree Musicale.
11:00 WEAF, Lombardo orchestra.
12:00 WTAM, Olsen Orchestra.
12:00 WABC, Dance Music until 2.

Football Scores

W. and L. 7—Maryland 0.
W. and M. 20—Em. & Henry 8.
Florida 20—V. P. I. 13.
Elon 7—Langley 0.
St. Johns 6—Randolph-Macon 0.
Roanoke 39—Guilford 0.
Georgia 7—Furman 2.
Tenn. 19—N. Carolina 7.
Duke 20—Clemson 6.
S. Carolina 22—V. M. I. 6.
Tulane 13—Auburn 0.
Centre 47—Morehead 0.
Carson Newman 12 — Milligan 0.
Richmond 6—Cornell 0.
Lehigh 52—Haverford 7.
Penn. State 13—Lebanon 0.
Princeton 75—Amherst 0.
Army 41—Davidson 0.

A senior stood on the railroad track,
The train was coming fast,
The train got off the railroad track,
To let the senior pass.
The Breeze

PRIVILEGES AND HONOR GIVEN TO JUNIORS

Continued from page one

Doris C. Moore, Margaret B. Pollard, Louise Walmsley, Elizabeth J. Walton.

COLLEGE MUSICIANS ORGANIZE TALENT

Continued from page one

be impossible to have the entire orchestra.

With a membership larger then it has had for many years, the College Orchestra plans a full and profitable year.

NEW HOUSE COUNCIL INSTALLED TUESDAY

Continued from page one

and pledged her best efforts as president of the House Council.

CLASS ROOMS TO BE OPEN FOR STUDENT CONVENIENCE

Continued from page one

and Doris Moore will each be in charge of a room. It is asked that no other classrooms in the building, with the exceptions of these listed, be used for study at night. The study hour will not be supervised.

John R. Hutcheson, director of the agricultural extension division of V. P. I., has recently had his life published in the "Who's Who In America" in the new 1934-35 edition. Hats off to our Virginia friend!

You Would Love to Have Your Shoes Fixed at

Lovelace Shoe Shop
110 Third Street

SUPPERS AND
SMALL PARTIES
Good Breakfast
Dinners
Suppers
College Tea Room
and
LONGWOOD

New Students Sign Honor Code-To Be Citizens of College

Orientation Classes to End This Week

Freshmen and new students will sign the honor code either the latter part of this week or the first of next week. They will take an examination on the college handbook this evening when they meet orientation classes for the last time.

A student at S. T. C. does not become a full-fledged college citizen until she has taken the standard examination on the handbook and signed the honor code in the presence of an officer of the student government. When one signs the honor code she gives a sacred and binding pledge which is not merely a matter of form.

Louise Hyde, chairman of orientation classes, and her assistants have been conducting the classes every Monday, Wednesday, and Friday evening from 7 to 7:30 o'clock since September 24. The purpose of these classes is to acquaint the freshmen and new students with rules and regulations of the college.

The orientation course was supposed to have extended over a period of two weeks. This year the examination was originally scheduled for Friday, October 5. However, at the first class meeting, the instructors merely called the roll and dismissed the students. Then, on account of the Lyceum number last week, the classes could not meet one evening. Thus, the examination and signing of the honor code have run over into this week.

Washington and Lee will have a band of over thirty pieces during the present football season. Dr. Leon P. Smith has accepted the position as director of the group since the resignation of Dr. Shelley. Ed Eaton holds reign as student manager of the musicians who will make their first appearance at the Maryland game.

William Heylizer, noted author and ace writer of the American Boy Magazine, recently sought story material at W. & L. stating that he went down there to "brush up on his football knowledge." He seemed positive that there was no better school from which to get such material. How about it?

Shannon's
Is Headquarters for the Best
SANDWICHES
—and—
DRINKS
in Farmville!

Farmville Mfg. Co.
BUILDING MATERIALS
MILLWORK
Farmville, Va.

Special orders for
Teas and Parties
Try our doughnuts
Foley's Bakery
Third Street

EACO
THEATRE
Mats. 4 p. m.; Nights 8 p. m.
Adults 25c; Children 15c
Unless otherwise noted

Thursday and Friday Oct. 11 & 12
Janet Gaynor
Lew Ayres
in Servants Entrance
Adults 25c & 35c

Sat., Octo. 13 News
Sidney Fox
Polly Moran
"Down to Their Last Yacht"
A Musical Sensation

Next Mon. & Tues. Oct. 14 & 15
Harold Lloyd
Una Merkel
in
"The Cat's Paw"
Best picture Lloyd ever made
Adults 25c & 35c

Next Wed., Oct. 17
Pat Patterson
Nils Asther
in
"LOVE TIME"
Silly Symphony Cartoon
BILL ROBINSON
The Tap Dance King
in "King for a Day"

ROOM FURNISHINGS
SCHOOL SUPPLIES
CANDIES
ROSES
5-10-25c Store
FARMVILLE, VA.

POTTED MEATS
SANDWICH SPREAD
SANDWICH ROLLS
HOT DOGS
Everything for the Picnic
W. R. Drumeller
Main Street Farmville

Electric Shoe Shop
Will Fix Your Shoes
While You Wait
BEST WORKMANSHIP
AND LEATHER USED

The Fashion Shoppe
Reflects the newest styles. All dresses $2.95 up
COATS, SUITS, DRESSES, UNDERWEAR
Silk Hose
Fine quality ..... 49c 59c and 69c

G. F. Butcher
High Street
"The Convenient Store"
FOR GOOD THINGS
TO EAT AND DRINK

Buy Your
C A N D Y
To Sell at
H. T. Stokes & Co.

ATTENTION GIRLS!
Dorothy May Stores offer as a special this week for S. T. C. girls only—Vivanette French chiffon hose for 69c a pair!
Gorgeous ne wdresses in sport, afternoon and evening wear —$5.45 and $7.45.
Skirts and sweaters—$1.97.
COME DOWN AND LET'S GET ACQUAINTED!
DOROTHY MAY STORES
FARMVILLE, VA.

STATE CLEANING CO.
Third Street
NEXT TO BAKERY
TWO DAY SERVICE—Satisfaction Guaranteed
Ladies Dresses, plain, cleaned and pressed 50c
Ladies Dresses, pressed only 35c
Ladies Coats, plain, cleaned and pressed 50c
ALL OTHER CLEANING AT REDUCED RATES
1t

Chiffon
the powder that has no shine!
Many times it isn't your face but the POWDER you use that gives you that shiny look. Many powders contain a shiny substance that catches the highlights on nose and forehead. But Primrose House CHIFFON is made by a special process that removes every particle of shine. It is so fine in texture that it actually looks as if it were a part of your skin — yet it clings for hours without caking or clogging the pores.
Eight lovely shades — in $3.00 and $1.00 boxes.
primrose house
BALDWIN'S
FARMVILLE, VIRGINIA

CIRCUS IS POSTPONED

The Rotunda

We Teach To Teach

"RAT WEEK" BEGINS MONDAY

Volume XV. Farmville, Virginia, October 17, 1934 No. 4

Modernly Made Indoor Pool Opens At S. T. C. Oct. 16

Ready for Classes and Recreational Swimming

The new swimming pool, that project which provided work for twenty-four men for five months, is fully completed and on Tuesday, Oct. 15, was opened for use.

$40,000 was appropriated this college by the Federal Emergency Administration of Public Works in Washington for use in constructing the pool. Fry and Stone, Roanoke Architects, were in charge of the plans. The building which houses the pool is attached to the rear door of the gymnasium. It is 50 by 108 feet and the pool is 35 by 70 feet. It is of varying depth with a spoon bottom. The chlorinating and circulating devices are of the latest type.

Louise Walmsley has been appointed assistant instructor of swimming. Lelia Sanford and Margaret Farrar are life savers, and Meg Herndon and Crenshaw Jones are substitute life savers.

The recreational period, when the pool is open to all students, is from 4:00 to 5:30 p. m. every Monday, Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday. This time is divided into half hour periods. On Tuesday afternoons there is a beginner's swimming class at 5:00. Tank suits are required.

This pool is said to be one of the most modern and best equipped in Virginia. As Dr. Jarman remarked in chapel Tuesday, "There's nothing to say except that the pool is beautiful."

Social Sororities Bid Seven Upperclassmen

Girls who have accepted bids to the following sorities are:

Sigma Sigma Sigma

Frances Hudgins, Farmville, Va.

Alpha Sigma Alpha

Dorothy Justis, Exmore, Va.

Zeta Tau

Margaret Bailey, Clarksville, Va.; Marjorie Booten, Luray, Va.; Gay Stieffen, Newport News, Va.

Mu Omega

Martha Hamlet, Phoenix, Va.; Frances MacDaniel, Hampton.

Youth Conference Discusses Problems

Miss Stubbs, Tac Waters, Nell Oakey Ryan, Grace Eubank and Florine Sanford represented S. T. C. at a meeting of the State Rural Youth movement at Richmond Friday and Saturday. The meeting, conducted by Mr. Hummell of V. P. I., convened at Murphy's Hotel Friday afternoon.

The program consisted of six round table discussions and reports of recommendations made by the various groups taking part. The subjects discussed were: Public Welfare, The home and family civic government and citizenship; Religions and Ethics; Culture and Recreation; Rural Government. All of these topics were discussed in regard to youth's relationship to them. The fact that youth of today is generally misunderstood was emphasized by the groups.

The meeting was informed and individuals were responsive to the questions before them.

Among these attending were representatives from Southern, Radford S. T. C., University of Virginia, V. P. I., and William and Mary Extension, Richmond.

Miss Stubbs had charge of the discussion on civic improvements.

MISS GRACE MORAN

Senior Class man to be presented October 27.

Peace and Freedom Discussed at Hollins

The outlook for peace, in view of threatening menaces, was the theme of the discussions conducted by the Women's International League for Peace and Freedom at its regional conference at Hollins College on Oct. 12 to 14.

Student delegates from ten colleges, together with unofficial visitors from several more, attended the lectures and participated in the round table discussions conducted by the W. I. L.

The personnel of the group was enriched by speakers just returned from foreign fields of action. Their contributions of first hand information on the peace problems of the various countries were vital.

Dr. Russell, of the faculty of

Continued page 4, col. 1

Debate Club Meets Friday for Initiation

Thirteen new members were initiated into the Debate Club at a meeting Friday night. An interesting program which included a reading on "The Fundamentals of Speaking Effectively" and a speech on "Coeducation" followed the initiation.

The subject for debate at the next club meeting is: "Resolved That the International Shipment of War Munitions Should Be Prohibited."

Sorority Averages Given For Spring Quarter

The scholastic averages of the social sororities for the spring quarter of 1934 are as follows:

Zeta Tau: 2.000.
Alpha Sigma Alpha: 1.766.
Mu Omega: 1.630.
Sigma Sigma Sigma: 1.627.
Pi Kappa Sigma: 1.489.
Gamma Theta: 1.458.

Educators Order New Holton-Wynne Book

Orders for a hundred copies have been received for the new book by Dr. Wynne and Mr. Holton.

Since the educators of our country are trying to bring a new method of teaching—namely the unit method—before the members of the educational system, Dr. Wynne and Mr. Holton together have written a book for this purpose called "Source Materials on Learning-Teaching Unit.'

The book contains one hundred seventy-five pages that explain the methods by which the unit arose and how it may be used. It is a companion volume to "Learning-Teaching Unit" by Dr. Wynne, a book which was published in 1933.

National Education Week Is Observed November 5 to 11

Dr. Wynne Appoints Student Committee for Occasion

Beginning Monday, Nov. 5, and closing Sunday, November 11, the fourteenth annual American Education Week will be observed. Sponsors of American Education Week are the American Legion, The United States Bureau of Education, and the National Educational Association. Several other organizations observe the week independently.

The purpose of the observance this year is to give the public an opportunity to participate in selecting educational objectives and in appraising the work of the schools. The observance will include a study of the social and economic goals toward which our nation is moving.

Monday, November 5, will be devoted to the topic Planning for Tomorrow. Programs of Tuesday, November 6, will be devoted to the adjustment of educational opportunity to present day needs. Other topics of the week will include discussions of rural education, school finance, education for good citizenship, preparation of tomorrows citizens, and enrichment of character through education.

Dr. J. P. Wynne, head of the department of education, has appointed the following committee for education week: Anne Putney, Jestine Cutshall, and Elizabeth Vassar.

Circus Postponed

Due to a conflicting schedule of events the week-end of October 21, the anual S. T. C. Circus sponsored by Alpha Kappa Gamma, has been postponed to November 10, Sara Beck, chairman, announced last night.

V. I. P. A. Convenes At V. P. I. Oct. 26

Rotunda, Virginian, and Council Send Delegates

East Radford State Teachers College and the Virginia Polytechnic Institute will be hosts and hostesses for the eighth annual convention of the Virginia Intercollegiate Press Association on Oct. 26 and 27. The Rotunda and Virginia Staffs will send six delegates to the convention and Jestine Cutshall will represent the student body.

The V. I. P. A. has a new class for handbooks in addition to newspapers, annuals, humorous publications, magazines, and engineering publications. Prizes will be awarded to the best publications in each class.

Evelyn Dulaney, of Farmville S. T. C., and Alexander Hudgins, of Hampden-Sydney, founded the Association in February, 1928. Doreen Smith, of Farmville, was president in 1932. The present president and secretary are Charles Gitbert Burr and Dorothy Taylor respectively.

The first session of the convention will start at 2 p. m. on Friday, Oct. 26, and the final sessions will end at 6 p. m. on Saturday, Oct. 27. The business meetings will be followed by a dinner and an informal party on Saturday night.

Language Students Report on Meetings

Last week Le Cercle Francais held its first meeting. The president, Mary Gilmer, is very enthusiastic, and wishes any girl interested in French to join the circle. The regular meetings will be held the second Monday of each month at 7:30 p. m.

Sodalitas Latina met Wednesday, Oct. 10, in the Language Room, under the leadership of Margaret Pollard, President. Everyone interested in Latin, whether or not she is studying it this year, is urged to attend the instructive programs planned by the club. It was decided that the

Continued on page 4, Col. 1

Freshmen Enter Into Spirit of Sophomore Requirements

Breathelessly, fearfuly but enthusiastically the Freshman Class on Tuesday night, Oct. 15, awaited the reading of the "rat" rules by which they will abide from Monday to Friday of next week.

These rules as approved by Miss Mary White Cox and read to the freshman class by Caroline Jones, sophomore president, are:

1. These rules must be carried out by every freshman living either in school or in town. No rules are in effect after 6 p. m. any day.

2. The general rules which must be carried out every day beginning Monday, Oct. 21, and continuing through Friday are:

1. No freshman may get mail until after chapel.

2 Freshmen must walk in single file on right hand side of side walk or halls — never two abreast.

3. Wear a red and white dress all week.

4. Address sophomores as "Miss" and answer "yes, ma'am" when spoken to by a sophomore.

5. Wear no make up the entire week.

6. Pin a placard on back not larger than ten inches with the words "I'm a Dumb Rat" thereon.

7. Talk or mumble to self all week except in classes.

8. Stand until everyone else in the dining hall is seated.

Special rules for each day in the week are that all freshmen must:

Monday:

1. Carry an alarm clock all day.

2. Plait hair in two pigtails with one red and white bow attached.

Tuesday—

1. Wear Sunday hat on head backwards and flat on head.

2. Wear red and white bow on dress.

3. Carry books in laundry bag.

Wednesday—

1. Skip slowly all day long.

2. Bow to the statue of Joan of Arc in passing it.

3. Part hair in middle, and wear one side straight and one side curly.

Thursday—

1. Make up one-half of face carefully.

2. At dinner wear an evening dress with tennis shoes and Sunday hat.

Friday—

1. Carry a picture of some boy, not a relative or a movie star so that the upper classmen may see it.

2. Paint with great care freck-

Continued on page 4, Col. 1

Honor Fraternity Initiates Seven Girls

Classes Plan Stunts For Annual Circus

'This year's circus is going to be the most clever, most original—in fact, the best we've ever had," says Sarah Beck, chairman.

The various committees have been chosen as follows: publicity, Lella Mattox; advertising, Tac Waters; tickets, Margaret Pollard; stunts, Lena MacGardner; booths, Belle Lovelace; decoration, Janice White, election of the Queen-Louise Hyde; parade, Frankie McDaniel.

Posters have already been put up. Enthusiasm is running high over the election of the circus queen. Isabel Plummer is the freshman nomine; Caroline Jones, the sophomore, Addie Norfleet, the junior, and Evelyn Knaub, the senior. These four nominees will be voted on in the near future, but no one will know who has been chosen queen until the night of the circus.

Each class has chosen its booth. The seniors have decided on the dance booth; the juniors will have charge of the coco cola and hot dog booth; the sophomores, the fish pond, and the freshmen, the Freak booth.

Each class will sponsor a big stunt. The freshman will sponsor an animal act. The sophomores will put on a tumbling exhibition. The junior and senior performance is a more hooded mystery than the crowning of the queen, for it is known that she will be crowned, but the junior and senior stunts will be a surprise to everyone.

The following girls, in addition to those announced in last week's Rotunda, have been initiated into Alpha Phi Sigma:

Ethel Daughtrey, Edith Nichols, Julia Ann Waldo, Alda Kathleen Bailey, and Levian Powell.

McCorkle Selected New Club Sponsor

Mr. T. A. McCorkle has been selected sponsor to the Portsmouth Club. Mr. McCorkle has a special interest in the club, as he worked in the navy yard in Portsmouth for several years and he also taught in the high school there.

The Portsmouth chapter of the Farmville Alumnae Association, which started the movement for a Portsmouth Club here, is planning a banquet for Nov. 16.

Miss Mary White Cox, Miss Pauline Camper, Mr. Samuel Graham, and a few members of the Portsmouth Club will be special guests at the banquet. Dr. Joseph L. Jarman will be guest speaker for the evening.

Miss Peel Gives Program Friday

Miss Alfreda Peel of Salem, with Mrs. Billy Wells as accompanist, gave a program of ballads in the Little Auditorium Friday evening, Oct. 12 at 7:30 o'clock.

After telling of some of her experiences in locating folk songs, Miss Peel sang for her audience such ballads as "Barbara Allen," "The Devil and the Nine Questions," "The Wife of Usher's Well." Miss Peel then told of some of the folklore and beliefs in witchcraft found in Virginia.

Kappa Delta Pi, which sponsored Miss Peel, gave an informal reception for her

Leaders Recognized and Received by Body

4 SENIOR, 3 JUNIOR

The Joan Circle of Alpha Kappa Gamma, National honor fraternity for leadership, has recognized as leaders and initiated as members, Belle Lovelace, Gardner, Margaret Pollard, Florence Sanford, and Tac Waters. Miss Jane Royall has been unanimously voted an active member of the circle.

This honor is bestowed on Juniors and Seniors who have shown through their work outstanding leadership in some of the phases of college life.

Belle Lovelace, a senior, has shown ability as a leader in several phases of college life. For two years she did commendable work on the Rotunda Staff. In athletics she has been outstanding, last year having been manager of basketball and this year manager of tennis. To many class activities she has contributed ingenuity and originality.

Janice White, president of Gamma Psi, chairman of the Publicity Committee of the Y. W. C. A., and art editor of the Virginian has not only shown artistic talent in these organizations but has led in class and other school activities.

Recognized as a leader not only by the seniors but by the student body, Lena Mac Gardner, is the efficient vice-president of

Continued page 4, col. 1

'Bird In Hand' Chosen S. T. C. and H.-S. Play

The S. T. C. Dramatic Club under the direction of Miss Wheeler and in collaboration with the Hampden-Sydney Jongleurs will present a three act play, "Bird in Hand" November 23, in the State Teachers College auditorium.

The story, a most amusing one, is laid in an old English Inn. John Drinkwater, the author, has produced a comedy full of dramatic situations. He portrays the inevitable conflict between the old and the younger generation.

The cast, which has not been definiately decided upon to date, will be announced later. However, rehearsals are expected to be well under way by the middle of the week.

Anne Peple Heads Freshman Class

Anne Peple, of Richmond, was elected president of the freshman class Monday night, Oct. 15. Anne took part in various activities at John Marshall High School. She was cheer leader, secretary of the junior class, president of the Archery Club, on the basketball and hockey teams, and was a member of the John Marshall Literary—Athletic Association.

Tyler Wood was elected vice-president; Carter Bell Munt, secretary; Elizabeth Harris, treasurer; and Jane Royall, classman, at a meeting of the freshman class Tuesday night. Marjorie Robertson and Helen Fern Purdue were elected representatives of the Student Council.

Aftr the elections Caroline Jones, president of the sophomore class, read the rules for the freshmen to observe during "Rat Week."

THE ROTUNDA

Member Virginia Intercollegiate Press Association

Published by students of the State Teachers College, Farmville, Virginia

Entered as second class mater March 1, 1921, at the Post Office of Farmville, Virginia, under Act of March 3, 1934

Subscription ..... $1.50 per year

MEMBER
Associated Collegiate Press
1934 Collegiate Digest 1935
MADISON WISCONSIN

Staff

Lelia Mattox ..... Editor
Evelyn Massey ..... Associate Editor

Board of Editors

Miss Jane Royall ..... Alumnae
Amis Montgomery ..... News
Florence Sanford ..... Make-up
Kathryne Cotten ..... Literary
Anne Putney ..... World News
Anne Diggs ..... Social
Margaret Farrar ..... Feature
Lelia Sanford ..... Sports

Proof Reader:
Elizabeth Walton

Managers

Lena Mac Gardner ..... Business
Alva Sawyer ..... Asst. Business
Maude Rhodes ..... Circulation
Grace Collings ..... Asst. Circulation
Lila Jacob ..... Asst. Circulation

Assistants and Reporters

Birdie Wooding, Bonnie Lane, Laeta Barham, Minnie Smith, Susan Grasham, Mary Lee Newcomb, Elsie Cabell, Bess McGlothin, Katherine Coleman, Merwyn Gathright, Kathleen Ranson

WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 17, 1934

FROM DAY TO DAY

When we enter school in September, exams seem a very long way off, and thereby grows one of the greatest mistakes of a students life. One is inclined to say "tomorrow" when time doesn't press too closely. Studying is a hard thing to keep at, yet one of the most disastrous when slighted, or neglected altogether. In the end, when school closes and awards are made, what one of us is not awed by the heights some students have reached; what one does not wonder, "how did she do it?" But yet we know the answer, the reason why we are not standing beside her. We know "she kept at it day by day and I didn't."

Learning is difficult, but there is no one in S. T. C. for whom it is impossible. There is one thing which none of us can do, and that is to go tripping gaily through the quarter, doing nothing for ourselves, or the very least of any at all, and come up smiling when reports come out.

The greatest concern of course is to the individual, but with the matter of failing in school as with the matter of failing in anything else we can't keep the burden. Consequently from falling on us, it reaches someone at home who is interested in us and anxious for us to have the finest and best in life, or we should not be here. Are we playing fair to let them down? This is a scholastic institution. Isn't it logical to suppose that the determining factor in ascertaining its standing would be the scholastic average? Does anyone student, or group of students, consider it her right to neglect doing to refuse to do that which will hold the majority from a reward for wich they have worked.

A moment's consideration on the part of each student will win the point. The justice of the correct answer will determine automatically our response. We are going to do our work from day to day and go home Christmas with pride in work well done.

FRIENDSHIP

What is a friend? Someone once said, "A friends is one who knows all about you and loves you still," and this simple quotation is the true sum and substance of the word friendship.

Life at college offers a wonderful opportunity for learning, through experience, what friendship really means in its deepest sense. One easily forms friendships that may not be lasting and yet seem at the time to be the very finest. However, at college one necessarily at some time, consciously or otherwise, finds a test for friends. The real friends are those who are able not only to overlook one's faults, but to be willing to help correct them, to remain true through the rough places, and still be loyal in victory or defeat. To be called a "true friend" is as high a compliment as can be paid.

Friendship seems one of those highly intangible and indefinite words, a rather abstract thing that is difficult to define. It is more easily felt within our hearts, and we find it hard to express verbally. It is, nevertnless, one of the finest and sweetest experiences in life. Without it life would seem empty and futile. Frances Bacon said, "Whosoever is glad of solitude is either a wild beast of a God." Human beings may exist, but cannot live in the fullest, without experiencing friendship. Friendship may be called an outlet for our finer emotions, an opening to understanding, a means to higher ideals and a richer life.

Friendship is formed "by circumstances, congruity of character, and mutual sympathy." It is priceless and is excluded from no class of people; rich or poor, peasants and kings may know and appreciate its value.

"Saying till the journey's end,
Right or wrong, she's my friend,
Hard to win and hard to lose,
That's the friendship I would choose."

IN FAVOR OF ETIQUETTE

Etiquette, regardess of changes, has always been and always will be indispensable in the lives of every gentleman and gentlewoman; consequently more thought and time should be given to those things included in etiquette than is no being done. Webster defines etiquette as "as system of conventions characteristic of good breeding." How many so-called "ladies and gentlemen" realize and heed this meaning?

One might say that the most important facts of etiquette are observed. This is true, no doubt. But it is the details upon which the more important facts are based that go undeeded. Perhaps the oversight is unintentional, merely forgotten. Even so, this cannot really excuse. One does not intentionally "cut off one's nose to spite one's face," so, why should one fall into sluggish ways in order to appear "in the mode"? It is being done, but should it be?

The very best of gentlemen and ladies, after whom we should pattern our lives, are not "modish". They are real, honest, forthright, individual, yet not freakish, and above all, they are "well bred". They observe accepted conventions in every detail without being stilted. Why cannot we follow them? For, after all, etiquette is a major factor of a well-ordered life. Let us observe it more.

SELECTED

The Big Boat you are looking at everytime you see a movie heroine departing for Europe or coming back is on the Fox lot in Hollywood. The ship is a fake, but it has six decks, a real bridge, a complete set of navigating instruments, real life-boats, etc. —Liberty.

"The Affairs of Cellini" turns out to be the old play, "The Firebrand" with everything, including the dialogue much louder and broader. If you'd like to see Frank Morgan run away with something Constance Bennett and Frederic March had expected to have all to themselves, you might see this.—New Yorker.

Currently exhibited in the United States and recommended by most all critics are: "One Night of Love," "The Barretts of Wimpole Street," "The Richest Girl in the World," "The Count of Monte Cristo," "The Last Gentleman," "Belle of the Nineties," "Our Daily Bread," and "Treasure Island."

English Debate Teams Will Tour American Schools

NEW YORK, N. Y., Oct. 15.—(NSFA).—Two English debate teams will arrive, Oct. 23 in New York, and will be entertained the next evening at a dinner given in their honor by the Young Republican Club at Town Hall in this city.

Both teams are brought here by the National Student Federation, and will each engage in about thirty debates during their six-week stay in this country. One team from Oxford will tour in the East and the other representing the English National Union of Students will debate against Mid-Western Colleges.

David W. Scholes of the London School of Economics and J. Hirschfield of University College, Debate Champion of London University in his Freshman year, will defend N. U. S. honor. Cichael Foot, President of the University Liberal Club, and John Stafford Cripps, Chairman of the University Labor Club, will represent Oxford.

Subjects chosen for discussion during the tours concern international relations and American recovery.

Review of the News

Assassinations are evidently the order of the day. The latest victim of an assassin's bullet—this time, from a sub-machine gun—was King Alexandre of Jugoslavia.

The rain of bullets descending on the party of King Alexander, paying a good will visit to his ally, France, and Foreign minister, Louise Barthou, brought about the death of at least three others besides these two. The assassin, Pirus Kaleman, was a coach, but the world is still undecided whether his act was committed against the "tyrant" because of his nationality on whether his act was committed against the tyrant because of his nationality or whether it was the result of Macedonian instigation.

Affairs have been somewhat unsettled for years in the United Kingdom of the Serbs, Croats and Slovener, and the late king had been shot at five times before the bullet on Oct. 9 caused his death. King Alexander was termed a tyrant by his subjects but was considered one of the ablest rulers in the Balkans. His demise weakens the Jugoslavian position materially.

The eleven-year-old king, Peter II, has ascended his father's throne and under the direction of three regents, will conduct the affairs of the kingdom.

France has been the loser in the past week of two of her best known and most respected statesmen—Louis Barthou and Raymond Poincare.

Poincare began his career in 1886 and remained actively in public life until 1929. He was the war-time president of France and was known as the "saviour of the franc." He has been called the "last of the few great war chiefs" and the "last of the great men" of France.

Poincare was a bosom friend of Louis Barthou whose death last week, no doubt, hastened the death of his friend.

The latest fad in strikes comes to us from Hungary, where twelve-hundred miners planned mass suicide in order to increase the payroll for their survivors.

These miners—or as many of them as are left—refuse to leave their underground tomb and remain there without light food or water. On Monday they had remained there over ninety hours with the result that around three hundred and fifty coffins were requested for the removal of the dead.

All forms of supplications to the miners to ascend to the surface have been visited. When food was sent to them it was quickly returned with the reply:

"We are determined to die. Forget about us. Goodbye to the children"!

She was only a fireman's daughter; But she rolled her own hose.—Skipper.

Papa: (At Dinner): "What part of the chicken would you like?"

Cadet (absently) :"The neck."

Alumnae News

The local chapter of Farmville Alumnae will be entertained at a tea in the lounge of the Student Building on Tuesday, Oct. 23, from 4:30 to 6:00 p. m.

Among the alumnae visiting Farmville this week-end were: Ella Carroll, Mildred Deans and Gretchen Mayo of Portsmouth; Margaret Gathright of Richmond; and Kathryn Royster of Lynchburg.

Mr. and Mrs. M. B. Sharpe of Waverly have announced the marriage of their daughter, Audrey, to Mr. George Willis Moore, Jr., of Chesterfield County. The wedding took place on Sept. 25, in the Suffolk Christian Church.

Invitations have been issued by Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Presley Thornton to the marriage of their daughter, Frances Gordon Thornton and the Rev. William Byrd Lee Milton, formerly of Richmond but now of Lancaster County. The wedding, which will be one of Northern Virginia's outstanding social events of the fall season, will take place in Old St. George's Episcopal Church, Fredericksburg, on Saturday, Oct. 27, at 8 p. m.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Noel have announced the marriage of their daughter, Lillian Noel, to Edward Hawthorne of Richmond, which took place at the home of Mrs. J. H. Wilson in Richmond on October 7.

A marriage of interest throughout Virginia and Georgia took place at Ghent Methodist Church, Norfolk, on Saturday, Octo. 6, at 5 o'clock in the afternoon when Miss Claudine Watson Richardson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Daniel Richardson, became the bride of George Milton McDowell, son of the late Dr. and Mrs. George Milton McDowell of Molena, Ga.

Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Magruder of Richmond have announced the engagement of their daughter, Alice, to Mr. Jimmie Thompson. The marriage will take place in November.

At Other Colleges

Popular Bert Lawn and "The Rhythm Girls" will furnish the music for the V. M. I. homecoming hops on Oct. 6 and 27.

The German Club is featuring Bert Lawn in its opening dances at V. P. I. this week-end, October 19 and 20. Sue Mallory of this school and George Beaman will assist Miss Thelma Walsh and J. R. Murray of Lynchburg in the figure.

At William and Mary professors are allowing students, with a scholastic average of 85 or above an unlimited number of cuts.

How very unfortunate for some of us is the fact that the V. M. I. and W. and L. finals will come at about the same time next spring. V. M. I. has moved up its closing week 1 thus causing a conflict with W. and L.'s commencement program.

A professor of psychology at Boston University has banished note-taking in his courses declaring that note-taking substitutes the hand for the head and in the end offers a very poor and incomplete reproduction of the lecture.

The "Maroons" of Roanoke College have been selected by College authorities to act as special policemen Friday when President Roosevelt comes to Salem to dedicate the Veterans' Hospital.

The students at Washington and Lee petitioned the faculty for a holiday on October 20 to attend the Washington and Lee-Princeton football game. It was made quite plain by the administration that the privilege was not to be granted.

"Say, Abraham, vot do you think of this idea of founding a New Jersualem?"

"Oh, it's foolishness, Ezekiel. Ain't ve still got New York?"
—Tiger.

Catalogue of Lovely Things

Rolling waves of the Chesapeake on a moonlight night — Marion Pond.

The glowing embers of a log fire.—Bonnie Lane.

Fluffy baby chickens — Agnes Bondurant.

The sacred silence of a temple. —Billie Rountree.

A rose garden at dusk.—Mildred Slayton.

A sleeping child-tousled head, flushed cheeks, arms outstretched. Mrs. E. B. S.

The blue in forget-me-nots.—Louise Potter.

An ancient cathedral of red bricks against a background of t all pines draped in Spanish moss —Lucile Rhodes.

The blue and purple hues of the Blue Ridge mountains of Virginia.—Nancy Beard.

A dusky ray of sun on a crisp spring morning.—Elsie Cabell.

Yellow flowers in a blue vase.—A Galusha.

Twilight shadows. — Kathleen Ranson.

The ringing of church bells.—Irene Parker.

Moonlight on snow. — Frances Yester.

Crisp lettuce and tomato salad. —Bonnie Lane.

Bird-song at dawn. — Emma Bingham.

Burnished brass by firelight.—Belle Lovelace.

An old-fashoined garden in the spring.—Virginia Acworth.

Golden tints of sunset on a winter afternoon.—Katherine Milby.

A hymn at chapel in a boy's school.—Anne Scales.

Soft rain on the roof. — Belle Lovelace.

Indian and Chinese pottery.—Irene Lacy.

The strains of "Liebestraum".—Belle Lovelace.

The rushing of water over a pit.—Mary Elizabeth Slater.

fall into a seemingless bottomless

A clear, cool night with a sky studded with stars. — Elizabeth Shipplett.

A harvest moon as it rises from behind the Blue Ridge.—Louise Briggs.

A God, we thank thee for each sight
Of beauty, that thy hand doth give;
For sunny skies, and air, and light;
O God, we thank thee that we live.

MEDICAL ECONOMICS RADIO PROGRAM

NEW YORK, N. Y., (NSFA).—Dr. C. E. A. Winslow of the Yale University School of Medicine will discuss "Uncared-for Needs" over the Columbia Broadcasting Company network Monday, Oct. 8 from 10:45 to 11 p. m., E. S. T. This talk is one of a series concerning Medical Economics being sponsored by the National Advisory Council on Radio in Education, and is recommended particularly to debate team members because of the subject as a debate topic this year.

INTERNATIONAL S. S. ANNOUNCES PROGRAM

NEW YORK, N. Y., (NSFA)—International Student Service, recently moved to new quarters at 8 West 40th Street, New York City, has published a pamphlet describing its work throughout the world. Its major projects are: aid to emigre German and working-class Austrian students, raising money to support the Highlander Folk School in Monteagle, Tenn., promoting conferences on international problems, interracial relationships, student self-help and co-operative undertakings.

FOREIGN STUDY DESCRIBED

NEW YORK, N. Y., (NSFA)—The French Line has recently published three interesting brochures concerning education in France, available upon request. One describes summer courses open to American students in that country; the second surveys generally French universities; the third describes in detail the physical characteristics of each university and its surroundings, courses offered, and mode of life.

SOCIALS

To those born to travel the week has but one time its end.

At Home

Home reigns supreme again this week-end. Among those who spent the week-nd there were: Eleanor Dunham, Lena Mac Gardner, Jestine Cutshall, Eleanor Dodson, Margaret Herndon, Virginia Payne, Elizabeth Harris, Edna R. Bolick, Ruth Montgomery, Louise Gathright, Mildred Davies, Virginia Leonard, Virginia Lee Harvey, Irene Lacy, Delha P. Chambliss, Burnley Brockenbrough, Edith Samford, Nora Jones, Ivylyn Jordan, Catherine Crews, Dorothy Robertson, Rose Somers, Lucy Baylor, Mary Elizabeth Minor, Margaret Russell, June Allen, Rebecca Carter, Eunice Tanner, Isabelle Tanner, Nannie Page Trent, Ellis Richie, Evelyn Hastings, Elva Kidd, Elizabeth Vaughan, Bobbie Mattox, Elizabeth Trent, Georgie Powell, Kitty Chappell, Frances Teass, Louise Briggs, Evelyn Holmes, Nell Boswell, Pela Read, Harriette Hudgins, Edith Hart, Bessie Hart, Katherine Hurt, Leslie Bradshaw, Jessica Jones, Henrietta Salsbury, Jane Main, Sylvia Dunnavant, Frances Collie, Blanche Lewis, Norvell Montague, Rachel Joyner, Eleanor Meredith, Margaret Jones, Rose Hunter, Lucile Akers, Merwyn Gathright, Thulia Park, Helen Smith, Martha Glenn Davis, Rose Puller, Marjorie Booth, Virginia Fisher, Kathleen Powell, Frances Maxey, Mildred Chandler, Ella Mallory, Evelyne Howell, Bobby Brooke, Alice Nelson, Mary Lee Powell, Eleanor Wade, Dudley Allen, and Ann Diggs.

To Richmond

Richmond claimed her share of S. T. C. girls for over the week-end the following girls visited there: Polly Wall, Florence Sanford, Louise Hyde, Minnie Smith, Lelia Mattox, Grace Eubank, Tac Waters, Nell Oakey Ryan, Nancy Pobst, Dorothy Glover, Kathryn Harvey, Kathryn Jamison, Susan Lane, Martha Watson, Mamie Barns, Katheryn Fitzgerald, Virginia Tissue, Mabel Aydlette, Anna Houck, Mary K. Denny, Dorothy Johnson, Catherine Smoot, Kathleen Johnson, Nellwyn Latimer, Helen Conquest, Lillian Powell, Mabel Britt, Zilla Newsom, Zell Hopkins, Dora Parker, Frances Woodhouse, and Christian Rennolds.

At Blacksburg

Phyllis Ferguson, Audrey Hawthorne, and Dorothy Morris spent the week-end at Blacksburg.

To Durham

Among those who ventured to Durham were Bess McGlothlin, Madeline McGlothlin, Elise Marshburn, Virginia Daughty, and Evelyn Howell.

Other Places Visited

Other places visited over the week-end were South Hill by Mary Lynn Thomas, and Agnes Thompson; Bedford by Patsy and Deane Saunders; Lynchburg by Martha Hamlet and Matsie Moore; South Boston by Margaret Via and Mary H. Vaugham; Sabot by Mary Louise French and Eleanor Wood; Kenbridge by Lloyd Kelly and Mary R. Haskins; Charlottesville by Margery Quarles, Margaret Carroll, Elizabeth Booth, and Copeland Johnson; Post Oak by Evelyn Massey and Frances McDaniel; Dillwyn by Marjorie Robertson, Pauline Pearson, and Edna Earl Harvey; Hollins College by Helen Boswell who attended Pi Gamma Mu convention; Brownsburg by Fanny Bosworth, Helen Harris, and Brooks Wheeler; Drakes Branch by Clara Hailey and Margaret Ferguson; Jetersville by Mildred Habel and Elizabeth Rucker; Goochland by Kathryn Ryewnn and Addie Norfleet; Chester by Eleanor Mitchell; Amherst by Josephine Kent; Halifax by Elizabeth Glass; Big Island by Frances Johnson; Meberrin by Eleanor Shackleton; Madisonville by Virginia Hooke; Aylett by Charlegne Hall; Gladys by Marion Layne; Powhatan by Blanche Lane; Scottsville by Grace Collins; Brookneal by Dorothy Price; and Fork Union by Ethel Burgess.

Some people ought to be premedics, the way they go surgeon through their classes, while others just cut 'em all.

—Purdue Exponent.

Pi Kappa Sigma Has Party at Longwood

On Tuesday afternoon Pi Kappa Sigma sorority enjoyed a picnic at Longwood. Hamburgers and marshmallows were toasted at the outdoor fireplace, and games were played in the ampitheater.

Miss Iler and Jane Royall were among those present at the picnic.

Juniors Give Party for Freshmen Wed.

A great deal of talent was discovered in the freshman class last Wednesday evening when the juniors, their sister class, entertained them from ten to eleven o'clock, in an informal party in the "Rec." The committee, headed by Sue Waldo, had a well planned porgram which consisted of performances from members of the freshman class.

After the two red and white classes had assembled in the "Rec" Caroline Byrd and Billie Rountree, the junior cheer leaders, proceded to teach the freshmen their color songs and "Onward Farmville." This song rally resulted in an enthusiastic pep meeting.

The girls seated themselves comfortably on the floor in a semi-circle to enjoy the program: Nancy Pobst and Ann Johnson sang "Sweet Sue." Mary Joyner Cox did a unique tap dance; Lucile Davis sang, "Some Body Loves You" and "Moon Glow;" as the concluding, Merle McAlister impersonated a Scotchman.

During the program punch and cookies were served.

Episcopal Students Entertained Friday

The Student Building Lounge was the scene of a merry gathering Friday, Oct. 12, when the Episcopal Church entertained its members from S. T. C. and Hampden-Sydney.

Vases of huge dahlias were used to decorate the room from which the furniture had been removed to make space for games and stunts.

Led by Hazel Smith, everyone entered into a "get-acquainted" game, after which more stunts and games were enjoyed.

Deblicious refreshments were served, following which, everyone gathered around the piano for farewell songs. The evening was enjoyed so throughly, that new and old friends took reluctant leave of each other.

Y. W. C. A. Holds Picnic at Longwood

The Y. W. C. A. Cabinet, committees, and Advisory Board enjoyed a short retreat at Longwood Thursday afternoon. Everyone present wore the badge of the Committee of which they represented. Margaret Herndon and her Social Committee led in the partificpation of some clever games and contests. Supper was served, buffet style, around the open fire place. After supper everyone joined in the singing of the old favorite ending with "Follow The Gleam." Transportation back was furnished by the school truck loaded with hay and a crowd of happy girls. This social get together of the whole Y. W. C. A. was such a success that it was decided to make it an annual event.

Students View Annual Proofs With Mingled Emotions

Commotion had full charge Monday evening when S. T. C. teachers-to-be dashed with bated breath to receive in trembling, loving hands the paper productions of their features. Some were disappointed that their likenesses were not so pretty as they had expected; the camera had been too exacting. They took consolation in the fact that there was an encouraging little note stamped on these proofs reminding them that art could do much towards making the real picture more like the young ladies thought they should be.

Then there started that age-old convention of exclaiming over the naturalness of the other persons' pictures. The institution of polite society demands that people make flattering remarks to each other about what a splendid picture they take or how the camera has failed to catch the radiating personality of the subject.

A great question arose in the minds of some—which one to choose? Had there been only the consideration of choice for the "Virginian", this task might not have been so difficult. There is, however, always more than one thing to think about. Some of these shy young ladies didn't say so to their associates but they were having a small brainstorm trying to figure out which one Tom, Dick, or Harry, would prefer.

Peace and quiet settled again over our once tumultuous halls. Choices were made. The girls went back to their work and play to ponder now the fast-made decisions. In the minds of many there yet remains a doubt of their judgment of the annual picture proof.

Sunday School Class Plans Picinc Supper

Dr. Walmsley's Sunday School class will hold a picnic at Lithia Springs Friday, Oct. 19. There are fifty-one girls in the class, and everyone is requested to share in this afternoon of pleasure. Audrey Mattox is at the head of the entertainment committee.

Dr. Walmsley's Sunday School class is composed of girls from S. T. C. The class meets every Sunday at 9:45 a. m. in Mr. Stricks' Music room.

New Girls Sign the Honor Code

The signing of the honor code by the new girls in school, on Monday and Tuesday nights, October 15 and 16, was a most impressive ceremony. The new girls, dressed in white, came to the little auditorium. They filed from there in groups of four to the Council room where each one signed the code in the presence of the Student Government Representatives. The signers of the code then left their pledges on the table and took the code with them to their rooms.

Pledging themselves as loyal supporters of the honor code was the final step in the orentation of the freshmen and of the students here who were transferred from other schools.

$175,000 ALPHA DELTA PHI HOUSE VACATED

NEW HAVEN, Conn., (NSFA).—Because of a new ruling of Yale University under which members of the three upper classes must pay a minimum of $5.50 per week at their residence dining halls, Alpha Delta Phi has decided that without restaurant patronage it will be impossible to considering returning their charmaintain the expensive Yale chapter and local members are ter to the national organization.

Conoco Gas and Oil

Fill up at

Johns Motor Co.

Farmville, Va.

Martin the Jeweler

Gifts of

Lasting Remembrance

317 Main St. Farmville

CALENDAR

Wednesday

Rotunda Staff: 7:00—7:30.
Dramatic Club, 7:15.
Pi Kappa Delta, 8:30—9:30.

Thursday

Artist Dance Group, 4:15.
Am. Ch. Ed. 7:00.

Friday

Monogram 7:15.

Monday

Virginian Staff—7:00.
A. A. Council—7:00.
House Council—10:00.

Tuesday

Gamma Psi—7:30.
Alpha Phi Sigma—7:30.
Pi Gamma Mu—8:30.
Student Council—10:00.

Beehave!

There was a great lover of bees,
He was their greatest friend.
He sat upon their hives each day
But they stung him in the end.
—The White Topper.

"Waiter, come quick there's a nasty word in my alphabet songs."

Powdy

Hickory—Dickery—Dock,
Two mice ran up the clock.
The clock struck one
The other got away.

C. E. Chappell Co.

Stationery, Blank Books and School Supplies
Cigars, Cigarettes and Soda
Farmville, Virginia

Rice's Shoe Store

Street and Dress Shoes
Dancing Slippers Dyed
Correct fits our specialty 1t

Kleanwell

CLEANERS AND TAILORS
Expert cleaning, repairing and remodeling ladies garments
Main Street, opposite Post office
Phone 98

S. A. Legus

TAILOR
CLEANING
PRESSING
REPAIRING
Phone 203

Overton-Mottley Hdwe. Co.

ELECTRIC GOODS!
Tennis Rackets and balls
Roller Skates

Southside Drug Store

(On the Corner)

Films Developed FREE

If bought at this store

Gray's Drug Store

QUALITY—PRICE—SERVICE
Come in and Get Acquainted
We are glad to have you with us!
Farmville, Virginia

Mack's

BARBER AND BEAUTY SHOP
323 Main Street
We use the Frederick Method
Hair cutting and thinning a Specialty

PRINTING . . . . .

When you think of Printing think of

—The—
FARMVILLE HERALD

YOU CAN SAVE ON YOUR PURCHASES AT THE HUB DEPARTMENT STORE

Good looking oxfords for sport wear; snappy ties and pupms in high or low heels for dress wear in two price groups—$2.95 and $3.95.

Now showing—new punjab—large check material, several coolrs. Special 25c yard.

THE HUB DEPARTMENT STORE

Farmville's Best Place to Shop!

GO TO . . . . .

GILLIAM'S

—FOR—

EVERYTHING—SCHOOL SUPPLIES, CANDIES, FRUITS, CONFECTIONS, ETC.

Open 'till 9:00 p. m.

WELCOME S. T. C. STUDENTS

We invite you to visit our store,

CORRECT CLOTHES FOR STUDENTS

Farmville's Largest Department Store

DAVIDSON'S

ARE YOU INTERESTED?

JACKETS of Grain and Suede Cloth and Wool SWEATERS.

We are showing the season's newest. Come in. We are glad to show—Just what we have—and the line is very attractive.

VERSER'S

PHILCO RADIO

World's largest manufacturers of Radio

A complete line

Watch repairing a specialty

Sheet Music—Strings for Instruments

LYNN, The Main Street Jeweler

YOUR NEIGHBOR.

The Weyanoke Beauty Salon

invites you to drop in and take advantage of their Special prices now in effect.

Permanent Waves $4 & $6 Shampoo & Fingerwave 75 cents

Manicure 40 cents

Indivdual, courteous, efficient service and an established reputation for dependability and satisfaction. That is our guarantee, and your assurance of perfect workmanship.

Sporting Whirl

By L. SANFORD

That much asked question, "When will the pool be open?" has had its run. Tuesday morning at 11 o'clock the beginners class in swimming made first use of S. T. C.'s pool. The class was divided into two groups, one of girls who do not swim and another of girls who swim but who wish to improve their form.

This afternoon at four o'clock the pool was open for the first recreational swimming period. A chart is being made containing a list of events to be passed off by anyone desiring to do so. The names of the girls will be listed according to class nd credit given when the test has been passed with the approval of a life guard.

Later on in the year, perhaps in the winter quarter, life saving will be offered. Announcements will be made later as to time of and qualifications for the class.

Things are really beginning to look business like on the hockey field now. The number of girls coming out has increased. So far the Junior class has been the only one to elect a class captain. This honor went to Kathleen Ransom. The other classes will elect their captains this week. As soon as these captains are chosen the teams will be organized and will start practicing together. We'll be better able to see then just who heads the list of prospective winners for the games to be played Thanksgiving Day.

In last week's "The Sun Dial," weekly newspaper of Randolph-Macon Woman's College, there appeared an article that should be of much interest to us. Together with Lynchburg College they are taking their turn at welcoming the Virginia Field Hockey Association for their annual fall conference to be held there Friday afternoon and all day Saturday, Nov. 2 and 3. Those of us who attended the conference held at Westhampton last year look forward with anticipation to another such meeting with other colleges of the state.

All girls who have signed up for tennis this fall must play off at least one match this week. The winner of two sets out of three will be credited with the match. As is the custom the loser will put the scores on the Athletic Bulletin Board. Don't forget to look up at least one of your opponents and settle with her before the week is over.

Language Students Report on Meetings

Continued from page 1

meetings be held the second Thursday of each month at 4:30.

El Circulo Espanol will hold its first meeting, Friday, Oct. 19, at 7 p. m. Katherine Coleman, who is student teacher of the college freshman Spanish, is president this year.

The purpose of both the modern language clubs is to create and stimulate a more vital interest in the study of French and Spanish and to give the members a better opportunity to speak more freely in these languages.

Freshmen Have Spirit of Soph Requirements

Continued from page 1

les all over face with an eybrow pencil.

3. Talk baby talk all day.

As has been the custom for years, the sophomore class has charge of "rat week" when the freshman class must observe the above rules compiled by the sophomores.

Peace and Freedom Discussed at Hollins

Continued from page one

Duke University, discussed the question of fascism, and the circumstances under which it functions in Italy. Dr. Russell has traveled in Italy extensively and has kept in close touch with the sentiment of the Italian citizens under Mussolini.

Apparently of great appeal to the audience was an address made by Mrs. Olmstead, who recently returned from the Geneva Peace Conference. Mrs. Olmstead graphically depicted the delicacy of the European situation, the eternal struggle for maintenance of balance of power, and the present danger spots in Europe.

The possibilities for peace in the Latin American countries were discussed by Miss Wilhelmina Williams, who has just returned from a visit to all the South American countries.

Bringing the peace problem into our own country, Mr. Howard Kester, at the final session of the convention, told of the labor-capital war which is raging in the United States.

Honor Fraternity Initiates 7 Girls

Continued from page one

the Senior class, business manager of the Rotunda, and chairman of the May Day Committee.

Louise Hyde, "The college pianist," does not limit her interest to music alone. Besides serving as manager of the College Choir, she has taken part in Y. W. C. A. work, and as vice-president of the student council proves herself capable and influential.

Through her quiet but wide influence, Margaret Pollard, a junior, merits her many positions of honor as president of Sodalitas Latina, president of the Debate Club, president of Pi Kappa Delta, vice-president of the Dramatic Club, and a member of Alpha Phi Sigma.

Tac Waters, for two years president of the class of '36, heads that organization again this year. Outstanding not only there but in the Dramatic Club, Tac has proved her talent and ability.

Florence Sanford, another junior, has also entered several fields of activity. She has been exceptionally outstanding on The Rotunda Staff, and is this year make-up editor. On the athletic field she has proved herself to be a real sport. Besides playing on several class and varsity teams, she was selected manager of basketball this year. Florence is also chairman of the Chapel Committee and on the Social Committee of the Y. W. C. A.

Ten Commandments For the Seniors

I. Thou shalt not think in terms of privileges but in terms of opportunities.

II. Thou shalt not strive to win the respect of the underclassmen us using privileges but by gaining individual achievements.

III. Thou shalt not absent thyself from chapel.

IV. Thou alone shalt not have the privilege of being on the deans list, but shalt share this with the Junior Class.

V. Thou shalt not go down town on Sunday afternoons.

VI. Thou shalt go to Shannon's or Southside on week nights from 10-10:30, if thou wisheth.

VII. Thou shalt not have dates at Longwood.

VIII. Thou shalt not let any underclassmen date in the Senior Parlor.

IX. Thou shalt not for any reason turn off thy lights before eleven o"clock, for this is a privilege to be taken advantage of only by seniors.

X. Thou shalt not in any way, or at any time, or any place do anything that does not become the dignity of a Senior.

Strick Entertained at Birthday Party

The Choral Club surprised Mr. A. H. Strick with a birthday party in the Choral Club room Wednesday, October 11, at 8:30 p. m.

Everyone sang songs and took part in the contest, the winner of which received a Choral Club pin.

Mr. Strick played for the club several favorite musical selections, and thanked the members for the many gifts he received at the party.

Honor Code

The freshmen, having signed the Honor Code, are now recognized members of the Student Government Association. Tomorrow night they will be recognized as members of the Y. W. C. A.

During the last few weeks, while orientation classes were being conducted, members of the membership committee of the Y. W. C. A. have visited every freshman and new girl. They have not only asked each girl to sign her membership card and indicate in what Y. W. activity she is most interested, but as a preparation for this service, they have attempted to explain something of the meaning and significance of the Y. W. C. A. on campus.

This service is always one of the most beautiful and impressive of the vesper services. Each new girl is asked to be present, dressed in white. She will be given a candle as she enters the auditorium. Following devotions led by the president, who will officially welcome the girls, will be the candle-light service on the campus.

Radio Highlights

Wednesday

6:45—WJZ Lowell Thomas
7:00 WJZ—Amos 'N' Andy
8:30 WEAF—Wayne King
9:00—WEAF Nino Martini
9:30—WABC George Burns and Gracie Allen
10:00—WEAF, Lombardo
WABC—Mary Eastman

Thursday

9:15—WOR Larry Taylor, Baritone
11:15—WEAF, Little Jack Little

Friday

9:00—WEAF Lyman Orchestra.
9:30—WABC Hollywood Hotel Sketch

Saturday

2:15—WOR, Columbia vs. Navy football game.
7:45—WJX, Pickens Sisters.
8:00—WEAF, Concert orchestra.
11:00—WEAF, Lombardo
11:30—WEAF Paul Whiteman

Sophomores Free Frosh at Lynchburg College

LYNCHBURG, Oct. 15. — The sophomore class of Lynchburg College has decided to accept the suggestion of the college administration that the "rat" system be abolished at the insitution. At no time heretofore have the freshmen been totally free from rules imposed by the second year class.

Dean M. E. Sadler told the class that the system was not in accord with principles which Lynchburg College is trying to carry out and that it should be eliminated. He suggested that the class would have the honor of doing away with the system completely.

The only tradition to be retained is that the freshmen will wear the first year red caps.

Goils, and Gas:
A thing of beauty has a joy ride forever.
Skull and Bones.

EACO THEATRE

Mats. 4 p. m.; Nights 8 p. m.
Adults 25c; Children 15c
Unless otherwise noted

Thurs-Fri., Oct. 18 & 19
Mae West
Roger Pryor, John M. Brown
"Belle of the Nineties"
Adults 25c and 35c

Saturday, Oct. 20
Rosemary Ames
Pert Kelton-Victor Jory
"Pursued"
Krazy Kat and Fox News

Next Mon. Oct. 22 News
FRANCHOT TONE
Madeleine Carroll
'THE WORLD MOVES ON'

Next Tues., Oct 23
JOEL McCREA
SALLY BLANE
"Half a Sinner"
First chapter Buck Jones in "THE RED RIDER"

Next Wed., Oct. 24
"Smoking Guns"
Ken Maynard
First chapter Buck Jones in "THE RED RIDER"

Shannon's
Is Headquarters for the Best SANDWICHES —and— DRINKS in Farmville!

Farmville Mfg. Co.
BUILDING MATERIALS
MILLWORK
Farmville, Va.

Special orders for
Teas and Parties
Try our doughnuts
Foley's Bakery
Third Street

WILLIS
The Florist
Flowers for all occastons
PHONES 181-273

Cleaning at reduced rates
State Cleaning Co.
Third Street

You Would Love to Have Your Shoes Fixed at
Lovelace Shoe Shop
110 Third Street

SUPPERS AND
SMALL PARTIES
Good Breakfast
Dinners
Suppers
College Tea Room
and
LONGWOOD

ATTENTION GIRLS!
Dorothy May Stores offer as a special this week for S. T. C. girls only—Vivanette French chiffon hose for 69c a pair!
Gorgeous ne wdresses in sport, afternoon and evening wear —$5.45 and $7.45.
Skirts and sweaters—$1.97.
COME DOWN AND LET'S GET ACQUAINTED!
DOROTHY MAY STORES
FARMVILLE, VA.

ROOM FURNISHINGS
SCHOOL SUPPLIES
CANDIES
ROSES
5-10-25c Store
FARMVILLE, VA.

POTTED MEATS
SANDWICH SPREAD
SANDWICH ROLLS
HOT DOGS
Everything for the Picnic
W. R. Drumeller
Main Street Farmville

Electric Shoe Shop
Will Fix Your Shoes While You Wait
BEST WORKMANSHIP AND LEATHER USED

Buy Your
C A N D Y
To Sell at
H. T. Stokes & Co.

G. F. Butcher
High Street
"The Convenient Store"
FOR GOOD THINGS TO EAT AND DRINK

The Fashion Shoppe
Reflects the newest styles. All dresses $2.95 up
COATS, SUITS, DRESSES, UNDERWEAR
Silk Hose
Fine quality ..... 49c 59c and 69c

LET THIS BEAUTY MIRACLE TAKE PLACE IN YOUR SKIN

ONE CREAM TO BUY—
ONE CREAM TO APPLY

Something new, sensational, entirely different. Primrose House presents Delv, a new basic all-around cream for the daily care of the skin.

Based on a revolutionary new cosmetic principle Delv is different from any cream you have ever used—different in texture, different in its effect on the skin. It cleanses, nourishes and clarifies. Delv penetrates instantly, and imparts to the skin a soft, dewy freshness. Its regular daily use keeps the skin clear, young and vital. Women everywhere are enthusiastic about its cooling, stimulating effect.

Try a jar today and you will never again be without Delv.

PRIMROSE HOUSE DELV $1.00
BALDWIN'S
FARMVILLE, VIRGINIA

WORK ON THE CIRCUS

The Rotunda

We Teach To Teach

WORK ON THE CIRCUS

Volume XV. FARMVILLE, VA., OCTOBER 24, 1934 No. 5

Local Publications To Take Part In V. I. P. A. Meeting

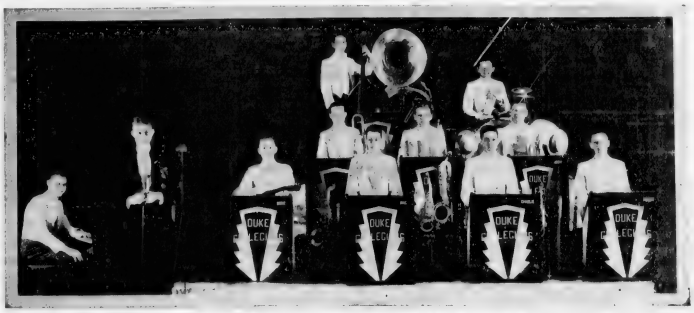
Meeting To Convene at V. P. I. in Blacksburg

Beginning Friday, Oct. 26, the annual convention of the Virginia Intercollegiate Press Association will be held through Saturday night with Radford State Teachers College and V. P. I. as joint hosts. Colleges from all over Virginia will send representatives and this year the meeting will feature a longer session, more discussion groups, and special talks by leading publication men of the state.

Some outstanding speakers of the event will be: Bruce Crawford, editor of "Crawford's Weekly" and independent candidate for Congress from the ninth Virginia district, who will speak on "The Crusades of a Country Weekly"; R. H. McNeil, editor "The College Publisher" and director of publications at V. P. I.; A. A. Luberski of Chicago, who will lead the section of editors of annuals; Russel Jones, editor of the "Montgomery News Messenger-Journal"; J. Barrie Wall, past president of the Virginia Press Association and publisher of the "Farmville Herald"; Dr. C. M. Newman, head of the departments of English and foreign languages at V. P. I.

Other speakers on the program will be: Sherwood Anderson, G. T. Baird, Beverly L. Britton, Judson Evans, Ann Hargrave, Charles M. Soroka, C. D. Hurt, C. M.

Continued on page 4, Col. 1



Short Popular Music Program to Feature Saturday Night Sing

A short program of popular musical selections by Miss Elizabeth LeGrand will be one of the features of "Sing" Saturday night.

Miss LeGrand, pianist, formerly of Roanoke, has broadcast in regular programs from both the radio stations in Richmond and Roanoke, and from WRVA in Lynchburg. She is a member of the ensemble trio of the College Orchestra and for three years has been instructing by the Don Warner method a class for beginners in learning to play popular music by note.

In her program Saturday night Miss LeGrand will play popular selections in "Lombardo" style. She will be assisted by an S. T. C. student who will announce.

TO PLAY FOR FALL COTILLION DANCE

Johnny Long and his Duke Collegians who will be here November 3.

Five Are Initiated By Sigma Pi Rho

New Members Outstanding in Other Activities

Five new Sigma Pi Rho members, Jeannette Jones, Ethel Joyner, Doris Moore, Claudine O'Brien, and Margaret Pollard, were initiated into that fraternity at the regular meeting Friday night, Oct. 19, at 7:30 o'clock. These girls have not only made high scholastic averages in Latin, but they are outstanding in other activities as well.

Jeannette Jones is a member of the organization, Le Cercle Francais, El Circulo Espanol, and is treasurer of Sodalitas Latina. Ethel Joyner is a member of Alpha Phi Sigma and Pi Gamma Mu. Doris Moore was Secretary of Sodalitas Latina last year and is now vice-president. She is also a member of Alpha Phi Sigma and Zeta Tau sorority. Claudine O'Brien is a member of Alpha Phi Sigma and Pi Gamma Mu. Claudine O'Brien is a member of Sodalitas Latina and Alpha Phi Sigma. Margaret Pollard is a member of the master's degree in Alpha Phi Sigma.

A student to be eligible to membership in Sigma Pi Rho must have a high scholastic rating in Latin and must have met all the national requirements of the fraternity.

LOST: An Epsilon Alpha fraternity pen. Finder will please return it to Kathleen Ranson.

Musical Organization Plans Sacred Recital

A sacred recital of unusual interest will be presented at the Methodist Episcopal Church, Farmville Sunday evening, October 28. The College Choir and Choral Club, under the direction of Mr. A. H. Strick, will sing selections from the "Holy City" and will also be heard in antiphonal singing of selected hymns.

Dr. Jarman will sing "The Ninety and Nine" by Campion. Mr. Strick will also play a selected Organ solo. The faculty and students are cordially invited.

Classes to Compete In Swimming Meet

Within the next three weeks Red and Green will again compare their abilities, this time in a sport new at S. T. C., swimming. Managers have been chosen from the four classes as follows: senior, Meg Herndon; junior, Lelia Sanford; sophomore, Victoria Gillette; freshman, Ducky Davies.

Six practices will be necessary before a student may take part in the meet. These may be gotten during any of the regular recreational periods, with assistance from the instructors, if desired. Participants in the meet will be classified as beginners, intermediates, and advanced, according to ability.

The first meet will be closed, admitting only those girls who have six practices. The list of events according to classification is as follows:

Beginners

1. The face submerged push off and glide; 20 to 40 ft.
2. Sculling stroke race; 45ft.
3. Elementary back stroke for form.
4. Game or race.

Intermediates

1. Elementary back stroke for form.
2. Sculling stroke race; 45 ft.
3. Free style; 25-yard race.
4. Crawl; 25 yards for form.
5. Race or relay.

Advanced

1. Back crawl; 25 yards for

Continued on page 4, Col. 1

Dr. Walmsley Offers Parliamentary Law

A class in parliamentary law for heads of all organizations and members of Alpha Kappa Gamma was begun Monday afternoon at five o'clock. Dr. Walmsley is the instructor. These classes will enable these girls to conduct meeting properly and attend to all business or social functions correctly. This class is being conducted as an experiment and for the present no credit is given; if proven a success, this class will in all probability be added to the curriculum. It will be held each Monday at 5 p. m.

N. E. A. To Sponsor National Education Week, Nov. 5 to 11

Local Plans To Be Announced Next Week

That National Education week, sponsored by the National Education Association and other national organizations, will be observed the week of Nov. 5-11, has been announced. A committee is now working on local plans to carry out the national aims. These plans will be announced next week.

The theme of the week will be "Education for Tomorrow." The National associations and all the local associations are particularly anxious that the public share in this week of activity by visiting the schools, and by informing themselves about the aims of education in general as well as about the specific work which is being done in this community.

Much emphasis is being placed on education as a means of promoting national recovery and of preserving democracy. Educators believe it is as true today as it was when James Madison said that a popular government without popular information, or the means of securing it, is but a prologue to a farce or a tragedy, or, perhaps, both.

A great part of the success of the whole movement depends, of course, upon the teacher. The teacher has been called an artist, a builder, and the culture-bearer. He leads the way toward worth-

Continued on page 4, Col. 1

Miss Grace Moran, senior classman, will be presented November 3 instead of October 27 as announced in last week's Rotunda. This change has been made because of the V. I. P. A. convention and other meetings to which seniors will be called on Oct. 27.

Va. Tech Wins Silver Cup For Best Paper Presented N. C. P. A.

The Virginia Tech was awarded a handsome silver cup for the best and most representative newspaper presented before the National College Press Association, which met in Chicago, Oct. 13. Several hundred entries from colleges in the United States were placed before the Prize Committee of the Association, which selected the best and gave the award.

Papers from Ohio, Kentucky, Florida, and Illinois received honorable mention from the Prize Committee.

Freshmen Nominate Class Commissioners

Twenty girls were nominated for the Freshman Commission at a meeting of that class held on Tuesday night. The following were nominated and will be voted on next Tuesday night:

Frances Robinson, Caroline Upshur, Josephine Quinn; Kathleen McCann; Mildred Davies, Ruth Montgomery, Virginia Pilcher, Nan Seward, Sara Parker, Blanche Lane, Margaret Russell, Virginia Agee, Elizabeth Morris, Pattie Jeffreys, Deane Saunders, Bobbie Brooks, Rose Puller, Vala Ninmo,

The town girls are:

Buck Pleasants, Irving May Hamilton.

From this group twelve girls will be elected.

Students Discuss European Affairs

The political future of Europe, as surmised from the present circumstances, held the attention of social science students and teachers at the open meeting of Pi Gamma Mu on Tuesday evening, October 23.

The discussion, led by Katherine Walton and Mary Elizabeth Newcomb, was characterized by careful pre-investigation and organization.

"Europe at the present hour," said Miss Walton in introducing the problem, "is chiefly concerned with war. Dictators loom next in importance."

In evaluating the current political and economic factors making for and against war, the leader of the discussion placed prime emphasis upon the heritage of the world war, i.e., the maladjustment of the peace settlement, the war-guilt question, and the league and question of status quo.

Continued on page 4, Col. 1

Simpkins Stresses Originality, Need Of Scholars Today

"Literary Scholarship As a Career" Is Topic

Appropriately choosing "Literary scholarship as a career, Dr. F. B. Simpkins gave an illuminating talk to the members of Alpha Phi Sigma on Tuesday night in the small auditorium. The speaker in a striking manner brought out the fact that, although most of the true scholars have not secured material compensation or even recognition in the literary world, the thrill which comes to the scholar makes amends somewhat for lack of appreciation by the world at large. Sources, subjects, and methods of treatment particularly in the field of historical research were discussed. Originality was stressed as an outstanding need in nearly all the works of the so-called scholars of today. Another criticism was the fact that the oddities, idiosyncrasies, and ludicrous characteristics of great men were made the shining lights in biographies by "hack" authors to be read and enjoyed by superficial groups. These criticisms came in the nature of a warning to budding scholars interested in the literary aspects of scholarship.

In closing, Dr. Simkins emphasized the opportunities of the career which is open to women as well as to men, although few women have seen in it a life's work.

Students Vote Today On Outstanding Girls

Fourteen of the most outstanding girls in school were selected this week by a committee representing the faculty, the Rotunda, Virginian and Student Body. These girls were voted on today by the entire student body. The seven out of the fourteen receiving the highest number of votes will be featured in this year's issue of the Virginian. The result of the election will not be revealed until the annual is published.

The fourteen girls nominated were: Sara Beck, Jestine Cutshall, Frankie McDaniel, Margaret Pollard, Margaret Herndon, Lelia Mattox, Lelia Sanford, Nell Oakey Ryan, Helen Smith, Katherine Walton, Tac Waters, Elizabeth Vassar, Lena Mae Gardner, and Louise Hyde.

These girls were nominated on the strength of their versatility, their capability, and prominence in extra curricular activities. The committee selecting these girls was composed of: Miss Bedford, Dr. Walmsley, Victoria Gillette, Lila Jacob, and Anne Irving.

Many People Catch Glimpse of Chief Executive From Station At Farmville

Sometimes Fate smiles on her children at just the right moment. Certainly that was what happened Friday night when many people went down to the railroad station in a wild, half-hope of seeing Franklin Delano Roosevelt, the President of these United States.

They stood there on those cold steel tracks, hearts beating high with expectation, chattering to each other in a vain effort to cover their excitement. The engineer of that special train carrying the President had to slow his engine to keep from mowing them down as they crowded on the track. Slowly, the watchers edged back and searched with eager eyes for just one glimpse on Franklin D. Roosevelt.

Hopes began to waver; pessimists in the crowd started home. Then the shouting suddenly renewed ten-fold, rocking, it seemed, the very train on its rails. As the last car approached and began to pass, a lady said something to someone somewhere near her. A shade was raised, and lo! there he was—the President of the United States, the man who has given a fresh grip on life to millions of people in the past two years. The watchers his admirers and friends, saw in reality his heartening, wholesome smile; they saw him wave his hand—the hand that does so much in the governing of our tremendous country, the hand that has shaken that of princes and paupers, statesmen and politicians.

The fortunate ones who saw him felt themselves repaid and marched triumphant and satisfied back to the college to be hailed with awe and envy by those less lucky. They had seen Franklin Roosevelt!

Unusual Sights Parade Halls of School During Rat Week; Costumes Ludicrous

Unusual sights have haunted the halls and campus of S. T. C. for the past three days. Rat Week, indeed, brings to light rare things among the youngest of our student body. Tresses worn in pigtails tied with streaming red and white ribbons, faces innocent of make-up, a queer fancy for walking alone, strange bundles carried carefully concealed in laundry bags would seem sufficient handicaps to spoil the charm of any girl. But these freshmen do not let it phase them. Have you noticed how they take the limelight in Shannon's?

Rat Week in Farmville is one of the beloved and jolliest of its customs; it should be kept on that level. How? By the sporting spirit you see these adorned lassies exhibiting and the answering note of fair play struck in the upper classes. No matter how solemn and dignified we get to be who can suppress the ever widening grin sponsored by the ludicrous sight of some meek and lowly one in abject admiration before our patron saint, Joan, and the serious Sophomore supervising from near by? And can one help smiling when she breezes in to find a thoughtful soul busily engaged with bed linen, dusting cloth and broom? Out of it all grow those things we call school spirit and class loyalty.

THE ROTUNDA

Member Virginia Intercollegiate Press Association

Published by students of the State Teachers College, Farmville, Virginia

Entered as second class mater March 1, 1921, at the Post Office of Farmville, Virginia, under Act of March 3, 1934

Subscription ..... $1.50 per year

MEMBER
Associated Collegiate Press
1934 Collegiate Digest 1935
MADISON WISC. PUBLISHED

Staff

Lelia Mattox ..... Editor
Evelyn Massey ..... Associate Editor

Board of Editors

Miss Jane Royall ..... Alumnae
Amis Montgomery ..... News
Florence Sanford ..... Make-up
Kathryne Cotten ..... Literary
Anne Putney ..... World News
Anne Diggs ..... Social
Margaret Farrar ..... Feature
Lelia Sanford ..... Sports

Proof Reader
Elizabeth Walton

Managers

Lena Mae Gardner ..... Business
Alva Sawyer ..... Asst. Business
Maude Rhodes ..... Circulation
Grace Collings ..... Asst. Circulation
Lila Jacob ..... Asst. Circulation

Assistants and Reporters

Birdie Wooding, Bonnie Lane, Lacta Barham, Minnie Smith, Susan Grasham, Mary Lee Newcomb, Elsie Cabell, Bess McGlothin, Katherine Coleman, Merwyn Gathright, Kathleen Ranson

WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 24, 1934

What Is the Answer?

Has school spirit lost its meaning here at State Teachers College? Has school spirit become a thing of the past, something long dead from lack of use, or is it alive?

We, here at Farmville, begin to wonder, for ever since college swimming pools have been in vogue, students have begged and pleaded with the administration to give a pool. For at least ten years, disparaging remarks have been hurled against the Alma Mater, because she failed to offer the students aquatic sports.

But one memorable morning last spring, Dr. Jarman told us that we were to have our much-longed-for swimming pool. This unexpected announcement brought forth so much applause that chapel exercises were practically discontinued. Apparently everyone was thrilled, thrilled without any knowledge of the type of pool we were to have.

Last week, on October 16, the pool was officially opened to the entire student body. To them the grandeur of the pool, with its exceptionally fine lighting, coloring, and conditioning, was overwhelmingly pleasing. According to authorities, it is one of the largest and most modern of any in the state colleges.

To resist taking advantage of this lovely pool would be impossible. So extra guards were stationed and extra ways of handling the large number of swimmers were arranged. Rules allowing one person only a half hour's swim were made in order that everyone have a chance to swim. Utmost efforts were made to have the pool ideal in every way.

Strange to say, on last Wednesday afternoon, the opening day, the gallery was much fuller than the pool. There were about twenty-five spectators which doubled the number of swimmers. On Thursday, after four-thirty a few more bathers came in. Friday afternoon approximately eight girls clad in tank suits, plunged into the water. For at least fifteen minutes on each of these days, no one except the guards were seen in the pool room. Of the girls who have been swimming these three afternoons, over half were freshmen and about one-third of the swimmers were the same as those of the day before.

Do you call this school spirit? Is this gratitude? Is this our thanks to Dr. Jarman, who so desired a library building but gave in to the pleas of the students for the pool? Is it that we do not want recreational swimming or is it the caliber of our students so changed that we have lost our entire sense of appreciation?

"She Was Graduated—"

A girl who was recently graduated from this college has a job teaching in a one-room school. She says she is working harder than ever before in her life. She attempts to plan work for five or six age groups of children. She has to battle with the idiosyncracies and the absurd views of an almost isolated community. She has to adjust herself to a scale of living which she hardly realized existed.

This girl went through college doing the minimum amount of work to get by. She managed to make reasonably high grades because of a real aptitude at absorbing a few chance facts which stood her in good stead on tests and examinations.

Now she thinks she is working hard, but she has never known how to work. She is not capable of adapting herself to a type of community with which she is unfamiliar. Now as during her period of life-training, she has failed to tackle anything and get at its roots. She is miserable in her half-hearted attempt to live in such a community.

Do you know what is causing this girl to be a misfit, a potential failure? Do you know what is at the roots of her inability and her lack of will to adapt herself? Do you know what the real reason is for her feeling of incompetence to accept responsibility? These things can be explained by one word—Bluffing.

A Word To All of Us

Seeing some eighty freshmen march to and from between classes in naive attire or with hair braided and be-ribboned in child-like fashion is amusing enough.

But demoralizing the spirit of a Monday morning song class by the distracting jingles of alarm clocks is a different story.

When we fail to catch the spirit of the game—even "Rat Week," and play it unfairly, the reflection is on us.

Where is our sportsmanship?

With everyone talking at once Uncle Sam is having a hard time listening to The Voice of the People.

We must admit that our freshmen are an alarming class.

"Thou shalt not have dates at Longwood unless in sticks."

How can some people expect Roosevelt's "New Deal" to be a success when they are forever trying to trump his aces?

Assassinations are evidently the order of the day. These orders are being filled promptly.

Roosevelt has given us a New Deal, but too many cards seem to be missing.

As far as Rat Week is concerned, it seems that today the freshmen decided to "skip it!"

An inhabitant of the United States is murdered every 45 minutes. Last year the United States homicide rate was 10.7 per 100,000, highest in the civilized world. England's is 0.5. The nation's crime bill is estimated at $13,000,000,000 a year.—Reader's Digest.

Nose rubbing is more widely used by mankind as a greeting than are handshaking and kissing, combined.—Freling Foster.

"Divided by Three" is one of the newer plays beginning its run or Broadway. Although Judith Anderson's acting is superb, the critics consider the story quite implausible.—Time.

New York is the city whose post office receives each day an average of 42,000 pieces of mail without street addresses.

Campus Comments

Warning No. 1 — Hold your mail.

Warning No. 2—Careful he doesn't become enhanced by or entangled in the furls of "Miss V. M. I.'s" cape.

Without being catty (Kitty) we'd like to ask if self-adoration isn't a little snooty (Smooty).

Incidentally, who is the promising advertising manager campaigning so thoroughly for "Tay Jones."

A "Noble" boy did an unpardonable act to "Justice" when he dated a "Jolly" girl.

Jestine—We're asking you: Did everyone behave at V. P. I.?

Billy Wilkinson, why do you read those nursery rhymes all the time—"Little Miss Moffet."

Could it be possible that Billy Rountree had such a superb time at V. P. I. last week-end that she came back early Sunday morning, thinking it Monday morning?

Can it be that Elizabeth Vassar has chosen for her motto: "See no evil"? We are led to believe so when she tells us her presence fails to hinder the departure of many from her room.

At Other Colleges

According to the Breeze "Green Pastures," the prize-winning comedy-drama by Marc Connelly, will be presented at S. T. C. Harrisonburg as one of the regular lyceum programs in February.

A large statue of General Francis Smith, West Point Graduate, which has been playfully taken out for an airing has been returned to the Hampden-Sydney campus.

For the first time, a course in beginners' typewriting and shorthand is being offered at S. T. C., Harrisonburg. Although no college credit will be given those taking the course, it is expected to be of great personal benefit.

Nine members of the teaching staff of the University of Richmond are listed in the "Who's Who In America," volume 18, for 1934-1935.

Bicycling may become a full-fledged sport with a manager on the Athletic Association at Hood College. Many students there already ride and own bicycles.

Mary Baldwin College, Staunton, is the oldest Presbyterian Women's College in existence.

Jelly Leftwich and his band have been signed for homecoming at W. and L. An especial effort is being made that all freshmen of that college be at the first dance of the year.

The psychology department at Los Angeles Junior College conducted an experiment to determine the pet "peeves" of the students. Men deemed baby talk the worst, while women most detested dates who kept them waiting.

A world-wide organization to honor Edgar Allan Poe, famed American poet and writer of prose, has been formed. It is to be known as the International Poe Society.

Dr. Ellice McDonald, director of the Cancer Research Laboratories, Graduate School of Medicine, University of Pennsylvania, has conducted researches showing the presence of substances in the kidney which, if they are in sufficient quantity, provide immunity to cancer.

Yale University has adopted a system whereby the unusual student is advanced more rapidly than his duller classmate. More than a third of the freshmen class this year will be permitted to skip some of the regular first year work under this plan.

Review of the News

Two recent discoveries in the realm of science have opened up a world of possibilities for medicine in the future. The first of these is the discovery of a vaccine for the prevention of peritonitis. The experiments were disclosed by Drs. H. L. Johnson and E. L. Young of Boston. If subsequent findings support the work of these two doctors this new vaccine will probably rank with the contributions of anaesthetic surgery and recent discoveries relating to the control of anaemia and diabetes. Another startling report was that made by Dr. E. O. Lawrence. He has found that radium can be made from common table salt by a transmutation of the sodium atom from an atomic weight of 23 to 24. It is stated that this new radium is more powerful than what is generally used by physicians from pure radium. As salt is a perfectly harmless substance to most parts of the body and is used widely in the treatment of many aches and pains, doctors are now provided with a new instrument for experimenting with cancer treatment in the hope of finding a cure.

News comes to us from Bavaria of the new Protestant protests against the German Church. However small in number—30 per cent in a population of 7,000,000—the Protestants continue to disregard the edicts of Hitler. They even went so far as to throng the church of their deposed bishop. It is easy to see that their resistance can avail nothing. It is admirable, but it cannot be more than a mere uprising to be subdued by Hitler who has not failed in the past to enforce his views and policies at the point of the sword, if need be.

Americans trimmed the British again in international sports—this time in the annual bridge tournament for the Schwab trophy. Ely Culbertson was the captain of the Amercain team and did not endear himself to the British nor incur their amiability, for he was, in their opinion entirely too "bossy." The English team led the play for the first of the week, but the Americans forged ahead on Thursday. The teams were nearly equal in their skill and play, so much so that a parallel could be drawn between the recent boat races of a few weeks ago. The British now have a double chance to prove their sportsmanship—and so do the Americans.

Alumnae News

The Farmville Chapter of State Teachers College Alumnae served tea in the Student Building Lounge from 4:30 to 6:00 on Tuesday afternoon, Oct. 23. The Lounge was attractively decorated with autumn leaves. A large number of the Alumnae were present.

Elliott-Perkins

A wedding marked by beauty and simplicity was solemnized in Crenshaw's Methodist Church in Blackstone at 5:30 o'clock on October 20, when Miss Virginia Eloise Perkins became the bride of Homer Philander Elliott, Jr., of Charleston, W. Va.

Miss Ethel LaBoyteeux of Richmond was the week-end guest of Miss Mary White Cox.

Mrs. Mary Hudson Wright, who graduated from Farmville in 1910, has distinguished herself along academic lines. She received her A. B. degree from the University of Denver in 1925, her A. M. from there is 1926, A. M from Columbia in 1927, and Ph.D. from Peabody in 1934. She is now teaching in a Methodist College in Pulaski, Tenn.

Just another person keeping up with the times. Miss Mary saying, "Why don't you come up and see us sometimes" to a certain young man.

Helen, whom were you stringing at V. P. I.? Just making a "special" Conquest, and it worked, you say.

"Deuce" of a good card fan when you can hold up the whole works with a "tray". Ask Mary Gilmer. She plays that kind of a game.

I Would Love To Be Like

Helen Wills Moody, because she's a good athlete moreover she's a lady.—Murkland Dressler.

Rosa Ponselle, because she's a great singer.—Mildred Meeks.

Elisse Landi, because she's so versatile.—Grace Allen Pittard.

Miss Mary, because she typifies Southern aristocracy.
—Elise Turner.

Me, myself, because I'm me.—Kathryne Smoot.

Joan Crawford, because she goes with Franchot Tone.
—Nubby Knaub.

Janet Gaynor, because of her appealing personality.
—Margaret Pittard.

Helen Smith, because she is lovable.—Kitty Pope.

I'd like to be like anyone who gets A' on her teaching.
—Virginia Jones.

Miss Bedford, because she's what she is—Margaret Bailey.

Anne Harding typifies true American womanhood.
—Margaret Roache.

Lincoln—He never went to school; yet was an educated man.
—Lorna Smiley.

Dr. Jarman, because he can skip Chapel and get away with it.
—Jane Lybrook.

Popeye, because then I would like spinach.—Marjorie Bootin.

Teach like Miss Stubbs, because she can make you work and like it.—Audrey Hawthorne.

Queen Elizabeth, because Lord Slater.

Herr Hitler, because of the way he holds his hand.—Ducky Davies.

George Bernard Shaw, because he defied the Pulitzer Prize Awarders.—Bonnie Lane.

Mr. French, because he always is full of pep and vigor.
—Jane Main.

Miss Moran, because of her sweet personality and understanding of nature.—Isabel Tanner.

Miss Taliaferro, because of her ability as a Mathematician.
—Ida Sue Carter

Ginger Rogers, because she embodies life and pep.—Frances Wilson.

Dot Justice, because of her sweet personality.—Dot Rust.

Lelia Sanford, because of her ability to do things.—Will Scott.

I'd like to be as pretty as Lucy Potter and as sweet as Chris Childrey.—Margaret Fraley.

Neysa McMein, because she is accomplished in the art of dancing.
—Dot Turner.

Dr. Jeffers, because of his intelligence and keen sense of humor.
—Jane Royal.

Reserved and polished as Ronald Colman.—Anne Peple.

The Dignity of Norma Shearer.—Marion Hansbraugh.

Anne Harding, because of her poise.—Betty Scott.

Tac Waters and her friendliness.—Tyler Wood.

Venus de Milo.—Meg Herndon.

A change has been made in the Senior Commandment that read: "Thou shalt not have dates at Longwood." It now reads: "Your date sticks at Longwood, two for for five cents."

SOCIALS

What a grand and glorious week-end it was————such is the feeling of our S. T. C. "globe-trotters" who spent the week-end away. Starting Friday and continuing Saturday, crowds departed from the portals of S. T. C.

At Richmond

Richmond continues to claim a large portion of our fair damsels. Among those who spent the week-end there are, Gay Stiefen, Katherine Hoyle, Jennie Belle Gilliam, Helen Shawen, Caroline Byrd, Burnley Brockenbrough, Julia Derr, Virginia Hall, Ellen Simmerman, Anne Irving, Audrey Clements, Mary Gilmer, Wycliff Scott, Florence Tankard, Bobbie Mattox, Belle Lovelace, Elizabeth Roberts, Sallie Rose Chappell, Zilla Newsom, and Sallie Jo Kent.

Spent Week-end at Home

Among those who ventured home for the week-end were: Marguerite Bradford, Lucile Moseley, Elizabeth A. Smith, Blanche Kahn, Virginia Hurt, Agnes Powell, Mary Wilson Clark, Grace Eubank, Sarah Beck, Dorothy Glover, Be Be Russell, Charlotte Young, Marie Moore, Minnie Smith, Dorothy Justis, Sarah Parker, Catherine Smoot, Annie Cambell, Evelyn Knaub, Maud Deekens, Anne Peple, Nancy Dodd, Lois R. Jenkens, Dorothy Bagby, Patsy Nottingham, Marion Pond, Hazel Smith, Elizabeth Huse, Marion Shaffner, Nell Oakey Ryan, Kathryn Spiers, Elsie Cabell, Evelyn Wilson, Clintis Mattox, Rebecca Mayes, Claudia Harper, Margaret Pollard, Christine Childrey, Dorothy Price, Frances Johnson, Dorothy Rust, Irene Taylor, Valla Nimmo, Anthelia Robinette, Kathryn Jamison, Ida Sue Carter, Mildred Linthicum, Kathleen McCann, Mena Smelley, Crenshaw Jones, Fletcher Walker, Virginia Brown, Marjorie Ramey, Elizabeth McClenny, Elsie Turner, Mary Cunningham, Eleanor Shackleton, Elsie Mayo, Ella Lewis, Paige Magie, Mary Louise French, Evelyn Howell, Belle Lovelace, Iris Rountree, Virginia Vaiden, Alice Campbell, Nancy Beard, Elizabeth Conner, Edith Coffey, Bobby Brooke, Lois Moses, Alice Nelson, Henrietta Salsbury, Louise Stephenson, Charlotte Rice, Mary Alice Wood, Mary Thomas Mayers, Virginia Hannah, Frances Jones, Lizabeth Glass, Frances Elder, Thulia Park, Frances Maxey, Grace Pittard, Macon Lewis, Frances Wilson, Helen Boswell, Elizabeth Butterworth, Fletcher Walker, Nell Boswell, and Jennie Belle Gilliam.

To Blacksburg

Blacksburg seemed to be a popular place last week-end for the following spent the week-end there: Carter Belle Munt, Katherine Harvey, Virginia Tilman, Phyllis Ferguson, Ann Johnson, Sue Mallory, Susan Lane, Jestine Cutshall, Billie Rountree, Zell Hopkins, Martha Watson, Helen Conquest, Kathryn Fitzgerald, Virginia Tissue, and Lillian Powell.

To Lynchburg

Those who spent the week-end at Lynchburg were: Betty Chapman, Clara Pinchard, Virginia Scanlon, Doris Moore, Elsie Mayo, Ione Covert, Frances Teass, Lorna Smiley, Martha Glenn Davies, and Elizabeth Mann.

Spent Week-end in Blackstone

Victoria Gillette, and Kitty Bass spent the week-end at Blackstone.

Other Places Visited

Other places visited by S. T. C. girls were: Sweet Briar by Caroline Jones, and Virginia Baker; Princeton, N. J., by Mildred Meeks; Bon Air by Betty Gray Harrison, and Elizabeth Ovely; Kenbridge by Lloyd Kelly, Nellie Pierpont, and Virginia Daughty; Sunnyside by Katherine Cooper and Eleanor Wood; Dillwyn by Pauline Pearson; Roanoke by June Allen; Staunton by Mildred Potter; Norfolk by France Yester; La Crosse by Anna Cobb and Louise Potridge; Big Island by Ethel Joyner; Lewisburg by Mary Elizabeth Slater; Cumberland by Muirkland Dressler; Burkeville by Rose Somers and Virginia Pilcher; Spotswood by Jean McClure; Amelia by Maude Rhodes; Gladys by Marion Layne and Elizabeth Puckette; Chester by Grace Conyers; Prospect by Dorothy Robertson; and Pamplin by Mary R. Black.

Tasting Party

Are college girls always hungry? Tradition has it that they are. The crowds which patronize the local food shops would seem to bear witness to the truth of the saying.

If you are a typical college girl, then here is your clue.

Pi Gamma Mu proposes to alleviate, for one night, the state of perpetual starvation which besets the S. T. C. students.

Just think—for only thirty-five cents, you may give yourself a treat which you will never forget.

Genuine old Virginia ham; chicken salad that does honor to the feathered tribe; cake and pie to delight the most ardent Epicurean — everything you have craved for weeks and months! All to be had at the Pi Gamma Mu TASTING PARTY for only thirty-five cents.

Spanish Circle Plans For Formal Banquet

That El Circulo Espanol will hold a formal Spanish banquet at the Cactus Inn, November 16, was decided on at a meeting of this society on Friday, October 19, at 7:00 p. m. in the language room.

Mrs. Sheppard, proprietress of the inn, has lived in Spain and knowing the customs, will serve a typically Spanish meal on real Mexican pottery. A special program will be arranged. A Spanish atmosphere prevails the tea room, thus making it an ideal place for such a banquet. The club is showing much interest over the plans.

After the business session Friday night, the president, Katherine Coleman, turned the meeting over to Elsie Cabell and Bonnie Lane who initiated into the circle two new members, Dorothy Deans and Elizabeth Scott. They then presented an entertaining program of songs and a riddle contest after which refreshments were served.

Debate Club Gives Reception For Old and New Members

An informal reception for the old and new members of the Debate Club was given Monday night from 10 to 10:30 in the Student Building Lounge.

Everyone sang songs and took part in the contests. During the program ice cream sandwiches were served.

Dr. Walmsley was special honor guest.

College Girls Attend Dance Sponsored By Woman's Club

Friday night, October 19, ushered in the first of the dances to be held in the Armory this season. The Crewe Orchestra furnished the music for the occasion which was made more festive by the presence of many of the college girls. Those from S. T. C. who attended are Virginia Bean, Mary Bowles, Frances Britton, Kitty Chappell, Frances Collie Grace Collins, Margaret Dortch, Mary Lou French, Jennie Belle Gilliam, Emily Guy, Pattie Jeffreys, Eugenia Jolly, Dorothy Moffat, Ruth Montgomery, Sallie Perrow, Rose Puller, Dot Robertson, Frances Robinson, BeBe Russell, Nan Seward, Margaret Smith, Minnie Smith, Martha Stine, Kathryn Switzer, Mary Lynn Thomas, Margaret Ura, Fletcher Walker, Eleanor Wood, Sylvia Somers, Elizabeth Hart, Frances Jamison, Agnes Oglesby, Mary Hubard, Frances Channell, Margaret Crenshaw, Mary Arthur, Jane Lybrook, Isabel Plummer, Elise Marshburn, Alice Zeigler, Ella Ware, and Page Nottingham.

The Woman's Club of Farmville sponsored the dance in the Armory Friday night.

Senior: "Wise men hesitate. Fools are certain."
Freshman: "Are you sure?"
Senior: "I'm certain."
—The Lenoir Rhynean.

Radio Highlights

Wednesday

6:45—WJZ, Lowell Thomas.
7:00—WJZ, Amos 'N' Andy.
8:30—W. E. A., Wayne King.
9:00—WEAF, Nino Martini.
9:30—WABC, George Burns and Gracie Allen.
10:00—WEAF Lombardo.
WABC — Mary Eastman
Thursday
8:00—WEAF, Vallee's Varieties.
9:00—WABC, Gray Orchestra.
9:15—WOR, Larry Taylor, Baritone.
9:30—WABC, Waring Orchestra.
11:15—WEAF, Little Jack Little.
Friday
8:00—WEAF, Bourbon Orchestra.
9:00—WEAF, Lyman Orchestra.
9:30—WABC, Hollywood Hotel.
10:30 — WEAF—WABC (Sketch Kate Smith.)
11:00—WJZ, Davis Orchestra.
Saturday
7:45—WJZ, Pickens Sisters.
8:00—WEAF, Concert Orchestra
10:30—WJZ, Kemp Orchestra.
11:00—WEAF, Lombardo.
11:30—WEAF, Paul Whiteman.

Y. W. C. A. Notes

Y. W. Recognition Service

The Membership Committee of the Y. W. C. A. held a recognition service in the auditorium for freshmen and new girls on Thursday night, Oct. 18. The invocation was given by the Rev. Mr. Gardner. Helen Smith, President of the Y. W. C. A. welcomed the girls as members, and told them what membership means. She then lighted the candles of the cabinet members, who in turn lighted those of the new girls. While singing "Follow the Gleam," the Cabinet and new members, led by the President and Mr. Gardner, marched from the auditorium and formed a large circle before the school. After the choir had sung, "Bless Be the Tie That Binds", the service was closed with the motto. Katharine Walton, vice - president of the Y. W. C. A.

Y. W. Party

The second of a series of parties for the freshmen to be given by the Social Committee of the Y W. took place Saturday night in the lounge. As this was a musical party, Nancy Pobst played and everybdy danced. After refreshments were served by Meg Herndon, chairman of the Social Committee, and several members of her committee, all sat around an open fire and sang songs. Before Christmas every freshman and new girl will have been invited to one of these parties.

Sing

Sing Saturday night, presented by the Old Freshman Commission proved one of the most original and entertaining of the year.

A typical family scene at night was portrayed. The little boy role was played by Elizabeth Booth the girl was Polly Wall, the mother, Virginia Leonard, and the nurse, Virginia Jones.

During the course of the scene, Virginia Leonard sang, "Little Man You've Had a Busy Day," and Virginia Jones sang "Darkness On the Delta."

Sing ended with Elizabeth Booth pelting rocks in the form of candy at the audience.

Moss—"You all looks mad, Rastus. What's de mattah?"
Rastus—"Boy, ah is mad! After mah operation de doctah sewed me up with white thread.

The Weyanoke Beauty Salon

invites you to drop in and take advantage of their special prices now in effect.

Permanent wave ..... $4 & $6
Shampoo-Finger wave 75c
Manicure 40c

Learn Popular Music
IN SIX MONTHS
—From—
Elizabeth LeGrand
602 Main Street
FARMVILLE VIRGINIA

Seniors Go On Picnic To Farmville Lake

gay crowd left on buses for Farmville Lake Tuesday afternoon. The seniors were on an outing. Merrily they rolled along singing popular songs both of this year and yesteryear. (Oonly one mishap—that was the breaking of a jar of pickles). A picnic supper was cooked over a blazing fire, and all ate in the usual picnic style. As dusk deepened, everyone gathered around the open fire, and joined in songs and yells for the Class of '35 and Miss Moran, the class man.

Musicians are funny for:

"When they work they play.

"Their charges may be heavy, but they'll compose a melody for a song.

"They may be eccentric, yet all their ideas are sound.

"They can out do Einstein, for they can change the time.

"They are honest folks but spend much time with sharps.

"They can compose a complete melody, but it still remains only a piece of music.

"They may be quarrelsome while living lives of perfect harmony.

"They are not policeman, although they have their beats, nor locksmiths although they deal in keys.

"They have votes they cannot crash, bars they cannot leave on, scales that weigh nothing, flats they cannot live in.

—The Indian.

C. E. Chappell Co.
Stationery, Blank Books and School Supplies
Cigars, Cigarettes and Soda
Farmville, Virginia

Rice's Shoe Store
Street and Dress Shoes
Dancing Slippers Dyed
Correct fits our specialty 1t

Kleanwell
CLEANERS AND TAILORS
Expert cleaning, repairing and remodeling ladies garments
Main Street, opposite Post office
Phone 98

S. A. Legus
TAILOR
CLEANING
PRESSING
REPAIRING
Phone 203

Overton-Mottley Hdwe. Co.
ELECTRIC GOODS!
Tennis Rackets and balls
Roller Skates

Southside Drug Store
(On the Corner)
Films Developed FREE
If bought at this store

Gray's Drug Store
QUALITY—PRICE—SERVICE
Come in and Get Acquainted
We are glad to have you with us!
Farmville, Virginia

Mack's
BARBER AND BEAUTY SHOP
323 Main Street
We use the Frederick Method
Hair cutting and thinning a Specialty

PRINTING .....
When you think of Printing think of
—The—
FARMVILLE HERALD

S. T. C. GIRLS who wish to economize in their purchases—save by shopping at THE HUB DEPARTMENT STORE, Farmville's' Best Place to Shop.
Special for this week—Pure silk hose full fashioned—69c values, Special—49c. Limit—not over two pair to customer.
Bedroom slippers—newest styles. Special for this week 98c.
COME DOWN AND SEE US—WE WILL TRY TO PLEASE YOU
THE HUB DEPARTMENT STORE
Farmville's Best Place to Shop!

GO TO .....
GILLIAM'S
—FOR—
EVERYTHING—SCHOOL SUPPLIES, CANDIES, FRUITS, CONFECTIONS, ETC.
Open 'till 9:00 p. m.

WELCOME S. T. C. STUDENTS
We invite you to visit our store,
CORRECT CLOTHES FOR STUDENTS
Farmville's Largest Department Store
DAVIDSON'S

ARE YOU INTERESTED?
JACKETS of Grain and Suede Cloth and Wool SWEATERS.
We are showing the season's newest. Come in. We are glad to show Just what we have and the line is very attractive.
VERSER'S

PHILCO RADIO
World's largest manufacturers of Radio
A complete line
Watch repairing a specialty
Sheet Music Strings for Instruments
LYNN, The Main Street Jeweler

YOUR NEIGHBOR,
The Weyanoke Beauty Salon
invites you to drop in and take advantage of their Special prices now in effect.
Permanent Waves—$4 & $6 Shampoo & Fingerwave 75 cents
Manicure 40 cents
Individual, courteous, efficient service and an established reputation for dependability and satisfaction. That is our guarantee, and your assurance of perfect workmanship.

Sporting Whirl

By L. SANFORD

Results of the tennis tournament to date are as follows: Martha Putney vs. Eleanor Wade, 6-4, 6-3, Virginia Agee vs. Emily Guy 6-4, 6-3. In order to be eligible for the tournament, a contestant must play off at least two matches by the end of this week. When your defeated opponent has posted the scores arrange to play your next opponent.

Miss Iler has announced that the Varsity hockey team will go to Randolph-Macon Friday, Nov. 2, for the annual Virginia Field Hockey Association conference. The team plans to be there only for the first day of the meet, returning to Farmville that night.

Audrey Mattox and Kathleen Ranson have been elected by the senior and junior classes respectively, to the captainship of their Hockey teams. Along with congratulations we wish you well in your task of getting people out for practices, and organizing of teams.

Hockey practices may be made up this week. Notice the bulletin board for a change in dates of practices and don't fail to get the required number. (20).

On Thursday, Oct. 25 at 5 o'clock the Archery Tournament will be held on the athletic field near the laundry. All girls who have gotten the required practices will be eligible. This choosing of F. S. T. C.'s Robinhood promises to be quite an enjoyable event.

Has it ever occurred to any of us—especially freshmen — that some of the energy used in riding brooms, dancing, etc., might well be disposed of on the hockey field, in the swimming pool, on the basketball court or on the tennis court? For some reason there seems to be quite a lack of interest in sports. It may be that you haven't tried them.

Students Discuss European Affairs

Continued from page 1

The reappearing tide of nationalism, now sweeping Europe with one great surge, was interpreted as being a sure source of conflict and disagreement.

New alignments of power threatening to upset the existing balance present a problem fearful in possibilities which might result.

"The peace settlement, by creating innumerable points of friction along the borders in Central and Eastern Europe, has left in its wake a situation far more complex and potentially more dangerous than that which existed on the eve of the World War. At the same time the determination of all the small states—not only those which have benefitted by the peace treaties — to make their influence felt in the League of Nations constitutes an element which, if it does not guarantee peace, at least serves to counterbalance the policies of the great powers. This in a measure contributes to stability.

European stability, however, must remain precarious as long as doctrines of extreme nationalism and territorial expansion dominate the foreign policies of states."

N. E. A. Sponsors Education Week

Continued from page 1

ier tastes, saner attitudes, more gracious manners, higher intelligence. The student teachers as well as the faculty are urged to co-operate with the Educational Department in carrying out the plans for the week.

The following topics selected by the national organization will be adapted to meet local needs: Monday, November 5, Planning for Tomorrow; Tuesday, November 6, Developing New Types of Schooling; Wednesday, November 7—Improving the Rural School; Thursday, November 8—Financing Our Schools; Friday, November 9 — Quickening the Sense of Civic Responsibility; Saturday, November 10—Preparing for New Kinds of Service; and Sunday, November 11—Enriching Character through Education.

Local Publications at V. I. P. A. Meeting

Continued from page 1

Newman, and W. C. Stouffer.

Elizabeth Vassar, editor-in-chief of the "Virginian," and Lelia Sanford, Business Manager; Lelia Mattox, editor-in-chief of the "Rotunda," and Evelyn Massey, associate editor; and Jestine Cutshall, representative from the student body, will be S. T. C. delegates this year.

The publications from S. T. C. have already been entered in the contests.

This year the S. T. C. Freshman Handbook will also be entered. College handbooks are a new feature of the convention, having just been introduced into the field of competition, which includes literary magazines, college annuals, humorous publications, and all weekly publications.

Dr. Kester Challenges Fascism or Socialism?

Certain phases of the political situation in the United States and Europe was the subject of a most interesting talk, delivered to the member of Pi Gamma Mu, Tuesday night, by Mr. Kester, who was one of the speakers at the International Relations Conference which met at Hollins and to which Pi Gamma Mu sent delegates.

After picturing the rather dreary and critical condition of our country, Mr. Kester proceeded to discuss the two alternatives which face us as intelligent people. We may either let things drift as they are going—towards Fascism—or we may try to find a remedy, which more than likely would be Socialism.

Mr. Kester himself, urged that through education we should attempt to preserve the ideals and standards of morality and culture which have been won for us, that we carry on the progress of science, and help to develop the resources with which our country is supplied, instead of destroying food when people are starving.

The talk was perhaps too starkly realistic to be entirely pleasant, but it was certainly an inspiration and a challenge.

Mrs. Lancaster Talks On Indian Domestics

Mrs. Mary Richardson Lancaster, who has lived in India for the past six years, delivered a most entertaining lecture on "Home Life In India" to the Home Economics Club at their first social meeting of the year which was held Thursday, Oct. 18.

Mrs. Lancaster discussed how the English live in India, and also the life of the natives, their homes, clothing and food.

Freshmen were invited to attend and those having Home Economics majors were extended an invitation to become members of the club.

At the conclusion of the talk, tea was served.

A Senior stood on the railroad track,
The train was coming fast,
The train got off the railroad track
To let the senior pass.
—Breeze.

First: I have a suit of clothes for every day in the week.
Second: Where are they?
First: This is it that I have on.
—The Exponent.

Classes to Compete In Swimming Meet

Continued from page 1

form.

2. Crawl; 50 yards for form.
3. Free style; 50-yard race.
4. Diving, standing front, running front, or swan.
5. Relay or race.

13 C. H. S. Students Visit Williamsburg

Thirteen members of the training school history classes, with Miss Henry, Miss Peck, Miss Mildred Linthicum, and Miss Margaret McNamara, left Tuesday morning at seven o'clock to visit historical places of interest in Williamsburg, and Jamestown.

Places visited in Williamsburg included Duke of Gloucester Street, the restored capitol, the Governor's Palace, Raleigh Tavern, Bruton Parish Church, the Sir Christopher Wren Building, and the William and Mary College campus.

The group then went to Jamestown and saw the remains of the old colony and the remembrances erected in its honor.

DOROTHY MAY SCORES A Touchdown

First to cross the "goal" with the new

Football DRESSES

They even have miniature football buttons on them.

So sporty and captivating are these new dresses, that they will head the line-up of your apparel.

5.97 & 7.45

FOOTBALL COATS

In football colors and with football buttons, too. They're as new as tomorrow's game. Be the "first down" tomorrow morning to see them.

$14.97

DOROTHY MAY STORES

FARMVILLE, VA.

EACO THEATRE

Mats. 4 p. m.: Nights 8 p. m.
Adults 25c; Children 15c
Unless otherwise noted

Thurs.-Fri. Oct. 25-26

WILL ROGERS in 'Judge Priest"

Gertrude Nielson in "Darling Enemy" Adults 25c-35c

Sat., Oct. 27 News

Edward Arnold

Mary Carlisle - P. Holmes

"Million Dollar Ransom"

Technicolor Cartoon, comedy

Next M.-T., Oct. 29-30

Delores Del Rio

in

Madame DuBarry

Isham Jones and Orchestra in "Underneath Broadway Moon". Adults 25c & 35c

Next Wed., Oct. 31

Edumund Lowe, Ruth Etting Candy & Coco, Gus Arnheim's orchestra in

"Gift of Gab"

Chapter 2

"The Red Rider"

ROOM FURNISHINGS
SCHOOL SUPPLIES
CANDIES

ROSES

5-10-25c Store

FARMVILLE, VA.

POTTED MEATS
SANDWICH SPREAD
SANDWICH ROLLS
HOT DOGS

Everything for the Picnic

W. R. Drumeller

Main Street Farmville

Electric Shoe Shop

Will Fix Your Shoes While You Wait

BEST WORKMANSHIP AND LEATHER USED

The Fashion Shoppe

Reflects the newest styles. All dresses $2.95 up

COATS, SUITS, DRESSES, UNDERWEAR

Silk Hose
Fine quality ..... 49c 59c and 69c

Shannon's

Is Headquarters for the Best SANDWICHES —and— DRINKS in Farmville!

Farmville Mfg. Co.

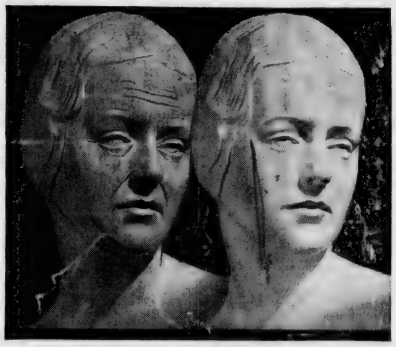
BUILDING MATERIALS
MILLWORK
Farmville, Va.

Special orders for Teas and Parties
Try our doughnuts
Foley's Bakery
Third Street

WILLIS
The Florist
Flowers for all occastons
PHONES 181-273

Conoco Gas and Oil
Fill up at
Johns Motor Co.
Farmville, Va.

Martin the Jeweler
Gifts of
Lasting Remembrance
317 Main St. Farmville



Cleaning at reduced rates
State Cleaning Co.
Third Street

You Would Love to Have Your Shoes Fixed at
Lovelace Shoe Shop
110 Third Street

SUPPERS AND
SMALL PARTIES
Good Breakfast
Dinners
Suppers
College Tea Room
and
LONGWOOD

Buy Your CANDY To Sell at
H. T. Stokes & Co.

G. F. Butcher
High Street
"The Convenient Store"
FOR GOOD THINGS TO EAT AND DRINK

LET THIS BEAUTY MIRACLE TAKE PLACE IN YOUR SKIN

ONE CREAM TO BUY— ONE CREAM TO APPLY

Something new, sensational, entirely different. Primrose House presents Delv, a new basic all-around cream for the daily care of the skin.

Based on a revolutionary new cosmetic principle Delv is different from any cream you have ever used—different in texture, different in its effect on the skin. It cleanses, nourishes and clarifies. Delv penetrates instantly, and imparts to the skin a soft, dewy freshness. Its regular daily use keeps the skin clear, young and vital. Women everywhere are enthusiastic about its cooling, stimulating effect.

Try a jar today and you will never again be without Delv.

PRIMROSE HOUSE DELV $1.00

BALDWIN'S

FARMVILLE, VIRGINIA

SEE THE TEAM OFF FRIDAY AT 12 O'CLOCK

The Rotunda

We Teach To Teach

SUBSCRIBE TO THE ANNUAL NOW

Volume XV. FARMVILLE, VIRGINIA, WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 31, 1934 No. 6

Campus Comments and Virginia Tech Win V.I.P.A. Honor

Sweet Briar Annual, H.-S. Handbook Wins First

TIGER IS SECOND

"Campus Comments," from Mary Baldwin College, and the "Virginia Tech" tied for the class A newspaper title of the V. I. P. A. which met in Radford Oct. 26 and 27. The Hampden-Sydney "Tiger" received honorable mention. Papers from Hollins College, American University, Stratford College, and Hargrave Military Academy received awards in classes B andC.

The "Briar Patch", published at Sweet Briar College, and "The Web," from the University of Richmond were awarded first and second prizes respectively for class A annuals. Class B and C awards went to "The Battlefield" of Fredericksburg State Teachers College, "The Bluestocking" of Mary Baldwin," "The Spinster" of Randolph-Macon Woman's College, and "The Sampler."

Hampden-Sydney was placed first in the handbook class and Roanoke College was the runner up.

New Officers Elected

Farmville State Teachers College was represented at the convention by Lelia Mattox, editor of "The Rotunda," Elizabeth Vassar, editor of the "Virginian", Jestine Cutshall, president of the student body, Lelia Sanford, Lena Mae Gardner, and Evelyn Massey.

Miss Virginia Cox, of Harrisonburg State Teachers College, will succeed Charles Burr as president of the association. Miss Doreen Smith, a graduate of Farmville State Teachers College and former active president was selected honorary president for the next year. The four vice-presidents chosen are Henry Semour of William and Mary, Rufus King of Bridgewater, H. F. Henry of Emory and Henry, and Audrey Rose of Fredericksburg.

Beginning Friday at 3 o'clock the convention was divided into various discussion groups. J. Bar-

Continued on page 1, column 1

Commission Members Selected by Freshmen

Results of the vote Tuesday night by the freshman class showed that the following girls have been elected to the new Freshman Commission: Buck Pleasants, Nan Seward, Carolyn Upshur, Kathleen McCann, Ducky Davies, Ruth Montgomery, Sarah Parker, Virginia Agee, Elizabeth Morris, Bobby Brooks, Frances Robinson, and Margaret Russell.

The Freshman Commission is a part of the Y. W. C. A., and it serves as a connecting link between the Y. W. and the Freshman class. Girls selected from the commission must be capable and representative.

The Freshman commission has three distinct duties:

First, to aid the Y. W. C. A. in promoting any plans which it may wish to further by presenting them to the freshman class. Second, to assume the responsibility of conducting morning watch on Sunday and leading prayers at various times. The third duty of the commission is to make each freshman feel that she is a vital part of the Y. W. C. A. through personal contact.

Mary Lynn Thomas and Jennie Belle Gilliam were chosen to represent the class on the student standard's committee which serves as a connecting link between classes and the faculty.

Historic Williamsburg Fascinates Students; Dr. Goodwin Speaks

Williamsburg, with its charm of the past restored by the ingenuity of the present, was a source of profound interest and appeal to the Pi Gamma Mu members of S. T. C., visiting there on Thursday, October twenty-sixth.

The picturesque, colonial town, unique in its harmonious blending of the old with the new, enchanted these history students, taking them back in spirit to the early days of Virginia's history.

Doctor Goodwin, rector of Bruton Parish Church, not only extended a personal welcome to the Farmville students, but he also gave much interesting information concerning the work of restoration.

"Williamsburg has set a new standard for restoration," said Doctor Goodwin.

"Neither money nor effort has been spared in the execution of the plans for the restoring of the town.

"While we do not emphasize the financial side of the project, we can enable you to grasp a vague conception of the tremendousness of the undertaking by mentioning that the research work, alone cost eight hundred thousand dollars. This included the work of excavating, and other preparations involved in plans for the actual restoration.

I hope that you realize that

Continuucd on page 1, column 1

83 Students Honored At Birthday Dinner

Eighty-three girls will celebrate their birthdays tonight at the September-October Birthday Banquet being sponsored by the Student Council.

On Monday every girl in school whose birthday is in September or October received a black or orange cat invitation to this Hallowe'en dinner.

Weird decorations will give the Hallowe'en atmosphere throughout the dining room. Orange candles will flicker on the tables; colorful fall leaves, orange and black streamers, witches, pumpkins and black cats will complete the decorations. A surprise gift, tied to orange streamers from a pumpkin in the center of each of the ten tables extends to each plate. A beautiful birthday cake with one lighted candle will be the central attraction of every table.

Mrs. Jamison will serve a tasty birthday dinner of chicken, peas, potatoes, salad, coffee, ice-cream and mints.

During the dinner those girls who do not have their birthday in September or October will sing the familiar "Happy Birthday" to those being honored.

M. Herndon Explains Hallowe'en Traditions

Chapel exercises this morning were largely devoted to Hallowe'en. Meg Herndon talked on the traditions and customs of Hallowe'en. She told how the idea first began as an honor to Pamona—the goddess of fruit and nuts. She was honored at Hallowe'en, because it was then that the crops were harvested. The idea was soon nearly forgotten in Italy, but, it was kept alive in Ireland, England, Wales, and Scotland by the superstitution that witches still existed and really do come to see us in the dead of the night on October 31. Lots of customs from this medieval time have survived, but the most popular seems to be that of finding your mate. In Ireland the girls believe that if they name some nuts and place them on the fireplace, and if they sizzle and burn they are not the man for them.

Continued on page 4, column 3

COTILLION CLUB OFFICERS

Above are the officers of the Cotillion Club which holds its fall dance Saturday night. From left to right, they are: Evelyn ("Knubby") Knaub, president; Hazel Smith, treasurer; Laeta Barham, business manager, and Jean McClure, leader.

Members Of Club Complete Plans For Cotillion Dance

November 3, from 8:30 till 12 p. m. is the date of the fall dance given by the Cotillion Club.

Johnny Long and his Duke Collegians have contracted to play. The dance will be held in the gymnasium as usual, and Gamma Psi is in charge of the decorations which will be in green and yellow. There will not be a figure.

The Faculty, Administration, and Home Department are invited to the dance. Dr. Jarman, Miss Mary, Mrs. Tabb, Mr. and Mrs. Graham, Mrs. Laing, Mrs. Warren, and Miss Camper have been asked to serve as chaperones. The Floor Committee is headed by Laeta Barham, business manager of the club, and is composed of Sara Beck, Jestine Cutshall, Belle Lovelace, Margaret Clark, Agnes Crockett, Doris Coates, Nell Oakey Ryan, Helen Smith, and Lelia Mattox.

Punch will be served during intermission in the Lounge.

Each old girl of the Cotillion Club may take one boy and two girls; each new member may take one girl. Alumnae may bring an escort.

Tickets will be sold to members of the Cotillion Club Wednesday night and Thursday night on the first floor of Cunningham Hall from 10 till 10:30, and on Thursday afternoon from 2:30 to 3:30 on the second floor of the Rotunda. No tickets will be sold except Alumnae after 10:30 on Thursday night.

Alumnae may buy tickets Saturday from 2 to 6 and from 7 till 8 where they will be sold on the second floor of the Rotunda. The tickets will also be sold to Alumnae from 8:15 till 9:15 in the hall of first floor Student Building.

S.T.C. Varsity Team Will Enter Annual State Tournament

Hockey Players Go To Randolph-Macon Friday

The 1934 varsity hockey squad, as selected Friday, October 26, by Miss Iler, coach, and Bess McClothlin, manager, is as follows: Lucille Akers, Mary Lena Anderson, Kathleen Bailey, Sarah Beck, Mary Bowles, Jennie Belle Gilliam, Evelyn Jordan, Rebecca Kern, Nellwyn Latimer, Meriel McAllister, Bess McGlothlin, Mary Adeline McGlothlin, Evelyn Mann, Evelyn Massey, Audrey Mattox, Lelia Mattox, Ruth Phelps, Martha Putney, Kathleen Ransom, Margaret Roache, Kathryn Rayburn, Lelia Sanford, Florence Sanford, Louise Wamlsley, and Marguerite York.

Because these girls have shown outstanding ability, and have attended the required number of practices, they were chosen from among those who went out.

Th Farmville hockey players will leave at 12 o'clock Friday, Nov. 2 to play in the annual tournament which will be held at Randolph Macon College.

Last year in the annual hockey tournament at West Hampton the game between the Farmville and Harisonburg teams ended tie.

Miss Nancy Harrison Assists Miss Coulling

Miss Nancy Harrison, of Petersburg, arrived here Tuesday to assist Miss Coulling for some time in the Art Department.

Miss Coulling, due to an unfortunate accident, while on a trip through the mountains of Virginia and West Virginia sustained a broken wrist.

Miss Harrison is well known here. She was an outstanding member of the senior class last year. Since her graduation she has been doing substitute work in the high school at Petersburg.

'Sophs' Crown 'Rats' In Ceremony Monday

"We, the lowly and oppressed, do hereby solemnly pledge to wear these rat caps as a symbol of our loyal respect and undying love of the high and mighty sophomores" repeated the freshman class kneeling before the sophomores at the "Crowning of the Rats" in the gymnasium Monday night.

The scene was spectacular. Marching to the tune of the green and white song, the "high and mighty" sophomores entered the gym. Following them came the freshmen. The two classes formed circles—a freshman in front of a sophomore.

After the entire freshman class had repeated together the "oath" prescribed to them by the sophomores they were crowned with their rat caps.

The entire group assembled on the campus after the crowning for songs and yells. Caroline Jones and Anne Pepple, sophomore and freshman class presidents, respectively, led the yells.

Child Welfare Group Takes Second Trip

